Terraces will be constructed on Mrs. Gladys Dabney Kay's farm, located one and one-half miles south of Draw. Along with the terraces a complete conservation program will be carried out which will consist of contour farming, a crop rotation system and crop residue management that will aid in conserving both soil and water. Cost-share will be received for terracing through the Great Plains Conservation program.

A single terrace system has been installed on the Eura I. Cook, E. F. Ray and Herbert Hunt farms located four miles north of New Home. All three farms join and are located in the same water shed, thus making it feasible to continue the terraces from one farm to the next. Where circumstances warrant, a continuous terrace system across adjoining farms is desirable from a conservation standpoint and is encouraged by the conservation district supervisors. Parallel terraces were installed where possible, which will reduce the number of point rows encountered with common terraces. In addition, a diversion terrace, which will direct excess run-off water was installed, and a complete conservation program is being carried out on all three farms.

A plastic irrigation pipeline has been installed on the Edward Mosier farm located three miles west and one-half mile north of Wilson. The line will enable Mr. Mosier to obtain more efficient use of his irrigation water. The line was cost-shared through the Lynn County A.S.C. office.

Special School Birthday Party

A little Latin American girl, Lupe Ramirez, who is deaf and whose mother is deceased, had a birthday party recently at the Lynn County Special School. She said that it was her first birthday party or birthday cake.

The teacher was Lupe's substitute mother for the occasion.

Lupe's cake was topped with 17 burning candles. Since she seems to have a partial paralysis of the face, she asked another child to blow out her candles. She wore the Special School's silver crown which made her queen of the party. She received several nice gifts, and the children sang to her "Happy Birthday."

When we saw the happiness that the party gave her we were all glad that we had made her party possible. Lupe is a precious little girl and we are pleased to have her with us in the Special School. —Margaret Renfro, teacher.

 "IF WE DON'T HAVE IT WE WILL GET IT"

TO COTTON PRODUCERS AND GINNERS

JUST ARRIVED—THE FIRST break in prices for cotton sold on GREEN CARDS as we advised it would. This lowering of prices on GREEN CARDS was not because of a flooded market, but was due, in large, to a high percent of low micronaire cotton coming from all areas. A buyer cannot possibly distinguish high from low micronaire cotton by looking at a GREEN CARD, therefore he has to cut his price on all cotton that is bought on green cards. This method PENALIZES the farmer who has mature cotton, for he will have to take the price of low micronaire cotton—IF IT IS SOLD ON GREEN CARDS, regardless of the volume in which it is sold.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO BE SATISFIED WITH THE PRICE OFFERED FOR LOW MICRONAIRE COTTON.

THE PRICES HAVE NOT BEEN CUT ON COTTON WITH A HIGH MICRONAIRE—IF THIS COTTON IS SOLD ON ACTUAL SAMPLES. This is our method of selling cotton and we are offering our facilities to sell your cotton for YOU and show you a better profit.

By using our method, you will receive the maximum value for your individual cotton. If your cotton is mature, why be penalized for the low micronaire cotton in your area. Our method of selling cotton promotes good growing practices, good harvesting practices, and good ginning, since the producer receives what his individual cotton brings, it induces him to try to grow the best cotton possible.

We are available to sell cotton for ANY producer, regardless of where he lives, where he gins or what kind of cotton he has. Most independent ginners are available to help you place your cotton for us to sell, but ANY ginner can help you if he desires. IF YOUR ginner doesn't have particulars as yet, have him contact us.

We remind you once again to consider our method of selling cotton before your cotton is sold for too small an amount over the loan. We have advised previously as to what prices we think you should probably sell and what prices you should let us sell your cotton. When your cotton is sold for a little over the loan, you are also selling your equity in this cotton and this equity could be worth a good deal of money next spring. Also on ANY cotton you plan to put into the loan, we think we can make you more money, and even if we shouldn't it hasn't cost you anything, because we do not make a charge unless we sell your cotton for a profit.

If you feel your cotton is mature and good micronaire and if your cotton is to be sold on green cards, regardless of the volume of the sales, then you may be getting the low micronaire price, but if we sell your cotton on samples, you will receive the full price.

Ribicoff Seeks Education Aid

If Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff is a good example of the bright young men of the New Frontier, we're in trouble. Last week Ribicoff proceeded to tell 1,000 college presidents how the proverbial cow ate the cabbage. In one lump sum, he denounced educators and newspapers for not caring about education.

According to Ribicoff, "there are very, very few newspapers across the country which have a deep interest in education and support it."

The Secretary of Welfare had reference to the Kennedy administration's dismal attempt to push through a so-called, federal-aid-to-education program, and the opposition raised by many segments of the press and other Americans interested in our local schools.

Ribicoff's empty-headed logic goes something like this: If you are against the bureaucratic aid and control program, you're against education. Unfortunately this kind of philosophy has eaten to the core of Washington. Any program that doesn't originate from the great white throne there is simply no dang good, according to the powers that be. And tragically enough a lot of people have swallowed this party line hook and sinker, and not all are Democrats either.

Ribicoff failed to mention the thousands even millions of citizens across the land who serve on local school boards, PTA committees, in classrooms and in hundreds of other ways to further education. Take tax money away from local school boards, send it to Washington and what do you have? Eventually you destroy the local school system. Boards will get their directives from Washington, citizens will lose interest and since "local citizens won't do the job," the bureaucrats will take over, lock, stock and barrel.

Already people such as Ribicoff are accusing the local systems of falling down on the job. Besides that, they are also lining up their henchmen to do a complete selling job at the grassroots. We are certainly behind Russia in this phase of education. They already have complete governmental control. We are just headed in that direction. —Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Radioactive Iodine Hazard Outlined

College Station — Radioactive iodine 131 can be one of the most hazardous problems of food contamination during the first 60 days following a nuclear attack, but at the same time much can be done to overcome the hazard it presents, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist.

Iodine 131 fall-out could contaminate almost all fresh foods, says Meekma, however, because radioactivity in the material is so short-lived, several courses would be open to remove or reduce the danger to humans. Dairymen, for example, could confine milk cows to the barn and feed them safely on forage and feed that had been stored for 60 days. Also, ensilage that had been stored for this length of time could be safely fed to dairy cows.

Should iodine 131 get into fluid milk, there are also precautions that will protect users of fresh milk, Meekma says. For example, milk containing relatively low amounts of radioactivity could simply be stored until the radioactivity decayed. This, the specialist points out, is possible because today's commercial pasteurized, homogenized milk will maintain good quality for long periods of time at usual refrigeration temperatures.

Should the iodine 131 level be high enough to require 30 to 40 days storage before the radioactivity is dissipated, acceptable means of holding milk for such periods would include freezing, holding for the required time, and then thawing and distributing to the consumers or processing it as dried milk, canned milk, cheese, or butter. In any case, there should be no disposal or destruction of milk contaminated with iodine 131, Meekma says.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY G. WILSON HARDER

Of more than passing interest in some of the testimony being taken in the hearings by a Federal examiner of the affairs of Fox Markets, now operating under Chapter XI of the Bankruptcy Act.

This 45 unit food chain in Los Angeles recently found itself unable to pay more than $10 million owed principally to packers and wholesalers.

Two items especially, G. W. Harder so far, are of great interest as a comment on contemporary times and business mores.

Edwin J. Fox has already testified that one of the nation's largest dairy operations made it possible for him to get a half million dollar bank loan.

Asked why the dairy company "cooperated" to make it possible for him to get this loan, Mr. Fox said "I was able to put their products into Fox Markets."

Thus, it is established, that until the dairy company "cooperated" it was seemingly impossible for Mr. Fox to stock their products in Fox Markets.

Mr. Fox himself testifies in his opinion that the biggest factor in the chain getting into distress was trading stamps. His markets handed out the oldest nationally known trading stamps, while most of his competitors give out Blue Chip stamps.

Blue Chip stamps are owned and controlled by a number of market operators in California and was presumably set up to drive other trading stamps out of the market and eventually eliminate trading stamps. As Blue Chip stamps are operated without any desire for a profit, it is reputed they give more value per stamp than their competitors.

Mr. Fox said he underestimated the power that Blue Chip stamps would have in the Los Angeles market, with the result that his markets did not draw the volume of patronage he had projected.

It is interesting to note in the list of published creditors that the largest creditor, by a substantial margin, with the exception of a bank loan, is the trading stamps company with which Fox Markets did business.

The records show that this stamp company alone is owed more than $900 thousand.

This then shows up one of the merchandising fallacies of the times. One is the widespread feeling spread among consumers that trading stamps are a "something for nothing" device.

As illustrated by the Fox example, when stamps are given out, they are a major part of store overhead and must be passed on to the consumer in some manner.

A business depending on a build up there is being given something, for nothing is built on shifting sands, as it will collapse when anyone comes along and sells the idea they will give even more for nothing. Perhaps it could be said that Fox was out-foxed.

Tax Application To Agriculture

College Station — Several questions concerning the application of the State Sales Tax to agricultural production goods have been received by C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist. Bates reports that the Comptroller's office has not made rulings on some of these specific items, but Ruling No. 13 does cover certain items. According to this ruling, "Persons engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property to those engaged in agricultural pursuits in the State of Texas shall be required to collect the tax imposed by this law. However, there are items specifically exempt from the taxes imposed by this statute when sold to those persons engaged in agricultural pursuits."

Articles exempted from the sales tax under Ruling No. 13 include "The sale of, storage, use or other consumption of any form of animal life of the kind which ordinarily constitutes food for human consumption." This would include beef cattle, poultry and swine, explains Bates. Also exempted is feed for these animals. Dog food, horse feed and bird seed are examples of feeds not exempted.

Seeds and annual plants which produce food for human consumption, and fungicides, insecticides and fertilizers applied to them are also exempted under the ruling. Trees, bedding plants, household insecticides and lawn fertilizer are examples of commodities not exempted.

Bates says the ruling also exempts "Farm machinery or equipment exclusively used or employed on farms or ranches in the production of food for human consumption, feed for any form of animal life or other agricultural products to be sold in the regular course of business." It has been ruled, however, that parts for farm machinery and equipment will be taxed.

It will require some time for the State Comptroller to issue rulings on the multitude of items that fall into the "gray" areas of the statute's meaning, Bates continues. As soon as specific rulings can be had, they will be passed on to the public.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson

The season of Advent, which includes the four Sundays before Christmas, is essentially a time of preparation for the celebration of the birth of Jesus. Originally the season was a time for penitence and fasting, by means of which the devout prepared themselves to be worthy of the Lord's coming. The emphasis was not only on the historical event of Jesus' birth, but also on his second coming in majesty and power to judge the earth.

A common complaint today is that we scarcely get beyond the national holiday of Thanksgiving before the Chamber of Commerce begins to string up Christmas lights in the streets; hold Santa parades through the town, and play Christmas carols over loud speakers in department stores. The writer has already seen a Christmas scene featuring a church in the window of a whiskey store on a main highway. How sacrilegious can we get?

What we must do, if possible, is to allow Advent to be a season of preparation rather than a public preview of the hymns and scriptures, and the message which properly belongs to Christmas Day. Let us not think of these days as only a time for the feverish quest for the proper gifts for those we love but primarily a time to enrich our lives in the holy anticipation of the coming of the Christ child into our own hearts and into the hearts of our loved ones and friends.

MRS. DOUGLAS McCLELLAN (nee Jackie Alexander) (photo by Finney)

Miss Jackie Alexander, Douglas McClellan Married In Church Ceremony November 19

Miss Jackie Alexander descended the aisle of First Baptist Church Nov. 19 where she was joined by Douglas McClellan to exchange double ring marriage vows. The couple exchanged matched, engraved wedding bands.

Rev. T. James Efrid performed the ceremony before antique candles flanked by baskets of gold, yellow and bronze mums tied with yellow bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander of Sudan. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McClellan are parents of the bridegroom. Given in marriage by her uncle,

J. O. Allen, the bride was attired in a street-length sheath dress of off-white brocade featuring three-quarter sleeves, scooped neckline and self belt. She wore matching gloves and hat featuring a short veil. She carried a bouquet of white feathered mums centered with a brown cymbidium orchid.

Miss Mary Jane McCord was maid of honor. She wore a sheath of bronze brocade fashioned with three-quarter sleeves and square-cut neckline. Her bouquet consisted of nosegay of bronze and yellow mums.

Charles McClellan served his brother as best man. Serving as ushers and candlelighters were Gary and Al Alexander, brothers of the bride from Sudan.

James Hollars, vocalist, sang "When I Grow Too Old To Dream," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Clay Bennett, organist.

At the following reception in fellowship hall of the church, Mrs. Joe Young, Miss Peggy Polk and Miss McCord assisted with hospitality. For her going-away dress the bride chose a black jersey sheath with three-quarter sleeves and fringe belt accented with turquoise felt hat and gloves.

Mrs. McClellan is a 1961 gradu-

Games Scheduled For Next Week

Tahoka "A" and "B" boys basketball teams and "A" girls play at Frenship Tuesday night, Dec. 5, at 5:30 p. m. The two varsity teams are preparing to enter the Abernathy tournament to be held next week end, Dec. 7, 8, and 9.

Meanwhile the seventh grade girls and boys will play at New Home at 6:00 p. m. Monday and the seventh and eighth boys will go to Brownfield next Thursday with games beginning at 5:00 p. m.

Tahoka's opening game in the Abernathy tournament will be played against Roosevelt at 6:40 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 7. The Tahoka girls will also play Roosevelt at 7:50 p. m. Thursday.

Other teams entered in the tournament are Abernathy, Cotton Center, Crosbyton, Ropesville, Slaton, Olton, Hale Center, and Frenship.

Home for the Thanksgiving holidays was Miss Idalia Wood, a student at Baylor University, Waco. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Wood.

Tahoka Winner Over Crosbyton

Tahoka took two out of three basketball games here Tuesday night when the Bulldogs played hosts to Crosbyton. The Bulldogs won 45-33 and the girls dumped the visitors 69-32. Crosbyton won the "B" boys' game 33-31.

With the Bulldogs beginning to find their range in hitting the basket, they took a 14-9 first quarter lead and widened the margin to 28-16 at halftime. Third period score was 37-27. Billy Clinton took scoring honors with 16 points and Craig Leslie scored in double figures with 10 points for the second consecutive game. Darwin Potter led the Chiefs with seven points. If the Bulldogs can raise their scoring potency where several are hitting in double figures, they will develop into a team hard to beat.

The girls blasted Crosbyton behind Judy Thomas' 34 points and Kay Holamicek's 14. Curry had 20 for the losers. By quarters, Tahoka led 20-6, 37-17, and 50-27. Coach J. D. Atwell's team is improving with each game and is beginning to look more like championship material every time they take over the court. Also usually making impressive showings as forwards are Loretta Short, Linda Thomas and Carolyn Howard, along with Jerre Ann Wyatt who plays guard most of the time but switches to forward occasionally. However, the guard positions are strongly defended by Wyatt, Sharon Drager, Brooksie Reece, Elvanda Tekell and Ann Wright. Because of their outstanding performances, the girls are sometimes able to win by wide margins and hold down the scoring power of the stronger teams.

All high point men of the "B" team scored nine points, Johnny Harkins and James Cooper for the Chiefs, and Allen Cox for the Bulldogs. Tahoka took a 11-6 first quarter lead and held on 17-12 at halftime. The game was all tied up 25-25 at the end of the third stanza, with the Chiefs pulling ahead by the two points needed for the victory in the fourth period.

Wilson Players Are All-District

The Wilson Mustangs placed seven men on the offensive and defensive District 4-B top teams which were selected Wednesday night. The Mustangs landed five men on the offensive team and two on the defensive unit.

Lorenzo, who battled with Wilson for the District 4-B championship with Wilson winning by a penetration, also placed seven men on the top team, three offensive and four defensive all-stars.

A tie between Wilson's Surpy Benavidez and Marlow Rudd of New Home at the quarterback position and four men elected as "backs" caused the offensive unit to consist of 13 players.

Wilson and New Home players on the teams include:
Offense
Ends—Charles Walton, Wilson, junior.
Tackle—Bill Kopecky, New Home, senior.

Guards—Eddie Williams, Wilson, senior; Clarence Nieman, New Home, senior.

QUESTIONS, PLEASE

QUESTION: WHAT IS THE OLD TESTAMENT CONCEPTION OF DEATH?
ANSWER: Death, eternal rewards, and even immortality are often rather vaguely portrayed in the Old Testament. It is doubtful that it is actually possible to recapture, at this late date true conceptions of the Hebrew people. There seems to be, on the one hand the revealed information from God, which is by no means a full revelation, and on the other hand a gradual understanding of these truths by God's people. As they understand more, God reveals more to them.
However, man is considered from the beginning to be a creature of the Holy God, created by God for fellowship and communion. From the beginning death is connected with sin, while life is connected with obedience. In contrast with pagan thought, where gods, animals and man all come from some chaotic upheaval in the past and have therefore a common background, the Old Testament is very realistic in its statements concerning God's eternal existence and man's created, transitory nature. It is this very eternal and holy nature in their God that gave the Hebrews some ray of hope. Vriegen has stated it well: "The Old Testament leaves life in the hereafter entirely to Yehweh, who is the Lord with whom the faithful live in communion and whom they cling to even in death." He continues his summation on the lack of full satisfaction on the subject of life after death as presented in the Old Testament when he says, "The Old Testament speaks only very little about life after death; that is in fact, one of the important elements, where the Old Testament clamors for fulfillment in the New."
You are invited to send your questions to: Don Browning Box 812, Tahoka, Texas. You are also invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ.

Lutherans Teach Salvation By Grace Alone

When God says, "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God," Ro.3:23. We know that we are sinners and guilty before Him. When He says, "the soul that sinneth it shall die." Ezek. 18:4. We know that our soul is dead, cut off from God, unless there is some way to revive it and bring it back to God. Yes, Jesus says, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." John 3:3. Therefore, as sinners we are spiritually dead and cut off from God and His kingdom. We need to be made alive or "born again" as Jesus says. This of course is a spiritual birth. And no man can bring about his own spiritual birth. God alone can do this for us. Jesus says, "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." John 3:6.

St. Paul makes it clear that a man is saved from spiritual death solely by the GRACE OF GOD; that is, by His undeserved love and mercy in Christ Jesus. See for yourself what he says when writing to the "born again" Christians at Ephesus. "And you He made alive, when you were dead through the trespasses and sins in which you once walked, following the course of this world, following the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that is now at work in the sons of disobedience. Among these we all once lived in the passions of our flesh, following the desires of body and mind, and so were by nature children of wrath, like the rest of mankind. But God, who is rich in mercy, out of great love with which He loved us, even when we were dead through our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ (by grace you have been saved), and raised us up with Him, and made us sit with Him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, that in the coming ages He might show the immeasurable riches of His grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith; and this is not your own doing, it is the gift of God—not because of works, lest any man should boast. For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them." Ephesians 2:1-10.

OUR SALVATION IS AN UNMERITED GIFT OF GOD'S GRACE. It is unmerited for we by sin have earned nothing but death and damnation. "The wages of sin is death," Ro. 6:23.

It is a gift of God. Therefore, we do nothing to earn it or to pay for it. If we pay for it then it no longer is a "gift." We accept this "gift" with the HAND OF FAITH. And even this faith is not of our own doing. It too is a gift of God. But where you find this "saving faith" you also find a new creature in Christ. You find a repentant heart. A heart that is ready and eager to do what Christ commands, to do the "good works" which God has prepared for it beforehand.

If you would like to learn more about your Savior and His will for you St. Paul Lutheran Church of Wilson invites you to a SPECIAL BIBLE CLASS IN TAHOKA Thursday, December 7, 7:30 at the W.O.W. hall.

Mayor Proclaims Beef Week Dec. 3-9

The week of December 3-9 was designated Beef Week in Tahoka today when Mayor Meldon Leslie signed a formal proclamation paying tribute to "the many significant contributions made by the state's cattle industry to the welfare of all Texans."

Mayor Leslie presented the proclamation to County Agent Bill Griffin.

"Historically, the cattle industry in Texas is older than Texas itself. Economically, the cattle industry has set the pace for Texas, and continues to be a leading growth factor in the state's economy, constantly seeking new techniques for building an even more rewarding future for all our citizens," the proclamation read.

In proclaiming Beef Week, the Mayor urged "appreciation and recognition from our citizens for the many continuing contributions of this great industry."

Other activities planned during Beef Week, according to Leslie, include an annual Beef Supper for Texas Beef Council Dec. 6 at the Pioneer Hotel in Lubbock.

Students from the fifth through the seventh grades ranking in the upper 25 percent of their class rooms have been announced as making the honor roll for the second six weeks by Principal Jake Jacobs.

Jacobs states that there has been some misunderstanding about how the present honor roll system in North Elementary works. The roll is taken from each section of each grade. These students are the upper 25 percent, or upper one-fourth, of their section, rather than grade. They must also have maintained at least a 90 average in conduct.

Rate of New Home Building In Tahoka Above National Average During 1960

(Special to the News)
New York — How much home building is going on in Tahoka as compared with other areas? To what extent is new housing contributing to the local economy?

Answers come from the Department of Labor, from industry sources and from the Census Bureau, which has just issued its annual report on the number of private dwelling units authorized for construction in the past year in some 10,000 localities.

New construction, it is pointed out, is a matter of great importance to every community since it affects the economy in many different ways. Besides providing work for carpenters, plumbers, bricklayers and other craftsmen, it creates a demand for lumber, for hardware, for stoves, refrigerators and many other kinds of durable goods.

In Tahoka, for its size, there was more home building in the year than in most parts of the United States.

The Census Bureau report shows a total of 23 new dwelling units begun or authorized locally, exclusive of public housing, for a rate of 7.6 units per 1,000 population.

The figure does not include 14 public housing units constructed and seven others moved in, a total of 44 new homes for the year.

The rate compares favorably with the national figure, 6.7 units per 1,000 population. Throughout the nation generally, residential construction was in the doldrums in 1960. There was a drop of $2.4 billion, representing an 18 percent cut in new dwellings.

In Tahoka, the 23 private dwellings authorized for construction amounted to $234,000 in value, based on the median cost price in the region of $10,176 per unit.

Some authorities place the blame for the national setback on the high interest rates and the tight mortgage market that prevailed. Others claim that the explanation lies in supply and demand. They feel that more houses than necessary were built in recent years.

On one point, however, all of them agree. It is that a big upturn in home building is in the offing.

They are talking about the years beginning with 1965. That is when the large number of post-war babies will start marrying. They will affect the housing market "like a wild bull in a narrow tunnel," to quote the First Research Corp.

Carbon Monoxide Is Death Threat

College Station — Cold weather requires that windows in the home and car be closed and increases the need for proper ventilation. A potential killer, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, is a product of poor ventilation and goes by the name of carbon monoxide gas.

Every year Texans die from this odorless and tasteless gas. Deaths from this cause are most common during the winter months and usually result from a high, open fire in a room without proper ventilation, a clogged flue, unvented gas stoves or defective gas stoves or leaky exhausts on the automobile.

Keeping an automobile in good running order is good insurance against carbon monoxide poisoning. Leak free combustion and exhaust systems, points out the Council, are of major importance. Many automobile accidents result from the presence of the gas may cause a driver to blackout or fall asleep. It is always wise, says the Council, to keep a vent or window partially open while driving. Letting a car engine run in a closed garage is extremely dangerous.

Symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning include headache, dizziness, eye blurring, nausea and fluttering or throbbing of the heart. A check of heating equipment and attention to ventilation will eliminate most of the chances for these symptoms to hit you, concludes the Council.

When Princeton and Rutgers played the first American football game in 1869, some Princetonians roared out a lusty "Siss, boom, ah." The shout derived from the rocket yell of the Seventh Regiment of New York which had passed through the Princeton, N. J., campus during the Civil War.

The topmost ornament on a Christmas tree is called a gipfel.

Census Report For November 1

Lynn county had ginned 52,961 bales of cotton for the 1961 season up to November 1, as compared to 41,340 for the same time in 1960, according to a belated report from the Bureau of the Census, received by The News last week end.

The News had estimated the week before that nearly 50,000 bales had been ginned in the county. At that time, October 26, Tahoka had ginned 10,951. Last week, The News estimated Lynn's ginnings at approximately 85,000 bales.

The census report reveals some interesting figures. To the south of Lynn, where a big crop was produced this year in Dawson county and ginnings were much further advanced, that county had ginned 139,108 bales compared to 81,886 the year before.

By comparison, Hale county had ginned only 14,292, and Lubbock county had ginned only 59,351 bales on November 1.

Some other counties' ginnings in this area were: Terry, 62,816; Gaines, 34,528; Garza, 2,477; Crosby, 16,764; Hockley, 45,342; Lamb, 20,517; Floyd, 11,837; and Yoakum, 18,156.

Lynn ginnings at the beginning of December are doubtless less than two-thirds complete.

Mrs. Alton Fleming of Compton, Calif., formerly of Tahoka, left for home last week end after a visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blain Ramsey. Returning with her to California for a visit was her mother-in-law, Mrs. P. K. Fleming of Shallowater, also formerly of Tahoka.

O'Donnell Postoffice History Revealed

A bit of postoffice history was revealed recently in the O'Donnell Index-Press.

Mrs. Gus Owens, who lives west of O'Donnell, brought to the O'Donnell postoffice the certificate of appointment as postmaster at Central, in northern Dawson county, of the late Mrs. R. F. (Jane) Hester, dated May 12, 1904.

Two years later, the postoffice was moved to the Dee Harris home in Lynn county, and Mrs. Harris was the postmaster for four years.

With the establishment of the town of O'Donnell on the new railroad in 1910, the late Charley Doak became postmaster. Mr. Doak was the first sheriff of Lynn county.

Committee Studies Cotton Problems

Wilmer Smith of New Home last week attended a meeting of the Stabilization Advisory Committee in Washington, D. C., at which the body studied possible development of long-range programs and legislation for cotton it considered "necessary to maintain adequate supplies of cotton to meet all needs at satisfactory prices to producers and consumers, and at lower possible costs to the government."

Wilmer says the committee thought the present program should be continued until a better one has been developed, and that new legislation should be aimed at 1963 and subsequent crops.

Mr. Smith was appointed to a sub-committee to continue work with the U. S. Department of Agriculture on legislative proposals which could be considered by Congress next year.

In addition to the present cotton program, the committee last week considered several alternate programs, namely: 1. A limited purchase plan. 2. A diversion payment plan similar to the present feed-grain program. 3. A trade incentive plan. 4. A domestic allotment plan. 5. A choice program similar to previous choice plans.

Printer's Ink-lings . . .

By F. P. H.

By now, most of us have cleaned up the turkey hash, gotten over our indigestion, and will be dieting again until the Christmas holidays, when we'll be stuffing the old "pot" too full again. The most called for items at the drug stores the day after Thanksgiving were tums, alka-seltzer, and sal hepatica.

Seriously, let's all of us give our home merchants a break on our Christmas shopping. After all, they help make our community a better place in which to live, pay taxes and make contributions for home projects, and are our friends and neighbors—just trying to get along the same as you and me. Lubbock merchants and mail order houses contribute very little, or nothing, toward making this a better community in which to live and raise our families.

Some children are afraid of the dark, and many adults are afraid of turning on the light.

This column complained a few months ago about some of the modern church hymnals leaving out some of the old favorites such as The Old Rugged Cross and Rock of Ages. Since then, the people have spoken—or, at least 61,445 of them—through a national survey conducted by Christian Herald. Among the top 50 hymns and gospel songs, The Old Rugged Cross was voted top place with 10,482 votes, and other favorites, in order of popularity, were: How Great Thou Art, 8,449; What a Friend We Have in Jesus, 4,167; In the Garden, 3,868; Amazing Grace, 1,816; Rock of Ages, 1,511; Sweet Hour of Prayer, 1,157; Abide with Me, 1,112; Beyond the Sunset, 1,050; and Whispering Hope, 741. The nationwide poll was taken through daily and weekly newspapers.

The Printer does not claim to be an expert on cotton and cotton markets. But, it seems to us, cotton is right now in the best position it has been in many years. The carry-over is not so great, and the demand is greater. We see no valid reason—except politics—for the recent reduction in acreage for next year. The Kennedy Administration evidently feels it has got to make some changes—for the sake of politics—it just can not admit that cotton had begun to fare fairly well under a Republican administration. We say, to heck with party politics! What we want is a healthy atmosphere for cotton. We want and need more markets for cotton, at home and abroad. If we get the price too high and our production too limited, synthetics and foreign producers begin to cut in on our market.

By the way, if we are going to keep a quota on cotton, why not put a quota on the amount of synthetics that can be manufactured? Why not set a price floor on synthetics? Nobody in authority has said anything, or much, about limiting the production of the Duponts and the other manufacturers competing with cotton. Do a few manufacturing plants have more pull in Washington than the thousands of cotton farmers?

After calling attention to how our Northern friends are constantly berating the South for treatment of Negroes, when their hands are not clean either, and telling of his relations with good Negroes back in Tennessee in his younger days, Jack Stricklin of Brownfield writes as follows: "Over in Africa, the whites are being treated in some areas just as bad or worse than Negroes were ever treated in the South, unless it was some reprobate that the rest of the white people had nothing in common with. Over in Africa, a bunch of Belgian colonists were attacked, several hundred of them, and many killed, then women folks ravished, and carried away against their will. There was never any mass murder and rape of Negroes in the South that we ever heard about. And, we don't believe others ever heard of it. Just goes to show that whites are not the only race that can be cruel.

In black Liberia, a white man can not own property, can not hold citizenship, and can not vote. Even a white child can not attend a school for native children. Also, the schools maintained for white children in that country must be no better than the native school in the same community. These facts were told a local citizen by Dr. Stapp, a former Tahoka physician, who spent two years in Liberia.

We received a couple of notes recently from former residents. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bovell of Bovell Motor Supply, Muleshoe, send best regards to all Tahoka friends, and Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Goad (he is a former New Home farmer and Lynn County Judge) write from Fort Worth: "We shall always remember the very nice people of Tahoka and the many happy days that we spent with them."

Mrs. T. L. Fortenberry of Kerrville, formerly of New Home, writes: "I just can't miss reading The News after so many years of keeping up with my Lynn county friends. I look forward to the postman leaving my paper each Monday (it takes that time in transit)."

"Bear" Research by the parents revealed that the hymn title was "A Consecrated Cross I Bear." The Lynn County News, Tahoka, Texas December 1, 1961

Quite frequently, a man subscriber will say he never reads the sheet but his wife wants it. Then, he turns right around and tries to start an argument about something you've said in your column, and occasionally such a man will call attention to something you've said with which he agrees—and you've forgotten the item, yourself. Anyway, the paper is good for lining shelves in the closets.

A canny farmer was approached the other day by a stranger who asked how much his prized Hereford was worth. After a moment of thought, the farmer looked the stranger over and said, "First, tell me, are you the tax assessor or has she been killed by a car on the highway?"

Down at Lamesa, The Reporter says, a teacher, Mrs. Reba Edwards, was in the office of Principal K. D. Smith when one of Mrs. Edwards' first graders rushed into the office and exclaimed, "Mr. Smith, there's a Damnation down at our room and we're scared!" Smith decided he'd better check on the situation, and Mrs. Edwards Tranquilizing drugs are proving as useful to animals as they are to humans. Not only are they used to quiet nervous, upset, or wild animals, but also to get better gains in normal animals by cutting down waste motion and minimizing effects of mild stresses.

In one experiment, steers administered tranquilizers in their feed gained weight 15% faster with a 10% saving of food. In commercial feed lot trials at Iowa State College, tranquilizers were added to the feed of sheep and a 17% increase in daily gain was attained with a 6.5% saving in feed costs.

Not too much luck has been attained with tranquilizers to achieve weight gains in hogs. Tranquilizers, however, may prove useful in large breeding operations. Tests indicate tranquilized boars get along without fighting. The drugs, too, may be useful in cutting down nervousness in girls before breeding or during farrowing.

Tranquilizers have been used with a great deal of success to quiet animals during shipment. The change in surroundings, feeding schedules, and temperatures along with the lack of feed to which they're accustomed—results in weight loss. Tranquilizers help reduce this.

College Station — Texas cotton producers could profit materially from recently announced U. S. Department of Agriculture research. Three methods for manufacturing all-cotton stretch yarns and fabrics have been developed, according to Dr. C. H. Fisher, who heads the Department's Southern Utilization Research and Development Division, New Orleans.

He listed the methods as slack mercerization of fabric to impart specific amounts of stretch; back-twisting resin-treated yarns, which causes them to take the shape of any helical coil springs and crimping yarns first made thermoplastic by chemical treatment.

The first method is now undergoing industrial evaluation by one company for use in plastic-coated automobile upholstery and interior linings. Other manufacturers plan to evaluate the three methods in making fabrics for knit bathing suits and dresses, hosiery, foundation garments, sweaters, knit shirts and furniture slipcovers.

Consumer demand for high-stretch fabrics is increasing rapidly, and imparting stretch to cotton can help increase consumption of this agricultural commodity, Dr. Fisher said.

These developments are a result of the broad program conducted by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service to find new uses and new markets for cotton.
