

Wilson-New Home Teams Tangle Tonight

Lynn county's only two six-man football teams, New Home and Wilson, will open their district

4-B conference season opposing each other in a game under the lights at Wilson tonight at 7:30

Wilson played a non-conference game at Bovina last Friday, losing by a top-heavy score of 60 to 12. At the end of the half Bovina led the small and inexperienced Wilson Mustangs by a score of 48 to 0, but in the last half the Wilson boys held Bovina to 12 points and rolled out 12 points for themselves.

The New Home Leopards will be playing their first game of football. Ten or twelve years ago, the school fielded a six-man team briefly but dropped the sport.

Though inexperienced, Coach Wayne Timmons has a group of large and versatile boys at New Home who possibly only need some playing experience to become a potent outfit.

Starting for New Home will likely be: Billy Fletcher and Kenneth Rodgers at ends, Dan Cowan at Center, Darrell Fletcher at quarterback, and Donald Caudle and Billy Smith at half-backs. Other boys likely to see action include: Milton Evans, Don Dee Balch, Jim Gannaway, Bobby Joe Smith, Bobby and Clifton Clem, Eugene Keith, and Billy Frank Wilson.

Wilson, 4-B district champions last year, face a rebuilding job this year. Though small, they have the advantage of some experience, and are not willing to concede anything to the visitors.

IH PISTONS and SLEEVES Give Me Lots of Pep, Power and Pull!

"No, the boss hasn't been feeding me wild oats! It's just my new piston-and-sleeve transfection that gives me all this pep, power and pull. It was just yesterday the boss was bragging to the neighbor across the fence about my 'operation.' 'You know,' he said, 'I'm not only getting more work done since I had those IH matched pistons and sleeves put in, but I'm getting it done cheaper. I've already made more than the cost of the job in oil and fuel saved. Besides, it's a lot more fun driving a tractor with lots of zip and go.'"

Stevens Graduates From Navy School

A recent graduate from the Enlisted Basic Course of the Submarine School, New London, Conn., is Charles W. Stevens, fireman, USN, of Tahoka, son of Mrs. Jessie Jewel Stevens, who has been assigned to Submarine Development Group 2, New London.

During the eight-weeks course the school prepares the students to become members of a submarine crew by giving them a foundation of basic knowledge of the equipment, principles and skills involved in operating a still bear often, "John Brown's body lies a-mouldering in the grave but his soul goes marching on—Glory Glory Hallelujah—" etc. John Brown, our high school students will remember, was the fanatical abolitionist who organized a little body of men and made war on the Government by attacking and capturing a Government arsenal at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., and who also led on the side of the North in the undeclared war that raged in Kansas in the 1850's over the slavery issue. For his attack upon and capture of the Government's arsenal at Harper's Ferry in 1859 before any state had seceded from the Union, he was convicted of treason and hanged. But the abolitionists of the North regarded him as a martyr, and he is still so regarded and revered in Akron and throughout the North generally.

Mr. and Mrs. Caveness made the trip by plane. He says they ate breakfast in Dallas, ate lunch four miles above Mother Nature in Mississippi, and ate dinner in Cleveland, Ohio, having made the trip in five hours.

He also says that near Akron there are two rivers only a mile apart in that vicinity, one of them flowing north into Lake Erie and the other flowing south into the Ohio River. In pioneer days boats would come up these rivers, from the south and from the north, with cargoes of various kinds. Indians would transfer the cargoes or in some instances the small boats from one river to the other, over a trail beaten out by this traffic, and it is known to this day as "Portage Path."

Northern Ohio was the region in which the Iroquois and other Indian tribes lived and waged their wars, and Mr. Caveness reminds us that this was the general area which James Fenimore Cooper wrote about in his famous Leatherstocking Tales. The country is not only rich in Indian lore but is filled with places of historic interest because of the stirring events that occurred after white men had taken over.

New Federal Law Prohibits Hiring School Children

The attention of farmers is called to the Federal law passed during the 1949 session of Congress which makes it unlawful to employ children under 16 years of age in agriculture during school hours.

The entire responsibility for determining the age of the worker is placed on the farmer who employs the child or worker, and if there is any doubt he is advised to require a certificate of age.

The penalty for employing those of school age is or may be a fine up to ten thousand dollars for the first offense and for the second the same fine plus a jail sentence of six months.

The law applies to local workers as well as migratory workers. The farmer may use his own children on his own farms provided he does not violate the compulsory attendance law that requires children to attend school.

The compulsory attendance law in Texas is that all children 16 years or under must attend school and the penalty is a fine of five dollars for the first day, and ten dollars for the second day, and fifteen dollars for the third day and then starts over.

Citizens Can Cut Accidents

It is a well-known fact that occupational accidents often cost untold tragedy in terms of deaths and injuries, but it is not so widely known that these accidents also cost American employers and employees multi-billions of dollars annually. The President's Conference on Industrial Safety and the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies tell us that $18,500,000 are paid out in the name of occupational accidents each and every working day of the year.

As a matter of fact, three percent of the total cost of American production is accounted for by occupational accidents. Since all manufacturing costs must be included in the price the ultimate consumer pays for a product or service, the economic loss all the way down the line reaches fantastic proportions.

Wage losses, medical expenses and other clearly defined costs resulting from accidents on the job amounted to more than $1,350,000,000 last year. Indirect cost, such as time lost by fellow-workers, production delays and property damage, is placed at $1,300,000,000.

Since 1940 the total cost of accidents in factories, on farms, and business offices throughout the nation spiraled to $19,150,000,000—and this is an extremely conservative figure. It is equal to a yearly tax of $45 levied on every working person in America!

Isn't this an inexcusably high and wasteful price to pay for carelessness in producing and distributing the needs of modern living. We think it is! So do you.

Cotton Council Issues Warning On Fire Dangers

Pointing out that fire losses last season amounted to about $1.25 for every bale of cotton produced, the National Cotton Council has initiated an educational campaign aimed at prevention of cotton fires during the current crop year.

"To be effective, fire prevention must begin on the cotton farm and continue throughout every process to the finished cotton product," Claude L. Welch, the Council's production and marketing director, declared.

"Cotton farmers and those harvesting cotton have an important part in the fire prevention program, since rocks, metals and matches often get into seed cotton when it is being harvested. These materials cause sparks when they hit metal parts in the ginning process. Lint is thus ignited. The smoldering cotton may not be discovered when it enters the gin press box and thus may be packed deep inside the bale. Such "firepacked" bales were believed responsible for 84 percent of all fires occurring last season in compress and warehouses.

"Strict enforcement of the "no smoking" rule, properly adjusted machinery, safe wiring, isolation of "firepacked" bales, proper maintenance of fire fighting equipment, keeping premises free of trash, and safe storage of combustible materials are measures which can help prevent fires around gins, compresses, and warehouses," Mr. Welch emphasized.

Sunday visitors in the home of W. R. Ledbetter and sisters were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. McDougal of Kemp, Miss Bobbie Morrow of Kaufman, Mrs. W. E. Richburg and son Jack and daughters Erz and Eva of Sweetwater, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Richburg of Inadale, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Ledbetter and sons R. G. and Thomas of O'Donnell and Leroy of Hobbs, N. M. Recent visitors in this home were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Traweck of Bangs.

Revival Continues At Assembly of God

Interest is increasing in the revival, conducted by Evangelist Nola Stout and her Col-Worker, Miss Norma Elliott, at the local Assembly of God Church.

Miss Stout's forceful presentation of the Gospel, together with the inspirational singing of she and Miss Elliott, is drawing large crowds, and is attracting much favorable comment from outsiders as well as members of the church.

No definite closing date has been set, as the revival will continue as long as interest is good.

Services are being held every night except Saturday, starting at 7:30 o'clock. Everyone is invited.

Man Named To Youth Work In South Plains Area

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 —Lynn County is included in the Panhandle and South Plains area now under the supervision of William MacKay, new field representative in that district for the State Youth Development Council.

A former Harris county probation officer with many years' experience in social probation, and welfare work, MacKay opened his Lubbock headquarters early this month. He will direct Youth Council services in the regions surrounding Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Lubbock, Amarillo, Borger, and Wichita Falls.

MacKay's activities will include furnishing consultant services to agencies and communities on child delinquency and their handling; advising juvenile courts and probation and law-enforcement officers, on request, on the proper commitment of delinquent children and other procedural practices; and giving probation services to juvenile courts in counties without probation officers, upon request of such courts' judges.

In addition, he will give placement services in certain special cases in which children are being returned home from state training schools for delinquents, and will assist communities in the study of such children's needs and help the communities to organize programs and activities to meet those needs.

MacKay spent three years on the Harris County Welfare Board and a year in the probation department before the war. He was a probation officer there from 1946 until assuming his new Youth Development Council duties this month.

During the last war he served three years as a Marine Corps officer.

TECH FURNISHES LAMBS TO TEXAS STOCKMEN

LUBBOCK, Sept. 24. —The animal husbandry department of Texas Technological College is furnishing fine lambs to stockmen of the West Texas area to produce flocks through cross-breeding.

Mr. R. C. Mowery, head of the Husbandry Department, said today that C. W. Anthony of Dimmit, Texas, purchased two Hampshire ram lambs from the College.

Glen F. Rehgon, Abernathy; M. F. McKnight, Hale Center, and Jack Carathers, Lubbock, each bought one of the Hampshire lambs. B. E. Wimberly, Hale Center, purchased a Rambouillet ram lamb for his farm flock.

The stockmen plan to breed the Tech rams with range ewes.

MRS. ROBINSON IMPROVES STORE

Beautiful new oak showcases were installed Tuesday of this week in the Robinson Ready-to-Wear.

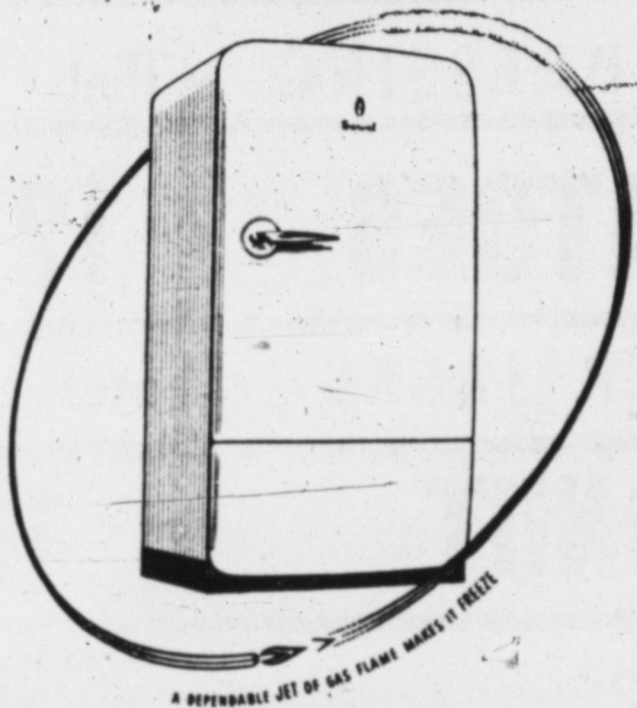

There will be comedy for children of all ages coupled with the sweet sentiment of the time honored story of Princess Snow White's love for her Prince Charming. The lovable antics of the seven dwarfs and the magic of the Queen-Witch plus the singing and dancing together make up one of the most delightful stage attractions you will ever witness.

The cast which has been assembled with utmost care from the ranks of New York performers has presented "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in every section of the country. Audiences in such metropolitan centers such as Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Seattle and many others have been thrilled with this brilliant musical performance.

It is a safe assumption that any child who sees this production will always remember it as a most joyful event. The magic of the stage, the living actors, music, dance and the colorful settings which go to make up a musical show never fail to impress the young mind and to guide it towards a fuller enjoyment of the beauties of life.

Letters From Our Readers

Letters to this column from our readers are welcome. Our only requirements are that they not be libelous and that they be kept as brief as possible. All communications must be signed. Tahoka School Patrons:

Please allow me to get a few things off my chest in regard to our Tahoka schools.

I note the local school authorities say our buildings are crowded to capacity. If that is not an understatement of facts, I don't know what one is. Some of the rooms built for 25 students, which is all any one teacher should have to do good work, are crowded with 40 or more students. This is terrible on all concerned.

I think our school board members are too busy making a living and are not interested enough in pushing the best interests of our school. They should spend some time up there seeing what is going on and some more time studying our school's problems.

The school administrators are supposed to be on the job 12 months a year. Maybe they should give a little more time to getting better qualified teachers. Then they, (the teachers) should be given better environment, plenty of rooms, and proper books, and they will be better teachers.

Our citizens should have enough civic pride to want Tahoka to have the best schools of anybody. They should want and see that the buildings are better kept, the grounds improved and landscaped. We would be embarrassed to show newcomers or visitors our schools and grounds—our grounds and some of our buildings are a disgrace.

Parents say they love their children and want the best for them. Why don't they give them better schools here? They were crowded before the smaller communities consolidated. Now they are worse than crowded. Let's give our teachers and students a chance to do their best by giving them the best schools that are clean and uncrowded and grounds to be proud of.

Let's we parents, who have our children's best interests at heart get busy and vote bonds for a new Junior High School. We try to give our children good homes, good food and clothing. Why not give them a complete school plant where they spend most of their time for 12 years of their lives?

And while we're doing it this time, let's not be so chincy on funds. Let's spend a little more and do away with those unsightly barracks. It's impossible to keep them warm and clean.

Why not tear them down, and build a modern Home Economics cottage for our girls? Even the sewing machines the girls use now are 25 years old.

Nearly a hundred students are taking band, and many more are taking other types of music. They have to practice in the auditorium, in corners, and everywhere else. Let's build a modern, up-to-date band building, apart from the other buildings so the noise will not disturb others and so the acoustics will be right for band.

Our school grounds are a disgrace. They should have been landscaped 25 years ago. Why keep on waiting?

Another thing. We need some rest rooms at the football stadium. Thousands of people are interested enough to go to the ball games, but nobody is interested enough to build some rest rooms.

I am glad to see the school board waking up to the need of expansion. You can't take your money with you. Let's wake up and give our children a complete school system. It's already getting late. —A. T.

Odds & Ends

(Cont'd. From Editorial Page) self-styled "Napoleon of the West" proceeded with his army a little further on to the confluence of Buffalo Bayou and the San Jacinto River. There they struck camp and rested, feeling that Texas had been conquered and that the war was over.

But Sam Houston, knew better. After Santa Anna and his army had by-passed him, he followed up.

Following their noon meal on April 21, which had consisted mainly of tortillas, tamales, and tequila, no doubt, Santa Anna and his soldiers were taking a quiet afternoon siesta—the Mexicans are long on siestas. Old Santa Anna was probably "dreaming of the hour" when that up-start Sam Houston "should tremble at his power."

Houston had advanced his army from Hempstead to Harrisburg in less than four days, and seeing that the time for him to strike had arrived, he struck quick and hard. Utterly surprised, the Mexicans became panic-stricken. The battle was soon over, and Houston's report of the battle disclosed that 630 Mexicans had been killed over 290 wounded, and 730 were captured, including Santa Anna himself. Only two Texans were killed and 23 wounded.

That settled the Mexicans' hash, and the Declaration of Independence adopted previously at Washington-on-the-Brazos stuck.

The State Park at Washington lies on a gently-sloping hillside, sloping east toward the near-by Brazos. In the park are several buildings, replicas of the originals. A metallic statue of George C. Childress, author of the Texas Declaration of Independence, adorns the grounds. It is an imposing figure, two or three times the size of the man himself. One sees stern purpose in the features of the face and in the posture of the body. Childress county out here in the Panhandle was named for him.

A metal plaque in the park informs the reader that the park was purchased on March 2, 1916, just 80 years after the adoption of the Texas Declaration of Independence, by the following committee: James E. Ferguson, Governor; Ben F. Looney, Attorney-general; J. A. Owens, Superintendent of public buildings and grounds; Paul D. Page, Senator from Bastrop; Sam Low, member of Lower House.

The sun was now dropping away down in the western sky, and having no further business on the spot where Washington used to be, we were soon on the road again, and in a few minutes, for the first time since leaving Waco, we again crossed the Brazos River and found ourselves in Navasota.

In Navasota is a noted statue commemorating the exploits of that famous French explorer, Sieur de La Salle, who was killed by one of his own party in 1687 near the present site of Navasota. La Salle had purportedly come to the Texas coast in search of the mouth of the Mississippi but missed his bearings and landed in Lavaca Bay. Some think he missed the river purposely and came straight to Texas, where he could better watch the Spaniards. Our guess is that he had heard that Texas was the biggest thing on the Western Continent and naturally supposed that the Mississippi was located in this state, or whatever it was at that time. Anyhow he landed on the Texas coast and established Fort Saint Louis. He naturally thought Saint Louis ought to be in Texas and did his best to put it there. He went out on several expeditions here, there, and yonder looking for the Mississippi River or Spanish gold, one or the other, and down there on the Brazos one of his own men got mad at him or decided to rob him, or something, and killed his boss.

So Navasota found that to be a good excuse to erect a great statue and get a lot of publicity out of the murder. We don't guess the sheriff of Grimes county ever found the bloody assassin, for we have never heard that any one was ever tried for the crime.

Not having time to stop and investigate the La Salle-murder, we hurried on up to College Station—My what a school!—hastened through Bryan, and headed for the tall pines—didn't stop until we got to Madisonville. Good town. But we are not quite through with Sam Houston yet. One more brief act, and then the curtain will ring down, for Houston.

only were out to stop Brownfield, but they threw a variety of plays at the visitors from the single wing, double wing, and modified T formations.

Lynn Halameck, 135 pound Bulldog quarterback, was the sparkplug, calling a marvelous game, and doing everything a player is supposed to do, including punt returns of 39, 34, and 28 yards. His runs were made possible by fine blocking on the part of his team mates.

Brownfield received the opening kick-off, failed to make a first down, and on the attempted punt recovery Halameck fumbled the ball but recovered in a desperation dive for it. The ball exchanged twice on fumbles, after each team had made a first down. Then the Cub's Nelson, backed up deep in his own territory by a penalty, punted out to the Tahoka 43, where Halameck fielded it and raced to the Brownfield 17. Then he made it a first down, and halfback Bill Short moved the ball to the 3 yard line, from which point Fullback James Foster plunged over center for a touchdown on the first play of the second quarter.

Center Wayne Tekell kicked off to the goal line, and Cub Quarterback Cary brought it out to the 16. The Cubs could not go and were forced to punt, and again Halameck raced the ball back to the Cub's 23. Foster made 9, then Brownfield intercepted a pass on the 10 to end that threat. The Cubs began to roll, and in four successive first downs, with Cary and Latham carrying the mail, marched to the Tahoka 16, but the Bulldog's Tekell broke through the Cub's defense and speared Cary for an 8 yard loss. Don Baice knocked down an almost complete pass. A few plays later the half ended.

In the third quarter, Tahoka received the kick-off, worked the ball to mid-field, and punted to the 20. The Cubs couldn't go far, got off a short 9-yard punt, and Tahoka took over on the Cub 36. The Bulldogs couldn't go either, and kicked to the Cub 12. Two plays netted the visitors two yards, the End Ronny Gurley tackled Cary for a 11 yard loss on the Cub's 3. Halameck took the kick on the Cub 42 and raced all the way to the 8, went over center on the first play for 5, then around right end for the touchdown, as the quarter ended. Score 12 to 0.

Latham brought Tahoka's kick-off back to the 43 from the 15. Two plays later, Halameck intercepted a Cub pass on the Bulldog's 25. Foster and Lynn reeled off a total of 23 yards in five plays. Tahoka kicked to the Cub 21, and Cary returned to the 32. It was two plays later that Gurley intercepted Cary's pass on the 39. Halameck's pass to Foster was good for 19 yards, the Bulldogs lost 6, then Foster passed to Halameck for 21 on the Cub's 4. The Tahoka quarterback then took the ball around right end for the touchdown. After the kick-off, Tekell nailed Latham for a 10-yard loss, but the visitors rolled up two first downs on a pass and two nice runs. But the attack fizzled near midfield, Tahoka took over and quick-kicked catching the Cubs flatfooted. The Cubs completed two more passes of 18 and 7 yards, and the final gun sounded.

All Tahoka conversion attempts by running the ball had failed, the final score was 18 to 0.

A summary of game statistics show that Tahoka made 7 first downs, Brownfield 8. Tahoka made exactly 100 yards net running, 73 of which were made by Halameck, to Brownfield's net of 82 yards. Incidentally, the Cubs made only 2 yards net on running plays in the second half. Tahoka lost yardage three times in the game, a total of 16 yards. The Cubs lost on six plays a total of 49 yards.

Tahoka tried six passes, completed three for 44 yards, two were incomplete, and one was intercepted. Brownfield tried 17 passes, 5 were complete for 63 yards, two were intercepted, and 10 were incomplete.

Punting was about even, Tahoka punting five times and Brownfield five, for averages of 30 and 31 yards, but Tahoka led in punt returns, 101 yards to 19 yards.

The Bulldogs fumbled four times, lost the ball once, and the Cubs fumbled twice, losing the ball once. The visitors were penalized six times for a total of 50 yards, while Tahoka drew two penalties for a 20-yard total.

Though Halameck and Foster were the outstanding ball carriers, superb blocking was furnished by backs Wiley Curry, Bill Short, and Robby Dormaz. The downfield blocking and line work was beautiful to behold. The Cubs quickly learned they could not go around Earl Bartley's end, and on the other end, Ronny Gurley played a fine game. Wayne Tekell found himself at center and broke through the line several times to mess up plays. Jackie Slover even played better than his usual dependable game, and Conrad Ratliff did a good job at the other tackle spot. Don Brice, 135, and Wayne Martin, 125, proved that little guys can play guard and both utilized every ounce of their strength. Jerry Stevens, 200, who has been laid out with an injured shoulder, went in at guard position on defense and played a whale of a game. Clayton Carter and Jimmy Drager also did fine relief work.

Quarterback Dale Cary was the fine Cub offensive star, and turned in a superb game, doing just about everything. Dean Murphy was a power at tackle, and Chambliss and Nelson were outstanding in the backfield. Coach Joe Turned has reason to be proud of the advancement his boys have made, and he and his assistants, Coaches Jake Jacobs and Tom Bartley, are due the compliments of Bulldog fans. Regardless of what happens in the future, the 2,200 fans will long remember the game. It was a great disappointment to the former Class AA Cub fans. The Bulldog fans were elated that their team had found itself and only hope that the boys can continue to improve and to show the same spirit they exhibited Friday night. The future is up to the boys.

The Secret of NUTRI-TONIC Loveliness is Patented!

Waves safely in little as 10 minutes due to patented OIL Creme base

Used by beauticians for millions of luxurious permanents at prices up to $20 and higher. Try Nutri-Tonic permanent at home...see the difference! Only cold permanent with genuine OIL Creme base (patented).

SAVE! BUY REFILL IF YOU HAVE PLASTIC CURLERS $1.25
DELUXE — with 2 sizes professional plastic curlers . . . . $2.25
prices plus tax

There's this much patented OIL Creme base in every bottle. That's why Nutri-Tonic waves so fast, yet is gentler to the hair.

TO KEEP YOUR HAIR at its loveliest between permanents, ask for Nutri-Tonic HAIR LUXURY, triple-cremed hair dressing...with Cholesterol.

I Think it's Silly to Spend Money on the More Expensive Gas While I'm Just Learning!

We rarely disagree with a customer—even the young ones — but experience has taught us — the best gasoline is the cheapest in the long (or short) run! Drive in and let us "fill 'eri up." You'll get service with a Smile.
