Newmoore Citizen Killed By Relative

Lon A. Light, Jr., 29, was shot to death at about 9:00 o'clock Monday night in the living room of the home of his father-in-law, Hubert L. Webb, 59, who lives about four miles north of Newmoore.

Webb was released on $2,500.00 bond Tuesday, after charges of murder with malice had been filed. The case will be referred to the Lynn county grand jury for further investigation, County Attorney Mitchell Williams said.

Investigation of the case was being made by the county attorney and Sheriff Norvell (Boog-er) Redwine.

Both men have been well known citizens of this county for many years. Lon Jr. was the son of Lon Light Sr., who now lives at Seagraves, but long a prominent citizen of the Newmoore area.

Mr. Webb has long been a highly respected citizen of the county.

Although officials are reticent about revealing details of the shooting, it is known that Mr. Light, who was born and reared in this county, and who lived a mile east and a mile south of Newmoore, and his wife had been having some trouble. Following a dispute last week-end, Mrs. Light took her children and went to the home of her parents. The next day, she went back and got their clothing and other articles. She expressed the intention of getting a divorce.

On return of Mr. Light Monday from a trip, he went to the home of his father-in-law with the expressed intention of getting the baby. There are three children, ages, seven, six, and three.

Suspecting there might be trouble, the Webbs had called a neighbor, and Mrs. A. W. Snider came to the home. Others present were Mr. Webb's wife and son, Jack Webb, and daughter, Mrs. Lon Light, Jr., and three children.

Mr. Light is said to have demanded custody of the baby boy, Michael, and an argument and possibly a scuffle, ensued, ending in the shooting of Light with one shot from a .38 caliber revolver.

Jack Webb immediately called Sheriff Redwine, who picked up the county attorney and Dr. Emil Prohl, and went to the Webb home. They found Mr. Webb waiting for them. The body was on the floor with one bullet hole in the left chest.

A Stanley-Jones ambulance brought the body to the funeral home here.

The amount reported in last week's copy of the News were not the totals and Wilson was reported at only $50.00 when they had actually raised $356.87.

George Short, pioneer Lynn county citizen, underwent major surgery, a gallbladder operation, at Tahoka Hospital Thursday morning.

Methodist Men Hear Nelson

G. H. Nelson, Lubbock attorney, was the speaker at Monday night's monthly meeting of the Tahoka Methodist Men.

Using background information gained on his trip to the Holy Land and from the Bible, he delivered a masterful address on the Jewish-Arab problem which affects the whole world.

He read the 16th chapter of Genesis, and showed how the problem went all the way back to those times and originated in the sins of one man, Abram, from one of whose sons sprang the Jews and the Christian religion, and from the other of which sprang the Arab race and the Mohammedan religion.

Teachings of the two religions are virtually the same, he said, except that the Christians accept Christ and the Arabs look to Mohamed. The only people the Arabs hate worse than Christians are those who believe in no God, and for that reason, if the Christian nations play their cards right, the Arab nations may be aligned on our side against the Communist nations.

Mitchell Williams presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker in the absence of the president, Ross Smith. He and Judge W. M. Mathis arranged the program.

The meeting was held on the back lawn of the Calloway Huffaker home, and Calloway, Maurice, and Hick Gibson prepared and served a barbecue dinner.

CARD OF THANKS

Words will not express our appreciation for the many kindnesses extended us during Lautia's long illness, but we do wish to say "thank you" for the words of comfort, the floral offerings, the food brought in, etc. We especially wish to thank those men who carried him to Lubbock for x-ray treatments, those who sat up, and those who performed other deeds of kindness. In this hour of sorrow, we come to realize the value of our friends. May God bless each of you, is our prayer.—The Lautia Smith family.

Floyd Smith Farm Located East of New Home

Mystery Farm No. 9 belongs to R. L. Smith of Lubbock, and the place is farmed by his son, Floyd (Shorty) Smith. The place is located a mile and a half east of New Home.

Sue Cowan of New Home was the first to correctly identify the place, and J. E. (Red) Brown was the first Tahoka reader to identify the farm home.

Others identifying the place included: Wilmer Smith, Mrs. Dick Turner, Mrs. Fred Roper, Mrs. E. R. Blakney, Clifton Clem, Frank Greathouse, Mrs. D. G. Smith, Buddy Smith, and Mrs. Emu Raind.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith and daughter, Donna, went to El Paso, last week end to visit their son, Ronald (Ronnie), stationed at Fort Bliss in the Army. They were accompanied by Edith Davis, who visited her brother, John Davis, also stationed there, and Venoma Clem.

Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Charles Armontrout gave the News the following information.

The 160-acre farm was bought by R. L. Smith, now of Lubbock, in about 1924, and Floyd has been farming it the past eight or ten years.

He has two small wells on the farm. He also rents another quarter section irrigated farm and a 320 acre dry land farm.

Floyd was married October 21, 1933, to Miss Mary Robinson, and the pair have two children, Ronald, 18, and Donna 10.

He is a member of the Baptist Church, the Masons, and New Home Civic Club. His hobbies are fishing and deer hunting.

Mrs. Harve Henderson and daughter, Belle, have recently moved from Macomb, Okla. back to their farm home in the Redwine community.

George Mahon Is Back Home

Congressman George Mahon has returned from Washington and opened his Lubbock office in the Post-Office Building. He said that at present he had no special plans except to attend official business and visit among the people. Congress adjourned August 20 and is not scheduled to reconvene until next January 5.

Mahon, in commenting on the Congressional session, stated, "The Republicans claim that a wonderful job was done. Democratic leaders take a dim view of accomplishments. It is, in my opinion, fair to say that Congress, on the whole, did a reasonably good job. Along with most Democrats, I voted for much of the program. But on many measures there was sharp differences of opinion."

I strongly opposed the Administration's program to scuttle the 90 percent of parity support program for agriculture and replace it with the sliding scale system. In my opinion, the new program is no answer whatever to our farm problem. Agriculture will sustain a terrific setback without corresponding benefits to the consumer and taxpayer. There is a farm problem, but the flexible support program is not the answer to it."

ENTERING BAYLOR

Miss Sue Beth Cowan, daughter of Mrs. Winston Davies of New Home, has enrolled in Baylor University for the Fall semester. She left for Waco Tuesday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Inman of Muleshoe, and the latter's daughter, Patricia, 17, who is also enrolled in Baylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Carter are the parents of the bridegroom. Miss Jane Sheppard played the traditional wedding music, and accompanied J. B. Ables as he sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride wore imported lace and nylon net over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, Peter Pan collar, with pearl rhinestone trim and bouffant skirt. She wore a tiered fingertip veil of illusion.

She carried a white Bible, cascading from a tiara of seed pearls, rhinestones and sequins, borrowed from Mrs. Mittie Walker, topped with a bouquet of gardenias encircled with stephanotis.

Miss Jerry Aldridge, maid of honor, wore a light green nylon organdy dress and a corsage of white carnations. Kenneth Carter of Henderson served his brother as best man. At the reception which followed, the wedding cake and punch were served by Mrs. W. A. King and Miss Joy Tomlinson.

"Just a simple twist of the wrist washes and dries our clothes!"

says: MRS. WARREN M. BARTON
1814 Boyd St. • Borger, Texas

"My husband is a mechanic, and has dirty, greasy clothes every day. And, of course, Janna Lynn, my five-months-old daughter, has to have clothes washed every day."
"It's so easy with an automatic washer and a dryer—especially the dryer. I can come home from work, and throw the dirty clothes in the washer, and then dry them that very evening, ready to be worn the next day."

"We have our washer and dryer in our garage now. Sometime ago, we'll have a laundry room. But I just had to have a dryer, and it works our time in the garage."

"Convenience is important to me—time, too. I am also employed outside the home. I have plenty of time to spend with Janna Lynn in the evening, after washing and drying my clothes with a simple twist of the wrist."

Odds AND Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

Here I am again, folks, but I've got to postpone politics this week. I have been running around again—running around in a hurry too for a '49 Ford car as my means of conveyance. My daughter got sick on the trip and so did the Ford, so we had some unpleasant as well as pleasant experiences. My daughter Myrtle and two granddaughters, Anita and Sara planned a trip for the holidays, starting out Wednesday morning of last week. Just as we were starting I had a letter from my other daughter Berta, who is employed in the Public Welfare office in Seguin, saying that she was coming up for the holidays, too but would not arrive until Friday night or Saturday morning; and so that was another reason for our haste.

Now, I am sure that most of the readers of this column have themselves visited most of the places that we visited, so it is not necessary for me to say much about the scenery.

My two granddaughters have an aunt and a cousin living in Clovis and so we stopped there for a brief visit. We had gotten out of Lubbock at noon Wednesday and so all of our visits had to be brief.

Then we hastened on west to Fort Sumner, where that princely preacher and Minister, R. P. Drennon, who lived and ministered to his church here and in O'Donnell for so long, lies in a hospital on the brink of death suffering from an internal cancer. "Brother" Drennon loves everybody, and so, recently, he had sent word to me to come over and see him if I could. So, a brief visit with him was one of the "musts" of my trip. But he was scarcely able to talk and apparently did so with pain, but he was glad to see me. And Mrs. Drennon and their daughter, Martha said that it was a delight for him for any of his Tahoka and O'Donnell friends to visit him. All his intimate friends here, or else where, passing through Fort Sumner, should stop and cheer him with a brief visit, but it will have to be done soon, friends, very soon, I fear.

About three miles south of Ft. Sumner is to be seen the grave of one of our country's noted out-laws and murderers, Billy the Kid. Some of our party had a curiosity to see the spot where his bones lie buried, since his principal headquarters while living and terrifying folks were at Old Tascosa, some forty miles northwest of Amarillo, a Wild West town of the latter half of the last century, where is situated now that famous Boys' Ranch established by Cal Farley. Buried with Billy the Kid near Fort Sumner and near the spot where he was finally killed are "Two pals" of his, whose names are not inscribed on the monument erected in commemoration of his criminal career. At least, we did not find their names. I felt that New Mexico should have erected a monument to the memory of Pat

Garrett, the sheriff who finally killed Billy the Kid in an attempt to capture him, rather than to the Kid himself.

Near the site of the grave of Billy the Kid is the grave of a real hero, Kit Carson. As Daniel Boone was the most famous frontiersman and scout east of the Mississippi River, so his kinsman, Kit Carson, was the most useful and the most famous scout and frontiersman that operated west of the Mississippi. He was one of the great leaders of the forces of civilization in the conquest and subjugation of the great West from California to New Mexico, Colorado, and other Western States. His home for many years was at Taos, New Mexico, and the old building in which he lived still stands. His remains also were buried near Ft. Sumner and a worthy monument marks the site.

Rather late in the afternoon, we left Ft. Sumner bound for Vaughn. The highway runs up and over a great treeless plateau, flecked with scrubby bushes and short grass. There had been recent rains all over that plateau however, and the grass, though short, was green. Most of the water apparently had been soaked up by the soil where it fell or ran off into an occasional small pool. A tremendous amount of water must have soaked into the earth on those high and extensive semi-prairie lands, and we guessed that it furnished a portion of the underground water supply that we bring to the surface here on these south plains of Texas. But I am no geologist and do not pretend to know.

While the country has a strange beauty about it and gives one a sense of bigness, yet it was the most unpleasant drive that we encountered on the whole trip, for the rays of a hot descending summer sun came beaming down squarely into the face of Myrtle, the driver, for the whole distance of 66 miles or there-about, and she was terribly tanned and tired when we reached Vaughn. But we got a good night's rest there and drove on into Santa Fe 95 miles away on Tuesday morning. Of course a lot of window shopping had to be done there. Curious and Indian trinkets of various kinds were purchased, the museum was visited, other points of interest cursorily inspected, and then we drove back to the east of the city some 17 miles to view the new Baptist Encampment at Glorietta. Quite a number of substantial handsome buildings have been constructed, and we noticed splendid camp houses had been erected by the First Baptist Church of Plainview and the First Baptist Church of Hereford. The place is surrounded by great scenic mountains, and is the "Ridgecrest of the West," accommodating Baptists from all the far western states.

Back in Santa Fe for lunch, we then made our way down along the Rio Grande River over much-worn road that was undergoing repairs in many places to the fine city of Albuquerque, to spend the night. Half-way down, however, we turned aside to visit the Santo Domingo Indian Pueblo, so called because a tribe of Indians had fled from the Spaniards who subjugated them on Santo Domingo Island soon after the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus. Many of them, refusing to work, were killed out by the Spaniards, but some of them succeeded in making their way to the main land of America, ascended the Rio Grande River and finally settled at this point about 35 miles up the River from Albuquerque. Apparently there are some 200 shanties in the pueblo and Uncle Sam transports them to a splendid public high school near Albuquerque. They are afforded facilities for higher education in Albuquerque also. But they have only squalid living quarters in the pueblo. But they have always been a peaceable and harmless tribe. A few hundred yards from the pueblo we picked up a Navajo Indian, who seemed to be quite intelligent, and he spoke of the Santo Domingoans only with scorn. While many of them look to be very primitive and ignorant, yet many of them in fact are highly intelligent.

Thursday night we spent in Albuquerque, which is a fine city of more than 100,000 population. Beautiful homes, splendid business houses, modern in every respect, it is the metropolis of New Mexico. It is the child of the Rio Grande, which furnishes it water for everything. Water is its life. Friday morning and we follow the River on down through that fine little Santa Fe City of Ben; thence on down through charming Socorro; thence on to Truth or Consequences and the Hot Springs, and near by is the Elephant Butte Dam, which we turned aside to see. But for some reason the famous lake had been drained, temporarily, almost dry. The Elephant Butte Rock in all its jagged immensity was still there, but the water was gone.

On and on we went down the rich valley to Las Cruces. Fields of irrigated cotton like those that grow on the irrigated lands of the South Plains lined both sides of the highway, making this section of the Rio Grande Valley one of the most famous cotton-producing areas along the entire course of the long and sometimes turbulent stream.

We felt that we had to get home that night, so we struck out at a lively clip northeastward toward the pass some twenty miles away in the towering sawtooth shaped Oregon Mountains, whose teeth are 9,000 feet above sea-level, thence on east across the desert to the white Sands, which, like most other tourists, we entered. Had some car trouble which delayed us nearly an hour there and more than three hours a little later down at Alamogordo, where we stopped for repairs and supper. Left Alamogordo at dusk and soon began ascending the lofty Sacramento Mountains and on to Cloudcroft, again about 9,000 feet up in the air. And so, in the darkness of the night we came on across the mountains for numberless miles and finally down to Artisia on the Pecos. Then it was another long stretch to Lovington and to the Texas line a few miles this side; but it was about four o'clock in the

He is a 1953 graduate of Texas Tech College in Lubbock.

The Cape to Cairo Railroad was completed in 1918.

This morning (Saturday) when we drove into Tahoka. So that fills this column for this week. It's a wonderful trip, whether one has seen all these places once or many times before. This is a wonderful country, folks.

My daughter Berta did come up from Seguin, arriving about 10 o'clock Saturday morning and left for home Monday morning. Myrtle and daughters also returned to Lubbock Monday morning. But before any of them left, my little grandson, Bill Evetts Hill of Amarillo, came for a few minutes play with his Grand-dad, this Columnist. He will visit with his grand-parents, the Bill Flints, at West Point for a couple of weeks. That's all, 'Bye.

Humble's new HOUSTON RESEARCH CENTER... is dedicated to man's impelling curiosity in the search for knowledge and its useful application in the specialized fields of petroleum exploration and production. Dedicated to Man's Impelling Curiosity

Most of us interpret the value of research in terms of immediate benefits. Research means that we get a better automobile, an improved gasoline, or an outstanding motor oil. At Baytown Refinery, the Humble Company maintains one of the finest laboratories in the petroleum industry for that kind of research. Behind the study that goes into the improvement of the products it sells, Humble for years has fostered basic research related to the discovery and production of oil and natural gas. The United States uses so much oil from day to day, and needs so much more to provide for the emergencies of national defense, that studies leading to the discovery of new supplies and the more efficient management of existing reservoirs are more important than ever before. Consequently, Humble's expenditures on this sort of research are the heaviest in the Company's history and its staff of research scientists is larger than it has ever been. To house the expansion of these research sections, Humble recently completed its new Research Center at Houston and will formally dedicate it this week end. Here the scientists of the various departments involved in the discovery and production of oil will utilize common facilities, and here they will have the stimulation of close association with other scientists whose efforts are dedicated to a common end.

Complete Plans For Lynn County Fair

Plans are going forward for the Lynn County Fair to be held here on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22 and 23, County Agent Bill Griffin states.

Rocky Mountain Rides have been engaged to furnish the amusement for the event.

Farmers, club boys and girls, garden raisers, and women are asked to start getting exhibits together, or planning entries for the various departments. Cash prizes will be offered best exhibits in all departments.

Catalogues are available at the offices of County Agent Bill Griffin and Home Demonstration Agent Wanda Roach.

V. L. Botkin is the general manager of the fair this year, and Winston Wharton is in charge of commercial exhibits. Implement, hardware, and all other businesses are urged to cooperate by placing exhibits on display.

Communities of the county are urged to enter special exhibits and prizes of $15.00, $10.00, and $5.00 will be paid for the best. Albert Curry is superintendent of this department.

Hubert Edwards is head of the Individual Agricultural exhibits department, and prizes are 50 cents for first, 25 cents for second and a ribbon for third.

In the livestock department, B. L. Hatchell and Leonard Crawford are head of the swine division, and George C. Wells of the beef cattle division. Prizes of $3.00, $2.00, and $1.00 and $1.00 are offered in all classes and divisions.

It is hoped that the Women's Department will be outstanding again this year. Mrs. Tom Russell is general superintendent, and Mrs. K. K. Moore is her assistant.

Division superintendents are: H. D. Dean, bread and cakes; Mrs. Buel Draper, textiles; Mrs. Ophelia Wilson, relics, antiques, and curios; Mrs. Robert Poer, canned fruits and vegetables; and Mrs. Irving Stewart, plants and cut flowers. Blue, red, and white ribbons will be given for first, second and third places, respectively, in the fair should consult the catalogues.

Every person planning entries, logue or call one of the agents or superintendents for special rules and regulations regarding various exhibits.

The Fair can be a big success, Mr. Griffin says, if people will select their better products and bring them in for display. A lot of interest can be created, and a lot of good can come from the exhibition of quality products.

Baptists Close Meeting Sunday

Large crowds are attending the revival services at the First Baptist Church this week. Dr. R. Earl Allen of Mrydada has been bringing stirring messages, and the music under the direction of Frank Carpenter has been spirited.

Services tonight, Friday, will begin at 6:45 and will be over at 7:30 in order that there be no conflict with the School's first football game. The church appreciates the fine number of young people who have been attending the services each night, and is happy to cooperate so there be no conflict in schedules.

The Sunday school is striving to "Break The Record," in Sunday School attendance next Sunday with at least 502 in attendance. The church is looking for a capacity crowd for the morning worship and evening worship services. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Holy Land Pictures Will Be Shown

During the First Baptist Church Training Union hour, Sunday night, Dr. Earl Allen will show pictures he took recently of interesting places he visited on a tour which included the Holy Land, Egypt, Rome, and many European countries. Those who have viewed his pictures and heard his lecture report that it is the most interesting they have heard.

His lecture will begin at 6:45 and will be concluded just before the 8:00 o'clock worship service. The T. U. officials are hoping for at least 250 persons to attend this service.

The friends from other churches in town who would like to attend this lecture will be out in time to attend the services in their own churches.

More Gins Get First '54 Bales

J. O. (Ott) Patterson brought in the first bale of cotton Tuesday to be ginned by Farmers Co-op. Gin, of which Bobby Carroll is manager.

The bale weighed 520 pounds, and produced 750 pounds of seed. First Bale At Draw

Nolan Jones of Berry Flat brought in the first bale of 1954 cotton to the Draw Paymaster gin last Friday, according to Burl Moore, manager of Draw gins.

Mr. Moore bought the bale for the gin at 50 cents per pound, which netted Jones $297.50 plus the ginning and seed.

The bale weighed 565 pounds, and was ginned from 2,020 pounds of seed cotton. It was picked from pretty fair cotton planted around May 1.

Mr. Moore says there is an area of 10 or 15 sections west of Draw, however, that has suffered intensely from the drought and will make practically nothing.

First Bale At Wilson
W. B. (Bill) Corley brought in the first bale of cotton to Wilson Tuesday, and it was ginned by Planters Gin.

The bale weighed 545 pounds, came from 2210 pounds of seed cotton, and was picked from about 15 acres of a field of April cotton.

First Bale At Grassland
C. M. Greer brought in the first bale to Grassland Co-op Gin Tuesday of this week, according to Odie Tew, manager.

He brought 1910 pounds of seed cotton, and it ginned out 500 pounds of lint and 800 pounds of seed.

Mr. Tew paid 40 cents per pound for the bale and $25.20 for the seed, netting the farmer $225.20, with ginning and wrapping free.

Tew says the price of cottonseed went up last Friday from $52.00 per ton to $53.00 per ton.

L. C. Unfreds Visit Mountain States

"L. C. Unfred Nabbed in Deadwood Gambling Joint," reads the streamer headlines across the front page of a newspaper received here by friends of the New Home farmer.

However, we should hasten to state, it's all a gag, and the paper is a souvenir edition of the Black Hills Nugget of Sturgis, S. D. Especially did L. C.'s brother, Joe D. Unfred, have a lot of fun showing the paper to mutual friends and says a few people believed what they read. Actually, the edition is filled with a lot of purported stories of the pioneer days in Deadwood, and other notorious South Dakota towns.

L. C. and family have been on a vacation trip in which they visited the Black Hills and other scenic places of the midwest.

A group of about 15 men from St. John's Lutheran Church at Wilson expect to attend the are. Brotherhood meeting in Winters Sunday afternoon, according to Rev. Malcomb C. Hoffmann, pastor.

HOME FROM POLIO CENTER

Billy Birdwell, age two and a half years, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Birdwell, was able to return home Wednesday from the Plainview Polio Clinic. Mr. Birdwell says the doctors told him they could forget he had ever had the polio, or encephalitis, which is closely related to polio.

Mrs. M. A. Inman, now living at Ackerly but a former Lynn county citizen, is here visiting her children, Mrs. Claude James and Mrs. Winston Davies of New Home, Mrs. Travis Inman and Luther Wood of Tahoka. She will return to Ackerly this week where he resides with her daughter, Mrs. M. M. Shearer. The Shearers recently moved from Slaton to Ackerly, where he is manager of the Farmers Co-op gin.

Here for the wedding of Miss Dorothy Ann Durham are relatives from California, who are staying this week in the K. R. Durham home. Mr. J. S. Hutchison, brother of Mrs. Durham and of Pat Hutchison, and daughter, Jamie May, Hutchison of Corona, Calif., are special guests. Mrs. Fort McMeans, daughter of the Durhams, returned with them from California for the affair.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to our many friends for the kindness shown us in the recent illness and death of our wife and mother. And for the beautiful floral offering.—John Berry, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. David Newsom.

To all friends who were so kind and thoughtful to me during my recent illness, I wish to express my sincere appreciation. Your thoughts, cards, visits, and prayers helped me more than I can tell you. Thank you and God Bless you.—Iona West.

To the Chamber of Commerce and all the wonderful people of Lynn County, I say thanks a million, for such liberal contribution for the first bale of cotton. May God bless each of you.—Beatrice McLaurin family.

Francis Virginia Scott Is Married To California Man In Local Home Sunday

In a double ring ceremony Frances Virginia Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Roddy, of Tahoka, and Montie King Nicholas son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Inter, of Bells, California were united in marriage by Rev. Clifford Harris, of First Baptist Church, in the home of the bride's parents Sunday at 2 p. m.

Ceremony was held before an archway of emerald leaves and bronze chrysanthemums decorated with bronze ribbon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length dress of champagne lace over a light brown taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice, with a scoop neckline and flared skirt. Her outfit was completed with gold necklace and ear rings with green and white rhinestones and a corsage of bronze mums.

Mrs. Bill R. Neel, of Brownfield, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of black net with bands of black taffeta on it. She wore rhinestone necklace and ear rings. Her corsage was of white mums.

Arnold D. Akin, of Brownfield, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony and the couple left for El Paso and points in New Mexico, after which will be at home in Phoenix, Ariz., where the groom is employed by Porter, Cable Power Tool Company.

The bride is a registered nurse, graduating from Kendrick Memorial Hospital of Nursing in Abilene in 1946, and for the last five years has been receptionist and assistant of Dr. C.F. Bruning of Santa Ana, Calif.

The groom served in the navy while in service. Besides the parents and immediate family of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Smith were out of town guests.

New Home Will Play Knott Team

New Home Leopards open their 1954 six-man football season to night at 8 when they entertain the Knott team.

Coach Norman Windham has a bunch of inexperienced boys this year, but they have been coming along nicely during the two weeks of training and hope to give a good account of themselves.

New Home school authorities urge all the fans to come out and enjoy the game and lend some encouragement to the boys.

H. Music, who has been a medical patient at Tahoka Hospital several days, is reported improving.

Howard says the group caught 400 crappie, a few bass and a few channel cat during their stay at the Circle-S Camp, on the lake. He took a lot of pictures as at least partial proof of their fishing skill. Some of the crappie were of "barn-door" proportions. Naturally, they had a great time.

Pat Hines Gets Praise By Citizen

A reader of The News calls attention to the fact that Pat Hines, city water superintendent, deserves a lot of credit for the improvement of the new Tahoka City Park.

Pat has done a wonderful job in sodding the park area, caring for the lawn, setting out trees, and installing picnic units. Although the park is small, it has proven to be a popular spot for picnics and the kiddies.

He also deserves a pat on the back for the manner in which he has kept the park and its lawns. Tahoka's little park is a real beauty spot.
