$200,000 Issue Proposed For County Improvements

Resident qualified taxpaying voters of Lynn county will decide at the polls tomorrow, Saturday, March 24, whether or not the county may issue bonds totaling $200,000 for the purpose of building a new jail and remodeling and improving the court house.

The election was called early this month by the Commissioners' Court, after petitions signed by a number of citizens for such an election had been presented that body.

Start Work On School Building

Contractors this week began moving equipment on the grounds preparatory to beginning construction of Tahoka's new $250,000 elementary school building.

Though completion has not been promised before December 1, a representative of the contractor, Swain Construction Co. of Lubbock, has expressed hope that the building can be completed much earlier than that date.

The new building will occupy the block south of the present elementary building, and the latter building will be converted to Junior High school use.

The building, without furnishings, will cost a total of $201,543.00, and will consist of 12 classrooms and a large cafeteria.

Warning Given Fire Speeders

Citizens of Tahoka are again warned against dashing pell-mell to local fires. Officers declare they intend to make arrests on such law violations.

No one but fire department members should follow close to the fire truck. Neither should cars be parked within 400 feet of the fire or near any fire hydrant in the vicinity. People are also warned against speeding in going to fires.

All of these acts are violations of the law. Parking within 400 feet of a fire or in close proximity to a fire hydrant are violations of State laws.

The fire boys give their time free, and should be given every chance to get to a fire safely and have room to work when they do get there.

Local officers have asked The News to warn the people some complaints will be filed if these violations continue.

RECITAL AT CENTRAL

Mrs. Glen Norman and Mrs. Duke Shaw are presenting their piano pupils in a joint recital at Central Baptist Church Tuesday night, March 27, at 8:00 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend.

Officials Get Salary Raises

Salaries of Lynn county officials and employees were raised at a recent meeting of the Commissioners' Court. The News has been informed.

The raises granted is the first general increase in a number of years, and, according to members of the Court, is in keeping with the increased cost of living. Salaries of most officers and employees were raised 3 1/2 percent.

County Judge W. M. Mathis states that the increase should not affect the burden of taxes, since the fees of office just about cover the salary total anyway.

He points out that the fees of office have been increasing rapidly. For instance, in 1948, fees totaled $37,565.67, and in 1950 they reached the record-breaking total of $69,193.23.

Minimum and maximum salaries for county officials are set by law. Mr. Mathis says, and Lynn county's old salary schedule, as a whole, was on the minimum rate. The maximum rate is $8,750, he says, for county officials.

Most of the counties in this area have previously raised their county officials' salaries, many of them doing so several years ago. In fact, Lynn is the last of nine South Plains counties to grant this raise, which was made by the Commissioners' Court on recommendation of the County Auditor, Harold P. Wine.

Salaries of the county judge, tax assessor and collector, county clerk, county attorney, and sheriff, have been raised from $300 (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Auditor Makes County Finance Recommendations

In view of the bond election Saturday and current discussions of Lynn county's finances, Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Wine of Balinger, who are now auditing the books of Lynn county, have presented The News with the following in regard to the condition of the county.

of the fact that the old court house and jail bonds were paid off last year when the bonds were retired on a $4,000 payment last year.

Some hardship was thrown on the county this last year by reason of an expense of about $4,000 for repairing and rewiring the court house after it was struck by lightning, and because of the purchase of radio equipment for the sheriff's department. He will recommend cutting 10 to 20 cents off of the 95 cent tax rate set up to take care of the 1946 $850,000 road bond issue sinking fund. The present rate is bringing in more money for this fund than is needed. On December 31, 1950, there was $92,050.32 in this fund. A total of $47,731.25 will be required from this fund in 1951 to pay off bond installments and interest. If the rate were left as it now is, at 95 cents, under the current trend toward increases in values, the 95 cent rate would bring in approximately $90,000, nearly twice as much as will be needed for the year.

He will recommend adding this reduction to the court house and jail fund which will more than take care of the proposed $200,000 bond issue for improvements, if voted.

$200,000 Issue Proposed For County Improvements

Resident qualified taxpayers of Lynn county will decide at the polls tomorrow, Saturday, March 24, whether or not the county may issue bonds totaling $200,000 for the purpose of building a new jail and remodeling and improving the court house.

The election was called early this month by the Commissioners' Court, after petitions signed by a number of citizens asking for such an election had been presented that body.

Two propositions will appear on the ballot. No. 1 proposes the issuance of $90,000 in bonds for court house improvements. No. 2 proposes issuance of $110,000 in bonds for the erection of a new jail.

The election order specifies that the bonds in either case would mature serially within any given number of years not to exceed 25 and that the interest rate not exceed 3 percent per annum.

If bonds for court house improvements are voted, it is proposed that the present structure would be remodeled inside and out; new plumbing, lighting and water fixtures installed, the walls repaired, and the building otherwise made "as good as new."

The present jail, in poor state of repair, is located on the west fourth floor of the court house. If voted, the jail bonds would provide for the building of a new, modern and escape-proof jail on the east side of the court house square, fully equipped, and including facilities for a jailer to be on duty at all times.

Proponents of the bonds declare that the court house is rapidly deteriorating because of leaky pipes and insufficient repairs at such a rapid rate that, if it is not repaired very soon, it may soon become necessary to erect a new building out and out. The jail, they argue, is inadequate, unsanitary, an almost impossible place to depend on holding dangerous criminals, and offers insufficient protection to officers who must of necessity enter it.

Opponents of the bonds, argue that because of the high price and scarcity of materials and labor and because of high taxes, that this is not the time to launch a building program. A group of such citizens has launched a campaign to defeat the approval of bonds for this construction at this time.

However, whatever the opinion of the individual voter, everyone eligible should turn out Saturday and vote as a civic duty.

WILSON CITY ELECTION

Wilson's city election will be held on Tuesday, April 3, instead of a later date as previously announced, according to A. L. Holder, city secretary.

Auditor Makes County Finance Recommendations

In view of the bond election Saturday and current discussions of Lynn county's finances, Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Wine of Ballinger, who are now auditing the books of Lynn county, have presented The News with the following in regard to the condition of the county.

By Constitutional Amendment in 1948, the State tax rate was set at 42 cents, a reduction of 30 cents from the present 72 cent rate. This new rate goes into effect this year, 1951.

Lynn county's present rate is $1.80 per $100 valuation. He will recommend lowering this rate to $1.75.

Lynn county's land valuations are the third lowest of any county in Texas, an overall average of $6.20 per acre. He will recommend raising this valuation fifty percent. The lowering of the state and county rate will just about offset the raising of the valuation, and the taxpayer will pay just about the same amount of taxes in 1951 as in 1950.

This and future years, the county will realize a saving by reason of the fact that the old court house and jail bonds were paid off last year when the bonds were retired on a $4,000 payment last year.

Some hardship was thrown on the county this last year by reason of an expense of about $4,000 for repairing and rewiring the court house after it was struck by lightning, and because of the purchase of radio equipment for the sheriff's department.

He will recommend cutting 10 to 20 cents off of the 95 cent tax rate set up to take care of the 1946 $850,000 road bond issue sinking fund. The present rate is bringing in more money for this fund than is needed. On December 31, 1950, there was $92,050.32 in this fund. A total of $47,731.25 will be required from this fund in 1951 to pay off bond installments and interest. If the rate were left as it now is, at 95 cents, under the current trend toward increases in values, the 95 cent rate would bring in approximately $90,000, nearly twice as much as will be needed for the year.

He will recommend adding this reduction to the court house and jail fund which will more than take care of the proposed $200,000 bond issue for improvements, if voted.

Tax rate for other funds of the county can not be changed except by vote of the citizens.

Last year, fees of office and income from the county's part of the motor vehicle fees was more than enough to take care of all salaries, and should more than take care of raises in salaries this year.

Officials Get Salary Raises

Salaries of Lynn county officials and employees were raised at a recent meeting of the Commissioners' Court. The News has been informed.

The raises granted is the first general increase in a number of years, and, according to members of the Court, is in keeping with the increased cost of living. Salaries of most officers and employees were raised 3 1/2 percent.

County Judge W. M. Mathis states that the increase should not affect the burden of taxes, since the fees of office just about cover the salary total anyway.

He points out that the fees of office have been increasing rapidly. For instance, in 1949, fees totaled $37,565.67, and in 1950 they reached the record-breaking total of $69,193.23.

Minimum and maximum salaries for county officials are set by law. Mr. Mathis says, and Lynn county's old salary schedule, as a whole, was on the minimum rate. The maximum rate is $6,750, he says, for county officials. Most of the counties in this area have previously raised their county officials' salaries, many of them doing so several years ago. In fact, Lynn is the last of nine South Plains counties to grant this raise, which was made by the Commissioners' Court on recommendation of the County Auditor, Harold P. Wine.

Salaries of the county judge, tax assessor and collector, county clerk, county attorney, and sheriff, have been raised from $300

Odds and Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

Upon coming back down to Waco on March 6, I found that a great change had come over the face of the country and also over the faces of farmers and business men. Copious rains had fallen and the wheat fields and pastures had greened up and farmers were preparing to plant corn. The blizzard-like winds that swept over the plains a few days later, however, also hit central Texas with terrific fury and so retarded farming operations for a few days. Then came balmy weather again, which evidently was just about as soothing to the feelings of the populace as was the balm of Gilead to the hurts of the Israelites in Bible times.

On Wednesday, accompanied by two of my Waco sisters, I hurried down to Seguin for a brief business-and-pleasure visit with my daughter Berta, who is employed in the Public Welfare office there. We found her landlady to be a very charming character as well as were all of Berta's co-workers in the office. Seguin is one of the old towns of Texas founded in 1838 but is as clean and as progressive as a plains city. It has a Chamber of Commerce population of 11,000, and the officers of the Chamber of Commerce there are reputed to be an exceedingly conscientious and truthful set. Seguin is indeed a fine little city, situated on the north bank of the beautiful Guadalupe River. It lies in the edge of the level black land that covers a large portion of the country. The Guadalupe River has its headwaters up in the hill country far to the northwest in the vicinity of Kerrville, but major portion of its waters is furnished by the marvelous springs that gush up out of the earth at New Braunfels.

Guadalupe is one of those south Texas counties having a large number of people of German descent. Many of them live in Seguin. They are a thrifty and industrious people and are generally prosperous. In fact, racially, they are very close kin to the English and to millions of Americans of Anglo-Saxon origin. The Angles and the Saxons came originally from the forests of Germany.

Having spent Wednesday night in Seguin and having performed our mission there, I decided to chaperon my sisters down to one of the really historic towns of Texas, Gonzales, the girlhood home of our own Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell. Gonzales was a historic town long before Lenore arrived on the scene; of course, but she has added a bit to its lustre nevertheless.

The first battle of the Texas Revolution was fought at or near Gonzales; and it claims the honor of having more descendants of the heroes of the Revolution residing within its bounds today than any other city or town in Texas.

In 1936, Texas centennial year, the State of Texas erected a monument, a museum and amphitheatre to commemorate the deeds of the immortal "eighteen" who valiantly withstood the attack of the Mexican Army until help could arrive, and also to commemorate the valor and heroism of the 32 men who rushed from Gonzales to the defense of the Alamo at San Antonio on March 2,

THE AMERICAN WAY

Wouldn't That Be Just Dandy!

1836, then under attack by a vastly superior Mexican force—superior in numbers—and on that very day the Texas Declaration of Independence was adopted in a convention of patriots then in session at Washington-on-the-Brazos. Four days later, Santa Anna's army of about 3,000 Mexican soldiers swarmed over the walls of the Alamo and killed all of the 187 defenders, not a man being left alive. Only one lady, Mrs. Dickinson, and her little daughter escaped.

The battle of Gonzales, in which 18 Americans withstood the attack of a superior Mexican force under General Cos, was fought on October 2, 1835, and the names of these eighteen patriots are inscribed on a plaque inside the Gonzales Museum.

In front of the Museum stands a monument bearing the names of the 32 men who marched from Gonzales on the first day of March, 1836, to assist in defending the Alamo, who broke through the Mexican lines to enter the fortified Mission building, but who perished to a man within the building four days later. A number of the counties and some of the cities and towns of Texas bear the names today of some whose names are inscribed on that monument.

Inside the museum are numerous guns, knives, and other weapons, used in those heroic days, many old documents issued by various authorities of the period, a couple of Bibles, a couple of side-saddles (for ladies), a Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine, and other articles typical of the age. In the so-called amphitheatre is a public library maintained by the county and the historic interest in and near the city. There are other places of town, but we had to hasten on.

Gonzales, by the way, is situated on the beautiful San Marcos River, which has its rise in the famous springs of the same name in the little city of San Marcos, an old town with which many Tahoka people are well acquainted.

As the morning was rapidly approaching the noon hour, we turned the nose of our car northward and headed out for Luling. Just before reaching Luling we passed near by the little town of O'Line, where is the noted Palmetto State Park, hot springs of mineral water, and the Hospital for Crippled Children; but we didn't know too much about what might be found there and did not have time to stop and investigate, so passed it by. The noon whistle sounded twelve o'clock as we were passing through the business section of Luling, but we did not even hesitate—just kept driving, though I had some relatives there I would have liked to visit. Hastened on to Lockhart, where we stopped and tried to eat up all the provisions in a good cafe. Just this side of Lockhart we crossed Plum Creek, where that famous Indian fight took place in 1840, and where the thieving Redskins were thoroughly routed and their immense stores of booty

O'Donnell Man Taken By Death

Funeral services were conducted at the O'Donnell Church of Christ for A. Clyde Fairley, Minister Bishop officiating.

Burial followed by his wife's side in the Plainview Community Cemetery, with members of local Masonic Lodge, of which he was a long-time member, officiating at the graveside.

A. Clyde Fairley was born May 27, 1879 in Coke County, Texas, the son of a pioneer minister of the Church of Christ.

He resided for a number of years in Scurry county, coming up to the plains near Tredway where he settled in 1909 and where he engaged in stock-farming. During the early '20s he carried U. S. mail from O'Donnell to Tredway, later moving to O'Donnell where he was for some years engaged in the real state business. The past five years were spent in Long Beach, California.

A man of sterling qualities, Mr. Fairley was held in highest esteem by all who knew him. His passing leaves a void among pioneers of the section which can hardly be filled. His wife preceded him in death by several years.

Survivors are a son, J. D. of Pecos and three daughters, Miss Winnie Fairley of Long Beach, Mrs. T. H. Dawson of Lubbock, and Mrs. Roy G. Cole of Fort Worth.

Two Relatives Of A. M. Bray Die

Negro In Hospital As House Burns

Troubles came this week to Jim Payne, local Negro, in bunches.

Monday he was carried to Tahoka Hospital with a severe case of pneumonia.

Tuesday morning, his house located over in the "flats" caught fire and burned to the ground, destroying all the family's clothing and furnishings.

Jim and his wife have nine children.

More than 10,000 Texas cotton farmers last year used rotary hoe equipment on their farm tractors to reduce the cost and amount of labor needed for hoeing their monuments.

Caswell Test Is Abandoned

After failing to develop production on exhaustive tests in the Strawberry, Pennsylvanian and Mississippian zones over a period of months, Magnolia Petroleum company Tuesday was preparing to plug and abandon its No. 1 W. W. Caswell, west outpost to the O'Donnell multipay field in southwest Lynn county.

A trial test through Mississippian perforations at 9,020-40 feet, which had been treated with 8,000 gallons of acid, yielded on the swab 74 barrels of load oil and 165 barrels of acid water in 32 hours.

The No. 1 Caswell offsets a Pennsylvanian reef well on the west and Mississippian well on the south, the only two producers in the O'Donnell field.

The failure is in the southwest quarter of section 431, block 9, ELARR survey.

Fourteen miles west of Tahoka, Standard Fryer Drilling company No. 1 Mrs. W. D. Nevels, slated 9,000-foot wildcat in section 4, block C-42, 3rd survey, Tuesday was drilling below 8,850 feet in shale and lime.

Six miles northeast of Tahoka, Standard Petroleum corporation No. 1 W. T. Cook, 10,000-foot wildcat in section 517, block 1, GC&SF survey, Wednesday was below 9,261 feet in chert and lime.

"I got the story on 50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil" says Billie Smith, Photographer, San Antonio, Texas.

"50,000 MILES-NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence... in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

Odds & Ends

recaptured, another interesting episode in Texas history. Our immediate destination was Bastrop, and so we did not stop at Plum Creek to look for any Indian skulls, tommyhawks, or arrowheads—just kept driving.

At Bastrop, there is one of the strangest and most attractive freaks of Nature that we know anything about, the Lost Pine Forest. I visited and wrote about it once last summer, but I wanted my sisters to see it and enjoy it as I had done before. Of course there are taller pines in east Texas than there are at Bastrop and a jibid, times, more of them, but this little forest of about 2,100 acres is situated eighty miles from the east Texas pine belt, and there are no other pines near it, with the exception of a few small scattering trees in the same general area.

This scenic spot has been converted by the State of Texas into a state park, and paved roads have been built far into it, with gravelled road where the pavement ends. Some of it is situated on almost level land but much of it dips down into deep gorges with the tall pines forming a lofty roof over the roadways. At intervals there are roadside tables and furnaces and parking plots where the sight-seer may stop and rest or just enjoy the scenery. A few cabins have been built in the park and there is a swimming pool.

Bastrop is an old town situated on the banks of the Colorado River almost due east of Austin.

An increase in the cost of living is not always caused by an increase in the price of farm commodities.

The Church with a cordial invitation and a friendly greeting

Perhaps its most distinguished citizen during its entire history was Governor Joseph D. Sayers, who served two terms as governor of Texas many years ago and who had attained the reputation of being the "watchdog of the treasury" during his many years of service theretofore in Congress. Friends, you would enjoy visiting Bastrop some time, especially the state park of the "Lost Pine Forest."

From Bastrop we came on up through Elgin to Taylor, native home of former Governor Dan Moody, and stopped there a short time to visit with my sister Belle's son-in-law who recently embarked in business there and acquired a nice home but had not yet obtained possession. From Taylor it was hardly a half-hour's drive up to Bartlett on the Bell-Williamson county line, the town that Roy Edwards of Tahoka made famous. All the way through Bell county with Temple as the main intermediary point brought us to Eddy on the line of McLennan county at a point where Bell and Falls counties corner. Thence on into Waco just as the city lights were beginning to twinkle.

On the way down to Seguin on the preceding day, we had lunched at Belton, stopped in Austin to visit my sister's daughter, who lives there, but shied around the Capital, where the legislature is in session, high-hatted the Governor and other inmates of the big granite building with the massive dome, knowing that there were little domes down below in the legislative halls that we feared not too massive, and proceeded to kick up the chalky dust clear on down to San Marcos and thence south to Seguin, arriving before the King of Day had settled down for his accustomed night's rest.

By the way, when we crossed the Colorado River in Austin, the flood waters from Borden county apparently still had not arrived. There was scarcely enough water coming down stream and under the big bridge to run a flutter mill. Hope they may have plenty of rain soon so that politicians and visitors in the city may resume the use of water instead of other liquids for drinking purposes.

Of course that last sentence was written in jest. Some legislators, no doubt, are addicted to the drink habit, just as some newspaper men are, but we think that we have a much soberer people and a much soberer legislature today than we had fifty years ago. We believe that the legislature is made up of men of average moral standards, or possibly just a little better than average, but they still let some evils get by them that ought to be corrected. We believe that there is one injustice being practiced today that should have legislative action. The higher-ups, the administrative personnel, in some of our departments are being well paid, possibly over-paid, while those laboring in the more humble stations in these departments, such as stenographers and other office helpers, are being shamefully underpaid. We respectfully suggest to Senator Cortin of Lamesa and Representative Wagoner Carr of Lubbock that they investigate and find out if this is not the case. Many thanks to you, gentlemen, in advance.

Also, we wish to congratulate our legislators for the fine job they have done in redistricting the state. Doubtless some errors were made and some imperfections remain, but on the whole we think that they did a swell job. Ten years hence, when it will be time to do the job again, redistricting will doubtless be a much simpler job.

One other thing. We have noticed for many years that there is a constant tendency to create new courts, some of which really are not needed. Sometimes the establishment of a new court is demanded in order to make more jobs for the lawyers; and sometimes, possibly, to relieve a lazy judge of some of his duties. Legislators should be one the constant lookout to put a quietus on all such movements. Noted for this time. Good-night, folks.

You Want Higher Taxes?

Whether you like it or not, because of rising prices and increases in salaries of Lynn County Officers and Employees, you will pay more taxes next time than ever before.

Lynn County Is Already Heavily Bonded

Lynn County already has $788,000.00 (three-quarters of a million dollars) in bonds outstanding. The tax rate is set at the maximum. Already, it has become necessary to raise your property valuations this year—A bond issue of $200,000.00 more may require raising your valuations even higher. Such raise on the valuation raises both the County and also the State Taxes on your property. Don't you feel that our taxes are heavy enough without voting them even higher?

Why Vote $200,000 More Bonds Now?

($200,000.00 Plus Interest and Servicing charges)

There is no argument but that Lynn County needs a safer and more adequate jail and that the Court House needs repairs. But, is it sound business to spend $110,000.00 NOW on a new jail, and $90,000 repairing a courthouse that originally cost only $100,000.00, including furnishings?

Before You Vote For Another Bond Issue --

Ask Yourself These Questions

1. Is it good business to build at this time of steel and material and labor shortages?
2. Is it feasible to build at this time of unprecedentedly high prices of labor and material?
3. Do you want your taxes raised, through valuation increases, approximately 15 percent?
4. Is this the patriotic thing to do in this time of world strife and another threatened world war?

Nevill Killed

Everton, Ray, and Eckle left immediately for Mount Pleasant, where Elwayne's wife and son are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Robertson.

No funeral arrangements had been made when The News went to press, but the services will probably be held here.

Capt. Nevill was born in Tahoka on December 15, 1914. He attended the Tahoka schools, graduated here, and then attended Texas Tech. He was associated with his father and brothers in the construction business.

He entered the service January 8, 1941, and trained as an Air Force pilot at Randolph, Ellington, and Kelley fields. During and after the war, he served as an instructor at various fields. Since the war, he saw service in the Philippines, Okinawa, and Japan.

He was released from active duty in late 1947 or early 1948, but remained in the reserves with a Major's commission and after spending about a year in Tahoka, was called back into the service a year ago last Christmas. The first of this year, he was transferred from Sacramento, Calif., to Barksdale Field. Unable to get housing at Shreveport, his wife and two year old son, were living near-by at Mount Pleasant with her parents.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Norwegian censors recently rejected two British films, and one French and one United States film and demanded revision in 97 others.

Tankersleys Report Lynn County Vacationers, Great Time In Valley

Mrs. C. T. Tankersley came to The New office one day this week and reported on their recent five-week visit to San Benito, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Naturally, they had a great time—at least, until the disastrous freeze came and killed all the vegetation, including the immense vegetable and fruit crops. Although the temperature got down only to about 20 degrees, a large majority of the trees left from the freeze of two years ago were killed, she believes. Vegetation was seared by the cold as if a fire had burned it.

San Benito had quite a delegation of Tahoka winter visitors during January, and there was no reason to get lonesome.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper of Tahoka were there for a couple of weeks, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Warrick are spending the winter there with a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Short, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Greer, the Greer's son and wife and their nephew and wife, all of the Grassland area, were also there for quite some time.

All except the Warricks made their headquarters at Hyatt's Courts, the proprietors of which formerly lived at Clovis and were very accommodating to their new friends from Lynn county.

The group spent a lot of time fishing, and when a part of the group had good luck a great fishery was held, most of the fish, speckled trout, were caught by Luther and Claude Thomas at the mouth of Arroyo Colorado, and Wes Greer supervised the frying. Thirty-six people attended the event.

Mrs. Tankersley says that after the freeze there was no incentive to stay in that country, for it was no longer beautiful. However, farmers were making immediate plans for getting new crops of vegetables under way, and declared that the valley would soon be green again. The worst permanent damage was to trees, which will require several years to replace. According to Valley newspapers

H. D. Council Holds Meeting

Lynn County Home Demonstration Council met Thursday, Feb. 15, in the County Court room.

Nineteen women were present representing nine clubs. Miss Graham Hard, agent, was also present for the meeting.

Mrs. Wilmer Smith, new council chairman, presided over the meeting. The Council voted to have a bake sale in Tahoka on Saturday, March 24, for purpose of raising money to help carry on Council activities. Each club woman of the county is requested to bring pies, cakes and cookies to this sale. Also, each club is to have two women to help with the sale at the set hours during the day.

Mrs. Tom Russell of Joe Stokes Club was appointed County Civil Defense Chairman. Each club should appoint a Civil Defense worker to work with Mrs. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Tankersley brought home, the freeze was even worse than that of 1949. In fact, there had been none so bad since 1911. Not only were the crops and a majority of the trees killed, but ice broke other trees, power and light lines and poles and even damage building roofs. The loss was terrific.

THDA contributions in by the next Council meeting. Council adjourned and then Mr. Sam Allen spoke on Rural Telephones. Mr. Allen said, "the success or failure of the telephone Co-op depends on the rural people." —Reporter.

Mission School Gets Results

The Mission school held in the First Baptist Church here throughout last week has already borne fruit, members point out. On Sunday Bob Callahan and his wife made known to the Church their decision to offer themselves for missionary work overseas. Mr. Callahan has been director of music in the church here since last summer and his wife has been very active also as a Christian worker. Mr. and Mrs. Callahan plan to enter the Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth sometime in the near future and to spend possibly two years there in preparation for their work. They hope later to be sent to Argentina as missionaries.

On Sunday night, five persons were baptized, three by the pastor, Rev. Lee Ramsour and two by the pastor of Sweet Street Chapel Rev. W. H. Scantling.

Seven missionaries participated in the Mission services here last week and although the attendance was small on account of weather conditions and other hindrances, yet those who did attend declare

MORE and BETTER COTTON

ANGULAR LEAF SPOT or bacterial blight can be stopped

Angular leaf spot, bacterial blight, boll rot, vein blight or black arm. These are all names for the same thing, and they all mean bad news for you as a cotton grower. The blight causes death of seedlings, defoliation or loss of leaves from the plant, and shedding or rotting of bolls. It all adds up to less cotton per acre.

As the name shows, it is caused by bacteria. The germs live in the seeds, and grow up in the cotton plant to cause various harmful results.

Clearly the way to wipe out this disease is to plant disease-free seeds. You can make sure that your cotton seeds do not carry the disease germs by killing the bacteria before you plant, using an organic mercury dust. You can do this on your own premises, or have it done by the seed treating service of your local gin or seed supplier. The chemical costs less than 10¢ per acre. Other control methods include delinting of seeds with sulphuric acid or by hydrochloric acid gas. These are harder to apply, but also effective.

Because wind-blown rain spreads bacterial blight readily from one field to another, its control is a job that all the planters in an area should do together. Otherwise one field planted with untreated seed might re-infect all the others. It will pay every planter to stamp out bacterial blight in his fields. Planting seed that has been mercury dust-treated will not only reduce this disease, but will reduce seed decay and damping-off (sore shin) organisms, too.

the addresses given by the missionaries without exception were very educational, spiritual, and uplifting. At the Brotherhood meeting Monday night men declared their belief that the results of this school will be permanent and highly helpful in many ways.

With the pastor presenting the Brotherhood program Monday night, every person present was given an opportunity to express his views as to the power and the place of prayer in his individual life and in the work of the church, and many of them did so.

Upon the report of W. A. Reddell, activities vice-president, respecting the erection of signs at various entries into the city, the Brotherhood voted to proceed with the work and immediately placed the money on the barrel head with which to do the job, about $86.00.

The Brotherhood is a service organization in the church and as such is trying to live up to its obligations. One of its objectives this year is to assist the pastors and other church and denominational leaders in a great campaign of evangelism in Texas and throughout the Southland.

The next club meeting will be on March 14, with Mrs. Kevil Coffman. —Reporter.

A number of local Baptists attended the district-wide Brotherhood meeting in the auditorium of the great new First Baptist Church in Lubbock Tuesday night.

Haire-Conner Vows Set For Feb. 25

Mrs. Howton Haire announced the engagement of her daughter, Dian to Bobby Conner, son of Mrs. Ray Conner, at an announcement tea in her home Tuesday, February 13, between four and six o'clock in the afternoon.

A red satin heart, edged with white net ruffles was placed on a large mirror over the mantle, with the names "Dian and Bob" and the date of their wedding, "February 25," at the center of it.

The table was covered with red roses. In the center of the table was a small electric fountain with an arrangement of red roses, and a small silver tray holding double wedding rings tied with white satin bows.

Receiving guests at the door were Mrs. Hub Haire, Mrs. Howton Haire, mother of the bride-elect, the honoree, Mrs. Ray Conner, mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Joe Haire and Mrs. Joe Walker, Jr.

During the afternoon piano selections were played by Miss Tommie Wynn and Mrs. L. A. Harrel.

Others in the house party were Misses Zoe Sims and LaVonne Ferguson, and Mesdames O. O. Crow, Mildred Lokey, Raymond Gatzki, Viclan Bailey, Joe Walker, Sr., Tom Sims, Jack Burress, Nobel Wynn, Jack Myers, and J. H. Brewer.

Methodists Plan Laymen's Day

Next Sunday is Laymen's Day and Day of Dedication at the Methodist Church. The morning program has been planned by J. O. Allen, lay leader. The speaker will be A. M. Bray, V. F. Jones will be in charge of the service.

There will be a Day of Dedication offering taken in every Methodist Church next Sunday. Twenty-five emergency projects will participate in the benefits of the offering. Desperate need has given relief for Korea first place. The first $100,000 from dedication gifts will be used to help relieve the suffering of Korean Christians.

At least one-tenth of Korea's 30 million inhabitants are destitute, and more than twenty large cities are in ruins. Millions of Korea's people are homeless, without food, and have little clothing.

Christian leaders have been persecuted or "liquidated." In Seoul alone, Bishop Yu Soon Kim and 20 Methodist pastors and district superintendents have disappeared. The same fate has come to many teachers, workers, doctors, missionary nurses, and other Christians.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Balch, farmers of this county, visited relatives and friends in Lubbock over the week end. They recently moved from Big Spring back to Mineral Wells, where they also formerly lived.

Texas cooperatives last year borrowed more than 22.8 million dollars from the Houston Bank of Cooperatives and much of it was invested in modern equipment and facilities for handling farmers' crops.

Senator Corbin Opposes Change In Farm - to - Market Roads Set-up

AUSTIN, Feb. 22 — Passage of the Graham Bill, now the subject of a House of Representatives fight, would cost the counties in the 30th Senatorial District more than $600,000 next year, Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of Lubbock and Lamesa charged today.

This bill was "killed" in action last week, but is being brought back for a new hearing by a committee of which Mr. Graham is chairman.

"This bill is mistakenly labeled by its backers as a 'rural roads bill,'" Corbin declared. "Actually, it is nothing but a back-passing bill to make the counties increase property taxes, so the State can avoid passing a natural resource tax bill which would be paid largely by non-Texans."

The Graham Bill, Sen. Corbin explained, would divert from the counties their share of one cent of the State gasoline tax, amounting to more than $8,000,000 next year, and force the counties to raise property taxes so they can keep up rural roads and keep paying on county road bonds.

Sen. Corbin said that figures from the County and District Road Indebtedness Board show that the 24 counties in his district last year received $549,992 from the surplus available in the road bond assumption fund and that this year they would receive $620,348. The money must be used in some cases to pay off county road bonds, but most of it goes into actual rural road construction or upkeep, he continued.

"If the Graham Bill passes, then the counties won't get that money, and they'll have to dig it up somewhere," the Senator declared. "And the only place a county can raise money is from property taxes."

Sen. Corbin listed the following amounts which the counties in his district will receive in 1951 from the surplus fund, emphasizing that the money will not be paid in the future if the Graham Bill passes:

Andrews, $14,480; Bailey, $25,897; Borden, $11,358; Cochran, $16,927; Cottle, $18,682; Crosby, $31,517; Dawson, $34,608; Dickens, $22,107; Floyd, $37,804; Hale, $45,229; Gaines, $22,310; Garza, $18,226; Hookley, $38,711; Howard 477,076 home gardens were grown by home gardeners in Texas last year. The total in 1951, because of the present emergency, is expected to exceed last year's total.

COMMANDS 8th ARMY—Lieut. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway succeeded to the command in Korea following the death of Gen. Walton H. Walker. Entering the Army in 1917, Gen. Ridgway is remembered for his activities in athletics at West Point. In World War II he was responsible for the planning and attack on Sicily, the first airborne assault in the history of the Army. After service on the German front he went to the Far East following the surrender of Germany and was preparing to lead the XVIII Corps in an attack on Japan when hostilities ended.

$26,203; Kent $14,202; King $8,289; Lamb $48,782; Lubbock $48,960; Lynn $36,328; Martin $20,737; McClellan $17,162; Stonewall $18,442; Terry $27,370; Yoakum $13,466.

In response to a telegram from the Lynn County Farm Bureau, of which Wilmer Smith is president, to State Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of the 30th Senatorial District, Mr. Corbin writes the Bureau that he is in accord with the Bureau's stand on the farm-to-market road question.

He expressed his opposition to Graham bill (H. B. 226) now being considered, in which it is proposed to take away a portion of the gasoline monies of the counties and make the same available to the State Highway Department for the building of farm-to-market roads.

Introduction of the Graham bill is an attempt on the part of the opponents of taxes on natural gas to prevent the taxing of natural gas that goes into interstate

Social Security For Self-Employed

Self-employed persons come under the Social Security Act beginning January 1, 1951, in most cases the first report will be made at the regular tax paying time in March, 1952, according to John G. Hutton, Manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration.

Among the self-employed persons are operators of stores, filling stations, theaters, taxi cabs, advertising agencies, logging contractor, brokers, and certain others who classify themselves as independent contractors. The law specifically exempts farm operators, physicians, lawyers, dentists, architects, funeral directors, accountants, engineers, and a few other professions.

An individual must have self-employment income of $400.00 or more in a year to become subject to the law. Only the first $3,000 income in a year is subject to the tax. The tax rate is 2 1/4% from January 1, 1951 through December, 1953.

Partners in a business are considered as self-employed. A professional person may have self-employment income from sole ownership or a partnership outside his profession. Both wages and self-employment income may be credited up to $3,600 per year. Benefits are computed from the coverage wage or average net self-employment income, or a combination of the two.

A person just coming into the system who had no previous wage credits will not be penalized because commerce for the purpose of building rural roads. Most people of this area also feel that the present system of building farm-to-market roads is more equitable than some plans that might be advocated from Austin.

A Preacher's Point of View

BY LEE RAMSOUR, Pastor First Baptist Church

Short Yardsticks

Have you ever heard of the man who was not interested in the church because he was already as good as some of the members of the church? Did you ever meet the fellow who wouldn't go to church because of the hypocrites who did? Did you ever hear of a pious sinner(?) who quit going to church because he didn't like the preacher? Do you suppose there could be those who do not go to church because someone in the church did something to injure their precious feelings?

Listen, brother if you are one of these, you are using the wrong yard stick. When you measure yourself on the basis of comparison with the best man, you will fail far short; but most such comparison is made on the basis

Baptists Making Revival Plans

Plans are rapidly taking form for the revival to begin Easter Sunday at the First Baptist Church. Already a spirit of interest and enthusiasm has shown itself. Some of the members are remarking that the revival will begin before the scheduled date. Others are saying that it is already in progress.

Looking in the direction of a great spiritual awakening, pastor Lee Ramsour plans to speak Sunday morning on "The Spirit Filled Church," and Sunday evening on "Revival For This Day."

of consideration of some of the weakest of men. In the messages of Jesus he did not mince words about the matter. He called such as you, "Pharisees, hypocrites, whitened sepulchres filled with dead men's bones." Better to measure yourself according to God's standard and admit your wrong and change, than to justify yourself by some man's weakness and be a hypocrite with him.

Meadow Wins 9-B Championship

Meadow defeated Ropesville 29 to 27 Saturday night in the tournament at Ropes to win the District 9-B basketball championship and the right to play in the regional tournament in Texas Tech gym this week-end. The winner there will advance to the State meet at Austin.

Ropesville and Sundown represented the north half of the district last week end in the tournament, and Meadow and New Home represented the south half.

Last week The News erroneously stated that New Home, O'Donnell, and Seagraves had held a play-off to break a three-way tie for first place in the south half. We should have stated this had been a three-way tie for second place, since Meadow had already established itself as champion of the south half. Anyway, New Home won the right to enter the tournament as the second place team from the south half—its ranking being definitely established by its victory over O'Donnell and a 38-34 loss to Meadow.

Ropesville won the runner-up spot in the district tournament, and Sundown took third by defeating New Home Saturday night in the consolation game 45 to 35.

An all-tournament team was picked, the following being chosen: Bill Waygood of Sundown, Richard Arrant of Ropesville, Norman Lockett and Jerry Roberts of Meadow, and Milton Evans of New Home.
