Mary Belle Walters Will Marry Soon

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Belle Walters to William Irving Dorman, Airman 1C, of Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Walters of Tahoka.

MRS. APPLEWHITE IS HOME FROM EAST

Mrs. J. K. (Beulah) Applewhite returned home Saturday from a three-weeks trip to the Eastern seaboard. She met her brother, J. S. Skaggs and wife of Oklahoma City, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Casey of Wolforth in Washington, D. C., on May 16, and the party made the rest of the trip together. All were reared in the same community, and therefore they also enjoyed the visiting with one-another.

Mrs. Applewhite spent four days in Washington, called on Congressman George Mahon, and visited both the House and the Senate while these bodies were in session. She said she enjoyed the visit in Washington more than any other city.

The party spent three days in New York City, and Mrs. Applewhite visited Winston Redwine of Tahoka, who is in that city doing graduate work in piano. Winston will return to Tahoka in time to open his fall piano instruction.

They also visited the historic cities of Richmond and Williamsburg, and on return trip they visited a nephew in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Skaggs brought Mrs. Applewhite home from Oklahoma City on Saturday.

Berries Are Year Around Delicacy

COLLEGE STATION. —Strawberry, short-cake and strawberry ice cream topping is a year round delicacy for families who freeze berries in season. When carefully selected and properly frozen strawberries retain their natural flavor and color.

Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, recommends red ripe berries for freezing. These will hold their color better than those that are almost ripe. Use either dry sugar or sugar syrup otherwise an off-flavor and off-color develops very quickly after the berries thaw. To prepare strawberries for freezing wash, drain and cap. Leave them whole for serving with cream and cut in half for toppings.

If the dry sugar method is used, weigh the berries and allow one part of sugar to three or four parts of berries. Mix the berries until each is well coated with sugar. Let the berries stand until all the sugar is dissolved. Then pack in containers.

When sugar syrup is used, dissolve three cups of sugar in four cups of water. Fill the containers with berries and cover with cold syrup. Crushed berries may be frozen for use in ice cream, filling for short cake and toppings.

Miss Reasonover says place the containers in the food freezer at 0 F. or below and put no more food in the freezer than will freeze in 24 hours. She suggests contacting the local county home demonstration agent for further information on freezing foods. Ask for B-175, "Frozen Foods, How to Freeze-How to Cook."

Miss Jo Ann Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Henderson, recently returned home Tulia, where she taught art in the high school this past year.

For a BETTER COTTON CROP

Progressive registered and certified cotton planting seed breeders are changing to the slurry method of Cerean treating all the seed they sell to farmers.

The slurry is the newest method of treating and requires a different machine from the dust method. It is the result of years of technical development and testing.

The machine referred to as the slurry treater synchronizes the flow of the seed and the disinfectant so that every bushel of seed receives the same accurate dosage of chemical.

The slurry method combines most of the long-sought features for a new material, a better method and a more foolproof machine for treating seed. It is rapid, dust-free, accurate and thorough.

Miss Billie Drager Married Sunday

Miss Billie Lucille Drager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Drager of 1121 South Second St., and W. B. (Bill) Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Riley of Borger, were united in marriage before a group of friends and relatives Sunday, June 1, at 4:30 p. m., in a lawn ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. Lee Ramsour. The vows were taken before an altar arrangement of pink and green with huge baskets of pink and blue larkspur on either side. Soft recorded music was played during and after the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white sleeveless street length dress of rayon marquisette over nylon taffeta. It had a tight bodice with full skirt and stand up collar edged with flowers and rhinestones. The flowers and rhinestones were also arranged to make large pockets on the skirt. Long white mitts, a tiny white hat of flowers and rhinestones with a shoulder length veil completed her wedding dress. She carried a white Bible topped with pink carnations.

Mrs. Betty Hill, cousin of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a white dress and hat and carried pink roses.

The bride's brother, Jimmy Drager, was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony in the dining room. A lace cloth covered the table, centered with a large three-tiered wedding cake, baked by the bride's mother, and arranged on a silver service background. After the bride and groom cut the traditional first slices, the bride's mother served cake to the guests. Mrs. Earl Wartsbaugh, cousin of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

Mr. Riley is in the Army Air Force, stationed at Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock. The couple will make their home in Lubbock.

New Corn Hybrid Is Announced

COLLEGE STATION. —Seed of Texas 15W, a new white corn hybrid developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will be available for planting by Texas farmers in 1953.

Under comparative tests in experimental plots over the State the past two years, Texas 15W has produced higher yields than any white hybrid now sold.

The new hybrid was developed by Dr. John S. Rogers and his co-workers in the corn breeding program, according to Station Director R. D. Lewis. Rogers also developed Texas 11W, heretofore the most popular white hybrid for Texas growing conditions, and Texas 26, 28 and 30, high-yielding yellow hybrids.

Since Texas 15W does not have as good shuck coverage as Texas 11W, it is better adapted to the Blackland Prairie than it is to the more humid area of East Texas and the Gulf Coast. However, it is not objectionable to either of these areas and has produced yields as high or higher than 11W in both locations. Texas 15W is not resistant to ear worms and ear rots as Texas 11W but the stalks will stand up slightly better in the field.

Most white corn in Texas is produced in the Blackland Prairie and Texas 15W should replace 11W in this area as the seed becomes available to farmers, Lewis said.

Robert Lambert, stricken with a heart ailment nearly two weeks ago, was able to leave Tahoka Hospital Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. W. D. Smith returned home Tuesday of last week from Winters, where she had been visiting. She arrived home on the late afternoon bus and a few minutes after her arrival home a great grandchild was born to her son-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCord, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Huff of Texas City are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Louie Weathers and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Ruthford left Thursday of last week to spend some time at their cabin near Eagle Nest, in the mountains of northern New Mexico.

Weldon Brice, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brice, returned to Sul Ross State College, Alpine, Monday, where he is a Senior student. He expects to graduate in August.

Fryers Cheap Food Source

COLLEGE STATION. —Right now the supplies of broilers and fryers are such as to make this source of valuable meat a top buy for the homemaker. Jimmie Nell Harris, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the family shopper can save money on the food budget by taking advantage of the situation, and at the same time will be giving the producers a helping hand.

Eat them fresh and store a supply in the home freezer or locker box for later use advises the specialist. Poultry meat is an excellent source of protein which is needed in the diet to build muscles. In addition, poultry meat also supplies important vitamins and minerals and is one of the best sources of the pellegra preventing factor. Miss Harris adds that proteins are made up of the amino acids which are commonly referred to as body building stones because they are so necessary for growth and maintenance of life. Poultry meat contains all of the essential amino acids and thus is listed as a "complete" protein.

The rules of modern poultry cookery are few and easy to follow. Miss Harris says cook at moderate heat so the meat will be juicy, tender and evenly done to the bone and she points out the young tender birds are mighty tasty when broiled. Serve the broiled chicken hot off the grid, with the pan drippings or melted fat poured over it. Garnish with toast points and a sprig of green mint or parsley.

Poultry used for freezing should be of high quality and prepared ready to cook before freezing. The needs of the family should determine the form in which the product is packaged and size of the package. Broilers

When you pick a Tractor... be sure you can always get parts

Any tractor is a big investment. You have every right to expect years of profitable performance from such an investment. In this connection one of the first things to think about is—"Will I always be able to get parts?"

The Ford Motor Company manufactures the Ford Tractor. What greater assurance could you have of being able to get parts—anytime, anywhere.

Not only is this important to you as long as you have the tractor, but it is also something the buyer thinks about seriously when you go to sell or trade in your used Ford Tractor. This is only one of the many reasons why a used Ford Tractor commands a high resale price.

CARD OF THANKS

When we think of love, friendship, honor, and devotion combined with that deep-rooted sympathy which comes from understanding hearts, our thoughts turn to the people in and all around Tahoka.

We can't find the words to express our thanks for the beautiful flowers, the words of sympathy spoken, and the services rendered in so many different ways while there. We know now that God sent us there. While the way seemed so dark—so awfully dark—though we have experienced the heartaches and miseries that come of the darkest thore: of life, let us remember that God makes no mistakes and that He does everything for the best. We pray for God to Bless each and every one of you. —Jean Driver, 3725 Ada Ave., Fort Worth, and Buster Driver and family, Ruidoso, New Mexico.

LEFTY SQUIRES VISITS RELATIVES IN TAHOKA

G. D. (Lefty) Squires of Angleton expected to leave this mid-week for home after having visited here nearly two weeks with his mother, Mrs. J. A. South, and sister, Miss Mary Squires.

Mr. Squires last week accompanied his mother on a two day visit with her brother, M. W. Smith, at Durant, Oklahoma and last week end he and Mary visited their sister, Mrs. Temple Brasher in Spur.

While here, Lefty enjoyed reminiscing with old-time Tahoka baseball players and fans of 20 or more years ago, when this town boasted of one of the best amateur teams in the country.

While Lefty was playing here, Tahoka played two or three very close games with the Fort Worth Cats, now the Panthers.

Lefty's visit also recalled the fact that local citizens used to bet with visitors to the town on Squire's ability to throw a baseball 100 yards or more. On one occasion, he threw a baseball 123 yards and two feet, near an all-time world record. On another occasion, he threw a ball over the courthouse.

Dr. Celeste Schaal and daughter, Pat, left Wednesday for Dallas, where they are attending the State Chiropractic Convention in session at the Baker Hotel Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

More Market News Available

COLLEGE STATION. —Market news covering the North Texas onion crop is now available and beginning on June 3 a similar service will be started covering the East Texas tomato crop.

Both reports will be provided by the Dallas office of the U. S. D. A.'s Production and Marketing Administration, fruit and vegetable section. Eugene Paulson, market news reporter, will handle these seasonal reports.

The daily market bulletins will contain f. o. b. shipping point information and wholesale prices of the two commodities at the major terminal markets. Also shown will be the volume of shipments by districts and states as well as amounts being held on track.

Producers and other persons interested in receiving these daily bulletins should direct their request to the fruit vegetable office, Room 553, Terminal Annex, Dallas, Texas.

These services are provided without cost to those desiring them and are a part of the PMA's program of furnishing to agricultural producers, shippers, processors and others the latest available information on marketing.

GOOD HEALTH

1. WHAT IS A HEALTH COUNCIL?

3. WHAT ARE WONDER DRUGS?

Answer to Question No. 1

A Health Council is a group of individuals in a community organized to plan and improve local health conditions. It is usually composed of representatives of the local Medical Society, various health and welfare organizations and other interested citizens. For the last five years Health Councils have been growing in number at the rate of 20 per cent a year. Thirty-two states and more than 1,200 communities have health councils.

Answer to Question No. 2

Present estimates indicate that eight per cent of our population today is over 65 years of age and the percentage is growing yearly. Chronic diseases such as heart ailments, cancer, brain disturbances and kidney conditions are common among this aging population. Accidents are a particular hazard.

Answer to Question No. 3

"Wonder drug" is the popular name given to newly discovered drugs which at once help in the treatment and cure of a disease and eventually reduce medical costs. These drugs take years of experimentation and expensive research in laboratories to develop, but fortunately such efforts in the interest of health are actively pursued in America.

Non-Producers Cut Into Profits

COLLEGE STATION. —The ratio between the price of eggs and the cost of feed for the past several weeks has been rough on all poultrymen but especially on the less efficient producers. One sure way to cut feed costs, says W. J. Moore, poultry husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is to remove from the laying flock the non-producers.

Warmer weather usually ushers in the beginning of a slump in egg production and with it a rising market. Low production per hen during the summer season may mean the difference between a profitable year or a loss on the business. Take the non-producers to market, says Moore, just as soon as they are noticed in the flock. Chances are these hens will not come back into production for many months and feeding them is a dead expense.

Hens that show a shrunken, dried-up comb, yellow beak, new feathers, yellow shanks and yellow vents should be culled and sold. Hens that lack vigor and spend their time loafing should also be removed from the flock. A good producer must eat good feed and drink lots of clean, cool water and they can't do this unless they rustle. Of course, adds Moore, the poultryman must do his part by supplying the feed and water.

The poultryman who does a good job of culling continuously will be well paid for his trouble. Poultry farm management can not be most efficient unless the non-producers are sent to market and this means continuous culling, says Moore.

Why are women's purses bigger than men's?

Remember all those cartoons you've seen of a wife going through her sleeping husband's trouser pockets? They may give you a clue why some women's purses are bigger.

But we're inclined to think that there are other and better reasons why more women than men own stock in so many of America's largest companies.

For one thing, women are practical, thrifty, and inclined to do something sensible about their future finances and those of the family. Forgive us, mister, but the facts speak for themselves:

Women have outnumbered men share owners of telephone stock since 1900. The big food companies have a predominance of women share owners. Ditto the country's largest auto maker. And, at last count, 116,800 women owned shares in General Electric as against 83,000 men.

Big business, as it turns out, is a woman.

About 2,100 of these women—and men—turned out this spring to attend the G-E annual meeting and eat a box lunch in one of our largest factory buildings. If you'd like a report of what was said and done, just let us know. A card asking for "Report of the Sixtieth Annual Meeting," Dept. 6B, General Electric, Schenectady, N. Y., will do the trick.

You can put your confidence in—

SECOND SECTION The Lynn County News

TAHOKE, TEXAS. — FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1952

Mrs. Lamb Tells Of Republican State Convention

Mrs. Olabelle Lamb, who last week attended the State Republican convention in Mineral Wells reports that the affair was "interesting" to say the least.

Sam Singleton of O'Donnell was delegate and Olabelle was alternate from Lynn county, both representing the Eisenhower backers. The Lynn delegation was one of only three Eisenhower county delegations that were seated by the regular convention, which was completely controlled by the Taft Republican bosses of Texas.

Mrs. Lamb says she really doesn't know why the Taft forces allowed the Lynn county Eisenhower delegation to be seated. But they were seated Monday when the Taft forces withdrew their contest for Lynn county's representation. Two other Eisenhower delegations were also seated, but in all other cases where there was a contest the committee seated Taft delegations.

However, when the Eisenhower forces "took a walk" from the convention to hold their own convention, the Lynn county delegate and alternate went with them. This convention, she says, was larger than the other, and she thinks their delegates may be recognized at the National convention.

Mrs. Lamb was accompanied to Mineral Wells by Mrs. Hal Singleton, Sr., Mrs. C. N. Hoffman and Miss Helen Jean Hoffman, all of O'Donnell. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Singleton had gone down on Sunday.

GARDEN CLUB HELD PLANT EXCHANGE RECENTLY

Tahoke Garden Club recently held a plant exchange and Iris show at the home of Mrs. Calloway Huffaker.

Many nice plants of iris, mums, straw flowers, bells of Ireland, pansies, daisies, and many others were exchanged.

About fifty club members and guests attended the meeting and enjoyed the beautiful yard and the many arrangements of iris on display.

Refreshments were served from an outdoor table very cleverly arranged with a denim table cloth with pockets which held the red cowboy handkerchief napkins.

With enough patience and hard work you can grow beautiful flowers in West Texas. —Reporter.

Lutherans Plan Bible School

The annual Vacation Bible School of St. John's Lutheran Church, Wilson, will be held for two weeks beginning June 9 and ending June 20.

The School will feature a study on the life of Christ entitled "Beautiful Savior." There will be an interesting program of Bible study, studies of missions, handwork, as well as singing, worship, and recreation.

Classes will be held for all children between the ages of 4 and 14, according to the Rev. C. C. Ehler, the pastor. "Children who are not members of our church are also cordially invited to attend our school," the pastor stated. Classes, as in the past will begin at 8:30 a. m. and end at 11:30 a. m., daily. Transportation will be arranged for those who have no way to attend.

An unknown visitor from Canada to his native village of Wroxhall, Isle of Wight, gave the vicar $280 for church use.

THE CHRYSLER IMPERIAL 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

YOU'LL FIND IT EVEN BETTER THAN YOU'VE HEARD!..

It's been many years since a new car has caused as much talk as today's Chrysler Imperial has. What you may not realize is how long it's been since a car gave so many reasons for excited talk as this one.

May we invite you to drive and test the best and most worth-owning engine on the road today? (Chrysler's magnificent new 180 H.P. FirePower V-8.)

May we invite you to handle the easiest and safest steering wheel in existence at the moment? (Chrysler's full-time Power Steering.)

May we invite you to try out brakes which require as little as one-third the usual foot-pressure, and still stop you in many feet less than other cars do? (Chrysler Power Brakes.)

May we invite you to sit on the most comfortable seat cushions, and enjoy the fullest window vision you can find? May we invite you to ride on the rough-road miracle of the Oriflow shock absorbers which only Chrysler-built cars have?

May we invite you to drive a Chrysler Imperial... and learn how much you'd miss, and deeply regret, if you bought another car today without knowing this one first?

We... and Imperial by Chrysler... are at your service, any time.

Odds AND Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

On my recent visit to Waco, two of my sisters and I went down to Salado one day and visited a little section of the Old South of Ante-bellum days which had been lifted out of its original Old South environment, as it were, in the 1850's and transplanted on the banks of the little Salado (Sa-lou-o) River in Bell county, which lies in the heart of central Texas.

The movement which culminated in this transplanting process began much further back than the 1850's, however. It began in the early 1830's when Stephen F. Austin had inaugurated his program for the colonization of Texas with settlers from the United States. The consent of the Mexican Government was obtained and grants of land, usually consisting of many leagues, were thereupon being made to various empresarios, one of the stipulations being that each empresario would bring into his colony a stipulated number of bona fide law-abiding citizens from the United States. Rather strict requirements were placed in the contracts to be observed by the empresario and the families which they should settle in their respective colonies but at first these requirements were very loosely enforced and were regarded as mere formalities by the settlers, and settlers from the United States poured into Texas each year by the thousands.

Sterling Clark Robertson of Tennessee was one of the men who came to Texas, procured his grant of land, and established a colony, covering large portions of what afterwards became Bell, Falls, Milam, and Robertson counties, all of which lie in watershed of the Brazos River. That was early in the 1830's. Robertson at first established his headquarters and office at a place which he called Viesco on the west bank of the Brazos near the "falls" of that stream a few miles below the present little city of Marlin. Later he moved it to a point much further down the river in the southeastern corner of Milam county, which he named Nashville in honor of the capital of his native state. I do not know just where the western boundary of his colony lay but it extended far enough west to include the fine springs of water along the middle and upper course of the Salado River and the town of the same name which grew up in the vicinity of the finest of these springs some 15 to 20 years later.

Then, in 1836, came the Texas Revolution, in which, on April 21, at the battle of San Jacinto, all Texas, under the leadership of Sam Houston, won her independence from Mexico and became an independent Republic.

Following the war for independence, new settlers swarmed into Texas. The Stephen F. Austin colonies received the lion's share of those immigrants, but the rich lands embraced in the original Robertson colony also attracted thousands of new-comers. The total population of Texas in 1836 has been estimated at 35,000 to 40,000 but by the end of 1845 when Texas was admitted into the Union as a state it had an estimated population of 125,000 and in 1850, according to the U. S. census of that year had reached a total of 212,592. That portion of the state comprising the old Robertson Colony had presumably received its proportionate share of this increase. Bell county had at that time just been organized and the county seat town of Belton founded.

The town of Salado was established in 1852, its founder, or one of its founders at least, being E. S. C. Robertson, son of Sterling Clark Robertson, and he built one of the first and possibly the very first residence in the town, though at that time he was not married. It was a long log structure. Soon thereafter he did marry and by 1855 had completed the construction of the great mansion which we visited the other day, now the home of his grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling C. Robertson the Fourth, although they have a son who bears the same name and is accordingly a member of the fifth generation of the Robertson family beginning with Sterling C. Robertson the Colonizer and empresario. It seems to be an almost foregone conclusion that he will uphold the fine traditions of the Robertson family, for he is now a student in Kemper Military School in Booneville, Missouri, and a photo which his proud mother exhibited the other day shows this 17-year-old youngster to be one of the finest-looking lads to be found in anybody's school.

But now I must let the family history go for a little while and tell you more about the fine old reminder of the old ante-bellum South which was transplanted nearly a hundred years ago on the banks of this charming little Bell county stream.

There it stands, a magnificent mansion of 22 rooms, facing the south and catching the soft southern breezes or the brisk southern breezes, as the case may be, full in the face, and with its back to the little river, a hundred yards or so away, whose crystal-clear waters go placidly on and on forever, eastward, toward the Brazos and the sea.

The mansion itself is typical of the old plantation homes in which the great planters of Tennessee, Alabama, and Mississippi lived "Befo de Wah." Those planters were the aristocrats of the Old South. Their sons were usually sent to the University of Virginia or to Vanderbilt or to the Annapolis Naval Academy or to the West Point Military school to finish off their education; or, sometimes, they were sent to Cambridge or Oxford in England. Nearly all of the statesmen of the Old South, such as Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, John C. Calhoun, Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis, Bob Toombs, and many other Southern leaders were born on plantations and received their education in one or more of these colleges just named.

Sterling Clark Robertson of Tennessee, who founded the Robertson Colony in central Texas, and many of his descendants belonged to this Patrician class and were regarded by many as "aristocrats," but Mr. and Mrs. Sterling C. Robertson who now own and occupy this mansion are as democratic and approachable as your own next-door neighbor. So many of the early-day residents of Salado and so many of the former students of the old Salado College and later of the Thomas Arnold High School, who may now be found in all parts of Texas and in many other states, come back to Salado annually as tourists or visitors just to view the familiar scenes of their childhood or their student days, that Mr. and Mrs. Robertson recently decided to set aside a few days periodically for maintaining "open house" for the benefit of all who may desire to be shown through.

Furthermore, they have classified and arranged hundreds of documents, letters, bits of unrecorded history, relics, and artifacts which the Robertson families have accumulated during the past 125 years. This makes the mansion a popular rendezvous for scholars, historians, literateurs, like this scribbler.

Well, when we approached the EVER buy a telephone? Ever receive a bill for telephone repair or maintenance, or the many feet of wiring that connect your telephone within the house? The answer, of course, is no. These are items of cost you never have to contend with.

Now, ask yourself the same questions about any of your other home appliances—refrigerator, kitchen range, radio, water heater. Original cost and month-to-month maintenance of such items amounts to a sizable investment.

But, you don't have to buy the telephone or its wiring—that's part of your telephone company's investment. And, monthly telephone bills take care of all operating expenses, as well as a return to investors. No matter how often you use local telephone service, you pay the same for it each month.

Considering all this, don't you agree that telephone service is the biggest value in your budget?

Picture of a Pair who just waked up

HERE in the driveway is a Buick. It has just arrived. It belongs to this proud young couple. They've just "arrived" too.

They've arrived at a discovery—the discovery that owning a Buick instead of a "low-priced car" isn't so much a matter of money.

It's a matter of knowing the facts of life. Buick prices are closer to the prices of smaller, less powerful, less distinguished cars than most people think.

Why don't you check into this?

You'll find you could pay $300 to $400 more—and still not match the horsepower of this nimble beauty.

You could pay hundreds of dollars more—and still not get any more interior room, or richer fabrics.

But that's only part of the story.

The big thing about any car is the way it goes. So you ought to find out how this car rides the road—the freedom from bobble and sway that cost a million real dollars to develop.

You ought to sample the way Dynaflo Drive* feeds the power—with a steady swoop and unbroken smoothness in city traffic, on hills, or out on the open road.

And you ought to know how it feels to touch off that Fireball 8 Engine. With all its might, this high-compression valve-in-head gets a lot of miles from a gallon of gas.

We'll tell you this—because a lot of folks have told us this: No matter what car you're driving now—no matter what cars you've looked at—they'll never seem the same after you try this one.

Just give us a chance to prove it—and you'll have a lot of fun.

politicians, and just common folks front door at 9:30 a. m. recently, the refined and cultured but exceedingly democratic and friendly Mrs. Sterling C. Robertson answered the door-bell and invited us in and proceeded immediately to show us through the front rooms, telling all about this, that, and the other article or document or book that aroused our interest or curiosity. And it did not require but a few minutes for us to find out that she was a veritable walking encyclopedia. She knows so much of history, general, and specific as relating to Texas and the Old South, that it was indeed a great pleasure to drink in the continual stream of information that came from her lips for the next two hours, with hardly a break or a stop to answer some questions, foolish or otherwise.

In the meantime others came in, and she held us all spell bound. I shall not try to be specific, however, in imparting to you the information she gave us, for I took very few notes and might make many errors. Besides the historical data would be too voluminous to put into this column even if my memory were perfect. But I suggested to Mrs. Robertson that by all means she should reduce to writing her fund of information so that it might be preserved for the benefit of historians and future generations. She did not promise, but I learned that she has a daughter in the University of Texas who is majoring in Journalism and will soon receive her degree, so it seems probable that she can be induced to "write a book" or at least to put all of this unrecorded history into permanent form.

But I started to tell about the house and now I can not even remember the names or the particular uses to which some of the rooms were put—business office sitting room, library rooms, bed rooms, a dining room, and eight rooms upstairs which we did not even visit.

All of these rooms were elegantly furnished. The furniture was ancient, of course, but they had kept it varnished and in almost perfect repair. When we got to the dining room with its spacious closets filled with glassware and silverware and China-ware, the women folks all went into ecstasies of amazement and admiration, while I, the only mere man present at that time, stood off in one corner and looked on with interest. And the kitchen was scarcely less attractive.

O yes, and there were two guest rooms for strangers, one at the front and one at the rear on the first floor. It was a long way, you know, from Waco to Austin or even from Belton to George town. That was a long time before automobiles were invented, and not even the light "gig" had made its appearance at that time. Most fellows traveled on horse back. Only a few could afford a buggy. So, ordinary travelers often had no place to stop for a night's lodging except at a private residence. I can remember when my own father would sometimes take in such lodgers for the night. Well, since the Robertsons were well-to-do and were kindly disposed toward strangers traveling through the country, they built these two guest rooms into their splendid home just for the accommodation of the wayward traveler. And there they were—these two rooms—with beds, and a dresser and a chair in them just as they kept them many decades ago.

Then, in a rock building of three or four rooms extending back westward from and adjoining the white folks' kitchen were the quarters for the house-servant slaves. The slaves had departed many years ago. Most of them, like old Uncle Ned, had gone "where the good niggers go," but they had left their pots and their pans and their sausage-grinder and the fire tongs and the shovel and the andirons, and a walled up cistern in the middle of one of the rooms, and the old smoke-house, now just a junk room, and doubtless a lot of other things that had crumbled to dust or that the rust had eaten up in the many years that have sped by. The old plantation banjo even was gone.

All the log cabins that had

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Meredith of Mineola, Texas, pose with the portrait of Mrs. Meredith painted by Dmitri Vail of Dallas, Texas. The life-like painting will hang in the main hall of the "Daisy Meredith" cottage for girls on the Methodist Home campus in Waco, Texas.

Pioneer Banker, Civic Leader Builds Home for Orphan Girls

"Uncle Harry" as Mr. Meredith is affectionately known to his boys and girls in Waco, is a pioneer in Texas banking history, having opened his Mineola State Bank in 1906. In 1933 he retired from active banking business and became Chairman of the Board of the First National Bank which position he continues to hold. Besides their active interest in civic and church affairs, the Merediths are enthusiastic and active members of the well known Little Sandy Fishing and Hunting Club.

Three years ago they donated $95,000 for construction of the Meredith Home for Boys on the Methodist Home Campus in Waco, and commissioned Dmitri Vail to paint the portrait of Mr. Meredith which now hangs in the living room. Cost of the newly completed "Daisy Meredith" cottage is running close to $120,000.

Mr. Meredith wanted a Texas artist to paint the two portraits and selected the nationally known portrait painter Dmitri Vail, of Dallas, Texas. He says he had the portraits painted to hang in the cottage so that in twenty-five or fifty years from now the children might say: Those are the folks who gave us our home.

place—independence from Mexico and the establishment of Texas as a Republic, and then the admission of Texas into the American Union as a state, which brought on another war with Mexico—the older Robertson, the Colonizer, had never gotten a perfect title to some of the land which was supposed to be a part of his original grant, and so, after the older Robertson's death, the son set about to get his titles cleared. Years later, we find him writing to a friend, Dr. R. G. Williams, under date of May 8, 1878, in which he tersely states: "I located my land in 1847, returned my field notes in 1849, got my patent in 1856 . . . went into possession of the land in 1850, and settled on it with my family in 1853, where I have lived continuously up to the present time." He and his family lived in the log house from 1853 to 1855 or 1856, when they moved into the new Mansion.

"Son of Empresario Sterling C. Robertson of the Nashville Colony and Frances King Robertson.

"Born August 25, 1820 in Nashville, Tennessee.

"Came to Texas when 12 years old.

"At 15, was a clerk in his father's land office.

"In 1836 was a soldier in his father's company and took part in the war against Santa Anna.

"After the Revolution he was a member of the Ranger forces. Returned to Tennessee to finish his education.

"In 1839, returned to Texas became assistant postmaster general of the Republic soon after.

"1840—Postmaster general of the Republic.

"1841—Secretary of the Senate.

"1842—Joined Somerville expedition; commander of a company.

"1844—Appointed colonel of the Second Regiment of Militia by General Houston.

"1845—Admitted to the practice of law.

"1848—Spanish translator in the general land office.

"1852—Resigned his office and moved to Salado, which he helped to build. Here he founded Salado College.

"1858—Elected chief justice of Bell county, and during his term of office the first courthouse was built.

"1850-61—Delegate to the Session convention.

"1861-65—Served on the staff of General Henry McCulloch and held a commission of Brigadier General in the Confederate Army.

"1875—Delegate to the State Constitutional Convention. His services are particularly noted for the part he played in behalf of public education and for retention of the homestead provision in the state land laws.

"He died on October 8, 1879."

Now, if any of you have gotten the idea that the building of that big mansion of 22 rooms was an unnecessary extravagance you may change your opinion when I tell you that Judge and Mrs. E. S. C. Robertson, in addition to their other extraordinary achievements, became the parents of fourteen children, twelve of whom grew to manhood and womanhood right in that mansion. One child, a son died in infancy, and another, a daughter, died in early childhood but six sons and six daughters grew up into mature men and women and most of them achieved an unusual degree of distinction.

The six sons were: Sterling C. who lived for long years in San Angelo, died in San Antonio, and was buried in the family cemetery in Salado.

Randolph, who lived and died in Bell county, dying many years ago.

Huling P., long prominent in Bell county politics, also deceased.

Marion, who lived for long years in Tuscon, Arizona; died and was buried there.

Macklin, who spent his entire life of many years in the mansion in Salado.

Walter Lee, who was killed in a horse-and-buggy accident in Salado as a comparatively young man many years ago.

The six daughters were:

Mrs. Cone Johnson (Birdie) who was long prominent in club, civic, and patriotic organizations and was a helpful companion and counselor of her distinguished husband, who served in many places of responsibility in this state and in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. James Archibald Gamel who with her husband spent much time in the West Indies and who died years ago in New Orleans.

Mrs. Z. T. Fullmoore (Luella), whose husband was a prominent lawyer in Austin for many years.

Mrs. Richard H. Harrison (Mannie), whose husband was a prominent member of the Waco bar.

Mrs. Lela Robertson, who married an Ikard, whose full I do not know.

Mrs. James W. Durst (Celea Ceresa) of Mexico City, who was connected with the Customs Office in Mexico.

But the young Robertsons now growing up give assurance that the Robertson banner will continue to be lifted high. We have in mind the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling C. Robertson, present owners and occupants of the Mansion. Mary Lucille received her Bachelor of Journalism Degree from the University of Texas two weeks ago and Ann MacLin graduated at the Mount Vernon Junior College in Washington last week. And a son, Sterling C. the Fifth, is preparing to spend the summer as an employee of an oil company and then return to his studies in a Military College in Booneville, Missouri, next September.

Wish we had some of those Robertson Springs out at Tahoka Lake.
