Annual Red Cross Drive Near Quota

Lynn county's Red Cross drive conducted Tuesday of this week will result in the county reaching, or almost reaching its quota. Ross Smith, secretary of the Lynn county chapter, told The News Thursday he had received, or had definite reports, which placed the total at $2,836.10, with five communities yet to be heard from. The chapter had hoped to raise $3,650, though the minimum quota had been set at $3,324.00.

Both Tahoka and O'Donnell were near their quotas, but each expected several larger contributions to come in. Most of the smaller communities reporting exceeded their quotas. Mrs. Myrna Dean Verner was the drive chairman. To kick-off the campaign, she held a dinner for workers at the Legion Hall on Monday night.

Those who were not seen in the drive can yet help this worthy cause by sending their check to Mrs. Verner, Ross Smith, or to any of the workers.

The following was reported up to Thursday at 11 a. m.:

Tahoka	$934.00
O'Donnell	813.00
Wilson	308.50
West Point	152.00
Newmoore	61.50
Lakeview (partial)	41.43
Dixie	120.00
Wayside	67.00
Wells	162.50
New Lynn	95.00
Draw-Redwine	134.00
Total	$2,889.53

No reports had at that time been received from New Home, Petty, Grassland, Gordon, and Midway.

Junior Play Set For Tonight

The Junior Class of Tahoka High School will present the Junior play, "Clementine," tonight, Friday, March 6, at the High School auditorium. Curtain time will be 8:00 o'clock.

The characters are: Clementine Kelly, a tomboy; JoAnn Fentoff; Mary Kelly, Clem's mother; Jerry Alrdidge; Gerald Kelly, the Mayor and Clem's father; Milfred Ratliff; Bertha, the housekeeper; Villa Phillips; Abe Carter, the handyman; Jerry King; Hank Matthews, Clem's pal; Jimmy Bragg; Pete, a ladies man; Jimmy Whorton; Tubby, who has hayfever; Rollin McCord; Cathy, who has discovered boys; Sue Dollins; Jane Ann, a little gossip; Loretta Henry; Ann McNeill, a speech teacher; Jane Shepherd; and Miss Purnella Pringle, Ann's aunt, Betty Hubbard.

The setting is the living room in Mayor Kelly's home in Hooter-ville. Clem is talking to Abe about her troubles which are: elocution lessons, football and school. One day while playing football on Miss Pringle's vacant lot, Clementine had a terrible accident. From then on Clem had to make sure where she played football, not on just any vacant lot.

Mary, Clem's mother, Cathy and Jane Ann were always trying to get Clem to act like a girl in stead of a tomboy. They finally succeeded, she got her end-curl, wore make-up, and even "Well, you just have to see it to know what else."

The master of ceremonies will be Roy Gene Sherrard; stage manager, Willie Lee; prompters, Joy Tomlinson, Lou Ann King, and Zuella Gray. Usherettes, Shirley Graves and Gladys Ghormley, Bobby Lehman and Billy Tong are in charge of the sale of tickets. Mr. Edgett and Mr. Hensley are the Class sponsors.

Admission prices will be 65 cents for adults, and 35 cents for students.

Mrs. Lucy Drager is a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital.

Many Patrons Visit Schools

In spite of the inclement weather, a fine turn-out of parents was had by the local schools Tuesday during its observance of National Education Week.

Supt. Otis Spears reports that the Elementary Schools had 143 parent visitors during the day Tuesday, and that approximately 100 of the visitors had lunch in the school cafeteria at noon.

About seventy-five adults, including a number of the Masonic Lodge members, visited the High School Tuesday night, according to Principal Jake Jacobs.

A complete schedule of classes was in operation, on a ten-minute class period basis, during which patrons visited the class rooms of their children to become better acquainted with the teachers and the work being done.

Following the visitation period, a program was presented in the auditorium sponsored by the Student Council, with Earl Bartley as master of ceremonies, and further information was presented on the educational program.

Reflector Tape Put On Autos

The Tahoka Jaycees met Wednesday noon for their weekly luncheon at the Legion Hall with sixteen members and five visitors present.

Odell Heathington and Bill Mayes, directors of the Ralls Jaycees visited the local club in behalf of Mr. Heathington's candidacy for state vice president from this region. Urging the local club to have their five votes represented at the state convention to be held in Corpus Christi in April—to help protect the interest of the little clubs, as a few resolutions of importance to these small clubs will be voted on.

Jack Blackburn, Muleshoe Jaycees, was also a visitor, and gave the local club an outline of what one could expect at this year's state convention.

Scotchlite On Saturday of last week, a total of 180 cars and approximately 20 bicycles were scotch-lit—as the opening of the Jaycee safety campaign.

The scotchlite campaign will be held throughout the month of March, being sold on each Saturday at the court house square by the Jaycee members. Anyone desiring scotchlite tape, may purchase same from any Jaycee member at any time. Bicycles are being taped free of charge. A charge of $1.00 per car, for a strip five-feet long, is being made to pay for the tape.

All men, 21 to 35 years of age are urged and invited to attend the weekly luncheons, held on Wednesday.

New Home Starts Scholastic Census

Taking of the annual scholastic census in the New Home school district got under way this week, according to Supt. James Vaughn.

The census will be taken again this year in the same manner as in the past, by sending enumeration cards out by the school children. All parents are asked to cooperate in getting every child of school age enumerated, as the district's finances depend in a great measure on having every child listed.

Parents having children who will become of school age for the next school year, or those having children not already on the school list for some other reason, are asked to get their census blanks at the school.

Basketball Teams, Coaches Honored At Dinner In Cafeteria Monday Eve

Ninety people attended the dinner Monday night in the school cafeteria honoring Tahoka High School basketball teams. The dinner was prepared and served by the Bulldog Mothers, and the program which followed was in charge of team captains with Charles Hyles acting as master of ceremonies.

The invocation was by Supt. Otis Spears, following which a fried-chicken dinner was served buffet style by the Mothers.

As the principal number on the program which followed, Hyles called on Coach Jake Jacobs for the talk of the evening.

Jacobs outlined the season's accomplishments, stating that he was proud of the boys and girls for their great effort, their clean play and sportsmanship. After all, the main purpose of sports is to train for better citizenship.

The A team boys won 12 and lost 12 games, taking second place in District 6AA conference play, defeating Levelland on its own court and coming back from a lop-sided defeat to take a victory over a fine O'Donnell team. Though the boys did not take a championship, they did try hard and played clean ball, although they had a little hard luck. They averaged 47 points per game over the 24-game season, a good scoring average for any team, especially when it is considered that most of the Bulldog games were against the strongest teams in this area.

One of the brightest aspects of the season was the fact that nearly 30 High School boys were out for the sport, and Tahoka is building for the future in basketball.

The B team boys won nine and lost seven games for a better than average season record.

The Freshman boys won six and lost four games, taking first place in the New Home tournament and second place in the Seagraves tournament.

Coach Jacobs praised his boys highly for their efforts. He also paid tribute to the parents, especially the Bulldog Mothers, for their cooperation during the past year. He also paid tribute to Supt. Otis Spears, Coaches (Cont'd. On Back Page)

All men of the church and community are urged to attend.

Postpone Religious Survey At Wilson

The Wilson Community Religious Survey which was to have been conducted this past Sunday has been postponed until this Sunday, March 8. This postponement was necessary because of the funeral of one of Wilson's prominent citizens, Rev. W. G. Boyd.

New Home Club Hears Tech Man

A nice crowd, including many wives, was present for the Ladies Night meeting of New Home Civic Club Monday night, enjoyed a dinner prepared and served by the Junior Class, and participated in an interesting program arranged by Donald Caudie and E. M. Rudd.

Dr. Per G. Stensland, head of the Adult Education Department of Texas Tech, was leader of the program, which he opened by leading the singing of a song, which he accompanied on his guitar.

He then showed a film, "This Your Land" dealing with soil depletion in the United States.

The crowd was then divided into groups for discussion of the problem, and returned to the main meeting room to discuss their ideas on methods of combating soil erosion.

The program was not only an interesting one, but probably aroused new interest in doing more toward saving our productive soils.

Start Offset To Timmons Well

An offset was staked late last week to the Hassie Hunt Trust Estate and Dan Auld of Kerrville No. 1 J. A. Timmons discovery well in the Auld Pennsylvania-Strawn field, west of Petty and south of Lakeview, Lynn county.

The new test well is known as the Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 1 J. A. Timmons, and is located in the same quarter section of land immediately south of the discovery. Exact location is 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 142, block 12, EL&RR survey.

The Hunt-Auld No. 1 Timmons was completed for 288.75 barrels of oil on a 24-hour flow, with no water, through a 1-4-inch choke. The oil is exceedingly high gravity; 47.1 degrees, and gas-oil ratio is 1,269 to 1, with casing pressure at 900 pounds and flowing tube pressure at 875 pounds. Production is from perforations at 9,803 to 9,819 and 9,843 to 9,884 feet.

Last week, another wildcat oil test for north-central Lynn county was announced. This is the Hassie Hunt Trust Estate of Dallas No. 1 J. F. Wilson test, located 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of section 418, block 1, D&SE survey, 13.4 miles north of Tahoka.

Only other production in Lynn county is in the O'Donnell pool three miles east of Draw.

The Petty-Lakeview well is reported to be giving new hope to the oil fraternal of possible extensive production from the northern shelf of the Permian Basin. Interest is reported to be increasing in possible development of a major field in the northwest part of the county.

Seek Funds For "Cloud Seeding"

An effort is being made to conclude the drive for funds to insure continuance of the "cloud seeding" program by Monday, March 9, according to Guy Smith, county chairman for the West Texas Weather Improvement association.

Good response is being received from most farmers, he said.

The county's quota is $12,400 in the experiment project in attempting to make clouds release more moisture over this region by the Dr. Krick company.

Farmers and ranchers are being asked for voluntary contributions to the program at the rate of five cents per acre for cultivated land and two cents per acre for grass land.

Such payments may be made at the Farm Bureau office at the Tahoka Co-op gin, to Guy Smith, or to any of the following Lynn county men: Lester Strech, N. T. Conner, Cleveland Littlepage, Elmer Blankenship, Sam Singleton, Pat Hutchison, W. P. Stoker, Dub Halford, Julian Pirtle, C. G. Ingle, H. E. Smith, T. B. Mason, and Herb Smith.

Rev. W. G. Boyd Buried Sunday

Death came very unexpectedly and as a great shock to the people of Wilson and of Lynn county generally when news came on Friday morning of last week that Rev. W. G. Boyd of Wilson had just passed away in a hospital in San Antonio, in which he had been a patient for about three weeks. He died at about 1:30 o'clock Friday morning.

An ambulance of the Rix Funeral home, left almost immediately to bring the body back to Lubbock, and funeral services were conducted at two o'clock Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Slaton, followed by burial in the Lubbock cemetery, beside the grave of his wife, who died several years ago.

Rev. J. B. Vickery of Lubbock, pastor of the New Lynn Baptist Church in this county, Rev. Homer Duncan, pastor of the Lubbock Bible Church, and Rev. J. T. Bolding, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Slaton, officiated at the funeral. The latter gave the Scripture reading, Rev. Homer Duncan brought the funeral discourse, and Rev. J. B. Vickery, who had been the pastor and fellow worker of the Rev. Mr. Boyd for the past several years, also paid tribute to the deceased man. A number of other ministers were present.

William Grady Boyd had been a resident of Wilson for about 30 years, serving as a rural mail carrier out of Wilson for most of that time, as well as a minister of the Baptist denomination. He belonged to that branch of Baptists known generally as the (Cont'd. on Back Page)

THS Track Team Is Working Out

Tahoka High is again entering track competition this year and is building for the future in an attempt to again make this a major sport in the school, according to Assistant Coach Bill Sharpley.

Several football team members have been working out for track about two weeks, and they will be joined this week by several members of the basketball squad.

The track squad was scheduled to compete against Brownfield and Slaton at Brownfield Thursday, and against O'Donnell and Brownfield at O'Donnell next Tuesday. The district track meet is in April.

The track at the local stadium is being put in condition, and a jumping pit is being prepared.

Last week, with very little training on the track and practically none in field events, Tahoka took third place in a meet at Slaton in competition with Ralls, Slaton, and Crosbyton.

Boys competing included: I. V. J. Melton, Charles Schulz, Tommy Franklin, Billy Tong, Bill Moore, Jimmy Bragg, Jimmy and Bobby Williams, Milfred Ratliff, Willie Lee, Jimmy Whorton, and John Foster.

Other boys will be added to the team this week and next.

In the Slaton meet, Ralls took first place with 58 points, Slaton second with 56½, Tahoka third with 17½ and Crosbyton fourth with 14 points.

Tahoka placed as follows:

100 yard dash: Schulz, second. 440 yard dash: Tong, tie for second; Bragg, fifth. 220 yard dash: Schulz, third; Bragg, sixth. 880 yard run: Tong second, Lee, third; Ratliff, fourth. Mile run: Whorton, sixth; Jimmy Williams, seventh. 440 yard relay: Tahoka second (Schulz, Moore, Melton, and Franklin). Mile relay: Tahoka third (Tong, Moore, Bragg, and Schulz).

Several events were not entered.

Tunnell Tells Of UN Institute Trip

Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell told Tahoka Rotarians Thursday of last week of her recent visit to the United Nations Institute in New York on February 12-13.

The Institute is held annually under sponsorship of the United Nations, UNESCO, the department of public information of UN, and New York University to acquaint various American groups with the purposes of the organization.

Of the 250 delegates from over the nation, Mrs. Tunnell of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Buckner of Seagraves were the only Texas representatives.

Speakers for 20 nations of the 60 represented in United Nations appeared on the programs attended by the groups. These included many of the top men of the organization, even Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Some of the sessions were held in NYU and some in the magnificent United Nations building. She was greatly impressed with the workings and the results obtained by UN.

However, she stated that UN is carrying on a long-range program and she was impressed by the fact that we Americans are expecting too much too soon from this alliance of nations seeking to solve world problems and establish world peace. This is a great program with a great future, she believes, if the people will be patient.

Following the institute, she attended the National Education Association meeting in Atlantic City, and visited her daughter, Miss Savannah Tunnell, a secretary in the office of Congressman George Mahon in Washington.

The speaker was introduced by Clint Walker, program chairman. Miss Bobby Draper, High School student, spoke briefly on Public School Week and urged Rotarians to visit their school during the week March 1-7.

Dr. K. R. Durham announced that "Cotton" Carter and Callo-way Huffaker would be in charge of programs for March. President Tom Gill announced that several Tahoka Rotarians would attend the annual district Rotary Conference in Borger this week.

MATERIALS SUPPLY NOW SUFFICIENT FOR BUILDING

For the first time in more than 10 years anyone in Lynn county can build or modernize a home and other buildings without having to worry about either material shortages or government controls, according to R. R. Sherrill, local lumber and building materials dealer and member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"As of March 1, anyone can construct any type of building and can use any desired types of materials without securing permission from the federal government, provided the necessary materials can be obtained without priority assistance," Mr. Sherrill said.

"Inasmuch as all types of lumber and other building products are available in full supply, this means that everyone is free to start building without fear of delay due to scarcities or governmental red tape.

"Some controls still remain over critical metals used in manufacturing certain building products, but even so the output will be sufficient to meet all foreseeable demand.

"Lumber and most other building materials have been decontrolled by OPS, and average prices of building products are below the ceilings formerly in effect. No important increases are expected.

"An adequate supply of mortgage funds for home owners and others also is anticipated locally, although difficulty in arranging FHA and VA housing loans is reported in some areas

Style Show Sponsored by Garden Club Presented Thursday Night

The Garden Club of Tahoka sponsored a style show last Thursday night at the North School building. The theme of the show was the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. The decorations were in royal blue, rose, and silver colors. The setting was a garden outside the throne room. The garden walls of royal blue were entwined with silver vines. An unusual touch was the rose color used in the shrubs in the garden. The throne of rose velvet was draped with silver.

As the orchestra from the Tahoka Band played, the stately queen, Mrs. J. M. Small, dressed in royal blue and silver entered the garden—with little Paige Gagnat and Johnny Huffaker acting as train bearers. The queen was seated on the throne and reigned throughout the presentation of the style show. Thirty five participants modeled one hundred and five costumes, for men, ladies, and children.

Robinson Ready-to-Wear, Abbie's Fashion Shop, Marshall-Brown Department Store, and Ayer Way Cleaners furnished the cloths and Woods Jewelry Shop and Fielder Jewelry furnished the jewelry for the style show. Miss Echo Milliken, Mrs. Billie Harvick, and Mrs. Patricia Oliver styled the coiffures. Mrs. Charles Verner, the narrator, very capably and cleverly read the script which she composed.

During the intermission, the orchestra played three numbers and Mrs. A. M. Bray presented a comic skit as a take-off on the models. Mrs. E. W. Patterson played piano selections before and during the show.

The finale was very impressive. Model wearing beautiful evening gowns, curtsied before the queen and took their places around the throne. Then, as the recessional was played, the queen escorted by her court marched from the garden.

The style show was arranged by Mrs. Roy Edwards and Mrs. J. M. Small who were ably assisted by the decorating committee, Mesdames Calloway Huffaker, Bill Strange, Jr., Emil Prohl, L. C. Haney, Johnny Reasonover and Ivan Cathcart. All members of the club cooperated faithfully with those in charge. The proceeds from the show were one hundred and eighty dollars; this money will be used to buy shrubs for the new elementary school grounds.

The Garden Club wishes to thank all who helped in any way with the show—the business firms mentioned above, the models, the publicity chairman, Mr. Reasonover and the Southwestern Public Service for the use of the microphone, Mr. A. M. Bray and Mr. H. W. Carter for the help with the lighting, Mr. D. B. Bass, the care-taker of the school building, House of Flowers, and the musicians, who added to the beauty of the show by creating the proper atmosphere. The club is especially grateful to Mrs. Verner for giving so freely and willingly of her time and talent in the direction and planning of the motif of this successful style show.

Mrs. J. K. Applewhite is president of the club; Mrs. H. W. Carter is vice-president.

THANKS GARDEN CLUB

The citizens of Tahoka and the patrons of the schools appreciate and thank the Tahoka Garden club for their good work in beautifying the school grounds and the town.—A Citizen.

Letters From News Readers—

(The News welcomes letters from its readers on any current subject, not libelous, of course. All communications must be of reasonable length and must be signed. On request, the signature will not be printed. The Editor.)

Feb. 15, 1953.
Kwajalein,
Marshall Islands.

Dear Mr. Hill,

Since I have been gone from Tahoka, my Mom has sent me several copies of The Lynn County News, but now that they have moved away I have just about lost contact with my old home town. If there is some way that I can subscribe to "The News" and have it sent to me, I would like to do it.

At the present time I am stationed in the Marshall Islands, somewhere in the Mid-Pacific. Kwajalein, the main island, is only about two miles long and three-fourth of a mile wide with nothing much on it except a landing strip and living facilities.

The normal tour of duty out here is twelve months and I have been here 9½ months now, so you can see that I am what the Navy calls a "short timer."

During the Atomic tests that took place out here several months ago, Kwajalein was used as the main base of operation. Entiwetoh, the island where the bomb was actually exploded, is only about two hours flying time from here.

Congratulations to this year's football team on the repeat performance of taking the District Championship.

Hoping to hear from you very soon, I remain,
Yours very truly,
Bill Short.

TO OUR FRIENDS:

We want to say thanks a million for your prayers, inquiries, cards, letters, visits, flowers, and gifts during the time I was in the hospital and in a cast. I am using my arm some now and am going to be OK. We love you for your kindness.—Mrs. R. L. Richardson and family.

Local Church Plan Dedication

Since the elaborate program of services at the Wesley Chapel, Methodist Church, colored, which day afternoon were practically stormed out by high winds and clouds of dust, Rev. W. D. Atkins, the pastor, requests that The News again announce their program for next Sunday afternoon, when a Dedication Service will be held, beginning at 3:00 o'clock.

The church recently bought some pews from the Bethel Baptist Church (white) of Lubbock; and the pews have been paid for and installed in the Chapel, and now they are to be dedicated.

Rev. Jim Sharp, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, will conduct this service.

Mrs. A. M. Bray, president of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church will have charge of a program to be given by this organization.

Rev. Lee Ramsour, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has been invited to make a talk and is expected to do so.

The sermon of the afternoon is to be given by Rev. H. P. Bishop, pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, white, of Lubbock, from whom the Wesley Chapel bought the pews.

White friends are cordially invited to attend these services.

Local Negro Boy One of Champions

Alvin Johnson, who was a star player on Tahoka's Dunbar High School team last year, was a member of the Lubbock Dunbar team which won the state Negro basketball championship last week in the tournament held at Prairie View A.&M.

The Lubbock team defeated Paris 52-45, Temple 72-31, and Odessa 66-53 to take the state championship. Johnson played as center on the team.

The Tahoka Dunbar boys and girls teams both won the District C championship tournament held here ten days ago.

Kathryn Jones, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jones, underwent a tonsilectomy at Tahoka Hospital Wednesday.

AN EXPERIMENTAL GUIDED MISSILE is fired by the Army at White Sands, N. M. This missile was the forerunner of modern anti-aircraft weapons which have strengthened the defenses of the United States against enemy air attack.

"Come Back, Little Sheba" Will Show In Local Theatre

The Broadway play that ran off with every honor awarded by critics of the legitimate theatre and won overwhelming popular acclaim as well as "Come Back, Little Sheba." Now producer Hal Wallis has made a motion picture out of this highly successful Theatre Guild production and, as released by Paramount Pictures, it will be showing at the Rose Theatre here Sunday and Monday, March 15th and 16th. Imagination was used in casting "Come Back Little Sheba" with Burt Lancaster in a role that is entirely different from anything he has ever done in the past. Advance audiences report that his soul-searing portrayal of a middle-aged alcoholic tied to a slatternly wife and tormented by the past, a far cry from his usual swashbuckling, muscle flexing roles, is a superb piece of acting. Opposite him and making her long awaited screen debut is one of the first ladies of the American theatre, Shirley Booth. Al ready lavished with plaudits and awards from her original role in "Come Back, Little Sheba," Miss Booth recreates that magnificent performance for this celluloid version of the play. Movie moguls, who were present at a preview showing, claim that in so doing she becomes a major contender for any and all dramatic roles that Hollywood has to offer. Lending more than capable assistance to Burt Lancaster and Shirley Booth are Terry Moore and Richard Jaeckel, who round out the remaining important roles in handsome fashion. Both of these up and coming youngsters are possessed of charming physical carriage and exuberance that further heightens the realism of the scenes in which they participate. Miss Moore is pert and enticing as a college student with a curiosity towards sex that is nearly her undoing. Her scenes with the muscular Jaeckel, which reflect youthful impetuosity to the birds-and-bees phase of life are being hailed as the most talked about love sequences ever to be filmed. "Come Back, Little Sheba" is compelling adult drama and packs an emotional wallop that places it far above usual motion picture fare. Its daringly revealing theme and the frank and sensitive manner in which director Daniel Mann, who also handled the directional reins of the stage play, reflects the movingly emotional atmosphere of every scene, has been heralded as a high mark in screen entertainment. Ketti Frings' screenplay for "Come Back, Little Sheba" faithfully follows William Inge's original. As the story of a frumpy housewife and her alcoholic husband and what happens to them when a vivacious college girl comes to board with them, it is touching and inspiring. For many years the powers-that-be of the legitimate theatre have looked down on the creative abilities of filmdom. However, the motion picture presentation of "Come Back, Little Sheba" will cause many of this sophisticated group to stand up and take notice—just as well as people from all over the country, who will not fail to recognize the greatness of this exceptional film. Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Caveness spent a week or ten days down at their cabin near the Colorado River a few miles southeast of the town of San Saba, coming home about Friday of last week. The inclement weather kept them in-doors most of the time and Mr. Caveness says that they came home greatly refreshed. They really got rested up.

Pythian Sisters Have New Officers

Pythian Sisters of Lynn Temple No. 45 met Tuesday, March 3, at 7 p. m. at the WOW hall for the first regular March meeting. Roll call was made and all officers except the Excellent Junior and Secretary were at their stations. Bess VanDyke has turned down her station as Excellent Junior, and a motion was made and passed upon that Lucy Brice advance to this station and that Minnie Conwill advance to Protector. Jessie Jewel Stevens was elected Guard. These new officers will be installed at the next meeting on March 17. Glenda Dunagan and Novis Curry were chosen as captains to choose sides and have a membership attendance drive. Initiation was set for the first meeting in April. Other items of business included paying off the street paving and sending money to the Pythian Endowment Fund.

Pythian Sisters who accepted an invitation to Lamesa on Feb. 19 for their initiation were Hannah Nordyke, Thelma Oliver, Ruth Benson, Lois Greathouse, Peggy Huey, Olabell Lamb, and Darlene Gurley. The group had a lovely time.

For the good of the order, nice things were said concerning the newly redecorated WOW hall. The interior of the hall and the tables have been repainted and new curtains made.

After the meeting was dismissed, the program committee took over and games were played.

After the fun, lovely refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and "cakes" were served to the 25 members present by the hostesses, Elnora Curry, Pauline Clem, Lura Mae Gaither, and Lois Greathouse.

It is hoped that more members can be present at the next meeting on March 17.—Reporter.

The first nutrition specialist was employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in 1924. Last year county home demonstration agents conducted 750 leader training meetings in foods and these leaders in turn gave more than 4,000 demonstrations.

School Is Cheaper Than Baby-Sitters

AUSTIN, March 6.—Your child's education in the Texas public schools costs less than the hourly rate charged by the youngest baby-sitters, Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, said today.

"A lot of people talk about the high cost of education," Tennyson said. "Actually, during the 1951-52 school year, the actual cost per classroom hour for each child was only 21 cents."

Figures for the 1951-52 school year are the latest available. Total public school costs for that year were $318,963,078, according to figures compiled by the Texas Education Agency. Average daily attendance was 1,213,000. Dividing that figure into the total cost shows that 3262 was spent that year for each child.

Dividing $262 by 180, the number of school days, gives a cost per day of $1.45. Dividing $1.45 by seven, the hours in a school day, gives an individual per hour cost of 21 cents.

Local People At State Contests

Principal and Coach Jake Jacobs and five of his Tahoka High basketball boys, Joe Brooks, John Foster, Steve Slover, John Curry, and Morgan Howle, left Thursday morning for Austin, where they are attending the state basketball tournament being held in Gregory Gymnasium on the campus of Texas University.

Supt. Oils Spears and John Thomas, trustee, expected to leave Friday morning for the same city on school business, and will also attend part of the tournament.

New Home Starts Football Practice

Spring football training was started at New Home High School Monday morning with 22 boys reporting for work-outs under Coach Bill Stephenson. Following the issuance of equipment, training got underway and will continue for about four weeks.

Prospects are that New Home may have a good team next fall.

Fishing Party Is Home With Fish

Clint Sikes and E. S. Tippitt of Tahoka and Hoyette Hodges of Lockney returned Saturday from a four-day fishing trip to Sugar Lake, down in Old Mexico 18 miles below Laredo. They brought back about 250 pounds of catfish, caught on trotlines. Their biggest fish weighed about 60 pounds.

While the group was gone, Mrs. Hodges visited with friend in Tahoka.

Hoyette says they would have caught more fish, but it rained on them every day they were gone but one.

Wilson Junior Play Friday, March 13

There will be lots of "feudin', fussin' and fightin'" in Wilson when the Junior Class of Wilson High School puts on its class play in the High School auditorium on Friday, March 13.

However, the excitement will be on the stage, and it is all in fun—and what fun the audience will have when they see this howling, hilarious three-act comedy of Hillbilly life which is called, appropriately, "Comin' Round the Mountain."

There is something of the Lil Abner about it, although "Comin' Round the Mountain" is entirely different from the famous comedy strip. There will also be the comedy of a full-fledged Hillbilly band in the play.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Curtain time is 8 p. m. sharp.

Sponsor of the class is Mrs. L. G. Fuller.

Duane Carter Now In Corpus Christi

U. S. NAVAL AIR STATION Corpus Christi, March 5. — Naval Cadet James Duane Carter, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Carter of Route 1, reported here recently for advanced training in multi-engine aircraft in Advanced Training Unit 700.

Instructions in basic and pre-flight training were completed at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Carter was graduated from Tahoka High School in 1949. He also attended Texas Tech for two years. He entered the Naval Service in August of 1951 and entered the Flight Training Program in January of 1952.

Basketball

Haralson and Sharpley. Scorekeeper Tracy Brown, Timekeeper Douglas McNeely, and Manager Earl Bartley.

Coach Bill Haralson was called on next. He praised his girls team for their fine effort and progress. Considering their experience and the fact that he had never coached girls basketball before, he expressed the belief the season had been a fine one for all concerned.

On behalf of team members, Steve Slover presented Morgan Howle with the "most valuable player" trophy, a beautiful plaque mounted on a hardwood base.

Deanie Edwards, only Senior on the girls' squad, presented their coach, Haralson, a dress shirt, cuff links, and tie clasp.

Injecting a little fun into the program, Richard Havens presented Coach Jacobs a two-piece "bedroom suite"—a pair of the loudest red, white and blue pajamas imaginable. Then, on behalf of the team, he presented the Coach with a $50.00 gift certificate redeemable at Ayer-Way Cleaners.

Mrs. L. F. Hyles, president of the Bulldog Mothers, expressed her appreciation of the fine cooperation of the mothers, coaches, and boys in the season just closed.

The Bulldog Mothers club has been a wonderful influence on the athletes of Tahoka High. The ladies have lent encouragement to the athletes and coaches, furnished transportation at times, and during the football season have honored the boys at dinners following each home game. This dinner was prepared by them also.

Preceding the dinner and program, the eight Seniors on the Tahoka basketball squad defeated the next year's squad members 41 to 27 in a full length game. Though a little loosely played, the game gave indication that Tahoka may have a pretty fair boys basketball team next year, but much work will have to be done to round out a smooth operating unit.

Bigger and better are the present indications for the 1953 Texas Chick-of-Tomorrow Program. All entries must be in before March 1 and the State finals will be held at Center during the week of May 11.

B. M. A. (Baptist Missionary Association) Baptists. There was practically no difference in the doctrines held by them and of the so-called "Convention Baptists"—only a difference in the manner of conducting missionary work.

After retiring a few years ago from the mail service, Brother Boyd spent much time in Missionary work among the Mexicans both in this country and in Old Mexico.

A few weeks ago, he went to San Antonio to do missionary work there and also to study the Spanish language in order to become more proficient in speaking it. Soon after arrival there he became seriously ill and entered a hospital for treatment. An operation followed but Wilson friends who visited him there believed that he was recovering nicely. Pat Swann of Wilson had spent some eight days or more with him and had come home believing that his friend would be able to return home soon. He had scarcely gotten home, however, when a nurse at the hospital informed him that the patient's condition had become critical. Mr. Swann was preparing to go back to San Antonio when news came that the patient had died.

A number of ministers other than those who officiated at the funeral were present, including Rev. Mr. Burgess of Little Rock, Ark., head of the B. M. A. Baptists in Texas, Arkansas, and other states. He was an intimate friend of the deceased and came all the way out to Slaton to attend funeral services.

S. A. Cummings of Wilson came down to Tahoka Friday morning to bring news of the death to Tahoka friends.

Survivors of the deceased include one son, Clyde Boyd of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. W. L. Boyd of Slaton; one brother, Robert Boyd, Slaton; three sisters, Misses Katherine and Vivian Boyd of Slaton; and "Mrs. John Fullingham of Petersburg.

UP GOES THE POWER OF EVERY BUICK—Special Super and Roadmaster!

World's newest V8

Television treat—the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR—every fourth Tuesday

It's more than pride that makes a man want a lot of horsepower beneath the hood of the car he owns.

For the real point in reaching record horsepowers and compression ratios goes beyond miles per hour. It steps up performance and economy in normal driving.

That's what Buick engineers did when they upped the power and compression of each 1953 Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER—to the highest figures in Buick's fifty-year history.

In the SUPER and ROADMASTER, they put a new kind of V8 Engine—first passenger-car V8 with 8.5 to 1 compression, and a long list of other major engineering advances.

For the SPECIAL, they redesigned the famed F-263 Fireball 8 Engine—gave it shorter flame travel, faster firing, higher horsepower and compression.

And to these spirited engines they coupled the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive* that adds flash-fast, quiet getaway to utter smoothness.

Just to give you an example of what all this means: The 1953 Buick SPECIAL with Dynaflo can beat the mighty 1952 ROADMASTER on getaway—can reach 30 mph (when the law allows) with a combined speed and jerk-free smoothness no other car can equal.

Of course, there's far more to these new Buicks for 1953—some seven dozen new features alone.

But why not come in and see for yourself that these are the greatest Buicks—and the greatest values—in fifty great years.

Odds and Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

For the past two weeks I have filled this column with discussion of the institution of slavery and the race problems and had intended to devote this column this week to some of the outstanding Negro characters who have stood out prominently on the pages of American history; but since I wrote the column for last week, two incidents have happened that remind me so forcefully of Old Mexico and of my stay there last year that I feel that I must shelve the slavery discussion and the race problems for the moment and turn my attention first back to Mexico.

The incident that strikes closest to the hearts of the people of Lynn county, including this writer, was the unexpected death of Rev. W. G. Boyd at an early hour last Friday morning in a San Antonio hospital, where he had been a patient for about three weeks. We have a news story of that event, however, in another column in this newspaper, and therefore I will devote the space here to our stay together in Mexico.

As most of our readers know, Mr. Boyd went down to Mexico to assist a group of North American Baptist churches in the United States to perfect plans, buy some property, procure a permit and eventually to construct a house of worship for his denomination in the city of Mexico. Since he and I were long-time friends and since I had been devoting considerable time to "going places" in this country during the two preceding years, Mr. Boyd gave me an invitation to accompany him on the basis that each should bear his own expenses. I accepted the invitation. We left here on Monday, February 4, 1952, and arrived in the City of Mexico on Thursday afternoon, February 7. He attended the church services regularly on Sundays and Wednesday nights and usually I attended with him. Although I did not go to Mexico myself on any church mission, yet I enjoyed the services very much. Among the membership were some of the finest Christian characters I ever knew. I greatly prize their friendship yet.

During week days Mr. Boyd spent much of his time studying the Spanish language while at the same time he taught English to the most accomplished and active member of the church, Senorita Elvira Gutierrez, a teacher of Spanish, part time, in a near-by public high school. Thus they taught each other, in her home. She was superintendent of the Church Sunday School and a teacher of the adult class. So, during the hours when Brother Boyd would be away, I spent much of my time in the near-by parks—meeting and talking with people when I met one who could understand my language, enjoying the scenery, and reading Spanish history; or in my room reading, or writing my weekly column for this newspaper. But Brother Boyd and I spent much time on the streets, for he dearly loved to meet and talk with people, usually in the Spanish language, and he made friends readily. That greatly helped me to "get by" also. In that way we met many business people, who as a rule were very friendly. Sometimes he would tell some funny joke on me, in Spanish, which I could not understand but which always elicited a friendly laugh at my expense.

On nearly every Sunday afternoon, Brother Boyd would take a party of us to see some sight in the city or somewhere in the surrounding country, suggested usually by the senioritas of the Gutierrez family. Two Sunday afternoons we visited the Cathedral of Our Lady of Guadalupe, second oldest Cathedral in Mexico and by far the most largely attended. It was founded specifically for the Indians in 1531, but people of all races and nationalities are welcomed to their services and hundreds of people are there each Sunday afternoon. It is a strange mixture of Roman Catholic emotionalism and Indian superstition and paganism set in the midst of a rather noisy carnival atmosphere.

One Sunday afternoon we drove out to the great pyramids, some thirty miles northeast of Mexico City, reputedly constructed by the Toltec Indians many hundreds of years ago and later used by the Aztecs for centuries as temples or teocallis near which they built altars on which they offered countless thousands of human beings as sacrifices to their gods.

Another Sunday afternoon we spent out at Xochimilco, where are situated the so-called hanging gardens, a place to which the Xochimilco Indians fled when Cortez made his final onslaught on Tenochtitlan. It was then a shallow lake or marshland which was later drained by canals cut across it on which pleasure boats now ply for the delectation of tourists and other gullible sight-seers, the boats being propelled by motor power or by oars, manipulated by muscular Xochimilcans. Well it is fun for the passengers and money in the pockets of the Indians. The soil is deep and the gardens are luxuriant; and tropical flowers, large and showy, grow by the boat-loads. Am glad never succeeded in exterminating the Xochimilcans. As always, Brother Boyd and I and another Mexican friend and the two senioritas got back into the city in time for another good church service that night.

Still another Sunday afternoon we spent in gorgeous Chapultepec Park, one of the modern wonders of the world, where the monkeys and the peacocks and other plumed birds, the beasts of the forests, and chattering fowls, and multitudes of human beings live and strut their stuff. Yes, we saw nature in the raw out there and again got back to Colonia Moctezuma in time for church.

Another Sunday afternoon we visited a much smaller but an even prettier little park with flowering trees in it near our temporary home, sat on seats in the semi-enclosed Charles Lindbergh Theatre, sang in undertones a few religious songs that attracted a number of boys and a few grown-up folks, took supper at a cafe, and then again went on to church—but the services had hardly started with a native Mexican in charge when a woman with evil intent came in, and the Mexicans who knew her passed the word to Brother Boyd that a spy was in the audience. So, his prayers that night were totally inaudible and he never rose to his feet until after the benediction was pronounced by a native. They do not allow foreigners to lead a religious service in Mexico City unless he has first obtained a government permit, which always requires much red tape, a lot of time, and some money.

On other Sunday afternoons we went out to the Desert of the Lions and to Toluca, which is situated also on an irrigated plain lying at the foot of another one of the tallest mountains in Mexico, some thirty miles southwest of the City. It too is an old historic town. Ox teams, irrigation, Catholic churches, and also evidences of paganism abound out there too. In spite of the rich lands and the scenic mountains, and the multitudes of people who need the gospel, I think that Boyd was in a hurry to get back to that little Baptist Church, for he drove like fury on the way back.

Besides all these Sunday afternoon trips, Mr. Boyd and I made a week-day trip out to Cholula and Puebla, where the eastern range of the Sierra Madre mountains flattens out for some distance in the form of a high plateau. On this plateau are situated three towns which we visited, name of the first one forgotten, where there was a large park, in which the Indians were holding a carnival, shooting blank cartridges and yelling like wild savages. The second was Cholula, in which is situated a pyramid that covers more territory than any other pyramid in the world, on the top of which stands a cathedral which Cortez built in 1519 or soon thereafter. Cholula, situated some 70 or 75 miles east of Mexico City, is the center of a rich farming district not as large as Lynn county, by any means, in which there are or were for many years 365 churches. These churches were the sites of old Indian teocallis, where the Indians worshiped their gods and made human sacrifices. Cortez tore down these temples and built Catholic Churches thereon. From Cholula one may look to the southwest across an irrigated plain to upstanding old Popocatapetl, the tallest volcano in North America, and from the north side of the pyramid in Cholula one may look across another watered plain to old Mount Malinche beyond Puebla. Far to the southeast, scarcely visible, is the towering top of old Orizaba, the tallest mountain in North America between Canada and the Panama Canal.

Just before reaching Cholula on the way out, we drove along irrigation ditches that are said to have been built by the Indians hundreds of years before the coming of Cortes and the Spaniards.

Another trip which Mr. Boyd and I took was that down to Acapulco, a marvelously beautiful and historic city situated on an arm of the Pacific Ocean. It is indeed worth the trouble and expense of going many miles to see. It was on that trip that I ate a couple of bananas bought at a fruit stand beside the road on our way back to Chilpancingo, another city with a history, but the bananas made me so sick that by the time we reached Chilpancingo, I cared nothing about its history or its future either. Flung myself across the bed and lost my purse. But the housemaid found it, turned it over to the boss, and he sent it all the way up to the Forrester Insurance Agency to be delivered (Cont'd. on Next Page)

*QUEST CANVAS PIPE FLEXIBLE • PORTABLE • ECONOMICAL

Five years testing has proved "Quest Canvas Pipe" to be the best means to economical irrigation. Patented "Quest Canvas Pipe" is manufactured from specially-woven, specially-treated canvas with four-stitched seams to make it water-tight. Its flexibility and lightweight mean you can pipe water from any source to any field, uphill, downhill, around obstacles.

TWO TYPES SOLVE EVERY NEED

Mainline pipe conveys water to the fields; distributive lines, with patented sleeve outlets, send water down the crop rows. Many farmers use distributive lines of "Quest Canvas Pipe" along with their concrete pipe or other mainline systems; others use mainline "Quest Canvas Pipe" as a carrier line for sprinkler systems.

Odds & Ends

to me. Honest folks! It was there too that on the previous night, Boyd made friends with a little Mexican chap some five or six years old, who took Boyd by the hand, swung along by his side, and repeatedly said "Mi Amigo! Mi Amigo!" The friendliness of that little Pagan Mexican touched Mr. Boyd deeply, and I have heard him tell the story with tears in his eyes. He left conscious of the fact that his little Amigo (Friend) would probably never hear the gospel preached, and the realization of the fact that there are millions of such children in Mexico who will never hear the gospel preached robbed him of many an hour's sleep. Now that is not just an invented evangelistic story. It actually happened. I saw and heard the kid myself as he walked so happily by Boyd's side and departed "Mi Amigo."

On such trips and in walks about town, I had numberless opportunities to really come to know Mr. Boyd well. And I want to say this, that in all my association with him I never heard him say one word disparagingly of other Baptist bodies or other denominations aside from the Roman Catholics. He couldn't stand them. He didn't even like to hear the clanging in the mornings of a bell mounted in the tower of an old Catholic Church near our hotel.

The other event which shocked and grieved me was that tragedy, of which you doubtless read in your daily newspaper, which occurred some 15 miles south of Mexico City when two suburban trolley cars crashed head-on Saturday night, February 21, resulting in the death of many persons. Many others were seriously hurt. The victims are said to have been week-end picknickers, some of whom were returning from and others were enroute to a National Park known as the Desierto de los Leones (Desert of the Lions) which formerly was a Catholic Convent but was secularized by the Mexican Government some thirty-odd years ago and converted into a National Park. The trolley-car tragedy a few days ago was so shocking that accounts of it seem to have been published in many Texas daily newspapers but it was peculiarly shocking to me for the reason that a party of friends, and Mr. Boyd and I spent one happy Sunday afternoon out there last year.

The daily papers last Sunday, February 22, took up the story and gave more details. "Officials," it was stated, "blamed brake failure and overloading for the head-on crash, in which 47 persons were killed and 90 injured." "The collision occurred between the towns of La Venta and Tacubaya on a steep grade near a siding where the cars usually wait while others pass on the one-way tracks." "Sorrowing families reclaimed their dead from hospital morgues today . . . One of the cars was bound down-grade from the Lions National Park in the foothills 15 miles south of Mexico City. It was loaded with families returning from picknickers in the Park. The other car, reportedly, had 90 persons aboard—so many the motorman is unable to close the door. The cars were due to pass at a siding near-by but officials said that the brakes on the car which was headed down the siding and crashed into the up-coming car. All the passengers in the front part of both cars were crushed, and both trolleys were smashed to splinters.

La Venta means a roadside inn. There were a number of Indian or Mexican shops on the slope of the hill and hundreds of people there when we went down the slope by the town last year. Tacubaya is a village further down the highway toward Chapultepec.

There were hundreds of picknickers and sightseers back at the Desert of the Lions the day we were there and cabins were scattered all along by the roadside. Our party consisted of Mr. Boyd, Magnolia Cid, a native Mexican minister, Senoritas Elvira and Aurora Gutierrez, and the fellow now at the typewriter. There were scores and scores of beautiful young brunettes there the same afternoon. Our little party had much fun out there and the other visitors seemed to be having a good time too—but none of us saw any Desert or any Lions either. The pine trees were almost as thick as burruses along the Nile, I guess, and were about 200 feet high—the tallest I ever saw anywhere.

If a lion had showed up I might have climbed one of those trees. Any way, we had lots of fun.

Well, in a few weeks, Mr. Boyd and I came home. He returned later for another short stay in Mexico, but I remained here. But since I came home I have been sending The Lynn County News weekly to the Gutierrez Senoritas.

In the issue of February 13, I believe it was, they read an item in the Wilson News notes to the effect that Mr. Boyd was a patient in a San Antonio hospital. Neither they nor I had heard any more about his condition. So, I resolved Friday to run up to Wilson and see what I could find out. At the noon hour I received a letter from Senorita Elvira Gutierrez, making inquiry about him. It was several hours before I got off to Wilson, and when I arrived there I immediately found out that Mr. Boyd had died very early that morning. In fact, Mr. S. A. Cummings had come down to The News office to tell me about Mr. Boyd's death, but failed to find me at the office or to reach me by telephone. He and Pat Swann were the first two men I contacted after arriving in Wilson, and to my great surprise and grief. I just then got my first information as to what had happened.

Knowing that that little Mission Church in the City of Mexico loved Brother Boyd as they loved their own brothers and sisters, I hurried back to Tahoka and sent a night letter to Senorita Elvira Gutierrez, telling her the sad news and giving the time and place of the funeral services. She acknowledged receipt of the message Saturday afternoon; and I have an idea that that little church held funeral services too at the same hour.

I can assure our friends in Colonia Moctezuma, Mexico, that they sorrow not alone but that numerous friends all over the South Plains of Texas feel a personal loss in the passing of Rev. W. G. Boyd.

paste this in your HAT...

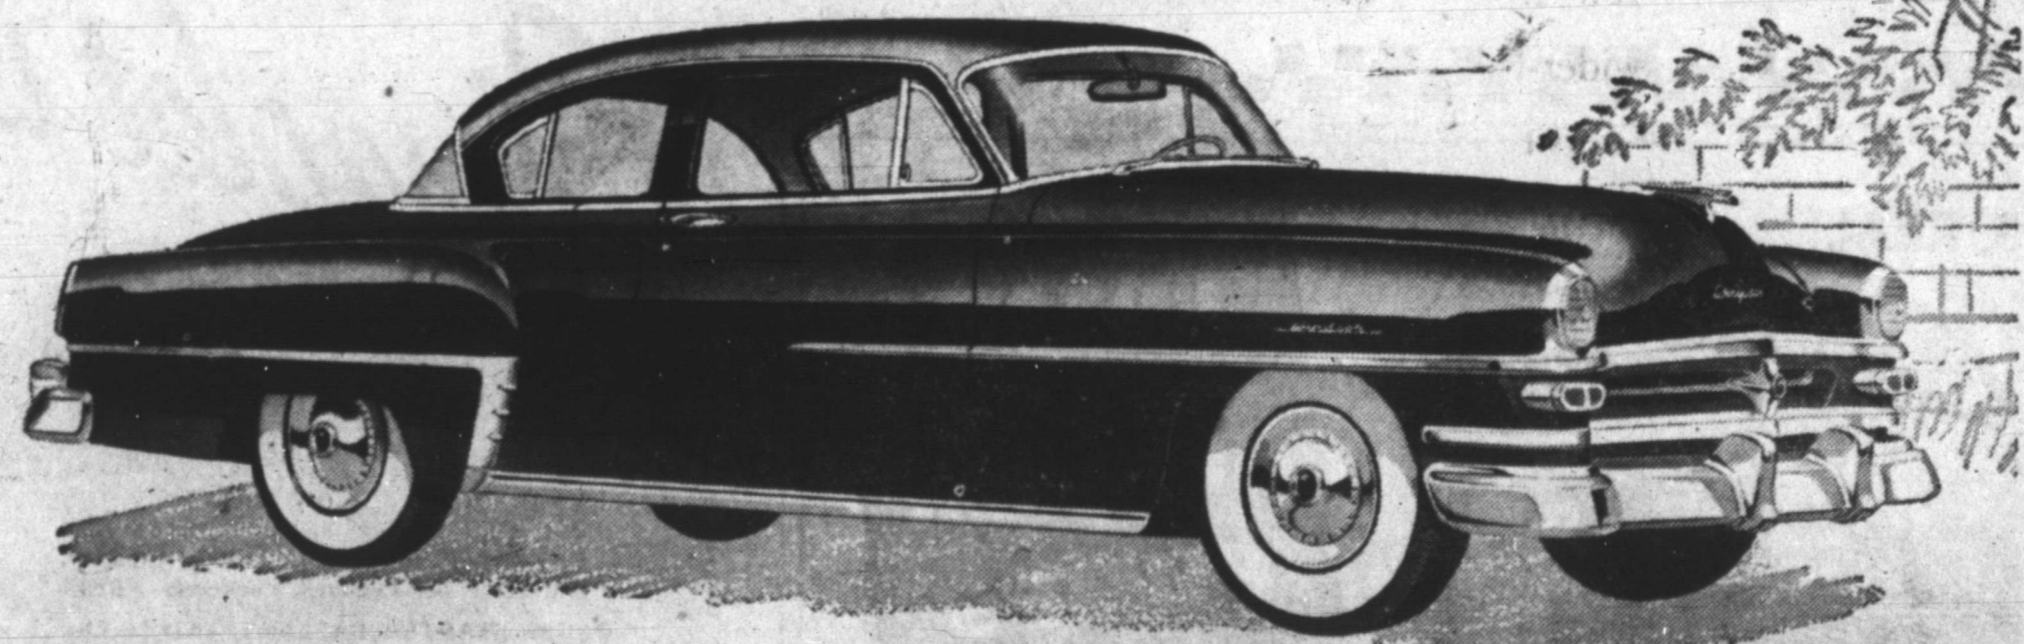

It costs a lot to be an American. But not too much. The American principle of personal and economic liberty provides more opportunity and more good for more people than any other system devised by man. Privately owned and operated industry is the American principle at work.

In America, private industry pays its own way. Pays the lion's share of taxes necessary to support our government. Were it not for private, tax-paying industry your individual tax would be much greater—for the burden of government would rest entirely on your shoulders.

Paste this in your hat. And when you file your income tax return, take off your hat to the American way of life.

Again in 1953 . . .

Above: The "Two-Ten" 4-Door Sedan. At right: The "One-Fifty" 2-Door Sedan, two of 16 beautiful models in 3 great new series.

It brings you more new features, more fine-car advantages, more real quality for your money . . . and it's America's lowest-priced full-size car!

Farther ahead than ever in quality . . . yet the lowest-priced full-size car . . . with sharply greater economy of operation!

Imagine—the most beautiful car in its field, with new Fashion-First Bodies by Fisher that set the standard of styling, inside and out. The most powerful car in its field, with your choice of a new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" high-compression engine or greatly improved 109-h.p. "Thrift-King" high-compression engine.

Yet, with all these new and exclusive advantages, there is no increase in Chevrolet prices, and it remains the lowest-priced line in its field!

Yes, indeed, only Chevrolet gives such excellence with such economy. Come in and prove it at your earliest convenience!

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models at extra cost.

Entirely NEW through and through!
