Lynn county ginnings for 1959 ranked seventh on the Plains, ninth in the State of Texas, and 20th in the nation, according to the U. S. Bureau of Census report just issued under date of March 21.

Total Lynn county ginnings were 128,742 bales, or 36,355 bales under the 1958 crop of 165,077 bales.

Friday Last Day For Auto Tags

Today, Friday, April 1, is the last day for securing motor vehicle license plates.

J. E. (Red) Brown, tax assessor and collector, will keep his office open until midnight to take care of those who have not yet secured their license plates.

Tags also may be secured at Farmers Co-op Gin in Wilson, Farmers Co-op Gin in New Home, or Moore Insurance Agency in O'Donnell.

Hancock Wins Spelling Bee

Dave Hancock, 13, New Home eighth grade student and son of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. (Billy) Hancock, was named champion Lynn county speller in the contest held here last Thursday afternoon. He will represent Lynn county in the area Avalanche-Journal Spelling Bee in Lubbock April 8.

He was named the winner after successfully spelling "pleasurable" and the next word on the list, "alodge," after the second place contestant had missed the former.

Placing second, and the alternate position from the county, was Jerry Dale Todd, 14, also of New Home and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Todd.

Third place was won by Jack Flippin of Tahoka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Welch Flippin.

Other contestants were Linda Mueller and Dan Gatzki of Wilson; Paige Verner and Charlotte Warren, Tahoka; and Yvonne Nettles, New Home.

J. P. Hewlett, county superintendent, was director of the contest; Supt. Otis Spears was pronouncer; and judges were Lloyd Jones of Wilson, Mrs. Allyn B. Cox of Tahoka, and Mrs. Jerry Don Brown of New Home.

Cut In School Funds Not Great

Tahoka's school local fund assignment from the State will be cut only about $3,000.00 and not the $12,500.00, as was first thought, Supt. Otis Spears stated last week after the return of local school authorities from Austin, where they conferred with state officials.

Wilson school may lose about $1,800, but O'Donnell and New Home are not affected by a ruling of the Attorney General that resulted in the loss of these funds to Tahoka and Wilson.

Supt. Spears, County Supt. J. P. Hewlett, Superintendent Johnny Clark of Wilson, John Criner of O'Donnell, and Homer Miller of New Home made the trip to Austin to confer with the officials on the proposition.

Phillips was taken by Stanley Funeral Home ambulance to the hospital where he underwent surgery for a chest injury. It is believed that the victim possibly suffered a fractured skull.

Tahoka-City Council was meeting Thursday night with members of Lynn County Commissioners Court to give consideration to a petition recently circulated asking that the proposed route of the four-lane U. S. Highway 87 be changed from Doak Street to miss the town to the west.

Mayor H. B. McCord Sr. told The News careful consideration would be given the proposal.

The City and County had about a year ago signed a contract with the State and Federal governments for the route east of the square in Tahoka following passage of a $50,000 city bond issue to pay for the city's one-fourth of the right-of-way costs. Tentative plans for the route are already being drawn by the Highway Department.

The petition bears 584 names, most of whom are citizens of Tahoka, The News is informed.

One of the circulators of the petition told The News: "We want it understood that this petition is not aimed at any individual, or with the idea of harming anyone, or with the idea of blocking progress. The petition is strictly to get an opinion poll."

Kidwell Buyer Of D & H Store

W. T. Kidwell, owner of the local Piggly Wiggly franchise, this week announces the purchase of the local store and business of D & H Super Market. He will take over the business Monday, the name will be changed to Piggly Wiggly and the business at its present location closed this Saturday night.

The deal was consummated two weeks ago with Shop-Rite Stores, Inc., which had purchased the local store along with the Davis & Humphries chain on February 2.

Kidwell announces there will be no major policy changes except that the store will operate on a cash basis. Most employees of both stores will be retained by Kidwell.

W. T. was reared at Rochester. He came to Tahoka in January, 1938, and opened up a small grocery store "on a shoestring" on the west side of the square with a truck load of stock displayed largely in shelving built from apple boxes and the like. A year and a half later, he was married to Esta Mae Rogers.

From the start, he did well in business, and in 1940 he bought the Piggly Wiggly store from J. O. Garlington. His business continued to grow, and as a result of good business management he has also acquired considerable Lynn county farm land.

Crop Irrigation Is Becoming Highly Technical, And Study Is Urged

By Lee H. Williamson
Water is a very important factor in the growing of productive crops in Texas. The present irrigated acres are estimated at over 7 million acres. To irrigate this acreage, the water supplies have been taxed to the limit in some areas and nearly exhausted in other parts of the State. Although there are many unirrigated acres that are well adapted to intensified farming under irrigation, the expansion of irrigation depends on unproved and undeveloped water supplies. Irrigation is a means of supplying water for plant growth when rainfall is inadequate. Irrigation may also help to control soil temperature and to reduce wind erosion by making it possible to produce more vegetative cover. The main objective of irrigation is to efficiently distribute water over an area so the soil moisture may be brought up to field capacity. The water should be applied in such a manner that losses will be held to a minimum. The losses include deep percolation below the effective root zone, evaporation and surface runoff. Keeping these losses to a minimum offers plants a better chance of obtaining its share of moisture and plant food from the soil.

Once irrigation is established on a farm, it becomes a very important part of the operations and should not be used inefficiently. If used inefficiently, it is very possible that water may be applied too late to insure maximum results. Irrigation must be carried on to meet certain basic principles of engineering and agriculture if adequate returns are expected. A farmer cannot afford to rely on predict-

Everyday Religion

By J. R. Thompson

Jesus began his parable of the talents with the words "For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling..." There is a sense in which that broken sentence expresses a complete truth. We cannot long stay content with a way of life that does not change—that does not make progress.

A story tells of a man who, passing a group of loafers, stumbled and fell. They laughed at his clumsiness, and he joined in their laughter. Then he said, "you fellows will not stumble—because nobody ever stumbled sitting down!" Progress always involves risk. Progress is not automatic. Our future is never assured. Life does not improve for us until we decide there are things which we will no longer endure and begin to push forward to something better.

The old pastor of the Pilgrims on the Mayflower wrote in his diary as the little ship pitched and tossed in the stormy Atlantic, "Those who love their own chimney corner and dare not fare forth will never have the honor to behold the wonderful works of the Lord."

He who follows Christ will never doubt that he is going somewhere for "the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling..."

ed rains before he irrigates. Even though most of the crop moisture may come from rainfall, it cannot be relied on to do away a need for having an irrigation water use program to include advance planning of each irrigation.

Irrigation intensifies farming to the point that it requires the farmer to use a lot of thought and foresight. It requires the farmer to do sound planning, have the knowledge of, when and how much fertilizer to apply, develop and carry a coordinated soil and water conservation to fit soil capabilities and crop requirements. Most important of all, a farmer must have the initiative to study, evaluate and improve his own farming operations as time goes on. Research and experience have shown that controlled amounts of water efficiently applied at the proper stage of plant growth will help maintain soil productivity, increase yields through better use of fertilizers, make crops adapted to a locality, help control quality and time of maturity of crops, lessen the effect of droughts, aid in controlling wind erosion and, in general, provide greater profits.

Irrigation farming has many disadvantages as well as the advantages listed. The greatest of these is an adequate dependable water supply. During the recent drought, ground water supplies were reduced at an alarming rate. With increased demand for water and diminishing supply, the need for the best in physical control of rainfall and irrigation water on each farm becomes more important each year. Only by a coordination of efficient control of irrigation water application and the best soil management practices can the farmer expect to get optimum production per unit of water available to crops.

Additional capacity is required to establish and operate an irrigation farm. Increased cost of labor fertilizer, control of insects, weed and diseases, tillage methods and other factors of operation are intensified and increased with installation and operation of an irrigation system. These make it necessary that potential irrigators give due consideration to all sides of irrigation farming before planning his course. Irrigation includes a lot more than watering.

Each soil is different in its physical and chemical properties and in their reaction to irrigation water. Irrigation of shallow soils on steep slopes is very dangerous, as it may cause erosion. Deep soils on flatter land permits tillage that affords better distribution and control of irrigation water. Inefficient application of irrigation water may very easily be a hazard to production. The hazard arises through waste by surface runoff and deep percolation below the effective root zone, by leaching plant food from the most effective root zone, and setting up conditions that may be indicative to starting or increasing a drainage problem.

The farmer may have ample irrigation water of good quality and ideal soil for irrigation, but the efficient use and management, along with other factors, determines whether or not he will have a permanent and profitable irrigation operation on his farm.

MRS. EUGENE TRADER (nee Miss Marilyn Calloway)

Miss Marilyn Calloway Is Married Saturday Eve In Plainview To Eugene Trader

The wedding of Miss Marilyn Ann Calloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Calloway, 303 Broadway, Plainview and formerly of Tahoka, and Eugene Trader, son of Mrs. Fay B. Trader, Pampa, was solemnized at 7:00 p. m. Friday, March 25, in the Joseph Hill Chapel on West Texas State Campus, Canyon.

J. R. Manning of Fort Worth, a close friend of the bridegroom's family, directed the exchange of double ring vows. Mr. Calloway presented his daughter in marriage.

Altar arrangements featured baskets of white gladioli and white tapers in candelabra.

Traditional wedding selections were played on the organ by Miss Sandra Sullins of Pampa as the guests were ushered to their seats. Miss Lucy Hinkle, Littlefield, sang as a nuptial prelude, "Because," "At Dawning" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was attired in a gown of white silk organza over taffeta and tulle, fashioned with full floor-length skirt which swept into a chapel train. The snug bodice was designed with scooped neckline and long sleeves extended to points over the wrists. Inserts and medallions of lace encrusted with seed pearls and crystal beads adorned the formal gown.

A lace headpiece embroidered with pearls and crystals held the bride's illusion wedding veil. Her bridal bouquet was centered with a white orchid nestled in carnations. The bride also carried a lace trimmed linen handkerchief belonging to her great-great grandmother.

Feminine attendants wore identical dresses in pastel shades to denote a rainbow color theme.

Miss Linda Pierce, Amarillo, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in blue eyelet embroidered organdy and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Pierce, Amarillo, cousin of the bride, attired in orchid eyelet embroidered organdy, and Miss Barbara Hinkle, Littlefield, in yellow. They also carried bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Lewan Pierce, Amarillo, cousin of the bride, flower girl, was attired in pink eyelet embroidered organdy and wore a wristlet of white carnations. Deanna Pierce, Amarillo, cousin of the bride, as candlelighter wore green eyelet embroidered organdy and had a wristlet of white carnations. David Buckles, Pampa, nephew of the bridegroom, served as the other candlelighter.

The rings were carried by a niece and nephew of the bridegroom, Judy and Gregory Buckles of Pampa. Judy wore a pink embroidered organdy and had a wristlet of white carnations. Guy Harvey, Pampa, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man. Another brother-in-law, Bob Buckles, Pampa, and Weldon Calloway, Plainview, brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Jack Ramey, Amarillo, and Johnny Orsak, Canyon, ushers.

Before the couple left on a short wedding trip, a reception for the guests was held at the Church of Christ Student Center on the campus at WTSC.

The bride's chosen color theme was carried out in the decorations. The table cloth was of satin covered with net. Assisting the couple and their parents in the receiving were Mrs. Guy Harvey and Mrs. Bob Buckles, sister of the bridegroom, both from Pampa, Miss Gail Phillips, Tahoka. Mrs. Johnny Orsak of Canyon presided at the register.

The couple will reside in Amarillo where the groom is employed by Ponca Wholesale Company, and the bride will do practice teaching this spring at Amarillo's Palo Duro High School.

For traveling the bride selected a black dress, black and white checked topper and black accessories.

The bride, graduate of Tahoka High School, is a senior student at West Texas State College where she is treasurer of Phi Gamma Nu and president of Pi Omega Pi. She was also associated with Delta Zeta Chu. She is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The bride, a business education major, will receive her degree May 22.

Mr. Trader attended West Texas State after graduating from Pampa High School and will also receive his degree in May.

LOCAL SOW FARROWS AT OUR STORE

Ma Berkshire, a sow belonging to Fred Hegi, local FFA student, farrowed a litter of 10 husky little Berks at 5:00 a. m. Thursday at our store. Ma and her family are doing well, being comfortably settled in their Newway metal farrowing crate and happily feeding on Purina.

With the help of Ma and her litter, we will demonstrate what modern sow and pig management can mean in size of litters your sows produce, in the number of pigs saved, in the early low-cost gains they make.

Ma and her pigs will be around till the pigs are three weeks old. Come see 'em often. Bring the kids.

We believe you'll be amazed at the growth they make on sow's milk and Purina Baby Pig Chow fed in creeps. Don't take our word. See it with your own eyes.

A Minute With The Master

By Bob Barnes, Evangelist Church of Christ

In 1957 this article appeared in "The Indianapolis Star."

"Slashed and beaten, 6-year-old Mary DeCausin was found slain yesterday in a wooded area 10 miles southwest of Detroit.

"The killer had ripped off most of the little girl's clothing, slashed her back and left her to bleed to death under a clump of crabapple trees.

"Wayne county sheriff's Detective Richard Novak said the girl apparently was the victim of a sex deviate . . .

"The girl's father . . . said bitterly: "I wouldn't blame the man as much as the society which produces such a man. It's a society that allows sex magazines on newsstands for kids to read; a society that measures Hollywood stars by their bosoms; and a society where the telling of dirty stories, and the use of foul language is commonplace. These things produce sex pervers out of people who have the slightest abnormal tendencies!"

"When are we as citizens going to wake up and rebel against such literature in our drug stores, newsstands and grocery stores? We can rid ourselves of such as this. A good start would be for merchants to refuse to carry such material! The rest of us can refuse to patronize one who will sell indecent material. One's face turns red when he tries to buy some good reading material because of the fifth ground him."

Ask the men who use it... They say LIQUID FERTILIZER Is The Best.

Dan and Don Day, identical twins, farm four sections of irrigated land—as well as overseeing nine sections of ranchland, 25 miles northwest of Brownfield. This is their second year to use Liquid Fertilizers. Between the two of them they have approximately 1,000 acres of cotton—with the balance of their land in Milo. In questioning them about their farm operations, they had this to say about Liquid Fertilizers:

Dan: "We have been farming long enough to know that we have to do everything possible to lower the cost of production. We compared the cost of Liquid Fertilizer to its equivalent in dry and we found that we could save about $2 per acre on the initial cost, plus the savings in labor, time required to put it down, and we like the easy way Liquid Fertilizers handle."

Don: "We are using two 5-row applicators equipped with 12-hole John Blue squeeze pumps. With the addition of 1-row over the conventional 4-row equipment, we are getting more Liquid Fertilizer down (up to 80 acres per day) and at the same time we are cutting down on the pneumatic packing of our land. We do all of our planting and cultivating with 6-row equipment and we are satisfied to make about a bale and a half per acre. We feel that we could possibly increase our production, but at the same time it would increase our cost, and maybe not increase our net profit" (Don is the one in Levis and Dan has on khakis).

Don and Dan said: "Last year we used Liquid Fertilizer, and at the end of the year the savings amazed us. This year we are applying (pre-planting) 40 lbs. of Nitrogen, 40 lbs. of Phosphate and 20 lbs. of Potash. This will only be the starter—we will side-dress at least once and possibly twice. We are of the opinion that it is better to apply plant nutrients as the plants need or can use them, than it is to try and feed the plants all at one time," the twins added, "Liquid Fertilizers are one of the best things that has come along to help farmers increase their production and at the same time lower production costs. We're sold on them!"

Baseball Camp Operator Entertains Boys and Parents At Meeting Here

Johnnie Carrigan of Waco, owner and operator of the Big State Boys Baseball Summer Camp at Meridian, last Thursday night entertained with a fried chicken dinner most of the Lynn county boys who have attended the camp, together with their parents, at the City-Legion building.

Alton Greer made the local arrangements for the meeting, R. W. (Slick) Clem served as master of ceremonies, and Turner Rogers served the meal to about 35 people.

Baseball gloves were presented Elton Gorge and Steve Greer for their attendance at the camp three years. Jackets were given Taylor Knight, Dennis Clem, and Johnny Tyler, who have attended two years.

Others attending the camp last year from Lynn county were: Mike Smith, Max Blakney, Tommy Kidwell, Dickie Turner, Randy Allen, Pat and Ronnie Mouser, and Stanley (Home Run) Gill. Two others, Gordon Smith and Garland Hudleson, attended the camp in 1954. Several other boys interested in the Camp were also present.

Parents at the meeting included Messrs and Mmes. Alton Greer, Dick Turner, E. R. Blakney, A. F. Allen, W. T. Kidwell, and Mrs. A. R. Tyler, Lee Roy Knight, and Grayum George.

Carrigan, who was accompanied here by Chuy Salas of Monterey, Mexico, said the camp will this summer celebrate its 10th year of operation and is the oldest such camp in the nation.

He said 2,600 boys have attended at least one of its 20-day sessions, which begin June 12, July 3, and July 24, from 45 states and five foreign countries. Of these, 148 have received baseball scholarships, 130 boys have gone into professional ball, six into the major leagues.

However, the camp does not emphasize a baseball career for a boy unless he is fitted, for only one boy in 10,000 playing baseball ever gets to the majors.

But it does emphasize discipline, clear Christian living, hard work, the importance of education. The camp is open to boys 8 through 19 years of age. Instruction is by top coaches, ball players, and school men of character.

Carrigan told the boys of improvements made in the camp. This year there will be five playing fields, new sliding pit, 60-yard

Mrs. Lois Greathouse Tells Growth Of Lyntegar Co-op Over Area

Mrs. Frank (Lois) Greathouse, management assistant of Lyntegar, told of the growth and development of the electric cooperative in a talk at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon.

Rural electrification is now in its 25th year, she said, having been born in the mind of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt to bring modern living to the farmer at a price he could pay. The electric co-ops were set up on money by the government, but are owned by the members.

She declared the electric co-ops have "moved the dark days and brought city way to rural living," have raised rural life to a high standard of living, and the farmer no longer has to carry water and firewood and burn a kerosene lamp.

Lyntegar was organized in 1938, and was named on suggestion of the late Judge Tom Garrard for the original three counties to be served, Lynn, Terry and Garza. John Heck of Wilson served as president, and was the leader in the organization, from 1938 until retiring in 1955, and Frank Harris of Dawson county has since headed the organization. Incidentally, the telephone cooperative was named Poka-Lambro by Judge Garrard, also for Post, Tahoka, La. mesa, and Brownfield.

First loan for Lyntegar was in October, 1938, and the first contract was for 300 miles of line, let in February, 1939. First lines were energized from sub-stations at Meadow and Hackberry a year later. Today, there are 14 sub-stations. Some of the electrical energy is bought from Texas Electric Service, but 25 percent comes from Southwestern Public Service.

Lyntegar started out with three employees. Today it has 75 employees, and 227 people depend on Lyntegar for livelihood, not including several contractors who employ several men building lines. Lyntegar's payroll is $27,000 a month, which means a lot to the economy of Tahoka and helps the grocer, the banker, every business man either directly or indirectly.

The cooperative now has 9,600 accounts, serves 2,451 irrigation wells and about 150 wells waiting for service. It operates 29 vehicles. In one year, it's postage bill alone amounts to $11,000.

Lyntegar Electric among the top 10 in the nation in number of miles, net margin, and number of members.

She highly praised Garland Pennington, manager since the organization got underway, and said he is recognized as one of the best. Wilton (Jim) Payne is the efficient assistant manager.

Mrs. Greathouse has been with Lyntegar 10 years, and the last two and a half years her principal dash track, five pitching cages, and batting cage with two automatic pitching machines. Quarters are air-conditioned and otherwise improved. The camp is housed on the old Meridian College grounds, a swimming pool is available, and a hospital is only two blocks away. Parents and others interested are invited to visit the camp.

Savings Bonds Sales Are Good

An increase of 4 percent in February marked the second time this year that Savings Bond sales in Texas have been greater than sales in the same month in 1959 according to A. C. Verner of Lynn county Savings Bond Committee.

February sales in Texas totaled $15,506,998. Sales for the first two months of this year amounted to $32,044,765 or 19.4 percent of the 1960 goal. Total bond purchases in Lynn County for January and February were $61,679.00 which represents 24.7 percent of the 1960 county goal.

"We are most encouraged by 1960 Savings Bonds sales," Mr. Verner said. "More and more people are purchasing Series E and H Bonds because they realize that in so doing they are making a direct contribution to the economic stability of this nation and to the future security of their own families. The Savings Bonds being purchased now earn an attractive 3 1/2 percent interest compound semi-annually when held to maturity." Mr. Verner concluded.

WILL CONDUCT REVIVAL

Dr. Howard Hollowell, pastor of Laurel Heights Methodist Church in San Antonio, will preach in revival services at Morton Methodist Church April 3-8. A former pastor at O'Donnell, the preacher has many close friends in Tahoka.

Corvair "CAR OF THE YEAR"

"Four-wheel independent suspension totally unlike any other U.S.-built car" . . . "air-cooled aluminum engine . . . not dependent on the properties of a liquid coolant" . . . a rear-mounted transaxle "allowing a flatter floor and a lower roofline. . . ." These are some of the praises heaped upon Corvair by the editors of Motor Trend—the world's largest general automotive magazine—in announcing their coveted Car-of-the-Year award. Other cars didn't even come close. The Motor Trend experts, who evaluated every make in the country, were unanimous in their decision, published in the April issue. We don't mind, though. Every day, year after year, snow-white Gladiola Flour outsells every other brand. For biscuits, pies and cakes with a nationwide reputation, no other flour will do.

As for Sweet, Ida., ladies—they'll never know what you know about flour quality. This, for instance: Gladiola Flour costs your family only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest flour made.

One or two good crop years on the Plains can usually work miracles in the economy of the country. The year 1958 was a good year, and it was followed by 1959, a good year for some Lynn county farmers but only fair for most of them.

Derwood Howard says a number of farmers came out from deep in the hole, after eight or ten years of poor crops, during this period. Some were almost hopelessly in debt, and his agency was about to give up on them.

One tenant whose name he didn't reveal, for example, two years ago was so deep in debt that there seemed to be no hope for his financial recovery. Each year during the drouth he had gotten deeper in debt until his net worth was a minus $3,300. Which means that if he had sold everything he owned at a fairly high market, he would still have owed $3,300. In fact, at the end of 1957, he owed $12,000, plus $3,450 on a 1952 tractor, plus other personal debts. He also had a 1951 tractor and a 1941 car.

After the 1958 and 1959 crops, this same farmer now has assets of about $15,000 above his liabilities, a difference of about $20,000. He has a new tractor, a new car, and a new pickup, and owes only about $1,500.

This reminds us of the story a Draw farmer told us following the 1958 crop. Draw, you will remember, was unusually hard hit during the drouth. At the start of the year 1958, the Draw man told us he and his wife were just about ready to give up—take bankruptcy or sell out, pay what debts they could and quit. But, he and his wife, who had been farming many years, finally decided to try one more year. They stayed with the farm, made a big crop that year, and that one crop almost paid them out of debt. We hear he came out on top of the heap last fall.

Every now and then—too often—a newspaper pulls an embarrassing "blooper." Last week over the story telling of the death of G. W. Turner of New Home, we had a headline telling of the death of J. D. Hord. We did not catch the error until the story had already been printed. The News apologizes to both families.

A couple of advertising salesmen were working Tahoka last week. They came by and got The News advertising rates and a copy of the paper, then went out and told some of our merchants The News had sent them out. This was an absolute falsehood. The News sent no strange solicitor to local merchants. When and if such is done a letter of introduction will be given the solicitor.

A lady called The News the other day complaining about the number of stray dogs in her neighborhood. She said she doesn't begrudge anyone having pets, but she sure does wish they would keep them up. Dogs are ruining her flower bed, lawn, keeping her awake nights, and proving to be a nuisance in general.

Some time ago, a dog in our neighborhood barked and barked until about 3:00 a. m. until we couldn't sleep. All of a sudden he stopped barking, but every little bit from then on until daylight we woke up wondering what had happened to the barking dog.

The weather seems like spring, but we're a little stubborn and are not going to admit spring is here until the mesquites put out. Man has been fooled many times before, but the mesquites have been fooled only about once in the past 35 years.

The Printer attended a meeting Thursday night of parents and boys interested in junior baseball and heard a very fine talk by Johnnie Carrigan, operator of Big State Boys' Baseball Summer Camp at Meridian. We were impressed with his program for boys. Attendance at the camp must be a wonderful experience for a boy, for Carrigan not only teaches baseball, but he emphasizes clean, Christian living, obedience to parents, and scholarship.

Some statements from Carrigan: When you are through learning, you are through . . . Don't forget to open your books tonight . . . To succeed in this world, your work starts at home, at school . . . Keep up your grades—at least a B average—and go to college. The world is looking for B or better students; if you are less than that, you will have to do the looking . . . You can drive a truck; if you don't have a degree these days, you don't go.

Every now and then you hear the belief expressed that modern youth is going to the dogs. Older folks have been saying this for hundreds of years. But, if you would mix with some of our high school boys and girls as we frequently do—riding with them in cars to ball games—you will sometimes hear statements made by these kids in regard to morals, honesty and clean Christian living that may surprise you. All is not wrong with youth. Most of them, under the influence of the right kind of teacher, will take care of the future.

Down at Haskell recently a little girl went to the Methodist Church morning services with her mother. Noticing the Communion table had been arranged near the altar, the child gleefully said to her mother, "Goody, it's Snack Sunday!" Later, after partaking of Communion, she noted that her

A sign in the middle of the road under repair read: "Road Closed. Do not enter." On the other side of the sign, some joker printed these words: "Welcome back, stupid."

Another sign, in an antique shop: "Modern antiques."

An automobile dealer we know is said to have tried for weeks to sell a "cream puff" 1956 model car. It only had 10,000 miles on it but customers treated it like a plague. The car dealer was a crafty individual though, so he ran the speedometer up to 30,000 miles and it sold the next day.—Bascom Nelson in The Castro County News.

The pretty teacher in one of the lower grades of the Hamlin school system, it is reported, wrote this sentence on the blackboard: "I ain't never had no fun at the seashore."

She then turned to her pupils, singled out one of them and asked, "How can I correct that?" Little Tommy at once responded "Get a boy friend!"—Willard Jones in The Hamlin Herald.

Are You Due To Meet... A Stranger?

At intervals, an agent from the Internal Revenue Service may call on you to take a "look at the books." He'll check your income... ask to see good evidence of expense, like cancelled checks. You can save yourself time, trouble and worry by keeping a good record of your finances. If you don't pay by check you would be wise to do so before another week goes by. Stop in.
