Vandals Destroy Greens At Club

Scores of Tahoka people are mad this week because of the depredation of vandals Sunday night at T-Bar-Country Club.

Three of the expensive greens, which take months to develop, were almost completely ruined and a fourth was badly damaged by some hoodlums who apparently drove a tractor belonging to the club around and around the greens' surface. Deep indentions were made and the turf torn up.

Greens numbers two, three and nine were almost completely ruined and number one was badly damaged. Torn up turf has already been put back in place but it is very doubtful that it will live and level out. A golf green is made from a special grass with a special base of soils and sands and peat-moss and must be almost as level as a pool table.

The one hundred club members and their families were sickened by the sight after having developed one of the better small town golf courses in this area for some sort of recreation for the people of the town and county.

The club had been built up from scratch with limited finances, and many members had personally put in hours of labor in developing and caring for the course. Members of the greens committee say it will possibly take a year or more to get the greens back in good shape, and the actual loss is estimated to run to from $2,000 to $5,000.

The hoodlums who tore up the greens are believed to be some boys, some of whom have been seen at the club or its vicinity.

Club members are at a loss as to what to do, but are considering bringing in a greens expert and possibly having new sod shipped in to patch up the damage, a very expensive proposition.

This is probably just another case of parents not knowing what their "younguns" are doing with the family car or pickup when out at night.

E. I. Hill, 83, editor of The Lynn County News for 35 years, died Christmas day at about 9:00 p. m. at his home here after an illness of about six months. He had retired from active work eight years ago.

Although he had been steadily declining because of infirmities of age, he knew everyone until a few minutes before death, was in good spirits, and had no pain. Funeral services were held Saturday at 2:00 p. m. in the First Baptist Church, the church he loved so well as a member for these 35 years, where he had served as Sunday School teacher, deacon, trustee, and president of the Brotherhood. Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, read the Scripture and offered prayer. A beautiful eulogy was presented by another former pastor and long time friend, Rev. George A. Dale of Lubbock. ### Mrs. Hall Robinson Is Seriously Ill

Mr. Hall (Ethel) Robinson, the owner of Robinson Ready-to-Wear and one of the real pioneers of Lynn county, suffered a light stroke shortly after noon Monday and is a patient in Tahoka Hospital "doing as well as can be expected." Her condition is serious, but she is said to have a good chance to recover.

She is partially paralyzed in her left arm and leg, but she is able to talk. A specialist from Lubbock was here to see her Tuesday.

Mrs. Robinson came to Lynn county as a child before the turn of the century when her mother married the late Jack Alley, then operating the Tahoka Lake Ranch. Her husband and son, Jack A. own Lynn County Tractor Co.

Rev. and Mrs. Howard Hollowell, formerly of O'Donnell and well known here, spent Tuesday until Thursday with their close friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hagood. Rev. Hollowell is pastor of Laurel Heights Methodist Church in San Antonio, and owns a farm near Brownfield.

E. S. Brown, 90, Dies Suddenly

E. S. Brown, 90, a leading citizen of Lynn county for many years, died suddenly at his home near New Home Saturday afternoon at about 2:45 p. m.

Except for the infirmity of age, he had been in good health, although he had not been feeling well that morning. He had just laid down on the bed and was suddenly stricken and died within a few moments. At home with him at the time were his son, Dewey, and a grandson, Terry Brown.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2:00 p. m. in the New Home Church of Christ with Lewis Garnett of Lubbock and Roger Turner, New Home minister, officiating. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Stanley Funeral Home.

Edward Seymour Brown was born near Somerset, Kentucky, on December 16, 1868. He came to Texas as a young man of 19, settling near McKinney. There he met Miss Hulda Lee, to whom he was married on December 15, 1890.

The couple later moved out to Taylor county and lived at Hamby, near Abilene, and later at Clyde, before coming to Lynn county in 1917.

Mr. Brown farmed nine miles east of Tahoka, in the old Magnolia school district, until 1945, when he and his wife moved to New Home. Mrs. Brown died in September, 1947, and was buried in Tahoka Cemetery.

He had long been an active and faithful member of the Church of Christ. A well-read man with no small degree of self-education, he had a great knowledge in several fields. He was a student of the Bible, took much interest in politics as a good citizen, was a booster for his community, county, state, and country. Among his varied interests included following of sports, particularly baseball, in which he had a deep interest until his death. Lynn county had no finer citizen, and this newspaper had no more loyal subscriber and supporter.

By coincidence, one of Mr. Brown's greatest admirers was E. I. Hill, editor of The News, who had died two days previously.

Survivors include four sons, Lloyd, Dewey and Claude, all of New Home, and Bryan of San Diego, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. R. J. Meloney of Lubbock, Mrs. B. W. Bluff of Fort Worth, 18 grandchildren and 31 great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Gurley and little son are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Gurley. They spent Christmas in Dallas with her folks. He is basketball coach at Colorado City. He has good prospects this year, having lost only two games in the pre-Christmas schedule, one of which was to Abilene by one point.

Mrs. Pearl Elam, who has been a patient in the hospital several weeks, is still considered to be in very critical condition.

New Lynn county officials were sworn into office Thursday morning at the court house in brief ceremonies.

C. W. Roberts of Grassland became county clerk, succeeding Mrs. Beulah Pridmore. Mr. Roberts is a former county commissioner, farmer and gin bookkeeper. For the past month, he has been working in the office to become acquainted with the duties before actually taking office.

Mrs. Pridmore, clerk for ten years, has her plans made to remain here, but can not announce them at this time.

L. K. (Heavy) Nelson, a long-time resident of Lynn county who has been working for the county for several years in Precinct 4, is the new commissioner, from that precinct. He succeeds E. H. West, who has moved to town, rented out his farm, and will try to take life a little easier for a while.

Another relatively new official is Mrs. Ola Reid, appointed to the office of county treasurer following the Democratic Primary on the death of her husband, Thomas Reid, incumbent, and later certified by the Lynn County Democratic Committee and elected to the office in the General election.

Beginning new four year terms are present incumbents, County Judge Walter M. Mathis, District Clerk W. S. Taylor, County School Superintendent Mrs. Ruth Jolly, Tahoka Justice of the Peace C. A. Clem, and O'Donnell Justice of the Peace Horace Brunette.

All other officers, elected two years ago, are serving four year terms and will not be up for election again until 1960.

Mrs. Pridmore gave the oath of office to all the Lynn county officials.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson

The joys derived from life's promises are great. When we were children the anxious dreams of Santa Claus were almost as sweet as receiving the actual gifts. The old swimming hole was enjoyed long before the eager lads plunged into its sparkling waters. The coming of the circus brought joy for days before the parade swung down the street to the vacant block made glorious by some strange magic.

The promises of life bring great joy in anticipation. Many great blessings are long in the realization. A new home is often an air castle many years before it is at last translated into brick and stone. The college training which took long hours of toil brings rich rewards as the student advances toward the final goal.

Paul, in a letter to Timothy, speaks of the "promise of life which is in Christ Jesus." Men have found untold joy in His way of life. He held out to mankind the blessings of peace and security of men would but follow Him in the path of brotherhood. It is

THE FANTASTIC STORY of MUSA-SHIYA THE SHIRTMAKER

(Also Sometimes Drygoods Selling)

If the shipping department of a factory had not made an error, the world would never have known of Musa-shiya the Shirtmaker and the most astounding advertising campaign in history would never have been launched.

Following World War I an English textile factory was getting back on a peacetime basis. In error it sent a full five year backorder of shirting material to Musa-shiya, a Japanese shirtmaker who operated a small shop in Honolulu. Business was poor and Musa-shiya was near bankruptcy; when the customs office informed him that certain bales of cloth and a fat bill for duties awaited his pleasure at the port of Honolulu.

When the little shirtmaker realized what had descended upon him, he asked for time and went into the silence for purpose of mental refreshment. Remembering a friend in a big mercantile establishment, he hid himself there and sought counsel. How in the name of the horned prophet of evil was he ever to get rid of all that English shirting? And in the meantime where was he to put it? His little box of a shop wouldn't hold one bale.

"You'll have to advertise," advised his friend. "Leave it to me, I'll have our advertising agents help you out."

This merely compounded the little Japanese shirtmaker's troubles. Advertising to him was an uncharted sea. The advertising agent called on Musa-shiya and suggested $300 as a modest starter. "Too-o-o much. Maybe I think thirty dollar plenty," said the shirtmaker. He was told that wouldn't even get him in print. The agent explained the costs of various advertisements and finally Musa-shiya agreed to try the plan and what was destined to be the most astounding and far reaching campaign in the history of advertising was launched.

Two column by five inch ads then started appearing regularly in the Saturday Honolulu Star-Bulletin. The ads were written just the way Musa-shiya talked—in colorful pidgin English which is used throughout the Orient. Here is an example of one of Musa-shiya's ads:

"Well here come storek again—but Musa-shiya, the shirtmaker, is able prepare. Wonderful accumulation of baby things in dry goods selling corner of Musa shop. Everything for the baby—especially diaper. Exclusive of storek, which find most easily, many persons not finding little shop of Musa-shiya the shirtmaker in King Street, Makai side, between fish market and river."

Tourists started sending copies of Musa-shiya's ads to their friends in many countries. Soon Musa-shiya was receiving orders from all over the world as well as doing a thriving business in Hawaii.

And that is the story of how a well planned, small advertising campaign made an unknown Japanese shirtmaker not only wealthy but world famous.

Your local newspaper doesn't promise to duplicate this story for its advertisers, but it does take your sales message into the homes of your customers where full and careful consideration is given your suggestions. Who knows, perhaps you too can be a Musa-shiya.

THE FOUNDATION OF THE CHURCH
Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjonah: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father who is in heaven. And I also say unto thee, that thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church: and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it." Matt. 16:13-18.

This language shows that the church was not built upon Peter, but upon the great truth that he had just spoken. After Peter had confessed his faith in the divine sonship of Jesus, Jesus said unto him, "Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-jonah: for flesh and blood not revealed in unto thee, but my Father who is in heaven. And I also say unto thee, that thou (second person) art Peter (PETROS, masculine gender for STONE), and upon this (third person) rock (PETRA, feminine gender for BED-ROCK) I will build my church." Peter was a stone, but the grand truth he had just confessed was the bed-rock. There is a vast difference between a stone and a bed-rock. The church of Christ was built upon the divine nature of Jesus (the bed-rock).

Peter understood that the church was built upon Jesus Christ. Read his statements in Acts 4:10-11; 1 Pet. 2:3-7. Paul further stated that Jesus Christ was the foundation of the church and that there could be no other foundation laid for the true church. 1 Cor. 3:11.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

P. T. Barnum once said there is a sucker born every second. Whether or not this observation is true, it would seem that many of the so-called "discount" stores operating in the nation believe in this premise.

For example, there are some that operate under a name composed of a series of letters which appears that it is some branch of the U. S. government.

Then, in big type, they advertise the public cannot buy at this store and take advantage of prices "as much as 50% under."

In fact, they make it quite plain that only veterans and their families, city, county, state and federal employees and their families, and people drawing social security benefits, can make advantage of the tremendous "bar-gains." With all the veterans of the Spanish-American, World War I, World War II and Korea around plus their families, in addition to the other categories, there's not many people who "can't trade at these stores."

Of course, part of the elaborate build up is the fact that there is usually available a few items of standard, well known brands, at marked down prices. But the standard merchandise is usually heavily over-weighted by the volume of cheap goods, much of it imported.

Thus the break down of Fair Trade laws in many states have given rise to all manner of devious merchandising schemes, which not only gives the consumers erroneous ideas, but have contributed largely to the present recession in manufacturing.

To combat this Senators Robert Humphrey and William Proxmire have introduced a bill which would set up a federal system of fair trade competition.

Senator Proxmire, with Senators Russell Long and Wayne Morse have also introduced a bill which would make it illegal for any merchant to sell at less than his delivered cost which would include his invoice cost, less any discounts, plus freight and applicable taxes.

This bill is destined to create a great deal of discussion, because it has now become evident to many national leaders that unrestricted "jungle warfare" in the nation's market places is leading to ruin.

In addition, unbridled vicious competition which seeks only to bankrupt a competitor can only end in victory for the heavily financed aggressor.

And while seemingly, the consumer benefits by the lower prices such ruthless warfare brings about, in the long run the consumer loses.

Because when one heavily financed giant is able to force to the wall all of its competition, there is no restraint on the prices the newly-created monopoly can and will charge.

In fact, prices are then loaded up to make up losses incurred while killing competition.

Thus, there seems but little question that it is proper for Congress to make sure that there is some measure of decency in the market place.

Obviously, a nation that sits by and permits a few heavily financed operations take over all commerce will eventually offer its citizens no more than Russia offers its unfortunate citizens.

By Laura Bowman
Count: H. D. Agent
As the clock struck 12 midnight, January 31, a new year came into being. "This year I'll do a lot of things different!" we tell ourselves. Even if we succeed in changing five out of twenty on the list, we've accomplished a great deal. At any rate, a self-inventory is well worth while.

When starting a new year, we like a preview of what to expect. These family living prospects for 1959 are not merely predictions but are indications of what to come.

There will be some slight "ups" and "downs" in costs of goods and services available to families this year, according to outlook reports. An expected slight decline in food prices should offset the possible continued rise in some of the services such as medical care.

For many families, however, there will be increased expenditures this year as the war and post-war babies grow up. These families are now in—or are entering upon—the most expensive phase of their family cycle. Even if college is not in the family plans, they can still expect greater expenditure for food, clothing, housing upkeep, transportation and personal care. Better family planning can help stretch family dollars to cover needy items, according to extension home management specialists.

The food outlook is expected to be abundant and varied in 1959. Lower prices for meat, vegetables and fruits may reduce the retail food price index slightly. New forms and types of foods will continue to appear on grocery shelves. Potato flakes for mashed potatoes, dehydro-frozen fruits and vegetables and fruit juice powders are among the newer items.

Continued increases in the employment of married women appear to be likely. Many questions can be raised about the effects of the employment of women on family living.

There is evidence that the recent slight decline in outstanding consumer installment credit has been reversed. This may indicate that more consumers are now ready to make purchases of autos and household durable goods than during 1958.

With reduced farm income forecast, however, it is not likely that farm families will participate in the upturn to the same degree as nonfarm families.

Doing a job in less time does not mean working harder or faster to get it done, but leaving out unnecessary motions and trips, say extension home management specialists. To learn to shorten the hours requires interest and effort. Observe your body motions, your trips in doing a job and make a plan to make better use of body positions and movements. By "seeing" a job through from its beginning to end, many details can be omitted and jobs can be combined.

Work areas and equipment well chosen, arranged and used reduce energy and time spent on jobs.

A sure way to make your work easier and faster is to organize work centers, arrange everything within easy reach, become skilled at the job, use the best tool for the job, keep a comfortable position, wear comfortable clothing and make a rest break at intervals to keep up energy and morale.

Immediately following the Christmas Season, we have that "over-stuffed" feeling caused by over-eating—but didn't we enjoy it! Most of us, for one reason or another, desire low-calorie foods. Fruits, vegetables, cottage cheese and lean meats are cited as examples. All are makings of good meals, and not necessarily fattening ones.

Remember that you add value to these foods when you dress them up with mayonnaise, whipped cream, gravy, rich sauces or other fats or sugars. Specialists suggest weight watchers use spices to season vegetables instead of rich cream sauce, butter or margarine. Use a little salt and vinegar or lemon juice on your green-salad instead of salad dressing. Or use a low-calorie dressing. Each table.

Farmers Must File Returns

Farmers must file income tax returns to report self-employment income for social security purposes, even though they have no income tax to pay.

According to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock district social security office, any farmer who has a net profit of $400 or more in his tax year must file an income tax return to show income taxable under the Social Security Act.

Mr. Hutton emphasized that tax returns showing income subject to social security tax must also show the taxpayer's name, address, and social security number. When any of these items are omitted, the taxpayer might not get social security credit for the income on which he paid the tax. Since future social security benefits are computed on reported earnings, omission of identifying information on the tax return can seriously reduce a future social security benefit paid to self-employed person, Hutton said.

Farmers who save less than $400 net farm profit, but who have $600 or more gross farm income can report earnings toward social security coverage. If the gross income is not over $1800, 2-3 of the gross can be reported if greater than the true net if the farmer wishes to increase his future benefit payment. Also, if a farmer's gross farm income is more than $1800, but the net is less than $1200, he may, if he wishes, report $1200.

Raw fruit is always a wise choice for dessert. Have an apple or an orange at 75 calories, a half grapefruit for 45. Choose apple pie or a piece of cake and you get approximately 350 calories.

Remember that daily meals should include the basic foods necessary for good health—milk, meat, fruits, vegetables, cereals and breads. Go slow on pastries, candies, fats, salad dressings, and rich sauces when you need to cut calories.

Farm income of farm land owners who lease out their land to someone else is covered by social security only if they participate materially in the management or production of the crop by arrangement with the lessee. Farm landlords who are not sure their income is covered by social security should consult their local security office, Hutton said.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Tahoka on Jan. 6, 1959 at 9:00 a. m. at the courthouse and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

Mr. and Mrs. Deck Dunagan spent Christmas at their cabin in the mountains a Ruidoso.

Holiday visitors in the home of Mrs. Loyce Fleming were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Laylan McMahan, Deborah and Kimberley of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Fleming, Thaci and Dannie of Ropesville.

Charlene Riddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Riddle, visited her parents and other relatives over the holiday. She is a sophomore at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY... Economically!

Aye, lads and lassies, your pennies are still big money electrically. One penny will give you a full hour of television entertainment. One penny will play at least 50 top tunes on your hi-fi. One penny will fry two dozen eggs in an electric fry pan. One penny will toast 30 slices of bread and another penny will brew 20 cups of coffee. One penny will milk 12 cows and another one will lift 2 1/2 tons of grain. My average residential customer pays me less than 23c a day in wages, and my average hourly wage for working in your home, or on your farm, is 20% LESS than it was 10 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Redwine and son, Vernon Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. John Fulford, spent Christmas in Lafayette, Indiana, with their son, brother, and grandson, John Ed Redwin. They greatly enjoyed the trip but think they like Texas better.

John Ed is with General Telephone Co. in a line of work he likes very much, installing dial telephones.

Mrs. Redwine (Donnie) was a little disturbed over the fact that John Ed has met and is "very friendly" with a very cute little girl.

Warrant Officer Cecil (Seabiscuit) Carraway of the U. S. Army and his wife and two daughters visited here during the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carraway.

He is now stationed at El Paso, where he is an electronics warfare officer, and is making the Army a career. After attending college at Sul Ross and Southwest Texas State College, he coached several years at Odessa before entering the Army.

He is a former Tahoka Bulldog, graduating here in 1944, and was lamenting the fact Tahoka has not had a winning team the past couple of years in football.

Cody Bragg and two sons, Buddy from Borger and Jimmy from the West Point community, left Friday morning for San Marcos to visit with relatives and to do some deer hunting.

Concrete pipelines are being installed on the R. W. Overstreet farm near Petty and the Ellis Barnes farm near O'Donnell.

New terraces are being built and the old terraces are being rebuilt for Charles Brookshire, Charles farms a half-section near Grassland.

Robert Lusk is planning a terrace system on his farm near Grassland. A system of waterways will be designed to carry excess water.

Terraces have been built for Anton Mueller. His system is a part of an overall basic conservation plan. Mr. Mueller also plans a crop rotation system to include cover crops, soil improving crops, grain sorghum, and cotton.

Soil samples were taken for Jimmy Williams last week. Jimmy plans to fertilize the irrigated land on the quarter he just recently rented. The soil samples were sent to College Station for analysis. Jimmy feels that for correct fertilization it is necessary to get a close estimate of each individual deficiency.

Jack Miller, who is farming the Davis farm near Tahoka, is applying 5 tons of chicken manure per acre on approximately 100 acres. Close check will be made on the results of this practice.

A conservation irrigation system is being developed for C. C. Swope on the Velma Pierce farm east of Wilson. Lynn county's first conservation plan was developed for Mr. Swope in January of 1943.

Buy, build, live in Tahoka.

Foreign Students
Send Greetings
Mrs. A. M. Bray, who keeps track with the four foreign students who have been brought to Tahoka during as many summers in the immediate past by Tahoka Rotary Club to spend ten weeks here as guest of the community, has heard from each of them during the Christmas holidays.

The first of these students, Bernard Debonne of Paris, France, who was here during the summer of 1955, is now in the French Navy serving on the Admiral's staff as cipher officer aboard the ship Francis Garnier, based in Noumea, New Caledonia.

He writes that he has visited much of the Pacific, and servicemen may be interested to know that former U. S. bases and airfields at such places as Guadalcanal and Leyte are now completely overgrown with vegetation.

After leaving Tahoka, Bernie attended UCLA at Los Angeles, returned to France and attended Naval officers' training and graduated with the highest honors in a class of about 400. Unless the situation in the French colonies of North Africa become more tense, he expects to receive his discharge from the Navy next October. Incidentally, he is engaged to marry.

Fred Mauhari from Linz, Austria, who was here in the summer of 1956, finished his college work, became assistant manager of one of the largest agricultural stations in Austria, near Vienna. Just recently, he was promoted to manager of the second largest agricultural station in Austria, located just 60 miles from his home town of Linz.

Hans Irriger from Urnasche, Switzerland, who was studying to be a school teacher when he spent the summer of 1957 here, was married in October to a French girl, Nicole, he met in a Lubbock department store while he was in Tahoka. The girl was over here on a similar student visitation project, the two returned to Europe aboard the same ship, fell in love and were later married. He attended school at Sorbonne in Paris, France, to be near his lady-love. The couple now lives in Zurich, Switzerland, where he is teaching and also attending school. He will complete his advanced education this spring.

Joe Tasiaux of Boninne, Belgium, who spent last summer in Tahoka, writes that he has been working very hard on the farm he had his mother and brothers own gathering sugar beets, as labor is very scarce. He expects to marry next May.

Joe writes that he had a wonderful trip back home. En route from Tahoka, he visited New Orleans and Washington, D. C. When he arrived in New York City, he found he had some time left, therefore and some other foreign students rented a car, saw the big city and drove up into New Hampshire. Returning to New York, they were sent to Quebec, Canada, to embark for Europe and got a chance to see that unique city.

All the boys sent best wishes and thanks to the local Rotarians, their families, and all other people they met who were so nice to them on their visits to the United States and Lynn county.
Lynn Carl Halimacek, senior pharmacy student in the University of Texas, wife and baby spent Christmas here with his mother, Mrs. Emma Halimacek and got in some work at Wynne Collier Drug. Lynn expects to complete his course this month.

Read Psalm 118:19-29
This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it. (Psalm 118:24.)

Preparing breakfast one morning, a mother was greeted by her young son, "Good morning, mother, are you happy this morning?"
"Yes, son," she replied.
"Well, then, please notify your father," he said laughingly.

A pastor addressed one of the members of his church as "the lady with the radiant countenance." Then he made the significant observation, "that our faces belong to other people."

In a world so full of fear and anxiety, we still need to rejoice and be glad this New Year's Day—and every day. Even though all is not right in the world, God is still in His heaven and is depending on each of us to help to make this a better world.

In the last message Jesus spoke to His disciples, just a few hours before His betrayal in the garden, He said: "These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full."
"So today, this first day of the Year, let us resolve that during 1959 "we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation."

J. B. Rackler Is Death Victim

The News received more information on Jiss B. Rackler, 65, who passed away Dec. 11 in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock.

Rackler had been confined to the hospital for six weeks having undergone brain surgery. He was born near Murfreesboro, Tenn., and came to Texas with his parents when a small boy. His parents were the late John and Mary Rackler.

His father, having passed away while living in Clay county, Rackler moved with his mother to the Plains in 1925. He lived with his mother until her death in 1934. Later he bought a farm near Motion and farmed until about four years ago. Being unable to operate the farm, he sold out and moved to Lubbock where he lived until his death.

He was converted and joined the Missionary Baptist Church at Hackberry in 1927. At the time of his death he was a member of the Zuni Park Baptist Church, Lubbock. He was a faithful Christian who loved the Lord and his Church and all Christian people.

Funeral services were held at the Zuni Baptist Church and burial was in Southland Cemetery.
One who loved Jiss for his good faithful Christian influence—Mrs. J. F. Rackler.

Mrs. Tom Smith writes that she and her husband are now settled in their home at 2424 21st Street in Lubbock, and think they will like it fine there. They recently sold their farm at Redwine.

E. I. Hill . . .

best friends were members of other denominations. He had served as president of the Chamber of Commerce, president of the Tahoka school board, was a charter member of the Rotary Club, and was active in other affairs of the community. Even after his retirement, he continued to write his "Odds and Ends" column in the News until a year ago.

The Editor was born in Stampede Valley, near Moody, in the extreme northeast corner of Bell county, the son of Francis P. Hill, a cotton farmer and Civil War veteran, and his wife Rachel. He attended Stampede school and church, at the age of 16 passed a teachers' examination and began teaching in the school. He later attended famed old Thomas Arnold High School at Salado, which was also attended by many other Texans later to become prominent in educational and political circles. He majored in Latin and Greek in high school.

After teaching at Stampede, Whitson, and Moffat, he attended the University of Texas School of Law, but did not graduate from that institution. Pat Neff and Tom Connolly were among the friends he made there.

He was married at Moffat May 5, 1901, to Miss Berta Everts, daughter of another Civil War veteran, native Texan, and pioneer Central Texas cattleman. The couple settled in Temple, where he stood the law examination and was admitted to the bar. The late Jim Ferguson, with whose wife the Editor had attended high school, was on the board that passed him for a license to practice law. The Editor later fought the Fergusons politically but they remained personal friends.

He practiced law in Temple until late 1904, when he moved to Belton on being elected county attorney. During the period 1901 to 1909, he was active in the red-hot prohibition campaigns of that county on the side of the "dry" forces.

At the end of his term as county attorney, he moved to West Texas, settling in the new town of Roscoe, on the T&P beginning point of the new Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific railway then building which proposed to extend to the Plains. But, finances of the road failed to materialize in time, and the Santa Fe beat the RS&P from Sweetwater to the Plains, and Roscoe failed to develop into a city.

In order to realize an ambition to write, he bought the Roscoe Times in 1914 from the late Joe Pickle and doubled-up as an editor-lawyer. For the Times he traded 100 acres of a half section of land at Halfway, west of Plainview, which he had bought while living in Belton for $6.00 an acre—a tract not worth possibly fifty times what he originally paid for it.

Meanwhile, his wife and mother of his children taught art and the Editor learned the printing trade in the shop. With all this, living still was a bit hard, as most people living in West Texas during the drought of 1917 and 1918 and World War I will recall, and he ran for and was elected county attorney of Nolan county.

In 1919, he became district attorney of the 32nd Judicial District comprising Nolan, Scurry, Borden, Mitchell, and Howard counties, sold The Times to J. W. King, now of Locaine, and moved to Sweetwater. His district judge was the late W. P. Leslie, who later went to the Court of Civil Appeals.

While at Roscoe and Sweetwater, he had occasion to meet and become friends with such personages as William Jennings Bryan, with whom the present News editor remembers eating dinner at the old Morgan Hotel in Sweetwater on one of his two visits to that city and to sitting spell-bound during two hours-plus of his oration that seemed no longer than 20 minutes even to a young kid.

Governors Thos. M. Campbell and O. B. Colquitt; U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard; Congressmen Smith and Thomas L. Blanton, a colorful figure for many years; Dr. J. B. Sanderfer of Simmons University; William F. Cody, known as "Buffalo Bill"; and others such as Harley Sadler, whose family the Editor had known in Central Texas; Mollie Bailey of circus fame in Texas, and even "Booger Red," Schior and Junior. Some of these were guests in his home along with visiting preachers, which, it seems now, came almost every Sunday and sometimes stayed several days.

In November of 1923, he bought The Lynn County News from R. B. Haynes, now owner of The Miami Chief, trading in the other quarter section of $6.00 land. His son, E. I. Jr., came with the family to Tahoka and helped operate the paper, and the next spring the eldest son, Frank, having finished college, joined the paper. The girls also helped out on the paper, the youngest son Billy learned the trade, and even the kids' mother helped get the paper to bed, and Frank's wife, Mae, joined the force as advertising woman. E. I. Jr., after a few years went to work at Ranger and later to the Government Printing Office in Washington, where he has been about 25 years.

Mrs. Hill died on Dec. 5, 1930, from a malignant disease a few months after undergoing major surgery. The kids were leaving home and lonesome for companionship, the Editor married Miss Millie Halsey, a former home demonstration agent of Lynn county, at Slaton on Jan. 21, 1934. She died on Jan. 1, 1960, from injuries received when she walked into the path of a car the day before in the residential section on the Brownfield highway.

Following her death, the Editor retired from active work at the office, although continuing to write his column, and assigned Frank to active editor and manager.

He made a trip to Mexico City with a friend, W. G. Boyd of Wilson, and stayed there several months, and later visited with his sisters in Waco.

While at Waco, he met again a lady who had gone to school to him at Stampede when he was about 25 and she about 14. He was married to the lady, Mrs. Eva Eakin, on Oct. 16, 1955, in her home town of Chilton, near Waco. She came to Tahoka with him, and they enjoyed the remainder of his days together, she being his faithful companion and attendant to the end.

Survivors include his wife, Eva Eakin Hill; two daughters, Miss Berta Hill of Seguin, field worker for the State Department of Public Welfare, and Mrs. Myrtle Rochelle of 2312 27th; Lubbock, interviewer for Texas Employment Service; three sons, Frank of Tahoka, E. I. Jr. of the GPO in Washington, who lives in Hyattsville, Md., and Wm. Everts (Billy), Linotype machinist for the Alamogordo (N.M.) Daily News; five grandchildren, Mrs. Jake (Pat) Jacobs of Tahoka, Anita and Sara Rochelle of Lubbock, and Marion Lee and Billy Hill Jr. of Amarillo; and three great grandchildren, Vicki, Becky, and Fran Jacobs.

E. I. Jr. and wife were in Florida on a vacation at the time and did not know of the death until returning to Haytysville Sunday night, in spite of efforts of officials of the Government Printing Office, Congressman George Mahon's office, and local and state police to locate them. Other children were here for the funeral.

Also surviving are one brother, Dr. J. A. Hill of Canyon, president-emeritus of West Texas State College; and five sisters, Mrs. Belle Allen, Mrs. Alice Martin, and Miss Mary Hill, all of Waco, Mrs. Dr. E. R. McCauley of Moody, and Mrs. Sam Monroe of Stephenville. All were present except Mrs. Allen, who could not come on account of ill health. Mrs. C. M. Rutherford of Gregton, daughter of Mrs. McCauley, accompanied the ladies.

Also here were step-children, Ed Eakin, editor of the Quanah Tribune-Chief, and Mrs. W. E. Chesser of Fort Worth. Another son of Mrs. Hill, Sidney Eakin of Waco, came Sunday and accompanied his mother back to Chilton Tuesday, where she is returning to live in her old home.

Except for one man, pallbearers and honorary pallbearers were deacons and trustees of the First Baptist Church.

Carolyn Duckett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Duckett, was home over the holiday from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, where she is in nursing training.

Mrs. A. A. Raliff and boys, Joe, D. Minor and children visited over the weekend with Mrs. John Minor and other relatives.

The Man who Appreciates the Finest

BUYS HIS WIFE GAS APPLIANCES!

Brahms and Brubeck . . . an unlikely combination? Not to the man who recognizes the "best of its kind," be it arpeggios or appliances. That's why he insisted on a new GAS Clothes Dryer for his wife. He sees the advantages of instant heat (turn it on and it's on), and no heat hang-over (gas off, heat's gone!). He's observed how gentle GAS heat blows moisture away instead of baking it out. Clothes come out fluffier, more wrinkle-free and easier to iron! They last longer, too. Yes, in every way—economy included—GAS gives you more. And where the finest is truly appreciated . . . GAS belongs!
