STANDING ON THE CORNER

With P. J.

"My boy," a father advised his son, "treat everybody with politeness, even those who are rude to you. For remember that you show courtesy to others not because they are gentlemen, but because you are one."

Seems we made an error (as usual) in the paper last week when a statement read that M. S. and Lois Smeiser are brothers. Actually, as you know, they are father and son, but M. S. got quite a bang out of it anyway. We don't know whether the father is looking extremely young these days, or whether Lois is looking old enough to be his daddy's brother.

Tahoka's housing situation is beginning to reach the desperation stage. Back in August before school started there were any number of vacant furnished apartments and other dwellings for rent.

But, wow! When people started moving in here, they didn't hesitate.

At least a dozen couples, or more, have come into the office the past week looking for a place to live, and one woman stated that it looked as if they couldn't move here if they wanted to.

This fall Tahoka has taken on the looks of an oil town. On Saturdays the town resembles a carnival—people everywhere—and it's getting very difficult to even find a parking place on Monday morning.

When harvest season really gets in full swing, the natives here won't know the old place.

It's been a day since Tahoka has seen so much activity—reminds me of my high school days back in the early '40's when people jammed the streets. And so far, much of the circulation has been among the Anglo-Saxons. Just wait until the Latin Americans really start piling in here.

The Lord has been very good to us this year. I hope we won't forget it amid all the hustle and bustle.

Distress Loan To Help Some

Lubbock—Rep. George Mahon of the 19th District this week commended officials of the Department of Agriculture for announcing a special distress loan on milo. The loan had been urged by farmers and farm groups, and Mahon had presented the request to the grain branch of the Department of Agriculture early in September.

The distress loan will provide milo produced with a special loan equal to 80 per cent of the regular loan. It is designed to aid producers who are unable to take advantage of the regular loan by reason of the lack of storage facilities. The producer would have 90 days or not later than March 31 of next year to locate storage and convert his distress loan into a regular loan. Details of the program are available through County ASC Offices.

The distress loan is necessary by reason of the very heavy milo production, limitation of elevator capacity and the critical shortage of boxcars to transport the milo to available storage.

Mahon said that it was his hope that distress loan would tend to stabilize the milo crop. He said that he hoped the new program would not have to be used in a very big way as it had certain disadvantages and was primarily meant as an aid to a more orderly disposition of the crop.

At the same time the distress loan was announced, a 3 cents per hundred weight increase in the loan rate was announced. The previous rate was an interim rate. The new rate is the final rate for the 1957 milo crop.

The News Observes Its 54th Anniversary

The oldest business establishment in Lynn county and the oldest newspaper south of Lubbock on the South Plains, the Lynn County News, is this week celebrating its 54th anniversary.

Edited by E. I. and Frank P. Hill, the business has been under their management for the past 34 years and has never missed an issue in the past 1,769 consecutive weeks, a record the editors are quite proud of.

The News came into being on Oct. 8, 1903 and was published by Otis and Inez Lilly. After a few weeks the publication was abandoned, but was revived several months later by Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Crie.

In 1918 R. B. Haynes, whose residence is now in Miami, took over the paper and edited it for five years, until October of 1923 when he sold it to the present owners.

New Home Club Elects Officers

New officers of the New Home Civic Club were elected at the regular meeting Monday night when Charles Signor, Lubbock banker, was the principal speaker.

Four new directors were also elected to head the club, with the new president being Robbie Gill. Vice president, re-elected, is Joe D. Unfred and Don Smith was chosen secretary-treasurer.

New directors are Leland White, LeRoy Nettles, Robbie Gill and Don Smith. Holdover directors are L. H. Moore Jr., Dick Turner, Roy Lee Williams and Joe D. Unfred.

Signor gave a humorous talk filled with much originality entitled "Is Your Petticoat Showing?" He said that the seven petticoats his 14-year-old daughter wears represent stumbling blocks to human relations. One petticoat is a person wearing a chip on his shoulder, another is anger, etc. He asked the group which of their petticoats were showing.

John Wheeler, a Lubbock implement dealer and a member of the local civic club, presented members with 8x10 color photos of aerial views of the farms.

The meal was served by the New Home Home Demonstration Club to 36 members, including one new member, Roger Turner, the new minister of the community's Church of Christ. All pastors of the community are given complimentary memberships.

Farmer Meeting Monday Night

The Lynn County Farm Bureau will hold its annual membership meeting Monday night, Oct. 14, at 7:30 in the American Legion Hall in Tahoka when new officers and directors will be elected.

No program is being planned, although door prizes will be given away. Bertice Askew, president, states that the Bureau plans to keep the business meeting as short as possible, so that members will have plenty of time for refreshments and visiting.

New officers will take the place of President Askew, Vice President N. E. Wood, and Secretary Melvin Wuensche.

Six directors are to be elected, with five to be left as holdover directors. There is a contest for each place on the board and includes Weldon Bailey, Fred Koenig, and Wuensche for re-election; Loyd McCormick Jr. and Ray Cook; Leland White, Benard Ernst, L. H. Moore, Jr. for re-election; D. S. Lavender, Cecil Dorman; and Askew for re-election; C. A. Moore, Julian Pirtle and J. H. McMillan; James Brokshire, C. W. Roberts, S. A. Bengt, and A. L. Norman. Places will also be provided on the ballot for write-ins or for nominations from the floor.

Holdover directors are Lois Smeiser, Woodrow Brewer, J. O. Allen, Buford Jones and N. E. Wood. Mrs. Elvora Curry is the office secretary; Charles Reid is the service agent; and Earl Cummings is special agent of the Bureau. All members are urged to attend.

Monument Set In Wilson Park

Dedication services of the new Wilson City Park were held here Sunday afternoon when a monument honoring the late William Dickson Green, Jr. was unveiled, in whose name the land was given to the city by his mother, Mrs. W. D. Green of Lubbock.

Howard Cook, mayor of Wilson, accepted the park and memorial following a prayer by the Rev. Thomas Druary, of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church in Lubbock, and a cornet trio composed of Jerry Bartley, Javan Schneider and Ronnie Foster.

The monument, designed and executed by the late Raoul Jossel, a well-known Texas sculptor, sits in the middle of the park which is three blocks from downtown Wilson. Walter Jubin, Dallas sculptor reviewed Jossel's life and other remarks of appreciation were made by Rene Mazza, well-known Texas artist.

Clarence Church, president of the Wilson Lions Club, which has been instrumental in the park development, spoke for the group when he expressed the city's appreciation for Mrs. Green's donation and the step she had taken to make Wilson a more desirable community in which to live.

He also recognized the ladies representing each church for their service on a committee to plan for a club house, swimming pool and tennis courts for the park.

Before Mrs. Green served refreshments to the 200 citizens attending, her brother and attorney of Dallas, James Collins, closed the ceremony by expressing the desire that freedom and democratic principles would be executed in the recreational program and use of the park in the future.

Everyone in the area is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Taylor of Seymour were up this week visiting the C. T. Tankersleys and other relatives.

Western Lynn county received extensive hail damage Tuesday afternoon with fully 20 sections affected to some extent.

Most of the damage was to bruised cotton bolls which will lower the grade of the staple, but small areas received hail that almost stripped the stalks. Rain which accompanied the hail also damaged some open cotton.

Damaged areas include a small area of Petty community, the area near West Lakes automatic telephone exchange, Three Lakes, Wells and Newmoore communities. Also, damage was reported in a small area at Draw.

Only .06 inch of rain fell at Tahoka on Tuesday, another .04 came in mist Wednesday, and Thursday opened with overcast skies.

Farmers needing a dry warm fall and a late frost were somewhat downcast this week, and there will be some loss to all as a result of the weather.

With the arrival of more hands and more rapid opening of cotton, the harvest had just begun to get in high gear Monday. An estimated 5,000 to 6,000 bales have been ginned in the county. Also, much feed remains to be cut and some of it may fall if damp weather continues.

At Petty, some hail damage was reported, principally on the R. W. Overstreet place.

Along the Brownfield highway, George Claude Wells, Sonny Roberts, Elmer Newton, and Chester Smith.

Further south, damage in varying degrees was reported by Clint Sikes, Wayne Carroll, Jack Reynolds, C. O. Carmack and "Dub" Fulford, Vernon Davis, W. D. Ingle, W. W. Hagood and Larry Hagood, Cecil Todd, "Buck" Cook, Charles Oliver, W. J. Jordan, Dick Franklin, Bertice Askew, Ellis Barnes, and Cloyce Leverett.

In some places, great slugs of hail fell, some reported almost as large as baseballs. Among the heaviest damaged, The News is informed, were Reynolds, Sikes, W. W. Hagood, and Jordan.

Southeast of Draw, Bill Gass and son, James Henry, are said to have received damage.

Although the damage was very spotted, most farms in the area received at least light damage.

Warning Given Fire Followers

The Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department is issuing a warning to motorists that insist upon following the firemen and fire truck, and obstruct the department from reaching a fire, according to Dean Taylor, fire marshal.

The department will fine anyone who follows the truck $25.00, and this is the only warning that will be issued, Taylor said.

Last Sunday the department was called to a fire on the O'Donnell highway when a passing car caught fire. As it happened, a highway patrolman had flagged down the car and the fire had been put out with an extinguisher.

However, had there been a serious fire, the department would not have been able to reach it because nearly every road was blocked by motorists trying to follow the truck. Taylor points out that minutes usually don't amount to much, but when there is a fire, every minute seems to be an hour, and each minute counts when someone's home is burning. Citizens are asked to take into consideration that they may be the cause of a total loss by fire.

Without further notice anyone caught following the fire truck or failing to grant right of way to firemen will be issued a ticket.

Supply Pastor At Baptist Church

Rev. George Dale of Lubbock, former pastor here, will fill the pulpit of the First Baptist Church until a new pastor is secured.

The vacancy came in the local church when Rev. Clifford Harris, pastor here for about four years, resigned to accept a Fort Worth church.

The interim pastor committee, which secured Rev. Dale, was composed of L. D. Howell, A. L. Smith, and E. J. Cooper.

The local church has chosen a committee of nine to serve on the pulpit committee, which will soon begin work to secure a new pastor. Those who will serve in this capacity are Mrs. Truett Smith, Mrs. Terry Noble, Mrs. Ivan McWhirter, Mrs. John Roberts, W. A. Reddell, Ray Adams, Robert Edwards, Garland Pennington and A. L. Smith.

Pat Caudle Weds "Miss Texas of '56"

Cleburne, Oct. 10.—Miss Jo Dodson, Cleburne's Miss Texas of 1956 and fourth place in the Miss Universe contest of the Miss Universe eliminations at Long Beach the same year, was united in marriage here last Sunday to Pat Moore Caudle, son of Mrs. Donald Caudle of Laguna Park on Lake Whitney.

The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Proctor, 10 Hill Terrace Place, Cleburne. Rev. Browning Ware, pastor of Cleburne's First Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony before a back drop of white gladioli and greenery in the residence's drawing room in the presence of 50-plus guests and relatives.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Roy Dodson. She was gowned in a bridal white yarn-dyed peau de soie and embroidered alencon lace gown. The gown was designed on the graceful princess lines, with high empire bodice of the lovely, lace scoop-neckline edged with a fold of the peau de soie. Appliqued with the lace flowers and sprinkled with pearls, brief scalloped lace sleeves were complimented by fitted gauntlets edged with lace roses and sprinkled with pearls tapering to petal points.

The bodice of the gown was defined with a set-in band, forming a tiny bow in back. The skirt was waltz length, and gauntlets were elbow length matching the gown. The bride wore satin shoes and a white satin pill box with finger-tip veil.

Miss Dodson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dodson of Cleburne. Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Jack Gaither of Waxahachie. She wore an embroidered, blue cotton satin sheath with blue satin cummerbund, with hem-length streamers in the back, matching the blue satin shoes and hat. She carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds and wore short, white gloves.

Mother of the bride wore a dressmaker suit of sheer wool with black walnut trim and for accessories, she chose black velvet-hat, shoes and bag with long white gloves. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Best man was Fred Owen of Whitney, a close friend of the couple.

Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. (1 Peter 2:17.)

The Republic of Indonesia is Australia's nearest neighbor. Since gaining independence, Indonesia has made mighty efforts to train leaders in education, medicine, engineering, science and every other essential sphere. However, shortage of trained personnel is greatly handicapping the nation's efforts to improve conditions.

To help overcome this problem, the Australian Student Christian Movement has appointed field officers to recruit young graduates from Australian universities to spend some time in Indonesia. Thus, young Christians are now working as teachers, doctors, agricultural scientists, engineers, and in other occupations to help Indonesia's forward movement.

In the eyes of Christians, no barriers of class, creed, or color exist, but all people are Christ's children and we are all one family. The need of one section is a call of Christ to us to be His agents in giving all possible help.

PRAYER
O God, our Father, Thy Son Jesus lived His life helping those in need. We, too, would live lives filled with brotherly love to all Thy children. So fill us with Thy love that we shall seek to help those in need. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Lynn County Soil Conservation District News

ROY L. WILLIAMS ELLIS BARNES
O. E. TERRY W. L. (Cap) ROWE
FLMNER BLANKENSHIP

The Board of Supervisors held their regular monthly meeting at the Wells Gin last Wednesday night and at the same time the election was to elect a board member for sub-district four of the District. Ellis Barnes was re-elected as a board member to the Board for sub-district four. Members are elected for a term of five years by landowners within the sub-district.

At their business meeting the Supervisors approved five soil and water conservation plans and to hold a meeting for grass seed producers within the District that might be interested in marketing grass seed through the Levelland Cooperative Grass Seed Growers marketing association.

Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to the District attended the range field day at the Spur experiment station last Friday to observe brush control work and range re-seeding. Several practices were observed that will be applicable to this District. On mesquite land the root cutter blade appears to be the safest and most effective. On shinnery oak chemicals were most promising. Aerial application of chemicals is prohibited after cotton is up to a stand. One thing most stressed was that brush will require recurring treatment. On mesquite tree land, especially, the soil is full of mesquite bean seed that will germinate for several years and these seedlings will have to be killed to prevent re-growth of trees.

Frank Williams, south-west of Grassland, is planning to install level borders on approximately eight acres. This will be watered mostly by wells in seasons of enough rain to have water in a lake. The late water will be used by using a pump and aluminum pipe. The borders are to be established to blue panic for grazing.

Soil Conservation Service personnel revised a conservation plan for A. M. Cade that was among the first plans assembled in 1943. This was a short time after the District was voted into being. Mr. Cade has some irrigation on the place east of Wilson but so much of spring rain was lost by runoff that plans are to terrace for water conservation.

Mr. Cade and his operator, Glen Ward also plan legume in the crop rotation to aid in soil improvement. Compaction is a problem on the heavy soils of this farm.

Lamesa Classing Office Is Opened

Roy W. Gilreath, who has been classing cotton for the U. S. Department of Agriculture since 1949, is in charge of the Lamesa cotton classing office since it opened Sept. 30.

This was announced today by John L. McCollum, manager, south-west cotton division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

Mr. Gilreath, a Texas A & M graduate, comes to Lamesa from Lubbock where he has been assistant chief of the cotton classing office. He was in charge of the Harlingen cotton classing office for two years prior to going to Lubbock.

"The Lamesa cotton classing office ranks second to none in facilities and equipment," Mr. McCollum declares. He praised all local groups — farmers, ginners, bankers, county commissioners and other business firms—who raised more than $40,000 to establish this ideal classing set up.

The new cotton classing office will serve farmers in Andrews, Borden and Dawson counties and the south half of Lynn County.

In previous years, farmers in this area have been sending their cotton to the Lubbock AMS cotton classing office.

Wage Survey Is Being Started

Contact work is beginning in Lynn County by personnel of the Lamesa office of the Texas Employment Commission for the purpose of making prevailing wage surveys for the information of the Bureau of Employment Security, a bureau of the Department of Labor.

Four men make up the area personnel for the work, who will survey six counties. Two of them will work Dawson, Borden and Lynn counties and two will make the contacts in Terry, Gaines and Yoakum counties.

Work actually began last week and the counties will be surveyed every other week during the harvest season. The contact men will relay their information to the Bureau of Employment Security in Dallas, where wage findings will be made and reported back to the Lamesa office of the Texas Employment Commission. The Lamesa office will then post the information in post offices, court houses, and county agents offices.

Information will only be secured on citizen worker's wages, but will be used to determine the wages to be paid Braceros for the same work, according to Dayton Carroll, manager of the Lamesa office.

Carroll also emphasized that it is the Bureau of Employment Security and not the Texas Employment Commission who is responsible for the overall wage survey program. The TEC is only responsible for securing the information, while the Bureau of Employment Security makes the findings.

The personnel, who will work the six counties, are O. B. Williams, Francis E. "Bud" Snell, Carl O. Anthony, and Horace A. Duke, all of Dawson county.

Bounty-jumper was a term used during the Civil War to denote men who enlisted in the U. S. Army to receive the government bounty, then deserted.

Eleven students were taken home, and four visits to all students were made.

Eye tests were given to 23, and vaccinations were given to 48 students.

Pfc. and Mrs. Lehman Rodgers of Fort Bliss, Texas on the birth of a daughter Tuesday at 4:45 p. m. in the base hospital there. She weighed five pounds, 13 ounces and has been named Linda Shreyll. She is the first child of the couple, who are former residents of Wilson, the mother being the former Miss Marjorie Owens. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Rodgers of New Home and Mr. and Mrs. Owens of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Yrabel Gonzales Ramirez of route 5 on the birth of a son at 6:49 p. m. Monday in Tahoka Hospital. Named Jesus Lopez, he weighed seven pounds.

Those interested in taking dancing, or in their children taking lessons are asked to call 503-J or 457-W within the next few days.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL TEAMS

Speaking of housing, if the new expressway goes through Tahoka a block to the east of town, it may accomplish what the town has so far been unable to do.

There has been a great deal of thought among portions of the citizenship to clearing up part of the town and providing housing facilities to low income families.

This vision could possibly become a reality if the expressway cut through (or near) the Latin-American and Colored sections of town.

To add further-encouragement, the Legislature passed a bill this year to aid towns under 10,000 population in planning such a housing program, along with a bill by Congress to help in financing such.

If enough people are interested, it might be swung. It would be a wonderful contribution to mankind—so let us know how you feel.

Son: "Pa, what is jaywalking?"
Pa: "It's a kind of exercise that brings on that run-down feeling."

Well, the World Series is over for another year, to the accompaniment of much moaning and groaning—not to mention the laughter and whooping it up!

Reminds me of the time the Yanks beat the Red Socks some years back. Jake and Bill Woods, now of Midland, (Yankee fans, no less) sent their condolences in the form of a sympathy card to the late Dale Williams, who had strained every gut rooting for the losers. However, Dale was not easily out-done, and as usual got the last word. He installed a card of thanks in the News expressing his appreciation to his friends for their acts of kindness during his bereavement.

That boy was a great guy—and one of the best fans baseball will ever have.

Some of us are convinced that this day in time is much better than the "good ole days", but not so with the youngsters. They still like to "play like" their tricycles are covered wagons and that mama's best pan is a coon-skin hat.

The other day Keith Holloway, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Holloway, decided to swap his pencil for a quill (in the form of a chicken feather). He didn't spill much ink on his Daddy's important papers! Wonder what kind of writing liquid they used in those days? Like all the other liquid, it too was probably made out of corn.

ton Watson terms "a fine looking bunch of sophomores."

The Floydada team will use the conventional T on its offense, while Tahoka uses a split T and straight-T.

Coach Bill Haralson says that John Ed Redwine, who has been out most of the season with pneumonia, will not be able to play this week but may return to work-outs Monday. It is also doubtful whether or not Gaylon Tekell, end, and Weldon Calloway, junior full-back, will be able to play.

Both have been out this week with the flu. Others who may or may not see action, depending on flu symptoms, are James Adams, senior guard, and Billy Cain, freshman fullback.

Senior Quarterback Karl Prohl, whose action has been restrained by a back injury, is expected to play on defense tonight, and may see some action on offense, as well as sophomore George Adams.

Tahoka Holds Spur to 13-7 Score In Annual Battle of Bulldogs

Tahoka Bulldogs rose up from the sick bed and played the Spur Bulldogs, rated earlier in the season as one of the top Class AA teams of West Texas, to a 13 to 7 score here Friday night in the opening conference game for each team.

Spur opened the game strong and scored in the first quarter, but Tahoka's defense stiffened in the second quarter and neither team was able to gain. Spur put together a touchdown drive in the third, but Tahoka came right back in the fourth to score its only time.

Opening the game Tahoka's Brown kicked off over the Spur goal. The ball on the 20, Spur moved in eight plays to Tahoka's 6. Then, Calloway covered a fumble by QB Gilcrease on the Tahoka 3. QB George Adams who ran the team most of the time on offense while injured Prohl played mostly on defense, and HB Cloe moved out to the 20, where a Tahoka fumble was covered by Spur's End Wilson to set up the first Spur score. LH Ray Powell, who gained a total of 133 yards in the game, FB Travis Watson, who gained 81, and RH Alan Kissinger, who gained 64, moved the ball to Tahoka's 3, from which point Watson went over cented to score. Kenneth Suitt kicked the extra point.

Prohl ran the kickoff from the 15 to the 47, a 25-yard fourth down pass was good to End Jay Gurley, and Tahoka was threatening on the Spur 20, but a pass was incomplete and a lateral failed to gain and the ball went over. Early in the second Tahoka had another drive going, but Kissinger intercepted a pass to end it. QB Gilcrease immediately passed to Powell good for 38 yards, in four plays made 9, and Tahoka took over on its own 10 to end Spur's threat. Tomlinson and Freshman Fullback Cain moved to a first, but had to punt four plays later. Tahoka stopped Spur at midfield until the half.

Tahoka couldn't move, and Spur couldn't either. In Tahoka's hands the second time, Brown kicked the ball 36 yards to the 50, and Watson ran it back to the Tahoka 22. Four plays later, Kissinger went 7 yards over left tackle to score, and Suitt's kick missed.

Tomlinson returned the kickoff 40 yards from the Tahoka 13 to the Spur 47. Three plays gained only five, then Brown faked a punt, ran with the ball and lateraled to Adams, which netted a loss but came close to catching Spur flat-footed if the lateral had not been bobbled.

A few plays later, Tahoka took over on its 19, and moved 81 yards for its only score. A pass was good to Brown for 9, Tomlinson went 9 on a reverse and collaborated with Cloe and Calloway in carrying to the Spur 49. A jump pass to Gurley was good for 25 to the 24. Tomlinson went for 5 to the 19, then Calloway raced around his left end and went 19 yards untouched to score. Brown kicked the extra point. Final score, 7-13. Spur managed to hold on to the ball and moved 51 yards before the final gun.

Tahoka's Bulldogs had been badly crippled by injuries and the flu the two previous games with Seagraves and O'Donnell. Still out in the Spur game were Fullback Kenneth Stice and Tackle John Ed Redwine. Prohl, who suffered a recurrence of an old back ailment saw limited service on offense. Other boys were weakened by flu, but put up their best game since Plains and Denver City.

With some improvement and a continuance of the fighting spirit shown in this game, Tahoka will give the remaining 2-AA teams some battles.

Ropes At Wilson In Game Tonight

Wilson Mustangs defeated Lorenzo 33 to 0 Friday at Lorenzo to open its 4-B conference season, and today will entertain the Ropesville Eagles of District 2-A in a non-conference game.

Wilson had little trouble with Lorenzo, scoring in every period. Kenneth Hanes, quarterback, scored on a keeper play going six yards, and in the second quarter HB Kenneth Ethridge scored on a two-yard carry, and HB Paul Henderson ran over the extra point.

Early in the second half, End John Henderson intercepted a Lorenzo lateral pass and ran 45 yards to score. Ethridge ran the extra point. Fourth quarter scores were made by Henderson and Ethridge, and Hanes ran over one of the extra points.

O'Donnell Eagles Meet Coahoma

O'Donnell Eagles take on Coahoma at O'Donnell tonight, and will open their 4-A conference season Friday of next week at Sundown.

Last Friday, the Eagles took a 20 to 7 victory over the Buffaloes at Stanton. Quarterback Jerald Barton scored twice, in the first and third quarters, on a fake kick play, going 68 and 50 yards, respectively. The other Eagle score a 14 yard run by Tailback Jerry McKibben. Tommy Gardenhire and McKibben ran over two of the extra points. Stanton's score came in the third period.

New Home Will Play Lorenzo

New Home Leopards go to Lorenzo tonight to meet the Hornets in the second conference game for each team.

Lorenzo lost its opener to Wilson Friday 33 to 0, while New Home, crippled by injuries and short on manpower, lost at home to the New Deal Lions 42 to 12.

New Deal got off to a 12 point lead in the first quarter, but the New Home boys failed to lay down and bounced right back in the second quarter to score twice with Quarterback Larry Edwards and Halfback Barney Castro each crossing the double-stripe.

Nevill's Kin Is Paid Tribute

Recently some 100 descendants of Aaron Cherry and his family, who played a prominent part in the settlement and development of the Liberty county area, and figured in the Battle of San Jacinto, met with many others for an annual reunion at Cleveland, Texas.

One of the descendants is Jodie Nevill of Tahoka. He is the great great grandson of Aaron Cherry and the great grandson of Aaron Cherry, Jr., named in the following Official Memorandum recently signed by Governor Price Daniel. Although Nevill was unable to attend the reunion this year, he was present last year when Cherry's descendants got together.

Greetings: Aaron Cherry, a Virginian by birth and a veteran of the American Revolution, came to Texas in 1819 during Spanish rule. One of the earliest settlers of the lower Trinity River, Cherry became a close friend of the Coshatta Indians and lived alongside their village.

Aaron Cherry's sons, John and Aaron, Jr., were in Sam Houston's army at the Battle of San Jacinto. Aaron Cherry, Jr., who earlier had taken part in the siege of San Antonio where Ben Milam was killed, was in the party that captured Santa Anna at San Jacinto. John Cherry acted as an interpreter for Sam Houston, a close friend, when a treaty was made with the Indians.

Each year at San Jacinto Battle-ground, descendants of Aaron Cherry...

Yes, it's time to rediscover America — the land of freedom, opportunity and progress. Time, too, to discover that freedom, opportunity and progress have many enemies — right here in our own country. Odds and Ends

(By R. I. The Elder)

One Sunday night a few weeks ago, a motion picture was shown on the screen in the First Baptist Church here depicting the life and works of that brave and heroic character, Martin Luther of Wittenberg, Germany. It showed how he faced and defied the power of that most powerful and vindictive religious and political body, the Roman Catholic Church, which has sought to rule the very thoughts, opinions, and activities of people now for more than 1,500 years. The motion picture portrayed Martin Luther as the chief actor in the great struggle to break the power of the Roman Church and as the leading spirit in the promotion of Reformation. Unless some Catholic was present, we are sure that everybody came away from the Church that night admiring Martin Luther. We have no criticism to make either of Luther or of the members of the Lutheran Church. We bid them God speed in their work.

But we are wondering why the leaders of the numerous and sometimes boastful Baptist Churches of our great Southland can not put out motion pictures glorifying our own church history and its marvelous record of past achievements, along with or in advance of pictures glorifying other denominations.

It is not primarily my purpose in this treatise to praise the Baptist denomination nor to throw stones at any other denomination except the Roman Catholics—and I criticize them only because I believe that their aims and claims are un-American in spirit and purpose. The Methodist, the Presbyterian, the Disciples or Christians, the Congregationalist, the Quakers, and some other bodies of Christians, I believe, are doing a worthy work, and I am not criticizing any of them even by inference in this Column.

But I do want to give my readers some thoroughly authenticated history which may enlighten them respecting some of the sacrifices and sufferings of the heroic leaders of other days which far surpass anything that Martin Luther ever said or did for English-speaking people. One of these leaders that I refer to is that great Bible Scholar and thinker, John Wycliffe, known as "The morning star of the Reformation."

He was an Englishman, born near Richmond in Yorkshire in 1320. He was said by the Roman Catholic authorities, who hated him, to have died of a paralytic stroke in 1384. No facts are known to confute this claim, but there were some who were not entirely satisfied with the claim that paralysis was the cause of his death.

As a young man he studied at Oxford and early in life he became Master of Balliol College, serving there in 1360 according to meager records that we have. He was then about 40 years of age. He held several rectories and the wardenship of Canterbury. Being an apt and untiring student his fame as a scholar was early established in University circles.

His study and investigations soon led him to express opposition to the Papal policies of collecting indulgences demanded by the Pope. Thus, for the first time in history an Englishman was bucking the demands of a Roman Pope. In 1374, he was placed on a commission to go to the little city of Bruges in Belgium to investigate certain Papal systems and to reach a settlement with representatives of Pope Gregory XI, to confer on, certain disputed points relating to Ecclesiastical Authority. Soon after his return to England, he pepped up his attacks on the established order of the Church (Catholic) and laid special emphasis on vulnerable points, particularly the asserted right of the secular power, or the Civil government, to control the activities of the Church.

The more he studied these matters, the more definitely he became sure his previously expressed dictum was right, and now he repeated (in 1375) the conviction that each individual Christian may claim immediate dependence upon God, without intervention of clergy, each individual having the right to take the Bible and Reason as the foundation of his belief. (Another Baptist doctrine from the immemorial.)

In 1375, Wycliffe was then 55 years old, the religious conviction which he then expressed to the effect that every person has the right to take the Bible and Reason as his guiding principle and commune directly with his God, without the intervention of any cleric was heresy of the precincts of the Papacy, and it was considered not only an expression of heresy but also as a studied insult hurled into the teeth of the Pope and all his underlings. Wycliffe knew that the answer would be death or.

Believing as he did the threat of Excommunication held no terrors for the Rev. John Wycliffe, and he was prepared and willing to face Death. He had a God more powerful than any Pope or Priest, to whom he could pray directly for protection against the malice and malevolence of wicked men.

What did the Pope do? In 1377, Pope Gregory XI issued the bulls, or edicts in the American languages, because of Wycliffe's alleged heretical opinions, and demanded (notice that strong word, demanded) that England imprison him, and make him answer before the archbishops and the Pope.

England, however, did not sanction this external authority, and Wycliffe was allowed to go free. Thanks to England, on this particular occasion.

We are quoting from the World Book, folks, not from some irresponsible fanatic.

The year 1381 was long before the printing press was invented, and the World had no printed Bibles. The only Bibles in existence consisted of hand-written Scrolls. Necessarily there could be only a few of these Scrolls; for a whole Bible consisted of about 66 scrolls to constitute one whole Bible. The Roman Catholic Church had put out a few of these Bibles for the use of its priests and other dignitaries and presumably for such University and College libraries as they had. There were two different works of this kind, the Vulgate and the Douay. Not many Protestants nor Ana-Baptists or private citizens had any Bibles at all—just a few scholars presumably.

On account of the poverty of most private citizens and the frequent and terrible out-breaks of the Peasants War, which we do not have room to discuss here, the Rev. John Wycliffe in 1385 got busy with his goose-quill pen and began a hurried translation of the Bible.

He felt that the hungry peasants needed food, and that all the people needed a Bible that they could sit down under his own juniper tree and help himself to the best spiritual food in all the world. He was translating the Vulgate, the version most used by the Catholics when any version at all was used. We do not know how many scrolls of that Bible he had completed up to the time of his paralytic stroke in 1384, but it is evident that he had undertaken a big job, for the Vulgate version which he was translating had been written in Latin. If you doubt the enormity of the job, I dare you to pick up a copy of Caesar's Gallic Wars and proceed to translate. I'll wager that you will not get far past Caesar's statement that "All Gaul is divided into three parts," until you begin to cry unto some school pal to come and help you

Thoughts For Consideration
By Leroy Cowan
The Bible... For many years the Bible has been the "best seller." It is a collection of 66 books written by about 40 men during a period of about 1600 years. It is complete and harmonious because these men were inspired. Men, by themselves, are not able to produce another such book even though there has been a great increase in knowledge. The Bible is the Word of God. Men have tried to destroy it but it is still popular and profitable. The word of God is a lamp to our feet and a light to our pathway. May we encourage you to study the Bible, handling aright the word of truth.

A writer in the World Books tells us that Wycliffe died in 1384 in Lutterworth and was buried there. In 1415 the Council of Constance decreed that his remains be burned. This decree was carried out in 1428, 44 years after his death, by command of Pope Martin V, and the ashes of the great leader were scattered upon the waters of the River Swift.

Now I must bring this Column to a close for this week. Before I do so, however, I must relate one other incident which, among many others, gives striking evidence of the influence wielded by the writings and works of this "Morning star of the Reformation," John Wycliffe. There was another scholar, John Huss by name, who lived in Bohemia during the lifetime of John Wycliffe, and was finally burned at the stake by order of the Pope for heresy in 1415; but before he was burned it fell to his lot to transmit from John Wycliffe to Martin Luther the torch which kindled the fires of the Reformation. Of course that is figurative language, for Wycliffe died ninety-nine years before Martin Luther was born. The fires of the Reformation had been burning brightly for considerably more than a hundred years before the torch was handed to Martin Luther. I think that it is full time for the Baptist of Texas to be throwing the full story of the Reformation on the screen.
