Three Die As Result Of Head-On Crash

Mrs. Lonnie Williams, 59, of Tahoka, route 3, and Mrs. W. J. Currie, 53, of Garden City, were killed, Mr. Williams, 60, died at 6:40 a. m. Thursday from injuries, and Mr. Currie was critically injured as the result of a head-on collision of their cars at about 4 p. m. Friday, 12 miles north of Tahoka on Highway 87.

Mr. Williams, a former Lynn county commissioner and a prominent farmer, suffered multiple fractures of the upper left leg, possible internal injuries, and shock, all of which aggravated a heart ailment and brought death.

Funeral services will be held today, Friday, at 3 p. m. in the First Baptist Church, with Rev. A. W. Shumake of Tarzan and Rev. Dale Lavender officiating. Burial will follow beside his wife in Tahoka Cemetery with Stanley Jones Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Currie received treatment at the local hospital, and was moved to a Big Spring hospital, to be nearer home. He had a possibly fractured vertebrae of his back, a possibly fractured ankle, face and body lacerations and bruises, and also suffered shock.

Mr. Williams was driving a Buick north toward Lubbock, while Mr. Currie was coming south from Lubbock, driving his Oldsmobile.

The cars collided head-on at a point near the south line of the Sam Sanford farm on the open road, just north of Wayside. No positive conclusion as to the cause for the accident was reached by investigating officers, but it is believed Mr. Williams had driven up behind a pick-up, preparing to make a right turn into a farm road, which obstructed the vision of Mr. Williams and Mr. Currie.

There was a terrific crash. Each couple was thrown into the windshield and dash. Mrs. Williams was killed instantly. Stanley-Jones ambulances rushed the three to Tahoka Hospital, but Mrs. Currie was dead on arrival.

Funeral services for Mrs. Williams were held at the First Baptist Church in Tahoka Sunday at 3 p. m., with Rev. A. W. Shumake of Tarzan and Rev. Dale Lavender of Bethel Church officiating. Interment followed in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Stanley-Jones Funeral Home.

Lonnie Williams was born in Burleson county December 28, 1892. He and his wife and family came to Lynn county in 1919.

Mrs. Neva Arnold Williams was born July 7, 1893, at Christman, Burleson county. One child, Mrs. Silas Russ, survives. However, she and her husband reared five of his late sister's children, Joe and Charley Beckham, Tahoka; A. L. Beckham of Little Rock, Ark.; and Mrs. Joe Brewer and Mrs. Woodrow Brewer, O'Donnell.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams were loved by these children as a father and mother. There are hosts of friends over Lynn county who mourn their death.

Mrs. Williams is survived by (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Rev. John R. Ferguson, who has returned as pastor of the Nazarene Church at Grassland.

Complete Plans For Consolidation

An order approving the consolidation of O'Donnell and Newmoore school districts was passed by the County School Board at its regular monthly meeting in the office of County Superintendent Lenore M. Tunnell Tuesday.

The board also accepted the resignation of the two county elementary supervisors, and in doing so highly complimented the ladies for a good job this past year. The two supervisors who turned in their resignations last week were: Mrs. Ruth Reisdorph, who worked with O'Donnell, Wilson, and Grassland schools, and Mrs. T. R. Odell, who worked with Tahoka, New Home, and Newmoore.

Mrs. Odell has accepted a position beginning July 1, with the investments and savings department of Great Plains Life Insurance Co., of Lubbock. Mrs. Reisdorph has not announced her plans.

Members of the county board are James K. Applewhite, W. W. Caswell, Fritz Speckman, B. M. Haynes, and H. B. Crosby.

This is the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of Lynn county and the founding of Tahoka, and President James K. Applewhite hopes for a big turnout of old settlers and their families this year.

The barbecue dinner will be held in the Lynn County Fair exhibition building, and the afternoon program will be held in the air conditioned Rose Theatre.

Happy Smith is chairman of the finance committee, and Mrs. Eloise Griffin is secretary of the organization.

Wheat Allotments For New Farms

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for any of the years 1951, 1952, and 1953, may apply for a 1954 wheat acreage allotment, according to Dee R. Green, county office manager of the Lynn County Production and Marketing Administration committee.

To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his County PMA committee by June 30, 1953.

Blank application forms are available at the County PMA office for use in filing requests for allotments.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS:
TO: Shirley Louise Rushing, Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Lynn County at the Court House thereof, in Tahoka, Texas, by filing a written answer to Plaintiff's petition, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 13th day of July A. D. 1953, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 27th day of May A. D. 1953, in this cause, numbered 2068 on the docket of said court and styled James Leon Rushing, Plaintiff, vs. Shirley Louise Rushing, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit:

To The Honorable Judge of said Court: Now comes James Leon Rushing, plaintiff, and complains of Shirley Louise Rushing defendant. Plaintiff shows that this is a suit for divorce. Plaintiff shows that he is a resident citizen of Lynn County, Texas has resided within the State of Texas for more than one year, and in Lynn County, Texas, for more than six months, continuously, and both immediately preceding the filing of this suit. Plaintiff shows that he and the defendant were lawfully married on or about May 7, 1953, and that, due to defendant's cruel and inhuman treatment, as set out hereinafter, they were separated on or about May 23, 1953.

Plaintiff shows that he conducted himself properly at all times, and made the defendant a good and dutiful husband; Plaintiff shows that shortly before their separation on May 23, 1953, defendant began a course of cruel treatment and harsh and tyrannical conduct which rendered their further living together as husband and wife, insupportable and impossible, and resulting in their permanent and complete separation; Plaintiff shows that no children were born to them or will be born to them, and no children were or will be adopted by them. Plaintiff shows that the parties hereto own no community property, either real or personal.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear herein, and that upon a trial of this cause be granted a divorce from defendant, and for such other and further relief to which he may be justly entitled, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Tahoka, Texas, this the 27th day of May A. D. 1953.

Miss Carolyn Henderson and Earl Bartley Are Married In Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Carolyn Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Henderson of Wilson, and Earl Bartley were united in marriage in rites performed Sunday, May 31, at 3 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Fielder. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bartley and brother of Mrs. Fielder.

The Rev. J. A. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Wilson, officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was performed before an arch of white daisies with side basket arrangements of daisies and greenery.

Before the wedding ceremony, Mrs. Wayne Hyatt sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Jerrie LeMond, at the piano, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pastel blue Shantussa dress with fitted jacket trimmed in white silk braid and rhinestones. Her accessories were white, and her bridal bouquet was a nosegay of white daisies.

Mrs. Bartley's only attendant was her sister, Miss Betty Jane Henderson of Lubbock, maid of honor, who wore a pink Shantussa suit with navy and white accessories and carried a nosegay of blue daisies.

Charles Hyles served the groom as best man. At the reception which immediately followed the ceremony, Miss Barbara Montgomery of Wilson registered the guests and Mrs. Billy Ray Kelley of Oil Center, N. M., sister of the bride, and Mrs. Melvin Bartley of Kermit presided at the refreshment table.

MRS. EARL BARTLEY

RELIGIOUS ILLITERACY

The religious illiteracy of our day was recently revealed by a questionnaire addressed to 18,434 high school students. Eighty-seven per cent of them could not name three Old Testament prophets; 54 per cent of them could not name three disciples of Jesus; and 64 per cent of them could not name the four Gospels.

Religion, we know, does not consist in a knowledge of names; yet it is inconceivable that a high school pupil, properly instructed in the rudiments of Christianity, should score less than 100% on the above three questions.

Any youth of 16 who has been given a proper Christian training should not only know the answers to the above questions, but he should also know what

If you would like for your child to know more about God's Word, enroll him in our Vacation Bible School, June 8-19. Visitors are cordially invited to take advantage of this school. The course of study will be "My Christian Faith—God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit." There is no charge. Classes will meet 8:30-11:30 A. M. Mondays through Fridays. the Bible says concerning sin, the deity of Christ, redemption, Baptism, the Lord's Supper, and a dozen other fundamental facts of faith. Has your child been instructed in these important Bible teachings? Your obligation is clear. "Ye fathers," says the Bible, "bring up your children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

The reception table was laid on white imported lace cloth with a centerpiece of daisies, balanced by a punch bowl circled with daisies and greenery on one end and the white, two-tiered wedding cake topped with a tiny bridal couple at the other.

After a short wedding trip to Carlsbad, N. M., the couple will be at home in Tahoka. The bride is a 1953 graduate of Wilson High School, and the groom is a 1953 graduate of Tahoka High School.

C. T. Tankersleys Visit In Waco

Roy Rutland, Jr., son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tankersley of Tahoka, was in the totally wrecked Joy Theatre when the terrible tornado struck Waco recently but escaped without injury to himself.

This was revealed last week when Mr. and Mrs. Tankersley returned from a visit to Waco and Marlin.

Though he had lived in Waco most of his life, this was the first and only time Roy had been in the Joy Theatre.

Roy had his car in a garage for repairs. On this fatal afternoon, he went to the garage for his car but the workmen told him it would not be ready for about 40 minutes. Some rain was falling and the weather was intensely hot and humid. Roy and a friend with him decided to go into the cooler theatre to wait until the car was ready.

They were in the theatre lobby when the storm struck. Pandemonium broke loose in the theatre. People ran over each other getting out. Roy and his friend left the building also. Then, the adjoining six-story furniture building fell on the Joy Theatre completely crushing it. Miraculously, very few people in the theatre were killed. The car of Roy's father was in the area and was completely crushed.

None of the Rutland family was injured. The daughter, Patsy was away from home. Trees were blown down and buildings wrecked all around her, but she was uninjured. Neither was Mrs. Rutland (Pansy) or her son, Buddy.

A miraculous fact about the tornado was that only the 113, or possibly a few more, were killed, and that no small children were among these.

Mrs. Tankersley thinks the description given by the Senior Editor of The News can not be improved upon.

The Tankersleys also visited her brother, John Bulman, and family at Marlin. They say John has a beautiful farm and ranch and the rains have come about to order all this year for them. John and his son Edd were ready to start harvesting 400 acres of fine oats.

Their grandson, Jerry Bragg, accompanied them on the visit, and another grandson, Buddy Rutland, returned home with them for a few weeks visit.

Mrs. Clint Walker and son, Townes, and Charles Townes of Tahoka, and Mrs. Effie Townes and Reid Townes of Lubbock, attended funeral services Friday of last week of Cleburne for Mrs. Effie Townes' brother-in-law, a Mr. Gatewood.

Mrs. A. M. Bray and three children have been visiting for two weeks with relatives in Dallas.

Farm Bureau Men Visit Washington

Progress is being made on several matters of vital interest to farmers of this territory, Guy Smith, Lynn County Farm Bureau president reports.

Balford Rochelle of Amherst, Raymond Aiken of Halfway, and Gene Mitchell of Plainview recently made a trip to Washington, D. C., in behalf of the farmers of this district.

Congressman George Mahon arranged for them, an appointment with officials of the Cotton Branch of the Department of Agriculture, with whom they discussed the possibilities of a new classing office at Plainview to help relieve the Lubbock office and give farmers a better break on their classing.

All difficulties of this section were discussed. Included, was the subject of light spots and split grades, which the Plains representatives were informed didn't appear on Cotton Exchange (there is no future market set up in split grades and light spots.) The Department is considering getting loan grade on light spots and split grades.

Senators Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel obtained for the men a hearing with Mr. Gordon head of PMA, and the entire personnel of the Cotton Branch, who spoke very favorably of humidity control in classing offices in high, dry climates such as ours. Opening of a classing office at Plainview is a possibility, the men were assured, and favor was also given the Farm Bureau's proposal that a board of farmers meet with the Lubbock cotton classing office once a week.

The Bureau is also taking up the fight for removal, or cutting down, the proposed penalties for over-weight and under-weight bales of cotton imposed on Texas farmers. Texas farmers are being discriminated against in this matter, farmers and ginners believe.

Wilmer Smith states that the Texas Cotton Association, and not the compresses as many believe, is responsible for this raise and discrimination.

This body announced last week end that all Texas cotton bales weighing 700 pounds or over will be "docked" $7.50 or rejected; 650 to 700, $1.00. Those weighing 300 to 350 will draw a penalty of $7.50 or rejection; 350 to 400, $4.00; 400 to 435, $1.00. No other state has such penalties on overweight bales; none has over $2.00 on $3.50 to 400 pound bales, and none more than $2.00 on 300 to 350 bales.

Argentina, Brazil and Chile are known as the ABC states.

The giant armadillo is five feet long.

Red Skelton Wins Laughs And Tears In Comedy Drama "The Clown"

Red Skelton, king of the funsters, now proves himself a superb dramatic star as well in "The Clown," M-G-M's heart-tugging drama, on view at the Rose Theatre here Sunday and Monday, June 14 and 15.

In a story mixing laughs and tears, Skelton plays the role of Dodo Delwyn, once a famous Ziegfeld comedian who through drinking, gambling and quarreling has descended close to the bottom of the entertainment ladder. His wife, Paula, has divorced him and has remarried but has permitted him to keep their little son, Dink. It is Dink whose hero worship of and devotion to his father buoy up the latter in his darkest moments, but when circumstances land him in jail, Dodo is convinced the boy would face a happier future with his mother and well-to-do step-father. Desolate and inconsolable, he cannot now show interest in a comeback via television, offered him by his former Ziegfeld agent.

gent. But now Dink runs away from Paula, unable to endure the separation from the father he adores, and the child's devotion inspires Dodo to make his last try. His debut on television is an overwhelming success but the strain has been too much for his heart and he dies on the crest of a new success.

Skelton proves himself an artist to rank with the best in his role as the clown who tumbles or a down-hill slide through life. It is a role which vividly contrasts pathos and merriment. In such hilarious scenes as those taking place in Coney Island's Steeplechase Park and at a business convention party, he is the Skelton of old, convulsively funny in achieving a comic spill or getting a pie flung into his face. In the television performance he does another hilarious act in which he impersonates four house painters and their various techniques. But it is a new Skelton who will leave you wet-eyed in such scenes as that in which he forces his son to leave him, or the final dramatic episode in which he is determined to finish his act although he knows himself to be a very sick man.

The picture also introduces another acting winner in ten-year-old Tim Considine, who makes his screen debut in "The Clown."

So the People May Know

The clerk of each county must publish annually a financial report showing how much money has been spent out of each of the county's funds and the balance in each fund. It must reveal the county's indebtedness and give other details, outlined by state law as follows:

"Art. 1609. County Finances—publication of financial report of county by county clerk.

"Immediately after the first regular term of said court in each year, said clerk shall publish once in some weekly newspaper published in his county, or if there be no paper published herein, then by posting four copies of such exhibit, one in each commissioner's precinct, one of which shall be at the courthouse door, the other three at public places in such precincts, an exhibit showing the aggregate amount paid out of each fund for the four preceding quarters, and the balance to the credit or debit of each fund; also the amount of indebtedness of said county, with their respective dates of accrual, and to whom and for what due; also the amount to the debit or credit of each officer or other persons with whom an account is kept. The cost for publishing the same shall be paid by order of said court out of the general fund of the county."

Another provision of the law is that the county treasurer must publish a financial report after it has been inspected by the commissioners. The law says:

"Art. 1636. County finances—publication of notice of county treasurer's reports after inspection by the commissioners' court.

"Prior to the adjournment of each regular term of the court, the county judge and each commissioner shall make affidavit that the requirements of this article have been in all things fully complied with by them at said term of said court, and that the cash and other assets mentioned in said county treasurer's quarterly report made by said treasurer to said court, and held by him for the county, have been fully inspected and counted by them giving the amount of said money and other assets in his hands. Such affidavits shall be filed with the county clerk and recorded in the minutes of said court the term at which the same were filed; and the same shall be published in some newspaper published in the county, for one time."

Publication of county financial reports is required to give the citizens information as to how their county government is being operated and how their tax money is being spent.

Sheriff's Posse Invited To Graham

GRAHAM, June 4.—Among the early acceptances of invitations to take part in the opening day parade of the Possum Kingdom Roundup in Graham on Wednesday, June 24, is the Lynn County Sheriff's Posse.

Charles E. Hipp, Possum Kingdom Roundup president, predicts 25 clubs will participate in the parade which begins at 3 p. m. and is preceded by a barbecue honoring the riding club members, with the Graham Chamber of Commerce as host. The clubs will ride in the grand entry at the rodeo that night and also receive a special introduction.

Other acceptances received thus far include: Grandfield, Okla.; Eggleston, Okla.; Boomtown Riding Club of Burkburnett, Santa Rosa Roundup of Vernon, Johnson County Sheriff's Posse, Muskogee Patrol of Wichita Falls, and Disholm Trail Roundup of Neocoma.

but who comes to the picture with the theatre in his blood, for he is the son of two of America's most famed theatrical families, the Considines and Pantages. In his debut before the camera, young Tib gives an unerring sensitive performance which will win him an army of overnight fans wherever this picture is shown.

Jane Greer is warmly sympathetic in the role of the mother who tries to break down the barriers between herself and the son whom she seems a stranger, and there are other fine portrayals on the part of Philip Ober as the husband of her second marriage, and Loring Smith as "Goldie" the agent who has never let Dodo down.

In appearing at the Rose Theatre on the given dates, no one will be admitted during the last twenty minutes of the show, the ending being so dramatic.

Mrs. Mitchell Williams and little son returned home Monday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Hope, Arkansas.

Odd AND Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

A Negro down here in Waco has been predicting two more tornadoes soon for this area and a lot of people are strongly inclined to fear that he knows what he is talking about. The probabilities are that he knows just as much about it as any one of the other ten or 15 million Negroes in the United States; AND THOSE Negroes know just about as much about it and no more as the same number of white people know.

Now we are not insinuating that the white people as a rule are as ignorant as the colored people are. With the better opportunities they have had to acquire knowledge they should be and as a rule are much better informed not only as to current events, but also to natural phenomena and the operation of the laws of Nature, which includes the weather. But it is amazing that with all of our opportunities to learn from our school and college text books, from general reading, and from observation, so many of us should have learned so little, during possibly a long life, about the weather. I find that the run of people generally, including even college graduates, know little more about the weather, than do the monkeys that climb among the limbs of the trees or the cattle that roam through the fields of the prairies.

All of us are afraid of an intensely black cloud mostly, because it is black. Most people seem to have an idea that clouds produce or control the winds; that clouds may move against the wind; that clouds rushing together cause storms—such as hailstorms, rainstorms, and tornadoes. The opposite of that is true. Clouds do not produce winds; winds produce clouds. When a warm current of air containing a large moisture content comes in contact with a cool current of air, the moisture in the warm air is condensed in the process of being cooled and thus forms mist or cloud. If the condensation of the moisture is rapid enough, the mist will gradually grow into drops of water and fall as rain. If there are strong upward sweeps of warm air the mist or the drops of rain are frozen and fall as hail, sleet, or snow.

When a column of warm air begins to rise, the cooler air rushing in often causes the rising column to acquire a whirling motion. If that column of air is very dry, you have the ordinary summer whirl wind. You have seen a half-dozen of them at the same time moving across the fields of the Plains. If the rising column of warm air is very moist, then the moisture of the rising whirling column will condense rapidly into cloud and you will see the much-publicized funnel of the tornado.

Now all of us are amazed at the speed that the whirling wind in a tornado can attain. That is because the air is very volatile. A little heat will cause it to expand. To the extent that a volume of air expands, in that same proportion it grows lighter and is pushed upward by the heavier cool air. Watch the hot air shooting upward from a barrel of burning oil, rubber, or even paper. Now imagine that barrel to be a quarter of a mile across and hundreds of feet deep and full of blazing-hot oil or rubber, moving across the country at a rapid speed, even above the tops of the houses of the city of Waco. Can't you perceive that by the time it had passed over just a few miles of territory, it would have acquired a whirling motion of such terrific speed as to have left only death and destruction in its trail?

Now, what Negro, what white man, what scientist, what weather forecaster, though he be as wise as Solomon, can forecast today what the weather conditions are going to be on any particular day of next week or next month, or at any future time? Who can predict when weather conditions at any time in the future will be just such as to produce a tornado in the vicinity of Waco or Lubbock or Tahoka? One would just as well put his faith in the ability of an Indian Medicine man by incantations to stop the deadly effects of the poison of a cobra injected into the veins of a baby or to rely on the predictions of a voo-doo man on the banks of the Congo that the War in Korea will be stopped tomorrow.

That Negro may think that he can with reasonable accuracy predict the time and the course of the next tornado in this and other counties. But he can not. Some body has deceived him. Some white man perhaps has made him believe that he, the said white man, can accurately predict future events or can, by faith, work other spectacular miracles. One of the most monstrous crimes of this day is the claim by deceitful religious groups or individuals that they can divinely heal the bodies and souls of sick and sinful men.

There are millions of Aztec Indians in Mexico today who are thus being deceived by foul and greedy deceivers in exchange for varying amounts of the coin of the realm. If there is a devil who lures men and women to

According to an old saying, "Two heads are better than one." By similar reasoning, two water wells in the High Plains should supply more water than one well for irrigating a farm; for municipal use, or for industrial supply.

In general, that is true provided the wells are adequately spaced as shown in figure 1. However, if some of the wells are too close together, as shown in figure 2, the interference between closely spaced wells may cause so much additional life and decrease in yield that over a period of years the profits from two wells may be no more than the profits from one well.

"Area of Influence" Imagine well "A", above, as the hole you might dig near the end of a wheat bin. Reaching the bottom, you are surrounded by the light-shaded cone. In the case of underground water, dotted line

"X" is the static water level. The cone itself is the well's "area of influence" . . . the circle from which your well draws its supply of water.

Now, see what happens when TWO men dig away at opposite ends of the grain bin. Grain pours both directions from the supply zone between the two holes. In effect, the two diggers are fighting a silent battle with each other for the lion's share of the grain. The same is true of water well "A" and "B", which are spaced several hundred feet apart.

Increases Drawdown Interference is a typical subsurface condition where water wells are jammed together. This causes increased drawdown, the point where pumping costs go up. Regulated well spacing, as practiced by the Water Conservation District, can help reduce this interference.

Figure 2 may be the situation as found in a field of water wells. The four wells, spaced too near each other, have a leapfrogging zone of interference. Drawdown increases sharply. Pumping expenses zoom. Often, some wells in a cluster like this have to be abandoned. Pumping rate may have to be reduced.

Can Increase Drawdown These "waterbug's eye views" show how easily drawdown can be increased by congested spacing at the surface. Drawdown can be measured at a distance of 100 feet from a pumped well, and has even been known to reach 3,000 feet in some areas. A sharp pencil and some quick figuring at today's drilling and pumping costs will show how spacing can cost, or save, thousands of dollars for the High Plains well owners.

Pythian Sisters Step-Up Meeting

The Pythian Sisters of Lynn Temple No. 45 met Tuesday night at 8:00 p. m. Since it was Set-Up night for officers, Hannah Nordyke filled the Past Chief station; Lucy Brice, Most Excellent Chief; Becky Thurman, substituted for Excellent Senior; Glenda Dunagan, Excellent Junior; Minnie Conwill, Manager; Jessie Jewel Stevens, Protector; and Darlene Gurley substituted for Guard. Roll call was made and two officers, Emma Halamecek and Burnice Carter, were absent. A report was given on the program for July by the chairman, Eulalia Richardson. The dinner which had been discussed was postponed indefinitely.

Glenda Dunagan, being the leader of the losing team during the recent attendance contest, suggested that the money collected for a social for the winning team be used to buy a bench for the new park project and new curtains for the outer Temple. This was satisfactory with the members present. It was decided that Lynn

The revised version of that verse was: Lives of great men all remind us

Seven Steps To Growing Older

COLLEGE STATION. —There are Seven Sensible Steps to growing older. That is, if you want to age successfully.

Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says looking forward to later years can be done pleasantly by planning to include these seven steps in growing older. For healthier and happier years ahead, eat properly; see your doctor regularly; get enough sleep; balance your exercise and rest; wear comfortable, attractive and becoming clothing; keep busy; and cultivate a sense of humor.

Growing older is a lifelong process and means changes of many kinds, physical, mental, and social. These changes are natural and should be recognized and accepted. Plans for growing older can fill the need for affection, activity and achievement, companionship, being needed and useful, and for creative interests.

A well-balanced person looks back upon his life and profits from the lessons he has learned. He enjoys pleasant memories. But he also looks into the future to make plans for what he intends to do tomorrow. What are we going to be like ten or fifteen years? What kind of a sixty-five or seventy-year old will we be? If we are self-centered and withdrawn now we will be even more isolated when we are old. If we are interested in other people and get pleasure in doing for others we will get increasing pleasure and satisfaction in relations with people as we get older.

Mrs. Johnson says since older people account for an even increasing proportion of the total population, many county home demonstration agents have encouraged groups to include the special needs of older family and community members as well as those of children and youth. In 1952 the agents counseled with more than 3,000 older persons. Conferences of representatives of organizations interested in the family have been held in community and county groups as an effective means of creating a more general awareness of the problems which may be solved through community analysis and cooperation.

Training for home demonstration club leaders in conducting discussions on aging successfully enable them to share with other members the suggestions of the family life program. In Milam county, 32 leaders received this training recently from Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Alice Hughes, county home demonstration agent. Teams of leaders will use the check sheets on aging successfully and assist members with scoring themselves. They planned to include their families in the discussions for they felt children and youth can plan for aging along with parents.

Former Pastor Is Back At Grassland

Rev. John R. Ferguson, pastor at the Grassland Church of the Nazarene, has returned as pastor of the church.

He writes: "After crossing the great State of Texas, pastoring churches, it is a great blessing to be back with the Grassland people."

"We have only been here two Sundays, and we are having good crowds and a wonderful spirit. The Lord is with us, and we feel greatly encouraged about the work and the possibilities that are here in this community."

"We want to invite our new friends to come, and then you can't beat the old friends. We do want to see you often at the church. Come, bring someone with you. The good old book of the Bible teaches us that if we would seek friends we must first show ourselves friendly. You will always find a friendly spirit at the Nazarene Church.

"If you like good singing, you need not go other places. We have some of the best singers you ever heard. Don't forget the singing, next Sunday afternoon."

"Let's all work together and see what can be done. If you are not going to Sunday School some other place, we have the very class that you will enjoy. See you next Sunday."

which will surround the swimming and wading pool areas was let Tuesday night to a Lubbock firm.

The "famous Seablue" pool is 82 feet long and ranges in depth from three to ten feet, with the deep end at the west. The shallow end at the east is 55 feet wide, and the deep end is 35 feet wide. Statistics have proven that 80 percent of the swimmers remain in the shallow portion of pools.

Pool walls and floors are of white cement, while the five racing lanes and borders are marked with blue tile. This will give the water a beautiful distinct blue effect, it is said. Underwater floodlights add to the beauty at night and are an aid to the life-savers.

There are two diving boards at the deep end, one 10 feet high and one four feet. Also there is a lifeguard tower.

The wading pool for small children, located just east of the shallow end, is 12 by 24 feet in size and ranges from six inches to two feet in depth. It is likewise trimmed in blue tile.

So far as is known, the contractors say, this is the first wading pool ever built where the water circulates through the filters along with the pool waters.

The pool is equipped with the latest sanitation and water purification equipment. Once the pool is filled with water, it will not be necessary to drain the pool except on rare occasions. Waters is constantly being pumped, when in use, through the chlorinating and filter tanks. Water is changed every six hours in this manner, and comes from the purification tanks pure enough to drink. Periodically, special underwater vacuum cleaners will be used to take up dust, trash, and skum from the floor and walls of the pool.

Concrete covers the entire area around the pools, pump house and filter tanks, and the seven-foot cyclone fence will enclose the concrete area. Floodlights will light the pool area at night.

Beach parasols, a ping-pong table, and benches for swimmers and for mothers guarding small children will possibly be installed later.

The bath and concession house is 20 by 60 feet in size and is built of concrete and pumice stone, painted with water-tight paint. Steel roofing covers the central portion of the modernistic building including the entrance, office and concession stand. It only partially covers the dressing rooms and showers, allowing the sun's rays to penetrate this area for sanitary means. Swimmers must take a shower and walk through a small chemically treated pond before entering the pool.

Parking areas are being provided for spectators around the pool and outside the fence, and also south of the bath house.

Though not the largest, the pool and equipment is among the very finest, and will offer recreation to people of Lynn county for which they have previously had to drive many miles to obtain.

The City has also started development of the 11-acre park area. Some trees have already been planted. The sod has been prepared and watered and grass will be planted on about half of the area in the near future.

Location of the park is the old Jaycee park and softball field site on South Eighth.

two sisters, Mrs. Charley Holt of Brownfield and Mrs. Tom Wright of Slaton.

Mr. Williams is also survived by two brothers, Billy of Tahoka and Lee of Hicks; and a sister, Mrs. S. E. Aikins of Pasadena, Texas.

Two grandchildren survive the couple.

Mrs. Currie's body was taken to Garden City for burial, services being held there Sunday also.

Mrs. Heddie Maude Currie was born at Garden City February 7, 1900. She and her husband have long been prominent and highly respected citizens of that ranching country. Like the Williams they had reared a foster son.

When the accident occurred, the couple had been to Lubbock to visit their daughter, Barbara Lou, 19, a junior student in Texas Tech, who was president-elect of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and was preparing to go to Ruidoso, N. M., for the annual reunion of the club. The Curries had their car loaded with gifts bought in Lubbock for some nephews and nieces who were graduating at Garden City.

Mrs. Currie is also survived by Jerry Currie, 22, Big Spring; one grandchild; her mother, Mrs. J. V. Sowell, Colorado City; and two sisters.

The tragedy was a great shock to the people of Lynn county largely because of Mr. and Mrs. Williams' friendship and kindness to young and old, rich and poor alike, and especially in the Joe Bailey community because of their neighborliness and assistance in building the beautiful little Bethel Church building.

C-324, "A Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry in Texas" is available without cost at all offices of county agricultural agents. The new publication contains the latest information on the use of chemicals for controlling insects on herds and flocks.

4-H club members from all section of Texas will be at Texas A. & M. College on June 25 to participate in the various state judging and demonstration team contests.
