STANDING ON THE CORNER

WHH P. J.

What price freedom?

What would you give? True, our taxes are terrific, with no hopes of becoming better. We don't like to be taxed—but we still want to live in a democratic country. Also, true is the fact that much of the tax money is squandered foolishly.

Nevertheless, sometimes the fact arrives, whether we like it or not, that we must pay for our freedom. Have you ever thought that it is possible in a few weeks time, if our democracy were destroyed, your farm would no longer be yours, but the government's. Your business would no longer be yours, but you would be running it for the state?—that your child would no longer skip to school carefree and gay—but would be trudging in a line with others in a child labor camp? A pretty sad picture.

In our land today, there are many who would gripe at paying higher taxes, but at the same time be willing to give freely to maintain their way of life.

I'm suggesting a foundation of a sort, (we have them for everything else), whereby citizens may contribute to the advancement of our country for its safety.

If total disarmament, which is the ideal solution, doesn't pan out—then steps must be taken to keep the U. S. up with the rest of the world. There are many who would add a "five" to their income tax to keep our freedom secure. Wouldn't you?

Now with January comes what we have all been waiting for—the clearance sales.

All of us, no doubt, will hunt the local stores to take advantage of all the bargains. It's almost as much fun as Christmas shopping. There's just one hitch. We'll spend what little money (if any) that we had left over from Christmas.

And I guess every woman in town is just like me. We'll probably buy more than we need, and spend more than we have—just because it's on sale.

Still—I wouldn't miss it for anything. See you down town.

A Nebraskan, an Ohioan, and a Texan died, and all were scheduled for cremation on the same day.

The Nebraskan man was cremated first, and when his ashes were removed, they were put into a quart jar. The Ohio man was next, and his ashes required a pint container.

The Texas man was last. After 15 hours, the furnace door was opened. Out walked the Texan, mopping his face with his handkerchief.

"Boy," he said, "if we get two more days of this hot weather, it'll ruin the cotton for sure!" —Texas Outlook.

Hey, you guys and gals who play bridge—better watch out. In fact, it might be well to adopt a slogan—"No Arguments."

According to Paul Crume's column in the Dallas Morning News, a recent argument set back a bridge club there:

"It seems that the club members got into an argument about how long a player should shuffle the cards. They wrote a bridge expert, and he wrote a letter saying that the dealer should shuffle one deck as long as his partner was dealing from the other.

"The bridge expert also sent a bill for $10.00.

"The ladies were pretty scandalized. One of them knew a young lawyer and asked his advice on whether they had to pay.

"Unfortunately, I'm afraid so," said the lawyer. "It's a legitimate charge for professional service."

"A few days later the club got a bill from the lawyer for $25."

Every shadow is caused by light. If you face the sun, The shadows will fall Behind you. —Cheer.

Bank Deposits Here Near Seven Million

Deposits at the First National Bank of Tahoka were almost seven million dollars at the close of business on December 31, according to the report made on call of the U. S. Comptroller of the Currency.

On December 31, the First National Bank on deposit a total of $6,919,797.15.

This is a million dollars more than was on deposit at the same date last year.

Many banks over the area reported a decline in deposits, and the bank here was one of the few showing a substantial increase. Lubbock, for example, had a drop of $14 million over the same date last year.

Because of the late crop and because many cotton samples are still piled up in the classing offices and much of this crop had not yet been ginned, much money is yet to come in from the 1957 crop. However, payment of income and property taxes and debts by farmers will prevent the total deposit from going much higher. In spite of this, total deposits were expected to pass the seven million mark this week.

8-10 to Inches of Snow Soak Lynn County Farming Lands

Pay Poll Taxes For 1958 Vote

Only 187 citizens have paid their poll taxes since Tuesday of last week for the low total of 987 to date, Tax Collector J. E. (Red) Brown reported Wednesday morning of this week.

Unless the tempo of poll tax payments increases, a majority of Lynn county citizens will not be qualified to vote in the several important elections this year.

Many people this time have failed to pay their poll taxes at the time they were paying their property taxes. Some said they would come back and pay their poll taxes later, but many of these people have not done so.

As a result, many offices may be filled by voters from a minority of the citizens, as there are potentially more than 3,000 voters in this county.

In this year's primaries, a governor and state officers are to be elected and also a state representative, district judge and district attorney, county judge, county clerk, county superintendent, county treasurer, commissioners of precincts two and four, and justices of the peace. Also some special elections of importance, including bond elections, are also always probable.

Poll taxes must be paid before the end of January as a qualification for voting in Texas.

4-H Boys Enter Abilene Show

Seven Lynn county 4-H Club boys and girls, accompanied by County Agent Bill Griffin, will attend the Abilene Junior Fat Stock Show next week, Monday through Friday, in a regional event.

The group will take 12 swine, two calves and one lamb to the show.

Those who will leave here Sunday for the five-day show and the stock they will enter include Lester Ford of Tahoka, calf; Larry Mears of Wilson, a calf and three Duroc barrow; Ronnie Wood and Maritica Wood of O'Donnell, three Poland Chinas and one Hampshire barrow; Robert Bessier of O'Donnell, two Poland Chinas; Harold Bessier, one Poland China, and one cross-bred lamb; and Harry Hewlett, Jr. of Wilson, two Berkshires.

Below freezing temperatures have been the rule at nights since the snow and the highest daytime temperature has been 45 degrees. As a result, some snow was still on the ground Thursday. The freezing temperatures have tended to soften up and mellow the ground.

Little damage to crops left in the fields is expected. Probably not more than five percent of the cotton is yet to be gathered.

Many people were speculating that this was one of the wettest snows the county had ever received. However, in checking the weather records The News finds that such is not the case. In January, 1949, 3.94 inches of moisture from rain and snow was recorded in Tahoka. In November, 1943, Tahoka received 1.05 inches from snow alone, and some other records follow: December, 1942, .908 inches from snow; February, 1940, .75; February, 1938, 1.01; and January, 1936, .72. The News does not have the record on snowfall alone for years previous to 1936.

Kidwell, and Dean Taylor to a committee to solicit funds from fans and businessmen with which to buy the clock, which will cost $800.00 to $1,800.00, depending on the type selected.

For the annual banquet, a maximum of 275 tickets will be sold as this is all the school cafeteria can seat comfortably. These tickets at $1.50 each will be available as soon as a suitable date is arranged with a speaker.

Businessmen members of the Chamber of Commerce will invite farmers as their guests. Essay and SCS awards will be made at the banquet.

Committees named by Ayer to arrange the annual meeting are: Nominations for new directors: Hick Gibson, E. R. Edwards, and Ayer.

He talked to the group on his "Predictions for 1958."

Snow Saturday and Sunday

totalled 8 to 10 inches and put .98-inch of water in the U. S. rain gauge in Tahoka has been declared by farmers to have put the soil in the best condition in many years for a crop in 1958.

Much of the snow Saturday melted as it fell and an accurate measurement was difficult to secure, but 7 to 10 inches of snow is usually required to produce an inch of water.

Mist started falling early Saturday morning, turned to snow up in the day, and the fall was almost continuous until past mid-afternoon Sunday. Saturday, some of the biggest and most beautiful flakes ever seen in this area fell. Scattered flakes were estimated to be almost as large as a teacup.

Little wind accompanied the snow, and fields were covered evenly.

Below freezing temperatures have been the rule at nights since the snow and the highest daytime temperature has been 45 degrees. As a result, some snow was still on the ground Thursday. The freezing temperatures have tended to soften up and mellow the ground.

Hollis Roberts, Formerly of West Point Featured In Time Magazine Story

Hollis Roberts, formerly of West Point Community, now a big farmer in California, is featured in a story along with his picture in the January 6 issue of Time, the weekly news magazine.

Roberts and his wife lived on the Schaffner place near West Point about four years during the S.C.'s and will be remembered by many people here.

They were close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Newt Barham, and three years ago the Roberts sent for the Barhams to come to see them. Again last year, Mr. Barham went out for a visit at their McFarland mansion.

Incidentally, Mrs. Barham says Ralph Edwards of radio and television fame has asked Hollis to appear on his "This is Your Life" program soon.

Following is the part of the story from Time entitled "The Harvesters" which deals with "Okies" who migrated to California during the Depression from Oklahoma and neighboring states:

"As everywhere, there were big men among the Okies who seized opportunity in the midst of discouragement. Burley (6 ft. 3 in., 300 lbs.), booming Hollis B. Roberts was one. Wiped out after five struggling years in the Texas dust bowl, Roberts sold his runty cattle, his house and farm equipment, bought a 1929 Chevy on credit, and with $75 in his jeans, started out for California. In Yuma, Ariz. he joined other stranded Okies who had run out of cash, caddged a job pitching hay at $2.70 a day. In return for milking his landlord's cows every morning, Roberts got a rent-free two-room shack for eight months.

Grapes and Garbage
"At length he arrived in the valley, welcomed by a brother who brought a suitcase full of grapes. Then came the job hunting; he carried a lunch pail, as if to assure any sharp-eyed foreman that he was ready for work (even though the pail was empty); once, without being hired, he pitched in on a construction crew, hoping that the supervisor would renew his zeal with pay, and got no pay. When he had only 75c left to his name, he latched on to a job as roustabout in the oilfields for $5.60 a day.

"Slowly his luck turned better. He rented five acres of desert land near Bakersfield, began raising hogs. Each night after work, he made the rounds of town restaurants, gathering swill to feed the pigs. With money earned from the hog sales, Roberts bought 15 acres of cotton, potatoes and alfalfa. After each day's work in the oilfields, he irrigated his crops; on hot summer nights he would lie down to sleep at the end of an irrigation furrow in his alfalfa field, and when the water got far enough down the furrow to lap at his body he jumped up, drained the wet ditch and opened the next furrow.

Water and Power
"Little by little, Hollis Roberts added to his acreage until he quit his oilfield job for the farm full time. 'If you want to start over, we'll start over,' said his wife Manon. 'If your heart's set on farming, you go right ahead.' Every month he sent his Texas banker a $22 installment to pay off his Chevy loan. The cotton-gin owners had liged him and staked him, and Roberts surged ahead.

"Today Cotton Rancher Roberts, with 7,000 acres, half owned, half leased, lives with his wife and two daughters in a $100,000 ranch home near McFarland, has a spread of comforts as wide as his cotton yield; a color TV set, 40-ft. swimming pool, three Cadillacs and an estimated worth of $4,000,000.

"Gazing through his United picture windows at his fertile land, he recalls: 'Back home we used to sit on the front porch and wait for rain. We'd go to camp meetings and pray for it. Well, out here all you have to do is push a button and you get all the rain (i. e., from deep-well systems) you want. Why, with all this land and all this water, nothing can hold us back.'

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee had at home for Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Jim Curtis and son of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. (Shorty) Lee and children of Seminole, Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Harper, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bagby and son, Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Lee and children, and R. A. Williams, Ray and Rodger.

Jimmy Porter, who works for Leslie McNeely, was released Tuesday from Tahoka Hospital where he had been a medical patient since Sunday.

Troy Ray Thomas, two month old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McQueen, was a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital Tuesday night.

E. J. (Pete) Hendrix of Wilson reports that his wife is not doing well at all. She receives daily treatment from doctors.

Reduce Delinquency

YOU AND THE ANSWER

(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our fast-increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

In spite of the tremendous responsibility of parents in raising their children, they are blamed too much when things go wrong.

The active help of the community is a MUST for prevention, because we of modern society have made conditions so different from those of a few decades ago.

1. We (society) have made it so that there are few chores to make youngsters feel a necessary part of the family economic unit.

2. We have turned life into a complex, confusing rush, with nerves and hurry uppermost.

3. We have made a multitude of cars, taverns, etc., accessible to the youngsters who have latched together with much easy money, many bad examples.

What Can We Do?

I. We can help organize more church youth groups, teen centers, Scout troops, etc., volunteering for the needed leadership.

II. Help provide more family counseling services, child guidance clinics, etc.

III. Help provide more paid or volunteer probation officers and more detention facilities.

IV. To do the above, we can each work to develop public opinion by conversation with friends, speeches to clubs, letters to editors, postcards to county commissioners and state legislators.

My article next week will go further into this.

Walker Speaks At Civic Club

Clint Walker spoke on "Your Family Automobile Policy" at the monthly meeting of New Home Civic Club Monday night, attended by 35 men in spite of the severe weather and bad roads.

He outlined the coverages a car owner may have in his car policy, including both the liability and comprehensive coverages. In the policy the insurance company agrees to defend its client against all claims for damages up to at least $5,000 for one person injured or $10,000 for two or more.

It may cover property damage, medical expenses for any member of the family, other persons riding in the car, death, and even for protection against an accident with an uninsured motorist. The comprehensive part covers all damage not covered by collision and upset, even to damage of clothing.

He also discussed the farmers' comprehensive policy to cover accidents to anyone on a farmer's premises.

The speaker was introduced by Joe D. Unfred.

Secretary Don Smith reported that a profit of $1,256.98 had been realized from two turkey shoots.

Most of this money will be used to improve recreational facilities of the New Home school. Dick Turner reported on plans for moving back the lights and adding more lights at the football field so that they will also serve for night Little League games. A new concessions stand and possibly other improvements will be made to the field.

L. C. Unfred reported that progress had been made in getting the State Highway Department to do a better job in maintaining the farm-to-market road rights-of-way in the community.

Robbie Gill, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting, and a fried chicken dinner was served by the Home Demonstration Club ladies.

He . . . kneeled down, and prayed. (Luke 22:41)

Birmingham, Alabama, has two contrasting statues. One is a huge iron man called Vulcan. It stands atop Red Mountain overlooking the city. Vulcan represents industry. In a small park near the heart of the city is the other statue. It is a small marble statue. It represents a certain Presbyterian minister, with upturned face, kneeling in prayer. For at least half a century he was known in Birmingham as "Brother Bryan." He prayed with people wherever he found them: in homes, hospitals, jails, and even on busy sidewalks.

He was not a great preacher, but he was a great soul. He was everyone's pastor and friend. Everyone passing through Birmingham sees Vulcan. He is big, impressive, and stands atop a mountain. But only those who look closely see the statue of "Brother Bryan" on his knees. But he is much nearer the heart of the city.

PRAYER
Help us, our Father, to remember that Jesus said, "Whoever shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven." Teach us the way of humility. In the spirit of Christ we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Nazarenes Are 50 Years Old

The Church of the Nazarene in Tahoka and over the nation has the last week been observing its 50th anniversary. Beginning last Sunday, Rev. David Hess, said the observance will also continue through this Sunday.

The church had its beginnings on Oct. 13, 1908 at Pilot Point, Texas when 228 small churches gathered for the union. At that time the membership was 10,414, and has risen to nearly 300,000 members in 4,497 churches.

General superintendent of the Nazarene Church, a position which equals a bishop in many churches, is Dr. Hardy C. Powers, a former Tahoka resident who was a clerk in the old bank building on Sweet Street. He married a Tahoka girl, before leaving here for college and his work in the Nazarene Church.

"The Church of the Nazarene was born marching and it hasn't quit!" Dr. Powers, said in regard to the anniversary.

Other than membership the Sunday school enrollment has increased nearly 100 times, per capita giving has increased 10 times, and the value of church property has increased about 340 times.

Rev. Hess said that the goal for 1958 in the church is a new church for every day in the year, or 365 new churches in the U. S.

Baptists Will Set Up Annual Budget

The budget committee of the First Baptist Church has been named by the nominating committee to serve in preparing the budget for the church for 1958.

Truett Smith was elected chairman and other members are E. J. Cooper, Garland Pennington, Durwood Howard, Mrs. Terry Noble, and Everton Nevill. Rev. W. A. Brooks and the treasurer, George McCracken, will meet with the committee Saturday at 7:00 p. m.

The budget will be presented to the deacons of the church and will be approved by the members of the church when it is ready for presentation.

Tahoka In Audio-Visual Program

Lubbock — Tahoka Independent School District is among those participating in an increased use of audio-visual teaching aids to beef up the lag since education equipment which may help solve the problem facing the nation's school systems is training more young people in this space era, Henry R. McCarty declared here.

McCarty is director of the West Texas Cooperative Audio Visual Services headquartered at Texas Tech.

At a time when the nation is becoming increasingly aware of a need for more science education in the public schools, McCarty points to a film project recently completed by Encyclopedia Britannica films.

It is a full course in basic physics consisting of 162 half-hour films designed to leave class room time for questions, quizzes and assignments.

Because much of a physics course is spent in watching things happen and learning why and how they happen, the film is expected to be a great teaching aid in explanation and repetition of experiments.

One purpose of the project is to help schools that are short of science teachers, as many are, McCarty said. That films will be sold for $13,000 a set in black and white and will have a life expectancy of ten years service. One physics course in film can be used by several schools and many classes, thus making it a bargain in education.

Today teachers in 41 school systems in this area are using educational films from the West Texas Cooperative Audio-Visual Services.

Beginning its sixth year of enabling an estimated 58,500 public school students and 8,500 college students to flex their mental muscles in general and technical subjects, the Audio-Visual service has an estimated 3,000 film prints about 1,600 subjects on 16 mm sound film.

McCarty said the number of students served in West Texas has increased from approximately 47,000 when the cooperative was formed in 1952 to 67,000 in 1957.

Each participating school pays into the cooperative 50-cents for each student in its system while Tech participates in the program by providing housing, consultant and advisory service for the organization, McCarty said. Approximately 10 percent of the films are for college-level use.

As the need for visual aids has come more in demand throughout the West Texas schools, the annual distribution of films has increased from 9,543 in 1952-53 to 19,854 in 1957. Meanwhile, the average cost of booking a film by schools has dropped from $2.76 to $1.45, he said.

Today the total value of films in the Audio-Visual Services library is estimated at $125,000, he said. In addition to providing educational film distribution, the West Texas Audio Visual organization provides professional direction, in-service education and consultant service in the field of teaching materials.

Unlike a library of books which is kept for reference years after its contemporary use has passed the Audio-Visual films are continually being brought up to date by revised "editions." Old films are sent in to educational film companies who return a new version at a lower revised-edition price, McCarty pointed out.

Tests Underway At Wilson Well

Test were still being run early this week in an effort to develop as a producing oil well the Herman Brown of Houston No. 1 C. A. Coleman well on the Walter Savell land or four miles east of Wilson.

The well is a wildcat, and even if it is not made into a producer observers believe the show is sufficient to cause other tests to be made in the territory.

The prospector is four miles west of the Suniland field in northeastern Lynn county. It is 330 feet from the south and west lines of the east half of Section 1 GWT&P survey.

Mona Raye Lewis was released from Tahoka Hospital as a medical patient Tuesday.

Vaccination Is Urged By Nurse

Mrs. Lillian McCord, school nurse here, has made the following statement to parents of all school children concerning smallpox vaccination and diphtheria immunization:

"When large groups of children gather together, we must have a few rules to make the environment as safe and sanitary as possible. That is why we must have some preventive measures—"The way to stop an epidemic is to never let it start."

"Vaccination for smallpox is required of all school children. Evidence of successful vaccination or a statement from a physician that the child has received a satisfactory reaction is necessary. If the first vaccination is not successful, two other attempts will be made. After the third attempt, a statement from the doctor is required.

SANDERS IMPROVING

Mrs. J. A. Sanders, who was recently injured in an automobile accident, is in about the same condition as last week, attendants report.

Immunization against diphtheria is required of all first grade children, and it is recommended for second and third graders entering the schools for the first time. Immunization against typhoid is considered satisfactory if the entering child present a statement signed by a physician to the effect that, within two years prior to enrollment he has had either— (1) An original completed diphtheria immunization. (2) A booster dose of diphtheria toxoid. (3) A negative Schick test.

"God grant us serenity to accept things we cannot change, to change that which we can, and wisdom to know the difference."

Help children to accept and to live within their physical limitations."

Alton Cain Makes 1958 Predictions

Alton Cain made his "Predictions for 1958," Thursday noon of last week, a talk which is becoming an institution at the first of each year at Tahoka Rotary Club.

His semi-serious talk interspersed with wit and humor, gave a lot of information on the local and national scenes, some sage advice and some not so "sage."

As usual, his audience greatly enjoyed his talk.

The speaker was introduced as "Roger Babson" Cain by Harley Henderson, in charge of the program.

Marlin Hawthorne and Jackie Applewhite, Tahoka-High School seniors, were introduced, respectively, by Otis Spears and Truett Smith as the Junior Rotarians for the month of January.

Dr. Emil Prohl announced the forthcoming Rotary International Convention which will be held in Dallas this June and suggested that local Rotarians make their hotel reservations soon and attend the meeting. He also announced that D. D. Monroe of Clayton, N. M., who has spoken twice before the local club, is a candidate for Rotary International director from this district.

Bernard Debonne of Paris, France, student guest of the Tahoka club during the summer of 1955, sent New Year's greetings to the club. He now is in the Navy on a battleship based in Western France. He wrote: "Tahoka and all of you are always very close to me and it is with intense emotion I remember the wonderful time you gave me there."

Bun B. Bolch Dies At Lamesa

Funeral services for Bun B. Bolch, 63 year old former Lynn county resident, were held in the First Baptist Church in Lamesa Sunday at 2:00 p. m. with the pastor, Rev. Mile B. Arbuckle, officiating.

Burial was in O'Donnell Cemetery.

Bolch died at his home following a long illness at 8:00 a. m. Friday, Jan. 3. He moved to Lynn county from Morris county in 1923, but had been living in Dawson county about 25 years. He was a retired farmer.

Bolch was a member of the Masonic Lodge and a member of the Baptist Church for 48 years.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Marley of Globe, Ariz., and Mrs. Juanita Brown of San Manuel, Ariz.; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Pettrigan of Omaha, Texas, and Mrs. Jesse Heard of Dangerfield; one brother, D. J. Bolch of Lamesa; and seven grandchildren.

John H. King and son, A. O. King, came over from Dora, N. M., last Friday to look after a little business and to visit friends. Mr. King, a long-time citizen of Lynn county, has been at Dora since 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. Deck Dunagah spent last week end in Carlsbad, N. M., visiting relatives, and Deck's nephew, Ronnie Wolf, returned home with them to spend a week.

Methodists Start New Bible Study

Wednesday evening marked the first in a series of a Bible Study at the First Methodist Church entitled "Disciples to Such a Lord" which covers the gospel according to St. Mark.

The study, approved by the Woman's Division of Christian Service, is being led by Mrs. Clint Walker, and will be the topic of the mid-week services through January, according to the pastor, Rev. J. B. Thompson.

The entire membership of the church is invited to attend and special notice is called to the fact that members of the Woman's Society may get credit for the study at the sessions.

Mrs. Walker recently presented the study to the Wesleyan Service Guild in four lessons.

The opening session Wednesday night was preceded by a covered dish supper in Fellowship Hall of the church.

A double eagle was a twenty-dollar gold piece.

Methodist Home Offering Taken

Members of the First Methodist Church here contributed $1,732.50 during December to be used as an offering for the Home for Children in Waco.

Entirely supported by the Methodist Church, the home is for orphaned children or those who are of broken homes, neglected, or from families who are unable to support them.

The offering was taken from the Methodist Churches over the state in December.

In addition, the local church also raised an additional $1,131.50 during December for the local building fund, bringing the total fund to $17,000.

Distemper is commonly considered a form of influenza.

NOTHING ELSE NEAR THE PRICE HAS WHAT'S IN THIS PACKAGE!

The Delray 4-Door Sedan. Chevy's the only car in its field with Body by Fisher and Safety Plate Glass all around.

It's one of Chevrolet's dollar-stretching Delrays!

The handsome Delrays are the lowest priced of all the low-priced Chevrolets. And they're full-size Chevrolets—wider, lower and nine lively inches longer. In size, in style, in fine details and construction, no other car priced so low gives you so much!

When you're thinking about buying a car because of its extra-low price, there are two things it pays to watch for. First, be sure you get full measure when it comes to size. Don't settle for a cut-down bargain model. Second, be sure you get all the equipment and conveniences that you'd normally expect to be standard. Look for such everyday things as an instrument panel switch for the dome light, a booster for vacuum windshield wipers and crank-operated vent windows. Chevrolet's Delray models are the lowest priced in the line. But they're full-size Chevrolets—wonderfully lower and wider, with the same increased length as other models. They're all Chevrolet, with bold new sculptured styling and beautiful Body by Fisher. And they're equipped to do you proud. Nothing else near the price has what's in this package. See it soon at your Chevrolet dealer's!

The use of commercial fertilizer is increasing with tremendous speed. Most of us realize the importance of fertilization, but many are not aware of the importance of individual soil tests. Only by testing each field individually can we insure correct, efficient use of fertilizers.

unless the correct balance is maintained. For instance if a particular plot of land should be high in phosphorous (P₂O₅) and a commercial fertilizer which was high in phosphorous was used this would tend to throw the balance further off and losses can be expected. Not only the price of the fertilizer will be lost, but yields may be reduced by such an application.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson
There is an old story of Cortez landing on the shores of Mexico. Part of his crew refused to explore the interior of the unknown land. Cortez said, "Very well, those who are afraid may take their ships and go back where they can tell the will of God by the fences."

We are continually fencing ourselves in—shutting ourselves off—from life's broader outlooks and opportunities.

We fence in our minds. A fence around the mind is indeed a tragic thing. In our little fenced-in corners we tend our smug little prejudices and watertight opinions. A new idea is an unwelcome intruder. We have our minds made up and as far as we are concerned there is nothing new under the sun.

Intolerance and dogmatism have hindered human progress throughout the ages. The majority has always moved piously about the narrow limits of their preconceived notions while the vast expanse of truth lies out before them like an open range. A minority of open minded souls have always explored the unknown; blazing the trails for others to follow in due time. Don't fence in your mind!

There are fences around our spirits also. A spiritual recluse is pathetic. The chief characteristic of such a person is usually egotistical self-righteousness. In a secluded existence he claims perfection in character and wisdom when in truth he is bound by false modesty and ignorance. Our Creator has made us to achieve greatness: not simply to live in a vacuum of self appreciation.

God's will and purpose cannot be fenced in and those who are afraid to venture will never know the joy of the abundant life. Don't fence yourself in!

The name "Dixie" was given to the South, according to popular belief, by Negroes who were fond of a Manhattan slave owner by that name.

ceived lately for guar seed. Guar is bringing $2.50 to $3.50 per hundred with yields of 400-800 pounds per acre. You may want to include this soil building crop in this year's planting.

Terrace lines were completed on A. M. Cade's farm east of Wilson for a complete terrace system. A considerable amount of water was lost from the field during last spring's heavy rains along with some soil erosion on the steeper places. Loss of water is loss of potential crop production and the terrace system will have end closures on each terrace to hold a maximum of water on fields.

A soil and water conservation plan was worked out on J. B. Hoskins Jr.'s farm two miles north of Central church. R. A. Weatherby is the operator and one of the first things that is planned is a complete terrace system. Some acreage is to be watered with the terrace system. A small plot will be fertilized on a trial basis.

According to Fred Elliott, cotton work specialist of the Texas A and M Extension Service, higher yields of cotton can be credited the 7-step cotton program. When the program was initiated in 1946, the lint average that year was 134 pounds per acre. It has never been that low since.

- The seven-step program is:
1. Fit cotton into balanced farming.
 2. Take care of your soil and water.
 3. Act together on the best variety.
 4. Make labor and machinery count.
 5. Control insects and diseases.
 6. Harvest and gin for higher grades.
 7. Sell for grade, staple, variety values.

Assistance to farmers of the Lynn Soil Conservation District is available on the first two steps. Technicians assigned to the district will assist farmers in developing their conservation farm plans to include the crop rotation, soil building crop, soil and water management practices to fit their farms.

Thoughts For Consideration

By Leroy Cowan
The Bible is the inspired word of God. The Book, not the creeds of churches, or interpretation of commentators, should be our sole standard of appeal in religion. Error proceeds from man, but never from God. His word is absolutely infallible. "To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them" Isa. 8:20. The Bible should be our guide—a lamp to our feet, and a light to our path. It should be our daily meditation. "Oh, how love I thy law! It is my meditation all the day" Ps. 119:97. Let it be our comfort in sorrow and its words shall whisper hope and peace in the death-hour.

Robert E. Lee had this to say about the Bible. "This book is a book in comparison with which all others in my eyes of minor importance, and in all my perplexities and distresses has never failed to give me strength." Faith is the victory that overcometh the world, and faith cometh by hearing the word of God. (1 Jo. 5:4; Ro. 10:17)

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Hill of Tahoka, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Short of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Parker and Brenda of Texas Tech in Lubbock returned home New Years Day after spending the holidays visiting relatives and friends at Tishomingo and Booneville, Miss. and at Sheffield, Ala. On the way home they came by the way of Jackson and Natchez, Miss., then to Houston where they visited Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Short and the Parker family. The group left here for their vacation, December 20.

Bald eagles are so named because of the effect of the white feathers on their heads.
