$185,000 Loan For Phone Extensions

Approval of an appropriation of $185,000.00 for construction of two central station telephone areas in Terry county to serve about 400 farms has been received by Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative, according to W. D. Harmon, manager.

The cooperative has been working on this extension for some time, and engineers have completed the preliminary area coverage design.

Poka-Lambro is already serving about 900 rural homes in Lynn, Garza, Dawson, and Borden counties.

An automatic exchange will be located southwest of Meadow to serve the territory east, south, and west of the town of Meadow and north of Brownfield.

The other exchange will serve the territory west and northwest of Brownfield, including Gomez and the Tokio vicinity, with the central station located two miles south of Johnson.

Each of these exchanges is expected to serve about 200 rural members.

Poka-Lambro at present is serving the Southland area of northeast Lynn and Northwest Garza counties. This exchange connects with Slaton for extended area coverage, and serves about 130 customers.

Connected with Tahoka are four exchanges serving 315 members, Fletcher-Carter, New Lynn, West Lakes, and New Home. These serve Draw, Redwine, Grassland, Edith, Midway, New Lynn, Garolia, Dixie, Wayside, New Home, Petty, Lakeview, West Point, and parts of the T-Bar and Wells communities.

O'Donnell area has two exchanges serving a total of 150. One six miles east serves Joe Bailey, part of Draw, and parts of Borden and Dawson counties. One located west of town serves Wells, Newmoore, part of T-Bar community and part of Dawson county.

Dawson county has three exchanges serving about 300 patrons, these being at Hatch, Patricia, and Punkin Center.

At present the Gail exchange has only about 11 patrons.

Mr. Harmon says customers of the Cooperative are increasing at the rate of 15 to 20 a month, and that the return of normal times should bring further customers, as the service is proving popular with most farm families in the area.

Each of the 12 election precincts of Lynn county is asked to hold a Democratic precinct convention next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at a place in the precinct designated by the precinct chairman, according to John Saleh, county Democratic chairman.

Purpose of the conventions is to elect delegates to the county convention and to attend to other business. Each precinct is entitled to one delegate and one alternate for each 25 votes or major fraction thereof cast for the Democratic candidate for governor in the last general election.

The County Democratic convention will be held at 3 p. m. July 31, one week later, at 3 p. m. in the District court room in Tahoka.

Wharton Adding To Big Building

Work was started this week enlarging the Winston C. Wharton building to eliminate the front drive and extend front of the building 28 feet west across its entire 90-foot frontage.

When completed, the south 35 by 125 foot area will be occupied by Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative, which now has its headquarters in the Connolly building. The north area will be occupied by Whorton Motor Co.

The addition will cover 2,520 square feet giving the building a total of 15,330 square feet making it the largest commercial building in Tahoka.

The new front will be modernistic in design, all plate glass, trimmed in redwood, and with a three-foot overhang roof.

Space will be left in front for off-street parking.

The interior of the present building will also be materially remodeled.

Also, the "L" at the rear north, 26x60 feet in size will be rebuilt to conform with the rest of the building.

Joe Wharton of Albany, brother of Winston, is in charge of the construction.

Absentee Ballots Total 163 Here

A total of 163 absentee ballots had been cast when the deadline was reached Tuesday night, according to Mrs. Beulah Primrose, county clerk.

Absentee ballots are now placed in a separate voting box, designated in Lynn county as Precinct 13.

Swimming Meet Here August 6

Boy Scouts from 12 South Plains towns are expected to participate in the annual Texas and Quannah Park districts swimming contests at the Tahoka Municipal Swimming Pool on Friday night, August 6, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Teja district held its meet here last year, but this year Quannah Park district has been invited to join in the contests.

Towns in the two districts include: Tahoka, Lamesa, Brownfield, New Home, Loop, Denver City, Seagraves, Ropes, Meadow, Welch, Seminole and possibly others who may have active troops.

Winning troop of each three divisions will go to the Area Council Meet at Lubock, on August 17.

The three divisions are: Junior, for boys 11 years old; Intermediate, 12 and 13 years; and Explorer, 14 through 18 years.

Boys in each division will compete individually in four contests, back stroke, breast stroke, side stroke and free-style stroke.

Relay team contests will be a four man team using all four strokes and a four man team free style.

Curt Wilson of Lamesa, district boy Scout executive, will be in charge of the meet, and he will be assisted by A. V. Barnes and Roy Ford, local scoutmaster and assistant, and others.

The event is free to spectators, and everyone is invited to witness the contests.

This is considered a top honor, as only top scouts are attending the course, and instruction will be given by leaders of the Council.

Wheat Quota Election Soon

On June 21, 1954, the Secretary of Agriculture announced a National Marketing Quota on the 1955 crop of wheat. The referendum will be held on Friday July 23, in the Lynn County ASC office. Polls will open at 8:00 A. M. and close at 7:00 p. m.

Due to the small number of eligible voters in Lynn County, there will be only one voting place. The following requirements must be met before a producer will be eligible to vote in the wheat referendum.

Any person who will engage in the production of wheat in 1955 on a farm on which acreage will be in excess of 15 acres, and who is entitled to share in the proceeds of such 1955 wheat crop. Husband and wife are both eligible to vote.

A. A. Timmons, who entered Tahoka Hospital as a medical patient last Friday, is reported to be improving.

Four Arrested By Officers Here

Four young men were arrested here Thursday night of last week following a little excitement which started at a cafe in south Tahoka.

They are James Doyle, wanted at Rotan for burglary; Durwood Gartman, who was wanted here as a result of three bills of indictment for forgery; Marion Sanches and Robert Doyle, who paid fines for drunkenness following their arrest.

The four were accosted by City Policeman James Tippit. They fled from him, and he called Deputy sheriff Tom Hale and policeman Roy Hefner, who assisted him in making the arrest after a chase over the east part of town.

James Doyle is said to have "jumped bond" while awaiting disposition of his case by the higher courts.

Ben Ramsey of San Augustine county, the present Lieutenant Governor, is opposed by C. T. Johnson of Travis county and George T. Hinson of Wood county, but neither of these two has stirred up any particular interest in this area.

Unopposed for state office are: John C. White, Commissioner of (Cont'd. on Back Page)

Farm Bureau Is Sponsor of County Queen Contest

Many Lynn county girls are eligible to enter the Lynn County Farm Bureau queen contest which will be held in the Tahoka High School auditorium at 8 p. m. August 20.

Eligible for competition are single girls between the ages of 16 and 22 (16 by Sept. 1, 1954, and not over 22 by Sept. 1, 1954) whose dad or brother is a member of the Farm Bureau.

Prizes will be awarded the county winner, and she will compete in the district contest later in the summer. Further information may be secured at the Farm Bureau office.

FFA Boys Attend State Convention

Two Tahoka Future Farmers of America and their sponsor left Tuesday for San Antonio, where they are attending Wednesday through Friday the State FFA convention.

The boys are L. W. Castleberry, president of the local FFA chapter, and Walton Terry, president of the Junior FFA chapter, and V. P. Carter is the teacher and sponsor.

New Home Party Is Monday Week

Plans are going forward for the big Community Party at New Home Monday night, August 2, at 8 p. m., sponsored by New Home Civic Club, according to Joe D. Unfried.

Everyone is invited to the big free entertainment. There will be an amateur talent contest with cash prizes awarded to the winners, and free refreshments will be served all comers.

Joe says J. W. Edwards is now planning on singing a solo, a new version of "My Wild Irish Rose."

Two of the three judges have been selected and are Hal Mayfield, KFYO announcer who was reared in the New Home area, and Police Chief Harold McInroe of Lubbock.

A lot of fun is planned during the event that should appeal to all. The event will be held on the football field.

First Bale of Cotton Premium Is Open To All County Farmers This Year

A new policy has been adopted in the awarding of the prize for the first bale of cotton by Tahoka Chamber of commerce and Lynn county gins.

This year, the premium will go to the first bale of cotton delivered to the First National Bank of Tahoka corner, provided only that such bale is raised in Lynn county and ginned by any Lynn county gin.

Both in the county and in the state, with no competition for county judge and sheriff to a routine local interest.

In fact, there are only six state offices in which there are contests and only six county and precinct offices for which more than one candidate are filed.

Lyndon B. Johnson, present incumbent, is opposed for United States Senator by Dudley Tarlton Dougherty of Bee county. In view of Senator Johnson's outstanding record as a senator and as minority leader of the senate, he is expected to receive an overwhelming majority. Dougherty is a wealthy young South Texan, practically unknown to Texas voters.

Martin Dies is unopposed for Congressman-at-large from Texas, as is George Mahon, long the capable representative from the 19th Congressional district.

Most state-wide interest is in the Governor's race. Governor Allan Shivers, running for a third term, is a conservative and joined many other Texans in voting for Eisenhower for president. His opponent is Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney, who is admittedly a "New Deal" brand of Democrat. Though he was badly defeated when contesting Shivers for the office two years ago, Yarborough is making a real race out of this year's campaign, which is even admitted by the Shivers forces. Other names on the ticket are J. J. Holmes of Austin and Cy-clone Davis of Dallas.

Ben Ramsey of San Augustine county, the present Lieutenant Governor, is opposed by C. T. Johnson of Travis county and George T. Hinson of Wood county, but neither of these two has stirred up any particular interest in this area.

Many New Wells Drilled During '53

Development of ground-water supplies in the Texas High Plains was accelerated during 1953. The report shows that owing to the continued below-normal rainfall, the drilling of new wells in 1953 increased at a rate unsurpassed since 1938. Records show that 6,200 wells were drilled during 1953 and the number of wells available for use totaled 24,500 as of January 1953.

The report, written by Edward R. Leggat, Geologist of the Geological Survey, discloses that ground water withdrawals during 1953 totaled 3,700,000 acre-feet, of which 4,300,000 acre feet was pumped in the principal irrigated region of the southern High Plains. Since 1938 the total ground-water withdrawal in the High Plains has been about 16,000,000 acre-feet. The net declines of water levels during 1953 was the greatest on record. A decline of 2-feet or more occurred in almost the entire irrigated district of the southern High Plains.

These conclusions are contained in a report entitled, "Ground-water development in the southern High Plains of Texas, 1953," prepared cooperatively by the Texas Board of Water Engineers in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey. Copies of the report are available for free distribution upon request to the Texas west 15th Street, Austin 15, Texas.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While securing data on which Federal Trade Commission is making investigation of couponing practices, the National Federation of Independent Business found even a guess cannot be made on yearly cost of coupons to nations independent grocers.

Independent grocers lose on coupons two ways.

Usually, the huge couponing corporations agree to pay the grocer a service charge on each coupon received.

Thus, the grocer takes the item out of stock, and gives it to the customer for a coupon and cut price, often less than grocers cost. Theoretically he receives from the corporation the amount of the discount, plus the handling fee. But even at best, part of the grocer's working capital is tied up weeks, or months, in coupons. Thus big corporation schemes to wreck independent manufacturing competition in an area is partly based on working on independent grocer's money.

But processing coupons is expensive. A big national chain operation now demands the usual handling fee be raised to 2½¢ on the basis their figures show it actually costs them 2½¢ to handle every coupon they receive.

However, independent grocers take an even greater loss than chains. Corporations, because of the chain's ability to pay off coupons held by chains, with no questions asked but a number of subterfuges are used to delay or avoid payment altogether to independent grocers.

For example, there is the dating procedure. Some coupons carry an expiration date. If Mrs. Jones doesn't present it before expiration, her grocer probably fails to notice the date. In any event, he knows nearest chain will accept coupon regardless of date because it can collect. But independent grocers are left holding the bag.

There is also the "not stocked" basis for refusal to pay. Sometimes an item is couponed a grocer does not usually stock, but to accommodate customers presenting coupons, he will stock for a few weeks to cover coupons. But when he sends the coupons into the corporation to get his money back, payment is refused on grounds grocer does not carry item. Sometimes the corporation will be gracious, however, agreeing to honor the coupons if grocer places an order for several times a normal supply of the item.

Other dodges which prevent independent grocers from collecting on coupons turned into them are being explored by FTC probe. However, a pretty clear picture is emerging which shows toll being taken from independent business and public.

Whenever one of these corporations decides an independent manufacturer is too strong in some area, it moves in with coupons delivered to every home in a city at a loss to the Post Office, thus costing taxpayers. These grocers, chain and independent alike, are forced to serve as banking centers for this spurious coupon currency at a loss, and independents suffer still further and buyers of item in areas not couponed pay a price which permits corporation to use these tactics to attack independent manufacturers. Thus, ironically, every time a housewife presents a coupon she is unknowingly helping to destroy independent business payrolls, perhaps her own families income.

A bridal shower in the form of a garden party honoring Miss Jan Edwards, bride-elect of Lt. Earl Hutcherson, Jr., of Lubbock, was held Friday night, July 16, in the yard of Mrs. Calloway Huffaker.

The serving table was covered with a dark green crinolin cloth and was centered with an arrangement of magnolia blossoms and flanked with hurricane lamps. The punch bowl was made of ice, in the walls of which were frozen gladioli, and was set beside the table in a flower filled wheelbarrow. A ruffled covered yard umbrella formed the background for the table.

Miniature ruffled parasols, wheelbarrow holding flower arrangements and hurricane lamps carried out the garden shower theme at various other places in the yard. Gifts were displayed on the terrace.

The houseparty included Mmes. Nancy Ramage, Willie Shambeck, and Carl Becham, Misses Deaie Edwards, Jeanelle Toler, and Sunny Sue Gibson, all of Tahoka, Patricia Hutcherson of Lubbock, Lena Schmidt of Slaton, and Bill Cryer of Bartlett.

MRS. FOLLIS ENJOYS VISIT TO HOUSTON

Mrs. Ed Follis and daughters, Barbara and Linda, of New Home returned home Sunday from a two weeks visit in Houston with James Follis and family.

While there, James took them to Galveston for their first look at the ocean, and they also traveled through two tunnels under the bay and saw several big ships. They also visited the zoo in Houston. Mrs. Follis says the trip was a great thrill to them, and the girls especially were thrilled to wade in the Gulf.

James and family brought them as far as Comanche, where they were met by Ed, "Pee-wee" and Junior, the latter returning to Houston with James for a visit of two or three weeks.

If you ride like the wind you are with some queasy squirts. Death is your reward and just desert.

Lenore M. Tunnell
Candidate for re-election as COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT of Lynn County

Mrs. Tunnell has made Lynn county a fine County School Superintendent . . . She has been diligent in her work, efficient, and a hard worker. She has had top training, is experienced in the classroom and in administration.

Mrs. Tunnell is recognized as one of the outstanding educators of West Texas, and has held a number of offices in professional organizations. She has tried to make Lynn county schools outstanding in educational circles.

She has gone beyond the call of duty in many matters. For example, without added cost to the public, she set up and has, since the start, administered the Lynn County Vocational School program for War Veterans. At the time of its organization, the Veterans' School WAS NOT a responsibility of the County Superintendent.

We ask that you give her candidacy for re-election to this office serious consideration.

Dry Sizing System Restores Lustre

The Dry Sizing system, recently installed by Ayer-Way Cleaners, really does a wonderful job of restoring the new lustre and body of new garments.

Granvel says the cleaning industry has always been plagued with garments being limp and lifeless after a few cleanings, but now, due to advancements in dry-sizing and equipment, it is possible to re-vitalize these limp garments to their new texture and stiffness without using a wet starch that dulls our pastel colors.

This dry sizing is added to our regular cleaning solvent where all garments needing additional body are thoroughly rinsed.

Dry sizing does not alter the measurements of any garment, although it does help them retain their original shape.

For the finest cleaning, using the most modern techniques of the cleaning industry, try Ayer-Way Cleaners. 41-ttc.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

At long last Federal Trade Commission has launched a full scale investigation of couponing practices. And in doing so, FTC has invoked seldom used compulsory process to get information from a few huge corporations who have been using the couponing method to drive out independent regional competition in a steamroller drive that moves from city to city.

The background is interesting. In September 1953, Sen. James Duff, heading C.W. Harder sub committee of Senate Small Business Committee asked FTC to report on course being taken to probe couponing practices.

Of course, the monopoly investigation branch of the FTC has been the heaviest cut, although the agency seems to find plenty of time to read over a half million radio and television commercials annually, even though evidence is strong public doesn't place too much credibility in any non-printed advertising claims.

But for whatever reason Senate Small Business Committee found FTC was not getting the evidence. The National Federation of Independent Business was asked to gather data.

On the basis of this data Sen. Edward Thyne, committee chairman, called on FTC for action now. In announcing FTC is proceeding on matter, Chairman Edward Howrey stated FTC is being forced to use compulsory processes against several big corporations to get more facts.

The facts about couponing are many. For example, an independent regional soap maker or flour miller, may be doing a fine job.

Job in some metropolitan market to distress of big national operators who even with their huge national campaigns cannot dislodge independent competition.

So these corporations give away their merchandise by mailing coupons to all householders offering a cutprice with the coupon. These coupons are carried at a loss to the U. S. Post Office to every home in area selected.

No independent regional manufacturer can stand this pressure, because unlike the big firm seeking to drive him out, he doesn't have customers all over nation who are paying for giveaways in a special local market. In fact, these investigations may establish that people in non-metropolitan areas are paying an excessive price for these national products to build big corporation war chests needed to knock off independent regional competitors one by one, city by city.

In addition, couponing practice has reached a point whereby several large corporations will get together to include coupons for their respective products in one mailing.

Some are enclosing in their packages a coupon good for cut price purchase of an item put out by another packing giant. Thus there appears to be at high corporation level a club which might be called LJWJHC Club, which spelled out means "Let's Jointly Wreck Our Joint Independent Competition."

Start of FTC action against big interests is no guarantee to early successful conclusion.

But on this issue both Senate and House Small Business Committee as well as independent businessmen will be looking over FTC shoulder because survival of independent regional manufacturing is at stake.

Billy Hancock bench leveled 50 acres of land last winter and he reports that he is sure pleased with the way its working out this year. His benches are eight rows wide and about 500 feet long, and he has concrete pipe supplying water to the benches.

Billy was by the Soil Conservation office early this week talking irrigation, crops, conservation, and football, and also making arrangements to do some more leveling on his farm this winter.

Technicians completed maps on the K. K. Moore and Clint Walker farms this week.

Kay Moore plans to bench level some more land this winter. He has 40 acres bench leveled and about a mile of underground concrete pipe on his farm now. Besides these mechanical measures K. K. is trying some soil improving practices this year with feed and New Era peas in the same row, cotton burs, and several new varieties of combine maize.

Turnrow irrigation studies were conducted on Monroe Shelton's farm, 8 miles east of Wilson, by technicians early this week. The purpose of the studies is to determine the rate water infiltrates into the soil; the rate of advance of several different sizes of furrow streams; the proper size of furrow stream, row length, and duration of set to give good water distribution down the furrow. Also, ditch losses were checked. On the fine textured soil on Mr. Shelton's farm the infiltration was found to be approximately two thirds of an inch an hour. His runs of 700 feet were good and a large furrow stream about 40 GPM in the level furrows would push out to the end in a reasonable time without over-watering the ditch end of the furrow. His ditch loss was 40

A. D. Sanders Is Deputy At Waco

A lot of people here remember A. D. Sanders, long, skinny clerk at Thomas Bros. Drug, son of Mrs. Sid Sanders of Waco and her late husband, Well, A. D., who now weighs 220, has been a deputy sheriff at Waco the past eight years.

Last week, Mrs. Sanders sent her brother-in-law, D. Sanders, the following clipping from a column in a Waco paper.

NICE TO KNOW DEPT. . . . Deputy Sheriff Abe Sanders astounds us with his remarkable capacity for being nice to everybody. All the incoming calls to the Sheriff's Department are received through Abe's desk, either by phone or through the car speaker system. The latter is a switch board type of thing which is the joint receptacle for police Dept. and sheriff's dept. calls. Abe has to cull all these calls and disburse them to the proper channels. In addition to this, he types, reports, escorts visitors to the jail, directs all inquiries to various offices, take time to console hysterical mothers and friends of offenders, and yet remains seemingly calm and unaffected. We've visited the Sheriff's Department on a number of occasions and have as yet to see Abe Sanders without a smile on his face. What a guy!

JUST A WORD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to everyone who was so kind while I was in the hospital and also after I came home: for all the visits, cards, and flowers. It is wonderful to have friends. Again, we thank you. —Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper.

NEW SENSATION of the show world is Bob Johnson who heads up the 1954 Electric Fair staged in connection with the Annual Membership meeting of Lyntegar Electric Co-op in Tahoka on August 9 and 10.

New Sensations of Show Business Stars In Electrical Fair In Tahoka Aug. 9-10

One of the country's newest additions to big time show business will be in Tahoka on August 9-10 as one of the stars of the Annual Meeting Electric Fair of Lyntegar Electric Co-op.

He is 26 year-old Bob Johnson, a sensational balancing artist whose breath-taking feats take place in the uppermost reaches of the Big Top. Balancing himself precariously high above the heads of his audience, Johnson weaves and turns as he skillfully balances himself to the delight of every crowd he has entertained.

Accompanying Johnson with the Electric Fair will be Harland Stretz, a polished young magician whose acts include illusion, pantomime, ventriloquism, and whip artistry. From out of nowhere he can produce flowers and a fish-bowl, or he can bake a cake in the hat of a member of the audience.

Johnson's debut in professional show business came last year when he appeared on a coast-to-coast television show. From there he went into New York City's famed Palace Theatre, Mecca of entertainers the world over, for an extended appearance.

He appeared in show places throughout the United States during the Fall and winter, and only recently returned from a twelve week engagement in Florida.

The young artist attended school in South Charleston, West Virginia. After serving two years with the Navy in the Mediterranean Theatre, he enrolled in Morris Harvey College, graduating with a degree in physical education.

Other acts under the Big Top during this year's annual meeting Electric Fair will include juggling, whip artistry, pantomimery, ventriloquism, and western and hillbilly music.

An amateur talent contest will be sponsored by Kelvinator, with the winner getting a Stromberg-Carlson radio. The contest is open to any member of Lyntegar Electric Co-op. Arrangements for entering can be made through the Co-op. Manager Pennington has announced.

A dramatic demonstration comparing electric cooking with gas cooking will be sponsored by Frigidaire, and Fairbanks-Morse will introduce its complete line of pumps, water heaters and water softeners in a unique play.

Space for local Frigidaire, Kelvinator, and Fairbanks-Morse dealers has already been reserved. Manager Pennington said today that some booths remain unreserved and urged electric appliance dealers in the Co-op's area to contact him immediately if they are interested in participating in the Electric Fair.

Levi Nordyke, who has been suffering intensely for several weeks from arthritis in his legs and who recently spent a few weeks at Cisco undergoing some character of treatment, returned to that city Monday for further treatments, accompanied by Mrs. Nordyke this time. Agriculture; Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office; Jesse James, State Treasurer; Ernest O. Thompson, Railroad Commissioner; Robert S. Calvert, Comptroller; J. E. Hickman, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; and Clyde E. Smith, Associate Justice of Supreme Court, Place 2.

Alan Haley of Wichita County, said to be well qualified for the post, will doubtless get a majority of the West Texas votes. Loyd W. Davidson of Travis county is a present commissioner on the court by appointment. The News knows nothing of the other two candidates other than that Sam Davis has had experience as a district attorney in Houston, and W. C. Graves is a Dallas criminal lawyer.

E. L. Pitts of Lubbock is unopposed for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, Seventh Supreme Judicial District, Amarillo.

Judge Louis B. Reed of Lamesa is unopposed for reelection as District Judge, 106th district. Vernon A. Townes of Brownfield, cousin of Charles Townes of Tahoka, is unopposed as a candidate for District Attorney. He will succeed Karl Cayton of Lamesa, who did not choose to run again.

"Mystery Farm" No. 2 Belongs to C. G. Eades

Twenty-one readers of the News correctly identified last week's "Mystery Farm," pictured above, as being that of Clarence G. Eades, located one and one-half miles north and one and one-half miles west of New Home.

Another "Mystery Farm" appears on the front page of this issue.

James Phillips of Tahoka and Floyd Smith of New Home were the first guessers, and each receives credit for a six month's subscription to The News.

Others guessing correctly were: Mrs. Bill McNeely of Dixie; James Farr, Mrs. Don Edwards, Mrs. Dick Turner, Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Misses Freda Roper and Adrianna Evans, Mrs. N. B. Hancock, Ed Follis, Clifton Ashcraft, Miss Edwina Overstreet, Carlice Edwards and Jimmy Brown all of New Home; Johnny Raindl and Mrs. W. R. McNeely of Tahoka, Jerry McNeely of Dixie. Seventeen callers missed their guesses.

C. G. Eades owns an irrigated farm, and also rents some nearby irrigation and dry land, raising principally cotton and grain sorghums.

He is also a hog breeder, raising registered Hampshires, and has produced some alfalfa for hog pasturage. He tries to practice diversified farming.

Mr. Eades one year was the outstanding conservation farmer of the Lynn County Soil Conservation District.

Mrs. Eades has been active in Home Demonstration Club work, and one year was girls' 4-H club leader.

They have two children, A son, Gene, now in the Service, formerly active in boys 4-H club work. A daughter, Mrs. Mary Beth Edwards, was before her marriage active in girls 4-H club work.

Wilson, Shambeck In Ball Finals

Tahoka's two junior baseball teams played a one-sided game here last Sunday, with Shambeck's Ford boys winning 20 to 4 over Bray Chevrolet.

Richard Havens and James Foster limited the Bray hitters to six hits and four runs, while Shambeck's big bats collected 14 hits and 20 runs off loser, Aaron Zedlitz, and Carroll Richards and Tommy Paris.

Charles Jones led Bray's hitting attack, while Garland Huddleston, and Pat Green, and Wayne Tekell paced the Shambeck hitters. It was the second meeting of the two teams, with the Ford boys winning both. The game was the last for Bray and eliminated them from any consideration in the Next Sunday, in a battle for "play-off" which starts August 1, first place finishing, the Wilson State Bankers will play Shambeck at Tahoka, starting at 2:30 p. m. Pete Brudigam will probably pitch for Wilson, and James Foster will start for the local lads.

Youth Revival Is Big Success

The Young People's Revival held recently at Grassland was a great success, according to Rev. H. C. Mayo, pastor of Grassland Methodist Church, who did the preaching.

He says there were 50 commitments, including 27 conversions and 14 surrendered for full-time services. Average attendance at the meeting was 104.

Miss Lena Bengé acted as song leader, and Miss Jerrie LeMond was the pianist.

Young people of the following churches cooperated in holding the meeting: Grassland Nazarene, Grassland Methodist, Central Baptist, Redwine Baptist, Draw Methodist, Graham Chapel Methodist, Pleasant Valley Baptist and Close City Baptist.

Plans are already underway for a similar meeting next summer, and Tahoka Methodist, Tahoka Baptist, and Wilson Methodist and possibly other churches are expected to join the group. Representatives from each church will meet in September to form a council to sponsor next summer's revival.

Reunion Held By C. F. Davis Clan

Sunday was a big day at the C. F. Davis home in Southeast Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis had 97 relatives present for a big family reunion with dinner spread picnic style in the yard under the trees.

The kinfolk came in 26 cars and represented all parts of Texas as well as Oklahoma, Arizona, and California.

They included five of Mr. Davis' six children and four of Mrs. Davis' five children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, brothers and sisters, and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have been married only since June of last year, she having been the former Mrs. Pearl Shelton of Crockett, and many of their children and grandchildren had not met before.

You get Tomorrow's Style in Today's Buick

It's a Million Dollar Ride—and no foolin'!

YOU can see for yourself the gay and gorgeous styling that's sure to be the fresh note next year, too.

And you can easily learn that here is power a-plenty—the highest V8 power, Series for Series, in the annals of Buick history.

But what you can never know, till you try it yourself, is the feel of a Buick in motion.

It's a ride as precision-soft and firm as only coiled steel can make it.

Yes, coil springs on all four wheels. And a full-length torque-tube drive for true tracking. And a massive X-braced frame for solid steadiness. And specially calibrated shock absorbers, V-braced struts, wide-rim wheels, a unique front-end geometry—plus a host of other betterments too numerous to mention.

You feel the result of this advanced engineering every mile you drive—in what is literally and figuratively a Million Dollar Ride.

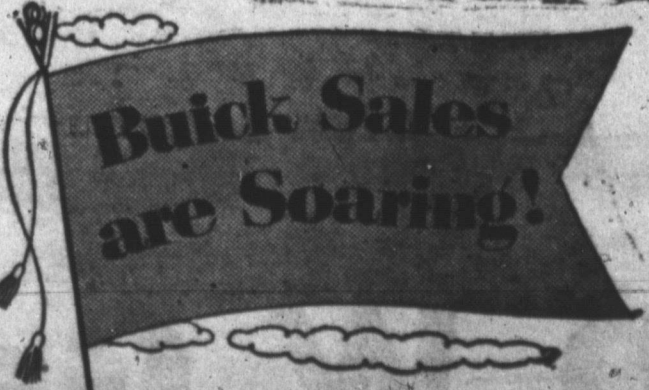

You feel it in the superb and buoyant cradling. You feel it in the serene levelness of your going over ruts and ridges. You feel it in the precise snubbing of jars and jounces. You feel it in a new kind of steadiness, handling ease, curve control.

Only thing for you to do, we believe, is to come try this miracle of motion—and we'll be glad to oblige.

That way you'll also learn firsthand about the style, the power, and the value that have made Buick such a best-selling success this year. For Buick today is out-selling all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

(Smart tip: With Buick such a beautiful buy this year, think what a winner it's bound to be at trade-in time! Come see us this week!)

A temporarily bad-acting Linotype machine, the extreme length of this column last week, the consequent large number of typographical errors, and my decision after type-setting began to rewrite certain sentences and paragraphs are responsible for most of the many errors appearing in this column last week, such as "quite" for "quit" and "white-face" for "white-face" and others just as ridiculous but I don't know how in the world I am going to explain that reference to "Joseph's new tomb" as Jacob's tomb. Thomas Jefferson was never more completely surprised when he found out in 1802 that "Emperor Napoleon" had already bought up nearly half of North America lying west of the Mississippi River and between Mexico and Canada, or in 1803 when Napoleon proposed to sell it to him for four cents per acre, than I was when I found that I was quoted as referring to Christ's burial place as "Jacob's Tomb."

There was another crazy mix-up in the paragraph in which I referred to the Battle of Aboukir. Suffice to say that I was trying to say that Admiral Horatio Nelson, bungled-up and crippled up as he was, boldly attacked the combined French and Spanish fleet which Napoleon had gotten together and which had eluded the English navy and had escorted Napoleon's army to Aboukir Bay at the mouth of the Nile and was there standing guard while Napoleon's army was making its conquest of Egypt; that Admiral Nelson boldly attacked and destroyed Napoleon's fleet. For lack of space I promised that I would tell about it later. I am now going to let that great historian John R. Green tell you about it. Some of you have read about it possibly many times. But, probably you will enjoy reading about it again. Now Mr. Green has the floor:

"The thirteen men-of-war which had escorted the expedition were found by Admiral Nelson in Aboukir Bay, moored close to the coast in a line guarded at either end by gun-boats and batteries. Nelson resolved to thrust his ships between the French and the shore. On the morning of the first of August (1798) his own flag-ship led the way in this attack; and after a terrible fight of twelve hours, nine of the French vessels were captured and destroyed, two were burned, and five thousand French seamen were killed or made prisoners. Victory, cried Nelson, 'is not a name strong enough for such a scene. Few victories indeed in history have produced more effective results than the battle of the Nile (or Aboukir Bay.) The French flag was swept from the waters of the Mediterranean. All communication between France and Bonaparte's army was cut off; and his hopes of making Egypt a starting point for the conquest of India fell at a blow.'"

We also mentioned last week the naval battle at Copenhagen, Denmark, between the British Navy, Commodore Nelson's fleet and a new combination of fleets which Napoleon had induced a new group of nations to assemble in his behalf. Last week, we said, more or less facetiously, that when Napoleon's navy was sunk at Aboukir Bay, he waded out of the water and began to beg France and Spain and other nations to build him a new navy. It did seem foolish for the plucky little Corsican to try longer to conquer the World. But in the course of time he persuaded the rising power of Russia and two other countries of northern Europe, Sweden and Denmark, who really had a just grievance against England, to join together in a confederacy whereby they were to build navies which were to join with the French and Spanish navies, in a war to crush England. Surely all of them combined could bear the British lion in his den. Russia was to cut a wide swath this time, even though she was very hesitant in joining the conspiracy. She finally got busy, however, and in December, 1800, King Paul let it be known openly that he was ready for the conflict. He seized 300 English vessels in his ports and sequestered all English goods found in his empire. Historian John R. Green tells us. The Baltic sea is tightly frozen up every winter, but Mr. Green observes that "It was plain that as soon as the spring of 1801 opened the Baltic, the fleets of the three Powers would act in practical unison with those of France and Spain."

The old British Lion was lying still, but he had his eyes open. He was quietly watching preparations. One day he gave that little old one-eyed, one-armed, fever-scarred Horatio Nelson a wink and a significant nod, and on April 1, 1801, that mighty warrior with the "sissy" name, drew his fleet of eighteen men-of-war in front of Copenhagen, capital of Denmark, opened a furious attack, took six of Denmark's ships, compelled the Crown Prince to sign an armistice agreement, which enabled the English ships to enter the Baltic, in which the Russian ships were still marooned by ice, but such an entry was hardly necessary anyway, for on March 24, nine days before Copenhagen's fall, Czar Paul had fallen by the hands of conspirators in the Czar's Palace. "Providential? I don't know. But with Russia and Denmark both out of the picture, Napoleon for the second time had seen all his hopes vanish like vagrant mists above the burning sands of the boundless Sahara."

That was in April, 1801. No need to tell again about Trafalgar. The Lord had written a veto upon all of the aspirations of that unscrupulous, ambition-crazed, murderous monster, known to future ages as one of the wickedest men of all time, Napoleon Bonaparte.

With all of his demonic hopes and purposes voted by a great and righteous God, it is no wonder that he became willing forthwith to sell all of his American holdings for four cents per acre.

Now I am coming back to America—God bless America! I am going to start in at Natchitoches. That doesn't seem to be the right way to spell the name, "Natchitoches," but that is the way the natives pronounce it, I am told. I am not advertising the Ford car or other products, but that same little Ford magazine that I got by virtue of being a Ford car owner, which told me a lot about the Louisiana Purchase, also had a story about Natchitoches, and it said that Natchitoches, Louisiana, is the oldest town in all that vast Louisiana Territory that Thomas Jefferson bought from Napoleon Bonaparte. It is older than New Orleans, older than Baton Rouge, older than Little Rock, older than St. Louis, older than Colorado Springs or Denver, older than Cheyenne or any other city or town, I guess, in the whole Louisiana Territory, unless it be some obscure Indian village, and I know of none of that type. It also pictures Natchitoches as a quaint but most attractive old Southern and old French city, with a tropical climate, tropical fruits and gardens and flowers, and a culture and personality all its own. Main street parallels and front on a lake a few hundred feet wide and some fifty miles long, formerly the bed of the Red River.

Natchitoches holds a special interest for many people in Tahoka by reason of the fact that a daughter of a former long-time resident of Tahoka was long a teacher in the Louisiana State Normal College situated in the city of Natchitoches and is still connected with the institution as supervisor of some compartment or section of the college. I refer to Miss Maggie Hickerson, daughter of the late John Hickerson, who was a well-known carpenter here and who died here some twelve or fifteen years ago. Her father was a cousin of the late G. W. Hickerson, who died here about two years ago after a residence of about forty years in this county and whose widow lives here yet.

Several years ago, before moving to Texas, Mrs. Pat Hutchison was a student for a year or two in the Natchitoches Normal College.

Natchitoches is situated almost in the Evangeline country. Evangeline, the young maiden whom Henry W. Longfellow immortalized in his epic poem of that name, was buried in St. Martin Parish apparently about 125 miles west of New Orleans. Further west is an Acadia Parish and immediately north of that is Evangeline Parish, and some 100 miles further northwest is Natchitoches. It was somewhere in that general area, I believe, that Evangeline finally found her fiancé, Gabriel, but found him in a dying condition. She lived quite a few years longer, ministering to the sick and the needy. It is a poem founded on fact, and is one of the most pathetic and beautiful in all literature. If I ever go to Louisiana, I think I shall visit the grave of Evangeline and also Natchitoches State College and city.

We have had much to say about the western limits of the Louisiana Territory that President Jefferson purchased from France in 1803, but prior to this week we had very little to say about the eastern boundary of the Territory. We have stressed the importance of New Orleans and the mouth of the Mississippi River with respect to the development and growth of the entire Mississippi valley industrially and commercially, and Louisiana state as interesting in this column this week we have been talking about localities in from a scenic and a historical standpoint but we have scarcely thought of the Mississippi River from its mouth below New Orleans to its source in Itasca Lake in Minnesota as constituting the whole eastern boundary of the Louisiana Territory. I think explorers could have gathered much valuable information and could have written a thrilling story if they had launched their boats in the mouth of the great river where it empties into the Gulf of Mexico and had proceeded up stream as far as they could go. Everything they saw on their right would be previously owned U. S. territory but everything on their left would be the new and practically unknown lands which our Government had just recently acquired. Passing through

Your Vote And Influence Will Be Greatly Appreciated

I have made an effort to see each voter in Lynn County, but I hope those I may have missed will consider this a personal solicitation for your vote.

His Faith is Your Responsibility

Call your Southwestern Life man

Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes
Representing SOUTHWESTERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

TO VOTERS OF PRECINCT 1, LYNN COUNTY:

First, let me thank each of you for the wonderful cooperation in the past and for your kindness in electing me to the office I now hold. I appreciate the opportunity to serve as your commissioner, and want to ask your continued support if you feel the affairs have been handled in a satisfactory manner.

I know that we do not have the kind of roads we would like to have in every section of the Precinct, but we are trying to improve every road possible as we can get to it and to treat every section equally. Your constructive criticism has been welcomed in the past, and I shall continue to welcome constructive advice. Most of you will agree, I believe, that we are making progress on the roads.

Not only this, but it has been my purpose to handle every item of business affecting the county as a whole in a manner that is both business-like and fair to every area of the entire county.

At the time I went into office three and one-half years ago, we changed the county's policy to a strictly cash basis and the county has not since that time had to borrow one dime.

When I first ran for this office, the only promise I made was that if you elected me, your commissioner would do the very best he could with what he had to do with. That is the only promise I can make now.

We have tried to operate on sound business principles, and, if elected, I shall continue to do so for my part.

Your precinct now has all new equipment, except for one machine, there is no indebtedness, and at the last Treasurer's report in June our precinct had a $8,000.00 balance which will be used for operation the balance of this year. All machinery has been paid for when bought, or soon after buying, and your precinct has the honor of having bought the first maintainer ever bought for cash in this county.

If you favor a continuation of this type of service, your vote and support will be sincerely appreciated.

Commissioner, Precinct 1 403tc

Odds & Ends

New Orleans and continuing their voyage up-stream, they would have seen only great bearded oaks and other forest trees, jungles here and there, possibly an Indian village where Natches now stands, occasional villages of the Choctaws, Chickasaws, and possibly Yazoo and other tribes, but not a city or an American town of any kind until they reached Memphis. They probably would have seen a wealth of wild flowers—large and luxuriant magnolias and other tropical flowers, even but no gardens nor fruit. All that was to come just a few years later.

At Memphis, Tennessee, they would have seen the recently constructed Fort Adams, floating in the United States flag, situated on the high bluff overlooking the river. Both the Spanish explorer De Soto and later, the French explorers La Salle and De Tonti, had found a settlement of Chickasaw Indians occupying the site, and nobody knows how long the Indian settlement had existed. Following the crooks and turns of the river, it is 739 miles from New Orleans up to Memphis, scarcely half that for as the crow flies.

If such an expedition had been made and had proceeded from Memphis on up to the confluence of the Mississippi and the Missouri Rivers, they would have found a village named Saint Louis about eighteen miles below the confluence of the two streams, which had been established originally as a fur-trading post in 1764 by a French fur-trader. It now has a population of more than 856,000 according to the 1950 U. S. census. Its location is given as 709 miles from New Orleans. If the Lewis and Clark expedition had gone from that village on up the Mississippi to Saint Paul, they would have clicked off another 600 miles, according to the world Book. Minneapolis joins Saint Paul on the west, and it is only a short distance from there up to Lake Itasca, from the north end of which the head waters of the Mississippi go leaping and bounding and rushing off in the wrong direction but getting their correct bearings pretty soon and wheeling around to the south, splitting the nation wide open from the marshes of Minnesota to the web-footed delta that spreads out into the briny deep, and finding their place eventually in the warm waters of the Gulf stream. So the same water which we saw sweeping through New Orleans and seeking but not finding the resting place of the pathetic but brave and patient figure of Evangeline, have come from the land of the Ojibways and of Hiawatha far to the North.

flower garden of perfect and abiding beauty at Cuernavaca and a fine church at Tazco. Here is a little personal news story I am taking the liberty of using in this column—also. The letter was written nearly three weeks ago.

"I thank you for the information about the Rio Grande. I am hearing also over the radio reports about Piedra Negra, Laredo, and Nuevo Laredo. I heard on the radio the United States and Mexico and other countries are sending food to the flood sufferers.

"My Aunt Elvira has written three other hymns, both the words and the music. (Ed. note: her aunt had written several hymns before, religious hymns, and Senorita Aurora often sings them in church services.)

Now, here is the article she has sent for publication, and she says that it is a pleasure to send these articles.

"Early in the eighteenth century there went to Mexico from France a boy of sixteen, named Joseph de la Borde. By his fortunate mining ventures at Alalupajua, Taxco, and Zacatecas," we read, "he made a fortune of forty million pesos. One of the millions he spent in building a church at Taxco; and another he spent in building a garden at Cuernavaca. This is all I know about Joseph de la Borde, or as he was called in Mexico Joseph de la Borda except that he died in Cuernavaca at the age of seventy-nine, and that his portrait, that of a funny old man in white wig and black velvet, hangs among the portraits of other read and eminent gentlemen in an obscure corridor of the National Museum. It might be interesting to learn what became of the remaining thirtyeight million, but then again it might not. So I haven't tried to find out. It is scarcely probable, however, that at a later date he expressed himself more notable than he did in the construction of the Jardin Borda. It lies on a steep hillside behind Cuernavaca, and even if it were not one of the most beautiful of tangled neglected, ruined old gardens anywhere, it would be lovable for the manner in which it tried so hard to be a French garden and failed. Joseph, it is clear, had the French passion for formalizing the landscape, putting nature into a pretty straitjacket; but although he spent much time and a million pesos in trying to do this at Cuernavaca, he rather wonderfully did not succeed. No doubt the result pleased him, it surely ought to have. But just as surely it was not the light, bright, definitely graceful result which his French mind had conceived. It was always a little precious to speak of one thing in terms of another, but nevertheless there is about a perfect French garden something very musical. The Luxembourg is musical, so is the garden at Versailles; musical with the kind of music that is as deliberately academic as it is deliberately tuneful.—Aurora Gutierrez.
