STANDING ON THE CORNER

With F. J.
I listen to the agony of God—I who am fed, who never yet went hungry for a day. I see the dead—the children starved for lack of food—I see, and try to pray.
I listen to the agony of God—I who am warm, who never yet have lacked a sheltering home. In dull alarm the dispossessed of hut and farm, aimless and "transient" roam.
I listen to the agony of God—I who am strong, with health and love, and laughter in my soul. I see a throng of stunted children reared in wrong, and wish to make them whole.
I listen to the agony of God—But know full well that not until I share their bitter cry—Earth's pain and hell—can God within my spirit dwell to bring His kingdom nigh.
—Georgia Harkness.

One doesn't need to look at the thermometer these days to know hot weather has descended upon us. It's in evidence if in no other way, in the big, wide, long yawns everyone seems to have plenty of. No, there's no barbiturate made that can beat a hot spring day for making a nice long nap something to dream about.

We're still heading talk about the need of a storm cellar and bomb shelter not only at the school, but down town (as expressed in a letter to The News). However, those who know say a shelter should meet certain specifications, including ventilation and some kind of air conditioning. I still say if every parent would shovel a couple of spadefull of dirt, we'd have the beginnings of one, anyway.

Although we know how silly we were for racing around like a bunch of unchained "loose screws" last week endangering more lives than we were attempting to save, let's don't be like the old boy who repeatedly went to his cellar after hearing storm warnings. After several trips downstairs when nothing happened, he became quite disgusted. Then one day, after emerging from his cellar to find that for several blocks around every house was flattened, said, "Now, that's more like it!"

Be safe—but be sensible!

Junior-Senior Banquet Tonight

The annual Junior-Senior banquet honoring the 1958 senior class will be held tonight at 8:00 p. m. in the school cafeteria. Master of ceremonies will be Jerry Adams. The welcome address will be delivered by Weldon Calloway; senior's toast of thanks, Marlin Hawthorne; the class presby, Janie Ware; class history, Geraldine Tippit; and class will, John Ed Redwine. Mrs. Clint Walker, senior sponsor, will give the farewell to the class.
Theme of the banquet this year is the "Gay Nineties" and entertainment will be provided by the "Gravel Tones," quartet from Lamesa.
Also a senior class sponsor is Eddie Bowman. Sponsors of the junior class are Mrs. George Young and Bennie Thorpe.
Following the banquet, a prom will be held, sponsored by parents, at the American Legion Hall.

$200,000 Bond Issue Is Proposed For Additions To Tahoka School Plant

On May 3 qualified property tax-paying citizens in the Tahoka Independent School District will vote their wishes on a $200,000 bond proposal for the construction of a gymnasium, four classrooms, and the remodeling of Dunbar school for Negro students.

Under the present conditions, the local schools have not been able to comply fully with the State requirements for physical education for every student enrolled, in addition to the fact that more classrooms are badly needed to take care of the overcrowded condition brought on by increased enrollment at the present time and in the future, and to improve the Negro school which is badly run down.

The new gymnasium would have a game floor 50 by 90 feet in size, but would convert into two practice courts, with permanent bleachers on one side and folding bleachers on the other. It would seat 975 people. The present gymnasium seats 600 and the floor is 40 by 83 feet.

With only one gymnasium, its use is necessarily restricted to basketball teams from junior high through high school. A new gymnasium would give every child, from first grade through junior high, and the majority of those in high school who do not make the basketball teams, the opportunity to have an adequate physical education.

Polk Robison Is Speaker Here

"Unselfishness, sacrifice, and loyalty are required for any boy or girl to participate in sports," Polk Robison, Texas Tech basketball coach and football scout, said to about 200 athletes and fans at the annual Athletic Banquet sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night in the school cafeteria.

Preceding his address, Mary Helen Whitaker and Karl Prohl were named by Coach Bill Haralson the outstanding girl and boy athletes in Tahoka High School this year.
Mary Helen, a senior student, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Whitaker. She was outstanding this year as a guard on the basketball team, a member of the volleyball team, and winner of the district in girls tennis singles.
Karl, also a senior, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Emil Prohl. He was named by coaches as the outstanding athlete for his performances on the football field, basketball court, and in tennis. Both will be awarded medals at the graduation exercises.

Coach Robison, enlarging upon the requirements for a good athlete, said that what counts is not a 100 percent performance but "something else" that is even more. No longer is brawn required, but brains. In choosing good athletes, Robison said that coaches first look for good scholars, then for good character, and only physical capability in third place.
"Athletes owe a debt to athletics for what the program does for them and for the example they set for younger boys and girls," he continued.
The speaker was introduced by Frank Hill, who pointed out the fine qualities of Polk Robison that have brought him to the place he now holds.
Master of ceremonies was Chas. Townes. Dean Taylor, president of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the athletes and fans and James Adams, senior, presented the response.
Karl Prohl gave in the invocation and Betty Vaughan the benediction. Organ music was provided by Fred Hegl, and special musical numbers were presented by Jan Thomas and Weldon Calloway, who pantomimed record selections.
The banquet was in honor of all boys and girls in the Tahoka High School who have participated in any sports events this year.

Wilson Lions Are Holding Box Supper

The Wilson Lions Club will sponsor a community box supper Monday, April 28, at 8:00 p. m. in the school lunch room at Wilson.
Ladies of the area are asked to bring boxes for the event. Proceeds will go to the Little League Ball Park at Wilson.

IQ Tests Given School Students

The Henmon Nelson IQ tests were given high school and eighth grade students this week in the Tahoka schools, according to Principal John Shepherd, in an effort "to get an indication of the students' abilities."

Last week the students were given achievement tests, which measure how much a student has learned about a particular subject during the year. The IQ is a test of a student's capability for learning.

Although an exact IQ cannot be determined in less than three tests, the one just completed will give teachers, students and parents an indication of what the learning capacities are.

However, those students who show either a high or low I.Q. will be given a second IQ test from another company to determine whether or not the first is nearly accurate.

Parents may discuss the IQ and achievement tests with school officials, Shepherd said.

There is one other candidate for the office, Mrs. Carl Hu-forth of the Dallas district.

Mrs. Claude James of New Home had major surgery in West Texas Hospital Tuesday.

Telephone Workers Favor Strike Here

Four Long Blasts Tornado Warning

Fire Chief Lawrence Harvick announced this week that in addition to the four long blasts for a tornado warning, an all-clear will be sounded in the future.
One long blast of the fire siren will be the all-clear signal.

However, he pointed out that tornado warning signal does not necessarily mean that a tornado is right on Tahoka. As was the case Thursday of last week, the signal was given when the funnel was sighted about eight miles southwest of Tahoka, when citizens had plenty of time to reach their families and take them to shelter. He urged citizens not to panic, but to take their time in such a case to prevent the danger of automobile accidents.

As a further safety measure, the fire department will install in the near future a shortwave system which will be connected with the sheriff's car so that the progress of any funnel may be known here in town.

The sheriff or a deputy follows or stays close to any existing funnel to report its activities over shortwave. Last Thursday when the funnel was seen to hit the ground about one and a quarter miles southwest of Guthrie Lake, the sheriff's department followed its course when it traveled east and northward south of Tahoka. With the shortwave system at the fire department, the course can be known here at all times.

Unless the rare situation which occurred last May when the funnel built up just southwest of Tahoka, happens again, there is no need for panic that sometimes causes more danger than a tornado itself, Harvick emphasized.

In the event a funnel is sighted or reported during school hours, the alarm will be given immediately, which will allow school officials and parents to take the proper steps to prepare.

General Offers Wage Increase

The Communications Workers of America announced today that strike balloting among its members employed by the General Telephone Company of the Southwest has been concluded and the vote was ten to one in favor of a strike being called by the Union Negotiating Committee.

The outcome of the vote has been forwarded to the Union's International Office for approval, with such approval being expected momentarily. Under Union rules, President Joseph A. Betans of Washington, D. C., will set the actual date and time of the strike.

The strike will affect the Tahoka office and other General Telephone offices in the area. Tahoka's office is 100 percent union except for the head operator, Mrs. Iva Elliott. Union members involved in the dispute with the General Telephone Company are employed in Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

After many weeks of negotiations, the dispute centers around the Company's failure to offer wage increases demanded by the Union, plus longer paid vacations and other fringe items.

Manuel Salinas Dies Suddenly

Manuel Salinas, 68 year old resident of Tahoka for 21 years, died unexpectedly at his home, 1301 South Third, at 12:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Sally, of the family home, and Mrs. Frances Flores of Tahoka; one son, Froylan, of the home; two sisters and one grandchild.

MRS MCNEELY BREAKS HIP

Mrs. Bill McNeely fell Saturday at about 7:00 p. m. and broke her left hip. At the time she was staying with her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. H. McNeely, in West Texas Hospital, Lubbock. While waiting on the elder Mrs. McNeely, Ruby hung her foot in some gauze tied to the bed and fell on the concrete. Monday she underwent surgery and must remain in the hospital at least ten days, and her physician says she probably will not be able to walk for six to nine months. Mrs. J. H. McNeely is reported to be improving this week.

Friends and neighbors say, "The Sniders have always been so good to help others in sickness or trouble of any kind. The weather was never too bad for them to be at the bedside of a sick friend or neighbor. They have many, many friends who are hoping and praying for their speedy recovery."

McCLELLAN INJURED

Charles McClellan was released from Tahoka Hospital Wednesday after being treated for injuries of the left leg which he received late Saturday afternoon. He was working under his car when the vehicle slipped off a jack and severely bruised his leg and knee. However, no bones were broken.

ALMER BLANKENSHIP

The big opportunity of the year is the growing of soil building crops. Moisture conditions being favorable for planting when we get ready and the great need to build our land up after past dry years makes it imperative that we launch a soil building program.

There are many crops and methods of managing these crops to yield a profit from the harvest of that crop and from harvests of succeeding crops. Some of the crops that are popular in the area are mung beans planted with grain sorghum. Mung beans are about the same size seed as maize and can be mixed and seeded at the same time. For this type of planting, two pounds per acre of mung beans mixed with three pounds of maize per acre and the planter adjusted to plant five pounds of the mixture. Then Campbell states that mung beans will save at least one cultivation which will more than offset the 25 cents per acre seed cost.

Another high yielding soil building crop is sesbania that has been INK PADS For rubber stamps. 7c at The News.

grown by Weldon Bailey. The Campbell, and A. J. Gickelhorn. Sesbania is good only to the nitrogen and the high yield of organic matter; it puts in the soil.

For cash crops, guar and field peas such as Chinese red, iron clay, Brahma, new era, and black eye peas are useful for adding nitrogen and organic matter.

There are ACP cost-share payments, to assist farmers in carrying out these soil building practices. So, if interested, contact your ASC office for information regarding cost-share assistance.

Underground concrete pipelines have been installed as part of an irrigation system on the Hillary Smith farm near Lakeview. Walter King and Jim Bob Smith farms north of Wayside.

If you are farming land bordering a brushy pasture or a row of Chinese elms, try applying commercial fertilizer at the rate of 300 pounds of 15-20-0 for 20 to 24 rows adjacent to that area. Researchers have found the trees have often depleted the available nutrients from the soil, hence a poor growth of cultivated crops.

There have been three Great Plains Conservation Program contracts approved so far in Lynn County. If you are interested in carrying out a complete conservation program and receiving cost share assistance for installing conservation practices then contact the Soil Conservation Service office at Tahoka.

It is well to be able to laugh at one's self. A little more than a year ago we were asking for drought relief. Now we are asking for it to stop raining. Whether it is too wet or too dry, the farmer or rancher who has a sound soil and water conservation plan on his place comes out ahead, of his neighbors who don't have a conservation plan with their local district.

"Good food grown on good soil, properly prepared, will do more than all the medicines in the world to make life longer and happier for the average citizen."—Jonathan Forman, M. D.

Wanted: Plant Cover—Dead or Alive

For the protection of cultivated land against erosion by wind and water, nothing can take the place of continuous cover of dead or living plants, or both.

This is true regardless of location, rainfall, soil, or kind of farming or ranching that goes on. In the Plains country, however, the need for plant cover grows more important as conditions tend toward the dry side. At the same time getting good cover becomes a tougher job.

The job is two-sided: First, a crop must be grown that will yield amounts of residues; second, the residues must be managed in a way that will protect the soil until a new crop covers it.

Experience of farmers and ranchers and research work taught us important lessons. We know that burning crop residues is one of the worst mistakes that can be made. And too much tillage wears out the residues and therefore should be held to a minimum.

Leaving stubble and other crop residues on the surface has proved especially valuable in the grain summer-fallow areas where 15 or 16 months usually pass between harvest and the planting of a new crop. One way of leaving such cover and disturbing the soil surface as little as possible is by using equipment having sweeps or blades 32 inches wide or wider.

This practice is known as stubble mulching. In the grind of everyday living often becomes dull and monotonous. But some people seem to have that added touch that makes their lives glow. Wherever they go they radiate sunshine. They leave a trail of happiness as they pass along the way. What if the difference? Maybe they have "that"!

Luther Burbank once told a little story about a father skylark that was teaching his little son to fly. The little bird flew near a man who was selling worms. Asking the price of the worms, he was told that for one wing feather he could buy two worms. He traded two feathers for worms and went his way rejoicing. He came again the next day and again and again to trade feathers for worms until at last he could not fly at all. Mr. Burbank said, "He traded his wings for worms, and you and I do likewise many times."

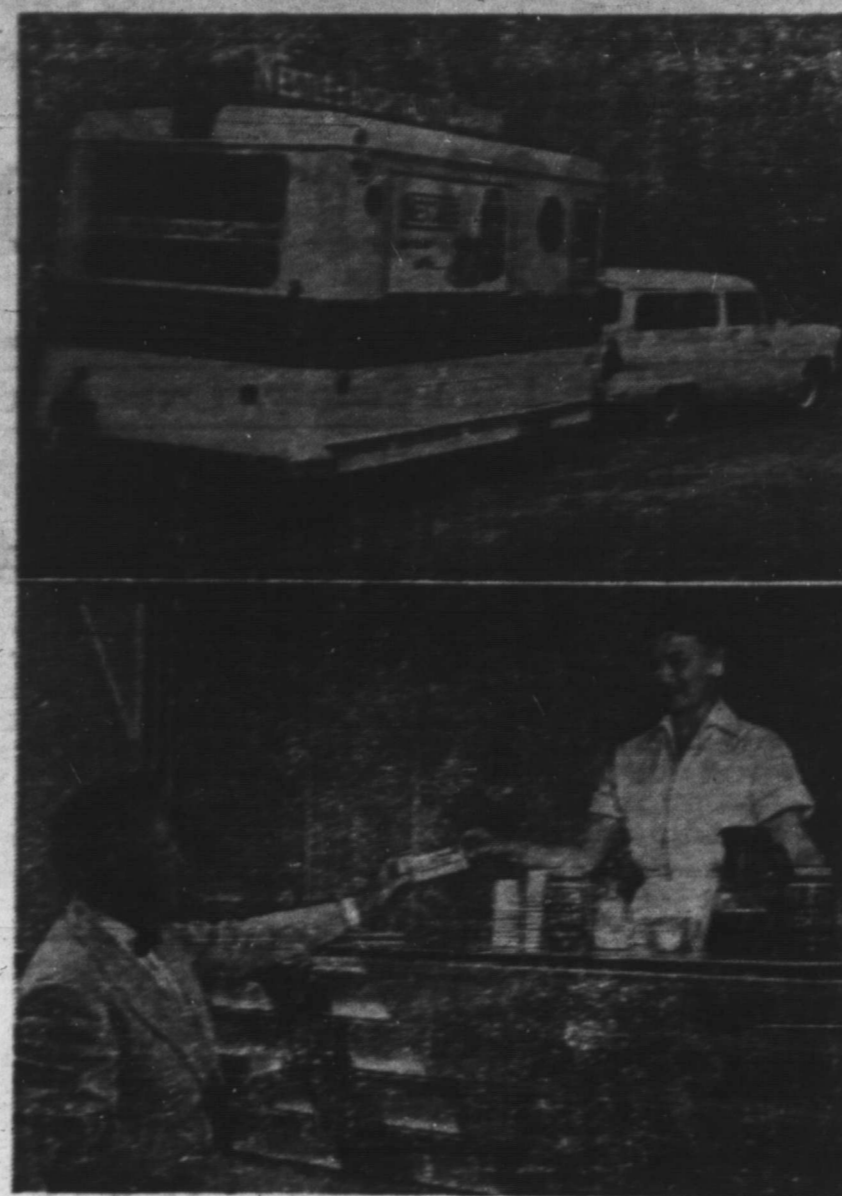

We allow our greed for material things to rob us of our wings. We drive a bad bargain when we trade our souls for that which satisfies only the hunger of our bodies.

to leave a high stubble during winter months. For sorghums in rows 24 to 42 inches apart, the usual minimum height recommended is 15 to 18 inches. With drilled sorghums, a height of 10 to 12 inches usually is enough. More residue than the minimum is better. Stalk and straw put organic matter in the soil, something sorely needed in all cultivated land.

The wise use of crop residues, including stubble mulching, takes top billing in any plan of operations in the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Mrs. George Short, a patient in Tahoka Hospital for several weeks, was released Tuesday. Her condition is reported to be improving.

Travelling Hosts To Visit Here

Most visitors are guests but Ralph and Peggy Harrell, shown above, will dispense hospitality instead of accepting it when they and their Caravan stop here. From this modern kitchen trailer the Harrells, on behalf of The Nestle Company, Inc., will serve Nescafé, the modern instant coffee, and Nestlé's chocolate products to all who stop at their trailer. Nestlé's is among the first of the food manufacturers ever to send a Hospitality Caravan like this on a nation-wide tour.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson

Sir Joshua Reynolds was once asked to appraise a painting by a young artist. He said it was good and showed considerable talent but that it lacked "that" (snapping his fingers). It lacked that something not easily defined but quickly perceived. That something that spells the difference between real art and the common-place. Something warm and alive that makes true beauty.

So much of life is mechanical and humdrum. In the grind of everyday living often becomes dull and monotonous. But some people seem to have that added touch that makes their lives glow. Wherever they go they radiate sunshine. They leave a trail of happiness as they pass along the way. What if the difference? Maybe they have "that"!

TWO RICE CROPS

Two crops of rice in one year, a main crop followed by a crop produced from the stubble, show much promise in test at the Rice-Pasture Experiment Station near Beaumont.

Nathan S. Ezatt, who is conducting the test, says that 2,200 lbs. more grain per acre were obtained from the second crop after the first crop yielded an average 4,100 pounds per acre. This was a total production of nearly 40 barrels per acre.

Glenda Mason, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mason, underwent a tonsillectomy in Tahoka Hospital April 17.

Bible Topics—

By Leroy Cowan

CONTINUE... "Ye did run well, who did hinder you... This shows Paul's concern for people who were falling by the way-side. This concern is expressed many times in the Bible. The Scriptures show in many different ways the necessity of being faithful to the end.

Contrary to the belief of some, it is possible for believers to become unfaithful and be lost. Else, why the warnings? "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." I Cor. 10:12. Just before this verse he had shown how the children of God had sinned and fallen, and that the record was made of that fall to warn us not to do likewise. Jesus said, "Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away." Jo. 15:2. Paul spoke of people falling from grace. Gal 5:6. To say that there is no danger in falling away is to accuse the Lord of speaking idle words.

People sometimes leave their first love and are in danger of being lost. Rev. 2:17. "Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent."

Therefore, Christians are urged to continue in well doing, in the faith, in brotherly love, in prayer, in the grace of God, and in the word of the Lord. Paul told Timothy, "Continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of."

WASHINGTON AND 'SMALL BUSINESS'

It has already been covered in many reports that the administration's request to extend the reciprocal tariff act for a long period, with presidential powers to cut protective tariff rates, is in for a tough Congressional battle.

And it is quite proper that it should be. For over 20 years the executive branch of government has usurped the responsibility of Congress in the matter of setting protective tariff rates.

When first C. W. Harder launched the announced purpose was to have America lead the way in world wide abolition of tariffs so that all nations could trade on an equal basis. That is still the argument. There is only one flaw to it. Only the U. S. cuts tariffs; other nations raise theirs.

On several occasions, the nation's independent businessmen voting through the National Federation of Independent Business have opposed tariff cuts.

In a year end report beating tom toms for increased tariff reductions, Henry Kearns, assistant Secretary of Commerce, said that both U. S. imports and exports were at a high level in 1937, predicted even higher 1938 level.

His figures showed exports totaled $19.5 billion, or an increase of 13%. U. S. imports were less, standing at $12 billion for an increase of 2%.

However, this comparison between U. S. imports and exports is somewhat akin to comparing peapods with watermelons. In many areas, the only similarity is that both the exports and imports crossed over U. S. national boundaries.

Whatever the U. S. imports are paid for with dollars. But included in the U. S. export figures are all the shipments of give away goods, and also the farm surpluses, and other commodities that are "sold" far below the prevailing price. In other cases, the products are paid for by a cheap foreign currency on the basis that it is worth the same as U. S. currency.

Thus, striking a true trade balance figure between exports and imports is about like taking a gunnysack of old match book covers into a local bank and convincing the banker that this entitles one to draw against an equivalent quantity of $20 greenbacks. This would be a nice trick if you could do it, and seemingly bureaucrats can.

In addition, in the entire controversy over this matter, one important element is constantly brushed aside. It does not take, for example, many millions of dollars worth, not to mention billions of Japanese textiles, made with 7 cent per hour labor, coming into U. S., to demoralize the entire domestic textile market.

There are growing indications that the increasingly heavy import of foreign cars produced by cheap labor is having its effect on employment in Detroit. It is also of note that a large share of these cars are being shipped in by foreign subsidiaries of the biggest U. S. auto corporations.

And recently, one of the strangest paradoxes of all occurred. To meet competition a well known American watchmaker embarked on a plan to have a large share of their movements made in Switzerland. The Federal Trade Commission has now jumped on the company for promoting American made watches on the basis they are made abroad. Many Congressmen feel power to set tariff rates should be restored to where such power was delegated by U. S. Constitution which is the U. S. Congress.

Over 100 Boys Working Out For Pony And Little League Baseball Teams

Well over 100 Lynn county boys turned out for Little League and Pony League workouts here Monday afternoon and more are expected to try out in Pony League before new players are bought. Forty-three new boys are trying out for the Little League this year in addition to the 40 now on the four teams. Only 20 new boys will actually make the teams, giving 15 members to a team. However, Charles Reid, manager of Wynne Collier Cubs, said that efforts are being made to obtain managers to take minor league teams so that all the boys will be able to participate in a baseball program this summer. About 32 boys attended the Pony League initial work-out, half of these new boys. However, all of the boys on the two Tahoka teams did not attend and more new ones are expected. No manager has been secured for the Goodpasture Grain Braves. Jack Smith is manager of the Lynn County Co-op Gins Orioles. Workouts will probably continue three or four times a week until players and bought for the teams in both leagues. Both leagues work under the ruling that the players previously bought for a team will remain on

Don Blair Looking Good In West Texas Spring Training

Don Blair, former Tahoka High School football and track star, was the subject of a feature story in last Thursday's Amarillo News, a part of which says: They are beginning to blare out the virtues of Don Blair of Tahoka down West Texas way as the spring football drills are nearing completion this week. "One of the players to watch (in the spring workout held Saturday night) will be Blair, a junior. Perhaps Blair is the only one at West Texas State who was happy because bad weather postponed spring workouts. Blair had suffered a broken toe and was out a couple of weeks during the drills. However, rainy and cold weather kept pushing spring practice back. And when drills did open, Blair was ready. He was way down the list of left halfback candidates, but at present he is operating with the Red team, the No. 1 unit. "I've never seen any football player improve as fast as Blair has this spring," said head coach Clark Jarnagin. "Now he tackles well, runs well, does a fine job on pass defense. He just does everything well." Blair is also the second fastest man on the squad. Geoffrey Caldwell, a freshman from Mobeetie, is the fastest, doing the 100 in 10.7 in football gear. Blair is just a step behind Caldwell.

More Fishermen Bring In Crappies

T. L. Forgy of Camp Tow on Buchanan Lake writes The News that several Lynn county fishermen have had good luck there. He says fish are biting "like mad" some crappie run as large as two and a half pounds, and bass and cat are also being taken. Among the local fishermen are: Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brooks, Mrs. C. B. King, and Mrs. Hubert Aldridge caught 175 large crappie and 25 nice catfish. Clint Sikes and Beecher Sherrod caught 65 large crappie. J. W. Fenton of Tahoka and Harlan Cook of Lubbock caught 149 crappie up to two pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Cody Bragg caught 30 large crappie. E. A. Warren and Clint Herring of Post caught 76 large crappie and bass. Visiting in the home of Mrs. Maud Bledsoe and Mrs. Jewell Johnson over the week end were sons and grandchildren of Mrs. Eledsoe, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bledsoe and Bill, Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bledsoe and Judy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burk, all of Van Alstyne.

Tahoka Places In Regional Meet

At least one Tahoka High School student and possibly more qualified to enter the State Interscholastic League literary contest at Austin on May, 1-3. James Adams senior student, placed second in number sense in Class A in the Region 1 meeting in Lubbock last Saturday and thus will compete in the State event. No results had been given in slide rule contest of which two Tahoka boys, Erwin Young and Falcon-McAllister, were entered. Young won first and McAllister second in the district contest. Idalia Wood placed seventh in shorthand.

Floydada took the literary event over all classes with 75 points, with Monterey of Class AA making 70 points.

In the regional track meet Jerry Adams came in third in the 880 yard run. The winner, Neely Wolf, fourth of Seminole, made a new record in the event with a time of 1:59.3.

Dean Elliott was fifth in the discus, and the mile relay team placed fifth.

Mary Helen Whitaker was defeated in the girls' tennis singles by Marjorie Swink of Perryton 6-2 6-0 in the semifinals.

Tahoka golf team did not complete its round but, individual scores were Gerald Short 144, Terry Spears, 122; David Bray, 127, and Jackie Applewhite, NC. The Shamrock team won the Class A contest with a team score of 315.

Black Cats Playing Here This Sunday

Tahoka Black Cats, under the leadership of Johnny Martin, are opening the 1958 baseball season here Sunday in their own ball park with the Spanish club furnishing the opposition. Last week, the Cats played a practice game at Post with the Tigers and lost 18 to 5. Johnny reports that, in spite of this loss they expect to have a good team. Game time Sunday is 2:30 p. m.

The addition of a larva killing chemical to the ration fed laying hens in cages may be the answer to the fly control problem. . . a common one with cage operations. Research workers at Texas A&M College, in limited tests last year, got indications from adding polybor 3 to laying rations that such a method offers much promise for solving the fly problem.

Smith Attends Cotton Meeting

Wilmer Smith of New Home, all known farm leader, on last Saturday attended a meeting of the American Cotton Producers associates in Memphis, Tenn. Motive of the meeting was to tempt to come up with some kind of cotton program that will be acceptable to the Associates, the Farm Bureau, other farming groups, and at the same time have some chance of being approved by Congress. If some kind of cotton legislation is not passed during the current session of Congress or during the first six weeks of the session next year, Smith says the South Plains is facing an acreage cut of 27 to 30 percent in 1959. Reason for this is the fact that the freeze law passed in 1955 expires with this crop year. Present plans of the Agriculture Secretary are to cut acreage next year from the present 17.5 million acres to 13.5 or 14 million acres. Since there will be no cut for the small farmer planting just a few acres of cotton, West Texas will necessarily bear the brunt of this reduction.

Time is very short, Smith says, and the tough spot is in the Senate. He thinks people of this cotton growing area should write Senators Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough urging that some kind of cotton legislation be passed before the crop year of 1959. Because of his position in the Senate, he especially urges that Mr. Johnson be reminded of our possible plight. Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Harris of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lewis have been in Tahoka this week visiting friends and attending the Baptist Sunday School meetings in Lubbock. Former pastor and educational director here, respectively, Rev. Harris delivered the evening message and Lewis presented a vocal solo at the First Baptist Church Sunday night. The Harrises are visiting here with the Garland Penningtons.

VALLEY COTTON PLANTING

Cotton planted in March in the Rio Grande Valley made higher yields—more than 200 pounds of lint per acre—and utilized irrigation water more efficiently and made more growth than cotton planted in February in tests conducted by the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station.

Maximum use and demand for soil moisture by cotton plants started prior to or about flowering and continued until most of the bolls were mature.

tainly deserved recognition from his home town newspaper. So, for the record, Tahoka's glad to have you back.

Times have changed in the last generation. Remember how much fun it was to wade in the mud puddles and feel the wet sand ooze between your toes? I don't remember my mother absolutely falling apart when I came in with mud up to my ears. Kids don't have it so good anymore.

School Bonds . . .

ation program and access to a gymnasium for various needs.
Four large dressing rooms would be included in the plans, which would serve football teams as well, coach's office and concessions stands, equipment rooms, and rest rooms.

Four additional classrooms are needed in the South Elementary building to take care of overflow conditions. These rooms, cut out of the original plans because of conditions at the time the building was constructed, would prevent the necessity of placing as many as 35 to 50 students in one room as has become necessary in the past.

These four classrooms would be added onto the east of South Elementary School. At the present time, every classroom in the local school is in use and many are badly crowded. Under the Average Daily Attendance, Tahoka will qualify for at least two additional teachers next year.

If Dunbar school continues to operate in Tahoka from the first through 10th grades it must be repaired and remodeled to take care of similar overcrowded conditions there. Tahoka, however, cannot maintain a 12 grade school at Dunbar because the State requires a minimum of 12 teachers for a high school. Dunbar school now has two teachers, but increased enrollment may provide an additional teacher for next year.

The Tahoka school board hopes that enough money will be left to make some badly needed repairs on North Elementary School and to equip more fully the high school science department.

Voting on the bonds will require an increase in tax money of about 20 percent, as may now be done under provisions of the new Senate Bill 116. This would be about the average for schools the size of Tahoka and some much smaller.

Therefore, in the election citizens will also vote on a proposal to vote a maintenance tax not exceeding one dollar on the $100 valuation. On the basis of present property valuations, which is also lower here than in most school districts, a raise of about 30 cents in taxes would be necessary.

A third issue, a formality required because of past consolidations of other districts—with the Tahoka district, will be provision for assumption of bonds and levying of the tax in payment thereof.

The bonds would be issued for 20 years and could be paid off sooner if so desired. Bonds maturing from 1959 to 1969 will bear 3.75 percent interest; bonds from 1969 to 1973, four percent; and bonds from 1974 to 1978, 4.5 percent.

Tahoka district now has $388,000 in bonds outstanding, which is ar below the average of most school districts of the same size in this area.

The raise in taxes for the school district would come from an increased property valuation, which the local board has the authority to raise, and not in rate increase, which the board does not have authority to raise.

Tahoka's present valuation and the valuation that would exist if the bonds are approved are compared with other school districts of similar size below. The collections, however, would be used for local maintenance in hiring three and one-half teachers, whose salaries are not paid by the state, in addition to the retiring of the bonds. Tahoka now has two and one-half teachers with salaries not paid by the state and one additional teacher will be added, besides the two new one provided by ADA.

The valuations listed on irrigated land does not include improvements in any of the school districts. Also listed in parenthesis is the amount of taxes collected per acre of farm land.

Lubbock Juvenile Officer Tells Of Growing Crime Among Youngsters

Tom Porter, Lubbock city-county juvenile probation and parole officer, in a talk at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week, said 46 percent of the major crimes in Texas in 1957 were committed by juvenile offenders.

More than half the thefts and burglaries were committed by juveniles. He declared there has been an alarming crime increase among the teen-agers. From 1952 through 1957, there has been an increase in crime among boys and girls 10 to 17 years of age of 13 percent.

He expressed the purpose of the work of juvenile officers as being to "protect the community from the juvenile and to protect the juvenile from the community."

However, on the brighter side, he said only three to five percent of our juveniles are classed as delinquents.

State-wide, 45 percent of the juvenile crimes are by the white Anglo-Americans, 35 percent by Mexicans, 25 percent by Negroes.

In Lubbock, 75 percent are by Anglos, 20 percent by Mexicans, and five percent by Negroes.

In Lubbock, 500 juveniles committed 703 offenses last year. Of this number 41 were sent to State training schools (reformatories), 35 are in foster homes, 10 in boy's ranches, one in a mental hospital, and one in a state hospital. In other cases, the youth is dealt with through counseling, paroled to parents or adult friends such as business and professional men or even to airforce personnel.

He indicated there are a lot of causes for the increase in juvenile delinquency. Among the causes cited included the fact that many children today have it too easy - virtually everything they want, including the family car or even a car of their own, are allowed out at night. Others have few or no advantages, and are seeking to reach the goal of more fortunate youngsters. Then, there are those who commit crime just to "belong" and to gain attention of associates.

Of the crimes committed at Lubbock by juveniles, 36 percent are by children whose parents are living together and furnishing an apparently happy home life, 19 percent are by children whose parents are broken, and 45 percent are from broken homes.

Porter cited the deplorable conditions existing in some of our state reform schools, particularly at Gatesville, where 1,000 boys are crowded into barracks and other facilities designed for 650. Here, first offenders are thrown with other young criminals. With time on their hands, they merely learn from others how to do a better job in crime without getting caught. The average boy committed to Gatesville remains there only 6.2 months, and with the counseling personnel available during this period would have only 15 minutes per month, if operated efficiently, to counsel the boy.

The Gainesville State School for girls is somewhat better, with 250 girls usually there and the average term is one year.

Best school in the state, Porter said, is the Crockett School for Negro girls, where it is possible to keep an inmate 17 months on the average.

He declared only seven counties in Texas have an adequate juvenile parole set-up.

Two bills are being proposed in the coming legislature that would help some in fighting juvenile crime. One is the discretionary bill which will permit the juvenile judge to refer cases involving young offenders to the grand jury. The other would establish an interim reformatory of maximum security, permitting confinement of hardened juvenile offenders in a separate school.

He thinks Texas needs a state-wide juvenile parole system.

Vice President Johnnie Reasonover presided in the absence of President Happy Smith.

Glenn Bairrington, junior Rotarian for the month, was introduced by Dr. Skiles Thomas.

Dr. Emil Prohl reported briefly on the District Rotary Conference in Amarillo attended by he and President-elect Otis Spears.

Telephone Excise Tax
Editor, The News:
One and a half billion dollars in taxes were paid during 1957 by United States telephone subscribers—twenty-eight cents out of every dollar the telephone industry received for service. Most people think of the taxes paid out by the telephone company as coming out of the telephone company's pocket, but every tax dollar the telephone company pays out it must first take in from telephone users. There is no other way.

Facts point out that the telephone industry is carrying its share of the country's tax load. In addition to the one and a half billion dollar annual payment in taxes, there is another tax burden piled on top of that. This is Federal Excise Tax or 10 percent over and above that already mentioned. In 1957 this increased the total U. S. tax on telephone service by an additional five hundred fifty million dollars.

We of the telephone industry believe that this tax is discriminatory. Telephone service is as essential to the American way of life as electricity and gas. Jobs depend on your telephone—lives depend on it—trade and commerce depend on it.

But your telephone is subject to excise tax at the same rate as fine furs, perfumes and jewelry. In fact, only a very few things are taxed at a higher rate such as liquor, tobacco, club dues and night clubs.

The telephone excise tax began in 1941 as an emergency measure. It should not be continued longer lest it become regarded as a permanent part of our tax structure. Since none of this tax is retained by the company, the only person to benefit by its repeal is the subscriber. It would mean a substantial reduction in individual monthly telephone bills on long distance calls and local service.

Even without this discriminatory excise tax, telephone users are paying a big share of the nation's tax bill. We of the telephone industry do not consider the telephone a luxury, but rather an essential. If you feel this excise tax is unfair, we believe that our customers who are your readers will appreciate any action you may see fit to initiate.

Very truly yours, Claude Adams, district manager.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS TO VERNON ROGERS

GREETINGS: You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock a. m. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 2nd day of June, A. D., 1958, at or before 10 o'clock A. M., before the Honorable District Court of Lynn County, at the Court House in Tahoka, Texas.

Said Plaintiff's petition was filed on the 1st day of March, 1958. The file number of said suit being No. 2336.

The names of the parties in said suit are: Jean Rogers as plaintiff and Vernon Rogers as defendant.

The nature of the suit being substantially as follows, to wit:

Plaintiff alleges that she and defendant married in Plainview, Texas, on September 13, 1956; that she has resided in Texas more than six months immediately before filing this suit. That defendant immediately after their marriage commenced a course of unkind, harsh and tyrannical treatment toward plaintiff, which continued until plaintiff separated from defendant on or about the 10th day of October, 1956. On different occasions while plaintiff lived with defendant as his wife, he was guilty of such excesses, cruel treatment and outrages toward plaintiff of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable. That the parties have one child born as issue of their marriage, namely: Lonnie Glenn Rogers, a boy, who ward. Why? Because a few minutes before a tornado warning had sounded. People are afraid of tornadoes. They should be.

But they should not be afraid of: Where are we going? Will we make it in time? Are the rest of our families all right—our children and our friends?

This is something every citizen of Tahoka should be concerned about—concerned enough that the citizens and the City should do something about it.

"What would we do?" most people ask. The answer is very simple. The people and the City combined could build a storm shelter large enough to accommodate all the merchants and shoppers in case of an emergency. This could be done with a little elbow grease and a few contributions from the citizens and a little use of City equipment. Think it over and give it a vote. Better to be sure than sorry.

—A Concerned Citizen.

is several months of age and resides with plaintiff in Lynn county, Texas. That it would be to the best interest of said child for his custody to be awarded to plaintiff until he becomes 18 years of age. Plaintiff prays for a judgment of divorce, for custody of said minor child, for costs of suit and such other and future relief as she may be entitled to receive.

If this Citation is not served within 90 days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved. Issued this 15th day of April A. D., 1958.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Tahoka, Texas, this 15th day of April, A. D. 1958.

(SEAL) W. S. TAYLOR, Clerk District Court, Lynn County, Texas. 28-4tc

Fishermen Land 702 Pounds of Catfish

A group of fishermen really "hit the jackpot" on a trip to the Rio Grande River, south of Eagle Pass, last week. They hauled 702 pounds of catfish, 184 pounds of which were caught on rods and reels and the remainder on trot line and throw lines.
 In the party were Ed Crooks of New Home, C. O. and Pat Campbell, Carleton Wilke, E. O. Montgomery, and W. F. Raymond, all of Wilson; and Harley Stone of Oklahoma.
 The largest fish caught on a trotline was a 62-pound cat, and there were others in the 40- and 35-pound class.
 Three men, Crooks, C. O. Campbell and Wilke, fished with rods and reels and the biggest fish caught by this method weighed 26 pounds.
 The fish were actually weighed and pictures were taken of them as evidence.
 The party returned Friday from the week's trip.

Reduce Delinquency

XIV AT GATESVILLE
 (A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)
 By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

For many years whippings and solitary confinement were routine punishment at the state reformatory at Gatesville. We heard that sadistic guards punished the boys unmercifully.
 Several years ago a drill-master jumped on a boy who refused to drill any longer and choked him. The boy died.
 Like Hardened Criminals
 "The boys in this institution are subject to the same harsh and strenuous rules and regulations as you would expect to find in controlling the hardest criminal in the penitentiary," a legislative committee said about the Gatesville reformatory.
 Despite the harsh treatment (which included 10-year-olds who were there because they were neglected but who were learning crime from the older, more serious offenders) there were gang fights, hunger strikes, and many escapes.
 In 1952 a new policy was inaugurated. Today the whip is gone. Bars have been removed. Boys are punished by being deprived of privileges. There have been no gang fights or hunger strikes. Escapes have decreased.

Institutional Whippings
 Authorities believe that whippings in institutions often build up resentments that cause the boy to commit other offenses.
 Those who have actually worked with teen-age offenders believe that institutions for delinquents should have treatment seeking the causes of delinquency, together with a program of education, rehabilitation and vocational training.

Teacher Meeting Is Next Monday
 The Lynn County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association will meet on Monday night in Tahoka's school cafeteria at 7:00 p. m., according to Mrs. Ruth Jolly, county superintendent.
 Election of officers will be held as a part of the business meeting. Designated as "fun night," bridge and "42" will be played and light refreshments served.

An inferiority complex could be a blessing if the right people had it.

 The time of year has arrived when winter clothes are stored and spring clothes occupy the closets. Before storing those winter woolens be sure they are clean. Extension clothing specialists remind us that perspiration weakens wool, grit cuts it, and spots attract moths.
 First examine garments carefully and clean or wash as directed on the label.
 Before washing, give special treatment to spots and stains. Also measure your knitted garments so they can be pulled into shape after washing.
 Guard against damage from clothes moths. Dry cleaning kills all forms at the time of treatment, but does not insure permanent protection. Garments placed in sealed paper bags immediately after cleaning will be protected indefinitely.
 Moth-proof washable wools when you launder them. Directions for doing this are given in the Extension Leaflet 156, "Clothes Moths." Get a copy today from your local county home demonstration agents' office or write the Agricultural Information Office.

It's commonplace nowadays to have a long life. Extension foods and nutrition specialists say that proper food can help to make those extra years happier and healthier.
 Complaints of a chronic tired feeling—gloomy outlook on life—anxiety over small things—and loss of sleep often are caused from being poorly nourished. The right food helps the body to be at its best and, if illness strikes, a well-nourished body responds better to treatment than one in a run-down condition.
 Age does not change the kinds of food needed by the body for proper functioning. Some adjustments may be needed to take care of special problems. For instance, overweight may become a problem as activities decrease unless the amount of food is decreased, too.
 Specialists say a good plan is to cut down on the amount of food eaten, but not to cut out any food as long as it does not cause discomfort.

If you are annoyed at tattle-tale gray clothes and a ring in the bathtub better check the soap you use, according to extension home management specialists.
 Whatever you choose, either soap or syndet (Synthetic detergent), should be right for your water supply.
 In hard water soap mixes with the minerals in the water to form a scum. It is hard to rinse this out, so your clothes take on a gray look. However, if you have natural soft water or soften both the hot wash water and the rinse water, soap will do as good as cleaning job as a syndet.
 In hard water, syndets do a better cleaning job than soap. They soften the water so that no curd is formed.
 Choose the soap or syndet made for the washing job you plan to do. For heavy-duty wash jobs special ingredients added to soap and syndets give greater cleaning power. Most packages for heavy-duty wash are marked with "all-purpose," "family wash," or "wash everything."
 Jobs for the light-duty detergents or mild soaps are marked on the package, "wash lovely lingerie, protect your hands in dishwasher, for baby things, etc."
 For washing satisfaction, check your water carefully, keep special laundry problems in mind and choose the soap or syndet accordingly.

 Onion biscuits are good, served with fish, egg or cheese dishes. Stir 2 or 3 teaspoons instant minced onion into the milk when making baking powder biscuits. You will enjoy the sweet, milk flavor of this moisture-free onion.
