New Oil Well East of Draw

Lynn county has its third producing oil well, the Roundtop Oil Company of Abilene and C. M. Ashley No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company well located in the O'Donnell field three miles east of Draw. The test has been estimated by operators to be good for 350 barrels daily from the Ellenburger at 9,310 to 9,325 feet.

The derrick has already been skidded and drilling has been started on a projected 9,500-foot offset known as the Roundtop and Ashley No. 2 Garza. The offset is located 660 feet from the south and west lines of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of Section 432, Block 9, E.L. & R.R. Survey. If the offset is successful, it is said the company will drill two more wells on the same quarter section.

Discovery well in the pool was the Magnolia No. 1 Garza, which was offset by the No. 1 Dulin, both of which are now pumping light production. The Dulin well is on an allowable of 23 barrels daily and the Garza somewhat more.

Santa Claus, Reindeer Coming

OUT WHERE THE REINDEER PLAY—a herd of reindeer on the frozen tundra. This tundra is north of the Arctic Circle, along the coast of the Arctic Ocean. Here Grady Carothers, Texas rancher, has gone to round up reindeer every fall for the past five years, with the help of the Eskimos. He flies the deer back to his Texas Ranch. Although the animals roam wild over the snowlands, they are gentle at Carothers' ranch, and eager for sleigh harness when Christmas parade time rolls around. Santa Claus and his reindeer will be in Tahoka this year on Dec. 15.

Tahoka Meets Post Tonight

The annual battle between the Tahoka Bulldogs and the Post Antelopes takes place tonight, Friday, at Post, and a capacity crowd is expected to be on hand for the event.

Both bands will perform at halftime.

The Bulldogs have won four and lost four games, but the one that really counted was Tahoka's first conference game played last week at Slaton, which the local boys won 20 to 6. The next two games are equally important.

Post has won three and lost four. The Antelopes lost their District 6-AA conference opener at Spur last week 7 to 25. They must beat Tahoka to stay in the running for a tie for the District championship.

Tahoka must take both Post tonight and Spur next Friday night, if it expects to repeat as champion. The Bulldogs were District champions in 6-AA last year in both football and basketball.

When clicking, Post has a team that could easily knock off the Bulldogs. Coaches Bing Bingham and Vernon Ray feature the T formation and the spread, pitch-outs and passes. Quarterback Derrell Stone, 140-pound Senior, is Stevenson, by a margin of nearly seven million votes, an all-time record of 60 million being cast. Up to Thursday, he had 32 million popular votes to Stevenson's 25 1/2 million votes and 442 electoral votes to the Democratic nominee's 89.

Eisenhower won or was leading in 39 states, Stevenson in 9. With such Democratic strongholds in the South and Southwest as Texas, Oklahoma, Virginia, Tennessee, Florida, and New Mexico voting for a change, thus breaking the "solid South."

Texas piled up its record vote of about 2 million, giving Eisenhower a 136,000 majority, 1,014, 814 to 878,706 votes, with the breach spreading as returns came in from the "forks of the creek." He was leading in 136 counties to 119 for Stevenson.

Lynn county gave Governor Allan Shivers 2,182 Democratic votes and 258 Republican votes for a total of 2,540.

It gave Attorney General Price Daniel, candidate for U. S. Senator to succeed Senator Tom Connally, 2262 Democratic votes and 338 Republican votes for a 2,620 total.

Though the two Texas constitutional amendments apparently carried by a slight majority, Lynn county voted against both. The vote here was 536 for 1,077 against the "workmen's compensation insurance for city employees" and 562 for 1,094 against the "fund for loans to medical students."

Profits From Jamboree Benefits School Program

Approximately $1832.00 profit was realized from the Tahoka School's Hallowe'en Jamboree held in the gymnasium Thursday night of last week. Most of the proceeds will be spent for audio-visual equipment to be used throughout the school.

Climaxing the event was the coronation of Mary Jane McCord and Jimmy Collier both from the fourth grade as queen and king respectively, of the Grade School, and Frances Flint and Charles Hyles, both seniors, queen and king, respectively, of the high school.

Preceding the coronation ceremonies, the carnival spirit prevailed for two hours as possibly 1,500 or 2,000 people enjoyed the "side shows," eats, drinks, etc., sponsored by the various classes in the schools.

For the colorful coronation ceremonies, the stage was depicted as a garden scene. Ted Pridmore, Freshman, acted as master of ceremonies, standing behind a large pumpkin in the center of the stage, and Mrs. Harold Green furnished the music.

Taylor Knight and Donnie Hopkins, the page boys, came to either side of the stage and announced with their horns the beginning of the coronation.

In the procession which followed, kings and dukes came from one door, the queens and duchesses from another, meeting their escorts in the center of the gym. All kings and queens proceeded to the stage, while the dukes and duchesses remained at the front of the stage.

Last in the procession were the winners. Mary Jane McCord was crowned queen of the Grade School by Dixie Forsythe, and Jimmy Collier was crowned king by Kenneth Sims. Then, Frances Flint and Charles Hyles were crowned queen and king of the High School.

The recessional was in reverse order, two couples meeting in the center and marching out in fours.

Those honored by classes, except those mentioned above, listed in honor as queen, king, duchess, and duke were:

First Grade: Linda Thomas, Dennis Hickerson, Gailyn McMillan, Tim Tippit.
 Second: Lynetta Cain, Danny Lewis, Watzell Kennedy, Craig Leslie.
 Third: Frances Willhoit, Glenn Hopkins, Janice Brown, Jerry Graham.
 Fifth: Linda Williams, Lynn Cook, Anita Mallory, Phillip Havens.
 Sixth: Retha Cathcart, David Bray, Mary Belle Woods, Falcon McAllister.
 Seventh: Georgia Flint, Ronnie McGrew, Geraldine Laster, Jerry Brown.
 Eighth: Linda Davis, Jimmy Watter, Barbara Roberts, William Murray.
 Ninth: Romona Motes, Ware Hugh, Geraldine Hyles, Walton Terry.
 Tenth: Susie Smith, Guy Witt, Helen Jo Laster, Bill Moore.
 Eleventh: Sue Dollins, Billy Tong, Joy Tomlinson, Jimmy Whorton.

The major portion of the money is to be spent for audio-visual equipment to be used throughout the school. Last spring the local school became a charter member of the West Texas Cooperative Audio-visual Services, a cooperative of schools in the nine counties immediately surrounding Lubbock. The purpose of this organization is to furnish audio-visual materials to member schools at a greatly reduced price, making available to these schools thousands of dollars worth of film strips, slides, moving pictures, still pictures, records, etc. None of the member schools are financially able to purchase an adequate library of its own.

The cost to each school is 50 cents per scholastic. Thus, the assessment for the Tahoka Public Schools this year is $530.00. This money is to be taken from the carnival fund.

To use this material for best results, the school needs several pieces of equipment such as projectors and screens.

A partial breakdown of proposed expenditures follows:

West Texas Cooperative Audio-visual Services $530.00; One 16 mm movie projector, $450.00; One combination film strip and slide projector, $100.00; Two portable projector screens, $110.00; Two sets blackout curtains, $120. Total expenditures, $1,310.00.

The remaining $500.00 is yet unaccounted for. A possibility is the purchase of a new curtain for the auditorium. A full statement will be made as soon as the money is spent.

The whole school, from pupils to Board of Education, would like to take this means of expressing thanks to you, friends of the school, for your unstinting support. We assure you that the money will be spent for worth while causes.

COTTON TROUBLES !!!
 Cotton is the overcoat of a seed that is planted and grown in the southern states to keep the producer broke and the buyer crazy. The fiber varies in color and weight, and the man who can guess nearest the length of the fiber is called a cotton man by the public, a robber by the farmer, and a poor business man by his banker. The price of cotton is determined in New York and goes up when you have sold and goes down when you have bought. A buyer working for a group of mills was sent to New York to watch the cotton market, and after a few days deliberation he wired to this effect: "Some say it will go up and some think it will go down. I do, too. Whatever you do will be wrong—act at once". Cotton is planted in the spring, mortgaged in the summer, and left in the field in the winter.

Wilson Meets Meadow Tonight

Wilson Mustangs entertain Meadow at Wilson tonight in a District 4-B conference game.

Last weekend, Wilson lost to Whitharral by a score of 41 to 13. Wilson's last three games will be at home. Next week, they meet Whiteface and on Nov. 21, it will be Wellman.

Plagued by injuries, the Mustangs have had hard going in conference competition, and the game Friday night was no exception. Schneider scored for Wilson in the second quarter on a 6-yard plunge, and in the fourth Davidson took a pass from John Mason and went 90 yards overall for the second touchdown.

Lost & Found

LOST—Whoever borrowed Vol. 11 of my set of World Books will please return the same to my home at 1429 N. Second St. or to the Lynn County News. I think some member of one of the high school history classes who participated recently in one of the Texas Tideland debates took it from my bookcase with the intention of returning it later, and then possibly misplaced it. I am asking, therefore, that these students and their parents search their homes in an effort to locate the book. While it is not very valuable from a financial standpoint, yet it breaks my set of World Books, and at times I need it very much. Several leaves including a map of Texas and part of the story of Texas fell out of the book onto the floor when the book was taken and were left lying on the floor. Students and parents will please help me to locate this book and thus avoid a more thorough investigation.—E. I. Hill.

STRAYED—Yellow Jersey heifer, wt. about 600, left my home Thursday night, Oct. 30. If found, please contact H. D. Nelson, 2 miles north and 1/2 west of Tahoka. 5tfc

PETTY HANDI-WORK CLUB HAS MEETING

The Petty Handi-Work Club enjoyed a community social Friday night, Oct. 31, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Schuknecht. Everyone came dressed "tacky" with Hallowe'en faces.

Following the party, which was really enjoyed by everyone, was a bridal shower for Mr. and Mrs. Billy Don Renfro. Refreshments of cookies and coca cola were served.

The last meeting of the club was Monday, Oct. 27, in the home of Mrs. G. H. Isbell. Aprons were

METHODIST WSCS HAS COVERED DISH LUNCHEON

The WSCS of the Methodist Church met for their monthly covered-dish luncheon Monday, Nov. 3. The ladies who served as hostesses were Mmes. G. M. Stewart, R. M. Stewart, John Slover, and Clint Walker.

Fellowship Hall was beautifully decorated with the Thanksgiving motif and colors used.

Twenty-one ladies, with Rev. J. H. Sharp, as guest, enjoyed the luncheon and program.

After a short business session and reading of the minutes, a very good program was presented by Mrs. Calloway Huffaker and Mrs. A. M. Bray on the life of Peter Marshall, one of the most outstanding preachers of the age.

Mrs. Huffaker told the story of his life as recorded by his wife, Catherine Marshall, in "A Man Called Peter."

Mrs. Bray read one of his sermons, "The Saint of the Rank and File," which concerned the comparatively unknown Andrew and likened him to the average layman.

The meeting was closed with the reading of one of Peter Marshall's prayers.

made from handkerchiefs, also aprons from kitchen cup towels. There were eight members and two visitors present. Refreshments were served.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Jess Hill Nov. 10, at which time the ladies will make string holders from halves of coconuts and buttons.

Election

 in voting, principally due to the fact that some voters scratched either the Democratic or Republican nominees and failed to scratch the Prohibition, Progressive, Christian Nationalist, and Constitution Party nominees.

Possibly less than twenty votes were cast in the county for any of these parties' nominees.

Revolt of Voters
 The trend of the election was the result of an uprising against Democratic policies; including the fact that the Democrats have been in power 20 years.

People were stirred up about "Trumanism," corruption in Government, the infiltration of Communists and "parlor pinks" therein, and the delinquency of the Truman administration to do take drastic action against such. They were fed up with Truman's "bar-room" speech and cheap politics, city bossism, Union Labor bossism, and ultra-liberals, and waste in tax monies. The Korean situation and our foreign policy was also a big factor. In Texas, many citizens were also concerned over the Tideland issue, which the U. S. Government awarded Texas when it entered the Union.

Though the Republicans also gained ground and likely a bare majority in Congress, this victory was not so sweeping. Up to Thursday morning, the Republicans apparently had 49 Senatorial seats and 220 House seats.

The people of this area hope and pray that Texas-born and Kansas-reared Dwight Eisenhower and his cohorts will give the South, Texas, and the farming country a just break in government and lay less stress on appeasing the so-called "special groups."

Post Game

 a smart and accurate passer and he has several good receivers to pass to. Fans can depend on Post to have some special strategy cooked up for their old rival, Tahoka.

Among the ball carriers to watch are L. W. Evans, 170 pound Senior back who runs hard and fast; Charles Chandler, 130-pound Soph; and Randall Lawrence, 130-pound Senior back; and Darrell Ray Norman, 132-pound Soph back.

Pass-snagging ends include Billy Meeks, 170, Soph; and Buddy Caylor, 136, Junior.

Among the top linemen are Fred Long, 210; a Junior; Bobby Cowdry, Tommy Byrd, Pete Hays, and Larry Waldrop.

Coaches Bill Haralson and Bill Sharpley have their Bulldogs in only fair shape for the game. However, Back Charley Schulz suffered an injury to his back in workout Monday, and End Steve Slover is still hampered by his sprained knee. Willie Burl Lee, kick-off and defense specialist will miss the game, having received a sprain of ligaments in his arm against Slaton last Thursday night.

Tahoka has not had too good a pre-conference season, and the boys have no reason to take the Antelopes lightly.

The Bulldogs took Sundown 14 to 12 in the season opener, then lost to two powerful oilfield teams, Denver City 53 to 0 and Seminole 27 to 0, then defeated Seagraves 18 to 7 and O'Donnell 19 to 0, lost to Tulia 13 to 6 and Abilene B 28 to 6, all prior to the win over Slaton.

Post lost its opener to Floyd 32 to 7, won over O'Donnell 13 to 7 and Sundown 7 to 6, lost to Ralls 18 to 13 and Rotan 39 to 6, but beat Tulia 25 to 19 before losing last week to Spur 25 to 7.

On basis of Sundown and O'Donnell games, Tahoka and Post seem closely matched; but Post beat Tulia, to whom Tahoka lost. Also, Post draws favoritism by reason of the fact that they will be playing at home and are always "up" on the home field for Tahoka.

Freshman Gordon Smith has been showing gradual improvement at quarterback both in his passing and selection of plays. J. B. Ables and Kenneth Early have found their driving power, and Charles Hyles is again in good shape. The linemen, linebackers, and ends have been showing improvement.

The coaches have brought their inexperienced squad along well, and tonight and next Friday "the chips are down."

Choir In Methodist Church Program

The Elementary Choir of the local school, directed by Mrs. Harold Green and composed of about fifty students, presented four numbers at the Methodist Church services Sunday night.

Other special guests at the service were members of the Future Homemakers of America of Tahoka High.

Rev. Jim Sharp, pastor, reports the auditorium was filled for the services, the fourth in a series of seven Sunday night evangelistic services now being conducted at the church.

Magazine Crew Gyps Tahokans

Local citizens are warned to be careful about their purchase of subscription to magazines from itinerant salesmen. Several local people have been swindled by such purchases the last few days. Sheriff "Slick" Clem reports a crew of about 25 such salesmen hit Lynn county last week. Following reported irregularities, Clem made an investigation and found that the crew members actually were authorized agents for the magazines.

However, in a number of cases, the salesmen misrepresented things to potential buyers, and in addition at least one member of the crew raised two checks, one from $7.00 to $30.00 and another from $11.50 to $30.50.

This was done by a youth aged 16, who is also fraudulently claimed he was from Boys' Ranch. Caught with the goods, he admitted his illegal acts and refunded the money, but no charges were filed on him due to his age.

Also, a young lady member of the crew, after securing the signature of a local citizen, forged his name to two checks for $10.50 each. She is in jail at Post on similar charges there.

Girl members of the crew made various claims to potential subscribers—that they were working their way through nursing school, or Texas Tech, and on some occasions that they lived near Tahoka.

Sheriff Clem hopes that most or all of the subscribers will get their magazines, as the agents evidently had proper authority to solicit subscriptions. However, he suggests that citizens who have patronized any magazine salesmen check their bank statements to make sure their checks were not raised or their names forged to other checks.

Citizens would be safer if they bought their magazines from local news stands or direct from publishers or from agents they know.

GARDEN CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

The Tahoka Garden Club held its annual flower show on Tuesday, October 28.

We wish to thank everyone who brought flowers to the show and worked so hard to make it a success, as well as all the guests who called during the day. We especially thank the people of R. E. A., for their cooperation and the use of the building.

Accredited judges from Lubbock, Mrs. John Powers and Mrs. R. C. Badgett, judged the show. They were surprised to see so many flowers here, since everything in Lubbock was killed by the first frost. They made many nice comments on the arrangements and were sorry they could not give ribbons to all. They said we should try to have more horticulture specimens next time. —Reporter.

Bulldogs Defeat Slaton In Conference Play 20-6

In defeating Slaton Tigers 20 to 6 at Slaton Thursday night of last week, the Tahoka Bulldogs played their best game of the season.

The blocking and tackling was better, and the line showed up better as a unit, especially offensively. Tahoka's selection of plays was also superior. Alert Bulldogs grabbed three Tiger fumbles, and Richard Havens' pass snatching was sensational. He caught four of Gordon Smith's five passes for a total of 81 yards, one of them good for a touchdown.

The other two scores were made by Charles Hyles on 10 and 8 yard runs after Schulz and Ables had collaborated, with some fine blocking and line play, in moving the ball down field in two 70-yard marches.

Slaton fielded a powerful backfield, which Tahoka could not stop early in the game, but the Bulldog line clearly outplayed the Slaton line and opened up holes for Ables, Schulz, Hyles, and Melton.

Sparkman was the big gun for Slaton, carrying the ball 27 times for a total of 109 yards, while Sooter, Thompson, and Butler also turned in good gains. Slaton's passing attack failed almost completely. Thompson threw seven passes, five were incomplete. Havens intercepted one, and one was complete for 8 yards.

Slaton Scores First Slaton received the opening kickoff, Butler bringing Willie Burl Lee's kick from the 20 to the 46. Lee received a sprained elbow on the kickoff play, and will possibly be out the rest of the season. In 15 plays, with Sparkman carrying all but three times, the Tigers rolled up four successive first downs, and Sooter went the last one yard over left tackle for Slaton's only touchdown. On the attempted conversion, Tahoka's Joe Brooks broke through and nailed the ball-holder and the score was 0-6 Slaton.

However, taking the kickoff on the Tahoka 30, the Bulldogs bettered the Tigers by moving on 10 plays for a touchdown and kicking the extra point. On Tahoka's first play from scrimmage, Smith passed far down field to Havens, who made a miraculous catch on the Slaton 47 with a Slaton man all over him. Schulz, Ables, and Hyles, all showed better drive than any time this season in carrying the ball at 4 to 7 yards a clip to the Slaton, 10, from which point Hyles broke through left guard for a Tahoka TD. Ables, who had never kicked extra points before, place-kicked the ball high over the uprights like a veteran. Tahoka led 7 to 6.

Tahoka Scores Again Milfred Ratliff booted the ball over the goal line on the kickoff, and Slaton took over on the 20. Butler, Sooter, and Thompson moved the ball out to the 45, and appeared to be marching for another TD, but Thompson's first pass was intercepted by Havens on the Tahoka 30, and the Bulldogs were away on another 70-yard touchdown march.

Ables was the big-gun in the march, which also included another sensational pass of 20 yards to Havens, Hyles going the last 8 yards through left guard. Ables' kick was wide. Score, Tahoka 13, Slaton 7.

However, Slaton marched by three first downs to the Tahoka (Cont'd. On Back Page, Sec. 2)

SECOND SECTION The Lynn County News

TAHOKA, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1952

Area Newspaper Men Are Taken For A Ride By Lyntegar Officials

John Heck of Wilson, president of the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, and Jimmy Payne of Tahoka, assistant manager of the organization, took Charles A. Guy, the Avalanche-Journal Plainsman, and the senior editor of this newspaper, for a ride a couple of weeks ago just to enlighten us as to some of the things that are going on out on these expansive and rapidly developing great south plains. In other words, they took us over the route of the Lyntegar lines and substations situated in or touching the cities and towns of Wilson, Lubbock, Ropesville, Levelland, Sundown, Brownfield, Seagraves, Seminole, Lamesa, O'Donnell, and Tahoka, together with numbers of intervening villages and communities along the route. We were sorry that for lack of time we had to miss a few communities.

This trip was taken on Thursday and hence it was impossible to get any mention of it in that week's paper. We intended to tell a little about it last week, but politics and other matters took up so much space that we had to let this story go over for another week. However, it is just about as good one week as another, for it involves the development of the whole South Plains area.

The building of the Lyntegar Cooperative, of course, has had much to do with this development. One needs only to drive at night over practically any stretch of highway anywhere on these South Plains to realize how important electric lighting has become in the economy of the people of this area. From almost every house along any important highway he can see the gleam of electric lights; and from many high points he can make an optical survey of the surrounding country and see the gleam of many electric lights. At many a village and crossroads service station the beautiful play and glow of lights is made possible by currents of electricity brought in over REA lines.

If he drives in the day-time, he can spot the dwellings in which electric power is also furnished, and the number of these is rapidly increasing. This electric power serves many a purpose in the homes that have it and saves the housewife many a weary step. And now, with the introduction of telephone service over the Puka-Lambro system that is being installed, the country woman may have just about as many home conveniences as has the city dweller.

The Lyntegar Cooperative is not only furnishing light and power for the homes of the people, but it is giving the same service to nearly a hundred schools and churches, is furnishing lights to 292 small commercial businesses, lights to about 50 gin plants and power to five of them, and also power to operate 111 small irrigation wells in the area.

Its lines, 3,300 miles long, extend through or into eleven counties, Lynn, Terry, Garza, Lubbock, Hockley, Yoakum, Gaines, Martin, Howard, Dawson, and Borden, and serve 6,800 members. Of course the number of people actually served must number at least 25,000, since there are some four to six persons to the average rural family.

Our mention of irrigation wells tempts us to divert our attention a little while to this phase of South Plains development. The rapid increase in the number of irrigation wells during the past fifteen years has augmented the demand for more electric lights and power, and our trip the other day took us through hundreds of thousands of acres of irrigated cotton. From this irrigation area, hundreds of thousands of bales of cotton are now being harvested; and much of the dry land cotton has matured a much larger production than seemed possible before the crops began to open.

A person who has been a resident of the South Plains for 25 years or longer can not keep from contrasting mentally the South Plains of today with the South Plains of thirty or forty years ago.

On the South Plains of thirty years ago, a man might have ridden (Cont'd. On Back Page, Sec. 2)

Odds and Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

A couple of weeks ago, I filled this Column with facts and fancies about that strange people that in prehistoric times inhabited this country and for some reason 'built great mounds throughout the great Mississippi valley and in some other parts of the country. We wondered when these mound-builders came to our shores, where they came from, how long they lived here, and many other things concerning them. But we wondered in vain. Neither science nor the Bible gives us any positive, conclusive answer to these questions. We have wondered in the same way about the pyramid-builders in Mexico and Central America and Peru. A study of Genesis makes us wonder in the same way about some of the pre-historic peoples of Asia and Africa.

Doesn't the Bible teach that all of them were descended from Adam and Eve? Yes, it seems to do so; and all our lives we have accepted that dogma as the true teaching of the Bible, but when we begin to study the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth chapters of Genesis, we constantly run into difficulties that the Bible itself does not undertake to explain. Take that beautiful story of the Garden of Eden, for instance. Well, what is there about that that needs explaining? Let us take a look at it.

In order to present the full record, we first go back to Genesis 1:26-28: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth."

So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth."

Thus far, man is referred to in the generic sense, the race of beings which God calls Man. No specific individual is named thus far.

But now let us turn over to Genesis 2:7 et seq. The Scriptures now become more specific. They deal with One man. "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. (No woman has been created yet.)

"And the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed."

"And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and for food; and the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. (No woman in that garden yet.)

"And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted and became into four heads. (Here is where the mystery begins that can not be explained, or else this portion of the story is mere symbolic language that I, for one, do not understand.)

"The name of the first is Pison; that is it which compasseth (or flows around) the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold; and the gold of that land is good; there is bdellium and the only stone."

"And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it which compasseth (or flows around) the whole land of Ethiopia."

"And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: That is it which goeth to the east of Assyria. And the fourth river is Euphrates."

Now, it seems impossible that a river which flows all around over the land of Ethiopia could have come out of the same garden as the Euphrates and the two other rivers mentioned, for the Euphrates rises to the north of Damascus, and flows south and southeasterly into the Persian Gulf. Ancient Ethiopia lies far to the south of Cairo on the headwaters of the Nile. I notice that the translators of the newly revised version of the Bible leave out Ethiopia in this connection entirely and substitute the land of Cush. This goes a long way to clear the matter up, for the Cushites were a Hamitic people too and many of them dwelt probably in the land of Mesopotamia and were of the same race as the Phoenicians and other Canaanites. The river therefore might have been one that rose in the Garden of Eden and after splitting off from the main stream found its way down into the Mediterranean Sea somewhere near Antioch. But this is mere guess-work. Moses wrote this account of the Garden of Eden incident fully 2,500 years after it happened and wrote it in a very imperfect language, but we are shut off from the supposition that he might have made a mistake by the fact that when he did write it he wrote it under Divine inspiration, and God makes no mistakes. So, the fact that the Bible apparently places the head of the Euphrates and of the Nile as issuing from the Garden of Eden is the mystifying and unsolvable problem, unless we admit that somebody a very long time ago did make a mistake in writing down the land of Ethiopia where the land of Cush should have been written. The scholars who have given us the new Revised Version of the Bible recently solved the mystery by substituting Cush for Ethiopia, but it is not explained how the mistake, if any, was made in the first place.

Right here we wish to make this observation. Moses did not fix the date of the Garden of Eden incident nor of any part of the Creation process as having occurred any given number of years Before Christ. He merely states that the work of Creation was begun "In the beginning," and that the Garden of Eden was formed before Eve was brought into being.

Now let us resume our reading of the Scripture account of Eden. Gen. 2:15 et seq. "And the Lord God took the man and put him into the garden to dress it and to keep it. "And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat; but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it; for in the day that thou eatest thereof, thou shalt not eat of it; for in the day that man ate of it, he died. That man Adam was still alone, and it was directly to him that the Lord gave the commandment not to eat of the fruit of a certain tree in that lovely orchard under penalty of death. Mr. Adam must have felt very lonesome at times, and, that Divine warning or threat would not seem to be calculated to soothe his spirits very much. God must have noted Adam drooping around dejectedly among those lovely apple trees and pear trees and peach trees and possibly orange trees and looking longingly up into the branches of that Tree of Knowledge, and he evidently became sorry for the old boy, for "The Lord God said: It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an helpmeet for him."

"And out of the ground the Lord God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air (Say, brother, had it ever occurred to you that, physically, that long-eared donkey and that razorback shoat and that filthy old buzzard were made out of the same sort of dust that you were made of?) and brought them to Adam to see what he would call them; and whatever Adam called every living creature, that was the name thereof. "And Adam gave names to all the cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; (But here is the important thing) for Adam, there was not found an helpmeet for him." Poor man! "And now the Lord proceeds (Continued) to perform a surgical operation this unsuspecting keeper of the garden. Without any announcement of his intentions and without the use of opiates of any kind he gently soothes the poor fellow to sleep, and when Adam wakes up, he finds a wife by his side. Here is the way Moses told about it.

"And the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam; and he slept; and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof; (And Adam slept on); and the rib which the Lord God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man."

It is not recorded that the Lord made any presentation speech or went through with any sort of wedding ceremony, but I think that Adam must have understood. I imagine that as he gradually awoke from his sleep, rubbed his eyes in amazement, and inwardly felt the deepest satisfaction of his life. No, he didn't go into ecstasies of delight, he didn't begin telling her how lovely she was, he didn't even tell her that he loved her—which may have been something of a disappointment for her—but, man-like, he merely said:

"This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called Woman (with a capital W, which was some concession) because she was taken out of Man (with a capital M—maybe a little egotism there.)"

But Adam had not eaten of the fruit of that tree of Knowledge, and Eve had not had a chance to do so, and so both still were as innocent as lambs. All is lovely so far and not a cloud is visible on Eden's horizon. But look out! Now is the time for the happy couple to really begin to worry, for the Serpent entered Eden about the same time the woman did.

It is not my purpose at this time to discuss the Fall of Man and the entry of sin into the world, with all the trail of troubles that have followed. So, we are going to skip that story. We just want to mention briefly some of the other unexplained mysteries of the Bible. One of them is wrapped up in that man Cain, presumably the oldest son of Adam and Eve. He murdered his own brother Abel and became a wanderer on the face of the earth. And here we quote the Scripture record:

Gen. 4:16-17: "And Cain went out from the presence of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nod on the east of Eden. And Cain knew his wife; and she conceived, and bare Enoch; and he builded a city, and called the name of the city after the name of his son, Enoch."

Now scoffers and atheists have been asking questions about these two or three brief statements for hundreds of years, and I guess I could safely say for thousands of years, for the purpose of discrediting the Scriptures as the Word of God. I have no such purpose in raising these questions again, but so far neither science nor the Bible nor Bible scholars nor historians have been able to give a conclusive satisfactory answer.

The Bible record says that Cain went over into the land of Nod, and Bible scholars do agree that the word Nod means Wandering. Does that mean that it was a land of wandering people, with no settled homes, like the Bedouins of the desert. If so, who were those people? Where did they come from? Were they also children of Adam and Eve? They must have been members of the human race. Cain and his wife, whoever she might have been, had a son whom they named Enoch, and Cain built a city and named it Enoch in honor of his son. That would indicate that some of these people had settled homes. If they were not descendants of Adam and Eve, were they nevertheless affected by the Adamic sin and fall? Scores of questions could be asked along here.

Theologians may be able to answer all of them to their own satisfaction but I doubt if any of them can answer to the satisfaction of many people. And similar questions might be asked as to all the descendants of Enoch and his descendants.

Now, if no satisfactory answer can be given to these questions, then may we not be justified in asking questions about the origin of such people as the untamable and unteachable little dwarfs of South Africa, like the Hottentots and the Bushmen. They have lived there doubtless for countless centuries. Their mentality is low and their moral standards doubtless little above that of the apes that build their houses among the branches of the trees.

May we not ask also about the origin of the cannibals and the headhunters that dwell on some of the islands of the South Seas. And may we not also question the origin of the pre-historic Indians that inhabited the Americas so long ago that most of the evidences of their way of life or their very existence in some cases have faded out. But a study of them and speculation about them remains a very interesting pursuit.

I am glad that so much of interest has been preserved for us

Taken For Ride

(Cont'd. From Page 1, Sec. 2) den for miles and miles across these prairies without seeing any kind of light. If perchance he did at length see the flicker of a candle light or of a brass lamp flame half a mile away, he felt like shouting. I have been told by one who had the experience, for he knew that some friendly family resided not far away. Usually the only lights that could be found were in some lonely dug-out or in some ranchman's home.

Nobody dreamed then that some day irrigation wells would be spouting forth great streams of water, that cotton would be producing from a bale to a bale and a half per acre; and that electric lights would be gleaming from thousands of rural homes to say nothing of the more glaring and glamorous lights of sizeable cities like Lubbock and a multitude of smaller ones like Tahoka.

The headquarters building for this Lyntegar project is situated in Tahoka. It was built a few years ago at a cost of $85,000. John Heck has been a member of the board of directors of Lyntegar ever since it was established in 1938, and he has been the President of it the most of the time. Garland Pennington has been manager of the project ever since it was started. Tom Garrard has been its attorney for years.

The Lyntegar is one of the three most prosperous Electric cooperatives in Texas. It has been a record-breaker almost throughout its life-time. It has gained much fame in Washington and much praise here at home. John Heck has been a wise and cautious head-man for this project. But Garland Pennington has been given much credit by the home people and by the big boys in Washington for the almost unprecedented accomplishments of this Coop.

The Lyntegar Cooperative was authorized in 1938. The first loan to the Cooperative was made by the Government on October 20, 1938, for the sum of $304,000. A record-breaking payment of a portion of that loan was made several years ago—one that attracted the attention of the nation. On Monday of last week, John Heck, president of the Lyntegar Cooperative, and Frank Harris of Dawson county, vice-president, presented to Administrator of the REA, Claude Wickard, in the City of Washington a check for the balance of the principal and interest due on that note, the check being for the sum of $170,896.37; and received from Wickard the canceled note for $304,000.

The payment of this note in full, 21 years before its maturity date, was regarded in Washington as such a marvelous achievement that a photographer had appeared on the scene and he took a snapshot of Messrs. Heck and Harris and Wickard while Mr. Heck was in the act of presenting the check to Mr. Wickard. Mr. Heck brought a few of the photos home with him and presented one of them to the senior editor of The News.

It should be stated further, that in order to make various extensions and improvements of the Lyntegar lines over the past eleven years, several other loans have been made to Lyntegar, the total amount of loans advanced up to date being $2,919,283. Total principal and interest payments on these loans to date amount to $989,474. All loans are made for a period of 35 years and bear interest at the rate of 2 per cent. The maturity date of all these loans are far in the future, therefore, and Mr. Heck is sure that all of them will be paid on or before their maturity date, with perfect ease.

So excellent is Lyntegar's credit with the Government, that it has approved an additional loan for $1,860,000 to be used when Lyntegar wishes to use the money.

Some of these days soon the News expects to publish the names and positions of the 28 employees of the Cooperative, from General Manager down to janitor.

(Cont'd. From Page 1, Sec. 2) 23, where Tahoka held the Tigers on fourth down. Tahoka moved out to the 29 in three plays, but on the kick, Havens, who has a season kicking average of 35 yards to this game, dropped the ball, picked it up and kicked, but the ball was deflected and was killed for only 1-yard on the 30. Here, Slaton muffed a scoring opportunity, after Sooter carried to the 19 on the first play. Two 5-yard penalties, three incomplete passes, and an 8-yard run by Sparkman on fourth down ended the first half of play.

Tahoka Marches For TD Schulz brought the kickoff from the 22 to the 33. Ables, Schulz and Hyles moved to the 43, and then Smith passed to Havens 12 yards. Running plays carried to the Slaton 26, from which point Smith spotted Havens behind the Slaton defense and threw him a touchdown pass. Ables' placement was good, and that was all the scoring. Tahoka 20, Slaton 6.

On the second play after the kickoff, John Curry covered a Slaton fumble on the 37, but on Tahoka's first play from scrimmage, Slaton's Darrell Wiley intercepted Smith's pass on the 25 and ran it back to the 33. Slaton, on running plays and a 5-yard penalty on Tahoka, carried to Tahoka's 25, where Schulz covered a Tiger fumble on the Tahoka 20.

Drives Are Stopped Tahoka moved out to the 36, and on the opening play of the fourth period, Havens kicked 32 yards. Slaton was held for downs, and Thompson got off his only kick of the ball game, a short 16-yarder to the Tahoka 45. Jimmy Bragg was in at quarterback to get some playing experience, but Tahoka could not move, netted minus 5 yards, and Havens kicked 30 yards to the Slaton 30. Schulz hit the Slaton receiver, who fumbled the ball, and Brooks covered on the Slaton 32.

When Smith faded to pass, he was charged by the Slaton defense and chased back to the Tahoka 44. Taking Havens' short kick on its own 34, the Tigers completed an eight yard pass, their only completion of the game, and with a few running plays thrown in moved to the 48, where Thompson failed to make a first running on fourth down to Tahoka's 48.
