STANDING ON THE CORNER
With P. J.

A prayer that does not change us will not affect God very deeply.
—First Baptist Bulletin.

The last week or so has found yard workers really cleaning up the old homesteads, but, probably they are unaware that some congestion is taking place at the dump grounds as a result.
Members of the City Council say the roadways through the City dump are being blocked by those hauling off their debris, such as trees, etc., and would appreciate your consideration in placing such away from the roads.

Have you stopped to think how much our mayor, H. B. McCord, Sr., and the Council have done in the past year to improve our town?

A great deal has been accomplished and they all certainly deserve an ovation. Just to name a few—things are underway to purchase right-of-way for an expressway through here, which will encourage new and more business institutions at least along that highway. The new housing project will soon be in evidence following months of preparation—a beginning of slum clearance in the town. The American Legion Hall has been acquired for a community center and rest rooms built at the City Park.

Like I say, these are just a few accomplishments of the many. Every little thing helps make this a better town in which to live.

By now the last school bell has rung for the 1957-58 term. That noise you hear are just the shrieks of several hundred youngsters who don't know what to do with themselves and are jubilant at the thought of three months of fun. Or it could be the sighs of the parents who have to listen to the noise that the teachers have heard for the past nine months.

They can say all they want to about the Russian educational system, but how any one stands it for some times 12 months is something hard to conceive.

Wife: I was just reading that statistics prove that school teachers make the best wives. I wonder why.

Hubby: Probably because they have learned to ask questions, and keep quiet long enough to hear the answer.

One of the most important times of the year for the West Texas farmer is here. That cotton seed is going into the ground fast and has been the past week. With all the good winter moisture in the county's terra firma—seems the attitudes of the tractors are even different. Anyway, they have much perkier sounds this year, which promises to be one of the best crop years ever—so far.

If you are out pleasure riding one of these days in the near future, don't miss the opportunity of seeing the Johnny Raind's running (Cont'd. on Back Page)

James Sims, local Negro, was fined $50.00 in City Court here Monday as the result of an attack on two other Negroes, Ed Bell and Jesse Jones, "on the hill" Sunday at about 4:00 a. m.

Pioneer Cowboy Buried Thursday

Tom Preston, 81, of Evant, well known by nearly all pioneers of the Plains country as an early day manager of the T-Bar ranch here, died Tuesday night in a hospital at Gatesville. He has resided at Evant the past several years.

George Small, an old friend, was informed by a brother, Bob, Tuesday night that funeral services were to be held in Evant Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Preston, a bachelor, has for a number of years lived with his sister, Miss Ollie Preston, a retired school teacher, on the Preston home ranch, established by their father in 1901.

He came to Lynn county in about 1896 to work on the T-Bar Ranch, owned by the late Cass O. Edwards of Fort Worth, and for 16 years he was foreman. Last June he and three brothers were here for the annual Pioneer Reunion and enjoyed meeting many of his old friends.
At that time The News said: "Associates remember him as a hard-driving boss who could be as kind and sympathetic as anyone when occasion arose." His brothers declare he is the greatest man they ever knew, and the women and children he has helped are numerous."

He is survived by the sister, Miss Ollie, and four brothers, Bob of Midland, Ed of Hamilton, Barney of Gatesville, and K. J. of Gladewater. Another brother, Sam, died at Midland a few months ago.

Everyday Religion

By J. R. Thompson

We are once again in the glow of graduation time. A host of fine young men and women are coming out of our high schools and colleges. They represent the highest degree of education and training this country has ever seen, but they face a confused future. They peer into the teeth of unknown storms and look wistfully down untraveled ways. The writer salutes them as they go forward and dedicates the following lines to them:

Today your hopes and aims are high,
You radiate sincerity;
We stand erect as you pass by,
In cap and gown and dignity.

The rosy dawn falls on your brow,
The flush of youth is on your cheek;
The breath of spring sweeps over you now,
As life and love and joy you seek.

May heaven bless your life today,
And to you every kindness lend;
May golden sunbeams light your way,
And love your every step attend.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kuykendall and children of Odessa were here over the week end visiting his mother, Mrs. J. H. Kuykendall, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harper.

There would be fewer pedestrian patients if there were more patient pedestrians.

Drive as if your life depended on it—it does.

HAIL INSURANCE

Why did over 5000 farmers buy Panhandle Mutual Insurance in 1957?

They are the largest single insurer of cotton crop in Texas in 1956 and 1957.

Every policy written is reinsured with Lloyds of London for the farmers' protection.

No replant clause in policy. You do not have to wait until it is too late to plant to collect. Do not be misled about a full policy when cotton is up. With a Stock Company policy you have only 7 percent in force until it is too late to mature a crop. Which is about June 15th. This is on a 10 percent deductible.

Panhandle Mutual is 30 years old this year and has a good reserve deposited in West Texas banks.

Homemaker News . . .

By Laura Bowman
County H. D. Agent

Each year at this time we see many of our youth climb the steps of a high school auditorium to receive their diplomas. The graduates have mingled emotions—sadness, joyfulness, and anxiety. A touch of anxiety is due to the realization that they are from under their parents' care—whether the graduates enter college, special training, farming, homemaking, etc.

Going back to this much used word, "Psychology," we are told that the manner in which we are reared determines, to a large degree, our failure or success in adulthood.

Frequently a remark is made to the effect that "our youth are going to the dogs." Perhaps we, at times, let ourselves lower to such thoughts. Graduation exercises, however, are the best tonic I know. Seeing so many youth graduate with such wholesomeness makes us realize how fortunate we are to have our youth as they are today—better educated and able to assume their roles in this rapidly changing universe.

Aside from the bit of editorializing, here is an item well worth observing.

Take time to read that label! Every word describing a food, a drug, a cosmetic or a medical device is important in protecting you and your family; advise extension home management specialists. It will guard against buying an inferior product, misusing a good one, falling for dangerous quackery, or unknowingly using a substance harmful to health.

The label on a can or package of food must be completely truthful. The wording must not be misleading. Manufacturers are required to list their names and place of business on the label.

Net contents of a can must be standards of "fill of container" and measures. Sometimes the size of a can may be misleading, so standards of "full of container" have been set up. Under this law a can of peas containing too large a portion of liquid must be labeled "below standard in fill."

A standard of quality and a standard of identity have also been set up.

Under the quality provision, canned tomatoes that are not red enough, peaches that are bruised, peas that are overmatured must be labeled "below standard in quality."

Should you feel that you have fallen victim to an illegal label complain to your local health department. It will notify F. D. A. inspectors if federal law is involved or act directly if the product is made and sold within the state.

Meanwhile, keep reading labels carefully before you buy. It's good business.

Just as cooking temperatures need to suit different foods, so temperatures must meet the needs of various fabrics.

Today's fabrics include so many different fibers, blends of fibers and finishes that homemakers are often puzzled about temperatures suitable for different fabrics.

The best general rule when pressing blends of fibers is to set the iron so that it is suited to the fiber requiring the lowest temperature, according to extension clothing specialists. However, when using a damp cloth and a dry iron, the moisture in the cloth reduces the temperature.

Because the synthetics call for lower temperatures, blended fabrics of synthetic and natural fibers complicate the pressing problem. In the case of wool blends, they may be pressed successfully with a steam iron or with a dry iron and damp pressing cloth.

Cotton blends are a different story. Combinations of cotton with synthetics can be a difficult problem because cotton will not always press smooth at a low temperature, yet many synthetics are damaged at high temperatures. One answer to this problem is to check each garment individually by ironing on a sample of the fabric or on an inconspicuous place like the edge of the wide seam.

E. E. McMANIS HAS BEEN OUT FISHING AGAIN

E. E. McManis of New Home has spent most of his life working hard at the job of farming. A few months ago, his son-in-law, J. D. Bleathroade of San Angelo, got Ed to "wet a hook," he caught a fish or two, and now he (Ed) is just about ruined so far as farming is concerned. He uses every excuse possible to visit the Bleathroades.

He and Mrs. McManis came home last Friday from a week's stay at San Angelo. They had gone down to spend a day or two and celebrate E. E.'s 70th birthday. But, the fish were biting and they just couldn't come home.

They caught a lot of bass, crappie, and catfish in Lake New-worthy. In fact, Mr. McManis caught a five pound bass the morning they left for home.

But, who can blame them? Most everyone not able to go envies the McManises.

ONE HOPE . . . "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in the one hope of your calling . . ." Eph. 4:46. Their calling was their Christianity. They were called to be Christians. Christianity provided them with the one hope. There is no other way to be saved. The one and only hope that people can have is the salvation that is offered in Christ. Reject this hope that is offered in Christ and one will be lost forever.

How is one called into this one hope? Some are deceived into thinking that the call is in some mystical manner. This is not true. Paul declares that people are called by the gospel. 2 Thes. 2:13-14. The 3,000 of Acts 2, were called by the preaching of the gospel of Christ. So were the others who were converted to Christ. By the preaching of the gospel of Christ people are called to be Christians and when they obey it, they stand in the one hope.

The "one hope of your calling" not only includes their obeying the gospel but also their continuing steadfast in it. It is not enough to start, one must finish the race. "Ye did run well, who did hinder you?" Gal. 5:7. It is by patience continuance in well doing that we have hope.

John declares, "Every man that hath loved in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure."
Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon visited here Sunday with his brother, E. I. Hill, and wife and other relatives. Dr. Hill is president emeritus of West Texas State College.

Operation of Little League and Pony League Explained by C. W. Conway

Many interesting facts about the operation of the Pony and Little Leagues were told Thursday at the of Tahoka Little League and director of Tahoka Little League and director of Tahoka-Pony League.

He said a lot of credit should be given the sponsors this the third year of Little League in Tahoka, who largely finance the program by furnishing the money for uniforms, equipment, and accident and liability insurance, and also to the managers and coaches who spend a lot of time with the boys.

He said a lot of parents, fans and boys do not understand the limits imposed on selection of players. Age limits for Little League are eight through 12 years. However, a team can have a maximum of only 15 boys, and five of these must be in the 12-year age group, five in the 11-year group, and five total of eight, nine and 10 year old boys. Thus, four teams can have only 60 players, and each team is not likely to take more than five or six new boys a year.

At the beginning of each season, with Johnny Wells acting as player agent, the manager of each team is given a specific number of points and uses these points to "buy" players on a competitive basis at the player auction.

Tahoka and the county probably has sufficient boys for two more teams, if sponsors and coaches and managers were available.

Pony League operates similar to Little League. Tahoka has two teams and Post two. Right now more graduates are coming out of Little League than can be used up in Pony League.

Pony League is limited to boys 13 and 14 years of age only. A team can not have more than eight 14 year old boys, but may have as many 13 years of age as it wants so long as the total does not exceed 16.

There is considerable talk of starting a Minor League for young boys left out of Little League in the player auction. Sponsors are available, as a result of Conway's talk at the Rotary Club, but an organization and managers and coaches are needed to do the work. Also, a playing field will be needed.

Tahoka now has a model playing field combination for Little League and Pony League, and the local idea is being copied by several other towns in the area.

The park as now arranged has a portable fence inside the outside fence that can be put up for Little League, requirements being 180 feet to the fence for Little League and a base line of 60 feet, while for Pony League the requirement is 250 feet to the fence and a base line of 75 feet.

With help from the City, this beautiful field, complete with dugouts and Bermuda grass infield as well as outfield was built two years ago.

Last year, E. R. Edwards led a drive to install lights for night play, and the City also helped out on this.

This year permanent and safe bleachers have been built of concrete blocks and 2x12s. These will be paid for through sale of advertising on the fence and the sale of schedule cards at $1.00 each and car decals at $1.00 each.

Charles Reid led the drive for bleachers, which are being completed this week. They will seat 120 to 140 people.

No admission is charged to games, but the hat is passed and the $7.00 to $14.00 per game collected in this way just about pays for the bats and balls and the $25.00 annual franchise.

Operation of the concessions stands raises a little money, but this has been a "pain in the neck" and the stand is being leased out this year and sandwiches will also be made available along with drinks, candy, etc.

Conway pointed out that too many people, especially parents, are taking the kid game too seriously. The main object is to give the kids some wholesome recreation, and winning a game is secondary.

As a result, more stringent rules concerning fans will be put in effect this year. Nobody but League players, bat boys, umpires, managers and coaches will be allowed inside the fence. Parents and fans will stay off the field, and violation of this rule may cause such drastic action as used in some places as requiring the offending team to give up as a lost game the next game it wins.

Conway expressed thanks to Clint Walker, the president who preceded him the first year of Little League in Tahoka, and to others who have helped, many of whom are listed in another article elsewhere in this issue. He said the big need is for more help

Qualifying Starts For City Open

Tahoka's second annual City Open golf tournament will open at T-Bar Country Club this week end, and finals will be played Sunday, June 1. Entry fee is $5.00, including one ticket for the awards dinner of the final day. Other dinner tickets will be $1.00 each.

C. W. Conway, tournament director, says qualification rounds must be completed by Sunday, May 25, at 6:00 p. m.

To qualify for the medalist honor and prize, entries must qualify on Sunday and play in at least a threesome.

Those unable to qualify by 6:00 p. m. Sunday because of absence from the county, rain, or having to do farm work, may turn in a qualifying score by this time and go ahead and compete in their flight.

Two matches must be played during the coming week. Conway suggests that players get off one match early in the week and play the other on Friday, which is Memorial Day, a holiday.

Mrs. Irene Spears Defends Title

Mrs. Irene Spears was medalist and championship flight winner in the annual T-Bar Country Club ladies golf tournament, the finals of which were played Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Spears was the defending champion.

In the championship flight, Dot White was second, Maxine Edwards, third; Jewel Smith, fifth.

In the first flight, Jo Belle Robinson was first; Anita Billman, second; Corene Cathcart, third; Melba Clem, fourth; Jeanette Harvick, fifth; and Audie Norman, sixth.

In second flight, Lois Fischer was first; Glenda Dunagan, second; Aleta Lois Thomas, third; Abbie Whorton, fourth; Eulla Rogers, fifth; and Billie Thuren, sixth.

Mrs. Dot White acted as chairman of the tournament committee, and C. W. Conway acted as starter.

Awards were presented, at a luncheon held at the club house Tuesday at noon.

The medalist received a $5.00 gift certificate and a golf ball, as did first place in each flight; second place $4.00 and golf ball; and third, $3.50 and golf ball.

Mrs. White asked The News to express the ladies' appreciation for the help of Mr. Conway, the consideration given by men on the laying their tournament, and to assure them they will give the same cooperation during their tournament.

Following the talk, A. M. Bray paid tribute to Conway for the long hours and hard work he is spending with the Little and Pony Leagues with not too much help.

Eddie Bowman said a few teenagers are using the Teen Town as an excuse to run around at night. He said every teenager attending is required to register when he comes in when he leaves, and parents may determine of their children are actually attending by calling 298 to check up.

Tom Gill arranged the program.

MR AND MRS. BEN BRIEGER BRING IN THE FISH

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brieger returned home Friday from Buchanan Lake, where they had good luck catching a lot of crappie and bass, including a six and one-half pound bass landed by Mr. Brieger. They had gone down to the lake on Monday.

He says the rain Saturday morning in his area, near the old Morgan school, east and a little north of Wilson, was heavy and not only washed farm land pretty badly but also deleaved planting considerably.

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Have no anxiety about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. (Philippians 4:6, RSV.)

A contractor and a future home owner were discussing plans for a new house. Looking at a rough sketch of the floor plan, the contractor asked "What is this small extra room marked 'prayer room'?"

"I haven't seen any plans like this before except possibly in magazines. I never thought I would be asked to build one!"

The young man replied, "God has created all the raw materials for which everything is made that will go into my new home. I want a place in it where I can, undisturbed, thank Him each day, for it and all His other blessings."

"I think you have a wonderful idea," the contractor said. "I would like a chance to build this prayer room into your home."

Whether or not a special prayer room is built in every house, prayer itself in the home can be an everyday occurrence. There should be a place for it.

PRAYER

Our Father, we would express now our thanks to Thee for all Thy blessings. Teach us to give our selves to prayer daily in our homes to thank Thee for Thy love and guidance, to seek Thy will for our lives, to give us Thy divine help in all our undertakings, in Jesus' name and for His sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

The building of the Holy Spirit begins when a man pours out his heart to God. —J. Richard Berry, Postal Clerk (Arkansas).

Additional Bible Reading — Psalm 97:1-12.

ROY L. WILLIAMS ELLIS BARNES
O. E. TERRY W. L. (Cap) ROWE
ALMER BLANKENSHIP

Theodore Roosevelt, 1858 - 1958
American conservationists, in 1958, honor this conservation-minded president on the centennial of his birth.

He fought the profiteers, land grabbers, and wasters of the soil with much the same vigor he used in charging up San Juan Hill.

"When the soil is gone, men must go, and the process does not take long." Even 50 years ago, our 26th president knew this, and tried to make sure, through law, that not only the land, but forests, water, and wildlife as well, would not be wasted—all would remain for future generations of the American Public to enjoy.

He set aside more land—over 148 million acres, in our National Forests of today—than all other presidents combined. Due to his interest, a nationwide concern for conservation of forests, their management, and the beginning of the profession of forestry, came into being.

Today's National Park System and the National Monument Act were established during his administration, including Grand Canyon and Crater National Parks, and National Monuments, such as the Natural Bridge of Utah, and the Petrified Forest of Arizona.

His influence half a century ago at the Federal level in conserving the wildlife of America is reflected today in the growing action taken by individual states in wildlife management and protection.

In 1902, he signed the Reclamation Act that launched government into helping handle land, irrigation water, and hydroelectric problems in the rapidly developing West.

Against wasteful practices he said, "What has thus happened in northern China, what has happened in Central Asia, in Palestine, in North Africa, in parts of the Mediterranean countries of Europe will surely happen in our country, if we do not exercise that wise foresight which should be one of the chief marks of any people calling itself civilized."

Fifty years ago this was true; and, it is just as true today.

A conservation plan was written for C. W. Meeks last week. Meeks plans crop residue utilization, an improved surface irrigation system and other basic conservation projects.

Bobby Jones, a new district co-operator, farms near Wilson. Jones plans to install a waterway across his farm to dispose of water concentrations on the highway right-of-way. Other practices to be carried out include crop rotation, utilization and others.

"The plain truth is that Americans, as a people, have never learned to love the land and to regard it as an enduring resource.

Ens. Wells Writes From Philippines

This is the fourth of a series of articles by Ensign Glenn Wells on board the USS SHANGRI-LA (CVA-38) Attack Carrier of the Pacific Fleet.

Almost halfway around the world from Boston, Dallas, Seattle and our home port in San Diego lie the 7,000 islands of the independent Republic of the Philippines. Located some 631 miles south-southeast of the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong, the Philippines is a democratic nation of over 21 million persons.

It was to these islands that the SHANGRI-LA sailed from Yokosuka, Japan on April 21. We arrived in Subic Bay, on the island of Luzon, on May 2. Yours truly arrived by plane on May 1, after taking off from the flight deck of the SHANG.

Subic Bay contained the largest concentration of naval forces that we had seen since leaving San Diego. I think the reason for so many ships was due to the Communist uprisings in Ceylon and Cumar. Sometimes the presence of the U. S. Fleets in areas of unrest is extremely comforting to the loyal forces that try to repel such Communist incidents.

It was the intentions of many of our liberty parties to make the trip to Manila which is the capital and largest city in the new nation. However, it is a long hot bus ride over dusty mountain roads to Manila and most of us stayed in Subic. This is one of the hottest months with an average temperature of 84 degrees. But the humidity makes these temperatures seem higher. Generally, the evenings are cool and comfortable.

It is estimated that between 50 and 60 percent of the Philippine people can read and write in at least one language. English is the official language, but some Spanish is also spoken. Altogether 87 languages and dialects are used in the islands. The greatest single religious influence on the Philippines has been the Catholic Church, and the Philippines is the only Christian nation in the Orient.

A good deal of the land of the entire country is largely devoted to agriculture. The most important crops are rice, corn, hemp, sugar, copra and tobacco. The scenery in many parts of the country is unusually beautiful. Baguio, the summer capital, is known for its cool weather and beauty. The ship sponsored two trips to Baguio for the crew.

The SHANG departed May 12 from Subic and we are now conducting air operations in the South China Sea. We are due to pull into Okinawa for two days (where I just missed seeing Pvt. Jim Whorton) and then on to the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong. Next article from Hong Kong, which borders Red China.

Drivers! Stop skidding yourselves.

They have seen it only as a field for exploitation and a source of immediate financial return." —Dr. Hugh H. Bennett.

District cooperator R. L. Pirtle has had old terraces rebuilt on his farm near Draw. Mr. Pirtle feels that to conserve water is to insure a substantial farm income.

"The great bulk of distressed cultural workers are concentrated in regions where the economic resources have been wrecked by erosion and deforestation." —Ward Shepherd.

E. H. West Issues Statement On Race

Statement of E. H. West, to the Voters of Precinct 4:

When I made the statement sometime ago that I would be a candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precincts 4, I did so without anyone twisting my arm. I am asking for your support because I like the job and I want the job. As I see it there is an opening for this job next January 1st. I am simply applying to you, the voters, for that job.

While I have been your Commissioner I have tried to handle the affairs of the precinct and the county to the best of my knowledge and ability.

In the precinct I have tried to use the money we have for road repairs in the best way I knew how. My personal likes or dislikes has never in any way effected any act or decision made by me. Everyone has been treated as nearly the same as possible and I have tried not to slight any part of the precinct. I am human and have made some mistakes, for which I am sorry.

The business of the county has been efficiently handled by your Commissioners Court. While cost of Government at the National and State levels have increased we have managed without any additional money, and the bond issue for Highway 87 right-of-way has been handled without any increase in taxes.

Let's all go vote. We may lose our vote, or the guy we vote for may win and then we won't like it but our voting at least gives us a right to gripe, and the right to gripe is one of our privileges.

Again, I am a candidate for this office because I want and need the job, if I have handled the affairs of this office in such a way as to warrant your vote and support I will greatly appreciate it. If you cannot vote for me let's still be friends. If Heavy wins he will be my Commissioner too.

I will try to see everyone before July 28th. If I don't see you personally its no sign I would not appreciate your support in the coming election. Thank You.

—E. H. West

LOOK...a FORD with Air Conditioning costs less than many medium-priced cars without it!

Depend on Ford to find a way to bring air conditioning within reach of nearly every new car buyer

If you ever have said, "Some day I'm going to own a car with air conditioning..." here is the most welcome news in a long while: A comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices shows that a 58 Ford with air conditioning costs less than many medium-priced cars without it!

So why wait?
Your Ford Dealer is ready now to show you just how pleasant... how comfortable... how fatigue-free your summer driving can be in an air-conditioned Ford. No matter how high the temperature soars, you'll ride cool and comfy as an arctic polar bear!

Something else you'll appreciate almost as much as Ford's air conditioning is its spirited performance. Ford offers you a Thunderbird-powered V-8 engine that is new from oil pan up... new from machined combustion chambers to silent-working hydraulic valve lifters. It's the Thunderbird's own V-8 so naturally it gives the Thunderbird's own special brand of V-8 speed—up to 300 horsepower—worth of it!

Just team this V-8 with Ford's all-new Cruise-O-Matic Drive transmission and you'll get as much as 15% better gas mileage. It's like getting back 15¢ on every gas dollar!

So add it all up: low-cost air conditioning, Thunderbird CO. thrifty operation. Can any other car offer you so much real value? Then why not see your Ford Dealer today? He'll show you how to stop perspiring and start living!

There's Thunderbird magic in every FORD PROVED AND APPROVED AROUND THE WORLD
