Man Killed In Auto Accident Sunday

Jose Gonzales, 27, Is Victim When Car Hits Fence

Jose A. Gonzales, 27, was killed instantly early Sunday morning near O'Donnell when he lost control of and wrecked the borrowed 1940 Chevrolet sedan he was driving.

Bobby Swinford, Tahoka youth, was with Gonzales when the accident occurred, but he was only slightly injured. Officers placed him under arrest, and Monday he paid a drunkenness fine of $1.00 and costs.

Deputy Cleve Bairrington, who went to the scene of the accident, about a mile north and a mile east of O'Donnell, said Gonzales evidently was driving. Apparently going north, he lost control of the car at a road intersection, sideswiped a fence at the Hammonds place and finally crashed into a tree. The accident occurred shortly before 5 a. m. Sunday.

Swinford is reported to have borrowed the car last Saturday from J. N. Freeman, son of Othell Freeman, on the pretense that he wanted to go to his home north of town. He evidently picked up the Mexican and had gone elsewhere.

Gonzales, who had been employed by N. W. Smith, was buried in the local cemetery Tuesday at 11 a. m. He was born March 13, 1924, and is a son of Ernest Gonzales.

Lowé Matched Roping Winner

Jack Lowé of Plains defeated Jim Cooper of Mound, N. M., in a matched roping contest at the local rodeo arena last Sunday afternoon.

"Red" Watley of Crosbyton won the jackpot roping contest, and a cowboy from Hobbs won the jackpot bronc riding. Among the entertainment features, was an exhibition ride made by two girls, who came out of the chute riding a bronc, one of the girls facing forward and the other girl riding backward. They didn't ride very far, but the crowd evidently enjoyed the stunt.

Tahoka Roping Club and the Tahoka Jaycees are making plans for their annual rodeo which will be held here May 11 and 12.

Tahoka Is Third In Volleyball

Tahoka's girls' volleyball team, coached by Jake Jacobs, won third place in the district tournament held at Levelland Saturday of last week.

Any one of the forty-seven girls in the junior and senior classes of Tahoka High School might be called "Her Majesty" and reign tonight, Friday, at the annual banquet staged in honor of the graduating seniors by the junior class at 8:00 o'clock in the American Legion Hall.

The Queen, who has been selected by drawing numbers, will be revealed at the coronation, to night to reign by King Rex, the toastmaster, whose identity is also a secret.

The gala banquet is using the festive occasion of the New Orleans Mardi Gras as its theme, and the colorful decorations will be complemented by the music of

Cancer Crusade Is Near Goal

Lynn county is slightly short of its goal in the annual Cancer Crusade, according to H. W. Carter, county drive chairman.

About $850.00 had been contributed up to Thursday. The county's goal is $1,100.

Money raised in the drive is used in cancer research and for treatment of persons having the disease.

Cotton Meeting Here Monday

Cotton production, cotton insect control, and harvesting and ginning of cotton for higher grades will be discussed at a meeting of Lynn and Garza county farmers and ginners in the District Courtroom in Tahoka on Monday, April 23, at 2:00 p. m.

Among the speakers on the program will be: Fred Elliott, cotton specialist; Allen C. Guntter, Extension entomologist; F. E. Lichte, cotton gin specialist; E. H. Bush, county agent at large; and Harry Harvey, associate county agent on entomology.

Farmers and ginners of both Lynn and Garza county are urged to attend this meeting, as there will be much worthwhile information for all interested in cotton production.

MacArthur Has No Political Ambition

The News is pleased to note that General Douglas MacArthur during the remarkable reception given him in San Francisco Wednesday disclaimed any and all political ambitions whatsoever.

"The only politics I have," he declared, "is contained in a simple phrase known by all of you—God Bless America. I have no political aspirations whatsoever. I do not intend to run for any political office and I hope that my name will never be used in a political way."

That would seem to take him out of all possibility of becoming a candidate for the Presidency.

Mrs. W. J. Benson Breaks Shoulder

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Benson returned early this week from Floydada and Plainview where they had visited two daughters, one in each city. While at Floydada a week ago last Saturday, Mrs. Benson fell and broke a bone in one shoulder. It has since been placed in a cast and it is hoped that the injury will soon heal.

Mrs. G. K. Smith was able to go home Wednesday after receiving treatment in the hospital for virus pneumonia.

DEAN BROOKSHIRE

Church of Christ Plans Meeting

The Tahoka Church of Christ is bringing a man capable of emphasizing Christian living and fundamental obedience back to Tahoka for a one-week meeting beginning Sunday April 22. The man is Dean Brookshire of Plainview.

Brother Brookshire has labored with the Church of the Lord in Plainview for a number of years in a commendable way. We feel that you will want to hear Brother Brookshire through the entire meeting.

Presented also in this gospel meeting will be the very excellent service of Brother Hubert Ararat of Lubbock as song director. Brother Ararat regularly directs the singing for the Pioneer Park congregation of the Lord's Church in Lubbock and also serves faithfully in meeting work wherever needed.

We urge the citizens of this community to attend these services of sermon and song and "take time to be holy," says Ernest E. West, local Church of Christ Minister.

Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. daily beginning next Lord's Day.

Buick Opening Draws Crowd

Shambeck Buick company's new building on North Main was visited last Sunday afternoon by between 3,300 and 3,500, according to George Nixon.

Coffee and doughnuts were served visitors, orchids were presented the ladies, and 25 door prizes were awarded guests, the top premium being a $300 credit certificate on a new car.

Tahoka High School band furnished music most of the afternoon, and for their efforts the Shambecks are presenting the organization a check for $125.00. Modernistic in design, the Shambeck building is one of the most beautiful and most complete structures of its kind in this area, featuring the very latest in testing and repair devices and a complete line of Buick parts and accessories.

Three DWI's Are Fined By Court

Three men were fined in county court here Monday morning on charges of driving while intoxicated over the week-end.

Sunday at about 6 p. m., Deputy Sheriff Chester Roan and City Policeman L. N. Bartley gave chase to a car driven by a man apparently intoxicated. The man speeded up to about 90 miles an hour and crashed into a car driven by a Lubbock man directly in front of the home of another officer, Deputy Sheriff Otis Curry, on Main Street in Tahoka.

The man, who was from Rule, paid a fine of $200 and costs in court here and must stand good for repair of the Lubbock man's car.

The other two DWI's were Mexicans, arrested by Deputy Cleve Bairrington in O'Donnell, and they were let off with fines of $75 and costs, each.

R. L. "Kid" Gibson, Who Has Had Colorful Career, Is Seriously Ill

R. L. (Kid) Gibson, 80, remains in a critical condition in Tahoka Hospital, and hopes for his recovery are none too bright. He has been a patient since March 30, when he suffered a heart attack.

Mr. Gibson, known by many as "Kid" and by others as "Soldier," is a retired farmer and has many close friends who are anxious about his condition.

The colorful "Kid" has been a resident of Lynn county for many years. He farmed and ranched at Tahoka Lake for many years, led many coyote and rabbit hunts, later became an airplane pilot. Twice he was honored as being the oldest Flying Farmer in America, and he attended at least two national Flying Farmer conventions.

Mr. Gibson is a veteran of the Spanish-American War, and saw many years of service in the Philippines.

As a member of the Army, he was with the first troops that landed on Luzon in the Philippines following the May 1st, 1898, Naval battle in which the American Navy under Admiral George Dewey defeated the Spanish Fleet in Manila bay.

A delegation of Lynn county school people headed by County Superintendent Lenore M. Tunnell, returned Wednesday night from Austin, where they conferred with officials of the State Education Agency in regard to local school finances.

They were assured that very little if any additional funds would be required from Lynn county taxpayers by the State because of the new "economic index" plan, Mrs. Tunnell told The News.

Among those making the Austin trip were: Supt. S. F. Johnson and Delbert Mires, O'Donnell; Supt. James L. Vaughn, B. A. Morrow, and Aubrey Smith, New Home; R. M. Thomas and LeRoy Davis, Grassland; Supt. J. P. Hewlett and Clarence Church, Wilson.

New Record Set For April Call In Lynn County

Though deposits were about two million dollars lower than the all-time record set by the December, 1950, call, Lynn county bank deposits at the April 9 call set a new record for this date.

The three county banks on April 9, 1951, had total deposits of $12,804,224.86. Resources totaled $13,371,685.40, and there were loans outstanding which totaled only $1,670,260.91.

Tahoka's First National Bank had deposits totaling $8,665,340.76, loans and discounts amounting to $771,002.79, and total resources of $8,994,987.30.

The First National Bank of O'Donnell had on deposit $2,483,437.74; loans and discounts of only $244,121.00, and total resources of $2,595,529.55.

The Wilson State Bank listed deposits totaling $1,655,446.36, and had loans and discounts outstanding of $655,147.12, with total resources of $1,781,168.55.

Condition of the banks indicate that the people of the county as a whole are in excellent financial shape, and if a drought should come this year they may be better prepared than usual to meet the consequences.

The News Adds New Type Face

Readers will note this week's issue of The News has a new and different body type from that in the past.

The new type is slightly larger than the old, which was just about completely worn out, and should be much more easily read.

The News has had in an order for many months for the Linotype mats, from which this body type is cast. Because of the shortage of brass, from which these mats (or molds) are made, our order was not filled until last week end.

We hope you will like the new type face.

Tech Coaches Are Speakers At Local Dinner Honoring THS Athletes

Tahoka High School Bulldog football and basketball teams and their coaches were honored at a banquet in the school cafeteria by the Rotary Club Thursday night of last week.

Speakers for the occasion were Head Coach DeWitt Weaver, Assistant Coach Babe Wood of Texas Tech, and D. M. McElroy, secretary of the Ex-Student Association, all of Texas Tech. Their talks were entertaining, and they made quite a hit with both the boys and the men.

The new Tech coaches outlined their plans for the future at the school, issued a plea for cooperation of the entire area, and expressed their intention of building a winning team of West Texas boys. They also gave the boys present a little good advice on the importance of sports in building good citizens.

Coach Weaver highly praised the Bulldogs for their sportsmanship and high moral character, about which he had already heard before coming to Tahoka.

President Charles Townes, who presided at the meeting, explained that the banquet had been long delayed in order that the new Tech coaches might appear on the program. He introduced McElroy, who, in turn, introduced the coaches. The football boys were introduced by Head Coach Joe Turner and the basketball boys by Coach Jake Jacobs.

A delicious steak dinner with hot rolls and all the trimmings was served by the lunchroom ladies.

Not only are more children born but many more now live long enough to go to school. The death rate among pre-school children has declined from 20 deaths per 1,000 in 1900 to 1 per 1,000 today. With so many childhood diseases conquered, pediatricians report they spend most of their time supervising the health of well children and thus preventing illness.

Legion Plans Unique Show

Under the excellent direction of Mrs. Charles Verner and the wonderful cooperation of the cast, the American Legion's new musical production "Foolish Follies For '51" is rapidly moving into final rehearsal stages. Many of the numbers have already progressed to the point of perfection. The many colorful costumes to be used in the show are being completed, and with the use of powerful spot lights to further highlight their beauty, this show should prove to be well above the average entertainment to even the most critical audience.

The "Foolish Follies" will be presented two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, May 9th and 10th at 8:15 in the school gym.

The audience will be seated at tables set up on the gym floor and the show itself will serve as the floorshow. As there will be a limited number of tables available, advance tickets are being placed on sale at the Wynne Collier Drug Store, Tahoka Drug, PMA Office across from the Collier Drug, and all the Legionnaires and Auxiliary will have tickets for sale. For your own convenience and the assurance that you do not miss seeing this show we urge you to purchase your tickets now. Choose either night, but by all means do not miss it. The price of admission will be $1.20 for seats at the tables and $1.00 for all other seats in the gym. The show can be seen and heard from any part of the gym through the use of a fine public address system to be set up.

A new song hit will be introduced in this show entitled, "Re-Treads on Parade" and no one should miss Mrs. E. W. Patterson singing "That Lucky Old Sun."

Also in the show will be those Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boys and a chorus of beautiful girls. If you have never seen that one-time national craze, the Charleston, come and see it the way it should be done. Beautiful costumes will be in abundance and the stage settings will be something entirely different from anything seen in Tahoka in years. This show should be a must to everyone in the county for two reasons. First, it is the Best piece of entertainment to be presented in Tahoka, and secondly it will help a fine organization. Don't wait until you are too late. Buy those tickets now and see this show.

Nematodes, microscopic worms which cause root-knot on various plants, are a serious pest once they become established in the soil and they are found in many of the light sandy soils of Texas. The best control method is to keep them out of the soil.

If a small amount of glycerine is added to the last washing water, woollens will feel soft and fluffy when used. Glycerine also is good to use when washing pigskin or other leather gloves.

New Procedure On Reappointment Notaries Public

County Clerk, Mrs. Beulah Pridmore, has received notification from the office of Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd on the procedure to be followed in the reappointment of qualified notaries public whose terms expire June 1, and the appointment of new notaries.

The reappointment of all presently qualified notaries of Lynn county will be made by Secretary of State Shepperd by May 20, and each reappointed notary must qualify with the County Clerk on June 1, file oath and bond and pay the statutory filing fee to the Clerk in order to serve as a qualified notary for the new term, June 1, 1951 to June 1, 1953. After all reappointed notaries have qualified, the clerk will forward Certificates of Qualification and filing fees to the Secretary of State.

Terms of all presently qualified notaries expire on June 1, and a notary cannot qualify for the 1951-53 term before that date, irrespective of reappointment or new appointment.

Persons applying through the County Clerk for notary appointments for the first time will receive appointments, effective on the date of qualification. A Certificate of Appointment on each person applying for the first time will be sent to the Secretary of State for approval and then returned to the County Clerk, after which the person will be notified to appear within 10 days to qualify before the Clerk.

In the instructions received from Shepperd, he stated, "An applicant must be 21 years of age or older and a resident of the county in which he intends to act as a notary. It is important that the exact name of the applicant be given and that this name be Politics has been hot the past few days and it is going to remain hot all this week. It may simmer down after that. We have little idea what the immediate outcome will be. ing most of the criticism. But many are still standing staunchly behind him. General MacArthur is being hailed as the greatest military leader this country has ever produced. Others say that he is a braggart and a piker. Men on both sides are going to extremes.

In our humble opinion, both men have made serious mistakes. On the whole, General MacArthur has done a good job in Japan since the Japs were defeated and disillusioned. But, we think that he has made some serious mistakes in the Korean War which have cost us many lives. On the other hand, we feel that President Truman is too little a man for the job he holds. We think that he is a mere politician of the Kansas City type. In spite of the fact that he has consistently had the support of a great majority of the Southern people and Southern Congressmen, he never fails to unload on the South every chance he gets. He caters to every minority group of every kind in all the doubtful states—labor union leaders, socialists, Communist sympathizers and "fellow travelers." Catholics, radical Negro leaders, and other groups that might help to swing a doubtful state into the Truman column. Besides, his language frequently is coarse and disgusting, far beneath the dignity of the President of a great nation. We hope that he will not be the Democratic nominee next year.

Now we confess that this is strong language to be using respecting the President, but the people generally know that it is true. President Truman is, however, the Commander-in-Chief of our armies, and we can have only one Commander-in-Chief at one and the same time. We are not undertaking to say whether the policies which the Commander-in-Chief would follow in conducting the war or those which General MacArthur would follow are the wiser, but Truman is Commander-in-Chief and MacArthur is his subordinate, and we think that the subordinate should obey the orders of his superior officer. Furthermore, President Truman and the Secretary of State constitute the authority to determine international policies as they may be modified or permitted by the Congress, and no Military leader has the right to suggest terms of peace with any nation with which we are at war except as he may be authorized to do so by the President or other authorized representatives of this Government. MacArthur seems to have exceeded his authority in this respect. In other words, he gave President Truman ample grounds to fire him.

And it could be that General MacArthur deliberately invited this action with the secret hope that as a consequence he might pose as a martyr and win the Presidency next year.

Baptist Provide More S. S. Room

Members of the First Baptist Church this week are building partitions in one of the assembly rooms of the Church building and providing two good-sized Sunday school rooms for the adult department. Two new classes are to be created consisting of young married couples; the young men are to occupy one of the new class rooms and the young women the other.

One or two of the adult classes have become so large as to overflow the rooms which they have been occupying. The new rooms will be completed and ready for occupancy next Sunday.

The church is also preparing to build a camp house on its lot in the South Plains Baptist Encampment in Blanco Canyon seven miles south of Floydada. This will be for the accommodation of members of the church and guests from Tahoka who may attend any of the various meetings held there during each year, including a District Nine Boys' Encampment, a Girls' encampment, a General encampment, and one or more district-wide Brotherhood rallies.

E. J. Cooper three years ago bought a lot for the church with the understanding that the church would provide a building within three years. No building has yet been erected and Tahoka Baptists have not been attending the various encampments there in large numbers for the reason that they had no accommodations.

Quite a number of other churches in the district have built spacious camp houses on the grounds. A large tabernacle was built three years ago; also a dining hall and kitchen, a women's building, and a bathing pool, together with a fine well of water. A paved road leading from the highway to the grounds will be ready for use before the summer meetings begin.

Large groups of young people as well as adults are expected to attend these meetings from Tahoka this summer. Announcements of the meetings will be made soon.

Why not give your Pride a Break?

LET'S see what it means to own a ROADMASTER.

It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skillfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflo Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Officers for the coming year include: president, Josephine Raindi; vice-president, Eunice Shepperd; recording secretary, Jane Shepherd; corresponding secretary, Frances Henderson; treasurer, Dot Durham; reporter, Frances Martin; historian, Joyce Weaver; parliamentarian, Carolyn Henderson; and song leader, Carolyn Collier.

"Kid" Gisbon

then remained for several years there with the Army to mop up many other islands.

He fought under General Funston and was present at the capture of Aguinaldo, the Philippine insurrectionist.

For many months, he was personal orderly to an officer named Capt. Pershing, who later was to become the great American General John "Black Jack" Pershing of World War I fame.

Also of interest is the fact that General Arthur MacArthur, father of General Douglas MacArthur, now in the limelight, was serving as Military Governor of the Philippines and on several occasions Mr. Gisbon had occasion to carry messages to him. Young Arthur, however, was at that time in the States attending West Point.

Stice's 11th Inning Homer Gives South Side Fourth Straight Victory

Wayside - North Side Game Is Scheduled Saturday Afternoon

Tahoka South Side Junior baseball team won their fourth exhibition tilt of the season Sunday afternoon.

Wayside was the 6 to 4 victim of fireball Ray Madrid. James Foster, Lynn Halamicek, and Benny Brookshire hurled for Wayside, with the loss credited to Foster. The two teams battled for 11 innings. A home run by Billy Stice of the South with one man on base broke a 4-4 tie and gave them victory. James Foster had homered in the sixth with none on for Wayside.

South Side got their runs off of eight hits, and they committed eight errors; while Wayside got only four runs off of 12 hits and they committed four errors.

Tahoka North Side was scheduled to play at New Home, but the latter team failed to show up.

Next Saturday, North Side will play Wayside at JayCee Park at 2:00 p. m. Ronney Gurley or Clayton Carter will start for North Side, and James Foster or Punk White will start for Wayside, and the game is expected to be a battle royal. South Side and New Home are not scheduled.

Admission is free and the teams urge all baseball fans to come out for the game.

No Slot Machines In This County

Price Daniel, attorney general of Texas, has informed County Attorney Sam Garrard, that no Federal tax has been paid by anyone in Lynn county on slot machines. The inference is, therefore, that the slot machine racket is not being operated in this county.

Garrard recently attended a meeting in Austin of prosecuting attorneys and peace officers at which plans were discussed and steps taken to keep racketeers and gangsters out of Texas.

Acconcerted move is underway in Texas to keep such corruption at a minimum. Racketeers have been attempting to move in on Texas.

An outgrowth of the meeting is a more wide-awake drive to keep down the rackets. A number of new laws are being introduced in the legislature aimed at the racketeers, and some amendments are being made to eliminate loopholes in laws that permit them to operate.

County Attorney Garrard was back in Austin last Friday and Saturday attending another meet-

Garrard believes Texas is making headway in its efforts to keep shady characters from muscling-in on this state.

Planned May 8th

Nearly fifty boys are working out each week-day afternoon, and Coach Turner reports that they are taking keen interest in the training.

Next fall, Tahoka, under the new line-up of schools, will play in a district with Post, Slaton, Ralls, and Spur. All these schools are about the same size.

(By E. I. The Elder)

After having wandered around all over the Plains—in this column—last week, I want to run back down to my old home town, Moody, for my pabulum this week. Now, if any of you do not know where Moody is, I will tell you right off the reel: It is right down there close to where I was born and raised—raised is the right word. Tom Connolly was raised about ten miles northeast of me, more east than north, and Pat Neff was raised about ten miles northwest of me, more west than north. I was the apex of that triangle. So, I guess I could have made a statesman too, if I had wanted to. But I preferred to give Tom and Pat moral support and the encouragement of a vote now and then, and permit them to attend to my business for me down in Austin and in Washington. It was their business to pile up the taxes and mine to pay them—when I could scrape together enough money. To tell the truth, however, both of them have paid far more taxes than I have, and have served their country with great distinction, and all of us are proud of them.

Well, Moody is situated right down in the southernmost corner of McLennan county, right square dab between Pat Neff and Tom Connolly. I was born down a few miles nearly due south of Moody in Bell county. But I got there before Moody did. I was about six years old before Moody appeared on the scene. It owned its birth to the building of the Santa Fe Railway down through McLennan and Bell counties to Temple and thence on to Galveston. Going slightly southeastward from Moody, it passed about a mile and a half east of the place where my parents then lived. I yet well remember going over one day to the scene of operations and watching the muscular laborers swing their sledges and drive the spikes that fastened the steel rails to the cross-ties. How they came down—with a taud and a ring on the head of the spikes in quick succession! To me it was wonderful that their sledges never clashed. They were doing perfect team work. How many years ago was that? Well, it must have been in 1881.

The railway company had already laid out a townsite and built a depot, and the town of Moody was springing up as if by magic out there on the bald prairies. It sprang up none too soon, however, for already immigrants had been swarming into the country from Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia, and several other Southern States. Fifteen years before, the war had come to a close, the Negroes had been freed, many Southern farmers and merchants had seen all their belongings swept away, and for the past few years they had been coming to Texas to get a new start in life. The first fences had to be built of rails or of stone, and it was both a heavy task and a heavy expense to build them out on the bald prairies. But in the late seventies barbed wire had been invented and was now coming into general use. Landowners were beginning to fence their holdings with wire; and the new-comers were buying land—some of them were—and were likewise fencing it with wire. The rich black-land prairies which had been a glow every spring theretofore with the gorgeous colors of myriads of wild flowers, were now being broken up, most of them with teams of horses and oxen but some of them with mules, and were being planted to crops of cotton and corn and oats. My father never plowed with oxen but he raised a few, and I can well remember yet old Buck and Rowdy. He had another yoke that he named George and Bill—George for George Pendleton, who was a shrewd politician in his day and served later for a time as lieutenant governor under Governor Hogg; and Bill, for Bill Carroll, who was making an independent race at that particular time as a candidate for the Legislature against George Pendleton. So Pa named that yoke of oxen George and Bill. I don't remember now which one of them was the "cussedest" one, for I was not then large enough to handle a yoke of oxen. But my brother, William, who passed on recently, was reminding me last fall of his having broken a piece of prairie land away back in those early days with a yoke of oxen. It is so; I remember it too.

But, what has all this got to do with Moody? The answer is: Everything. These new-comers had to have brogans, and galluses, and jeans cloth out of which to make their britches and hickory cloth out of which to make their shirts; sugar, and molasses, and meal; turning plows, double-shovel plows, wagons, hames and collars for their horses; barbed wire, ovens, skillets, pots, pans, and just every thing for the little home and the little farm of that day; and so, men began building business houses on every townsite which the rail roads had laid out, and so, in 1881, Moody sprang up as if by magic. —And Temple! Well in a year's time it became a bustling little city.

At Moody, as well as at hundreds of other new towns that were springing up all over North, Central, and South Texas, a lot of small business houses, built of lumber, were thrown up in almost a day's time, but all of the more substantial business houses in Moody were built of stone. There was not much stone on or near the top of the ground where Moody was built, but plenty of solid limestone rock was found and a rock quarry started on a hillside two miles south of Moody; and with the coming of the railroad, the business of quarrying rock and hauling it to Moody for construction purposes soon became a major industry and continued to be so for some years. Those old stone buildings in Moody still stand, but also brick buildings have been constructed in more recent years.

It wasn't long after the town was started until a fellow came along and opened up a newspaper office in a little wood structure, as I remember it. He named his brain-child The Moody Monitor. My Pa didn't subscribe for the Monitor and I did not see a copy of it often, but I did have a kind of secret ambition to become an editor some day myself. However, I never could muster up the courage to go into that newspaper office and see what the thing looked like on the inside. Maybe I was afraid of the editor. I don't remember now even who he was. But for several years I debated with myself whether to become a big newspaper man or a great statesman and finally wound up by becoming both. Yeah!

After a few years the Monitor either turned its toes up to the daisies—just the ordinary kind, not the Tahoka daisies—or it was sold to a new owner. Its successor was and is the present Moody Courier, which is now getting well along into its sixtieth year. J. W. Gay, the present editor, doesn't remember anything about the early history of the great religious weekly over which he now presides, for I doubt if he would admit to being over forty years of age. But I remember some of the editors who have gone on before J. W. One of these was S. Hundley, who was a prominent citizen of Moody for many years. He is the man who really pulled the Courier out of the mire, set it on its feet, and made it a going concern. He did his town and community a real service.

Away back there somewhere, a fellow named Josh Billings was the pilot of the old boat—not the Josh Billings whose paperback books you used to read, no doubt, and who had a national reputation as a humorist, but the Courier Josh Billings carved out a reputation as something of a humorist, himself locally, here in Texas.

And then there was Mary Jane Cox. He too majored on humor. I don't know when nor why he was given that nickname but he probably earned it.

Other more recent editors who served Moody as newspapermen were J. C. or J. W. Fox—I have forgotten his initials—who published it some ten or twelve years, and Sam Braswell, formerly of the Clarendon News, who piloted the Courier for a few years, and has done the same thing for a number of west Texas papers.

Mr. Gay, the present editor, is serving his town and community well, and we enjoy the weekly visits of his paper to our office.

Moody has one physical peculiarity which no stranger in the town would ever discover, and we doubt if many of the inhabitants have ever noticed it. (Continued)

"I got the story on

50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil!"

says H. T. Fitzgerald, Newspaper Man, St. Louis, Missouri.

"YOUR NEW '50,000 MILES—NO WEAR' OIL is the best we have ever used," says George M. James, Manager, Metro Motors, Ford Distributors, Murray, Utah. "We use Conoco Super in all our demonstrators and recommend it highly to new car buyers."

"I'VE USED MANY DIFFERENT BRANDS of oil, but was never satisfied until I heard the story of '50,000 Miles—No Wear' and changed to new Conoco Super," writes Ben F. Taylor, Traveling Salesman, Fort Worth, Texas. "Now I get greater savings in oil consumption and more gasoline miles to the gallon."

"50,000 MILES—NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence... in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

Odds & Ends

If you were to approach Moody from any angle, or if you were to stroll about on the streets and make a visual survey of the town, you would readily see that it has the earmarks of a typical prosperous black-land town of probably 1,200 or 1,500 population; substantial business buildings of brick and stone, many neat attractive homes, some of them of modern style and architecture, and you would have a good impression of the town; but probably you would not discover or suspect that the water which falls on the town of Moody drains off into three distinct and separate streams and that the water which falls two miles north of Moody drains off into still another stream. In point of elevation, Moody is in fact the highest-up town in McLennan county, about 800 feet above sea-level.

All the water which falls on Moody west of the Santa Fe railway, which includes all the business district and half or more of the residences, drains off into Stampede Valley and helps to form Stampede Creek three miles southwest of Moody. The other prong of Stampede Creek comes down through a broad, flat, black-land valley that heads up just east of Eagle Springs, where Pat Neff originated. Stampede creek flows into the Leon River, the Leon together with other streams forms Little River down below Belton, and Little River flows on down by Cameron and finally into the Brazos east of that city.

Most of the water which falls on Moody east of the Santa Fe railway, a large residential district, drains off into and helps to form Elm Creek, which flows southeast through the eastern portion of Bell county and the northern part of Milam county and finally into Little River northeast of Cameron a few miles above the point where that stream joins the Brazos.

A little of the water which falls on the extreme northeast portion of Moody drops off into deep valleys between rugged hills and forms South Cow Bayou, which thence flows eastward through Bruceville in McLennan county, joins the North Cow Bayou which comes down by Lorena, and the combined stream meanders on down into Falls county past Chilton and into the Brazos some eight or ten miles west of Marlin.

If one goes north out of Moody on Highway 317 toward McGregor, two miles north of town he will find himself starting down a long incline and pretty soon he will observe to his left a little stream, but its upper reaches carry off only the waters that come from the natural rainfall or that seep out of the ground during and following long wet spells. As he continues to go down the gently descending road that gradually curves with the railroad around the hills on the east, he will find that this little stream is joined by others that come down other hollows from the west. These are the headwaters of the South Bosque. About six or seven miles north of Moody and three or four miles south of McGregor he will cross the South Bosque thus formed. He will have descended 150 or 200 feet in coming from Moody, but from the South Bosque on to McGregor his road makes a gentle ascent. Going through McGregor, he will join the Brown-wood-Gatesville-Waco highway, and if he turns east he will skirt the north edge of the South Bosque Valley down to a point near the Big Portland Cement Plant, where he will cross it. From that point it is only a short distance to the point where it runs into Lake Waco. Near by, the Middle Bosque comes in also, and further around to the north a mile or so, the North Bosque, the largest of the three, comes in. The combined waters of the three Bosques go over the spillway of Lake Waco to form a single stream which joins the Brazos a short distance below at the northern limits of the city proper.

Going down the highway from McGregor to the Cement Plant, one will observe and be charmed by the chain of hills that rise abruptly from the south bank of the South Bosque and that marks the northern extremity of the hill country that starts in several miles northwest of Moody and extends thence eastward past Eddy and Bruceville and Lorena in McLennan county and past Mooreville in Falls county and on to the level bottom lands of the Brazos. Southward from Eddy and Moody, these hills extend also down past Troy and Pendleton in Bell county, past Temple, and on past Heidenheimer and Rogers. Just west of Rogers in Bell county are the "Knobs" that can be seen for a long distance in almost every direction. Below Rogers, the hills gradually melt away into the valleys of Little River and numerous other streams that wind their way toward and into the Brazos.

It's a rich and interesting country, folks, and it was interesting to me to learn that Moody is situated on the highest elevation of any town in Texas east and south of Fort Worth, Cleburne, Meridian, Gatesville, Killen, Georgetown, Austin, and San Antonio. And it was interesting to me also to learn that Moody and its immediate vicinity feed four different streams of water that find their way finally into the Brazos from North Waco to Port Sullivan east of Cameron, about 70 miles downstream as the crow flies, much more than that as the River twists and turns.

Much cotton and other goods and commodities, by the way, used to be shipped by steamboat to and from Port Sullivan up and down the Brazos through the Gulf of Mexico. But when the railroads came, the Port died. I stopped there once a long time ago, and it had then shrunk up to just one little old business house. It was on the east bank of the Brazos just below the point where Little River empties into the Brazos from the west. And that's the point at which the waters that come out of Moody through old Stampede Creek and through Elm Creek, and through the South Cow Bayou, and from near Moody through the South Bosque may meet and mingle together again and go on together, laughing or murmuring as they roll on serenely or turbulently, according to their mood, to join the salt waters of our great southern sea at Vejasco.

Now there are many other things I could have said about Moody but this is probably more than you will have the time or the patience to read. So, if any of you want to go down there with me on my next trip, I will take you along and introduce you to some of my Moody friends, who are among the best people on earth.
