District Scout Swim Contests Saturday

Tejas district of Boy Scouts will hold its annual swim meet here Saturday night beginning at 7:00 p. m. at the Municipal swimming pool. Kirk Wilcox of La Mesa, district scout executive, will be the director of the meet.

Tahoka swimming pool will close this Saturday only at 6:30 p. m. on account of the District Boy Scout swimming contests which will be held at 7:00 p. m. on this day.

Approximately 18 boys from Tahoka will enter the contest, according to H. B. McCord, Jr. scout master.

The meet will be divided into three divisions. The Junior division will be for boys 11 years of age. The Intermediate division is for those 12 and 13 years old and the Explorer division for those from 14 through 17 years of age. Each boy may enter three events, but each troop may not enter more than three boys in any one event.

Events include the side stroke, back stroke, breast stroke, free style, medley relay, and the free style relay. There will be no diving event.

Contestants will be graded on the point system. A first place winner must have five points, second place, three points, and third place, one point. The Tahoka judges will be Charles Verner and G. W. White; recorder is Pete Hegi; starter, Birch Larsen; life guard, Don Brice. Other than these there will be one more judge, one more recorder, two more starters, and four more life guards probably coming from Lamesa, McCord said.

The winning troop, or two troops, will enter the Council swim meet which will be held at the Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock August 6, at 7:00 p. m.

Maeker Has Top Pasture Program

The outstanding conservationist for 1952 in Lynn Soil Conservation, Edmund Maeker, is maintaining conservation on his farm. The land on the Maeker farm to be rotated in cotton and grain sorghams, some castor beans are also being grown. In addition to the row crops there is eleven acres of alfalfa and seven acres of irrigated pasture of smooth bromo, Kentucky fescue, perennial rye, ladino clover, and bird foot trefoil. The pasture is used for spring and fall grazing for dairy cattle while the alfalfa furnishes grazing during the hot summer months.

A trial planting of blue panic was drilled this Spring but has produced very little grazing. The blue panic that will be planted in the future will be in rows that can be cultivated. The present system of grazing furnished ten months of forage for twenty-four cows and their calves. Through the proper use of his land, Maeker has several sources of income rather than one enterprise to make a living from.

The Soil Conservation Service furnished Maeker a design for the bench leveling and selection of grasses for the pasture mixture.

New Wildcat Test Announced Here

Suniland Oil Corp. last week announced location in north-eastern Lynn county for a wildcat oil test to be known as the No. 1 M. M. Buster on acreage secured for the Pure Oil company through a farm-out. Projected depth is 4,720 feet.

Location is two miles west and a little over two miles south of Southland, 300 feet from the and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 1284, J. B. Bowler's survey, shown on some maps as block 8, EL&RR survey. Several "shallow" wells have been drilled in the northwest section of the county. Some good "shows" have been encountered, but only production is over the line east in Garza county.

Livestock feeds in the Emergency Feed Program distributed to Lynn county stock raisers now totals 140,000 pounds of cotton seed meal, 40,000 pounds of cottonseed cake, and 80,000 pounds of oats, according to Dee Green, PMA secretary.

In addition, four cars of cake, one of corn, and two of oats are on order.

Mr. Green says orders for emergency feeds are filled in order received at the PMA office, and orders for the feed are placed only after applications are filed.

Farmers not having a wheat allotment are warned that only 15 acres of wheat can be planted and harvested under the controlled program. Furthermore, all

School Building Contract Is Given Everton Nevill

Everton Nevill, local building contractor, on Tuesday night was awarded the contract for erection of the new Home Economics cottage and the addition to the Vocational Agriculture building by the Tahoka school board.

When bids for the two structures were opened last week by the board, figures quoted by the bidders were deemed too high by the board, and all bids were rejected.

Since that time, a deal has been worked out with Mr. Nevill which, it is believed, will effect a big saving to the district.

Construction is scheduled to begin within two weeks.

Arnold Maeker of Lyubock is the architect. Nevill was a member of the local school board, but resigned on Tuesday night when it became apparent he would be given the contract on the proposal of other members of the board.

Supt. Otis Spears states that fair progress in being made on the football stadium addition. Steel is now being fabricated and is expected here next week. The building contractor, Edgar Roberts, has already laid the foundation and runways, and will complete the job as soon as the steel beams are in place.

Neighbors Help Out Lishman, Rumbo In Planting Feed Crop

There's no better spirit of neighborliness anywhere in the Dixie community. That's the belief of Mrs. T. D. Lishman and J. L. (Josh) Rumbo. Their neighbors, the past week, have come to their rescue and planted feed on their farms.

Mrs. Lishman recently lost her husband. Mr. Rumbo has been ill for several weeks. A rain came last week in that community which gave some hopes that a feed crop could be raised if planted.

On Saturday afternoon, 15 tractors planted a little over 200 acres of feed on the Lishman place in two and a half hours. Tractors were brought by Jerry Harston Troy Copelin, W. R. Warren, J. O. Allen, Tony Jahnke, Lee Holden, A. D. Smith, R. E. Tunnell, W. T. Kidwell, driven by Vester Stone; two by Lynn West, driven by G. E. Swinford and son, G. E. Jr., two by O. O. Tekell, driven by Wayne Tekell and Billy Mitchell; and Guion Cobb, driven by Floyd Haygood. Chas. Schulz, Milt Draper, Joe Draper, and Elmer McAllister were also on hand to help out.

Tuesday afternoon, six tractors were taken to the Rumbo field, where about 160 acres were planted in feed. These were furnished by W. R. Warren, Elmer Sproles, O. O. Tekell and son, J. O. Allen, A. D. Smith, and I. B. Hill.

The center parking area on the west side of the square will be moved eastward several feet and diagonal lanes painted therein, he says.

The City Council has authorized the police to seek better enforcement of parking rules.

Double-parking on Main and Sweet streets must be stopped. State High Department officials have registered complaints that such is hindering the easy flow of traffic and steps may be taken to re-route U. S. 87 through Tahoka if the double parking practice is not discontinued.

Chief Bartley asks the cooperation of all citizens in observing better parking practices for the benefit of all concerned.

REV. JOHN R. FERGUSON

All people of Lynn county 15 years of age or over are invited and urged to take advantage of the free chest X-rays being offered by the State Health Department in Tahoka on this Saturday, August 1, and next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, August 4, 5, and 6.

The X-rays will be taken at the Bray Chevrolet Co. show-rooms on these days between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m.

This free service is being given the people of Lynn county this year as a part of the State Health Department's campaign against the much-dreaded disease of tuberculosis. However, in many instances, other diseases such as cancer, enlarged heart, and bone malformations are found by reason of the X-ray.

Taking of the chest X-ray requires only a brief moment of time, and it is not necessary for the person being X-rayed to remove his or her clothing.

Following taking of the picture, the film is sent to Austin for close study by experts. Then, a report on the findings on each person's X-ray is sent to any physician of the person's choice. Many cases of tuberculosis are found in early stages in sufficient time for the person to carry out effective treatment leading to a complete cure.

Most persons who die with the disease do so because they did not know they had tuberculosis in time to be cured.

A. M. Bray is general chairman of the local committee in making arrangements for the mass X-ray program in Lynn county this year. At a similar mass X-ray program here two years ago, 2,000 Lynn county people had chest X-ray taken. It is hoped as many or more will avail themselves of the opportunity this time.

Mrs. John Witt is chairman of the hostess committee, and Miss Jane Morehead is chairman of the secretaries committee which will register the people. Many others are being asked to help.

Tahoka Boy Scouts, Pythian Sisters, Jaycee Ettes, and other organizations have also volunteered their aid.

Tahoka Implement Dealer Announces New Model Tractor Now On Display

The newest addition to the John Deere Tractor line—the 45-horsepower Model “70”—has just been announced by D. W. Gagnat and is now being displayed at Gagnat's store.

According to Mr. Gagnat, the Model “70” replaces the Model “G” in the John Deere Tractor line. The biggest new feature of the “70” is its more than fifty horsepower which, he states, “is ample for handling a four-bottom plow in most conditions, five bottoms in many soils, four-row bedders, 14-foot double-action disk harrows, 20-foot disk tillers and similar big-capacity equipment including cotton harvester.”

Feature-wise, the new “70” closely parallels the John Deere “50” and “60” tractors introduced a year ago. The new tractor has duplex carburetion, hot or cold manifold adjustment, cyclonic fuel intake, direct engine-driven hydraulic Powr-Trol, quick-change rear wheel tread, new ease of steering, new and cleaner styling, six forward speeds, 12-volt electrical system, aluminum-alloy main bearings, replaceable connecting rod bearings, and many other features including a two-piece front pedestal that permits using five interchangeable front-end assemblies. Transmission-driven power shaft is regular equipment, with direct, engine driven or “live” power shaft available as an extra.

The Model “70” is on display now. Mr. Gagnat cordially invites all farmers in the area to stop and see this new tractor.

Train Children To Live Safely

Train youngsters the art of living safely. According to Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service children follow the examples set by older folks. Certainly, then, if you want your children to live safely parents must live safely and teach the children to be alert to danger.

The attitude children as well as adults have toward danger will have an influence on their being safe. Accidents just don't happen, they are caused. So, teaching young folks and helping older ones to live longer safely is a matter of developing safety attitudes—good positive attitudes toward safety and accident prevention.

The specialist says the home atmosphere is partly responsible for a major portion of the accidents that happen each year. Some of the most potent causes are worry, dissatisfaction, annoyance, anxiety and unhappiness. “We need to slow down to live safely with the hazards that we can not eliminate,” Mrs. Johnson says.

Teaching the young child to push the button on the door to lock it when she first gets in the car will help create in the child an attitude of safety first. That is much better than frightening the child about falling out. Safety belts for automobiles like those used in airplanes, are good investments. They can promote a feeling of great security in car riding for both child and driver.

Children love to climb and they can be taught to climb without danger. Study the procedures used for teaching this in nursery schools. Children are helped to learn to climb, where to put their feet and how to brace and hold, to reach with their hands, and how to come down as well as climb up.

Teach children how to cross streets. For a year or so before children begin to travel along the streets, give them the responsibility of giving the go or stop signal, by watching the lights or pretending there are lights. They can enjoy being the traffic policeman at each corner. Help them learn not to laugh and talk while crossing the street, but to be alert until they are safely on the other side.

Recreational activities are a major source of injuries in the 14 to 25 age group—the group which suffers accidents due to cars, burns and shock. The parent's attitude about safe driving, and handling equipment and machinery can help the young folks to learn safe habits.

Training for crises can prepare young and old alike to react without panic. They can have prepared decisions or plans ahead of time if one member of the family falls or if the car skids around a curve or slides on a highway, or if they are in a burning building. Having a plan and practicing how to use the plan helps transform fear and panic into positive action.

Help your children think and feel positively toward safety. This is sound safety insurance for the whole family.

WALKING A TIGHT ROPE, a feat usually associated with circus acrobats, also is an important part of the Army's mountain training near Camp Saalfelden, Austria. Above, a soldier shows how to use a suspension bridge erected for untrained troops to enable them to cross canyons.

Latest figures released by the USDA show that agricultural exports are continuing to decline. Exports for April were 11 percent less than for last year. Cotton, rice and wheat are among the commodities showing the greatest loss.

Miss Jane Donaldson has been visiting in Altus, Okla., with an aunt and is now visiting in Oklahoma city with her brother, Claude Donaldson, Jr., and family this week.

Grassland Loses In Tournament

Grassland has lost out in its annual invitational softball tournament.

On Monday night Grassland lost in a fine game 2 to 4 to the Payne Oil team of Lubbock. The same night Humble of Snyder defeated Farmer 6 to 5 in another fine game.

Then, on Tuesday night, the Grassland boys "blew up" and lost to Farmer 16 to 2.

Humble played Payne Oil on Wednesday night, but The News did not get the result.

Last week, Grassland participated in the San Angelo tournament, losing to the Midland Rotary team 6 to 5, with Midland going into the final as a result of the victory. Grassland then lost to R. C. Cola of San Angelo for third and fourth places in the tournament, the score in this game being 10 to 0.

Gribble pitched in the Midland game and Murray in the game with San Angelo.

Jaycees Seeking New Members

Tahoka Jaycees at their Wednesday noon luncheon meeting made plans for a membership contest which will get underway immediately.

Club members have been divided into two teams with James Huey captain of one team and Granvel Ayer captain of the other. Each week, the losing team must pay the dinner price for the winning team.

The club will in the future meet in the dining room of the Club Cafe at 12 noon on Wednesdays.

Mr. and Mrs. James (Slick) Wells of Shawnee, Okla., were here Sunday and Monday visiting relatives. They went on to El Paso for a visit and will return to Tahoka for another visit. "Slick" works for an oil well service company.

Birch Larsen, the new pharmacist at Wynne Collier Drug, says he and his wife and little daughter, Christine, are enjoying living in Tahoka. The Larsens came here from Ogden, Utah.

Judge and Mrs. E. P. Maddox returned home Sunday from a visit with relatives in Palo Pinto, Fort Worth, Floydada, and other places.

Sweet Street Baptist Misson Will Become Regular Church Sunday

The Sweet Street Baptist Misson in South Tahoka is to be organized into a regular independent Baptist Church at 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to plans made and completed by the body of worshipers at the Misson and by the parent church, the First Baptist Church of Tahoka.

Plans for the organization of this Misson into a full-fledged Baptist Church have been under consideration for several months but not until last week were final plans perfected and agreed upon. In fact, not until Monday night of this week were all problems incident to the proposed organization agreed upon, at which time a committee from each body and trustees of the First Baptist Church met and ironed out all possible problems, and even then the proposal had to be and was approved at a church conference on Wednesday night.

An orderly program has been prepared and will be presented Sunday afternoon at the Misson building as a part of the procedure necessarily or at least appropriately employed in the organization of a Baptist Church. This program is designed to be snappy however, not to be dragged out over long hours, and not only are all Baptists but members of all other faiths are also cordially invited to attend.

The meeting will open with a song service conducted by L. D. Howell of the First Baptist Church who has been assisting in the song services at the Misson on numerous occasions recently.

Rev. Lee Ramsour, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will serve as temporary chairman and will read the Articles of Faith expressing the doctrines held to and taught generally by Southern Baptist Churches.

Rev. W. H. Scantling, who has been serving as pastor of the Misson for the past two years, will read the church covenant, and at the close thereof will invite all members of Baptist churches who desire to join in the organization to come forward and subscribe or give their names for membership.

This will follow with a short business session at which a clerk and probably other officers shall be elected, and if it so desires, the new Church may go into the call of a pastor. It is presumed that the new church will be known as the Sweet Street Baptist Church, but that will also be a matter for the new church to decide.

If a pastor should be called and possibly without calling a pastor, an opportunity may be presented to new converts to present themselves as candidates for baptism. One of the main features of the program will be an address by Rev. F. E. Swanner of Plainview, district Missionary for District No. 9, which covers about twenty counties and includes more than a hundred Baptist churches on and adjacent to the South Plains. Mr. Swanner is in much demand as a speaker at Baptist gatherings of all kinds.

The new church building is to be deeded to the organization free of debts. The building itself is a structure of a large-size auditorium which was constructed at a cash out-lay of more than $16,000 in addition to much labor which was contributed. The plant is well worth more than $20,000.

During the past six months, Sunday school attendance has averaged 77 and contributions at the Misson for the first six months of the present year for all purposes has amounted to $2,491.01, or $418.18 per month. The Misson has been a decided success.

Court of Honor For Boy Scouts

Boy Scout Troop 21 held Court of Honor Monday night at 7:30 p. m. at the Scout hall, when four Scouts received the Tenderfoot award, two the Second Class, and one the First Class. Several Merit Badges were also presented.

Receiving the Tenderfoot award were Bobby Cloe, Terry Spears, Lowell and Terry Bryan. Gerald Huffaker and Larry Spruell received the Second Class Award, and Carlos Barnes became a First Class Scout.

Merit Badges were presented Jay Gurley, Cecil Hammonds, Carlos Barnes, John Sanders, and John and Vernon Redwine.

A color movie on "Fishing in the Everglades" and a short film on "Music Album" were shown by Dr. Emil Prohl and Marianne McGinty.

A special guest of the Troop was Bich Larsen, pharmacist at Wynne Collier Drug, who recently moved here from Ogden, Utah. Birch worked there for four or five months with Explorer Scouts as explorer advisor.

A recent trip was made to Callaway Huffaker's ranch five miles south of Post. Thirteen Scouts and about ten men attended.

The boys shot .22 rifles and pistols under the supervision of F. E. Redwine. They swam in the huge dirt tank under supervision of Mr. Huffaker, John Redwine, and Cecil Hammonds. The boys greatly enjoyed this trip, and hope they may return.—Reporter.

PETTY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. ROGERS

Petty Handwork Club met July 13 in the home of Mrs. W. T. Rogers with 11 members and one visitor present. The visitor was Mrs. Cliff Farris from California. Members made huck towels, and cake, cookies, and cokes were served.

The Club next met on the back lawn at Mrs. O. S. Smith's home with 11 members and two visitors. The visitors were Jay Lucas and Ava Marie Merritt.

Wall plaques were made out of plaster of Paris. They were very pretty when done. Cake and cokes were served.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Owen Blevins.—Reporter.

Cooper Tells Of Work In Turkey

Major Truett Cooper, U. S. Army military advisor to the Turkish Army for the past year, spoke at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Cooper was sent to that country under the Marshall Program American Military Mission for Aid to Turkey. He says Turkey has compulsory military training of two years for every able-bodied male.

The Turks once had a great empire, but they have been run over on numerous occasions by other invaders. The Turks are filled with zeal for their country, dislike all foreigners, and hate neighboring Russia with a passion. We need not have fear of Turkey ever teaming up with Russia, he says.

They like to fight, but lack the know-how in use of modern weapons, and the U. S. Army has been teaching them modern war principles and use of weapons. Russia has long been seeking control of Turkey but to no avail.

The Turks do not especially like the Americans either, although they greatly appreciate the efforts of the U. S. to help them.

Turkey became a democracy when General Attaturk came into power in 1923, and the General was largely responsible for the institution of many reforms before his death in 1936.

The country has practically no industry, Cooper says, and depends on agriculture and trade almost exclusively. The U. S. government has helped materially in improving the road system, improving agriculture, teaching the use of modern farm machinery, and as a result in recent years the economic position of the average citizen has improved greatly.

Major Cooper saw a great deal of action in the Pacific during World War II, served as food administrator for Korea following that war, and was artillery instructor at Fort Sill for a while before going to Turkey. He will become a military instructor at St. Mary's Military Academy, San Antonio, this autumn.

Farm Products Exports Decline

COLLEGE STATION JULY.—United States agricultural exports are continuing to decline and are expected to total at least one-fourth smaller in 1952-53 than in the preceding year. This information, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, comes from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Exports for April, the most recent month tabulation, were 11 percent below those for March. The total exports in April 1953 were $223,535,000 compared to $296,785,000 for the same month in 1952. Among the commodities showing the greatest decrease last April were cotton, wheat and rice, all mighty important crops in Texas. Butter, pork, lard, dried eggs and apples were also listed. Bates points out that this continuing drop in agricultural exports presents an important problem to the economy of the country because this nation normally exports the products from about 50 million acres. Estimates now being made indicate that total exports during 1952-53 may fall short of $3 billion, compared with approximately $4.1 billion in 1951-52.

The export decline, according to the specialist, has been attributed primarily to scarcity of dollars abroad, increased agricultural output in foreign countries and restrictive trade barriers. Plans for checking the drop in farm exports and bolstering foreign outlets for agricultural products are receiving major Department of Agriculture attention. The solution of this situation, says Bates, would be a big step forward in solving the surplus problem which is bringing back into the agricultural picture control programs.

Soil Survey For Lynn County Completed

Work of the soil survey of Lynn county which required two years has been completed, and Irvin C. Mowery, soil scientist, who made the survey, left Wednesday for College Station to reside.

Mrs. Mowery and daughters, Sue Ellen and Anita Joye, have been visiting in Houston and College Station for several weeks.

Although Mr. Mowery has completed the survey and report, the Federal government is so far behind with publications, complete results will not be published by them for sometime. However, Mr. Mowery, with assistance from other personnel of the Texas Experiment Station, will prepare another report to be published by the Experiment Station. It is hoped this report will be available to local farmers within a year.

Mowery states that a copy of the soil map is available for reference at County Agent Bill Griffin's office.

His survey of the county has been detailed and extensive, with soil samples being taken on each quarter section to determine types of soils, depth, porosity, and water holding capacity, productivity, etc.

From this, soil management principles to be used, proper crops to plant, potential value of land, etc., may be determined easily by the farm owner.

Two such soil surveys are being made in Texas at a time, and Lynn was selected more than two years ago as a typical county of this area for such a survey. In years to come, the Federal and State governments hope to have such a survey for every county.

Acres of types of soil in Lynn county, and their suitability for cropland, are as follows:

Deep permeable sandy loams—From a total of 163,100 acres, 131,400 are considered very good, 29,100 acres are good, and some 2,600 acres are classed as poor. Deep moderately permeable clay loams—total acreage is 221,600, of which 202,000 are considered as very good for cropland, 19,200 acres are good, and 200 acres are fair.

Moving from the loams, the picture changes immediately, and for the worse.

Deep permeable fine sands—Total acreage, 41,000, of which 32,900 acres are considered fair cropland, 2,600 acres as poor, and 5,500 acres as unsuited for raising any crops at all.

Shallow and moderately deep sandy clay loams and sandy clay loams are somewhat better. Out of total of 128,100 acres, 61,900 acres can be considered as good cropland, 28,700 acres as fair, 27,200 as poor, and 10,300 as unsuited.

Some 15,800 acres of rougher stony soil is all considered as unsuited for cropland.

The final classification, miscellaneous, took in playa lake beds and alkali lakes, which cover some 16,000 acres in Lynn county.

Only 11,800 acres of this land is considered as being at all suitable for cropland, and then it was listed as "poor" with 4,200 acres carried as "unsuitable."

Smiths In Lead In New Telephone Directory For City

The Smiths have retained a narrow lead over the Joneses as the most numerous family name in the Tahoka area, a survey of the city's new telephone directory reveals.

The new directory lists ten Smiths and nine Joneses—a net gain of two for the Joneses over last year's directory when there were 11 Smiths and only eight Joneses.

The new directory, which includes a special alphabetical section for Wilson will soon be distributed to telephone subscribers in the area.

A 23-page "yellow-page" section lists a total of 130 different classifications of goods and services being offered by local merchants and business men. These cover a wide-range of business activity that extends alphabetically from "abstractors" to "windows."

The new Tahoka directory bears a mark of distinction. It is among the first to be printed in a unique plant which is the first ever built for the sole purpose of compiling and printing telephone directories.

Owned and operated by the General Telephone Company and located at Des Plaines, Illinois—a Chicago suburb—this new plant will supply directories for 2,500 communities and 2,000,000 telephones in 34 states during the course of the year.

Odds and Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

Recently, just to satisfy my own curiosity and to find something to fill up this column and at the same time to furnish its readers with information that might be interesting or helpful to some of them, I began to dig into the origin of the names of Texas counties, towns and even communities with unique names; using mostly as a starter, the names of counties through which I passed in making a rather devious return trip from Waco back to the South Plains. My conclusion was that enough Texas history and enough biography of distinguished characters is bound up in these names to fill an encyclopedia of many volumes.

Now, I am not going to undertake to compile such an encyclopedia—not even a single volume of such a work—but I am resolved to give you a little of this sort of information with respect to counties near home. I am not going to say much about Lynn county, however, except that it has a history itself that is most enthralling and topographical features that make it one of the most attractive counties be found in northwest Texas. But in years past I have filled this column so many times with information or comments about scenes in Lynn county that I am passing it up this time. I am just going to talk about our neighbors. And there is not one of our neighboring counties but that could furnish us with a lot of interesting information about itself.

One of our South Plains counties having a unique history and being one in which the white man first turned up the sod with a plow is the one which touches corners with Lynn county to the northeast, Crosby county.

Like nearly all other counties of the Plains-Panhandle region, together with most other counties between here and San Antonio, Crosby county was carved out of the original Bexar district; but unlike most other counties in this area, it was not named for a Texas hero. It was named for a former Land Commissioner of the state of Texas, Stephen Crosby, just plain "Steve," no doubt; as long as he was running for office—nothing glamorous about the name, but it doubtless deserved to be permanently preserved in the name of this fine Plains county.

We mention it as a Plains county, for most of it lies on the high plains of Texas. Crosbyton is the county seat, which merely means Crosby-town.

In addition to its generally nearly level surface, the county also has this feature in common with Briscoe, Floyd and Motley, Dickens, Garza, Borden, and Dawson counties; the cap-rock escarpment passes through all of them. The descent down the cap-rock from the level of the plains to the flattened-out low-lands below the cap-rock, runs from 500 to more than 1,000 feet, so that the cap-rock viewed from the east presents a great stone wall, confronting any one approaching it from the east; while one standing on some pinnacle on the rim of the caprock and looking eastward may see a great expanse of country spread out before him like a great sheet of rolling hills or broken flats, cut into great gashes here and there of dotted with knobs or pointed pinnacles as if done by some giant human hand.

Such are the views that one may get from many a point along the rim of the caprock for a hundred miles north and south or from the sub-caprock country east of it if the nose of his car is pointed west.

Crosby county is situated generally along the east rim of the caprock nearly half way down from the mouth of the Palo Duro canyon to lone mowhway (or Muchakooga) Mountain near Gail.

Another notable physical feature of Crosby county is that it is cut into two greatly unequal portions by the scenic Blanco Canyon, which enters the county from the north a few miles south west of Floydada and flows south-easterly through the county, leaving it at the southeastern corner near the Garza and Dickens county lines.

On the banks of this beautiful stream a few miles east of Crosbyton is Silver Falls State Park, and upstream a few miles is the noted Hank Smith stone house and State Park. The big Hank Smith stone house is reputed to be the first house built in Crosby county, and the park there attracts many visitors.

The next most noted community in Crosby county was old Estacado, the only one of its kind ever established in Texas, perhaps. It was established in 1877 up in the northwest quarter or Crosby county near the Lubbock county line, by a colony of English Quakers from Pennsylv vania, I believe. They were led by Isaac P. Cox, but after a residence of seven years on these cold, treeless plains, during which time they must have undergone many hardships, they picked up and moved to southwest Texas. I have forgotten the exact locality. As long as they lived in Crosby county, they called their community "Marietta" in honor, presumably, of some devout Christian mother in their own group or whose memory they revered. After they moved away in 1886, their abandoned community was given the name of Estacado, meaning stockade or a staked off place. I presume that whatever fences the colony had were stake fences.

Some of the Quakers who come with the colony or some who became Quakers while the colony existed, remained in the county after the major portion of the colony had left, and several of those who remained later became leading citizens of Lubbock. Dr. J. W. Hunt, rated by many as possibly the greatest Methodist preacher that ever lived on the Plains, is said to have been one of the members of the Quaker colony. He served as pastor of a number of Plains Methodist churches and for several years was President of McMurry College, Abilene.

All this, of course, has nothing to do with the naming of Crosby county, but no "old timer" on the South Plains today can hear the name of Crosbyton of Crosby county called without thinking of Hank Smith and the old stone house, or of Silver Falls Park or of Estacado and the Quakers, or of old Emma situated almost on the rim of the Caprock a few miles south of Ralls.

Now let us drop down to Garza county. There is little that is suggestive in that name. We are told only that the county was named for a pioneer family. It must have been a Mexican family, of course, and that family must have lived in the county prior to 1907 and must have gained some considerable prominence, either local or state-wide prior to the time when the county was organized and named, which was 46 years ago. So, we wonder what a pioneer Mexican in Garza county or elsewhere could have done prior to 1907, so meritorious and important that native Anglo-Americans thought it fit to honor him or his family by naming a county for him. Guess we will have to get Eddie Warren of the Post Dispatch or some other Garza county historian to tell us "How Come."

But whatever the origin of its name, Garza county from the very start has occupied a prominent place in the limelight.

To begin with, there was the widely known Slaughter Ranch, with headquarters in Post. The Slaughter Ranch, in the early days, meant much to the city of Post. But it was a man named Post who gave the town its name and its chief boost. I do not know how C. W. Post got his start, how he got the idea, or where he got the know-how and the nerve. But in some way he started big things and succeeded in making them come to pass—many of them. First of all, he knew good land when he saw it; and he could see much farther into the future than most men could.

So, soon after the turn of the century he came out here onto these "baldies" and bought more than a hundred sections, I believe it was, of these unfenced and unimproved grass land. He cut the sections up into quarter-sections, built a square-topped four-room or five-room house and necessary outbuildings and fences on each quarter-section, and proceeded to sell them out to home-hungry farmers of good repute on long time and small cash payments; he helped the purchasers to get by when hard years came, and even tried to make it rain one or two dry years by exploding great quantities of dynamite at great expense but with no success.

He didn't think about seeding the clouds. But he built a big cotton mill at the foot of the cap-rock to manufacture into Garza sheets and other finished products the cotton that his farmers were producing up on the Plains above the cap-rock. Also he invented a drink which he called Postum to take the place of coffee and a breakfast food which he named Post Toasties, and he established at Battle Creek, Michigan, a great processing and manufacturing plant in which to grind up and process the corn, maize, oats, wheat, rice, and other grains to use in the manufacture of his breakfast foods and drinks. So, in the course of time the name of C. W. Post and his products came to be known throughout the civilized world. But oftentimes Fame is short-lived. Finally C. W. Post decided to move back to the North, then to California, and lastly he seems just to have faded away. He has completely passed out of the picture, but hundreds of farmers in east Lynn and west Garza counties are still raising fine crops of cotton on those Post farms—when it rains and the big cotton mill under the hill, at the edge of the town and at the end of a patch of cotton row, is still turning out Garza sheets for the farmers to sleep under, I presume, when the weather is not too hot and dry, but neither the mill operators nor the farmers have yet learned how to make rain, not even by modern methods of "seeding the clouds."

A few years ago a man struck oil in a shallow well he was drilling in the suburbs of Post. That set all the drills to running, and now those grasshopper things are pumping oil out of shallow wells all over Post and all around it too. I don't know what has become of C. W. Post, but I am still eating Post Toasties for breakfast, "Heap good corn flakes," manufactured at Battle Creek, Michigan.

I don't know how Garza county got that Mexican name, but I do know how Post City got its name. It pays to advertise, folks.

Carelessness is a maker of statistics.

Why FORD'S your best buy!

"WORTH MORE" IS THE ANSWER... IT COSTS SO LITTLE TO BUY... SO LITTLE TO RUN... AND HAS SUCH HIGH RESALE VALUE!

The best buy in an automobile usually means the amount of pleasure and satisfaction the owner gets from his original investment, plus low day-to-day running costs, plus the amount of value he recovers when he sells his car.

What is it that makes Ford your best buy? Is it the fine styling and craftsmanship of its Crestmark Body... or its new "ride" with curve-hugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars? Or is it Ford's famous V-8 or Mileage Maker Six? Maybe it's the easy way the car handles with Fordomatic Drive, or Ford's Master-Guide power steering! Perhaps it's Ford's suspended pedals, or Center-Fill Fueling or Full-Circle Visibility!

Actually, it's not just any one or two of these fine things that make Ford your best buy. It's all of Ford's "Worth More" features combined... features which make Ford worth more when you buy it... and worth more when you sell it!

"Best buy" where you ride! Ford's foam-rubber cushioned seats, front and rear, are sofa-wide and sofa-soft. Interior fabrics, color-keyed to Ford's smart outside colors, would be a credit to any car at any price.

"Best buy" where you drive! Ford's suspended pedals operate more easily... eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. And Ford drivers have a choice of Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive or Conventional transmission.

"Best buy" in engine power! Only Ford in its field offers you a choice of V-8 or Six. Ford has built more V-8's—over 13,000,000—than all other makers combined. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Mobilgas Economy Run Grand Sweepstakes!

"Best buy" in power steering! Ford's Master-Guide (available on all V-8 models) supplies hydraulic "muscles"—automatically whenever you need them—to do the work of steering for you. All you do is guide the car. Makes all driving easier, and safer. And parking's so easy!

"Best buy" at the gas pump! When you need to "fill 'er up", you do it the modern Ford way with Center-Fill Fueling. And Ford's Automatic Power Pilot gives you power to spare on a lean diet of regular gas.

"Best buy" on the road! The rougher the road the better your Ford likes it because Ford's new "ride" cuts front end road shock alone up to 80%... babies you over the bumps... and cuts sideways on turns.
