A. C. Verner New Bonds Chairman

A. C. Verner, vice president of the First National Bank in Tahoka, has been named U. S. Savings Bonds chairman of Lynn County by Nathan Adams, Chairman of the Texas Savings Bonds Committee.

Verner will direct all phases of promotion and the sale of Savings Bonds in Lynn County. He becomes a member of the state-wide volunteer organization whose efforts are contributed to public service.

"Today, and as far into the future as we can look, we are facing times as critical as any we have known in the last quarter of a century," Mr. Verner said in accepting this appointment. "That is why it is more essential than ever before that every one of us must do what we can to keep ourselves strong and also our community, our state and our Nation. Fortunately, there is a way that makes it possible for every one of us to participate in achieving this strength by purchasing Savings Bonds. U. S. Savings Bonds are a safe, sure investment because the interest and principal are fully guaranteed by the United States Government," the new Chairman said.

"Mr. Verner has an outstanding record as a banker and civic worker, and I know our program will benefit greatly from his leadership and direction," State Chairman Adams said.

Red Cross Drive Still Incomplete

The Lynn county Red Cross drive reported $1,522.59 on Thursday morning and although five communities had not filed a report, it is expected that the goal of $2,464 will be reached, drive chairman Mrs. Jake Jacobs said.

Tahoka has collected $758.00 in its incomplete drive, but the remainder to be solicited will probably not meet the $900 quota. However, several rural communities exceeded their quotas. With a quota of $50 each, Newmoore raised $89.80; Petty, $64; Wells, $88.50. Dixie almost doubled its $35 quota with a report of $68.00. Lakeview raised $71 of its $100.00 quota while Wilson met its $300 quota with $306.50 and Grassland its $75 goal with $76.00. An incomplete report from New Home showed that the community had raised $130 of its $300 goal. However, the later is not included in the total.

Communities yet to report are West Point, Draw, and New Lynn, each with $50 goals and O'Donnell with an $800 goal. If these quotas are met, however, Lynn county will go over the top as it did last year.

Future Homemakers of America in Tahoka are canvassing the faculty of the local schools and when their portion of the drive is finished, Tahoka's drive will be completed.

However, many local citizens were not contacted during the drive and anyone wishing to contribute to the Red Cross is urged to mail his contribution to County Clerk C. W. Roberts, who is treasurer of the county chapter, or to Bill Griffin, county chairman.

Former Citizen Dies In Wreck

Two former Lynn county men were involved in a fatal accident northwest of Brownfield late Tuesday afternoon.

S. H. Jones, 71, formerly of New Home, was killed instantly and his wife, 64, is in serious condition in a Brownfield hospital. The driver of the other car was Harold Crooks, 25, also formerly of New Home and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crooks of that community, who received severe injuries but will recover.

The head-on collision occurred five miles north of Gomez on a farm road. Jones and wife were headed west and the driver is believed to have been blinded by the setting sun, while Crooks was headed east. The crash came on a winding road at the top of a rise. Mr. Jones was hurled through the back window of his car.

Mr. Jones was reported to have died almost immediately. Mrs. Jones was said to be improving. Crooks received injuries over his body, including neck lacerations and broken ribs.

Crooks operates a farm north of Brownfield on Meadow, Route 1. Mr. and Mrs. Jones have been living in Brownfield since retiring a few years ago. Since leaving Lynn county in 1934, they have acquired about two sections of irrigated land 15 miles south of Brownfield. He farmed for Elton George and later rented land at New Home before moving to Terry.

He is survived by his wife; four sons, Jack and Billy of Brownfield, Lynn of Seminole, and Melvin of Phoenix, Ariz.; three daughters, Mrs. Lois Brown, Mrs. Eva Nell May, and Mrs. Mary Murphy, all of Brownfield.

Legion Drive Nearing Goal

Marion G. Bradley Post of the American Legion is well on its way to reaching its goal of 100 members as a result of the membership drive now in progress, according to Jess Gurley, adjutant.

Since the drive started exactly 50 old and new members have paid their dues bringing the membership to 80 in the re-activated Post. Gurley reports there is much interest in the drive, and says, "At the present stage of the membership drive we can't announce which side (Odds or Evens) is leading because it might cause the losing team to give up."

"As all members well know," he says, "the Legion can be the strongest governmental and civic influence in the country if it is handled properly and good judgment is used in its functions. We are hoping to have a good clean and helpful Post here again."

Carl Sanders, O'Donnell, Is Named Conservation Farmer of Year By SCD

Carl Sanders of O'Donnell was nominated the outstanding conservation farmer of the year by the Lynn County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors as the result of a tour conducted Jan. 30.

Sanders has been farming in Lynn County since 1928 and at his present farm where he now lives since 1945. The experience gained over the years of farming has provided a background to carry out complete conservation of both soil and water. At present time 200 acres of the 500 acre farm is being irrigated by several irrigation wells that are connected together by one and one-half miles of underground concrete pipeline.

A cropping system using mungbeans and Chinese red peas as summer legumes, and Austrian winter peas as winter legume are rotated with cotton and grain sorghum. The mungbeans and Chinese red peas are planted in two rows of grain sorghum. This method allows the harvest of 300 to 400 pounds of legume seed which can give a gross return up to $40.00 per acre. The grain sorghum yields on the rotation have been increased from 30 to 50 percent.

Some of the irrigated land cannot be rotated as often, so cotton burrs and fertilizer is being applied to maintain the organic matter level, increase the water holding capacity and the fertility of the soil. The irrigation is managed to preirrigate all of the land followed by two or three summer irrigations as is needed by the crops. Sanders states the one practice that has given him the greatest return is terracing for conserving the rainfall.

Sanders has cooperated two years with the Extension Service in conducting cotton variety tests. This has provided the farmers of his area valuable information on the performance of the varieties tested under the same condition. Considered a leader in his community, Sanders has taken the initiative to find the answer to the problems of successful crop production. At present he is the president of the Farmers Cooperative Association of O'Donnell, director of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill and a member of the Lynn County Farm Bureau.

At present he is looking forward to the time when his son, Harold, a senior in agriculture at Texas Tech, will join him in a farming partnership. In addition to his wife and son there are two daughters, Mrs. Carl Lobitz of Odessa and Mrs. Bobbie Hill of Lewisville.

Fitts Is Named To Honor Team

Milt (Junior) Fitts, leading scorer on this year's West Texas State Buffalo basketball team, has been named to the All-Border Conference team. He is a junior at West Texas.

Although the West Texas State team had a poor year, it ended the season with a 500 record in conference play.

Fitts played in 22 games, hit 137 of 322 field goal attempts for a percentage of 425, made good on 73 of 114 free throws or 640, and took a total of 263 rebounds. He scored a total of 347 points, an average of 15.8 per game.

Gene King of Peacock, Junior's cousin who went to West Texas with him, tied for second in team scoring with 11.6 points average per game, and had the team's highest field goal percentage, 481. WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

In several votes, the nation's independent business men, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have asked that the tax laws be further amended to give small business the opportunity to develop, and survive.

The last session of Congress made some concrete steps in this direction, partially fulfilling the pledges both parties made in last two national elections.

Yet, the problem of getting this relief is not as easy as it sounds, despite the fact that presumably a heavy proportion of Congressmen are in favor of such moves.

For one thing, the writing of tax legislation is a very technical matter requiring far more study of laws, and the effects of possible revisions than individual Congressmen have time for.

Thus, Congress depends on expert advice.

The Small Business Administration, headed by Wendell Barnes, made a step in this direction before the current session got underway by hiring a special adviser to draft legislation on this subject for presentation to Congress.

But there may be an interesting development in the wind.

At present, the attitude of the U. S. Treasury is quite bitterly opposed to such legislation. And presumably, the Treasury is in a position to deny the Small Business Administration funds with which to pay the salary of the adviser.

This situation is being watched very closely by men like Sen. John Sparkman, Estes Kefauver and others, as well as the nation's small businessmen.

Obviously, if the SBA cannot pay for an expert on tax writing legislation, Congress, and especially the House Ways and Means Committee headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills will be denied the benefits of free inquiry.

And thus, if the Treasury chooses to block the SBA in this move, which apparently under present regulations it can do, it will be a concrete example of how free legislative processes can be blocked by bureaucratic edict without Congress having chance to discuss situation.

Huge corporations, of course, can and do, either individually, or acting in concert, pay out huge sums for tax writing experts to present to Congress proposed legislation that will favor them. Yet no small businessman in the nation can afford to take such steps.

That is perhaps one of the strongest reasons why the nation's independent businessmen are concerning themselves more with the affairs of government.

Because despite the good faith of Congressmen, unless bureaucratic maneuvers are brought to their attention, bureaucratic edicts can nullify promises Congressmen made in good faith. And obviously, neither big business nor big labor is going to remind Congress of the promises made to independent business.

Methodist Church
Makes Improvements

Workmen have just completed redecorating all the basement rooms of the First Methodist Church building, and some minor repairs have also been made.

New piano has been bought for the Junior Department, funds having been raised by the WSCS, the Wesleyan Service Guild, and the Junior Department.

This gives the church seven pianos, but some of these are old and at least two or three more are needed.

The new piano recently installed replaced the first piano ever bought by the church, it having been installed possibly forty years ago when the church bought a piano to replace the original organ.

FIRST BAPTIST TO REMODEL
BEGINNER DEPARTMENT

In the regular business conference of the First Baptist Church last Wednesday evening the Church approved the recommendation by the House and Grounds Committee to remodel the Beginner Department.

Mrs. L. D. Howell is the Superintendent of the Department and has worked in the Beginner department of the Sunday School for over 25 years.

Plans are to make two departments so that there will be a department for the 4 year olds and one for the five-year-olds.

Grady Lankford, Frank Greathouse, and Walthal Littlepage are the members of the House and Grounds Committee, and they will work with the Beginner department workers in the planning of the work in the department.

Work on the department should begin as soon as the committee and workers agree on the final plans.

Rural Accidents
High In County

The rural traffic accidents summary for Lynn county for the month of February, 1959, was released today by Sergeant E. L. Stroud, Patrol Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The Highway Patrol investigated a total of six accidents of which three were property damage, two personal injury, and one was a fatal accident. The accidents caused a total property damage of $3,135 with one person killed and nine injured.

The Sergeant advised that too many people look upon driving as a thing apart—something divorced from the code of morality which governs the other activities of their lives. The result of this split thinking is a staggering annual traffic toll.

To reduce the death rate during 1959, Sgt. Stroud stressed the necessity for drivers, as well as pedestrians, to maintain vigilance and observe the lifesaving rules of the road. He urged greater compliance with the speeding and driving-while-intoxicated laws, pointing out that in 1958 these were prime factors in traffic accidents.

Only 45 percent of the vehicles registered in Region No. 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety have been safely inspected for 1959, according to Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor in this Region.

With slightly less than one month separating them from the April 15 deadline, 236,679 motorists of the sixty-county Region still have not obtained their stickers which have been available at inspection stations for several months.

"This number includes about 4667 vehicles in Lynn county where there are 11 inspection stations to do the work," said Captain Johnson.

Many motorists are going to find long lines awaiting them as the deadline rolls near as the inspection stations will not be able to cope with the usual last minute rush.

He added, "It is as much a violation to display an old sticker as not to have one at all."

The Captain pointed out that the law provides a fine of from one dollar to two hundred dollars plus court costs for operating a vehicle registered in Texas without the current inspection sticker.

"Vertical Integration of Texas Agriculture" is the title of a new joint publication by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Experiment Station. Copies of L-418 are available from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Regulations Given On Drilling New Wells In High Plains Water District

Do you plan to drill an irrigation or commercial water well? If you do, and you expect to produce more than 69 gallons per minute from the well, you should read the following paragraphs.

The rules of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District provided that wells drilled within its bounds of jurisdiction and produce in excess of 69 gallons per minute be spaced certain minimum distances from wells in the immediate vicinity.

4-inch well must be a minimum distance of 200 yards from the nearest well.

5-inch well must be a minimum distance of 250 yards from the nearest well.

6-inch well must be a minimum distance of 300 yards from the nearest well.

8-inch well must be a minimum distance of 400 yards from the nearest well.

10-inch well must be a minimum distance of 440 yards from the nearest well.

The District's rules further provide that a person who desires to drill a well must first obtain a well drilling permit.

To assist either the landowner or his agent in filing an application for a well drilling permit, each county has an office and a secretary.

Before contacting his local County Secretary, the well drilling applicant will need the following information:

1. Name and mailing address of the owner of the land on which the well will be drilled.

The legal description of the land.

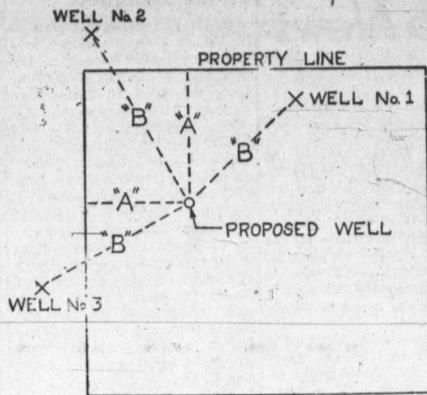

The measured distance from the proposed drilling site to the two nearest property lines or quarter-section lines. (Shown as lines "A" on drawing)

4. The measured distance from the proposed drilling site to the three nearest wells. Distances to wells that are over 440 yards from the proposed drilling site are not required. (Shown as lines "B" on drawing)

When the above information has been determined by the applicant, he is then prepared to contact his local county secretary and file his drilling permit application.

A deposit of $10.00 is required with the filing of each application.

When the application form is filled out completely and correctly, the applicant must then make certain that it is signed by three mem-

"A"—Measured distance to two nearest property or quarter-section lines.
"B"—Measured distance to three nearest wells within one-fourth mile.

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

And he went a little farther, and fell on his face, and prayed. (Mat. 26:39.)

Eleven disciples went with Jesus into the Garden of Gethsemane. He Himself "went a little farther" even then the point where He left Peter, James, and John. There He faced the last great test in tuning His will to the will of the Almighty Father.

What if Jesus had not gone that little farther in obedience to His Father's will? What a difference in world history and salvation!

Men of vision had ever sought to go a little farther in the progress of science and other fields of work. Yet how often we are Christians are content with our testimony that we are just about as good as the general run of Christians.

Jesus constantly insisted that a mere getting by, mere average goodness is not enough. He held that the only goal worth striving for is a perfect tuning of our will to the will of God. Christ calls us to venture a little farther and yet a little farther into the plan of God for our lives and for His Kingdom. "Ye therefore shall be perfect," He said, "as your heavenly Father is perfect."

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, help us to go forward in eagerness and faith to seek Thy will. Thus may we share the richness, both of revelation and experience, that comes to those who are willing to venture a little farther with Thee. In the Master's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Members of the local County Committee. This is most important, and it must be done before drilling operations are commenced.

When signed by the Committee, the permit is valid for the drilling of one well only, and it only at the location specified on the permit.

The drilling permit is valid for a period of 4 months from the date of filing.

When the well is completed and the log of the underground formations is supplied to the county office on forms furnished by the District, the $10.00 deposit will be refunded in full. The landowner is responsible for this information.

Royal Ambassadors Plan Camping Trip

The Royal Ambassadors of the First Baptist Church are planning a camping trip, and definite plans will be made next Monday evening.

Last Monday evening there were 12 Royal Ambassadors present for the meeting. Ambassador-in-Chief Paul Douglas Kenley led the boys in a discussion of the Baptist Church. Each of the boys discussed the doctrines of the church and Pastor W. A. Brooks directed the discussion.

All boys are urged to bring a baseball glove next Monday evening as the Royal Ambassadors Shirts have been ordered and should be available by then. The shirts are royal gold and royal blue.

Boys between ages 9 through 13 are invited to attend these meetings.

After the meeting, the boys were dismissed for refreshments at the MCO Drive In, where the boys all enjoyed ice cream cones for refreshments.

More than 29,500,000 boys and leaders have been in the Boy Scouts of America since 1910.

Today I will go a little further in striving to be obedient to the Father's will.

Everyday Religion

By
J. B. Thompson

He was an elderly man, well dressed and as neat as a pin. He was walking briskly down a crowded walk in a shopping center of a great city when I met him. It was Christmas time and last minute shoppers (including myself) were hurrying to and fro with worried looks on their faces.

"A Merry Christmas to you!" he called cheerfully as we met.

How refreshing! How uplifting! I felt suddenly cheerful and light hearted. The world seemed gay and good. He went on his way speaking to anyone who would accept his greetings. It was like the good news of the first Christmas.

How the world needs good news and friendly greetings today. There is so much of bad news and unfriendly and impersonal moods. I have never known a greater time for good news of hope and faith than the present time. Not a lot of meaningless phrases and platitudes but the real good news of God.

The world has heard so much bad news, so much forbidding rumor it is being driven to insanity. The war of nerves is not an idle saying today. We live in a perfect riot of bad news—news of crime and filth and sordidness. Let us hear some good news for a change.

The Lynn County News, Tahoka, Texas

Most Ready-Built Houses Do Not Meet New Electrical Code Laws

Buyers of ready-built houses are urged to see that electrical installations in houses to be moved into Tahoka comply with the new Electric Wiring Ordinance recently passed by the City, according to J. M. Uzzle, City Secretary.

Effective on all contracts made after March 23, 1950, two inspections will be required to see that such installations do comply with the code.

Nearly all ready-built houses do not meet these requirements. In most, wire sizes are too small. Some have bare or spliced wires concealed beneath the sheetrock or wall board.

Such installations will have to be brought up to standard before the power company will be permitted to connect them.

To eliminate faulty wiring, two inspections will be required. The first will be of roughed-in work before the sheetrock or wallboard is applied. An inspection by the local electrical inspector, or by the Electrical Inspector where the house is built, will be required at this stage. A final inspection after the house is completed and fixtures installed will also be required before connection.

It is unfair to local builders to require them to have two inspections and meet stiff wiring requirements and then allow houses to be moved in without any wiring supervision. This would penalize local builders and people who trade at home and extend privileges to those who patronize out-of-town labor.

It is hoped that installation of the new electrical code will enable Tahoka to maintain its present fire rate. Other towns in the area have already had 10 and 15 percent increases in their insurance rates. Any reports showing fire losses due to faulty wiring goes directly to the State Board controlling fire rates. The Fire Marshall is required by law to make such a report. The new electric code will help establish and maintain our present fire rates.

Also, such an electrical code is necessary to qualify for the Low Rent Housing Project and to facilitate securing of FHA loans in the City.

Members of the Electrical Board are Johnny Reasonover, Oran Short, Jimmy Dykes, and G. W. White.

New Lynn News

LAVERNE MEEKS Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mueller gave a "42" party Thursday night in their new home. Twenty people attended. She had fresh baked bread, cakes, cookies, candies, pop corn balls, cokes and coffee. It was the Muellers' twenty-fifth wedding anniversary so the New Lynn Community Club gave them a silver sugar and creamer on a tray. The games played were "42" and wahoo. Everyone had a wonderful time.

Elder and Mrs. Jack Courtney ate lunch and visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rackler, Beverly and J. B. J. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mathis had 18 people over to their house for coffee and cookies after church Sunday night.

The T. A. Stones had quite a commotion at their home last week. Believe it or not their commode blew up. The butane was leaking gas fumes into the pressure pump and the commode ignited from the bathroom heater. Fortunately no one was in at the time. It didn't do too much damage. After that the Stones aren't surprised at anything.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson moved to Wilson last week and Mrs. Henderson is employed at the bank there.

The W. B. Tilleys visited her brother, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Corley in Petersburg over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Daniells have remodeled their house recently and it looks real nice.

Mrs. W. E. Stone had surgery Tuesday in Methodist Hospital. She is doing fine. Her daughter, Mrs. Chester Watley of Odessa is going to stay with her this week.

Mrs. W. W. Rowland had surgery in Tahoka Hospital last week. She is doing fine and got to go home Tuesday.

Chester Watley, Joe Stone, and Junior Meeks went to Stamford fishing last week but the wind blew too hard for them to even get on the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Terry had her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gary of Levelland visiting them Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mueller and Linda Kay had Mrs. Amos Gerner and daughter, Dara Ann visiting them Sunday afternoon.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this method of expressing my deep appreciation and most sincere thanks to our friends here and in Lubbock for the flowers, letters, and cards sent and for the phone calls and visitors while I was in Methodist Hospital and for all interest shown in behalf of my welfare since I came home. My gratitude is also extended to my Lubbock doctors and nurses and to Dr. Prohl who treated me before I was sent to Lubbock, and since I came home. My prayer to my God is that His richest blessings may be and abide with everyone of you. Mrs. Allpin joins me in these expressions.—Sincerely, N. W. Allphin.

Stage Band Gives Rotary Program

The Stage Band of Tahoka High School, directed by Eddie Bowman, presented the Rotary Club program Thursday noon of last week.

A variety of numbers were played, including September in the Rain, The Bunny Hop, Tuxedo Junction, The Sunny Side of the Street, and Sweet Georgia Brown.

Making up the band are Terry Spears, Sue Walker, Iris Gay's Tyler, Tony Spruiell, Mickey Owens, Terry Bryan, Billy Hamilton, Barbara Thomas, Lowell Bryan, and Leighton Roddy, however the latter three were unable to be present for the program. Mr. Bowman filled in for one of the missing players. Rotarians were high in their praise of the performance.

Mickey Owens also made a talk on "The Role of Music in the Public Schools," which proved to be filled with information and interest. Mockey also proved that he is an up-and-coming public speaker. The program was arranged by Mitchell Williams. President Otis Spears read a letter written Dr. Skiles Thomas by Dr. Harry Uren, director of International Service of the Penrith, New South Wales, Australia, Rotary Club. Dr. Thomas had sent the Penrith Club a recording of the talk made by Miss Florence Coffee of Canyon, Rotary fellow to Australia in 1938, before the recent joint meeting of the Tahoka, Post, and O'Donnell clubs here in which she told of her stay in Australia.

Dr. Uren wrote that the recording is being booked for re-playing at a number of Australian Rotary Clubs. His club had recently sent a recording of one of their club meetings to the Tahoka Club which proved very interesting.

Student guests of Tahoka Rotary Club for this month are Roy Hinkle and Falcon McAllister, local seniors.

Mrs. Dick Snow and family and Cruce Tomlinson of Perryton visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Nora Tomlinson, and other relatives over the week end.

Winners Are Named In Annual Soil Conservation District Essay Contest

Marcheta Wood, O'Donnell High School student, was winner of first place in the annual essay contest of the Lynn County Soil Conservation District and she is being entered in the district contest. Winner of the District contest advances to the state contest.

Second place winner was Lonnie Wheeler of Tahoka, and third place winner was Walter Gasper of New Home.

Each will be presented a cash prize by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce at the annual Farmer-Businessman banquet in the school cafeteria tonight.

The winning essay appears below. Second place essay will be published next week, and the third place the following week.

"CONSERVATION AND CITIZENSHIP"

(By Marcheta Wood)

We as citizens of this great nation of ours know that everything we have or ever will have we owe to the good earth which God, our Creator, placed here for us in the beginning.

One of the most important problems of any civilized country is the conservation of natural resources; soil, water supplies, forests, birds and wild animals, and minerals of all kinds. Conservation, saving from waste or injury, is simply good housekeeping on a large scale. Just as a house that is neglected and abused will eventually become ruined and uninhabitable, so a country will become impoverished and unlivable if its forests are destroyed, its streams polluted, its soil washed or blown away, and its minerals wasted.

In our section of the country we are more familiar with soil conservation than the others. Every nation has a duty to preserve its soil. To control erosion, larger project must be undertaken, such as planting trees, grass and legumes over large areas. Most farmers are keenly interested in the subject of erosion, the loss of top soil through wind and water. Each can help by plant in strips—a close-growing crop as wheat and then a cultivated crop such as milo; by contour plowing, by terracing and by gully control. Contour plowing is used on sloping land. The furrows are run so as to curve around a rise in the ground instead of going straight up and down hill. Terracing is used on steeper slopes, where even contour plowing would not prevent the water from carrying the soil downhill.

The farmer has another task—to preserve the fertility of the soil. Plants, as we have seen, require certain chemicals from the soil in order to grow, and the soil gets many of these compounds from decaying plants. It is a circle, or cycle. When the plants are harvested year after year and none are returned to the soil, the supply of needed chemicals gradually gets used up. We say the soil is exhausted, or poor. To prevent this the farmer fertilizes the soil; that is, he adds such organic matter as nitrogen, ammonia, phosphorus and potassium.

He can also help to maintain the soil fertility by rotation of his crops, that is, by growing different crops, alternately on the same land. This avoids exhausting completely any one plant food in the soil. Rotation brings greater returns from the land, while aiding its use.

Because of the value of the soil for the well being of all the people, we must help to maintain and increase the productivity of the land.

This Week in AUSTIN

by Senator Preston Smith

With numerous tax bills piled up in the legislature, there are predictions by many capitol observers that any decision on tax proposals may take place in a special session.

Most of the tax bills under study fall into one of two major categories: those that advocate gross receipts taxes, and the bills that aim to spread the tax load on a selective sales tax system, a method of taxation already well established in Texas.

Leading proponent of the gross receipts taxes is Rep. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches. He has introduced a series of bills which would levy gross receipts taxes on hotels, motels and rooming houses; on newspaper, radio and TV and outdoor advertising; on air transportation of passengers. He has, in addition, offered a series of occupation levies on oil well servicing; on phonograph records; and on soft drink syrups.

Principal items under consideration by selective sales tax bills fall in the fields of tobacco products, liquor, beer, automobiles. A number of bills have been introduced on these subjects, including tobacco, liquor and automobile levies, proposed by the governor.

Time is running out on taxation plans. Friday, March 13, was the halfway mark of the 120-day legislative session, and bills introduced after that date must have approval of four-fifths of the House.

A solution to the tax problem is not in sight yet. There are indications, say legislators, that the ultimate tax proposal adopted might likely be a combination of the Seeligson general sales tax program and Governor Daniel's proposed program.

The Remarkable Story of Wide-Track Wheel Design

How It Started • How It Works
What This Highly Successful
Pontiac Achievement Means to You

It all started, as most innovations do, with a problem to be solved.

The problem was that when you turned a corner or rounded a curve your car swayed and everybody aboard leaned with the force of the turn.

Over the past few years car body widths have been increased to give you more passenger room and comfort. But widths between the wheels have not increased proportionately. This between-wheel width is called the "track".

A wide body without a wide track is top-heavy, lacks balance, looks awkward. It's a little like a husky football player, wearing wide shoulder pads and dainty ballet slippers, running with his feet close together.

THE SOLUTION

The answer was simply to widen the track to match the body. We moved the wheels five inches farther apart. This widened the stance, but not the car. This was the birth of Wide-Track Wheel design.

You use the same principle and feel a similar effect when you stand erect with your feet spread wide apart. You're braced and steady.

LEAN AND SWAY REDUCED

Our first road tests showed how significantly we had reduced lean and sway. The car held to the turns and hugged the curves as had no other car we had ever driven, except for sport cars, which of course are not designed primarily for passenger comfort.

This greater stability gave the driver a noticeably improved feeling of security, control and confidence. All passengers, back and front, rode with less fatigue, more comfort.

IMMEDIATE PUBLIC ACCEPTANCE

It usually takes car owners a little time and many miles to be convinced of the merits of many automobile engineering improvements. That's because some improvements are far removed from the car owner's everyday driving experience.

Not so with Wide-Track Wheels. There was an immediate understanding of what we had done and a fast and favorable response to its advantages.

From the first week our dealers began demonstrating the 1959 Pontiac, we knew Wide-Track Wheel design was every bit the accomplishment we had hoped for. People who drove the car told us it was the finest, easiest handling automobile they'd ever been in.

WHO'S BUYING ALL THE NEW PONTIACS?

Pontiac sales, we are happy to report, have confirmed public opinion. This car has apparently captured the imagination of tasteful people who were looking for clean, uncluttered styling. People attracted by the quality of workmanship and attention to detail we give every single Pontiac we build. And, of course, people quick to grasp the remarkable story of Wide-Track Wheel design.

YOUR NEW PONTIAC

Investing in a brand-spanking new automobile, fresh, sweet-smelling and totally different is a wonderful thing to happen to a family in the spring. Wouldn't it do your morale good to become the owner of a gorgeous new Wide-Track Pontiac within the next few weeks?

We are confident it is an automobile in which you will take great pride and from which you will reap much personal satisfaction and enjoyment.

ONLY PONTIAC HAS WIDE-TRACK WHEELS.

E. R. BLAKNEY      ELLIS BARNES
O. E. TERRY        W. L. (Cap) ROWE
ELMER BLANKENSHIP

A Great Plains Conservation Plan is being developed for Carl Spears, who farms eight miles northeast of Tahoka. His plan will include a farm pond on which he will receive cost-share.

There is good reason to believe the laziness and shiftlessness of the poor of many rural sections can be laid at the door of malnutrition; that a vicious circle has existed—poor land, poor food, indifference resulting in failure to care for the land, and even poorer land.

A level irrigation system has been installed for Wynne Collier. This type system conserves water, gives even distribution and prevents erosion.

"The day is gone, if it even existed, when the fact that an individual holds a deed to a piece of land gives him the moral right to destroy it through stupid, shortsighted farming practices."

A Great Plains Conservation plan is being developed for W. L. "Cap" Rowe. "Cap" is a member of the Board of Supervisors.

A basic conservation plan is being written on the quarter section belonging to Dr. West of Abilene. Virgle White farms this place along with his quarter, which is being put into the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Texas uses more natural gas than any other state, 25 percent of all consumed in the U. S.

Frank Norfleet Is Visitor Here

J. Frank Norfleet, 99, pioneer Hale county rancher, who became nationally known back in the 1920s for tracking down a gang of bunco artists who had swindled him, was a business visitor in Tahoka Monday and Tuesday.

In spite of his age, Mr. Norfleet is remarkably active and his memory is sharp for his age. He came down on the bus by himself and was attending the business with local county officials.

He asked The News about several of the pioneers of this area that he knew 50 to 75 years ago, including Cass Edwards, Jack Alley, Anee Lockwood, Bill Petty, and Elton George, all now dead.

He said he first came to Lynn county in the 1870's with his father, a former Texas Ranger and camped just south of Tahoka Lake with John and Wright Moor, buffalo hunters. He settled in Hale county at the age of 23, and has been ranching there ever since.

Back in 1919, he was "taken in" by a gang of bunco artists who swindled him out of $45,000. He spent the next five years tracking them down, the story of which he related in much detail in a book he later wrote entitled "Norfleet."

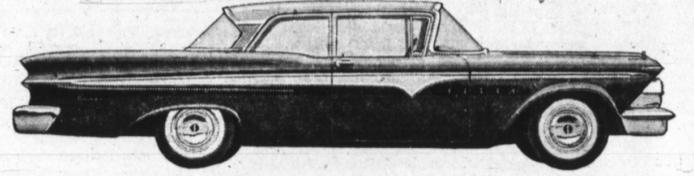

Almost single-handed, he was responsible for landing every one of the gang behind prison bars. But, he did not stop here, for he spent another 20 years tracking down similar swindlers who had made victims of other unfortunate people, and claims that he has been responsible for putting 150 men in prison and has never had to shoot a single person. In spite of his 99 years (his birthday was on February 23), he still is in the active business of ranching and raising fine horses. Incidentally, his only son is a Federal Judge in Chicago.

Mrs. Joe Robinson of Clarendon was here Monday on business. She formerly lived here, and her husband now has a lease on a part of the famed old JA Ranch, south of Clarendon.
