THE WHOLE EARTH IS THEIR FIELD OF OPERATION—Jet pilots dressed for action and officers of the USAF Aeronautical Chart and Information Service go into a huddle at Andrews Air Force Base over a new experimental chart for jet aircraft. Sessions like this yield many valuable suggestions which are used to provide the U. S. Air Force with aeronautical charts suited to all its requirements. ACIS officers go on occasion to the far reaches of the earth to discuss the charts with the men who fly the aircraft and with those who plan and standard practice in the ancient art of chart-making, but the really important element is the practicality of the chart. The question is, does it serve its purpose well, whether that is for air navigation, making landings or preparing air operations?

The best way to find the answer is to test the chart by using it. Pilots of the Aeronautical Chart and Information Service do some of the testing, but they also visit other pilots in the Far East, Alaska, continental United States or anywhere else in search of information. They gladly listen to complaints, welcome suggestions, explain the thousand and one things that pilots want to know, and then return to headquarters in Washington, D. C., with ideas and information for probable use.

These new data are carefully considered and, if found valid, may be reflected in new and improved charts. Particularly is this true in the fields of jet aircraft and air support of ground troops where great advances are being made and therefore require constant charting experimentation.

Wayside Wins Baseball Game

The Wayside "Whoopers" defeated the Tahoka North Side Sunday afternoon for their first win of the season. The game was a wild, high-scoring affair which ended 22 to 15.

Wayside collected 16 hits and committed three errors, while North Side got 14 hits and made six errors.

Ronney Gurley started for North Side, but didn't show his old form. Gurley lasted until the sixth, when reliever Clayton Carter came in but couldn't halt Wayside's big bats. Carter lasted two innings, and Manager Charles Reid called on Gurley to finish the game.

Punk White started for Wayside and pitched hitless ball up until the fifth, when North hopped on White for five runs to tie the score. James Foster was called on to pitch and quickly retired the side. Foster lasted until the seventh, and White came back in.

Both sides showed poor pitching, and from then on it was a horse race.

Lynn Halamiczek hit a homer with one mate aboard in the fifth for Wayside.

A large crowd saw the two teams play in the high wind.

South Side and New Home were idle.

Next Sunday will see an end of the exhibition games, and the league season will start. Wayside will meet South Side, in Tahoka at 2:00 p. m., and New Home will play North Side at New Home. Pitcher for the North has not been decided, but Ray Madrid will hurl for South, Funk White or James Foster for Wayside, and probably Bob Smith for New Home.

Baseball fans are urged to come out for the game.

New Home Class Visits Mexico

Seven of the ten New Home Seniors, chaperoned by Donald Caudle and a Mexican guide, Mario Hidalgo, recently made their Senior trip down into Old Mexico, a visit which they will doubtless long remember.

Seniors making the trip were: Milton Evans, Billy Ray Smith, Harold Crooks, Richard Adams, Carlton Davies, Kenneth Rodgers, and Donald Caudle. Ann Cowan, the only girl in the class, Dan Cowan, and Clifton Clem did not make the journey.

They left here in two cars Friday, April 13, and returned home Tuesday night of last week. They spent the first night at Del Rio, the second at Monterrey, the third at Laredo, and the fourth at San Antonio.

They visited the Mexican border city of Piedras Negras, and made a hot, dry drive down to Saltillo, capital of Chihuahua. This is an old and primitive city, except for some relatively modern colleges. The principal means of transportation is by burro, and farming is still done with oxen. They also saw large, wooden-wheeled carts such as have been in use fully 200 years.

At Monterrey, they found a beautiful modern city, appropriately called the Pittsburg of Mexico because of its 300 manufacturing plants, some of which they visited. There are cotton and wool mills, steel plants, breweries, etc.

After spending Sunday night in Laredo, the party visited Brackenridge Park and the zoo in San Antonio on Monday.

In 1900, 41,000 Americans died of cancer. An estimated 210,000 will die of cancer this year, the American Cancer Society says.

DODGE OWNERS TESTIFY
"NOW DRIVING MY FIFTH DODGE!"
"My big 1931 Dodge is more than living up to the Dodge reputation for dependability, ruggedness and low cost of maintenance. It's the fifth dependable Dodge I've owned."
—says Geo. A. Hughes, Grasse Pointe Farms, Michigan
"I'VE PUT THE EQUIV. ALENT OF FOUR YEARS' DRIVING ON MY '50 DODGE!"
"As a salesman, my 1930 Dodge is always on the go. I figure that I have already put the equivalent of four years of average driving on it—with out spending any appreciable amount of money for repairs."
—says Harry H. Hurst, Houston, Texas

Drive It Five Minutes And You'll Drive It For Years

You could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get all the extra room, riding comfort and rugged dependability of Dodge

TAKE THE WORD OF OWNERS who know Dodge value and dependability from actual experience. "No major repairs in four years' driving" . . . "After driving another make less than a year, I'm back with Dodge again" . . . "Driven my Dodge 150,000 miles and it's still going strong." These are not unusual comments in letters we receive from Dodge owners coast-to-coast.
Dodge dependability starts with a heavy, rugged frame, a "Get-Away" engine "speed-proofed" to resist wear, designed to be a miser on gas.

mirers simply went wild, and their enthusiasm seemed to be extremely infectious.

The acclaim he received, however, was not occasioned by any demonstration of military genius on his part; it was occasioned principally by the fact that he had just been kicked out of his high military position, and the people of the United States constitutionally and almost invariably are in sympathy with the under dog. Their sympathy for MacArthur and their resentment against the man who had done the kicking were greatly augmented and intensified by the unpopularity of that man, who so recently had given so many demonstrations of his weakness and "littleness" as President of the United States.

Many good men in fact have been acclaiming MacArthur, since he got that kick, as the greatest military leader our country has produced, but if they actually believe that they surely had not been following his course closely or else they have short memories. Every military genius that we have ever read anything about managed to keep himself pretty well informed as to the power, position, and movements of the enemy. Just last November General MacArthur demonstrated such grave ignorance of the power, position, and buildup of the armies of the North Koreans and of their Red Chinese allies as to make an announcement concerning the war that amazed nearly everybody in this country. He gleefully announced that the war was practically over, that only a little "cleaning up" remained to be done in order to close it, and predicted, whether "facetiously" or not, that our boys in Korea could be expected to take their Christmas dinner at home. Of course nobody expected them to be home that

GIRL SCOUTS HAVE WEINER ROAST

On last Friday afternoon at their regular meeting, the Girl Scouts of Troop 1 and their leaders hiked to the home of Mrs. Dick Mitchell.

During the hike, the girls studied Nature. After the girls arrived at their destination, a fire was built and all enjoyed a weiner roast.

Those present were: Nancy Draper, Gloria Best, Marilyn Carmack, Mary Helen Whitaker, Joan Curry, Idalia Wood, Gerald Dean Tippit, Janice Blair, Jan McElroy, Mrs. J. T. Tippit and Tim, and Mrs. N. E. Wood and Paula Jane.

soon but people naturally did believe that MacArthur knew what he was talking about and that the war, most likely, was just about over. But before a week had elapsed, the North Koreans and the Chinese Reds had launched a new offensive with such power and with such overwhelming numbers as to put our own troops into disorderly flight, and if General Walker and other leaders on the field had not foreseen the possibility of such a disaster and had not prepared for it, the enemy might never have been stopped. As it was thousands of our boys lost their lives and thousands of others were wounded, all due to the tragic ignorance and error of this same General Douglas MacArthur. One has only to turn back and read the newspapers of last November and December to see that all this is true.

We do not think our Commander-in-Chief, Harry S. Truman, is any military genius either, but he gives his orders after consulting his military staff, such men as General Eisenhower, General Marshall, General Bradley, and others, and his orders most assuredly are in accord with the opinion of most if not all of them, and yet General MacArthur has placed his judgment above that of those other military leaders, disregarded the orders of the Commander-in-Chief, and struck out to conduct the war and international policies according to his own ideas. We still think he was wrong in deliberately disobeying orders and was probably wrong in thinking that his course was wiser than that of the President and his military staff.

We still believe that MacArthur was done no injustice when the President fired him. And the President's order will stand. MacArthur has had his day.

BREAKS ARM IN FALL

Mrs. J. R. Wyatt, who lives down in South Tahoka, has been suffering the past two weeks from a fracture of one of her arms just below the elbow and a lruise of one of her knee caps. She suffered these injuries when she accidentally fell on the sidewalk while leaving the Baptist Church on the last Sunday night of the revival meeting here. The arm was placed in a cast and has been improving but rather slowly.

The first Turkish soldiers wounded in Korea to be sent home were taken from Japan in January by British Royal Air Force aircraft ambulances.

The ricksha used in the orient today was invented by Jonathan Goble, a Marine who visited Japan with Perry in 1854.

HAVE YOU WRITTEN YOUR SERVICEMAN IN KOREA?

"I have mentioned morale as a major factor in the effectiveness of the front-line soldier. I have been told repeatedly by men returning from Korea that there is no greater boost to the morale of our fighting men than letters from home, and the general assurance that we are aware of their effort and their sacrifice and that we are proud of them for it. I want to take this opportunity to urge everyone who knows a serviceman in Korea to sit down and write that man a letter assuring him that you appreciate what he is doing over there."

BUDDY POPPIES SYMBOL OF A NATION'S DEVOTION

Emblem of the dead and dying on the fields of Flanders in 1918, the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy has been glorified by the American people as their "Flower of Remembrance."

Down through the years, ever since 1922 to be exact, the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy has given to all patriotic citizens—rich and poor alike—their chance to honor the dead by helping the living.

The annual sale of Buddy Poppies serves two great purposes. It fosters the beautiful custom of wearing these little flowers, once each year, in mute salute to the memory of America's honored dead; it provides the funds that are required to serve the daily personal needs of the nation's disabled and needy veterans, and their dependents.

There are millions of unfortunate veterans—as well as widows and orphans and dependent parents—who are unable to qualify for government aid.

Why? Mainly because the government itself—in time of war—has never been able to maintain accurate records on the physical welfare of each individual in uniform.

Through no fault of their own, these veterans—many of them the victims of the lingering effects of exposure, shock and malnutrition—are unable to qualify for help from their government because their service records fail to confirm the origin of their ailments.

Your support of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies makes it possible for the Veterans of Foreign Wars to maintain its great, nationwide program of free rehabilitation service to the millions of needy veterans.

Every dime or dollar which you may give in exchange for a Buddy Poppy goes into a special sacred fund—one that will be spent for nothing but the relief and rehabilitation of America's disabled veterans, and their needy loved ones.

Remember the dead who are buried near the battlefields where they died, or in our cemeteries here at home. Let's do them honor by helping the living!

For the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents, or their widows and orphans.

For maintenance or expansion of the V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans of veterans at Easton, England, Mich.

For necessary expenses for military funerals of deceased veterans.

For hospital entertainment, for needy veterans and service patients.

For rehabilitation, welfare and service work, including liaison service with the Veterans Administration.

For acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and the decoration of graves of veterans and servicemen.

YOUNG COMBAT CORRESPONDENT'S FIRST AND LAST STORY—Marine Private First Class Milton Ray Lawhorn, 20, radioman with a forward air controller, wanted to be a combat correspondent. He carried a small camera, some note paper and a pencil. There was no dearth of news. Private First Class Lawhorn himself made news. It began with his birth in Chicago on January 19, 1931. He was the son of James F. and Myrtle Trail Lawhorn. He went to school at Normal, Illinois, graduated from high school at Harrisonburg, Virginia, served in the Illinois National Guard from March 23, 1948 to June 14, 1948, when he went to Iowa to work for the Sharon Telephone Company. On December 22, 1949, he joined the Marine Corps at Chicago. On February 27, 1951, his next of kin, James M. Lawhorn, a brother, of Ravina Park Road, Decatur, Illinois, was notified that Private First Class Lawhorn was killed in action on February 24. Private First Class Lawhorn got his story. It was neatly printed on his note paper, before he was caught in a counter barrage. The "copy" was found on his body and his friends turned it in. Above, left, Pfc. Lawhorn; right, the anti-tank "War Baby" and its crew, left, to right, Pfc. William H. Grimes, Buffalo, N. Y., wounded, Cpl. Gene D. Mills, Oklahoma City, Okla., squad leader, and Cpl. Lewis H. Walker, Jeffersonville, Md., winner of Bronze Star.

Dr. John A. Guinn, left insert, who will be inaugurated sixth president of Texas State College for Women April 27, and President Doak S. Campbell of Florida State University are pictured above, with the new home economics building, now nearing completion on the campus. Dr. Campbell will be principal speaker at the inaugural ceremonies.

"Foolish Follies for '51" Will Offer Unique Entertainment for Tahokans

The world premiere of the American Legions musical revue, "Foolish Follies for '51," will be presented two nights in the school gym on May 9th and 10th at 8:15. The price of admission will be $2.00 for orchestra seats, $1.20 for seats at tables and $1.00 for all other seats in the gym. Through the use of the Southwestern Public Service's sound system, this revue can be heard and seen from any part of the gym with equal ease.

The thorough search by the talent scouts has brought before you a cast of about fifty of the best that can be found in home talent entertainers. They are people you know and see every day but not in the roles they will be filling.

To assure you that you will see the best in home talent entertainment, each member of the cast has been cast in the role most suited to him or her. The persons with good singing voices will do most of the singing, the dancers will perform precision dance routines, the musicians will furnish wonderful arrangements of music throughout the show and comedians will be there to bring forth that desired laughter.

To fill the roles in that famous speakeasy scene, the scouts went so far as to bring in the most famous thugs of all (just kiddin', fellows), Russell McGee, Maurice Bray, Eldon Carroll, Charles Townes, Richard Taylor, Kenneth Turner and Sonny Roberts. In the same scene you will see Macky Turner as a queen of the speakeasy and Eva Claire Whitmore of Clovis, N. M., as a speakeasy entertainer.

The many costumes for the show are nearing completion, the stage settings were designed and built by Johnny McKaughn, and the first dress rehearsal is scheduled for the middle of next week so all the little flaws can be ironed out and the production brought nearer to perfection.

Programs will be furnished at the door for the audience's convenience in following the show and knowing who is in each scene.

The directors of the show would like to stress again the fact that a limited number of tables will be available each night and would appreciate it if those who plan to attend, purchase their tickets now. All members of the cast will have tickets for sale and several will be placed in various stores in town. There will be no shortage of gym seats, but help us fill the house.

Another item of importance is that waitresses will be circulating through the audience with homemade sandwiches and Coco Colas for sale. There will be nothing else at the show to cost money, but if you care to, leave off eating that evening meal on May 9th and 10th and purchase a sandwich and coke from the Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. R. C. Wells brought The News this week several copies of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch which the local editors enjoyed perusing. The Post-Dispatch carried considerably more coverage on the MacArthur-Truman affair than did any Texas paper we have seen, and The News editors were interested in reading some stories on MacArthur's life and activities.

Mr. Woods has been in the jewelry business practically all his life. The son of a jeweler, he started work at the age of seven. He came to Tahoka in 1927 to take over the repair department at Thomas Bros. Drug Store.

In 1935, he bought the Thomas jewelry department and moved to the location just north of the First National Bank, where he operated his business until his recent move to the new location.

He says his store is now prepared to make any kind of repairs in addition to the sale of nearly every kind of jewelry imaginable.

Football Squad Has Scrimmage

Tahoka Bulldog football workouts are going forward each school day, with about 50 boys training for next year's team under Coaches Joe Turner, Jake Jacobs, and Tom Bartley.

Monday night, the boys engaged in a two and a half hour scrimmage in which many of the boys looked good to the few fans present. Most of the boys are working hard, and indications are that the coaches may have more reserves available next fall than in several years.

On May 8, Coach Turner plans to end Spring training with a full scale intra-squad game to which the fans will be invited.

Local People Fish At Hot Springs

Postmaster "Happy" Smith has been telling some almost fantastic fish tales around town this week.

He claims he and Bob Tate and Harve Smith caught 40 bass and one crappie out at Hot Springs (Truth or Consequences) one day of last week. All were taken on artificial lures.

Happy, Buel Draper, Jim Burleson, and Mr. and Mrs. Harve Smith returned from that resort city last week end. Mr. and Mrs. Tate remained for a longer stay.

While there, among the other Tahoka people they saw were Watson Spears, Mr. and Mrs. "Sonny" Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Turner.

Congratulations:

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith of Wilson, Route 2, on birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 5 ounces at 4:45 p. m. Monday in a Lubbock hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ragan of Sulphur Springs on the birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 6 ounces on April 8th in a hospital in that city. The little lady was named Joretta Gayle. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cawthron of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Ragan of Sulphur Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred William Bushell on the birth of a son weighing 6 pounds 7 ounces at 10:35 a. m. last Friday in Tahoka Hospital by Cesarean section. He has been named Ronald William. The father is a dental technician.

MAN IS VICTIM OF PECULIAR ACCIDENT

C. W. Trice, Lamesa bread truck driver, entered Tahoka Hospital Thursday morning for examination following a peculiar accident which befell him while changing a tire.

Mr. Trice hit at the tire with a sledge hammer, but the hammer hit his left foot. The man fell to the ground and also injured his back severely.

After first joining a 4-H Club in 1942, E. P. had two dairy heifers and two hogs for his demonstrations. In 1943 he won a gilt through the Sears 4-H Swine Program. He purchased his first registered Jersey heifer in 1944 with money from his swine demonstration.

During the past nine years, E. P. has owned a total of 110 head of dairy cattle. At the present time he has a herd of 40. He is a member of the American Jersey Cattle Club. He was the 1949 Texas Dairy Production winner.

However, all of his efforts in dairy work have not met with success. In 1946 he lost 11 head of dairy calves from infectious scours. And the same year - his barn burned, leaving him without feed or shelter for his animals. He took this in his stride and constructed a temporary shelter for the animals while he went about building a larger, more modern barn.

In addition to swine and dairy cattle, E. P. has demonstrations in poultry, beef calves and field crops. He now has 100 acres in crops and owns 11 beef calves and 600 laying hens.

He has been president of the Southland 4-H Club since 1946 and he is also president of the Garza County 4-H Council. He was chosen as one of the top outstanding 4-H Club boys in Texas in 1950.

The other three delegates to the 1951 National 4-H Club Camp are Mary Helen Keith of Cochran county, Billie Jean Walker of Howard county and Roger Q. Landers, Jr., of Menard county. Their trips are being financed by the United Gas Pipeline Company.

A. T. Beard was back in Tahoka Hospital this week for treatment.

Self-Employed Pay Social Security At End of Year

If you work for yourself and are planning to include your name on the quarterly Social Security tax return you will file for your employees in April, don't. So, says John G. Hutton, Manager of the Lubbock Social Security office.

Hutton says that many business men who come under Social Security as self-employed are under the impression that they should report their net income quarterly in the same manner that their employees are reported. This assumption is incorrect. A self-employed individual comes under Social Security only if the net income from his business is $400 or more per year.

In most cases, it is not possible to determine the amount of net income from a business until the end of the year, since profits in earlier months may be offset by losses occurring later. For that reason, the self-employed are required to report only once each year. This report will be made

Tahoka carried away top honors in one division at the Region I Interscholastic League meet held at Texas Tech in Lubbock Friday and Saturday of last week.

Sue Findt won top honors among individuals in the contests and will represent Region I in the State contests May 3-5. Jo Anne Bennett with Sue Findt composed the Tahoka team which entered five events, the composite score of which determined the team winner.

Tahoka won no other honors in the regional meet.

Don White of Wilson won second place in Class B junior boys declamation contest, a Hale Center boy beating him out for first.

O'Donnell won several places in track and field events to place third in the region in Class B with 19 points. Dimmit won the meet with 31 points and White Deer was second with 21.

Guddy Gass was first and Kellas Davis was third in the 220 yard dash, and Gass was fourth in the 100 yard dash. Bennie Clark tied for first in the high jump with a Kress boy, and Kenneth Bannon was third in the low hurdles.

The O'Donnell 440 yard relay team, composed of Davis, Doss Rains, and Gass, ran away with first place honors in that event.

Odds AND Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

Changing the subject, folks, we certainly have been having a lot of weather lately, such as it is— weather to write home about. As Mark Twain is said to have remarked once, "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody ever does anything about it." Well, if anybody could do anything about it, I figure that nearly everybody in West Texas would be thinking with it most of the time.

Last week, when the other kids and I got through mailing out this county-saver, I went home to supper about 9:00 p. m. News paper folks can not always eat at meal time. They must eat just when they can—or just when they have anything to eat. Well, just as I sat down to eat, a terrific squall hit, knocked the kitchen door open, and was just about to rip the table cloth off and spill the beans. I jumped up and slammed the door shut and locked it; and as I sat down I just remarked out loud, although there was nobody there to hear me, that I guessed that was another Easter spell. We've had so many Easter spells this spring that I am getting pretty well acquainted with them.

Upon further examination, however, I found this flurry was just another sandstorm. The wind was coming right out of the southwest and was galloping across these plains nearly as fast as a drunk man can drive one of these new cars. It was picking up plenty of real estate too. I never did find out its destination, but I imagine that Wichita Falls and Oklahoma were busy digging out the next day.

Don't guess this could be called an Easter spell. They usually come swooping down from Amarillo or Dalhart or some other place up in the arctic regions. Once-in-awhile, one will blow in from the Wichita Falls area; but they usually bring a little snow or a little sleet or a little rain, that freezes faster than it falls. We had one or two of that kind, as I remember, just before Easter, and possibly one or two soon after Easter. I never did know which one of these blizzards the Tahoka weather experts eventually settled upon as the real Easter spell.

But as tough as the weather is that Easter brings, I would not have Easter done away with for anything. In the first place it is the Sunday when the ladies all come out decked in their new finery, with petite little hats or larger creations with glamorous plumage, etc., and who wouldn't enjoy the show?

Furthermore, it is the time when all the kiddies have such a swell time hunting gaudily painted Easter eggs. As for me I prefer the regular old-fashioned hen eggs. I never did hunt bunny eggs when I was a kid but many a time I went out for Ma and gathered up the eggs that the brown hens, the speckled hens and the dominecker hens had laid that day and brought them in for family use.

And still another reason why I don't want to see Easter done away with, believe it or not, it usually brings in a little additional advertising for the newspaper man. So, my vote is to let Easter stand as is. Let's not abolish it just because it brings tough spells of weather now and then.

Really, how does Easter have anything to do with the weather, any way? Search me. I have never been able to figure it out. It is my understanding that there had been oodles and oodles of all kinds of weather long before there was any Easter. I doubt if Easter has any more to do with the Weather than does Christmas, or Thanksgiving Day, San Jacinto Day, the Fourth of July, or George Washington's birthday, or mine either. It takes oceans of water, continents of land, a whole firmament of air, and a lot of warm sunshine to produce the weather that enshrouds this earth of ours daily—to bring us rain, sleet, snow, hailstorms, floods, and about everything else but drouths. Not much water is required, I have noticed, to bring us a highly successful sandstorm.

That blast the other night which I mentioned raised lots of sand, and it remained gusty and dusty all night. There were a few hazy, spotty clouds hanging around next morning at sun-rise, but nobody took seriously the meager prospects of rain. Yet before noon the rain was descending, temporarily a miniature flood was threatening, and the wind was blowing and beating furiously upon our houses, but they fell not, for most of them had been built on stone foundations; and the storm was just not fierce enough to blow them down or wash them away even if they had been built on nothing but sand. Here in Tahoka we got 35 of an inch out of it, but I don't think that was due to any feast or any kind of celebration at any time anywhere in the world.

But, even though Easter doesn't have any effect on the weather, Easter has an interesting history just the same. As it is observed today, it is a sort of blend of about three different kinds of celebrations, each dating back many centuries, one of them given to the world by Judaism, one by Paganism, and one by Christianity, real or so-called.

All Bible students remember well the tragic but thrilling story of the Israelites down in Egypt, beginning with Joseph.

Ten of Joseph's brothers had become envious of him because he was the favorite son of their father Jacob. To get rid of him, they sold him in slavery one day to a party of Ishmaelite merchants who came their way on camels loaded down with goods, wares, and merchandise which they were transporting down in Egypt for sale. They sold him as a slave to an officer employed in the mansion of the Pharaoh who was then reigning as king.

By his virtuous and upright life, Joseph soon won the confidence of Pharaoh and rapidly rose to the highest place of honor and power in the Egyptian Government. When a famine came on and people were coming in great numbers from neighboring countries to buy food, Joseph was made the chief food administrator, possibly the first official of that kind in all history.

Among those who came to buy food were his own brothers from Canaan, whom he immediately recognized but who did not recognize him. The story that follows is one of the most touching in all literature: It is not necessary to relate it here, but the upshot of it was that the brothers and their families and their younger brother Benjamin and their father Jacob, numbering about 70 souls, were given the land of Goshen, a little section of Egypt bordering on the Mediterranean, as their place of abode. They and their descendants lived and prospered and died there for a period of almost 400 years. But in the meantime a new dynasty came on the throne in Egypt, who feared, hated, and oppressed the Israelites. But also in the meantime, God had miraculously raised up a leader, Moses, to lead the Israelites out of Egypt and to the Promised land, which He had vouchsafed centuries previously to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, as a permanent home for their descendants.

So, God gave Moses minute instructions as to how to proceed to deliver these oppressed Israelites, then numbering about two million souls, out of the bondage of Egypt.

These instructions contained the directives that the Israelites should make thorough and minute preparations to depart out of Egypt hastily when the word should be given. Before departing, they were to offer sacrifices unto the Lord. They were to slay a male lamb or goat without spot or blemish, one for each home or designated group of the Israelites, and sprinkle the blood on the door posts of their dwellings, and they were informed that the Lord would pass over all the homes in Egypt that night and would take the first-born both of the children and the animals of all those on whose door posts the blood had not been sprinkled. They were also instructed to eat the sacrificial lamb or other animal in haste, with their loins girded, their shoes on their feet, staff in hand, and ready to go at a moment's notice. The Israelites obeyed these instructions to the letter, and not a one of their children or animals was slain. But at midnight or soon thereafter a great cry of grief went up from every Egyptian home, for the Lord had passed over and had taken the first born of every child and of every animal belonging to that home. The Pharaoh's first impulse was to drive every Israelite out of the land and he gave Moses orders to that effect.

It was not necessary, however, for the Israelites were already on their way out. When morning dawned, and the Pharaoh had seen the great havoc that had been wrought and heard the wailing cries that came from every Egyptian home, he hurriedly marshaled his army and sent it after the Egyptians, determined to destroy them. But again the Lord intervened, delivered the Israelites, and destroyed Pharaoh's army instead in the midst of the sea.

The Lord himself designated that feast as the Feast of the Pass-over and commanded that the Israelites should observe it annually thereafter forever. They have since observed it every year at the appointed time, beginning the 14th day of the month of Nisan, corresponding to our April, and so last week they were observing that feast here and everywhere Orthodox Jews are to be found.

Jesus possibly attended these feasts regularly after he became twelve years of age. Without a doubt he attended all of them after he was baptized of John and entered upon his earthly ministry. At the last one of these Passover feasts which he attended ed he was betrayed by Judas Iscariot into the hands of the infuriated High Priest and other Jewish authorities who had been seeking ways and means to take his life and at their behest was crucified on Mount Calvary by Roman Soldiers.

On the night preceding his crucifixion, after Jesus himself and his twelve apostles had eaten the Passover supper, he immediately instituted the Lord's Supper to be observed thereafter as a memorial of him by his disciples generally or by his Church, as many interpret the Scriptures.

At that time there was no such thing in the Holy Land or in the whole Roman Empire as an Easter festival or an Easter service. No such service had ever been thought of either by Jewish or Gentile Christians. The word Easter does not appear but once in the entire Bible, that one instance being found in Acts, 12:4, in the King James Version of the New Testament; and it is now conceded by all Bible scholars that that was a mis-translation. It should have been translated Passover instead of Easter, they all agree. All of the Revised Versions and all of the later translations that we know anything about have substituted the word Passover for the Word Easter, for that was the meaning of the Greek word which Luke used in writing the Book of Acts. Luke, no doubt, had never heard of such a feast or celebration as Easter when he wrote Acts, for Eostre (Easter) was the name of a Pagan goddess worshiped by our forefathers, the Angles and Saxons, who lived in the forests of Northwest Germany and were still pagans and barbarians 500 years after Luke wrote the Book of Acts. The Angles and the Saxons at that time had no books, no literature, and possibly not a one of them could read or write in any language, when the New Testament was written.

John R. Green, the great English historian, tells us much about these primitive peoples. They were Pagans, and their principal gods were Woden, from which we get Woden's Day (Wednesday); Thor, the god of Thunder, from which we get Thor's Day (Thursday); and other gods, from which the names of other days of the week are derived. But the goddess of Spring—of flowers, new life—was Eostre, Easter.

The Angles and the Saxons met on some high place, in some grove, or under some great spreading tree, to worship their gods.

While Green admires them very much for some of the traits of character which they possessed and for the fact that they were very democratic, having their community meetings in which all important questions were decided by an "Aye" and "No" vote; yet he says that they were undoubtedly heavy drinkers and were crude in their manners and boisterous in their meetings. Since no morals were involved in their worship, it may be safely guessed that their days of worship were attended by much drinking and unseemly carousals.

These barbarians liked to fish and hunt and many of them were lovers of the sea. Great numbers of them became sea pirates. Swarming the waters of the north-western seas, some of them landed in Britain and thereupon decided to make Britain, as it was then known, their very own, and so about A. D. 450 they began their conquest of that island. It took many years for them to drive the Britons out but they never stopped until they had the job well done. But they were still Pagans and remained such for another hundred years or more. Their final conversion to Christianity is an interesting story, but we will leave that untold for the present. Sufficient to say that when they did give up Pagan worship and accept Christianity, they became the most zealous Christians and the most active missionaries of all the German tribes.

But it does seem that long before they accepted Christianity, the Roman Catholic Church learned in some way of their worship of Eostre, the goddess of Spring, and Light, and flowers, and new life; lifted it out of its pagan setting, called it Easter, and set it down in their calendar as the celebration of the Resurrection, new life indeed.

Well, that was a happy thought and a beautiful transition of the symbolism of Easter; and while we have regarded every Sunday as a day on which to celebrate the Resurrection, and the Lord's supper as a memorial ordinance picturing the broken body and the spilt blood of Christ, still we believe that it is far better to use Easter as an occasion for stressing the Resurrection of Christ than as an occasion for worshipping an imaginary goddess that never existed, in rites with little moral or spiritual meaning, and possibly attended by drunkenness and outright immorality.

The Jews, of course, have never accepted Easter as having any connection with their Passover Feast, but many Christians early accepted it as a continuation of or a substitute for the Passover, and it was so recognized officially at the Council of Nice in A. D. 325. Personally, we think that the Passover of the Jews looked both backward and forward, backward to their delivery from Egyptian bondage, and forward to Christ, the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world; as Paul wrote in I Corinthians: "For even Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us."

Religious Prejudice

To Readers of The News: A town can't help but have prejudice, but must a school (and against a religion, at that), where kids are of all religions?

Perhaps I shouldn't be so blunt as to what I'm going to write, but enough is enough! There have been many instances where I, as a student, have come in contact with dirty "digs" and jokes, not to mention filthy lies on my religion, Catholicism. I have taken it, not saying much, but now something has ignited the fuse of my anger.

When a school will not hear a Catholic speaker for Commencement—not because he is not a good speaker but because he is a Catholic priest—there's something "fishy" about it.

My hopes were high when I heard that there was a possibility of getting one this year, because never in the history of Tahoka High School have we had one. I was hurt when I found out how the situation came out, but now I'm mad good, and darn mad! In my opinion (and the press is for the public opinion), this was an exhibition of prejudice on the part of a very small group who can't change—who are in a rut and can't get out! I mention no names.

Most of the persons that I know who object to Catholics do not know anything about Catholicism—but still they dislike it. My question is, "Why?" What have we done to you? Why are some people so narrow-minded?

Most of my friends in school are Protestants. Some understand my big fight and offer to help. Some don't quite know what they've "got against" me, but there's a little "undercurrent" which is present. This little "undercurrent" will grow into a maelstrom by the time we both are mature.

THE LYNN COUNTY NEWS,

Friday, April 27, 1951

I've asked myself over and over, "What's the matter with people of this world?" I still have not found the answer, and I don't suppose anyone else has. There is one God—to that we all agree—and He put us here for a purpose. Yet, we as human beings and so-called Christians cannot live like He meant for us to live—in peace and happiness.

This means getting along with people, no matter what race, religion, or color. (Name withheld at request of writer.)

"Smart Buy's Roadmaster"

It started the very day the 1951 ROADMASTER made its first appearance—and has been building up ever since.

Folks looked at the fresh new styling—the power—the features—the fabrics—the cloud-soft cushions—and the prices—and said, "Here's the smart buy in the fine-car field."

Why don't you come and see for yourself what a sensational buy this proud beauty really is?

It's a honey to handle—a joyous thrill to ride in—and just about the handsomest thing on wheels.

It has room, and poise, and a level-going gait that comes from coil springs front and rear.

There's a triumphant thrill in the willing obedience of its Fireball power and the luxurious ease of its Dynaflo Drive, which doesn't cost you a penny extra.

There's a sweeping view fore and aft through sweepingly broad glass areas, and the new clarity of an instrument panel with greater visibility at night.

Even the brakes are new, self-cooling, with a grip that takes hold like steel fingers in a velvet glove.

Here indeed is a car that is fine in bearing, in action, and in the precision of every structural part—a ROADMASTER custom built by Buick. When will you try one as our guest?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.
