Miss DaOnne Vickers and John Curry United in Marriage Here Saturday

Before an arch of emerald foliage, white gladioli and pink satin ribbons lighted by cathedral tapers in candelabra Miss DaOnne Vickers joined John Dwayne Curry at the altar of the First Baptist Church Saturday afternoon to exchange double ring wedding vows.

The Rev. D. W. Copeland, pastor of the Wells Baptist Church heard the recital of vows at 4:30 p. m.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Vickers; O'Donnell. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elzora Curry.

Mrs. Carr Sprayberry, organist, played traditional marches and vocal accompaniments. Miss Marilyn Cannack and Mrs. Gordon Smith sang "Because," "Always" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin featuring long petal-point sleeves and a V-neckline edged with folds of tulle. Iridescent sequins enhanced the neckline. The ruffled net and tulle skirt was banded by appliqued lace. The bride's illusion veil fell to fingertip length from a lace cap studded with pearls and sequins, and she carried a cascade of white feathered chrysanthemums centered by an orchid.

Mrs. Wesley Dabney, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor, and Miss Margie Curry, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore pink net and taffeta dresses accented by wide pink cummerbunds which formed bows in bustle effects, at the backs. The attendant's circular veils were held by pink net headpieces with pearl accents, and they carried nosegays of pink pom-pom mums with pink maline and pink satin streamers.

The bridegroom's brother, Wiley Lee Curry, assumed duties as best man. Ushering duties were performed by Joe Brooks, John Foster, Wesley Dabney and Harlan Cook Jr. of Lubbock, cousin of the bridegroom.

The ensuing reception was in Fellowship Hall. Assisting in hospitalities were Mrs. Alton Kelly, Miss Ann Davidson and Mrs. Wiley Lee Curry. Covered with white lace over pink, the serving table held a wedding cake, crystal appointments and centerpiece of pink pom-pom mums.

After a trip to New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Tahoka where Curry is engaged in farming. He graduated from Tahoka High School and attended Texas A & M College.

Mrs. Curry is a graduate of O'Donnell High School and attended Draughon's Business College.

ELMER BLANKENSHIP

Many of you hunt doves or know people who do during the coming dove season. Olan Dillon, Soil Conservation Service Biologist, is studying the food habits of doves and their relationship to land management. He would like your assistance in the collection of dove crop contents to further the study. Keep the contents of each crop separate by wrapping it in a paper towel or a piece of newspaper. Do not put several crops together as the material is useless. Do not put the crop contents in anything but paper that will allow the seeds to dry. Do not use wax paper or plastic bags.

Please include the following information:

1. Date killed.
 2. Species killed.
 3. What part of Lynn County.
 4. Any other information you may want to tie them back to the area where killed.
- You may leave the crop contents at Tahoka Texaco service station operated by Reed Parker or mail them to S.C.S., P. O. Box 328, Tahoka, Texas. Any assistance given in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Prussic Acid Poisoning
Several cases of prussic acid poisoning of cattle and sheep grazing on Sorghum Alnum and other sorghums have been reported over the state this year. Nearly all cases can, however, be traced to an unfortunate lack of caution or understanding on the part of the stockman.

Most all sorghums contain, at certain times, large amounts of prussic acid. Although there are antidotes for the poisoning, the period between evidence of symptoms and death of the livestock is so brief that the average stockman hardly would have time to administer the needed dosage.

Range experts advise extreme caution as the best method to combat the problem.

1. Begin with short grazing periods with strict supervision over livestock.

2. Allow only two or three head of livestock to graze maintaining close observation of the animals.

3. Make certain cattle going on green pastures have a full paunch so an excessive amount of green feed will not be taken at first by the grazing animals.

Research has shown that the prussic acid content of sorghum is highest during the first 12 to 26 inches of growth of the grass. Then the acid content takes a sudden decline. (This is opposite from Johnson Grass in which the acid content rises with growth of the grass.)

Range men advise waiting until the sorghum is 24 to 26 inches tall before grazing it, and even then caution is needed, especially if livestock are in rather poor condition. The prussic acid content of sorghum also is raised when there is a disturbance of growth,

Pvt. Chas. Schneider In Anti-Air-Craft

Pasadena, Md. (AHTNC)—Army Pvt. Charles V. Schneider, whose wife, Betty, lives at 935 W. Lynn St., Slaton, Texas, recently was assigned to the 38th Anti-aircraft Artillery Missile Battalion in Pasadena, Md.

Schneider, a radar operator in the battalion's Battery C, entered the Army last April and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

The 23-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Schneider, Route 2, Wilson, formerly worked for the Modern Chevrolet Company in Lubbock. He attended Slaton High School.

Mrs. Casper of Waco, mother of the late Billy Tong, has been here visiting the R. E. Lees and other friends.

such as an extended drouth period followed by rains which cause growth to resume. The content also is raised in sorghums at frost. Plants killed by frost generally have high prussic acid content for seven or eight days and during this period it is not advisable to graze livestock.

Catholic Church Policy

The National Catholic Rural Life Conference this summer adopted the following Soil and water conservation policy.

"It has been amply demonstrated that wise stewardship of our soil and water resources is essential to the physical and moral well-being of our people. It is, furthermore, a sacred obligation of each generation to care for and improve the heritage which must provide food and fiber for the future as well as for today.

"It has been demonstrated in ed that joint action and leadership of local people is essential if soil and water conservation activities are to be sound and effective and fully responsive to the needs and wishes of local people.

"It has been demonstrated in many ways throughout our land that an active soil and water conservation program with leadership, locally directed soil conservation districts, is a necessary and vital force for maintaining the integrity and stability both of our rural people and of our basic resources.

"The National Catholic Rural Life Conference, therefore, reiterates its fullest support for soil conservation districts, and commends those districts for their great contribution to the moral and physical welfare of our country through their program of self-government, conservation and development. We urge the governing bodies of soil conservation districts to use every effort possible to increase permanent conservation practices such as terracing, contour strips, denton dam, and reforestation."

Lipstick and Conservation
Scientists say three trillion gallons of water are wasted into thin air every year in the arid southwest. They're stopping this waste, experimentally, on a 1,000 acre lake near Denver, with an ingredient of lipstick—hexadecanol. The researchers are cutting evaporation as much as 50 percent on semi-quiet days with about thirty cents worth of the chemical—one-half pound.

Old before its time?

Just like people, a tire can get old before its time.

For example, the life of a tire may be shortened as much as 25% merely as a result of chronic under-inflation. Over-inflation is bad, too.

Best way to avoid premature aging of your tires is to let your Phillips 66 Dealer take care of them for you. He'll check them frequently, make sure they're properly inflated, and repair them if necessary. And, if a tire becomes unsafe, he can provide a new and dependable Phillips 66 Action-Tread Tubeless Tire.

Drive in at any station where you see the orange and black Phillips 66 Shield.

DEPENDABILITY of ELECTRIC home freezers proven by Texas Panhandle's first upright model—still giving faithful everyday service after 12 years!

OWNED BY Mrs. John Detton, ROUTE 3, AMARILLO, TEXAS

Ever look into the bright, expectant faces of hungry children eagerly awaiting a freshly-baked cookie? Or see the downcast, disappointed look that only kids can show when the cookie supply is "all out?" Mrs. Detton knows that look—that's one reason she's so pleased with her electric home freezer. She bakes large supplies of cookies, in advance—then freezes 'em.

The happy faces of her grandchildren stay happy because Grandmother Detton just never runs out. She's always good for a fresh cookie, thanks to her electric home freezer—the first upright model in the Panhandle of Texas.

Coach Praises Football Aims

Coach Bill Haralson was the speaker at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

The first portion of his talk dealt with the subject, "Is Football a Dangerous Sport," and in the second part he reviewed the Bulldogs prospects for this year.

According to National Safety Council figures, he said, in the age group 15 to 24, 345 are injured in car accidents to 3 in football. Drowning is 21 times more likely, and injury with firearms is 20 times more dangerous. Never one to mince words, Bill said he had much rather take a chance on his boy being hurt in football than to take the chance of him racing a "hot-rod" or car around town.

In answer to the question, "Will my grades suffer if I play football," he cited the fact that 90 percent of the Tahoka athletes rank in the top 30 percent scholastically. It is true that a boy who participates in school athletics must learn to budget his time and to give up some of the things in which other students participate in order to make good grades.

He said the students' grades suffer not because of football but because of either lack of interest, lack of ability, or lack of time. "If a boy doesn't have enough intelligence to pass his grades, he does not have enough to play football," he declared.

He thinks the advantages offered by sports outweigh the advantages of a boy having a car and spending money.

Listing some of the values of sports participation, he said much competition teaches the youth to face crises, to brush up against tough going and to learn to meet tough situations, because he will find going tough at times in his normal living later on. Athletes build character, and it takes character to be an athlete. For this reason, he emphasizes character building on and off the field.

Why is so much emphasis placed on winning? He says the boy needs to learn to win and to want to win, because he will have to want to win to be a success in life. He must strive to the utmost to reach his maximum possibility.

The coach declared this year's football team will have a little more experience that last year's, although it will not be deep in reserve strength. The boys have the right attitude, and he expects a fine effort. Average weight is good, but the team lacks speed.

Coaches Deane Wright and Tom Bartley were also guests.

The program was arranged and introduced by A. M. Bray.

Mrs. Sue Carpenter Hudman, introduced by President Otis Spears as a graduate of the Tahoka schools, was present and told of the Blanco Canyon Cavalcade being held at Crosbyton, where she now lives, being held Sept. 8, 9, and 10. A number of Rotarians bought tickets to the event.

Mrs. Spears announced the annual Rotary Ann-Teacher banquet will be held Thursday night, Sept. 18.

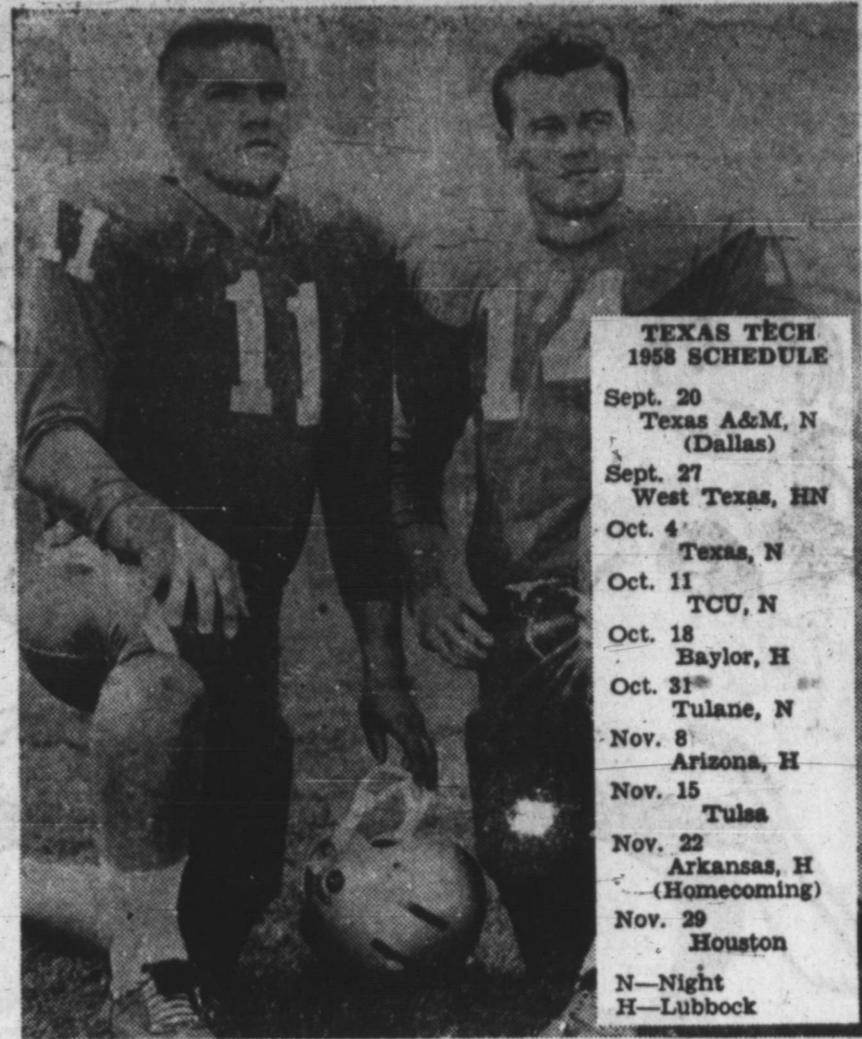

NEW HOME AT SEAGRAVES

New Home Leopards filled a last minute open date this week, and will open the season at Seagraves with the potentially tough Eagles. Seagraves had an opening date with Morton Indians, but the latter canceled the game.

Coach Hubert Williams of New Home reports his boys in good shape and working hard. They know they have an uphill battle, but expect to give their best.

NEW HOME SCHOOL OPENS

Supt. C. O. Head of New Home Schools states that 305 students were enrolled there through Wednesday. Everything was running smoothly and on schedule, and he said he was looking forward to a fine school year.

WILSON OPENS SEASON

Wilson Mustangs open the 1956 football season tonight at Frenship with the Tigers, always a tough team to beat, especially on their home field.

Coach "Sonny" Watkins has a bunch of inexperienced boys, but he has been working hard to round them into shape. He hopes to have a pretty fair ball club by the time he hits the conference schedule in October.

Rehabilitation is not just a physical thing at Warm Springs. The handicapped are given the psychological guidance to help adjust to a new life. Schooling is provided of children. Church services for all denominations are held in the Wheel Chair Chapel. Only at Warm Springs is this comprehensive treatment available to all Texans regardless of their race, creed or ability to pay. Join the March to keep the doors open.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson

The Book Divine

The Bible, as no other book, has been meat and drink to English speaking people," says Frank Glenn Lankford in an article in the Christian Advocate entitled "The Bible and the Home." Nicholas Murry Butler of Columbia University has said, "Without the Bible it is impossible to understand the literature of the English language from Chaucer to Browning." Professor Albert S. Cook, of Yale, has added; "No other book has so penetrated and permeated the hearts and speech of the English race."

The King James version of 1611 is classic English prose and has been the voice of God to countless millions in the English speaking world. Fredrick W. Faber, the famous hymn writer, said of this version, "It lives on the ear like a music that can never be forgotten, like the sound of church bells, which the convert scarcely knows how he can forego. Its felicities seem often to be almost things rather than words. It is part of the national mind, and the anchor of our national seriousness." John Richard Green, the English historian, said of this version, "England became the people of a book, and that book was the Bible. It was as yet the one English book which was familiar to every Englishman; it was read at the churches and read at home and everywhere its words, as they fell on ears which custom had not deadened, kindled a startling enthusiasm."

Today we have several fine new translations in present-day English that are helpful. The modern language is a new window through which to view an old landscape and many objects of rare beauty became clear that were obscured in the fog of old time words. The writer recognizes this and has these at his disposal in study but the classic authorized version of solemn dignity. 1611 is our choice for beauty and it has been estimated that there are more than 5,000 references to the Bible in Ruskin's works, and it has been said that he knew the Bible almost by heart.

New Farm Bill Complicated Year Or Two—Then Picture In Focus

(The Cotton Digest)
 The New Farm Bill that was passed scarcely 10 days ago was actually more in the nature of a temporary compromise for a year or two than a long-range farm plan. But it had to be this to stop Secretary Benson's threat to reduce acreage to the rock bottom figure he could have called for—and it had to be passed to lower the price of cotton going into government hands by the "loan" method. The major provisions pertaining to the production and marketing of cotton are:

- (1) A minimum national upland cotton acreage allotment of 16,000,000 acres is established for 1958 and subsequent crops. In addition, there is a national acreage reserve of 310,000 acres that will be apportioned to small farmers to maintain minimum farm allotments.
- (2) For 1959 and 1960, cotton farmers will be offered a choice between two plans for upland cotton. Choice "A" provides that the level of price support and farm acreage allotments be determined pursuant to Sections 101 and 344 of the 1938 AAA Act as amended. This is the same method used for the past few years except that for 1959 the support price will be not less than 80 percent of parity and for 1960 the support will be not less than 75 percent of parity. Choice "B" permits farm acreage allotments to be increased up to 40 percent, leaving the exact percentage to the secretary, with the price support set at 15 parity points lower than the Choice "A" level.
- (3) Price support for the 1959 and 1960 crops will be made available through a purchase program to Choice "A" farmers and through loans, purchases and other operations to Choice "B" farmers.
- (4) Beginning in 1959, the CCC will establish separate premiums and discounts for standard grades and split grades of upland cotton.
- (5) The Secretary of Agriculture will determine not later than January 31 each year the price support levels for Choice "A" and Choice "B" and these supports will not be subject to adjustment later in the year.
- (6) The secretary of agriculture is required to notify each farm operator of the alternative levels or price support and alternative acreage allotments available for his farm.
- (7) Beginning in 1961 the "supply percentage formula for determining level of price supports will no longer be in effect and the secretary will set supports as he determines appropriate after considering supply-demand factors between 70 and 90 percent of parity.
- (8) In 1961 and subsequent crops, the base quality for parity and price support purposes will be changed from middling 7-8 inch to "the average of the crop."
- (9) Beginning August 1, 1960 and ending July 31, 1961, the CCC will offer cotton owned by it for sale for unrestricted use at not less than 10 per cent above the current level of price support prescribed in Choice "B".
- (10) On August 1, 1961, the minimum CCC sales prices for unrestricted use are to be set at 115 percent of the support price plus reasonable carrying charges, except that the CCC is authorized to sell at the current market price a quantity of cotton from its inventory equal to the amount by which the national marketing quota is less than estimated domestic consumption and exports.

WHEW! WE WOULD HATE TO HAVE TO EXPLAIN this farm program on a street corner to some puzzled farmer. It looks as if the first year or two of the program would take a Philadelphia lawyer to explain, but the program after 1960 is not as complicated, as you can see from the above. As for establishing a theoretical price, the CCC will offer to purchase all Choice "A" cotton (as a means of supporting it) at the support level, say 80 percent for the sake of argument. The CCC will offer this cotton then for sale to any buyers for unrestricted use at home or abroad at not less than 10 percent above the Choice "B" support price. This would be 10 percent more

Today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life. (Psalm 27:4.)

At first sight this seems a strange request, even to a devout Christian. What does this verse of Scripture mean? Does it mean that the temple is a kind of hotel where he can live all the time? Or is it the cry of a tired man who longs for a cloistered life?

Neither! The psalmist is thinking of the Temple in Jerusalem as the symbol of the highest things in life. He is expressing the desire that all he has learned from worship in the Temple may be retained in the ordinary affairs of living.

It is as though he had a picture in his mind of oriental hospitality, in which the sheik is the friend of the traveler, giving him refreshment after the day's journey and rest before resuming his journey. That is how he thinks of the Temple.

Our Sunday worship should be able to stand the test of Monday morning.

PRAYER

O God, our Father in heaven teach us to worship Thee in such a way that it may be a means of strength and blessing in all we undertake. May the calm and peace of Thy house be present with us this day in whatever we may do and wherever we may go. In the Master's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
May we take the love of our Lord out into the world.

—Raymond W. Fenn (Canada)

Pat Polk was dismissed from the hospital Monday after being treated for poison he received while filling a tank of an airplane belonging to Sammy Fridmore. As Pat was filling the tank the hose came off and the poison blew into his face.

If you were paralyzed from the waist down, could you afford to pay $30.00 a day for nine months to learn to walk again? That is the average cost and time required. Warm Springs is dedicated to providing comprehensive rehabilitation for all who need it, regardless of their ability to pay. Keeping this hospital open is good insurance against the day your family may need help you cannot afford. Give to Warm Springs, Box 58, Gonzales, Texas.
