REV. H. L. THURSTON

Tahoka School Principals Named

Four principals for the Tahoka Schools for the 1954-55 term were elected recently at a meeting of the Board of Trustees.

L. F. Jacobs was re-elected to the position of High School principal. He is completing his second year in this position, after having served five years as basketball coach and assistant football coach. He still coaches A and B team boys basketball in addition to his duties as principal.

Archie Sims was re-elected North Elementary School principal and lunch room manager. For the past two years, Mr. Sims has been principal of South Elementary School in addition to these duties.

J. B. Howell, teacher in the sixth grade this year, has been named South Elementary School principal. He taught in the local schools one semester of the 1948-49 term, replacing Mrs. Bert Stevens as commercial teacher in January, 1949. For several years, Mr. Howell has been farming in the Wells community, and in January, 1953, he purchased the H. D. Nelson farm two miles north of Tahoka High and is making this his home.

Both Mr. Howell and Mr. Sims will teach classes in addition to their duties as principals. British C. Daniels, principal of Dunbar School for three years, was re-elected to this position.

Although the average daily attendance at Dunbar is so low that only two teachers are needed for the next term, negotiations are underway with New Home School officials to bring their entire Negro school in to Tahoka, thereby making it possible to offer at least two years of high school work here in our Dunbar School, as has been the case in the past. Addition of the New Home scholastics would bring the total to about seventy at Dunbar.

Supt. Otis Spears states that classroom teachers for the Tahoka schools have not been elected for the coming year because it is not known yet how many we can qualify for under the average daily attendance laws. It is certain that Tahoka will qualify for four fewer than it now has, with a possibility, if the mumps, measles and chickenpox continue to cut down attendance, that Tahoka will lose five teachers.

Borden Davis Buys West Tire Store

Borden Davis on Tuesday of this week bought the West Tire Shop, owned by Mrs. Byrum (Violet) West and operated by John Sanders.

Mr. Sanders will continue to work at the shop, for the time being at least. And, Mr. Davis will also continue to operate his Gulf Service Station for the time being. The business will in the future operate under the title of Davis Tire Store.

Former Pastor In Wilson Revival

Rev. H. L. Thurston, a former pastor at Wilson but now pastor at St. John's Methodist Church in Stamford, will do the preaching in the Wilson Methodist Church revival March 21 through March 28, next week.

Rev. Thurston served the Wilson Church as pastor in 1931 and 1932, and since then has been pastor of several large churches including those at Brownfield, Perryton, Colorado City, and Stamford. He is regarded as one of the outstanding pastors and preachers of the denomination in Northwest Texas.

Services will be held twice daily, at 10:30 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Lynward Harrison, the pastor, invites everyone to "come out and be with us."

"Hick" Gibson went home Monday from Tahoka Hospital, where he was a medical patient for a few days.

Local Boys Win In Area Stock Show

Rev. Levi Price Will Speak Here

Rev. Levi Price, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Monahans and formerly pastor here, will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Baptist Brotherhood in the Tahoka school cafeteria next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

This will be ladies' night, and all men are urged to come and bring their wives, according to W. A. (Dub) Fulford, Brotherhood president.

Style Show Set Here Tonight

Tahoka Garden Club is again sponsoring the annual benefit Style Show tonight, Friday, at 7:30 p. m. at the Grade School Gymnasium. The admission will be $1.00 for adults and 50c for children.

Proceeds from the show will be used for landscaping and beautifying the school grounds and the new Home Economics building, also a block of the new City Park.

Styles for the show will be furnished by the following business houses: Marshall-Brown, Robbie's Fashion Shop, Robinson's Ready-to-Wear, hair styles by the Duchess Beauty Shop, and flowers by the House of Flowers. The script is being written by Mrs. Charles Verner.

Tickets may be purchased from club members, or at the school house Friday night.

Fire Damages Weathers Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Weathers, on North Second west of the High school, was badly damaged by fire at about 9:30 p. m. Friday.

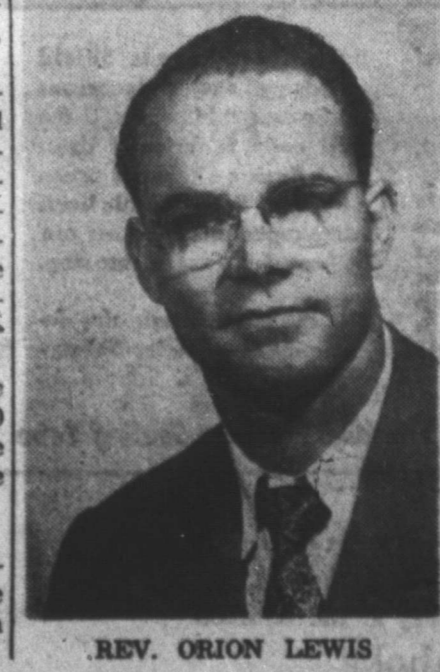

The fire is believed to have started from some clothing which fell from a hanger onto the floor furnace. Fire damaged the walls, ceiling, and some of the furnishings, while smoke and water damaged the rest of the interior. Quick action by the Fire Department prevented possible complete destruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Weathers were visiting at a neighbor's when the fire started. Some one noticed the fire and turned in the alarm, and the Weathers knew nothing of the fire until after the Fire Department arrived.

DAUGHTER DIES

Mrs. Frank Decker and Annabelle was called to Fort Worth Sunday by the sudden death of Mrs. Decker's daughter, Mrs. Effie Bennett. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Parrish and son, David of New Deal.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Walker's little son Tim, 3, was in Tahoka Hospital early this week with the pneumonia. He is back home.

NO TUBE to Cause Flats or Blowouts!

NEW MILLER Safety-Guard IMPERIAL TUBELESS TIRES

Miller has eliminated the chief cause of flats and blowouts—the inner tube!

In the Safety-Guard Imperial, a patented Sealant seals punctures as you drive. This gunny rubber compound surrounds a puncturing object—such as nails—to prevent loss of air. Remove the nails and this special compound is drawn into the hole, sealing it instantly and permanently.

Exclusive Blowout Shield guards you against dangerous bruise-caused blowouts. If the cord body is seriously damaged, flexing ultimately opens a tiny hole in the double liner. Air escapes slowly so car can be brought to a safe, sure stop.

Get the latest in safe tire development—Miller Safety-Guard Imperials.

New, roomier bodies!
New, rugged construction!

New Chevrolet Trucks... do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save extra trips. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pick-up bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower for easier loading.

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability let you save time where it counts.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you save time at every delivery stop. And you can forget about clutching and shifting for good! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton Chevrolet trucks.

You save on operating costs. New power saves you money every mile! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep, too. Extra chassis strength saves you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models... stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay and continue over the miles. Chevrolet is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. It's also the truck that has a traditionally higher trade-in value.

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY

You Reddy Kilowatt Appliance Dealer will install an electric clothes dryer in your home now for a 15 day trial. During the trial period, a Public Service Home Service Advisor will give you a complete dryer demonstration. Without obligation, you can "Try Before You Buy" and see for yourself how an electric clothes dryer makes washday completely automatic.

Why fight the weather—or wait for it—and then get a poor clothes drying result and a waste of time?

An electric clothes dryer, by actual test, is more sanitary than drying under perfect outdoor conditions. Easier on you, too, for it takes just 30 seconds to shift the clothes from the washer to the dryer, while it takes at least an hour every washday to carry the clothes to and from the line.

For five cents a load, there's no sense to drying the old-fashioned outdoor way.

Griffin Tells Of Red Cross Work

Work of the American Red Cross locally and nationally was the subject of Bill Griffin, county Red Cross chairman, at the Rotary Club meeting Thursday noon of last week.

In stressing the importance of the organization, he outlined its varied program, including service to men in the armed forces, veterans, the blood bank program, disaster, safety, unsine, etc.

He pointed out that Red Cross last year served 117,000 per month in hospitals, helped 105,000 per month in the home service program, collected 2,329,000 blood donations, and issued 236,000 home nursing certificates, as a part of its work.

He said there were 329 disasters in 1953 in which the Red Cross helped out in which 432 people were killed and 24,500 families were affected. Red Cross rebuilt 1,300 destroyed homes, refurnished 2,200 homes, and aided a total of 4,700 families struck by disaster who could not get help from any other source.

In the current Red Cross drive, which is still short of its goal by about $400.00 in Lynn county, 78 percent of the funds raised go to the national program, and 22 percent is retained for local use. When the quota is exceeded, as it usually is in Lynn county, 50 percent of the excess is retained for use at home.

No money is ever issued to cases directly by the local Chapter, he said. But many unfortunate people are helped with groceries, medicines, and clothing. Last year, the local Chapter spent about $1,500.00 for medical care and food.

Ronald Sherrill was program chairman for the day.

Owl Stamps Available Here

The Owl Saving Stamp Plan, a new type of saving plan, is being introduced by a group of Tahoka Merchants this week.

This new plan which was first started in Stanton, encourages the familiar "trade at home" idea, and actually gives Tahoka an advantage over any town within approximately 100 miles of Tahoka, as the Owl Saving Stamp is not available in any of those cities.

Because a number of different merchants, in several types of business, give the Owl Stamps, this enables the customer to complete the convenient savings books faster, as he is able to get the stamps with practically every purchase he makes. The completed books are then redeemable at any Owl Stamps Merchant for merchandise of the customer's choosing, thereby offering an unlimited premium selection.

Roby, located a short distance from Sweetwater, instituted this new savings plan two weeks ago, and reports that it is being received with enthusiasm by the merchants and customers alike.

The eight stores in Tahoka who have started the plan are giving a savings book with $2.00 worth of Owl Stamps free to every adult who comes in their stores on Saturday, March 20.

THE TRUTH comes home.. to the Family

Your newspaper brings you the facts that safeguard your freedom of choice

As an American, you are free to think, choose and act for yourself. But, unless you also had the right to know the truth, these precious freedoms would immediately become meaningless and soon disappear. The right to know is fundamental to democracy. It is guaranteed to you by the First Article of the Bill of Rights, which established a free press. It is predicated upon the faith of the founders in the wisdom of the people . . . provided they have the facts. To bring the truth right into your family circle is the purpose of your newspaper. It tells you what is going on across the world . . . and across the street! Without fear or favor, it gives you authentic facts which you must have if you are to think, choose and act in the best interests of your family, your community, your country. Freedom of the press is primarily the freedom of all people to know all the facts. It is the basic freedom upon which all other freedoms depend . . . without which, none could long endure.

In its advertising as well as its news columns, your newspaper helps you to exercise your American freedom of choice wisely and well. Every advertisement it prints is a bid for your favor . . . presents the facts you need in order to decide what to buy and from whom . . . all with a view to making every dollar you spend contribute the greatest measure of satisfaction to your family and yourself.

Mrs. Hammonds Is Buried Here

Mrs. T. I. Hammonds, 63, died Wednesday of last week at O'Donnell. Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church of O'Donnell, and burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery, under direction of Stanley-Jones Funeral Home.

Mrs. Hammonds was born Nora Frances Holcombe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Holcomb, on August 31, 1890, in Chattanooga, Tenn.

She came to Texas with her parents at the age of 12, and lived in this state until grown. She was married to James Munroe Sanders June 8, 1911, and moved to Carter, Okla. Born to this union were three sons, Carl Sanders of O'Donnell, Lee Sanders of Muleshoe, and James Sanders of Fort Worth. Her husband died on May 10, 1921.

Mrs. Sanders moved to New Mexico, and it was there that she was converted and joined the Nazarene Church in 1924. On moving to West Texas in 1928, her membership was not transferred, and she did not attend church because of ill health. However, she lived a consistent Christian life and kept in close touch with public worship through means of her radio. She knew the time and place on the radio dial of her favorite religious programs.

After sixteen years as a widow, she married T. I. Hammonds on Oct. 23, 1937. For years they have made their home adjacent to the city of O'Donnell on the farm.

She is survived by her husband; the three sons named above, and 21 grandchildren. There are four sisters, Mrs. Linnie Denton of Bartlesville, Okla., Mrs. C. E. Armstrong of Shawnee, Okla., and Mrs. R. L. Martin of Mooringsport, La.; two brothers, T. M. Holcombe of Sacramento, Cal., and George Holcombe of Shawnee, Okla. Also, there are three step-daughters, Mrs. Joe Hodge of Morton, Mrs. Sherman Inman of Muleshoe, and Mrs. Wallace Vaughn of Ventura, Calif.; and two step-sons, Edgar Hammonds of Tahoka, and Arthur J. Hammonds of Roswell, N. M.

Billy L. Thomas Meets Friends At London Barbecue

A/1c Billy Loren Thomas, who is serving with the U. S. Air Force in England, writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thomas of Grassland, that he recently attended a Texas barbecue in London.

The barbecue was the occasion for a gathering of Texans in "marrie ole England," and featured Texas beef barbecue Texas style.

But the biggest surprise Billy Loren got was the fact that he ran into a number of old friends, and a great reunion was held. One of the old friends was Billy Jack Barrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Barrington, and wife. Another was J. W. Stephens of Post. And he also met again two of his former school mates at McMurry College.

Billy Loren was home last Christmas, and was married on Dec. 17 to Miss Helen Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton of Garza county. She is living with her parents until he returns to the States.

Tankersley's Sister Dies Suddenly

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tankersley were called to Alpine Monday morning of last week by the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. Tom Parsons, who had suffered a stroke and was expected to live only a few hours.

They left at once and arrived in Alpine at 3:15 p. m. Mrs. Parsons was still alive but unconscious, and passed away at 9:45 a. m. Tuesday.

The body was taken to Christoval, her home for burial there on Wednesday.

Mrs. Parsons had suffered serious injuries from a fall about six weeks previous to her death, but had been improving nicely and had gone to Alpine for a few days visit with a brother and three sisters who lived there.

She and Mr. Parsons had visited often in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tankersley, and had made a number of acquaintances in Lynn county. The couple would have been married 54 years on July 1. She had no children but left one step-daughter, Mrs. Mary Stirman of Indian Gap, who was at her bedside. Mr. Parsons is a retired ranchman.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Noble of Tahoka and Mrs. Letta Williamson of Lubbock attended the funeral services.

The day following the Tankersley's return to Tahoka, word was received from Mrs. Roy Rutland Jr. (Pansy Tankersley) that her husband's father, Roy Rutland Sr., had died suddenly of a heart attack at Waco, his home. He was found dead in his car. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rutland Jr. had recently moved from Waco to Wichita, Kansas, and went immediately to Waco, where funeral services were held on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harton of Newcastle came up last Saturday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Bill McNeely. Sunday night, Mr. Harton became seriously ill and was taken to Tahoka Hospital. He was much improved Thursday. A son, Lewis Harton of Lockney, has also been at his bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart and children of Lubbock were visitors in Tahoka Sunday.

Odds AND Ends

(BY E. I. THOR ELDER)

Here I am, folks, back again. Probably my absence was scarcely noticed, but just the same I was gone five weeks. I was called down to Waco by the serious illness of my oldest living sister, who, even so, is five years younger than I. Sure enough, I found her in a Waco hospital in a serious condition. She remained in the hospital almost two weeks after my arrival but by that time was able to be released to her home. Since then she has steadily improved, and I left her much better. We have many kin-folks scattered around over Texas, all the way from Amarillo to Houston, and many of them came to visit our sick sister Belle during my stay in Waco. So, aside from the concern and sorrow which we felt on account of her illness, we had a wonderfully pleasant visit with one another.

Leaving Waco early Tuesday morning, and making brief visits with relatives in Hamlin and Snyder, I arrived home Wednesday afternoon, after facing a furious sandstorm nearly all the way from Abilene to Tahoka.

I had thought that I would devote this column this week to conditions in central Texas and to the interesting events that occurred in that area, while I was there but I finally decided to finish first my narrative of one of the greatest true stories in all history, the discovery of America—and especially the part played in that event by the king and queen of Spain.

I stopped last week at that point in the story where Isabella had just been crowned queen of Castile in the absence of her young husband Ferdinand, who was king of Aragon. Her coronation occurred in 1474, when she was just 23 years old, and it is doubtful that she had ever seen Christopher Columbus at that time. Here we turn to Mr. Peattie's story as published in the Reader's Digest for this month, a part of which we used last week. "To eyes beyond its borders," Mr. Peattie continued, "Spain looked easy picking, with its untried young rulers, its meager army, its coffers left empty by the waste!

Henry. So, announcing a preposterous claim to Isabella's throne, the king of Portugal led 20,000 well-drilled soldiers into the heart of Castile. Isabella mounted her horse and in full armor rode about the country like a Joan of Arc, pleading for troops and funds. Men flocked to her, and Ferdinand, an expert drill-master, whipped them into an army.

In the campaign that followed, it was Isabella who saw that fresh mounts were waiting for her darling husband, who urged the creaking artillery forward. She organized the commissariat and fed the troops. It was her eyes, scanning the map by lamplight, that found the fatal weakness in the Portuguese lines. But at the battle that brought victory near Toro on March 1, 1476, the queenly strategist remained in the background, on her knees in prayer, while Ferdinand won the day and glory.

I thing Isabella's part in the achievement of that victory was one of the most thrilling and glorious in all the long history of Spain.

But Mr. Peattie tells us much more. The defensive war against Portugal having been won, "Then boldly she faced the task of winning the peace," he continues. "During Henry's time, the courts had become a morass of graft, and now the Queen took to the road, dispensing justice like a circuit judge."—a performance that was both a little irregular and dictatorial but doubtless necessary, for Mr. Peattie further says: "For the first time the wealthy found their bribes useless, and a shiver ran down noble spines when Isabella had a grandee beheaded for a little matter of murdering a commoner."

She seems to have believed therefore in capital punishment on proper occasions and she knew how to administer it. That policy, we are told, restored confidence and gave stability to the Government, and so, as a result, Spain began to grow strong.

But while Isabella could be stern and harsh on occasion, she nevertheless was a wise and devoted wife and mother, according to Mr. Peattie,—a practical seamstress, who made her husband's clothes, and generously forgave his social sins. At the same time, through peace and war she reared five children while attending contemporaneously to her official duties. She was both a Christian and a patriot. Here is another incident in her career that proves it. In the late 1470's the "Infidel Moors" were still three million strong in the southern part of the land where from their mountain strongholds they raided the border, sought towns, stole women. At Christmastime, 1481," Mr. Peattie states, "the Moorish King of Granada broke the uneasy truce with the surprise capture of a border fortress. Spain became a battlefield. In the east the whole Moslem world threatened aggression. Western Europe rallied to meet the attack, and from England, Ireland, and France, allies came hastening to Ferdinand and Isabella, who took command of the crusade.

"While the King led their forces at the front, the Queen directed the vast logistics of the war. She went to Germany for expert gunpowder makers, and to Lombardy for heavy artillery. For its transport she had her engineers build roads over impassable mountain trails, and span chasms thought unbridgable. When sickness ravaged the camps, she organized field hospitals, complete with tents, surgeons, medicines, and bandages, and paid for them out of her own pocket.

"So led, the Christian allies turned the tide of battle till it flooded the kingdom of Granada to the gates of the Moorish city of Baza. Then the besieging Spanish troops ran short of food and ammunition. That was when Isabella pawned her rubies and pearls, all the gold and silver plate left her by her ancestors, even the crown of St. Fernando of Castile. Thus she was able to set 14,000 mules dragging in food and ammunition from the far corners of her realm, and to send all the way to Switzerland for disciplined mercenaries. Malaga fell, Baza surrendered upon the news.

that Isabella had arrived in the opposite camp, for her presence was enough to fire the spirit of the Spanish troops to invincibility.

This was in 1481, mind you. It is important to keep dates in mind in a story like this.

"But now there was a new dream in that crowned, copper-haired head," Mr. Peattie reminds us. Three years before (1478) a tall sailor, Christopher Columbus of Genoa, had come to the court at Cordova to unfold a strange and startling project. Isabella could not forget the inspired authority of this man, or his gray, straight eyes; his forthright ruddy countenance; his passion, shared with her, for the Christian faith. The sympathy between them was instant, and it was to unlock half a world. This idea that the world was round—let others shake their heads; she grasped it. Now this bold seaman proposed to sail into the unknown West in order to reach the east to arrive not only at Japan and India but to discover, perhaps, new lands for Crown and Cross.

"The magnificent scheme caught the imagination of the Queen at once; but Ferdinand, close-fisted, close-minded, resisted it stubbornly. And Isabella was bound by her policy of acting in unison with her husband. When in 1483 Christopher Columbus returned, the best she could do was to win him a present of money and encourage him to have patience till the war with the Moors was over.

"It ended early in January of the fateful year 1492, when Granada surrendered, and for the first time in 777 years Christians walked there not as slaves of the quarries and harems but freely, as conquerors. And there, in the Alhambra Palace, the King and Queen of Spain were once more faced by the determined adventurer with the star-led gaze.

"And once more, the greatest enterprise in history was denied its chance. After six years of pleading and poverty, Columbus was turned from the gates of Granada, and rode away, embittered, on his mule. But the power of his presence remained at court, and worked upon the Queen, so did the greatest banker in Spain, Luis de Santangel, who added to the noble motives of Columbus the shrewdest business reasons for support. So little to be risked for such vast possible gains! And now Ferdinand listened, and a messenger was sent flying after the plodding mule to recall its rider.

"So the pact was signed that promised new realms to Spain; and to Columbus a tenth of any revenue, the title of 'Admiral of the Ocean Sea,' and three ships to venture into the unmapped West. To charter and man these vessels meant money, and war had bled Spain white. Isabella sighed that gladly would she pawn her jewels. But Santangel put up half the money, Columbus borrowed among his friends, and Isabella levied upon the seaport of Palos for ships and men. And so the sails of the Nina, the Pinta, and the Santa Maria disappeared over the western sea line."

Ferdinand and Isabella and banker Santangel, and a few others who shared Columbus' beliefs, no doubt, waited patiently and with ever-increasing expectancy and deepening concern, as the days and weeks, and the months plodded by without and word coming out of the west as to the fate or progress of the vessels and their crews, when one day, as the Reader's Digest writer reminds us early in the year 1493, a letter from Lisbon announced that he has "crossed the western sea and (Continued)

Conservation activities in the Lynn District during the last several months have been aimed at one goal and that is the conservation of water.

Most of the work of the local Soil Conservation Service technicians has been helping farmers apply practices that conserve either irrigation water or rainfall, or both.

To date farmers in the district have installed a total of 69,336 feet of underground concrete pipe. This is the total amount of pipe installed by 50 farmers who have received cost-sharing help from the Government through the ACP program.

There are some farmers who are laying portable surface pipe claimed vast lands for his Spanish Majesties. On March 15, 1493, the three little ships dropped anchor in Palos, whence they had sailed seven months previously, with unmistakable evidence of having achieved success. When the party reached Barcelona, Spain, shortly thereafter, all Europe was aflame with excitement.

"In state upon their thrones sat Ferdinand and Isabella. To them came Christopher Columbus," as Mr. Peattie reminds us as he continues his narrative, "accompanied by six feathered and painted Indians bearing gifts of gold and strange artifacts and gaudy, raucous parrots. At his approach the King and Queen rose, as they would have done for no other commoner on earth. For this sailor with the visionary eyes had opened half the world as a new home for the Spanish people, a new kingdom of souls for the Christian faith. So, when his amazing tales had been heard and his trophies examined, King and Queen, prince and cardinal, and all the court knelt in a service of thanksgiving for the Great Discovery.

"And in all of the Admiral's three voyages to the Americas, it was Isabella who found the ships, the men, the money, provided the domestic animals, the crop seeds, the colonists, the priests who went out to the settlements in the New World. Columbus was on his way to her after his last voyage when he learned that on November 26, 1504, there had died at Medina del Campo, the woman who, in one generation, had raised her country from anarchy and poverty to unity and greatness. She had, by faith and force, made possible the venture that opened the New World and ushered in the modern era."

Now I feel like apologizing to somebody for using so much of another man's pabulum in presenting this marvelous story to my readers, if any, but he had done a so much better job than I could have done that I really feel that I was doing my readers a favor in quoting from him so lengthily.

I have in my book-shelves two histories of Mexico that also give much information respecting the discovery of America by Columbus and I expect to quote from one of the most considerable length, but for lack of space I will not do so this week. I may give you another sitting on Christopher Columbus at a later date.

Since I started writing this column for this week I have received another article from our Mexico contributor to be included in it. In the contribution from her which we published in this column on March 12, she broke off her story rather suddenly with the mention of Sacrificios Island where Cortes is said to have witnessed the first human sacrifice made by Indians that he had ever seen. She had mentioned it as an interesting place in which to find recreation; and now she begins her contribution for this week as follows:

"Or you may go down the coast to quaint old Alvarado on the Cosamaloapan River, which is said to send Mexico City a trainload of fish every day. Up the river a short way from Alvarado, by river freighter—not too comfortable—you will find the ghost town of Tlacotalpan, stretching itself in the sun. She writes this week on BEACHES.

In Veracruz, the visitor finds extensive beaches of fine sand which slope gently into the sea. (Pardon me, Aurora, but we are pretty well "fed up" out here in West Texas on "fine sand"—that is about all that we have eaten out here for three weeks). At Villa del Mar one may swim, rest under the shade of multi-colored beach parasols, dance to the delicious tropical music of the region, or watch the charming girls of Veracruz famous for their great black eyes and graceful figures. Here one may eat the favorite dishes special sweets of Veracruz, taste the favorite soft drinks made of coconut or guanabanana. Not far away is a comfortable tourist camp. At the Regata Club one may watch exciting boat races or admire the skill and beauty of the bathers and divers.

A few minutes from Veracruz by excellent paved highway is Boca del Rio, famous for oysters and other dishes flavored according to the inimitable taste of the Veracruzanos. On the way to Boca del Rio, one passes Mocambo, with its excellent hotel and baths, from whose terraces one may enjoy the grandeur of the sea view while sipping the famous mint-julep of Veracruz. The hotel has a good kitchen, and all the comforts and modernity of the best seashore hotels. The beach in front of the hotel is of perfect white sand, where visitors can swim and sun themselves and the children play happily all day with shells and starfish.

The port of Veracruz itself has numerous first-rate hotels and apartment houses. From the high watch towers which still remain

CATHCART-VISITS HERE

T. R. Cathcart was here from Wednesday of last week until Monday of this week. He is now living with a brother at Grapevine but expects to return home "as soon as it rains."

He came up with his son Rob and family, who went on to Roswell for a visit. Rob is employed in Dallas at the Safeway Wholesale house.

"Cathy" says the weather is dry and dusty down there, too.

Average distance from the earth to the moon is about 239,000 miles.

On some old Veracruz private residences—towers used in the old days for constant vigilance against the danger of pirates—one may now get a splendid view of the historic old port and the great fortress of San Juan de Ulua, and may even imagine, as in days gone by, the advent of the barbaric ship of the buccaneers, who used to sail the "Caribe, Campeachey, and Spanish Main."

GORDON CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. GATZKI

Gordon Home Demonstration Club met March 9 at the home of Mrs. Gus Gatzki.

Roll call was answered by "the type of handbag I prefer." Miss Wanda Roach, our agent, gave a demonstration on how to dress well and the use of accessories.

Mrs. Woodrow Stewart was appointed clothing demonstrator.

The Club decided to quit on April 27 instead of the regular meeting day.

Those present were: Miss Roach, Mmes. Spencer, George Baker, Ray Cook, Ed Denton, Raymond Gatzki, B. H. Jones, J. R. Shelton, Woodrow Stewart, and four children.

Mrs. Raymond Gatzki was co-hostess. Sandwiches, cookies, cake and coffee were served.

Connie Warren, Security Sergeant of Plant Protection
 917 South Hampton St., Angleton, Texas

2 "We've used Conoco Super with TCP since the start. We first noticed the tremendous increase in power on a business trip. Pickup was much better, and on hills and passing, it was just like driving a new car. Mileage is up 34 miles to the tankful too!"

Mrs. Ray Banner, Co-owner PFAFF Sewing Center
 4637 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Missouri

3 "As an insurance broker, I drive nearly 25,000 miles a year. Good mileage and plenty of power are important to me. Since using New Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP, I get better pickup, smoother running and three miles more to the gallon!"

Edmund T. Berent, Insurance Broker
 3443 N. Springfield Avenue, Chicago, Illinois

4 "I've got 50,000 miles on my 1950 Buick, but since changing to Conoco Super with TCP it runs just like new. On cold mornings, it starts the first time I kick it over. And on the road, or in city driving, I'm getting a good 2 miles more per gallon."

W. T. "Bill" Olson, Sr., Retail Lumberman
 7940 Robbison Way, Arvada, Colorado

5 "I get a day and a half extra run on my school route since we switched to Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP. The power increase is really something. I don't have to shift to second on hills like I used to. I'm getting an all-round performance increase of 50%."

M. C. RICHEY PAYS UP FOR THE NEWS

M. C. Richey of Grassland was in Wednesday to pay up his subscription to The News. This is not unusual, as nearly all the paper's subscribers have renewed every year.

But, Mr. Richey declared, this was the 37th time he had paid his subscription. Though not nearly our oldest subscriber, he is one of the most prompt. He started taking The News in 1917, when he moved to his present farm near Grassland.

He said he saw his first sandstorm 50 years ago this fall, on Oct. 9, 1904, the day he arrived in West Texas from Kaufman county. He didn't say whether or not he had gotten accustomed to sandstorms.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Polk and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Havens and son visited in Perryton last week end with Rev. and Mrs. Winfred Walker and baby.
