STANDING ON THE CORNER

With F. J.

If a box is filled with salt, it cannot be filled with pepper. If we are filled with our own importance, then we can never be filled with anything outside of ourselves. If a man thinks he knows everything, then not even God can teach him anything.

—Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

Tahoka has a group of the prettiest children to be found anywhere, we think. Not only girls, either. But, considering the features of some of Tahoka's little girls, we came up with this combination.

Take the deep blue eyes of Liz Hagood or those of the Bob Connolly children, the flaming red hair of Southern Wells, and the dimples that accompany the smile of Beverly Falls. Mix them with Paige Verner's disposition and Debi Thomas' vivaciousness and you've got an ideal child.

But all of us Mamas will agree that our own can't be beat.

The proposed Housing Project for low-income families here is one that the News is endorsing 100 percent. This is something that Tahoka has needed for a long time and with the terms set down by the Public Housing Administration, we can't lose—either financially or in any other way.

In an article appearing in the Reader's Digest entitled "Slum Clearance Pays Extra Dividends" this statement is made: A progress report shows that it's not just the poor and ill-housed who benefit—it's the whole community.

Besides it helping these people get on their feet, it can make Tahoka a much lovelier town in which to live.

And then there was the woman who was charged with creeping into her husband's room and shooting him with a bow and arrow. Asked to tell the jury why she did it, she replied that she didn't want to wake the children.

Tahoka school classrooms have been terrifically over crowded this year. Why? Because the Average Daily Attendance, on which the number of teacher's salaries paid by the State is determined, has been falling down.

One reason is because so many children who have to walk long distances to school and have no way of transportation stay at home on cold days.

Today Deadline To Pay Poll Tax

Poll tax payments will be "pretty fair" after all, Tax Collector J. E. (Red) Brown stated Thursday morning.

At 9:00 a. m., he reported 1897 Lynn county citizens had paid their poll taxes, an increase of 450 since Thursday of last week.

This is far short of the county potential, but much larger than was expected two weeks ago.

Today, Friday, is the last day for paying poll taxes, as a qualification for voting in the 1958 elections.

A Tahoka insurance man and a New Home farmer will guide Lynn county activities of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., for 1958; and Weldon Martin, O'Donnell, is the 1958 PCG chairman for the county.

More than 40 producers and allied businessmen met at the American Legion Hall Thursday night for the annual PCG meeting.

Clint Walker of Tahoka was elected the businessman director, and Wilmer Smith, New Home, was re-elected the farmer-producer director. Smith is currently vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers.

Charles Verner, Tahoka banker, is the immediate past businessman director from Lynn county, and Joe D. Unfried is the outgoing county chairman.

March of Dimes Drive Continues

The March of Dimes drive will be continued for another two weeks in Lynn county, according to drive chairman C. W. Conway, because only a little more than half has been collected of the amount needed.

On Wednesday morning Conway had received reports of only about $1600 having been collected. Lynn county had been asked to contribute as much as it did last year, or about $3700. During 1957 the county spent about $3500 on local cases, or twice as much as was in the local fund.

The drive on the business institutions received only $130 this year and the Mother's March brought in $636.50. Tahoka school cards added an additional $100. O'Donnell has reported a collection of $400, and Wilson about $100.

O'Donnell is expected to receive about $500 more on its variety show tonight.

Conway said that dime cards in town will be picked up Saturday and the remainder of the school cards collected. He requested that anyone wishing to mail in a donation send it to "March of Dimes" in care of either post office in Tahoka, Wilson or O'Donnell.

No definite plans for continuing the drive, have been made, Conway said, but several projects are under consideration.

The State committee, made up of 24 men, state that they have made no conclusions and reports will be made to the legislature based on those turned in by over 200 county committees.

In the local committees, it was found that financing is a major

Bulldogs Win Over Abernathy

The Bulldog quintet defeated Abernathy 48 to 45 in a thriller here last Friday night to break a three-way district tie between the two and Floydada. The Antelopes girls won over Tahoka 67 to 40. Tahoka had a seven point lead with two minutes to go but Abernathy scored five points narrowing the lead to two points with 20 seconds left in the ball game. The Antelopes took control of the ball on a rebound, under Tahoka's goal, made a desperate attempt to score, but missed the shot with Tahoka regaining possession. Jerry Brown was fouled attempting a final shot and scored a free throw to give Tahoka a three-point margin at the final whistle.

The spectators who crammed the gymnasium saw Tahoka take a 12 to 10 lead at the end of the first quarter and although the Antelopes had an eight point lead during the second period led only 25 to 24 at half-time. The Bulldogs regained the lead during the third quarter which ended 38 to 32.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

He (Caiaphas) prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation; and not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad. (John 11: 51, 52.)

"God has no grandchildren" is a startling statement. By writing it, an editorial writer won my open-mouthed attention, just as he knew he would. He went on to show that God has only children.

We are not foster children, or n-law, or grandsons or granddaughters. We are not mere descendants of the heavenly Father; we are His children.

Sons and daughters carry certain privileges. The children of the household share in all the Father possesses—His insights, into the meaning of life, His concerns about His other children.

As children of God we carry certain responsibilities, too. We strive for the mind of Christ, our brother; We have part in His sufferings. We find that there are exacting requirements for the spiritual gifts we receive. As children of God, we enter into a partnership for God's purposes.

PRAYER
My Father, and the Father of all men everywhere, teach me the meaning of sinship. Save me from self-conceit. Keep me from despair, for I fall short of a son's stature. In the name of Him who came to show me the dimensions of Thy fatherhood. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
In the family of God a divine radiance surrounds all who are bound together in Christ.

FREEDOM IS A MIGHTY SWORD

We Americans can rightly be proud of the fact that we are a peace-loving people. That our aim as a nation is to strive to improve human welfare with freedom and justice for all. *Such a people is always slow to anger, tolerant and patient. But when patience is exhausted, a peace-loving people can turn its peace-time skills into weapons of fierce and righteous wrath. There is only one way such a nation could be enslaved. That would be through propaganda that misleads through lack of knowledge, and of truth. America's greatest strength is... freedom of the printed word... to give the people truth, truth that builds freedom of thought, of word, and of vision. *This great Freedom tempers the steel out of which a nation and a people can forge mighty swords.

Bible Topics

By Leroy Gowan
ADMISSION — Admission into the august presence of God is a great concern of most people. At the judgement day people are pictured by the Bible as desiring admission but being denied. It takes more than mere desire to enter heaven. "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and the pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the Kingdom of Heaven." Matt. 5:20. "The unrighteous shall not inherit the Kingdom of God." 1 Cor. 6:9.

Who then can enter heaven? "They which are written in the Lamb's book of life" Rev. 21:27. The righteous which keep the truth may enter in. Isa. 28:2. The truth is the word of God, so individuals must be found to keep these truths, for it is by the Word that all will be judged. Jesus said that many would say to Him that day, Lord, Lord, have we not done many things in thy name, but that he would profess that he never knew them. Read Matt. 7:21-23. People must be doers of the word and not hearers only. James 1:22-25; Matt. 7:24-27.

Someone has said, "It is not talking, but walking in the will of God that will bring us to heaven."

The Best Advertising Media

Some of our friends occasionally accuse us of letting our enthusiasm for newspaper advertising run amok.

That may be. But our enthusiasm is based on experience. We know what a newspaper can do to help build a retail business. Results obtained by merchants here and in other communities are constant proof that good newspaper advertising is an integral part of prosperous retailing.

Admitting, however, that a newspaper man may be prejudiced in the matter, the case for newspaper advertising is well supported from neutral sources. Such a source would be an advertising agency charged with finding the best medium in which to spend millions of dollars to advertise a client's products.

Mr. Melvin Brorby of Needham, Louis & Brorby, one of the nation's great advertising agencies, was asked why he chose newspapers as the major medium for promoting a wash-day product. He listed the following advantages of the newspaper:

1. The effect that can be obtained from tremendous circulation and readership by both men and women.
2. The impact that may be obtained from a full page newspaper advertisement.
3. The flexibility of newspapers.
4. The low cost per thousand people reached.
5. The friendly cooperation of newspapers in helping with merchandising.

Well, Mr. Brorby has presented the case for newspapers better than most of us in the business could state it.

No one could accuse Mr. Brorby of being prejudiced in favor of a particular advertising medium. He collects his fees for making an objective, impartial selection of the medium which will do the best job for his client.

P.T.A.'s to Celebrate Founders Day

11-Million Members Mark Organization's 61st Year

On February 17 the world's largest voluntary service organization will celebrate its 61st birthday.

This is the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, whose nearly eleven million members are active today in P.T.A.'s throughout the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii. They will mark the organization's Founders Day with a variety of activities aimed at strengthening and expanding parent-teacher work in their own communities.

Mrs. Rollin Brown, of Los Angeles, president of the National Congress, points out that these 43,000 P.T.A.'s have set the pattern for parent-teacher associations in areas where U.S. armed forces have established American communities overseas. And parents of school children in other nations have sought help from the National Congress in forming similar groups to promote education in their countries.

Founders Day activities, scheduled for February 17 will honor the women whose imagination and concern for children planted the seed for this still-growing organization.

It was in 1897 that Alice McLellan Giffney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst conceived the idea of a National Congress of Mothers to promote the health and welfare of children by helping their parents learn more about how to fulfill a child's physical and spiritual needs.

The first Board of Managers of the National Congress of Mothers (the National Congress of Parents and Teachers since 1925). Left to right, seated: Mrs. John R. Lewis, vice-president; Mrs. Adlai Stevenson, vice-president; Mrs. Theodore W. Birney, president; and Founder; Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, vice-president and co-founder; Mrs. William L. Wilson, chairman of the Reception Committee; and Mrs. F. Benjamin Johnston.

Headquarters of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers stands today at 700 North Rush Street, in Chicago. The building, dedicated in 1955, won an award from the Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Architects and the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry for excellence in architecture.

Since that founding meeting, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers has written an impressive record of achievement. It includes these activities in behalf of children:

Donated hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarships to students planning to enter the teaching profession.

Initiated a program for the periodic health examination of children from birth through high school—an extension of the Summer Round-Up campaigns under which nearly three million preschool children have received physical examinations.

Promoted successfully thousands of school building projects, including preliminary surveys, educational campaigns, and school bond issues.

Alerted the public to violations of child labor statutes, stressed the need for improved juvenile detention facilities, and supported sound adoption laws.

Helped establish child-care centers for children of working mothers and worked to raise the standards of all child-care establishments.

Established and supported public kindergartens until public support could be secured.

Pioneered in establishing and maintaining thousands of hot school lunch programs long before the public in general became aware of their importance.

Mrs. Rollin Brown, president, uses giant thermometer to illustrate how membership in the National Congress has more than doubled since 1947.

Letters From News Readers

(The News welcomes letters from its readers on any current subject, not libelous, of course. All communications must be of reasonable length and must be signed. On request, the signature will not be printed. The Editor.)

(Editor's Note: For clarification of points brought out in following letter, please turn to the questions and answers concerning the housing project on another page.)

To the people of Tahoka—please listen!

Don't be pulled into that old trap of getting something for nothing—re: News, Friday Jan. 24. Let me give you some very pertinent facts on a "don't cost a red cent" housing project.

1. Anytime you sign yourself up for any government project, you will send money to Washington and pay interest on it to get back only two-thirds or less. At the same time, you will be bound and gagged with a monster. Former Governor Alfred Driscoll, who was vice-chairman of a government grants-in-aid investigation committee, published two articles on the myth of getting something for nothing.

2. Check any East Texas town where there was a low crime rate before one of these bountiful house manna was virtually flown in, and you will shudder at the thought of discussing such a project. Crime is three times higher where people live under one roof with someone else paying the bill.

3. The expense of operating such a housing project is always more than the income and must be paid whether or not it is rented.

4. If you want the scum, lazy, unworthy people to identify themselves—and they won't be Tahoka citizens either—just provide one of the whimsical fairy-tale projects.

5. I have made an extensive study of the projects and have yet to find one—just one—community that would do it again if they could rid themselves of such a worthless tax burden.

6. The solution is: get the business men to pool their resources, make a deal with your hometown lumber yard, your bank, and hire a local person to operate the housing. Make your own rules as to the eligibility of renters and let rent payments be payments on homes. This will create interest in upkeep and provide incentive to work for something. Two houses will be worth much more to both renters and the citizenry of Tahoka than 20-40 unit housing project built with that old myth of "not one red cent." Wake up before it's too late!

Mary White Whitt, Terrell, Texas.

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Whitt is speaking of a different type project than that planned for Tahoka.)

1. Although she is probably right about a "government project" the fact remains that Tahoka tax-payers will this year pay for a certain number of projects whether they are built in Tahoka or Kalamazoo, because the money has already been allotted for such. Bonds will be sold at a low interest rate—three percent or less—and no thoughts of profit-making are in the offing.

2. Nation-wide surveys show that crime decreases in the housing projects. Mrs. White is thinking of multiple housing in one unit, while those planned for Tahoka would be scattered residences over the certain areas rather than grouped together.

3. The PILA pays for upkeep of the project before payment of

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

In appearing before committees on making the Small Business Administration a permanent organization, George Burger, vice president in Washington for the National Federation of Independent Business, has often made the point that the present Commerce Dept. does not represent small business.

And it now appears that there is even some doubt in the Commerce Dept. itself just who it is representing.

Two recent speeches illustrate a division of apparent thought in the department. For example, Henry Kearns, assistant secretary, in a speech to organization for European Economic Cooperation openly applauded the success of European manufacturers in loading their products into the U. S.

In fact, he took a great deal of credit for the Commerce Dept. making it possible for Europe to practically double its exports to the U. S. in six years.

He also promised the Europeans that there will be still greater markets for them in the U. S. and strongly pledged the administration support for furtherance of United Nations tariff-busting schemes.

But Walter Williams, under-secretary, speaking before the Japan-American Conference, took an entirely different tack.

While he agreed with Japanese American nation is rich and affluent, he said he would be remiss as a government official not to point out to Japan that every American, man, woman and child, shares in a national debt of $274 billion.

Thus, there is strong evidence that Congressional pressure on ruinous price competition by imports is making its impression even on the Dept. of Commerce. Such statements as were in this speech augur well for future.

which by August reached $274 billion, or a per capita of $1,600.

Much of this debt, he pointed out, was incurred in foreign aid programs, that those said "Right here I must point out that the U. S. has had some problems created by the type of Japanese exports to our markets. Using U. S. raw materials and industrial equipment, none of which was in competition with a Japanese home industry, these materials and machines have been used to create products directly competing with U. S. products."

"We have no restrictions on imports," he continued, "although from time to time Japan has used those reasons to prevent any imports from the U. S."

He then went on to point out instances where Japan has shipped into this country huge volumes of products at selling prices so extremely low that they have hurt some American industries.

And while, he said, the U. S. does not want to discriminate against Japan, "we have an obligation to American industry to protect it from ruinous and unfair competition."

All through his talk, he strongly advised Japanese industrialists to knock off recent practices, advising them to concentrate on products that will not compete with U. S. industry.

In other words, the under secretary made it quite clear that if Japan keeps on trying to ruin U. S. industry, they could find themselves on outside looking in.

Thus, there is strong evidence that Congressional pressure on ruinous price competition by imports is making its impression even on the Dept. of Commerce. Such statements as were in this speech augur well for future.

bond is made. The attorney for PHA, George Parker, said that Tahoka would not have to worry about unwanted units—the government insures to make up difference of payment lacked by rent, if such an instance should arise.

4. Some of Tahoka's very well liked and loved citizens, who have been set back because of physical disabilities, death of the father, etc. would have a chance to get another start.

5. The project itself is not taxable, but subsidy to City is guaranteed to cover what taxes on property and unfit housing would have brought in.

6. Mrs. Whitt's solution would probably be the ideal situation, but could it be done here? However, we'd like to point out that a local board and a hired executive will have the job of running the project.

Texas Champs in 4-H Achievement

State honors for 1952 were received by two Texas 4-H'ers for outstanding records in the 4-H Achievement program. They were presented with certificates of recognition for their contribution in 4-H Club and community activities.

Clydel Young John Landers

The 16-year old winners are Clydel Young, of Cameron county, and John Landers, of Menard county. Clydel was a state delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress held recently in Chicago. Her trip as well as other achievement awards were provided by Ford Motor Co.

Clydel participated in clothing and leadership. She organized and led a clothing club and was an officer in the 4-H Junior Leaders Club.

At the age of 10, John began 4-H work with a flock of sheep. He has since shown several grand champion animals. Helping younger members learn how to shear sheep has been one of the important contributions to his local 4-H work.

The Cooperative Extension Service directs the 4-H Achievement program.

Although the News may not agree with all of Mrs. Whitt's argument, nevertheless we appreciate her thought provoking letter and sincerely hope it makes the reader do some thinking about the project on his own.)

Local Brotherhood Hears New Pastor

The men of the First Baptist Brotherhood met last Monday evening in the fellowship hall for their monthly meeting. Ray Adams, president, presided and the men made plans for the annual ladies night, on February 24 in the school cafeteria.

Herman Heck, program chairman is planning the program for ladies night. Ray Adams appointed a committee for the arrangements and plans are being made to have over 200 present for the banquet.

The Brotherhood made plans to attend the District Brotherhood meeting on February 11 at the First Baptist Church, Lubbock. Each man is to bring a boy to this meeting as it will be a joint meeting of the Tahoka RA's and Brotherhood.

The supper of the Brotherhood was served by Turner Rogers and Herman Heck introduced the pastor of the church and Rev. Brooks spoke on the subject "Laymen for Christ."

The Brotherhood also attended the Associational meet at Tokio Baptist Church on Tuesday evening with 12 men of the church attending.

Sermonette

By W. A. Brooks

It is difficult to see how the exhortation of the Bible, "Be Ye doers of the Word and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves" James 1:22, could have a more necessary and emphatic meaning than it does today for Christians of the United States.

Too often we Christians appear to live as though we believe the very opposite of the Biblical declaration that it is more blessed to give than to receive. Giving of oneself and of one's possessions is the visible manifestation of love, the essence of the believer's life in Christ. Yet in their demonstration of character many Christians and the church as a whole have no good reason to be satisfied. We cannot shrug off the criticism that those most vocal in defending the historic apostolic and biblical faith sometimes show little zeal in outworking that new life which the Lord has created in us.

It is doubtful if ever in history of the Church those born anew into the kingdom of God through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ have received so many visible, tangible blessings as have we in the United States. We have freedom to worship and to propagate the faith. We take our freedom for granted, but in many places believers must suffer for the name of Christ, some even dying a martyr's death. If we Christians in the United States really wanted to do those good works which God has ordained for us, we certainly could not say that he has failed to provide the means and the opportunity. Neither should we forget that "Unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required."

Was there ever a time when the preaching of the Word was more widespread than now, and available to all? Was there ever a time when Christians had more freedom? Was there ever a time when Christians had more money to spend on new homes, vacations, television sets, automobiles and other items for themselves and to give to the Lord's work if they would? If much is required of those to whom much is given, then surely our churches are falling short of their opportunities and gifts.

Unless there comes a real repentance we cannot expect other than a merciful chastizing at the hands of God. He is not mocked; as we sow so shall we reap. There is a need for soul-searching confession of sin, combined with a real commitment of self, all of self, to the Lord Jesus Christ. If we do not obey his command then we must expect to reap the harvest of our own selfish indifference. Make plans to attend the church of your choice this Lord's Day and Worship. You need the church and your church needs you.

How Valuable
... IS LOCAL NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING TO LOCAL BUSINESS PEOPLE.
Here's What The Banker's American Magazine, a publication which represents a traditionally hard-headed profession has to say.
"No business man or woman in any town should allow a newspaper to go to press without his or her name and business mentioned somewhere in its columns.
"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town... it's the best possible town advertiser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself and definitely to the town.

W. T. Turner Dies Career . . . In Car Wreck

William Taft Turner, 54, civilian employee at Reese Air Force base west of Lubbock, and son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Turner of New Home, was killed, and his son, W. T. Turner Jr., 26, was seriously injured Wednesday evening of last week at 5:18 o'clock when their car collided with a Santa Fe freight train near Hurlwood, west of Lubbock.

The elder Turner was thrown clear of the wrecked car and the son had to be extracted from the crumpled machine. Turner died before he could be gotten to a hospital. The younger Turner was still in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock this week, but is reported to be improving steadily.

Funeral services were held Friday at 2:00 p. m. in Asbury Methodist Church of Lubbock with the Rev. Don R. Davidson, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Hugh Daniel of New Home Methodist Church.

W. T. Turner Sr. was an airplane engineer mechanic at Reese Air Force base for several years and prior to that was at Pyote Air Base. He was a Mason and a Shriner. His wife, visiting in Chicago at the time of the accident, lives at 214 38th street. Their son, W. T. Jr., and family live at 212 39th street.

Mr. Turner is survived by his wife; three sons, W. T. Jr., Douglas of 1322 60th, and Gene, in the service with the Marines; parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Turner of New Home; four brothers, G. W. Jr. (Dick) of New Home, Henry of Hobbs, Virgil of Brownfield, and Woodrow of Lubbock; and five sisters, Mrs. John W. Lee of Rochester, Miss Susie Turner of Dallas, Mrs. Raymond Hill of Wolf-orth, Mrs. Finn Burleson of Lubbock, and Mrs. Margie Hollis of Oklahoma City.

A Brownfield civic organization took upon themselves to furnish school busses and drivers to cover the town to help both the students and the school.

If an organization is interested here, one bus could cover the fringe areas of the town where most of these children live who stay at home.

It might mean that your child would not be in a room with 30 to 50 others next year, but would provide another teacher or two so that the desirable 20 to 30 a room could be obtained. How about it?

Looking out the window this Tuesday morning the lovely snowflakes brought to mind a statement made by Eddie Bowman recently. A disliker of snow, Eddie said one reason he found Tahoka a desirable location to look for a band director's job last summer was the fact that someone said, "Now, it never snows in this country."

Ah—but just wait until he sees a real West Texas snow—the brown variety that is just awaiting the turn of March.

In the meantime, broad smiles around town predict a good crop year coming up.

The greatest thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving.
—Oliver W. Holmes.

The purpose of the conference is to instigate the students to think about their future and begin preparing for it now. Speakers at the sessions will tell the students the pros and cons of the field and discuss with them the possibilities, the self satisfaction gained from the work, service rendered, and the ways of entering the field and the courses they will need to take in high school to prepare themselves.

A poll was taken of all high school and eighth grade students to find the vocations they are interested in and the conference is set up to answer their questions.

Mrs. Pete Hegl and Floyd Tubbs, sponsors of the National Honor Society, have aided the organization in its arrangement of the event.

TWO ENLIST IN ARMY

Two Tahoka boys left Monday of this week to take physical examinations for entering the Army. They are W. H. McNeely, and Gainerd McNeely. They expect to be sent from Amarillo to Fort Carson, Colo., for Armored Division training.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 10 a. m. in a Brownfield hospital from injuries received Friday when he got caught in a boll puller machine three miles west of Wellman.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 10 a. m. in a Brownfield funeral home with Rev. L. C. Fells, pastor of the Union Baptist Church, officiating, and burial was in Slaton cemetery.

Abe Burgess of New Home, whose wife is a sister of Mrs. Patterson, told The News Mr. Patterson got caught in the boll machine at 3:00 p. m.—Friday. Working alone, no one knew of the accident. When he failed to come home Friday night, his wife and others instituted a search for him. Not knowing where he was working, they did not find him until 13 hours later, at about 4:00 a. m. Saturday. A leg was broken in two places and he was suffering from shock and exposure, but was thought to be doing as well as could be expected in the Brownfield hospital. He died in his sleep

Sunday morning.

Mr. Patterson was born and reared in Oklahoma. He farmed on the old McNeely place southwest of Wayside for six of seven years before moving to Terry county about six years ago. He resided in the Foster community south of Brownfield.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Jack of Shreveport, La., and five daughters, Mrs. John (Geneva) Carter of New Home, Mrs. N. F. (Nadene) Merreback of Houston, Mrs. Henry (Vivian) Pryor of Odessa, Mrs. Leonard (Edith) Graham of Henderson, and Mrs. Frank (Lorene) Nichols of Lamesa.

TAHOKA, TEXAS

"Heart of the South Plains"

FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1958

Banker A. C. Verner Says County In Better Shape Than Some In Area

"Tahoka and Lynn county are better off financially this year than many of the other counties on the Plains," stated Charles Verner, executive vice president of the First National Bank, in a talk before the Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Local bank deposits were up $1,000,000 over the first of January of last year. Due to weather adversities, the irrigation farmer, in many cases, has been hit pretty hard this year. But, the dry land farmer as a whole is in much better shape financially than in many years, Mr. Verner said, in spite of the low prices received for cotton and grain. In fact, many farmers in hard shape financially through no fault of their own are this year getting on their feet again.

In 1953, a hard year for all farmers, especially to dry land farmer, caused 350 in Lynn county to go the FHA loan route. Of these, 67 had already paid off completely this year and others are expected to do so soon. He said he was informed by Perry Walker of the local FHA office.

Among the many interesting observations made by Verner include the statement that "Lynn county is a little economic cell within its own." He said when living in St. Louis, he found the financial condition of that city depended almost directly on the financial trends of the nation and the world.

"As cotton goes, so goes Lynn county," he said.

And Verner is somewhat optimistic about the future of cotton. He said all signs point to a good year in increased use of cotton in foreign trade.

Greatest need on the Plains right now is to improve the grade of our cotton. We can help improve our grade, agricultural experts such as Don Jones of the Lubbock Experiment Station state, by planting good seed, controlling insects, and refrain from watering after about August 20, and harvesting as early as possible. Low grades result from late watering, and he quotes Mr. Jones as saying it is better to make less cotton per acre and get a good price than to shoot for top production alone.

He also cited the changing picture on Texas' tax structure. Oil has been carrying a big burden of our taxes; but the oil industry is facing trouble because of increased imports, which in turn lower our state's tax revenues. A sales tax is being proposed to take up the slack in this tax revenue. The sales tax is favored by the corporations and "big business," and the labor unions are against it.

Labor unions are becoming of increasing importance in Texas as we are changing from a rural economy state to an urban industrial state.

He also refuted the idea that farmers are being subsidized unfairly. Some subsidy to farming in order to keep prices up is necessary as long as automobile manu-

Reduce Delinquency

RE-TRAINING DELINQUENTS

(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

Texas has three training schools—one for boys at Gatesville, one for white girls at Gainesville, and the third for colored girls at Crockett.

Several years ago a bold new policy was inaugurated looking toward restoring youthful offenders to a useful life in society.

First of all, the institutions now look different—the grounds are unfenced, the windows (except in the security units) without bars.

The youngsters look different, too. Formerly they wore uniforms—today there is a wide variety of clothes. They used to march from building to building. Now there are no restrictions as they move around.

Vocational training is provided. For recreation there are movies, TV, radio. Discipline is enforced largely by taking away privileges and furloughs.

Despite the freedom from the old restrictions, the number of escapes has decreased. There is greater satisfaction with the program, and since 1952 there have been no gang fights or hunger strikes, which formerly were pretty frequent.

The program at all three schools is designed not merely to punish boys and girls, but mainly to rehabilitate them—to make them worthwhile citizens.

My article next week will tell how much too small our correction facilities are—so that delinquents get out too soon.

facturing is subsidized by a high tariff, and subsidies are granted airlines, railroads, oil producers, and manufacturers of defense materials.

Verner stated farming is still the nation's biggest business, with a $40 billion income as compared to the automobile industry with $34 billion.

Farmers buy a large variety of merchandise than any other class of citizens in the nation.

"Don't sell the farmer down the river," was his closing admonition.

The program was arranged by Harley Henderson, who introduced the speaker.

Junior Rotarians for January Jackie Applewhite and Marlin Hawthorne were introduced by Bill Haralson and Dr. K. R. Durham.

Answers Given To Many Questions On Proposed Local Housing Program

Questions and answers on the Public Housing Program.

1. Who owns the housing project units?

The projects are owned by the Housing Authority of the City, a political subdivision of the State similar to a school board, water or irrigation district. Therefore, the Housing Authority of a City is a local corporation. It is a public agency, controlled by a Board of five unpaid commissioners appointed by the Mayor. Each citizen of the City is a part-owner in the Authority, just as you are a part-owner of the Public Schools.

2. Are Housing projects built and operated by the federal government?

They are not. The construction and operation is a local responsibility. The Public Housing Administration advises the funds cooperating as the Banker with the local authority during both periods to make certain that Federal tax funds are spent and handled economically and efficiently.

Public Housing is housing built locally with funds borrowed from the Public Housing Administration and/or private financing and guaranteed as to repayment by the Federal Government.

Every family in a low-rent community must pay its monthly rent, just like anyone else, or face eviction. Rents are scaled in proportion to family income. The rent is roughly one-fifth of the income, but the percentage is less for families with several children.

The Public Housing Administration pays an annual subsidy to the Authority whenever costs exceed rental income, but the subsidy is limited to the annual payment of the principal and interest on the original cost of the land and buildings.

3. Who controls low rent public housing?

The local housing authority. The commissioners are appointed by the local mayor on specified terms, and serve without pay. They, in turn, select an Executive Director or secretary, who is paid for his work out of the rents derived from the tenants.

4. Will occupancy be segregated?

This is a matter of local policy and determination, the decision being made by the local housing commissioners.

5. Where are new Housing Units built?

In areas or locations, approved by the Public Housing Administration, where a need is determined by the local housing authority commissioners. Low-Rent housing is designed to provide decent, safe, and sanitary quarters for families of humble income, and also to clear slums and slum dwellings.

6. Will Areas of filth and squalor be condemned or permanently cleared and the units erected on such sites?

This is a two-part question. To answer part one: Yes, through the establishment of local codes and their enforcement, the City agrees on an "Equivalent Elimination" clause which means that a slum dwelling will either be condemned as a hazard or brought up to standard, for each low-rent unit constructed; Part Two: Every effort is made to construct new units (Cont'd. ROY L. WILLIAMS ELLIS BARNES
 O. E. TERRY W. L. (Cap) ROWE
 FLMER BLANKENSHIP

Because of the grassland boom, more and more farmers and ranchers are producing grass and legume seed as a cash crop. For the past several years the supply of seed for many of the desirable grass crops has not been nearly equal to the demand. Hence, some seed producers are making sizable profits by growing grass seed for market.

At this point the supply of many varieties of grass seed has almost met the demand. The market now favors only high quality seed of the few scarce varieties. This market will remain for those producers who can produce under optimum conditions. This area is one of the few areas that has that advantage.

Grass seed production is not to be taken lightly. Extreme care and management must be an every day practice if we expect to make a profitable business. Many hazards must be foreseen and eliminated. Perhaps one of the most important factors is the possibility of an over supply. Grass seed must be free of weed seed. This is partially taken care of in the process of cleaning, but steps must be taken throughout the cropping season to rid the field of weeds because in many cases it is impossible to clean certain weed seeds out once they are mixed with the grass seed.

These are just a few of the problems facing the grass seed producers. Among others is the completely foreign method of harvesting, cleaning, handling, certification and so forth. In this industry there is profit for those who earn it and certain disappointment for those who are careless.

Terrace lines were run for Theo Cook last week. Mr. Cook is a new district cooperater. He also plans to rebuild some old terraces on his farm.

District cooperater Jimmy Williams plans a windbreak around his farmstead. Arizona cypress seedlings will be obtained through Forestry Service.

Dudley and Weldon Martin have started their terraces with a whirlwind terrace.

Contour lines were run on the O. D. Orr farm Southeast of Tahoka. A conservation farm plan was developed with Mr. Orr. Orr has placed this shallow land on his farm in the Conservation Reserve, and plans to plant grass on this acreage.

Jack Reynolds has recently moved one and one-half miles north of West Point, is planning on doing custom planting of grass seed on conservation reserve land and small improved grass pastures. Reynolds is equipped to seed any kind of grass.

An invention of grass and legume seeds is being made of Lynn county. If you have grass or legume seed please drop a card to the SCS, P. O. Box 15, Tahoka, Texas, listing your name, mailing address, kind of seed and approximate amount.

Trees for farmstead windbreaks are still available. Arizona Cypress may be ordered through the Lynn SCD, Red Cedar, Austrian Pine, Ponderosa Pine and Chinese Elm can be ordered from the Texas Forrestry Service. Check by the SCS office for order blanks and detail regarding plantings for your location.

CARD OF THANKS
 I would like to thank everyone for being nice to me while I was in the hospital and since I have been home, for every act of kindness and prayer, for each telephone call, flowers, food and for taking me to Lubbock for treatments. I couldn't have gotten along without your thoughtfulness. Friends always remember at any time of need. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts and God bless each of you.—Mrs. Dennie Polk.

This Family Had A Friend

WARREN G. MOORE of Tyler, Commander of the Texas Department of the American Legion, points to the March of Dimes container that represents a friend in deed to the 1958 March of Dimes Poster Family. With the exception of the father, Maj. Joseph L. Solomon, USAF, of Warner Robbins, Ga., the entire family were stricken with polio in a single week in 1953. Still faced with extensive March of Dimes-financed treatment are Little Joe, 9, and twins, Sandy and Lindy, 6.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Thompson will spend next week in Irving with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dorch and family. Rev. Thompson will attend Minister's Week Lectures at S. M. U. during the week. Among the speakers to appear on the program this year will be Dr. William E. Sangster, World famous Methodist preacher of London who for many years was preacher of the Central Hall Congregation. Derby Day was first instituted at Epsom Downs in England by the Earl of Derby in 1780. The Great American Desert covers an area of 1,050,000 square miles.

Win 4-H Awards

Kay Botard, 15, of Jim Wells county, knows how to make a house a real home. Proof of her ability is that she won the 1957 state award in 4-H Girls' Home Economics. Rewarding this future Texas homemaker with a $150 scholarship is Montgomery Ward, donor of awards for the 34th consecutive year.

In six years as a 4-H'er, Kay compiled a long list of achievements. She sewed 230 garments and articles for her home, prepared and froze several hundred pounds of food; cooked 250 meals; completely redecorated her bedroom.

Since 1955, Kay has served as 4-H junior leader. A year ago she organized the Lucky Clover 4-H Club for girls between 9 and 11 years old.

A green thumb and a willing hand proved a winning combination for Rita Stewart, 15, of Brown county who won the state 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds award.

Kay Botard Rita Stewart
 For Rita's outstanding work with lawn, flowers and plants she received a 19-jewel wrist watch from Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Chicago.
 Rita led a shrub identification team which recently placed first in the district, state and youth fairs. She was a two-term president of her local 4-H club.
 These 4-H award programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Housing Project

in slum areas. This is a matter for local determination. In some cases, vacant land or scattered sites are found to be the best approach to solve the problem; and each determination is made by the local commissioners.

7. How does a housing authority expect to take care of persons displaced from the slum site during construction?

Through normal turnover in existing low-rent units, and existing standard rental units. The Authority will, if necessary, develop a temporary rehousing program and, of course, some families will relocate themselves. Families that live on the site are given a priority in the new units.

8. Will Local or State taxes be raised to pay for low-rent housing?

Definitely not. Rather, the Housing Authority gives the City money, in the form of "Payments in Lieu of Taxes." This is equal to up to 10 percent of the rent shelter rent paid by the low-income families, (exclusive of utilities) By law, projects operated by a housing authority are exempt from taxes, just the same as schools, a water department, or an irrigation district. Hence, the voluntary contract to pay the City Payments in Lieu of Taxes in return for the City providing the project the same services any other person living in the area receives. Public Housing Administration payments in lieu of Taxes, in most all instances, greatly exceed the taxes previously paid on the slum shacks which were eradicated.

9. How is low rent Public Housing construction and operation financed?

The Public Housing Administration advances funds for the planning and construction of the project. The Public Housing Administration contracts with the Local Authority guaranteeing to pay the principal and interest on the forty-year bonds which the Authority sells to private investors. Thus, the Local Authority reimburses the Public Housing Administration for its cash outlays. The cost of maintenance, Payments in Lieu of Taxes, replacement, and local administrative costs are paid out of the tenants rents.

10. Why should any community have low-rent housing in the first place?

To make decent housing available to families who cannot afford to pay what private landlords must charge for standard dwellings.

The tenants come from overcrowded or dilapidated houses without bathtubs, modern toilets, or decent living space, but plenty of vermin. No child gets a fair chance in a dwelling like that.

In public housing, these families find a new life; play space for children; lawns and clean kitchens; social clubs and civic organizations; health programs and study groups. The new environment gives new hope to discouraged parents and children. Many residents get on their feet after a few years in low-rent housing and buy or rent good private housing for the first time in their lives.

Public housing does not compete with private standard housing, because low-rent public housing can only be built for low-income families and surveys show that private industry has not been able to house them in the past and has no present hope of housing them at a fair profit, as it involves risks that are not attractive to the competitive market.

Slums are the principal source of tuberculosis and other contagious diseases that spread to good neighborhoods. Slums are a school for bad citizenship, graduating a fresh class of delinquents every year.

And slums rob your pocket. Tax assessments are low and taxes often go unpaid. The deficit is made up with higher taxes on business and better neighborhoods. Whether you own your house or rent you are paying part of this subsidy burden to the slums.

Slum and blighted (semi-slum) districts comprise about 20 percent of a City's residential areas, but they account for: 33 percent of the population; 45 percent of the major crimes; 55 percent of the arrests; 60 percent of the disease; 35 percent of the fires.

This means that slums swallow up almost half of every tax dollar, or 45 percent of the City Service Costs. Despite this tremendous

Plan Changes In Irrigation Systems

By Bill Fuller
SCS Agricultural Engineer

Many irrigation farmers in the Lynn County Soil Conservation District are making plans to reorganize their irrigation systems.

Changes to be made include installing underground pipe, land leveling and shortening lengths of runs. Most of the changes are being made in order to reduce labor costs, to reduce waste of irrigation water to a minimum, and to provide for the maximum use of rainfall.

Level furrows will hold available rainfall and keep the water distributed uniformly. If the furrows are not too long, irrigation water can be applied to them uniformly and with very little waste. On slightly sloping or flat land, level furrows can be put in with comparatively little leveling, while steeper land may require either broad or narrow benching, depending on the slope.

The length of level furrows that can be irrigated uniformly and with little waste depends on the size of the stream that is turned into the individual furrow and the rate the soil will take in water. If the runs are too long, water will not reach the ends of the furrows before a large part of the water needed has entered the soil at the point turned in the furrow. If the stream is then allowed to run until the "lower" or far end of the furrow has had time to take up all the water needed, a large part of the water applied to the upper end of the furrow will soak down too deep for plant roots to reach. Water lost to deep percolation could be used to irrigate more acres.

The rates which the various soils in this district take in water vary widely. The proper lengths of runs for the different soils will vary similarly. Hence, the individual soil types and their characteristics should be known before a plan is made for reorganizing your irrigation system.

It is recommended that an "over all" and complete plan be made for reorganization of your system, even though only a small part of the plan is to be carried out the first season. Having a plan for the complete system from the beginning may help make the parts installed each year fit into a more efficient and economical system.

Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Lynn District are available and will be glad to help you develop a plan for reorganizing your irrigation system.

drain into so limited an area, they return only 6 percent of the tax revenues. (Real Estate).

To those elderly who have worked hard and are now in need, and to those we believe that want better jobs and to live decently, a low-rent program provides the environments for just such aspirations.

11. Why is Federal Assistance necessary to finance public housing?

Private enterprise cannot afford to operate and provide housing for families unable to pay economic rent, which means rent in an amount sufficient to pay the cost of the building, its operation, and a reasonable profit from the enterprise. Lack of proper housing is national and only one of the many fiscal problems facing our rapidly growing communities.

Everyday Religion

By
J. B. Thompson

Religion and preaching seem to be inseparable. In the Protestant worship service the sermon gets the spotlight. The very arrangement of the sanctuary centers the attention of the worshippers on the preacher.

Although the average churchgoer may not realize it, the preacher's greatest task is sermon preparation. No other profession demands more rigid creative thought than that required in preparing and delivering fresh, thought provoking sermons each week for a regular audience. The "eternal Sunday" stares the preacher in the face from Monday morning until Saturday night. No matter how many other duties he has to care for during the week, this supreme task absorbs his mind and heart.

The sermon is unique in the realm of the spoken word. It demands the beauty and symmetry of the essay, yet it is not an essay. It requires the exactness of a scientific treatise but it is not just theory. It needs the enthusiasm of an orator but it is more than an oration. It is greater than these—all of them. It is life! It not only informs and inspires but its ultimate goal is to produce decision and action. It not only points the way but it seeks to turn men's marching feet into the way. The sermon that creates a desire for a better life and leads one to the source of spiritual power necessary to achieve it, is a success.

When the preacher has done his utmost through prayer and study to "preach the word" he usually retires on Sunday evening with an aching sense of failure tugging at his heart strings, but he must arise on Monday to start all over again for next Sunday stares him in the face.
