CONTEST WINNERS—"Why We Must Conserve Our Soil and Water" was the subject of a county-wide essay contest entered by 24 school students, sponsored by Tahoka C.C. and SCD board of supervisors. Winners were, left to right, Jimmy Williams of Tahoka, third; Mariana McGinty of Tahoka, second; and Rebecca Morrow of New Home, first. At extreme right is Jiggs Swann of Wilson, judged by the SCD as the "outstanding conservation farmer of Lynn county in 1954."

1954 Cotton Crop Is 108,482 Bales

Lynn county ginned 108,482 bales of cotton from the 1954 crop, according to preliminary figures released by the U. S. Bureau of Census last week end.

In production, Lynn was fifth on the Plains and seventh in the State of Texas. Of the 10 high counties in Texas in cotton production last year, only two were from off the Plains. These were Cameron county with 157,992 and Hidalgo with 157,117 bales.

Lubbock county again was the leading Texas county with 204,348, Lamb third with 178,625. Hockley was the only other Plains county exceeding Lynn.

Following are the preliminary figures for most of the plains counties:

Lubbock	222,376
Hale	204,348

Trustee Elections Are This Saturday

Voters of the five Lynn county school districts will elect board members in the annual school trustee election being held Saturday.

Tahoka's balloting, in the City Hall, will be on two trustees, and only two names are filed. These are Kevill Coffman and Maurice Huffaker, who would succeed Joe Robinson and Vernon Willhoit. Holdover members of the board are: A. M. Bray, president, John Witt, Felix Jones, Frank Greathouse, and "Buck" Martin.

Six names are filed for two places on the Grassland board. Men filed are L. B. Burk, W. W. Young, Glenn Norman, C. W. Roberts, Iris Miller, and Vic Lauderdale. Burk and Young are present members of the board.

At Wilson, four are filed for two places, C. C. Swope, F. J. Schneider, Charley Lichey, and T. L. Weaver. The first two are present board members.

New Home has no contest, Harlan Dean and Robert Poer having been filed by other board members for re-election.

There are three running for two places at O'Donnell, these being Felix L. Jones, present chairman of the board, Wayland Taylor and O. G. Smith, Jr., publisher of the Index-Press.

Three members of the county board are up for re-election. These are J. K. Applewhite, Jr., chairman and trustee-at-large, B. M. Haynes of precinct 3, and H. B. Crosby of precinct 1. Holdovers are Graham Hensley of precinct 2 and Fritz Speckman of precinct 4.

Water Project Is Given Boost

Prospects for realization of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority dam and aqueduct system to serve Tahoka, among other Plains towns, is again much brighter, reports Clint Walker, local director, following a meeting of the board in Plainview Monday.

Furthermore, cost of water delivery to the cities may be dropped from 22 cents to about 18 cents per thousand gallons as a result of negotiations with industries on the North Plains for purchase of water.

Amarillo some weeks ago "threw a monkey wrench" in the plans by failing to ratify the private financing plan until further information could be secured on Federal financing.

This city now will likely return to the fold, if the State Legislature and Governor Allan Shivers approve a proposed bill which will modify the Authority enabling act to harmonize with Federal reclamation laws so that the Authority may "do business" with the Federal Government.

Sleeping Motorist Hits Parked Car

County Judge Walter M. Mathis discovered Wednesday a car is not safe from serious damage when properly parked.

He was sitting in his office at about 3:50 p. m. that day when he heard a grinding crash, looked out the window, and saw his car rolling down the street and another car careen upon the court house lawn.

Judge's 1955 Chevrolet, hit from behind, was damaged to the extent of $150 to $175. The front of a 1954 Plymouth, driven by Harold Loy Poston of Big Spring, was damaged to the extent of $300 to $400.

Poston told Police Chief Roy Hefner he went to sleep while driving down U. S. 87 through Tahoka. He was given a ticket for "negligent collision."

CLINT WALKER MOVES

Clint Walker has recently moved his insurance agency across the street to the building next door to Richardson's across the street east from the Keitner Hotel.

G. R. Smith of Grassland entered Tahoka Hospital Thursday as a medical patient.

Polio Meeting Set For Today

School officials and doctors of the county will meet at Tahoka Municipal building today, Friday, at 1 p. m. to study procedures to be followed in the proposed Salk polio vaccinations, according to Dr. Emil Prohl, county health officer.

A representative from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will be present to explain the program, Clint Walker, county chapter chairman, states.

About April 14, a report is expected on whether or not the Salk vaccine is deemed effective.

If this report is favorable, Lynn county will be ready to start giving immunization shots to first and second grade school children.

Mrs. Ruth Jolly, county superintendent, reports that response has been excellent and parents have signed up almost 100 percent in the five schools of the county for these vaccinations.

The polio vaccine is entirely free to all first and second grade students. If approved the vaccine will be given about 500 Lynn county children this year.

"If those few who did not avail themselves of the opportunity because of absence from school will sign in the immediate future," she says, "we may be able to include your child in the total when the request is made in Austin. We urge you to meet this requirement immediately, as we do not wish that any child should be deprived of this wonderful opportunity."

George M. Reid is a patient in Tahoka Hospital with the flu.

Youth Is Shot In Leg While Hunting

Don Gass, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gass of Draw, received treatment in Tahoka Hospital this week for a gun shot wound in the right leg just below the knee.

Don was accidentally shot in the leg with a .22 calibre rifle Monday afternoon while hunting. He was able to go home Wednesday.

DOG VACCINATION

A veterinarian will be at Tahoka Municipal building on the next two Saturday afternoons to vaccinate dogs so that dog license tags may be issued.

Rev. Howard Hollowell, pastor of Laurel Heights Methodist Church of San Antonio and well known here as a former pastor at O'Donnell, will do the preaching in the revival meeting at the First Methodist Church of Tahoka April 10-20.

Students Give State Program

Four Tahoka High School students last week end conducted a panel discussion at the meeting of the Texas Association of Student Councils held in Denton Thursday through Saturday on the campus of the Texas State College for Women.

These students are: Janet Dube, Jerrie LeMond, Gordon Smith, and Ted Pridmore. They were accompanied by Tracy Brown, an instructor at the high school.

Their subject was "Vandalism in Schools," and Mr. Brown thought it was one of the very best on the entire program that he heard.

Attending the convention were 2,000 students from 400 Texas high schools.

Tiny Meeks Baby Is Still Growing

The Othell Meeks' little son, Jerry Wayne, who weighed only two pounds and five ounces at birth about nine weeks ago, now weighs about six pounds, the daddy reports.

The tiny baby was kept in an incubator at Tahoka Hospital for about seven weeks, before being taken home. Early this week, it weighed five pounds 13 and one-half ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Connolly Franks and children of Midland visited here Sunday with his aunt, Mrs. James Connolly.

Mrs. Tom Russell of Joe Stokes is still in Tahoka Hospital, where she is a medical patient, but is reported improving.

Dr. Harold K. Graves, top, of Berkeley, Calif., and R. H. Dilday of Dallas will conduct the revival at the First Baptist Church beginning Easter.

City Election Next Tuesday

Tahoka visitors will elect a mayor and two aldermen at the annual city election which will be held at the Municipal Building next Tuesday.

The names of two men, Clint Walker and Jack Alley Robinson, both well known business men, have been filed for the office of mayor to succeed E. R. Edwards, who did not file for re-election.

Only two men are filed for two places on the City Council. They are Herman Heck, who was prevailed upon to stand for re-election, and Wynne Collier, whose name was filed to succeed Lewis Allsup, who did not choose to run again.

Hold-over aldermen are Winston C. Wharton, Albert Curry, and Everton Nevill.

Billy J. Edwards Is Found Dead

Billy Jack Edwards, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Edwards of Tahoka, was found dead in the Sacramento River at Sacramento, Calif., where he had been working, last Friday.

Two boys are reported to have found the body. A funeral home there, on finding his driver's license, identification card, and the address of his parents called his parents here Saturday. He said Billy Jack had evidently been dead about two months. Cause of his death was unknown.

A brother, Homan, who also lives in Sacramento, was then called by the parents, and Homan notified a cousin, C. G. Welcher, who identified the body.

Homan told his parents that Billy Jack had been working in a tailor shop. He had talked about taking a job at a little town up in the mountains, and when he disappeared some time ago Homan presumed he had gone to take this job.

Billy Jack had visited in Tahoka in January.

Funeral services were held in Sacramento Wednesday, and burial was in Veterans' Cemetery there.

Billy Jack was born and reared in Tahoka. Both his parents are members of pioneer Lynn county families. He attended High School (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Athletic Banquet Is Next Tuesday

Tickets are on sale at both drug stores for the annual Athletic Banquet next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the school cafeteria.

Benny Williams, line coach at Howard Payne College and a former room-mate of Coach Bill Haralson, will be the principal speaker.

1954-55 Tahoka High letter winners in football and boys and girls basketball will be the guests of honor.

Fans, parents, and all others interested in the youth of the community are invited and urged to attend. Tickets to the affair are $1.50 each.

Burl Moore, Draw gin manager, says the farm land in that community is in better condition for a crop than it has been in since he came in 1951. This is a result of the fine rain which covered the southeast part of the county two weeks ago.

Take care, not chances; chance takers are accident makers.

275 Attend Farmer-Business Meeting

Two hundred and seventy-five farmers and businessmen and their wives attended a banquet here Thursday night sponsored by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce and Lynn County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors.

J. C. Porter, vice president of the First National Bank of Wichita Falls, agricultural committee chairman of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and winner of the 1955 award to the Texan who did the most for agriculture, was the speaker. He was introduced by Kay K. Moore, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Mr. Porter stated agriculture has made vast advances in the last ten years, but America has used up its soil resources faster than any nation in the world and much work remains to be done in soil conservation. This is equally important to farmers and business men here in this section, for soil is almost our only source of livelihood. Our national economy ties in with the strength of our land.

Tomorrow night, he said, the world will have 75,000 more babies to feed. We must preserve our land to be able to feed the ever increasing population.

Germany went to war because it was not able to feed its people from its one-acre-per-person. Japan went to war for more territory as it had one person for each one-third acreable acre.

He predicted the next ten years will be America's greatest in agriculture—in conserving soil and water. If we learn to be good to the land, it will be good to us.

He thought many towns, looking for more business, more industry were overlooking a "bet" right under their nose—improving the soil on their farms and ranches. He cited one town which estimated its farm income at $3,000.00 per year net from 1,000 farms. By increasing soil fertility the survey estimated this income could be stepped up by $750.00 per farm, which meant $750,000.00 more to be spent in the trade area.

Miss Rebecca Morrow of New Home was introduced as the winner of the prize-winning essay on "Why We Must Conserve Our Soil and Water." Miss Mariana McGinty and Jimmy Williams of Tahoka took second and third places. Checks of $15.00, $10.00, and $5.00, respectively were presented them.

Jiggs Swann, Wilson, who farms land owned by his dad, Pat Swann, was introduced by Bill Thomson, soil conservationist, as the outstanding conservation farmer of the county in 1954. He will be entered in the district and state contest.

Mitchell Williams, outgoing president of Tahoka C. of C., was master of ceremonies. He introduced nearly fifty farmers and agricultural workers of the county.

Also introduced were winners of the recent South Plains Junior Stock Show at Lubbock, Lynn county making a clean-sweep of the top honors; Walton Terry grand champion calf; Jack Woods, reserve champion calf; Wendell Edwards, grand champion lamb; and Larry Mears, grand champion pig; and also parents of these boys.

The new C.C. president, John

Reasonover, was introduced, as were the new directors, W. B. Slaton, A. M. Bray, L. C. Haney, Alton Cain, Otis Spears, Frank Hill, Fred McGinty, Wynne Collier, and Winston Wharton. Hold-over directors are Williams, Reasonover, Herman Heck, Joe Marshall, and Guy Wheatley.

Geno Jones, secretary, outlined some of the accomplishments of the Chamber during the past year.

These included sponsoring a parade at the Old Settlers Reunion last June. Tahoka night on KIDUB-TV, 4-H club boys to Tex at A. & M., the Boy Scout Swimming meet, refreshments for the Soil Conservation Field Tour, a premium of over $1,000 for the first bale of 1954 cotton raised and ginned in the county, study of four-lane highway proposition, rides for football boys following week-day work-outs, the anti-solicitation campaign, Christmas lighting and the Junior Livestock Show.

Special music was furnished by string band composed of T. L. Weaver of Wilson, John Pandy of Slaton and W. H. Norman of Grinstead.

W. S. Anglin Retires From Power Firm

Walter G. Anglin, formerly of Tahoka, was honored by employees of Southwestern Public Service Co. in Lubbock Tuesday night on the occasion of his retirement after 34 years with the firm.

He was presented a leather brief case and a scroll bearing the signatures of 130 fellow employees and bearing the words: "To Walter G. Anglin, the best right-of-way and tax man in the utility business, in appreciation of many years of pleasant memories."

Anglin became an employee of the little Tahoka city power plant April 5, 1921, and when the old Texas Utilities bought the local light and power plant here, he became office manager and has been with the firm ever since. He moved from Tahoka to Lubbock in 1948.

Mariana McGinty Writes On Water And Soil Conservation

Following is the second place essay, written by Mariana McGinty of Tahoka, in the recent contest sponsored by the SCS Board of Supervisors and Tahoka Chamber of Commerce. Rebecca Morrow's first place essay was published last week, and Jimmy Williams third place entry will appear next week. The contest was entered by 24 Lynn County school students.

"In the beginning God created the heaven and earth." That was a long time ago but no one has created any more soil, nor will anyone ever create, manufacture, or construct more. What we mortals can do and must do is to conserve this good earth and the water that God has given us. Without an abundant supply of both, we could not long exist.

With this in mind, how can citizens of the world and especially here in Lynn County, stand by and watch our soil, which is more precious than diamonds, erode and do nothing about it? How can we bare to see our scant supply of water trickle down some barrow ditch and waste? We could, with a little knowledge and labor, conserve and utilize most of it. No doubt The Giver of soil and water frowns on our carelessness when we waste our two most prized resources. In some areas the productive life of a farm is shorter than the productive life of a farmer.

From the United States each year, 610 million cubic yards of soil are swept into the seas by erosion. Water, be it from the clouds or from wells is wasted at the same ratio.

Water erosion can be stopped—if it is not too late—by terracing and contour plowing, reforestation, damming and ditching, and the planting of long-rooted, soil conserving vegetation. Wind erosion is retarded by planting three "shelterbelts" and by replacing crops requiring annual plowing with perennial grasses.

America, the infant among the major nations of the world, can profit by the mistake of the others "Conserve your soil while you have it," they would say to us. That message is for you, neighbor, and for me. Practice, talk and preach conservation.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

"What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." This old folk saying is often quoted these days on Capitol Hill.

Legislation is pending to tax cooperatives on same basis as corporations. In nationwide membership poll of National Federation of Independent Business, 95% endorsed H. R. 1780, introduced by Rep. Noah Mason, (R., Ill.) to tax cooperatives the same as corporations.

Membership C. W. Harder is now voting on H. R. 1780 introduced by Rep. Clifford Davis, (D., Tenn.) which would require cooperatives to pay taxes on net income before payment of patronage refunds in same way corporations pay tax on net income before dividends.

Thus it might be said Treasury Secretary George Humphrey's appeals for Congress not to cut personal income taxes because government needs money have drawn sympathetic Congressional interest.

For some time it has been recognized a vast volume of business done by cooperatives has been escaping taxes.

Some experts say taxation of cooperatives on same basis as competing companies would yield extra billion dollars.

History of cooperatives is interesting. Many years before farm price supports, farm subsidies, other farm programs were dreamed about, special laws permitting establishment of cooperatives on a tax free basis were enacted to help farmers.

However, law was written on such broad scope door was National Federation of Independent Business.

opened for practically any type of business to be operated as a cooperative and thus escape taxes. With advent of high taxes, door became popular.

An example is wholesale field. While chain operations are blamed for demise of high percentage of wholesalers, wholesale cooperatives have probably been as responsible, or more so.

If a retailer would prefer to buy through a cooperative rather than his old established wholesaler who extended credit and performed other services, that is his privilege. But during past few years there is reasonable doubt cooperative membership would have been so attractive to many retailers if cooperatives had been required to pay same taxes as private wholesaler.

Even despite tax advantages there are wholesale cooperatives which have not paid members any patronage refunds in cash, issuing stock certificates in lieu of cash not readily negotiable and thus of doubtful value.

At same time, many cooperatives have been pushing to their members their own house brands competing with income tax paying private manufacturers.

Thus once again Congress is faced with an economic injustice spawned by income tax. While outlawing income tax would be quick remedy, it is not to be expected such a drastic cure will ever be entertained.

Therefore, it is felt only just that Congress prescribe all enterprises engaged in production and distribution of merchandise be equally subject to taxation. If such action is not taken, many observers fear in years to come practically all business will be captured by cooperative system which in many nations has supplanted free economy system.

New Home Club Plans Book Review

The basic dress, accessories, and interesting ways of wearing scarfs were the subjects discussed at a meeting of the New Home Demonstration Club, Thursday, March 24, in the home of Mrs. Boswell Edwards.

Miss Wanda Roach, the county agent, gave the qualities of an all-purpose dress, and patterns and materials were studied. Miss Roach also gave the newest trends in the use of accessories. She said that the hat, gloves, and flowers should add the special color, with the dress, shoes and purse of the same color. She especially stressed the use of flowers in our spring wardrobe. Flowers that do not harmonize with the complexion or coloring, should be worn away from the face, either tucked in the pocket of the skirt, or worn at the waist. A small group of flowers with no stems may be worn on the lapel, and those with a stem should be placed with the stem behind the lapel. A very interesting effect was shown by placing the flowers at the back of the neck when stand-up collars are worn.

Miss Roach also demonstrated ways scarfs of varying sizes may be used to give a new-look to the basic dress. She showed four ways that large scarfs may be used as a substitute for a blouse, and also how they may be worn at the neck.

In the business session, a community volley ball tournament was planned, with the time to be set at a later date.

Refreshments were served to nineteen members, Miss Roach and one visitor. Mrs. Carlton Davies joined the club as a new member. Hostesses were Mrs. Boswell Edwards and Mrs. J. H. Kornegay.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Loyd McCormick, April 14. A book review of "Autumn of Liberty," by Paul Harvey will be given by a member, Mrs. B. G. Smith.

William Muldoom was known as the father of American wrestling.

Mrs. Lehman Found Dead

Mrs. Arnold Lehman, 36, living on a farm seven miles north and a half mile east of Tahoka, died Friday at about 2:30 p. m. at her home.

Memorial services were conducted at Stanley Funeral Chapel at 11:30 a. m. Saturday by Rev. G. W. Heinemeier, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church of Wilson of which she was a member. The body was carried to Taylor, where funeral services were conducted Monday at 2:30 p. m., and burial followed at Thorndale.

Mrs. Lehman is said to have been despondent for some time, and had previously threatened her life. Friday afternoon, her husband heard a shot from a wash house at the rear of the home and she was found dead by her husband and Henry Douthit, a neighbor, who went to investigate. There was a bullet wound in her right temple, and a .38 calibre revolver lay at her feet. Sheriff Norvell Redwine, who investigated, said the gun contained two empty shells, but one of them had been fired at least several days previously and the other evidently had been fired recently.

C. A. Clem, Justice of the Peace, who conducted the inquest, rendered a verdict of "death by gunshot wound, self-inflicted."

Mrs. Lehman was born at Haskell March 12, 1919. She was married at Thorndale on Nov. 6, 1936, to Arnold Lehman, and the couple had moved to Lynn county in January, 1948. She was a worker in her church and was highly respected by a number of friends.

Survivors include her grieved husband and six young children; three sons, Melvin, Glynn Ray, and Clifton; three daughters, Arnell, Earlene and Eureka; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Nient-sch of Thorndale; four brothers, Justice, Irvin, Eldon, and Eugene; and three sisters, Mrs. Alene Lehman, Mrs. Irene Schroeder, and Mrs. Doris Tislink, all of Thorndale.

Mrs. Tom Castillon, who has been critically ill in Tahoka Hospital, is now improving.

Donkeys are the only mode of transportation in Clovelly (Devon, England) high street.

Miss Armes And Dwayne Jolly Wed

Miss Mattie Francis Armes became the bride of Dwayne Jolly at 8 o'clock Saturday night in a quiet ceremony read in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dub Powers, sister of the bridegroom.

The single ring vows were read before baskets of yellow and white carnations. The Rev. Jimmy Darnell, Presbyterian minister of Lubbock and cousin of the bride's father, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Armes Jr. of Tahoka. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jolly of Tahoka.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue and white waltz length dress. She carried a white Bible with white corsage.

Miss Charlene Eason of O'Donnell was bridesmaid, and Bobby McGlaun served the groom as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the home. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a tiered white and yellow wedding cake. Lighted candles completed the table decorations.

Mrs. Mable Morgan served the cake. Mrs. Audrey Akin, Mrs. Iva Lamberson, and Miss Jeanette Cain presided at the table.

The couple will live in Tahoka.

Revival On At Assembly Of God

For several years, Rev. Stallings has ministered throughout the Western and Southwestern States in revivals, conventions, and youth rallies.

Rev. A. L. Beggs, the pastor, gives an invitation to the public to attend these meetings, stating that sound, dynamic preaching of the evangelist will be a spiritual uplift to everyone. Services begin at 7:45 each evening at 1629 West Lockwood.

Some of the subjects are: God's Purpose in War and Famine, The Fullness of Life, Tormenting Demons and Ministering Angels, and Is There a Solution for Today's Problems?

Larsen Is Speaker At WSCS Meeting

Birch Larsen was guest speaker at the meeting of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service Monday at 3:30 p. m. in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Mr. Larsen gave a very interesting discussion, assisted by Elder West and Elder Erickson, both of Lubbock, on the Mormon people's Christian beliefs, their Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Days Saints, and on the Book of Mormon.

Mrs. A. M. Bray presided over the business session.

Mrs. Fenton gave the invocation to open the meeting, and the session was dismissed with unison prayer.

Next Monday, April 4, at 7:30 p. m., in the sanctuary of the church, "Our Day Apart" program on peace will be presented by Mrs. R. H. Gibson, spiritual life secretary.

W. M. U. HOLDS BUSINESS MEETING

The W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church met at the church for the monthly business meeting. The meeting was opened with prayer after which Mrs. Clifford Harris brought the devotional. Then we were favored with a solo by Mrs. Cecil Miller.

Two of the things discussed at this meeting and that need our immediate attention were: that each lady bring at least two hemmed cup towels to the circle meeting next Monday, some to be used at Wayland College and some to be used at camp; that each circle sponsor one of the auxiliaries and serve them at least once a month. The following circles will sponsor the following auxiliaries: Sharpley Circle, the Sunbeams; Walker Circle, the 11 and 12 year old Jr. G. A.'s; Sallee Circle the 9 and 10 year old Jr. G. A.'s; Wingo Circle, the R. A.'s; and Business Women's Circle, the Int. G. A.'s. Each circle chairman may want to contact the leader of each of these auxiliaries to find out when best to serve them.

Next Monday, the W. M. U. will meet at 3:30 in circles for Bible study. The topic for discussion at this meeting will be "Baptism." The different circles will meet in the following homes: Sharpley Circle with Mrs. Ivan McWhirter; Wingo Circle with Mrs. Dub Fulford; Sallee Circle with Mrs. K. R. Durham; and Walker Circle with Mrs. Jodie Nevill.

May you find it convenient to attend one of these circle meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Looker of Idaho Springs, Colo., recently visited here with the McCord families. She is the former Miss Lucille McCord. She says Colorado is still cold with much snow in the mountains but that it is very beautiful.

PYTHIAN SISTERS NET NICE PROFIT

A little more than $50.00 was netted by the Pythian Sisters at their "42" party Tuesday night, members report, from the sale of tickets and refreshments.

When more cakes were brought in than were needed, Jack Alley Robinson auctioned off the surplus and a lot of fun was had in doing so.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Professional "gag" writers far radio and TV comedy shows work long hours to be funny.

Hours worked by collection of unconscious humorists ensconced in Harold Stassen's Foreign Operations Administration are unknown. But it is generally felt they must put in much overtime, as it is believed nobody could achieve grotesque whimsies they create by merely working 40 hour weeks.

FOA has now developed "triangular plan." Here is example of a "triangular plan."

Great Britain, with vast coal deposits, is getting 250,000 long tons of coal from U. S. FOA. It is plain understood this coal is not a gift, because England is going to pay for it.

Yes, England is going to pay for it with about $4 million given them by U. S. taxpayers. The $4 million is going to be converted into pounds sterling, set up as credit for U. S. goods in England. Then against this sterling credit, FOA will buy England goods to give to Nehru's India. Part of the China and all the other more nations in which dollars are being scattered. Heaven sent manna.

But with perfect aplomb earnestness FOA wants to understand this is not a gift to England; just clear business.

This deal comes to light after FOA through a Russian vision, revealed system of commissions paid by FOA give-aways; something in to Cius-working-through a broker.

When FOA buys from a U. S. manufacturer, for example, an order of goods to be given to an aid receiving nation such as France, whoever is responsible for getting this order of gift goods placed with manufacturer gets a sales commission.

Prior to recent FOA order, if agent lived abroad, FOA demanded from government of nation receiving goods amount of agent's commission in dollars in order to prevent a foreign agent from being paid in dollars instead of nation's own currency. But FOA has changed that so that an agent living anywhere who negotiates an order of free gift goods paid for by U. S. taxpayers can receive his commission in dollars.

Thus wittingly, unwittingly, or half wittingly, FOA has established concept that could open entirely new business field; that of Charity Brokers.

However, these things may end. Sen. Harry Byrd, (Dem., Va.) now holds an important post in regards to taxes. And taxes FOA going. Sen. Byrd is a foe for a certain peculiarity. Despite many years in Washington he still holds to premise that 2 apples plus 2 apples equals 4 apples. With this peculiar reasoning, he believes before taxes are levied, the federal budget should be brought into line. And he unambiguously states way to do that is to cut Federal spending.

So it was more than of passing significance when Sen. Byrd, not content with his own views, publicly stated other day best way to cut government expenses is to cut off foreign aid. So who is to blame?

It is possible Sen. Byrd's quiet way may persuade a majority of congressmen to share his belief that 2 apples, plus 2 apples, equals 4 apples.

Baptist Workers Meet At Tokio

Baptists of the Brownfield Association will hold their Worker's Conference at Tokio next Thursday evening, April 7, according to Rev. C. R. Blake of Wells.

Theme of the meeting is "Ministry of the Holy Spirit," and speakers will include Rev. John Martin of Wilson, Rev. W. S. Armstrong of Foster, Rev. W. S. Harrell of Meadow, and Rev. B. H. Baldwin of Union.

Baptists Plan Big Revival

First Baptist Church of Tahoka announces that Dr. Harrold K. Graves of Berkeley, Calif., will be the evangelist in their revival beginning Easter, April 10. Hooper Dilday of Dallas will be the song director.

Dr. Graves, who is president of Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, was for many years a successful pastor of several churches in Oklahoma.

In 1953 when the trustees of Golden Gate Seminary met to choose a president, they unanimously elected Dr. Graves. Under his leadership the trustees were able to secure a piece of property on which to build the Seminary that was the original site planned for the United Nations building. The site is known as "Strawberry Point," which protrudes into San Francisco Bay, in the very shadow of the Golden Gate bridge. The property alone cost close to $1,000,000.

When completed, the buildings will cost about $7 million and will become one of the outstanding landmarks of San Francisco, easily seen from Berkeley, Oakland, and all east bay cities. All ships coming in from ports all over the world will pass within a mile or so of the Seminary, which they hope to build out of white stone.

Southern Baptists believe the Seminary there will do much to shape the course of Christianity in the great West, as well as being the school where preachers from Japan, Hawaii, the Philippines, and other lands will train.

Dr. Graves is a man Baptists will be reading about much in the next 25 years, Clifford Harris, local pastor, believes. He is a gracious person with a simple message every person in Tahoka will be glad to hear.

Hooper Dilday, the song leader for the coming revival, is equally well known over the South. Harris says, as an outstanding man in his field of Religious Education, Dilday is now associate secretary of the Sunday School Dept. of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He has been asked to head S. S. departments in several states, but feels led to devote his time to work in Texas.

For about 12 years he was minister of Education in the First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls, which now averages well over 1,200 in Sunday School. As a young man, he led singing in revivals for men like Dr. George W. Truett.

The First Baptist Church hopes to make every effort to care for the large crowds expected to attend the services.

The pastor is now preaching at Hobbs, N. M., in the Simultaneous Revivals being conducted in the central portion of the Southern Baptist Convention territory, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific. From April 10 to 24, the northern portion of the Convention territory will be engaged in a Simultaneous Revival effort.

In a period of six weeks closing on April 24, most of the 30,000 Southern Baptist Churches will cooperate in what is believed to be the greatest revival effort of all time in the history of the world. This effort is the "follow-up" of the gigantic Sunday School enrollment last year, known as "A Million More in '54". As a result of this program about 700,000 were added to the Sunday School enrollment of the SBC.

Bro. Harris will be in the pulpit in Tahoka for the evening service next Sunday. At the morning service, Mr. John O'Haugherty, a converted Catholic, now a member of First Baptist Church of Lubbock, will bring his testimony. Chuck Hawkins of Lubbock, a representative of the Gideons, will tell how their organization is placing Bibles in schools and other places, and will introduce Mr. O'Haugherty.

There will be a door prize and high score prizes, and refreshments will be available. Admission is $1.00 per person.

Tahoka Jaycees Have 16 Present

The weekly meeting of the Tahoka Jaycees was held Monday night at the Jaycee House. There were 16 members present and an ordinary business meeting was conducted.

The Tahoka Jaycees received a letter from the Lubbock Jaycees inviting them to attend a luncheon at the Caprock Hotel April 11. One of the National Directors of the organization will be at the luncheon. At least four of the members from Tahoka plan to attend. The Tahoka Chapter was also invited to attend the Lubbock Chapter's installation banquet which will be April 23.

The Jaycees discussed means of raising funds for the organization's projects, but no definite plans have yet been revealed.

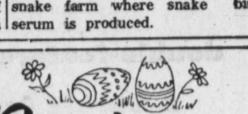

The Tahoka Jaycees meet each Monday night at 7:30. Anyone interested in the Club is cordially invited to attend the meetings.

C. B. Evans Has Fine Farm Southeast of Tahoka

The C. B. Evans farm, three miles east and five miles south of Tahoka, is pictured above. Only three people, C. B. Smith and Mrs. T. B. Inman of Tahoka, and Cecil Hammonds of southwest of town, recognized the place. C. B. and Cecil each get six months credit on their subscriptions for calling in on the "mystery farm."

C. B. has owned the 342 acre farm 15 years. Just this side of the large house is the small house of his son, Glenn Ross, who farms with him, and in the background is the farm of Pharies Stephens.

Before buying this place the Evans lived for 11 years on the place now owned by John Thomas. Mr. Evans also owns a 180-acre irrigated farm at Levelland which a son-in-law farms.

The Evans have tried four irrigation wells, but did not get enough water to pay off. But, Mrs. Evans says, they think this is the greatest country anywhere and believe they will stay after 33 years trying it out. Given a little rain, Lynn county will produce more on less rainfall than any place they know about.

C. B. keeps a couple of milch cows and some chickens, and naturally raises cotton and maize on contoured rows. He has his own grainaries to store his maize for the better price.

The pair were married at Leuders in 1915. They have four grown children, C. B. Jr. of Morton; Mrs. A. D. (Melba) Rogers of Levelland; Rev. Boyce, pastor of Pleasant Run Baptist Church 10 miles northeast of Fort Worth, who graduated from Southwestern Seminary on January 14; and Glenn Ross, who farms with his dad. They have seven grandchildren.

Chorus Appears At Rotary Club

Tahoka High's 60-voice chorus presented the program at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week, and all the number received enthusiastic applause.

The chorus, directed since December by Wyatt Burkhalter, has made marked progress. Numbers presented included the THS Alma Mater; Deep River, a Negro spiritual; A Mighty Fortress is Our God, a religious number; Little David Play on Your Harp, and Skip to My Lou, Milfred Ratliff was the soloist in the latter. Diane Hensley is piano accompanist for the group.

The program was arranged by Fred McGinty.

President A. M. Bray announced Calloway Huffaker and Happy Smith will be in charge of programs during April.

He also announced the Golden Anniversary Conference of the 183rd Rotary District will be held in Midland April 10, 11, and Rotarians expect to attend. Seven, and which eight or ten local wives of Rotarians will also attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brashear, now in the grocery business at Baird, were here Sunday visiting his son, Temple Brashear, and daughter, Mrs. Elbert King. Mr. Brashear now nearing 82, is still very active and drove to Tahoka and back Sunday. He is a pioneer Tahoka businessman.

Odds AND Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

This week Miss Ross is bringing us back to the Holy Land—To Nazareth—the birthplace of Jesus, and to the sea of Galilee, from whose shores most of the Apostles came and where he did much of his healing, teaching, and preaching. Furthermore, it was in the province of Galilee that a majority of his women followers had their origin. Galilee is generally regarded by Christians throughout the world as the most sacred division of the Holy Land. You will enjoy Miss Ross' story of this division of Palestine.

"The people of Palestine use mostly American-made automobiles. We rode in a last year's model Buick over the road leading from Jerusalem to Samaria, a distance of less than fifty miles, only two hours by motor but full of history and memories. Our Arab chauffeur took great pride in showing us how well his car could climb the hills in "high gear." I have heard Western tourists say that riding in an automobile in Palestine spoiled the trip for them, that the motor car did not belong in the land of Christ's birth but I did not feel that way about it, for Christ believed in modern things. He did most of his teaching and preaching in Galilee which was the most modern part of the country at that time. The thing that spoils Palestine for us, in riding in an automobile, is our haste. We can be leisurely about it if we will, for the driver is never in a hurry. Nobody is in a hurry except the western tourist, who probably allows himself two days in which to see the Holy Land.

"The Christian village of Ramallah, ten miles north of Jerusalem, has always been the favorite stopping place for caravans because of its abundant supply of water. Legend records this to be the place where the twelve-year old Jesus was missed by his parents as they were returning to their home in Nazareth. Luke says it was a day's journey, but a caravan would probably not travel more than ten miles in a day even if many of the people, who were strong, could walk twenty. Probably Jesus' family got a late start in leaving Jerusalem where they had been for several days.

"Joseph and his mother 'supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance. And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.

"And it came to pass that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them and asking them questions. (Luke 2:44-46)

"We came to Bethel (Gen. 28:10-22), where Jacob spent the night, using stones for a pillow, and where he dreamed of the ladder that reached to heaven. Here on the morning, he had ascended the stones he had used for his pillow and made an altar. Even today one often sees piles of stones made into a crude altar which some wayfarer has built as Jacob once did here at Bethel. I remember seeing a number of such altars as we crossed the Syrian Desert to Bagdad.

"There is little to be seen at old Bethel now except stones, curious high rocks on the hillside. It would be very natural to dream while sleeping here with a stone for a pillow. As one travels about it is a very common sight to see men lying on the ground using a stone in this way. I have often seen shepherds as well as fellahin sleeping thus, sometimes lying in the hot noon-day sun with no shelter.

"There is no difficulty in finding a stone, they are plentiful. The Arabs have a legend that when God made the world he put all stones that were to cover it into two bags and gave them to an angel. While this angel was flying over Palestine one bag broke, so Palestine got half the stones that God intended then entire world.

"Next we passed Jacob's well, one of the most positively identified sites in Palestine. Here Jesus talked with the woman of Samaria about living water and fields white for harvest. (John 4:1-30.) It lies just below the road and only about a ten-minute walk from the site of ancient Sychar on the hillside where the Samaritan woman lived. The Arab village of Asker is now located on this site. Standing by the brink of the well, over-shadowed by the giant bulk of Gerizim, one feels how naturally it would be spoken of as 'this mountain.'

"The depth of the well was doubtless much greater in ancient times, but much rubbish has fallen into it and now it is not more than seventy-five feet deep. (John 4:11.) In recent years a Greek Catholic Church has been built over it. Near the well we saw wonderful olive orchards, and some of the finest fields of grain in all of Palestine. Close by, stretches the level parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph. In the midst of the plain, between Jacob's well and Sychar, is situated Joseph's tomb, where it is said Joseph was buried in the presence of thousands of Israelites. (Joshua 24:32.)

"There are about two hundred Samaritans living in Nablus or Shechem who practice some of the most ancient religious customs in the world. For a week each year they celebrate the Passover out-of-doors on the top of Mount Gerizim. Shechem is one of the oldest towns in history; it was founded long before Jacob's time.

"A few miles beyond, we climbed the great hill of Samaria itself, upon which was located the ancient city of Samaria. This is one of the most thoroughly excavated sites in Palestine; here the excavators found Ahab's 'Ivory house' (I Kings 22:39; it is faced with white marble, which explains its name. Here also Herod the Great owned a royal mansion, and it is said that this is where Salome danced for the head of John the Baptist.

"We crossed the Plains of Dothan, where Joseph's brothers were watching their flocks, and where they gave Joseph to a passing caravan bound for Egypt. (Gen. 37:27). The old road is still there, having seen service for centuries.

"Then on we went to the miserable Arab village of Zerin, which is probably located on the ancient site of Jezreel, where Ahab and Jezebel had one of their palaces. It was here also that Naboth was murdered for his vineyard. (I Kings 21:16). Here Elijah prophesied their destruction, and here Jezebel was thrown from the window, and the dogs did eat her flesh. (II Kings 9:30-37).

"As one comes up the road from Jerusalem across the Samaritan foothills and the valley of Esdralon, he gets his first glimpse of Nazareth high up in the mountains of Galilee; the despised Nazareth of which Nathaniel asked, 'Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?' (John 1:46). Jesus' home, where he spent all of his life except a few years. Here, as elsewhere in Palestine, one finds many buildings and shrines, but Mary's well or fountain is perhaps the one authentic place, because it has always been Nazareth's sole water supply. It is unquestionably the source from which Mary drew the water for her family and to which Jesus frequently went with his mother for water. It is really a fountain and not a well, the water gushing forth in two streams into a well-up modernized stone basin. There are always women and girls coming and going, carrying water on their heads in stone jars.

"The scenes around the fountain today are very much the same as they were during Christ's time. When a girl is quite small, she begins to learn to carry jars of water on her head; she first begins with a small jar and, as she grows older, the size of the jar increases until she is able to carry a large jar containing four or five gallons of water on her head without touching the jar.

"The women of Nazareth are noted for their beauty, they are the most beautiful in Palestine, with the exception of the Bethlehem women. The long practice of carrying loads on their heads gives them a graceful carriage that few of our western teachers of physical education can improve upon. There is a swinging motion from the hips, while the upper part of the body remains straight, so as not to disturb the load on the head; thus burdened, a mother often carries her baby on her back, in a small hammock which is fastened over her forehead, just as the mountain women of Mexico carry their babies. Mexican women, however, usually use their mantillas or scarfs in place of hammocks.

"Many of the inhabitants of Nazareth are Christians, so that the women do not have to cover their faces as carefully as do the Moslem women. The custom of covering the face, however, is fast disappearing, so we were told. In years past when passing men on the road even Christian women would cover their faces with their hands or veils and keep their eyes on the ground, but they are not so shy now. Some of the Moslem women wear figured veils, the pattern of which breaks up the lines of the face so well that a thinner and cooler veil can take the place of a much thicker black one.

"The view from the hills above Nazareth is one of the grandest in all Palestine. The plain of Esdralon, where many battles of the ancient world were fought, lies beneath the eyes. To the west is Mount Carmel with the Mediterranean Sea in the distance; to the east, the mount of Little Hermon, Mount Tabor, and the Jordan Valley; and to the north the far-away white crest of Mount Hermon and the Lebanon cedars. These cedars have almost disappeared together with most other timber in Palestine. They can not compare in size with some of our huge trees in America. The largest is only about eighty feet high and fifteen feet thick. The wood is of a whitish color and in appearance does not differ from our pine, but its color is deeper and richer. It takes a high finish, and the carvings stand out sharp and perfect. King Solomon used cedars from Mount Lebanon in building the temple.

"It is said the Lebanon Mountain is a nursery for American citizens, a retreat for returning emigrants, and that there are two thousand people living in the state of Oklahoma who come from the village of Banias in the Lebanon, which was Caesarea Philippi in Bible times. Doubtless the boy Jesus would stand on the hilltop above Nazareth and watch with eager eyes the caravans crossing this plain of Esdralon, dreaming of the lands they came from and to which they went, for the great roads from the Euphrates to the Nile, from Damascus to Jerusalem, and from the cities on the Sea of Galilee to the Mediterranean coast passed within sight.

"The camels were the 'freight cars' of Palestine which carried the loads of merchandise from one country to another, three thousand years ago just as they do today. You pass numbers of camel caravans on the road, always headed by the driver on a donkey. And usually each camel is wearing a string of blue beads to keep away the 'evil eye'; this is a superstition somewhat like many of ours. These deliberate beasts of burden will travel twenty or twenty-five miles a day, carrying loads of three or four hundred pounds each, and in short trips their packs are left on night and day. They begin work about three years, and sometimes last until twenty-five years of age.

Now there is much more in Miss Ross' book about Nazareth and Galilee and the little cities situated along the shore of Lake Galilee and scattered around all over the country of Galilee and Miss Ross will tell us about some of these next week. All of them will be intensely interesting to Christians of all denominations who like to read and learn of the country in which Jesus lived and labored here on earth. Even the camels and the goats and the donkeys interest me. I wonder if many of our readers know that at one time in our own history we had a troop of camels doing service for us in southwest Texas and from Texas to California as transportation animals. For many years the Texas Almanac has been making brief mention of them and occasionally there have been articles in magazines and newspapers giving more of the details of their service: Mrs. Fel-da Davis Shanklin born and reared at Salado in Bell County, who recently wrote a book entitled, "Early Days in Texas," gave a wealth of information about this episode in our history. This book is published by the Naylor Company of San Antonio, Texas, and is a valuable contribution to the historical data making up the history of our country. From all these sources, I give you the following facts:

Back in 1853, Jefferson Davis, who later became President of the Southern Confederacy, was Secretary of War for the United States Government, with headquarters at Fort Davis which the Government had established in the Davis Mountains, both the Fort and the Mountains having been named for the honored Secretary of War. Following the discovery of gold in California in 1848 and the consequent rush from Texas and other Southern States to California, the Fort was established as a protection against Indians and desperadoes that quickly infested all the Southwest and especially for the protection of travelers by private conveyance or by stage coach from Fort Davis, Texas, to California, and also to guard the supplies being sent from Texas to California over the same route against the depredations of wild Indians and desperadoes. This end of the trail really began at Kerrville, Texas and extended to the glittering golden sands of the booming, blustering young city of Sacramento, California. A thousand miles of desert land and prickly pears lay between Kerrville and Sacramento. An enormous amount of food and clothing and other necessary supplies had to be gotten over the route through the desert to the rapidly growing crowds of gold-seekers along the California coast by some means of other. So the United States War department decided to use camels as transportation animals. Seventy-two camels with Arab trainers were brought over from Egypt and near-by desert lands in 1856 and thirty-two of them were landed at Indianola, Texas, according to Mrs. Fel-da Davis Shanklin. Mrs. Shanklin proceeds to give much interesting detailed information about that experiment. But camels' feet are soft and will not stand the punishment they got by walking over the rough grounds over which they had to pass in going from Fort Davis to Sacramento. Their feet became so sore that the experiment had to be given up. But Mrs. Shanklin gives more facts about that episode in American history than I have been able to gain from all other sources combined. You will find them in her little book entitled "Early Days in Texas" published by the Naylor Company, San Antonio, Texas.

The repeated reference to the employment of camels as transportation animals by Arabs in Miss Ross' little book prompted me to call attention to the use of camels as beast of burden in our country just a little more than a hundred years ago. It is an interesting story but one that is rarely ever seen in our school histories any more.

Next week we shall give you a couple of letters from Mexico and some more of "Miss Ross' book on the Holy Land.—Good Night.

WORLD'S GREATEST WIFE SAVER AN ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER

"MY ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER IRONED OUT MY IRONING PROBLEMS!"

says Mrs. C. T. Shropshire, 4503 West Third, Amarillo, Texas

"The dryer changed my method of buying clothes for my five children. Now, I just buy the kind of materials which need no ironing." "I remove the clothes from the dryer before they are completely dried out, and hang them on a hanger. They need no ironing, as all the wrinkles fall right out." Any time you can save ironing time is a good time, especially when you have five children, and want to spend as much time with them as you can. Try the convenience of electric clothes drying and reap the dividend Mrs. Shropshire enjoys—more time with her family.

The world's greatest wife saver—that's an electric clothes dryer. Stops lifting and lugging, cuts ironing time in half. See a demonstration at your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer.

MRS MATHEWS WRITES

Dear Lynn Co. News:

I am so glad you are still sending the dear old News, and look forward to it but would appreciate it more if you would say rain instead of dust.

We have not had much rain, but plenty of snow. In fact, we did not see the ground for more than a month, but really it did not seem very cold.

Fred and children are real well, and all of us like it here as we enjoy the snow.

Best regards to all our friends, and accept this check for renewal to The News.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Belle Mathews, Ontario, Oregon.

(Ed. Note: Mrs. Mathews' and son, Fred, formerly lived south of Grassland.)

ERROR CORRECTED

Last week, The News stated that C. L. Newcomb, minister of New Home Church of Christ, assisted in the funeral of Brooks Smith. This was an error. Doyle Keley, minister of the Tahoka Church of Christ, was the one assisting in conducting the rites, and members of the Smith family asked us to make this correction.
