Dry Weather Hurting Crops

All spring and summer the weather's been too wet for Lynn county farming, but following a two week's drouth some crops are already beginning to suffer. Most farmers over the county would welcome a cotton shower, and some of the older cotton and feed are beginning to suffer. Hot spots are showing up in cotton principally in the southwest section. County Agent Bill Griffin says the excessive rain this year has been the cause of tender plants and inadequate root system to withstand dry weather during the period of heavily fruiting cotton and maize that is in the heading stage. As a result, like in Central Texas, the plant this year needs rain much quicker than usual. Farmers in the southwest and those with old cotton in other sections of the county report "hot spots" showing up in cotton. Some of the old feed in scattered sections is beginning to "fire up." In two more weeks, if no rain comes, production will be cut considerably. A shower now and another in about two or three weeks would produce one of the county's biggest crops per acre, some farmers declare.

Four Are Hurt In Car Wreck

Four persons were injured, none seriously, in a two-car crash Saturday about noon on FM 1054, the Draw road, about two miles south of US 380, the Post highway. Mrs. L. J. Marett, who lives east of town, and two children, Barbara Sue and Terry Lynn, occupying a pickup were injured in a collision with a station wagon driven by Nancy Bailey, 14, belonging to her sister. The Marett's were taken to a Lamesa hospital for treatment and were released the next day. Nancy Bailey received treatment in Tahoka Hospital. All had bruises and cuts. Mrs. Marett was traveling east. The News is informed, and Miss Bailey was driving south. The girl's mother, Mrs. J. C. Bailey, Sr., of Draw, was following Nancy in a pickup and had the terrifying experience of witnessing the wreck. They were returning home from town, where they had a wash and grease job done on the station wagon. Both machines in the accident were badly torn up and the occupants were fortunate in escaping with no more serious injuries.

City Officers At Water Meeting

Tahoka City officials attended a meeting of the Canadian River Municipal Water authority Monday in Plainview, the first meeting of the body in the past six months. The directors authorized a coordinating committee of three members to initiate a "new approach" to solution of problems facing the project. The authority has been "bogged down" because of a variance of opinion between Lubbock and Amarillo over a water price differential. Included in the new approach will be an educational program aimed at citizens of the towns involved, principally Amarillo, which has been holding back the project. E. R. Edwards, Tahoka representative on the board, was appointed to a budget committee, also composed of Al Banasik of Amarillo and Irving Jones of Lubbock. Member cities are: Amarillo, Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa, Borger, Plainview, Tahoka, Pampa, O'Donnell, Levelland, and Slaton. In addition to Edwards, those attending the meeting from Tahoka were Mayor H. B. McCord Sr. and Councilmen W. C. Wharton and Meldon Leslie.

Contract Let On 14 Miles Of New Farm-to-Market Paving

Mrs. Wilmer Smith Attends National Church Conference. Mrs. Wilmer Smith of New Home last week attended as a delegate from this area the National Town and Country Conference of the Methodist Church held in Wichita, Kansas, Monday through Friday. She was the lone lay delegate from the Northwest Texas Conference. There were 1,050 delegates registered from all parts of the nation and from Alaska and the Philippines. Each day, the delegates were divided into 63 discussion groups, at which problems of the rural church were taken up, as well as at the general sessions. Many Methodist Bishops and prominent laymen appeared on the program. Mrs. Smith says the conference is held every four years and this is the fourth such meeting that has been held. She feels she received much good from the meeting. Mrs. Smith, who is president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, had the week before attended the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety meeting in Austin, of which she is vice president.

Plant Grass In Old City Park

Pat Hines, city water superintendent, and city workers have cleaned, dug up old trees, and seeded to grass the old city park block on which the new Municipal Building was erected a few years ago. Hines states he hopes to have the block landscaped next winter, and before long this will again be a Tahoka beauty spot. Since building the new and larger city park in south Tahoka, the old city park had been neglected. Now that Tahoka has plenty of water, at least for the time being, the City Council felt they could afford to go ahead with this new beautification project.

Contract for 14 miles of new farm-to-market road in Lynn county has been let to James E. Kerr Construction Co., the State Highway Commission announced this week through Oscar L. Crain, Lubbock district engineer. Ten miles of the new paving will be the road from West Point to New Moore. The other four miles will fill in the gap between Petty and the West Point-Lakeview paving. The north-south road from Lakeview to West Point and New Moore is Farm Road 2081. The road west from Petty to FM 2081 is an extension of Farm Road 1317. The contract calls for grading, structures, base, and surfacing. It also includes a four and a half mile job in Dawson county on FM 1064, and the low bid for the three projects was $148,627.00. The contractor will be allowed 140 working days to complete the job. A. W. Partain, resident engineer at Lamesa, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction. Mr. Partain informs The News this is the last farm-to-market paving that will be done in Lynn county voluntarily by the State Highway Department. In the future application and need for such paving must be pushed by citizens and the local Commissioners' Court. Counties getting in the applications first for needed road will likely get the money for their construction.

O'Donnell Plans New Paving

City of O'Donnell is considering a new street paving program, if sufficient citizens are interested, according to the Index-Press. Citizens who want paving in front of their city property are being asked to contact members of the City Council. Complete blocks will have to be signed up. The city will pay the cost of paving intersections and streets adjacent to alleys. O'Donnell initiated a city improvement program last year, since which time a new swimming pool, a community building, and a new city hall and fire station have been erected. In addition, a Livestock Show Barn has been erected by public subscription.

Griffing Featured In Story On Grass

Carl Griffing of Tahoka, who farms the Buel Draper place south of Brownfield near the Foster gin, was featured in a picture in the Brownfield News Sunday. The "cutlines" say: Carl Griffing discusses a new wrinkle in grass planting with Soil Conservation Service Technician Martin Barrington. Before planting a field to Blackwell switchgrass, Griffing soaked the seed in water 24 hours. He then dried the seed enough to permit free flow through the planter and planted in 40-inch rows. "Some of the seedlings were out of the ground in three days," he reported. Griffing has used this method for several years on other types of grass. "By soaking the seed, I can get them up before the ground crusts, giving the seedlings several extra days in which to get their roots pegged down before the top soil dries out," he added.

Fertilizers Have Carryover Value

College Station - Fertilizer applied in one year can result in additional profits at the end of the following year's crop. In fact, increased yields from carryover fertilizer can often pay for the original cost of the fertilizer, said W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

Two demonstrations conducted by County Agent Bill Taylor in Hockley County in 1958 demonstrated these points, stated Bennett. In both cases, the fertilizer was applied prior to planting in 1957 and yields were taken in both 1957 and 1958.

On the Wayland Fred farm near Pettit, only two out of the six treatments applied failed to return enough of an increase to pay for the fertilizer costs, said the chemist. One rate, a 70-70-0, returned a profit of $21.80 in 1958 over and above the 1957 fertilizer costs. There were no yield increases from the fertilizer applications in 1957 due to a poor season.

In the demonstration conducted on the Morgan Rust farm near Levelland, all fertilizer treatments in the demonstration gave a highly profitable increase in yield in 1957. Looking at 1958 yields, all treatments gave sufficient yield increases to more than pay for the cost of the fertilizer, the chemist said. One treatment in the demonstration, a 30-60-30, gave a profit above 1957 fertilizer costs of $29.35. Considering the increased profits for both 1957 and 1958, the 30-60-30 treatment returned $121.75 for an investment of $12.30.

These two demonstrations emphasized the value of carryover fertilizer. If good results are not obtained in one year such as in 1957, the carryover effect will still help to pay for the fertilizer, Bennett added.

FERTILIZER BULLETIN IS AVAILABLE TO FARMERS

College Station—"Fertilizers and Their Use" is the title of a bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

William F. Bennett, extension soil chemist and author of the bulletin, points out that plants are much like human beings. They need air to breathe, water to drink and nutrients to help them grow and reproduce. If any one of these is not available, the plants wither and die.

When air and water are in balance, plant nutrients—or fertilizer—can be used effectively by the plants. Sixteen elements presently are considered for plant growth and two others are considered by some to be essential. If any of the 16 essential elements are deficient, plants will not grow properly.

The 15-page bulletin covers a variety of subjects related to fertilizer and their use. Some of the topics discussed are first uses of fertilizers, fertilizer use today, plant nutrients, source of nutrients how to determine fertilizer needs, economics of fertilizer use, and others. It is available free of charge from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-167.

During the Civil War, the Federal Navy paid a Frenchman $10,000 to build a submarine to sink the Confederate iron-clad Merrimac. But when a naval officer arrived to take command of the finished vessel, the inventor had disappeared (with his $10,000). As no one could figure out how to work the gadget, it never was of any use to the Navy.

Behold the Ant...

Science tells us that the strongest thing in the world for its size is the common red ant. This marvel of nature can lift 10 times its own weight.

As strong as the red ant may be, it has been proven that the most powerful thing for its size is the little want ad in your local newspaper.

The want ad, which costs only a few cents a day, does a hundred-fold job. This mighty mite of the printed page finds jobs for folks, sells used lawnmowers, rents houses, sells farms, loans money, finds missing persons, locates lost dogs, rents appliances, thanks folks, locates homes for surplus puppies, and performs a hundred and one useful services for the community.

Melvin Wuensche Raises Grass To Improve Soil and For Cash Crop

By Allyn Cox and Dan Kamp
The need for soil improvement and additional cash crops has been of great concern to Melvin Wuensche on his farm near Wilson. After discussing the advantages of perennial grasses with Allyn Cox, Soil Conservation Service Technician, Wuensche started by planting 8 acres of El Reno sideoats grama, 23 acres of sorghum-almum, 4 acres of Blackwell switchgrass and 35 acres of blue panicum grass. This crop, produced in 1957, yielded 400 pounds of sideoats grama seed per acre, 200 pounds of blue panicum seed per acre and 800 pounds of sorghum alnum per acre.

seeding various types of rangeland throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. There is a disadvantage to having several varieties when it comes to harvesting because equipment must be changed or modified. Three varieties of sideoats grama, El Reno, Vaughn and Uvalde are being grown in addition to Plains bristlegrass, sand bluestem, Little bluestem, Weeping lovegrass, green sprangletop, blue panicum and sorghum alnum, making a total of 150 acres of grass for seed production. The grasses on the Wuensche farm receive the same careful cultivation and weed control as is used on cotton, which accounts for the high production of good quality seed. Some roquing is done on the grasses to get a more uniform species by taking out those plants that do not conform to the kind of grass being grown. Supplemental irrigation is given the native grasses to insure a high quality and quantity of seed per acre. Plains bristlegrass planted in the spring of 1958 will produce three to four seed crops this year. Two crops of seed will be gathered from the two-year old sideoats grama planting while only one crop will be taken from the first year planting. Two seed crops are harvested from the blue panicum and sorghum alnum while most of the other grasses normally produce one seed crop per year. Wuensche now has a small herd of cattle to utilize surplus hay and to graze the grasses at certain times of the year. As grass plantings are increased, the herd will be increased accordingly. Wuensche's plan calls for leaving the land for three years to get maximum soil improvement benefits in hopes that it will greatly decrease damage from verticillium wilt. Wuensche says, "There is no doubt in my mind that cotton following grass will out produce cotton following other crops. I plowed up four rounds of Blackwell this year and it is the best cotton on the farm."

Inspecting perennial grasses on the Melvin Wuensche farm in the north part of the county in the picture above are Jess H. McWherter of Brownfield; Mr. Wuensche; and Allyn Cox SCS technician with the Lynn County Soil Conservation District. They are looking at some Plains bristlegrass, which is shocked for drying before thrashing.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson
As another month draws to a close, we are again aware of the calendar Dad's day the first of the month will dawn again tomorrow, which reminds us of the calendar reformers who periodically appear upon the scene. If you think the faithful old calendar you have always used is a settled and permanent thing you are mistaken. The truth is calendar reforming is about as venerable a pastime as anything in the history of mankind. To set a satisfactory mode of adjusting the natural divisions of time has come about as near worrying people sick as anything they ever undertook. We have been arguing about it for more than two thousand years and many are still grumbling about the results. The moon became man's first measures of time beyond the ever present cycle of day and night, but as man learned more and became more curious he wanted to figure out the duration of the year and immediately ran into trouble. At first they took 12 lunar months of twenty nine and a half days each and made a year of 354 days. This worked fine for a while but not for long. It was soon discovered that the seasons did not correspond to the same months year after year. In the course of time it was snowing in August and 100 in the shade in January. Some people got rather superstitious about this, but the Jews and the Greeks hit upon the expedient of throwing in an extra month now and then to balance things up. When the Romans got in the spotlight they installed a year of ten months, beginning with March and ending with December. They soon found that wouldn't work so they put in January and February and made a year of 355 days. Then Julius Caesar appeared and determined to do something about the calendar, while he was a great fellow in many ways he was weak in mathematics, so he secured a brain trust by the name of Sosigenes to do the figuring for him. He figured out one thing, tho, and changed the name of a month to July and when Augustus Caesar came along he named the next one August. None of the Caesar boys was bashful about honoring himself so we always join in and help every year in July and August. Things went along until Pope Gregory the Eighth annulled ten days declaring October 5, 1582 to be October 15 but I am too tired to go into that now. Who knows what the date is?

Little League Loses Play-Off

Post Little League All-Stars won the Area 2 play-offs at Lamesa last week end to win the right to enter the Regional tournament at Lubbock this week.

Post won its first game over Jay-ton Thursday evening 20 to 12, took out Tahoka Friday evening in a close 4 to 3 victory, and Saturday won over Slaton 6 to 4 for the title.

Tahoka's loss was just a case of hard luck of the local boys and "big" Daniel Johnson, the one-man team from Post. Johnson was the winning pitcher, gave up eight hits, struck out two, and walked one, but he hit two home runs, one in the second and one in the fourth.

Terry Harvick, losing pitcher for Tahoka, turned in a great game even though losing, as he gave up only four hits, fanned six, and walked one, and scored one run. A. G. Cook had a double and a single to lead Tahoka's eight-hit barrage.

Tahoka tied up the score in the sixth, but Post went ahead in the bottom of the inning on two singles and a Tahoka error.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tomlinson and family of Durant, Okla., and Mrs. Dick Snow and family of Perryton visited Mrs. Nora Tomlinson and other relatives the past week. Also visiting the Tomlinsons Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jester and family of Floydada.

Tahoka Boys Win Over Black Cats

The Tahoka Boys beat the Black Cats last Thursday night by a score of 5 to 4. The winning pitcher was Deane Wright and losing pitcher was Maxie Williams.

Tahoka had 10 hits, five runs and one error. Black Cats had five hits, four runs and five errors.

The Black Cats got two runs in the first and two in the seventh, while Tahoka got two in the second, one in the fourth, one in the fifth and one in the eighth.

The game was all tied after Forsythe hit a double with two men on in the second. Finley hit a two to lead off in the fourth, and John Thomas moved him to second on a sacrifice fly to deep right field. Tiny Snee moved him to third on a single. Charlie Holland drove him home on a double to center field. Gerald Short flied out to end the inning.

Black Cats failed to score in the fourth, fifth and sixth. Elliott led off the fifth with a single and Finley moved him to third on a single. John Thomas drove him home on a sacrifice fly. In the sixth Jim Green hit a long drive to center field for a double but was thrown out at third trying to make a triple. In the sixth Wade Holland drove in the two runs for Tahoka, and the Black Cats got two runs in the seventh but could not tie the score.

Last Tuesday the local boys lost to Post 16 to 10. Pitcher for Tahoka was Kenneth Hanes while the winning pitcher was Bill Maxwell of Post.

FINIS ROGERS SCORES 10 RUNS IN PLAY-OFFS

Finis Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rogers of Newmoore and a former player in the local Little and Pony League, was the big gun in the 15 to 7 victory over Levelland Monday night.

The first time Finis was at bat he got a triple with the bases loaded, the second time a double with two on, and the third time a single with two on. He drove in seven runs and scored three runs himself, or being responsible for 10 of Brownfield's 15 runs.

Winner of the Babe Ruth play-offs will go to the state meet at Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Boyd of Abilene visited here this week with his brother, M. M. Boyd, and wife while en route home from a vacation trip to California.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

In the days of Kipling's British Empire whenever some colonial galloped up to report "Sahib, sahib, the natives are restless," a battalion of the Right Royal Foot Fusiliers, or some such outfit would be rushed to the scene where it would be handled with no nonsense.

But the Empire has a much better way these days. If the colonial natives are not happy, the United States Treasury, supplied with dollars from taxes on American free enterprise, rush into the breach to save colonialism and its profits for the Empire.

At least this is all indicated in the report for 1958 just published by the International Cooperation Administration, or ICA, the current name for Washington's huge foreign give away operation.

It is interesting to note that at the end of 1958, ICA listed over 11,000 employees of which more than 9,000 were overseas somewhere, and 143, classified as "unassigned complement" were presumably sitting around waiting for somebody to dream up a nice new boondoggie for them.

But this is not really the great paradox when U. S. public seems to have accepted, at least by default, the fact that billions are being thrown around the world.

But what really throws the chicken feathers in the fan is the reported fact that ICA has people on duty in British Guiana, British Honduras, Jamaica, Surinam, and Trinidad. ICA also has some people in British East Africa.

In addition, there are a sizeable number in some of the French colonies.

Now there may be some excuse for American give away experts to be in Trinidad. Not many years ago it was understood the favorite song down there was rum and Coca Cola. Now apparently there is no shortage of rum down there, but perhaps they need some free Coca Cola.

Thus, the nation comes face to face with one of the weirdest facts of all about the entire weird world wide give away programs.

There is perhaps some excuse for helping out in a small, undeveloped independent nation that could use a friendly hand right now. But to go into other nation's colonies with ICA "fast buck" boys seems quite absurd.

The whole colonial system was based on the colonizing nation making a little profit out of the natives. If there was no profit, either the world power pulled out, or else sold to some other nation that figured it could do with the extra land.

In fact, the United States picked up considerable choice real estate this way such as the lands in the Louisiana Purchase, Alaska, the Virgin Islands to mention some.

It is perhaps unfortunate this give away gimmick wasn't thought of many years ago, because if it had, Texas might still be a Mexican colony. Davy Crockett would have lived to kill more bear, and the Alamo would have been ICA headquarters to pass out fresh new U. S. tax money every time the native got restless. It would almost seem the early leaders who made this nation great were either short of vision, or short of cash.

Lynn County Can Take Advantage Of New Texas Brucellosis Law

The new Texas Brucellosis law, passed by the 56th Legislature in the first special session, can be of vital importance to Lynn county producers of livestock, states County Agent Bill Griffin.

In cattle, the disease is commonly known as Bang's disease, but it also is a contagious disease in swine, sheep, and horses. Contracted by man, usually from animals, it is known as undulant fever.

Livestock producers are principally concerned because of the loss in profit by having infected stock through abortions. In the past, stock could be marketed for meat, but in the future movement of such stock from one county to another will be controlled by those counties coming into the program designed to control and eradicate the disease.

The new law provides that 75 percent of the cattle owners of a county who has rendered their cattle on the tax rolls, owing 51 percent of the cattle, may petition to have the county or a certain portion of the county designated as a control area.

When the Livestock Sanitary Commission receives a petition it will issue a proclamation describing the area, plus date regulation becomes effective, not less than 90 days from issuance of proclamation. A hearing will be held at least 30 days from each applying area.

The law provides two types of Brucellosis control and petition must designate which type is requested. In Type II areas, the Commission will conduct the test and vaccination and enforce the rule and regulations. An area will be certified when not more than one percent of the cattle in five percent of the herds are found to be infected. It prohibits the commission from adopting regulations that would interfere with free movement of vaccinates under 30 months of age from unquarantined herd in this state.

The law provides penalties for anyone moving cattle into or within the control area without a permit, except owner can move cattle to contiguous pastures if not quarantined. Owners must submit cattle for test, vaccination, or identification of be subjected to penalty. Reactors must be fire branded with letter "B".

Appeals may be made to Civil Courts if owner is dissatisfied with rulings of the Commission.

Another new Texas law is the Hog Cholera Virus Law, which makes it unlawful for anyone to sell or offer for sale, trade, or to give away unattended hog cholera virus in the state.

The deepest spot in the Pacific Ocean off the Marianas Islands is 35,640 feet, or about a mile deeper than Mount Everest is high.

Savings Bond Sales Are High

Charles Verner, chairman of Lynn county's Savings Bonds Committee, reports that June bond sales in Texas were 11.4 percent greater than May sales. Bond sales in Lynn county totaled $237,047.00 for the first half of 1959. This represents 91.5 percent of the year's goal for the county.

Sales in Texas for the first half of 1959 were $81,960,468 or 44.9 percent of the year's goal of $182.5 million.

"The fine sales increase shown in June points up the fact that thousands of Texans are interested in an investment where their principal and interest are fully guaranteed by the U. S. Treasury Department. I believe strongly in the bond slogan—"Part of Every American's Savings belongs in Savings Bonds" Verner stated. "More Texans should take part in the Savings Bonds program, not only as a tangible expression of patriotism, but as a practical way of saving for future personal security," chairman Verner concluded.

Senator Preston Smith

Who is to blame for Texas' lack of action on raising additional money to finance the state's government?

After six months of work, including the special sessions, frayed tempers here in Austin have circulated the blame for delay of a new tax program.

Governor Daniel blames the lobby—House Speaker Carr has blamed "obstructionists in the House"—and the House, in occasional flurries, blames the press and black headlines.

Actually, the real issue it seems is a severance beneficiary tax on natural gas vs. a production tax on natural gas. The opposition to both types of natural gas taxes has clashed in many legislative skirmishes during the 56th Legislature.

One Austin columnist calls this natural gas tax dispute, one of the principal issues, that have delayed tax action. He pinpoints the natural gas dispute as costing time, money and tempers in the Legislature.

The gas tax issue has been camouflaged in many voting bouts by side issues, he said, and that Texas gas-wise "is split between producers, pipelines, industrial users. It is strictly a lobby fight, pro and con, carried on through the Legislators who have to vote on the issue."

With the gas tax issue, and hundreds of other Legislative problems, capitol observers were not surprised when Speaker Waggoner Carr stood before the House and challenged his opposition to "put up or shut up." It was bound to come out of all the Legislative confusion, they said. Carr learned of rumored action to impeach him, and in a personal privilege speech, told the House, "I recognize that this move has been prompted by those who seek the opportunity to politically kill me because they envision me as a possible statewide candidate some day who does not share their political philosophy."

The House, following the address sent a committee to escort Carr back to his rostrum.

ROSS ELLIS USING LIQUID FERTILIZER... Ellis farms five miles northwest of Brownfield. He has 148 acres of irrigated cotton and "I'm side-dressing with 15-gallons of 20-5-0 per acre. That figures out at the rate of about 30 pounds of nitrogen, 7 1/2 pounds of phosphate and no potash. I haven't used liquid fertilizer before, but from what I hear and from my own personal observation, I like it. It's easy to apply, money-saving in cost, and labor-saving in putting down. As I said, I don't know too much about it, but I see no reason why it shouldn't be just as good as any type fertilizer I could use," Ellis said.

The question has been asked many times: "How important is phosphate, or any one nutrient in a fertilizer formula as compared to the other? Is it necessary to have an available supply of all plant nutrients, or can nitrogen carry the burden?"

strong, healthy plant—working with a good supply of phosphate to insure a well-fruited plant that will give top production. A plant which has an available supply of phosphate, along with needed nitrogen, will mature faster and produce better.

To answer this to parallel it with the idea of having a two-mule wagon, loaded heavily, and then trying to pull the load with one big mule and one little mule. The big one may carry the brunt of the load for a short distance, but what is going to happen when he gets tired?

You can't get top production from nutrient-hungry plants. And when you fertilize, be sure to supply a balanced diet for your crop.

The same applies to fertilizers—When a farmer has a balanced diet of plant nutrients—his nitrogen will assure him of a

Don't second-guess your crop, have tissue tests made in our Soils Laboratory and get your plant nutrients "pulling together."

Slaton Man Is Rotary Speaker

Frederic de Vries, Slaton photographer, brought an entertaining talk to Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

His talk was strictly comedy and foolishness, dealing with his life and experiences, especially in Slaton, which talk he illustrated with "blown-up" pictures.

The program was arranged by Larry Hagood, who introduced the speaker.

C. W. Conway thanked all who had helped with the Little League and Pony League programs this year. He stated that the organizations finished the season "in the black" financially.

MRS. J. E. DULIN HERE

Mrs. J. E. Dulin and Jimmie Lou were home over the week end from Corpus Christi, where her husband and son and crews are busily engaged in operating their combines. Mrs. Dulin says they are now cutting the 3,500 to 4,000 acres of milo on the large Chapman Ranch farms. She says the milo is the best they have ever seen in five years of operations all the way from Gatesville down to the Valley.

Fruett Smith On Bar Committee

Appointment of Tahoka attorney Fruett B. Smith to a key committee of the Texas State Bar was announced this week by Bar President A. J. Folley of Amarillo.

Smith was named to a three-year term on the administration of justice committee, the Bar's largest, with 45 lawyers and judges. The group conducts a continuing study of the rules of practice and procedure in civil actions and recommends amendments, when needed, to the Texas Supreme Court.

Congratulations to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal! Your new building, one of the finest in the Southwest for newspaper production, and the fine paper you produce is an asset to this area.

The News and the Avalanche have some sentimental ties not otherwise enjoyed by other papers. Few people know it now, but the old Avalanche and The News were once partners; then, too, the publishers of The News came to Tahoka about the same time Charley Guy came to Lubbock to join the old Journal, and we have enjoyed his friendship ever since.

The reputation or standing of any individual, firm, or corporation that may appear in the columns of The Lynn County News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

Shortly after World War I, James L. Dow, then owner of the Avalanche, bought The Lynn County News from the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Crie, and sent R. B. (Bob) Haynes, who had been with him several years at Lubbock, to Tahoka to run the paper, and Bob Haynes, now of Miami, later bought the paper from Dow. Dow and Haynes sent down a lot of equipment from the Avalanche shop to The News shop. One piece of equipment was an old Model L Linotype, the Avalanche's first typesetting machine, long ago assigned to the junk heap. Another piece was the little Walter Scott two-revolution press, which The News used a number of years and then sold to the O'Donnell Index-Press nearly twenty years ago. Still another piece of equipment is an old Rosback perforator, which The News still has, and which is still serving its purpose in capable manner—in fact, we believe this is the only thing left out of the old Avalanche shop that The News still has.

E. I. Hill, now deceased, came to Tahoka about Nov. 1, 1923. Chas. A. Guy came to Lubbock in January, 1924, and Frank Hill joined The News on June 1, 1924.

Over the years, The Avalanche has helped us out on numerous occasions, and we have helped them out in a number of ways.

We send special congratulations to our friends, Parker Prouty, publisher; Chas. A. Guy, Editor; Mickey Henley of the advertising department; all the boys on the news side, including C. W. Ratliff, Charley Watson, Jay Harris, R. C. Hankins, Kenneth May, Jerry Hill, Dorance Guy, Tanner Laine, Joe Kelly, our own Duane Howell; and to all the boys in the shop, including old Tony Borho the superintendent, who has been a friend in need, Rufus Rainey, A. M. Eubanks, Tim Stovall, Roy Marshall, Mr. Moore, and we're sure we've missed some of our old friends in this list.

Roy Askew was recalling old school days at Wells. There were about 25 schools in Lynn county then, and every school had a makeshift outdoor basketball court. Wells boys had been playing in overalls, but they ordered some suits of brown khaki shorts and brown jerseys and invited T-Bar over for a match game. Calvin Dorman, member of the T-Bar team, had stubbed his big toe. In the game, somebody stepped on Calvin's sore toe, and Roy says he will never forget the antics of Calvin dancing around the court on one foot.

We marvel many times at the scene of humor displayed by our farmers even when they are confronted by almost unsurmountable problems. There have been a lot of jokes told about this year's weed crop.

Bob Nunley was measuring a field of cotton out at New Home, says Wayman Smith. Bob asked, "Have you seen that stake I drove down out there?" Wayman replied, "Heck, no, we've got a tractor out there somewhere in those carless weeds—we've been hunting three days."

Borden Davis says some farmer told him that while hoeing cotton he hung his water bag on the limb of a careless weed. A little bit later he came back for a drink, but the weed had grown so fast the water bag was out of reach.

Welch Flippin claims this is a true story: Tuesday of last week he had some hands cut the weeds on two acres of feed land at Midway on the shores of a lake. He hauled the weeds away in a truck so that he could plow the feed. He claims the snakes had nearly killed the feed, though, crawling over it in the jungle.

Our granddaughter, Vicki Jacobs, age nine, listening to the TV "Sewell's Jewels" program the other night, said the weather-caster used the word "about" 19 times. She says this is about too many times to use the word about in ten minutes. Boy, we'd better begin watching our own vocabulary a little closer around the kids.

City of Lubbock has begun assessing owners a minimum of $5.00 each for cleaning up vacant lots, if the owner fails to clean them up himself. Tahoka would be a much nicer place if some arrangement could be made to clean the vacant lots and alleys of weeds and mesquite bushes.

The new "Lyndon Johnson election code" passed by the 56th Legislature of Texas moved the first primary up to the first Saturday in May. In the past, it has been the fourth Saturday in July.

In the future, the deadline for filing for public office will be February 1, instead of the first Monday in May.

The new law was designed, mainly, to make it possible for Senator Lyndon Johnson to run for and get renominated as U. S. Senator, and at the same time be eligible for nomination as a favorite son for president at the Democratic National Convention. He could be on the General Election ballot twice.

Beware of the salesman who offers to give you something free.

A reunion is a gathering of folks who all look older than you do.—Swiped.

The Crosbyton Review reports a citizen of that town is deathly afraid of mice. While out in the weeds, he suddenly felt something run up his leg. The mouse-hater grabbed his trousers at the suspected point and shouted for someone to bring a knife. When his trousers were cut open at that spot, they found some tickle grass.

W. G. Lyons of Galveston writes: "Wouldn't miss the Lynn County News at all if I could help it. Take care of that Thomas family for me until I get back." Thank you, Will, and we greatly enjoy chatting with you on your Tahoka visits.

Mrs. Brooks Smith, who lives down near the City Park, brought The News some fine cucumbers the other day, one of them 13 inches long, and invited us down to gather some peas, beans, cucumbers, and roasting ears. She says she has the best garden she ever raised.

At the Fony League games last week, a man from Post said his school for the coming year would have six football coaches and two English teachers. The next night, a man from Slaton told us "We've got six coaches for this fall and are sending them all to the coaching school in Fort Worth. We're going all-out to have a winning team.

We're about as strong for athletics and physical development as the next fellow, but we have not reached the point to where we are willing to put football above book learnin'. Whereas our neighbors may be going overboard on coaches, we believe Tahoka is short in this department. We can hardly expect our part-time head coach to produce a winner with one part-time assistant coach.

We still wonder why our Congress and our Legislature can spend a little time looking for ways to save money instead of hunting for something else to tax; why they can't do away with some needless bureaus instead of creating new ones just about every term.

For example, a Texas county superintendent sponsored a move this regular session of the Texas Legislature to do away with the office of county superintendent in 70-odd counties in Texas that had no rural school to superintend. What did the Legislature do? They did away with the office in one county—the county of the man sponsoring the move.

Lynn county has four schools, each of which has a superintendent. Work of the county superintendent's office largely overlaps the duties of the individual superintendents. Much of the work is duplication. Most of it could be done by the four individual school districts. We have nothing against our county superintendent. But, the office belongs to the people of this county, not to the official who holds the office.

"It was worth the price of The News for a year to find out Truett (Smith) is a grandpa, write Charles A. and Mary Margaret Stewart, 1304 Redwood Drive, West Columbia, S. C.

Texas Farm Bureau publishes a very interesting little sheet called "Current and Quotable," in which we found this little story on the modern trend in "progressive education" as told by State Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey of Florida:

Two second graders were standing on their school playground during recess when a jet plane flew over. "Look," said one lad, "it's a BX50." The other child said "No, it's a BX51. You can tell by its wing sweep." The first youngster conceded, "You're right, it's not going more than 700 miles per hour, either, because it didn't break the sound barrier." On this point both agreed. "It's amazing the pressure that develops on those jets when they go into a dive," the second boy remarked, "almost 1,200 pounds per square inch."

At this point the bell called the children back to the classroom. The first child turned to the other, "There's the bell," he sighed. "Let's go back in and finish stringing those darned old beads."

Today's MEDITATION

The Upper Room

Take therefore not thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. (Matthew 6:34.)

Recently I heard the story of an old clock. As the clock was set in place for use for the very first time, it meditated upon its future. The clock figured that it had to tick twice each second. That would mean 120 times every minute, 7,200 times every hour, 172,800

Baptist Church met Monday afternoon for a short business meeting after which Miss Patsy Standefer, who teaches in Saudi Arabia, spoke to the group about the life in general of Saudi Arabia and adjoining countries. All the circles of the W. M. S. met together for the interesting talk. Miss Standefer is the daughter of Mrs. Jessie Standefer, and is a 1941 graduate of Wilson High School.

Mrs. Bill Deaver of Slaton and Mrs. Earl Tunnell of Tahoka visited their mother, Mrs. H. C. Fountain, Sunday.

At this point, so the story goes, the clock fainted from nervous anxiety. Soon it revived and saw things in a new light. It had to tick only one tick at a time. So the clock started to tick. After fifty years it was still going strong.

Are we not much like the clock? We are so prone to be anxious about ourselves, about the future. The cure of anxiety is to trust in the Father's care today. We need to face life in the spirit of Jesus, to seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness.

PRAYER

Dear Father, we thank Thee for Thy Son, our Saviour, who can cure our anxious souls and give us peace. In the name of the Master we pray, as He has taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

This day I will claim the peace of mind that comes through Jesus Christ.—Henry L. Chisolm (Canel Zone).

GREATER ROOMINESS
Official dimensions reported to the Automobile Manufacturers Association make this point abundantly clear. For example, Chevy's front seat room is up to 5.9 inches wider than in comparable cars. And Chevy even offers more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars!

FULL COIL RIDE
You've almost got to find a really rocky road to show off Chevy's easygoing ride to full advantage. MOTOR TREND magazine gives you an idea, though: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

BIGGER SAVINGS
We'll let SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED talk about Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." And every motor magazine concurs! There are eight V8's to pick from—the widest choice in Chevy's field.

FRESH STYLING
POPULAR SCIENCE magazine's experts took one look and said, "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling."

HIGHER TRADE-IN
N.A.D.A.'s Guide Books carry the proof of Chevy's extra trade-in value. They show that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to a solid $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevy's field.

BIGGER BRAKES
Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.
