STANDING ON THE CORNER

With P. J.

With the beginning of Holy Week this Sunday, let us really begin thinking about the significance of Easter.

A Man once sacrificed all He had on earth for everyone of us—even though He could have prevented the most painful of all deaths—one by crucifixion.

Have you ever really wondered how it would feel to be crucified? Can you imagine yourself hanging from a cross with only a nail in each hand and one through both feet as the only support holding your body to the wood? Not for just a few minutes—which would be unbearable torture, but for six hours or until death came?

His grief for mankind the week before that sad Friday and the sacrifice made upon that tree can make us happy as no other thought when we make even the smallest sacrifice for Him, who loved and cared so much.

A recent conversation brought Frank P. around to reminiscing about his riding the first train that ran over the little RS&P railroad from Roscoe to Fluvanna when a real celebration was held with Indians imported from Oklahoma and all the cowboys near and far gathered in.

It made us wonder what kind of celebration will be held when the first rocket schedule from Tahoka to KQBESTAR, Moon, takes off.

The little men from Mars will probably be on hand for the send-off, and if any of the male passengers have anything to do with it, the Venus population will be there to meet the boat.

Some of us gals had better start making plans to accompany our ever-loving husbands on that little trip.

By the time you read this, I may be already eating my words, but this has been the "darndest" March anyone has seen here in many a day. Here it is practically April and not one sandstorm this month! In fact the only bad days, sandwice, this year were two days the last week of February.

In spite of all being said about a gloomy outlook, things are really looking up here as far as the moisture-soaked soil is concerned.

This Tuesday is City election day. Not a large turnout is expected because there are no races for council men positions, but even so, there is no election that is unimportant.

Besides the selecting of city officials, there is another proposition that deserves your attention.

Mayor H. B. McCord, the council and local Housing Authority have put in much of their time investigating and planning for a housing project here for low-income families. If you are against the project, voice your opinion NOW. If you are for the project, give the council and Authority your support so that they will know you approve their actions, and at the same time give many children, as well as adults, the chance for a better standard of living.

When you help someone else up a hill, you're that much nearer the top yourself.

Doctor: Why, man, that ankle's broken! Why didn't you come to me a week ago?

Patient: Well, every time I said something was wrong with me, my wife said it was no wonder, smoking as much as I do.

There is nothing official yet, but some talk is going around about improving the Tahoka schools next year. The board has not yet been petitioned but has been urged, the last few months to consider building additional classrooms, a gymnasium, and doing some remodeling work on the Negro school, the high school science lab, and re-

Housing Proposal Is Before City Voters

Tuesday, April 1, is the date for the City election when voters will go to the polls to name three council men and to voice their desire concerning a housing project for low-income families in Tahoka.

Three council men, whose terms expire, are slated for re-election, Winston C. Wharton, Albert Curry and Everton Nevill. No other names were filed for the positions.

Holdover members include Mayor H. B. McCord Sr., Dr. Skiles Thomas and Meldon Leslie.

The proposed housing project would provide from 30 to 50 duplex units built by the Public Housing Administration and supervised by a local Housing Authority consisting of six local men.

The tenants would be selected by the local Authority and strict regulations observed in maintaining the structures. Rental fee would be 20 percent of a family's income and failure to pay rent or to damaging of property would lead to eviction.

The project would not only provide housing for those now living in sub-standard units, but would also clear the town of a great deal of its unattractive areas, both in Colored, Latin American and white sections.

If the project is approved, work will begin on construction in the near future.

Mrs. F. Carter, 87, Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence Carter, 87 year old long time resident of Lynn county, were held Monday afternoon at 4:00 p. m. in the First Baptist Church in Tahoka with Rev. H. F. Scott, pastor of the Wilson Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery under the direction of Stanley Funeral Home.

Mrs. Carter of route 4, Tahoka, died at her home at 5:30 p. m. Sunday.

Born Sept. 7, 1870 in Arkansas, she moved to Lynn county in 1928 from Hill county. She was married to G. A. Carter in 1889. He died in 1933.

She and her son, Claude Carter, operated the filling station and grocery store located eight miles north of Tahoka for 21 years. Even though Mrs. Carter had not been in good health since December, she had helped in the store during that time and during the week preceding her death.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Effie Russell of route 4, Tahoka; two sons, Claude and Otto, both of route 4, Tahoka; one brother, Edgar Middleton of Royce City; eight grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

RAMSEY RECEIVES AWARD

Oran Ramsey was the recipient of a Polaroid camera recently as fourth place winner in salesmanship of new Chevrolet cars in a contest conducted last fall.

C. L. Roper was a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital Sunday and Monday.

Showers Add To March Rain Total

More rain during the past week totaled 61 inch in Tahoka and brought the total for the month of March to 2.12 inches.

Last Friday and Saturday, the fall was .49 inch, and Monday the precipitation amounted to .12.

This brings the total for the year 1958 to 4.16 inches as compared to a normal rainfall for the first three months of 1.80 inch.

Added to the 7.14 inches received last October and November, this brings the total rainfall for the past six winter months to 11.30 inches.

One strange quirk of the weather this March is the fact that the local weather observer has recorded moisture ranging all the way from a trace to .32 inch on 16 of the 27 days so far this month, not counting fog. Another departure from the normal in March is the absence of sandstorms. No sandstorms has been recorded in the month, and only two were recorded in February, one in January.

Farmers report winter weeds are doing well and a fine crop of Russian thistles is coming up in spite of the cool weather.

Savings Bonds Sales Increase

February Savings Bonds sales show a ten percent increase in Texas.

This announcement was made by Truett Smith, chairman of the Lynn county Savings Bonds Committee.

February sales in Lynn county were $20,069.00 and sales for the first two months of 1958 totaled $39,682.00 which is 16.2 percent of our 1958 goal of $244,000.00, Chairman Smith said.

Sales in Texas during February were $16,051,086 and sales for the first two months of 1958 totaled $32,660,448, which is 18.6 percent of the state's 1958 goal of $175,000,000.

"The slogan for the 1958 Savings Bonds program is 'Share-in-America.' Every American who buys a Savings Bond is providing for his own future, adding to the strength of his country, both militarily and economically, and is putting real meaning in the slogan 'Share-in-America,' Smith concluded.

Hale-Aiken School Study Group Will Complete Work Next Monday Night

Following Monday night's meeting of the Lynn county Hale-Aiken "grass roots" school study, Mrs. Ruth Jolly, county chairman, will assemble information and suggestions to make the final report to the State committee of 24.

The group, representing Tahoka, Wilson, O'Donnell and New Home, will meet at 7:30 p. m. in the South Elementary cafeteria in Tahoka for its last of four joint sessions. All members are urged to attend.

The study has covered all areas of school problems, including the school program, teacher supply, financing and building construction. Local groups have met together or separate occasions to gather information about each school and then the problems and situations confronting Lynn county schools have been pooled in the joint meetings.

Those who have attended, including laymen and teachers, have had the opportunity to express their opinions as to what they think is wrong with the schools today and their theories as to the solutions. Not only have they learned what is wrong, but why, and what is needed to correct many of the problems.

The reports from many counties over the state will be accumulated and presented to the Legislature next fall. The Hale-Aiken Committee of 24 expect the result of the "grass roots" study to effect the schools of Texas for the next 20 years.

However, as many members of the Lynn County committee have pointed out, whether or not solutions are found, they have come to a broader understanding of problems confronting the schools, administrators, teachers and students in this area.

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Of his fullness we all received, and grace for grace. For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. (John 1:16, 17. ASV.)

We were at prayer meeting in the lean-to chapel back of the church in Cheng Tu, West China. A hymn had been sung. The Chinese pastor had read a few verses of Scripture and commented on them.

At my left, in the end of the seat, sat a poor man. I had never before seen him. He followed several others in prayer. One sentence in his prayer in Chinese has clung to me through the years as a real blessing.

To express the same idea in English requires more words and also loses some of its force. Using Chinese words of strength, he said, "Most earnestly we beseech God to add grace to grace."

That poor man may not have been well-versed in the classics, but he certainly knew God and the Bible and practiced the grace of obedience.

PRAYER

Dear Lord, we thank Thee for the inspiration of prayers we have heard. Some of them have been abiding blessings to us. Add grace to grace in our lives that we may be a help to others, as others have been a blessing to us. In Christ's name and for His sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

This day I will pray and practice the grace of obedience. Harry L. Canright (Florida) Daily Bible Reading — Acts 10:19-48.

Pampa, Snyder, El Paso Austin, Artesia, N. M., Monterey, Crane, El Paso Jefferson, Borger, Lockney and Brownfield (tie), McCamey, Ysleta and Tahoka (tie), and Alpine.

Row Planting Methods for Panic and Similar Grasses

Blue Panic grass is a warm season perennial grass adapted to all of the soils in this area. It is best used in a long time rotation and does best on moderate to highly fertile soils. There are 85,000 seeds per pound weight of clean seed. Blue panic has a wide range of planting time from April to August 1. However the best dates are from April 15th through June 30th. The normal rates of planting in 40 inch rows is two pounds of good quality seed per acre. Row drilled or broadcast plantings 3 to 4 pounds per acre is ample. In checking planting equipment, the equipment should be set to plant from 25 to 30 seeds to the foot. The depth of planting should not be more than 1/2 inch with 1/4 to 1/2 inch the preferred depth.

Regular farm planting equipment can be used for planting with a few adjustments or modifications. The regular vegetable type planter is perhaps the most satisfactory type of planter that can be mounted along with the other plant-

CONFESION . . . There are many confessions that people are called upon to make but the sweetest of all is that Jesus is the Christ, the son of the living God. Jesus said that he would confess to his father those that confessed him and deny those that denied him. Matt. 10:32-33.

When the eunuch desired to be baptized (Acts 8) the one thing that could hinder was a lack of faith. When Phillip informed him of this, he said, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the son of God." He stopped the chariot "and they went down both into the water, both Phillip and the eunuch; and he baptized him." The eunuch was not asked to confess that he believed that God had for Christ's sake forgiven his sins, or some other similar unscriptural confession. It was enough for Phillip to hear him confess, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the son of God." Upon this confession he was baptized and went on his way rejoicing. He, like any other Christian, would find many other occasions that he was called upon to confess Christ. There is no reason to be ashamed of confessing Jesus Christ as the son of God.

The Dabbs report a very pleasant trip. They visited the Battleship Texas, the San Jacinto Monument, the Washburn Tunnel under the channel, went through the air port and the Zoo. So many interesting things for their Plains-reared people to see. Mrs. Dabbs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Martin went as far as Abilene with them and visited three of Martin's sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Will Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Horton and other relatives. All returned home Thursday.

Mrs. Don Pennell was leader for the W.M.U. that met in the home of Mrs. Jack Hargrove last Tuesday afternoon. They studied a chapter in their mission book and Mrs. Hargrove served refreshments to seven ladies.

Seven ladies of the W.S.C.S. were present at the church Monday afternoon to hear Rev. Bean continue the study on the book of Mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Milliken of Wolforth spent Sunday with his parents the Ed Millikens.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gatzki went to Megargle last week to attend a funeral for a long-time friend, George Holms, who died there early last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Quisenberry have built them a new home in Slaton, and last Tuesday night some of their friends met there and gave them a house-warming. Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Bruster, Jack Hagler, Dan Seiwert, and J. E.

Dillard were hostesses for the occasion and served cake, coffee and punch to the crowd.

Tommy Dearth flew down from Amarillo last Friday to spend the week-end with her parents, the Noble Wynns. Saturday the ladies spent the day visiting friends in Lubbock. Steve drove down Saturday night and he and Tommy returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shaw attended a Baptist revival in Justiceburg last Wednesday and visited relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lancaster visited their son and family, the Billy Lancasters in Temple last week-end.

The Doyle Packs of Dimmitt visited her parents the O. H. Rines last Thursday. They were on the way to visit relatives in Coleman.

A number of men in this community took advantage of the wet ground—too wet to farm—and went fishing. M. C. Edmunds, Ed Cummings, Lee Mason, L. C. Mason, Amos Gerner, John Ray, and some we didn't get the names, went to Granite Shoals and spent several days. They caught plenty to eat and brought home a few.

C. E. Roper has been ill for several days with the flu.

Mrs. L. L. Corbell kept two of her grandchildren last week while their parents, the Jim McMahaons of Lubbock were house hunting in El Paso where McMahaon has been sent by the company he works for.

For any method of planting in rows a wide sweep should be used and the opening plow removed. Covering of the seed should be accomplished by press wheels, dragging a short length of chain or window weights. The success of getting a stand of grass is to avoid getting the grass planted too deep or in too much of a furrow that would allow the soil to wash in and cover the small grass seedlings after emergence.

Another method of planting of these fine seed grasses is mix the grass seed with coarsely ground maize and use the regular maize plates for planting. The rate of planting can be determined by varying the mixture ratio so that two pounds per acre of grass seed is planted. Covering and depth of planting should be carried out as listed above.

Regular maize planting equipment and methods can be used for planting sorghum alnum and perennial type sudan.

For other information on planting or for renting grass planting equipment from the Lynn SCD, contact the Soil Conservation Service. The Farm Implement Dealers and Feed and Seed stores of Lynn county will assist in getting the job of grass seed planting done on the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve acres and for regular pasture plantings.

Contour lines were run for Harold Payne this week. Mr. Payne farms several acres near Wells.

Thomas Phillips is one of the newest district cooperators. A conservation plan was written for him last week including conservation crop rotation, residue utilization and irrigation water management.

The T-Bar Country Club has agreed to cooperate with the Soil Conservation Service. Their conservation plan will include permanent vegetation on all areas and windbreak plantings along the south, west and north sides of the golf course.

A basic conservation plan is being written for Floyd Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds has leased a section of land near New Home. He plans to improve the land and at the same time increase yields with good conservation practices.

J. C. and Bobby Jones are among the list of new district cooperators. Basic plans are being processed for both farms. The Jones farm is near Wilson.

Charles Mason is one of our newest cooperators. Charles' conservation plan includes such practices as residue utilization, crop rotation, including legumes, contour farming supported by the terrace system and cover crops in the fall.

Miss Joy Philpot Was Married Sunday To Wiley Wildey In Home Ceremony

Miss Ethelyn Joy Philpot became the bride of Wiley J. Wildey of Rice Air Force Base in the home of her parents Sunday at 5:00 p. m. in a double ring ceremony. Rev. Jim H. Sharp, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Shamrock, read the vows before baskets of pink and white gladioli.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Philpot of route 2, Tahoka are parents of the bride. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wildey of route 1, Cold Brook, N. Y.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an all-over embroidered white cotton satin Princess style gown. The fitted bodice featured a "V" neckline and short sleeves. The full gored skirt was street length. Her veil of net extended to her shoulders from a white bandeau. The bride carried a bouquet of red roses atop a white Bible.

The bride's sister, June Philpot, was maid of honor and wore a pink gown identical to the bride's, and a pink bandeau. She carried white carnations.

Gay C. Clegg of Lubbock served as best man.

At a reception following the ceremony the serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and adorned with pink and white carnations.

For a wedding trip the bride chose a blue-gray two piece suit with black and blue accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Tahoka High School and is employed as a cashier by Rex Life Insurance Company in Lubbock. Wildey, now serving in the Air Force, is a graduate of Poland High School, N. Y. The couple will make their home at 3423-B 22nd Place in Lubbock.

The bumble bee is the largest of the bees. Because of her long tongue, she is the only insect that can pollinate clover.

Texas county agents reports to E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, that last year's forage production in the State was 106 percent of the needs. This compares with 35 percent produced in 1956 and 76 percent in 1955. Rain made the difference.

A healthy herd is essential to efficient, profitable dairy production, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

The United States has a smaller area than Europe, yet it has nearly five times as many kinds of fresh water fish.

"44 PIGS WENT TO MARKET" (A Continued Story)

Or

"What Does It Cost to Produce Pork on the Purina Program?"

CHAPTER IV: "FEEDING AFTER WEANING."

After weaning (the Purina Program recommends weaning at six weeks), the pigs are kept on Pig Startena until they weigh 50 pounds. This gives them a fast start, overcomes effect of weaning and worming, which should be done within two weeks after weaning. Worming is easily done with the new Liquid Pig Wormer in the drinking water. At 50 pounds, the pigs are put on milo and Hog Chow ration. Best results are obtained by having the grain ground according to the weights of the hogs:

- For pigs 50 to 100 pounds, Milo and Hog Chow 4 to 1.
- For shoats 100 to 150 pounds, Milo and Hog Chow 6 to 1.
- For hogs 150 to 200 pounds, Milo and Hog Chow 9 to 1.

Actually, the ration can be changed every other week for best results.

R. C. ROBERTS PROJECT

These pigs were weaned at 7 to 7½ weeks, and for about a week were self fed Pig Startena only. Then a Checker-Mixed ration of milo and Hog Chow (4 to 1) was put in one end of the self feeder and Pig Startena in the other until the pigs weighed 50 pounds. Thus, Mr. Roberts fed 100 pounds of Baby Pig Chow and 900 pounds of Pig Startena before weaning and 800 pounds Pig Startena after weaning—a total of 1800 pounds of creep-feed, or 41 pounds per pig. The Checker-Mixed ration has been varied approximately every other week from a 4 to 1 ratio up to a 10 to 1 formula at present. They were wormed with Liquid Pig Wormer a week after weaning, and have been wormed a total of three times. Plain salt and Purina Livestock Mineral have been kept in front of them at all times.

On February 18, 12 hogs were marketed that averaged 185 lbs. The oldest litter at that time was just four months and five days old. The Hampshire hog in the lower left of the picture above weighed 235 pounds at that time when marketed. 19 hogs were sold at an average of 205 pounds, when they were about 4½ months old. There are still 12 hogs on feed. A few of these are "tail-enders" and they have been shown down by the damp cold weather. We hope to have them marketed and to be able to show complete "costs from weaning to market" next week.

Land Program Is Speeded Up

Austin—Even though the Veterans' Land Program is speeding its operation, says Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn, "We are keeping right up to date in processing applications."

Allcorn cites these improvements in the speed-up of the land program.

1. Until recently, 250 applications were sent each week to veterans on the waiting list. This figure is now 300, and will be increased soon to 325 and later to 350 per week.

3000 applications have been mailed out since the Veterans' Land Board sold its first issue of 1956 Amended Bonds.

2. The V. L. B. is now sending warning notices to veterans on the waiting list 60 days before they receive application forms.

Notified in advance, more veterans can locate land they want to purchase by the time they receive applications.

Before the new money was available the time limit on returning applications was 30 days with a 10 day extension. This extension has now been increased to 30 days. Results already indicate that this is allowing greater participation.

Allcorn says the Board will offer $12.5 million worth of Veterans' Land Bonds for sale on April 1. On December 16, 1957, the V. L. B. sold the first $12.5 million worth of bonds from the $100 million bond issue approved by voters in November, 1956.

County extension agents in Texas reported to B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist, that 499,910 home vegetable gardens were grown last year by Texas families. Hancock said 268,000 of these gardens were in town and cities.

Dealers Names Back On Auto Ads

Car manufacturers are again inserting the names of local dealers in the national advertising carried by local newspapers. A few months ago, several of the manufacturers dropped the names of their dealers from ads inserted in The News and other newspapers over the nation.

But, the resulting impact from not tying in with the local dealers has evidently been felt back at the points of origin. Most of the dealers did not like the idea to start with—of dropping their names from advertising carried in their sales areas. Many of them complained to the branch managers, and many of the newspapers also complained to the advertising agencies which handle national advertising for the automobile manufacturers.

Anyway the dealer names are back on the ads. Chevrolet and Ford, especially, have become outstanding in the automobile field because they opened sales and service agencies in every town of reasonable size across the nation. They followed up by tying in their advertising with these small town agencies in the small town papers. Other General Motors cars followed suit—Olds, Pontiac, and Buick—as did Ford's Mercury division and Chrysler's Chrysler, Plymouth, Dodge, and DeSoto.

So, again, the manufacturers are recognizing the fact that people read the smallest home town newspapers and that the small town dealers, who have invested their money and time in building up automobile sales for the manufacturer are entitled to the greatest consideration when it comes to appropriating advertising.

They also recognize the fact that the fleeting glimpse of their advertising on TV and the rapidly passing word on radio is not the full answer to their advertising needs.

There must be a reason for more dollars being spent in the United States for newspaper advertising than for all other forms of advertising combined—television, radio, magazine, billboard, picture show, and direct mail.

Newspaper advertising has long proven itself the cheapest and best for results of any form of advertising—and the automobile manufacturers still recognize this fact.

Reduce Delinquency

HOW MUCH IN EXAMPLE?

(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

JUDGE HUGHES

How much power is there in example to provide children with character-training that will see them through our complex and contradictory modern conditions? ...

Especially in their teens, when nature makes them particularly unstable?

Do you remember during the war how many people got more gas, coffee, and meat than they were entitled to? And how some even bragged about getting around ration-limitations?

Attitudes Are Contagious

The children are bound to know these things. And if parents cheat and get away with it, isn't it all right to cheat at school? ... And then to cheat on property, the law?

If a child hears his mother tell his father an untruth, won't he feel that it's all right for him to fib just a little—and later a little more—and if he needs to get out of a tight situation?

The Contagion of Goodness

Just TELLING a child to be honest, to speak the truth, is not enough. Moral-ethical ideals can't be inculcated by education and religion alone. Little effect will be had on behavior, still less on character, unless right attitudes become a part of the individual—that is, unless they have been learned through living—through constant example.

Perhaps all of us need a re-dedication to the old-fashioned virtues—honesty, truthfulness, industry.

Chester Etter Rites Held At Andrews

Chester Etter, 57, formerly of O'Donnell and an uncle of Mrs. Buster Phipps, route 5, died Saturday night at Andrews from a heart attack he had suffered a few days previously.

He moved to Andrews from O'Donnell 22 years ago. He was a brother of John Etter, Mrs. Clay McLaurin. He is survived by his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGinty were among those attending funeral services held in Andrews Tuesday.

Buel Draper was in the hospital of his brother-in-law, Dr. John Dupre, at Levelland the first of this week with the flu.

On Sunday, March 23, I witnessed the flag lowering ceremonies at sundown from the moors adjacent to the remains of the USS Arizona. The Arizona was one of the first ships to go down after receiving a bomb down her smoke stack. furnishing the North Elementary building. These various requests have come from different and varied citizens.

The need for all of them definitely exists, as you well know if you have visited the local schools lately. Class room conditions are already crowded and with an increased enrollment (up to that of 1951) which has ranged from 890 to 968 in the white school alone this year, two additional teachers must be secured for next year, Superintendent Otis Spears said.

The questions are: Where to put them? How to offer the physical education program to all students as required by the State? How to improve the Negro educational facilities and those for the white junior high school students? Not to mention the need for a more modernized science department.

If you remember, four classrooms were cut off the original plans of the South Elementary building because of the Korean War inflated prices at that time. They were really needed then, but now are almost desperately needed.

Like I said, all this is unofficial, but the school board and local citizens are talking it.

The golfers are really getting the bug. Last Sunday afternoon's ice cold temperature didn't stop Irving Dunagan and Bill Griffin for a minute.

Man! What's this place coming to? At one local store this week we saw on display some waterproof ear screws about the size of baseballs.

In addition, a salesman was plugging a fancy bathing cap that really wouldn't look bad with a chemise. In fact, it wouldn't surprise me if the next thing that comes out is a chemise bathing suit to go with the caps. Some of us would look better that way.

From indications of oil wells, leasing activities in the county, etc., Lynn county may be on the verge of something or other.

In fact, one family, recently moved here because they are convinced Tahoka will soon become an oil center.

We kinda' like the old town like it is, but those greasy greenbacks sure might come in handy.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS APRIL CANCER CONTROL MONTH

Mayor H. B. McCord, Sr. proclaimed April as Cancer Control Month today in the city of Tahoka and urged support for the American Cancer Society's crusade in fighting cancer through research, education and service to cancer patients. The 1958 American Cancer Society's fund raising educational campaign will be launched Tuesday, April 1st. The nationwide goal for the crusade is $30,000,000.

At the same time Mayor McCord urged all citizens of Tahoka to observe Tuesday, April 1st. The Cancer Control Day.

In his proclamation the Mayor called attention to the fact that cancer is the number two disease killer in Texas claiming over 10,000 lives last year. He also noted that 3,000 of this number died needlessly "only because the disease was not detected and treated early enough."

He declared that the best way to participate in the activities of Cancer Control Month is "by learning lifesaving facts of cancer and by giving generous support to the American Cancer Society's annual effort to raise funds vitally needed for its program of education, research and service."

TV Stars Coming To Post April 5

Post—Television stars Danny Thomas and Spring Byington, the mayors of Battle Creek, Mich., and Post, and the Wayland College International Choir will head the program list here Saturday, April 5, for unveiling and dedication of a statue of C. W. Post, the town's founder.

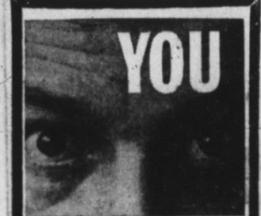

The statue will be unveiled at 11 a. m. by Post's daughter, Mrs. Merriweather Post of Washington, D. C. The dedicatory address will be by Mayor James L. Minor of Post. Also on the program will be Russell V. Worgass, mayor of Battle Creek, whose city statue of C. W. Post was used to make the replica erected here.

The "Danny Thomas With Spring Byington Show" will be presented at 2:30 p. m. in the grade school auditorium. Since the auditorium seats only 600, a closed circuit network will carry the show to screens located in other school buildings of the city. Thomas is scheduled to bring a small musical group here with him for the show.

The statue of Post is in place here on the east side of the Garza County courthouse lawn.

MARTIN W. LANDERS

Visiting Speaker At Baptist Church

Martin W. Landers, assistant professor of speech at Wayland College, will be guest speaker at First Baptist Church at 11 o'clock on Sunday.

Mr. Landers, who has been at Wayland College since 1954, added the M. A. degree with a major in speech from Baylor University to his other degrees in the summer of 1956. For this advanced work, Mr. Landers has begun the compilation of a handbook on speech for church workers.

Mr. Landers also holds the M. R. E. and B. D. degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, where he served as an assistant to Dr. Floy Barnard in religious drama and has done advanced work in speech at Texas Christian University. His undergraduate work was done at East Central Teachers College, Ada, Okla., where he majored in speech. He taught speech in the public schools of Oklahoma for several years, including five years at Hugo High School where his students won statewide honors in both debate and dramatics.

While teaching in Oklahoma, Mr. Landers was ordained as a minister and held pastorates at Haley near Tyler, Texas; Aale Avenue, Fort Worth; Mart and at McAlester, Okla., where he was associate pastor of First Baptist Church.

Since going to the faculty of Wayland College, Mr. Landers has served as interim pastor at Trinity Baptist Church, Lubbock, and preached in many of the West Texas churches as evangelist and supply preacher.

At Wayland College, Mr. Landers heads the speech activities and coaches the debate team and other forensics. In the spring of 1956, he instituted the Wayland Debate Tournament for High School Students in which teams from Midland and Amarillo High Schools came out winners. This is an annual tournament sponsored

Farmers Guests Of Rotary Club

About twenty-five farmers were guests of Rotarians Thursday of last week when Bob Stevens, farm editor of Station KFYO of Lubbock, was the principal speaker at Tahoka Rotary Club.

He pointed out the fact that agriculture is undergoing a vast change. Not long ago, one farmer could produce only enough food for himself and one other; now one farmer produces enough for 20 other people.

More scientists are needed in the field of agriculture. In fact, farming is getting so technical, the farmer needs to be an agronomist and animal husbandryman, etc. To survive, the farmer will have to do a better job in the future, he declared, and it will be up to the individual person to meet the changes.

Conditions for a crop in 1958 are better than in many years, but farmers will be "chomping at the bit" to plant and many will plant too early.

He believes more emphasis should be placed on quality products by Plains farmers. Good quality farm products will make more money than poundage.

He expressed the belief farmers should seek out new crops to produce and to produce a more diversified program. This year Plains farmers will plant about 62,000 acres of vegetables as compared to about 30,000 acres last year, but he warned that the individual by the faculty and students of Wayland College to which all West Texas high school debate teams are invited.

farmer should be sure of market before deciding to plant vegetables and to go into the business to stay when he does enter vegetable farming.

A regrettable fact is the agriculture has become a political football of the politicians. Even in Texas, our politicians no longer worry too much about the farm vote.

He predicted a great future for hybrid sorghum, and told of a new grain now in process of development. He also told of experiments being made with new cotton varieties that may revolutionize cotton growing. He also warned farmers to make sure their seed is good, for 1957 cottonseed germination ranges all the way from 10 to 90 percent.

Plains farmers are the most aggressive farmers in the world, he declared. They are doing a good job but can and must do a better job.

The program was arranged by Wynne Collier, and Joe D. Unfred introduced the speaker. Stevens was accompanied by his assistant, Bob Ethridge, former assistant county agent of Terry county. Junior Rotarians for the month, John Draper and Steve Riddle, Tahoka High seniors, were introduced by Otis Spears.

President Happy Smith announced the 573rd District Rotary Conference will be held in Amarillo April 13, 14, and 15.

It is a general rule of life that should you touch mud with your gloves, it is never the mud that becomes glovey.—George Mikes.

Last Day For Acreage Reserve

Today, March 28, is the last day for Lynn county cotton producers to cancel or adjust any application field under the Acreage Reserve phase of the Soil Bank Program, states County Agent Bill Griffin.

Farmers wishing to cancel or adjust application field under the Acreage Reserve phase of the Soil Bank Program, states County Agent Bill Griffin.

Farmers wishing to cancel or adjust such applications should contact the ASC office for complete details.

County Agent Griffin advised cotton producers that the choice of leaving their Acreage Reserve application as it was filed or canceled or making downward adjustment was an important one. Moisture conditions, he pointed out, are much improved over former years, but factors such as credit, equipment and labor other than moisture also enter into the picture.

Get all the facts both pro and con and actually set down the figures on income that can be expected from canceling, adjusting downward or leaving the application as filed before making the final decision, is Griffin's advice.

The final decision, he said, is up to each cotton producer. We will be glad to supply growers with information which is available to us on the current cotton situation along with material on the latest production practices.

Odds and Ends

(By E. I. The Elder)

We start this Column this week with a statement from Veanie, the A and M College student from Alachua, Florida, who had recently had her clash with the "Straight Thinker" from the North, who went to work again with greater determination than ever to be true to her benefactor. "Our Miss Rossie."

"I started working again for Miss Rossie my first week home the next summer," she begins. "She hugged me when I arrived. 'Oh Veanie, we're so glad you're home!'"

"At the end of the week, my check was for $8.00. I stared at it. 'There must be some mistake.'

That was very high pay for a Negro in Florida in the early '30's. And besides, Mr. Lee was supposed to be deducting money to repay the $75 loan. I spoke to Miss Rossie about it.

"He did deduct, Veanie. He took out $2."

"But, Miss Rossie, he made a mistake. This check is for $8."

She smiled. "No, it is right, Veanie. You're earning $10.00 a week now."

Through the summer I worked for my princely wage while Mingie worked part time for Mrs. Porter. When I returned to college, a check was waiting for me. Mr. Lee, without having said a word, had forwarded $50 more to help me through my sophomore year.

That year I made the honor roll; and upon graduation two years later, I was offered a scholarship at Fisk University, for post-graduate work in education. The Lees urged me to accept. But I thought of Mingie. One day she had promised she would go back to school. I must start teaching as soon as I could. I turned down the scholarship and accepted the job offered me.

After teaching in an elementary school on Boca Grande the English department from which I had graduated six years before. Mingie was now a student there. Veanie still speaking. To be home again was wonderful. But my new job was not without problems. In the first semester, I had to give a D to a girl in the tenth grade English. I certainly wished I hadn't had to, for her mother was one of the women I'd met near the railroad tracks that evening long ago—one of the three spreading the ugly gossip about the Bennett sisters. I knew I'd hear from her, and I did. "My daughter ain't no dum chile, and she better git mor'n a D, or else."

"You jis tryen to low-rate my girl 'cause you always been mad at me." She expected me to flare up; she wanted me to; then she'd have something to go to the principal with. Years earlier, I undoubtedly would have, but I'd learned my lesson. I invited her to come sit with me while I marked the next examinations. She did. Though she hadn't much schooling, it was enough to enable her to see how many mistakes her daughter had made. "She ain't no dumb chile," the mother repeated, but without anger. She was only troubled now. "I see that gal jis been playin' round. She ought done better than that."

I agreed and said that if we'd work together, I was sure her girl would do much better.

"I'll see bout her at home; you see 'bout her here," she charged me. We did just that, and the result was what we hoped. Mingie was in one of my classes, and that was another problem. She was studying hard to earn high marks. Our fears were groundless.

Her marks were as high in her other subjects. Two years later, at graduation, Mingie was named valedictorian. So, with me on the platform and Miss Rossie in the front row, Mingie gave the address for the class. Afterward, everybody gathered about her, congratulating her. Miss Rossie had her arm about Mingie.

"Now, College, Mingie," she said, "College!"

Feeders Day At Tech April 1st

The Texas Tech College Annual Livestock Feeders' Day program will be held on the College Campus in Lubbock on April 1, according to an announcement by Dr. W. L. Stangel, Dean of the School of Agriculture.

The program is being held at the conclusion of steer fattening experiments which have been conducted by the College under a research fellowship grant provided by the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' Association to study methods of cattle feeding which may increase gains and reduce costs. The experiment was planned and conducted in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. It studied the use of hormones, roughage pelleting, and replacement of alfalfa.

During the morning program, Texas Tech researchers will discuss the results of the experimental tests and visitors will inspect the steers which have been fed the test rations. The cotton oil mills of the Lubbock area will provide a free barbecue lunch for those attending the field day at noon. The afternoon session of the program will be held in the Memorial Building on the Campus. Current livestock developments and the results of the latest research in the field of cattle feeding will be discussed by nationally recognized cattle authorities and research scientists.

This is the time of the year when we never know how to predict the weather—whether to don a woolen or crisp cotton dress. Dresses with jackets or sweaters prove ideal for "between season" wearing. Trimming a harmonizing sweater to match a cotton dress is both pretty and smart for these cool mornings and warm afternoons.

State-wide, communities entering the Rural Neighborhood Progress Contest are preparing their records. New Home is the only community in Lynn County participating in this contest. New Home should certainly be commended for the work, time and money which they have contributed to their Civic Club.

The Draw community has begun work on a community center, using the remaining portion of the old school building for the center. This site appears to be quite promising. Plans are being made for the husbands to hammer and saw and the wives to bake and serve a meal—Sounds like loads of fun with all participating!

Unused school buildings are often ideal for a community center. Grassland uses their building to serve community functions. If there is an unused school structure in your community, investigate possibilities of converting it into a community center. You and your community will profit.

Reagan Brown, extension specialist in charge of the community organization work, states that people like to live and farm in a community where folks have demonstrated a spirit of working together. He says that there have been instances where farms or homes brought as much as 10 percent more because they were located in one of these communities.

Are some of your varnished pieces dull looking, stocky or soiled? If so, here's a "face-lifting" and cleaning suggested by Charlotte Tompkins, extension home furnishing specialist:

In a double boiler combine:
1 quart hot water, 1 tablespoon gum turpentine (to cut the dirt), 3 tablespoons boiled linseed oil, or lemon oil (to lubricate, feed and polish the wood).

Keep the mixture hot in a double boiler while you work. Dip a soft cloth in the solution, wring out excess moisture and apply to furniture doing one part at a time. Rub the wood, keeping moisture away from the joints as much as possible. Fine steel wool may be used to rub the solution on badly soiled surfaces. Wipe the surface immediately with a dry cloth. Polish with a woolen cloth.

Stretch your food budget by comparing prices and watching for real bargains. If citrus fruits are too high for your budget, get needed vitamin C from canned tomatoes and tomato juice. Remember that raw cabbage, raw turnips, and salad greens are also sources of vitamin C.

Choose leafy, green and yellow vegetables in large seasonal supply. These vegetables provide needed minerals and vitamins. Carrots are nearly always good bargains and can be used raw or cooked.

Low cost sources right now are eggs, dry peas and beans, cheese and fish. Economy cuts of beef and variety meats are still low in price in most areas.

Milk is an important source of vitamin A and protein. Use dry milk or evaporated milk to step up the food value of casserole dishes and soups at little added cost.

This quote might be well worth the while to ponder.

"We have three things to spend—time—money—energy. We have two things to conserve—knowledge—skill or power to perform. We have only one thing to change—attitude."

Everyday Religion

By
J. B. Thompson

I once received an invitation to attend a birthday celebration of a dear friend—his ninetieth. Ninety years!—But he did not seem old. He was still keenly interested in life. His eager spirit was eternally young.

An ancient prophet of Israel said, "We all do fade as a leaf." When he penned those words he must have stood amidst the hills in the glory of an autumnal day. Yonder on the hillside the divine artist had laid out his canvas, touched by a magic brush dipped in sunbeams by day and frost by night. With the moan of a funeral dirge the autumn wind rustles through the flame touched trees, sweeping the scar and yellow leaves in swirling eddies at his feet. To his vivid imagination it became a picture of human life—fading with age and alluring like the leaves when autumn comes.

The chastened beauty of age has a mystic and prophetic meaning that looks beyond the narrow limits of the earthly life. The budding springtime and the flowering summer are supplanted by the glory of autumn's ripening fruit. The trembling touch and tottering steps of age reveals the work of the great architect, slowly but surely taking down the earthly tabernacle in the shadow of "the house not made with hands."

A poet has said, "Heaven lies about us in our infancy." Heaven also sheds its glory on the heads of the aged. Another has said, "Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be. The last of life for which the first was made."

Jacobin Clubs, made up of the most fanatic of the French Revolutions, were named for the convent where they met.

Geckos are the only lizards known to have voices. They can emit a faint squeak when excited.

KO's DANGER OF SKIDS!

ARMSTRONG'S "Ounce of Prevention" Safety Discs

Give Skid Protection No Other Tubeless Tires Offer!

Just like the edges of your fist, tread ribs of ordinary tires tend to compress into a smooth and slippery surface under brake pressure. This pressure causes the tread to lose its vital grip on the road . . . and you skid!

With Armstrong Tires, the tread can't compress! Can't squeeze together. For, just like your fingers when you put rubber discs between them . . . "Ounce of Prevention" discs keep the gripping edges apart. Tread can't lose its grip on the road . . . thus preventing dangerous skids!
