Chest X-Rays Are Next Week

Lynn county people will again have the opportunity for a free chest x-ray this year through the efforts of the state Department of Health and local citizens.

A. M. Bray, county chairman of the TB Association, says the mobile x-ray unit will be in Tahoka Friday and Saturday, Nov. 26 and 27, and in O'Donnell Tuesday, Nov. 30.

Chest X-rays are provided free of charge by the State Health Department in order that TB symptoms might be detected before they reach the serious stage. Besides detection of tuberculosis symptoms, the X-ray also discloses lung cancer and heart conditions.

A goal of some 3,000 X-rays has been established and every effort will be made to get every one in the county over 15 years of age, to take advantage of this free medical service. The X-ray takes only a minute and all reports are strictly confidential.

Death rate of TB has been cut more than 90 percent since the turn of the century, largely through the efforts of TB associations everywhere, and their work of informing the public on the need of a chest X-ray so that if symptoms are detected, treatment may be started immediately.

C. R. Burleson Of O'Donnell Dies

C. R. Burleson, Sr., 68, prominent O'Donnell farmer living three miles south of that city, died at his home early Saturday evening.

Funeral services were held at O'Donnell Church of Christ Monday at 2 p. m. with Glen Bishop, minister, officiating, and burial followed in O'Donnell cemetery.

Born in Erath county, he had been a resident of Dawson county for 49 years, and was well known and highly respected by many Lynn county people.

Survivors include his wife Mrs. Erie Burleson, two sons, C. R. Burleson, Jr., of O'Donnell and George D. Burleson of Farmington, New Mexico. Two daughters, Mrs. Dean Pursell of Tulare, California, and Mrs. Max Curd of Lubbock. Two sisters Mrs. Cora Besire of Lamesa, and Mrs. Birdie Pipkin of Morton. Also 8 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Turkey Shoot At New Home

New Home Civic Club is sponsoring a turkey shoot from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday, Nov. 20, 22, and 23, one-fourth mile north of the New Home traffic light.

Everyone who thinks he can shoot a rifle is invited to come out and try for a turkey, goose, or canned ham.

Only 22 rifles will be used. Guns and ammunition will be furnished, or the shooter may bring his own.

New Buicks Are Being Shown Here

Wheatley Buick Co. today has the new line of 1955 Buicks on display in its showrooms.

Guy Wheatley says the new Buicks are "thrillers in style, power, and performance." The new car features the Buick V8 engine with 188 horse power in the Special up to 236 horse power in the larger cars.

BUYS HOME HERE

Clifton Hamilton has bought the Billy Joe Oliver home on North Sixth. Oliver built the home a year or two ago, but is moving to Levelland to farm next year.

BREAK GROUND FOR FIRST BAPTIST ADDITION—Pictured above are some of the principals in the ceremony Sunday when ground was broken for the new $45,000.00 educational building of the First Baptist Church, construction on which will start soon. In the foreground are Rev. Clifford Harris, pastor; Mrs. G. C. Shaffer, a charter member of the church; and E. I. Hill, for 30 years a leader and worker in the church.

Rev. Ira Parrack, Tahoka Pastor 51 Years Ago, Back For Service Here

Rev. Ira Parrack of Childress, who served as the first pastor of the First Baptist Church here fifty-one years ago, was the guest speaker at the Church service here last Sunday night, culminating the Church's program of activities for the day incident to the breaking of the ground at the morning service for the construction of a new Education building.

The visiting minister had hoped and planned to be present at the morning services but was delayed by rain which fell all the way from Childress to Tahoka. The program was carried out substantially as published last week, however. With a little larger attendance than usual at Sunday School in spite of the misty and unpleasant weather, the pastor, Rev. Clifford Harris, filled the pulpit Sunday morning. He brought a brief account of the organization of the church and a condensed history of it during the fifty-one years that have passed since its organization, making special mention of a few of the early pastors and remarking incidentally that twenty pastors have served the church during that time. He also gave recognition to all persons present who had been members of the church for more than forty years, to a number of visitors here from other places just to be present on this occasion, and announced that Mrs. G. C. Shaffer is the only charter member of the Church still living in Tahoka and that she would be given the honor of turning the first spadeful of dirt for the construction of the new building.

The choir according to plan thereupon marched out of the auditorium and took their place at a designated spot on the grounds, followed by the pastor and others on the program and then by the entire congregation, which faced the choir already singing an appropriate hymn, and where pictures of the scene (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Scouts Sponsor Turkey Shoot

A turkey shoot at the City Caliche pit one mile south of the Tahoka city limits will be held all day Saturday, sponsored by Explorer Troop 21, Tahoka Boy Scouts.

Everyone is invited to try his shooting skill for a turkey.

Shooters may use their own guns or guns will be furnished at the site. Open sight 22 rifles only may be used.

Transportation will be furnished free from the square and return.

Grassland Ladies Will Serve Dinner

A benefit Thanksgiving turkey dinner will be served to the public Monday, Nov. 22, by the W. S. C. S. of Grassland Methodist Church in the Grassland school lunchroom.

Serving will begin at 7 p. m. and continue as long as people come to eat. Tickets are $1.00 a plate, with proceeds going to the Methodist Ladies society. Everyone is urged to come out and enjoy a big dinner of turkey and all the trimmings.

Plan Service Of Thanksgiving

First Baptist and First Methodist churches of Tahoka will join in holding a Thanksgiving service next Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Clifford Harris, Baptist pastor, will bring the special Thanksgiving message.

Special music will be presented by the combined choirs of the two churches under the direction of L. D. Howell, choir leader at the Baptist Church.

Rev. J. B. Stewart is the pastor of the Methodist Church.

Five Attend State Bureau Meeting

Five Lynn county men attended the Texas Farm Bureau convention held in Galveston on Nov. 8-9-10.

They were N. E. Wood, president; Lois Smelser, vice president; Guy Smith, director; Elmer Blankenship, member; and Earl Cumming, service agent, all of the Lynn County Farm Bureau.

The men brought back a certificate honoring this county for having 40 percent of its potential membership.

Miss Jeanette Waters of Westlaco was winner of the State Queen contest, and will represent Texas in the national contest next month. Miss Verna Lee Stevens of Abernathy, winner in this district, was the runner-up.

Resolutions were adopted for Texas to be presented at the National convention in New York City, December 12-16.

Benefit Bazaar Is Planned Nov. 27th

Tahoka Garden Club will hold a Christmas bazaar again this year on Saturday, Nov. 27, in the lobby of the Lynn Theatre, next door south of Tahoka Drug.

Last year only aprons were sold, but this year the club members also have other inexpensive gifts items on sale.

Funds from the sale will go to the club house building fund.

64 Signed For Country Club

Paid memberships in the T-Bar Country Club have risen to 64. The News is informed.

The minimum goal is 100, but 150 to 200 would be preferred to build both the nine-hole grass greens course and also a nice club house, those pushing the project state.

Many potential members expect to come in after the first of the month, some will wait until after the first of the year, some will wait until water wells are drilled, and some are holding out just because they are plain skeptical, said Lester Strech, who is one of those signing members.

"We can never build the Country Club if everybody were to hold back," Mr. Strech said. "And the directors have already stated that the members' money will be refunded if sufficient members do not sign. Good citizens interested can help by signing membership blanks now."

About 35 additional people in Tahoka have expressed their intention to join soon, and sufficient members is virtually assured.

However, major construction will not start until at least 100 members come in.

This club is already one jump ahead of most such country clubs since it already has the land at no cost to the people of Lynn county.

At a meeting of officials, directors and a number of members Tuesday night at the Legion Hall in Tahoka, J. T. Forbes and Lynn Birdwell reported they had already signed 17 members at O'Donnell and would get eight or ten more.

Costs of the project were discussed and reports made on progress of the project. Fair ways have been laid out and plowed preparatory to planting grass when it rains or on completion of water wells, which will be started in a few days. The ground has also been surveyed and staked off. Grass has been arranged for, and use of a bulldozer secured for excavating for the greens.

Plans were also discussed for the club house and methods of financing. Chairman Truett Smith appointed a committee of ladies, composed of Mrs. Lometa Birdwell of O'Donnell, Mrs. Myrna Verner of Tahoka, Mrs. Virginia Gatzki of Wilson, Mrs. Sam Edwards of Grassland, and Mrs. E. R. Blakney of New Home to study plans for a club house and to submit such plans if and when sufficient members are signed to build.

Tahoka-Spur Game Decides 5-AA Title

Cotton Ginnings Now At 85,000

Lynn county has ginned close to 85,000 bales of 1954 cotton, based on reports made by ginner to The News Thursday morning.

Cotton men estimate that the crops is approximately 85 percent complete, and based on this estimate the county will gin close to 100,000 bales.

Tahoka's five gins had turned out 15,302 bales up to 11 a. m. Thursday.

O'Donnell had ginned 17,300, Wilson slightly over 10,000, and New Home a little more than 10,500 bales.

Lynn county will produce a 20 million dollar crop this year, estimating the cotton at about 17 and a half million, feed and other crops at two to three million.

Local loan agencies and business institutions report that payment on debts is excellent, considering the dry years that have preceded this year.

O'Donnell Gets Rural Telephones

Rural telephone service for people in the south part of Lynn county is expected to be tied in early next week, possibly Monday, W. D. Harmon, manager of Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Co-operative, states.

Contract for extended area service was signed this mid-week by Mrs. Bill Davis, owner of O'Donnell Telephone Co., and James T. Dunn of Lamesa, president of Poka-Lambro, which has its headquarters in Tahoka.

About 100 rural telephone members of the cooperative will be affected in two exchange areas.

The Aten exchange serves a wide area east of O'Donnell including Joe Bailey, Berry Flat, northwestern Borden county, and northeastern Dawson county.

The Nelms exchange serves the territory west of O'Donnell, including Wells, Newmoore, and part of the T-Bar area.

New Oldsmobile Is On Display Today

The new 1955 Oldsmobiles are on display today in the showrooms of Whorton Motor Co. here.

Both the "98" and "88" models feature a higher powered engine, new color patterns, and many other new and improved features.

Winston C. Whorton, owner of the firm, has recently remodeled his building, extending the structure out to the sidewalk on Main Street.

Blan Draper Is Much Improved

Blan Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Draper, has been improving steadily since last mid-week in a Levelland Hospital, where he recently underwent surgery. In fact, he was to come home either Thursday or Friday.

Blan, a senior student in Abilene Christian College, was critically injured internally a few weeks ago when kicked by a horse at Abilene. Prior to and immediately following the surgery, performed by his uncle, Dr. Dupre, it was feared he might not recover, but he is now believed to be out of danger.

"I know of no pursuit in which more real and important service can be rendered to any country than by improving its agriculture."—George Washington.

Tonight's the night for the annual battle of the Bulldogs, the Tahoka Bulldogs versus the Spur Bulldogs, and the District 5-AA title hangs in the balance.

The game will be played at Kelley Field in Tahoka at 8 p. m. tonight, Friday.

Tahoka was the district champion in 1951 and 1952, and Spur won the title last year.

If Tahoka were in top shape, Coach Bill Haralson's Bulldogs might be the favorite to win. But, in view of the many Tahoka injuries to some key players, Coach Sam Hawke's Bulldogs should be the favorites.

Spur can not win the title this year, even if it defeats Tahoka, unless Abernathy were to lose to Post, because Abernathy has previously defeated Spur. If Spur defeats Tahoka, and Abernathy wins, Abernathy will be the champion.

But, Tahoka can take the title and the right to represent the district if it defeats Spur, because Tahoka won its game over Abernathy.

Both the Tahoka and the Spur Bulldogs have enjoyed good seasons, but each has slipped a time or two to weaker teams.

Tahoka was tied 13-13 by Post the same night Slaton slipped up on Spur for a 13-13 tie. Most school authorities of the district believed that these games would go in the records as the ball games, but somebody investigated the minutes and found they were not clear and Spur and Post were declared winners on penetrations.

Therefore, Spur, Abernathy, and Tahoka each have a 2-1 record in (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Toys For Needy Will Be Repaired

Old toys as gifts to needy children Christmas will be available for distribution, if citizens of the town and county will bring them in, states Dale Gandy, president of the local "Speed Shifters" club.

Broken toys, as well as good toys, are being sought by the 24 members of the club. Worn and broken toys will be repaired and repainted in the "Speed Shifters" shop on South Second at the rear of Chestnut Service Station.

Gather up your old toys, and bring them to the "Speed Shifters" at their shop, or to Tahoka Drug, Wynne Collier Drug, Sesum's 66 Service, or Kay Waldrip's Conoco Service.

The boys will repair the toys and see that they are delivered to needy children.

Kay Waldrip Buys Renfro Station

D. Kay Waldrip has bought the business and stock of Herman Renfro in the Renfro Conoco Service Station, located across the street from the Rose Theatre, and the business is now known as Main Street Conoco Station.

Mr. Renfro will continue to handle the wholesale end of his Conoco agency here, and will also handle butane.

BROWN BETTER AGAIN

Frank Brown was reported much better again Wednesday and was able to go home from Tahoka Hospital. He was taken there last week end, and Sunday and Monday it was not believed he could live, but took a turn to the better.

TWO DAY HOLIDAY FOR THANKSGIVING

Since next Thursday is Thanksgiving day, Tahoka schools will be closed for two days, Thursday and Friday.

Baptist Young Folk Hold Dinner Meet

Carrying out an "old fashioned" theme, approximately forty-two members and guests of the Young People's Department of the First Baptist Church were entertained with a banquet, Tuesday night, November 16, in the church basement.

The guests were greeted with signs directing them to "Grandpa's House." At the entrance door was a miniature old-fashion farm home. The tables were decorated with a china water bowl and pitcher, horse and buggy, wagons, and dated automobiles.

A delicious meal of chicken and dressing, prepared by several mothers of the department group was served by Mrs. T. D. Dunlap, Mrs. O. H. Warren, Patricia Williams, and Idalia Wood.

Gordon Smith, Master of Ceremonies, led in a sing-song, followed by "Family Album," which presented baby pictures of those present, enlarged on a screen. Clifford Harris, pastor, brought the devotional thoughts along the subject of "A God Who Never Grows Old."

Sunday School teachers of the department are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Womack and Truett Smith. Mrs. Ray Adams is the Department Superintendent and Mrs. W. A. Reddell, secretary. Presidents of the classes are: Virginia Gable, Bill Moore, and Jimmy Bragg. Mrs. C. N. Woods assisted with the decorations.

Roughage in some form should be available to livestock at all times. This doesn't necessarily mean it must be of the highest quality but the higher the feeding value the better. Roughages very low in nutritive value can be fed with success if supplemented with about two pounds of cottonseed meal per day.

Don't overdraw on your basic asset—the soil.

TOUGHENING UP!—Army airborne students at Fort Benning, Ga., rock and roll their way through physical training exercises each morning shortly after sunrise.

Changes Made In Permits For Wells

In the future, applications for new irrigation wells in the Lynn County Hi-Plains Underground Water District will be filed at the Lubbock office at 528-B 15th St., according to Joe D. Unfred. Applications have been taken previously at meeting in New Home and Wilson, but has been moved to the Lubbock office, where clerical help is available to handle the applications.

Prizes Are Offered For Honeymooners

Ruidoso, N. M., Nov. 18—Twenty-three Ruidoso merchants have organized a Honeymoon Club to welcome newlyweds to the Southwest's Year 'Round Playground. When honeymooners check in at the Chamber of Commerce office here, they will receive a list of firms offering gifts, which include such items as free lodging in some of the many motels, cabins and courts here, also turquoise earrings for the bride, leather belt for the groom, concho belt for the bride, free meals in some of the many restaurants, horseback rides, trout dinner, soft drinks and many other presents.

J. B. WALKER HERE

J. B. Walker of Lubbock was down Tuesday visiting his son, Clint, and many old friends here. He and Mrs. Walker had just returned the day before from Houston, where they visited a daughter, Mrs. Mary Fleener, and one of Mr. Walker's sisters.

J. B. Dropped by the News of fice to "haze" E. I. the Elder a little in regard to some of the Editor's recent remarks, but failed to make contact with him.

Mr. Walker came to Tahoka in 1905, and was the second superintendent of schools here. He later served as postmaster during the Wilson administration.

Douglas Henderson of Long Beach, Calif, is here this week visiting his father, Howard Henderson.

WASTED SOILS

America has undergone more than a century of land use and abuse. Approximately 100 million acres of formerly good cropland have been ruined by erosion for any other food production. Another 100 million acres of cropland have been seriously damaged.

Topsoil is still being destroyed faster than it is being repaired or created. Crop production has been increased in the United States, largely by increasing crop acreage.

Tech In Final Home Game

Lubbock, Nov. 15—Texas Tech plays its final home game of the season against the University of Houston in Jones Stadium at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Coach DeWitt Weaver's Red Raiders, seemingly over a mid-season slump, will be seeking their sixth victory against two losses and a tie. A homecoming crowd of 18,000 saw the Raiders beat University of Tulsa 55-13 Saturday while the Houston Cougars were losing 26-0 to nationally-ranked University of Mississippi.

Houston, coached by Clyde Lee, currently holds a 2-1 margin in the rivalry. Tech triumphed 41-21 last season after losing by 6-0 in 1951 and 20-7 in 1952.

Comparative scores tell little. Houston's win over Tulsa was only by 20-7, but the Cougars beat by a 14-7 score Oklahoma A & M whose Cowboys tied Tech 13-13.

Fans may get another look at Tech's new-quarterback sensation—freshman Carl Tripeer from Roanoke, Va. The former Sheppard Field signal caller amassed 330 yards of total offense in the Tech freshman team's 39-30 win over Harlin-Simmons' frosh Friday night, then took part in two varsity plays Saturday.

Tripeer's varsity debut was a 19-yard pass to freshman Doyle Reynolds. Next he faded to pass, found no one open, and darted untouched across the goal, 23 yards from the line of scrimmage.

Permanent farm prosperity will not be found around the corner, but around the contour.

Study Control Of Comic Books

Austin.—Representatives of the major distribution outlets for comic magazines in Texas Saturday pledged their cooperation in a program to halt the sale of comic booklets featuring crime, horror or sex.

Meeting in Austin at the invitation of Attorney General John Ben Sheppard, leaders of four state-wide business organizations set up a committee which will begin immediate work to stop the sale of all objectionable comic books.

C. J. M. Roesch, executive secretary of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, was named as temporary chairman of the committee to evaluate comic books in Texas.

Attending the meeting were W. C. Edwards of Beaumont, president of the Independent Magazine Wholesalers of the South, W. H. Cochran, Austin magazine distributor, Jerry Johnson of Waco, secretary-manager of the Texas Retail Grocers Association, Jack Lewallen of Austin, executive director of the Texas Association of Tobacco Distributors, Ted Deming, editor of the Texas Druggist, and Roesch.

The Texas Attorney General met with Judge Charles F. Murphy, new Comics Code Administrator, in Murphy's New York office Wednesday. Sheppard said that he had called today's meeting "to determine if a voluntary control program in Texas might substitute for State Legislation, at least until the Legislature has a chance to consider the problem."

The Attorney General pointed out that "bad comics are only a part of the filthy literature problem," and the filthy literature problem is only part of the juvenile delinquency picture in Texas, but this Texas Comics Evaluation Committee should make quick progress in eliminating a menace to our children."

"Committee members will represent wholesalers or retailers who sell almost all of the one and one-half million comics sold in this state each month," he said, "and their support of the voluntary control program in Texas should contribute to its immediate success."

DR. K. R. DURHAM'S MOTHER BREAKS AN ARM

Dr. K. R. Durham received the information some two weeks ago that his mother, Mrs. J. P. Durham of Shreveport, Louisiana, had fallen a few days before that time and had broken one of her arms at the wrist. The injury was gradually healing, however, and it was hoped that it would thoroughly heal.

Mrs. Durham and her husband, Rev. J. P. Durham, had visited here a few days before this accident occurred. In fact they have visited here a number of times and have many friends here who are hoping that the fracture will not prove to have been serious.

No great nation has ever existed that was not surrounded by an adequate agricultural area, because a substitute for food has never been found.

Beat the High Cost of Hand Picking with the

NEW BOONE TWO-ROW COTTON STRIPPER

Fits More Makes and Models of Tractors than any other Mounted Harvester

- NEW Sealed Anti-friction Bearings eliminate daily lubrication, reduce friction, increase efficiency and provide longer life.
- NEW Full Floating Stripper Boxes are self-adjusting from 38" to 40" row centers. They are pivoted on the center of gravity, enabling the flexible pickup fingers to maintain sliding contact with the ground, gathering in the lowest bolls.
- NEW Longer Double Stripper Rolls harvest taller cotton. There are no projections on the rolls to tear the cotton and reduce the grade. Smooth double rolls gently remove the cotton from both sides of the stalk, resulting in a higher stripping efficiency than is possible with a single roll.
- NEW Design for Tractor Mounting makes the Boone easiest to install of all mounted strippers available today.
- NEW Power Train with larger, hardened steel gears operating in an oil bath; high carbon steel sprockets; sealed ball bearings throughout; and separate slip clutches on each conveyor shaft, gives long life with low power requirements and minimum maintenance.

Mrs. Chapman Gives Grassland Program

Mrs. Ferman Chapman of Tahoka reviewed the book, "Come My Beloved," by Pearl Buck, Monday at the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Grassland Methodist Church. The review served as an introduction to the study of India, Pakistan and Ceylon, which will start on Monday, Nov. 22, with Mrs. Roy LeFond as leader.

The book review was very graciously and ably presented by Beth. Both members and visitors alike enjoyed the review, and hope she may see fit to favor us with another program soon.

At the luncheon served by the Society at noon, food was prepared from actual recipes from India. Tea was served with tea cakes for dessert which came direct from Ceylon, brought to Mrs. Hoover by her son.

Mrs. Chapman's table warred out the Indian theme, and she also wore a garland of chrysanthemums, India's symbol of appreciation, given to her by the Society. —Reporter.

Light Rains Fall In Southern Areas

Southern part of Lynn county received a rain Sunday morning which ranged from a shower up to possibly an inch or more.

Ben Moore, weather observer at O'Donnell, reported .65 of an inch fell on that city.

Tahoka received only a trace of moisture.

The rain fell gently and did no damage to unharvested cotton or feed.

FOOTBALL DISTRICTS ARE REALIGNED FOR 1955

Floydada will be back in District 5-AA again next year.

The change was announced by the Texas Interscholastic League officials in Austin Wednesday.

Thus, teams competing in this district next year will be Spur, Post, Slaton, Tahoka, Abernathy, and Floydada.

Floydada formerly was in Dist. 2-AA, was moved to 5-AA for the 1953 season, back to 2-AA this year, and now is returning to this district.

Whiteface, now in District 4-A, will drop to 4-B and play with Wilson, Cooper, Lorenzo, Meadow, Ropesville, and Wellman.

A false rumor Tuesday had it that Tahoka was being moved to District 6-AA, but this did not prove to be the case.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Among many items unfinished by last Congress, was report filed by Paul Kamerick, chief investigator for Senate Appropriations Committee, headed by Sen. Styles Bridges.

This report, charges that through Foreign Aid programs, U. S. taxpayer is giving British aircraft industry a great competitive edge advantage over domestic industry.

Seriousness of charge is C.W. Harder beat judged by fact economy of many American cities, such as Seattle, Baltimore, Wichita, Los Angeles depends largely on aircraft industry, not to mention already hard hit New England industrial area.

The Senate Committee report states in 1942, while still engaged in war, British government sponsored and subsidized development of jet aircraft. This was done, it is stated, because British realized American designing and engineering had captured world market for type of commercial planes then in use, and that to get this market, British would have to lead in development of commercial jet airliners.

In 1951 ECA stripped the then short American supply of 3,800 machine tools valued at $75 million giving them to Britain where they are being used both for military and commercial aviation.

The report further charges that in 1953, the year British reduced their income tax, U.S. gave them $469 million to be used primarily to modernize Royal Air Force.

Yet, while British get U. S. funds on grounds they cannot afford.

to finance their air defense undisputed estimates are British government by end of 1950 had granted subsidies of around $400 million for development of commercial jet aircraft. Subsidies continue to be paid.

It seems well established Britain sold Russia some time after war, jet aircraft engines that were presumably forerunners of present day Soviet jet engines.

Perhaps these engines were outcome of developments in commercial aviation, or perhaps developments in military aviation.

But fact seems to loom large that aircraft industry geared to turn out large numbers of jet engines, is in fine position whether it be military or commercial orders.

Thus, British aircraft industry, which already has orders from U. S. airlines, occupies an unusually fine competitive position being subsidized both by its own and U. S. taxpayers.

This report could trigger probe of entire U. S. foreign aid program structure. Although report deals only with the building up of the foreign aircraft business to a competitive disadvantage to U. S. industry, the same result is being created in practically all fields in which American commerce and employment depends.

This partly explains drive to knock down American protective tariff system by both European interests and U. S. firms with plants in Europe.

Due to taxes paid by American business and labor the productive capacity of Europe has been built up by foreign aid programs to a point where European industry, with lower tax and labor rates, could if permitted, flood this nation with goods to wreck entire American economy.

C. W. Harder

50 MILLION CARS

comes an all-new General Motors masterpiece

PONTIAC FOR '55

The 1955 Pontiac is getting a royal welcome. "It's hot," they're saying, "the hot car of the year." And no wonder! With its Vogue Two-Tone styling and Strato-Streak V-8 engine, Pontiac wraps up more beauty, luxury, size and power than a like amount of money ever bought before. The price is near the lowest, but the car is way out front in everything that makes an automobile great.

The reason lies in the achievement General Motors is now celebrating—the vast experience gained in building 50 million cars. Research experience that uncovers what you want and need. Design experience that creates new trends. Engineering experience producing more dollar-for-dollar quality year after year.

That's the background of this All-New General Motors Masterpiece. Come in, drive it, and find out what it means to you. Let your own eyes tell you that here is the smartest car on the highway. Let your own hands report the new handling perfection brought about by recirculating ball steering and other advancements in the all-new shock-proof chassis. And let the great new Strato-Streak V-8 whisper its tale of getaway, response and compelling power that make driving a brand-new experience.

Then let us tell you about Pontiac's new thrills and reliability—and how little it costs to buy this future-fashioned beauty. Come in soon and get the exciting facts!

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It becomes apparent drive to destroy U. S. protective tariffs is spearheaded by same old crowd of internationalists who moved into Washington after Herbert Hoover.

It is a coalition composed of those who seek huge profits and fronted by self-anointed messiahs who feel their life's mission is solving world's problems even at cost of last American dollar. An organization called Committee for a National Trade Policy is very active in Washington. Its president, Charles Taft of Ohio politician, appears before Tariff Commission sessions rebuking manufacturers who seek relief from ruinous cutthroat foreign import competition. On the side many call Taft's group The Amalgamated Golden Goose Slayers.

The U. S. is the golden goose. Containing less than 7% of world's population, it consumes perhaps as much, if not more, goods than rest of the world.

But significantly, U. S. richness as a consuming market is not due to any corner on world's resources, nor from pillaging of colonies.

The market was built by natural workings of protected free enterprise. With less than 7% of world population, but with 4,000,000 independent enterprises, U. S. has more business firms than rest of world combined.

U. S. State Department is said to be strongly behind tariff-wrecking move as it is panicked by European industrialists claims that unless they can dump goods in U. S. they will have to sell Russia. That's why many feel a "no nonsense" leader such as Douglas MacArthur should take over State Dept.

The facts are, as publicly stated by many leaders, Marshall Plan, other give-away programs costing U. S. taxpayers billions were so successful, European production capacity is far above pre-war level.

Yet, as always, European production is controlled by cartels with independent enterprise eliminated. And while U. S. dollars were poured into these monopolies to increase their production the cartels took no move to develop new consuming markets.

Yet if some disaster wiped out populations of United States, the U. S. S. R. and all Red China, there would still remain 62% of world's population that now comprises a market so undeveloped it is incapable of consuming but a fraction of U. S. consumption with less than 7% of world's population. British empire alone contains four times more people than in U. S. yet British industrial cartels don't know where to sell their goods unless permitted to dump them into U. S.

The richness of the American market is based on the grounds that everybody is both a producer and a consumer. The only contribution government has ever made to this richness is enforcing fair play at the market place through anti-trust laws, and to protect American labor and business from imports of slave labor produced goods. All any European nation faced with the need for expanded markets needs to do to solve the problem is to send a few cents to U. S. Printing Office for copies of U. S. anti-trust laws.

Yvonne Beard Will Wed Soon

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Beard announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Yvonne, to A 2/c Lowell Jay Petty, who is in the Army Airforce stationed at Reece Air Base near Lubbock.

The ceremony will be read in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka at 8 p. m. on December 18, and the public is invited to attend. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Tahoka High School and of Texas Tech College. For nearly five years, she has been employed by Wharton Motor Co. of Tahoka.

Mr. Petty was reared in New Jersey, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Petty, 409 Maple Ave., Phillipsburg, N. J. He is a graduate of the high school of that city, and prior to entering the Air force was employed by Pequest Knitting Mills at Belvidere, N. J.

Baptist W. M. U. Has Study Meeting

The W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church met Monday, November 15, for the study of the Royal Service Program, entitled "New Roads in Southern Rhodesia."

This program was led by Mrs. Everton Nevill, and interesting topics were given by different members concerning our missionaries and their work in this African country.

Next Monday, our W. M. U. will meet at Mrs. Terry Noble's at 2:30 p. m. for a two hour study to complete our foreign mission book "Pilgrimage to Brazil," to Everett Gill, Jr.

Also at this time, outside assignments about Brazil will be given out to be used in our mission study class in December. We hope that each lady of the W. M. U. will avail herself of the opportunity to come and learn more about our missionary work and realize more fully what she can do to further our missionary efforts for the cause of Christ.

Coach Haralson's boys have been plagued with injuries much of the season. In spite of the fact that Tahoka had an open date last week, the local Bulldogs will not be in top shape tonight. Quarterback Gordon Smith, key to Tahoka's offense, received a badly sprained ankle in the Slaton game, was on crutches a week and has not responded well to treatment. He will see little, if any action.

However, Halfback Tommy Franklin, out several weeks with a banged-up shoulder, may be back in the line-up. Halfback Jerry Williams has both knees injured but may go all right. Several other players are not in top condition.

Coach Hawkes boys run from the T-formation, and their quarterback, Alton Williams, 145 pounds, likes to pass a lot to Ends Bobby Morgan, 158, and Donald Snodgrass, 172, and to Right Halfback Boyce Rankin, 155, all of whom are excellent pass receivers. George McAteer, 162, who plays fullback and sometimes shifts to quarterback, is the top running back, and Eddie Hagens, 170, plays at fullback when McAteer is the man-under. Jerry Dunaway, 147, runs at left half.

Center Jerry McAlpin, 166, is a top man on offense and defense. Three of the guards are Ted Country Club, which is proposed as a county-wide organization, will be signed up until Dec. 15, Smith said the board had decided.

A full participation membership is $100.00 which includes a share of stock, use of golf course and club house, or all facilities of the club, with payment of $5.50 monthly dues after the club gets in operation. Partial participation includes the same except for use of golf course, with dues at $2.00 monthly. Inactive membership is for those interested in buying a $100.00 share to help the project succeed and for the good of the county and its people. Such a member will pay no dues, but may become an active member at any time on payment of dues. Memberships will become transferable when a member moves out of the county, on approval of the board of directors.

Will Harris Has Fine Irrigated Farm

Mr. and Mrs. Will Harris, are the owners of Mystery Sarm No. 19, located about two miles north of New Home.

Claude James was the first rural reader of The News and Mrs. Marvin Wood was the first Tahoka reader to identify the place correctly. Others were James Farr, Frank Lisenby Jr., Mrs. Harris and Dwain Holzclaw.

Mr. Harris bought the farm four years ago, and built the new home pictured above in 1951. There are 160 acres in the place, of which 130 acres are irrigated from one "lazy" 8-inch well. This is the old DePriest farm, which was put in cultivation in 1908 by the late Mr. DePriest. This land is very productive, and the cotton acreage will produce better than a bale to the acre this year.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Harris were reared in Milam county, of which Cameron is the county seat, and she was the former Miss Nora Mode before their marriage there in 1933. They have one daughter, Garene, age 14.

The couple came to Lynn county in 1936, and bought a farm at Joe Stokes. A few years ago they sold this farm and moved to Johnson county. They had thought the Plains were "too dusty" for them, but they found out pretty quick that Johnson county had weather, too and they came back to Lynn and bought the DePriest place. They are now satisfied, and Mrs. Harris says this place is not for sale.

A few years ago, they got in the chicken business on a pretty big scale, but now irrigation farming keeps them so busy they only have time for a milk cow and a few chickens.

The three are busy church workers at New Home in the Baptist Church. He is a deacon in the Church, superintendent of the Sunday School, and is also treasurer of the Brownfield Baptist Association. Mrs. Harris also teaches a Sunday School class.

Local Students In Tech Honored

Three Lynn county students in Texas Tech who were winners of scholarships in that institution this year were honored last week with a reception, along with 54 other scholarship winners, in the home of Dr. and Mrs. James G. Allen.

They are: Darvey D. Lavender, holder of a Sophomore scholarship; and Jane Shepherd of Grassland and Nolan Porterfield of O'Donnell, both holders of Dunlap scholarships.

Kary Mathis of Lubbock, son of a former Tahoka elementary school principal, is holder of one of the two Lubbock Rotary scholarships.

C. C. Dwight Tells Of Panther Scare He Had As A Youth

(As told to Ben Moore by C. C. Dwight)
Growing up in Jack County which let go with both its heels, I was so terribly frightened. I was unable to see whether the flying heels ever landed upon the panther. Instantly, the colt was alongside its mother's neck as they both bounded out of the thicket and into the trail which led toward my home. The mare was not a race animal, but I did my best to develop her into one in my effort reach home.

Next day after this frightful occurrence, neighbors organized a hunt in the vicinity and their dogs treed a mother panther, which was killed, much to my relief. Knowing that panthers almost invariably stalk their prey, then leap upon them in a mighty bound, I can only surmise that my starting out of the thicket with the colt which the panther had been watching, and which was desired for its young, caused this unusual manner of attack.

I caught a mare with a colt of some four month in age at her side and managed to climb onto her by hooking my toes of the left foot onto the side of her kneecap, a practice among the smaller boys, I suppose throughout the ages. With the animal's mane wrapped about one's hand it is not so difficult to mount.

I had barely become seated when pandemonium broke loose. The mare gave a violent snort, rearing as she did so. I was hanging on, tightly as a tick for it was not a good time to turn loose the mane which I was gripping for dear life. In the turmoil, I was able to see the panther, teeth bared as it ran up to the colt

THE 1955 BUICK

New thriller in Style - Power - Performance

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

A BRIGHT NEW FRESHNESS greets your eyes and tells you: Buick's done it again.

You see it in the bold distinction of that gleaming Wide-Screen Grille. You see it in the rakish sweep of the rear-end contours. You see it in the whole fore-and-aft newness of fleet-lined grace that marks Buick the beauty thrill of 1955.

New horsepower — up to 236

You learn more when you get the power story. Up to new peaks go the horsepower of every Buick V8 engine—a wallowing 188 hp in the low-price SPECIAL — a mighty 236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER.

And it's new, more responsive, far abler power you can literally feel as you go.

But even bigger Buick news for 1955 is something more than style and power. It's what the "variable pitch propeller" now has done for Dynaflo Drive.*

Up goes performance — and gas mileage too

When you find it necessary to push the pedal to the floor board, you do more than call on the greatest high-compression V8 power in Buick history.

You do what a pilot does when he heads his plane down a runway.

You do in oil what he does in air — you cut down take-off time by using "variable pitch propellers."

In this case, the propeller blades are inside the Dynaflo unit. But they're engineered to swivel or change their "pitch" just like plane propellers — and with the same result: one pitch for getaway, another pitch for gas-saving fuel efficiency.

And what you get in the way of instantaneous safety-surge with absolute smoothness, you can only believe when you feel it.

This you have to try

Of course, we want you to come and see the trend-setting new Buicks — look into the betterments in gasoline mileage that add new thrills to these spectacular cars.

But this year, "seeing" is only the beginning. So — while you join the crowds viewing the new Buicks this week end, make a date to get behind the wheel as soon as you possibly can. We promise you the thrill of the year.

Continuing a Discussion of Pentecost

Not until the invention of the radio scarcely more than a generation ago, did any preacher or other public speaker ever have such an audience as Simon Peter and other Apostles had on the day of Pentecost. According to Holy Writ, that audience was furnished by the Holy Spirit. In order to get the whole picture before us, I am going to quote this week from the Second Chapter of the Book of Acts, written by Luke, the great New Testament historian.

"When the day of Pentecost was fully come, they (the Apostles) and about 120 other disciples were all with one accord in one place.

"And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

"And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

"And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

"And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

"Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

"And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak Galileans?"

"And how hear we every man in our own tongue, where in we were born?"

"Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judea, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia, Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in parts of Libya, about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews and Proselytes, Cretes and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful words of God.

"And they were all amazed and in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?"

"And others, mocking, said, These men are full of new wine.

"But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judea and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken unto my words: For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day (nine o'clock a. m.) but this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Joel—"

"and then he quotes that prophecy wherein Joel quoted God as saying that in a certain day he would pour out of His Spirit upon all flesh and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, etc., and Peter proceeded to preach a sermon that brought conviction to the hearts of many of his hearers, and the service wound up with a great baptizing.

Now I have quoted all this in order that I may set forth some other facts pertaining to this great event which it is necessary for Bible readers to know in order to keep from becoming confused about the personnel of Peter's audience, and that they may understand why all these listeners from "Every nation under heaven" were present when the Apostles were inspired by the Holy Spirit to begin speaking to them in foreign tongues.

Those Jews described as "Devout men, out of every nation under heaven" who were now in Jerusalem and were amazed to hear these "Galileans" speaking in the tongues of the people of the various countries in which they were born were Jews of the Dispersion. That means Jews who had been captured by the Babylonians and who never returned immediately to Jerusalem, or to Samaria, Galilee or any division of Palestine after the Persians conquered the Babylonians and forced them to release their Jewish captives.

Here I quote from Peloubet's Bible Dictionary:
"From Babylon, the Jews

dispersed throughout Persia, Media, and Parthia. Large settlements of Jews were established in Cyprus, in the islands of the Aegean, and on the western coast of Asia Minor. Jewish settlements were also established at Alexandria by Alexander and Ptolemy I. The Jewish settlements in Rome were consequent upon the occupation of Jerusalem by Pompey, B. C. 63.

The influence of the Dispersion on the rapid promulgation of Christianity can scarcely be over-rated. The course of the apostolic preaching followed in a regular progress the line of Jewish settlements. The mixed assembly from which the first converts were gathered on the day of Pentecost represented each division of the Dispersion."

So, all these "Devout Jews" mentioned as having been present in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, were Jews of the Dispersion. Following their release from captivity, they had settled in the various countries mentioned in Acts 2:1-14, or were descendants of those captive Jews who had been released and who had settled in the countries named or referred to. Some of them evidently had only been born and reared in those countries. Some of these doubtless had moved back to Jerusalem, for it is said in this chapter that these Jews were "dwelling in Jerusalem." Many of them, no doubt, were merely visiting in Jerusalem, the native city of their fathers, for many thousands of Jews, we may believe, who lived in other lands, came back to Jerusalem each year to attend the sacred Jewish feasts, and especially the Passover Feast, which began in the month of March (Nisan) and came to a close seven weeks and a day, the Fifteenth day, thereafter, the fifteenth meaning Pentecost.

It was a time of feasting—of festivals and conviviality—and many Jews who had moved away or had been driven away from their native land took advantage of these occasions to visit the homeland and the old home town frequently, and so Jerusalem must have been jammed and crowded with people on each Pentecost.

It must have been a time of unusual rejoicing on the part of the Christians, for although they had been broken-hearted and depressed by the Crucifixion of their Christ and Lord, they had been thoroughly convinced before Pentecost of his resurrection, his triumph, and finally of his promised Second Coming to reign over his people forever in his heavenly kingdom. And so his crucifixion and his reported resurrection and ascension, probably whetted the curiosity of thousands and thousands of Dispersed Jews throughout the civilized world and caused them to return to Jerusalem to be present at the Pentecostal feast.

Last week we told something about the land of Parthia in which many of these Jews had settled, some of whom were present in Jerusalem at Pentecost. This week, I wish to tell you something about another land inhabited by a very unique Gentile people with keen minds but a cruel disposition, who carved out for themselves a dramatic history, but apparently did nothing to make the world a better or happier place in which to live. I refer to the land of Pontus, situated on the southern shores of the Black Sea north and east of the present land of Turkey. Everything north of the Black Sea is Soviet Russia. Immediately south of it is the Mohammedan Turkey. But further south is Galilee and Damascus; Samaria, Judah, and Benjamin—the Holy Land; while to the Southeast is Mesopotamia—the land between the Rivers Tigris and Euphrates; and the sandy deserts of Persia and Arabia. In the valley of the Tigris and the Euphrates were the great wicked ancient powers of Babylonia and Assyria; and far to the east of them is India—India, and Burma, and Siam, and Indo-China, and then the numberless islands of the all-but-shoreless southern seas, with as many tadpoles in their swamps and quagmires and as many ants and bees and bugs and things that sting and bite in their sands and forests, I am told, as there are people in a million hemispheres the size of this. Snakes and alligators too! But I am willing to let the pythons and the bristling boars alone if they will let me alone. Let's hurry back to Jerusalem and take another look.

I stated above that Pontus was situated just east of Turkey. The readers of this column must know that present-day Turkey occupies practically all of ancient Asia Minor except Pontus, and that all of the Apostle Paul's missionary work from Antioch, the starting point, near the northeastern limits of the Mediterranean Sea on westward to Troas, where he answered the Macedonian call, was done in Asia Minor. In this region lay the provinces of Cilicia, Lycaonia, Cappadocia, Galatia, Pamphylia, Phrygia, Asia (Province not continent), and others, and such cities as Ephesus, Pergamos, Philadelphia, Sardis, Colosse, Laodicea, and others; but Paul seems to have visited neither Bithynia nor Pontus. Pontus lay at the extreme east end of Asia Minor and was at first a part of the province of Cappadocia.

Now, let us fancy that we are in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost. Dispersion Jews from Pontus are there too. Either they or their ancestors have been Babylonian captives. They became subjects of Persia when the Persians conquered Babylon, and later Persia was subdued by Rome, and they became subjects of that great world Power. There is a lot more to the history of Pontus, but before we go into that, we have decided that we want to go from Jerusalem up to Pontus, just to take a look. Think we had better go by plane, for the country is mountainous and the roads are rough.

All right, here we are taking off from Jerusalem airport headed north. Let's fly low and take a look at the country as we go along. Yonder to the east is the Jordan River just above the point where it empties into the Dead Sea, a body of water so thoroughly saturated with salt that you couldn't drown in it if you tried to. East of it is old Mount Nebo in the land of Moab where Moses died; a wonderful sight that is.

Yonder to the west is the Great Sea, the Mediterranean, and almost due west of us now is Joppa. That town yonder below and just ahead of us is Sychar, and here just beneath us now is Jacob's well, where Jesus met the Samaritan woman and so enlightened and thrilled her that she left her water-pot at the well and went into the city to tell her friends and neighbors that she had met the Christ. Right over there to the northeast is Mt. Tabor and southeast of it a few miles are the Fords of the Jordan, the upper Fords.

Yonder to the northwest is old Mount Carmel where Elijah staged a contest with the prophets of Baal and whipped them completely. You know the rest of the story. He got faint-hearted and ran from a wicked woman. Yes that is the beautiful sea of Galilee down there to the northeast; and there on its southwest shore is Magdala, where a society girl named Mary lived; she met Jesus and he awakened higher aspirations in her soul, and soon she became one of the most devoted and self-sacrificing followers of Christ in all Palestine; and today all the Christian world knows Mary Magdalene. Further up the coast there is the place where Jesus called into his service five other disciples, one of whom named Peter we heard preach a mighty sermon at the Pentecost meeting in Jerusalem today. Further north is massive, hoary-headed old Mount Hermon, from whose base bursts forth the waters of the Jordan River.

Yes, and up there to the northwest, nestling against the Lebanon Mountains, is the bustling town of Nazareth, where Jesus grew up. Over there on the coast to the west are Tyre and Sidon and further on north is the great city of Antioch, some 250 miles north of Jerusalem on the Orentes River. We have crossed over the Lebanon Mountains, still going north and right over there to our right is the headstream of the Great River, the Euphrates, but it is still a hundred miles up to Pontus. Now we are paralleling the Taurus range of mountains which cross the country in a northeast and southwest direction and to the east of us is a confused group of mountains in which the Tigris River also has its rise. The country of Pontus gradually comes to a point at its northeast terminus on the southern shore of the Euxine of Black Sea. It becomes broader as it extends back to the southwest and runs up into the edge of the mountains. From the eastern point of Pontus the Caucasus Mountains in Russia east of the Black sea are plainly visible. Most of Pontus is a level or rolling coastal plain and the soil is still very fertile, just as it was a thousand years ago. Pontus produces much grain, fruits, garden truck, and even some cotton. Its population consists of a mixture of races—Greeks, Persians, Jews, Macedonians, and others. A group of Texas farmers would be delighted to own homes there if it were not for the presence of so many "Terrible Turks" and proximity to the Russians.

Now we close with a brief and incomplete sketch of its history. Mithridates was a Greek boy born in 135 B. C. Almost from the cradle, he bore an implacable hatred of Rome. There seems to have been at least two grievances that constantly fed the burning fire of his wrath. One was an inherited and eagerly cherished hatred which grew out of the struggles that had gone on between Rome and Carthage from about 218 B. C. to about 200 B. C. Philip of Macedon and Greece had assisted Carthage in that struggle, and Carthage had finally lost. Hannibal, the Great Carthaginian general had undertaken to renew the struggle, but he met with failure and fled to Ephesus, where he offered his services to Antiochus, commander of a Syrian fleet in a war which he was planning against Rome, but his expedition failed, and finally he, Hannibal, went into Bithynia, that kingdom next door to the province of Pontus, and when Rome demanded his surrender, he committed suicide by taking poison. His death occurred some fifty years before that youngster Mithridates was born, but Greek and Persian leaders kept the fires of hatred and vengeance burning in the breast of many a bright and ambitious boy, no doubt, and so it was that Mithridates left the cradle a flaming warrior.

I do not know just where he was born nor when he went to Pontus, but he was born somewhere in 135 B. C. and when he was 13 years old he proclaimed himself King of Pontus and made it stick. He immediately went to work at the job of being a real king. He proclaimed his purpose to be to deliver Asia from the yoke of Rome. He soon proved himself to be a man of remarkable genius and energy, the World Book says. "Through him the fires of insurrection were kindled as far westward as Greece. To secure his power in Asia he ordered that on a certain day every Italian in Pontus should be put to death, and the slaughter was variously estimated at from 80,000 to 150,000. After this barbarous act, he sent an army into Greece (which by this time had also been subjugated by Rome) but after waging two wars, he was compelled to make peace with Sulla, the Roman dictator. The third and greatest Mithridatic war broke out after the death of Sulla. Pompey, who had become a dictator, made an alliance with the king of Parthia, forced Mithridates into battle, and drove him beyond the Caucasus Mountains (which are in Russia.)

"In spite of the loss of his kingdom, the spirit of Mithridates was unbroken, and he began to plan an invasion of Italy, but his son Pharnaces rebelled against him, and he died by poison at his own hand.

"Mithridates was a friend of culture and the arts, and it is said he spoke more than twenty languages. He kept historians and poets at his court and gave prizes to the best singers. His death removed one of Rome's greatest enemies, and his name was always pronounced by the Romans with respect and dread."

Mithridates was 72 years old when he committed suicide. While Mithridates lost both his kingdom and his life in 63 B. C., almost exactly 100 years before Peter and the other Apostles spoke to the Dispersion Jews on that Day of Pentecost in Jerusalem. Peloubet's Dictionary states that Pontus again became a kingdom in 39 B. C. and remained a kingdom until 63 A. D., a period of 102 years, when it was again reduced to a Roman province. If so, it was an independent kingdom when Peter preached that great sermon on the day of Pentecost.

Wilson Closing Season At Ropes

Wilson Mustangs will wind up a very successful 1954 football season tonight at Ropesville. At victory could give Wilson second place in 4-B district play.

Last Friday, in its annual home coming game, Wilson was tied 13-13 by Lorenzo, with the latter getting credit for the win on the penetration rule.

The Mustangs scored first on a 21 yard play from Dan Verkamp to Javan Schneider, and Verkamp then passed to Chas. Coleman for the extra point. Lorenzo came back to score on a 49 yard run by John Purser, but missed the extra point.

The visitors went ahead in the second quarter, when Purser got away for 71 yards to score, and Jerry Robertson kicked the extra point to take a 13-7 lead.

Wilson tied it up in the third, when Schneider went 22 yards to score. The conversion failed.

Judy Blankenship was crowned the queen in a ceremony preceding the game.

In season play, Wilson has won 5 lost 2, tied 1; in conference play the record is 3-1-1. Meadow virtually sewed-up the championship in its win over Wilson two weeks ago.
