Registration Starts For Little League

All Lynn county boys 8 to 12 years of age, who are interested in playing in the Little League this summer are invited to a meeting tonight, Friday, at 7:00 o'clock in the district court room. The boys should be accompanied by their parents.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Clint Walker, league president, is to explain registration rules and to start registering the boys. Every boy who participates must present a birth certificate and have a registration card signed by his parents.

The boundaries of Lynn county are the boundaries of the Lynn County Little League, and all boys within the age limits, wherever they live, may register for play.

However, to play this summer, all boys must either register at this meeting or register at the City Hall by April 25. Registration blanks may be obtained from Tom Bartley at City Hall.

Spring training and try-outs have been set to begin May 3, following which team managers will bid for players as in professional ball but by substituting points for money.

League play is expected to start on May 29. Uniforms and other equipment have already been bought for four teams.

Herman Heck is chairman of the committee on providing the playing field and construction of the field is underway this week at City Park, where the grounds were sodded for the field last year.

The field will be possibly the best Little League park on the South Plains, and will be complete with backstops, a fence back of the baselines, and outfield fences. The field is two-thirds (Cont'd. on back page)

W. B. Slaton Will Come Home Soon

THOMAS SOME BETTER

W. O. Thomas, critically ill in Tahoka Hospital with a heart ailment for several weeks, was reported some better Thursday morning, but little hopes are held for his complete recovery.

C. B. Evans, 62, Prominent Farmer, Took Own Life Wednesday Afternoon

C. B. Evans, Sr., 62, a resident of Lynn county 34 years, in ill health and mentally disturbed for several weeks, took his own life Wednesday at about 4 o'clock at his farm home eight miles southeast of Tahoka.

He had been ill a month or more, and recently spent two weeks in a Plainview Hospital under the care of a psychiatrist. Wednesday afternoon at about 4 o'clock, he told Mrs. Evans he was going outdoors to get a little fresh air. When he failed to return, about thirty minutes later, Mrs. Evans went in search of him. She found the body west of their farm home near a granary.

She called her brother-in-law, Ed Hamilton, who in turn went to the scene with Dr. Noble Atumbo, Sheriff Norvell Redwine, and Justice of the Peace C. A. Clem.

Judge Clem, who rendered a verdict of death by self-inflicted wounds, said Mr. Evans had evidently used a pocket knife to slash his wrists, stab himself in the chest just below the heart, and slash his throat on both sides. After inflicting the wounds, he had closed the pocket knife and put it back in a pocket. Both pants pockets stained with blood indicated he had put both hands in his pockets.

A son, Glenn Ross, who lives in a house on the farm nearby, was visiting a neighbor at the time.

Funeral services will be held today, Friday, at 3:00 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, with Rev. Levi Price of Monahans, former local pastor, and Rev. Clifford Harris, present pastor officiating. Burial will follow in Tahoka Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife; four sons, Clifford of Denton, C. A. of Fort Worth, Willie Joe of O'Donnell, Joy B. with the Army overseas; and one daughter, Mrs. Leona Finney, Germany; one brother, J. B. of O'Donnell; and one sister, Mrs. Ethel Adams of Coolidge.

Mrs. P. H. Renfroe Is Heart Victim

Mrs. P. H. Renfroe, 79, a resident of the New Home community for fifty years, died of a heart attack in West Texas Hospital at 11:05 o'clock Monday night.

She had been slightly ill for only a few weeks, but became seriously ill at about 10 p. m. Monday and was rushed to the hospital in Lubbock, where she died shortly after arrival.

Funeral services were held at the New Home Baptist Church at 2 p. m. Thursday with Rev. Ralph Witt of Amarillo and Rev. Robert Clements, pastor, officiating. Burial followed in East Lawn Memorial Gardens, Lubbock, where other members of her family are buried, under direction of Stanley Funeral Home.

Born Susie Fortenberry at Cameron, Milam county, on July 29, 1876, she was reared there, where she met and was married to the late P. H. Renfroe in 1893. The couple came out to Lubbock in 1905, and settled five (Cont'd. on back page)

New Trustees Named In Five Lynn County School Districts

Huffaker Heads School Board

Tahoka school board was reorganized Tuesday night at a dinner meeting of the new and old board served by the Homemaking girls in the Homemaking Cottage.

Maurice Huffaker was elected the board president to succeed A. M. Bray, and Keவில் Coffman is the new vice president succeeding John Witt. Milton Uzzle was elected secretary.

The election came following the swearing in of Uzzle, O. E. Terry, and Herman Renfro, new trustees elected Saturday to succeed Bray, Witt, and Frank Greathouse. Other members of the board are Dudley Martin and L. A. Forsythe.

Dale Willhoit of Tahoka, who graduated from Texas Tech last spring, was elected to teach science in the high school.

Junior Montemayor was elected as a building custodian to succeed Elgin Harper, resigned.

Two high school teachers do not expect to return next year. J. C. Koen expects to teach English at Shallowater, and Don Seely will return to college.

Several problems before the board were discussed, but no other action was taken.

Trustees were elected by the five Lynn county school districts in the annual election held last Saturday.

In Tahoka district, O. E. (Earl) Terry, Herman Renfro, and Milton Uzzle were elected to succeed A. M. Bray, John Witt, and Frank Greathouse. Others on the board are Maurice Huffaker, Keவில் Coffman, Dudley Martin, and L. A. Forsythe, the latter recently appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Felix Jones, who moved to Pecos.

Exactly 450 votes were cast in the election here, Maurice Small reports. Terry received 400 votes, Renfro 332, Uzzle 299, Charles Verner 187, and R. W. (Slick) Clem 121.

At Wilson, where 106 votes were cast, Clarence Church and T. B. Mason, present incumbents, and Lloyd Mears were elected in a very close race. Mears nosed out Erwin Sander, a present board member, 55 votes to 52.

Church received 58, Mason 54, Warner Klaus 51, and Jiggs Swann 42.

In the largest turn-out of voters in the history of the O'Donnell district, J. W. Gardenhire, president, and Dave B. McMillan, vice-president, were re-elected and Bart Anderson was named a new member of the board from a field of seven candidates in another close race.

McMillan led the ticket with 137 votes, Gardenhire had 110, Anderson 106, L. L. Bircher 99, B. B. Vestal 97, Julian W. Pirtle 95, and Paul Mansell 92, according to Mrs. Mack Noble, election judge.

Aubrey Smith, board president, and Joe D. Unfred were re-elected at New Home, and E. M. Rudd was named a new member of the board to succeed Adrian Evans, who was not a candidate for another term.

New Home also reported the heaviest vote ever cast there, a total of 173, which was distributed as follows: Smith 147, Unfred 137, Rudd 130, Dick Turner 38, Cecil G. Keith 35, and L. D. Halford 32.

Grassland cast 34 votes to elect Kelly Laws and Glenn Norman to its board to succeed H. W. (Sam) Edwards Jr. and A. L. Norman, who did not run for reelection. Laws received 23 votes, Norman 19, Marion Inkeberger 8, Harry Lee Shart 7, Ollie J. Stanley 7, and Vic Lauderdale 4.

Re-elected to the county board of trustees were Fritz Speckman of Lakeview for commissioner's precinct 4 and Graham Hensley of Draw for precinct 2.

Morgan Seeking Precinct Post

C. E. (Curtis) Morgan announces this week that he is a candidate for county commissioner, Precinct 1.

Curtis was practically reared in Lynn county, having come here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morgan, in 1916. He farms the home place in the Garnolia community.

He feels that he knows well the problems of the precinct and county, and that he is qualified for the job. For seven years, under two commissioners, he operated road machinery in the precinct and feels he knows something about improving the dirt roads.

He hopes to contact the voters between now and election day on July 28, and in the meantime asks that citizens give his candidacy thoughtful consideration.

Remind Public Of Creel Limits

Austin, April 12 —Exceptional fishing in some fresh water areas this spring has prompted some abuses of the state law on creel limits, reports the Director of Law Enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said field reports indicate "several" of the anglers did not know the limits on various species or were too busy pulling in their catch to determine whether their string was legal.

The Director said the principal abuses were simply in catching too many fish but that some cases were made for keeping fish that were too small. He added that the principal complaints were for taking too many crappie or white perch which have been biting ferociously in many areas. Wardens also cited a substantial number of cases involving too many black bass. Some persons have been found with as many as three times the limit on crappie.

The limits on different species oftentimes vary by localities but here is the official bag limit as prescribed by the Legislature:

Large-mouth black bass, small-mouth black bass, spotted bass, or any subspecies of these fish, singly or in the aggregate, fifteen (15); of which not more than ten (10) shall be of greater length than eleven (11) inches. White bass, twenty-five (25); blue catfish, channel catfish and yellow catfish, singly or in the aggregate, twenty-five (25); crappie or white perch, twenty-five (25).

In those counties where sale of catfish is permitted, this limitation as to possession of catfish does not apply to persons having a commercial fisherman's license, wholesale fish dealer's license,

Congratulations:

The mother is the former Jerrie Hyles, of Tahoka. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hyles of Tahoka and Mrs. Jewel McKinney of Lamesa.

S. J. Akin, 91, entered Tahoka Hospital Tuesday night as a medical patient. His condition was not considered serious, hospital attendants said.

wholesale truck dealer's license, or retail fish dealer's license. Sale of bass or crappie or white perch prohibited in all counties.

The Director said many persons were becoming involved because of ignorance of or indifference toward fresh water fishing equipment. He quoted the General Law:

Ordinary pole and line, set line, seines or nets of not less than three-inch mesh permitted. Seine or net made of wire or other metallic substance is prohibited. Minnow seines not more than twenty feet in length are permitted for taking minnows and rough fish, and fruit jars with funnel attached are permitted for taking minnows. Cast nets permitted on rough fish. All other methods or means of taking fish are prohibited unless specially noted on the local level.

The Director cautioned that persons in doubt about licenses requirements, bag limits and fishing equipment should consult the Game and Fish Law Digest or a local game warden.

Bertice Askew Carries On Diversified Farm Program

Bertice Askew is the owner of Mystery Farm No. 89, located a mile north of Wells, in the southwest part of the county.

Fred McGinty was the first town reader and J. F. Brandon the first rural reader to identify it. Others included F. E. Redwine, H. G. Franklin, and Mrs. Bertice Askew.

Askew bought the half section farm in 1946, and moved on it in 1947. He built the house shown in the picture in 1949. This place was formerly owned by Claude Tyler, who now lives in Arkansas.

Bertice Askew has lived in Lynn county 36 years, coming to the Wells community in 1920 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Askew, who still live nearby. The Askews are among the most prominent and successful farm families of this area.

Bertice was married in 1940 to Miss Madeline Morrison, daughter of C. B. Morrison and his late wife. Madeline was born in Lynn county in the old Pride community, her parents being pioneer settlers of that area. The couple have three children, two girls and a boy, who attend school in O'Donnell. They are Benna Layne, 13, Lyndol, 10, and Jo Ella, 7. Lyndol is already following in the footsteps of his dad and his two grandfathers. He is in 4-H club work, and recently showed livestock in the community and county shows.

Bertice Askew is a director of Wells Coop Gin and of the Lynn County Farm Bureau. He served on the Wells school board before that district's consolidation with O'Donnell.

In addition to cotton and maize, Askew carries on a well rounded livestock production program. He has 300 caged layers, sells the eggs on the local market, and finds his chickens profitable. He raises registered Duroc hogs, and also supplements his income with milk cows and beef cattle. Right now, he has a few head of beef cattle, but he usually converts a lot of his feed crop into beef.

He believes such a program is much better than depending on cotton and maize alone.

J. E. Sessums has sold his Phillips 66 service station to L. B. Thompson, and the latter took over the business about two weeks ago.

Pre-Irrigation Hints Given

(By William E. Crabtree, Agriculture Engineer, Soil Cons. Service.)

Now that we are in the middle of pre-irrigation season, we should do a little checking to see what type of job we are doing. There are several things that could be done that might improve the efficiency of this irrigation.

After the free water has soaked into the soil, but the ground is still muddy, take a steel rod and push it down until it becomes hard to push. This will indicate the depth that has been wetted. After checking the depth of irrigation up and down the row, it could also mean that the irrigation that is being applied.

Chances are, in most cases, that the water has gone deeper at the ends of the row than in the middle. This will indicate that the length of the rows are too long. It could also mean that the irrigation time is too long.

After checking the field by the probing method, it may be found out that the depth is not as much as thought. If this is the case, the water is being pushed across the land too fast. Then the necessary changes could be made for this correction, by having a longer set.

A better result can be obtained by waiting until the water has gone in as much as it will and

Tech Coach Is Speaker Here

"Bud" Sherrod, an assistant coach of the Texas Tech Red Raiders, was the speaker at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Mr. Sherrod, who was an all American end at Tennessee during his college days, told of Tech football prospects for the coming year, plans for enlarging the stadium to an ultimate seating capacity of 65,000, schedules for the coming years, and prospects of the college gaining entrance in the Southwestern Conference at the May 12 meeting.

Even if Tech gets in the Conference, which the coaching staff now thinks is a certainty, the Raiders will not be able to play a full conference schedule until about 1961. This is due to the fact that football schedules are made up long in advance. However, five of the seven Southwestern Conference schools have already made either official or verbal commitments with Tech for games on a permanent basis, and Arkansas is interested in making its game with Tech the annual Thanks giving classic.

The speaker was introduced by Truett Smith, program chairman. Walton Terry and Ronnie Brooks were introduced as the Junior Rotarians for the month of April.

Secretary Alton Cain reported an attendance average of 96.25 percent for the month of March.

Ves Terry of Sudan reported the Sudan Rotary club has had 32 one hundred percent meetings out of the last 40.

Local high school coaches and several of the high school athletes were guests at the meeting.

Several local Rotary Club members expect to attend the District Conference being held in Leveland Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Walter Gasper Jr. Writes On Importance of Soil Conservation

(Editor's Note: Following is the third place winning essay on Soil Conservation written by Walter Gasper, Jr., a student in New Home High School.

(By Walter Gasper, Jr.)

Down through the ages man has depended largely upon the soil for his many needs. Man has taken much fertility from the soil, but has given little back in return. Continual taking from the soil without putting anything back into it will soon slow down productivity. When this soil becomes depleted man will have to take long years building it back or he will have to find a new source of those necessities which the soil produces. Also, when our land stops producing, the majority of the people will be out of work.

The basic economy of nearly every country depends upon the fertility of the land. In our own country nearly all the land is in production.

Many large and small cities depend on farming around the city for much of their food supply. Manufacturing businesses depend upon farms for their raw materials. Packing houses must have the food and other materials to pack. It is sometimes hard for us to see that the soil will not go on producing for ever. We often think of it as something that will always be here for the rest of time working for us. The people of the world must awaken to the fact that only through careful care and management will our soil continue producing at its best.

Baptist W. M. U. Has Service Program

The W. M. U. of the First Baptist Church met at the church Monday for the Royal Service program, with 18 members present.

The program was led by Mrs. Everton Nevill, and opened with a song, "Story to Tell to the Nation." A special prayer for the Missionaries on the prayer calendar for the day was given by Mrs. Clifford Harris.

Scripture reading was from Matt. 28:1-8. Mrs. John A. Roberts gave a prayer for each society member, that Christ's command "Go tell" applies to every Christian, whether she serves at home or as an appointed missionary.

The program was titled, "Tell Them of Jesus the Mighty to Save," and was carried out in a round table discussion from the following: Mmes. W. P. Hutchison, John A. Roberts, Truett Smith, K. R. Durham, Clyde Allen, and C. J. Bohanan. Following a song, "Jesus Saves," Mrs. Dub Kenley gave the dismissal prayer.

Next Monday, the W. M. U. will meet in circles for Mission study book, "Tribes Go Up." Meetings will be in the following homes: Walker Circle, Mrs. Joe L. Nevill; Sallee Circle, Mrs. K. R. Durham; Sharpley Circle, Mrs. Ivan McWhirter; and Wingo Circle, Mrs. Waltha Littlepage. All are urged to attend and learn more about the Indian people.—Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to take this method of thanking our many friends and neighbors, pastor and wife, doctors and nurses, and loved ones for the prayers, visits, cards, letters, help, words of encouragement, flowers, and everything that made our long sickness and hospital stay more bearable. There may be people as good elsewhere, but none better than we have here. May God bless each and every one, is our prayer.—Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Sewell.

A former Lynn county ginner and farm owner was among the six West Texans killed in a plane crash near Jalapa, Mexico, Tuesday afternoon.

He is Charles C. Coffee, 57, former partner in the New Lynn gin, former owner of the T-Bar gin, and owner of a half section farm in the T-Bar community, who moved from here to Lubbock in 1944 and was living at 3419, 21st street in that city.

New Minister At Grassland Church

(Contributed)

The Grassland Church of Christ is happy to announce to this community and to our brethren in this area that we consider that we are very fortunate in securing the services of Bro. J. David Taylor and invite you to hear him preach at Grassland Church every time you can.

Brother Taylor has known us and ones who have been closely associated with us and himself for some time before we secured his services. Brother Taylor is an able proclaimer of the Gospel and his wife is a most capable helper in his great work.

We want all to know that we are very happy to have them labor with us at Grassland and that we are behind Bro. Taylor fully.

Bro. Taylor is a native of North Georgia and is very proud of it. His father was an elder in the Church and a preacher also.

(By E. I. The Elder)

For various reasons, I had not been able to get far out of the woods last week in telling about Stephen F. Austin's initial work in beginning his colonization program when Time and Tide ran out on me and I had to close the story rather abruptly. I did mention, however, that he had selected a site for his colony, the number of families or single men he proposed to place on the site, and the number of acres each married man might occupy for himself, his wife, each child, and each slave; and how many acres each single man might occupy. I did not state then but I do state now that he, Austin, was to receive twelve and one-half cents for each acre that any settler might occupy, for his services in surveying the settler's land, perfecting the title thereto and for other necessary expenses pertaining to the matter. The settler was to improve the land as he might see fit. He agreed to place as many as 300 families as settlers in his colony. He proceeded vigorously and intelligently upon the accomplishment of his task and soon reached the goal. While his was the largest and most successful of all the colonies established, yet many other men of intelligence and the proper qualification were granted the privilege of establishing other colonies on terms similar to those granted to Austin. These promoters and establishers of colonies were called Empresarios, the Spanish word Empresario meaning the independent manager or operator of an important business or enterprise, in this case the ruler of the colony.

Other important colonies were those established by Green De Witt, who also came from Missouri, and who established a colony west of the Colorado River; Hayden Edwards, who obtained a grant for the settlement of 800 families at and in the vicinity of Nacogdoches; and the colonies established by Benjamin Milam, Gen. James Wilkinson, Sterling Clark Robertson, David G. Burnet, Robert Leftwich, Martin de Leon, Lorenzo de Zavala, Joseph Vehlin, and several others; whose colonies covered most of east, central, and south Texas.

Stephen Austin's colony had the most rapid growth, and his goal of 300 families was soon reached, and he was then given other grants, and by the end of the first ten years his colonies alone contained a population of 5,000.

Of course the two Austins, father and son, Moses and Stephen F., were responsible for the whole colonization project; for Moses Austin had come to Texas and gotten the original grant for the colonization of Texas, and upon his death, Stephen Austin had taken up the enterprise and had gotten a renewal of the rights originally granted to his father, but soon found it necessary to go to Mexico City himself to get all the knots untangled, struck out to that city on horseback, was kept waiting there for months and was then cast into prison and detained for other months, and then started the settlement of his colony before others had been granted any right to plant colonies. If he had not gotten the ball to rolling of course nobody else could have started it—not at that time, at least.

When the Austins started the project in 1820, it is claimed that there were not more than 7000 Americans of all types in Texas. Ten years later there were doubtless at least 20,000 United States Americans in Texas; and when the Texas Revolution broke out in 1836, it is estimated that the population had increased to at least 35,000 and possibly as much as 50,000.

All of which shows that the colonization project had been a howling success, and that the time for the conversion of this veritable wilderness into a magic land of milk and honey had long since been over due.

Now, for the present, I am going to turn aside from this marvelous story of Stephen Austin and his work and try to emphasize the importance of blocking in some way the most unwise course, it seems to me, that the supposedly wisest body of men in the United States seems bent on pursuing regardless of consequences. In the face of all the uproar and clamor and confusion and violence that recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States have caused, it seems that a group of wise men would stop and think and take precautions not to stir up a million or so other hornets nests in nearly every state of this Union, North and East and West as well as South if there is any reasonable and sensible way for the Court to avoid it. And surely our Constitution is not so harsh and unreasonable, inflexible, unpliant, rigid, and stiff that it can not be used for the protection of the people against the rattlesnakes and vipers of Communism that have been sticking their heads up through so many crevices the past few years, even in Government offices right in the city of Washington, the Capitol of our country, in which the Supreme Court sits and renders its decisions.

Advertise in The News.

Possibly somebody wants me to explain. Well, I am referring to the action of the Supreme Court just a few days ago when it declared invalid all state laws that undertake to kill the snakes of Communism that may be found raising their heads in hidden places, or that may be heard rattling their threats in some morally filthy brush pile, or hissing under some college or university doorstep.

Probably you saw the news story about the Supreme Court knocking out the state sedition laws but you didn't take time to read it carefully and to catch the significance of the decision. Well, the Court of course passed on only one case but in declaring that the defendant was prosecuted and convicted by a state court which it claimed had no authority or jurisdiction over such matters and thereupon turning him loose, it outlawed all such prosecutions by state courts all over the United States.

Here was the case. The defendant in this case was a man named Nelson, a "long-time Communist party functionary" who lived in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania had a state law against sedition—making it unlawful, in other words, for any person to advocate the overthrow of the Government by force. He was tried and found guilty in a state court and his punishment was fixed at 20-years imprisonment. Nelson appealed to the state supreme court, and it set aside the conviction on the grounds that the Smith Act, a Federal law, superseded the state law. Then the State of Pennsylvania appealed to the Supreme court, asking that it order the case to be re-instated and that the judgment of guilty be affirmed. But the Supreme Court refused to do so and dismissed the case.

Now there is such a thing as Federal Law and State Laws on the same subject running concurrent, where there is no conflict. In other words, A man can be tried and convicted in either a state court or a federal court, where the state and federal laws do not conflict—but not so in this case; a majority of the Court held. Federal courts alone have authority to handle such cases, and state courts have no business fooling with them, it says.

Forty-two of the states in this Union have Sedition laws, we are told, but not a one of them hereafter can legally prosecute a Communist for plotting against the Federal Government. He may plot against a state to his heart's content but the State can do nothing about it. Inferentially, no sheriff or other state officer would have a right to arrest him. And if he should arrest the dirty cur he could only turn him over to some federal officer to be prosecuted in a federal court.

Texas passed an anti-Communist law in 1954 as an additional weapon with which to make our state and our country secure against the dirty work of Communists and their fellow-travelers. And Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepard says he thinks this ruling of the Supreme Court not only knocks out our ability to suppress Communism by law but also is another stunning blow against States' Rights.

Representative Howard Smith of Virginia, author of the Smith Anti-Subversive Act immediately registered a protest and called for the enactment of a law permitting states to prosecute persons who seek to bring about the violent overthrow of the Government. Representative Velde of Illinois, a Republican, who is a member of the House committee on Un-American Activities, is quoted as saying: "Nelson is one of the most dangerous Communists" in the country.

It seems to me that this decision is just another evidence of the Supreme Courts determination to centralize all power in the Federal Government in Washington and wipe out States' Rights utterly. We think its power should be curbed; that a Constitutional Amendment should be submitted and adopted that would more definitely and clearly define the powers of the Supreme Court and more definitely and positively define the rights that are reserved to the states.

I think too that the people have a right to know who these men are who are rendering all these disturbing decisions. So, I am going to give my readers some information respecting these nine men who constitute the Court—not in any vengeful spirit, but I believe that we have a right to know who our servants are, some of their background, their past achievements, and their political records.

First I give you the personnel of the present Court: of which former Senator Earl Warren of California is the Chief Justice, by appointment made by Ex-President Harry Truman on March 2, 1953;

No. 2, Asso. Justice Hugo L. Black, of Alabama, appointed Aug. 12, 1937;

No. 3, Asso. Justice Stanley Reed of Kentucky appointed Jan. 15, 1938;

No. 4, Asso. Justice Felix Frankfurter, Mass, appointed Jan. 5, 1939;

No. 5, Wm. O. Douglas, Conn., appointed March 20, 1939;

No. 6, Robert H. Jackson, New York, appointed Jan. 12, 1941;

No. 7, Harold H. Burton, Ohio, appointed September 18, 1945;

No. 8, Thomas C. Clark, of Texas, appointed July 28, 1949;

No. 9, Sherman Minton of Indiana, appointed Sept. 15, 1949.

All of these appointments were made by Democratic Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. The first six Associate Justices named were appointed by Roosevelt and the Chief Justice and the last two Associate Justices were appointed by Truman.

Four of the Associate Justices, Black, Reed, Frankfurter, and Douglas were appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt during or soon after he staged that Court-Packing program in 1937 through 1939, during which time one member of the Supreme Court resigned and another prospective appointee died, which gave him the opportunity to appoint two members and thereby accomplish his purpose in part after all.

Now, let us take a little further look at the present members of the Court. We will begin with the Chief Justice, Earl Warren of California, who was appointed to the place just a little more than three years ago by President Harry Truman. He had been a Progressive or Liberal Republican, I believe, according to present-day congressional cloak-room and Main Street side-walk talk, a man that most of us had come to admire sincerely, but lately, as head of that Court, he has been tearing our little playhouse down for us and making kindling wood of it.

Hugo Black was the first man that President Roosevelt appointed to the Supreme Court when he undertook to rebuild it. Black had been a leading Ku-Klux-Klan bigwig in Birmingham and got elected to some judicial office on that score, but foreseeing the beginning of the end for that once-powerful organization, he came out strong for Franklin D.'s Court-Packing scheme early in the fight, and the first time Franklin D. got a chance he rewarded him by giving him a seat on the big judicial bench. And so he is still there today, but some of his decisions the past year or two have not brought him many whoops of approval down in old Alabama except from the Authurine Lucy brunette brigades.

Mr. Stanley Reed, the next man on the list of present-day Justices of the Supreme Court, was a Solicitor-General in the Department of Justice in 1937 when President Roosevelt was putting on his Court-Packing drive. Of course he was enthusiastic for the drive, and so when there was another opening, the President seated him on the Court. And so he is still there. A native of Kentucky, he was a shrewd politician before he got appointed to that high-up official seat, which he seems of as fully intent on keeping as any colored lady in Alabama seated on a forbidden seat in a Montgomery segregated bus.

Next comes Mr. Justice Felix Frankfurter. I am not sure, but I think he is a Jew or Hebrew by nationality. I have learned little about him except that in the early Roosevelt days he was a red-hot New-Dealer. So far as I know, he is a splendid gentleman and learned jurist, and President Roosevelt doubtless felt that he needed him on the court to counter-act the criticism that the earlier appointment of an Alabama Ku-Kluxer had brought upon him.

President Roosevelt's fourth appointee to the high court was William O. Douglas of Connecticut. I have little information about him pro or con. Doubtless he is a lovable Connecticut Yankee, but a Dixie Rebel Yell is just about as pleasing to him, I guess, as a blood-curdling cry of an Algonquian Indian on the war path would be. I hope he comes to love us better.

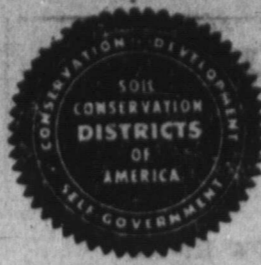

Robert H. Jackson of New York was President Roosevelt's last appointee to the Supreme Court. I have always thought a lot of the Jacksons, both the common folks and the higher-ups but this is the first New York Jackson I have ever heard of. Not knowing anything about him, I take it for granted that he is a fine gentleman and an able jurist. But I do not believe that he could be related to the famous Andrew or the long-lamented Stonewall, for they had the Southern view point of things, political and social, especially about States' Rights.

The remaining three members of the Supreme Court were appointed by President Truman.

Harold H. Burton of Ohio was appointed by Pres. Truman on September 18, 1945. He had been a prominent U. S. Senator and was regarded as an able one. But I am not conversant with his political record, though I am sure that he has had little contact with our colored friends and knows little of the seriousness of the problems with which he and his associates have been thrusting lately upon the South.

Sherman Minton of Indiana was appointed to the Supreme Court by Truman on September 15, 1949. He is one of the men who stoutly backed Roosevelt's Court-Packing drive in 1937. That is all I can say about him.

Tom Clark of Texas was appointed by Truman to the Supreme Court on July 28, 1949. I believe that he was fifty years old at the time. Texas lawyers generally regarded him as a very able lawyer, but there were doubtless hundreds of lawyers in the state just as able as was he at the time but only one of them could be appointed to the position, and Tom Clark was the lucky man. Many Texans do feel, however, that since he was thoroughly conversant with the relation of the two principal races of this country in Texas and in the South and understands the race problem in the South he ought at least to have protested against the Court's de-

ETIMER BLANKENSHIP

Those who plan to plant summer legumes should begin to make arrangements for obtaining seed. There are several warm season legumes that can be expected to produce in the Lynn district. Sesbania is a new one that is satisfactory for both dry land and irrigation, and is planted at the rate of eight to sixteen pounds per acre. The seed are small enough to plant with a sorghum plate in the planter box. It is used just for soil improving purposes as there is no other market value for the seed. Guar is useful for a soil improving crop and also the seed have commercial value for milling. New varieties of guar are being tested that have indications of out producing the Texas native now being used in this area. Mung beans have been produced successfully on the high plains and have one advantage that it may be interplanted in the row with cisions respecting the race during the past three years.

Now, folks, in nothing we have said have we intended to be disrespectful of the Supreme Court. If any member of it should visit Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, Lubbock, Amarillo, or any other sizable city or town from the Rio Grande River to the Red, from the pines of the southeast to the Panhandle and the Plains of the north-west we believe that he would be met with the utmost respect and expressions of loyalty to our common country, but respecting some of its recent opinions, "Them's our sentiments."—Bye.

gain sorghums and not interfere with combining operations.

The local ASC office offers payment on the planting of Cowpea, (other than Blackeye, Creams, Purplehulls and crowders) and guar. Guar is planted at the rate of seven to ten pounds per acre. In regular width rows and grain sorghum plates may be used for planting.

Soil Conservation Service assigned to the District checked terraces for completion on Jackie Meeks farm north of Grassland, and on Dr. Surman's farm near Redwine that is operated by Eris Miller. A soil and water conservation farm plan was made on Dr. Surman's place where plans are to develop irrigation, plant legumes and some grasses.

The Board of Supervisors held their regular meeting last Friday. Plans were made to distribute material to ministers in the District.
