Tahoka Jaycees Plan Renewal of Activity

Election Contest Looms On Eve Of New Year

Tahoka Jaycees have nominated two slates of candidates from which new officers of the organization will be elected late this month.

One faction, which calls itself the Yellow Dog party, has Charles Reid for campaign manager, and is backing the following: "Red" Brown for president; Clint Walker, vice president; W. E. (Pat) Patterson, treasurer; J. E. Sherrill, secretary; Russell McGee, Mitchell Williams, John VanMejer, Ted Kuwaski, and Charles Reid, directors.

The other group calls itself the Friendly Honey Bee party, with Granvel Ayer the campaign manager backing these candidates: Stanley Sigman, president; David G. Weathers, vice president; Ray Adams, treasurer; Geno Jones, secretary; W. W. (Dub) Gurley, C. A. Short, Clyde Briley, Jerrell Thurman, and Charles Reid, directors.

Dirty remarks are already being made about the Yellow Dogs, and the friendliness of the so-called Honey Bees is being questioned, The News is informed. The News will refrain from editorial comment on the campaign for fear of violating the libel law. The Jaycees have high hopes of inaugurating a more active program of civic work this year, including the sponsorship of completion of their park program.

Cub Scouts Visit Camp At Post

Last weekend was a big moment in the lives of Tahoka Cub Scouts. They spent Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday at Camp Post enjoying life out-of-doors with their dads.

Cub Scouts and their dads were present from all over the South Plains. Tahoka had the largest group, 46, of any town represented, according to A. V. Barnes, Cub Master.

The Tahoka group arrived at Camp Post at about 3.30 p. m. Saturday.

The boys spent some time Saturday afternoon exploring the grounds, and hunted places of interest in the hills and canyons. The Swimming pool was open, but due to the cold weather not many braved the water.

Supper was served at 6:00 p. m. and a very interesting Council Fire program was presented at 8:30. Following this, the Cubs went to bed and the Dads played dominoes in the rain.

Chow call Sunday morning was at 7:30, and the Sunday School hike followed at 8:30.

Another swimming period was set for 10:45 a. m., and in spite of the cold many Cubs and a few Dads enjoyed a dip in the pool. The noon meal was served at 12:00 o'clock, and the groups returned to their respective homes.

Since publication of the story in last week's News about Frank Bryan's 132-year-old watch once owned by Moses and Stephen F. Austin, so many people have asked him to see it, that he has put the timepiece on display in the show window of Wynne Collier Drug.

The old watch kept good time until a few years ago when some irreplaceable parts wore out. The watch is a chain drive, key wind, affair.

Mayor's Wife Hits Jackpot On First Fishing Excursion

His Honor, Mayor Jim Applewhite, is telling a fish story this week that should put a quietus on some of our story-telling fishermen.

And his is a true story. Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Applewhite and three children went to Possum Kingdom.

On Friday, Jim was running the motor while his wife, Jerry, and son, Jackie, trolled for bass.

Suddenly, Jerry informed him she had hung a snag. About the time Jim cut off the motor, she told him the plug, a bomber bait, had come loose. But, Jim told her to reel in before he started the motor again.

Jerry complained that the reeling was a little hard—and about that time Jim's eyes popped out, for he had seen something big roll up in the vicinity of bait.

Then, they got a real surprise. There was not one fish but TWO securely hooked by the plug—and, later, they found one of them weighed 5 3/4 pounds, the biggest bass Jim ever saw, and the other a respectable 2 1/2 pounds.

Furthermore, this was Jerry's first fishing experience.

Miss Joan Slover and Dwight Townsen, both of Tahoka, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at 5:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Methodist Church of Tahoka, with Rev. C. A. Holcomb of Quannah, formerly of Tahoka, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Slover and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Townsen, all of Tahoka.

The church altar was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, woodwardia fern and candelabra. Miss Myrla Holcomb, daughter of Rev. Holcomb, played the organ music, the traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Mrs. Sue Cole, her sister, who sang "Because" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin dress, made by her mother, of ivory satin fashioned with long pointed sleeves, rounded neckline, fitted bodice, and full skirt extending into a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion was attached to a seeded pearl tiara. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid adorned with an arrangement of stephanotis.

Miss Emily Slover attended her sister as maid of honor. Miss Clydene Whitaker of Shallowater, college roommate of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical floor length gowns of yellow taffeta, made with short puff sleeves, fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. They wore large open crown hats of French illusion and short mitts of yellow taffeta, and carried colonial bouquets of white daisies.

Robert Warren of Lubbock served as best man. Ushers were Duwaine Townsen, Claud Slover, Willie Shambeck, and D. R. Adanson. Duwaine, brother of the groom, and Claud, brother of the bride, lit the candles. Marvin Davis of Panhandle, college friend of the groom, took moving pictures in color of the ceremony.

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The newlyweds were assisted in receiving by their parents and bride's attendants. The candle-lit table was laid with a lace cloth centered with a three-tiered cake, topped with wedding bell, a miniature bride and groom and decorated with white daisies and stephanotis. Presiding at the table were Misses Velma Ruth Howell, Jan Edwards, and Bennie Lou Pridmore.

Miss Lola Sue Ramsey presided at the bride's book. Out of town guests were from Lubbock, Panhandle, Whiteface, Hart, Rotan, Edinburg, Fort Worth, Shallowater, Lamesa, Abilene, and Wilson.

Also special guests of the Durhams and the Hutchisons were Sheldon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Russell of Cambridge, Minnesota; his sister, Miss Grace Russell, a student in Wayland College, Plainview; and his grandmother, Mrs. L. N. Russell of Minneapolis, who had come down to witness his graduation and to visit Sheldon and family before their departure for San Francisco. The Durhams and the Hutchisons had invited the special and intimate friends of Rev. and Mrs. Russell to call between the hours of 3:00 and 5:00 p. m. for a brief visit with the Russells before their departure from Texas, and a large number called.

Sheldon and his father, both of whom have marvelous voices, sang a number of deeply devotional songs, and his sister, Miss Grace, who is also an accomplished vocalist, joined in singing one or two of them, to the delight of all present. Mrs. Lee Ramsour also gave a beautiful piano number.

ATTEND GRADUATION

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hyles and family and Mrs. Hyles' mother, Mrs. J. A. Pebsworth, attended graduation exercises at Texas School for the Deaf in Austin Sunday, when their son, Lowell Montgomery received his diploma of graduation. They returned home Monday, and he will farm with his father this year in Midway community. During his attendance upon the Texas School he learned three trades, in each of which he is proficient.

3 were declared exhibition games and do not count.

Last Sunday afternoon on the Tahoka field, Wayside downed Southland 23 to 12. "Punk" White went nine full innings for Wayside, giving up eight hits and striking out 19 batters. Lefty Tremble, the first of three Southland pitchers, got tagged with the loss.

Big James Foster and Little John Foster were the big guns in Wayside's 17 hit attack. James got two home runs.

The same afternoon, at Wilson, the Wilson Juniors defeated Tahoka North Side 21 to 8.

The North, in search for a pitcher, started regular catcher Doug McNeely, who went six innings but was in trouble in every inning. With no one out, Ronny Gurley replaced him in the seventh, but Gurley could not stop Wilson, and the North's newly-acquired shortstop, Pat Stephens, went in. Stephens could get no man out, and center fielder Morgan Howle came in and set the Wilson batters down in order. He pitched the remainder of the game giving up no hits and no runs.

Leonard Breiger proved too much for North Side, as he scattered nine hits and eight runs in game. Thomas Mason was the big gun in Wilson's attack, getting two doubles and a single.

Tahoka allowed 13 hits.

Next Sunday at Jaycee Park in Tahoka, at 2:30, Wayside will meet Tahoka North Side. The two teams have met only in exhibition with Wayside downing the North heavily in three games. The North will send Morgan Howle or Doug McNeely against Punk White or James Foster.

Also at 2:30, at Southland Park, Southland and Wilson will play. Thomas Mason or Leonard Breiger will oppose Left Tremble of Southland.

Local JayCees Renew Efforts To Complete Park Project

Tahoka Jaycees are this week inaugurating a campaign to foster the improvement of the proposed Lynn County Memorial Park on the large two-block site acquired by the organization two years ago.

Many people have expressed an interest in seeing the park site developed, and now all citizens will be given an opportunity to put their wishes into action.

Aid and contributions of individual citizens and civic organizations are solicited in order that the people of Lynn county may have a playground, picnic ground, and site for other forms of recreation.

Park Plan Proposed

Shortly after the Tahoka Jaycees were organized, about three years ago, the proposition was brought before the Jaycees of erecting a living memorial dedicated to those who lost their lives in World Wars I and II. At about the same time the Jaycees received a letter or petition from some 200 school children requesting help on recreation activities.

Therefore, the park plan was devised to serve both purposes.

Plans for a park were discussed and property was secured for a Lynn County Memorial Park.

Shortly thereafter, each civic club selected one member from each respective organization to serve as a Park Board member. This board had blue prints drawn showing proposed projects. Considerable time was spent getting estimates and suggestions as to landscaping and projects.

A member of the Park Board visited each civic club and presented blueprints of the park and asked that each club sponsor a unit of the park. Several projects were selected by various clubs.

Build Softball Field

The Jaycees began work immediately building a softball field. At the time a donations campaign was underway by the VFW for a commendable project—to erect a granite monument on the court hours triangle to honor our War dead; and the Park Board decided it was not feasible to ask individual donation for the park at the same time. Since that date, the Park Board has disbanded.

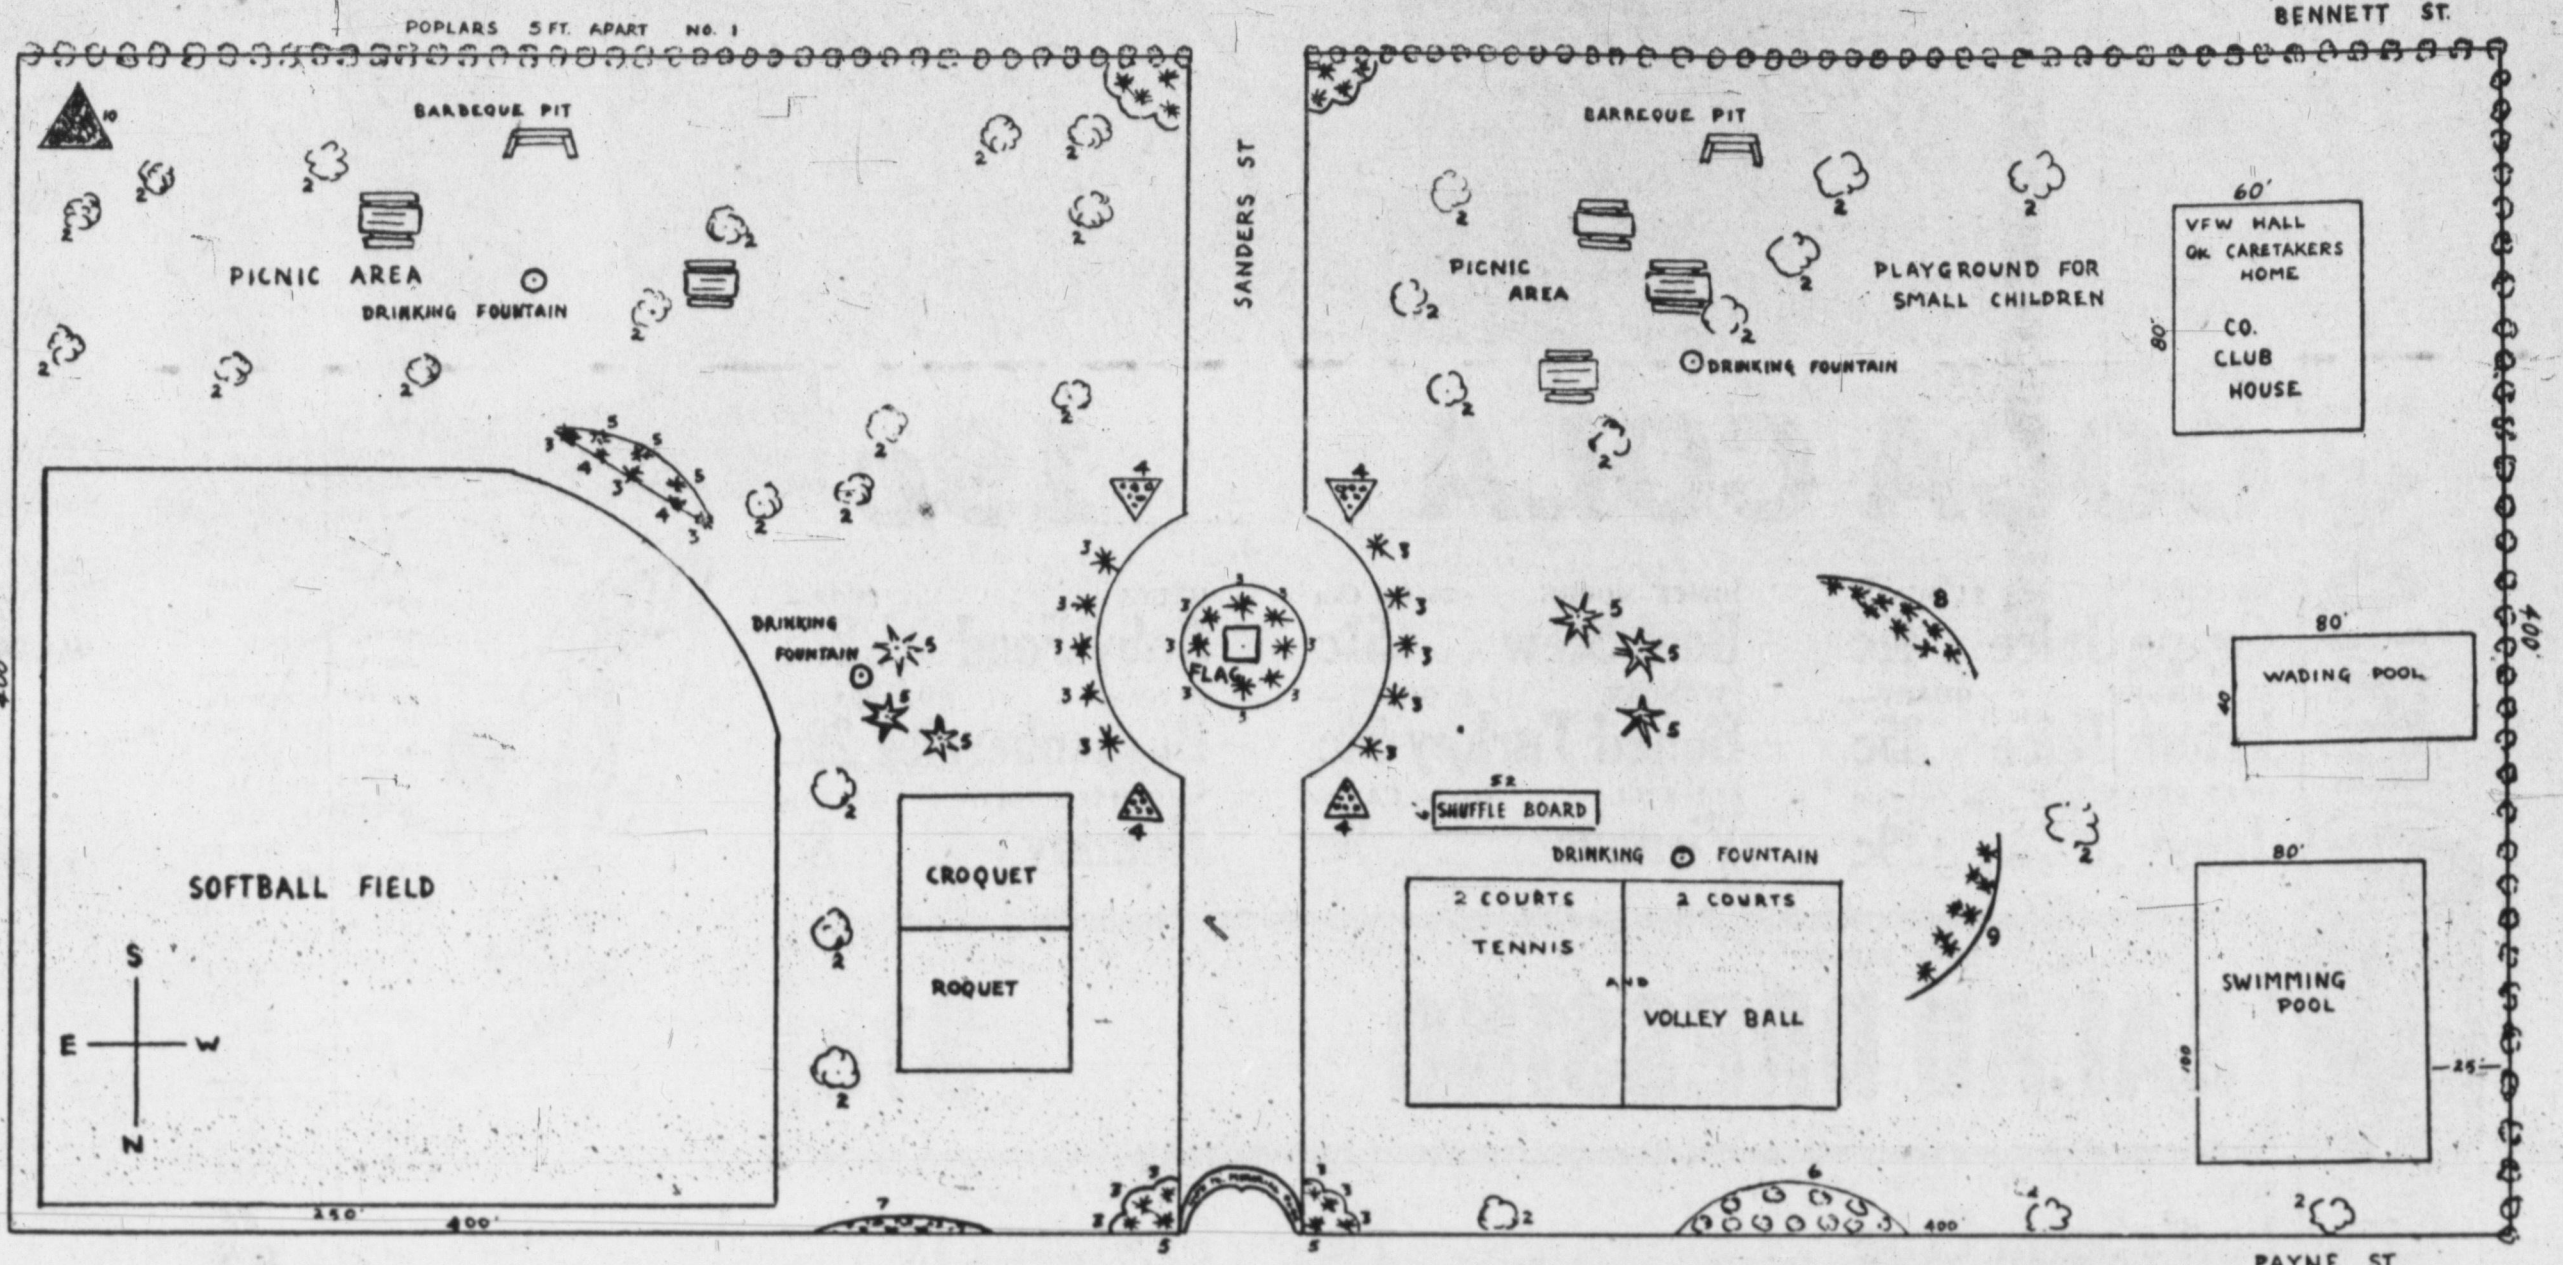

Therefore, to expedite the completion of the park, the Jaycees take this opportunity to solicit help from each Lynn county citizen.

Tahoka Jaycees hold title to two large blocks of property in South Tahoka, blocks 102 and 103, at a cost of approximately $1500. Brush was cleared from the land at a cost of $200 and many man hours of donated labor from its members; a lighted softball field installed at a cost of about $1200, excluding labor; and a concessions stand, a small building 8 by 12 feet bought at a cost of $200. The Jaycees also succeeded in getting a water main laid through the park at no cost to the City.

Have Spent $3,000

Thus, total expenditures by the Jaycees to date on the land and park are well over $3,000.

The Jaycees are asking all citizens of this county to help put over this worth-while project. It will take cooperation and help from a lot of individuals and organizations if the project is to succeed. Committees have been set up, and the men are ready to go to work to put this thing over. Campaign headquarters will be at the Ayer-Way Cleaners on the west side of the square in Tahoka, Box 445A, Phone 253. All mail or inquiries as to the park should be addressed to this box.

Plot Is Staked Off

The park has been surveyed and staked off; also, signs have been erected to show where each project will be located on the ground. Jaycees will be glad to accompany anyone interested to the site.

The drawing on this page shows the tentative overall plans, with various projects and locations designated.

It has been suggested that some individual citizen might like to contribute an entire project, possibly as a living memorial. Or, organizations might like to take a project.

L. D. Whitely of Lubbock, state president of the Jaycees, has already agreed to supervise the landscaping and bear a lot of the cost.

Cost of some of the projects shown on the drawing have been estimated as follows:

Swimming Pool	This is the largest and possibly the most important project which the Jaycees hope to see built some way. A swimming pool will cost at least $25,000.00. The Jaycees are open to suggestions on a swimming pool for this county and for the park.

TIME SAVERS—To get a job done in a hurry the Seabees, in training at Port Hueneme, California, use time-saving mechanical equipment, including this trench-digging machine. Now designated as Mobile Construction Battalions, Seabees once again are at work on advance base and emergency construction overseas, adding new luster to the Navy Seabees' reputation for high-speed construction. Under command of Navy Civil Engineer Corps officers, the MCB's like the standard Seabee battalion of World War II, bring together the skilled men from 60 different construction trades; teaches them how to defend what they build against enemy attack and how to work at top speed under combat conditions. American labor has contributed to the Seabees by furnishing a large reservoir of skilled men in every kind of construction.

Grassland Pastor Visits In Tahoka

Rev. Neely Motes, new pastor of the Methodist Church at Grassland, was a visitor in The News office Monday in company with Dr. Emil Prohl of Tahoka.

The two are old friends, having stayed at the same boarding house in Austin while students in the University of Texas while Brother Motes was preparing for the ministry and Dr. Prohl was preparing for the medical profession.

Rev. Motes, who comes to Grassland from O'Brien, Haskell county, reports that he had a nice attendance at his first service with the Grassland Church Sunday and that he is well pleased with his new pastorate. He and wife have one son and four daughters, one daughter being married and the other children still at home.

The family was the victim of misfortune at O'Brien about a week before Conference, when, on May 22, the parsonage there burned to the ground. The family saved only a few clothes and household furnishings.

Mrs. Skiles Thomas and children returned home Sunday from Galveston, where they spent two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lyons.

Cooper Director Consumers Co-op

E. J. Cooper early last week attended a directors' meeting of the Consumers' Cooperative Association held in Lubbock following a visit with other directors and officials to an oil field situated about half way between Tatum and Roswell, New Mexico, in which the Association owns 38 producing oil wells.

There are eleven directors of the huge organization and Mr. Cooper was elected as one of the eleven at a meeting of the members held in Dallas in March, succeeding the late Claud Wells of Tahoka in this position. This Cooperative Association operates throughout Texas and in portions of Arkansas and New Mexico.

Among the enterprises operated by this Association are the Consumers' Cooperative Oil Mill and Cooperative Compress in Lubbock, a Consumers' Cooperative Refinery plant at Levelland, a million-dollar fertilizer plant in northeast Texas, and others.

Twenty-eight men officially connected with the Cooperatives visited the oil fields Sunday in New Mexico. Among the number were Leonard Cowden of Amarillo, manager both of the Consumers' Cooperative Association and of the Consumers' Cooperative Refinery Association; Roy Davis, manager of the Cooperative oil mill in Lubbock; Bill Stokes, president of the Cooperative Association Bank in Houston; Tom Brown, manager of the Cooperative Compress in Lubbock.

Mr. Cooper says that the 28 visitors were served a sumptuous lunch at the home of a wealthy ranchman out in New Mexico Sunday but returned to Lubbock that night, where an all-day directors' meeting was held Monday.

The next annual meeting of the Cooperative will be held in March next year, in Lubbock.

LAFAYETTE HEARD CONCERTS IN 1825 BY MARINE BAND

The United States Marine Band in the 153 years since its establishment has appeared at more official functions and probably has been heard by more people than any other musical organization in the world. Formed during the administration of President John Adams in 1798, it came to Washington with the vanguard of U. S. Marines in 1800 and has been at the call of every Chief Executive since that time.

Inaugural parades, receptions to chiefs of state and at national patriotic demonstrations through a century and a half have been featured by the inspiring music of this famous band. Its latest gala appearance was on March 28 when it greeted President Auriol of France, the first French President to visit the United States. Another great Frenchman and a beloved patriot in America was familiar with the Marine Band which played for him on four different occasions. Proudly the band refers to its concerts for General Lafayette when he visited this country in 1824-25. Here is the record:

1824—The Marine Band played for General Lafayette at the President's House. James Monroe was President.

1825—The Marine Band accompanied General Lafayette on visits to Mt. Vernon and Yorktown.

1825—The Marine Band played on the occasion of General Lafayette's visit to Archibald Henderson, Commandant of the Marine Corps in the same quarters presently occupied by the Commandant, General Clifton B. Cates.

1825—On 6 September, the birthday of General Lafayette, the Marine Band played at the President's House in his honor. John Quincy Adams was President.

Vacation Code Given Parents

AUSTIN—A vacation formula to carry on into the fall some of the joys from summer play was offered Texas parents this week.

The designer was Mrs. R. O. Pearson of Abilene, director of state women's activities for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

In a bulletin to NFIP Chapters, Mrs. Pearson admonished parents to convert between-school relaxation into "a vehicle for future strength" by supervising youngsters' activities during the hot weather.

She cautioned that childish enthusiasm often prompts excessive play and extreme fatigue, thereby inviting polio to strike.

"Many families find themselves compromised after school lets out for the summer," said Mrs. Pearson. "They have become accustomed to depending on the schools as the major factor in supervision.

"By now accepting their full responsibility and by realizing their

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reese are visiting relatives in Coryell county this week.

Joe Don Minor arrived home last weekend from Austin, where he has been attending the University of Texas.

Obligations extend beyond feeding, clothing and housing their children, parents may help extend the gaiety of summer into the fall. Above all they will have helped prevent the vacation period from proving detrimental.

"This is simple logic because polio is more prevalent during the summer months. The record Texas incidence during the last three summers should stimulate interest in these safeguards."

Miss Jeannine Smith And Geno Jones Are Married In Sunday Morning Ceremony

Miss Jeannine Smith, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. W. E. (Happy) Smith, and Ervin Geno Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin L. Jones of O'Donnell, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents in North Tahoka at 9:00 a. m. Sunday. Rev. E. H. Crandall, former O'Donnell pastor and now associate pastor at Lubbock First Methodist Church, read the double ring ceremony, performed before a fern covered altar, with a background of baskets of white gladioli and candelabra.

Mrs. Dick Mitchell played the wedding music, Bill Schooler presented a solo, "O Promise Me," and Mrs. Fred B. Hegi gave a musical reading.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ball-length dress of white lace with a strapless fitted bodice topped by a long sleeved bolero jacket. She wore white accessories and a cloche of matching lace trimmed with lily of the valley, and carried a bouquet of fleur-de-amour and lily of the valley.

Miss Patsy Ann Smith, sister of the bride, was her attendant. She wore a ballerina length dress of white embroidered organza over pink with pink accessories, and her bouquet was of pink rosebuds. Carol Sue Smith lighted the candles.

For something old, the bride carried a white Bible loaned by Mrs. W. T. Clinton, and Jeannine was the eighteenth bride who had carried the Book; for something borrowed, a hand carved ivory brooch belonging to an aunt; for something blue, a garter furnished by another aunt; and for good luck she carried a penny in her shoe.

Zane Harris of O'Donnell served as best man.

At the reception which followed, the table was laid with embroidered cutwork cloth and centered with a heart-shaped wedding cake decorated with confection flowers. Pink rosebuds and tapers decorated the table, also.

In the houseparty were Misses Betty Thomas, Savannah Tunnell, Mary Ann Jones, and Goldie Ruth Galloway, and Meses. Carl Grifing Jr., W. A. (Dub) Fulford, and Jim Burlison.

Guests were present from Seminole, O'Donnell, Sterling City, and Colorado City.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Tahoka after June 10. For the wedding trip, the bride wore a navy blue natural linen suit with navy accessories and a corsage.

The bride was reared in Tahoka, is a graduate of Tahoka High and of Texas Tech, where she was a member of San Souci social club, Phi Upsilon Omicron and Forum. She teaches home economics in Tahoka High School.

The groom was reared at O'Donnell, and is a graduate of the high school there and also of Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science. He is director at Stanley Funeral Home here.

MRS. GENO JONES

Dr. W. H. Stapp showed a film prepared by the Cancer Society discussing cancer of the breast at a recent meeting of the Lynn County H. D. Council.

The film instructed women on how to examine their breasts and to make such examination once each month. The main thought to be kept in mind is that there is seldom any pain as an early symptom of cancer.

Following showing of the film, a business session was presided over by Miss Ina Ledbetter. Ten women from five clubs and several visitors were present.

New Sub Station Is In Operation

Electrical current was turned through the new Tahoka sub-station by Southwestern Public Service Company workmen early this week.

The new sub-station is exactly double the capacity of the old station, having 2,000 KVA capacity to the old station's 1,000 KVA capacity, according to W. G. Clarke, local manager. The new station is located adjacent to the old in North Tahoka near the old light plant. The old station will be moved to the Wasson oil fields. Installation of the new sub-station here completes another step in the company's extensive rebuilding program. Users of electrical energy here should now receive better electrical service.

About sixteen men have been employed here the last two weeks installing the sub-station and building lines for the change-over.

Actually, the change-over caused no interruption in service. A huge mobile portable sub-station was brought to Tahoka for the change-over. This modern mobile unit, weighing 54,000 pounds and having a capacity of 3,000 KVA, was recently bought by the company at tremendous cost. It is something new in the way of electrical inventions, and has attracted quite a bit of attention from those who know electricity and electrical devices.

Brashear Class In Social Meeting

The Bessie Brashear Class of the Methodist Sunday School met at the home of Mrs. John Donaldson Tuesday afternoon in their monthly social and business meeting with 20 members and one guest present.

The meeting opened with the singing of the class song, "Help Somebody Today." Mrs. Fenton gave the devotional and prayer, followed by singing of "What A Friend We Have in Jesus."

New committees were appointed for the next three months.

The entertainment and refreshments committee then took over. Mrs. Ratliff gave a poem entitled "Ma's Auto Ride." Mrs. C. A. Thomas then gave an interesting talk on her recent trip to Cuba.

Delicious refreshments of Angel food cake and ice cream were served to the following: Mmes. Davis, Fenton, Garner, Warren, Godfrey, Millman, Ray, Lowery, Sharp, Huffaker, Thomas, Ratliff, Ramsey, Flemings, Hoskins, Poer, Tunnell, Gable, and Donaldson, the hostess.—Reporter.

Miss Linda Scott of Sulphur, Okla., is here visiting her aunt, Miss Ethel Calahan, and Miss Glenda Barnett of Lubbock is here visiting her aunt, Mrs. Jean Riley. The two women live in the former J. M. Scott home near the high school building, and their two visitors are spending several weeks with them.

From there he was rushed to a Wichita Falls hospital for treatment. Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Elliott Jr. arrived there about two and a half hours before he died.

ters, none of whom resides in this county with the exception of Mrs. Lee; 27 grandchildren and 34 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Adams was a native of Kentucky, having been born in that state on February 4, 1862, less than a year after the Civil War broke out. She and her husband and their children came to Texas many years ago. Her husband died not many years after their removal to Texas, but Mrs. Adams lived for many years in Comanche county and then removed to Abilene, where she continued to reside until about a year ago, when she came out to Tahoka to live with her daughter, Mrs. Lee, and family.

She had been almost a life-long member of the Baptist Church and attended its services faithfully until incapacitated by "old age."

Friends here sympathize with Mrs. Lee and the family in their bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansell Faires and his father, W. J. (Dad) Faires, were here last week end en route to Lubbock, where they are now operating Camp Joy. Mansell recently sold his fishing camp on Possum Kingdom.

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking my friends for the flowers and cards I received and all my friends that called and were not allowed to see me. But it helped to know you called. The nurses were so sweet and nice to me. If you have to be sick, that is a good place. I will be in bed for two or three weeks longer. Come to see me.—Mrs. G. W. Williams.

Bulman Killed ...

gust 7, 1948. He is survived by his wife and one little son, Morgan Henry, two years of age, who live in Chicago in a home bought for them by Lt. Bulman after their marriage. He and his wife visited his relatives in New Mexico and in Lynn county soon after his marriage. It is not known as yet when his body will be shipped back to the homeland, but it is presumed that it will be buried in Chicago.

Lt. Bulman had been in the service of his country since December 18, 1940, and had re-enlisted twice since that time. He re-enlisted the last time in 1950, with the intention of making a career of military service.

Born August 31, 1918, at Carlsbad, N. M., Morgan was brought by his parents to Lynn county when he was a small child and lived in the West Point and Petty communities until he enlisted in the Army in 1940.

He served in the Field Artillery from Dec. 18, 1940, till June 30, 1943. He was stationed at Fort Sill from his enlistment until Oct. 20, 1943. Thence he was sent to California for four months, served in England five months, and thereafter in France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Luxembourg, Czechoslovakia, and Austria. He did combat duty at the Normandy landing, at Falaise Gap and Brest, in central France, Ardennes, and in the break-through across Germany into Austria.

Citations and awards won included the Bronze Star, Oak Leaf Cluster, ETO Ribbon, 15 campaign stars ribbon, pre-Pearl Harbor and Victory Medals.

He was commissioned Second Lieutenant on the battlefield on Feb. 3, 1945. After returning home he had been teaching gun artillery in Culbertson Academy in Indiana for about six months when, in Nov., 1950, he was called back into overseas service. For possibly five months or a little more he had been with the U. S. Forces in Korea.

At the time of his death he was First Lieutenant, and would have been elevated to the rank of Captain in a short time.

"ANNA, WE LOVE YOU"—Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, Assistant Secretary of Defense, shares with patients at Bethesda Medical Center the huge chest of candy she received from officers and crew members aboard the USS Eldorado, in action in Korean waters. The gift to Mrs. Rosenberg was an expression of appreciation of the Reservists for her "efforts on behalf of involuntarily recalled reservists regarding their release and limitation of active service."
Mr. John C. Norris (3rd from left), Washington Post military correspondent, represented the Post which recently received a letter from the USS Eldorado signed by James E. Thomas, S. E. Hadden and O. County And State Highway Funds Enriched $82,500.00 In Month Of April AUSTIN — County and State highway funds were enriched by more than $82,500.00 during the month of April, according to the monthly activities report just released by Kent Odom, Chief of the Department of Public Safety's License and Weight Division.

The report shows 2,147 truck owners paid fines during the month for overloading, operating under-registered vehicles, using unsafe and faulty equipment on the highways and for miscellaneous offenses. There were 1,973 arrests during the month of March, 1951.

Since September, 1950, the beginning of this fiscal year, 16,086 arrests have been made by the Public Safety Department's 33 license and weight inspectors and more than $668,000.00 in fines and additional registration fees have been collected. Over $228,000.00 of this amount was collected from truck operators for carrying more weight than the truck had been licensed to haul.

D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, recently told the South Texas County Judges and Commissioners in convention at Laredo, that the State and Counties of Texas were losing approximately Six Million Dollars a year because truck operators would not pay the registration fees on their equipment for the full carrying capacity up to the then 48,000-pound gross weight limit.

The legislature recently increased the gross weight trucks can haul upon Texas highways to 58,420 pounds, which could produce approximately $90.00 more per vehicle in license fees each year, if truck operators could be compelled to register for the full amount of the weight they carry.

As a means of raising badly needed State and County revenue, the County Judges and Commissioners unanimously adopted a resolution asking the Legislature to look into this practice of truckers evading the payment of full registration fees.

Odds AND Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

Last week I told you about taking D. C. Davis and Ben Moore out to the head of the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River near Grassland. This week I am going to start out by telling you about Ben Moore taking me out to the head of the Colorado River in Dawson county.

How many of you knew that the Colorado River has its head in a spring of perpetually flowing water situated almost exactly five miles south of O'Donnell. The spring of water like those at the head of the Brazos, is situated in a deep narrow gorge, and the water comes gurgling out from under a ledge of rocks. It is almost inaccessible unless one will enter into the stream some thirty yards or more below the spring and wade upstream to it. This we would scarcely dare to do even with rubber boots on, for at the first mention of one's purpose to go down to the spring, or near it, one will hear the warning: Look out for rattlesnakes! And the next fellow you meet will warn you: Look out for rattlesnakes! Many, it seems had been killed in that vicinity, and two had been killed near the spring, we were told, just a few days before our visit. So, we walked through the bunch grass and the clumps of bushes with great fear and trepidation, watching every hesitant step that we took, but luckily we found no snakes.

industrial projects that we wanted to tell you about.

We said awhile ago that the spring up there at the head of the Colorado is almost inaccessible. That is true not so much by reason of the lay of the adjacent land but mostly because of the fact that it is in the midst of one of the greatest if not the very greatest of rock quarries in Texas. A great mound of ground-up rock flanks the south bank of the stream and veritable mountains of the same material are piled up high not far away to the north of the stream.

Many trucks are busy loading up and hauling this fine road-building material away, and it has been used in the construction of hundreds of miles of highway throughout the plains area. More of this later but first a word about the Company that is mining this rock, processing it, and marketing it, and about the local manager in charge.

The work is being done by The Lone Star Materials, Inc., and the local manager is a Mr. Moore, whose initials I failed to get, but he certainly is a nice and accommodating gentleman. The quarry, which is situated four miles east of Hindman Switch and five miles south of O'Donnell as the crow flies, comprises possibly 60 or 80 acres of land (our guess) and ordinarily visitors are not allowed, but Mr. Moore had met Ben Moore before and he very readily gave us the freedom of the grounds. In fact, he led the way to the spring and showed us about quite a bit and when he had to leave he directed his son, a lad possibly 15 years of age, to conduct us around until we got ready to leave. He has an office by the roadside but inside the inclosure, and it was when we appeared at his office at the beginning to get permission to visit the spring that the young woman employed in the office began to warn us to look out for rattlesnakes.

In answer to questions, Mr. Moore revealed to us that he was born and reared in West Texas. He first attended McMurry College in Abilene and later graduated from the Texas Tech with an engineering degree. He has been engaged in engineering work ever since.

Just to show us the enormity of the business being done by his Company, Mr. Moore said that it mines and ships out an average of about 700 cubic yards, which is the equivalent of about 700 tons, of material daily. Part of it is hauled by truck to Hindman Switch, where it is loaded into railway cars and shipped to various points all over the country, and some of it is hauled by truck direct to places where it is to be used in road-building. Trucks, he said have hauled the material to points as far away as Odessa, Floydada, Friona, and many other places near by. Ben Moore told this columnist that this material was used in building the highway between O'Donnell and Tahoka. It is claimed that there is no better road-building material anywhere.

I wonder how many Lynn county people outside of O'Donnell knew that there was such a huge industry as this just five miles south of O'Donnell. To tell you the truth, I found that there are people living in O'Donnell who knew nothing about it.

If any of you Lynn county people want to make a closer inspection of this enterprise, the best way for you to go is to follow the highway down to Hindman Switch, go thence four miles east, and if Mr. Moore permits you to enter the grounds and you dare to go near the spring, my warning is to Look out for rattlesnakes.

Ben Moore took a picture of the spring and also a picture of a big native hackberry tree down in the pasture, and both of us, having had a thrill and a most pleasant visit, we struck out for Gail via Lamesa. But we didn't even hesitate in Lamesa. Turning east there and passing on through a fine farming area, we soon found ourselves going down the slopes of the cap-rock, which are much gentler in that area than they are here just west of Post. The scenery is not grand but it is beautiful, a varied landscape of pleasant pastoral scenes that gives one a feeling of peace and contentment. Presently old Gail Mountain comes into view, and Gail Mountain just will not be ignored.

Twenty-eight years ago, I was serving as district attorney of the old 32nd. judicial district, and District Judge W. P. Leslie and I came up to Gail twice each year to hold court. The business of the court was usually disposed of in short order but the Judge had to stay over till Tuesday at most of the terms to wind up the business. More than once, when we had some leisure time, we climbed to the top of Gail Mountain just to get the long view. Far to the east we would fancy that we could almost see the buildings on "Quality Hill," in Snyder some 35 miles away. On every trip to Gail we would come up and go back by another notable mountain, Muchakoooga, (pronounced Moosh-a-way), a mountain with a legendary Indian history.

Ben and I did not drive down to Muchakoooga, some five or six miles down southeast of Gail, but we straggled right on the public square in front of Dave Dorward's drug store. That name, by the way, is pronounced Dorwood. Dave Dorward was there, we are sure, when Sam Sanford and the late Jim Weatherford, and the late Horace Hale, and the late D. Nevels and a number of O'Donnell people were citizens of that town. Most of the old timers have died or moved away, or done both, since I used to go there to court, but I met another familiar figure while there the other day.

When Judge Leslie and I used to go there to court, a young woman, Miss Maggie Williams by name, was district and county clerk, and in her spare time she worked for an abstract company. Well, the other day when we drove up onto the public square, got out, and were meeting a few of the old-timers who had not entirely forgotten us, I noticed presently a familiar figure standing out on the sidewalk, and upon a second look I discovered that she was Miss Maggie Williams. Several of us were standing there in a group, and quickly sensing the situation, Ben Moore made a dash for the car, brought out his camera, and shouted his orders, "Pull in a little closer together there!" and in a jiffy he had taken a picture of the group. My face did not break the camera and I hope that it did not entirely spoil the picture.

Miss Maggie is no longer district clerk there but she does own and operate a Borden County Abstract business, though she lives in Snyder, coming up to Gail practically every day except Sundays to do her abstract work. Miss Maggie was a great favorite of the entire courthouse crew from the district judge down to the constable when we used to hold court there. . . . There is another unusual work of nature five miles out east of Gail on Bull Creek which the eagle eye of Ben Moore had discovered years ago, an immense pecan tree, about which he had also told me years ago, but if I had ever consciously seen the tree it had not attracted my attention. Down in the lower level of Bull Creek valley and partly hidden by mesquites and other varieties of small trees it did not look so large to a traveler along the highway a hundred yards distant.

But as one approaches it, its stature grows, and Ben and I took a rough measurement of the trunk and decided that at its smallest portion the trunk was at least sixteen feet in circumference. It had a spread of about 75 feet and we estimated its height at fully 60 feet. It is not a prolific bearer, Ben says, but we noticed a number of tiny pecans developing on its lower branches. Each of us took a snap-shot of it but I have not yet had my film developed. Ben says that he has made some investigation and that it is undoubtedly "the furthest west" native pecan tree in Texas.

Nobody knows how old that pecan tree is. One of the early cattlemen in that area is said to have discovered the tree in the 1870's, and Ben quotes the late Jim Weatherford as saying that the tree in 1896, when he first saw it, was apparently as large then as it was when Jim was telling about it many years later.

Bull Bull Creek is one of the tributaries of the Colorado River. It has its beginning up at the edge of the caprock not far east from Tredway and hence not but a few miles from the southeast corner of Lynn county. It also is fed by springs, which I have never visited, but I have fished in the stream out east or slightly northeast of Gail and caught a real fish in its waters. That was some thirty years ago, but I am sure they still catch fish down there. It might be considered another prong of the Colorado.

There was a time when Gail was an important county seat town—a town where the cattlemen and the cowboys and the lawyers assembled on court days and other special occasions, ostensibly to attend court but largely to drink, to dance with the pretty frontier girls, and sometimes to settle their difficulties in strictly western style. In fact, for 10 or 15 years, Gail was a town of the Old West, a town of boots and spurs, of saddles and cow ponies, of saloons and six-shooters. But it never attained the wild character of such places as Old Tascosa with its Boot Hill, or of Lawless Langtry, where Roy Bean was the Law West of the Pecos, nor of numbers of other Wild West towns. Most of the time at least it was a peaceable and law-abiding community. But on court days great crowds came to town from far and near. When mesquite trees were still growing luxuriously on the sites of Tahoka, Post, Lamesa, Brownfield, Seminole, Seagraves, and even Lubbock, spurs were rattling, glasses were clinking, and sometimes minor brawls were being pulled off on the streets and in the saloons of Gail by the cowboys and other visitors who had come to town. Away back in the old days there was a big wooden hotel on the south side of the public square which was usually crowded with guests on these big court days. But Gail, we are told, never had a murder trial and has had but few crimes of any kind.

The Wild West era had passed, however, when I first saw Gail. Other and newer towns had sprung up, the character of the population was rapidly changing, and the Old West was in fact silently passing away. That big old rambling hotel on the south side of the public square was still standing, but it was then a mere rambling shack gone to rack and was used for nothing.

The courthouse too had grown old and rickety and all the glamor and "glory" of Gail was gone. But in recent years the old town has had a face-lifting. Some new homes have been built but the most outstanding improvement noted is the spic-and-span new courthouse that has replaced the old worn-out shack. New filling stations now decorate some of the street corners, and though still small Gail now looks like a new town.

There is one other peculiarity that distinguishes the county and the town. Both were named for the same man, the town bearing the given name and the county the surname of an early Texas patriot, Gail Borden, who came to Texas and settled on Galveston island in 1833, best known as the inventor of condensed milk. He engaged in other lines of business, however, during his lifetime in Texas. In 1872 he established a meat-canning business at or near Columbus on the lower Colorado River. He died in 1874. His condensed milk is known today throughout the civilized world. It might be of interest to some of my readers to know that within a week after the First Baptist Church was organized in the little gulfport town of Galveston in February, 1840, he was the first person to be baptized into its membership, February 5, 1840. After his baptism that of his wife and her sister immediately followed. Baptist historians assert that he was the first person ever to be baptized in the Gulf of Mexico west of the Mississippi River. His wife was a second cousin of Eli Mercer, famous president of Mercer University at Macon, Georgia. This is the name of this historic character perpetuated in the name of this historic West Texas county and its unique and colorful little capital situated at the base of beautiful Gail Mountain. You should run down to Gail some time, fellow. Tom Hale might be persuaded

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides — at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflow Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim — you'll find more room — more comfort — more luxury — a smoother ride — more conveniences — more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.

Bill Presented To Curb Sleeping Pill Traffic To Teenagers

AUSTIN—Anticipated action in the House of Representatives this week to pass a bill placing strict controls on possession and distribution of barbiturates in Texas climaxes four months of concentrated effort by the state's druggists to secure policing of a situation which they want cleaned up, Lester Short, president of Texas Pharmaceutical Association and prominent Midland druggist, stated today.

Short's statement follows recent news from Denver reporting the sale of sleeping pills and "thrill jags" concoctions to teenagers. The report cited a federal investigation in Colorado and New Mexico which is being extended into parts of Texas.

The measure, sponsored by Texas Pharmaceutical Association, is the Bracewell bill, already passed by the Senate and on the calendar for final House action, to prevent indiscriminate sale of "goof balls," "red birds," "yellow jackets," or "blue heavens," as the jag-producing drugs are variously called.

The Bracewell bill provides for first time stringent penalties for the illegal possession of barbiturates and other habit-forming drugs, with prison terms for second offenders. It provides for legal possession of the drugs by licensed pharmacists, legal use of them by persons to whom a physician has written a prescription, and legal possession for his own use of drugs by a person having such a prescription.

"Druggists throughout the state are urging the Legislature to give final approval before its pending adjournment," Short said.

"They realize there is a fringe situation in the drug store industry, like every other. The druggists of Texas want the situation remedied. Our children and our adults alike deserve protection against the peddling of habit-forming drugs by persons who cannot now be restrained or adequately punished."

Texas Still Prefers State Zoning For Waterfowl Hunting

AUSTIN—The Federal Fish & Wildlife Service is being advised that Texas still prefers zoning the state for the waterfowl hunting season.

The Executive Secretary is forwarding to Washington the resolution, adopted at the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission's meeting in McAllen, re-asserting the request made by the Commission last year.

The proposal merely requests that the Federal Fish & Wildlife Service act on the suggestion. The details of the plan as to the boundary within the state and the separate hunting dates would be arranged after the principle of zoning has been determined.

The Commission's action is in line with a recommendation by the newly organized Outdoor Writers of Texas. That group recently suggested that Texas is so large that sportsmen can obtain a fair opportunity to hunt waterfowl only through a zoning plan.

ALUMINUM IN DEFENSE—A new PT-810, aluminum-hulled boat, on a high-speed run. Aluminum plays a vital part in the defense effort. This boat was built by the Iron Works in Bath, Maine, of half-welded and half-riveted hull construction. The run shown here took place in Chesapeake Bay with the crew at General Quarters stations. This shows just one of the many uses of aluminum by the Navy. The metal is equally important in equipment used by the Air Force and the Army and is found in varying quantities in thousands of items from planes to foil for packaging rations.

Some 250,000 tractors with allied equipment were in service on Texas farms at the end of 1950. This power was used to plow 85 percent of the land and 88 percent of the small grains were harvested with power equipment.

Entomologists of the Texas A. & M. College Agricultural Extension Service estimate conservatively that systematic insect control work carried on last year by Texas farmers and ranchmen saved them 10 million dollars.

The Commission accepted the retirement request of H. E. Faubion as Assistant Executive Secretary, and promoted Chief Clerk W. J. Cutbirth, Jr., to succeed Mr. Faubion. Cutbirth, a Navy veteran of World War II, has been in the department for 20 years.
