They'll be safe on Purina Chick Startena

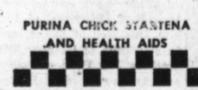

... and it still takes only pennies to feed a chick 5 full weeks

You spend 35 to 60 cents for a good chick. It just makes good sense to feed the best starter you can find to keep them living and growing.

That calls for Purina Chick Startena, the nation's favorite starter for almost 40 years. Yet it takes only 2 pounds of Startena to feed a light-breed chick 5 full weeks. The cost is less than 12 cents

When it takes so little to start chicks right, be sure to order your Startena when you order your chicks. They'll be safe, and so will you.

What Are the Advantages of # LIQUID FERTILIZER?

Liquid Fertilizers have proven to be as good or better than other types of fertilizers. They have a high water solubility which has been proven to be very important in giving Fertilizers a good spread through the soil.

EVERY DROP OF LIQUID FERTILIZER IS A CHEMICAL COMBINATION OF PLANT NUTRIENTS WHICH FACT ALONE INSURES BALANCED FERTILIZATION IN EVERY PORTION OF THE FIELD.

Beyond question the flexibility of Liquid Fertilizers surpass any other type. The needs of the soil is shown by soil tests . . . and can be accurately followed with Liquid Fertilizers. (Example: If the soil test should call for an 80-60-0, there is not a formula in dry fertilizers readily available. In order to get the correct amount of nutrients of one kind, the farmer may have to apply a certain amount of unwanted or not needed nutrients in quantities that can be costly, just to get the correct amount of Nitrogen or Phosphorus. This is not so with Liquid Fertilizers . . . the farmer gets what he needs, in the amounts called for by his soil tests).

Simplicity of Liquid Fertilizers . . . The application of Liquid Fertilizers has been termed as simple as "eating pie." There is no back-breaking lifting-no need to have two or three men per applicator-no need to pay out extra amounts of monies because of the slowness of application of dry fertilizers . . . not when the average farmer can apply up to 60 acres per day with one tractor, and one man. The simplicity of Liquid Fertilizers is one part of the operation that is so amazing that it is hard to tell it to make it sound reasonable. Go by your nearest Liquid Fertilizer dealer and discuss your fertilizer problems with him.

What about price? . . . Generally speaking, plant nutrients in Liquid Fertilizers are lower in cost for the same type of plant nutrients found in other types of fertilizers. And when you buy Liquid Fertilizer, you pay only for the nutrients delivered to you by the dealer,

Before you buy any fertilizer . . . talk to your friends and neighbors who have used Liquid Fertilizers . . . go to your nearest Liquid Fertilizer dealer . . get all the facts, and then you will see why so many farmers are "sold on Liquid Fertilizers . . . the fertilizer "built" for farming.

TV Star Visits Bill McNeelys

Peter Brown, movie and television actor, was a visitor Sunday Brown, who plays the part of Johnny McKay in "The Lawman," seen on ABC television each Monday night, is currently staying at the Town House Motel on Avenue Q in Lubbock. There he became a friend of Neil DeLavon, the owner, who is a friend of the McNeelys.

Sunday, DeLavon and Brown flew down to the McNeely farm for a visit, and Bill says the actor seemed to get a big kick out of visiting on the farm and playing with his grandkids.

Peter Brown, or Johnny McKay, is the handsome 24-year-old, 6 foot 1-inch, star playing with John Russell, or Marshal Dan Troop, each week on "The Lawman" series of Westerns. He was born in New York Oct. 5, 1935, and is from a theatrical family, his mother having been a Broadway actress. A The Master brother is a singer, and actress Diane Jergens is his former wife. Brown started his acting career while in the service in Alaska, and since has appeared in 23 movies in addition to the TV series. He at tended high school in Spokane, Washington, and now lives in Cali-

Recently he has been on location making a western movie, "The Lawless," at Portales, N. M., with Rock Hudson, who plays the lead part in $ 616,522.25 the picture, Donna Reed and Walter Brennan. However shooting of scenes in the picture has been interrupted by the strike of movie actors, and Brown is staying in Lubbock until the strike is settled.

A Minute With

By Bob Barnes, Evangelist Church of Christ

The story is told of some boys who broke into a store one night. They did not take anything from the store. But what they did turned out to be a very damaging prank. They switched the price tags. An article having a value of everal hundred dollars had a price tag of fifteen cents. This was amusing to the boys but somewhat costly to the owners of the store.

I wonder if we have not mixed the price tags today. We are very concerned about our little girls' tap dancing and ballet lessons. We are very concerned about her hair to see that it is fixed just right and that she is clothed. But how concerned are we about the spiritual lives of these little girls? We want to make sure that our boys have what they want, not altogether what they need, in a physicall way, but do we provide for

Which has the greatest value, lasts but for a short time and then is gone. But the soul is a lasting thing. Our sole existence upon this earth is to prepare for a future abiding place. Should not we provide for the spiritual welfare of the boys and girls? God's Word will endure and abide forever. What more lasting thing can we give them than this? We can do a lot by setting the right example for them. Are we concerned about our own souls? Out of a town of several thousand (at least 3,000) should we not have more than 700 in Bible classes? Does this not indicate the lack of concern for the soul?

Christ has said, "What does it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" We must approach God on His terms and not on man's terms. The Bible is recommended to you for your consideration. It is the Book that holds the key to the future.
