Hail Does Damage In Lakeview Area

Rainfall in Tahoka between 11 and 12 p. m. Wednesday amounted to only .11 of an inch. The fall was light over the country.

A disastrous hail storm late Sunday afternoon destroyed or badly damaged about 5,000 acres of cotton over about 28 sections of the Lakeview community in northwestern Lynn county.

Most of the cotton was irrigated. Farmers in that area are busy replanting this week.

The area affected included farms from about three miles west of Lakeview to three miles east, and from about a mile and a half south to the Lubbock county line to the northeast.

Among the crops totally or almost totally destroyed were those belonging to Fritz Speckman, R. W. Allen, E. E. McManis, Leroy and Edwin Nettles, Adrian Evans, Arthur Dial, Clifton Hamilton, C. B. Nowlin, A. C. Fillingim, D. W. Hancock, Roy Lee Williams, Shorty Smith, Shorty Milliken, Morris Russell, Leland White, and possibly others.

Rainfall was as much as an inch in that community. Petty reported a quarter to a half inch. New Home a half inch or more, with lesser amounts in the Wayside and Wilson areas.

Tahoka received only a sprinkle, .05 of an inch being recorded.

Some of the farmers reported the hail was small, while others said at their places it was as large as golf balls with a few "slugs" even larger than that. Damage was also done to roofs over much of the territory.

Most of the county remains very dry. Many farmers have not been able to plant, while the cotton in some places is already dead. Those with cotton doing well now say it must have rain in a week or ten days.

It is believed there will be about 50,000 acres of irrigated cotton.

Mrs. Sarah Munn Is Buried Sunday

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Munn, 67, died Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chester Short, at the former Marvin Munn home a mile north of Tahoka. She had been in ill health about 10 years and critically ill for several days.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church with Rev. Ray Smith, pastor of the Tahoka Nazarene Church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Among those entering in advance are Eck Robertson of Amarillo, champion of many state and regional contests; Mrs. Dulaney Davis of Ralls, also a champion, and said to be one of the best lady fiddlers in the state; B. The contest is open to the public, according to R. C. Wells, the director.

Cash prizes of $50.00, $30.00, and $20.00 will be awarded the three top contestants.

Co-op Telephone Contract Is Let

Ericson Construction Company of Spur presented the low bid last Thursday for construction of 277 miles of telephone lines in Terry and Yoakum counties for Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative, which has its headquarters in Tahoka. Their bid was $126,185.42.

As a matter of form, the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington must approve the contract, but construction is expected to start in 30 days, stated W. D. Harrison, manager of the cooperative.

The Terry county project is the third unit of the cooperative's system, the other two being Lynn and Dawson Counties and also covering parts of Garza and Borden counties. The new project covers areas west and north of Brownfield and also extends over into Yoakum county.

Bids will be opened on June 28 for two central office buildings for the Terry-Yoakum project to be constructed of tile.

Cecil Hawk of Lubbock is engineer for the cooperative. There are now 900 telephones in the system.

Mr. Mary Fleener and daughter, Brenda, visited here Wednesday with her brother, Clint Walker, and family while en route back to their home in Houston after a visit in Lubbock with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Walker.

Mrs. J. H. McNeely visited Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morrison of O'Donnell Tuesday.

Pioneer Reunion Is Today

Mrs. Hall (Ethel) Robinson is president this year of the Lynn County Pioneers Association. The above picture was taken of her on a horse in last year's Reunion parade. The costume and side-saddle were in style more than 50 years ago, when, as a girl, Ethel Cooke, rode Col. C. C. Slaughter's Tahoka Lake Ranch, managed by her step-father, Jack Alley. The side-saddle belongs to Mrs. J. O. King of Wilson who acquired it while working at the ranch headquarters.

New Oil Wells Are Announced

Drilling was started Tuesday night on the 9,500-foot oil test at the southwest Tahoka city limits on the T-Bar ranch by Tri-Service Drilling Co. of Midland. The crew moved in here last week from Brownfield.

The test is known as Argo Oil Co. No. 1 Willie May Edwards, and location is 1,880 feet from the north and 860 feet from the east lines of section 224, block 2, GB&CN survey.

Two more wells, possibly three, will be drilled in the PHD field in the Gordon community of eastern Lynn county.

Announced for drilling are these two tests, both in the same eastern half of the section in which the W. E. Edmunds No. 1 was recently completed as a pumper from the San Andreas formation:

J. E. Whiteside and W. Fleming of Fort Worth No. 1 M. C. Edmunds, in section 1422, TTRR survey, rotary 4,900 feet.

J. E. Whiteside and W. Fleming of Fort Worth No. 1 T. H. Basinger in section 1422, TTRR survey, rotary 4,900.

Nearby is the Mrs. N. E. Jones flowing producer just over the line in Garza county.

Also, rumor has it that a similar test will be started shortly on the Ed Denton farm to the west.

Consolidation Election Set Tuesday For Two Districts

Citizens of Grassland and Tahoka school districts will vote next Tuesday on a proposal to consolidate the two districts.

There will be voting places at both Grassland and at Tahoka, and the proposal must carry in both boxes for the consolidation to become effective.

High school and eighth grade students have been attending Tahoka schools for a number of years. Tahoka recently asked the Grassland district for more funds to help defray the per student cost of operating the Tahoka schools.

At the same time, Grassland was considering the feasibility of voting bonds to improve its school plant.

Anticipating the fact that the State Board may some day in the future demand consolidation for participation in the State Aid program under the new Gilmer-Aiken school laws, the two boards decided to put the consolidation proposal to a vote of the taxpayers of the two districts.

All qualified voters are being asked to vote their wishes in the election next Tuesday.

Must Immunize For Smallpox To Enter Schools

All children entering the Tahoka schools this fall must have been vaccinated for smallpox. This includes not only first grade pupils and others entering for the first time, but also includes those who have attended in the past but did not have such vaccination, according to Supt. Otis Spears.

Most schools have had this requirement for several years. The local schools now are adopting the policy on insistence of state school and health authorities, as a prevention measure against the outbreak of an epidemic.

Smallpox vaccinations have almost wiped out the disease over Texas, and such a regulation here will virtually wipe out the disease in Tahoka.

D. G. Phipps of San Antonio was here this week looking after his property interests.

Old Pictures And Relics On Display

Quite an attraction in Tahoka this week is the display of old-timer pictures and relics in a number of local store windows.

A trip to town to view them is worth the time of anyone interested in this country and its people 30 to 60 years ago.

Displays are in the windows of King's, Robinson's, Rutherford's, Wynne Collier Drug, Tahoka Drug, Abbie's, Gaignat's, and possibly others.

This feature of the Pioneer Reunion, started last year, proved so popular, that many more pictures and relics were dug up this year. Tahoka Chamber of Commerce is presenting loving cups for the three best windows, which will be judged by a committee of real old timers.

FOOT IS INJURED

Maurice Small received a deep gash in his right foot requiring four stitches to close Monday while working at his farm. He dropped a "jigger" on the foot. Luckily no ligaments were torn or bone broken, but the injury is proving very painful.

Today's the big day for the early settlers of Lynn county—the annual Pioneer Reunion—being held this year at the Tahoka schools, where air conditioning has been installed for the occasion.

There will be no morning program, but registration starts at 9 a. m. and continues until noon at the School Cafeteria, where facilities are available for old settlers to rest and visit. Mrs. Eloise Griffin, secretary, is in charge of registration.

Lunch will be served the 500 to 800 expected at the same place beginning at 12 noon by Tommy White of Lubbock. Only those who have been here 30 years or more, and members of their families, are eligible to attend the dinner.

The afternoon program, open to everyone, begins at 1:30 p. m. in the High School Auditorium, where air coolers and a loud-speaker system are installed.

Mrs. Ethel Robinson, president of the Pioneers Association, will open the meeting, and Mayor Clint Walker will act as master of ceremonies.

A program arranged by Mrs. Frankie Fenton and her committee will last only about an hour and a half, and will feature the older folks.

The Smith family quartet of New Home will present special numbers.

"Highlights of Lynn County, 1905-1910," written by Mrs. Nettie Edwards, will be presented by Mrs. O'bera Biggerstaff.

Bob Lewis, music director of the First Baptist Church, will lead the singing of a medley of old time songs.

Following this, a number of pioneers will be interviewed "man-on-the-street" style, and some interesting tales of the early days should result.

Tribute will be paid those who have passed away the last year.

Beautiful loving cups will be presented the oldest lady and the oldest man among the old-timers, and plaque will be given the person coming the greatest distance to the reunion. Also, loving cups donated by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce will be presented the business houses having the best window displays for the Reunion.

A very brief business session will be held, at which new officers are to be elected.

During an intermission, Mrs. Robbie Pennington and others will hold a "tea" for the older folks in the cafeteria, where cold drinks will be served and those who desire may rest and visit.

The Old Fiddlers Contest, being given at 3:00, of which R. C. Wells is chairman, is also open to everyone and is almost certain to prove a big hit as a number of top fiddlers are entered and will play the old time tunes.

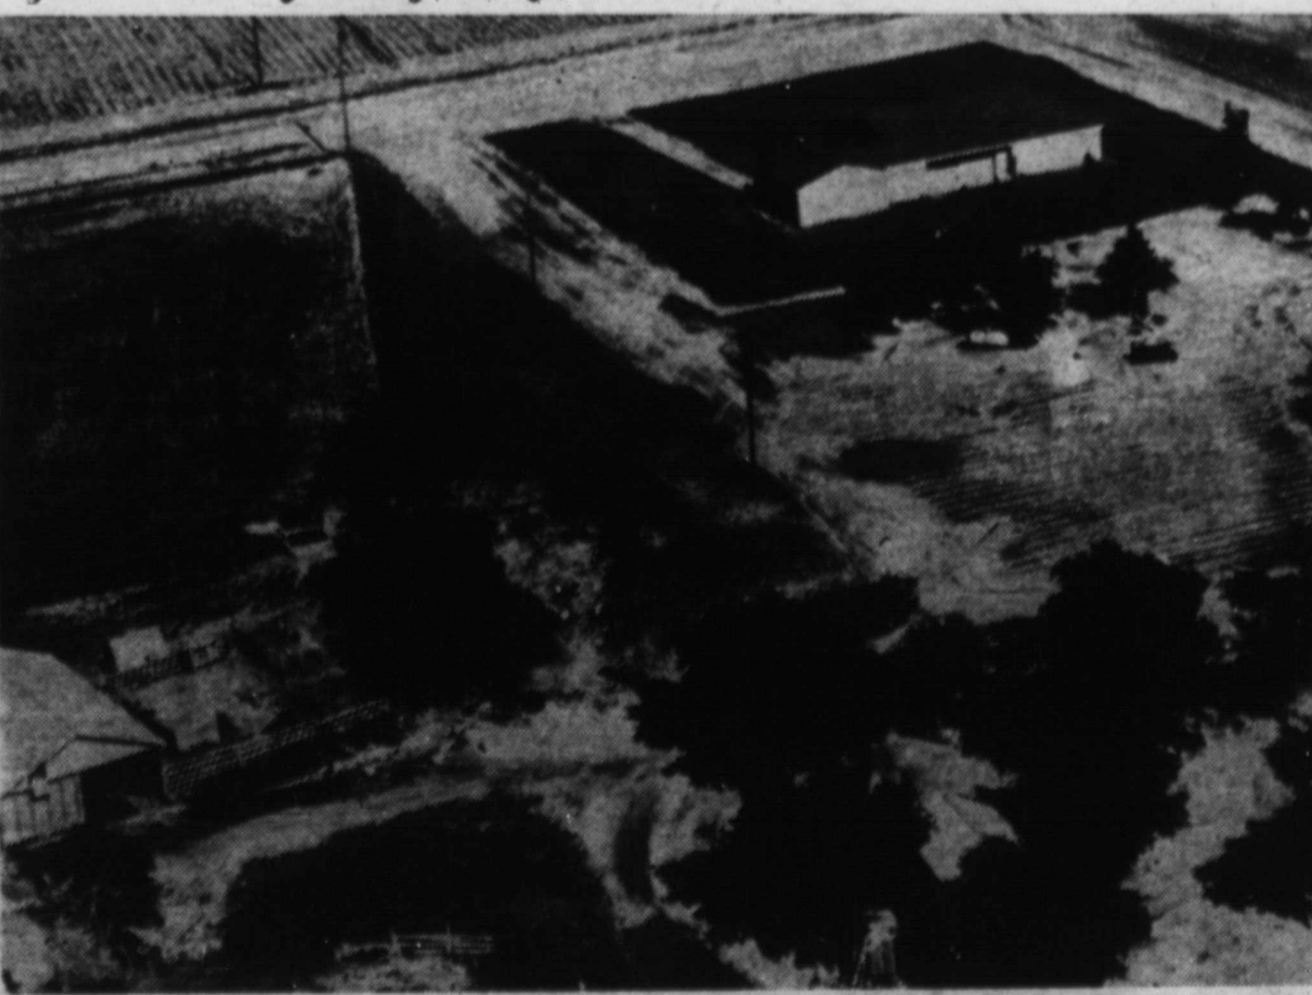

Friday night at 9:00 o'clock, there will be a dance at the Legion Hall for the old timers. Music will be furnished by the George Hughes String Band, and the old tunes and the old dances will be featured.

The morning has purposely been left open for visiting and for viewing the pictures and relics of bygone days in the show-windows of Tahoka stores.

CHILD IS INJURED

Larry Gilman, age 20 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gilman, received head injuries in a fall from a chair at the family home here Thursday at about 8 a. m. Extent of the injuries were not known at 10 a. m. at Tahoka Hospital, where an x-ray examination was to be made, but the child was still unconscious.

Lawrence Luker, son of W. H. Luker of route 4, Lubbock, received treatment at Tahoka Hospital Saturday for a broken foot.

Death Rate Shows Decrease

Austin, June 23—Texas' 1954 baby crop turned out to be the biggest on record, the State Health Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics reported Thursday.

The 240,201 live births registered for the year was an all-time high rate of 28.4 births for every 1000 population, bureau statisticians said.

Most of the new babies were boys—104 for every 100 girls—the summary said, but 881 more male babies than females died during the first year.

"The attrition against the male sex goes on steadily through infancy, childhood, adolescence, maturity and old age," a statistician commented.

How many mothers of 1954 babies were residents of Texas at the time of blessed event is not yet known, but every one of the babies are bona fide Lone Star citizens by virtue of state law.

While birth rates were soaring to unprecedented high levels, deaths from selected causes were being cut to the lowest points in history.

"Last year saw the total rate (7.7 per 1000 pop.), the infant mortality rate (31.0 per 100 live births), the maternal mortality rate (0.6 per 1000 live births), and the stillbirth ratio (17.3 per 1000 live births) at new all-time lows," the report indicated.

In addition to the reductions posted in infant and maternal deaths, the report said the past two decades have witnessed drastic reductions in deaths from diseases affecting the general population.

There were 99 percent fewer deaths from each of typhoid fever, diphtheria, malaria, and pellagra last year than in 1934. Scarlet fever rates have been cut by 96 percent from the rate 20 years ago. Ninety-six fewer deaths from each of whooping cough and measles are occurring today than occurred in 1934.

Influenza is claiming 90 percent fewer people than in 1920. Tuberculosis is killing 84 percent fewer people than the 1934 rate. Syphilis rates have been cut 81 percent.

Pneumonia, including pneumonia of the newborn, and intestinal disease, including diarrhea of the newborn, are both 66 percent less of a threat to human life than they were two decades ago.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation and sincere thanks for the many kindnesses extended us during the illness and death of our dear mother, May God's richest blessings rest upon each of you, is our prayer. Messrs and Mmes. Chester Short, Marvin J. Munn, H. C. Aten, and Mrs. Edith Hatchell and families.

Postal Service Film Is Shown

"Pigeonholes and Progress" was the subject of a sound movie presented at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week by Charles Townes, assistant postmaster.

The film revealed many interesting facts about the postal service in tracing the route of a letter from the time of its mailing until it was received at the other end of the line, all for the little fee of three cents.

At least 11, and sometimes as many as 20, handle each letter as it travels along its route with the Postal Service. The picture depicted the extensive pick-up service, inside operations of the modern postoffice, the operations of the railway and motor mail service, and the delivery system.

There are a half million postal employees, and the Postal Service owns 17,000 vehicles. Each citizen of this nation receives an average of 80 pounds of mail in a year's time.

Domino Shelter At New Location

The elderly men, and some not so elderly, can now get back to the game of dominoes.

The shelter which occupied a spot on the court house lawn for a number of years, was torn down this spring when work of leveling and re-seeding the lawn was started.

This week, the shelter was rebuilt on the lot at the rear of the County Agricultural Building, across the street from the postoffice. County Commissioners Clarence Church and "Ode" Brewer brought their hammers and saws and helped rebuild the shelter on the new location.

"Baking in my electric range is so easy. Safe and clean, too." Reddy Kilowatt, that "extra person" in Mrs. McCoy's kitchen comes in on a clean copper wire. He's flameless and fumeless, too, so both safe and cool.

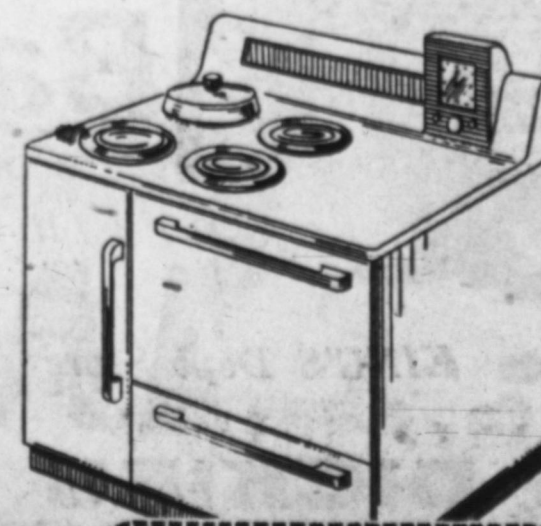

"No more cake failures with my accurate automatic electric range, oven." Reddy watches your oven for you because electric range heats are accurately pre-set. Ovens are completely insulated — on all six sides — which means all the heat is used to bake the cake — not the cook.

"There's no comparison — electric cooking gives perfect results every time." The good cook? She becomes a better cook when she uses an electric range.

"Keeping my family happy is no problem with cakes like this from my new electric range." Happy living? Of course, it's electric.

See your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer soon and see for yourself, that the best—the modern — way to cook is electric.

Garnolia Going To Post School

Garnolia school will not operate this coming year, and pupils from that district are being transferred to the Post city schools.

There were two teachers at Garnolia this last year, but the number of scholastics has dropped to such extent that the trustees have found it advisable not to try to continue the school at this time.

Twenty-nine white children and four Negroes are being transferred to the Post School. Already, high school students from the district were attending the Post High School.

Howard Moore Farms R. C. Wood Place at T-Bar

Howard Moore farms this place which is owned by the R. C. Wood estate. The place is located a half mile west and a mile and a half north of T-Bar gin.

Almost all the guessers missed this one, and Mr. Moore and Tommy Billings were the only ones correctly identifying the picture.

Mr. Moore farms this half section farm and also a half section held by Marvin Woods under lease. He has farmed the place the last six years.

Although born at Millsap, Howard Moore has lived in the T-Bar community practically all his life. He is the son of the late J. B. Moore, who died in 1945, and Mrs. Moore, who is still living.

He went to school at T-Bar, where he met Evelyn Davis, whom he married at O'Donnell in 1939. Mrs. Moore is the daughter of Mrs. G. E. Davis, who recently moved to Lubbock from Tahoka, Mr. Davis having died in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore have two children. Larry Lynn, age 14, attends school at O'Donnell and also is a 4-H club boy. Their daughter, Karen Dale, will soon be two years of age. The couple attend O'Donnell Methodist Church.

Two of the trees shown in the picture, in the back yard, are mulberry trees, among the few of this variety to be found in this county.

Mr. Moore has been lucky on the rainfall so far this year, having received about five inches last month and in April, and has about 260 acres of pretty fair cotton. He lost only about 10 acres in the sandstorms.

Along with his dryland farming, he also keeps some livestock. Right now he has 39 head of calves which he runs on a 30-acre lake pasture on his home place and on another 20-acre lake pasture on the land, he farms for Marvin Wood. This latter pasture has good grass, he says. He also keeps a couple of milch cows, some laying hens, and a hog.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of expressing my gratitude to an entire community and many other friends who are making my period of convalescence as happy as possible. To each one personally I would like to thank you for your prayers for my recovery, for your visits to the hospital and my home, for your get-well gifts and cards, and for your words of cheer to me. I shall remember your kindness to me at this time and treasure your friendship always.—J. P. Hewlett.

Mrs. Clemage and her husband came to O'Donnell about 15 years ago and operated a dry goods store. Following Mr. Clemage's death, she continued to operate the store. She was reared in Kansas City. She was a member of the Temple Sisterhood and Hadassah.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Louis Hochman, 3007 49th street, Lubbock; one son, Alvin of Chicago; two brothers, four sisters, and four grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Edwards and children were here last week end visiting the G. R. Millikens. Wilson's irrigator crop between Floydada and Petersburg was completely wiped out in the storm last week.

Odds and Ends

(BY E. I. THE ELDER)

In my latest Column I told you something about sprawling Lake Waco which the recent rains filled and began sending millions of gallons of water daily through the spillway and on into the Brazos a mile or so lower down and another mile or so before it runs under any bridge that now spans the River—and there are now three of them. The building of the first bridge but the lowest one furthest down the big spring was Waco's first great historic event, the completion of which really made the building of a city here possible. It was the alpha in the alphabet of Waco's birth and growth which followed and has never ceased since. The story of the building of that bridge has been told and written many times, so I shall not dwell on that achievement here and now. Three other bridges have been built across the river since, but I shall not discuss them here either. The water that runs through the spillway of the dam that crosses Lake Waco hurtles on down into the Brazos and then on downstream hundreds of miles into the Gulf of Mexico without having served and particular good purpose. No dams have been built across the Brazos below Waco for the reason that the people living in the towns and cities on its banks in that area have never felt the need of additional water. Most of them have more water obtained from rainfall than they know what to do with. They need drainage ditches far more than they need river dams.

But Waco needs this additional water for domestic and industrial uses. The water in Lake Waco has frequently run low—very low, so low in fact that at times city authorities have been compelled to ration the water supply among users. And that is why city authorities, the Chamber of Commerce, and the people of Waco generally rejoiced so heartily when news came that the House Appropriations Committee had approved an appropriation of a hundred million dollars as a starter for building a second dam across the Bosque below Lake Waco.

Leaving the south end of the mile-long dam that lies across the Bosque and forms Lake Waco, one notes that lateral roads begin to climb the hill and he will find that they climb and pass the scenic wooded hills that lead into beautiful Cameron Park or more directly into the city. Cameron Park is one of the finest parks in Texas, and thousands of people may be found out there on most any pleasant Sunday afternoon enjoying the scenery, engaging in some of the amusements provided, assembling here and there in small picnic parties, or otherwise passing away the time. At some points almost perpendicular bluffs overlook the lower Bosque River hundreds of feet below. One point at the top of this bluff is known as "lover's leap" commemorating the legendary story of two Indian lovers belonging to different and mutually hostile Indian tribes who, being pursued and pressed, leaped from the top of the bluff together rather than to be separated from each other. I have never read the original story and know nothing about the details. But it is a marvelous view that one gets of the Bosque and the Brazos valleys, from this point.

The Brazos River is in fact a wonderful stream in many respects. It is the longest river lying wholly in the boundaries of Texas, and it pours more water into the Gulf of Mexico, than any other strictly Texas river. Many dams have been constructed across the various stream is several hundred feet wide. It is not a grand sight but a strange one. These falls give Falls county its name.

Out on the west side of the Brazos not far from Marlin, E. Sterling Clack Robertson, who established Robertson's colony before Texas won its independence from Mexico, maintained for a year or two his land office, which was called Viesca. I do not know the meaning of the name nor where Robertson got it.

The next historic place down the Brazos is old Port Sullivan situated at or near the mouth of Little River, where it flows into the Brazos some fifteen miles east of Cameron, and four or five miles west of Hearne. There was a town there bearing the name of Port Sullivan and a college of the same name. The town was the capitol of the Sterling C. Robertson colony founded in 1835, and its original name Nashville, so named by Col. Robertson no doubt, for he was a Tennessean before coming to Texas. He is the same man who a little later built the Robertson Mansion in Salado and helped to launch old Salado College there a few years later. Once during a Brazos flood, a steamboat came up the River from the Gulf as far as Port Sullivan. It was a port for smaller craft that carried limited quantities of freight. I visited Port Sullivan once some 20 or 25 years ago when I was on my way from Houston to Belton and the West. I do not remember much about the little town for it was not much more than a ghost town then, and I don't remember that I saw any ruins of a college there at all. If I could live 80 years longer (cont. on next page) and had $80,000 to spend as I needed it. I would write history of all the little old ghost towns in Texas that once were thriving youngsters.

Congratulations! Mr. Mitchell Williams, upon your appointment to the office of District Attorney. You have made a rapid rise but deservedly so. One feature of your appointment reminds me very forcibly of my appointment to the office of District Attorney by Governor Hobby early in 1920 when I lived at Roscoe. I was serving then as County Attorney of Nolan county, not a very remunerative office at that time by any means. Sweetwater was the county seat of Nolan county but I resided at Roscoe and ran down to Sweetwater at frequent intervals to perform my duties as county attorney. District Judge Warren Beall of Sweetwater resigned to become the attorney of a big oil company at Pecos, W. P. Leslie of Colorado City was District Attorney, and the Governor promptly moved him up to the office of District Judge. I thereupon became an applicant for appointment to the office of District Attorney. I had the backing and support of nearly all the members of the Sweetwater Bar. But there was a fly in my ointment. A young man who had seen service overseas in World War No. One had been wounded and got a position in a law of-office in Sweetwater after his return home, also applied for the office. Think of that—going up against an ex-soldier who had been wounded in the service, but my friends were staying with me and besieging the Governor manfully. Then one day one of my supporters advised me to go down to Austin and see Governor Hobby personally. I immediately decided to do so, and went by train. I arrived in Austin about two or three o'clock in the afternoon. The railway station, as most of you know, was situated on the west side of the city. I had some six or seven blocks from the Capitol. It was a hot afternoon in March. I don't know whether there were any conveyances there to meet passengers or not. But I had fairly good legs and so I hot-footed it up to the Capitol. I began to think I never would get up that hill. When I did get up to the top of the steps I was panting like a cur dog with his tongue out after a chase behind a West Texas jack rabbit and sweat was running down my face like that of one of Roy Edwards hands at the cotton compress. I know I was a sight to behold. I sheepishly walked into the Governor's office. "Out of town and won't be back for two days," I was told my spirit sank to a still lower ebb. But somebody suggested that I go into the office next door and I might find out something. My heart was beating as if it were trying to leap out of its bobby cage. But I hardly had time to tell the gentleman my business until he broke in and said, Well, Hill, you put on your hat and go right straight back to Sweetwater, you have already been appointed. The governor had appointed me District Attorney and had given Mr. Spencer a job in the Secretary of State's office.

So I put on my hat and caught the first train out for home; but that train didn't run fast enough. I served out that unexpired term, one full elective term, and was elected for another term and resigned to come to Tahoka as owner and editor of the Lynn County News; and the people of Tahoka have had to put up with me the most of the time since. But congratulations to you, Mitchell. Cone Johnson told me

I have worked some and stayed fairly honest but I have not proved that Cone Johnson was right by a long shot. I have decided that there is another essential: He must have a lot of gray matter inside his head rather than the outside. I think you've got it, Mitchell. Good luck to you.

Wheat Quota Vote June 25

College Station, June 23.—Quotas or no quotas is the question wheat farmers will decide in their wheat marketing referendum on June 25.

The vote, according to the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, will have an important effect on the marketing and price-support programs for the 1956 wheat crop. If two-thirds of the farmers voting approve quotas, quotas will continue in effect for farms with more than 15 acres of wheat along with marketing quotas penalties of 45 percent of parity on the production from acreage in excess of the farm allotments. Price support on the crop in the commercial states, which includes Texas, will be available at 76 percent of parity or at a minimum national average of $1.81 cents a bushel.

If more than one-third of the voters cast ballots against quotas, there will be no quotas or penalties on the 1956 crop but the available support price to farmers who plant within their farm allotment will drop to 50 percent of parity as provided by law.

The Texas ASC Committee points out that wheat acreage allotments are not being voted on. Regardless of how the vote goes in the referendum, acreage allotments will continue in effect. They may be dispensed with only in time of emergency, adds the committee.

The committee points out that wheat supplies are now 66 percent more than the normal supply and large enough to meet current needs for domestic use and exports for the next two years. Marketing quotas, by law, must be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture when the total supply of wheat exceeds the normal supply by 20 percent. Finally, the Texas Committee urges every eligible wheat producer—in Texas includes wives—to vote in the June 25 referendum. The decision is an important one. Growers with unanswered questions should contact their local ASC office for more information.
