O'Donnell Man Killed By Train

Lloyd Erby Davis, Sr., 43, of O'Donnell was killed instantly at 11:15 a. m. Monday in the northern outskirts of O'Donnell when his car collided with a Santa Fe train.

Funeral services were held in O'Donnell First Baptist Church at 3:00 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. Troy Dale, pastor, officiating. Burial followed in O'Donnell Cemetery under direction of Stanley-Jones Funeral Home of Tahoka.

Mr. Davis, who lived on route 2 out of O'Donnell, is reported to have been driving north out of town on the highway cut-off. It was misting, and possibly he did not see the train coming toward the southwest into O'Donnell. At any rate, his 1951 Chevrolet coach collided with the engine, Mr. Davis was instantly killed, and his car was demolished.

He was born May 31, 1909, and had been a resident of Dawson county about twenty years. He lived three and a half miles southwest of O'Donnell, where he farmed. He also was superintendent of the O'Donnell School district.

Survivors include the wife; four sons, Lloyd, Jr., Wayne, Gerald, and Harvey, all of O'Donnell; one daughter, Wanda, of O'Donnell; three step daughters, Shirley and Patsy of O'Donnell and Mrs. Aubrey Carpenter of Wichita, Kansas; two brothers and four sisters.

State BTU Meet Opens in Lubbock

The state convention of the Baptist Training Union opened at Lubbock on Thursday morning, November 27 and will continue through Saturday noon.

This is the first time in many years that there has been a state meeting of the Baptists of Texas in this section of the state. There will be programs morning, afternoon, and evening, during the convention.

Dr. James N. Morgan of Fort Worth delivered the sermon for the first session on Thursday morning. Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Dallas was the principal speaker for the evening session of the first day.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the speaker on Friday morning. Dr. James L. Sullivan, popular pastor of the First Baptist Church, Abilene, will speak on Friday night. The International Choir of Wayland College will appear on several of the programs.

The afternoon sessions will be used for conferences in the planning of Training Union work in the local churches. Various contests sponsored by the Training Union will be conducted Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

Basketball Is Getting Started

Tahoka has three basketball games scheduled at Wilson Monday night—if Tahoka's football season ends at Stamford. If Tahoka wins there, the games will be canceled. Tahoka A and B boys' teams and the girls' team are the teams scheduled to play at Wilson.

Then, on Tuesday night, the girls' A team and the boys' B team will enter the annual Wilson tournament. Play will be on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

Only about six Tahoka boys have been working out. The others are still out for football.

Monday night the Tahoka girls defeated the O'Donnell girls in a game played here by a score of 20 to 15. However, the Freshman girls lost to O'Donnell Freshman girls 20 to 17.

A Clean City Is A Safe City!

J. S. Hutchison, Age 95, Is Dead

J. S. Hutchison, 95, a resident of Tahoka for six years, died Wednesday morning in Tahoka Hospital, where he had been a patient for 10 days.

Funeral services were to be held in the First Baptist Church at 10:00 a. m. Thursday, with Rev. Lee Ramsour, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Shreveport, La., his old home.

James Strawther Hutchison was born November 17, 1859, on Cedar Lawn Farm, Cooper county, Missouri. He was married Feb. 15, 1893, in Arkadelphia, Ark., to Miss Eloise Paxton.

The couple moved here in April, 1946, to live near their son and daughter, W. P. Hutchison and Mrs. K. R. Durham. Mrs. Hutchison died here nearly six months later, Sept. 5, 1946, and her body was taken back to Shreveport for burial.

Survivors include four sons, Lawton H. of Kilgore, W. P. (Pat) of Tahoka, James S. of Corona, Calif., and C. E. Hutchison of Shreveport, La.; two daughters, Miss Margaret Hutchison of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. K. R. Durham of Tahoka; ten grandchildren, and one great grandchild. Incidentally, C. E. Hutchison and Mrs. Durham are twins.

Baptist Revival Begins Sunday

The First Baptist Church will begin revival services Sunday. The meeting is scheduled to continue through December 7.

Some time ago the church decided to ask the pastor, Lee Ramsour, to do the preaching and the music director, Winifred Walker to lead the singing.

The general theme for the morning services will "Lovest Thou Me." In these services brief testimonies and devotionals will be presented by the members of the Womans Missionary Society.

Sermons for the meeting are to be as follows: Sunday morning, The Closed Door; evening, A Good Man Lost and A Bad Man Saved; Monday morning, The Gift of God's Love; evening, Let the Fire Fall; Tuesday morning, Love Thy Neighbor; evening, Why Do Souls Go Away From Jesus; Wednesday morning, Other Sheep; evening, Four Gospel Absurdities;

600 Tahokans Make Trip To Stamford For Game

More than 600 Lynn county people were off for Stamford Thursday morning for the Thanksgiving Day battle at 2:00 p. m. between the Tahoka Bulldogs, football champions of District 6-AA, and the Stamford Bulldogs, champions of District 5-AA.

The 40 Tahoka players and coaches left Tahoka Wednesday at 4:00 p. m., and spent the night at Stamford Inn. The band and pep squad went down Thursday morning, and were to be served lunch at noon by the Stamford Senior class.

Nearly 500 reserved seats were sold in Tahoka for the game. The stadium there seats 5,000, and a sell-out crowd was expected.

Stamford entered the game rated as the No. 2 Class AA team in the state, is undefeated this year, and was the heavy favorite to take Tahoka in stride.

However, the local Bulldogs were conceding nothing. Better teams than Stamford have been upset, and Coaches Bill Haralson and Bill Sharpley's boys were primed to make a fight for victory.

Two Tahoka boys were not expected to see service. John Foster, superb guard, was suffering an injured knee, and kick-off and defense specialist Willie Burl Lee was still out with a sprained arm.

By the time most readers of The News see this story the game will be history.

Farmers May Yet Sign For Program

Regulations have recently been changed to the extent that farm operators who have failed to sign an intention sheet for 1953 with their community committees, may now sign such forms in the county office.

Records show that a few operators had not signed an ACP, 201, 1953 intention sheet, with their community committees. Therefore, those who have not signed such forms, are urged to call at that office or contact your community committees and sign your intentions for 1953.

Those not signing, will not be eligible to draw assistance under the 1953 ACP program, if they have not signed the above mentioned form by December 5, 1952. The final date for accepting intention sheets for 1953 has been extended from November 28, 1952 to December 5, 1952.

Seven Charged After Liquor Board Raids

Charges were filed against seven in Lynn county last week end for violation of liquor laws as a result of investigations by agents from the Liquor Control Board and the local Sheriff's office, according to Mitchell Williams, county attorney.

The raids were a part of the Board's drive against organized "bootlegging" activities in this area. Those arrested included four Tahoka Negroes, and two Negroes and one Mexican from O'Donnell.

Three of those arrested entered guilty pleas before County Judge W. M. Mathis Monday, and were assessed fines of $200.00 and costs and 30 days in jail each. The jail sentence will run out Christmas eve.

These three are Henry Johnson and John Henry Williams of Tahoka and Jettie D. Miller of O'Donnell.

Others arrested were: "Rock" Williams, O'Donnell, charged with illegal possession and unlawful sale; Carmen Gonzales, O'Donnell Mexican woman, unlawful sale; C. F. Bryson, Tahoka, unlawful sale; Willie Mae Payne, Tahoka, unlawful sale.

Local Boys Win Chick Awards

The three local winners are: Harold Rowe, route 2; Don Spears, route 4; and Dean Daniels, route 1.

They are in the "red" award group, and each will receive a cash premium of $5.40. Mr. Griffin said.

Fifteen boys in the district were among the winners.

A total of 1.01 inch of rainfall was received in Tahoka during the month of November through Wednesday.

The Government gauge showed Monday's mist and rain totaled .51 of an inch.

Tahoka received .22 of an inch on November 4, and .38 of an inch on November 9.

Monday's rain was followed by a cold north wind on Tuesday morning.

USO Drive Is Set For December 1

Lynn county's USO fund drive committee will attempt to raise the county's $993.00 quota in a one-day drive on Monday, December 1, Mrs. J. B. Oliver, county chairman, states.

The USO funds are used for entertainment of boys in the service overseas. Lynn county has 186 men and women in the Armed Forces overseas, Mrs. Oliver is informed.

"Every penny raised in this drive will be spent for entertainment of our boys overseas," Mrs. Oliver said. "The USO means much to our boys in foreign lands. It is the only touch of home that they have." She asks that each citizen take this into consideration when he makes his contribution to this fund.

She is being assisted in the drive in Tahoka by Mrs. Paul Halamicek, Mrs. Oran Short, Mrs. Jack Brice, and Mrs. Ware C. High; at Grassland by Mrs. Roy LeMond; at Draw, by Mrs. John Berry; at New Home by Mrs. E. R. Blakney; at Wilson by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cook; and at O'Donnell by Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Hoffman.

Mrs. Nina Short is treasurer, and Mrs. Frank Hill is publicity chairman.

Citizens may give their contributions to any of these people, or may mail their checks to Mrs. Oliver or Mrs. Short at Tahoka.

Methodist Men Entertain Wives

Nearly one hundred people attended the ladies' night meeting of the Methodist Men in Fellowship Hall of the Church Monday night.

Mrs. C. C. Coffee of Lubbock, formerly of Lynn county, delivered a very interesting talk on "Stewardship." Mrs. Coffee currently is president of the Northwest Texas Conference Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

Two vocal solos were presented by Mrs. E. W. Patterson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ira Joe Hart.

Clint Walker, president of the Methodist Men organization, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. A. M. Bray introduced the speaker.

Preceding the program a Mexican dinner was served the group by Perry Walker, Maurice Hufaker, and E. W. Patterson. The chili and tamales were furnished the group free by the Aus-Tex company.

The annual short course for dairymen will be held at Texas A. & M. College on December 4 and 5.

Tahoka citizens will vote Saturday between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. at the City Hall on two bond proposals, one for building of a municipal swimming pool and one for a new city hall and fire station.

Qualified, property-owning citizens of the town are eligible to vote.

Ivan McWhirter will serve as presiding judge, and his assistants will be Mrs. E. R. Edwards and Mrs. Vernon Davis.

There are two propositions on the ballot.

No. 1 calls for $60,000.00 in bonds for the city hall.

No. 2 calls for $25,000.00 in bonds for the swimming pool.

The bonds would be payable serially over a period not to exceed 30 years and bearing interest at a rate not to exceed 5 percent per annum.

Members of the Council state the City of Tahoka is in excellent financial shape, and voting of the bonds would not cause the tax rate to be raised.

Council members frankly state that they do not intend to spend anywhere near $60,000.00 on a city hall, but that part of this sum will be used on the swimming pool.

Here is the situation: The pool will cost about $55,000.00. However, Tahoka's valuation is such that the law does not permit voting more than $25,000.00 for "park improvements," which include such things as building swimming pools. The law does not prohibit use of part of funds voted for other improvements.

Therefore, both issues must be voted if the pool is to be built.

They point out the present make-shift city hall is in bad state of repair, carries a high insurance rate, and insurance inspectors are threatening to condemn it. Cost of remodeling the building is so great that they feel it is good business to erect a new fireproof structure of larger size with vaults for safe-keeping of permanent records, jail cells, and suitable living quarters for a member of the fire department.

Public demand has been great for a swimming pool here, and the Council sees no other way to build it.

Proponents of the swimming pool point out that it would furnish needed wholesome recreation for the children and adults of the community, save trips to Lubbock, and would be a business asset to the town.

The pool would make Tahoka a more attractive place to many people as a place to live, and would therefore be beneficial to all property owners. It would be an important factor in keeping Tahoka money at home, and would be a drawing card to people living in all parts of this county and in neighboring counties.

The City proposes, if the bonds are voted, to improve the grounds around the pool into a playground and park area, using City employees and equipment to do this work. A site would have to be secured, but the Council has two or three sites in mind and will be guided by advice from the citizens on which they would prefer.

The City Hall would be of brick and concrete construction. The swimming pool, designed by experts in this work, would be of the most modern type with chlorinating equipment, bath rooms, and every modern device for safety and protection of health.

Visiting Dr. and Mrs. C. Skiles Thomas and children Wednesday through the week end are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lyons of Galveston, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lyons and boys, Lindsey and Ken, of San Angelo.

Odds and Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

To me, the American Indian is a never-ceasing puzzle and enigma. He is a type of human being who at the same time arouses your unfeigned admiration and your bitterest scorn; whom you may love or detest, depending possibly upon the most trivial circumstances. His courage and his loyalty to a friend may clutch him to your heart with hooks of steel while his vengefulness and cruelty may inspire in your heart and soul a hatred that is akin to that which you bear toward the vicious rattlesnake that strikes at yourself or your child. The original American Indian as a rule was not a negative character; he was a very positive character; and while he has spilt the blood of thousands upon thousands of unoffending men, women, and children in this country and his war-whoop has paralyzed thousands of others with fear, yet individual Indians here and there and even whole tribes of Indians now and then have so inspired the admiration of white men that our poets and authors have immortalized some of them in the literature of our country. What school-boy does not delight to read James Fenimore Cooper's Leather cap stocking Tales? or Henry W. Longfellow's "Hiawatha" or scores and scores of other stories about the Indians?

Not only has the Indian won a place in the literature of our country, but the names of many individuals and tribes have become indelibly entwined in the history of our nation. Did you realize that 24, exactly half, of our forty-eight states bear Indian names? Go down the line and in the maintenance of peaceable relations between him and his tribes and the inhabitants of Plymouth colony for fifty years.

That it was possible and feasible for Englishmen and other Europeans to live in peace with many of the Indian tribes was proven by the peaceful relations that Roger Williams of Rhode Island and William Penn of Pennsylvania maintained for many years between their followers and the Indian tribes among whom they settled. Both of these great leaders were good and unselfish men in a marked degree and they themselves treated the Indians fairly and insisted that their colonists do the same thing. Both of them entered into peace pacts with the Indians which stayed off war for years and years.

When war did come, however, the Indians waged war with such stealthiness and cruelty and savagery as to strike terror into the hearts of civilized men whose wives and children were kept in constant fear and peril. This created intense hatred of the Indians on the part of the white settlers and thus not only made it harder to maintain peace but also made it seem imperative in many cases that the Indians be exterminated.

Furthermore in the wars between the French and the English that broke out in Europe and then spread to America, the Indians almost without exception sided with the French and were encouraged by the French to raid and to murder English settlers wherever found. Hence the four French and Indian Wars, so-called, were wars of horrible butchery. Now, it may be and evidently was partly the fault of the English colonists that they were not able to get along well with the Indians. Many of the English cheated the Indians in trading with them, often deceived them, and thereby made enemies of them. English arrogance was also doubtless responsible for some of the ill feeling that arose among the Indians against the English. If the latter had been more honest and had used more common sense in dealing with the Indians, some of their troubles might have been averted.

But there is another side to this problem also. As the white immigrants came in greater and even greater numbers, the Indians began to sense the danger of being driven eventually from their accustomed hunting grounds and to resent the coming of the whites. That caused them in many cases to reverse their peaceful attitude toward the whites and make war upon them. Possibly the fiercest war that was ever waged by the Indians against the whites in New England was King Philip's War. King Philip was a son of that great and peace-loving Indian Chief Massasoit who effected and maintained that peace treaty with the Massachusetts Puritans for fifty years, and King Philip himself was at first very friendly toward the whites. Then one day it dawned upon him that the whites were gradually crowding his people off their native habitat; a feeling of fear and resentment swept through his soul; that resentment speedily grew into bitter hatred; then he gathered his clans together, and one morning the Indian war-whoop rent the air. This was followed by the screams of the wounded and the dying. Hundreds and hundreds of whites were murdered in their homes or in their little fields or in the near-by market places. The whites, of course, fought back in desperation and had to fight until the red man was practically exterminated or driven out.

Now here is the white man's side of the matter. Those Indians were not utilizing the land for production. They were not causing the soil to bring forth fruits and grains necessary to feed the inhabitants or to ship abroad. They wanted to use the continent merely as a hunting and a fishing ground with a little patch of corn and beans here and there to supply their own needs. With an Old World teeming with hungry and ragged populations, does a savage people have a right to hold millions and millions of acres of land out of production just to satisfy their own pleasure and to meet their own primitive needs? No. They had no right to hold these lands against industrious peoples who desired to build homes upon them and to utilize the lands for the production of food and clothing. They Throughout all of Christendom the Holy Bible is recognized as The Word of Life. The fact that year after year it remains the best seller is evidence that its message prompts thousands of people to turn to it for guidance, and encouragement and comfort. Those who profit from its manifold message most are those who read it most.

Odds & Ends

say we cheated the Indian out of his lands. He owned no lands. He only occupied them and played the part of the dog in the manger. It is true that many Indian tribes, including most of the Algonquins, did have fixed places of abode—crude wigwams as a rule—near which they had their little patches of corn and beans and possibly some vegetables. But they had little initiative, and as they lived in New England and along the Atlantic seaboard in 1620, so they lived probably a thousand years ago; and if they had been left to themselves and their own devices, they probably would be living in just about the same way a thousand years hence.

It is preposterous to claim that the Indian, merely because he was here first, had a right to hold out of production indefinitely the rich alluvial soils and the fertile prairie lands of the great Mississippi valley or of any other section of the United States. Neither the Pueblos nor the nomadic tribes of Indians have a right to permanently block the way to the development of the resources of any country. They have no right to stop the wheels of progress.

While some of the Indians who inhabited this country before the white man came had fixed places of abode, dwelling in crude wigwams, or in clusters of tents called tepees, or in rough stone or adobe huts, or in caves and in the shelter of over-hanging cliffs, while others like the Bedouins of the East roamed over the prairies and lived by hunting and slaying such wild game as he could find, or wandered along the streams and through the brush and lived by fishing and picking berries and nuts, yet all of them were much alike in one respect: they all had little or no initiative, were non-progressive, accumulated little property, established no schools nor charitable institutions, made little progress in the sciences or arts, were averse to change and to physical labor, but were taught to steal and to kill and often waged war among themselves. This is an unexplainable way of life when it is admitted—as it must be admitted—that among them were many men of brilliant talents and great powers of leadership. The mere mention of the names of a few of these leaders is sufficient to prove the point. Among the Algonquins, for example, there were such leaders as Massasoit, King Phillip, and Powhatan, already mentioned, and others such as Pontiac, Black Hawk, and Tecumseh, who arose later; but we will have space here and now to mention Pontiac alone, who has been described as an "organizing genius who probably has had no equal among American redmen."

Pontiac was the Ottawa Indian chief who led the attack against Braddock, the British General sent out by the governor of Virginia in 1755, to crush the Indians who had joined the French forces in the war between the French and the English to determine who should dominate the North American continent. Braddock, you remember, had plunged into the forest with his army to squelch the Indians without knowing anything about their mode of warfare and without thinking it worth-while to regard the warnings given to him by a young subordinate Virginia officer named George Washington. Pontiac was the leader of the combined forces of three Indian tribes, the Ojibways, the Potawatomes, and the Ottawas, all belonging to the great Algonquin family of Indians; and they attacked the British from ambush and literally cut Braddock's army all to pieces. Braddock himself was killed. Young George Washington had to gather up the fragments of the shattered army and get them back to safety. That was feather No. 1 in Chief Pontiac's ornate headgear.

These engagements were fought in the last of the French and Indian Wars—if you had not already recognized that fact—and the war virtually ended in 1759 when General Wolfe defeated the French General Moncalm on the Heights of Abraham and took Quebec. That settled France's hash in so far as her domination of America was concerned. Chief Pontiac himself and his Army of Indians had fared well enough, however, and he had become reconciled to the fact that the English and not the French were to be supreme in beautiful Ohio, and he was really feeling quite friendly toward the English; but at that juncture an event occurred that aroused the Big Chief's ire, and the English were stirring up a terribly fierce animal when they aroused the ire of Pontiac.

It was the year 1760. Having thoroughly and finally defeated the French, the English began to move in and take possession of the disputed territory. Old Pontiac—or young Pontiac, rather for he still was only forty—noticed the move and decided that the English were arrogantly perching on his preserves. Hatred of the English burned in his breast, but like Old Brer Rabbit he lay low and said nothing, that is, nothing out loud. He secretly determined to utterly exterminate the British or to drive them out of the country, and secretly he laid his plans. He spent the next two years in organizing practically all the Indian tribes in the Mississippi Valley, from Canada clear down to the Gulf of Mexico. It was the greatest confederacy of Indians ever effected anywhere or at any time. And yet it was done so secretly that neither the English nor the Americans knew anything about it.

Having perfected his plans, Chief Pontiac struck on May 7, 1763, by making an attack on the little village of Detroit. Although it was then a town of only a few hundred people, Pontiac was keen enough to see the strategic importance of the place, and he wanted it. The British had also recognized its strategic importance and had made stronger preparations to defend it than Pontiac suspected. He failed to take the town, but it was more than a year before the British could chase him off. He had taken eight other British forts in the Lake region, however, which was some consolation. His failure at Detroit must have taken the pep out of him, for he finally pulled up and slipped back into Ohio. I have no information that he ever renewed the fight. If he had captured Detroit, there might have been a general concerted uprising of the Indians against the British from Lake Superior clear down to the Gulf—and nobody knows what the result would have been except that thousands of whites might have been murdered before the Indians could have been exterminated.

Pontiac hung around the Ohio Illinois region however till 1769, when a Kaskaskia Indian murdered Chief Pontiac at the village of Cahokia, Illinois; and the Ottawa Indians in revenge turned upon the Illinois tribe and practically wiped them off the map.

Thus came to an end one of the blackest-hearted and reddest handed Indian Chiefs that ever sent an arrow into the heart of a human being. The city of Pontiac near Detroit, where the Pontiac cars are manufactured, was named to perpetuate the memory of this revolutionary.

Wilson Defeats Wellman 31-28

Wilson Mustangs pleased a home crowd Friday night by upsetting the Wellman Wildcats 31 to 28 on a sensational second half come-back. Wellman led 28 to 18 at halftime.

Thus, Coach A. J. Sales' boys, playing their second year in District 4-B 11-man football got out of the cellar in the tough 11-team district with two victories and eight defeats. The Wilson team has been handicapped from injuries received early in the season.

The teams finished in order, as follows: Idalou, Whitharral, Meadow, Ropesville, Plains, White face, Frenship, Cooper, Wilson, Wellman, and Lorenzo.

Friday night, the first half was a see-saw affair, although Wellman led all the way, each team scoring every time it got the ball. Early in the game, Wellman scored on a pass play, Quarterback J. W. Hawkins to Lowell Weaver. Then, Wilson scored with Jimmy Schneider, 140 pound Sophomore back, crossing the goal to end a drive downfield. Wellman's Hawkins then passed to Lester Duncan for a score, and Wilson bounced right back with Thomas Autry, 170 pound Senior back going over. Cobe Conrad scored for Wellman, and then Wilson bounced again with Mason Davidson, 130 pound Senior back, going over. Then Hawkins scored again for Wellman. The visitors had scored four TD's and four extra points, while Wilson had scored three TD's and no extra points.

But, in the second half, Wilson held the visitors scoreless while tallying two more touchdowns. Autry scored in the third quarter, and Davidson scored in the fourth and then ran over the extra point to cinch the victory at 31 to 28.

Kelcy Speaker At Rotary Club

Doyle Kelcy, minister of the Tahoka Church of Christ, delivered the Thanksgiving talk at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week using the subject, "Perpetual Thanksgiving."

Herman Heck, program chairman for the month, introduced the speaker.

Three new members of the club were given the official welcome by Wynne Collier. They are Durwood Howard, Dee Green, and W. H. Eudy.

The club voted unanimously to sponsor Miss Savannah Tunnell as a candidate for the Rotary Foundation scholarship to study in a foreign university. One student from this Rotary district will be selected to spend a year of study in some foreign university as a part of the service club's international good-will program.

Miss Tunnell is a graduate of Tahoka High and of Texas Tech, and has been teaching Journalism in Phillips High School. She has recently resigned this position to accept a position in Washington, D. C., but will be granted a leave-of-absence from the government job if she is selected for the Rotary scholarship.

Her candidacy was presented the local club by Ross Smith and Dr. Emil Prohl.

CARD OF THANKS
To a host of people in and around Tahoka, we express our thanks. For every interested inquiry; for every prayer in our behalf; for every deed of kindness; for those who sat with us through the nights; and for the services of the doctors and nurses, we are deeply grateful. May God's richest blessings be upon you now, and throughout the days to come.—The John A. Roberts family.

Texas agricultural producers bought 387,761 tons of fertilizers during the first six months of 1952. Total sales for the period were about an eighth higher than for the previous year and a third higher than for the same period three years ago. Harris county led in total sales.

Texas 4-H'ers Earn High Honors

HIGH HONORS were accorded Texas 4-H'ers for top records in the 1952 National 4-H Canning, Dress Revue, Field Crops and Poultry programs. Each received an all-expense trip to the 31st National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago. Highlights of their club careers are given below.

Representing Texas in the National 4-H Dress Revue program will be Jo Ann Glover, 17, Quanah. Through her 4-H project work, planning and making a harmonious ensemble has become a simple matter to Jo Ann. Her prize winning costume, which she designed herself, is a one-piece Irish linen casual in the new terra cotta shades. The skirt is made with peg top and large pockets. The collar is wing type with matching cuffs on the sleeves. A self belt and tailored buttonholes complete a becoming dress which may be worn for many occasions. Accessories consist of navy blue shoes and bag, white gloves and hat made of the terra cotta linen. Jo Ann has been vice-president of her club for three years. She will be the guest of Simplicity Pattern Co. at the Congress.

Ernestine Wolf, 17, of McDade. This young homemaker has canned more than 450 jars of fruit and vegetables last summer using much of the produce from her sister's garden project. Kerz Glass provided her all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. In club work eight years Ernestine's impressive list of achievements includes a total of 2,799 jars of food canned, 102 of articles of clothing sewn, and she has raised 173 chickens. The large variety of food she has canned includes beans, peas, beefs, Irish potatoes and many jams and jellies. Ernestine's canning project has won her for a total of 38 blue, red and white ribbons.

Wayne Shipp, 17, of Gainesville, state 4-H poultry winner, has made a pleasant and constructive 4-H project pay off. Through specialized knowledge and training in cleanliness, sanitation, good flock management, and proper feeding, he has raised 767 white Leghorns in five years. He believes that by starting a new flock each year, he is assured of enough eggs to sell while prices are favorable. In 1951, he embarked upon a new career, raising 100 broilers and 62 turkeys. Robert has won 99 ribbons in county, district and state events. Robert also found time to give numerous demonstrations. His award of a trip to a National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago was provided by Dearborn Motors.

All these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Santa, Reindeer Are Coming Soon

For five years grateful parents of skeptical children have been able to prove to their kids that reindeer are real. This through the courtesy of Santa Claus, Tahoka Chamber of Commerce and Grady Carothers, Goldthwaite ranchman, who not only brings the animals down from Alaska, but also shows them off at Christmas in Santa Claus parades.

The parade will be in Tahoka on Monday, December 15, at 10:00 a. m.

And the storybook reindeer come from an equally storybook land—the icy shores of the Arctic Ocean in northernmost Alaska. Every fall Carothers goes up to the north where he dogsleds onto the snow-covered tundras to gather his herd and fly it 6,000 miles south to Texas.

The Eskimos, fur-clothed people who know as much about the United States, as you do, own the herds and sell Carothers his choice at $150 to $250 a head. But the territorial government, which supervises all herds, is looking over his shoulder at every transaction to see that all is okay. The Reindeer cost about $1,000 per head by the time they get to Texas.

Strangely enough, the Texas climate is fine with the reindeer. That they are kept in an air-conditioned barn and let out to pasture only at night when it's relatively cool may have something to do with it. They are fed an oatmeal diet which they seem to like as well as their native food, reindeer moss.

A reindeer is not a fierce animal, Carothers says, and won't charge a man except when he's first caught and isn't used to a rope. His 18-head herd is now more used to people than people are used to them. They parade each year on a 10-state itinerary before thousands of inquisitive faces.

Carothers first got the idea to import reindeer by paying more attention to his children's requests to see a real reindeer than most parents do. Three years and innumerable letters later, he was given his first permit to take reindeer out of Alaska.

Alaska recently had a shortage of female reindeer, and it wasn't until last year that Carothers was allowed to export any females. Now it looks as though he is really starting a herd. He's looking for a reindeer calf in a few months, which, when born, will be the first reindeer to be born in the Southern states.

But the important thing to Carothers is not so much how many deer he has as what he will do with them. This year he's expanding operations and touring three teams of reindeer simultaneously. Like Santa's "real" reindeer, these are well-traveled too. And also like Santa's animals they bring joy and wonder everywhere they go.

Homemakers can save time and energy by using an automatic clothes drier.

Hunters Warned To Be Careful

AUSTIN (Sp.) — The Chief Clerk of the Game and Fish Commission appealed for hunters' cooperation in the grim statistical routine of adding up casualties.

"And the best cooperation," he said, "naturally can come in helping keep down the number of hunters shot."

The Chief Clerk made his appeal as preparations were being made for the big game season under the general law which opens November 18.

At least five Texas hunters have died from accidents in the field this fall. Four died from gunfire and one drowning while trying to retrieve a duck.

A Hillsboro man, a Porter Springs youth and a Houston youth were killed in handling their own guns. Mistaken for a deer, a Livingston man was killed by his own father who is partially blind. The drowning man was from El Paso. He was hunting alone when he vainly tried to retrieve a duck.

The Chief Clerk said the big game season provides even greater hazards than the waterfowl and small game seasons. The reason, he explained, is that deer rifles are more powerful and shoot farther.

He listed some pointers covering the more common hunting hazards:

- Don't pull the trigger until certain of the target. Each year several hunters are mistaken for game and shot.
- Don't shoot a gun without first ascertaining that the barrel is clear of obstructions.
- Don't drag a loaded gun muzzle toward yourself in moving it through or under a fence or from a car.
- He said the Commission will make periodical reports on casualties.

Drouth Increases Hazards of Fire

COLLEGE STATION. —Halloween was no joke for Texas Forest Service employees who battled wild forest fires seven days a week through October. Most of the fires were caused by careless smokers.

Approximately 70 per cent of 1952 forest fires in Texas occurred in October. Forest fires like nothing better than a dry fall following a dry summer. Poor visibility due to smoke and numerous accidents hampered fire control activities.

Forest fires have no respect for property or life. At least nine houses were destroyed in the two-day period October 27 and 28. Barns, fences, hay crops and livestock were also lost in the wild forest fires. Even the smallest fire kills little trees, trees needed to supply forest products for the next generation.

Texas Forest Service officials were discouraged by weather reports which promised no relief. Land owners were cautioned to discourage hunting on their property during the current drouth. If hunting is permitted, hunters should be cautioned to refrain from smoking. Use of warming fires should be discouraged. Brush burning or burning of fields should be postponed until a safer period. Chaperone your cigarette; don't let it go out alone.

First Football Team Recalled

The recent success of the Tahoka Bulldogs in winning the fourth football championship for this school, together with the homecoming activities, put A. P. (Pete) Edwards, now of Lubbock, to reminiscing about Tahoka's first football team.

This first team was organized in the fall of 1922. Some of the schools in this area had started football, and the boys at Tahoka High, then in the old building in South Tahoka now torn away, decided Tahoka should have a team. H. P. Caveness was superintendent at the time. One of the teachers, M. B. (Bryan) Hood, who was reared at Grassland and who now is manager of the Chevrolet agency at Plainview, had had a little playing experience in football at college, and he agreed to coach the team.

Members, as best A. P. and Maurice Small can recall, were: Robert Noble, center; Charles Tunnell and Hendrix, guards; Sam Floyd, Maurice Small, and Emory Hall, tackles; Frank Larkin, Jack Fenton, and Hubert Davis, ends; Pete Edwards, quarterback; Jess Lockhart, fullback; Jack Jackson and Edwin "Red" May, halfbacks.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT ASSEMBLY OF GOD

A revival meeting is in progress at the Assembly of God Church, located at 1929 Lockwood or the Brownfield highway.

Evangelist E. E. Mason is in charge of the services.

Rev. Mason was here in a tent revival in 1941 when the church was located in the southeast part of town. He is a powerful preacher, with a powerful message of deliverance for soul, body, and spirit.

Everyone welcome.—Rev. and W. V. Bentley, Pastors.

Postoffice Opens Christmas Season Today; Early Mailing Is Suggested

Postmaster Happy Smith opened the Yuletide season officially today. He issued his annual appeal for early mailing of Christmas greeting cards and gift packages.

"It's later than you think!" the postmaster warned. "Most people wait until middle December rolls around before they give the increasingly heavy Christmas mails a second thought."

The postmaster expects the greatest flood of Yuletide mail in local history. He predicted it would exceed "by a considerable margin" the record-breaking 1951 holiday season, when 300,000 pieces of mail were cancelled.

"This year's deluge of Christmas mail will strain post office facilities severely," he stated. "But we'll get everything delivered by Christmas, if the public cooperates wholeheartedly."

Christmas packages for distant states should be mailed by Dec. 5, he declared. All Yuletide parcels should be on its way by Dec. 10.

Christmas cards to friends and loved ones in other states should be deposited by Dec. 15. Greetings for local delivery should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

Preparations to handle this Yuletide rush have already begun. The post office is training extra mail clerks and carriers, setting up new sorting tables, hauling out reserve mail sacks, and overhauling delivery trucks. To keep Christmas mail on schedule, the postmaster asks that you—

1. Stop at the post office next week to purchase the extra stamps you're going to need, thus avoiding last-minute crowds. When buying stamps for Christmas cards, bear in mind the desirability of sending the cards by first-class mail. The rate for unsealed cards is 2 cents and cards mailed in this way do not rate forwarding or return services.

2. Check and revise your Christmas card address list this weekend. Purchase your Christmas cards early and address and stamp them at once. Then put them in a convenient place for mailing at the proper time.

3. Lay in adequate supplies of heavy cardboard, sturdy outer paper, strong cord and printed class labels for wrapping parcels post. Packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight, and must not measure more than 100 inches in length and girth combined.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Since the election, this column has received a flood of mail from all over the country, asking questions on what small business wants from new administration.

Most of the varied questions have been answered by majority vote of independent businessmen through regular polls conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business.

Here are some of the questions asked, and the majority vote of independent businessmen.

"What new legislation do independent businessmen want?"

By and large, none. Naturally, in common with most, businessmen would like stronger laws against communism.

"Do independent businessmen want anti-chain legislation?"

The majority answer is no. Independent businessmen feel attacking big business solely because it's big is sheer demagoguery.

"Isn't this stand inconsistent?"

No. Independent businessmen only want long-existing anti-trust law enforced, especially the sections prohibiting secret discounts, and other undercover practices between manufacturers and some big retail outlets.

"Isn't this a Pollyanna attitude?"

No independent businessmen claim this. There is a limit to the competitive vigor any operation depending upon hired management employees can marshal when competing with businesses.

where the owner is the active on-the-ground manager, if both operations have the same prices and rebates from suppliers.

"How can this be done?"

Appointment of a competent assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division with immunity from pressure, thus ending constant dismissal of competent men from this post as witnessed in the past.

"Is this goal possible?"

Yes, in new Congress Small Business has many champions needing only strong public support.

"What about controls?"

All controls, OPS, etc. should be abolished. Not only failing to accomplish any good, they are harming independent business by imposing a costly burden of overhead. Besides wasting taxes, they are also nurturing Socialists with power.

"What about taxes?"

Independent businessmen want taxes cut NOW, nationally, and at state, county and city levels.

"Do independent businessmen feel that one of the major political parties has a stronger regard for independent business?"

No poll has been taken on this. During last GOP reign anti-trust law enforcement was lacking. Many feel this caused depression. During last 29 years much bipartisan progress at Congressional level was blocked at administration level. Both Democratic and Republican Congressmen, backed by organized independent business, have done some outstanding work for free enterprise, but too often the march to economic freedom, bipartisanly organized on Capitol Hill, has run into booby traps enroute to Constitution Avenue.

Repeat the address inside the outer wrappings, in case they are damaged in transit.

"Above all," the postmaster said, "please address plainly and completely. Give the full name, house number, street, name of city, zone, and state. And don't forget to write your return address on Christmas card envelopes. Authorities on etiquette say it's perfectly proper, because it helps people bring their address books up-to-date. But a return address is frequently even more helpful to us!"
