General Election Set For Tuesday Of Next Week

Next Tuesday, November 7, is General Election day over the state of Texas.

There are two columns of nominees, Democratic and Republican, on the ballot printed by The News job department several weeks ago.

However, the Republicans have nominated candidates only for the various State offices and for two of the district offices, merely going through the gesture of keeping this a two-party state.

Of special interest here is the fact that Frank Parris of Lubbock, formerly of Tahoka, has been nominated for State Representative; and M. D. Temple, also of Lubbock and well-known to many Lynn county people, has been nominated for Congressman, both on the Republican ticket.

Also, there are blank columns for independent candidates and for write-in candidates.

Since there are no Constitutional Amendments to be voted on and since this area is predominantly Democratic, the voting is expected to be extremely light.

Today, Friday, November 3, is the last day for absentee voting, and anyone wishing to cast such a vote must do so today at the office of the County Clerk.

New Oil Test Near Lakeview

Location for a 10,500-foot wildcat oil test in northwestern Lynn county, about 13 airline miles from Tahoka, has been announced by Sunray Oil corporation.

The test well will be known as Sunray-Soho No. 1 Ernst, and is located 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of section 140, block 12, ELARR survey. This is about three miles northwest of Petty, and three miles southeast of Lakeview. It is about eight miles northeast of the two well Terry county Mound Lake field.

The well will explore through the Pennsylvania reef.

The Humble No. 1 Dulin, east of Draw, north offset to the Magnolia No. 1 Garza discovery well, is installing a pump and will attempt to make a small producer from the Mississippi on a plugged-back depth of 9,061 feet. Previous tests yielded 137 barrels of fluid including 30 percent oil and 69 percent water.

At the Magnolia No. 1 W. W. Caswell, west offset, no pay having been found in lower formations, the operator was still attempting to develop production from the Spraberry, on a plugged-back depth of 6,016 feet.

Operators were still scrubbing the Houston Oil Co. No. 1 H. B. Howell hole, eight miles southeast of Tahoka, in an attempt to make some kind of producer from it.

Ryan, Hays & Burke No. Bromberg, five miles southeast of Tahoka, is reported drilling close to 9,000 feet.

Standard Oil Co. of Texas No. 1 Smith, southwest of O'Donnell, over the Dawson county line, is reported in the Pennsylvania reef below 9,255 feet with slight signs of gas with good oil stain and odor. The test had encountered possible production in the Spraberry. It is located on section 34, block C-41, PS survey.

Patsy Bostick Death Victim

Patsy Bostick, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bostick, formerly of Tahoka, was killed in a car accident near Hart, Castro county, late Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services were held at Hart, at 2:00 p. m. Thursday, according to Mrs. E. A. Park, a friend of the family.

Mr. Bostick formerly taught in the local schools, leaving here about 1940. He is a teacher at Hart now, and Patsy was a Senior in school there.

James Minor Will Be Honored At Howard-Payne College Ceremonies

James Minor of Post, one of the all-time great athletes of Tahoka High School, will be the first student to be honored by Howard-Payne College for "distinguished service" at the annual home-coming program Saturday, November 11.

Another former Tahokan, Dr. C. E. "Nig" McCarver, head of the Physical Education department of Mississippi Southern, will deliver the principal address at 10:15 a. m. at the Alumni program in Mims Auditorium. McCarver, also a graduate of Howard-Payne, was an athletic great of that institution. His first year of coaching was with the Tahoka Bulldogs. He later studied law, played professional football several years, and then coached professional football.

The home-coming celebration will include ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Walker Memorial Library and a girls' dormitory. The college plans to honor one of its outstanding students each year in the future.

Tahoka had ginned 5,561 bales of cotton at 9 a. m. Thursday, according to reports of the five gins, as compared to 3,376 at the same time last week.

Many farmers are in need of hands, and The News is informed that 1,000 or more boll pullers could be used right now.

Cotton is bringing an average of 38 cents or better with the price remaining about the same as last week. Cottonseed has continued to rise in price, and on Thursday was worth $110.00 per ton.

Bulldogs Promise Battle Tonight At Littlefield

Tahoka's fighting Bulldogs will attempt to stop the mighty Littlefield Wildcats in a District 4A conference game a Littlefield tonight.

"They don't get too big to fall," is the attitude being taken by this year's Bulldog squad. The local boys are getting used to being "without a chance," but they have already won three games this year that they were not given much chance by the sidewalk and sports "experts" to win.

One week-end this year, the Bulldogs spotted Slaton two touchdowns, then came back in the second half to win 13 to 12. Another week-end, Slaton almost did the same to the great Littlefield team, who admitted it was lucky to come out on top to win 21 to 13.

Littlefield has not been defeated in two years, and last year took the Class A state championship. This year the Wildcats have rolled over Crosbyton, Lockney, Post, Brownfield, Muleshoe, Slaton, and Morton.

The Bulldogs dropped their opener to Muleshoe 13 to 0, but the boys found out in that game they could play rough, tough football. The next week they upset former Class AA Brownfield 18 to 0, then they took Morton 13 to 0. Slaton was next. Against Post, the boys had the nervous jitters, nothing worked for them, and a fire Antelope team romped to a 41 to 6 score. Two weeks ago today they took an easy non-conference victory from Boys' Ranch 38 to 0.

The charges of Coaches Joe Turner, Jake Jacobs, and Tom Bartley have worked hard this year, and are in good condition physically and mentally, and they are conceding nothing to the Wildcats.

The band, many students, and fans will follow the team to Littlefield tonight.

Friday night of next week, the Bulldogs will be playing at home again, against their old rivals, the rapidly improving O'Donnell Eagles, who are now in Class B. They will close the season with the Levelland Lobos here on November 17.

No Physical Exams Set For This Month

So far as is known now, there will be no call for physical examinations by the Selective Service Board during November, according to Perry Walker of Tahoka, Lynn county member of the district board.

Inducted from Lynn county on October 11 were: Bill Earl Ramsey of Tahoka, Leonard Gilbert Dube of Wilson, and Arnold C. Milliken of Wilson.

J. M. Noble, 90, Pioneer of Lynn County, Died Thursday Morning

James Mack Noble, 90, one of the early settlers of Lynn county, died at 7:44 a. m. Thursday morning at Brownfield.

Funeral services will be held at the Brownfield First Baptist Church at 2 p. m. today, Friday, with Rev. George A. Dale of Lubbock officiating, assisted by Rev. Fred Stumpp of Brownfield. Burial will be in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Mr. Noble was married to Rosa Lee Carter in Fisher county, August 24, 1893. They and their family moved out to the present West Point community, Lynn county, in 1902, a year before Tahoka was established. This was their home until 1943, when the aged couple moved to Brownfield. Mr. Noble has been in ill health about a year.

He and his good wife have long been highly respected as being among the best citizens of this whole country.

Surviving are the wife and four sons, Terry Noble of Tahoka, Mack Noble of O'Donnell, Levi Noble of Lubbock, and Robert Noble of Brownfield.

Little Damage By Pranksters Here

The fact that very little damage was done to property in Tahoka on Halloween is evidence of the fine type of youth in this community.

Though most of the kids engaged in Halloween fun Tuesday night, their capers seem to have been clean, wholesome fun.

These facts have been called to the attention of The News by several people who have asked the newspaper to compliment the young people of this area on their behavior.

The Fire Department was called out Wednesday morning to extinguish a fire in Joe Anderson's rent house. Little damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brice, Jr., and little daughter of Dallas spent last week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brice, Sr.

Lynn County Men With Mustaches Invited To Meet

All Lynn county men over 65 years of age who wear mustaches are asked to meet on the north steps of the Court house in Tahoka at 3 p. m. Sunday for a few minutes.

A photograph will be taken of the group.

L. M. Draper and D. C. Davis, two mustached gentlemen of Tahoka, are sponsoring the meeting just for the fun of it.

They want all the older men who have worn mustaches for some time to be present. Young squirts with the fancy little decorations on the upper lip will be excluded from this.

Some of the men who can qualify are: J. E. Rice, J. E. Ketter, J. M. Miller, T. W. Johnson, S. J. Akin, J. H. Wyatt, F. H. Renfro, Jim Atkinson, J. F. Millman, A. G. Freeman, F. M. Sherrard, J. V. Huddleston, Davis and Draper.

Cooper Is Now Major In Army

It's Major Truett Cooper now. The former Tahokan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper, who is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., with the First Cavalry Field Artillery, was recently promoted from Captain to Major.

Major Cooper is a graduate of Tahoka High and of Texas A. & M. College. He saw service during the last war in the Southwest Pacific and in the Philippines, and took part in the occupation of Japan and Korea, and was later food administrator for many months of Korea.

3,000 Signers Are Needed By Poka-Lambro For Aid

Tahoka may become the center of another major co-operative utility serving nine South Plains counties.

A conditional loan of $1,837,000 for building the proposed Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Co-operative system, with headquarters in Tahoka, was announced last week-end in Washington, to serve Lynn, Garza, Terry, Hockley, Yoakum, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, and Martin counties.

If sufficient memberships are signed, the proposed co-operative would serve approximately the same area as Lyntegar Rural Electric Co-operative, which has headquarters here and serves over 6,000 customers in these counties.

Approval of a loan for $1,227,000 was also given South Plains Rural Telephone Co-op of Lubbock.

Announcement of the projects, the first approved since passage of an act of Congress permitting such co-ops, a year ago, was made in Washington by Geo. W. Haggard, acting administrator of the REA. Sponsors Tom Connolly and Lyndon Johnson, and Congressman Geo. Mahon.

Poka-Lambro was formed last February 17, with J. S. Allen of Lamesa as president, Claud Wells, Tahoka, vice president; V. H. Wheatly, Brownfield, secretary-treasurer; V. R. Osborne, Brownfield, Claude Thomas, Post, Lloyd (Con'd. On Back Page)

Odds AND Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

Well, folks, since I arrived here in Waco the last time, I have done very little running around. Have hardly been down town at all and have been out of town only once, and then I went only down to Eddy, 20 miles away, and back. I did not even get out to see that football game between Texas Tech and Baylor, and did not hear all of the game over the radio—but I guess I heard enough, at that.

My brother is gradually growing better and looks a lot better than he did when I left here in the summer; but he was greatly disappointed the other day when the surgeon made an inspection of his hip and still refused to permit the cast on his leg to be removed. He is bearing his affliction patiently, however, and is still looking forward to the time when it can be removed and he can be up again. But he and I both enjoy recalling events, whether trivial or important, that happened during our boyhood days, and we have been doing a lot of it.

In going down to Eddy from Waco one passes by the little town of Bruceville, situated less than three miles on this side of Eddy; and I never pass by that town without remembering a picnic which he and I and our father all attended in a grove on the outskirts of Bruceville many years ago, when my brother and I were still boys. The chief feature of the picnic was a political speech by Harry Tracy, who was then one of the leaders of the strong and militant Populist party. Now, a lot of you folks may wonder how a mere boy could have been so intensely interested in a political speech delivered back in the dandy 'Nineties. Well, politics were politics in those days and most any political orator could draw a vast crowd when he was booked as the chief speaker at such a political event.

I can remember many such events. My father, like most other farmers of that era in Bell and McLennan counties, was an enthusiastic Populist, and he was undertaking to bring his boys up in the straight and narrow path politically. So he took us to some of these great gatherings, and we went of our own accord to others. I can remember one Fourth-of-July picnic at Hollard in Bell county which I attended probably before Roy Edwards, who was reared there, was born. That was in the middle 'Nineties, when the Democratic party had split wide open. Ed Anthony, a lawyer and a big shot from Cameron, represented the Gold Standard Democrats; George Pendleton, another big shot, who had been both a Congressman and a lieutenant governor of Texas, represented the Free Silver Democrats—he lived in Temple—and Thomas P. Gore, a blind Populist orator who had recently come out to Texas from Mississippi, represented the Populist party. He was one of the most powerful out-actors the Populists ever had. After the Populist party flunked out, he moved to Oklahoma and ran for the United-States Senate as a Democrat, and was triumphantly elected. He served as one of the Senators from Oklahoma many years. So, you can correctly guess that there were plenty of political fire-works in Holland on that hot Fourth-of-July day, back in the middle 'Nineties. Anthony and Pendleton each made strong speeches and had many followers, but the wool hats really came off and went high into the air as the blind orator from Mississippi delivered his many punches.

I can remember hearing Gore on another occasion when he met Cullen Thomas of Waco in joint debate one night in Moody. Thomas was one of the strongest speakers the Democrats had, but Gore was a master of the art of ridicule, and one could actually see Thomas wilt and wither under the wordy lashes with which Gore castigated him. It was pitiful.

Yes, and I remember as if it were yesterday a joint debate between Congressman Bob Henry of Waco and his Populist opponent Bill Douthitt of Holland, which took place in Moody in the 'Nineties. That was steel cut steel. The followers of each side seemingly went away satisfied, but on election day in November Bob Henry was the winner by a sizeable majority. Several years later, after the Populists had played out, County Attorney Cullen Thomas of Waco contested Bob Henry's seat in Congress in each of the five counties of the old Eleventh district in the Democratic primary elections. The county primaries in those days were held on different dates in the various counties. Those debates aroused much excitement, and vast crowds were present at each one of them. I heard some of them. Thomas carried some of the counties but Henry carried a majority of them and was sent back to Congress.

Very distinctly also I do remember M. M. Crane's opening speech for governor, which was delivered in Temple, when he ran against Joseph D. Sayers for that office in 1900, if I remember correctly. Crane was serving as Attorney-General of Texas at the time and Sayers was Congressman from the Bastrop-Austin district. That was not a joint debate, for Sayers was not a particularly effective stump speaker while Crane was one of the best in the state. But Sayers' friends touted him as "the watch-dog of the treasury" at Washington, and they succeeded in putting him over. Years after serving as governor, Sayers died at his home in Bastrop, a city which I visited last August.

Yes, and of course I well remember the exciting Hogg-Clarke campaign also back in the 'Nineties. I heard Hogg speak to a vast throng in Moody during his first campaign, when he was proposing the establishment of a railroad commission for the state of Texas. He spoke for two hours or longer. I remember the general trend of his speech, but I can recall one particular sentence that he uttered. He was saying that if a railroad commission was created to regulate transportation rates, the people could then have ice to sit on. That must have had a definitely strong appeal to the people, for they were then sweating like negroes at a leg-rolling, for it was awfully hot under that big tent on that July day.

Never could I forget that other hot July day when news came over the wire from Chicago that William Jennings Bryan had been nominated by the Democratic party for the Presidency of the United States. That was in 1896. David B. Hill and Bourke Cochrane of New York and Secretary Carlisle of Kentucky, Henry Waterson, and others had been leading the Gold Standard forces, while Congressman Richard P. Bland of Missouri was way out in the lead as the candidate of the Free Silver forces for the nomination. But Burks-Cochrane on the day before had made a powerful speech for the Gold Standard, and youthful Mr. Bryan, "the boy orator of the Platte," got the floor and replied to him, making his "Cross of Gold" speech, which electrified the convention and the whole country. So, from that moment the Bland stock decreased and the Bryan stock increased. The campaign that followed was one of the hottest ever staged in this country, but William McKinley of Ohio, the Republican candidate won the election.

Yes, I remember all of these political events and others of the 'Nineties just as vividly as I remember any political event of recent years—almost as well, at least. And so I remember hearing Harry Tracy present and discuss his proposed "Sub-Treasury Scheme" or proposal at Bruceville more than a half-century ago.

Doubtless most of our youngsters, including our high school and even our college students, never heard of Harry Tracy. Who was he? Well, he was the most outstanding leader in Texas of the great Populist movement that swept our country, especially the South and the Middle West, in the last decade of the last century and elected many members of Congress, and quite a number of governors of our states.

The most noted Populist of Congress was "Sockless" Jerry Simpson of Kansas. One of the Senators from Kansas was Senator Pepper, a Populist. We now have in Congress Senator Pepper of Florida, a different man altogether from the Kansas statesman of a half-century ago. Possibly the most brilliant Populist that ever served in either House at Washington was Tom Watson of Georgia.

The Populist Party was an outgrowth of The Farmers Alliance, an organization which had its beginning in Texas in the 'Eighties. Perhaps the first local organization appeared in Lampasas county, but it soon spread all over the state and eventually into many other states. It disclaimed any political objectives to start with, but in the discussion of the farmers' problems it inevitably drifted into politics, and most of its members eventually became members of the new "Third" or "Populist" Party, often called the "People's Party." When it once launched definitely out into the field of politics, the

Tahoka Day At Fat Stock Show

Tahoka, which had a special "day" designated in its honor at Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show last winter, has been invited to have a day at the 1951 exposition.

W. R. Watt, president-manager of the Fort Worth show, in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce declared that this city helped to make the 1950 show one of the most successful in history. The letter continued:

"Your city is invited to have a special day at the 1951 show (January 26 through February 4). By coming in an organized group, your citizens have lots of fun and advertise your city, as do the high school band and the Cowgirl Sweetheart.

"Plans are being made—new buildings, new features—to make the show coming up the finest yet. We need your help and we're counting on you. So please let us know which day you wish designated as Tahoka Day."

A total of $146,000 in cash awards is offered, the highest in the show's 55 years. A colorful Western parade on Friday afternoon, January 26, through the Fort Worth business district will usher in the show, with the first performance of the rodeo that night, and afternoon and night performances thereafter.

Construction now under way includes the Poultry Building, doubling of space for carcass-and-pen division of bulls and glassing-in of the archways connecting the livestock buildings. The world's greatest indoor rodeo will be held in the magnificent Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum. The boys' show will be a big feature of the livestock department, with the first Saturday Future Farmers' and Future Homemakers' Day and Monday, 4-H Club Day.

Miss Jo Ann Thomas And Dan Martin Are Married In Grassland Ceremony

Miss Jo Ann Thomas and Dan Martin were united in marriage Wednesday of last week in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thomas, at Grassland.

Rev. D. D. Shaw, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, read the ceremony before an altar in front of the fireplace with tall bouquets of pink gladioli and white stocks on each side, and a candelabra beside each bouquet. White chrysanthemums were used in other room decorations.

Mrs. Shaw played "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding March." Candles were lighted by Janelle Martin, cousin of the bridegroom, Billy Loran Thomas, brother of the bride, served as best man and Miss Frances Martin, the bridegroom's sister, was bridesmaid.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a light blue suit and carried a bouquet of red roses on a white Bible. For something old, she wore a locket watch, an heirloom of her family.

A brief reception followed the ceremony, during which movies were made of the couple cutting their three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. H. B. McCord, Jr., of Lubbock served cake, and Miss Frances Martin served punch. The wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Pink carnations decorated the table and pink roses the buffet.

The bride was reared at Grassland, and was graduated last spring from Tahoka High School, where she was a popular student.

Miss Frances Bryan Weds Elmer Conrad

Miss Frances Bryan of Tahoka and Elmer Conrad of O'Donnell were united in marriage in Portales, New Mexico, last Saturday, Rev. Homer C. Akers, Presbyterian Church pastor, reading the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bryan, and graduated from Tahoka High School last May. She is employed in the office of Virgil Morgan. Mr. Conrad is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Conrad of near O'Donnell. He attended school at Newmoore, and now is farming in that community.

The young couple expect to make their home in Tahoka as soon as they can find an apartment.

NEW HOME H. D. CLUB MET LAST THURSDAY

The New Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, October 26, at the New Home Methodist Church with Mrs. L. H. Moore, Mrs. Roy Moore, and Mrs. Frank Lisemby, Jr., acting as co-hostesses.

A Haloween party plate of doughnuts, apple juice, and candies was served.

Members present were: Meses. Wilmer Smith, L. B. Taylor, Boswell Edwards, Frank Lisemby, Jr., J. R. Strain, Dub Thompson, Eugene Roland, C. B. Mayfield, L. H. Moore, Olan Rice, and Miss Verna Lois Roland.

Miss Graham Hard, Home Demonstration Agent, gave a lecture on "Growing Bulbs." She had sample bulbs to illustrate her lecture.

During the recreation hour, games were directed by Mrs. Boswell Edwards.

Post cards will be sent to all members announcing the next meeting date.

Mrs. Weldon McClintock and daughter, Shirley Jean, of New Home and the former's sister, Mrs. H. E. Thompson and daughter, Vicki Sue, of Lubbock, spent the past week in Houston visiting relatives.

dent and active in affairs of the student body. She has been attending Texas Tech since leaving high school.

Dan Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Martin of Redwine, also graduated last spring from Tahoka High, where he was a leader in student affairs and a member of the football team. He is a student in Texas Tech.

After a wedding trip to Carlsbad Caverns, they are making their home in Lubbock, where Dan is continuing his studies in Texas Tech.

Juniors Split Slaton Games

Coach Tom Bartley's Junior High football teams won one and lost one game against Slaton Junior teams in a twin bill at Slaton Thursday night of last week. The Eighth Grade team lost 14 to 7, and the Seventh Grade team won 14 to 0.

The heavier Slaton Eighth graders scored twice in the first half and outplayed the Tahoka Bullpups. However, in the second half, the Bullpups came back fighting and more than held their own. Late in the third quarter, Tailback A. W. McClellin threw a 25 yard pass to Gene Jackson, right end, who went all the way for a touchdown. Bobby Williams, Fullback, ran the ball over for the extra point. Thomas Jolly also played a good game at the other end position.

In the Seventh Grade game, it was all Tahoka. Tailback Gordon Smith scored both touchdowns and both extra points, getting one score in the first quarter and one in the third. Rocky Williams looked good at Fullback, and Jerry Williams at left tackle.

As The News went to press Thursday afternoon, two Bullpup teams were scheduled to play the O'Donnell Eaglets on Kelley Field in Tahoka.

Memorial Honors Delwyn Kelley

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Kelley presented the student body of Tahoka High School a bulletin board at the assembly program Wednesday morning in honor of their son, Delwyn C. Kelley. The presentation was made for the Kelleys by Principal Jim Foust.

Delwyn, 14, died last November 4th just before the Tahoka-Seagraves football game of a heart attack while undergoing an emergency appendectomy. He was a popular Sophomore student and played guard on the football team.

The bulletin board is a beautiful work of art, hand carved of red cedar by Claudia Evans of Gustine, Texas. A memorial plaque will be attached to the board.

Following the presentation, the THS Student Council presented the assembly program. A mock faculty meeting was held on the stage with students imitating the teachers, and their antics brought an uproar of laughter from both the student body and faculty.

Opening the program, Deane Edwards presented a piano solo.

JOE McLAURIN LIVING AT RUIDOSO, N. M.

Joe McLaurin, a citizen of Lynn county for many years and one of the most prominent farmers of the O'Donnell area, was here last week end and ordered The News sent to his address, which is Hollywood, N. M., a suburb of Ruidoso.

Joe claimed his wife had been nagging at him to re-subscribe for the county paper, but we suspect that Old Joe gets a little anxious for news from Lynn county, himself.

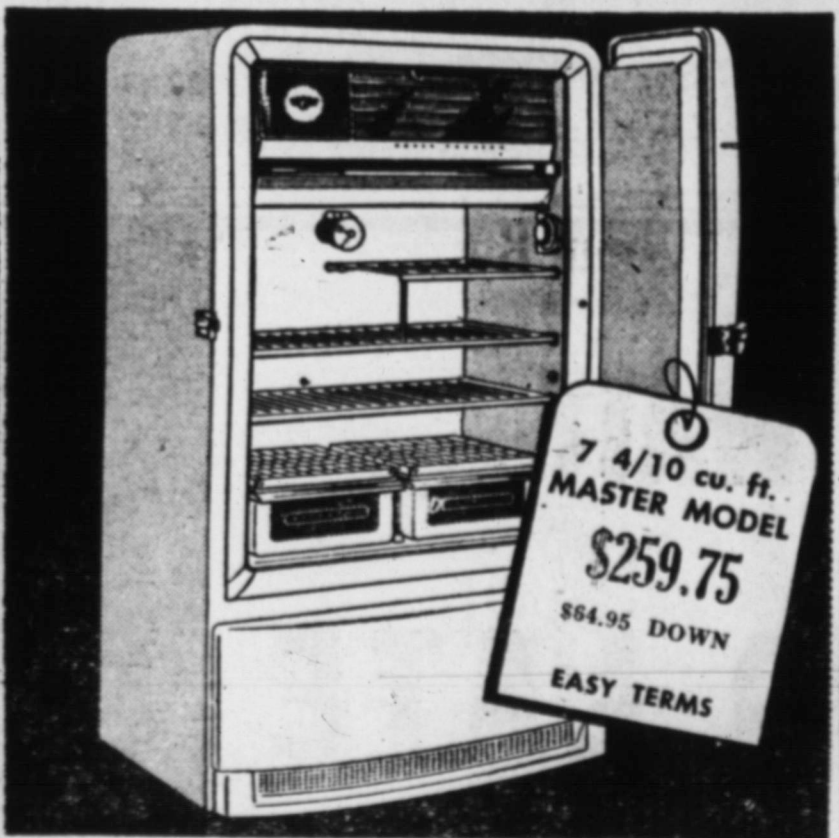

Mr. and Mrs. McLaurin have quit working so hard, and now spend a lot of their time at their cabin at Ruidoso.

Tahokans Attend Canadian Meet

H. G. Hodges, city councilman, and Russell B. McGee, city manager, on Tuesday attended the Canadian Dam meeting at Borger at which plans for financing the proposed project were discussed by representatives from 12 Texas cities.

The dam has been proposed as a future water supply for the cities participating in the project which, it is estimated, would cost $85 million.

The dam organization hopes to get its approval from Congress following the current recess. Hints had gone out that private financing for the project might be sought, but the group seemed inclined to favor continuing its plan of asking a Government loan for construction.

organization of a new party became inevitable. Men sincerely believing in the principles and policies which it enunciated and many politicians for various personal reasons flocked to the standard of the new party and it grew by leaps and bounds. Despite the vagaries that it espoused or promulgated, it should be recognized that the new party was the natural outgrowth of economic conditions. What were these conditions? We shall see.

In the late 'Eighties and the early 'Nineties, cotton kept going down, down, down, until in about 1892 it was selling for four cents per pound. It remained down near that level for a number of years. Cotton farmers, cultivating those rich black lands of central and north Texas, all went broke, and were going deeper into debt every year. Prices of other farm products likewise were disastrously low. Grover Cleveland, Democrat, had been President from 1884 to 1888. Then Benjamin Harrison, Republican, went in for a single term, and Grover Cleveland was re-elected in 1892. He soon found the treasury empty and began issuing and selling bonds to replenish the treasury. To the common man, it looked like sheer robbery, for the Government to issue bonds in time of peace to replenish the treasury, and especially for that process to be repeated time and again, for the sole benefit, as many believed, of the bloated bond-holders of Wall Street.

One large and powerful element of the Democratic party, led by Richard P. Bland, joined by a considerable wing of the Republican party, led by Senator Teller of Colorado, began demanding the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 as compared with the content of the gold dollar, in order to increase the amount of money in circulation, replenish the treasury, and raise the prices of farm products. William Jennings Bryan, a young Congressman from Nebraska, joined in with this group.

Another school of political visionaries advocated the printing of vast sums of "greenbacks" or paper money to accomplish this purpose. That was a hold-over from the theories of the old "Greenback" party of the 1870's and 1880's led by James B. Weaver of Iowa, who had been a candidate of the Greenback party for President for two campaigns. Democrats and Republicans alike denounced that as visionary and opposed the issuance of "flat" money.

Harry Tracy and others sought to improve on the Weaver idea by devising a scheme whereby the Government would establish a system of warehouses in which the farmer's cotton, wheat, and corn would be stored and "greenback money" backed up by these products would be issued by the Government, up to an amount, as we remember it of fifty dollars per capita; that is, fifty dollars for every man, woman, and child in the United States. This in substance was Harry Tracy's sub-treasury scheme, though we can not remember all of its ramifications and provisions of one kind or another.

It was placed in the platform of practically every state and National Populist organization and was supported by Populist speakers generally.

The Government ownership of the railroads was another "must" in every Populist platform. And Harry Tracy, and Cyclone Davis, and Thomas P. Gore, and Jerome C. Kearby, and Barnett Gibbs, and Judge Thomas L. Nugent, and Bill Douthitt, and scores of lesser lights throughout Texas made the welkin ring on every platform and every stump in Texas in behalf of these and other Populist proposals. Both Nugent and Kearby, in successive campaigns came very near to being elected governor over their Democratic opponents.

Boy, they had hot political campaigns in those days. This present generation, brought up by radio, has never heard a rough-and-tumble political debate, and probably never will. So, our campaigns for President and U. S. Senators and governor and other high offices these days are tame affairs. We hardly realize that a campaign is on—and sometimes we scarcely know who the candidates are. Maybe it's better than the old way, but it surely isn't conducive to the intelligent selection of our officials in state and nation. It reduces the efficiency of our boasted "great American Democracy."

O'Donnell Takes Third 5B Victory

For the third week in a row, the vastly improved O'Donnell Eagles last Friday overwhelmed a District 5B opponent, the victim this time being Frenship, by a score of 41 to 0.

By reason of the victory, O'Donnell raised itself to 500 percent in district competition, having won three and lost three conference games.

Fullback Leroy Goss scored four touchdowns, all in the third quarter, passed to Halfback Kellas Davis in the first quarter for one, and converted on six touchdowns. The other scores were by Halfback Roger Goss in the first and Bobby James in the fourth. Outstanding in the line, were

The Eagles are doped to win another conference game tonight at O'Donnell when they meet Plains High School in the last O'Donnell home game. They play Tahoka here in a non-conference game on November 10, next Friday, then end the season with Seagraves at Seagraves.

McCormick, Tahoka, and George Teague, Lamesa, as directors. Judge Tom Garrard of Tahoka is attorney for the group.

The same Poka-Lambro was derived from four of the major towns in the area to be served, Post, Tahoka, Lamesa, and Brownfield.

Principal condition on whether or not the system is built is that of members. Approximately 1300 members were signed up in the initial drive to show sufficient interest for the loan. Now, the REA will require that a total of 3,000 members "must" have applications filed before the project will be started, which is estimated to be three-fifths of the potential members of the area. The loan will go into effect as soon as the total membership applications reaches this figure and other minor considerations met.

Officials of Poka-Lambro are meeting in Tahoka today, Friday, to map plans for further procedure. Several months may be required to get the work under way unless potential customers sign up immediately.

If the system is built, all new equipment will be used, including dial telephones, double metallic wire will be used to prevent interference from electrical lines; central offices will be established in all major communities, there will be inter-office connections, and connections will be made with Southwestern Bell and Southwestern Associated Telephone systems. However, negotiations are yet to be made with these companies on toll charges on tie-ins.

A letter from Mr. Haggard to Poka-Lambro officers states that the $1,837,000 loan approval is for:

Installation of 21 satellite, unattended central office units with dial-type equipment.

Erection of 21 adequate fire-resistant buildings.

Building of 2,969.8 miles of pole line, open wire and cable.

For serving a potential of 5,200 subscribers.

Installation of inter-office trucking facilities.

Purchase of vehicles and other working equipment.

Working capital and the purchase of materials and supplies.

The loan would be repaid to the Government out of the earnings of the co-operative.

Sixty percent of the money taken in by the high school will also be used by the PTA for this purpose, the remaining forty percent to go to the purchase of some worthy gift for the high school.

Ronny Gurley announced the coronation program, which was staged at 10:30, following the events of the carnival.

Minor

Tahoka, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Minor, and was one of five brothers who have been athletic stars in Tahoka High. The others were A. J., Jack, Max, and Joe Don. James was an outstanding student scholastically here, and a star on football, basketball, and track teams.

At Howard Payne, he also hung up a scholastic record, and was the only student ever to serve as president of his class through Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years, 1937-1940. He was likewise an outstanding athlete there and was honored as an All-Texas Conference back.

Following graduation at Howard-Payne, he entered the University of Texas School of Law, but his studies were cut short there by World War II.

Minor entered service at Brownwood November 25, 1940, as a private in the 142 Infantry. He was commissioned a second Lieutenant April 1, 1941, and rose to the rank of Lieutenant colonel at the age of 24, the youngest in the U. S. Army commanding a combat battalion.

He was with the advance detachment of the 36th at Casablanca, among the first American troops to set foot on European soil in World War II on D-Day at Salerno.

Minor was wounded three times, first at Cassino, in Southern France, and in the Siegfried line fighting. He served 350 days in front line combat.

Among the decorations and citations bestowed upon Minor for his war service were Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Cross with cluster, French Croix de Guerre with palm, Presidential Citation, Purple Heart with two clusters, and others. He was separated from service November 11, 1945.

After the war, James Minor returned to Post, where his wife, the former Miss Marian Lee Mason, resided, and entered the furniture and undertaking business with his father-in-law, Marshall Mason. The Minors have two children, Marilyn and Jimmy.

The homecoming activities at Howard Payne will include a football game with McMurry, a musical revue, ex-student breakfast, and a barbecue.

Bulldog 'B' Swamps Eagle 'B' Team 54-6

The Tahoka Bulldog B team ran wild Thursday night of last week to pile up a 54 to 6 score against the O'Donnell Eagles B team in a game played on the local field.

The local B team had previously defeated the O'Donnell second stringers 7 to 6 in a game played there, and the game here last Thursday was expected to be another close one.

The second time Tahoka got the ball in the first quarter, the boys marched for a touchdown with Benjie Brookshire going the last 8 yards. His kick was no good.

A few plays later, Charles

Hyles took an O'Donnell punt to the 8 yard line, and on the next play went for a TD. Brookshire's kick was not good.

"Cisco" Jones plunged over for the third score, then ran the ball for the extra point.

With the ball resting on the mid-field stripe, O'Donnell leaved a long pass which was completed for their only touchdown of the game.

Then, on the kickoff, Brookshire took the ball on the Tahoka 9 and sprinted 91 yards for Tahoka's fourth touchdown, and Jones plunged over center to bring the score to 26 to 6.

Hyles went 60 yards for another score. Brookshire intercepted a pass and went 35 for another. Jones plunged 2 yards for another, and Robbie Dorman went over for the last score. Jones also ran the ball for two more extra points. Dorman for one, and Hyles for one.

The B team looked good in winning this one, with the line churning hard and the boys blocking and tackling well against the hapless O'Donnell squad.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. Hemorrhage has been the outstanding cause of maternal death but it is being conquered. Many hospitals have adopted blood transfusion programs so that childbirth is now much safer. For instance, after the Woman's Clinic of New York Hospital put in such a program only one death from hemorrhage occurred in 14,000 deliveries.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. For the same reason that cancer and heart diseases are increasing—we now live long enough to develop such ailments. America has made astounding progress in recent years and, as one disease after another has been conquered and more and more health services are available to our people, medicine has been faced with the problem of attacking a new group of diseases. The attack on diabetes has triumphed—it can be detected early and often prevented, provided you follow your doctor's advice.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. Not any more. Smallpox has been all but eradicated as a cause of death in the United States and in some areas is so rare a disease that many young physicians have never encountered a case. Diphtheria, typhoid fever, and whooping cough are other diseases which have been reduced radically by preventive techniques which are a commonplace nowadays.

Cotton farmers are urged to purchase their minimum insecticide needs at this time or at least within the next few weeks. Farmers and distributors by taking delivery now can keep the insecticides and at the same time, help the storage and transportation situation.

In reporting the sale by J. Y. Thompson of a tract of land east of town to R. W. and Clyde Allen last week, The News made a little mistake. R. W. lives five miles west of New Home instead of in the Dixie community, as we stated, and Clyde lives four miles east and one north of Tahoka.

The week of November 4-12 is National 4-H Achievement Week. America's 2,000,000 4-H members (approximately) will join together during the week to show to the world their 1950 accomplishments.

Although the farmhouse is the business center of the farm, its location should be considered from the standpoint of its relationship to other buildings, roads, water supplies and the prevailing winds.

Accidents Take Heavy U. S. Toll

Eighty thousand Americans are permanently disabled every year by occupational accidents, according to William L. Connolly, director of the Bureau of Labor Standards, U. S. Department of Labor, and chairman of the coordinating committee, President's Conference on Industrial Safety. "Among the more than 2,000,000 Americans who are injured annually on their jobs," Mr. Connolly pointed out, "there is an inner group of approximately 80,000. These men and women are not among the 16,000 workers who are killed each and every year by industrial hazards. They continue to live, but they are unable to resume their old jobs. Their loss is one of the tragedies of our time."

The United States Labor Department, with the cooperation of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, is making an effort to focus attention on this problem, together with the overall problem of occupational accidents. It is hoped that this effort will do much to develop a new awareness among the newspaper readers of America regarding the serious problem of industrial accidents. We also hope that this, in turn will promote a nationwide effort to achieve the goal set by President Truman—a 50 percent reduction in industrial accidents."

Mr. Connolly pointed out that, contrary to general belief, about three out of every four occupational accident victims are employed in the smaller plants and on farms. Every 16 seconds one of these workers receives a disabling injury. The 80,000 workers who are permanently disabled each year would fill Yankee Stadium in New York or, putting it another way, they are equal to the entire population of Pasadena, California; Schenectady, N. Y.; or Altoona, Pa.

The chairman of the Coordinating Committee of the President's Conference, which met in Washington, D. C., June 5, 6 and 7, listed ten safety rules which will prevent occupational accidents. Every worker, he said, should:

1. Know his job.
2. Keep his mind on his job.
3. Never allow himself to be tempted to "take a chance."

4. Use guards, protective equipment furnished by employers, and safe ladders when climbing.

5. Receive first-aid treatment for even the slightest cut.

6. Remember that he is boss of his machine only as long as he watches it, guards it, and keeps it under control.

7. Lift with the strong leg muscles and not with the back.

8. Dispose of flammable and explosive materials.

9. Only operate machines when given permission.

10. Make safe thinking and safe acting a 24-hour-a-day job, inasmuch as four times as many accidents happen off-the-job.

"Industrial accident prevention not only saves lives and jobs,"

Installation For New Officers Of Baptist W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of the First Baptist Church met Monday, October 30 for the Installation Service of the general officers of the W. M. U.

The meeting opened with a song led by Mrs. Dub Kenley, and accompanied by Mrs. Alice Fortenberry. Mrs. Truett Smith led the opening prayer. Mrs. M. L. Berley and Mrs. Lawrence Sanford sang "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer" as background music for the beginning of the program.

Mrs. Duke Shaw from the Central Baptist Church, stood in a beautiful garden and presented each of the twenty-four officers with tools with which to work faithfully in the Garden of the W. M. U. for the coming year. The garden was planted to represent the beautiful things the W. M. U. had done during the past year. Twelve gorgeous red roses represented the twelve missionary programs the Society presented during the year. The three seasons of prayer and offerings which were observed and made were represented in the garden by three lovely pink geraniums. The six young people's organizations and their work were represented by six lovely orange yellow chrysanthemums. A hidden jewel, "In the Garden" was sung by Mrs. Dub Kenley and Mrs. K. R. Durham.

The Installation Service was followed by a Hallowe'en Social with Mrs. G. B. Sherrod as chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. H. P. Caviness.

Games were played and refreshments of pie and coffee were served to forty-nine people.

The Salle Circle received the High Attendance Banner with 16 present.
