Morning services will be at 10 a. m., prayer meeting at 7:45 p. m., and evening preaching services at 8:15 o'clock.

"Brother Murry is a sound Gospel preacher, and is a young man with a love for souls and God's cause," states F. E. Woolery, pastor.

"Come to all these services and bring others. If you have a lost relative or friend, bring them to these services and pray with us for their salvation."

Brother Melton Bruster from Alamogordo, will do the preaching in a Gospel meeting at the Grassland Church of Christ beginning July 31 and continuing through August 7. The morning services, Monday, August 1st throughout Saturday, August 6th will be conducted at 7:00 a. m. The night services will be at 8:00 p. m. Lord's Day worship begins at 10:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. for the evening service.

Brother Don Williamson from Lubbock will direct the song service in the evenings.

Grassland Holds Nazarene Meeting

Evangelist L. H. Dickerson will do the preaching in the revival meeting at Grassland Church of the Nazarene which opens on August 5 and continues through August 17, with services each evening at 8 o'clock.

Rev. J. D. Dorrough, the pastor, says emphasis will be placed on the song services.

299 Receive Second Shots Polio Vaccine

Only a little more than half the first and second grade students of Lynn County taking the first shots of polio vaccine reported for their second shots Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Vaccine was given 299 students this week.

About 500 students received first shots in April.

Tuesday, at O'Donnell, Dr. Joe Lehman reported that only 84 first and second graders received shots. There were 142 who received the first.

Wednesday at Tahoka, Dr. Emil Prohl reported that only 101 received the shots as compared to 201 before.

Thursday, 47 received either second shots at New Home, and 87 were present at Wilson, Dr. Noble L. Rumbo reported, which represents about 65 percent at New Home and about 80 percent at Wilson.

Piggly Wiggly furnished free "all day suckers" to the kiddies after each had received the immunization.

Wilson Park Land Donated

Mrs. Miriam Green of Lubbock has donated 6.8 acres of land to the City of Wilson for development as the "Dixon Green Memorial Park" in memory of her son, Dixon, who was killed in an accident several years ago.

Located just west of the Wilson school grounds, development of the site has already started. The City has piped water to the site, and trees and grass will be planted and picnic units installed. However, a lot of work is to be done and money raised therefor before the park can be used.

Next Thursday night, Aug. 4, Wilson Lions Club will sponsor a program by the Serenaders of Lubbock in the High School auditorium, with all proceeds going to the park. Everyone is invited, and admission prices will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for school children.

Baptists At Wells Holding Revival

Wells Baptist Church is opening a revival meeting tonight which will run for 10 days, with services at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Rev. Wayland Edwards of Lubbock will do the preaching, and the pastor, Rev. C. R. Blake, will direct the song services.

BERRY FLAT CHURCH REVIVAL OPENS TODAY

Berry Flat Baptist Church, just over the line in Borden county south of Draw, is opening a revival meeting tonight, Friday, which will continue through August 7, according to Rev. Charles Uzzie, the pastor.

Rev. Wayne Williams of the Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, will do the preaching, and Gene Campbell of Lamesa will direct the song services.

Morning services will be at 10:30 a. m., and evening worship at 8:00 o'clock.

H. W. "COTTON" CARTER IN DALLAS HOSPITAL

H. W. "Cotton" Carter, who suffered some kind of "attack" Wednesday of last week, is in a Dallas hospital for a complete check-up.

His trouble had not been discovered this Thursday, but it is not believed he suffered, a stroke or has a brain tumor, as was first feared.

MRS. RAMSEY DIES

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams attended funeral services in Post Wednesday for Mrs. John H. Ramsey, 87, a resident of that city since 1917. Mrs. Ramsey was the mother of Mrs. Hub Haire, who lived in eastern Lynn county for many years.

Officers Catch Liquor Runner

Dwaine McCreary, 27, of Lubbock, was fined a total of about $600.00 on four charges as the aftermath of a 100 mile per hour chase between Tahoka and Lubbock Monday night. Also, he wrecked his 1955 Mercury car, lost a load of beer, and received minor injuries.

About 9:45 p. m. Monday, Sheriff Norvell (Booger) Redwine, Deputy Tom Hale, and City Policeman Tommy Leverett accosted McCreary's car on U. S. 87 at the northern outskirts of Tahoka.

The officers, in the City Patrol car, took after him but were unable to overtake him until a few minutes later McCreary's car skidded out of control, rolled over, and came to a stop on the embankment at the South Ave. H. traffic circle at the outskirts of Lubbock.

Redwine said they traveled well over 100 miles per hour for nearly thirty miles, and that, at times, McCreary was making at least 110 miles per hour.

Although one case of beer was evidently stolen from the wreckage, the officers found 14 cases of beer.

McCreary was fined $500.00 and costs in County Court here Tuesday morning for illegal transportation or intoxicants, $50 in Justice Court for speeding, and at Lubbock, he was charged with negligent collision by failure to control his automobile and failure to display an inspection sticker.

Wilson Co-op Is Buying Gin

Alex Sanders Gin of Wayside, five miles west of Wilson, has been sold to Wilson Cooperative Gin for $100,000, M. L. Murray manager of the cooperative announces.

The gin plant is a modern one, being a 5-80 Lummis plant with Moss list cleaners. Earnings of the Wayside and Wilson plants will be combined, Mr. Murray said, and dividends paid all members and patrons of both gins on equal basis according to the business done.

Wilson Cooperative had net earnings of $104,000 this last year, and $78,500 in cash was distributed to members, Murray declared.

Mr. Sanders retained his home, and expects to farm the half section of land he owns at Wayside.

Officers and directors of the Wilson Cooperative are: C. E. Campbell, president; E. J. Hewlett, secretary; C. C. Swope, R. L. Maeker, A. E. Hagens, Erwin Sander, and Yates M. Key, directors.

Lady Excited By Rain Breaks Arm

Mrs. Cecil Caraway, who lives east of Redwine, got so excited over the recent rain she fell and broke her arm.

It all happened Tuesday afternoon of last week, during the latter part of the 12 inch rain which fell at their home. The pick-up truck of the Caraways had become stuck in the mud near their house, and she and her son, Don, and wife, Sue, were going back to the house. As she neared the house, she slipped and fell, breaking her arm.

Cecil says excitement over the rain caused her to fall, or possibly it had been so long since she had walked on muddy ground she had forgotten how to navigate in such weather.

MRS. E. R. BLAKNEY

Ladies Model At Cotton Meeting

Mr. E. R. Blakney of New Home was featured in "Four Season cottons" a style review presented by South Plains cotton producers in Lubbock on July 20, before an audience of 1,500 persons.

Others from Lynn county appearing in the review were: Mrs. Howard Alford, New Home; Mrs. J. B. Greer and Mrs. Gerald Norman, Grassland; Misses Patsy Clark and Jeannell Martin, O'Donnell.

Cotton fashions for occasions were included in the review. Particular emphasis was placed on the new "winter cotton," fabrics loomed to more than match wool for cold weather wear.

Hold Revival New Lynn Will

There will be an "old time revival" at New Lynn Baptist Church, beginning next Wednesday and continuing through August 14, according to the pastor, Elder Benney Goss. The visiting preacher will be Elder J. H. McWilliams.

More Rains Help Break Drouth, Improve Crops

Hail Damages Limited Area

Damaging hail and wind hit limited areas late Tuesday afternoon, and several sections of irrigated cotton received damage variously estimated from 25 to 75 percent.

The hail damage was north of Tahoka and west of Wilson.

Among those receiving damage north of Tahoka included Theo Campbell, Troy Warren, Bill Warren, Guion Cobb, Walter and Charley Lichey, Troy Copelin, R. W. Haley, and the Smith, Townsen, and Carper farms.

H. G. Cook of Wilson reported damage to the Dale Zant, S. H. Verkamp, John Lamb, Tom Moore, Weldon Bailey, and Jack Bishop farms, and also to some land on the Wuensche and Swan farms. Some of this cotton was damaged up to 50 percent, he said.

The same evening, high winds did some damage in the Edith and New Lynn communities. H. D. Knight had an implement shed blown away at New Lynn, Ward Eakin had damage to outbuildings at the McGonagill place.

At the farm of Cecil Clem, also at Edith, a car shed was blown away, and the wreckage lodged against a tractor, doing damage to that machine.

School Opening Set August 29

Tahoka schools will open the fall term on Monday, August 29, Supt. Otis Spears announces.

He expects school to open with a complete faculty.

Mrs. Beth Chapman has again been employed to teach English and Spanish classes. Mrs. Chapman, who has previously taught in the High School, will succeed Cecil Springer, who has resigned to accept the pastorate of a Baptist Church in Brownfield.

Car Loaded With 45 Cases of Beer

Local officers recently picked up a Lubbock county man on the Draw road who hid his 1941 Plymouth car literally "loaded to the gills" with liquor.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Hale, who made the arrest, found 45 cases of beer, three cases of gin, and one jug of whiskey all packed in the trunk of the coupe.

Richard Garza Lopez, 21, of route 3, Lubbock, was the driver of the car. On appearance in county court last week, he was fined $300.00 and costs on a charge of transporting. He paid off.

Two Killed, Four Injured In Car Wreck At Central Last Thursday

Two people were killed and three children critically injured, all members of the same family from Louisiana, in a collision between their car and a milk truck Thursday of last week at 8 a. m. at Central Church, the intersection of U. S. Highway 390 with FM road 212.

Lloyd Delton Walters, 51, and his wife, Dorothy May Walters, 31, were dead on arrival at Garza County Hospital at Post.

Their three children were taken to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. This mid-week Glenda, age 8, remained in a critical condition with head injuries and breaks and lacerations. Donald, 11, and Kathleen, 6, each had a fractured leg, cuts and bruises but will recover.

Willie Moore, 31, of 415 38th street, Lubbock, driver of a Bell Ice Cream Co. truck, suffered cuts and bruises, and was taken to Taylor Hospital in Lubbock, where he was reported early this week as doing well.

The Walters family, returning from a vacation trip to their home in Crowley, La., where they operated an upholstery shop, were traveling east when the accident occurred. Moore, driver of the truck, was traveling south.

The Walters car is said to have crashed into the side of the Bell Milk truck, and careened off to the right. The Bell truck was knocked to the left, spun around and overturned, pinning the driver in the wreckage.

County Attorney, Harold Green, said Moore would likely be charged with negligent homicide.

G. C. Watson of Redwine entered Tahoka Hospital Wednesday as a medical patient.

Additional showers this week have covered most of Lynn county, most farmers have their late feed planted, and crop prospects have taken a sudden turn for the better as a result of the copious rains.

Everyone hopes these July rains have broken the long drouth that has gripped the Southwest so long.

During the past week, the Tahoka observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau has gaged .70 of an inch, of which .49 fell in two showers Tuesday at 7 and 9 p. m., .06 fell during that night .09 Wednesday afternoon, and .06 during Wednesday night.

Showers have fallen somewhere in the county every day since Saturday, and in some localities, they have ranged up to 1.5 inches or more.

Only area not receiving appreciable moisture in these showers has been New Home, but that area is not in particular need of rain, at least, at the present time.

Rainfall in Tahoka has reached 5.18 inches for July, and a total of 11.83 for the year. Tahoka's 40-year average for July is 1.83 inches, and the 40 year average for the year through July is 10.59 inches.

However, Lynn county received very little rain last winter, had practically no bottom season, and farmers in some areas, especially in the northern part of the county, south of Tahoka, and out on the west side, were unable to get cotton up to a stand.

Most farmers have planted late feed on bare acres this last week and it is already up to stand. If frost does not come until the normal time, November 10 to 15, the county stands an excellent chance to make an excellent feed crop and a normal cotton crop.

Not since 1949 has there been normal rainfall. That year, 21.83 fell in Tahoka, in 1944 the total was 20.27, in 1942 it was 26.39, and in 1941 Thok received its all time record of 40 inches. Normal for Tahoka over a 42-year period is 19.08.

In the Draw-Redwine area of southeast Lynn county, where 7 to 10 or 12 inches fell last week, and in some other places the rain fall has been much heavier than in Tahoka.

Heavy rainfall this week has been reported from scattered communities over the county. West Point and Newmoore received rains up to an inch or more, parts of Three Lakes, T-Bar and Wells communities received one to two inches, Grassland had an inch or more, and an area four to six miles east and south received up to an inch Wednesday night. In fact the showers have covered almost the entire county except New Home, but parts of this area received light rain, a shower falling there Wednesday night.

Child Breaks Leg, Asks For Visits

Lynda Jo Blevins, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray M. Blevins of New Home, who received a badly broken leg three weeks ago, is now home from St. Mary's Hospital but has her leg in traction and will be in bed for at least three more weeks.

She broke her leg in a fall from a Sheland potay.

She would like to have her friends come to see her or write her cards.

Lynda Jo is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Smith and a great grandchild of Mrs. Brooks Smith of Tahoka.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Lockhart over the week end were their son, Bob, of KOB-TV Lubbock, and Mr. Lockhart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lockhart of Snyder.

"Who Says I Can't Make The Team?"

"JUST WAIT AND SEE!"—Tiny Timmie Lee Brashear, three-week-old patient at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children at Dallas, looks confident he will be on the "first string." The son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Ray Brashear of Sadler, Texas, he was born with congenital club feet but the crippling condition will soon be corrected and he will be able to lead a normal boy's life. Holding him above is Mrs. Lucille Covington, a nurse's aid at the hospital. Timmie, like thousands of other Texas children, will be a member of the Scottish Rite Hospital until he is 15 years old and will be eligible for treatment until that time.

French Youth Visiting Tahoka

Bernard Debonne, 23, who lives in Paris, France, and is a college student majoring in soil conservation, arrived in Tahoka Sunday noon to spend eight weeks living in the homes of local Rotarians to become acquainted with American customs, home life, and agriculture.

The youth's trip to the United States is sponsored by Tahoka Rotary Club and the International Research Fund. He is one of 100 young foreigners, 50 of them from Europe, currently visiting in as many Rotary Club towns of the nation.

This week he is with the Calloway Huffakers, Calloway and son, Wayne, immediately initiated him to South Plains farming by taking him to the farm for tractor repair work and on an inspection tour of planting operations.

Although he speaks English with some difficulty, Bernard seems to be having a big time meeting Texans of Tahoka.

He flew over the Atlantic Ocean Tuesday of last week in a party of 50 other young people from France, Germany, Holland, Norway, and Finland.

Leaving Amsterdam that day, the party stopped over in Iceland, flew over the southern tip of Greenland, and landed at Newfoundland. From there to New York City, arriving Wednesday noon.

In New York, they were treated with a boat trip around Manhattan, dinner at a restaurant, and a sight-seeing tour of Broadway, Times Square, Rockefeller Center, and the Empire State building.

He and a friend, Peter Devillers, who is visiting with Slaton Rotarians, left New York Wednesday noon by bus. They spent one night in St. Louis at the International House of Students, and proceeded from there to Lubbock, where the two parted, and Bernard arrived in Tahoka at 12:45 noon. He is to return to New York City en route home about Sept. 10 to 15.

Since chairman of the local Rotary Club host committee, H. W. Carter, is ill, Fred McGinty has been appointed by Club President Harold Green to arrange Bernard's schedule while in Tahoka.

Tense Living Takes Its Toll

Austin, July 21—Some people react to the pressure of modern life like a stick of soft pine reacts to a wood rasp.

You probably recall days when an unexpected event, an accident or a brush with the boss, tied your stomach in a knot. You were suffering, the State Health Department says, from one of the more common forms of indigestion: nervous tension and excitement.

The stomach, the experts say, is largely controlled by the involuntary nervous system. You get keyed up, your stomach over-secreted, and you feel the pain. Actually, the Department points out, there are many directly traceable causes of indigestion. Lack of sleep and exercise, improper diet, and similar artificial conditions can bring it on.

You've heard the old saw about one man's meat being another man's poison? It's literally true. Even healthful and nutritious foods may rub you wrong. They contain organic acids which could upset the balance of your particular stomach.

Your favorite fruit may contain malic acid, or citric acid. One or more of these may give you trouble, causing ungentlemanly or un lady-like belching.

Or, the degree of ripeness of a fruit or vegetable may cause fermentation in the stomach, bringing on unpleasant results.

Condiments or strongly flavored foods are other causes of indigestion. They often cause the stomach to secrete too much hydrochloric acid. In normal people the stomach neutralizes what it over-secreted, but people with ulcers suffer painful "indigestion."

Greasy foods are particularly troublesome to people with malfunctioning gall bladders or liver diseases.

Tannic acid can be found in three of the most commonly used hot drinks. And here's the last straw: Even water, if you drink lots of it, may start your stomach churning and pouring out its digestive juices.

In any case of indigestion, frequently taking baking soda to relieve it is a mistake, health men agree. The temporary relief may cause some sufferers to "play

Capt. Max Minor Now In England

Capt. Max Minor of the U. S. Army Airforce flew to England on July 19 for three months service in that country, he informs his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Minor, in a letter to them.

His wife and children are remaining in Bossier City, La., where he owns a home and where he has been stationed for a long time.

Max wrote his parents that some of his very close friends were aboard the huge Army Plane, following them by 24 hours, which crashed and killed all its occupants. He was greatly upset by the accident.

Max, who flies a B-47 and is making the Army a career, is a graduate of West Point. He was an outstanding star-football and track man for Tahoka High School, University of Texas, and U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

As the climax of his athletic career, he was voted the most valuable player on the Army team which boasted such football greats as Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard. Also, he won the Heisman award, the highest honor in American football, his senior year.

(O'Donnell Index Press)

Newest thing in Room with a View

It's the 4-Door Riviera—
the stunning new hit of America's Hardtops

WHEN Buick introduced America's first hardtop—the Riviera—folks went for it in a big way, and fast.

They liked the Convertible look of this 2-door beauty—long, low and rakish. They liked the added security of the steel roof overhead. And they certainly liked the absence of center posts in the side window areas—which gave a completely unbroken view left and right.

People liked it all so well that, over the past six years, they made the Riviera the biggest-selling hardtop in the world, bar none. And it still is.

Now Buick has come up with another great advance in hardtops—the 4-Door Riviera—and it's a sensational hit.

It has everything the original 2-Door Riviera has—plus separate doors for rear-seat passengers, and a whole of a lot more room for them.

Rock-solid half-pillars on either side are what latch the front doors and hinge the rear ones. So there's no center post above the door line—and a completely open sweep of view to both sides.

And the roominess provided by this gorgeous new hardtop is really something—over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom in the rear.

Why don't you come see this brand-new kind of automobile that's heading up the parade of the hottest-selling line of Buicks in history?

That way you can also try what else is to be had here—Buick comfort, Buick power, Buick ride and handling and roadability—plus the electrifying action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Do it this week—tomorrow would be fine—and you'll see what record volume really means in the way of record-high trade-in deals.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

SEASON FOR FAIRS AT HAND IN TEXAS

In many a city and town of Texas today, community leaders are making plans for an important annual event which many folks have been eagerly looking forward to all year. During the next several months it will be fair-time throughout Texas—with county and regional fairs and festivals taking place in every section of the state, the culminating event being the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, October 7-23.

Texas possibly has a bigger percentage of large, widely patronized fairs than any other state. Several of Texas' big regional fairs attract more visitors and have more impressive fairgrounds than state fairs in some other sections of the nation.

The State Fair of Texas is, of course, the largest annual fair in the United States in terms of attendance, with over 2½ million visitors from all parts of America, and a magnificent fairgrounds with facilities valued at $35 million.

As with most fairs the country over, Texas events carry a heavy emphasis on livestock and agriculture. Entertainment naturally covers a wide range, from carnival sideshows, rodeos, folk festivals to the Broadway musical comedy "Pajama Game" which will be presented at the State Fair. Competition in making jams and jellies, succulent cakes and pies and other examples of traditional homemaking skills still occupies a big place in the program of most Texas fairs.

Fairs in Texas date back over 100 years. The first fair to be held in the state may well have been one in Corpus Christi in 1852, which featured bullfights, a circus, cockfights and fireworks. During the same decade Dallas County became the first county in the state to organize a fair. The State Fair was founded in 1856.

A good fair regardless of size can be a valuable asset to its community. In the opinion of James H. Stewart, general manager of the State Fair and vice president of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions.

On April 18, 1949, Eire became the Free Republic of Ireland, cutting last ties with Britain.

Three More In Queen Contest

Deadline is drawing near for entry in the Lynn County Farm Bureau Queen Contest which will be held August 19 in Tahoka High School auditorium. Last day for entering is August 1.

Latest entries are Misses Sherry Singleton, Deana Ward, and Polly Etter.

Miss Singleton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Singleton of O'Donnell. She was associate editor of the Journal, finishes high school this summer, and plans to enter Texas Tech this fall as a Home Ec. major. She was one of the models in the King Cotton Style Show at Lamesa. She received her State Degree in FHA work in Galveston this year.

Miss Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ward of Wilson, will be a senior this fall. She has served as majorette of Wilson High Band, secretary of the Future Homemakers of America, and as song leader for the Area FHA. She worked on the annual staff in her Freshman and Sophomore years, and was assistant editor-in-chief of the school paper in her Junior year. She is now attending the Band School at McMurry College.

Miss Etter is the daughter of Mrs. Vera Etter of O'Donnell. She will be a Junior this fall at O'Donnell, has been a band member seven years and was voted band favorite. She has been an officer in FHA, also a class officer, and was runner-up for class favorite last year, worked on the school paper, and was a candidate for Miss OHS. She is an honor roll student. Last week she was elected Rodeo Queen for 1955. She has attended the Band School at Texas Tech this summer.

BIBLE SCHOOL FOR NEGRO CHILDREN

Members of the W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church conducted a Daily Vacation Bible School the week of July 18-22 for Negro children of the beginner, age groups. The school was for primary, junior, and intermediate all Negro children, regardless to their church affiliation. Thirty-eight boys and girls were enrolled in the school, and 30 certificates were issued.

One of these was presented Miss Parale Sayles, a worker in the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, who acted as general secretary for the school.

Sixteen New Testaments were given to the boys and girls of the Junior and Intermediate departments.

Working in the school were? W. M. S. and five G. A. girls.—Reporter.

More than forty ensembles were modeled by wives and daughters of cotton producers from the entire South Plains area.

Preceding the fashion review, Mr. B. F. Smith, manager of Delta Council, Memphis, Tennessee, pointed out the threat of foreign cotton production to the American industry.

"A foreign acre of cotton goes into production for every American acre cut because of government cotton control," Mr. Smith explained.

"We are simply letting production of our major cash crop slip south of the border," he said.

Mr. Smith advocated a reversal of the trend by the sale of American cotton abroad at competitive prices. Mr. Smith further proposed an organization of American cotton producers to protect the interests of American cotton farmers.

Announcement of refunds totaling $2,169,000 highlighted business sessions of the three regional cotton cooperatives.

"These refunds for South Plains cotton producers will benefit every resident of our area," Mr. Roy B. Davis, general manager of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill explained. "Each of these dollars, after income taxes will ring in the cash registers of our South Plains business many times, thereby increasing the general prosperity of the Plains," he concluded.

A fried catfish dinner was served to the 1,500 person crowd attending the meeting.

Pythians Sisters Special Meeting

Lynn Temple No. 45 met Friday evening at 8 o'clock for a special called meeting in honor of Grand Chief Ina Maley of Pecos, who made her official visit.

Also, a "Coke" party was held in her honor from 3 to 5 p. m. in the home of Manager Corine Cathcart.

At the night meeting, MEC Helen Biggerstaff was in the chair.

Thelma Oliver was appointed District Deputy of District 12 at the Grand Temple held in Fort Worth on June 12 to 15.

The district meeting will be held in Tahoka on October 26.

EASING THE LOAD—The soldier striding along with the full food container on his back moves with comparative freedom and ease, thanks to a simplified load-carrying device developed by Army Quartermaster Corps. Light in weight and simple to adjust, the carrier is a seven-foot length of webbing equipped with metal load-spacers and a snap by which it is fastened around the shoulder. It may be used by an individual or a team of two to carry ammunition, machine guns and tripods, mortars and mortar base-plates, rations, water and fuel cans or litter in combat areas.

L. D. Howell Owns Farm East of Town

This is the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Howell, located four miles east of Tahoka on the Post highway.

A lot of people recognized the picture, including Mrs. Paul Sherrill and Frank Greathouse, the first two, Mrs. Linnie Finch, Larry Forsythe, Clyde Allen, J. O. Freeman, Mrs. Winston Davies, Mrs. Wanda Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Howell, C. C. Donaldson, Cecil Hammonds, Edgar Hammonds Jr., Mrs. Leslie McNeely, Mrs. T. B. Inman, Terry Spears, C. N. Woods, Kenneth Scott, Carolyn Edwards, Mrs. Joe Sanders, Mrs. P. A. Austin, Mrs. Willis Pennington, Othel Meeks, and Billy Clinton.

The 320 acre farm is dry land, except 14 acres watered from a small well. L. D. and his late father bought the place in 1933, and the son bought out his father's interest in 1937.

This was one of the first farms in Lynn county to be terraced. It was first terraced in 1934, and following the organization of the Lynn County Soil Conservation District it was re-terraced in 1941.

L. D. has been a member of the SCS board of supervisors for five years, and practices the most modern farming methods adaptable to his situation. He has ten acres bench-leveled.

He tried planting guar two years ago to improve his soil fertility, but the year was so dry there were no beneficial results. This year, he is experimenting with some guar planted with milo in the ration of one to four.

Born near Stephenville, L. D. attended John Tarleton College three years, he came to Garza county in 1914, when his father, A. C. Howell, who died a year ago last May, bought a farm from the Post project six miles west of Post City. His mother still owns the farm but lives in Post. After teaching a couple of years, he worked at Bryant-Link a while, and began farming in 1930.

He was married to Miss Fleda Gilliam in 1927 at Post.

Mrs. Howell was born at Paris, attended North Texas State at Denton and later graduated from Texas Tech. She taught in Lamar county, and came to Garza county as a teacher in 1925. It was then the couple met and their courtship began. Mrs. Howell has been a teacher in the schools at Tahoka for 11 years.

They have two children, both graduates of Tahoka High School and both graduates of Texas Tech.

Duane, the son, for a little more than a year has been farm reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News, in which position he seems to be doing a most excellent job.

Their daughter, Velma Ruth, is married to Willie Shambeck, also a native of Lynn county and owner of the Ford agency in Tahoka. The couple have two daughters, Deborah, age about 18 months, and Brenda, born Wednesday of last week.

Naturally, Mr. and Mrs. Howell have every reason to be proud of their two children and grandchildren.

Propose Return of Minerals Where No Taxes Paid, No Development

Proposed legislation which would cause mineral rights to revert to the landowners, where the owner of such minerals makes no effort at development and on which he pays no taxes, was discussed at Tahoka Rotary Club by Fred McGinty last Thursday.

The Federal Land Bank of Texas was one of the sponsors of this piece of legislation in the last legislature. Although, the measure failed to pass, progress was made.

As president of Tahoka-Post National Farm Loan Association and District II director (41 counties), McGinty was one of those appearing before the legislative committee in Austin last April in the interest of the legislation.

The proposed legislation is a step to make surface and mineral rights blend on Texas lands. Such legislation would not effect owners of minerals on which there is development or on which taxes are paid, and several of the major oil companies favor the proposal.

However, according to the proposal, if, after 12 years, there is no development and taxes are not paid, the minerals would automatically revert to the owner. This would affect thousands of acres in Lynn county, as well as over the state. In many cases, owners not only fail to pay taxes, but there is no records on who the actual owner may be.

McGinty also explained the local National Farm Loan Association has 360 members, makes loans on land, pays taxes and dividends on stock, and has a net worth of $294,000. It is one of three such associations in Texas that did not foreclose on a single farm during the depression.

Tom Gill was in charge of the program.

Rigdon Edwards of Sweetwater, new district governor of the 183rd district of Rotary International, was an unofficial visitor. He will make his official visit to the Tahoka Club Oct. 5 and 6.

President Harold Green announced that Johnny Reasonover had been named a director of the club to succeed Gene Jones, forced to resign by duties of his job. He also read excerpts from the reports of outgoing District dessa and incoming Governor Edwards.

Supt. and Mrs. Otis Spears and children returned home Saturday from Ruidoso, where they spent several days.

Odds and Ends

(BY E. L. THE ELDER)

The more I see of Texas the better I like it. I had occasion to go from Waco to Canyon, by way of Clifton, Meridian, Hico, Stephenville, Mineral Wells, Jacksboro, Archer City, Electra, Vernon, Chillicothe, Quanah, Childress, Estelline, Turkey, Quitaque, Silverton, Tulla, and Happy. I mention all of these towns because they either are towns of historic interest or hold special interest for some of our citizens. Clifton, for instance, to start with, situated 34 miles northwest of Waco in the famous Bosque River Valley, is a thriving town of more than passing interest for several reasons. Settled many years ago principally by Swedes and Norwegians together with a few Dames and Germans these thrifty citizens soon thereafter established a junior college, generally known as the Clifton College, for the education of their children. This institution together with a public school in the town and in surrounding communities, has given Clifton the reputation of being something of an education center.

It lies at the western edge of the Bosque Valley, a rich agricultural region producing much wheat, and is the locus of a large and prosperous flour mill.

and other small industries. It also lies on the main route of highways coming from Hico, Hamilton, and other western points to the great new Whitney Lake, created by a dam across the Brazos River directly east of Clifton, which is rapidly becoming a "fisherman's paradise"; and lying at the foot of a range of wooded hills Clifton has a very scenic setting. Meridian, situated some ten or twelve miles further up the Bosque Valley, is also a noted historic and attractive county seat town. Near it lies the famous Jim Ferguson Bosque county Ranch, on which the distinguished owner never lived, however, but Meridian has furnished Texas a generation ago with a judge of the Texas Supreme Court, Chief Justice C. M. Cureton, and it was also the home for a time of the popular Earle B. Mayfield, who served one term in the United States Senate.

The late Judge C. H. Cain of Tahoka was a native son of Bosque county, having been born and reared at the little town of Iredell which is situated on the Bosque River near the western most corner of the county. Our road from Meridian to Hico takes us through the town of Iredell, or had done so for a half century until the State recently built a new highway barely skirting the town.

The next town west is Hico, another once-prosperous town of ancient birth, situated in the northern most corner of Hamilton county. It just barely did succeed in getting into the county at all. Bosque is close by on the east; Erath is only a few miles away to the north and northwest; and little Glen Rose with its beautiful Paluxy River, dinosaur tracks, healing waters, venerated doctors, and scenic hills, is just right over there not much more than a stone's throw to the N. N. E.

But it is near Hico that the two upper branches of the Bosque merge, one branch coming down from Stephenville and the other from the vicinity of Dublin. Hico is noted for its groves of spreading oak trees, and it too has long had a flour mill and other small industries, which from time almost immemorial has caused it to imagine that it is a rival of Hamilton, the county seat.

Stephenville is the county seat of Erath county and is also the site of the John Tarleton State College, one of the principal agricultural and mechanical institutions in the state. It is situated far up on one of the branches of the Bosque River, and is a really prosperous and growing little city. The noted George B. Erath, Indian fighter, early-day state senator, civic and political leader, was virtually the father of Stephenville and of Erath county, which was named for him.

From Stephenville, our route led us to and through Mineral Wells, where our former Tahoka neighbors, Verner and Mattie Will Smith, now live. We passed right by their home but did not have time to stop and visit with them, for a long road lay ahead of us. Mineral Wells, as most of our people know, lies in the heart of rough and rugged Palo Pinto county. Judge B. P. Maddox of Tahoka served in the Legislature of Texas as Representative of the Mineral Wells-Palo Pinto district for two or three terms in the years long gone. He can today tell many interesting true stories of the activities of many of the political leaders of that day, including the notorious Archie Parr, the original Duke of Duval, and father or uncle of the modern Duke, George H. Parr.

He can tell also of the dramatic prohibition speech which Morris Shepard made in a great hall in San Antonio in answer to a challenge made him by the astute Jake Wolters. San Antonio at that time was as wet as the Gulf of Mexico, not with water but with all forms of intoxicating liquor. Morris Shepard was a comparatively young United States Senator from Texas, and Jake Wolters was a soaking wet candidate. He did not think Shepard would risk his political life by making a dry speech in that city. So he offered Shepard a sizable sum of money to make the speech. Shepard accepted the offer and closed his speech with the recital of the pathetic story of a poor woman in the city who had been reduced to a state of poverty and rags and I believe to widowhood by the cruelty and neglect of a drunken husband and then he called the unfortunate woman to the platform and presented her with the money which Wolters had paid to him to make the speech. The audience went wild with enthusiasm to the great disappointment and consternation of the wets.

Now these may not be the exact facts respecting that episode but they are substantially the facts as I remember them and as related to me by Judge Maddox.

Judge Maddox can also relate an incident that occurred down here in Palo Pinto county many years ago. A "gentleman" one evening late appeared at the home of his mother and sought lodgement. She took the stranger in and cared for him. She learned later that the "gentleman" was the noted desperado and robber, Sam Bass, who was finally killed in a gun-fight with officers in Round Rock.

North of Mineral Wells is the historic town of Jacksboro, the old county seat town in which the two noted Indian chiefs, Santanta and Big Tree were tried for the murder of three drivers of a wagon train loaded with supplies for the U. S. soldiers stationed in Fort Belknap, Texas. A third Indian chief, Satank, had been arrested but was killed while trying to escape. The confusion resulting from the outbreak of the Civil War and the Reconstruction period following the War, and especially the reign of the "Carpet-baggers" which was ushered in immediately following the close of the War rendered the defeated and helpless ex-Confederates totally unable to protect themselves against the raids of savage Indian tribes like the Comanches, Apaches, and Kiowas. In the 1850's, two small Indian reservations had been established on authority granted by the state legislature, one consisting of some 37,000 acres of land on the Brazos River near Fort Belknap, on which less hostile tribes, such as the Tonkawas, the Delawares, and the Caddoes were placed, and a somewhat smaller one near Fort Griffin on the Clear Fork, on which such fierce tribes as the Comanches were placed. During these pre-War years the Indians had much freedom of action and made frequent and deadly raids, and immediately after the War ended, notably in 1865-1866, there was no protection against them whatever by the U. S. armed forces. But by 1868, General Sheridan had succeeded in driving the Texas Indians in large numbers back to Fort Sill in the Indian Territory. But even after that they frequently broke away and made devastating raids over into Texas. Many appeals were going up to Washington from the frontier settlements in Texas for the U. S. Army to give them protection. So, at last, in 1871, in response to these appeals, General Williams Tecumseh Sherman visited Texas, marching with a small detachment of soldiers, from Fort to Fort and post to post, all the way from San Antonio to Fort Belknap on the Brazos in what is now Young county, but he seemed to detect no danger of attack by Indians. Possibly there was little danger of attack upon him and his little military detachment. But at Fort Griffin, he had been met by a group of citizens from Parker, Jack, and other counties making an appeal to him for military aid. He heard reports also of that attack made by Comanche and Kiowa Indians on a wagon train hauling food and other supplies to Fort Belknap, in which three drivers of the wagon train had been killed. Upon his arrival back in Fort Sill in the Indian Territory, he made an investigation of the charges, found them true and ordered the three chiefs to be taken back to Jacksboro, Texas to be tried in the civil district court there. On the way back to Jack county, Chief Satank tried to escape and was killed. The other two chiefs, Santanta and Big Tree, were tried and given the death sentence. This sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment in the Texas State penitentiary at Huntsville, Texas, by the carpet-bag governor of Texas, E. J. Davis. Two years later Big Tree and Santanta were released from imprisonment pending good behavior was re-arrested later and returned to the state penitentiary, where he remained in confinement until 1876, when he finally committed suicide.

Now, as the final chapter in this tragic story, we quote the Texas Almanac of 1945 and 1946 verbatim: "Finally Gen. R. S. Mackenzie of the United States Army was commissioned to round up the Indians of Northwest Texas and return them to the Indian Territory reservations. This he did in an aggressive campaign which ended when Mackenzie's forces trapped the main body of the Comanches and Kiowas at the junction of the Tule and the Palo Duro Canyons after their horses had been stamped by a surprise night attack. This campaign which ended in 1874, first year of Coke's administration, marked the end of Indian hostilities in Texas, except some minor incidents in the Big Bend and along the lower Rio Grande border.

A few years ago, the people of Jack county decided to re-enact the trial of the two Indian Chiefs, Santanta and Big Tree, as accurately and dramatically as they might be able to do so, so, competent actors were selected, the text of the drama was prepared, and each actor studiously prepared to present effectively his assignment. Much publicity was given the presentation of the mock court trial in advance. Thousands of people assembled to witness the performance. Our own Hall Robinson of Tahoka was a native of Jack county. So he and Mrs. Robinson, proprietor of the Robinson Ready-to-Wear store here, attended the glamorous performance. As my traveling companion and I pas-ed through Jacksboro the other day, I wished that Hall Robinson were with us to relate to us again this tragic chapter from real Texas history. It would be a good story to re-enact as a motion picture show, if enacted in accordance with real court procedure. But I have never seen a movie trial yet that truly presented a real court trial. Most such imitation trials are disgustingly ridiculous. We hope to give you a few more pictures of scenes actually enacted in real life along our route years ago in next week's column.—Good Night.

The recent rains have made it possible for many farmers to carry out their plans to apply some of the vegetative conservation practices. Perhaps the planting of some high residue producing crop such as sudan, combine sorghums, or cane. There is a possibility of harvesting a crop for grain or feed this fall but the important thing is the protection and soil conditioning value of the residue or stubble.

According to recent research studies by the Agricultural Research Service, a milo stubble 8 to 10 inches high spaced 8 inches apart in 40 inch rows will take 60 percent of the wind force. Milo stubble 16 to 18 inches high, 3 inches apart in 40 inch rows, will take 90 percent of the wind force. In addition to breaking the wind force, the stubble also breaks the rain drop destruction force, tends to keep the soil surface from sealing over during a rain, slows running water down, and the end result is more rainfall soaks into the soil.

Most soils in this area need all the stubble, litter, trash burrs, and any type of vegetative matter they can get now because the drought years were hard on the surface soil conditions and generally only small amounts of vegetative matter could be grown, according to Bill Thomson, Soil Conservation Service Technician. There are some areas in the district which need special treatment to get maximum protection, areas where shifting sand has caused blow outs and hummocks, and areas of grey or white high lime soil which powder and blow very easily are examples. These special treatment areas could be drilled to cane or sorghum and the stubble left standing throughout the windy season to afford maximum protection and build up a litter cover into which some grass could be seeded early next spring.

It is not too late to plant blue panic grass this year. Blue Panic grass has been successfully seeded as late as the first week in August and has been known to make seed in 45 days. The rains will probably bring up some of the earlier dry plantings some of the cooperators have made. Although a planting made this late probably will not furnish any grazing this year it will be ready for grazing early next Spring long before sudan can be planted. Usually the winds will not be so strong this time of year so that the danger of losing a stand from blowing sand is eliminated and also as a general rule showers are more frequent and heavy washing rains won't occur until September after the grass is established. So it is not a great risk to plant blue panic now if a farmer wants it.

Some farmers have indicated an interest in trying the District's 20 inch sorghum planter. These drop type planter boxes can be mounted on regular tool boxes or on a carrier type implement and can be spaced from 16 inches to 40 inches for any row width designed. Farmers who want more information contact the local SCS office or supervisors of the Lynn County Soil Conservation District.

Here's why Record-Breaking Thousands Name Pontiac "America's Greatest Buy"!

It takes only one word to explain why today's Pontiac is the most popular Pontiac ever built. That word is VALUE.

Buyers from both ends of the price scale are finding that Pontiac provides just about everything any car at any price can offer. It's a matter of fact, not opinion, that Pontiac is the biggest, most powerful car anywhere near its modest price!

For size, Pontiac reaches high into the fine-car price range—and comes up with a long 122" or 124" wheelbase. This is size where it counts, because nothing beats wheelbase in providing solid comfort and stability on any road at any speed.

Pontiac's performance is strictly Pontiac's alone—and it stems from the most modern, most advanced V-8 in the industry! Its mighty 200-h.p. Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* provides more power than any car within hundreds of dollars of Pontiac's modest price.

Another Pontiac extra value, so easily measured when you get behind the wheel, is the supreme ease of handling that keeps all its eager power and husky bigness under instant and almost effortless control.

And if you interpret value in terms of appearance—here again Pontiac's your kind of car. Its distinctive Twin-Streak beauty and Vogue Two-Toning will stay new and fresh for years!

And for the final value clincher—bear in mind that Pontiac prices fit easily into any new-car budget!

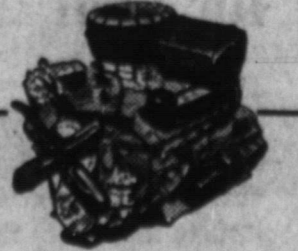

No wonder Pontiac sales are at an all-time high! Come in soon and drive this wonderful car. We're sure you, too, will join the big swing to Pontiac!

*Low extra-cost option; 190 h.p. standard

THERE'S NO POWER LIKE STRATO-STREAK POWER!

Here is the heart of Pontiac's terrific performance—the all-new, ultramodern Strato-Streak V-8! This masterpiece of engine design will deliver up to 200 horsepower with Pontiac's 4-barrel carburetor, an extra-cost option. Come on in, take the wheel and see what Strato-Streak really means!
