STANDING ON THE CORNER

With P. J.

A haze on the far horizon, The infinite, tender sky, The ripe, rich tint of the corn-fields, And the wild geese sailing high—

And all over upland and lowland The charm of the golden-rod, Some of us call it Autumn, And others call it God.

—William Herbert Carruth

By far, this is the prettiest time of the year in West Texas and the weather is usually enjoyed without the benefit of a great deal of wind and sand.

There is just one murr in the picture—allergies and all the sniffin' and snortin' that's going on is proof that hay fever season is in full swing.

Those blood-shot eyes you see don't reveal a thing—you can't tell whether a feller had a high time last night, or has just been working in his feed patch.

And some of those beautiful noses we've seen this week. Honest to Pete, W. A. Reddell's takes the cake—it's almost as red as W. C. Field's and if it doesn't stop swelling, is going to mimic Jimmy Durante's.

All this is very amusing—to the person who doesn't have hay fever.

The Welfare Center still needs children's clothing. There just simply is not enough supply to meet the demand—and many children need clothing very badly to wear to school. If you still haven't cleaned out your closet, please do so soon and take your used clothing to the American Legion Hall on Wednesday morning.

Another request has been made for old toys. These are needed by Mary Davis who has the Colored kindergarten. If you have something these children might use, either take the articles to her or if you wish, bring them to my house.

In this "do it yourself" age we're living in, one efficiency expert, E. A. Cyrol, has a new motto—"Don't Do It Yourself."

He says that more money and time is wasted in someone's trying to save a dollar, than if a professional is hired. In Cyrol's opinion, a man should spend his time "doing what he can do best."

For example, there was the authentic case of a man who writes a widely-read do it yourself column. This fellow took his own advice and tried to fix the pump on his washing machine. He did—but the pump squirted water into the motor. A new motor cost him $36.00.

1957 THS Grads Enter Colleges

Several of the 1957 spring graduates of Tahoka High School have enrolled for the fall term, and three have joined the Armed Forces.

Lubbock has claimed the largest number of students with Donald Renfro, Hilton Wood, and Wilma Scott attending Texas Tech, and Homer Morse and Betsy Rowe enrolled at Draughon's Business College.

Harriett Bean and Jan Collier are attending McMurry College in Abilene, while Charlene Riddle is attending Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene and Carolyn Duckett is in nurses training at Hardin-Simmons. Kent Gibson and Lendell Norman are freshmen students at John Tarleton in Stephenville; Marilyn Calloway is in West Texas State; and Bettye Howie is attending Texas Women's University in Denton.

Out of the 36 graduating seniors, three are in the Armed Forces, Jimmy Dunlap, Jerry Freeman, and Jimmy Harter.

Harvesting of Crop Gaining Momentum

Tahoka had ginned 494 bales of 1957 cotton up to noon Thursday, and an estimated 3,500 bales have been ginned in the county.

From the maize crop, approximately 250 cars had been received up until noon the same day in Tahoka.

Local prognosticators are guessing this year's big crop to run from 115,000 to 150,000 bales of cotton and grain to average about 1,500 pounds per acre.

Of Lynn county's 457,000 acres in cultivation, 180,000 is in cotton, about 200,000 or more acres in grain sorghums, and the remaining 77,000 in other crops and soil bank.

Most of the early cotton has been selling slightly above the loan, about 30 to 50 points above on middling and strict middling. Loan price on middling 1-inch is 32.10.

However, Thursday, some of the buyers withdrew from the market. Cotton seed is bringing $55.00 a ton.

Most dry maize has been going into storage on government loan at $1.58 per hundred, but a new policy announced Thursday morning by the Government may raise this three cents in Lynn county. Market on the maize was $1.45 Thursday.

The past few farm days have been big help to cotton and late feed. Cotton is now opening more rapidly, but the size of the crop will greatly depend upon a late killing frost.

Many hands have arrived, but many more are needed. Texas Employment Service reports hands are moving this way in large numbers but many are stopping in Central Texas and below the Plains.

Cotton farmers who have not already done so are required to call for their marketing cards at the local ASC office.

Better Grades On Cotton Samples

Better grade and staple gradings are being received on Lynn county cotton this year as a result of humidifiers having been installed in the area grading offices at Lamesa and Lubbock, according to Charles A. Verner vice president of the First National Bank and a director of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Humidifying equipment this year has been installed in the two classing offices on insistence of the Plains Cotton Growers organization, which has paid for the equipment.

Verner says that Curtis Boyd, Lubbock ginner formerly owner of the Petty gin, was largely responsible for getting the job done through negotiations with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Lubbock cotton men.

All samples sent to either of these classing offices is now conditioned for 24 hours before being touched by classers.

Heretofore, cotton samples from this dry area were left in dry rooms and then classed. Latex on arrival at Houston or Galveston or other cotton concentration points where humidity is higher than on the Plains, the cotton would show a higher grade, but the farmer would not get the benefit in price.

Cotton men state the installation of the humidifiers are certain to give the Plains farmer a better break.

Mrs. Uzzle was born May 18, 1884 in Paris Texas. She was married to Charley D. Uzzle on Nov. 3, 1907 at Waco and the couple came to Lynn county in 1924 from Hill county. They settled near the Draw community, where they farmed for many years before moving to Tahoka a few years ago. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Smith And Short Buy Auto Supply

O. C. Elliott has sold his Tahoka Auto Supply business and stock to T. A. (Jack) Smith and E. L. Short, the new owners taking charge on Monday.

Smith is operator of the Ince Oil Co. in Tahoka and O'Donnell, buying the Panhandle Oil business from Elliott nearly two years ago.

Short is a well known farmer of the Central Church area and is also engaged in the oil production business.

Wade Holland, manager at Tahoka Auto Supply for several years, will remain as operator of the business and there will be no changes in the firm's policy, the new owners state. Elliott stated he does not intend to leave Tahoka. He has two service stations in Brownfield.

Mrs. Taylor Served Meals To Rotary Over 15 Years

Mrs. W. S. (Skip) Taylor, who has been serving meals to Tahoka Rotary Club, has given up the work after 15 years service.

Although Mrs. Taylor made a profit from the project, her work has been done principally as her contribution to the community and the club.

When E. R. Edwards announced at last week's club meeting that she was retiring, many Rotarians expressed their deep regret, for she has many times gone out to her way and sacrificed in order to serve the Thursday meal to the club.

Dedication For Wilson's Park

Wilson's new City Park will be dedicated Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m., according to H. G. Cook.

Featuring the affair will be the unveiling of the monument honoring the late William Dixon Green, who died a few years ago, being placed in the park by his mother, Mrs. Wm. D. (Myriam) Green of Lubbock.

Mrs. Green donated the three blocks of land, located just west of the school, for the park site. Wilson Lions Club and other organizations of the community have joined in the project. The site has been cleared, grass and trees planted, and a fund has been started for the erection of a community building. Plans are to install playground and other park equipment.

Bulldogs Open Conference With Spur Here Tonight

Tahoka Bulldogs are still handicapped by injuries and the flu as they open their District 2-AA conference season here tonight with the powerful Spur Bulldogs.

Although Spur has lost to Matador 13 to 7, been tied by Hamlin 0-0 and Anson 7-7, it won over Crosbyton 40-0, and is still rated one of the better AA teams of West Texas.

Quarterback Karl Prohl is still out with an injured back. Fullback Kenith Stuce is out with the flu, and Tackle John Ed Redwine's flu has developed into pneumonia. Several other starters may see little or no action because of the flu and injuries.

However, Coach Bill Haralson says the boys are in good spirit and expect to give Spur a battle.

Coach Bill Henry of Spur has a versatile, experienced team with a beefy line, with 14 returning lettermen including 11 who were starters last year in either offense or defense.

Backs include: Kenneth Gilcrease, 170, quarterback; Travis Watson, 170, fullback; and Halfbacks Alan Kissinger, 160, Ray Powell, 150, and Glen Hairgrove, 150.

Linemen include: Ends Ronnie Cloud, 175, and Ernest Wilson, 155; Tackles Randall Gilcrease and David Morman, each 205; Guards Leslie Albin, 160, and Jimmie Holder, 165; and Center Royce Bilberry, 205.

A. C. Weaver was released from Tahoka Hospital Sunday. He had been a patient there after receiving injuries recently in a car wreck.

Increase Asked In Gas Rates

Pioneer Natural Gas Company is asking the City of Tahoka for a small raise in its gas rates in Tahoka to take care of increased cost of gas, materials, supplies, and labor.

The raise would amount to 25 cents per month for each domestic and commercial consumer.

Herman Heath, Lubbock manager, and Dean Taylor, local manager, told The News the raise sought is from $1.25 as the minimum bill on 2,000 cubic feet of gas to $1.50 on the same amount of domestic and commercial consumers.

The company has asked for and been granted only one raise in rates since it came into Tahoka 30 years ago. This raise was granted in 1951 and amounted to approximately 14 percent.

"Since 1951 the cost of materials, supplies and labor has continued to increase," C. I. (Stony) Wall, president, writes. "This has resulted in not only an increase in our operating costs but also the cost of expanding our distribution systems and main transmission lines to keep pace with the growth in the cities and towns we serve. It is likewise necessary for us to pay more for natural gas in the field in order to provide a dependable long-time supply for our service area."

If a new contract is approved by the City Council, the new rate would go into effect with meter readings on or after Dec. 1, 1957.

 SUMER BLANKENSHIP

Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to the District assisted A. L. Smith with a conservation plan on his place south-east of Tahoka. Lake water is being used to water a field of sorghum with a sprinkler system. Plans are to overseed a part of the acreage to a winter cover crop of rye. A small acreage of native grasses will be watered with the sprinkler to observe response and results. The lake is to be planted to small grain after it is dry.

Mr. Smith thinks that the sorghum alumum is satisfactory for grazing by cattle. Plans are to have additional acres of sorghum alumum for grazing next year.

On native grassland, Mr. Smith plans to choose and reseed some acreage while mesquites may be controlled by grubbing or kerosening where native grass has a good turf.

ing, reduces evaporation, and retards wind and water erosion. The use of crop residues is the most effective means of reducing wind erosion when residues are on the soil surface, problem is farming equipment that can be used to leave crop residue on the surface throughout the crop year.

E. R. Blakney north of New Home is harvesting twelve acres of Blackwell Switch grass for seed release. This grass is a panic grass similar to blue panic but not as large and stemmy. May be used for range re-seeding on for small patches as a perennial grass to replace sudan.

Reports on the benefits of root plowing on rangeland in central Texas continues to be published. In addition to killing undesirable brush, shrubs and weeds, moisture penetration is a building factor. On land that had been root placed moisture penetration was two to six times as deep as on unplowed land previously root plowed, seeded and now established to a good growth of grasses. Plants can not grow without soil moisture. This is in keeping with moisture penetration studies in this District last spring. Where there was a grass cover and moisture penetration was deep, growth of grass was considerably better than acres with little grass and shallow penetration.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank all of my friends for the flowers, cards, visits and all the nice things you did for me during my recent illness. You'll never know how much I appreciate each of you. Carol Hickerson.

Ware Is Rotary Club Speaker

"Who Profits from Today's Drugs," was the subject of a talk by Bill Ware, local pharmacist, at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Ware explained the care that goes into the manufacture and compounding of drugs, the fact that every pharmacist checks the ingredients of each prescription three times, and the 35,000 scientists engaged in perfecting new drugs.

He said the average person spends $10 per year for prescriptions, $32 per year for cigarettes, and $55 per year for liquor.

The humblest patient of a doctor is better off today, he declared, than the most prominent man in the world was 15 years ago because of the development of new drugs. At the turn of the century, a man was considered old at 47, while today a man may look forward to living to be 68.

Ware followed his talk by showing a film on the manufacture and preparation of drugs.

Junior Rotarians for the Month Erwin Young was introduced by Wynne Collier and Ronnie Dulin by Alton Cain.

Bill Haralson was in charge of the program. Mrs. W. S. Taylor, who has served the club meals many years principally as a public service, announced that she was giving up the work. President Happy Smith and others expressed deep regret in losing Mrs. Taylor and expressed their thanks for her long service.

Mrs. John Minor enjoyed a visit Monday from her oldest living nephew, D. L. Swope, and wife from Tyler. They were en route to Wilson to visit his brother, C. C. Swope. This was the first time Mrs. Minor had seen her nephew since 1920.

Odds and Ends

(By E. I. Hill, Editor)

It certainly is regrettable that we are getting this country in such a mess again over the rare problem. The action which President Eisenhower took last week in sending Federal troops into Little Rock, Arkansas, to enforce integration of the colored and white races in a public school has done much to stir up strife and bitterness between the two races, the one against the other. There is no knowing as to how far this Federal policy will be pushed nor where it will end. If it is followed too rigidly it will cause insurrections and bloodshed in other Southern communities. We think that both races are to be blamed for this situation.

In many communities in the South, segregation of the races has existed ever since Slavery days, and the Negroes have not been furnished the educational facilities which they had a right to expect, since they did not come to this country of their own accord but had been hunted down like beasts and brought to this country by slave hunters both from the North and the South in this country. In most cases, however, these imported slaves and their descendants were treated kindly by their masters, and in many cases real affection grew up between the masters and their slaves.

However, as the population increased and the cotton gin was invented, the demand for slave labor increased, the sentiment in favor of the abolition of slavery likewise increased with the passing years, and finally Abraham Lincoln was elected President of the United States followed by the War of Secession. Slavery was abolished and the War ended.

And then came the greatest misfortune that the South ever suffered, a fanatical young actor, disappointed at the outcome of the War, entered Ford's Theatre in Washington where the President was sitting in a private box, suddenly whipped out a pistol and shot Lincoln through the head. That was the greatest shock and tragedy the South had suffered during his entire War. It not only shocked the people of the South but it inaugurated the region of the carpet-bagger and the Scalawag for several years in every Southern state. And the outrageous conduct of these treacherous and avicious scoundrels incited good men and bad ones too, as a means of self-defense to form secret bodies to frighten the prospectively troublesome Negroes into peace.

able and tractable human beings. These secret organizations were given the high-sounding and fear-inspiring name of Ku-Klux-Klan, and the Kluxers put on ugly and night-looking masks and rode out at night on highly panoplied brancing horses, their very appearance suggesting a gang of dangerous devils of some sort, and some of the tricks they played when they rode up to some suspected Negro's house were ridiculous and amusing indeed to the visiting Kluxers. The mystic activities of these Southerners soon came to be regarded by the people of the North as distasteful acts but by the disreputable people of the South as an ingenious subterfuge for protecting themselves against the vengeful and criminal elements among the Negroes who had been so recently freed by the war.

Thomas H. Dixon Jr. was a native of North Carolina, born in 1864, just a short time before the War of Secession ended. A brilliant young man, he studied law and was admitted to the bar as soon as he was 21 years old, but before he had any time to practice his profession, he was elected to the State Legislature, but after serving a little while in that office he resigned and entered the Baptist Ministry. That was in 1886. As a Minister he held pastorates in Boston and New York. He doubtless heard much criticism of the South and particularly of the Ku-Klux-Klan while living in those Northern cities; and being a Southerner and knowing the "why and the wherefore" of that organization, those criticisms must have stung him to the quick, and somewhere back in those years he decided to write a defense of the South and the truth about its racial problems. "The Leopard's Spots" and the "Clansman" were the most noted of his books, though he wrote several others beside. Both "The Leopard's Spots" and "The Clansman" were dramatized and created a sensation throughout the nation. Especially was the Griffith picture show, put on the screen under the title of "The Birth of a Nation" sensational all over the United States wherever it was shown. It served to soften somewhat the attitude of the North toward the South and to bring a better understanding in the North of the South's problems in the era of the carpet-baggers and the scallawags. The great orator, Henry W. Grady, had also made an eloquent speech in the North portraying the problems of the South following the "Civil War" and it looked for a time as if the South at last was to get justice. Although it doubtless was not furnishing the Negroes of the South in many communities with the educational facilities to which they were entitled, still they were making great progress in this matter and were giving most Negroes vastly increased educational opportunities, and the two races in the South had been living together side by side in a majority of Southern cities and communities in remarkable relationships of peace and friendliness.

Then came that regrettable decision of the United States Supreme Court reversing its decision made long ago, declaring in this latter decision that there can be no equality of educational and transportation opportunities except through the abolishment of segregation and the inauguration of integration of the two races everywhere in the bounds of the United States. That decision has played havoc with the relationship of the two races in much of the South and also in the cities and communities of the North where the Negro population is heavy. If the President's policy is continued long, trouble between the races will keep on occurring. I think the President has made a serious and inexcusable blunder.

But even so, the President is not to be blamed as bitterly as the forces aligned behind the President who are urging him on. Brownell is urging the President on, and all the Republican politicians in doubtful states are urging Brownell and the President on. Northern Democrats even are joining in the hue and cry for integration in the hope of winning Negro votes in doubtful states. The Supreme Court in the first place were supremely dense in rendering their revolutionary opinion. They should have foreseen what a predicament such a decision would bring about. Back of the whole works is the NAACP who think that integration will bring about inter-marriage, and back of it all are some of the labor unions who are obviously playing into the hands of the Russian Communists. So that is the situation as this humble unimportant and unimportant country newspaper columnist sees it; and I do not think that my statement of conditions in this country is much exaggerated.

So, that's all, and I hope I don't get into jail for thinking as I do.

Hapless Bulldogs Are Victims Of Seagraves Eagles In Game Here

The Seagraves Eagles, the flu and injuries overwhelmed the Tahoka Bulldogs 51 to 0 here Friday night before a large crowd, the last non-conference game for both teams before opening their 5-A and 2-AA championship, respectively.

With six Tahoka regulars sidelined by injuries and flu and other boys seeing action while suffering mild attacks of the flu, the Bulldogs were unable to cope with the powerful running attack of the Eagles, who started a team of eight veteran seniors and three juniors.

With Quarterback Karl Prohl benched with an injured back and End Jerry Brown out with the flu, Tahoka was badly hurt on both offense and defense, especially on the latter. Also benched with flu or injuries were John Ed Redwine and David Bray, tackles; John Hegi, guard; and Richard Brooks, halfback.

Also, three fumbles lost and two bad passes from center on fourth down coupled with other mistakes permitted the visitors to run up a bigger score than they should have while keeping Tahoka's offense under control.

Tahoka set up Seagraves first score in the first quarter. The Bulldogs were on their own 22. Donald Williams was back to punt as a substitute for Jerry Brown, received a bad pass from center and was downed on the Tahoka 9. On the first play, R. E. Duggan, fullback, who scored four touchdowns that night, went over right tackle to the goal line. Halfback Jim Hamilton got a bad pass from center and could not get off his kick for the extra point. A few minutes later, Hamilton broke over guard and raced 66 yards to score. Hamilton's kick was low. Again in the first, Duggan got away on a 51 yard gallop, and the kick was no good.

Tahoka fumbled the kickoff and Seagraves recovered on the Tahoka 32. This time 10 plays were required for the Eagles to score, Duggan going the last 11 over center, and this time Hamilton's kick was good. Taking the kickoff, Halfback Billy Tomlinson made a great run of 56 yards to the Seagraves 29, but three plays later Tahoka lost the ball on a fumble on the Eagle 21. The Eagles ground out yardage steadily in a march to the Tahoka 23, from which point Duggan went the distance for another TD, and Hamilton kicked the extra point.

Tahoka then got its best drive started, and moved down to the Seagraves three yard line as time ran out at the half.

Early in the third quarter, QB Pat McAdoo passed nine yards to Hamilton to score. Kick no good. The next time Seagraves got the ball on the Tahoka 45, and immediately went for a touchdown, a pass to End Eddie Singleton carrying the last 27 yards. Kick good.

Tomlinson again ran the kick-off back 44 yards to the Eagle 36, nullified by a clipping penalty. Tahoka moved to the Eagle 39 and bogged down when a fumble was lost on the Eagle 19. Seagraves couldn't move, punted to the Tahoka 13. When the Bulldogs couldn't move either, Williams went back to kick and again received a bad pass, and Seagraves took over on the Tahoka 2. Next play, HB James Moore went over. Kick failed. Final score 51 to 0.

In addition to the fine runs by Tomlinson, Quarterback George Adams did a fine job on offense for Prohl, as did his brothers, Center Jerry Adams and Guard James Adams. End Gaylon Tekell caught passes for 20 and 23 yards and End Jay Gurley for 15 and 7 yards. Backs Cloe, Copeland, Kenith Stice and Bragg looked good considering the handicaps. In the line were Hicks, Riddle, Williams, Calloway, Richard Stice, and others.

Wilson Arranges
Classes To Meet
Labor Requirements

Dear Patrons of Wilson I. S. D.

As you know we have a large number of children that come into the school district each fall so that the family can help harvest the cotton crop. This has been a big problem to the school and to the producer alike. The school has done all that was possible in the past to help solve this problem and in continuing that policy the following has been approved:

The Department of Labor, Child Labor Division and the Texas Education Agency have approved this program and when it is met there will not be any question of the legality of the children working.

First: All children that come to school at 9:00 in the morning and stay until 4:00 in the afternoon can work at any other hours.

Second: Those children that come to school at 7:00 in the morning and stay until 1:00 in the afternoon, if the child does not stay for lunch, may leave at 12:30, may start to work at 1:00.

As you can see the children will have to be brought to school at 7:00 and the parents will have to pick them up at 1:00 if they are to work after 1:00. Those children that wait until 9:00 o'clock to come to school on the bus will have to remain until 4:00 in the afternoon.

The child, to get out at 1:00 to work, must be in school in the morning. The school cannot grant permission for a child to just register and stay at home in the afternoon. To be eligible to work after 1:00 in the afternoon it will be necessary for the child to have been at school that day or wait until after 4:00.

Any child may register for either schedule.

The 7:00 to 1:00 schedule was set up and started functioning Wednesday, October 2, 1957.

This policy will be adhered to rigidly with no exceptions. This is the only way that the approval can be granted.

J. P. HEWLETT, Supt.

Local Girl Gets

Miss Charlene Riddle, who is attending Hardin-Simmons University this year at Abilene, was recently granted the scholarship offered each year by the Brownfield District Associational WMU of the Baptist Church, according to Mrs. Truett Smith.

The scholarship is offered each year to some worthy student to attend a Baptist college.

Congratulations:

Mr and Mrs. Buster Todd of Petty on the birth of a daughter Tuesday at 8:55 p. m. in Tahoka Hospital. Weighing six pounds, 11 and one half ounces, she has been named Sharon Sue. The Todds have two other children, both boys. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Todd of Tahoka.

COLORED BABY DIES

Funeral services for Tommy Louis Graves, one and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Graves, were held Saturday in Pleasant Grove Baptist Church in Tahoka. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery.

The boy died Thursday, Sept. 26, at 2:15 p. m. at Rumbo Clinic in O'Donnell. He had been in ill health all of his life.

Survivors include his parents and one brother, Tony Earl, seven months old.

GRAVESIDE SERVICES

Graveside services were held in Tahoka Cemetery at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday for the stillborn baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Motiss Vara, who works for A. P. Stephens.

The baby was stillborn at 9:36 a. m. Monday in Tahoka Hospital. She was the couple's first child. The mother and father had just recently come here from Kingsbury, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smelser and daughter of Mount Pleasant left Sunday for home after a 10-days visit here with a daughter, Mrs. G. H. Chestnut, and family, and two of Mr. Smelser's brothers, M. S. and Lois Smelser. Although Mr. Smelser had visited here several times, this was the first time he had seen Lynn county when it had a good crop, and he was "carried away" with its appearance.

HUNG JURY IN TRIAL

The suit of Sue Appling vs. H. B. McCord et al tried in district court here last week ended in a hung jury. When the jury reported to Judge Louis B. Reed Wednesday night that it was unable to reach a verdict, he discharged the body at 11:45 p. m. The suit was for damages by Miss Appling, driver of a car owned by Rev. Clifford Harris, which was involved in a crash with a truck owned by McCord.

Wilson FHA Club Holds Banquet

The annual Mother-Daughter banquet, sponsored by the Wilson F. H. A. Club, was held Tuesday night, Sept. 24, in the school cafeteria.

The theme carried out in the banquet was "It's Fall." The tables were decorated with foods that remind a person of fall, such as pumpkins, squash, tomatoes, apples, and peas.

The food served at the banquet consisted of fruit cocktail, fried chicken, tossed salad, English peas, corn rolls, pumpkin pie, and iced tea.

Mrs. George Williamson gave the invocation. The benediction was given by Jo Williamson. Mrs. Werner Klaus and Audrey Klaus gave the welcome and response. To help carry out the theme in the program, Martha Pair sang "Autumn Leaves" and "September Song." Accompanied by her brother, Mark, at the piano. Doris Lamb also read a poem about fall.

A special part of the program was the formal initiation of the freshmen girls into the F. H. A. Club.

A special word of thanks should be given to the boys who served the food. They were: Arlis Ehlers, Mark Pair, Tommy Galneau, Buddy Kaatz, Donald Klaus, Billy Weaver, Bobby Crowson, and Jackie Bishop.

Methodists Hold Promotion Day

Promotion Day was held at the First Methodist Church during the Sunday School hour Sunday morning. When students were promoted and presented awards for perfect attendance.

Maurice Bray was in charge of the program, in the absence of the Sunday School Superintendent, Milton Uzzle.

Each department, nursery through young people, presented a portion of the program including songs, scripture reading, and class reports. Teachers of the various classes presented the promotion certificates and awards.

Approximately 45 boys and girls from three years of age to 16 years of age were awarded pins for perfect attendance. These students received pins marking all the way from one year to 12 years of perfect attendance, and six received a special award of a book for not being absent even for illness.

The Commission on Education recently made a new ruling on determining perfect attendance, allowing only illness as excuses for being absent. Hereafter, the students have been allowed two "cuts" other than illness.

Maurice Huffaker is superintendent of the adult department, Elmer Owens of the young people's department, and Mrs. John Thomas is superintendent of the children's department.

The year will begin with several new teachers in the Church School and include Mrs. Dale Thuren, who replaces Mrs. Marshall Stewart in the second year primaries; Mrs. Johnny Wells replacing Mrs. Jessie Clinton in third year juniors; Mrs. Allyn Cox replacing Mrs. G. M. Stewart in the intermediate girls class; and H. W. Carter replacing Wilton Payne in the intermediate boys class.

NOT IF you consider that the death rate from all communicable diseases has been cut by 92% thanks to new drugs. And the increase in life expectancy is up from 59.5 years in 1935 to 70 years today.

NOT IF you remember that 20 years ago pneumonia was often fatal, and it took about 3 months' wages to pay for the hospital care and other expenses of a pneumonia case. Today, with new drugs, pneumonia is cured in days, at a cost of only 5 hours' wages.

NOW the average person spends less of his income for medication than he did 15 years ago. In 1939 Americans spent 0.87% of income (after taxes) for drugs; in 1954 they spent 0.64%.

WHEN you realize that manufacturers invest $100 million a year in the research and development that brings you these new drugs.

THEN when you measure the tremendous health benefits, you will agree that today's medicines are your biggest bargains. As your pharmacists, we proudly bring these benefits to you. We are ready to serve you in all your prescription needs, drug and health supplies.

Cotton Is Sought
By 'Crop' Program

Representatives from five Lynn county communities met Monday night at the local Methodist Church to make plans for fall CROP campaign, the Christian Rural Overseas Program.

M. C. Stearns of Austin, state director of CROP, explained the program.

Purpose of the organization is to "sow seeds of peace" by donation and shipping of commodities, principally cotton, wheat, and rice, to hungry peoples of the world, on the premise that "as long as there are people in want, there can be no honorable peace."

Some of the people who are given a chance to help themselves through the program are: 1. One million people driven from their homes by persecution in the Near East, in Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Gaza, and Egypt. 2. Austria, haven to almost 200,000 Hungarians seeking freedom from oppression. 3. More than 650,000 destitute among the million and a half Chinese refugees in Hong Kong.

In the program, Americans are asked to share their commodities to save lives, restore faith, and to build hope among these and other peoples of the world.

Plans were discussed to seek cooperation of ginners and farmers, with a trailer or bin to be set up at gins in which farmers may donate seed cotton for ginning. Milo or money is also accepted for conversion into commodities that can be used.

Maurice Huffaker is the county chairman, Earl Tunnell is vice chairman, and Maurice Small is treasurer of the local organization.

Representatives were present from West Point, New Home, Dixie, Grassland, and Tahoka.

Three Students In

Foreign countries and territories represented are Alaska, Columbia, France, Hong Kong, Okinawa, Japan and Philippines. New Mexico leads out of state areas with 46 students. In second and third places are Oklahoma with 24 and Colorado with 11. California is next with 10 students.

Lynn countians enrolled are: Roma Brewer, Rt. 4, and Elton Brian from Tahoka, and from O'Donnell, David Copeland, Route 3.

SNOWDEN VISITS HERE

M/Sgt. Rudolph Snowden and wife and three children of El Paso have been here this week visiting Mrs. Snowden's mother, Mrs. T. F. Ethridge. Rudolph, who is making a career of the Army, still has about five years to serve and now is an instructor in the Guided Missile School. Rudolph was reared in Tahoka, attended the Tahoka schools, and entered the Army in 1942. He has been stationed at El Paso since 1955.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to the people of the Draw, Redwine and Tahoka communities for the food, flowers and your many acts of kindness during our sorrow, and to the preachers and choir for your wonderful service. May God bless each one of you.—Charley Uzzle, Charles and Milton and families.

GOURD POTATO

The enormous root displayed in the Tahoka postoffice last week end was the "potato" from a gourd vine, according to Eugene Munsell. Gene dug up the potato along the right-of-way of Farm Road 2053 west of O'Donnell. The potato, believe it or not, measured two feet long and a lot more was left in the ground. Its diameter at the top was 8 1/2 inches and at the bottom 5 1/2 inches.

Mrs. Draper ...

agents from the various states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, who have rendered outstanding service to the people with whom they work for a period of 10 years or more.

Other Texas home demonstration agents named to receive the award are: Mrs. Lurline Daspit, Collin county; Mrs. Minna Perry, Panola county; and Miss Emily Ritter, Brazos county.

Mrs. Draper joined the Agricultural Extension Service in 1942 as home demonstration agent in Hemphill county where she remained until 1947 when she accepted her present assignment. Previous to joining the Extension Service she taught school in Collingsworth county.

She is especially recognized for outstanding ability and performance in leadership training, organization and program building in both home demonstration and girl's 4-H Club work.

Her records show outstanding work in the field of landscaping and homestead improvement, in home furnishings and clothing work. Foods and nutrition, home management, family life and recreation programs have been geared to the needs and interests of home makers and family members in her county. She uses many methods in an effort to reach as many people as possible. Leadership training meetings, workshops, demonstrations, home visits, office conferences and community gatherings offer opportunities to work with people. Via telephone newspaper and radio, she gives information to others.

Active in many community and county activities, Mrs. Draper was the first woman to be chosen by the Hereford Band as a community builder. She was also recognized by the Amarillo Daily News as a key person helping to improve the living standard of farm people. She is a member of the Hereford Garden Club, American Legion Auxiliary, Chamber of Commerce, Eastern Star, local livestock show committee, 4-H exhibit committee of Tri-State Fair, and professional home economics organizations.

Mrs. Draper lists her interest in people as her main hobby. Her home is known for its hospitality. She also uses it as a laboratory for testing the many homemaking ideas she passes on to others.

wonders of Australia, but was having little success. Just then a kangaroo went hopping by. Drawled the Texan: "Ah'll grant you one thing, that's for sure. Your grasshoppers are bigger'n ours."

It's hard to tell who's the happiest—Hall, Jack Alley, or Brit Robinson. Brit and his daddy, Jack Alley, went hunting at Alpine recently, and the youngster brought home a fine doe. (In comparison, the animal the papa brought home was almost unimportant.)

Actually Brit also got a buck. He shot it twice, and although it was seriously injured, ran away. By the time the pair got to the place where it had stopped, another hunter had dressed the buck and made off with it.

All's fair in love and war—but what's fair about that?

We spend our lives reaching for a star, only to find that all too often, when once attained, is made of tinsel. It soon loses its glitter, or becomes a hollow and empty shell.

Sometimes it takes that discovery before one learns that there is one eternal star—the one that hung over Bethlehem on a winter night many years ago—that is always within reach, and unlike the star of tinsel, never lets us down.

In times of trouble, our social prestige and fair-weather friends often desert us—but the Eternal Star will still be there to guide us until the sun breaks through the clouds.
