Three Killed In Car Wreck Buried Here

Funeral services for three members of the Clarence Steel family who died from injuries received Wednesday night in a car accident near Lamesa, were held at the First Methodist Church here Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. J. H. Sharp of Memphis, former local Methodist pastor, and Rev. Walter G. White, Sudan pastor, officiated at the services. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery.

Clarence Leroy Steel, 45, died instantly in the wreck at about 6:45 p. m. Wednesday of last week on Highway 349, 7.3 miles south of Lamesa.

His daughter, Leona Ruth, age 11, died at 1:30 p. m. Thursday; and his son, Vaughan Leroy, age 13, died at 5:30 a. m. Saturday, both in a Lamesa Hospital.

Mrs. Imogene Steele, the wife and mother, also critically injured in the wreck, is reported improving at Lamesa General Hospital, where she is a patient with severe injuries and also suffering from shock.

Only other member of the immediate family is little Esther Elizabeth Steele, 7, who is undergoing plastic surgery treatment in a Dallas hospital for burns suffered here two or three years ago. On the night of the accident, the Steele family was driving north from Andrews toward Lamesa with Clarence driving their 1948 Chevrolet. He had started to pass a trailer truck, when he saw a car approaching. He threw on his brakes in an attempt to pull in behind the truck, but his car skidded under the rear end of the truck and was demolished.

At the triple funeral here Saturday, members of the Tahoka Masonic Lodge were pallbearers for Clarence, Tahoka Boy Scouts were pallbearers for Vaughan, and cousins were pallbearers for Leona.

The family had lived at Tahoka for about 15 years prior to last March 2, 1955, when Clarence resigned a job as mechanic at Lynn County Tractor Co. and took a job in Sudan. In December, they had moved from Sudan to Andrews.

Clarence Steele was born in Ottawa, Okla., August 19, 1910. After moving to Tahoka, he and his brother, Vernon, operated their own garage here for a time, and each had worked as a mechanic for nearly every automobile repair shop in town.

On February 2, 1943, and the son, Vaughan, was born here daughter, Leona Ruth, was born here on January 22, 1945.

All were members of the Methodist Church.

Steele is survived by his wife and daughter; three sisters, Mrs. Stella Sherrin of Quapaw, Okla., Mrs. Elsie Lovell of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Lola House of Joplin, Mo.; and one brother, Vernon Steele of Chula Vista, Calif.

Among the survivors of the children are the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Vaughan of Brownfield, formerly of Tahoka.

Naturally, the rites were among the saddest ever held in Tahoka.

Mary Louise Fenton And Charles Louder Married Friday In Ceremony Here

Miss Mary Louise Fenton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Jack) Fenton, and Charles Travis Louder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Louder of Lubbock, were united in marriage at 6 p. m. Friday in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor, read a double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a fan-shaped arrangement of emerald foliage centered by white chrysanthemums. Baskets of white mums completed the setting.

Miss Dottie June Floyd of La mesa played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. E. W. Patterson, who sang "O Promise Me," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father the bride wore an original gown of white French lace and tulle over net and taffeta designed with a strapless tulle bodice outlined with lace and topped by a bolero also banded with lace. Stemming from a rounded waistline, the waltz-length skirt was cut on circular lines and joined with an scalloped band of lace to a wide ruffle of pleated tulle.

Her veil of silk illusion depended from a tiara of beads, rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a white orchid embedded in stephanotis and white satin atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Gene Sparks attended the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Jo Havey Koonitz of Lubbock, niece of the bridegroom, Peggy Golden of Lubbock and Maureen Lowe of Plains. The bride's cousins, Andra Sue Carroll and Sarah Wells, lighted the candles.

The attendants wore identical blue waltz-length dresses of plain and embroidered crystalettes over net and taffeta. The fitted bodices were fashioned with portrait necklines and small sleeves and were accented by wide cummerbunds of silk held by tiny bows at the backs. They wore matching bandeaux of sheer braid outlined with velvet ribbon and carried lovers knot of white stock blossoms.

Bill Louder of Lubbock served his brother as best man and Walter Higgenbotham of Lubbock, Donald Short of Fort Worth, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Glenn Wells, cousin of the bride, ushered.

A reception followed in the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. W. Fenton. The bridal table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a three-tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. A milk glass punch bowl was placed at one end of the table and white stock arranged before a fan of blue net and white tapers at the other.

Assisting in hospitalities were Mmes. O. C. Roberts, A. J. Kadatz, K. R. Durham, R. W. Fenton Jr., Kenneth Turner, O. C. Elliott, Van Greene, Eldon Carroll and Joy Bragg.

For traveling, the bride chose a navy lightweight wool suit with pink and blue accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple will be at home at 1901 32nd St. Lubbock.

A graduate of Tahoka High School, the bride attended Southern Methodist University and was graduated from Texas Tech in January. She is now employed by Hearn and Lawrence, Accountants, in Lubbock. The bridegroom, a graduate of Tom S. Lubbock High School and Texas Tech, is an employment counselor for the Texas Employment Commission in Lubbock.

Choice of this big, rangy 4-Door Sedan or the dashing Lancer Hardtop

BIG... BRAUNY... BEAUTIFUL ...and built for Texas driving!

It's your kind of car... this handsome, rugged Texas by Dodge! At the very first glance, you'll know this is true. And when you take the wheel and "give the gun" to its mighty, aircraft-type, Super Red Ram V-8 engine, your enthusiasm will burst all bounds. For the Texas boasts a power-plant just like the sturdy Dodge that made automotive history on the celebrated Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah.

Surely you've read or heard recently how a '53 Dodge stock car shattered 300 AAA records for endurance and speed in that sensational 14-day, non-stop run. In this officially witnessed performance, Dodge covered the first 10,000 miles at an average speed of 105.43 miles per hour... then went on to cover more than 21,000 miles of round-the-clock driving at a record-breaking clip. This is the greatest distance at the fastest pace any car has ever travelled.

Now this handsome, fair-fashioned, specially trimmed Texas offers you the same rugged endurance and the same eager power as the Dodge that established these records. What's more, your biggest surprise is still to come!

Most likely, you'd expect to pay a pretty price for a great car like this. Not so! The Texas is priced right down with the so-called "low-priced three." Yet it's big and powerful and luxurious... actually rivaling cars costing as much as a thousand dollars more!

Never will you find a better "buy" nor make a better deal than your nearby Dodge dealer will give you today. Come in today and see the Texas close-up. Then judge for yourself.

There will be free door prizes, a free lunch at noon, and at 1:30 p. m., some entertaining and informational movies will be shown.

Feature of the picture program is a play entitled "Tim's Choice" dealing with activities of modern farm youngsters and containing lot of humor. Other films include a new Gordon family picture, "A Lease for the Future," also containing a lot of comedy; "Oddities in Farming," a very interesting show; and "What's New for 1956." All farm families and all others interested in farming are invited to visit the store, enjoy a light lunch, see the shows, and inspect the equipment on display, says Jack Jaquess, the manager.

Lewis Byrd, who received a very badly cut right hand in a well drilling accident, is still a patient in Tahoka Hospital but is improving nicely.

D & H Checkers Enter Contest

Cleveland may help to crown a new queen of American industry, the "Checker of the Year," the outstanding checker among the nation's thousands of checkers, it was announced today by C. W. Conway, D. & H. Super Markets, who are participating with super markets throughout the nation in local contests to select regional and national winners.

Customers and employees of D. & H. Super Markets will help select the local checker of the year, who will then go on to almost a month of goal and glamor—with prizes ranging as high as an all expense trip to Europe.

The competition will be no beauty contest, Mr. Conway emphasized. Nominations will be on such practical considerations as courtesy and good customer relations, accuracy, efficiency and speed, good housekeeping, pride of job and desire to improve. The competition honors the primary contact super markets have with their customers, the checkers, who handle billions of consumer food dollars annually, with errors of less than three one hundredths of one per cent.

The competition to choose Tahoka's checker of the year starts March 9th and will last through March 17. Entry blanks for customers are at the checkout stand in all the company's stores. D. & H. Super Market has set up its own prizes for the local winner.

Being named "Checker of the Year" will have some very real advantages to the employee. The checker will win about $5,000 in prizes, with the top prize and all expense trip to Europe, with the objective of the Third International Congress of Food Distribution in Rome in Mid-June.

Final selection of the "Checker of the Year" will be made in Cleveland, Ohio, May 6th to 9th, at the 19th Annual Convention of Super Market Institute. Ten regional finalists will be selected for their appearance at Cleveland, and will take part in an impressive presentation at this meeting, which will bring together thousands of top executives in the food industry.

At Cleveland, a board of judges will rate each of the entries in a series of tests on personality, speed and accuracy in checking out a standard order. The winner will be crowned "Checker of the Year" in a special evening ceremony. Second and third prize winners will be selected at that time.

Each of the 10 Regional Winners (to be selected by a board of judges in Chicago) will receive: An all expense trip to Cleveland for one week, 2-pieces of Samsomite Luggage, A wardrobe ensemble of Sacony dresses, A chance to win 1st, 2nd., or 3rd., prize in the final judging.

To the "Checker of the Year:" An all expense trip for two to Europe (a week in Rome and a week in Paris)—Courtesy, American Express Money Order Dept., A Lucien Piccard Diamond Wrist Watch, 3-pieces of matched Samsomite Luggage, A Sacony wardrobe ensemble including a traveling suit and 2-day dresses, A mink stole, A check to cover expenses in Europe.

To the Second Place Winner: A trip for two for 2-weeks to Nassau, staying at the Emerald Beach Hotel, An additional piece of Samsomite Luggage, An additional Sacony dress, A check to cover expenses in Nassau.

To the Third Place Winner: A trip for two for a week to Miami, staying at the Seville Hotel, An additional piece of Samsomite Luggage, An additional Sacony dress, A check to cover expenses while in Miami.

WCS Studying New Subjects

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church is now studying, under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Bray—
 The Five Spiritual Classics—St.
 Augustine's Confessions, The Imitation of Christ by Thomas a Kempis,
 The Practice of the Presence of God by Brother Lawrence, A Serious Call to a Devout and Holy Life by William Law, and A Testament of Devotion by Thomas R.
 Kelly.

Monday, the subject was the Imitation of Christ. Mrs. Jake Jacobs conducted a very inspiring devotion on Prayer—using a book written by E. Stanley Jones. Ann Reasonover told the history of the time of the writing of the book—"The Imitation of Christ."
 Mrs. Bray, Mrs. G. M. Stewart, and Mrs. V. F. Jones read selections from The Imitation of Christ.

The music was under the direction of Mrs. Harley Henderson.
 The Guild is also studying the Classics under the leadership of Mrs. F. M. Chapman.

Plans Made For Cancer Crusade

Midland, March 8— "Fight Cancer With a Checkup and a Check" is the theme of the 1956 April Crusade it was learned recently at a meeting of American Cancer Society volunteers from the 53 counties comprising Districts 1, 2, and 4.

Participating in the meeting which was held at the Scharbauer Hotel were Judge Edwin T. Stitt of Midland, District 2 Crusade Director; Rev. Henry T. Stafford, assistant minister of the Midland First Presbyterian Church; George H. W. Bush, Chairman of the Midland County Unit; and Maxwell T. Dalby, director of field service and crusade, and Miss Gertrude Linn, executive assistant, both of the ACS Texas Division headquarters in Austin.

Attending the meeting from Lynn county were Mrs. J. B. Oliver, Mrs. J. K. Applewhite, and Mrs. V. F. Jones.

"The funds raised during the April Cancer Crusade," stated Judge Edwin T. Stitt, District 2 Crusade Director, "are utilized in the American Cancer Society's three-pronged attack on cancer through education, research, and service to patients. Last year the Society raised more than $895,000 in Texas.

"The goal this year for Texas," Stitt said, "is $1,017,640 and for the nation, $26,000,000."

Judge Stitt told volunteers that the ACS April Crusade is the most decisive factor in saving thousands of lives from cancer each year because through the concerted effort of thousands of volunteers everywhere Texans are learning the importance of recognizing the early danger signals of cancer.

"Although last year," Stitt stated, "9,144 persons died of cancer in Texas, an estimated 3,000 lives were saved because they learned the facts of cancer in time and did something about it. It is estimated that an additional 3,000 Texans could be saved through a greater crusade effort.

The theme of this year's crusade: "Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Check," Stitt said, "will do much in saving these additional lives."

The American Cancer Society is currently spending nearly $6,500,000 nationally in support of a coordinated research effort by over 1,000 scientists in a total of 152 institutions. More than $250,000 is being spent in Texas research institutions alone.

O'Donnell Lady FHA Advisor

Appointment of Mrs. Sam Singleton, of O'Donnell to the five member State Advisory Committee of the Farmers Home Administration in Texas was announced last week end by Walter T. McKay, State Director. The appointment becomes effective immediately and extends to December 28, 1956.

Mrs. Singleton, a homemaker, has long interested herself in the Farmers Home Administration program. She is a past President of the local organization of the Federated Womens Study Club, and has been very active with the Girl Scouts of America.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to operate and improve farms. The home improvement of farm families is a vital aspect of its program. Services are limited to farmers and ranchers who are unable to obtain the financing they need from other sources.

The State Advisory Committee helps the State Director adapt national policies to local conditions, suggests ways to make the program more effective, and helps in coordinating the Farmers Home Administration program with activities of other agencies operating in the field of agriculture. Other members of the Committee are John H. Head of Clarendon; Joe L. Culbertson of Hamlin;

Odds and Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

Every week I think that I will give the people a rest the next week and probably longer on this troublesome matter of segregation of the whites and the colored students in public schools and universities of the South and kindred problems which have arisen by reason of recent decisions of the Supreme Court; but new phases of the matter and new arguments on one side or the other keep rising up so rapidly that I can hardly find a stopping place.

About the first startling thing that almost knocked us over was that thunder-clap that came from Littlefield. They have a wide-spread school district up there and among approximately 2,000 scholars there are more than 200 Negroes. The school trustees, with the approval of the white folks generally, it seems, decided to abrogate segregation, and permit the Negro students to attend the district schools, in compliance with the decision of the Supreme Court, as they thought. But the trustees re-elected their faculty of white teachers and elected no Negro teachers. The Negro parents got up in arms—at least they circulated petitions asking that a proportionate number of colored teachers be placed on the faculty. So both white and colored patrons were invited to appear before a meeting of the school board, if a true report of the proceedings reached some of us at Tahoka. But just to show how hectic the argument became, we are told that one irate white person blurted out that she—or he—was white and did not want any Negro whipping her child. "Yes, and I am a Negro," exclaimed a colored woman, "and I don't want any white man whipping my child." Apparently, integration was not working very well on either side up at Littlefield. There will probably be hundreds of cases similar to that throughout Texas if the Supreme Court stands pat on its decision.

The tension seems to have slackened a bit in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, on Friday of last week, when Thurgood Marshall, attorney for the N. A. A. C. P. and for Authrine Lucy, the recalcitrant colored co-ed, who had been the central figure in the fuss from the start, was withdrawing her application for admission into the University for the reason that she had falsified and had lied on the President, Dr. Carmichael. Of course Marshall knew all the time that she was lying but thought possibly he could make it stick. He doubtless decided that her conduct and that of the N. A. A. C. P. was reacting against them and so made her the goat.

But the people of the South should note that the Supreme Court has not retracted anything nor yielded one single step; but so far as the world knows it is still bent on punishing that University and humiliating all the Southern States which have approved the doctrine of Interposition.

Now there is one other point respecting the doctrine and proposed action which is called Interposition, which apparently needs a little clarification in the minds of some. Those who hold to this doctrine contend that the U. S. Supreme Court has never been given and Constitutional authority to pass on the matter of Segregation or on the administration of the public schools, colleges, and universities that have been established in the various states and particularly in the states of Alabama and other complaining Southern States; that in so doing it has exceeded its Constitutional authority, and that its decision respecting these matters therefore are null and void and that they therefore have the right to make their own laws and regulations respecting them.

I have noted that some who do not believe in the wisdom of justice of de-segregation or in the integration of the colored and the white students in the schools of the South, as the Supreme Court is now ordering, yet say that this matter has already been adjudicated by the Supreme Court and must therefore be obeyed without question by all the people as the law of the land. I should like to ask those who make this plea, if they maintain then that there are no limitations on the power of the supreme court, Can it do whatever it may choose to do regardless of Constitutional authority? I do not think the Supreme Court itself would make any contention like that; but these Southern States contend that it has erroneously done so, and that is the very point at issue. If the Southern states are right, then they can and should interpose the doctrine of Interposition. If the Supreme Court has the constitutional right to pass on these matters of segregation and integration, then there is practically no limit to its authority to act in any case. If it has this right, then it has the authority to take over the supervision of every public school, college, and university in every state of this Union. And practically every act of the Court and of the Federal Government as a whole is tending strongly in that direction.

When the Federal Government makes appropriations for the building of school houses, the payment of teachers, and funds for the maintenance of the public schools, it thereby gains claim to the right, whatever its declarations may be, to exercise control over the schools—to dictate in some degree at least to local boards of trustees, to determine the general policies to be followed, to say in a general way at least what shall be taught, and who shall do the teaching—evenually to put colored teachers over mixed or wholly white student bodies possibly.

In announcing his candidacy for governor a few days ago on an Interposition platform, Evetts Haley of Canyon stressed the need for using the weapon of Interposition also "in preventing the Federal Government from destroying our most vital national industry, namely oil and gas, and thereby laying the judicial predicate for the power to take over industry, agriculture and labor generally." After directing a criticism at President Eisenhower for vetoing the gas bill providing for a tax to be levied on this product being shipped to other states out of the state of production, Haley declared, "If perverted judicial authority, backed by ambitious executive veto, can set the price of gas and destroy an industry essential to national survival, then how easily can it justify setting the price of cows and cotton, of professional service and ordinary labor."

"And it will inevitably do so," he added.

But in my opinion Haley offers no effective remedy. Neither does Governor Shivers nor Attorney-General John Ben Shapperd. The plans and suggestions made by them are good as far as they go, but none of them goes far enough. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram has suggested the only real and effective remedy that I have seen so far, the proposal that a Constitutional amendment be submitted by Congress which would more clearly define the rights of the federal government on the one hand and of the states on the other; but it does not elaborate on the suggestion nor explain why and how such a Constitutional amendment could be exceeding helpful to the states and to the people of this country generally.

Governor Shivers is proposing that a referendum be submitted to the people to find out first if they want a Constitutional Amendment clarifying these rights to be submitted, when he should know that three-fourths or possibly nine-tenths of the people of Texas who have given the matter any thought at all would do favor such an amendment. His proposal means only inevitable delay, it seems to me.

Attorney-General John Ben Shapperd has prepared and is submitting to members of the legislature a resolution favoring a continuance of segregation in the schools of Texas and opposing integration, and he favors the Interposition proposal also. Furthermore he attended a meeting of a number of Northern Attorneys-General in Chicago recently and discussed with them the need for a new constitutional amendment clarifying the rights of both the states and the Federal Government respecting a number of matters and found them favorable to his suggestions; but even those encouraging reports do not bring us any where near a solution of the problem.

We are told that Representative Vinson of Georgia has recently introduced a resolution in the lower house of congress calling for the submission of the clarifying amendment to the Constitution, but Southerners have little hope that Congress will smut it.

Now it seems to me that there is a remedy available that will immediately get some very important results and without very much delay may get results that should be satisfactory to a vast majority of the patriotic citizens of every state in this Union.

The purpose of all good citizens should be the final adoption of a constitutional amendment that would definitely settle the matter as to what rights should be accorded to the Federal Government and what rights should be reserved to the states. You say that that it a nutty question and that it would be impossible for all the states to reach an agreement. Possibly so, but let's look at the situation.

There are now eleven Southern States in which most of the people are intensely dissatisfied with recent decisions of the Supreme Court. Now let us not "cuss" the Court. Let us concede that it may possibly have all the Constitutional Authority it claims. But the people of these eleven Southern States believe that the Court has exceeded its authority and they are proposing Interposition as a remedy. But it is really no remedy at all; for after the people of these states agree that it is right and endorse the doctrine of Interposition throughout its whole domain, what can it do to put its decisions and its resolutions and its protests into effect. All that will effect nothing. It will bring no remedial results. It will be like a great army of soldiers going to battle without any guns, or at least without any loaded guns and without any bullets. The Supreme Court has the Constitutional backing of the Executive Department. Whoever the Executive may be at any given time, he regards it as his official and constitutional duty to back up the latest decision of the Supreme Court, to send the national police and the armed forces of the United States, if need be, to enforce the Court's decisions. What can the Interpositionists do? Nothing immediately. Of course they can defy the court and go to jail for contempt. Or they can obey the court and thereupon proceed to use the political weapon which is available to them. They can combine their forces, form a new party, elect delegates to a convention, nominate candidates for President and Vice-President, select Presidential electors, vote in November on general election day, and send the results in to Washington just as the law requires and just as they would if casting their votes in either one of the old parties.

"Are you crazy?" somebody will ask. "Do you think that these eleven states could elect a President?"

No, but I can show you what they could do. They could cast 128 electoral votes in the electoral college. All the states of the Union have 531 electoral votes. Subtract 128 from 531, and you have 403, votes to divide between Democratic and Republican candidates. It is possible and even probable that neither candidate could get as many as 266 electoral votes, which is a majority of all the electoral votes that can be cast at the next election and which number a candidate must get to be elected.

I have an idea that in the campaign next fall both parties will be scrambling for all the votes they can get, especially the Democrats. Stevenson got only 89 votes in the election of 1952. These Southern states have 128 votes sewed up for their candidate if they will only use their heads, organize a party of their own, and follow the procedure available to them.

But, if neither the Democratic party nor the Republican party gets a majority of all the electoral votes, what then? The election of a President will be thrown into the ouse of Representatives, where each state will have one vote. The eleven Southern States could not win the election but they could demonstrate their possession of a mighty balance of power that both the other parties would be glad to court in future elections and in the new Congress. And we'll bet they could get the submission of a new and satisfactory amendment to the Constitution pretty pronto after the election next fall without having to wait four more years to shoot with loaded guns, so to speak. Let's be ready to fire next fall, folks. So may it be.

There is a bright side to everything. But in politics it is the inside.

Designs for underground irrigation pipe were checked by engineers of the Soil Conservation Service assigned to work with the District on the farms of Bryan Wright, Walter Lichey and Felix Nolte. All underground pipe is designed for maximum operating efficiency and the conservation of water. To qualify for ASC payments the land must have been watered at least one year because the assistance is made for the Reorganization of the farm irrigation system. And old existing lines that are to tie into the new line must be considered for designing new lines as well as any future lines that may be installed.

Terrace lines were completed on the Duckworth farm east of town, operated by Glen Norman and on the B. L. Thomas farms. These lines were run by S. C. S. personnel of the Tahoka work unit. The terraces will be constructed to District standards of a minimum of 1.3 feet high and 24 foot base width. Terraces were completed to district standards on the farms of Earl Terry and Leroy Davis east of town, J. A. Roberts southeast, on F. T. Carson's west of O'Donnell, and Ellis Martin west of Tahoka.

If people do not know the good you have done it is a waste of time to tell them.

Don't sit and wait for your ship to come in . . . give it a tug Don't smoke in Bed! The next ashes that fall on the floor could be your own.

Most married couples patch up their old quarrels until they are as good as new ones ask him:

"What's new on the Santa Fe?"

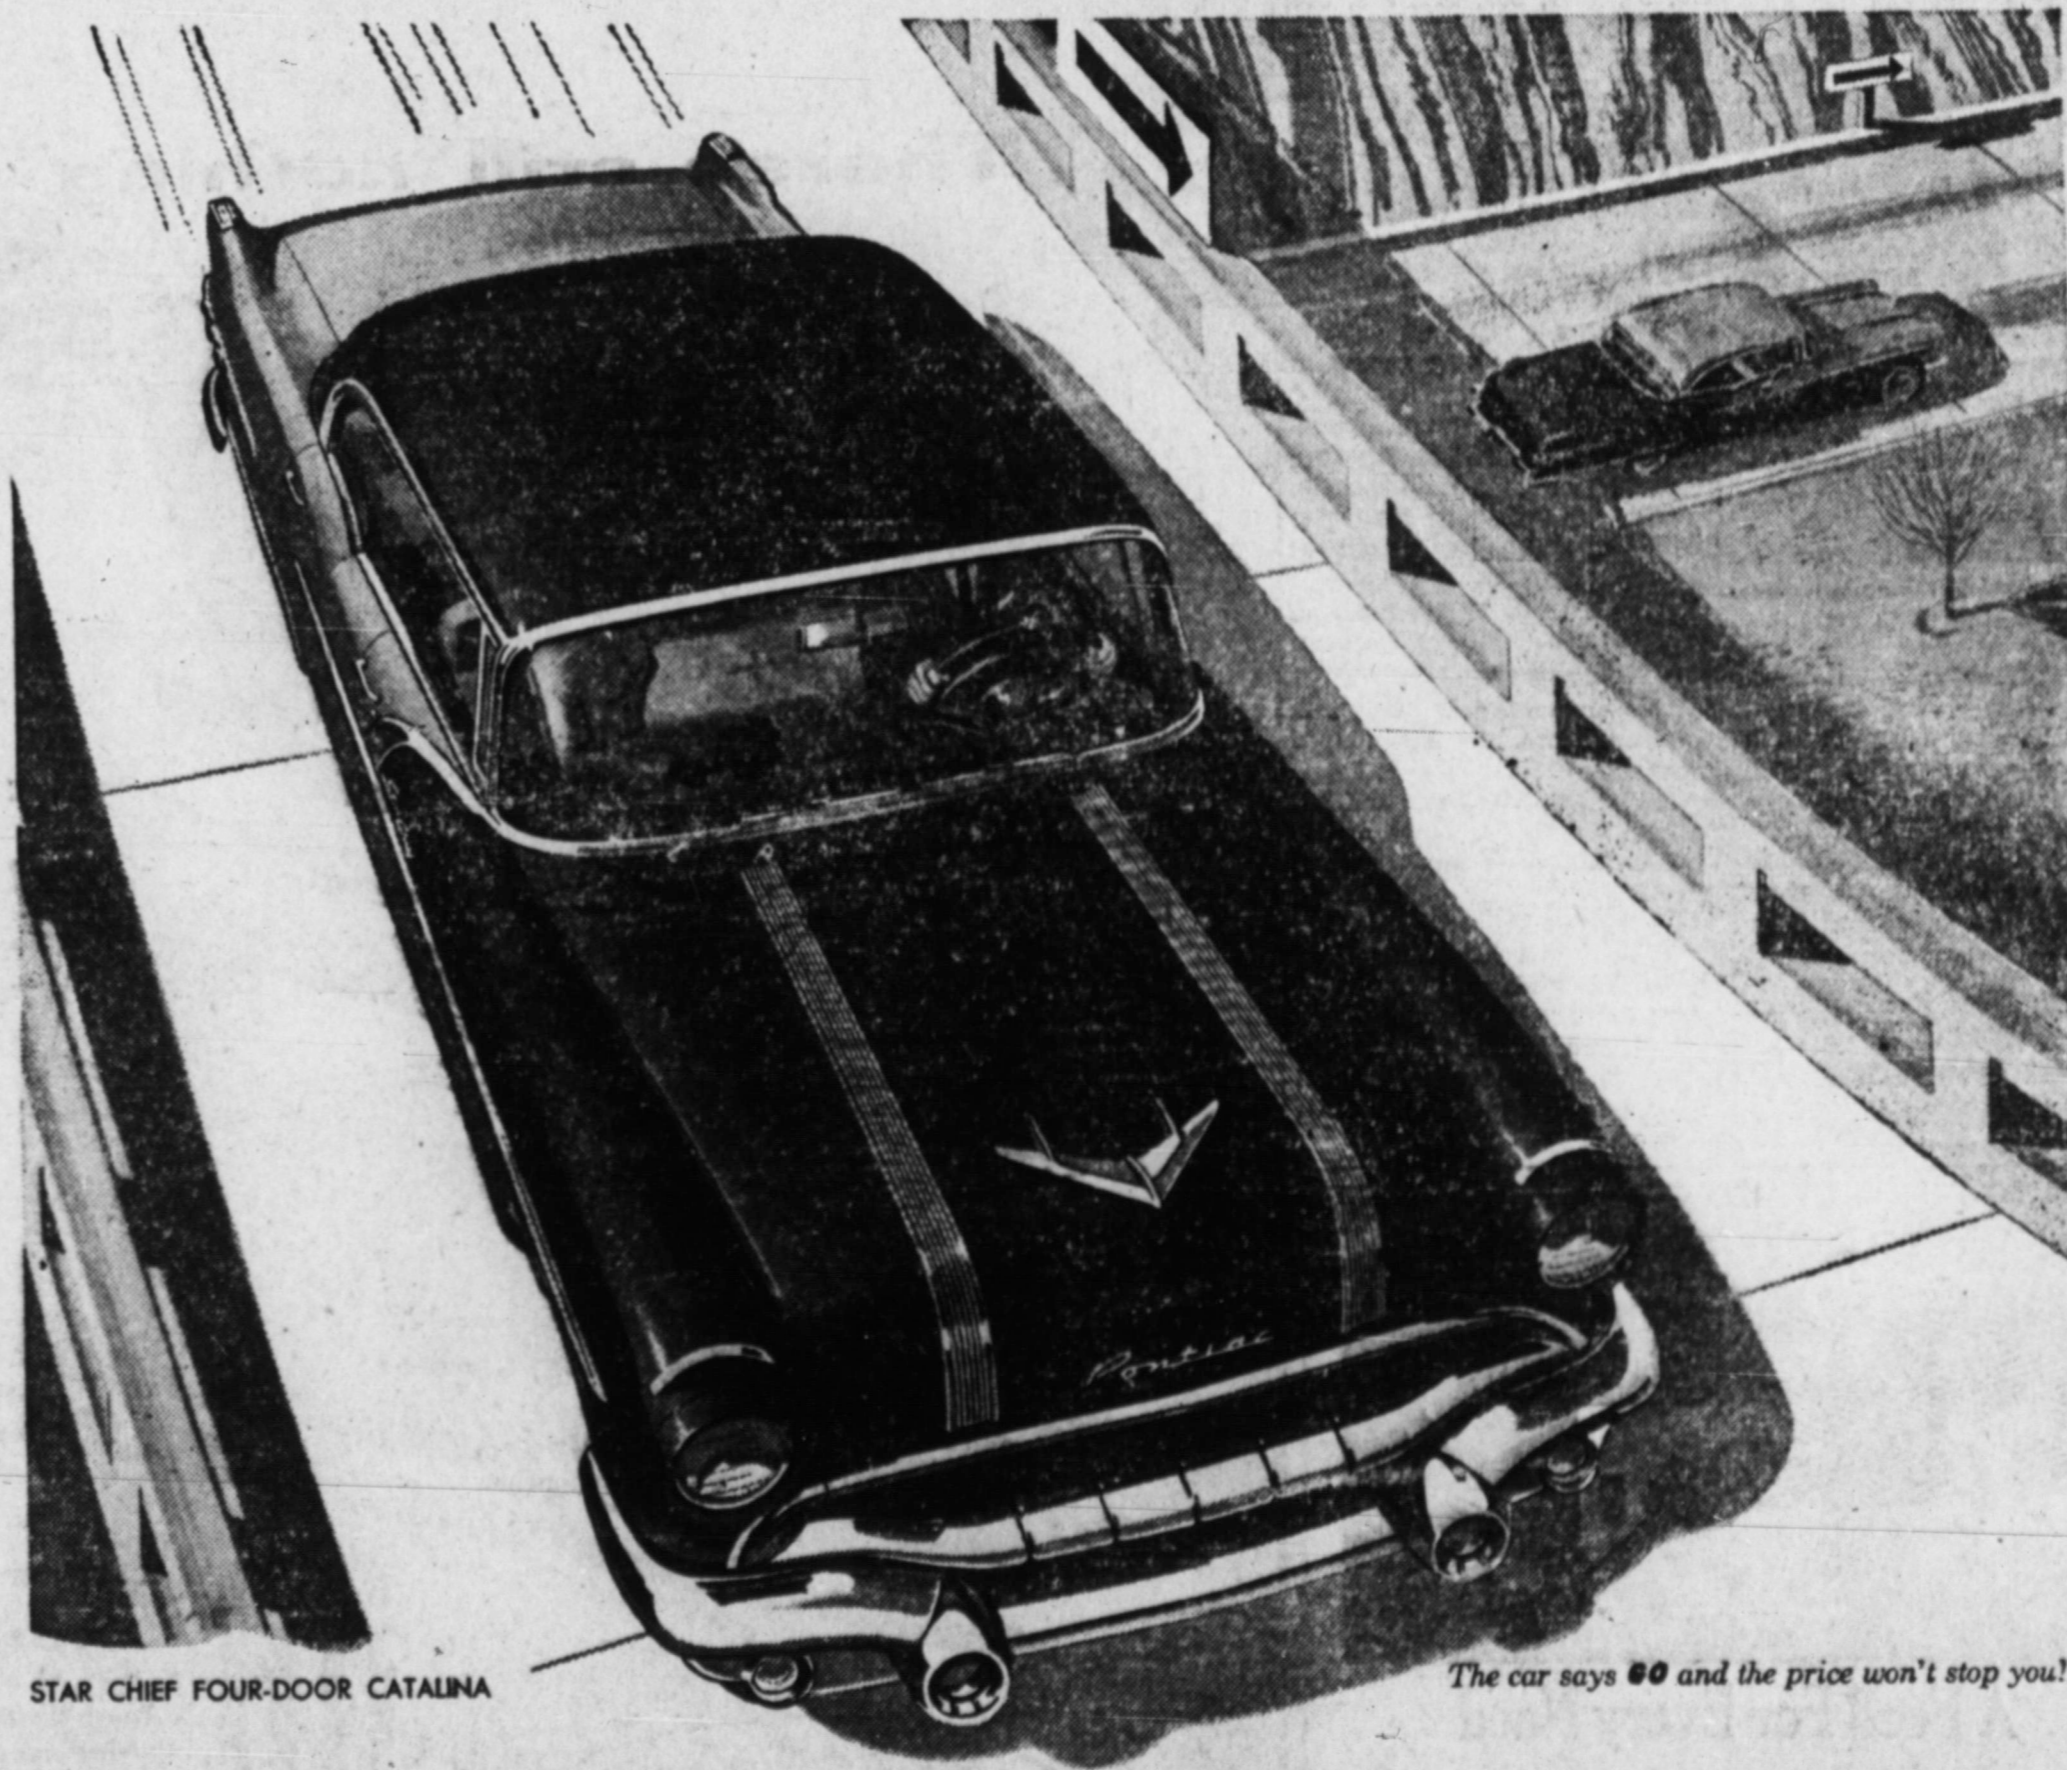

Your local Santa Fe agent has a wealth of answers to this question. Santa Fe is constantly adding the "new" to all its services and facilities to keep abreast of growing transportation needs in the many communities it serves.

Regardless of where on the system these improvements are made, the people and communities all along the line feel the benefits of a stronger, more efficient rail service.

New cars, new trains, new Diesels, new tracks, new freight services and many other new features help Santa Fe provide shippers and travelers the best possible transportation service.

It Knows No Master
but You!

You can actually buy a big, glamorous Pontiac 860 for less than you would pay for many models of the low-priced three!

You're setting the pace in this one—with your own good judgment virtually the only limiting factor!

Up front you have the highway's hottest performance team . . . the mighty 227-h.p. Strato-Streak V-8 (239-h.p. with dual exhausts*) and its partner, the revolutionary Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic*. Here's a vast reservoir of dynamic power!

The first time you tap that reservoir, you'll discover a thrill that can't be duplicated anywhere else at any price! The way it whisks you past awkward situations and slower-moving traffic has you breathless.

Why not come in and sample this tremendous go?

And while you're here, you'll find that performance is only half of Pontiac's wonderful story. The other part is price—and it's every bit as exciting!
