STANDING ON THE CORNER

With P. J.

What was that you were griping about?

Our Forefathers did without sugar until the 13th century and without coal fires until the 14th century, and without buttered bread until the 15th century, and without coffee, tea and soap until the 17th century and without pudding until the 18th century and without gas, matches and electricity until the 19th century and without canned goods until the 20th century, and we have had automobiles only for a short time, and just what did I hear you say?

Thanks to George Nixon for the above. It seems we gripe like mad when our automatic washing machine poofs off and we have to do without it for three days.

Horace Greeley, who always insisted that the word "news" was plural, once wired a reporter: "Are there any news?" The reply came back by wire: "Not a new."

P. S. Bartley killed a gray fox at his home six miles east and four north of Tahoka Tuesday morning. One shot with his .12 gauge shotgun did the trick.

He saw the fox when he walked out of his house early that morning.

Foxes have been showing up lately around Lynn County, but are still considered an oddity. What was really odd about this fox, though, was that it was sitting on the platform atop Bartley's windmill.

It seems there are some amateur hypnotists around town lately, and although a lot of fun can be had through these experiences of hypnotic suggestion, the fact remains that experts are proving that such actions can have very harmful and sometimes dangerous results.

Before you allow yourself to be hypnotized, better think of the consequences.

Human beings are probably the most self-centered bunch on the face of the earth. To prove the point, think about this.

Mrs. A. A. Walker Burial Is Here

Mrs. A. A. Walker, 83, of Panhandle, formerly of Tahoka, died Sunday in an Amarillo hospital after an illness of about two weeks.

Funeral services were held at 10:00 a. m. Monday at the Poston Funeral Home Chapel of Panhandle, and graveside services were conducted here at 4:00 p. m. by Rev. J. B. Stewart, local First Methodist pastor.

Camma V. Thomas was born in Georgia on April 18, 1873. Coming to Ellis county, Texas, with her parents, she was married at Ennis to A. A. Walker. The couple lived in Claude, Clarendon, Hereford, and Canyon before moving to Tahoka in about 1934, and lived a mile north of the square on the Lubbock highway. Mr. Walker passed away on Jan. 24, 1949, and was buried here. About six years ago, she moved to Panhandle, where she was living with a daughter.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Ornie Cutter of Panhandle, and Mrs. Berta Redfearn of Amarillo; four sons, Olen of Lubbock, Otho of Amarillo, Lloyd of Hobbs, N. M., and Alfred of Panhandle; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

She also leaves one sister, Mrs. R. H. Collier of Post, and two brothers, Dr. A. L. Thomas of Ennis and A. I. Thomas of Tahoka, and a number of other relatives.

Cleveland Littlepage Is Named Outstanding Dry Land Farmer

CLEVELAND LITTLEPAGE

Cleveland Littlepage has been selected the outstanding conservation dryland farmer for 1956 in Lynn County, the Lynn County Soil Conservation District office has announced.

Littlepage, who lives about 10 miles south of Tahoka, operates 1,165 acres with 211 acres in native grass and 954 acres in cropland. In addition to carrying on good soil and water conservation on all of these acres he improves on them in spite of the dry years that he has been faced with.

Last year he purchased a terracer in order to maintain and improve the terraces for control of rainfall and other outside waters.

Littlepage grows all of his feed used in feeding his dairy herd. "There was only one month," he states, "in 1953 when I had to buy roughage to feed the cows." At the present time he is milking 29 Holstein cows with a modern pipeline milking unit. He plans to add the bulk refrigerated storage tank soon, which will completely streamline his milking operations.

Wilson Church Plans Addition

Due to an ever-increasing enrollment in Sunday School and Church's Parish School and to provide more adequate facilities for Youth Work and Congregational Fellowship, St. Paul of Wilson will erect a new educational building. The date for construction has been set for the beginning of June.

In the meanwhile St. Paul's old church erected in 1928 is to be taken down in April and available lumber will be used for the new educational building, which will measure 74x26 and will be added as an L to the present school building. The building committee is composed of A. A. Teinert, Herman Wuensche, T. J. Umlang, Alvin Kaatz and Cecil Wied.

He lived here until 1955, as a farmer. He had been a member of the Methodist Church since he was a young man.

Funeral services were held in Wellington Wednesday after which his body was brought to Tahoka to lie in state Thursday afternoon in Stanley Funeral Home.

Graveside services were conducted Thursday afternoon at Tahoka Cemetery by Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Haskell Baggett of Wellington, and Mrs. Louie Kiser of Lawrence, Kansas; three sons, Tom of Quail, Harp of Snyder, and R. L. of Tahoka; nine grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

One additional name has been filed this week, that of Dr. Skiles Thomas, for alderman. The only name filed on Wednesday for mayor was H. B. McCord, Sr. Others who have filed as candidates for aldermen are J. E. Nance and Meldon Leslie.

The terms of Mayor Clint Walker and Aldermen Herman Heck and Wynne Collier expire in April. City election will be held here April 2.

Bobby Dean Wied, 15 years old of Wilson, was a medical patient overnight Sunday in Tahoka Hospital.

Jose Rocha, 14 months old, was a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital Sunday and Monday.

Lynn's Cotton Crop In Nation's High 20 For 1956

Lynn county ranks 11th in the state and 19th in the nation in 1956 cotton production, according to preliminary figures received by The News this week from the Bureau of the Census.

Of the nation's 20 top cotton producing counties, 11 of them were in Texas, five in California, two in Arizona, and two in Missouri.

Of the 11 Texas counties, eight were on the South Plains, Lynn county ended up 11th in the state and eighth on the Plains.

Not including linters, Lynn county ginned 90,078 bales, as reported here two or three weeks ago.

Kern county, California, was the top producing county with 422,170 bales, while Lubbock ranked sixth in the nation and first in Texas with 230,539 bales.

Mrs. Hickerson Dies Thursday

Mrs. Laura Belle Hickerson, 78 years old, died Thursday morning, Feb. 28, at 4:45 a. m. in Tahoka Hospital where she had been a patient several days. She had been in ill health for about two years.

She and her husband, the late G. W. Hickerson, Sr., farmed in the Three Lakes area for many years after they came to Lynn County in 1906 from Crawford, Texas. Later they moved to town and resided on North 1st street.

Mrs. Hickerson was born April 22, 1878 in Crawford, where she married her husband on July 19, 1896. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3:00 p. m. in the First Baptist Church in Tahoka with Rev. Clifford Harris, pastor, Rev. George A. Dale of Lubbock, and Rev. D. W. Copeland of Wells, officiating. Burial will be in Tahoka Cemetery.

Nephews of Mrs. Hickerson will be pall bearers.

George Vaughn Rites Are Held

George G. Vaughn, 83, pioneer Lynn county stockfarmer, died Saturday morning at about 10:30 o'clock at his home in O'Donnell following a long illness.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2:00 p. m. at the First Baptist Church in O'Donnell, with the pastor, Rev. Earnest Stewart, officiating. Burial followed in O'Donnell Cemetery.

Born in Leon county August 11, 1873, Mr. Vaughn came to southern Lynn county in 1906. Until a few years ago he lived on his farm about five miles north of O'Donnell, and since retiring from active work has been living in that town.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Helen Vaughn; two daughters, Mrs. Ota Vaughn and Miss Effie Vaughn, both of O'Donnell; one son, H. D. Vaughn, also of O'Donnell; five grandchildren, 12 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

TWO GIRLS PARTICIPATE IN TWIRLING CONTEST

Sue won a medal in her age division. Both girls are reported to have made good grades in their division.

350 Entries Are Expected In Junior Stock Show Saturday

Welfare Center Needs Clothing

Response to the City Welfare Center on Wednesday afternoon, its opening day at the American Legion Hall, was fairly good, although most of the clothes received were for adults.

More clothes are needed for all ages, however, especially those for children, and also coat hangers. Donors are also requested to wash the clothes, when possible, before bringing them to the Center.

The Center will be open each Wednesday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock, according to Mrs. Truett Smith, chairman of the custodial committee. Used clothing may be brought at the time, although those needing the clothing may be brought at that time, by contacting a member of the distribution committee, of which Mrs. Emma Halameick is chairman.

Grocery stores have placed boxes in their stores for receiving non-perishable groceries and Turner Rogers is also going to place a box inside the frozen food lockers to receive meat or other frozen foods. The goods from the grocery stores will be delivered to the Center each Wednesday, although the frozen foods will remain in the locker. This service at the locker is being extended and it is hoped that those cleaning out their lockers will deposit unwanted packages at that time.

The Center is now getting in shape where it can be of service to the families of the community. Anyone knowing of such a family is asked to contact one of the above named women.

Spelling Bee Is Set For March 15

Lynn County's Spelling Bee will be held Friday, March 15, at 1:30 p. m. in the South Elementary School in Tahoka, according to Mrs. Ruth Jolly, county chairman and pronouncer.

Each school in the county is entitled to two representatives in the contest.

Winners here will participate in the Avalanche Journal contest at O-L. Slaton Junior High School in Lubbock at 1:00 p. m. March 30.

REV. O. A. BUNTROCK

Lenten Services At Wilson Church

Evangelism services will be held on Wednesday nights during the Lenten season beginning on March 6 at 8:00 p. m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wilson.

Rev. Orville A. Buntrock, pastor of the Redeemer Lutheran Church of Lubbock, will open the services with the first of the series of Lenten meditations being "Two Gardens."

On March 13 the topic will be "Two Choices" and will be delivered by Rev. P. G. Elbrecht. (Cont'd. on Back Page)

Rains Finest In Many Years

Total rainfall during February in Tahoka was 1.82 inches, according to the U. S. Government rain gauge.

Eight days of showers, mist, and fog ending last Friday produced .76 inch, while the rain of Feb. 6 and 7 had amounted to 1.06.

This is the best February rain in many years, and the way it fell was worth much more than most rains.

Rainfall was very light, however, in the northwest part of the county and in parts of the west and north sectors.

Red Cross Drive Opens March 12

Kick-off dinner for the annual American Red Cross Drive in Lynn County will be held Tuesday, March 12, at 7:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria, according to Dean Taylor, who is the chairman of the 1957 campaign.

The original date of March 4, was changed so that the drive could be better organized before its activity begins.

Workers from 16 Lynn County communities, including Tahoka, will attend the dinner when instructions will be given, Taylor said. The drive will actually begin the following morning, Wednesday, March 13, at 8:00 a. m.

Plans now are for workers to canvass their communities for donations to the worthy cause, of which County Agent Bill Griffin is the county chairman.

Tahoka is expected to have at least eight workers, with other communities having from one to three. Goal for Lynn County this year is $2,624, Griffin said, and it is hoped that this amount can be collected in two or three days. Workers will probably canvass the communities in pairs, Taylor stated. John Ellis will be in charge of the O'Donnell drive.

Of the amount collected, 30 percent will remain in Lynn County for local use, of which Griffin is the administrator. The other 70 percent will be sent out for use in Texas and the nation in Red Cross units.

Two Men Injured In Pick-Up Wreck

Ben McWhirter of Wolfroth and his cousin were injured Saturday night when the pickup in which they were riding over turned near O'Donnell.

Mr. McWhirter was kept in Tahoka Hospital until Monday, when he was released, and was treated for scalp lacerations and bruises. His cousin only received bruises in the accident.

R. W. FENTON JR. HOME FROM MAYOS' HOSPITAL

R. W. (Buster) Fenton, Jr. returned home Wednesday from Rochester, Minn., where he has been in a hospital several weeks. He received two throat operations while there, but is now doing fine. Mrs. O. C. Elliott returned last week end to Rochester to accompany her parents home.

Buster has been able to ride around in his car and visit with a few friends since his return.

Cindy Carroll, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Carroll, underwent a tonsillectomy last Friday in a Lubbock hospital. She is reported to be doing fine.

Mrs. R. L. Gibson was released from Tahoka Hospital Friday of last week. She is reported to be improving rapidly.

A bigger and better Lynn County Junior Livestock Show will be held in Tahoka Saturday, when a record number of sheep and hogs are expected to be shown by county 4-H and FFA boys, according to county agent Bill Griffin.

The fair barns will be the scene of the event, which is being sponsored by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club.

The number of beef calves to be shown this year will probably be no larger than in the past years, Griffin says, but this lack is expected to be made up by an outstanding show in the sheep and hog divisions.

The sponsoring organizations will provide the prize money for the winners and business men and other individuals of the county will contribute to the bonus money to be given to entrants.

Lynn County Farm Bureau this year will present four showmanship awards, loving cups, one for the best all-around showman, and one each for the best showman in the beef cattle, swine and sheep divisions.

Animals to be shown are those that are projects of the Lynn county 4-H and FFA club members, which have been raised entirely by the boys.

Judging the calves will be Dean W. L. Stangel of the Department of Agriculture at Texas Tech. This will include both milk fed and dry lot. Euell Linder will judge the fat barrows and Tex Ritter will judge the lambs.

The annual livestock show has been arranged by the superintendents of the divisions and include George Claude Wells, calf division; Robert Lamb, Ward Eakin and Leonard Crawford, hog division; and B. L. Hatchell, sheep division.

County Agent Bill Griffin has been in charge of the 4-H boys while vocational agriculture teachers have helped the FFA members.

Home Demonstration club ladies will serve sandwiches and drinks during the day.

Sam Ramsey Death Victim

Sam Ramsey, 71, a resident of Tahoka for 47 years, died Saturday at 10:30 p. m. in the Big Spring Veterans' Hospital following an illness of about four months.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Monday at the First Methodist Church here with the pastor, Rev. J. B. Stewart, and the Rev. Luther Kirk of Plainview officiating. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery.

Samuel Rutledge Ramsey was born May 6, 1881, at Grandview. He came to Tahoka with his parents in 1910, and except for brief periods he had resided here ever since while engaged in the building trades. The past several years he had operated a cabinet shop on North First Street north of the C. C. Donaldson office. He was a member of the Methodist Church and of the Knights of Pythias lodge.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. R. P. (Polly) Weathers of Midland, and a number of nephews and nieces. Among the latter present at the funeral, all former residents of Tahoka, were David Weathers of Abilene, Mrs. Nancy Ray Evans and Mrs. Bill (Mary Jane) Sewell, both of Midland.

BROTHER-IN-LAW DIES

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Short and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Howell attended the funeral Sunday in Ft. Sumner, N. M., of a brother-in-law, R. F. Kyle, 62, who had died on the previous Friday. Mrs. Kyle is a sister of Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Short. Mr. Kyle leaves four sons in addition to his wife.

TPA's Anti-Secrecy Legislation Will Help Prevent Another "Duval County"

By-FREDERICK HODGSON

SAN DIEGO, Tex.—Texas law requires certain offices and political subdivisions to publish financial statements in the newspapers. But if they don't, there is generally no penalty and there is no fixed responsibility for removing from his public post an official who fails to comply. If there is no newspaper in the county independent enough to push the issue, the publications laws are just so much wordy manuscript.

Suppose the people are suspicious of the way the school board or the commissioners court is running things. All you have to do is hold the meetings in secret. Texas has no anti-secrecy law that says meetings have to be open.

In a sewed-up, boss-run county there is no danger that the people will come in with an auditor and expose everything. The only way they can do it under existing law is to get an order from the district judge at the direction of the grand jury, or from the commissioners court. This law just assumes that the judge and the commissioners will be honest, upright fellows with nothing to hide and nobody to protect. There is no way for the public to force an audit.

There are plenty of other ways for a smart boss to keep his county sewed up and his supporters happy. Suppose he wants to put the bus stops in front of his friends' stores to help their business. His controlled city council can fix him up quick. The law says that descriptive titles of all city ordinances have to be published in a newspaper. Even if the boss chooses to comply, there's no problem. A "descriptive title" can be anything he wants to make it.

All these loopholes together, and a few more besides, explain how Duval County fell under boss rule and stayed there. Before going to Duval County, I was frankly a little incredulous when I learned there hadn't been a county audit in forty years in spite of the repeated demands of the county's citizens. I thought the statement that Duvalans asked to see the public records at the risk of their lives, might be an exaggeration. I smiled when I heard that the people in Duval County had been trying for many years to find out when and where their commissioners court held its meetings, and in some cases whether the statutory school boards even existed.

But then I talked with men whose lives were threatened just because they were curious enough to ask questions about the county government. There's a woman in Freer, Texas, who repeatedly asked all the members of the Benavides School board for permission to attend one of their meetings. Her letters were never acknowledged.

The State of Texas has charged that hundreds of thousands of dollars from Benavides school funds were shoveled into private pockets.

John Ben Sheppard, in three years of court battles, became pretty familiar with the Texas Constitution and the criminal and civil statutes as they serve the purposes of dictators. He came out convinced that the best protection against crookedness in office is an alert newspaper backed up with laws. Publication laws, anti-secrecy laws, auditing laws, open-records laws, and laws for removing public officials who do not keep faith with the people. Most of all, laws to indict and prosecute malefactors outside their own sewed-up counties. It happened that the conclusions tallied with those of the Texas Press Association, which for several legislative sessions has asked for laws to strengthen the people's right to know what is going on in government. President of that group is David C. Leavell, publisher of the Galveston News-Tribune. Under his guidance the TPA is pushing 15 bills "for better government" at this legislative session, most of which are aimed at plugging the loopholes that made Duval County possible.

TPA members, by and large, believe Duval County is a warning of worse things that can happen unless the people of Texas act. Chief among these are probably Russell W. Bryant, publisher of the Italy News Herald, who is TPA's Legislative Committee chairman, and W. R. Beaumier who publishes the Lufkin Daily News, and is vice chairman.

Sheppard is quick to deny that the TPA's bills are proposed just because of Duval County, which he says would be a case of the tail wagging the dog.

"The defects in the law that we found in Duval County were not new discoveries," he says. "They have been there for decades and longer. The Duval County business simply shows what can happen in any of the 254 counties of Texas if something isn't done about the loopholes."

The bills which Sheppard and TPA think would improve and safeguard the quality of government in Texas are simple. One of them would make it possible for persons charged with embezzling or misusing public funds to be indicted in any county adjoining the county where the offense occurs, or in Travis County.

Such a law would keep crime and punishment apart from local politics. This "outside indictment" is already provided by law in rape cases, so it isn't new.

Another proposed law would require District or County Attorneys to file suit for recovery of misapplied funds in any political subdivision of the state within their jurisdiction, with or without the permission of the governing body. Another would make an audit of the records mandatory when 50 percent of the qualified voters petition the District Judge.

An anti-secrecy bill is included in the bunch, requiring that all meetings of official bodies be open to the press and public except as now otherwise provided by law.

There are a few cases in which closed meetings are necessary—such as when job applicants are being considered. In all other cases, as Sheppard puts it, there is no business in public office that is not the public's business.

If one of the TPA bills goes into effect as law, public officials who stand on the Fifth Amendment and refuse to answer questions about their official conduct would be removed from office. Sheppard maintains that this is not inconsistent with the Constitution.

"The Fifth Amendment is a guarantee that a person does not have to incriminate himself in a criminal proceeding. It was never intended to shield bad office-holders from just criticism or to keep unworthy men in office. Such a distortion of its use is not consistent with the honor of public service."

A number of laws governing publications would protect the people against bad government, the TPA says. One would require the full text of city ordinances to be published, not just a descriptive title. All offices, boards, agencies and commissions on all levels of government would be required to publish an annual financial statement under another proposed bill, and there is a related bill which would authorize the removal of any official who failed to publish this or any other required information. With still another TPA bill providing for the removal of an official who refuses to show his records, things may be getting tough for officeholders who have anything to hide.

There are provisions, too, for stopping the flow of State funds to school districts and other political subdivisions which fail to file and publish reports according to law. According to Sheppard, misappropriation of funds in Duval County was so rife that it didn't stop immediately when the State moved in. Efforts to cut off the flow of money to the Benavides school district until "lost" records were found and the money was better accounted for failed for lack of a law under which the State could control the flow of its own funds.

So, another of the 15 bills in the Better Government packet would make it unlawful to steal, conceal, alter or deface a public record—penalty three to seven years—with indictment and venue lying in the county of the offense, any adjoining county, or Travis County.

When you stop to think about it, there are ways of withholding public information from the public which are sanctioned by law. A lot of folks believe precinct, county and state political conventions are public business from which reporters, at least, should not be arbitrarily excluded. You couldn't very well let the public in, lest the bona fide delegates get lost in the milling crowd. But a TPA proposal at this legislative session would allow the presence of the press, radio and TV—that the people may know.

The need for this legislation is statewide, TPA believes, but if you want a Duval County illustration, there are plenty. Residents tell how they were forcibly excluded from political conventions if they didn't like the Duke and his candidates. If they tried to hold conventions of their own, they were raided by goon squads. Since the TPA came out with a proposal to admit the press and TV to such conventions, Duvalans speculate on what would have happened to the goons if they had come in swinging their carbines and found themselves on statewide television, and their pictures in the newspapers.

Franz Rosenwald and I talked to a lot of people in South Texas. We had heard about the "better government" bills that Sheppard and the TPA were urging upon the Texas Legislature two years ago, and the ones they are urging now.

"No," one of these South Texans said, "more laws wouldn't have stopped George Parr, Duke or without laws, he would have been Duke of Duval." I looked at Rosenwald. He does not know everything about law, or dictators, or South Texas. But he lived under the Nazis and the Russians, and he says there's nothing unique in this Duval County history. It's all so painfully familiar.

When the South Texan said, over a cup of coffee in the Alice hotel, that laws don't stop the world's little dictators, Rosenwald said, "You want to bet?"

Now is the time to consider the kind of cover and species of grass to plant on acres that are to be planted in the Conservation-Reserve. Plants that are to be used as ditter crops can be planted on most any of the soils in the District but the perennial grasses are more specific in the adaptability to different soils. The Soil Conservation Service office has information on the kinds of grasses to plant on different soils and anyone interested may contact personnel at the local office.

The fine seed planter boxes belong to the District that are adaptable to Farmall tractors can not be located. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of these boxes can notify any of the supervisors of S. C. S. personnel and it will be greatly appreciated.

Underground irrigation pipe has been checked for completion by S. C. S. personnel on the farms of J. T. Swenson, J. R. Fillingim, B. E. Ater, Charlie Lichey, W. V. Campbell, Orb Coffman and D. R. Mosser.

Soil and water conservation plans were assembled on the farms of Weldon Bailey, northwest of Wilson, and F. E. Redwine east of Tahoka. Weldon's plan is cancelling an old plan while the one for F. E. Redwine is a new plan. F. E. plans additional planting to blue panic grass and Weldon plans to plant switch grass, Uvalde side-oats grama, and Indian grass. These grasses are used extensively for re-seeding on range land and also as cultivated grasses for seed production and hay.

Are you, too, losing 1 bale out of 7 needlessly?

If you are a typical cotton farmer, diseases are robbing you of one bale out of every seven! Yet it needn't be... for if you plant red-tinted, Panogen seed (seed that is treated with Panogen liquid seed disinfectant), you stop diseases like seed decay, anthracnose, and rhizoctonia damping-off (sore-shin)... which cause serious losses.

Normally, you can expect that seed which has been treated with liquid PANOGEN will give you up to 15% more bales, but agricultural college tests show that during cold, rainy periods, Panogenized seed gives 5 to 10 times more plants than untreated seed... and may mean the difference between a good stand and having to re-plant.

Cost is only a few cents an acre to have your seed Panogenized at your local custom seed processor's.

ODds AND Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

This week, folks, I am going to take time out to talk politics a little.

I am a democrat, whether you write the word with a big D or a little one like this, d.

But I do not intend to be utterly hog-tied by any party to the extent that I can neither kick, wiggle, nor squeal.

Presidents are not nominated through the same machinery that nominates state, district, county, and precinct officials. All these are nominated through primary elections, if Democrats; by Republican primary conventions, elections, or "what have you?" if they are Republicans, but separate and distinct from the Democrats in any event.

What I am saying is this. When

"Youth's Stake In Soil Conservation," Winning Essay By Miss Idalia Wood

(Idalia Wood, Tahoka High School student, is the author of the following essay on "Youth's Stake In Soil Conservation" which won first place in the 1957 contest sponsored by the Lynn County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors. Walter Gasper and Sylvia Edwards, both of New Home, won second and third places. Winning essays have been forwarded to the Fort Worth Press for entrance in the state contest.)

Youth's Stake In Soil Conservation
The youth of today definitely have a stake in both the present and the future of soil conservation. The youth of today are the future farmers and future world leaders of tomorrow; so, it is vital to the ongoing of our nation that we further the interest in soil conservation among the youth of today.

Farming is America's chief industry and source of income. This has been true since the birth of our nation and it will remain thus in the future. As Woodrow Wilson once said, "Without the farmer every street would be silent, every its foundations on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness."

That was undoubtedly one of the clearest and most concise statements of human rights, before the law, ever written by the hand of man.

But notice that I said, "Before the law," and that is what Thomas Jefferson was talking about. Right here he made no reference to religious matters; and certainly he was laying down no rule nor dictum respecting social affairs.

Right now there is a large and powerful element among our citizenship who are determined to change overnight, as it were, the whole social order of the South—habits, practices, attitudes, a way of life—which has been built up and firmly established through centuries of time.

Recently, the Attorney-General of the United States, Mr. Brownell, made remarks which indicated that he might use his official powers to hasten the process of bringing about this social transformation in the South. This created quite a stir of opposition among many Southern people, and Mr. Brownell took back-water and so far has done nothing about it. But he did indicate unmistakably that he was thinking of instituting injunction proceedings in certain sections of the South to enjoin any person or persons from interfering with colored students who were reported to be intending to enter white schools and who claimed that there had been threats of interference.

In other words, it was a further assumption of authority by the justice department of the Federal Government to take charge of the public schools in Southern States whenever and wherever it pleased and to operate them as the federal government pleased regardless of the wishes of these Southern School communities. It is another encroachment on the rights of the states and a corresponding unauthorized and dangerous assumption of authority on the part of the federal government that should be fought to the bitter end.

We shall have more to say along these lines further along, but time and space have run out on us now, and we must close here. Good night.

office destroyed, and every factory fallen into disrepair." It is the responsibility of today's youth to learn more about soil conservation in order to better carry on the major industry of America for the generations to come.

It is our duty to better educate and train ourselves in the field of soil conservation. It is our duty to educate the people of our generation in scientific land-use principles. We must encourage more of our young people to major in the field of agriculture so they will learn the value and importance of soil conservation and to better enable them to become successful farmers. We must also urge more young people to become soil conservation minded so more peo-

Singer Presents Rotary Program

Tahoka Rotary Club enjoyed a rare musical treat last Thursday noon when a fine vocalist from Lubbock presented a musical program.

The program was by Mrs. Dorothy Pijan, a student in Texas Tech, and she was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lora Clements, another Tech student.

Mrs. Pijan possesses a fine voice that is unusually pleasing, and each number drew prolonged applause.

She opened her program with Irish Lullaby and Danny Boy, popular Irish songs, which were greatly enjoyed by her audience. The Gospel Train, a Negro spiritual, and Deep River also proved popular. She then sang a song composed by John Gilbert, a sophomore student in Tech, dedicated to her daughter. Finally, her rendition of The Twenty-Third Psalm was superb.

Truett Smith arranged the program and introduced the two ladies.

Junior Rotarians for the month, Hilton Wood and Lynn Strickland, were introduced by "Dub" Kenley and Frank Hill, respectively. Lynn also announced the Senior Class play which was presented Friday night.

The club was to elect new officers for the Rotary year beginning July 1 at the meeting this Thursday.

County H. D. Council Hears Mrs. Russell

The Lynn County Home Demonstration Council chairman, Mrs. N. B. Hancock, had five clubs of the county present at the second meeting of the year.

Mrs. Aubrey Russell, District No. 2 agent of Lubbock, spoke to the group on the responsibilities of a county home demonstration council.

Also attending were Miss Wanda Roach, local agent, and Mrs. H. A. Parrish, alternate delegate from Joe Stokes.

In her talk, Mrs. Russell said the council is a committee elected by the H. D. clubs of the county and is responsible to them and to the county H. D. agent. The council must conform to the policies of the Extension Service staff. The president and one delegate from each club is a member of the council, with the president as its executive officer, who makes the report to the county council.

She said the county delegate should report from the council to the club and her report should include general information and recommendations from the council and that she should move to accept these either as a whole or singly.

The council serves as a means of communication between the H. D. agent and the county clubs and also the agent and the people of the county in each community.

Mrs. Carlice Edwards of New Home was re-elected chairman of the Lynn County council and presided during the election of delegates to District 2 meeting to be held in Levelland March 27. Those chosen to attend are Mrs. J. O. Allen, Mrs. L. B. Jones and Mrs. Tom Russell. First alternate is Mrs. Dwight Corbell and second alternate is Mrs. Amos Barton.

The council also made plans for the club women of the county to have a concession stand at the Lynn County Stock Show.

The Lynn County H. D. Council meets the third Thursday of each month at 2:30 p. m. in the county court room in Tahoka. However, the council will meet with various clubs of the county and have been invited to meet with the Draw club on April 18.

COLORS SEED RED, TOO!

You can be confident of uniform, higher-yielding cotton stands when your seed is protected from disease with new Du Pont "Ceresan" liquid seed disinfectants.

This enables you to market more bales of better-quality cotton. It also allows you to start your weed-control program earlier and to use your machinery and labor more efficiently.

Profitable control of seed- and soil-borne diseases with new Du Pont "Ceresan" liquid costs only a few cents an acre. Ask your local seed dealer to use Du Pont "Ceresan" liquids... effective new protection that puts a strong, uniform red color on seed.

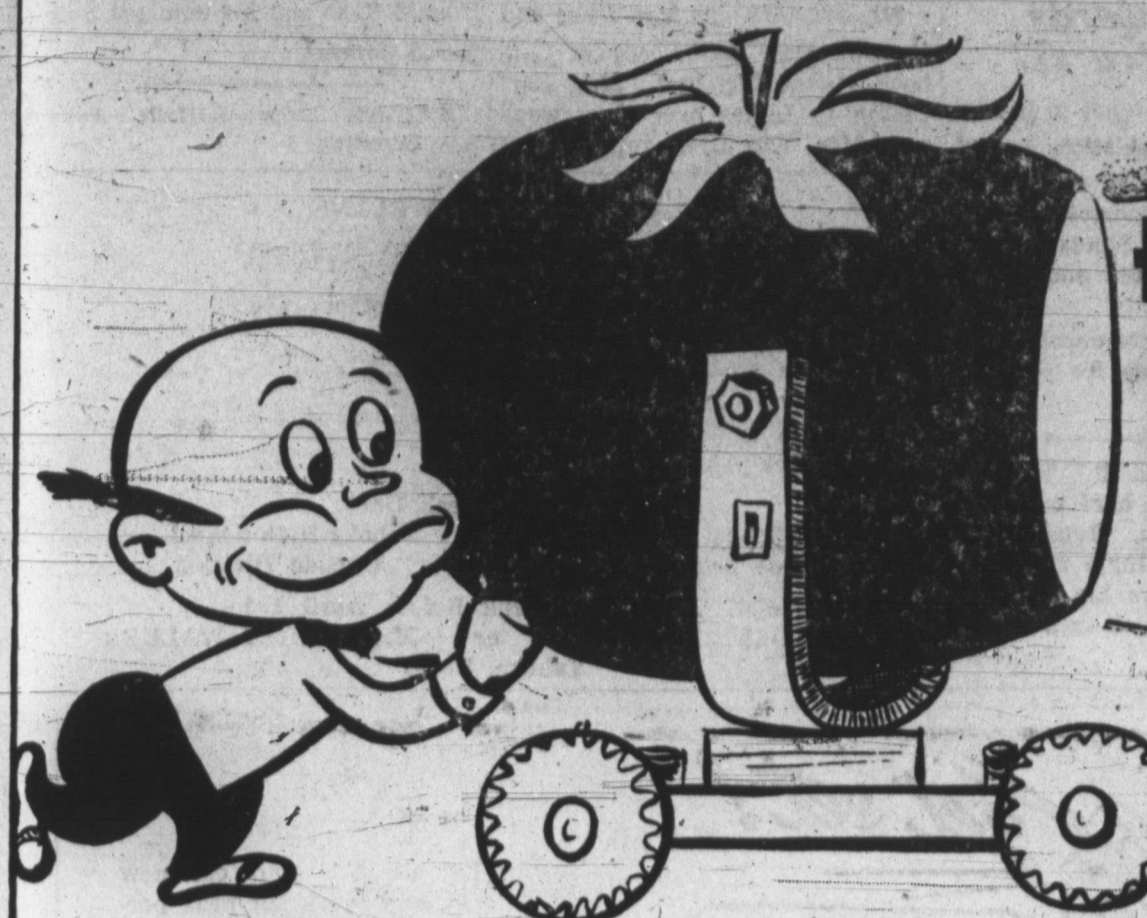

• These healthy, vigorous cotton seedlings grew from seed treated with Du Pont "Ceresan." They were protected against angular leaf spot and anthracnose boll rot by Du Pont "Ceresan."

On all chemicals, always follow label instructions and warnings carefully.

Elbrecht is chairman of Region I pastor and teacher conference and is a former GI, while Rev. Heinemeier is the fourth vice president of the Texas District and represents its Western area.

Poultry Show At Lubbock This Week

The first Southwest Poultry Show will be held in Lubbock at the Fair Park Coliseum today, Saturday and Sunday when the public will have its first opportunity to view under one roof the huge poultry industry of this area.

All types and all varieties of poultry will be on display, as well as all types of commercial exhibits showing the latest in feed, equipment, processing machinery, etc.

On Saturday morning the 4-H and FFA poultry judging contest will be conducted and the South Plains Rabbit Breeders Association will have their annual spring show during the three day period. Free prizes will also be given away to visitors of the show.

Harris Announces Sunday Sermons

Rev. Clifford Harris reports that the evening services at the First Baptist Church have been well attended during the current series of sermons on the Book of Revelation.

The series will continue for several Sunday nights until the book has been completed. The topic for Sunday night will be "The Opening of the Seven Seals."

STUDENTS RATE HIGH IN GRADE SCHOOL WORK

In a series of tests on fractions, in Miss Johnson's fifth grade room, Gailyn McMillan rated a perfect score. Rex Austin ranked second, and Mike McKibben third.

Jack Flippin and Billy Miller are leading the class in learning the forty-eight states and their capitals.

Reports say that room 5-C looks like a zoo with so many animals in it. There are pigs, ducks, dogs, rhinoceros, and a camel. It is hoped to have them on exhibit for open house. The animals are not real, however; they are made of paper mache.

Standing . . .

(Cont'd. From Front Page) thumb and when you get where you're going, feel like a crumb in comparison to someone else.

On the other hand, you can feel like a crumb and see someone walking down the street that makes you look good.

That's not being self-centered? Who do you think cares other than you?

When you know how to pray, and how to love and how to hope, and when you have kept faith with your God and with yourself and with your fellowman—you are on the right road to becoming an asset to your community.

Speaking of progress, the News received its new addressing machine last week that has more gadgets than Pa's fishing tackle. The old one was a step ahead of the day when all the wrappers were addressed on the typewriter. But the editors thought they were lucky then. Time was when all the papers were addressed every week by hand.

The folder helps too. Everyone in the family used to congregate at "Ye Old Print Shop" every Thursday night, and with the kids over four years old sitting on top of the big stools, all worked on their muscle development by hand folding all the papers.

We noticed the daffodils at Wynne Colliers are blooming and are as beautiful as ever, and that the Emil Prohl's willow tree is budding out, so spring must be around the corner.

With spring, comes planning for vacations and the maps come out of the mothballs. Actually, all this planning is more fun than the trip itself.

The News is now without a correspondent from Wilson. If you are interested, apply at the News office and ask for further details. Ann Davidson has done a good job and we regret that she had to give up her work as correspondent.

The only good race in this world is the Human Race. Created by God.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

They benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly. (Philemon 14.)

Alan was only five years old, but at home, at kindergarten, and in Sunday School he often heard about the poor children in other lands who did not have enough food, clothes, or proper shelter. He became concerned about them.

When his Bible school teacher handed him a small rice bag to fill, he quickly went to his own toy cash register, opened the drawer, and took out the largest coins. Then he passed the rice bag to all members of his family and among his friends. He was a happy little boy when his rice bag was filled. He not only gave joyfully from his own meager savings, but also enlisted the aid of others in order that some child unknown to him might be helped.

People all over the world are gladly giving their substance because they believe in someone or some worthy cause. They give freely, out of compassionate hearts. As the result of such sharing with others, happiness comes as a blessing.

PRAYER
Thy countless gifts to us, especially the gift of Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, who gave Himself that we might have eternal life. May we prove our gratitude to Thee for all Thy mercy and goodness by selfless service in behalf of others. In the Master's name. Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
"Give alms of such things as you have." — Alice A. B. Hoefler (Virginia).

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. (Skip) Taylor had as guests last week end her mother, Mrs. A. Meador of San Antonio, and sisters, Mrs. Jack Porter of Austin and Mrs. Clarence Menzler of Blanco.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. R. Ingle of Norman, Okla., are here this week visiting their sons, "Butch", Clifford, and Dayton Ingle and families. Mr. Ingle says his area has not received as much rain as has this.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Van Dyke and Donald Kent and his wife are now proud parents. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leedy of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Bart Cowan in Dallas over the week end. Mrs. Van Dyke reports that Sixty-one free nations have Boy Scouting.
