STANDING ON THE CORNER

With P. J.

Christianity is more than a storm cellar; it is a way of life.—Rev. S. Peters.

Have you ever gone out to the trash barrel and found that a dog has turned it over and spread the garbage all over the alley? If so, you know just exactly how the men in Tahoka's sanitation department feel when they try to empty a barrel that has no bottom. They will appreciate your cooperation in helping them keep Tahoka clean.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gagnat and daughter, Mrs. Charles Verner, were to arrive home Wednesday from a month's vacation in Hawaii. The ladies played in a bridge tournament, and by piecing together information, must have come out in the top five in their event. We also heard a report that Myrna took hula lessons but Charlie says he won't confirm the report until he sees a demonstration.

Last week Granvel Ayer came in and said he had an idea for this column. The only thing, he couldn't remember what it was or who it was about. He was a great help!

We stamp our own value upon ourselves, and we cannot expect to pass for more.—Cheer.

Randolph Rutherford nearly bought a new car last week. He's found just what he wants. It's a yellow custom made job put together with parts from several well-known makes of cars. And the reason he didn't buy it? The price tag—$11,000.

Rev. S. M. Bean, pastor of the Methodist Church at Grassland, brought in the following little story which appeared in the Troy (Cont'd. On Back Page)

O'Donnell Man Television Star

On Nov. 1, O'Donnell's newest television star will appear on the "90 Minute Playhouse" in the play, "Sigman and Son" on his way to establishing a name for himself in the newest medium of entertainment.

Bobby Dan Blocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shack Blocker of O'Donnell, whose home is now in California appeared in "Cheyenne" recently and was also seen in "Gun Smoke." The new show stars Eddie Cantor, Farley Granger, Peter Lorrie and Mona Freeman. He also has a part in "Sheriff of the Concho."

He recently accepted a job as a teacher in the Glendale, Calif. schools, then took up a hobby of appearing on TV shows, and it's been a steady climb up the ladder since.

He attended school in O'Donnell although he was born in DeKalb. He also attended Texas Military Institute at San Antonio, Hardin Simmons University at Abilene, and received his bachelor's degree at Sul Ross State College in Alpine. He spent two years with the Army in Korea and in nine months time he helped take "Old Baldy" 11 times, he said.

After he returned to the States he married Miss Dolphia Parker at Alpine and studied for his Master's degree at Sul Ross.

MRS. DRAPER IMPROVES Mrs. I. M. Draper, who is in serious condition in Tahoka Hospital following a severe heart attack, was reported Thursday morning to be showing some improvement. Attendants say she had a good night Wednesday and was resting well Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman and sons, Joe Loyd, Greg, and Roger, visited Mrs. Freeman's mother, Mrs. Winston Davies, and family in New Home Saturday night.

Many Homecoming Events For Nov. 2

Homecoming for Tahoka High School ex-students and ex-teachers will be held Friday, Nov. 2, when the Tahoka Bulldogs meet the Slaton Tigers in a conference tilt.

The Student Council, headed by Kent Gibson, along with the Ex-Students Association will sponsor the event which will officially begin at 1:00 p. m. and continue through the day.

Registration will begin at 1:00 p. m. at the high school building and the customary program sponsored by the Student Council will begin at 1:30 p. m. in the auditorium, according to Lester Adams, sponsor.

First Lt. Dwaine Carter, a 1948 graduate and ex-letterman of Tahoka High School, will be the principal speaker at the afternoon event. He is in the Naval Air Force stationed at Pensacola, Fla.

At 6:00 p. m. a dinner will be served to ex-students and ex-teachers and their husbands and wives at the school cafeteria. Tickets, which will be $1.50, will go on sale next week, according to C. W. Conway, president of the Ex-Students Association, and those who plan to attend are urged to buy their tickets early or contact him or Mrs. Turner Rogers, secretary, in advance.

The 1956 football queen will be crowned at half-time activities of the football game to be held on that night at Kelley Field. She will be elected by the T-Club, and as has been the custom for several years, her identity will remain a secret until the coronation ceremonies. The Bulldog Band will also perform at half-time in conjunction with the ceremony.

At the afternoon program free tickets to the football game will be awarded the ex-student who has traveled the longest distance to attend and to the oldest ex-student present. Tickets will also be given to ex-lettermen and reserved seats will be available on the sidelines for them during the game.

Following the dinner to be held preceding the game, a business meeting will be held of the Ex-Students Association and officers for the coming year will be elected. Entertainment will also be furnished during the meal.

Officers in addition to Conway are Robert Harvick, vice-president; Mrs. Turner Rogers, secretary; and Mrs. Olen Renfro, reporter. Conway announces that cards will not be sent to ex-students living inside of Lynn County, but to those only who have moved away.

Tahoka Cubs In Model Meet

Tahoka Cub Scouts, Pack 82, will present the ideal pack meeting at Camp Post Saturday at 6:45 p. m. when the 78 packs in Quannah Parker District meet for the annual Pow Wow.

Clint Walker, assistant Cub Master, will be in charge of the local Cub's presentation.

Beginning at 2:00 p. m. a training program for den mothers will be held. The meeting will also include a tour of Camp Post which will be held during the interval between the training program and pack meeting.

Cub Master A. G. Meadows urges all Cubs, parents, and others to attend the meeting. He said that the ideal meeting presentation to the district is a privilege and honor for the Tahoka pack.

ATTEND CONVENTION County Agent and Mrs. Bill Griffin expect to leave Sunday for Houston, where they will attend next week the annual meeting of the National Association of County Agents.

Homecoming At New Home Today

New Home ex-students will return to their school tonight when Homecoming activities will be held in their honor.

Main event will be the football game between the New Home Leopards and the Wilson Mustangs.

Preceding the game, from 6:00 to 7:30 p. m., the New Home PTA will serve a chuck wagon supper in the school cafeteria. Tickets will be $1.00 each and the public, as well as the ex-students are invited to attend.

Miss Kay Smith, freshman student, will be crowned 1956 football queen at half-time activities of the game when football boys and pep squad girls will participate. The queen's attendants will be Mary Barnett, senior, Virginia Smith, junior, Rachel Hidalgo, sophomore and Judy Milliken, freshman.

Majorettes, Gail Keith and Sandra Scott, will present special entertainment in a feature attraction at the half-time.

Preparations have been made for the occasion by the New Home Student Council, pep squad, and the Ex-Students Association.

Absentee Voting Now Possible

Although absentee voting began here Wednesday, only applications had been filed at the county clerk's office Thursday, according to Mrs. Beulah Pridmore.

The voters who expect to be out of town on election day, Nov. 6, have until Nov. 2 to cast their votes, Mrs. Pridmore said.

Extension Given On Grain Program

Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farm Home Administration, today advised Perry Walker, County Supervisor of the extension of the Emergency Feed Grain Program in Lynn County. Under this extension, farmers and ranchers may now file application through December 3, 1956 for a supply of feed grain necessary to carry basic livestock herds through December 31, 1956.

This extension of the Emergency Feed Grain program now coincides with the assistance available under the Roughage Program for Texas, and enables county FFA committees to consider total feed requirements, both roughage and grain, through December 31, 1956.

PLAN ANNIVERSARY St. John Lutheran Church of Wilson is planning to celebrate its fortieth anniversary with an all-day service this coming January 27th, according to Rev. Malcolm E. Hoffman, the pastor.

Silver Dollars In Circulation

The mystery of the silver dollars has been solved.

Last Friday evening and Saturday, local merchants were somewhat mystified when a flood of silver dollars suddenly began filling the cash registers. In fact, 2,400 of them were put into circulation.

E. R. Edwards, manager of Union Compress, has admitted that he is responsible for the sudden flood of silver.

Late Friday, he paid the 55 workers at the compress their wages in silver dollars, and he had a purpose in the action.

Mr. Edwards simply wanted to impress on the business institutions of Tahoka the importance of the Union Compress in the economy of this community.

Even last week, the payroll was far from its peak. Some weeks there are 75 employees, and before many farmers started sending their cotton to Lubbock compresses he paid off 100 or more hands on peak weeks.

Mr. Edwards says the farmers can help home industry and business, all of which the farmers in one way or another, by asking their gins to send cotton to the home compress.

Breeder Program Meeting Called

Another meeting of farmers interested in the breeder hen program has been called for Wednesday, Oct. 31, at 8:00 p. m. at Dale Thuren Farm Store in Tahoka.

Date for the placing of the hens has been extended a month, until December, and provisions have been made for lowering the requirements, and cost, of housing necessary for participation in the project. The News is informed. Under the plan, participants in the program would be guaranteed at least 65 cents for fertile eggs, Thuren says.

A number of farmers have expressed interest in the project, and a few are making plans to participate. Possibly moving the date down later will make it possible for others to take part.

Brotherhood Will Hear New Pastor

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday night, Oct. 22, when Rev. Ray Cunningham, pastor of the Sweet Street Baptist Church, will be the speaker.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. with supper and the program following.

CHILD BREAKS ARM

Gary Brooks, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Neely Brooks, broke his right arm Friday night after the football game while playing on a slide on the school grounds. He had been attending the supper given for the football boys following the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim White and son, Jimmie, attended the funeral of Mrs. M. D. Wagner in Odessa Sunday.

Rain And Hail Damage Crops, Delay Harvesting of Cotton

Rain, hail, and fog plagued farmers this week when the harvesting of crops was slowed down, and damage in some areas is expected to prove extensive.

Wednesday night .75 inch of rain was measured in Tahoka, and most of the county received a similar amount. Another .31 had fallen up to 1:00 p. m. Thursday. Draw is reported to have had two inches. A. W. Salder, who lives north of Newmoore reported 4.56 inches this week and much damage to open cotton. This brings the rain in Tahoka to 1.13 for the month and

.94 inches for the year, only about half the average annual rainfall.

Hail was spotted over the county Sunday and Monday night, but in most instances was very light. Some areas received rain Sunday, but the biggest downfall was reported Monday night where two inches were measured at the home of O. C. Roberts in the western portion of the county. However, only .70 fell on one portion of his farm land.

New Home reported only a shower Sunday but a little hail and what was described as a pretty good rain fell about three miles south of Lakeview. A good shower was reported northeast of New Home.

West Point had only a shower Sunday but reported .80 Monday night. Draw received about .30 of rain Sunday although there was a little hail spotted around Draw. While Grassland received only a trace of moisture, the Wells and Newmoore area reported from .20 at the S. J. Walters place to .80 at the W. A. Jordan place west of Wells.

Fog blanketed the area Tuesday and Wednesday mornings bringing a continuance of damp weather.

45,000 Bales Of Cotton Ginned

Cotton harvesting has been slowed down by the rain and damp weather this week, but a survey shows that Tahoka's four gins have put out 7,215 bales this year. Using this figure, an estimated 43,290 have been ginned over the county up to date.

If estimates by the Texas Employment Commission are right as to the total number of bales, 80,000, to be ginned in Lynn County this year then over half of the crop has been pulled.

Gins were almost at a standstill here Thursday morning and one estimated that it had lost about 50 bales this week because of the weather. However, hands have been shifted to dry areas each day, the gin manager said, and the cotton flow has continued at least in the afternoons.

Little League Meeting Called

The annual meeting of the Tahoka Little League will be held next Tuesday night, October 23, in the American Legion Hall beginning at 7:30.

According to Clint Walker, President of the Little League, new officers will be elected and an annual report of the Little League will be given. All officers, sponsors, parents, and anyone interested in this program, are urged to attend this meeting.

New Chevrolet On Display Here Today

Today is open house at Bray Chevrolet Co. when the new 1957 Chevrolet cars and trucks will be on display.

Following the custom of the past several years a gift bottle of Prince Matchabelli's perfume will be given to the ladies and other favors will also be given away. The new cars are reported to be longer and lower than ever before and are featured in 20 new models with many new features.

Advertising doesn't cost, it pays.

Layman's Day At Grassland Church

Next Sunday is Layman's Day at Grassland Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. S. M. Bean reports, and a special program has been planned for the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Smith of O'Donnell will be the speakers for the occasion.

Open House At T-Bar Oct. 28

Open house for the newly constructed T-Bar Country Club and its club house will be held Sunday, Oct. 28, from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.

Everyone in the county, whether a member or not is urged to attend, according to Mrs. J. T. Whorton, head of the entertainment committee.

A Scotch Foursome will be held on that day beginning at 1:30 p. m. under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Strech, chairmen of the men's and women's golf teams, respectively. They are also arranging for a supper to be served at 6:00 p. m. at the club house, when all non-members are invited to attend.

An orchestra is being secured to play during the afternoon hours on the patio which opens off the west entrance of the club house.

Turkey Shoot At T-Bar Raises $646

Over 100 shooters participated in the first turkey shoot held at T-Bar Country Club last Friday and Saturday, which was a much bigger success than had been anticipated.

A profit of $646.60 was made, which will be used for the improvement of the Country Club.

Shooters were from the Lubbock, Midland and Odessa Gun Clubs, as well as many others from out-of-county. Turkeys, hams, steaks, etc. were given as prizes.

Scotch Foursome Held At T-Bar

The first Scotch Foursome with handicaps was played here Sunday afternoon when men and women paired off to compete with other couples.

Winners were Mrs. Rebel Thomas and Jake Jacobs. Second place winners were Mrs. Sam Edwards and Wade Holland. First place winners will receive about $4.00 of golf balls each and second place winners will receive two golf balls each.

Scotch Foursomes with handicaps are being planned for about twice each month, according to Lester Strech.

MRS. JOLLY IN AUSTIN

Mrs. Ruth Jolly, county superintendent, was in Austin the first of the week attending a meeting of school administrators.

Dean Taylor and family spent last week end at Portales, N. M., visiting relatives.

C. A. Redman Jr. Killed In Wreck

Funeral services for Claude Arva Redman Jr., former resident of Tahoka who was killed in a car-truck collision Monday northwest of Post, were held Wednesday in the Hudman Funeral Home Chapel in Post.

Rev. D. W. Copeland, Wells Baptist pastor, officiated and burial was in Terrace Cemetery in Post.

Redman was apparently killed instantly when he was thrown from the car he was driving beneath a large truck trailer, which was driven by William J. Campbell of Terrell. The car was struck when it pulled into U. S. Highway 84 from a side road with the intent to cross the four-lane highway. Neither the driver of the truck nor R. L. Thomas, as passenger in the Redman car, were injured.

The collision of the two vehicles occurred at about 4:00 p. m. when the force of the truck pushed the car approximately 30 feet and partly into the bar ditch beside the road, but neither vehicle overturned. A wrench was required to pull the truck off Redman's body. The truck was owned by Breeden and Sons, Terrell.

Redman moved to Tahoka from Paris, Texas in 1948, and lived here about four years. He moved to Crosbyton two years ago. While here he was a mechanic at Lynn County Tractor Co. and Plains Motor Co. He also operated a garage of his own for a while.

He was born Sept. 9, 1913 in Hopkins County near Sulphur Springs, and was married to Miss Eona Story on Jan. 3, 1936 near Commerce, Texas. He was employed by Bell Motor Co. in Crosbyton at the time of his death.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Raydell, 16, and Charles Wayne, 6; three daughters, Margie Ann, 19, Sharon Sue, 15, and Betty Ruth, 11; his father, Claud Redman, Sr., Post; six brothers, Wesley, Borge, Carl, Fort Worth; and Engene, Archie Lynn, A. E. and Clifford, all of Post; and 10 sisters, Mrs. T. W. Spears and Mrs. Mozelle Smith, both of Tahoka; Mrs. Ida Fox, Littlefield; Mrs. Thelma Mitchell, Lubbock; Mrs. Martha Stephens, Denver; Mrs. Velma Lee Vaughn, Fort Worth; and Miss Edna Redman, Mrs. Minnie Mae Allen, Mrs. Melba Nelson, and Miss Claudie Redman, all of Post.

WILEY CURRY BETTER

Wiley Curry is recovering satisfactorily from major surgery he underwent last Friday in Methodist Hospital and is reported to be up out of bed some of the time. However, he will remain in the hospital for further treatment.

Mrs. S. L. Smith of New Home underwent minor surgery in West Texas Hospital Tuesday of last week. She is reported to be recovering nicely.

Claude Meeks, who has been working in a gin here, received lacerations on his right index finger this week when he got it caught in a gin saw.

1957 Acreage To Remain Same

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture announced Wednesday an increase of 136,610 acres in Texas' cotton allotment, or a total of 7,547,503 acres, to be apportioned among the counties and individual farms.

Lubbock, Oct. 18.—Congressman George Mahon of the 19th District advised from his office in Lubbock this week that he has received information from the Department of Agriculture in Washington indicating that 1957 cotton acreage allotments in Texas will be about the same in each county as in 1956.

An additional large shift of acreage from West Texas to East Texas is not contemplated since it is planned that each Texas county will get not less than 99 per cent of its 1956 allotment. Under the plan most West Texas counties should get slightly more acreage than in 1956.

The Department of Agriculture has approved a compromise plan which had been submitted by the State ASC Committee which will allow the State Committee to withhold from the State allotment slightly less than four (4) percent of small farms of 15 acres or less. For hardship cases and all purposes other than small farms 2.78 per cent will be withheld. West Texas farmers and farm groups had asked that not more than two (2) per cent be withheld for other than small farms. The total amount withheld for all purposes will be about 6.34 per cent of the State allotment.

Mahon said, "I had joined with other West Texans in an effort to keep the withheld acres to the lowest possible figure. I think our efforts helped because an additional large shift of acreage out of West Texas in 1957 is not now contemplated. However, the compromise plan still gives the edge to the small farm areas of East Texas."

Leaders Study Area Problems

Lubbock, Oct. 18—Leaders of 40 West Texas communities have been invited to Texas Tech Oct. 23 to discuss planning for community round table on regional problems. Chosen from Lynn county are Otis Spears of Tahoka, L. C. Unfred of New Home, and Weldon Skinner of O'Donnell.

The half-day leadership strategy session is the first step in a plan to keep solutions to eight problems picked as the most important to West Texas.

Selections were made by West Texas leaders during a conference at the Seybold Guest Ranch earlier this fall.

Persons participating in the Oct. 23 conference at Tech will hear summaries of the Seybold conference. They will be asked to report which two of the eight issues will be discussed at local round tables during the second and third weeks of November.

Dr. Wendell Williams, executive associate in Tech Adult Education Program, will be in charge of the Oct. 23 conference.

The regional issues from which community leaders will choose round table topics include water, other dependable resources such as oil and top soil, agricultural, diversification of economy, community life, regional cooperation and understanding, adaptation of building to regional characteristics, and programs of government and education.

"This whole plan of the Seybold Conference and community round tables is a systematic attempt to help West Texans actually get together, decide what their specific problems are and how those problems can be solved," Dr. Williams said.

"We hope to get representatives of these November round tables to get together in the future to exchange ideas at the West Texas assembly on the Tech campus in January," he added.

He pointed out that ideas developed in one community in the north of the region may not be thought of by a community in the south.

By exchanging ideas, community leaders should get better understanding of the region as a whole and how their towns and cities may fit into solving not only the eight problems mentioned, but many future problems, Dr. Williams said.

Mrs. Paul Ray, who is a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital, is still in serious condition.

Mrs. Frank Hill is in Lubbock this week visiting her sister, Mrs. A. G. Reeves.

Lynn Girls FHA District Officers

Two Tahoka girls have been chosen for district and area officers of District III, Area II of the Future Homemakers of America and several other Lynn County girls will also fill offices.

Marilyn Carmack of Tahoka has been nominated to be an area officer and will be appointed to a designated office in March when an area meeting will be held at Midland. Miss Joyce Church of Wilson was also nominated for an area office.

Margaret Cawthron of Tahoka was elected reporter of District III; Jeanette Schneider of Wilson, corresponding secretary; Gene Harris of New Home, recording secretary; and Sue Lott of O'Donnell is historian. Olinda York of Lamesa was elected president of the district.

At the annual meeting held recently at Ackerly the Tahoka chapter presented two skits explaining the National projects of the FHA, which include Families Together; Teen-Age Consumers; UNESCO; Home, School and Community Beautification, and Civil Defense. One skit concerning Families Together was presented by Margaret Cawthron, Mary Evelyn Hammonds, Marie Potts, and two children, Billy Birdwell and Stella Howle. The other skit was in explanation of all the projects and was presented by Carol Smith, Bette Lee Howle, Idalia Wood, Marilyn Carmack, Carolyn Birdwell, and Edwina Overstreet.

Thirty-three girls from the Tahoka chapter, accompanied by Mrs. Madeline Hegi, sponsor, attended the Ackerly meeting when about 350 members from 18 chapters participated in the all-day event.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me. (John 5:39.)

This advice of the divine Master is a message of supreme meaning. The human being, in communion with the Word of God, can very well say that he is in communion with the Father. Does this not mean the very breathing of eternal life? The Lord Jesus did not say in vain, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeveth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life."

The soul that knows nothing about the light of biblical precepts and spiritual refreshment of the gospel is miserable in spirit. The soul that is faithful to Christ possesses divine optimism. This optimism is really not the invention of us Christians; it is our faith in Christ who keeps us in constant communion with the God of the Bible. His continued grace keeps that optimism alive in us.

PRAYER

We thank Thee, our heavenly Father, for Christ Jesus, thy Son and our Redeemer. We cannot thank Thee enough for Thy promise of eternal life through Him. Keep us faithful to Thee. Help us, as we pray the prayer He taught us, "Our Father who are in heaven . . . Amen."

Blightmaster Cotton Tested

College Station—Blightmaster, a new stormproof and tolerant to angular leaf spot variety of cotton, is performing well under field conditions this year. It was developed by plant breeders of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock.

Lee C. Coffey, extension agronomist, reports that the bacterial blight, commonly called angular leaf spot or blackarm, has been widespread this fall in the cotton fields of the High Plains. While the disease, unless severe, may not greatly cut yields, boll infection causes boll rot and fiber staining which in turn causes bales to be graded "spotted."

Weather conditions on the Plains have favored the disease this fall. Bacterial blight is worse when frequent showers occur.

Coffey says the contrast between Blightmaster and non-resistant blight varieties in some instances is very striking. Blightmaster was still green and growing a month ago while the lower leaves of non-resistant blight varieties appeared to have been defoliated. Bacterial blight also causes leaf shedding which may cut yields.

Foundation seed were released this year to 14 seed growers and they will have the only seed available for 1957 plantings, says Coffey. Seed supplies in 1958 should be sufficient to plant a sizable portion of the Plains cotton acreage.

Blightmaster also is a high-yielder, its staple is slightly longer than most presently grown stormproof varieties, lint percentage is equal to the better stormproof varieties; it is medium in maturity and is suited to machine harvesting.

Blightmaster is recommended in the areas of Texas where a stormproof variety is desired.

Newell Porter of Farmington, N. M., visited his sister Mrs. C. C. Dwight, here last week while enroute to New Orleans, where he expects to work.

New Law Would Help Counties

Proponents of one of the Constitutional Amendments to be voted in the General Election November 6 claim that its passage will save the taxpayers money.

The proposed amendment would allow Commissioners Courts to reallocate the amounts levied for their four regular operating funds General Fund, Jury Fund, Permanent Improvement Fund and Road and Bridge Fund—on an annual basis. Now the amounts that can be levied for these funds are fixed by the Constitution and cannot be changed except in reallocation every six years or oftener.

The proposed amendment guarantees that the total tax rate could not be raised, for it sets the same maximum as now provided, 80 cents on the $100 valuation.

No private business could long exist if it had to guess six years in advance on its fiscal operations. Adoption of this amendment would free the counties to operate on a more efficient, business-like basis.

The people, by adopting this amendment, therefore, can save in two ways: First, their Commissioners Courts will be given the opportunity to operate their fiscal affairs in a modern way which will make for economy, and Second, they will save the cost of expensive reallocation elections every few years.

"A man too conservative to subscribe to his hometown paper, sent his little boy to borrow a copy from his neighbor. In haste the boy ran over a stand of bees and, in 10 minutes, he looked like a warty summer squash. His father ran to his assistance and failed to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that, ruining a $9.00 pair of pants.

"The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, got in the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the commotion, his wife ran out, upset a four gallon churn of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire batch. In her haste, she dropped a $175.00 set of false teeth.

"The baby, left alone, crawled through the cream into the parlor, ruining a brand new $269.00 carpet. During the excitement, the oldest daughter eloped with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line.

We thought we'd better warn Bonnie Todd. She might come up with a car missing one of these days. Periodically one day a week she parks her car in front of The News office at about 5:00 p. m. And every time, when Daddy starts home, he rushes out of the office, jumps in Bonnie's car and would be long gone if there were any keys in it. Of course, her car is nearly like his and he'd never notice the difference if it'd start.

The September issue of Texas Health Bulletin reports some rare causes of death. It says that the stings of wasps and ants killed as many Texans last year as did rattlesnake bites. Two persons fell victim to wasp stings, two died of ant stings, and two succumbed after being bitten by rattlesnakes. A scorpion sting proved fatal to one person.

However, the article states that these deaths are unique and happened because the victims were extremely sensitive to insect venom.

We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Wied of Rt. 1, Slaton for the kind words they wrote about The News when they sent in their subscription renewal.

The map shows how the Authority's Six-Dam Program will provide a chain of lakes 250 miles long stretching between Whitney Dam at Waco and Possum Kingdom above Mineral Wells. This continuous body of water, convenient to virtually all Texas sportsmen, will become a center of a great new recreation industry. This Land of Lakes of Texas will provide boating, fishing and camping facilities on a scale never before known in the Southwest. They also will assure the Brazos Valley of an ample water supply for irrigation, industry and municipal use far into the future. A by-product will be hydro-electricity. Besides the Six-Dam Program, the Authority plans various other reservoirs for local water supply and for special purposes, such as Allens Creek and South Bend, shown on the map.

Cotton Growers Protect Rights

Directors of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., last week voted to contribute $5,000 towards expenses of West Texas cotton producers involved in a suit with the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee over 1956 cotton allotments.

George Pfeiffenberger, Executive Vice-President of the Plains Cotton Growers, said the organization believes the West Texas producers are right and want to see the court case to a conclusion.

Pfeiffenberger said the Plains Cotton Growers Directors also voted to contribute another $5,000 if it be needed in this fight.

The Directors voted this action at the regular October Board of Directors meeting, held last Tuesday (October 9) in Lubbock.

At the same time the directors of the Plains Cotton Growers endorsed Amendment No. 3 which will be on the November 6 ballot pertaining to letting state institutions re-invest money in other approved State programs such as experimental agricultural research stations.

Pfeiffenberger said the PCG directors were interested in getting more state funds available for agricultural experiment and research work.

The Plains Cotton Growers are sponsoring a short staple cotton conference in Lubbock November 1 and 2 at which technical experts in all phases of the cotton industry have been invited.

At this meeting the PCG hopes to help draft both a long-range and an immediate plan for improving the status of West Texas short staple cotton.

Some of the cotton authorities scheduled to attend this conference include E. J. Overby, Director of the Cotton Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Henry D. Baker, Plant Industry Station, USDA, Beltsville, Md.; Mr. R. K. Flege, Head of the Texas Tech Textile Engineering Dept.; and others, whose names will be announced later.

Pfeiffenberger explained the

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It started with the "Inner Ford." When Ford planned this baby, they thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. This Ford is so new that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader, they help you take off quickly.

The wheelbase got longer . . . so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable, safer riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives is the smoothest ever.

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has swept-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. There's a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need* . . . plus a new Mileage Maker Six.

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing. The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the "Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater . . . the price is still Ford-low.

Floydada Is Winner In Defensive Battle

Floydada Whirlwinds capitalized on two of Tahoka's mistakes here Friday night to win a 12 to 0 District 2-AA victory in a ball game featuring stout defense by both teams.

Although the Tahoka boys still needed the scoring punch they have been lacking all season, they put up a much better game than they did against Spur the week before. Tahoka's chances of victory were hurt badly when Halfback W. H. McNeely was forced out of the game on the second play with a head injury.

Following the opening kickoff, Floydada made nothing on three plays, and following the punt, Tahoka seemed to have a drive started and lost the ball at midfield on a fumble.

The ball changed hands twice, neither team able to make a first down, and then with Floydada on Tahoka's 32 Quarterback Ronnie Downing, on a tricky play that sucked-in Tahoka's left secondary pitched out to Halfback Don Colley, who went down his right side-line to the Tahoka 3. On the next play, Fullback Bob Stovall pushed over for the visitor's first score.

Neither team could make a first in the second period, until before the half the Bulldogs put together two firsts. George Adams, Freshman quarterback, saw his first varsity action in the quarter and turned in a creditable performance.

Tahoka stopped a Floydada drive in the third period when QB Karl Prohl intercepted Downsings jump pass and returned it nine yards to start a Tahoka drive which carried to the Floydada 5, where the threat ended.

About midway in the fourth quarter, Floydada's Downing had just lost 13 on an attempted pass. On the next play, a screen pass, Tahoka's entire line sifted through and Fullback Stovall took the pass and went 50 yards for the final score.

Only consistent grounders on either team were Renfro carried 90 yards net for Tahoka. Stovall carried 47 of the 88 net running and 50 of the 58 yards on passes for Floydada. Tahoka's quarterback, attempting to pass, had a net loss of minus 29, and Floydada's had a net loss of minus four yards.

The Bulldogs, however, showed improved team play and looked much better on defense than in most games so far. Reserves were used more freely in this game, and some of the boys did well.

With a week's rest, Coaches Bill Haralson and Dean Wright are making good use of the time in an attempt to perfect the play, especially tackling and blocking.

Wilson-New Home Game Tonight

New Home Leopards won a District 4-B game over Lorenzo 7 to 6 Friday night at New Home. It was the second victory of the season for New Home, the first in two starts in conference competition.

Coach Hubert Williams' Leopards had to come from behind to win the game, but they turned in one of their better efforts of the season in doing so.

Lorenzo scored in the second quarter when Quarterback Ernie Batcheller ran 15 yards to the goal line. The extra point try failed, which later proved to be the deciding factor in the game.

New Home scored in the third when big Leon Blackman, 195, moved to halfback from the line, bulled his way for 20 yards to score. Fullback C. L. Rogers skirted end for the all-important extra point, and that was the scoring for the night.

This week's action pits the high-flying Wilson Mustangs against the Leopards in a game at New Home, and the largest crowd of the season is expected to be on hand when the two Lynn county teams meet. Encouraged over the victory, last Friday, New Home hopes to give Wilson plenty of trouble tonight.

Odds and Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

In the latter part of the year 1954 and the early part of 1955, I ran a series of contributions to this column from a little book entitled "Living Where Jesus Lived" written by Miss Emma Jewell Ross of Dallas and published in 1941 by The McMillan Company of New York, which I found to be the most interesting and informational book about the Holy Land that I had ever read. But before I completed the series my attention got turned to the ever enthralling life story of the dramatic career of the man who freed Texas from the clutches of Santa Anna and his corrupt and tyrannical cohorts, and before I completed that series of stories, I became physically ill and had to undergo a most serious operation in a Waco hospital immediately after my arrival in that city for a visit with my sister living there, and by the time I had recovered I had found a lot of other Odds and Ends that I wished to write about; and so I have never gotten back to Miss Ross' little book about the Holy Land yet. But about two weeks ago I had a fine political letter from her in advocacy of a gentleman and a scholar who aspires to become the U. S. Senator from Texas to fill the position now held nominally by the erstwhile Senator Price Daniel. I do not know what can be done about the middle which Price seems to have gotten us into, but Miss Ross certainly does make out a strong case in favor of Judge, former Chancellor, Jim Hart as Senator Daniel's successor. Judge Hart has declared himself to be a Democrat who votes the ticket straight, both State and National. So he will probably receive the enthusiastic support of the Johnson-Rayburn combine and will therefore probably be elected if he gets a chance to run.

But the announcement that I wish to make here and now is that I intend to begin running again very soon Miss Ross' charming stories about the Holy Land, the wonders of the ancient cities of Nineveh and Babylon in the desert-splitting Tigris-Euphrates river valley, the Lebanon and the Anti-Lebanon Mountains; the aged city of Damascus; and a hundred other wonders, natural and man-made that exist in the Holy Land and in the lands that surround it. I may repeat some of the chapters that I ran two years ago, but they will bear repetition. I think that every Bible student and every teacher of the Scriptures should read and re-read these marvelous stories not only for their own good but also for the good of the pupils they teach.

But before I resume publication of these Bible stories, I want to end up some other Odds and Ends nearer home—much less important than those respecting the Holy Land of course but which usually are of more immediate interest to the local consumer.

One of the series of personal items that I wanted to mention grew out of the fact that the managers of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair furnished to me and lady a free pass to the Fair Grounds and all its buildings and the entertainments that were to be seen on the Midway, as it always does for newspaper people of this area. And so, in company with my daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Rochelle and her two daughters, Anita and Sara, we attended the Fair on Friday afternoon and night, including that marvelous show which they call the Ice-cape. It is really almost unbelievable what people can do on ice and in the air. In the afternoon we had seen all the varied exhibits. It was the first time my wife had attended the Fair, and she thoroughly enjoyed it. She had visited the west Coast three times and had seen most of the marvelous sights to be seen in California, and she had visited the east coast two or three times—and had seen the charming scenery and the historic spots of Virginia, including Jamestown, and in various zoos she had seen many of the wild animals that haunt the forests and the mountain recesses of this old globe, but she had never seen a prairie dog.

Now, when all of old-timers of West Texas first migrated to this region, prairie dogs were more numerous, than what rats in a deserted feed-filled old barn, area considered. We soon got used to seeing them by the thousands in numerous prairie-dog towns on almost every section of land. So, it may seem funny to us that many of our children even have never seen a prairie-dog. But this cute little animal has now almost as completely disappeared as the once thundering herds of myriad buffaloes on these western plains.

But recently my wife read this strikingly informative item from the Texas Almanac: "Until recent years probably no sight was so universal in West Texas as the black-tailed prairie dog and its burrow. Naturalists estimated its population in the hundreds of millions. Its destruction of range grasses plus its peculiar susceptibility to eradication (usually by the introduction of the fumes of carbon disulphide into its burrow) has caused its complete elimination in all except a few communities. A gregarious animal, the prairie-dog towns usually covered many acres, with thickly spaced burrows or prairie-dog holes. It is being propagated in several public zoos, notably in the prairie-dog town in Mackenzie Park at Lubbock. It has been accorded its monument in Texas in the name of the Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River, along one segment of which is located the beautiful Palo Duro Canyon."

I had been out to the Prairie Dog Town in the Lubbock Park before, and of course I took my wife out there to see it. There they were, the cute little "boogers" playing about as innocently as a bunch of children, rearing up on their haunches and looking at you intently for a moment or sometimes nibbling away at a leaf or a sprig of grass, and then dashing off hurriedly to a nearby hole in the ground and invariably bidding you good-by by the mischievous shake of the tail. And so Eva had seen her first prairie dog town.

I don't know how much it costs to maintain that most interesting animal community, but it occurs to me that Lubbock could do the public a favor—and also itself a favor by giving more publicity to that rare show place. Why not charge a small fee for entrance into the grounds, and with the funds thus procured pay for regular or frequent advisements in addition to the maintenance expenses. Thousands and thousands of people who visit Mackenzie State Park every year never have their attention called to Prairie Dog Town and never even learn that it is there. Make people feel that it is worth seeing by charging a small entrance fee and by advertising it. If this is a foolish suggestion, forget it.

Now, as my daughter Mrs. Myrtle Rochelle was having a brief vacation that very same week, she suggested that we all take time out to go over to the Carlsbad Cavern and visit that major world-wide natural wonder. We jumped at the chance, for while I had already visited the Cavern three times, I never tire of looking at its insides, and while Eva had seen the big Redwoods of California, through one of which a man can ride on a horse, and had seen sky-high Yosemite Falls, the Golden Gate, and other wonders in that state, she had never seen inside the Carlsbad Cavern. So, we drove over there on Saturday afternoon, spent the night in the town of Carlsbad, and hurried down to the Caverns nearly 30 miles away the next morning. I take it that most Tahoka people have visited this, the world's greatest known cavern, and it is not necessary for me to say anything more about this most marvelous example of God's handiwork. Like all others who visit it, Eva was simply overwhelmed by its grandeur and magnificence. As for me, I was overwhelmed physically as well as otherwise, and had to be almost dragged out of its lower depths. On three former visits I had gone into the Big Room—everybody who has ever been there knows what that means—but I was too tired this time to make the trip. Eva made it, and came out more inexplicably amazed than she had been when she came back from the depths and the indescribable beauty of the lower rooms. We came out on the elevator, all five of us, Myrtle and her two daughters, Anita and Sara, and Eva and I, and decided to come up to Roswell on the west side of the Pecos, and we left Roswell for the straightest way home a little before sunset and got here about eleven o'clock at night. And so, for the first time, Eva had seen the world's greatest underground wonder.

The Pecos River is a sizable stream of fresh, rushing water coming down from the hills and mountains and forests well above the middle portion of eastern New Mexico. Numerous small mountain streams formed by summer showers and melting snows east and southeast of Santa Fe constitute the head waters of the Pecos.

The scenery of this area is notably beautiful, both the mountains and the forests being among the most attractive in the state. By the time the stream reaches Santa-Rosa it has gathered much volume, and where one crosses it at Fort Sumner one feels compelled to stop and traverse some of New Mexico's famous historic spots, made famous in its wildest Wild West days. Another sixty miles, not counting the wiggly course of the stream but only the major curves brings one down to Roswell, the Queen of eastern New Mexico.

And from Roswell on southward to Carlsbad and the Texas border, and thence through the western wing of Texas and through Southwest Texas to the point where it empties into the Rio Grande, the Pecos is, with the single exception of the Rio Grande, the most philanthropic stream of water in the entire Southwest—a never-falling stream of life-giving, life-saving water, flowing through what otherwise would be a veritable desert. When we started home that Sunday afternoon, we decided to come up the Pecos Valley from Carlsbad to Roswell, just to get a better look at the Pecos River along that portion of its course. I had crossed the Pecos River several times before but I had never before (Cont'd. on Next Page)

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.

Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B.C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES:
New 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 is standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.

Revolutionary Powermatic Transmission—exclusive with Chevrolet trucks! This six-speed automatic, designed specifically for heavy-duty hauling, is an extra-cost option in Series 5000 and 6000 and all heavy-duty truck models. Hydro-Matic is offered in 3000 and 4000 Series models at extra cost.

L.C.F. models outdate C.O.E. trucks in every way; yet offer all the traditional C.O.E. advantages.

Heavyweight Champs with Triple-Torque tandem are rated at 32,000 lbs. GVW, 50,000 lbs. GCW. Special features include built-in 3-speed power divider.

Alcan fleet reports up to 26.17 miles per gallon! That's the mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier, with Thriftmaster 6 and Overdrive (optional at extra cost).

All the way in DRIVE range with Powermatic! This Powermatic-equipped 10000 Series tractor traveled the Alcan Highway in a single forward-speed range!

Mr. Farmer

Let us store your 1956 cotton and keep it at home as long as you have any equity in it. We have the facilities to do this.

When you send your cotton to us, it furnishes some Lynn county citizen work, and he spends his wages here. We are sure your ginner will deliver your cotton to any compress you request.

So, why not help home industry by keeping your cotton at home. Such helps all of us by building a bigger payroll in Tahoka and Lynn county—instead of building a payroll in an out of county town.

fore followed the course of the stream for any considerable distance in any one stretch. We went up the west side of the river, and I want to congratulate New Mexico on its possession of so marvelous a stream.

Just as the Rio Grande has provided water for the irrigation of thousands of acres of rich valley lands along the banks of that stream, making it a cotton-raiser's Paradise clean down to El Paso and below, so the Pecos, on a little smaller scale, has made something akin to a Paradise out of the lands along its course, particularly on the west side of the stream, all the way from Roswell down to Carlsbad and far below into some of the natural desert regions of this state.

Coming up from Carlsbad to Roswell on the west side of the River we passed alongside many fields of rank cotton just greening under their loads of green bolls, produced by irrigation waters from the Pecos and from wells in the valley. Hundreds and hundreds of acres promise to produce one to two bales per acre. Towns along the route give proof of the region's prosperity. Carlsbad, to start out with, has a population of 17,975, according to the U. S. census of 1950. Not all of that is due to its irrigated cotton production, of course, but much of it is. Artesia had a population of 8,244; Hagerman, 1,024; and Roswell itself, 25,738. Dexter and another small town or two are surrounded by irrigated cotton fields. There is some irrigation on the eastern side of the River also.

GATE-CLOSERS

Dear Friends

A farmer friend of ours paid Humble's field men a fine compliment recently.

He said, "There's one thing about you Humble people, you close gates."

Well, of course we do.

All of us at Humble want the good will of the folks with whom we do business. And among those folks, the farmers and ranchers who lease their land to us for exploration and production are right at the top of the list.

In fact, you farmers are partners with us in the development of a vital natural resource. If our efforts are successful then everyone involved benefits.

Keeping the gates closed and the fences mended—things like that are the least we can do.

We know. A lot of us grew up on farms and ranches.

Lynn County Soil Conservation District News

K. K. MOORE ELLIS BARNES
O. E. TERRY W. E. DUBREE
WALTER BLANKENSHIP

Small grain planted by November 1st, with adequate moisture, will have sufficient time to make enough growth to retard wind erosion this winter and spring. Some plantings could be made in cotton middles using one of the District's inter-row legume seeders or may be planted on the stands of grain sorghums with grain drills.

Some farmers in the District are using chisels on land with adequate stubble. This method leaves sorghum residue on the surface as protection against wind erosion. Residues on the surface have been found a most effective means of reducing wind velocity at ground line and reducing wind erosion.

Crop residues on the soil surface will serve as protection to seedlings of perennial grasses that may be planted next spring on soil bank land. This is especially true on the sandier soils. On these soils every effort should be made to leave residues on the surface.

The Board of Supervisors approved three soil and water conservation plans at their regular meeting date. Two plans were on farms belonging to Clarence Church of Wilson. One farm north of Wayside is irrigated, where a conservation irrigation system is planned. The other place of Clarence's is south of Wilson, where there is still some native grassland and range improvement with control of mesquite is planned. Clarence has a successful planting of blue panic grass on this place that was seeded in middle of rows of grain sorghum.

The other conservation plan was on the Mrs. Mollie Edwards place at Petty operated by Gram George. Some irrigation is planned, along with control of mesquite on rangeland and some overseeding of native adapted grasses.

Slaton Editor Rotary Speaker

Francis Perry, editor and publisher of the Slaton Slatonite, was the speaker at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week on the subject, "Your Home Newspaper."

Mr. Perry, recognized as one of the outstanding weekly publishers of Texas, made an interesting presentation of the functions of a newspaper in the community it serves and passed out a few compliments on The News.

Publishing is the fourth largest business in the nation, he said, and the home newspaper is the most important business in a town.

From a financial angle, the paper produces small profit compared to the investment and effort put out to produce a newspaper. But, he said, the newspaper man becomes imbued with the spirit of service to their community and few of them are in business solely for the money.

He explained how the newspaper protects the freedom of the people, the freedom of speech, helps keep a town united, helps put over all worthy community projects, often at great expense in space, its obligation in furnishing a news medium and in recording the history of life in the community, and its influence for good. In fact, he declared, a newspaper is a sort of chamber of commerce privately owned. The newspaper publisher does more to help others than any other man in the community unless it be the ministers.

The editor of a community newspaper runs into many problems daily, sometimes is subjected to criticism, but he soon learns to "take it on the chin."

He explained the function of advertising, how it helps keep prices in line and to produce volume sales, and how it helps make money for the merchants and tell the readers where to find the items they want. He advised merchants to put thought into their advertising campaigns. He said a merchant can not expect much results from a single advertisement, but a planned and extended campaign will make him money. In closing, Mr. Perry said a town can be judged by taking a look at its newspaper. A non-progressive town never has a fine newspaper, but an up-and-going town will reflect itself in its newspaper.

Winston Wharton introduced Donald Renfro and Tom Gill inroduced Haynes Howle, the two high school seniors who are Junior Rotarians for the month of October.

L. C. Haney called attention to the Lubbock Inter-city meeting being held that night, at which a number of Tahoka club members were in attendance and heard Congressman Geo. Mahon, Leonard Craft of Andrews, long a citizen of Tahoka and a charter member of Tahoka Rotary Club, was present as a visitor.

Massachusetts means "place of the great hills."
