

Magnolia Well Flows 244 Barrels In Official Test

Lynn county's first commercial oil well, Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Garza Cattle company, three and one-half miles east of Draw last week end was given an official Railroad Commission test, and put on production to open up a new South Plains oil field.

During the 24 hour test, the well flowed 244.61 barrels of 42.2 gravity oil through a 24/64th inch tubing choke, with tubing pressure 140 pounds, from pay at 8,615-30 feet in the top of a Pennsylvania lime.

Gas-oil ratio was 767.1. The pay section had been washed with 250 gallons of acid. No formation water was found.

Lynn county's first producing oil well is 20 1/2 miles by road, southeast of Tahoka, 14 miles east and a little north of O'Donnell, 1,980 feet from the south and 660 feet from the west lines of the southeast quarter section 431, block 9, EL&RR survey.

The Durigan test of the C. F. Holland farm, section 13, Block J, EL&RR Survey, in which the Honolulu Oil company is reported to be the principal owner, is reported to be preparing to abandon the hole at about 4,000 feet. The test is 7 1/2 miles east and 1 1/2 miles north of Wilson.

No late reports had been issued Thursday in the J. W. Snowden et al. No. 1 Bryan Williams test on Section 1407, block 1, EL&RR survey four miles northeast of Central Church, where possible paying production was found in the San Andreas at 3,645 feet, but the driller has announced intentions of drilling to 9,500 feet to test other formations.

The Magnolia well has caused considerable interest in the oil fraternity, and it is likely that other tests will be made in that area, as well as in other areas of the county during the coming months.

Dr. E. N. Jones Of Texas Tech Gives Address To Grads

Forty-three Seniors received diplomas of graduation from Tahoka High School at the final exercises held in the auditorium Tuesday night, May 23.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, in making the graduation address, told the Seniors they should prepare themselves to meet an ever-growing number of crises that face the world.

Dr. Jones stated the individual would be better prepared to meet these crises, and the world would be better off, if the young person of today developed a better understanding of his fellowman, regardless of race, if more tolerance and less selfishness were practiced in family relations, and if each person would realize that the individual is important and democracy can be maintained on this basis only.

Invocation for the Commencement Exercises was given by J. Lee Coffman. Hubert Tankersley gave the Benediction.

After Dr. Jones' address Pat McGinty played "Brahms Lullaby." Otis Spears, principal, presented scholarship awards to Delwyn Tunnell, valedictorian, and Jolene Bragg, salutatorian. Mr. Spears also presented the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Awards to Geneva Martin and James "Punk" White. Geneva and James were elected in secret ballot by the student body as the THS girl and boy "who have made the greatest contribution to the spirit of sportsmanship and fair play during the year at THS."

On Memorial Day, next Tuesday, May 30, beginning at 3:00 p. m., the monument will be unveiled at appropriate ceremonies to which all the people of the county are invited. The names of 87 men appear on the stone.

Speaker for the occasion will be Texas Supreme Court Justice Meade F. Griffin, formerly of Plainview. The flag used by the Air Base in the unveiling will be presented to the Tahoka VFW Post.

Farm Home Administration Loans Help Strengthen Nation, Boost Trade

The Housing Act of 1949 authorized the Farmers Home Administration to provide loans and grants for construction and repair of farm dwellings and other farm buildings.

Loans for periods up to 33 years at 4 percent interest will be made to farm owners who are otherwise unable to finance needed housing and other building improvements for themselves and their tenants.

In addition, the construction carried on under the Act will this section. The project will cost $87 million dollars, most of which will be repaid out of the water revenues. Tahoka will soon have facilities to store and distribute water for a town of 8,000, but it is pumping 15 wells which gradually grow weaker through continuous pumping. Lubbock is taking about a section of land a year out of potential irrigation by expansion of its water well system at the rate of four wells to the section.

His talk was a very interesting and informative one.

stimulate trade in rural areas and strengthen the Nation by helping it move a step closer to the goal "of a decent home for every American family."

The following are the most frequently asked questions and answers about financial provisions of the farm housing program. More detailed information is available from the Farm Home Administration office which serves your county located in the court house in Tahoka.

For what purposes can I obtain a housing loan? In general a loan may be made to construct, improve, alter, repair or replace a dwelling or other building essential to the operation of the farm.

Who is eligible? To be eligible for a housing loan, you must be a farm owner, and lack the necessary capital to make the needed improvements. You must also be able to repay the loan from farm and other income. Tenants or farm laborers are not eligible but an owner may borrow money to build or repair houses and other buildings for his tenants.

What are the terms of the loan? The loan is secured by a mortgage on the farm, subject to any existing prior liens, and such additional security as may be necessary to reasonably protect the Government's investment.

How large must a farm be to qualify for a loan? For this program a farm is considered to mean a parcel or parcels of land operated as a single unit for the production of one or more agricultural commodities for sale or home use which have an annual gross value to at least $400 based on 1944 commodity prices.

Do Veterans have preference? Yes, preference is given to veterans of all wars and immediate families of deceased servicemen.

What standards are required? It is expected that any building built or repaired will have, when completed, a sound foundation, strong walls, tight roof and will meet similar minimum construction standards.

Will there be any exceptions to these standards? There are no exceptions for the construction work done with regular housing loans. However in emergency cases when loans and grants are made for minor repairs to protect the health and safety of the farm family, the construction work need only conform to minimum standards to the extent necessary to make the building safe and sanitary.

Will loans be made for land purchase or development? In some cases, yes. When the purchase of additional land or when improvements such as clearing, draining, fencing and terracing will increase the family income enough to repay the housing loan, funds may be used for land purchase or development.

Will there be local assistance in the operation of the program? County committees or local farmers will recommend as to the eligibility of the applicants, the reasonable value of the farm, the type of assistance for which the applicant is qualified, the amount of the loan or grant needed and the number of years over which the loan should be repaid. Where necessary the committee will inspect the farm and personally interview the applicant before making its recommendations.

Where do I apply? The Farmers Home Administration, Court-house at Post or Tahoka.

SAY UNCLE—One of the Navy's fleet-type submarines surfaces after a futile attempt to submerge and run from a hovering blimp. The maneuvering and endurance characteristics of the blimp make it a formidable foe of the submarine. The success of the blimp as a submarine hunter has led the Navy to begin construction on the new-type blimp and request funds for three more this year. (Official Department of Defense Photo.)

COMPLIMENTS ROADS

E. J. Cooper, commissioner of Precinct 1, this week received a letter from Kirby L. Scudder, postmaster at Slaton, complimenting the Lynn county commissioners in the excellent condition of the roads in Lynn county of rural routes out of Slaton. He cited a few bad spots in the roads, but declared "Our two routes travel a total of 170 miles and I doubt if there is a better 170 mile stretch of roads on rural routes in the state of Texas."

The Second grade is also buying books for the library, and chairs for their reading circle. Venetian blinds were bought for the elementary school by the Third and Fourth graders.

Carnival funds of the Fifth, Sixth, and Seventh grades went to establish a library for those classes, and to furnish it with books and other equipment. Slides and a film strip projector were also bought by these classes.

Classes Announce Use of Money Made At School Carnival

(By Jane Henderson)

The Parent-Teacher Association sponsored All-School Carnival, held each fall, is one of the biggest entertainment events on the Tahoka school calendar. But it also serves another purpose, that of benefiting the school system financially. This is evident from a survey of what each class in the Tahoka Schools spent their Carnival money for.

Eighty percent of the money taken in at the carnival goes to the classes, the other 20 percent going to the Parent Teachers Association. There is one string attached to the carnival money of each class—it must be spent for the betterment of the school system.

This year each class in the high school gave $10 to the library fund for new books and equipment.

The Senior class also bought two dictionary stands (one with the latest and largest Webster Dictionary) for the study hall, and contributed $20 to the National Honor Society's fund for stage equipment.

The Junior class are holding their funds in reserve, to be applied on their senior class gift next year.

A complete new band uniform was purchased by the Sophomore class. They also contribute $20 to the stage equipment fund.

Part of the carnival funds of the Freshman class went into the stage equipment fund, and part to the library. The Eighth grade bought a microscope with its carnival money.

The First grade of Tahoka Elementary School bought books for the new grade school library that was established this year.

Last year, 31,800 Americans were killed in traffic accidents.

Seniors Make Trip To Points In South Texas

"A good time was had by all."—That well-worn vacationer's phrase accurately sums up the Tahoka High School Senior Class Trip, according to the 37 people who made it.

These included 21 seniors, Mrs. Lillian Bartley and Preston Clark, sponsors; Clovis Honeycutt and Lawrence Harvick, bus drivers; and Mrs. Harley Henderson and Mrs. Frank Henderson.

The group spent two days on the Presbyterian Mo-Ranch, twenty-five miles west of Kerrville in South Texas. One senior boy described the dude ranch as "just like the pictures and advertisements of dude ranches in magazines—wonderful."

Swim In Guadalupe
Main attraction at the Mo-Ranch was swimming. The wide, clear Guadalupe River flowed 500 yards in front of the lodge, and for less-talented swimmers there was a private pool.

A concrete tennis court was very popular with the seniors, and a large gymnasium provided basketball and roller skating. The camp chapel was open to the students, and a blessing was said before each meal at the lodge.

The group drove some eight miles through a heavily wooded, hilly ranchland to inspect the headwater springs of the Guadalupe. On his trip they counted 17 deer grazing in the pastures or scampering away at the sound of the bus. The Mo-Ranch is leased out to hunters during the deer season.

Visit Joskes, Alamo
Third day of the trip was spent in San Antonio, with headquarters in the Gunter Hotel. The 37 seniors had lunch in the fountain room of Joskes of Texas, one of the largest department stores in the country. There also, they bought souvenirs and tried out the escalators.

One block from Joskes, in downtown San Antonio, the Tahokans visited the historic Alamo, where W. B. Travis, David Crockett, James Bowie, and about 180 others died fighting for Texas in 1836.

"Where is the line they carried Bowie's cot across?" one of the seniors asked. The lady at the information desk explained that Texas historians believe Commander Travis drew the line with his sword out in the barricaded courtyard, and not inside the mission.

Ride Roller-Coaster
After a short rest period at the hotel the seniors boarded a school bus for Brackenridge Park. Of chief interest there were the Sunken Gardens, and the Zoo, with its flamingoes, cobras, boa-constrictors, black panthers, ring-tailed baboons, and 57 kinds of fishes.

Some of the students and Mrs. Harley Henderson found the Roller Coaster at the amusement park more fun and less sickening than most carnival rides. After an hour at the park they had supper and attended a moving picture show.

Harold Crotwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Crotwell, Tahoka, a former student in the Tahoka Schools, and now in the Army, returned from San Antonio with the group. Harold, who has spent 27 months with the Army Air Forces in the Hawaiian Islands, is on a 30-day furlough.

Boy Scout Gets Gold Flash For Jamboree

MADISON, WIS. — Boy Scout Don Bribery is a lucky lad, for he will take to the International Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge the gold-plated Billioneer flashlight being presented to him here by Wisconsin Governor Oscar Rennebohm as Wisconsin Supreme Court Justice Marvin Rosenberry, a member of the National Boy Scout Council, looks on.

The Billioneer was created to commemorate the billionth Ray-O-Vac leakproof battery, produced within the short span of 11 years. Visualizing the magnitude of a billion cells, they would make a single cell that would stand more than a mile high or, if laid end to end, would reach 37,870 miles.

Present also at the commemoration celebration were officials of the Army and Navy, representatives of the National Association of Manufacturers, as well as civic and industrial leaders of the state.

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LeBLANC

HADACOL sales or shipments have reached the amazing total of 5,000,000 bottles since January 1, more of any one tonic than has ever been sold in so small an area in so short a time.

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc, Founder and President of The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana, makers of HADACOL, said the sales and shipments would have been far greater if his company could have obtained enough material to meet the demands.

"We have been several hundred thousand bottles behind in shipments since January 1," said Senator LeBlanc. "It looks like we just cannot catch up because every time we increase production the demand increases."

Senator LeBlanc credited the South's heaviest newspaper schedule with much of the success of HADACOL.

RIBS AND BARBECUE SAUCE

Succulent barbecue cooked to a brown, crisp deliciousness in hot, spicy sauce is especially good for a supper party main course, for it is a pungent delicacy, yet economical.

Ribs and Barbecue Sauce

2-3 pounds ribs
 1/4 cup margarine
 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 dash cayenne pepper
 1 teaspoon tabasco sauce
 2 tablespoons tomato catsup
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 2 tablespoons vinegar
 1 tablespoon minced onion
 1 small clove garlic
 1 tablespoon tomato sauce
 2 tablespoons chopped parsley

 Steam the ribs in a small amount of salted water for about 15 minutes. Mix all the sauce ingredients together and simmer gently. Arrange the ribs in a flat baking pan. Cover with the sauce and cook in a slow oven 300-325° F. for about one hour. Baste while cooking.

AUSTIN, TEX., May 25—Heart disease is the number one killer in Texas and last year there were 18,003 deaths from diseases of the heart, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

What kind of a heart have you? The periodic check-up with your physicians will tell you. The Tuberculosis Survey in the state conducted by the Texas State Department of Health has brought to light many non-tuberculous abnormalities, some of these have been heart conditions.

The three present major forms of heart trouble are: (1) rheumatic heart disease, (2) high blood pressure, and (3) coronary heart disease. Rheumatic heart disease, the most common type of early life, occurs as the result of one or more attacks of rheumatic fever. It is a health problem for which very little has been done, yet with early diagnosis and proper medical care during the acute and convalescent stages, children who develop rheumatic fever can be largely spared from rheumatic heart disease in later life.

Another major cause of heart trouble is high blood pressure or hypertension. This is the most common in people who are over age. There is a great deal that is not known about this disease, but we do know that it is most common in people who are overweight, and that it is associated with long, continuous strains, high tension and constant worry. Treatment of high blood pressure is fairly successful in the majority of cases.

Coronary heart disease is a disease of the arteries which supply the heart muscle itself with blood. A majority of persons survive the first attack and with good medical care, rest and common sense precautions, may even live a normal life span. Syphilitic heart disease can be prevented by early and adequate care of

OFFERS TO PAY FRIENDS IF HADACOL DOESN'T HELP

HADACOL HELPS SUFFERERS OF VITAMIN B₁, B₂, NIACIN AND IRON DEFICIENCIES

Mrs. Wallace tells her granddaughter, Maynell Wallace, over the phone how HADACOL brought relief to her.

Mrs. Belle Wallace, 449 Formwalt St. S. W., Atlanta, Ga., is so grateful to HADACOL for the blessings it has brought her that she has recommended HADACOL to a number of her friends. She told them she would pay for their bottles of HADACOL if it didn't help them. She explains with a smile that she hasn't had to pay any of her friends, because HADACOL has helped them.

Mrs. Wallace, who is 74 years old, has five children, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She was suffering from a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Mrs. Wallace said: "I couldn't sleep or eat until I started taking HADACOL. I'd lie awake and toss and turn until the small hours of the morning. I was highly nervous. I couldn't even thread a needle. But, since I've been taking HADACOL, my nerves are as steady as can be. I couldn't eat because when I did my stomach would puff and bloat and fill with gas. I am on the 7th bottle of HADACOL and my stomach is so much better."

Appetite Good

"I have a good appetite and my stomach does not bloat or fill with gas. I sleep like a log. I have recommended HADACOL to a number of friends and have told them that if it didn't help them, too, I'd pay for it, but I didn't have to because HADACOL did help them. HADACOL has done me more good than anything I have ever taken."

© 1950, The LeBlanc Corporation

Why Be Satisfied With Temporary Relief?

HADACOL also helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (where Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs—even to the eyes, hair and nails—to help repair the damage that such a deficiency may be causing there. Countless thousands are benefiting from HADACOL. Why don't you give it a chance to help you? Why continue to suffer? Remember, HADACOL doesn't give temporary relief. Instead, it treats the real cause of your illness when, as so often, it's due to such deficiencies. That's why it's so effective; that's why it's accomplishing such amazing results.

You'll Feel Great . . .

. . . with the first few bottles you take, or your money back. There is only one HADACOL and it is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. So give this remarkable HADACOL medicine a chance to help you. It's never too late to start taking HADACOL. Many who despaired of improvement found that HADACOL was almost like a miracle for them. Remember that HADACOL is amazingly different and amazingly effective because it treats the real cause of deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Make up your mind to take HADACOL regularly. Refuse substitutes. Insist on the genuine. You can't lose a cent, because it's sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Only $1.25 for Trial size, Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.

Pfc. Ward On Field Maneuvers

CAMP McNAIR, JAPAN.—Private First Class James B. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ward, Tahoka, is spending three weeks away from his home post, Camp McGill, Takeyama, Japan, for intensive field maneuvers and exercises.

His outfit, Company D, Fifth Cavalry Regiment, of the First Cavalry Division, made a 95 mile trip by truck to the First Cavalry Division's maneuver area located at the base of Japan's mighty inactive volcano, Fujiyama. Upon arrival at Camp McNair the unit was welcomed by Brigadier General Henry I. Hodgess, the assistant division commander.

During the stay in the field, Private First Class Ward will undergo training in the use and operation of all the heavy weapons used by his company. This training will also include squad and platoon problems, given under simulated combat conditions, which will end with a test to be given by the First Cavalry Division to determine the effectiveness of the unit in combat.

To Private First Class Ward the training will be no new experience. He was with the organization during its stay at the base of Mount Fujiyama during September and October of last year.

HERE FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Flickinger of Madisonville, Pennsylvania, returned to their home last Friday after visiting a week with their niece, Mrs. Joe Unfred, Jr., and his sister, Mrs. Jennie Westfall, in the Petty community.

This was their first visit to this area. One thing Mr. Flickinger could not understand was how it could come a flood here, followed a few hours later by a sand-storm.

About 75 percent of last year's automobile accidents were caused by drivers of passenger cars.

C. C. Johnson Rites Held At Draw Last Week

On December 22, 1895, Charles Carter Johnson was married to Miss Mollie Williams. Together they moved to Texas and to Lynn county in 1917. To them were born two sons, Curtis of Enochs, Texas, and Luther of Jayton, and three daughters, Mrs. W. Z. Florence of Draw and Mrs. Willis Pennington of Tahoka. And one daughter was transferred to the better world in infancy, this was little Mary Elizabeth. He had two brothers and two half-brothers and two half-sisters. His step-mother is still living, in Austin.

Bro. Johnson was converted early in life and united with the Methodist Church. He was a faithful and loyal member until his death, attending when he was hardly able to get around, even with the aid of his cane. He loved the church. His father before him was a local preacher in the local Methodist Church. He had served as Steward in the church.

He had been in poor health for the past few months, but hopeful of several years of life yet. On Monday afternoon, about 6:00 he had a stroke, from which he never rallied. He passed quietly out to the Heavenly World to be with those whom he had loved, but lost for a while. There he awaits the coming of his companion, who had walked by his side in a joyous union for well over a half century. His children and his loved ones, his neighbors and all who knew him, know where to find him. His life leaves no kind of question in the mind of friends and loved ones.

Charles Carter Johnson was born in Louisiana, February 3, 1874. He passed from this life

May 17, 1950, at the age of 76 years and 3 1/2 months.

Funeral services were held at Draw last Friday, conducted by Rev. Jesse Young of Adrian, former Draw pastor, assisted by Rev. J. W. Hawkins, present pastor, and Rev. Lee Ramsour, Tahoka Baptist pastor. A violin solo was rendered by Bob Luttrell.

Bobby Boyd Is Scholar Student

"The Texas Aggie," ex-student publication of Texas A. & M., for May 10, carries an interesting story concerning, among other students, Bobby Boyd of Tahoka, who was awarded a scholarship last year to attend the institution.

The story follows: Four "future generals" are attending the A. and M. College of Texas now, preparing for regular Army careers under special scholarship given by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Jones. Funds have been provided for two more each year for the next eight years, until a total of twenty young men have had such an opportunity.

The scholarships were established with a gift of $20,000 to the college in 1948. One each year is given in honor of General of the Army Dwight David Eisenhower and one in memory of the late General George S. Patton, Jr.

"We believe that the best guarantee of peace is the possession of a trained military establishment," the donors said at the time the gift was made, "and that the success of such an establishment is in large manner determined by the quality and training of its leaders. We recognize that many worthy boys with outstanding qualifications and abilities are desirous of honorably serving their nation through a military career, yet are prevented from doing so by lack of opportunity for military appointment or for the type education that would fit them for a military career.

Sophomores now in school under these scholarships are Luis F. Dominguez of Agua Dulce and Hubert M. Gorrod of Fort Worth. Freshmen this year are Bobby Boyd of Tahoka and Guy Shown of San Antonio.

Baccalaureate
Rev. Sheldon Russell of the First Baptist Church of Wells, delivered the Baccalaureate Sermon to the THS Senior Class last Sunday night in the High School auditorium.

"You must set yourself a God-appointed goal in life and steer a straight course toward it," Rev. Russell told the seniors. "Any straying from the course, no matter how small, may spell defeat."

"My hope for you seniors is not that you will become famous, or achieve greatness, but that you will be the best Christians you can possibly be," Rev. Russell said. "My hope is that you will set your goal, and reach it, and that God will say: 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant.'"

Rev. C. A. Holcomb, Jr., pastor of the First Methodist Church of Tahoka, gave the invocation. The benediction was given by E. E. West, minister of the Tahoka Church of Christ.

A chorus of THS girls sang "Work for the Night is Coming," and "Lead on O King Eternal." Floyd Tubb, commercial teacher, sang "End of A Perfect Day." Mrs. Miriam Hutchison played.

The Texas Highway Department announced recently from Austin that it had received bids for paving a short stretch of farm-to-market road in Lynn county on Tuesday, May 16.

The road which the department plans to pave is from New Home south two miles, thence east to join the Dixie pavement.

City Has Trash Hauling Troubles

The City of Tahoka is running into some difficulties in its trash hauling service, partly because many citizens do not yet understand the situation, according to Mayor K. R. Durham.

An effort is made to cover the entire city with trucks to pick up trash twice each month.

However, there are many instances where the trash cannot be picked up. Sometimes, people have trash burning in their containers or have burned so much trash in them that they are impossible to lift. Others fill their containers with so much dirt or rocks or other heavy materials that a man cannot lift them into the trucks. Trash should be placed in movable containers that can be lifted.

Then, if the trash is not picked up, the citizens should call the City Hall, phone 174 (not the Mayor or some Councilman) and the trash man will be sent back for it.

Tahoka initiated this free trash hauling in the residential section several months ago on a trial basis. Most cities in this area charge the individual a fee for such service, and, if the service is continued in Tahoka, this City ultimately will either have to charge a fee or raise the taxes. This service alone is costing Tahoka approximately $500 a month, or $6,000 a year, which comes out of the tax monies.

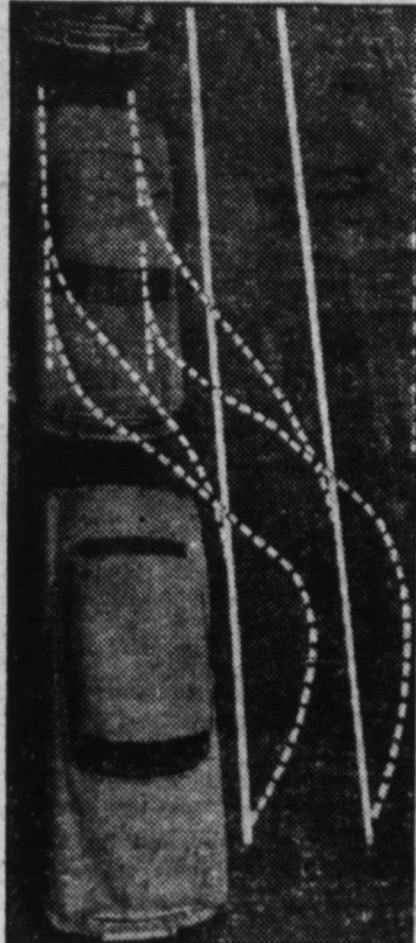

However, with full cooperation of the citizenship, Dr. Durham thinks that better service can be obtained.

HAGENS GRADUATES AT ARMY RADIO SCHOOL

Arthur Hagens, Jr., of Wilson graduated yesterday, Thursday, from the Army Air Corps radio school at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., where he has been stationed since last August. He entered the service in March, last year.

He expected to go to San Antonio for duty following his graduation.

How to Park

Wallace Announces String of Drive-Ins

LUBBOCK, May 18—Wallace Blankenship and sons, owners of the Wallace Theatres Circuit, Lubbock, today announced the awarding of contracts for six 350-car drive-in theatres to the Drive-In Theatre Equipment and Construction Company of Abilene, Texas. The construction company is headed by W. W. Cochran and George H. Idkins.

The contract calls for "turn-key" jobs and include Auto-Voice in-car speakers; large Timber Structures, Inc., prefabricated screen towers; playground, modern concession stands, and many refinements not usually found in drive-in theatres.

The new "Golden Horseshoe" plot design will be used. Parking will be made easier for the patrons as the front and rear wheels of the automobile will rest on level ground, thereby reducing the danger of car slippage on the ramps.

All of the above drive-ins will be built in towns where Blankenship now owns conventional movie houses. When the six drive-ins are completed the Wallace Theatres Circuit will consist of twentythree theatres.

Two conventional movie houses, are now under construction in Morton and Andrews. These latter theatres are scheduled for early fall openings.

Idkins and Cochran have built drive-ins in Stamford, Winters, Ballinger, El Paso, and are now erecting "ozoners" in Merkel and Seminole.

TANKERSLEYS HAVE NEW AND MODERN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tankersley of West Point recently have moved their farm home about 300 feet and rebuilt it into a beautiful and modern structure.

The old house faced west, but the rebuilt home faces south, and has large plate glass windows, stuccoed exterior, and hardwood floors, and all the modern conveniences. Their friends are rejoicing in the fact that they can now spend their declining years in their beautiful new home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wyatt returned Sunday from Postales, New Mexico, where they spent a week visiting relatives. Mr. Wyatt reports that it was very dry in that area.

"YOU HARDLY KNOW THE ROAD IS THERE!"

You won't be the first to say that—not by a long shot.

One of the first things you notice, when you step from another make of car into Buick, is the wonderful difference in the Buick ride.

There are good technical reasons, if they interest you...

Soft coil springs all around, the gentlest type of spring man knows how to make.

A stout torque-tube, acting like the husky keel of a battleship to steady the whole carriage.

Low-pressure tires on wide, Safety-Ride rims, that stop heel-over and sway on curves.

Firm, sure, quick-acting shock absorbers, promptly snubbing the after-bounce of the bigger bumps.

The important thing is what these all add up to.

Freedom at last from jounce and jiggle. A level, floating, road-free passage over almost any kind of road, with even the worst of them tamed and gentled as never before.

Add Fireball power to all this—the roominess of wide, deep seats—the lightness of Buick controls and the liquid silkiness of Dynaflo Drive*—and you have a car just too good to miss.

Come try one, won't you? Your Buick dealer will be delighted to demonstrate without obligation—delighted to show you that if you can afford a new car, you probably can afford a Buick.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

ODDS AND ENDS

(By E. I. The Elder)

The recent hullabaloo raised by Senator McCarthy over the alleged infiltration of Communists into the State Department proved to be only a tempest in a teapot. The storm petered out when McCarthy failed to produce the evidence. Doubtless he had been egged on by other Republican Senators who hoped to make political capital out of the extravagant charges. At the start McCarthy charged that there had been more than eighty Communists connected with the State Department. Being pressed for the proof and apparently sparring for time, he gradually cut the number down, and finally declared that while there were many, he was willing to stake the whole case on the guilt of one individual. He named that individual as Prof. Owen Lattimore, formerly of Johns Hopkins University and alleged to be currently connected in some way with the State Department. Then he produced witnesses to prove his charges, his chief witness being one Louis F. Budenz, a former Communist.

Much of his testimony was probably true, though not important, and it utterly failed to substantiate the charges against Lattimore. In fact, the country seemed to be pretty well convinced from the evidence adduced that Lattimore was not and never had been a Communist nor even a "fellow-traveler." So that charge fell flat.

Both good and evil consequences may result from this fiasco. The general public hereafter may be prone to discredit from the start any charge made against any employee of any Government Department and thus discourage any adequate investigation. On the other hand, this far-reaching investigation may have the effect of making every Government official more cautious in the selection of his underlings and thereby make it harder for any Communist to steal his way into any Government position.

Although it is doubtless true that there are Communists scattered throughout this country.

especially among the foreign elements in the larger cities, yet we do not feel that the Communists at any time in the near future can become strong enough to accomplish much damage or can persuade many people to be willing to give up their liberties for a totalitarian form of government—which adds up to a condition of slavery on the part of the masses and to a reign of tyranny by the bosses.

We think that the greatest danger facing this country comes from a different source and in a different form. That danger if realized, however, would not necessarily mean the destruction or the striking down of our Government. It would mean the rooting up and abandonment of one of the cardinal principles of this government, a principle that has been dear to most American hearts, the complete and perpetual separation of Church and State.

Now, some of you may think that this is a mere bugaboo and that there is in fact no danger of this principle being set aside by the American people. That would be true if the American people would keep their eyes open, take a peep into the woodpile row and then for a hidden Senegambian, turn a chip over once in a while to find out what kind of bug is under it, or look pretty often in to the political pot to see what is brewing.

What are we driving at? We are trying to say that there are more ways of killing a cat than by choking it to death on butter. Legislation has been proposed and has been strongly advocated in Congress, in the newspapers and magazines, over the radio, in the shops and offices of business and professional men, in the school rooms, in the homes of many people, advocating Federal aid to public schools and parochial schools alike.

Parochial schools are merely "church schools,"—schools maintained by some of the powerful denominations in this country for the purpose of giving their children religious training as well as secular instruction.

Since these religionists must pay taxes for maintaining the public schools and yet do not send their children to the public schools in many instances but do send them to schools built by "The Church," they argue that the Government should furnish them free transportation and funds for the purchase of text books and for supplementing teachers' salaries in these "church" or parochial schools. The argument on its face seems plausible, and many non-Catholic people fall for it.

David Lawrence has long been a newspaper columnist and political commentator, and his newspaper and magazine articles are read doubtless by hundreds of thousands of people. We do not know what his religious views or affiliations are, but we read recently one of his articles in which he very artfully advocated Federal aid to all schools, public and parochial. The article appeared in the Star-Telegram of March 23 and doubtless in many other newspapers.

We are not quoting him verbatim, but he said in substance that Catholics are taxed to support public schools, but in order to get religious education also they must provide and support their own schools. The inference is that this works a hardship upon them, and that they are being treated unjustly. It sounds plausible at first blush.

But, "in order to get religious education," Methodists, and Baptists, and Presbyterians, and Disciples, and Lutherans, and Congregationalists, and Nazarenes, and Jews, and other religious sects and denominations must also construct and maintain buildings in which they and their children are to receive and give religious instruction. They can not get it in the public schools. Neither the state nor the federal government is permitted by law to make appropriations for the purpose of giving religious instruction or education in the public schools. But Catholics can if they will attend the public schools and get there the same secular education that children of other folks get. And they can spend their own money to give their children religious instruction in buildings of their own selection, just as Methodists and Disciples, and Nazarenes, and others do all over this country. Look around you in Tahoka and see churches and Sunday School rooms which the various denominations have built and are supporting for the religious education and training of their children. They are not asking for a handout from the Government. We should like to ask Mr. David Lawrence why we should dig down into the people's treasury either at Washington or at Austin to enable the Catholic church to give religious instruction to its children?

Now, suppose that Congress should make an appropriation for the aid of Catholic schools. If it should do so and persist in doing so, justice and honesty would require that it make appropriations also for the religious education of the children of other denominations willing to accept the hand-out. In the same proportion that it appropriated funds to the Catholics, it would be honor bound to make appropriations to the Baptists, Methodists, and all the others. When that policy shall have been adopted, then your Separation of Church and State will have gone glimmering. And your public schools will also have gone glimmering, unless indeed separate schools are maintained for the various denominations; for we should like to see the color of the eye of the teacher who could teach the Bible to suit all denominations. We would have one mess.

Oh, of course the various denominations could go on teaching their children on Sunday, as now, in their respective churches and Sunday School rooms, but in that event it would be a perpetual scramble between the various denominations for Government funds. We would like to see the Congressman who could remain in Washington for more than one term under that system.

Yet the proposal to give aid to the parochial schools along with aid to the public schools throughout our 48 states was seemingly having smooth sailing for some time in the Congress last year but finally somebody began to voice strong opposition and Congress suddenly dropped the matter like a hot potato.

But the fight is not over. It will bob up again. Catholics are strong in the cities of the North and East and are growing stronger. As they grow stronger, they are going to insist more and more of Federal Aid for parochial schools. Also, they may be expected to pool forces with other groups of citizens who are seeking Federal aid for the public schools generally. The Catholics favor this too, for they know that when Congress launches out on a policy of making large appropriations they will gradually assume the right of saying how the funds shall be spent, and there is where the Catholics will score a gain. They will be making demands on the Government, and will be continually rising into public school matters all over the country.

STANDARD VERTICAL ARRANGEMENT OF SIGNAL LENSES

SKETCH E

You Can Help Solve Traffic Problems If You Know More About Signals

What do you know about highway traffic signals? If your knowledge is limited to the fact that you go when the signal shows green and stop when it shows red, you can make the problem of traffic control an easier one for your public officials by knowing more about traffic signals.

You can help bring about uniformity of traffic signals by learning to identify the standard traffic signal and then encouraging your officials to use only standard types when they install new signals or replace existing non-standard signals. Wouldn't it be much easier for you to understand the indications given by traffic signals if they were all of the same design in every town and state? In fact, standardization of traffic control signals is considered so desirable and important that the Fiftieth Texas Legislature specified that all highway traffic signals installed in Texas after 1947 shall conform to National standards.

The sketch will help you identify the most common type of a standard fixed-time (stop and go) signal for suspension over the center of the highway. To be standard each face must have at least three lenses, with red at the top, yellow below the red, and green below the yellow. Additional lenses, showing arrows and walk-wait, may be added at complicated intersections to provide for special movements of traffic. The standard position of the lenses is not only helpful to every motorist, but it is especially helpful to the color blind who can tell whether to stop or go by the difference in brightness of the lenses when they cannot distinguish colors.

The yellow signal, which follows green only, plays a very important role. It warns traffic in motion that the signal indication will change; it provides a clearance time for traffic already in the intersection and for traffic approaching so closely that to stop would be hazardous; and it permits operation of yellow as a flashing caution signal when the signal is not being operated as a stop and go signal.

There are a large number of traffic signals in use today that were installed before the present standards were adopted, and they do not conform to present standards. Unfortunately there are some local units of government who still buy non-standard signals without the yellow lenses. Some of these two-section signals show both red and green at the time they are changing color, which is not only confusing but also hazardous.

You can also help with the problem of traffic control by understanding the functions of traffic signals and their limitations.

A well designed and operated traffic signals on the basis of factual studies of the number of vehicles and pedestrians, accidents, speeds, delays, and physical conditions of the location can render invaluable service in the smooth and safe flow of traffic. On the other hand, an unjustified, ill designed, ineffectively placed, improperly operated, poorly maintained signal is not only a waste of public funds, but it causes unnecessary delays to traffic, disobedience of signal indications, use of alternate routes, and often, an increase in accidents.

After years of study and experience, National authorities have set out the conditions that will justify the installation of a traffic signal. Unfortunately, too many traffic signals have been installed on the basis of opinion rather than facts, and upon the mistaken idea that they are a cure-all for all traffic problems. The result has been a hindrance to traffic rather than a help. How many times have you, as a law-abiding citizen, been forced to stop at some insignificant cross street and wait for a signal to change to green when there was not a car or pedestrian in sight? Did this unnecessary delay improve your disposition and your respect for traffic signals? Another common fallacy is that a single stop and go signal can control speed, and this belief has resulted in a number of unjustified signals. The signal may slow down the speed demon or even stop him while the signal is red, but while the signal is showing green, it only offers a challenge for this speed demon to go faster to get by it before it does turn red. Traffic signals cannot write tickets for traffic violations—you still need traffic officers to en-make America Catholic. If they can use the public schools to do so, that will be just fine for them. Their leaders have always maintained and still maintain that the education of the children is not in fact a proper function of the church, they say. They are willing to go in partnership with the Government in the matter of public education if they can control their partner. If they can't control him to start with, they hope to be able to control him eventually.

Now we are not starting any religious controversy. We want none. But the Catholics start one when they go to Congress asking that body to pass a law in their favor. Rather they start a political controversy, for every matter becomes political when it goes to Congress for action. And their apologists and advocates like David Lawrence start a political row when they go into the newspapers asking the people to ask Congress to grant special favors to any particular church, religious denomination, or sect in our country.

So folks, study your Bibles diligently, and keep your political powder dry. You may need to use it some time soon.
