Building In Tahoka May Set Record

Tahoka is currently in the midst of its biggest building boom in many years, and since first of the year building permits totaling $479,500 have been issued by City of Tahoka.

This does not include about $50,000 in construction just outside the city limits and also two or three houses for which permits have not yet been taken out from the City.

Included in the total are 13 homes, one business building, a new gin plant, and the new gymnasium. Not included is construction of several homes started the latter part of 1958 and several homes for which contracts have reportedly been let but on which construction has not yet started.

The two biggest permits are $165,000 for the new Farmers Co-operative gin plant and $154,000 for the new Tahoka school gymnasium and field house. The business building is the H. B. McCord building now nearing completion.

New homes include the following:

Frank Greathouse, three bedroom brick on North Fourth.

Joe Bob Billman, three bedroom brick at the corner of Edwards and North Second.

Funeral services for J. E. Dorsey, 62, a resident of Tulia for 11 years who died at 2:30 Sunday at his home after an illness of several months, were held at 3:30 p. m. Monday at the Tulia First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Tad Pannell, former pastor of the Salem Baptist Church of Tulia who now lives in Missouri, and Dr. W. Neil Record, pastor of the Tulia First Baptist Church, conducted the services. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery there, by Wallace Funeral home.

Before moving to Tulia, Dorsey had farming and ranching interests in the O'Donnell area for about 20 years.

Survivors are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. L. L. Green, Tulia, Mrs. B. B. Vestal, O'Donnell; two brothers, J. W. of Lubbock and Virgil of Paramount, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Ed Bare and Mrs. Ray Shaffer, both of Lubbock, and Mrs. Hugh Miller, Portales, N. M., and five grandchildren.

Carmack Starts Rebuilding Gin

Work has been started tearing down old buildings at Carmack gin preparatory to rebuilding the gin structure and plant.

C. O. Carmack, owner, says the cotton house is being eliminated and a new gin building will be erected. Double Moss lint cleaners and double dryers will be installed, and the entire plant reconditioned and rebuilt.

Carmack says everything necessary is being done to secure top turn-outs. However, capacity of the gin will not be stepped up to sacrifice efficiency and good ginning practices, as most ginners realize best ginning can not be done faster than eight bales per hour.

Jack Hoskins' Hogs Drowned In Rain

Jack Hoskins of Newmoore lost 57 hogs by drowning in the recent big rain, according to Mrs. Hoskins.

Jack had his pigs grazing some wheat in a low place when the rain came. In that vicinity north of Newmoore, three or four inches of rain fell and the hogs were "just plain drowned."

Tahoka Wins In Literary Events

The District 3-AA Interscholastic Literary League contest was held at Spur Saturday, April 11. Three students from the Tahoka school placed in the top three of their division which gives them the right to participate in the Regional Meet at Texas Tech April 25.

David Bray and Lonnie Wheeler, Tahoka's debate team, won first place by defeating the team from Post. Subject of the debate was "Resolved that the United States Should Adopt the Essential Features of the British System of Education." The local team had the negative side of the debate.

The only other participant who placed high enough in the Spur meet to go to regional was Janey Ware who won third place in the shorthand division.

Other students participating were:

Number Sense: Carol Jean Allen and Dana Akin.

Slide Rule: Billy Davis, Darrell Young and Falcon McAllister.

Typing: Joene Sikes, Barbara Thomas and Sunny Gibson.

Virginia Wilhoit entered the Ready Writing event but the results of contest has not yet been released.

Court Votes To Buy Photostat

County of Lynn on Monday contracted for the installation of photographic copying and recording equipment in the County Clerk's office.

Photostat Corporation was low bidder on the equipment at $9,729.85, states County Judge Walter M. Mathis.

The equipment will be delivered in 30 to 45 days, and will probably be installed in a room in the court house basement.

County Clerk C. W. Roberts says the equipment is supposed to be the latest thing out of this type. It will be used to photograph for recording most of the instruments coming into the clerk's office which are now typed. The saving in typing should pay for the equipment in short time.

Lynn county is probably the last county in this area to install this or similar photostatic equipment for recording purposes. The Commissioners' Court has studied the advisability of installing this equipment several times in the past and during the past several weeks.

Progress Is Good In Cancer Drive

On Thursday morning over $1,000 had been counted in the Lynn county Cancer Drive bringing the local chapter nearer its goal of $1,550, which is expected to be met before the drive ends the last of April.

O'Donnell is just beginning its drive with R. I. Gibson and Mrs. Cary of the O'Donnell Bank conducting the campaign in that community.

As a part of the campaign, film has been secured to be shown over the county, and an appeal is being made for organizations, both civic and church, to show the film to various groups during this month as an integral part of cancer education. Mrs. Pete Hegi is chairman of cancer education and arrangements for showing the films may be made with her, Mrs. C. Skiles Thomas, chairman of the drive, or H. W. Carter, president of the county society.

Carter is ending his tenth year as president of the American Cancer Society in Lynn county and people working with him have commended his untiring effort in carrying on the crusade against a dread disease. Mrs. Thomas is serving her fourth year as drive chairman and has likewise done a commendable job.

Offset Planned To Davis Well

As a result of new Glorieta oil discovery with a flowing potential of 148 barrels per day in the No. 1-A C. S. Davis well, seven miles east and a little south of Wilson, the operators, W. B. Yarborough, L. E. Windom, and Ormand Bros., all of Midland, are preparing to re-enter a near by abandoned test as a south offset.

Application has been filed by them to re-enter the No. 1-A R. L. Hagler originally drilled to 4,800 feet by J. Paul Karcher of Midland, immediately south of the discovery in Section 1426, Block 18, EL&RR survey. They propose to deepen to 4,800 feet, to test the Glorieta pay found in their No. 1-A Davis.

The Davis discovery is a little over two miles southwest of the Suniland Glorieta-San Andres field.

Farmers, Business Men Riled By Labor Regulations Threat

Two hundred riled farmers and businessmen packed the district court room here Tuesday night to ear discussions by five speakers on efforts of the Department of Labor and Union Labor bosses to tighten the squeeze on farmers by imposing unbearable regulations on use farm workers either by law or by directive.

The meeting was called by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce and Lynn County Farm Bureau, each of which contributed $100.00 to start the ball rolling in opposition to Labor proposals, an additional $670.00 was contributed at the meeting, and others said they would send in checks to carry on the fight.

Three bills now before Congress pertain to the regulation of farm labor sponsored by Union Labor and U. S. Department of Labor officials which will, in effect, raise the minimum wage of farm workers to $1.25 per hour, or more.

Regulations Stringent If these bills fail to pass, the Labor Department proposes to put in effect by directive stringent regulations that will be disastrous to the farming country. These include stringent housing and transportation regulations.

A. C. Verner of the First National Bank presided at the meeting, and in opening the session cited the growing encroachment of the Federal government in individual rights through law, directives of bureaus, rulings of the Supreme Court, and pressure from Labor Unions.

Noah Lemley, Brownfield farmer, was the first speaker. He told of the recent meeting he attended in Washington on the labor situation at which Union speakers, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, religious leaders, and other "do-gooders" were given unlimited time on the rostrum. But, when farmers asked for 20 minutes on the two day program, a California spokesman for agriculture was given "ten minutes during a recess."

He said this will probably be the last year of the bracero program, and it is due to be cut in half this year. A little over a year ago, when the program was extended two years, this action made the Labor Unions very mad. They frankly declared that if they can not get what they want by law, they are "coming in by the back door." The Secretary of Labor is committed to help them.

There are now 6,400,000 unemployed in the nation. Last year 431,000 braceros came to the U. S. from Mexico, about half of them to Texas. It is claimed that half (Cont'd. on Back Page)

The club's queen is a sophomore in Wilson High School and is active in FHA work, is a band majorette, and is a member of the Wilson basketball team. She also likes piano, twirling, and music.

Following are the new officers elected recently by the Lions Club for the new year:

Crowson; tall twister, Roy Lynn Kahlich; secretary, Earl Cummings; directors, David Peterson, Jiggs Swann, Oscar Follis, E. L. Blankenship, and Clarence Church. A. N. Crowson is outgoing president.

Nolan Von Roeder of Snyder was scheduled to present a film to the Lions Thursday night for the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Noble of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noble of Brownfield returned home Tuesday from a fishing trip to the Gulf Coast. They say it was too cold and rainy to do much fishing, but they had a big time anyway.

N. Porterfield On Chicago Tribune

Nolan Porterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Porterfield of Draw, is taking advantage of a rare opportunity for experience while serving in the U. S. Army, stationed in Chicago.

He has been doing some special assignment work for the Chicago Tribune, one of the biggest daily newspapers in the nation.

Nolan entered the Army last June. He is a graduate of O'Donnell High School, following which he attended Texas Tech. Interested in the newspaper business, Nolan worked for the Denver City Press a short time.

He went to the Lamesa Daily Reporter as an advertising man, and when the editor's position became vacant he was elevated to editor of that publication.

Winners in the Dale Carnegie course last week were Leonard Norwood, best speech; Nita Wood, special achievement; Marvin McDonald, most improved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reddell are leaving today for a two week's fishing vacation at Rockport, on the Gulf Coast near Corpus Christi.

Pre-School Day Is Set For May 1st

Pre-School Day for all students will begin in the first grade in September, will be held on Friday, May 1, according to Principal J. B. Howell of the South Elementary School.

All parents are asked to accompany the children when they register from 8:30 to 9:00 a. m. on that day. Both parents and children may eat in the school cafeteria for the regular price, 25 cents.

Children attending pre-school will be dismissed at 11:50 a. m. and Howell said that parents are required to see that their children are picked up at that time since no teacher will be on duty in the afternoon.

License Money To County Roads

Motor vehicle registrations to Wednesday of this week totaled 5,587, according to J. E. (Red) Brown, tax assessor and collector. This compares with 4,890, or 697 more vehicles than had been registered on the same date last year.

Money received from these license plate sales totals $105,372.30, Brown says, as compared to $96,000.00 on the same date last year.

All of the first $50,000 received goes to the county commissioners precincts for county road work, and fifty percent of the remainder goes for the same purpose. This is the reason it is so important for Lynn county citizens to register their cars and trucks in their home county, Brown says.

Lynn county is due $77,686.15 of the total figure received so far to use on its county roads by the four commissioners.

DALE CARNEGIE WINNERS

Winners in the Dale Carnegie course last week were Leonard Norwood, best speech; Nita Wood, special achievement; Marvin McDonald, most improved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reddell are leaving today for a two week's fishing vacation at Rockport, on the Gulf Coast near Corpus Christi.

THE SEARCH FOR NEW GAS SUPPLIES—This rig drilled a major oil-gas discovery well for Humble Oil & Refining Company in the North Alazan Field, Kieberg County, Texas. Recently, demand has increased much more rapidly for gas than for oil. This reverses the situation that prevailed for many years when the chief exploration incentive was provided by oil. If the industry is to develop new gas reserves to keep pace with demand, says Humble's 1958 report to shareholders, the level of gas prices must be high enough to provide a continuing stimulus for exploration.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson

There is a sense in which the writer of life's deeper things is handicapped by the greatness, variety, and richness of the ideas at hand. He is like a miner suddenly come upon inexhaustible diamond mines; or like a farmer driving a lone wagon into the vast wheat-fields of the West for the purpose of hauling away all of the golden grain; or like a child bailing out the Atlantic with his tiny bucket, or scooping up the sand along the shore with his tiny spade. The everyday world is a spiritual diamond mine, an infinite wheatfield, a measureless ocean.

One of man's most faithful teachers is the good earth and her natural beauty. God's "sermons" are always illustrated close up to life. As John Drinkwater said, "God is at the organ. I can hear A mighty music echoing far and near."

And the keys are "storm-strewn moorlands, billows, trees." Lovers of nature soon become lovers of God because they find evidences of God at every step along the trail. God plays on every stop that nature has. The wind in the trees, the running brooks, or the surf along the quiet shore. Everywhere we hear his sweet voice singing.

GAS INDUSTRY HURT

There seems to be considerable confusion in the minds of many Texans and even some political leaders in Austin as to what is the "gas industry."

We see much official concern about the plight that Texas producers suffer for lack of markets for oil in stiff world-wide competition. We know that the petroleum industry generally has suffered a 25 percent drop in earnings this past year. This has been reflected in a drop of 10,000 in the industry's Texas employment figures and some $18 million state petroleum production taxes.

Yet, curiously enough, we note several tax bills before the Legislature which add to the industry's woes. One of these is advocated as a tax on big gas companies and out-of-state consumers, but actually it hits the same Texas producer who has suffered other economic reverses. This is because most oil producers are also gas producers and in most cases are the same taxpayers. Most gas is found in the search for oil and about a third of it comes out the same well as the oil.

To accept these "tax-gas" proposals (gas producers already pay $42 million a year in taxes at a rate of 7 percent of their gross) would be to further cripple an already ailing industry.

We are always beginning to live, but we are never living.—Marcus Manilius.

Today's MEDITATION

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

You shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. (Acts 2:38.)

One day I was walking across the famous Boston Common. I was somewhat surprised to see a building with this sign—"Holy Ghost Chapel—Air conditioned—For Rent."

This temporary chapel has been abandoned for a more magnificent one elsewhere. Nevertheless, the abandoned chapel was to me a vivid expression of the attitude of our generation toward the doctrine and—what is more important—the experience of the Holy Spirit.

Too often in our times we have left empty the place which the power and presence of the Holy Spirit ought to occupy in our lives and in the life of the church. Pentecost ought to be a major Christian festival in the church.

Nothing would be more fruitful for these days than a thoughtful recovery of the experience and power of God's indwelling Spirit. How much needed He is if we are to carry out God's will and way for this generation!

PRAYER

"Come, Holy Spirit, come! Come as the fire and burn! Come as the water and cleanse! Come as the wind and refresh! Convince, convert, and consecrate my heart and will to my great good and to Thy greater glory." In the name of Christ. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

"We cannot go forward unless we go deeper in spiritual empowerment and dedication."

Clarence F. Avery—Massachusetts.

Now Is The Time For A United Front

(Editor's Note: The following editorial is reprinted here with permission of "The Cotton Trade Journal," Memphis, Tenn.)

Hearings held in Washington in February by members of the National Advisory Committee on Farm Labor served as the opening gun in a campaign to organize farm workers and to extend, through administrative action and legislation, the rights of collective bargaining and federal wage regulations to farm labor.

Unfortunately, except for one farm organization, no spokesman for farmers was present to expose the fallacy of this proposed social legislation.

The "bleeding heart" character of the committee may be seen in its composition.

Among them are Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Phillip Randolph, president of Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters; Herbert Lehman, former Senator from New York whose political views are notoriously left of center; Isidor Lubin, New York State Industrial Commissioner and a political crony of Lehman; Dr. L. H. Foster, president of Tuskegee Institute, and Norman Thomas, many times candidate of the Socialist Party for the presidency of the United States.

As was to be expected from such a gathering, the proceedings were summed up in a keynote address by William F. Schnitzer, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO, in which he called for "two types of legislation. . . One, establishing strict controls over the importation of farm labor, and two, providing economic and social safeguards for American farm workers, whether permanent employees or migrants, including the right to join unions of their choice. . . We have formulated a program for an organizational campaign among workers employed in the large corporate farms. . . "Don't be fooled by the word 'corporate.' It means every farmer who hires any labor at any time.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, speaking at a banquet session, urged federal legislation guaranteeing the farm worker a "decent minimum wage, fairly continuous employment and the equal protection of all laws," including enforced housing codes, enforced safety codes and "compensation for injury and unemployment."

Senator Joseph L. O'Mahoney, in a letter read to the conference, asked stopping of all federal subsidies to farmers—"corporate" or "individual" who "deny adequate wage and living standards to migratory workers."

The only voice heard in opposition to this frontal attack on the farm economy was that of a representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who had specially requested to appear on the program.

We think it is high time other farm organizations busied themselves with this fundamental issue.

The fight for sound legislation is of course basically important, but what good will sound legislation do if farmers are burdened by backbreaking costs for labor which would have to be passed on to the consumer? And not farmers' groups alone. Other organizations whose welfare depends on a sound farm economy should also pitch in.

The attempt to extend federal regulation of wages, working conditions, housing and transportation to embrace farm labor is, as the Farm Bureau correctly pointed out, "a violation of sound governmental practice in two cardinal respects: First, it constitutes legis-

Pre-School Pupils Should Get Early Vaccination Shots

Mrs. Lillian McCord, school nurse, requests that mothers of pre-age school children start now to give their children the necessary shots and vaccinations before the hot weather and vacations begin.

She stated that if parents wait until almost time for school, pain from the inoculation is then connected with school, and that if the shots are given now the children will be fully recovered by the time for their summer vacation and beginning of school work.

Mrs. McCord stated that she is completing the polio shots for the year. Another fact that will be of interest to many parents is that the communicable diseases in the local school system did not last as long this year as they did last year.

The school nurse would also like to thank the church ladies for donating clothes and state that the clothes will be distributed at the Baptist Mexican Mission Sunday evening, April 18. Anyone who knows of Mexican school children in need of clothes are urged to inform the children, and have them at the Mission Sunday.

License Required For Some "Sitters"

Persons doing baby sitting in their own homes—that is, anyone who cares for children away from the child's own home for more than four hours a day—must have a commercial boarding home license.

This information has been sent Johnny Raindl, Tahoka City Fire Marshall, by Mrs. Beverly Ralston of the Regional Child Welfare Office, State Department of Public Welfare. She states that the homes of such baby sitters must meet certain minimum standards, including fire safety, and a copy of the regulations has been sent him.

Hale-Aiken Bill Will Not Cause Local Tax Raise

The News has been asked to correct a false impression left in a news story carried last week in regard to expected demands on local districts if the proposed Hale-Aiken school improvement bill passed the Texas Legislature.

If the Hale-Aiken program in its entirety is adopted by the Legislature, at least $60,000 will be added to the income of the Tahoka School District with no increase in local taxes, states Supt. Otis Spears.

In other words, tax funds on a state level will be raised, but there will be no raise on the local level—at least so far as Tahoka is concerned.

Mrs. Wes Cook from Haese, and Mrs. H. G. Eubanks from Channelview, are here visiting their sister Mrs. W. O. Davis. This is the first time that Mrs. Cook has visited her sister since 1948. Mrs. Eubanks hasn't visited with Mrs. Davis since 1953 except for about 30 minutes a few years back.

Joe Newman, father of Mrs. Johnny Raindl, was dismissed from the hospital this week where he had been a patient.

It is not surprising, after all, that a program of this nature is being pushed by the Administration. It is part of the over-all pattern of developments in the United States—a pattern that began to take shape in 1954, when by a stroke of the pen an important segment of states' rights was voted by the United States Supreme Court.

The ugly pattern of a strong centralized government forcing its will on the people of the allegedly sovereign states will continue—and expand—unless a vigorous effort is made to halt and reverse it.

This is a good time to make the effort. Once, before our nation was born, embattled farmers stood up to tyranny successfully. It can be done again.

If all farm organizations join hands in a common fight against this threat, they will win allies from both Houses of Congress.

The fight would be a successful one if carried on with sufficient vigor. It could well turn the tide of paternalism in government.

Farm organizations have honest differences of opinion on what is good for the farmer in legislation. Sometimes these differences are sharp, and find expression in unnecessarily acrimonious exchanges. But, this is one issue on which all legitimate farm organizations can act in unity.

If ever a united front among farmers North and East, South and West, was needed—this is it.

Swine Meeting Is April 22-23

A tri-county Swine Carcass Cut-Out program will be held in Lamesa for farmers of Lynn, Dawson, and Gaines counties April 22 and 23, announces County Agent Bill Griffin.

Purpose of the two-day school is to study percent of primal cut-outs for various hog breeds in keeping with the program to breed meat type hogs.

On the first day there will be a full program featuring a look at live hogs. This will be at Dawson County Fair barns. Beginning at noon the second day, the cut carcasses will be studied, this meeting being at Forrest Community Center.

Lynn county men furnishing hogs for the school are: B. L. Hatfield, Wilson, Hampshire; Jack Wood, O'Donnell, Chester White; and D. B. McMillan, O'Donnell, Duroc.

The school is being conducted by C. T. Tankersley, Extension Service Animal Husbandman, and Roy Snider, Meat Specialist, both of College Station.

An Indian puts it this way: "When they smoked the peace pipe in 1918, nobody inhaled."—Gosport, Pensacola, Fla.

Local People At Lubbock Meeting

The ninth annual convention of the Texas Association for Retarded Children was held in Lubbock at the Caprock Hotel April 9, 10, and 11.

Some of the people attending were Mr. and Mrs. Silas Russ of O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mason, and Mrs. Margaret Renfro, the Lynn County Special School teacher.

The South Plains Council for Retarded Children was the host to this convention and they did a wonderful job.

Theme for the TARC convention was "Working Together Toward Unlimited Horizons." It was a wonderful success, and teachers and interested people from all over the state of Texas attended. The program was well planned with lectures, panels, tours of the Lubbock Special Schools and Texas Technological College.

The local group also gathered some good pamphlets which will enlighten and help with the children in Lynn county.

Mrs. Renfro stated that she did not believe that anyone attending the convention could have gone away without feeling the theme; also feeling that those who help with such children are not alone in this work.

To each according to his particular ability. Matthew 25:15.

Labor . . .

of the six million unemployed have agricultural backgrounds and "will work your farms if you pay them enough." Most of these unemployed are factory workers, many specialists, and would have to be transported half way across the nation to West Texas. To make this work, there must be a Minimum Wage Law in agriculture.

Employer Responsible
A licensed crew chief would be required, probably a Union man. The highest wage paid in the area would determine the prevailing wage scale. Housing requirements under new proposals include 70 square feet for the first man and 50 square feet thereafter, tong and groove flooring. He said agriculture was being discriminated against because this is the only type work where the employer is responsible for the housing. Administration would be by a county agency, responsible to a state agency, in turn responsible to the Federal agency.

Another angle toward unionizing the farm country is the drive to unionize the oil mills, then will come the haulers, the weighers, the ginners, the crew chiefs, and finally the farmer—for he can not gather his crop unless he comes into the union.

He cited the Sheep Shearing bill, already in effect by bureau directive; a sheep owner cannot participate in support prices unless his sheep are sheared by union sheers, on demand.

Labor Situation Critical
Woodrow Brewer, president of Lynn County Farm Bureau, introduced the next speaker, an old friend, Joe Sooter, Muleshoe farmer and president of the West Texas Agricultural Users Association.

Mr. Sooter said we have reached the point where protests have to be lodged quickly, as the current labor crisis will all be over by June 1, the date set for the new regulations to go into effect. He said these new regulations, announced on March 13, are so drastic all other labor problems fade into insignificance.

Heretofore, the problem being fought by the association applied almost strictly to the bracero program. Now, it applies to all domestic farm labor.

Even our State Employment set-up is being changed from a service organization to a regulatory body.

Setting out some of the proposals, he said the farmer will have to furnish transportation for workers to and from their homes any "reasonable distance" which the regulations say would mean as far as from Oregon or Michigan to Tahoka. Prevailing wage scales would have to be paid domestic labor and braceros alike, which could be set $1.25, $1.50 or more per hour depending on the findings in Lynn county. Then, the families would also have to be moved with the worker, housing furnished, schools provided.

He said Union Labor is making a vast move to unionize the farm. They are starting now by unionizing crew chiefs on corporate farms in California.

Secretary Against Farmer
The Secretary of Labor has declared the position of farm laborers is "shocking and indecent" and "I intend that something does come of it." (The drive to put stringent labor regulations on the farmer.) Sooter said that if the Secretary can not get legislation passed, he will circumvent this by bureaucratic directive.

"Labor now has a majority in Congress," Sooter said, "and Unions are confident they can do what they want to do."

"They say Texas has the two most powerful men in Washington in Senator Lyndon Johnson and Representative Sam Rayburn, but I think they overlooked Walter Reuther, Jimmy Hoffa, and George Meany," he declared. "Union leaders will not be satisfied until they re-eliminate the right to work law in every state in the union."

Wilmer Smith, president of Plains Co-op. Oil Mill, said there will be a hearing in Lubbock at the Federal Building Monday at 2:30 p. m. on the proposal for an election among workers to unionize the oil mill.

Satterwhite Speaks
Joe Satterwhite, manager of Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, was introduced by Clint Walker.

With much feeling, Satterwhite emphasized points made by the other speakers. He declared, to start with, Washington is against the bracero program. The latest move is to do away with American insurance policies on braceros and put this in hands of the Mexican government.

He cited George Meany's statement that there are 27 million people in the South, "and we will not stop until we have them in our unions." The Union bosses are out to take our country, he declared, and "this time its going to be cultivators and tractors."

He urged every one present to write congressmen and senators their thoughts.

John Kendrick, Brownfield banker, probably brought the most impressive talk of the meeting.

Profit Said Immoral
"There are those in America who believe it is no longer lawful or moral to make a profit," he declared. "You farmers are business men trying to make a profit. But, we are now in the minority"

He cited that the labor force now numbers 20 million people in the U. S. That leaves another 20 million who are not under Wage and Hour regulations. The acts now before congress will provide Wage and Hour coverage for many of the latter, possibly 13 million.

Even if the laws do not pass, our government has gotten into such a shape where bureau are establishing laws by directive. Some department issues a directive, from which it is practically impossible to appeal, the directive is placed in the Federal Registry and becomes law without Congress ever having approved it.

Both Parties Socialistic
He cited our inclination to be interested in politics only during election campaigns. "Let's play politics all the time," was his plea.

He said the last election someone asked Norman Thomas, the perennial candidate for president of the Socialist ticket, why his name was not on the ballot. The Socialist replied that there was no reason for his running for president because both Republicans and Democrats "have already adopted all my plans in their platforms."

In another statement, he said Congress is so dominated and intimidated by Labor that it doesn't have the guts to write a bill to stop racketeering in unions.

National Debt Astounding
"Our national debt is now 285 billion dollars, the interest on which this year is over eight billion dollars."

Congress has just turned down a proposal to set aside one percent per year to pay off this debt, or $2.85 billion per year. Even at this rate, it would take 100 years to pay off the national debt, and Congress turned the proposal down. Even on this basis, we would pay $493 billion in interest while paying $285 billion in principal, a total of $778 billion dollars. "Where are we going?" he asked.

He told how, in our spiraling race of inflation, wages in the steel industry have increased 288 percent since 1942, while the production of steel has gone up only 30 percent.

Kendrick declared that regardless of Union bosses' claims, the Labor Unions are seeking inflation. Conrad Lohoefer of Lubbock, with Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., spoke very briefly on this organization's interest in the current effort on farm labor.

Should Write Congress
All speakers insisted that farmers and businessmen present write personal letters to Congressmen and Senators, not only our own but others. These men do need word from home, these letters also help them impress other officials.

Mr. Satterwhite, who had talked with Rep. George Mahon that day by telephone, said Mr. Mahon specifically asked that his constituents write or wire him immediately their thoughts.

Mr. Satterwhite informed The News he had talked by telephone to Senator Ralph Yarborough. The Senator told him, Satterwhite said, he could do nothing for he was committed to the other side.

Mr. Verner suggested that anyone writing should request in the letter that it be made a part of the public record.

Bills Are Cited
Bills now before Congress are:

Senate Bill 1046 amending Fair Labor Standard Act of 1938 to provide coverage for employees of large enterprises engaged in retail trade or service and of other employers engaged in activities affecting commerce, to increase the minimum wage to $1.25 per hour and for other purposes, by Senator John Kennedy and others.

Senate Bill 1065 amending same Act to provide coverage for hired farm labor employed by large farm enterprises, and for other purposes, by Senator Pat McNamara and others.

Cain Is Speaker At Methodist Men

Alton Cain was the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of Tahoka Methodist Men Monday night in Fellowship Hall of the church.

While mixing in a little humor, satire, and philosophy, Cain's theme that we, as good citizens, should be proud of our community, our county, our state, and our nation, take our part in civic work and not be hesitant to give a boost to the home town when the opportunity arises.

Six vocal numbers were presented by four junior high school girls, Sharon Patterson, Linda Thomas, Patricia Sikes, and Lynetta Cain, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. W. Patterson. Solos were by Sharon and Patricia.

Rev. J. B. Thompson led the group singing. Frank Hill was in charge of the program.

President Maurice Huffaker, A. M. Bray, and Carl Griffing will be in charge of arranging the food for breakfast meetings during the revival next week, the meetings being set for 7:00 a. m. each week day.

A steak dinner was served by A. M. Bray and helpers.

Next month, Walter Mathis will be in charge of the program and Vernon Jones will arrange the meal.

Schools Install New Furniture

Workmen have been busy the past two weeks installing the new furnishings in North Elementary School, and further improvements are planned for this summer.

The antiquated furnishings have been replaced by 350 student desks and chairs, 35 chairs for the music room, 13 teachers desks and chairs and new furniture in the principal's office.

Also, 50 new desks have been installed in Dumbor School.

Plans are to install new lighting this summer in the North Elementary building.

In the High School, the Science laboratory will be remodeled this summer. This department has been in bad state of repair for several years and is completely inadequate for the teaching of science.

Preliminary work on the new school gymnasium is going forward. Plumbers were roughing in their work this week. The foundation has been completed, and now floors will be poured. Steel should be received at an early date and work started on the superstructure.

MAKE IT EASY ON YOURSELF!

Periodically, Uncle Sam may wish to inspect your books. You can make it easy on yourself if you keep a good record of income and expense that you consider deductible. Cancelled checks provide that record. If you don't pay by check, you would be wise to start now before another month goes by.

You're steadier... more secure...

...in a road-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

Take all its beauty, balance it gracefully on a wider, steadier wheel design and you have a car the likes of which you've never owned. The wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance, but not the car. You're secure at the controls, more comfortable from head to toe. There's a noticeable lack of lean and sway. Narrow track cars fall far short by comparison. Wouldn't this be a good day for you to drive this sweet automobile? The keys are waiting.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

ELMER BLANKENSHIP

A Great Plains Conservation plan is being developed for Dr. E. E. West's farm south of Tahoka. Dr. West lives in Abilene.

Roy Edwards and Clovis Honeycutt, of the Union Compress and Warehouse Co. are seeding the cotton yards and adjacent area to Plains Bristlegrass. This is a short perennial grass that is very well adapted to this area.

How much water ran off the ends of your rows last week?

Larry Edwards, of New Home, won sixth place in the regional essay contest of the Forth Worth Press Awards. Our congratulations to Larry.

Many farmers have placed orders for grain sorghum seed but legume seed should be ordered at the same time. Due to the increased popularity of many legumes the seed supply may be short this year. Order now to be sure.

Clovis Honeycutt is seeding his root-plowed ground to green sprangletop this spring. Last year it was seeded to blue panic but due to poor moisture conditions during the critical period adequate cover was not obtained.

Until taught by pain, man does not realize the value of water.

Vacant rows will grow weeds—legumes are more profitable. Try it!

R. W. Oyerstreet is seeding his rangeland to a mixture of permanent grasses. Brush control is planned later in the season.

Weldon Bailey and Melvin Wuenche are planting Woodward sand bluestem for seed production.

J. L. Scott is planting two acres of Klien grass for adaptation. Klien grass is being tested for the area. Scott also has crested wheatgrass, Blackwell switchgrass, and Nomad alfalfa, which is a dryland alfalfa which does very well in this locality.

If you are considering a pasture planting use a permanent grass or a legume. Pastures planted this spring can be grazed this fall—don't wait until the pasture is needed to seed it.

Farmers On FHA Complete Plans

Lynn county farmers who borrow the Farming Home Administration have completed making their farming plans for this year. And many are already putting new ideas into operation which should boost their 1959 farm income, Perry W. Walker, the agency's local county supervisor, said this week.

Better farming practices which some FHA borrowers will be putting into operation include (1) Increasing livestock operations. (2) Maintaining reserve feed supplies to avoid improper use of grassland and crop land vegetation. (3) Using emergency wind and erosion practices when needed. (4) Using chiseling or other practices to break plow sole as an aid in establishing the conservation program. (5) Testing soils and applying recommended kinds and amounts of fertilizer. (6) Practice live at home program by raising more meat, vegetables, eggs, poultry, etc. for home use.

During the past three months all FHA borrowers have analyzed their farm and home records. These records showed what had been planned and what had been accomplished. On the basis of the records the families were able to determine the strong and weak points in their operations and recognize improvements that could be made in their operations.

As proof that good farm planning pays off, Mr. Walker points

Senator Preston Smith

The voters of Texas may be called upon in the near future to say whether or not some important changes should be made in the Texas Constitution.

Currently dedicated to the task of beginning a serious study of our Constitution is a group of 18 men and women who believe the Constitution of 1876 should be given a general overhauling.

In the years since it was adopted in 1876, following a constitutional convention, this basic law of the state has been patched and cluttered, the committee said.

It more resembles grandma's often revised and continuously built-up cook book, filled with inserts on new ways to bake, fry and stew.

Dean Robert G. Storey, SMU law school, chairman of the citizens advisory committee authorized by the 55th Legislature, simply refers to the extraneous matter in the Constitution as "dead-wood."

Two years ago the Legislature approved a resolution establishing the advisory committee composed of six appointees of the governor, lieutenant governor and the speaker of the House. The resolution in effect gives the advisory group the status of "watchdog" to keep things moving. The task of a four year research and study of the Constitution was turned over to the Texas Legislative Council.

But lack of funds halted the study. In the interim the citizens advisory committee, with no financial assistance, has prepared a report to the Legislature to this effect: "The committee is concerned by the extent to which the Constitution contains hollow phrases, defective provisions and creakingly antiquated policies, most of which involve no true clash of principals. To a surprising degree the Constitution embodies sections that have been preserved not because they reflect the current conviction of some determined element of the public, but for no better reason than that nobody has bothered to remove them after they had served their original purpose."

out that nearly 55 percent of the FHA borrowers in Lynn county have repaid their FHA loans during 1958, and most are now able to get all their necessary financing from local banks or cooperative lenders.

A. M. Bray Tells Football Career

A. M. (Maurice) Bray told of his experience as high school, university, and professional football player in a talk at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Playing at tackle all the way, he was a member of the Abilene High School Eagles and the SMU Mustangs before entering the professional ranks.

The first year after leaving Southern Methodist in 1932, he played for Dallas in the short-lived professional league which included Houston, St. Louis, Charlotte, N. C., and New Orleans. From there, he went to the Pittsburg Steelers, where for three years, 1934-36, at 220 pounds he was the smallest tackle in professional football.

He told some of the differences in pro ball then and now. Whereas today there is a specialist for every function, in those days most players went all the way on offense and defense. During his professional career, Bray averaged 54 minutes per ball game. One year, the Steelers ended the season with only 16 men on its roster.

Bray said most of the players were fine fellows, great athletes and were in wonderful physical condition. He says pro football offers a wonderful opportunity to a young man just out of college to get a financial start in life.

One of the most humorous instances he encountered in his football career was in a game between SMU and Nebraska. Late in the game, SMU was leading 27 to 21, but Nebraska was moving down on the SMU goal line with a score almost certain. It was at this point that an SMU guard, Red Jackson, let out a yell as the play was run. An official ran over to see what was the matter. Jackson showed the official teeth marks on his leg and declared somebody had bitten him in the pile-up. The official promptly marched off a 15-yard penalty against Nebraska, ending the touch-down threat. Afterwards, someone asked Red if he knew who bit him. Red replied, "Of course, I did."

Herb Carter arranged the program.

Present as new members were C. W. (Preacher) Roberts and Larry Hagood.

"ORTHOcide Soil Treater X gave me a perfect stand of cotton..."
says cotton grower Virgil Burnett of Brownfield, Texas

Referring to last year's conditions, Mr. Burnett adds: "This was in spite of cold, wet soil during planting. The soil temperatures averaged 56 to 59 degrees which is pretty cold for cotton. ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X more than pays for itself in stonger plants and more of them. It gave me strong early season growth and an earlier harvest."

ORTHOcide Soil Treater X is the best insurance against the high cost of replanting. It creates a protected zone in the furrow allowing the tender seedling to develop normally in spite of cold, wet, infected soil. The early maturity and better stands which result can bring greater profits from higher yields of top grade cotton.
