Fair Weather Help To County's Crops

Fine cotton growing weather has followed additional rainfall which came Saturday night, and farmers hope for more of the same until late July.

For the third year in a row, Lynn county farmers have had difficulty in getting the crop off to a good start because of turbulent weather. As a result, this county has cotton in all stages—from just coming up to the blooming stage. Saturday night, Tahoka received .71 inch of rainfall, bringing the total for June to 4.13 inches. Of this total, 2.15 inches fell June 15-18, and the other 1.27 came earlier in the month.

Total precipitation for the year now stands at 8.35 inches in Tahoka. January moisture totaled 1.55 inches; February, .83; March, 1.22; April, .12; and May, .50.

Most of the moisture the first three months came in the form of snow, 19.5 inches as recorded by the News. Possibly an all-time record for snowfall came last winter, in addition to this a 13.5 inch snow had come in December, 1960. With timely rains in July and August and a late fall, Lynn county can yet produce a bumper crop this year.

Lynn Crops Show Disease Damage

"Most of Lynn county has varying degrees of ascochyta, or wet-weather blight, that gives the cotton plant a rust appearance," states County Agent Bill Griffin.

"This disease is prevalent following periods of cold, cloudy weather with rain," Mr. Griffin further explains. "The low ground temperature slows the growth of the plant and gives the disease organism an opportunity to attack the plant. The wet-weather blight shows more damage on cotton that had been damaged by hail. However, some fields not in a hail area have suffered severe damage."

"Young seedling cotton of June plantings have some wet-weather blight, but most of the plants lost in these fields were due to a seedling disease, or a complex of seedling diseases, that develop in low, wet temperatures."

Flowers Stolen At Roadside Park

Eugene, Munselle, maintenance foreman of Tahoka for Texas Highway Department, states many local citizens, and possibly other people have been digging up flowers at the roadside park north of town. Mr. Munselle says that a large number of plants and flowers have been taken and that the park is beginning to look bare in places. He asks that anyone witnessing people digging up the flowers to get the number of their car and report the same to the Highway Department.

Furniture Missing At City-Legion Building

A table and chairs are reported missing from the City-Legion Building. Mayor Mel Leslie reminds citizens that the furniture is needed every week by several organizations who meet at the center. Should anyone have borrowed the table and chairs they are asked to return same to the City-Legion Hall immediately.

Vernon Davis, who had suffered a heart attack several weeks ago and was a patient in Tahoka Hospital, was dismissed Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiny Leavitt of Causey, N. M., were in Tahoka last Saturday for the annual pioneer reunion.

Cat Is Cause Of Power Failure

Mrs. Earl Morris of Rt. 2, Post, sends the following note to The News:

Last Tuesday evening about 9:00 o'clock lights went out with a bang! Very suddenly, after some scrambling around with the aid of a flash light we called Tahoka and soon the boys were over here and had our lights on again.

We appreciated their promptness very much. But, what they failed to see was the cause of the trouble—a dead cat on the line. Seems Tom had climbed the pole, got himself entangled in the wires at the top, lost all his nine lives at one time, and left us in the dark. He hung there some three days and the wind blew him down. He's now buried very deep—hope other cats will take warning and leave alone electric wires.

Mrs. Grover Shaffer is a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital where she was admitted Tuesday.

Pioneer Reunion On Saturday Declared One of Best Held

Foreign Student Coming Sunday

Arendse Hendrik, a school teacher from Middleburg, Netherlands, and the seventh consecutive foreign guest in that many years of Tahoka Rotary Club, is scheduled to arrive in Tahoka Sunday afternoon, states Harold Green.

In a letter sent the local club previously, Hendrik expressed a desire to view the American way of life, exchange ideas, and promote friendship between the two nations. His trip from The Netherlands to New York City is sponsored by The Experiment in International Living, and Tahoka Rotary Club pays his way from New York to Tahoka and return.

The club has also sponsored two students from France, one from Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, and Finland.

Baptists Observe 58th Anniversary Here On Sunday

At the evening service the film "Operation Abolition" will be shown. This film presents the tactics and work of communists in America. It was produced by Dallas Police Department, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Glenn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Riddle. While in the Dallas hospital, Glen received a letter from a Glen Riddle, age 9, in Lubbock who had read a story of the local boy in the Avalanche-Journal.

The annual Lynn County Pioneer Reunion last Saturday was another most enjoyable event for a host of old-timers and members of their families, who reported the program was good, the food was fine, and the opportunity for visiting old friends was taken advantage of to the utmost.

Following the dinner served in the old City Park, the program was held in the City-Legion building with District Judge Truett Smith serving as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Jack Alley (Jo Belle) Robinson was head of the committee arranging the program.

The session opened with the invocation by Wes Luttrell. One of the most enjoyable features was an interview conducted by Mr. Smith was a number of old-timers, including Happy Smith, Mrs. Walter H. May, Mrs. Becky Roberts, and Oscar King.

The crowd also got a big kick out of a hat decorations contest. Twelve men and 12 ladies were called to the front, and the ladies decorated ladies' hats on the heads of the men. Judged the winners of the comic contest were Ed McManus, first; Waymon Smith, second; and R. W. (Buster) Fenton, third.

Entertainment included modern jazz dance numbers by pupils of Mrs. LaVoye Parker, Janet Dea Parker, Karen Elliott, Doyle Parker, and Bubba Jones; dance numbers by Janet and Karen; and two vocal solos by Linda Jones, accompanied at the piano by Barbara Thomas.

Prizes were presented Mrs. W. J. Benson, eldest lady present who had not previously received the honor; A. G. Freeman, eldest man; and Gene Lawson of Portsmouth, Virginia, the person coming the greatest distance, 1,857 miles, for the reunion.

At a brief business session, Tom W. Hale was elevated from vice president to president of the Pioneer organization; Charles Reid was elected vice president, and Mrs. Harley Henderson was named the new secretary.

This year's event was staged under the direction of Elmer Spoles, president; Hale, and Mrs. Tom W. Hale secretary, with the help of a score or more of committee members and helpers.

Following this session, the Old Fiddlers Contest arranged by R. C. Wells was staged, and this was said to have been the best with seven top fiddlers participating. Winners were "Texas Shorty" of Dallas, who was named the world champion last year, first; Carl Hazelwood of Tatum, N. M., second; and Mr. Riley of Olton, third.

Saturday night, an old-time dance was held in the City-Legion building. Also held in conjunction with the reunion this year was the Edwards Cousins Reunion on Sunday in the same building. Many of those attending said this year's affair was one of the best all-round event of the long series.

Lynn's Retail Sales In 1960 High, But Savings Higher

(Special to the News) New York, June 29—Despite the business conditions that prevailed during a large part of the past year, Lynn County stood out as a comparatively strong market, according to Sales Management's new survey of buying power.

How well it fared, under the circumstances, is brought out in the figures of total income and consumer spending locally.

The copyrighted survey, presenting comparable data for counties and cities in all parts of the country, gives the first detailed breakdown of 1960 business.

Earnings were at a high level in Lynn County last year, it shows. Local residents were left with a net, spendable income, after payment of their personal taxes, of $19,524,000, as against $19,078,000 in 1959.

to on a family basis was found by dividing the income total by the number of households. It averaged $6,508 per household, compared with $5,737 per household in the West South Central States and $6,079 in the State of Texas.

With incomes that high, there was the potential of 1960 being the year of years for retail business locally. While it did not fully reach expectations, due to the recession, it was a good one nevertheless.

Retail sales in the county's stores amounted to a sturdy $12,938,000, the report shows. Although residents of Lynn County had the wherewithal to make 1960 an even bigger year through their consumer buying, they spent less than they might have and saved more.

Along with people in other parts of the county, they began curbing their expenditures around the middle of the year, when the recession took hold.

What will they do with this unspent money, now that the recession has passed? If they decide that this is the time to use it, they can make 1961 a top year for local merchants.

Current reports indicate that a strong pickup is under way already throughout the county, with consumers in general continuing the pattern of spending that was in evidence in 1960.

This pattern consisted, according to the Department of Commerce, of $4.70 of each $10 being used for non-durable goods such as food and clothing, $1.30 for such hard goods as cars, refrigerators and furniture, and $4 for services.

Z. R. Ingle of Norman, Okla. was here for the reunion.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson

A little boy, after seeing a puppet show, expressed his reaction thus, "I'm glad I'm not one of those pretending persons. They have to do what they are told." The lad was right—with all the hazards and all the heartaches involved in freedom, we don't want to be puppets. We want to be real persons with choices to make with their possibilities for good or ill.

For freedom holds both possibility and problem. God gives this wonderful freedom—the freedom to choose. The problem is how we face our choices, how we make out with the life we choose. But this freedom does not mean that we are left completely on our own Creator. It is really a partnership that we are offered. We are promised His guidance and help in living up to our choices.

We are not puppets, but we are guided by God's power and carrying out the purposes of our lives. We may choose the high way or the low, but we climb the high way by His help and power.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Hale entered a Lubbock hospital last week and for treatment of a back ailment. He was in traction the first of the week.

QUESTIONS, PLEASE

HOW SHOULD WE APPROACH THE STUDY OF THE BIBLE and try to find proof of it; but should let the Bible be his doctrine, for every scripture is profitable for doctrine (II Tim 3:16).

The Bible is the word of God—"Inspired of God" (II Tim. 3:16-17) rather than the word of men. Men spoke from God being moved by the Holy Spirit (II Pet. 1:21). Thus we should approach the study of God's word with reverence and godly fear using the utmost care in how we study.

We should always study it instead of the "hurry up and get through" kind of reading. In his law doth he meditate day and night (Psa. 1:2) We must have our minds free from other things that Bible study may be profitable to us.

We need to approach the study of the Bible as one who needs guidance. We should always be aware of the fact: "O Jehovah, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps (Jer. 10:22). One of the mistakes of the church at Laodicea was that its members felt need of nothing (Rev. 3:17).

We should not go to the Bible for the purpose of getting doctrine from it. Man should decide what he wants for doctrine and then go to the Bible

Above all we must study the Bible with a desire to obey, its commands. A common error of men is to try to change the Scriptures to fit themselves rather than change themselves to fit the Scriptures. We are to be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deluding ourselves (Jas. 1:22).

Grassland News

(By Mrs. O. H. Hoover)

Jess (Doc) Cunningham passed away in his sleep about 2:00 a. m. Thursday, June 22 and was laid to rest in the Grassland Cemetery Friday afternoon. He had been an active member of the Nazarene Church since 1928, always in his place on Sunday. His generosity, devotion and loveable disposition endeared him to his neighbors and gave him many friends who will miss him very much. The pastor chose these two scriptures for his talk, Isaiah 61:1,3, and Psalms 90, the Songs, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" and "Beyond The Sunset", were sung by a trio, Mrs. Kelly Laws, her daughter, Karen and sister, Miss Lavonia Moore of Harrison, Ark.

Out of town relatives attending services were his sisters and husbands: Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Waxahachie; Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, San Angelo; a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cunningham, Alpine; nephews, Chalmers Davis, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Davis, Clyde; a niece, Miss Eva Ruth Pitts and a sister of Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Freeman, a son and daughter and grandson of Denver City, Mr. and Mrs. McElyea, Spur; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wade, Pampa; and Billie Warrick, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Warrick, Lubbock; and a host of friends from all over the South Plains. We extend to the family our sincere sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Inklebarger visited in the C. A. Walker home last Monday. Mr. Inklebarger is Mrs. Walker's uncle. Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Stevens are having their house painted this week. Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Townson are doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Sherrill were guests in the Gus Porterfield home Monday night.

Mary Sue Webb from Galveston visited Miss Dixie Lee Davis recently.

Mr. B. C. Childs fell and broke her arm at the wrist. She says it doesn't pain her much and she is now at home. One of her granddaughters is staying with her.

Mrs. Joe Flemming and children spent the day with her mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Norman last Thursday. Traci stayed for a longer visit.

Forest Chapman, who grew up here at Grassland, had a gallbladder operation last week at Plainview. He is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Huffaker have as guests for the summer their two grandsons, Robbie Webb and Larry Kesce and two granddaughters, Paula and Sharon Calvert, all of Colorado City. Sharla Huffaker is also spending the week with them.

Rev. R. L. Richards and family of Becton visited Sunday afternoon in the Gus Porterfield and O. H. Hoover homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Davis are taking their daughter, Dixie Lee, to Denver for a two-day workshop and short course.

Mrs. W. A. Oden had visitors from Washington, Allohambra, Calif. and also Mrs. Blanch Gray from Clarendon. She entertained them with an ice cream social while they were here. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Wilborne Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kennedy and children, Mr. and Mrs. Alford Oden and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Johnston, Allen Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Stevens, Beatrice Justide, James Morris, Wesley Gene Morris, and Mrs. Alvin Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. James Chambless visited their parents, the Rev. L. D. Cleavelands Friday night. Rev. Cleaveland is the new Methodist pastor at Grassland and his son-in-law is pastor of the Methodist Church at Wingate.

Mrs. Ida Stewart is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Joy Huffaker for a while. Mrs. Huffaker is not feeling well.

Guests of the pastor and wife, L. D. Cleavelands Sunday for a birthday celebration were his twin sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cadenhead of Brownfield. Then Sunday night after church the members gave them an ice cream and cake supper and also a "pounding".

Visiting in the Gus Porterfield home for several days are the children of Dr. and Mrs. D. G. Porterfield of Abilene.

Mrs. W. A. Morris spent the week end in Post in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adrain Cook. The Cook children stayed the entire

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The staggering cost of all government, federal, state, and local, which is now consuming almost one third of the national income is not all due to just Washington alone.

States, counties, cities, in fact, all who have the power to tax, seem to have gone on a huge spending spree. The sheer figures are somewhat staggering. In 1950, total state taxes C. W. Harder were $8 billion. In 1960 they were $18 billion.

In 1960 all branches of government collected $127 billion in taxes, actually spent $153 billion. Yet despite these huge collections, the combined government debt is $285 billion, or close to one third more than the $281 billion debt in 1950, despite tax collections that have doubled in ten years.

But most interesting is the fact that of the $153 billion in government spending in 1960, 37% was spent by state and local government.

This is a strange paradox. Obviously, with modern warfare using huge amounts of expensive hardware, federal expenses in paying off on the cost of World War II and Korea are bound to be high.

But what is most difficult to understand is why state and local government, not charged with maintaining defense, is spending over half as much as the federal government.

And against this background of enormous state and local government taxes and expenditures, it is still even more difficult to understand why in some quarters it is felt that the federal government should dig up money for schools.

After all, if state and local governments, with the huge amounts of taxes they are collecting, cannot support their local schools adequately without federal help, there is something quite amiss.

It is perhaps time responsible people in local communities start taking an even more active interest in government, especially expenditures. There must be fearful waste.

For example, in California, it was found that the state school bureaucrats were in the process of burning over a million dollars of unused textbooks in reading and music for elementary grades because certain school officials had a whim they would prefer to have different texts in the schools.

It would seem taxpayers should have protection against boneheaded bureaucrats.

Perhaps it should be required that everyone holding a public job that gives the authority to handle money or property should be bonded for substantial amounts so that the taxpayers have recourse when they suffer damages due to poor judgment.

Perhaps this could be a form of "idiot's insurance." It would be healthy for the taxpayers. The checkpoints would be eliminated from responsible government jobs, and in addition, bureau operations would be under the surveillance of competent businessmen with a financial interest in proper tax handling.

C. W. Harder

FREEDOM OF CHOICE

In discussing the proposal to provide government medical services to persons drawing social security benefits, the Toledo (Ohio) Times observes: "This is a far different kind of thing than a pension. If workers are to be taxed regardless for health insurance, why can't they be taxed for housing insurance? Certainly the guarantee of a place to live is just as important as paying the doctor. How about another quarter of one percent to guarantee 'grocery care'? Some oldsters get involved in litigation. Who's going to pay the lawyer?"

"The point is that freedom of choice about personal matters is basic to our democracy. Heaven knows that freedom is being erod-

today's MEDITATION from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read 11 Timothy 4: 1-10 Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world. (11 Timothy 4:10)

Writing from prison to the young man Timothy, Paul shows his disappointment and heartbreak because Demas turned his back on the Christian faith. "Having loved this present world," Demas lost the trail and no longer followed Christ. The world presents many alluring faces which could have tempted Demas. Which ones lured him from the faith we shall never know. However, Paul warns Timothy against some of them—pride, covetousness, thanklessness, a lover of pleasure more than of God.

Have we been like Demas? Having once felt the glow of Christ's spirit, have we been mean, bitter, stingy, slow of compassion?

Having our names on the church roll is not enough. We need so to live that the world may know that the moving force in our lives is the spirit of Christ. May our living Lord not say sadly to us, "Alas, you have forsaken me, having loved this present world."

Prayer: Our Father God, grant us the gift of constancy in faith. When tempted to seek ease and comfort, arouse us with a new baptism of Thy spirit. When lured by the enticements of this world, may we keep our gaze upon Christ lest we miss the trail leading to Thy kingdom. In our Savior's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY The church does its work through those in whom the spirit of Christ is the moving force.— Charles B. Piper, Physician (Connecticut)

Pioneer Days Rotary Subject

Maurice Small and Dr. K. R. Durham presented the program Thursday of last week at Tahoka Rotary Club.

In compliance with the Lynn County Pioneer Reunion last Saturday, the two discussed early day settlers and contrasted their way of living with that of ours today.

Dr. Durham, told of dentists in the early 1900's. Dentists in those days would work several towns since men in that profession were few and scattered. One particular dentist made sufficient profits from one summer's work with which to return to school. Thursday noon of this week the club did not meet but were to have its annual ladies' night and installation of officers in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Green's home that night.

Mrs. Lillian George and Mrs. Alta Boswell were out from Dallas for Saturday's reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Crouch of Alamogordo, N. M., were here last week for the pioneer reunion.

Kent Gibson Rates High As Recruit

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gibson received the following letter from F. H. Hartline, Colonel, Infantry Commanding, Fort Leonard Wood, Kent, who has completed basic training:

"It affords me great pleasure to inform you of the outstanding abilities displayed by your son Kent during his eight weeks of basic combat training. The initiative and perseverance to duty shown by him resulted in his selection as one of the ten best trained of his company.

His performance of duty, leadership ability, and untiring efforts throughout his basic training were of the highest calibre. His desire to be one of the "top" men in his company indicates he has set and attained a high standard. This he could only attain through constant effort and devotion to duty. Men of his attributes are a distinct asset to the Army and will contribute greatly in the years to come, to the United States.

I am certain that throughout his Army career he will continue to display these attributes that resulted in his being selected as an outstanding trainee.—F. H. Hartline.

Boy Scouts Urge All to Display U.S. Flags

The nation's five million Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult leaders embark on a campaign to encourage all citizens to fly the United States Flag at their homes on holidays. The Boy Scouts of America has always required its members to know the history of the United States Flag and the proper ways to show respect for it.

Farmers Should Watch For Insects

Scattered, hard rains have reduced thrips and fleahopper populations in cotton over the area during the past week, observed county agricultural agents. County Agents reported fleahopper numbers and damage increasing in fruiting cotton where hard rains or insecticides had not interfered with buildups.

As cotton begins squaring, farmers should check their fields closely to prevent the loss of large numbers of the first forms, cautioned John G. Thomas, Extension Area Entomologist. Fleahopper adults and nymphs, along with the small punctured squares, are often overlooked by the farmer if a close inspection is not made, Thomas added.

When cotton begins fruiting, the terminal area should be examined for the presence of fleahopper nymphs and adults, Bill Griffin, Lynn county County Agent pointed out. If 15 to 20 fleahoppers are found per hundred terminals, a recommended insecticide should be applied to allow the cotton plants to set a good bottom crop, stated Griffin.

Bollworms, Aplans, and fleahoppers are present in the county. Infestations are light at present, but seem to be on the increase in some areas.

CARD OF THANKS

To the people of Tahoka and surrounding area, we want to say thank you for the wonderful way you have helped us in the past weeks. For the cards, visits, and gifts to Glen. A special word of thanks to each one of you who had a part in securing the blood for Glen, also for the love offering which has helped so much to take care of the expenses. More than anything we appreciate the prayers for Glen and for us. The Lord has been so good to us in helping Glen make a marvelous recovery. We have found it isn't the size of a city which makes it the greatest, but the kind of people in it. To us Tahoka is the greatest "little city" in the world with the finest people. Our prayers is that God will bless each of you.— Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Riddle and Glen.

EVINRUDE BOATING FOUNDATION

By RUDY EVINS

No matter where you fish or what kind of fish you are fishing it has been proven that every fisherman is similar to his own particular pattern of fishing. Confusing? Well, let me clarify this a bit.

There are four fundamentals which almost every good angler uses as a "bible." Follow these rules and improve on them each time you go fishing. Your fishing "luck" will progress with every trip.

Rise early—get up early in the day when the fish feed. Work the shore with various lures to find the hot spots. Try about 25 casts with a surface lure. If you don't get any strikes try a sinking plug for another 25 casts. If you still don't have any luck try a lure that runs a little deeper. You're bound to find them sooner or later and when you do you'll have a field day.

Unacquainted—don't be unacquainted with the water you are fishing. If you don't have a map of the lake's bottom ask the local sporting goods dealer or resort owner for a few tips. They will be more than happy to tell you where the good spots are.

Drift—Approach your fishing hole with caution, especially in shallow water. Your outboard motor won't scare the fish, however, it may stir the bottom, so cut it about 50 yards from where you plan to fish and drift in.

Yield—Always yield a good cast. A bit of practice before leaving on your trip will bring more accurate casts with every outing. Use an inner tube or a nail in your backyard for a target. Remember, practice makes perfect.

The first letter of each of these rules spells Rudy. Keep my name in mind and remember these fundamentals, for they are the key to a better fisherman. Happy boating... and fishing, too.

O'Donnell To Have Demonstration Gin

A "super-duper" demonstration gin is being built on land owned by the O'Donnell Farmers Co-op Gin, just south of O'Donnell. The ultra-modern plant will differ from the usual new gin by having two Gordin 140-saw stands and one stand with 75 saws.

Arrangements with the Gordin Company provide that O'Donnell Farmers Co-op Gin may purchase the gin if it proves satisfactory after being fully tested. It will have a rated capacity of 15 bales per hour, according to the manufacturer.

The plant now has two batteries of four 120 saw gins which handled just under 20,000 bales of 1960 cotton. The new gin will be located south of the present gin building. The Gordin Company plans to use the gin as a show plant for parties wishing to observe the 140-saw stands in operation.

The Co-op has a large grain business and supplies its patrons with butane and some other supplies.

Weldon Martin is manager at O'Donnell and is vice president of PCCA. Carl Sanders presides over the board made up of directors H. D. Vaughn, H. W. Hancock, M. E. Greenlee and Wayne Carroil.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

Ford Dealers were first with a long-term warranty...because they have the car to back it up

For 1961...warranty* on all Ford cars was extended to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

This action tripled the existing warranty—and scooped the American automobile industry. It was dramatic proof of your Ford Dealer's confidence in the finest, most durable, most reliable Fords ever built.

These are the cars with the new service-saving features most other manufacturers are just planning for the future. The '61 Ford goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications... 4,000 miles before you need to change oil. Brakes adjust themselves automatically. The muffler is built to last three times as long as the ordinary type. Body and underbody are specially protected against rust and corrosion. And, Ford's Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

STOP spending money on a car that's behind the times. SWAP for a '61 Ford while sales are booming and the deals are sensational. SAVE when you buy. Continue to save with the car that's built to be more service-free.

*Extended Warranty—Each part of '61 Fords, except tires, is dealer warranted against defects in materials or workmanship for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. Owner remains responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters and ignition parts.

Today is the day to STOP...SWAP...SAVE

Printer's Ink-lings . . .

By F. P. H.

If you have to go to work six days a week, month in and month out, there comes a time for most men when they can hardly keep from blowing their tops. Medicine won't cure that tired, run-down nervous, short-temper feeling when one has been opening up the business, keeping the wheels of industry turning, meeting the pay roll, and then closing up at night for a long period of time.

The Printer got to this point recently, grabbed his hat, a spare shirt, his fishing tackle, Mae, got in the can, and took off for the Colorado Rockies at Lake City, where Jake and Pat and three granddaughters spend the summer running a drug, fishing supply and gift store they bought last year.

Proprietor of a business like The News sometimes gets to thinking he is indispensable. The Printer got a little shock last week, for The News came out as usual, and probably was a little better than it would have been if we had stayed home. It all goes to prove that the boss ain't needed. Sue Tekell and Charles and A. W. McClellan got out a good paper, with the help of Douglas McClellan, Tony Spruill, and Larry Thomas, all learning printing and the newspaper trade at The News.

We had intended to get back in time for the Pioneer Reunion, but failed to make it. Folks say it was another fine-get-together. We hated to miss it.

Fishing was excellent, although we didn't do too much of it—just rested mostly and enjoyed the grandkids. That's the best place we know just to rest, enjoy the cool mountain atmosphere and unsurpassed scenery among 14,000-foot snow-capped peaks.

Lake City is a small town of about 100 permanent citizens, with several hundred summer residents, established in 1876 as a mining town, and some of the original buildings still stand. The mountains and canyons give evidence of the abandoned mines from which gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead and other minerals have been taken in days past, and we are told there remains possibly much more mineral wealth than was ever taken out of Mother Earth, but such mining is now largely not profitable although some of these mines are still worked periodically.

This is a great trout fishing area, with fish plentiful in the streams, Lake San Cristobal, and remote mountain creeks and lakes. This is the headwaters of the Lake Fork of the Gunnison, and tributary of the mighty Colorado, which flows into the Pacific. Top fishing streams also include Big Blue, Henson, Cebolla, and Brush creeks, as well as Deer Lakes, Crystal Lake and others. Jeeps are available to take one to otherwise inaccessible places. It is also a top hunting area for deer, elk, and bear. But, for us the biggest appeal is the restful atmosphere and the wonderful scenery. Anyone going to that area should by all means drive up Herson Canyon past old Capitol City, a ghost town which lost out to Denver by one vote for the state capitol, and to Rose's Cabin, an old stage stop at the foot of Engineer Mountain and jeep pass. The craggy mountain scenery is unsurpassable. You can go that far in your car this late in the year, but two weeks ago the road was still blocked by snow. Another interesting trip is up Lake Fork to another ghost town, Sherman. Still another is over the mountains to Big Blue, which heads at the foot of Uncompahre Peak, and you'll likely see deer, elk, bear, snowshoe rabbits, grouse, and what-not late in the evening or early in the morning.

There are fine tourist resorts at normal prices, some swanky, some moderate, and some very modest. After July 1, one should have a reservation, for most of them will be filled until school starts. The News has some of their literature.

Even if he wanted to, The Printer would be afraid to get very far out of line when he leaves the home territory, for we always run into old friends.

Among those dropping in to Lake City Drug were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gill, who went up Lake Fork to Sherman with us on a picnic, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Gardner (Donna Sue Milliken), Mr. and Mrs. Urin Howard of Lubbock (Mae's brother) were there a couple of days and we fished some beaver dams and picnicked up North Fork of Henson. Also there were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harpole, owners of the radio station at Plainview, with whom we were raised. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Nettles own Dude's Court. "Dude" is a former Lakeview citizen who moved to Lorenzo years ago and is a brother of Roy Nettles. And we visited with L. C. Ely, a cousin of one of our cousins, from Mineral Wells, who also owns a motel. We fished with O. E. McAbee, who manages Matterhorn Resort.

Clarence B. Bains of Fort Worth owns a summer home in Lake City. He says he started to school in Tahoka while living here in the period 1916-1918, was here when the block of buildings burned where Harris Hardware, Tahoka Drug, Marshall-Brown, and Bennett Variety now stand. He wonders if any of the oldtimers remember his parents, Henry and Annie Bains, and brother Clayton, then about 14, when they lived near the old school building in south Tahoka.

Jake and Pat are having a big time running the store, meeting a lot of interesting people from across the nation, and were doing a fair business while getting ready for the expected July and August rush. They try to keep up on fishing conditions, best places to go, flies or baits to use, and Jake gets out late nearly every evening to help keep the deep freeze full of fish.

Jake was painting the store front.

All too soon the years of bare summer feet, sugar-and-butter sandwiches and cartwheels are yesteryears. But fine photographs capture and hold the growing years, become more cherished as childhood slips into memory.

and not to be out-done 3-year-old Fran got a bucket of paint and brush and smeared paint helter-skelter over the pump house. Vicki and Becky were making big plans for a trip one day to the top of the Continental Divide, above timberline, and possibly over to Silverton on Ouray, by jeep on invitation from a Mr. Boynton, retired San Angelo businessman. They are also enjoying horseback riding, fishing, and a "Squaw" club organized by Pat for 16 little girls which will have camp-outs.

Jerri Ann Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wyatt and a junior in high school, went up with us and remained to help with the children, work in the store, and enjoy a summer vacation in the mountains. She had made a lot of new friends and seemed to be enjoying the experience immensely, although this is the first time she has ever been away from home. She wasn't long in finding a piano and a basketball court on which to practice her hobbies. The Presbyterian Church had asked her to play the piano in accompaniment with the organ at services. All this may not interest you readers, but we have some space to fill and we just hit and hope sometimes.

We thought maybe we'd get away from politics and worry about the trend of our United States government. But such was not the case. Almost every person we met sooner or later began to express concern over the trend to concentrate all government and all power in Washington.

A. J. Stricklin of Brownfield, dean of South Plains editors, had the following in his column last week: "Dedicated to Printers Ink Hill of Tahoka—Jaybird sittin' on the end of a rail, Picking his teeth with the end of his tail, Wirebrar leaves and calico sleeves, All school mistresses are hard to please." Think up some more old time verses, Jack. We like 'em.

"Yes," said the farmer, "when a feller has got to know the botanical name of what he raises, and the entomological name of the bugs that eat it up, and the pharmaceutical name of what he sprays on it—things is bound to cost more."

The man with a chip on his shoulder always carries an unnecessary burden.—Cheer.

"Why, I just read where some government bureau that reports on statistics says that electric service costs me only one and one-third cents out of each dollar that we spend at our house."

"Then I found out that the more hours I use Reddy Kilowatt—he's the electric servant, you know—the less he charges for each hour."

"You say your electric bill is higher? Oh, ours is, too, but we're using twice as many appliances as we did 10 years ago. Skillet, television, hair dryer, clothes dryer, why, those are just a few of our new ones. You're probably using a lot more appliances, too."

"On top of everything else, my Public Service neighbor told me the average hourly wage for that little fellow we were talking about, Reddy Kilowatt, is 21 percent lower than it was 10 years ago."

"I can't think of anything else that costs less today than it did in 1951. Can you?"

Driver's Attitude Cause Of Wrecks

A Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman suggested that Texas citizens might better their traffic safety records by concentrating on the principal cause of all traffic accidents—attitude.

Major Harry Hutchison, Regional Commander of the DPS, said that "There is no single cause to which all accidents, even preventable accidents, can be charged." He noted, however, "That there is general agreement that the great majority of such accidents are traceable to the attitude of those involved." In citing examples of poor driving attitude, Major Hutchison mentioned "The speeder who says I am a good driver to handle the car doing 90; the elbow bender who says I'm not too drunk to drive home; the businessman who piles along in his car pre-occupied by office problems; the lady who thinks she can drive and still inventory show windows, and the adolescent who defies the challenge of being chicken."

The chance-taker is the accident-maker.

Farm Facts

Production of citrus fruits in the United States increased from about 3 million tons in 1935-36 to a high of 8.2 million in 1956-57. It is expected to attain new heights in the 1960's, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Oranges led in volume produced and in the upward trend. Grapefruit were second in production volume. Production of grapefruit increased sharply until the late 1940's but declined abruptly following freeze damage to groves in Texas. Output of lemons and tangerines has almost doubled since 1935.

The 1959-60 orange crop was about 127 million boxes. Of this tonnage, Florida produced 75%; California, 22%; Wild Texas, Arizona, and Louisiana, 3%.

About 9% of all citrus was processed in 1959-60 as compared with about 57% in 1959-60. Processors used the following percentages of the 1959-60 citrus crops: oranges, 64%; grapefruit, 42%; lemons, 48%; tangerines, 19%; tangelos, 16%; and limes, 38%.

Per capita consumption of processed citrus in 1960 was about 53 pounds (fresh equivalent basis) and that of fresh citrus was about 34 pounds. Per capita consumption of processed citrus increased until 1944-45 and then declined.

Citrus fruit production has almost tripled in 25 years.

liams, and Lee Veach helped him. That year, 1928, another son, Warren McKibben, was born. He farmed the same place in 1929, and Horace Cook helped him that year. Another daughter, Frances Hardt of Tahoka, was born. Pat says by now he and Ruby and Pat Jr. could pull a bale of cotton a day. In 1930 and 1931 he and Pat Jr. farmed the same land by themselves.

In 1932, he moved to O'Donnell, farmed 220 acres cultivated land and had 80 acres in pasture. In March of 1933, Joyce Ware of Lamesa was born, in 1936 Joe of Coca Beach, Florida, came along, and in 1938, Patricia McClellan of Tahoka made her arrival.

When he bought the T-Bar farm in 1937, everyone told him it wasn't any good, so he stayed on the O'Donnell farm until 1939. The place turned out to be a fine farm.

In 1940, Jerry of New Moore was born; in 1941, Mary Rowe of Tahoka was born; 1943, Tommy of the home; 1944, Shirley Reece of Lamesa; then finally in 1946, the baby, Kay McKibben of the home.

With 15 children, Pat says he always wanted a boys' baseball team but he ended up with a girls' team and just two-thirds of a boys' team.

This summer, their oldest grandson, Johnny Griffith of Muskogee, Okla., is visiting them. Last week, they also had visiting them Mrs. Pat's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Irie Kirkland of Waco.

Pat McKibben Reveals Life Story On Visit To Old Home In Wise County

Pat McKibben, owner of a section of farm land at T-Bar, recently made a trip with his family down to Chico, Wise county, accompanied by Mrs. McKibben, four of their children and four grandchildren.

The trip brought back many fond recollections and Pat took advantage of the occasion to tell his family how hard it was to get a start back in those days. The story is typical of that of many settlers at this time and working in the Belknap coal mine.

In 1919, he went to farm between Chico and Bridgeport, with 25 acres on the place where he lived and rented another 25. He says it took a half day to go to Bridgeport and back, but if he walked he would come home with an armful of squirrels. But, he has gotten to where he can't hit 'em with rocks. In 1920, he moved to a 120 acre farm, now covered up 75 feet by water in Bridgeport Lake. The first child, Mrs. Ruby Griffith, now of Muskogee, Okla., was born in July.

In 1922, he moved to a 40-acre farm with 18 acres in cultivation and rented 25 acres on another place. In February, Pat Jr. of Lamesa was born, and in 1923 another daughter, Mrs. Opal Dinkins of Houston, was born.

Pat says they would go down to the river bottom and pull a sack full of cotton, put it on the buggy, hook an old jack to the buggy and pull it out. While picking cotton, they would put Opal in a tub, set it across a stick, and Ruby would rock it.

In 1924, he farmed 86 acres up on the hill off Bridgeport Lake. His brother, Glynn helped him farm, Pat boarded him and gave him a horse for pay. Pat started a barn out of rocks there 37 years ago, and 10 years ago when he was down there they were still piled just as he left them.

Moving to Chico that fall, another daughter, Mrs. Add Triola of Houston, was born. This last week he took her out and showed her the home. He farmed 60 acres, counting the wash-outs and all. When they got to the bridge outside Post, it was raining, and water got up in the buggy. That night, he'd turn over in the bed and hear water slush. He took it until about 2:00 a. m. and then found himself another bed. They left at daylight and it was 4:00 p. m. before they reached Draw.
