Lynn Eighth In State In 1955 Cotton Ginnings

Lynn county was fifth on the Plains and eighth in the state in cotton production during the year 1955, according to preliminary figures released this week by the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce.

Lynn ginned a total of 89,040 bales in 1955, as compared with 108,474 in 1954, according to the Bureau of Census.

Lubbock led the state with 216,474 bales ginned, Hidalgo was second with 182,931. Hale was third with 157,713, Cameron had 145,154, Hockley 136,936, Lamb 135,474, Reeves 116,487, Lynn 89,040, Dawson 85,003, and Crosby 78,160.

Thus, seven of the ten top cotton producing counties in Texas in 1955 were South Plains counties. Hidalgo, Cameron, and Reeves were the only Texas counties off the Plains able to break into the high ten in cotton production.

In the Plains area, cotton production for the year, by counties was as follows:

County	1955	1956
Lubbock	216,474	222,536
Hale	157,713	204,348

C. C. Huffaker, Grassland, Dies

C. C. Huffaker, 92, retired farmer of the Grassland community who had lived in that area for 43 years, died Sunday morning at the home of a son, Herman E. Huffaker, after an illness of about ten months.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 3:00 p. m. in the Grassland Church of the Nazarene, with Rev. J. H. Ferguson of Wellington, former pastor there, and Rev. J. D. Dorrough, the present pastor, officiating. Burial followed in Grassland Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home of Post.

Mr. Huffaker was born November 27, 1863, during the Civil War days in Arkansas, and remembered many of the hardships of the Reconstruction days which followed.

He moved to Johnson county, Texas, in 1900, where his wife died in 1907. He moved out to this section in 1913, and had lived here ever since. A daughter, Mrs. Verna Hicks, also preceded him in death. He had been a member of the Nazarene Church for 33 years.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. T. J. Murry of Grassland two sons, H. E. Huffaker of Grassland and Marvin Huffaker of Dalit, N. M., 21 grandchildren, and 27 great grandchildren.

Grandsons served as pallbearers.

The first railway built in the U. S. was from the granite quarries at Quincy, Mass., to tide-water, a length of 5 miles. It was begun in 1826 and completed in 1827.

More than 400,000 Americans now living are proof that cancer can be cured.

Buick Agency Changes Owners

Ray A. Hopkins and Ted L. Allen, both of Ralls, have brought the local Buick agency from Guy Wheatley, and the firm will be known in the future as Allen Hopkins Buick. They took charge of the business Thursday.

Mr. Wheatley has bought the Brackeen Buick Co. at Canyon, and will take charge of that business Saturday, operating under the firm name, Guy Wheatley Buick. However, his family will not move to that city until school is out. During their three years in Tahoka, the Wheatleys have made many friends here.

Ray Hopkins is well known here, having been parts manager at Bray Chevrolet for three years, leaving there three years ago. The last two years, he has been with Abell Chevrolet of Ralls as parts manager. Married and the father of two sons, he was active in Cub Scout work when he lived in Tahoka.

Mr. Allen was with Oden Chevrolet at Floydada 17 years, and the past three years has been service manager of Abell Chevrolet at Ralls. Hopkins says his partner is a conscientious and experienced service man. Allen is married, and has two sons and two daughters.

Both families will move here as soon as school is out. Ted Kusiwi will remain as head mechanic at the shop, and Hopkins said they hope to secure other good mechanics. F. E. Redwine will remain as salesman.

For convenience of customers and Mr. Wheatley, accounts due the latter may be paid at the firm office, Hopkins said.

Revival Starts At Sweet Street

Revival services at Sweet Street Baptist Church began tonight, Friday, at 7:30 p. m., and will continue through April 8. Week-day services are at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. L. C. Followell of Wellman will do the preaching.

Rev. F. E. Woolery, the pastor states:

"If you are cold and indifferent, come! If you have a lost friend or neighbor, bring them with you to these services. Pray for God's spirit to lead and direct each message to your heart and to the hearts of the lost.

"Come and enjoy good singing and to hear one who brings God's message without fear or favor. You will always find a welcome at this friendly church."

Woman, Baby Fall From Car, Injured

Mrs. W. L. Pendleton, 28, and one of her twins, of O'Donnell, had a narrow escape from serious injury or death Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton and children were en route home from Lubbock that night at about 11 o'clock, when a tire of their car blew out. The car careened off the highway, a door flew open, and Mrs. Pendleton and the three-year-old twin boy in her arms were thrown from the vehicle.

She hugged the boy tightly in her arms and he received only a skinned nose, but Mrs. Pendleton received severe bruises on her arms and legs from skidding over the rough ground on the pavement skirt. They were brought to Tahoka Hospital for treatment.

The car came to a stop beside the road against a tree. Mr. Pendleton and the twin girl were uninjured.

REV. H. F. SCOTT

Wilson Revival Starts Sunday

Rev. H. F. Scott, new pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wilson, will do the preaching in the Spring revival of the church which opens Sunday, April 1, and continues through the following Sunday, April 8.

Services week-day nights will be at 7:30 o'clock, and the nursery will be open each night. Emphasis will be placed on the song services, which will be led by Russell McCormick.

Baptist Meeting Closing Sunday

The revival services at the First Baptist Church will be concluded Easter Sunday.

The revival has been marked by fine interest and good attendance. There have been 17 additions since the revival began, bringing the total for March to about 30, and 470 persons were in Sunday School last Sunday in the main School and Mission. Workers are looking for well over 500 Easter.

Rev. Eugene Stone has been bringing wonderful messages from the Bible each service. It is easy to see that his heart is in his work as a Missionary on the West Coast, Rev. Clifford Harris says.

The combined choirs of the Church have furnished some of the best music the church has ever had. The 42 choir seats have been about full every night.

The morning services have been conducted in the Fellowship Hall so those who could not climb the stairs could attend.

A Men's Breakfast service was held Friday morning with good attendance.

W. O. Thomas Still On Critical List

W. O. (Otho) Thomas, pioneer Tahoka businessman, remains in a critical condition in Tahoka Hospital with a heart ailment, but was reported "holding his own" Thursday.

A brother, Dr. A. L. Thomas of Ennis, visited him last Thursday and Friday.

A nephew, Paul Thomas and wife, were here to see him over the week end and to visit his father, A. I. Thomas.

THS Choir Sings At Other Schools

Tahoka High School's 52-voice choir, directed by Don Wortham, went on a one-day tour Tuesday to present a program of religious, popular, and patriotic numbers.

The choir sang at Cooper at 9:30 a. m., at Slaton High School at 11:15, and at Wilson at 1:30 p. m.

The group had lunch at the Slaton cafeteria at noon.

New Oil Test East of Wilson

Ambassador Oil Co. of Fort Worth last week end announced its proposed No. 1 C. A. Coleman wildcat oil test, three miles east and slightly north of Wilson.

The drilling contractor was moving in the rig last week end. The test will be 5,100 feet to test the San Andreas and Glorietta pay zone found in the Sunland field in the Morgan community and the PHD field in the Morgan community, both to the east of the test.

Location of the new test is 660 feet from the north and east lines of the southeast quarter of Section 1, block L, GW&TP survey.

Soil Fertility Meet Wednesday

Next Wednesday, April 4 will be Soil Fertility Day in Lynn county, which will be observed with a meeting in the county court room from 9:30 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

County Agent Bill Griffin has arranged the program which will be presented by several experts from the Extension Service. Speakers will include: M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist, who will talk on fertilizers; Bob Thurmond, irrigation specialist; G. H. Bates, farm management specialist; and George Black, associate county agent of Lubbock in charge of irrigation.

Sunday School of First Baptist Is Seeking "Advanced Standard" Award

During this week the Sunday School Workers for the First Baptist completed the requirements for reaching the "Advanced Standard of Excellence" for Sunday School work among Southern Baptist Churches.

If their application is accepted by the Sunday School Board in Nashville, Tennessee, the First Baptist Church of Tahoka will take its place among the very few churches of Texas who have ever attained this high standard of work. So far as the pastor knows, only one church in Texas reached the "Advanced Standard" last year, and there were less than 12 in the nation, states Rev. Clifford Harris.

This achievement culminates almost two years of definite work and planning. The S. S. organization includes 135 officers and teachers, 85 of whom have earned at least their Worker's Diploma for completing courses in teacher training.

Four workers in the Sunday School have earned the "Master's Diploma," representing the community. (Cont'd. on back page)

Dr. Irvin Lehman Going To O'Donnell

Dr. Joe Lehman of O'Donnell is taking a vacation prior to entering the U. S. Army on April 1. He will enter the Army with the rank of captain, and expects to be stationed at Fort Sam, Houston, San Antonio.

His brother, Dr. Irwin Lehman, will take over his practice at O'Donnell in June. Irwin is completing his interne work at Parkland Memorial in Dallas, and will go to O'Donnell to make his home in June.

In the meantime, nurses are keeping the O'Donnell Clinic open until Dr. Irwin Lehman arrives.

City Election Next Tuesday

Next Tuesday, April 3, is City election day in Tahoka.

Three aldermen are to be elected, and there are only three names on the ballot, these being Albert Curry, Winston C. Wharton, and Everton Nevill, all candidates for re-election. Holdover officials are Mayor Clint Walker and Aldermen Herman Heck and Wynne Collier. The election will be held at the City Hall.

MARVIN WOOD IMPROVING

Marvin Wood, critically injured by a concussion in a fall from a windmill at the Roberts & Wood ranch two weeks ago, is showing very slow but gradual improvement at Tahoka Hospital, where he is a patient. He is able to be up some, but his mind is still "foggy."

Contests In County Trustee Elections

Name Managers Of Little League

Managers for the four Little League baseball teams have been named, and application for the charter from the National organization has been sent in, according to Clint Walker, president of the league.

The team managers will be Richard Havens, Dean Taylor, Jess Gurley, and John Houk.

Walker said a meeting will be held shortly with the managers to select the coaches.

Early in April, boys of the county who wish to play in the Little League this summer will be given an opportunity to register, and late in the month work-outs and try-outs will be held. Play is expected to start in May. Each team will carry 15 boys.

J. H. Kuykendall Dies Suddenly

J. H. Kuykendall, 78, a resident of Lynn county for about 35 years, died suddenly at his home at 1824 North First Street shortly after midnight of Friday, March 23.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church, of which he was a member, Saturday at 3 p. m., with the pastor, Rev. Clifford Harris, officiating. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Stanney Funeral Home.

Mr. Kuykendall had been in ill health for some time. Thursday night late he became violently ill, and a doctor was called, but little could be done for him and he passed away at about 1 a. m. Friday.

James Henry Kuykendall was born July 22, 1877, at Prairie Dell, near old Salado, Bell county. His parents had migrated to that section before the Civil War. He grew up there and was married on Christmas Day of 1904 to Miss Amanda Belcher, who had been reared "a long way off" at Nolanville, 15 miles away. The couple moved from Bell county to Grassland community, where they lived on their farm until 1946, when they moved to town.

Survivors include his wife; one son, M. L. Kuykendall of Clyde; and five grandchildren.

There will be contests in all school districts of the county in the annual school board election set for Saturday, April 7.

Six names have been filed for three places on the Tahoka board. They are Herman Renfro, Milton Uzzie, O. E. Terry, R. W. "Slick" Clem, Charles Verner, and Reble Thomas. In each case, the names were filed on petition of friends.

Three present members of the Tahoka board, President A. M. Eray, John Witt, and Frank Great-house, are not candidates for reelection.

At Grassland, where two are to be elected, six names have been filed, these being Glenn Norman, Kelley Laws, Vic Lauderdale, Harry Lee Short, Ollie Stanley, and Marion Inklebarger.

New Home will elect three trustees, and there are six candidates. They are: Dick Turner, J. D. Halford, Cecil G. Keith, Joe D. Unfred, Aubrey Smith, and E. M. Rudd.

Six names have been filed for places on the ballot for three positions on the Wilson school board, in the trustee election set for Saturday, April 7.

The names of Clarence Church, T. B. Mason, and Erwin Sander have been filed for reelection.

Other names filed are: Jiggs Swan, Werner Klaus, and Lloyd Means.

A contest is also in prospect at O'Donnell, where last week the names of Bart Anderson, B. B. "Shorty" Vestal, and Julian Pirtle had been filed. Last week's Index-Press stated the present incumbents whose terms expire had not at that time been filed. These are Board President J. W. Gardenhire, Dave McMillan, and Earl Greenlee.

New Troop Is Being Formed

Prospects are that the new Boy Scout troop being sponsored by Tahoka Fire Department will be filled before too long, states E. B. Gaither, district commissioner.

Last Thursday night nine boys turned out for the meeting, and others were expected this Thursday night. Next Thursday night, all boys are asked to be present for registration and filling out of the charter.

Boys 11 through 14 years of age who are interested should register now, Gaither says, because a number of boys will soon be coming up to the troop from the Cub Scouts.

Lawrence Harvick is the scoutmaster, and Tom Bartley is the assistant.

O'Donnell is also reorganizing a Boy Scout troop with Don Mansell as the scoutmaster, Gaither says.

W. B. Slaton Shows Slight Improvement

W. B. Slaton, Tahoka banker, was reported Thursday to be showing gradual improvement at Methodist Hospital, where he is a patient. In fact, he has been improving steadily since last Saturday, and hopes for his recovery have grown brighter. Although unable to talk as yet, he seems to know and understand things going on in his room much of the time.

Mr. Slaton suffered a severe stroke on March 11 as he and Mrs. Slaton were returning home from church.

MOVING TO LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. High are moving to Lubbock this week, having bought a home there. Ware C. will be in college at Tech this next year and residence there will be more convenient for them, Mrs. High says.

Last year 80,000 Americans died of cancer because proper treatment was begun too late.

Cancer Drive Is Set For April

The quota for Lynn county in the American Cancer Society's 1956 educational and fund-raising Crusade, which will run through April, has been set at $1,600.00. H. W. Carter, county chairman, announces.

In 1955 the quota here was $1,300.00 and a little more than this amount actually was raised. And last year the national goal was $24,000,000, with some $24,400,000 being contributed, while this year the total sought nationally by the ACS is $26,000,000.

"The goal is larger in 1956," Mr. Carter explained, "because of the rising over-all incidence of cancer in this country. This continues to be due largely to the fact that the span of human life has been considerably increased in recent decades. People are living longer, and thus reach an age when cancer is most likely to strike them."

"Through the years since 1934 the national cancer death rate has gone up and up. In 1934 the number of such deaths per 100,000 population was 106; in 1940 it was 130; by 1947 it had risen to 132; and in 1952 the number was 143. The rate for 1953 was 145, and for 1954 the estimated rate was 147, with about 236,900 dying of cancer. Last year the total is estimated at about 245,000.

"The picture is not all dark, however. There have been encouraging reductions of deaths from certain forms of cancer. This is particularly true of uterine and stomach cancer among women, and of cancer of the skin, stomach, and liver and biliary passages among men. In 1955 about 80,000 persons were saved from cancer, including 10,000 women who would have died from it 10 years ago. Throughout the country, approximately 400,000 persons are living today who have been cured of cancer."

To meet the situation, and to save a great many lives, the chairman pointed out, more funds are needed. And the money collected will be used for three main purposes—to provide more and more research support as scientists uncover and follow up promising clues to the final answers about cancer; to augment professional and public education concerning that disease; and to give additional service to patients.

"Saving of those 80,000 persons from cancer last year," Mr. Carter said, "resulted both from improved techniques in treatment and from early detection of malignant growth, both brought about by increased public knowledge of cancer's seven danger signals and the tendency of more and more people to have periodic physical checkups. The vital importance of such examinations has been widely publicized by the American Cancer Society."

"That, in fact is the keynote of its public education program. It urges that all persons have a complete checkup yearly, with a semiannual pelvic examination for women over 35 and a semi-annual chest x-ray for men over 45, who then are most susceptible to lung cancer."

PETTY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. ROGERS

Petty Handi-Work Club met in the home of Mrs. Faye Rogers on March 15. There were seven members present and three visitors.

Band Presents Spring Concert

Tahoka High School Band presented its annual spring concert Thursday night before an appreciative crowd that filled the lower floor of the auditorium to capacity. Directed by Don Wortham, the 55 member organization presented an hour and a half program of marches, overtures, and novelty numbers. Perhaps the number which pleased the crowd the most was a novelty number, "Time for Jam Session."

Only solo number was a baritone horn solo by Lynn Strickland.

This is the last official public appearance of the band for this year until the band contests April 28 and May 12.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for the thoughtfulness extended to us during the illness and death of our loved one, J. H. Kuykendall, to Dr. Prohl, to those who prepared food, and to those who sent flowers, a very special "thank you." —Mrs. J. H. Kuykendall and M. L. Kuykendall and family.

McMurry Social Clubs Pledge Two From Lynn County

Ahliene, —Students from Tahoka and New Home have been invited to pledge social clubs at McMurry College.

They are Jerrine LeMond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeMond of Tahoka and Rebecca Morrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Morrow of New Home.

Mrs. Phil Chappell, dean of women at McMurry, said that the purpose of the college's nine social clubs for men and women is to promote social and cultural growth among their members, and to boost school spirit among McMurry students.

Miss LeMond, a freshman is pledging Kappa Phi, women's social club. A 1955 graduate of Tahoka High, she was a member of the band, Student Council, and F. H. A. At McMurry she is in the band, Christian Foundation, and Volunteers, women's religious organization.

Miss LeMond is majoring in religious education and minoring in speech at McMurry.

Miss Morrow, a freshman, is also pledging Kappa Phi. A 1955 graduate of New Home School, she was a member of the F. H. A., Student Council, and was salutatorian of her graduating class.

Miss Josephine Raindl of San Antonio spent the week end in the home of her mother, Mrs. Frank Raindl, Sr. Jo is a Junior student at Santa Rosa School of Nursing, and has been elected a delegate to the Nurses convention being held at Lubbock April 11-14.

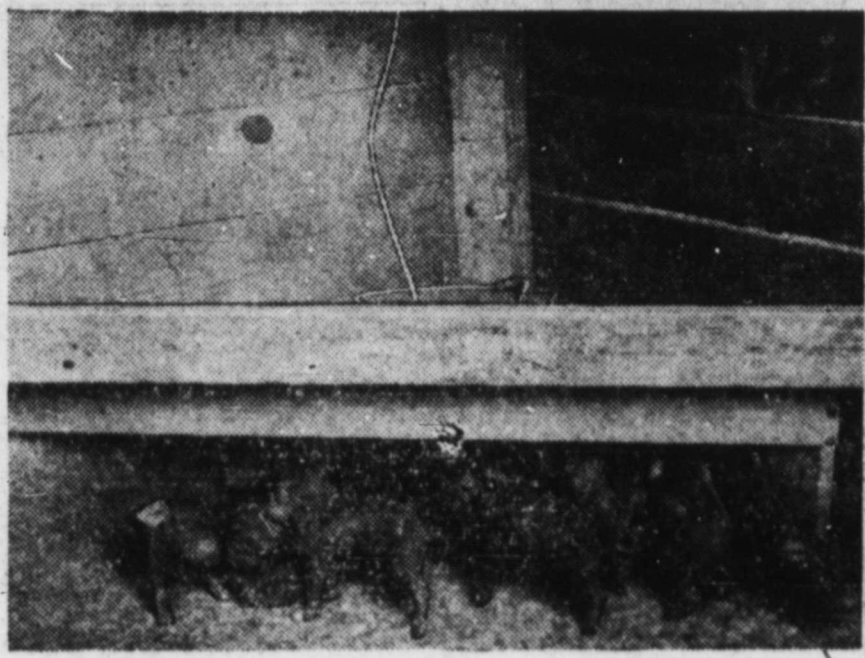

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

To survive, little pigs must have heat. Under natural conditions they depend on each other and the good weather for their heat. Little pigs piling up creates a hazard, and the weather is unpredictable; also the mother sow often rolls over or lies down on the piglets crushing out their lives. The next best bet (safe, too) is the artificial heat created by electric energy.

While most pig raisers will use electric heat lamps, Panhandle Agricultural and Mechanical College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, has been using a manufactured brooder for the last nine years.

This brooder utilizes a metal canopy, which might also be constructed of plywood, under the roof of which is mounted a 115 watt electric heating element coupled with a wafer thermostat. In addition a small lamp bulb is attached which serves to attract the little pigs to the heat source.

Professor Milton England, who raises the college's pork supply, has high praise for electric pig brooders, and he should know for he supplies the college cafeteria with about 1200 pounds of pork per week. Along with other livestock, the professor has in his care thirty-five head of brooding sows for 1955.

Baby pigs get the heat they need to survive in a safe dry corner of the pen, under the electric brooder.

At current feed prices Professor England calculated that a baby pig is worth about $10.00 at weaning time. So obviously every pig that can be saved to go to market is a ten dollar bill in the seller's pocket. Conversely, every baby pig that dies is a ten dollar loss. A few cents worth of electricity can prevent this loss.

While the professor has had good results from the pig brooders using the electric heating elements, he expresses the opinion that heat lamps would do the same job. The main thing is to give your baby pigs the warmth they need at birth continuing until they are large enough to withstand the cold. One sure thing, there's no chance of electric heat rolling over on a baby pig and crushing out its life.

Professor Milton England, Head of the Agriculture Department, Panhandle A & M College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, shows the working parts of a pig brooder used by the College Farm.

VAN HEUSEN CENTURY SHIRTS with the new soft collar that won't wrinkle ever!

There's a very special difference between the Van Heusen Century — America's fastest-growing single shirt — and ordinary shirts. And what's more, you can actually feel it. First, feel a fused collar... stiff, scratchy, it curls and wears fast. Next, feel a "stay" collar... limp, needs starch or bumpy stays, hard to iron. NOW, feel a Van Heusen Century collar. It's made in one single piece... can't wilt or wrinkle... never needs starch or stays. And it irons in one stroke because the fold-line is woven right into the fabric. Lasts up to twice as long. Costs no more. White, $3.95. Superfine White, $5.00. Colors $3.95. Shirt-Mate Tie, $1.50.

Junior Fitts Gets Scholarship From West Texas State

Junior Fitts, Tahoka senior basketball star, on Monday signed a "letter of intent" for a basketball scholarship at West Texas State College, Canyon. Coach W. A. (Gus) Miller was here Monday to present Fitts the scholarship.

The scholarship is good for four years, contingent on his passing his school work, and includes board, room, books, tuition fees, medical expense and $10.00 per month laundry money.

Although offered scholarships at Texas Tech and several Southwestern Conference schools, Junior said he believed he could fit in better and like the program better at West Texas State than elsewhere.

Local Men Attend John Deere School

Jack Jaquess, manager of Gilmore & Jaquess, local John Deere Dealers of Tahoka, is spending this week in the various departments of the John Deere Plow Company in Ballas. While there he will attend the John Deere Tractor Service School.

Roy Graves, recently employed as mechanic with this firm, will attend the John Deere Tractor Service School the week of April 2 through April 7. Mr. Graves, wife and three children, have moved to Tahoka from Lubbock, where he was employed by the John Deere Firm there. He has had 15 years of experience with John Deere tractors and equipment.

Also attending the school this same week will be Jack Adams, now employed by Gilmore & Jaquess. His experience as a John Deere mechanic is well known.

John Deere Plow Company presents this school for their dealers and dealers' mechanics to acquaint them with the latest developments and procedures of maintenance pertaining to their equipment. At the school Mr. Adams and Mr. Graves will completely disassemble and reassemble a John Deere Model "70" Diesel Tractor. During this operation, under the supervision of a John Deere instructor, they will be taught the essentials pertaining to gasoline, oil fuel, butane and diesel tractors. Dealers were assured that this year's school will be one of the finest ever held by the John Deere Plow Company.

Charlie Terry, employed by this firm when his farming operations allow, will maintain the shop operations while the other two mechanics are attending school.

JESS HILL IMPROVING FROM HEART ATTACK

Jess Hill, who suffered a severe heart attack on March 6, is reported to be improving nicely. He has been taken off the critical list and is able to sit up some, but his doctor will not let him walk yet.

After receiving treatment in Tahoka Hospital, he was transferred to Veterans Hospital, Big Spring, where he expects to remain for several weeks. He is able to have a limited amount of visiting.

Mrs. Mildred Schooler and two daughters, Ronnie Sue and Marsha, of Lynnwood, Calif., were here last week visiting Mildred's mother, Mrs. Nettie Davis, and brother, Otis.

Mrs. J. H. Kuykendall left Monday for a visit of a week on ten days with relatives at Georgetown.

Texas entomologists report that cotton grown from seed treated with a new systemic insecticide, Compound 3911, has been protected against thrips, aphids, spider mites and leaf miners for four to six weeks from date of planting. Two plants located in Waco are equipped to treat cotton planting seed with the new compound. The cost is approximately $3.00 an acre.

A poultry disposal pit is not expensive to construct. It is a real labor saver and offers a simple solution to the problem of disposing of dead birds on the poultry farm. It can also be a mighty important part of the farm's sanitation program.

One-third of all cancer deaths can be avoided by earlier detection and prompt treatment, the American Cancer Society says.

Facilities for treatment of cancer have more than doubled in the last decade, according to the American Cancer Society.

The art of mummyfying bodies was most developed in Egypt in connection with the belief in revivification.

Congratulations:

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Lewis on the birth of a son, named Gary Dean, and weighing 7 pounds 2 ounces in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock at 3:39 a. m. on March 19. Grandparents are Mrs. Jewel Brown of Earth and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd McMillan. Sethen is the new boy's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Torrez on the birth of a son, Ruddy Paul, Monday in Tahoka Hospital, weighing 6 pounds 8 ounces. Dr. Noble Rumbo was the attending physician.

Holy Land Film At Wilson School

Rev. Lynward Harrison, former pastor of the Wilson Methodist Church, will come back to Wilson to show pictures of his Christmas visit to the Holy Land.

The pictures will be shown at 7:30 p. m. April 5 at Wilson School auditorium.

"A cordial invitation is extended everyone who would like to see these pictures and hear Bro. Harrison tell of his trip," states Rev. Ray Elmore, pastor.

Explorer Scout Banquet Tonight

Explorer Scouts, their parents, and troop committeemen and their wives will attend a banquet being held tonight, Friday, at 8 p. m. at the Boy Scout Hall.

Awards will be presented, and the boys will furnish the program. Cecil Hammonds is the Explorer Post advisor, and Birch Larsen is his assistant.

THOMPSON IN HOSPITAL

Terry Thompson, formerly of Tahoka and now living in Lubbock, underwent major surgery in Methodist Hospital Monday. His condition was reported later as serious.

Jaycees Building Softball Field

Tahoka Jaycees report they are making progress on the new softball park they are building on City Park property in South Tahoka.

Light polls have been set, and this week end they hope to install the lights for night play. Also, some work remains to be done on the backstop.

If there is sufficient interest, the Jaycees will cooperate with anyone wishing to organize a softball league or any organization wishing to use the new field.

Ladies Softball Team Is Formed

All young women and girls interested in playing softball are invited to attend the practice sessions being held each evening at 6 o'clock on the diamond just east of Chancy service station on South Sweet Street.

J. D. Davis is managing the ladies softball team.

OUR HATS ARE OFF TO—

Little League Managers Richard Havens, Jesse Gurley, Dean Taylor, and John Houk—we know you are rendering the community and youth a fine service, and we wish you success with your work.

HAWAIIAN HAM
 Follow label directions for baking ham. One-half hour before baking time is completed, remove ham from oven and cover top with drained pineapple slices. Place a maraschino cherry in the center of each slice. Spear pineapple chunks with cloves and stick into sides of ham. (With pineapple on top and sides, the tangy sweet pineapple flavor will have a chance to penetrate all through the ham.) Coat ham and pineapple with honey and return to oven. Bake with drippings and additional pineapple for ten minutes until pineapple is golden brown and glazed.

WHEN IT'S FARROWING TIME ...that's when good feeding PAYS OFF!

Your sows must be fed right during gestation to build big litters of husky pigs, keep their own bodies up, and have lots of milk when pigs come.

PURINA RESEARCH built Sow and Pig-Chow to do all these jobs. Many of your own neighbors can tell you about results they get feeding hogs on the Purina Program. When you hear about their experiences, you'll want to feed your own sows this tried and proved way. Ask us to tell you more about Sow and Pig Chow next time you're in the store.

There are two workers, the pastor and Mrs. Harris, who hold the Master's Diploma with the Gold Seal, representing 48 complete courses which is the highest award granted by the Sunday School for completion of training courses.

Approximately 800 individual awards have been earned by workers of the church the last two years.

The Sunday School organization now includes 18 departments, which contain a total of 49 class groups in the main School, through which the 135 officers and teachers serve an enrollment of well over 700 pupils.

The S. S. also has a mission school for Latin Americans in Tahoka with an enrollment of 65.

The value of this effort can be seen in the increased average attendance of well over 100 more than two years ago.

JAYCEE-ETTES DISCUSS FUND RAISING PROJECTS

Jaycee Ettes held their regular meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Ruby Chancy.

Money making projects were discussed. It was decided to have the hostess bring the program at each meeting.

Refreshments were served. Next meeting on April 10, will be in the home of Mrs. John Henry.

Watch Costs In Raising Pullets

College Station, March 29.—Flock replacement costs, determined by pullet costs and rate of lay, next to feed are the largest expense item in producing eggs. Therefore, says Ben Wormell, extension poultry husbandman, the cost of producing pullets is a major consideration in a successful poultry operation.

Generally, points out Wormell, pullet costs are figured on the basis of the number of days required for the flock to reach 50 percent production. At this rate of lay the pullet will normally pay a return over the current feed costs. In the 1955-56 Texas Random Sample Test the pullets averaged 172 days (24½ weeks) of age when they reached 50 percent egg production. The range of the entries tested was from 157 to 181 days.

Wormell estimates the major costs of producing pullets at about $2.16 per bird. He breaks the figures down this way; 110 pullets $66 (10 extras to provide for 10 percent mortality); feed $100; $25 for labor and the same for other costs other than feed, chicks and labor. Thus $216 would be needed to get 100 pullets to the stage of 50 percent production. The costs will vary, he adds, depending upon prices and practices of individual poultrymen. A high figure will make the replacement cost per dozen of eggs high during the laying year.

Excessive mortality of feed wastage during the pullet growing period must be avoided if costs are to be kept low, says Wormell. He advises a daily check for spotting "off-conditions" and recommends immediate diagnosis and corrective treatment to prevent serious disease or parasite troubles. Wasted feed is money thrown away. Provide at least four inches of feeder space per bird after two months and keep the feed level at least two inches below the lip of a good feeder. Keep the feeders shoulder high to the pullets as they grow, advises Wormell.

Plenty of good, clean water is a must. Pullets will drink two to three pounds of water for each pound of feed consumed and the water trough space should equal at least a sixth of the feeder space. An inch per bird is recommended during hot weather. Finally, says Wormell, the ultimate profit per hen depends on how well and cheap the pullets were produced.

Jack Wood Won Second In Show

Jack Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wood, route 5, placed second in the medium weight fat Hereford calf contest at the recent South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show, and Tommy Gardenhire of O'Donnell was third, according to Bill Griffin, county agent.

Last week, in reporting the results of the show, The News left out the name of Wood, and reported that Gardenhire was second.

Jack's older brother, Hilton showed the first place light Hereford calf.

Saturday Deadline For Car Licenses

Saturday is the deadline for registering motor vehicles and attaching 1956 license plates.

Anticipating a last minute rush, County Tax Assessor and Collector J. E. (Red) Brown announces that he will keep his office open until midnight Saturday in order that everyone will have an opportunity of getting their plates before the deadline.

For a minimum of trouble in getting new plates, car owners should bring their old receipts with them.

Pat Hines, City water superintendent, underwent surgery in a Lubbock Hospital Friday of last week. This week, he was reported showing slow but gradual improvement.

N. E. Wood Farms Mrs. Fortenberry's Place

Mystery Farm No. 87 is owned by Mrs. Alice Fortenberry but N. E. Wood lives in the house and farms a section of her land, which is located 12 miles west of Tahoka on the Brownfield highway.

The place was first identified by Bill Newton and by Mrs. Welch Flippin. Others calling included Eldon Gattis, Mrs. Grover Tomlinson, Edward Bartley, Patricia Williams, Mrs. Tom W. Hale, Mrs. Horace Wood, Mrs. Lloyd McMillan, and Leighton Roddy.

Mrs. Fortenberry owns a section and three-quarters. Eldon Gattis farms 100 acres and the rest is in pasture.

Mrs. Fortenberry is now visiting in Eugene, Oregon, with her son, J. W., and daughter, Mrs. Clayton Lawrence, and her four grandchildren.

She came to Lynn county in 1907 from Runnels county with her late parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McIntyre. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre lived two miles south of Edith on a one-section farm until about 1916, when they bought the land west of Tahoka. Mr. McIntyre died about eighteen years ago, and Mrs. McIntyre passed away about fifteen years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Wood moved on the place two years ago. He farms the dry land place on contour, and raises cotton and grain sorghums. Last year, he lost his cotton and replanted his cotton land in grain. He stubble mulches to help prevent blowing.

For 11 years prior to moving on the place, Mr. Wood was manager of the local Soil Conservation District office.

N. E. was reared at Hughes Springs, Cass county. After attending East Texas State at Commerce, he came out to Lynn county in 1926 to teach school at Edith.

Mrs. Wood, the former Iola Nowlin, had come here with her parents in 1917. After attending Baylor College at Belton, she taught at Edith. The couple met and married, and continued to teach school and attend college together. They attended both West Texas State College and Texas Tech. They taught school at Redwine following their marriage, then were at Grassburr, Garza county, three years, and came back to Lynn to teach at Joe Stokes two years.

The Woods have three children, N. E., 18, a senior in Tahoka High; Idalia, 15, a sophomore; and Paula Jane, 11, a sixth grade student.

Both are active in the First Baptist Church here. He is a former president of the Lynn County Farm Bureau. Both also have been active in other civic work.

New Preacher At Grassland Church

David J. Taylor is the new minister of the Grassland Church of Christ, according to O. J. Stanley, a member of the church.

Brother Taylor lives at Plains, and drives over each Sunday for the services at Grassland. Bible study is at 10 a. m., and preaching services are at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Stanley says Brother Taylor is an outstanding speaker and everyone is invited to come out and hear him.

Garden Club Plans Plant Exchange

Tahoka Garden Club met with Mrs. Turner Rogers Tuesday, March 20.

The program was on annual flowers. Mrs. Irving Stewart talked on "What, When and How to Plant Annuals". Mrs. V. F. Jones talked on "What One Dollar will Do With Annuals."

Mmes. Luther Thomas and H. B. McCord, Jr., presented arrangements made of artificial flowers.

The club will have the plant exchange in April in Mrs. G. R. Milliken's yard. This will be a morning meeting.

Blair Places In Odessa Meet

Don Blair of Tahoka ran third in the 100 yard dash and scored two points for Tahoka in the tough Odessa relays last Saturday. The winner, Mike McClellan, ran the distance in 9.8 seconds, and a San Angelo boy was second, but the race was close to the finish line. Gordon Smith qualified for the event, but failed to place in the finals.

Blair had an off day in the broad jump and failed to place.

Tahoka is entered in the Big Spring ABC Relays this week end, will be in the Hale Center Relays April 7, and then will participate in the district meet at Texas Tech on April 14.

Coach Bill Haralson reports his boys are improving gradually, and he expects them to pick up some places in the district meet this year.

Abilene won the High School division of the Odessa meet with 16 points. About thirty or forty teams entered.

In the college division, won by Abilene Christian College, Kenneth Fannon, O'Donnell High graduate, set a new meet record in the 120 high hurdles with a time of 14.5 seconds. He was also a member of the ACC sprint medley relay team which won first in this event.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown of Ennis are here this week visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. M. Bray, and family. Mr. Brown retired last year from the automobile business, and friends in that city have filed him as a candidate for mayor of that city.

Variety Program At Rotary Club

District Governor "Rig" Edwards and wife of Sweetwater were informal visitors at Tahoka

Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week and Mr. Edwards made a brief talk.

Don Wortham, local band director, told of the work of the band this year, and introduced Lynn Strickland, who presented a baritone horn solo, accompanied at the piano by Jan Collier.

Short talks were made by Calloway Huffaker on "What Rotary Can Do for the Town," and Truett Smith on "What I can Do for Rotary." Fred McGinty arranged the program.

President Harold Green urged a good attendance at the forthcoming 183rd Rotary District Conference at Levelland April 18, 19, and 20. The District Assembly, for club officers, will be in Floydada, May 18.

The local club's attendance for February was 92.49 percent, which was only good enough to rank 25th in the district.

Ready-Thrilling-and STABLE!

Dual Stabilizer Action doubles your riding comfort!

SOLID . . . STEADY . . . STABLE! That's the feel of Oldsmobile's ride for '56! The dual stabilizer action of Oldsmobile's Safety-Ride Chassis gives you a new sense of control and security . . . doubles your riding pleasure!

This is no "shock-and-roll" ride! Stabilizer bars, both front and rear—part of Oldsmobile's sturdy six-point suspension—keep you "rooted" to the road, even on the sharpest turns. The extra-heavy, extra-rigid frame resists twisting and bounce. This accounts for Oldsmobile's handling stability. And when you add the "muscles" of a host of power features, you have the ultimate in motoring ease.

RATE THE ROCKET ON THE ROAD! This ride's got plenty of "get-up-and-go", too. The 9.25 to 1 compression of its Rocket Engine means swift, fleet acceleration . . . power to spare. And Jetaway Hydra-Matic, with two fluid couplings, provides a whole new measure of smoothness.

ONE LOOK and you know . . . Oldsmobile's styling is as advanced as the mechanical features. Look, for example, at the "Integrille" front bumper. It's two bumpers in one for extra-depth protection and new beauty. We have an Olds ready for you—plenty smiling . . . mighty able! See it! Drive it! At our showroom, today!

Solid Foundation for That Smooth Rocket Ride!

NEW SAFETY-RIDE CHASSIS
for easier handling—superior roadability!

It's built to handle the high horsepower, high torque of the Rocket Engine! Rugged frame has an X-shaped center member and 5 cross members riveted and welded into a single unit.

(By E. I. The Elder)

In the rotunda of the Capitol Building yonder in Washington D. C., stand the statues of many of the heroes of this Republic. Each state has the privilege of naming two of its most noted sons or favorite heroes to be thus honored. Long ago, Texans chose as their most fitting representatives for this honor the two men who led in the establishment of this great state, Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin. All the great and free nations of the world have since come to recognize this as the wisest and best choice that Texans could have made—Austin, the greatest colonizer and developer of a vast and virgin domain that the world has even known; and Houston, the liberator of an oppressed people and founder of the greatest state, potentially if not actually, that has ever been established at a single blow, as it were, on this continent.

So, there these two statues stand, the pride of all Texans, and the reminders, in the eyes of the world, of two of America's really great men.

In March, 1775, Patrick Henry stood in that Virginia convention then in session in Richmond and made that famous "Give me liberty or give me death" speech, pleading for immediate preparation by Virginia to meet threatened and impending war at the hands of the British Government and in the course of that fiery speech, he exclaimed, among other arguments, "Besides, Sir, There is a just God who presides over the destiny of nations," etc.

Folks, I believe that; and I believe that at that very moment, a just and all-wise God was so shaping earthly events as to bring about, some sixty years later, the birth of another Republic, far to the southwest, on the banks of the Rio Grande and that he had already picked the two men who were to lead in the consummation of that important event. I told you briefly last week something about the dramatic life and the often erring conduct of that great leader and statesman, Sam Houston, who played the most glamorous part in the founding of the Republic of Texas. I mentioned Stephen F. Austin as the hero who was destined to play the other most important part in the building of that great Republic, Our Texas, but I mentioned him very briefly and gave practically nothing as to his background or that of his father, Moses Austin, who first conceived and started the task but was not able to do more, and on his death-bed bequeathed the mission to his son, Stephen F. Austin.

I think that Moses Austin was unwittingly taking the initiatory steps in the accomplishment of the task long before he was conscious of it himself. Moses Austin was a Connecticut Yankee. He was born away back in the pre-Revolutionary period of our history, 1767. That was before George Washington had even dreamed of leading a Revolution against the Mother country, of founding a new and independent nation on this continent, and becoming President of the United States of America. Moses Austin had probably never heard of a land sometimes called Tejas, and had never dreamed of undertaking some time to colonize it.

When we first hear of him he is living at a little town in the Colony of Connecticut called Durham, just a village, in fact, of only a few hundred people. And now, before we go further, let us get our bearings a bit. The colony of Connecticut covered the same territory as does the state of Connecticut of this day. Just south of Connecticut is Long Island Sound. East of it is the little state of Rhode Island, then a colony which Roger Williams had founded as a refuge for persecuted Baptists. North of Connecticut and Rhode Island was the colony of Massachusetts, which included Maine, founded by the Pilgrim Fathers. North of Massachusetts were the two colonies of New Hampshire and Vermont, with the Connecticut River coming down between them and cutting square across the colony of Connecticut from north to south and emptying into Long Island Sound. Big old sprawling New York bounded Connecticut on the west.

The village of Durham, Moses Austin's home town, was situated some fifteen or twenty miles inland from the shores of Long Island Sound. It was and is situated a few miles west of the Connecticut River but near the foot of some rugged hills. Connecticut is a rugged state, the Connecticut and two other river systems that come down through it, cut it into many alternate hills and valleys. There is no gold in "Them thar hills," but lead and several other metals have been found, and iron has been mined since 1732. It is claimed that the iron which went into the frigate "Constitution," popularly known as "Old Ironsides," came out of the hills of Connecticut. Mining was one of the leading industries of Connecticut while Moses Austin was growing up in that state. He is said to have been financially interested in the mining business and he probably worked in one of the mines near him when he was a boy. At any rate he was intensely interested in mining as long as he lived. Those lead mines in Connecticut, however, gradually failed, and some time along about 1790, Moses Austin moved from Connecticut to Wythe county, Virginia, where there were other lead mines.

His son, Stephen F. Austin, was born there on November 3, 1793, when Moses was a young married man 26 years old. He had not prospered greatly in the mining business in Connecticut, and came up into the Mountains of Virginia seeking greener pastures. Wythe county, Virginia, is situated up on the slope of the Cumberland Mountains away out on the pointed nose of camel-shaped Virginia as it appears to be sticking its snout under the major end of Kentucky and trying to root that state out of its way. I don't know how long Moses Austin, wife and son Stephen remained in Wythe county but it was long enough for their domicile and vicinity to acquire the name of Austinville, probably several years.

But the Austins didn't get rich quick in the mining business there either, and the next time we hear of them they are a way down in Missouri some thirty or forty miles west of the Mississippi River at a little mining town called Potosi. Soon after moving down there, Moses Austin and the boy's mother decided to send him back to their old home town of Durham, Connecticut, to go to school. I get the impression that Stephen had attended school a little while in Wythe county before they left Virginia but was too young to have gotten much book-learning, and so when he was a little older they decided it was time for him to be in school and naturally thought that there was no school "out west" like the old home school in Connecticut. But when Potosi. His father must have made a little money there, however, for in 1816 he and his son Stephen opened up a little bank in St. Louis, "The Bank of Missouri."

Back in 1814, however, soon after Stephen came home from College with his sheepskin, he was elected to the Territorial Legislature of Missouri and he served in that official capacity until Missouri was admitted into the Union as a state in 1820, under the terms of the Missouri Compromise Bill, it will be remembered.

I don't know what had become of that banking institution that Moses Austin and his son Stephen had opened up in St. Louis, for I hear nothing more of it, but Moses Austin had been hearing marvelous tales about the possibilities of the Spanish territory lying undeveloped and idle along the Rio Grande River, and while sitting idle in his office at Potosi, which office he had named "Durham Hall" in commemoration of his native town of Durham, Connecticut, and not having prospered in the mining business in Potosi either, despondent, he got to studying about the possibility of colonizing that rich and fertile but wholly idle wide-spreading wilderness country lying along the Rio Grande. He was then only 53 years old, scarcely past middle life, the mining business had brought him only meager returns. His son Stephen was leaving him and had gone down to New Orleans to study law. Then suddenly the Colonization idea hit him like a lightning stroke. He talked to a few friends about it. I suppose that he talked to his wife also, and his son Stephen, and his daughter. I don't know how they felt about it, but I think nothing could have thwarted him. He made hasty preparations and was off. I suspect that he went most of the way by steamboat down the Mississippi River to New Orleans, since his son Stephen F. Austin was already there, but the Texas

Almanac says that he returned home overland.

It must have been by pre-arrangement, though I have seen no statement to that effect, that he met Baron de Bastrop in San Antonio, who gave him material aid in presenting his application and obtaining permission from the representatives of the Spanish Government to bring colonists into the province, Texas and all all Mexico still belonging to Spain at that time.

Having accomplished the purpose of his visit, the elder Austin struck out back home—a happy man. It was a long and wearisome trip, however, through many swamps and malaria-infested regions, over rough hills and through rough weather, constantly encountering danger and difficulties, and Moses Austin arrived back home a sick man. He died in 1821, but before his death he requested his son Stephen F. Austin to proceed to carry out his colonization. (Con't. on next Page) nization plans in Texas, a request which his son observed as he carried out the project with so much intelligence, vigor, and success as to excite the admiration of the world. But that is another story which most Texans already know pretty well but which I will re-tell together with some additional facts later.

Now, I want to repeat my expressed belief that the discovery and development of Texas into a nation of real Americans, first as an independent Republic and later into one of the very greatest, richest, and most populous states of this Union was Providential—fore-ordained and predestined, if you please.

When that Connecticut youth, Moses Austin, was eking out a mere living in the lead mines and the iron mines out at the foot of the Berkshire hills in that little state, about as large as eight counties the size of Lynn, and was becoming enthralled with the mining business, who would have suspected that he was to lead in the founding and consequent development of an empire like Texas? I am sure that he never suspected it himself—never dreamed of it back in those early days.

His love of mining led him first from Durham, Connecticut, to lead mines in Wythe county, Virginia, but he had no idea of the significance of it.

Then his infatuation for the mining business, led him from Virginia to hope for greener fields in the business hundreds of miles away—across mountain ranges, through forests and finally across the great Father of Waters to an obscure little lead-mining town in Missouri; and then to Texas!

In Connecticut, no doubt, he had scarcely heard of a land called Texas. He knew about as much about it as he knew about Zambesia, or Zanzibar, or the Fiji Islands.

But the Lord knew all the time what He was doing, and what the destined and final work of this Connecticut Yankee was to be. That's one Yankee that all Texans must be proud of and thankful for.

Just picture to yourself, if you can, what this Texas land might have been today if Moses Austin had never made that trip down here and if the Lord had not intervened in some other way to bring about its development.

If Moses Austin had not come, the chances are about 90 to One that Stephen F. Austin would not have come either. If Stephen Austin had not come, there would not have been any colonization project undertaken either, at least not at that time nor by the same individuals. If no colonies had been planted and developed here, the chances are about 90 to One that Sam Houston would not have come, nor William B. Travis, nor David Cravett, nor old Ben Milam, nor scarcely any of the other heroes who died in the Alamo or fought at San Jacinto. In fact, there would have been no slaughter at the Alamo, no tragic Goliad, and no glorious San Jacinto—No Texas Declaration of Independence; no war between the United States and Mexico; no acquisition of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, and other territory as a part of this great Union of States.

Is that so? No I do not think it is; for if Moses Austin had never been born, I believe that the 'God who presides over the destiny of Nations,' as Patrick Henry suggested, would have used other men, acting under other circumstances, to have brought about in His own way and in His own good time the great American Union that has become the trusted leader of all the free and democratic nations of the world.

But it is good that in the life and activities of that obscure Connecticut Yankee youth, we can see the gentle but Almighty hand of God in History.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Eakin visited his mother at McGregor last week end. She has recently moved there from Abilene. Ward says that part of Texas is also extremely dry.

Soil Conservation Service personnel assigned to the district completed terrace lines on the farms of Jack Cavoness north-west of Tahoka, and on W. H. Williams east of Redwine. These terraces will be built to district specifications and certified for payment through the local ASC office. A terrace system was checked for completion on Graham Hensley's farm near Redwine. Graham stated that he saw enough water run off of that field last year to have made a much better crop than was harvested.

Underground irrigation pipe was checked for completion on the farms of Bryan Wright, north of Wayside, Felix Nolte near Wilson, Albert Wuensche north of Wilson, and on two places for J. W. Savell, north-east and the home place east of Wilson. At the same time of checking the pipe on Mr. Savell's farms he and James Savell, who is operator made application with the District for working out an annual Soil and Water Conservation farm plan. These plans include additional engineering planning of underground irrigation pipe, a study of water application for maximum efficiency, and including legumes in the crop rotation for soil improvement. James and Mr. Savell plan to try both winter and summer legumes.

Engineers assigned to the district set grade stakes for and eliminated irrigation ditch on Calloway Huffaker's farm west of Draw. Calloway installed several hundred feet of underground pipe on the place this year but could not reach all the land and some ditch was needed. Ditches are a means of distributing water until other means for better water conservation can be installed.

Miss Minnie Lou Stanley Is Married Saturday In Grassland Church Ceremony

Miss Minnie Lou Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Stanley, route 2, became the bride of Johnny Ray Ash, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ash of Gorman, route 3, Saturday at 7 p. m. in a double ring ceremony at Grassland Church of Christ.

Leroy Cowin, minister of the Church of Christ at Gorman, read the ceremony beneath a white lattice arch covered with greenery and centered with wedding bells and satin bow trim. Candelabra and white gladioli flanked the arch.

Miss Patsy Stanley, sister of the bride, sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee," and was joined in duet by Don Williamson of Lubbock to sing "Through the Years," "Wedding March," "Be With Us Lord," and as the recessional, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white embroidered faille dress styled with a neckline and full gored skirt, topped with a white lace jacket buttoning down the front to the waistline and long sleeves coming to points, and a tiny stand-up collar. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a white satin shell hat, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Ollie J. Stanley, the bride's sister-in-law, and maid of honor, wore a blue shantung street-length dress, fashioned similar to that of the bride's and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Patsy Stanley, route 2, sister of the bride, and Miss Eula Ash, route 3 Gorman, sister of the bridegroom. Each wore wristlets of pink carnations.

Best man was Harry Barnes of Slaton, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Serving as groomsmen and ushers were Kenneth Foreman of Ranger and Don Williamson of Lubbock.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents seven and a half miles southwest of Grassland.

The serving table was laid with a lace cloth over blue satin and centered with a miniature bridal couple surrounded by greenery and a rose covered miniature picket fence. The centerpiece was a round mirror, and the tiered cake was white with blue decorations.

Mrs. Leona Burkham presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. Daphne Minter served the cake, and Mrs. Arlona Barnes sister of the bridegroom, registered guests.

For the wedding trip to Old Mexico and South Texas, the bride wore a white faille suit with black accessories.

The couple will make their home at 855 13th street in Slaton.

The bride was born and reared in the Grassland community, is a graduate of Tahoka High School and of Abilene Christian College. She now teaches the fifth grade in the Slaton schools, and is a member of the Classroom Teachers Association and of the State Teachers Association.

Mr. Ash is a graduate of Desdemona High School and Ranger Junior College, and is employed in Slaton by the Santa Fe Railway Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Henderson visited in Graham over the week end, and saw the "Icecapades" in Fort Worth Saturday.

Joe Unfred Family, Farm Activities Featured In National House Organ

(Editor's Note: Joe D. Unfred, announced last week as the outstanding 1955 Lynn county conservation farmer, is the subject of a three page story profusely illustrated in the latest issue of "Better Farming for Better Living," national house organ of the Oliver company. In addition, the Lynn county farmer is featured on the magazine cover. Title of the article is "Farming Texas Style is Big and Busy," and most of the article is printed below.)

By R. L. Dinnsen
A few unwitting folks might call Joe D. Unfred a scoundrel, just because he has been up to his ears in one of the biggest cotton field revolutions Texas has ever known. But knowing Joe, we're quite sure any such remarks would be prompted by selfish concern for cotton prices—not from a genuine interest in the well-being of either Texas farmers or the land they operate.

Besides being a farmer of 740 acres of plains country, this big, good-hearted Texan is a conservationist of the first water. And as such, he has shown a lot of folks how to boost cotton yields and how to take better care of the land and water. Unfortunately, the market hasn't been able to pay a decent price for the thousands of tons of cotton that have come as the first fruits of his efforts.

But it hasn't always been that way. In 1926 Joe came with his folks to his present farm from Central Texas. Just once in a while there was enough rainfall to make a profitable crop. Irrigation was unthinkable—there wasn't a water supply within hundreds of miles.

Anybody who knows Joe will tell you it was his dry-land farming experiences as a youth that sparked his interest in soil and water conservation. Now he has a real working conservation plan on his entire farm. More than 75 acres have been bench leveled. Other areas have been terraced and contour listed to save precious moisture. Recently every third row of cotton has been dropped and a row of Austrian Winter Peas mixed with Hairy Vetch has been planted to build up organic matter and protect the soil from winter blowing.

But saving the soil and stopping the runoff wasn't enough—more water was needed. That's why he put his shoulder to the wheel to help organize the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District. Now their thirteen-county area supports a full time hydrologist and a monthly publication promoting better use and conservation of their underground water supply. And as you might expect—Joe Unfred is a committeeman from Lynn County.

How he finds time for so many community activities is a mystery to everybody that knows the Unfreds. As if farming and boosting the conservation programs weren't enough, Joe and his family love to travel. And Joe, himself, is a photographer of far-better-than-average ability. Recently he has ventured into the fascinating field of three-dimension color photography. Now his trips are all recorded in beautiful color and in perspective that really pops right out at you.

Around home, Joe and wife, Betty (a Marysville, Pennsylvania, belle whom he met with a sly bit of conniving, while he was a junior army officer at Indiantown Gap), have their hands full with their three children. Nine-year-old Dave is in fourth grade and likes geography better than anything else—except recess. On the farm, Dave wants to get into 4-H Club as soon as he's old enough. Already he has five acres of cotton that are the best on the hole 740 acres.

Brown-eyed, blonde Nancy just started to school last fall. As yet, she refuses to comment on either her favorite subject or her worldly ambitions. But you need only one look at this cute little trick with a determined chin and a pair of come-hither eyes to predict a parlor full of company just a few years hence—that is, if Joe's photographic escapades don't "discover" her modeling career first.

The third member of the Unfred trio of little shavers is three-year-old Vicki Jo—chestnut brown Texas singer and dancer, extraordinary. That is, as long as you pretend you're paying no attention. Otherwise she's mother's little helper while you're looking—out the door and gone the moment you turn your back. And when she's outside, she's a typical Texas missy—climbing the tallest trees, pedaling her Oliver tractor up and down the road at break-neck speed, or loving the daylight out of an unpedigreed, shaggy, black farm dog named Sparky.

And contrary to the impression lots of Texans would like to have you get, the talents of the three little Unfreds don't stem entirely from their ancestry in the Lone Star State. Their Pennsylvania-born and reared mother has house-keeping and artistic talents plus ambition to match the very best any Texan ever dreamed of. Besides her domestic and motherhood chores, which take priority on her time, Betty has found time to etch a gib 20-inch aluminum tray and twelve matching plates with a very attractive pattern. And you guessed it, the pattern is typically Texan. In addition, she's found time to paint dozens of molded clay figurines and knit two lap-size afghans . . . one of the afghans has won two blue ribbons against local and state competition. Now, she says, as soon as Vicki Jo starts to school, she wants to get a secretarial job.

In every department around the Unfred farm you find impressive

FORD WINS IN ECONOMY TOO!

V-8 WINS CLASS A

In this year's Economy Run a new Ford V-8, with Fordomatic, was the official victor over every car in its field, with a winning average of 47.7643 ton-miles per gallon. This means that the sturdier, heavier Ford carried more weight, with greater gas economy per pound, than any car in its field.

This latest Ford victory was scored over a rough and rigorous 1,468.8-mile route running from Los Angeles to Colorado Springs. Through the heat of Death Valley and over chilling mountain heights . . . through gas-eating city traffic and over the straight-line open road . . . Ford proved anew its traditional reputation for economical performance.

The winning Ford was a regular-production model taken right from the assembly line. It was no different than thousands of '56 Fords you see on the road and in dealer's showrooms. This proves that Ford, the Performance, Style and Safety leader, leads in Economy, too! That adds up to four big reasons why the '56 Ford is worth more when you buy it, while you drive it, and when you sell it, too!

The "ton-mile" formula is used by contest officials to insure equal chance for all cars in each class, regardless of size or weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by the number of miles traveled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.
