Example of Standard Terraces Located on W. R. Carter Farm

A fine example of standard terracing, now being recommended by the Blackwater Soil Conservation District, may be seen on the dryland farm of Ray Carter, located 2 1/2 west and 2 miles south of Needmore, farmed by his son, J. R. Carter.

The place is part of three labors owned by Carter in the vicinity, about 300 acres of which is irrigated from small wells.

The terraces were constructed during the early winter, and except for light snows, have not been put to serious test by any considerable amount of rain. Ray wryly commented that if they are as effective as he believes they will be, he might be able to have snowballs in July from some of the snows which fell on them in January.

Which is his way of saying that he strongly recommends terraces. Ray explained that the land in the section is tighter than that around Muleshoe, and takes up the

Snow Hides Shadow of Old Groundhog

The weather man aimed a low blow at the groundhog Monday, sending icy winds and about an inch and a half of snow to the West Plains.

The powdery snow began in time to keep any local groundhogs from seeing their shadows, at least during the additional February 2, shadow sighting date.

Skies cleared by Wednesday, but Thursday morning brought more clouds and mists, which were predicted to be the advance of more snow.

The Muleshoe Journal was visited by Leroy Thomas on Tuesday of this week. He is in Muleshoe on vacation and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomas, and other relatives and friends. His present home is Fairbanks, Alaska, which he thinks is bigger and better than Texas. We wonder.

water more slowly, retaining it longer for plant use. Thus terraces which divert and retain natural moisture will back water up over the land and allow it to seep in naturally.

There are approximately 10 miles of standard type terraces on the place, installed as part of the Great Plains Conservation Plan through the Muleshoe offices of the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District.

Full information on installing terraces on any farm in the district may be obtained from the SCS office in Muleshoe.

Collins, Colo.; Earl Wilhite and Mrs. Tom McClary of Pomona, Calif.; and Mrs. Troy Atkinson, J. E. Lonnie and Clarence, of Muleshoe, brothers and sisters of the deceased, and his mother, Mrs. Carrie Wilhite of Muleshoe.

Pea-pickers of the West Plains got a real boost from the last Thursday night presentation of the Tennessee Ernie Ford show on national television.

Ole Ern and his guest, travel voiced Andy Devine, put on a skit in which they were going to Muleshoe to play for a barn dance.

The two comedians mentioned the name of Muleshoe, Texas frequently during the sketch, and also prior to its presentation.

It may be that Muleshoe, Texas, is replacing Walla Walla, Washington, as a funny town to talk about on TV. At any rate, the Chamber of Commerce should be proud of the number of plugs the town rated on this nationally televised show.

General Telephone Company officials this week urged Muleshoe telephone users to dial carefully when calling a number on the Yorktown exchange in Lazbuddie community.

Company officials said some phone patrons are dialing the letter "Y" in the prefix correctly, but instead of dialing the letter "O", which is with the figure six on the dial, they are dialing "Y" zero, which which rings a local number in Muleshoe.

One suggestion offered by the company is that patrons dial the figure nine and six prior to dialing the figures of the number on the Lazbuddie exchange. By dialing seven figures, company officials believe there will be less confusion than by dialing two letters and then five figures.

Among those to be presented February 12 are Miss Wuertlein, Pat Awbrey, Ropesville; Sharon Scott, Vernon; Roma Brewer, Tahoka; Glendell Gilbert, Dickens; Gail McWilliams, Whiteflat, and Barbara Sullivan Emeby, Ropesville.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Bishop of Lubbock were home over the weekend visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Stemmans.

Chosenas one of the top 15 beauties at Wayland Baptist College is Martha Wuertlein, daughter of Mrs. Lillie Wuertlein, Rt. 1, Muleshoe. Miss Wuertlein will compete for the title of campus beauty in the college's annual Beauty and Best Pageant February 12. Winner of the Beauty Pageant and two runners-up will be picked by a panel of judges. Miss Wuertlein is a candidate from the Speech Club, and was named by student body vote to the top 15 from a field of 44 girls.

Bailey county 4-H and FFA boys gave a good accounting of themselves at the Southwestern Livestock Exposition junior livestock show in Ft. Worth this past weekend.

Members of the Bailey County Commissioners Court went to Lubbock Wednesday to consult with members of the State Highway Department district office, regarding possible plans of action regarding the widening of U. S. 84 west from Muleshoe to the Parmer county line.

The Commissioners were informed recently by letter that unless some definite action is taken to secure right of way for the four lane project, contracted for last November, funds will be re-allocated for another highway improvement project.

It was announced in November, 1958, that contracts had been received by the Commissioners for the widening project, but at that time, the county had no funds available for purchasing the needed right of way to get the program started.

A shortage of available funds still confronts the court, and it is this factor which the court went to Lubbock to discuss. The Highway Department earlier estimated that right of way would cost the county approximately $340,000.

Members of the court informally told The Journal Wednesday that a bond issue or warrant issue would be necessary to raise funds to buy right of way, and they had not sampled public opinion on the issue yet.

Oklahoma Lane To View Europe Film Feb. 12

People of Oklahoma Lane community are sponsoring a showing of the film, "A Tenderfoot in Europe", the evening of February 12 at 7:30 o'clock. The film, made by "Cotton John", farm and ranch editor of TV station KGNC, Amarillo, is attracting crowds wherever it is shown over the Plains.

The film will be shown in the Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply, located 2 miles north of the Lane churches. Everybody is invited to see the film.

Oklahoma Lane people are anxious for a large turnout of community folks because they want to interest them in erecting a community building. People are asked to tell their neighbors and bring out a rousing crowd for this event.

Cookies and coffee will be served by the Oklahoma Lane Home Demonstration Club ladies.

Coach Weaver To Be Here Tuesday For Noon Speech

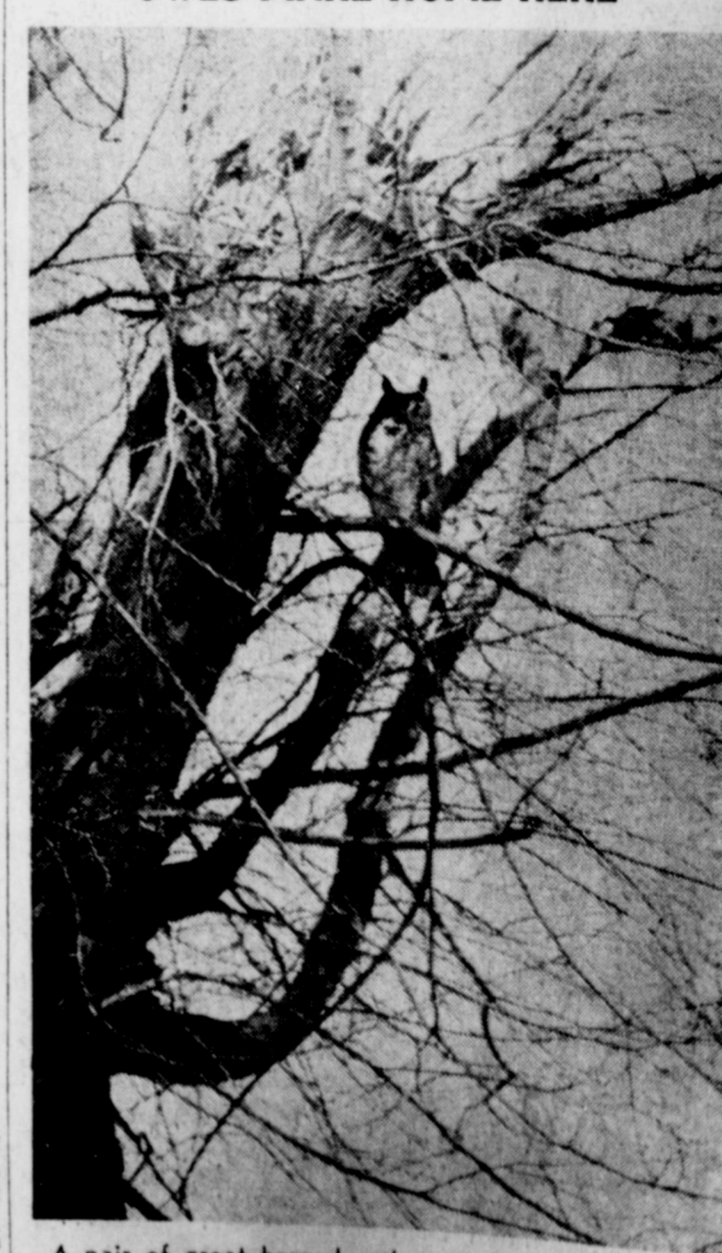

Dee Weaver, head football coach at Texas Tech, Lubbock, will make an appearance in Muleshoe next Tuesday, February 11.

Coach Weaver will speak at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club following their luncheon at Leigon's Cafe. Arrangements for his visit and talk here are being made by Rotarian Norman Thomas, who is in charge of the club's program for the day.

The club is inviting all who are interested in hearing the latest about football plans and prospects at Tech are invited to attend. The club members are expected to have a number of guests, but anyone who wants to attend the meeting is cordially invited to do so whether or not they are personally contacted.

Many exs of this neighborhood already have expressed their intentions to be present and hear the coach talk.

OWLS MAKE HOME HERE

A pair of great horned owls, not usually seen on the high altitudes of the Plains, are making life miserable, and sometimes short, for the flocks of starlings which nightly roost in the trees around the courthouse square here.

In addition to the starlings, the owls feed on rats and mice, insects and other undesirable. Their good features far outweigh the occasional lapse which sends them into a chicken yard in search of food.

Common to the area off the caprock, the owl pair has been in the Muleshoe area since the cold spell in early January, and the courthouse crew is hopeful they will nest here this spring and make the square their permanent home.

Muleshoe Study Club To Sponsor Art Exhibit February 15 At CC

Plans are being polished for the Art Exhibit which Muleshoe Study Club is sponsoring on February 15 from two to five o'clock at Muleshoe Country Club.

The affair is to be a Silver Tea and will include showings from any area artist. There is no charge to the artist for exhibiting work and mediums will include oils, water colors, ceramics, china painting, sketches and leather craft.

A children's and youth division is planned and it is hoped that young people will be urged to exhibit their work.

Entries will not be judged, but rather placed on exhibit in order to give the public an opportunity to view local and area talent.

Exhibitors are asked to call Mrs. T. R. White.

Mrs. Carl Crawford, a local artist, is the owner of a collection of very old paintings, which were purchased in

Mary Martin Enchants Huge Plains Audience

More than 2,700 persons spent an enchanted evening in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium Monday evening when a Texas belle named Mary Martin made it perfectly plain that to her belongs the title of America's Queen of the Musical Comedy stage.

Mary Martin, singing with full orchestra conducted by John Lesko and assisted by a superb guitarist, Luis Bonfa, and a most engaging and talented dancer, Dirk Sanders, opened a treasure chest of memory melodies on the vast auditorium stage and for two hours Broadway came to Lubbock—in a wealth of glittering stardust that even the Gay White Way does not offer in a single evening.

Among those attending the performance from Muleshoe were Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Stemons, Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Birdsong, George and Susan, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sanders, Jr. and Mike, Pawayne Murphy, Miss JoAnn Mickey, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Ragsdale, Mrs. Marie Lenau, Mrs. Inez Bobo, and Miss Mildred Davis.

Miss Martin is a personal friend of Dr. and Mrs. Birdsong and sent a note inviting them backstage after the performance to renew their friendship. They were kind enough to take along their friends to see that Miss Martin is as charming off-stage as she is before her audience.

Drape Charter In Rebekah Lodges For Mr. Brashear

As a memorial to the late Roy Brashear, the charters of the Needmore IOOF and Rebekah Lodges were draped for a period of 30 days, on Tuesday, February 3.

Approximately 30 members and friends witnessed the beautiful and impressive ceremony. Candles and iridescent lighting was used through the service to exemplify this solemn occasion.

The Oddfellows and Rebekahs taking part in the ceremony were: Alex Reed and Adele Tompkins, noble grands; Charles Panzer and Thursie Reed, vice-grands; Gertrude Broyles and John Hammock as chaplains. In the drill were Mildred Reasner, Marie Allen, Florence Holmes, Ethel Lee Meason, and Juanita Busby. A solo was sung by Thelma Panzer with Maxine Ragsdale at the piano.

Following the draping ceremony, regular lodge was held. Three applications for membership were received and are to be initiated on February 17.

All members are to be reminded of the installation of new officers on February 10 at Needmore IOOF Hall at 8 p.m.

4-H Pair Serve Community Best

Pat Potts Joyce Cargill

Top honors in the Texas 4-H program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service were won by two public-spirited teenagers, Pat Potts, 17, of Dike, and Joyce Cargill, 16, of Bryant.

State winners in the 1958 4-H Community Relations program, both received certificates of honor. Young Potts went on to become one of six sectional winners in the nation, receiving an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. The Wm. Wrigley Jr. Company was the awards donor.

Potts played an important part in repairing an abandoned community center in Dike so that his newly organized 4-H Club would have a good start. The well-kept building now affords a meeting place for community elections, parties and other local activities.

In 1956 Potts organized a 4-H Club in Paint Rock community, serving as its president. The following year he served as president of Pine Forest 4-H Club.

The newly organized club in Dike has formed a community soft ball league, sponsored the leasing of water samples, and cleared hazardous corners.

Junior leader and assistant leader six years, he is president of the Dike Joint 4-H Club, and active in the county and district councils.

Miss Cargill, in her eight years of 4-H work, has played the piano at church services, helped with polo drives, 4-H Club Week, and achievement programs, and served as mistress of ceremonies for a 4-H program given at Rotary Club.

Every week she and another 4-H'er clean up the community church. "We don't mind it," she says, "because we are proud of our church, and we want it always to look its Sunday best."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THEY LIKE MISSOURI

Thompson, Mo. Jan. 28, 1959

Dear Scoop: Enclosed you will find a check for $3.50 for our next year's Muleshoe Journal. You know it is always a mad scramble at our house on Saturday because that is the day we receive the ole home town paper.

Four years ago today we arrived here in Missouri, and we like it even better than we thought we would. We added a new member to our family this year. We call him Denny, his name is Denzil Warner and he was named for both of his grandfathers. You know he is the first grandson in the Warner family and he's pretty spoiled too. He is almost 12 weeks old and weighs 14 pounds.

Hope to see you on our next trip to Texas, in the meantime why not visit us in Missouri? Sincerely, Mrs. Richard Smith

Mr. Warren Calls On Journal Shopping Service P. O. Box 156 7 Vero Beach, Florida January 23, 1959

Muleshoe Journal, Muleshoe, Texas Gentlemen:

Will you be so kind as to go to one of the grocery stores in Muleshoe and purchase for me two boxes of New Instant MALT-O-MEAL and parcel post it to me at the above address.

Check for $10.00 is enclosed herewith to pay all the expense and use the remainder on my subscription to your good paper.

I would call on my friends out there to do this, but they would never let me pay for it. To say nothing of the trouble to send it here. We cannot buy this breakfast food in the stores here.

Thanking you in advance for this kind favor, and with best wishes, Sincerely yours, MILES WARREN

Dear Mr. Warren: Think no more of it, dismiss it from your mind for long before this gets into print you'll have your Malt-O-Meal, and the instant kind, too.

I have always thought that our Muleshoe grocery stores are superior as to kind and variety of foods, and here's proof. Your $10 check was expended as follows: Malt-O-Meal, .74c; postage, 64c; 2 years subscription to The Journal, $7.00; a total of $8.38. There was no charge for the shipping. Now what shall we do with the $1.62 residue? Reluctantly, we are sending that amount back to you.

Todays Meditation

Read John 13:6-17. I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think. (Romans 12:3.)

Struggle as they might, the men could scarcely move the heavy timber. The officer asked the commander why he did not take hold and help. With a superior air, the commander replied, "Sir, I am a corporal."

How true indeed are the Master's words, "Whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted."

The only difference is that out here it's easier, you don't have to take a cab to the air port, you're not bothered by the roar of a jet engine, my chair here is just as comfortable as the ones they have on those planes, and at the end of the four hours you're at home instead of being 3,000 miles away. You've also saved $300.

Dear editor: Not that I had planned on going myself, I've got things to do out here on this Johnson grass farm, but I was reading yesterday about the requirements for the first man to take off for outer space from the United States, and in case you missed the article I can let you know that I don't think I'd qualify and I don't think they'll be calling on you either, Mr. Forbes.

In fact, right off, I don't know of anybody around here they're likely to call, at least nobody in this immediate vicinity.

Results Reported in Hybrid Corn Yield Test At Hi Plains Station

Three hybrid corn yield tests, each containing 49 entries, were conducted during 1958 at the High Plains Station at Halfway, Texas. Average yields in these tests range from 97 to 77 bushels per acre, and yields of individual entries range from 135 to 36 bushels per acre.

Entries reported include most of the hybrids now available to High Plains farmers, plus a number of midseason and early maturing commercial and experiment station hybrids.

Nine hybrids gave yields significantly above the test average, 97 bushels per acre. These include Tx 26, 28, 30, and 36; Asgrow 104; Conrad hybrid 1 and 3; Watson 111 and Holden 2124A.

The six highest yielding hybrids are white, including TRF w, Pfister 633w, Funk G 79w; and Asgrow 101w, 105w, and 107w.

The tests were planted on April 25 and thinned June 11 to an average of one plant per 8.4 inches in 40 inch rows. Fertilizer 26-78-0 was applied at planting, and 150-0-0 was applied as side dressing on May 5. Three cultivations were given with crustbuster, clean top sweeps and all plants were hoed once on about June 4.

The crop received a total of 29.90 inches of water and no pre-planting irrigation was necessary. Five irrigations were applied in addition to natural rainfall.

Moisture percentages ranged from 25.27 to 14.16 percent. A major problem of corn production on the High Plains is that of moisture in the grain at maturity. For that reason a large number of midseason and early maturing hybrids were used.

Percent of moisture in the shelled grain at harvest determines whether the grain can be marketed immediately or must be dried. No entry had grain with less than 13 percent, safe for storage, or below 14 percent, maximum for number 1 grain. A fairly large number had grain with moisture less than 15.5 percent maximum for No. 2 grade corn, while several entries had more than 23 percent, maximum allowed for No. 5 grade corn.

Those entries whose grain contained more than 15.5 percent moisture would have required additional drying before marketing. Facilities for artificially drying grain, or cribs such as are used in the corn belt, would advance the date at which the midseason and late maturing hybrids could be harvested.

Some grain is damaged or lost when ear corn is piled on the ground for drying; much grain may be lost by lodging and harvesting may be made more difficult if the corn is allowed to stand in the field for drying. Much of the stock breaking during these tests is reported to have occurred on the weekend just before harvest.

A complete copy of the detailed report may be obtained from the High Plains Station, Halfway, Texas.

Stockmen Alerted On Screwworm Fly

Screwworm flies have been found in isolated areas of the South recently and stockmen are urged to report promptly any attacks of this pest on their animals. A quick report to the county agent, accompanied by a specimen could help officials bring the fly under control.

State and Federal officials are conducting a campaign to eradicate screwworms from the entire Southwest. The program is based on the fact that when a female screwworm fly mates with a sterile male she produces only infertile eggs. Flies are sterilized by radioactive cobalt, a product of atomic-energy research. Continued release of sterile flies in an infested area eventually eradicates the species.

School Lunch Program In 1959

Texas is due to receive its share of the more than $200 million in federal funds allotted for the school lunch program this year. Federal authorities have apportioned $93 million to the states as a contribution to the operation of school lunch programs, another $50 is available for actual purchase of lunch foods and commodities valued at about $75 million are included.

Last year, two billion lunches were served to about 12 million school children—or 30 percent of the total school enrollment. Nearly 60,000 of the nation's schools participated in the program.

Most of the food is purchased from local producers and suppliers. Much of the rest comes from government surplus items.

Prices paid by the nation's farmers have increased approximately 2 1/2 times since 1935-39, according to the Agricultural Research Service. Wage rates have risen nearly 5 times and are still advancing; prices for power and machinery have more than doubled. On the other hand, prices of fertilizer have levelled off at about 50% above those of the 1935 period and prices paid for feed, although nearly twice as high have declined during the past several years.

Looking ahead to the 1959 season, prices paid for goods and services used in production and cost per unit of production probably will be somewhat above the levels of last year. Wage rates to hired labor and prices for non-farm goods and services used in production also are expected to average higher. With normal weather and current production trends, feed and seed are likely to be lower.

Summary of 1958 Texas Corn Test

Texas 28 and 30 and Asgrow 104 produced yields of about 55 bushels per acre to lead all hybrids in the 1958 Texas corn performance tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

These hybrids showed a wide range of adaption by ranking at or near the top in each of individual tests conducted at 20 locations throughout the state.

Texas 30, 32, 34 and 36 produced high yields under irrigation in tests at Weslaco and College Station, Texas 30 and 34, because of their superior

New Leaflet On Soybean Growing Is Now Available

Many questions about soybean production are answered in a leaflet published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Soybeans".

According to the leaflet, soybeans can be grown in all irrigated sections of Texas, but most of the commercial acreage harvested for seed is on the High Plains. Although profitable yields have been produced in some seasons under dryland conditions on bottomland soils of the Red River Valley and in the eastern part of the Coast Prairie, yields over a period of years have been so inconsistent the crop has not been widely grown.

Soybeans are adapted to about the same general soil and climatic conditions as corn or cotton and do well on properly drained, mellow, fertile loams and sandy loams when adequate moisture is available.

Seedbed preparation for soybeans is the same as for cotton. Resistance, are recommended particularly for areas where diseases and insects cause serious damage to corn.

Texas 17W and Asgrow had the highest average yield among the white hybrids on a statewide basis. Asgrow 101W was the highest yielding white hybrid in the Coast, Blackland and Grand Prairies.

Progress Report 2064 contains a complete summary of the tests and is available free of charge from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. The report contains charts showing the performance of the varieties tested at various locations and gives recommendations for each area of Texas, based on the tests.

ton or grain sorghum. Texas farmers tend to plant too early for best results. Soybeans should be planted after minimum soil temperatures have reached 65 degrees F. and after the effective daylight period reaches or exceeds 14 1/2 hours. Fertilization should be based on soil test recommendations.

The leaflet contains discussions on growth requirements, harvesting and other related topics. It is available from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-411.

$2.5 Million In Great Plains Farming Program

Over two and one-half million dollars have now been obligated to landowners in the Plains area of Texas thru the Great Plains Conservation Program, reports Lynn Pittard, extension assistant soil and water conservation specialist.

This voluntary program applies to 98 counties in the Great Plains area and provides cost-share assistance for almost any soil and water conservation practice, explained

Pittard. Operators may receive up to 80 percent assistance, depending on the practice. Contracts are signed for 3 to 10 years duration.

"Since the program was started around the first of last year, 546 contracts covering 1,012,488 acres have been entered into agreement with the United States Department of Agriculture," Pittard said. "Sixty-five counties are now participating, and assistance is now available to 11 additional counties which have recently been added to the list."

Pittard pointed out that the program has several advantages. It is flexible and can be modified to meet the particular individuals' needs. There is no limitation on assistance except on irrigation. Crop allotments are not affected during contract and the program may be used in combination with other government cost-share plans.

For a more thorough explanation of the program, Pittard advises obtaining L-410, "The Great Plains Conservation Program - What is it?", from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

Texas legislative session is getting well under way with such a full slate that it appears most of the first half of 1959. Nine bills supported by Farm Bureau to improve the Texas Animal Health situation have been introduced. These bills cover several phases that would take too much space for explanation in this column. If they are passed, they will protect out of state markets for Texas livestock, which is important to every farmer as well as livestock producers.

H. B. 22, by Hale, McGregor and Spears, if passed would cost the state an additional 80 million dollars per year, and the local districts 20 million a year. This bill would provide an across the board pay raise of $800 per year for all Texas teachers. It would also extend the school year from nine to nine and one half months with the districts having the option of extending the term to ten months. To this writer, extending the school term is rather foolish when holiday periods generally are being increased each year.

Of particular interest to all rural Texans is the bill to give equal rights for Electric Co-ops to service rural areas, and in other fields where they

Clothing Guide Available From Extension Service

Men's sport shirts, women's street dresses and girls' school or sports dresses take a big share of the clothing dollars in most family budgets. Extension clothing specialists say these three items deserve special attention when you shop, because the many new fabrics, finishes, colors and styles make the job of selection pretty confusing.

Price is not necessarily a guide to quality. Specialists say it pays to look for a label that gives information on fiber content, care needed, color fastness and shrinkage. A sales person whom you know well can give you much helpful information that will assure greater satisfaction and longer wear.

Buying guides and pointers on judging fabrics and finishes, selecting suitable styles, sizes and colors, and information on labels have been prepared by extension clothing specialists.

Three new leaflets—"Buying Sport Shirts," "Buying A Street Dress," and "Buying A Girl's School Dress," are available. Call or write your county home demonstration agent's office for copies.

have established service not formerly available.

Ever since we can remember, Texas Farm Bureau has been trying to get a tax bill passed on natural resources, namely, natural gas. The bill, as introduced, would provide an additional 41 million dollars revenue to the state. If you favor this bill, it would be well to write your senator and representative of that fact. The natural gas lobby has strong representation against it. Write Senator Andy Rogers and Rep. Jesse Osborn. Farm Bureau has representatives there, but they will need lots of help on this one.

There is a bill intended to take funds from the permanent school fund, which is like selling a quarter of land to pay the taxes on the other three quarters. Farm Bureau from every county opposes this proposal. Division of commissioner's precincts by population is also being pushed with Farm Bureau opposition.

We hope you will keep up with doings in Austin this session. Some people are planning some things that may do irreparable damage to Texas citizens.

A PALE GREEN THUMB

The amateur gardener will find an awful lot of suggestions in the many seed catalogues as to plants and varieties of flowers and shrubs to plant. But the buyer should beware of spending money for items which are not adapted to the peculiar climate we have here.

Read the descriptions carefully, and beware of items which require acid soil, and which are not winter hardy, because we have enough low temperature days here to wreck havoc with tender plants during the winter time.

This brings up another point to consider. Always inquire where the plant was grown, for northern grown trees, roses and shrubs are usually better adapted to growing on the Plains than plants grown in east Texas or along the gulf coast states. Plants which are accustomed to severe weather will suffer less setback or shock on transplanting than those which originally grew in an area of high humidity, ample rainfall and acid soils.

Most any fruit trees will grow in this area, although only the earlier varieties will fruit before frost. Pear trees are subject to a blight which unless controlled will kill the tree in a few weeks. Peach trees may be attacked by borers, but like many other pests, these can be controlled thru use of the many new insecticides and chemicals to be found on the market now.

Shade trees are badly needed in this area, and one of the fastest growing is the cottonwood. This tree, like the thornless locust, the boreana and lombardy poplar, do well in this climate. Silver leaf maples, any of the elms, and Russian olive make good specimen or shade plants.

This business of acid soil stymies a lot of well intentioned gardeners, I imagine. There's really no secret about it though. Most of the soil on the Caprock is high in lime content which is just the opposite of acid. Therefore plants such as azalea, oak, holly and magnolia do not fare so well here unless kept constantly supplied with acid mulches and which are prevented from rooting out into the limey soil. It is possible to grow these plants in large pots or tubs, if the gardener is persistent enough.

Similarly, the lovely panicles of the hydrangea will all be pink, if they bloom at all, for want of acid. They may be forced to bloom blue by addition of aluminum sulphate, or heavy applications of peat moss mulches.

As far as shrubbery is concerned, there is a wide choice available now, but again care should be exercised in selecting shrubs, and also in placing them in the landscape plan.

A common fault in planting shrubbery is getting it too close to the buildings, because it is small when put out. One should note the full grown size of the plant and make allowances for its future growth and need for room.

Some of the common shrubs which seem to do well in this area are the junipers, particu-

A TRIBUTE . . . . To Our Ministers!

Each Sunday and oftentimes throughout the week the minister of your church lifts his head in prayer and envisions the heaven of your faith. He is a patient man. He is an understanding man. He's there, your loyal friend, in sickness, sorrow. He officiates at weddings and visits the homes of his parishioners. Yet with all his biblical knowledge and his interest in his sermons, he is a man. A fine man. And he should be treated as a friend and companion, not merely as a cleric. Your minister and his church deserve all the support you can give them. Attend services regularly and be generous with your contributions.

Lambert Cleaners New Licensee For Sanitone Here

Lambert Cleaners of Muleshoe announced this week that they have become the Sanitone licensee here, and, after having used the cleaning material for a month, the entire staff has expressed their pleasure at the results they are obtaining.

Woodie Lambert, proprietor, reviewing development of new materials and improvements in old dry cleaning materials, said that one of the most interesting and effective of these new dry cleaning methods is the Sanitone Soft-Set process that his plant is now using.

He said that the original mill finish is restored to garments while they are being cleaned with this material. Wool and wool-like synthetics are treated so that they regain their original body and feel each time that they are dry cleaned.

To prove that this is true, Lambert's has on display two swatches of cloth from Sacoony suiting material. One swatch has been cleaned 25 times, and the other has never been cleaned at all. The customer is invited to feel and examine both swatches, and try to tell which is which.

When the truth first appeared to him in Science, Paul was made blind, and his blindness was felt; but spiritual light soon enabled him to follow the example and teachings of Jesus, healing the sick and preaching Christianity throughout Asia Minor, Greece
