Heavy Rain Help To South Lynn County

Rain, ranging up to four or five inches and sufficient for planting, fell Tuesday night over the south part of Lynn county, but a general rain is still needed to break the prolonged South Plains drought.

Heaviest rainfall was in the Newmoore and Wells area, where a few farmers reported four to five inches in spots. Sufficient rain for planting also fell in some parts of the Three Lakes area, T-Bar, and eastward across the old Joe Bailey and Bethel Church areas and a part of the Midway community, eastward nearly to Draw.

O'Donnell reported .9 inch but heavier east, west and north of the town.

Draw had 3 to a half inch. Southwest of town, W. W. Hagood reported a little over two inches, Charles Oliver three inches, and Welch Flippin "the biggest rain I ever saw on my Newmoore place."

South of town the heaviest rain set in at about the Carl Griffin place and extended south from there. At Midway, Leonard Crawford, who received .75 inch, said the rain south of there was two inches or more. Graham Tyler, northeast of O'Donnell, reported 1.5 inches.

Tahoka received an official .30 where the Government rain gauge is kept in the northwest part of town, but people in the south part of town reported about a half inch.

Another cloud swept across the north part of the county from West Point area beyond Wilson, but only a sprinkle up to .2 inch was reported. High winds and light hail accompanied the light rain, and blowing sand did further damage to some irrigated cotton, especially in the Petty area.

High winds, dust and only a sprinkle were also reported from Grassland, New Lynn and Gordon on the east, and New Home and Lakeview in the northwest section of the county.

Time for planting cotton is fast running out, and farmers are beginning to get very blue. However, last year some farmers replanted as late as the last week in June and made a pretty fair crop. Also to be considered, if rain comes soon, is that most cotton varieties planted today mature one to two weeks sooner than cotton planted 15 years ago.

Even irrigated cotton is having a hard time this year because of dry weather and the buffeting winds.

Lynn 4-H Team State Champion

Lynn county's 4-H Club entomology team won first place in the State 4-H Round-up contest held at Texas A. & M. College Wednesday.

Members of the team are Kent Wood, Lyndol Askew, Carol Ann Moore, and Charlotte Vestal, all of O'Donnell.

Wood was also the high individual in the state, and Askew was third highest.

The team was accompanied to College Station by County Agent Bill Griffin, the team coach, and Mrs. Leland White of New Home, adult 4-H leader.

Expenses of the trip to the contests for the team were paid by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce and the Home Demonstration Council.

GILBERT HOUGH

New Head Coach Arrives In City

Tahoka's new head football and track coach, Gilbert Hough, and family moved here last week end from Goddard, Kansas, where he was head coach for six years.

He succeeds J. D. Atwell, who is now engaged in life insurance service here.

Gilbert is a 1948 graduate of Tahoka High School and played football and basketball. Reared at Wichita, Kansas, he entered Tahoka High as a sophomore at mid-term in 1946.

He entered Southwestern College at Winfield, Kan., in 1950, had his education interrupted by service in the U. S. Navy, and returned to the same school, where he graduated in 1956. He lettered in football at halfback and quarterback, in which sport he was an outstanding player. He also lettered in track, and played basketball, although he did not letter in this sport.

Following graduation from college, he was elected head coach at Goddard, a smaller town than Tahoka but having about the same school enrollment, where he re (Cont'd on Back Page)

1962 Is Driest So Far In 35 Years

First five months of 1962 has been one of the driest on record in Lynn county with a total of only 1.78 inches of moisture having been recorded in Tahoka through May, and only 2.06 with Tuesday's June shower.

Normal for the period is 6.12 inches for the first five months. Normal for May is 2.99 inches, but only .14 fell this year in May.

The News does not have monthly records for the period 1917-1929, but Lubbock records indicate this is the driest first five months of the year since 1927, when 1.56 inches fell, followed by 2.91 in June.

House At Draw Burned Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bonham of Draw think a hex has been put on them.

First, there's no rain.

Then, the home in which they live and all its contents burn. And, to climax the hard luck, their daughter, Jane, age nine, breaks her arm.

The home north of Draw, on the farm of Mrs. M. B. (Mack) Walters of Lubbock, caught fire at about 9:00 a. m. Tuesday and burned to the ground before Tahoka Fire Department could reach the scene. Only a few clothes were saved. Maxine was at home by herself when the fire started in the ceiling of Karen Jane's bedroom.

Karen Jane had spent the night with her aunt, Mrs. Rufus Slover and Lewis had gone to take a neighbor, G. C. Watson, to a hospital, Mrs. Watson being crippled with a broken hip.

To cap it all off, Karen Jane came to the First Baptist Church to attend a children's play day. While skating, she fell and broke her right forearm.

Mrs. Ina Ledbetter is a medical patient in the Tahoka Hospital.

New Home May Vote Integration

Petitions are being circulated this week in New Home school district calling for an election to decide whether or not the schools should be integrated.

New Home school officials inform The News that they are facing several problems, some not faced heretofore, in operating schools for both white and Colored children.

If the school should integrate, the two teacher units in the Negro school could be used in the integrated system. Otherwise, one or more teachers will have to be paid from local tax funds because of increased enrollment.

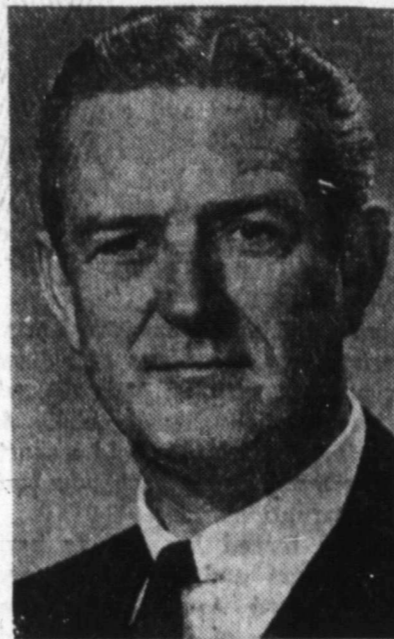

There are 505 children of school age on the census roll for the coming school year. Therefore, at least two teachers must be added to the school system this coming year.

The school will also be in need of approximately six additional class rooms, which would necessitate remodeling rooms in the old school building to take care of this increased enrollment until better facilities can be provided.

Another reason for proposed integration, school officials point out, is that five Negro students have just finished the eighth grade, and no high school is available to which they may be sent.

Federal and State governments are both putting pressure on schools to either integrate now or provide equal facilities for Negro students, in compliance with U. S. Supreme Court rulings.

Connally, Smith, Carr, Pool In Victories, But Cain Is Loser

JOHN CONNALLY

PRESTON SMITH

WAGGONER CARR

RANDY PENDLETON

So-called "liberals" lost in both the county and state in Saturday's second or run-off Democratic primary election, but Randy Pendleton of Andrews defeated Jerry Cain of Tahoka for state representative from the 75th Legislative district.

Only 1641 Lynn county voters went to the polls, 242 fewer than in the first Primary, when 1883 cast ballots.

John Connally of Fort Worth, former Secretary of the Navy, carried Lynn county nearly two to one over Don Yarbrough, 1061 to 551. Connally barely squeaked out a state-wide victory on a vote of 564,731 to 538,827, with only about a latest votes unaccounted for in latest Texas Election Bureau tabulations.

Preston Smith of Lubbock came from behind in the first primary to win nomination as lieutenant governor, getting a tremendous 16 to 1 majority in Lynn county, where his vote was 1530 to 96 for James A. Turman of Gober. State-wide, Smith received 553,344 votes to Turman's 502,737.

Lynn county gave Waggoner Carr of Lubbock a 5 to 1 vote over Tom Reavley of Austin, or 1380 to 245 votes. Over the state, Carr won handsily by a vote of 610,960 to 445,677.

For the Congressman-at-large post, Joe Pool of Dallas got 1085 votes in Lynn to 506 for his opponent, Woodrow Wilson Bean of El Paso. Pool was the state winner 571,225 to 448,857.

Lynn county gave Jerry Cain, home product, a wide margin of 1413 votes to 223 for Pendleton, but this was not enough to offset the heavy vote given Pendleton in the latter's home county of Andrews. Although Cain carried three counties, he failed to pick up sufficient votes in Dawson and Gaines, as well as Lynn, to win.

Following was the vote by counties in the race for Representative:

	Cain	Pen.
Lynn	1,413	223
Dawson	1,165	951
Gaines	617	608
Andrews	295	2,471
Totals	3,490	4,253

O'Donnell Votes For Integration

O'Donnell school district voted 112 to 87, a 25-vote margin, in favor of integrating its school system.

In the past, the district has been sending its Negroes of high school age to school by bus in Lamesa.

However, according to Supt. John Crinter, Texas Education Agency has been putting on the pressure to either integrate or bring the Negro school up to state standards and equal to the white school in facilities. Since the latter would bring the district an almost unbearable tax burden and since there still would be no guarantee that segregation could be continued for long because of Supreme Court rulings.

Tahoka school men point out that the same problem may be facing Tahoka district soon. The local high school has had taken integration for several years in that Negro students who complete the tenth grade of Dunbar school here and can meet standards of other students are permitted to enroll in Tahoka High. Only two students, so far, have entered and completed the work at Tahoka High. Only ten years of work are offered at the local Negro school due to small enrollment.

Phil Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Adams, is a medical patient in the Tahoka Hospital.

Mrs. Charlie Jacquess was admitted to the Tahoka Hospital last Friday.

Lady Killed In Car Accident

A 46-year-old San Angelo lady, Mrs. Raymond Lynn, died shortly after reaching Tahoka Hospital Wednesday afternoon from injuries received when her car overturned south of town at about 3:00 o'clock.

Officers said her car evidently rolled over twice on the four-lane divided US 87 highway 6.8 miles south of Tahoka.

Traveling south, the 1957 model car had run off the right shoulder of the paving, swerved back across the right lanes, rolled over twice on the grassy median, and had come to rest on the opposite side of the highway.

The body was taken to White Funeral Home here, and transferred Wednesday night to Johnson Funeral Home in San Angelo.

Mrs. White said she was informed that Mrs. Lynn and other members of her family from San Angelo had attended funeral services of a relative in Clovis, N. M., the day before. Other members of the family returned home Tuesday night, and Mrs. Lynn had remained in Clovis overnight and was returning to San Angelo Wednesday when the accident occurred.

Fiddlers Coming For Lynn Reunion

R. C. Wells reports he has received entries from several men for the Old Fiddlers Contest which will be held here Saturday June 25, in conjunction with the annual Pioneer Reunion. The contest will follow the afternoon program.

One entry comes all the way from Pasadena, down on the Texas Gulf Coast, near Houston.

Twister Damages Carl Spears Place

During last Tuesday's rain and windstorm, a small twister may have touched down at the Carl Spears farm home four miles northeast of Tahoka on the Wilson highway. A sheetrock garage and windmill were destroyed.

Mrs. Spears said the air was very still for a few moments, then she heard a whistling sound, and went to the door just in time just as a terrific wind struck. Although she saw no funnel, she saw the garage roof and windmill take off for parts unknown. The garage walls caved inward, but failed to damage the car inside.

Lightning Strikes In West Tahoka

Lightning struck somewhere in the vicinity of the Church of Christ late Tuesday during the storm, knocking out several telephones and lights.

Don Browning, minister of the Church of Christ, saw a flash of fire race from the flue to the floor, dance across the floor past the baby on the couch, and exit behind the kitchen stove.

Others in the same neighborhood reported similar flashes, and the Fred McGinty's felt light electrical shocks at their home.

Start Deep Test Near O'Donnell

A deep oil test on the John Saleh land seven miles west of O'Donnell and three miles southwest of Wells was announced last week end by General Crude Oil Co. of Midland. Contract depth is 12,000 feet to test the Mississippi.

The well is six miles west of Standard's No. 1 Saleh Mississippi discovery well, immediately northwest of O'Donnell and six miles east of the North Welch San Andres field. There have been no near-by deep tests.

Drill site is 1,980 feet from the south and 680 feet from the west lines of Section 18, Block H, EL&RR survey.

Trena Chamblee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Chamblee, broke her arm Saturday while playing on a slide. She was treated and released from the Tahoka Hospital.

"Just because you have been kept waiting," said the nurse to the expectant father, "doesn't necessarily mean the baby will be a girl."—Santa Fe Magazine.

Contract Is Let On US 87 Work

A contract for 13.8 miles of construction on U. S. 87 in Lynn County has been awarded to a Lubbock firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission.

Pioneer Pavers, Inc. submitted the low bid of $166,058 on the project. Three course surface treatment from 2.0 miles north of Tahoka to Lubbock County line is expected to take 50 working days, according to Oscar L. Crain, District Highway Engineer at Lubbock.

J. W. Stevens, Resident Engineer at Lubbock will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

Burglars Caught By City Police

Two Tahoka men were charged with burglary Wednesday after they had broken into three business firms here the night before.

They are Emilio Flores, 21, and Alberto V. Aleman, 22, who were apprehended by City Policeman David Renfro while trying to load into a car the safe they had just rolled out of Farmers Cooperative Gin office.

In a statement made to County Attorney Harold Green Wednesday, the men said Tuesday night they went to a liquor store in Lubbock county, got a case of beer, came back through Wilson and on to Tahoka.

Shortly after the Stockman Cafe had closed, they took a glass out of a rear window to gain entrance, took some nickles and pennies from the cash register, but grew apprehensive some one would detect them and left.

Next, they scaled the fence at Shamburger - Gee Lumber Co., broke out a window glass, but decided against burglarizing the place because of the number of passing cars.

Dr. Lam Writes Of Sinclair's Death

Dr. Conrad Lam, reared in Tahoka and now a world famous heart surgeon and head of the Thoracic Surgery department of Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, has sent The News the following information from Detroit Medical News concerning Dr. J. W. Sinclair, who practiced medicine in Tahoka during the 1940's, and passed away in Detroit on February 26:

Doctor James William Sinclair was born in 1907 in Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, and died February 26, 1962, at his home at 464 Lexington Road, Grosse Pointe Farms. Doctor Sinclair graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1933. He served his internship at Grant Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, and his residency at Deaconess Hospital, Detroit. He engaged in the general practice of medicine, and was a member of the American Academy of General Practice as well as the Wayne County Medical Society. Doctor Sinclair was a studious and devoted physician. Through post-graduate medical education he kept abreast of new techniques in medicine. It is ironic that he had

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It would appear at times that people are crazier than monkeys. At least that would seem to be the feeling of Sen. Harry Byrd in reviewing the government's new spending plans.

The Senator noted that Congress is now being asked to appropriate $1.2 billion dollars so studies can be carried on "the affectional relationship of an infant monkey and his mother."

While in C. W. Harder other times and other climes perhaps the Senator would take a lively interest in monkey mother love, at the present he is concerned with the constant monkeying with the federal budget.

He says in eight months the federal debt limit has been raised $7 billion up to the $300 billion mark, and anticipates by June 30th, another $8 billion boost would be requested.

"Unnecessary spending" he states, "is increasing. Non-military expenditures through the first seven months of the current fiscal year ran 10% higher than the previous year. While military expenditures during this period increased $1.5 billion, non-military expenditures increased $2.4 billion."

In the past 30 years, he states, the government has operated at a deficit in 24 of these years, with a deficit to be turned in at the end of this current fiscal year on June 30th.

30th, and from all indications, another deficit in the making for the coming year.

The rapidly worsening position of the federal financial picture is perhaps best given in the chronological report made by Senator Byrd.

He says that a year ago a $1.5 billion surplus was estimated. On March 27th, this estimate was revised to anticipate a deficit of $2.1 billion, by May 25 the estimated deficit had grown to $3.6 billion, by June 27 to $5.7 billion, by October 29 to $6.9 billion, by January 18 to $7 billion, while the last treasury report shows a further slide to a deficit of $9.4 billion.

"We have been the policemen and the Santa Claus for the free world for more than 15 years," The Senator says. "Recent figures show U.S. foreign aid has totaled more than $100 billion and it is continuing."

He also points out that this $300 billion debt is far larger than the debt existed at the end of the expensive World War II, does not tell the entire story as the government had untold billions in commitments both home and abroad.

He calls for an immediate end of all non-essential spending.

"It is possible," he says, for us to destroy ourselves from within. Nothing could serve Khrushchev better. Survival of free nations, including our own, depends on the financial soundness of this government." Thus, in Sen. Byrd's viewpoint, million dollar studies of monkey family relationships can wait.

Dedicate New Plant Research Group Will

Formal dedication of the new sterile fly production plant at Mission, headquarters of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program, will be Saturday, June 16.

Dedication ceremonies begin at 10 a. m., Jerry Church, county chairman of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, announced. Lynn county producers have played an important role in the completion of the plant by contributing $1,000 of their own funds. All livestock producers and others interested in the eradication of screwworms are invited and urged to attend.

"This day of dedication will be a milestone in the history of Lynn county's livestock industry, as well as the Southwest," Church said.

"Completion of this plant is the climax of one of the most intensive voluntary efforts ever made by livestock producers," Church added. "Their funds built this plant, and it is being dedicated to the improvement of the Southwest livestock industry."

The eradication program is a joint effort by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, and the Texas Animal Health Commission with the cooperation of other agencies and groups. Officials of these organizations will take part in the dedication along with representatives from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana and Arkansas who are working together to make eradication of the Screwworm in all the Southwest complete.

Highlight of the day will be a tour of the plant where visitors will have an opportunity to see all phases of screwworm fly production. The plant will go on tight security regulations the next day with the first flies from the new plant to be released in early July. This will give the volume of flies needed for eradication.

Two little boys who had been naughty all day were told by their teacher that they must stay after school and write their names five hundred times. One of them began to watch the other unhappily. "Why aren't you writing, Tommy?" asked the teacher. Tommy burst into tears. "Taint fair!" he sobbed; "his name's Lee and mine's Schluttermeyer!"

QUESTIONS, PLEASE

QUESTION: DO WE HAVE LIFE ETERNAL NOW?

ANSWER: It is certain that no man actually possesses eternal life while living in mortal flesh; for so long as life lasts, a man may sin and miss eternal life. When the Scriptures speak of Christians having eternal life, as though they already possessed it, that only means that they have started it, have entered upon a course of service that will ultimately result in eternal life if faithfully followed through life; this is the Christian hope. Hope is a desire for something and the expectancy to receive that thing. But if at any time the child of God abandons the narrow way, lapses into sin, and continues therein, he will as certainly be lost as the Bible is true. Evidently the apostle Paul came as near having eternal life while still in mortal flesh as any man can; yet as long as he lived he realized there was danger to him of missing heaven. He said when far advanced in the Christian life: "But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway." (I Cor. 9:27). Since Paul, devoted and confident as he was, struggled so earnestly to keep the mastery of his fleshly body, lest he should be a cast away at last, what Christian can claim today that he is not in the same liability that Paul was? But when Paul had come to the end of his life, he could then say, with all assurance: "Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love as the Bible is true. Evidently when Paul's course was finished, when he had kept the faith to the end of his life, he was then sure of eternal life, but not till then.

Merchandise prizes were presented Sunday evening following a dinner served by a Lubbock catering service and attended by a crowd of 129 people. Prizes went to medalist, first and second and consolation in both men's and ladies' divisions of the tournament.

G. W. White was in charge of the men's division of the tournament, and Mrs. Peggy Elliott was in charge of the ladies division. These two presented winners with merchandise prizes, and a number of door prizes were also presented by Sam Edwards.

A luncheon was also presented at the club Wednesday noon, Memorial Day, by the Ladies Golf Association.

Harvick and Mack Mauldin had tied for medalist honors the Sunday before during the qualifying round, and Harvick won out for the prize on the next round. Judy Treadaway was medalist in the ladies division.

C. N. Woods Wins Local Tournament After 33 Years

Thirty-three years ago, C. N. (Shorty) Woods, long-time Tahoka jeweler who plays golf for a hobby and to keep physically fit, won the Tahoka City Open golf tournament.

Last Sunday, he won it again by nosing out Robert Harvick 1-up with a final round score of 73, and Harvick is a much younger man who consistently shoots in the low 70's.

Naturally, Shorty was "tickled pink." All these years, he has been playing good golf, but is now staging quite a come-back for a man his age against a young crop of hot shooters.

Shorty recalled this week that back in 1929, Tahoka had a course out southwest of town, in T-Bar ranch pasture just north of Guthrie Lake, that had cottonseed greens. He won that match over Borden Davis, who has not played in several years now, but other oldtimers in that 1929 tournament included the late Jack Applewhite, Dr. C. B. Townes, Dr. Smith, and W. O. Henderson, and maybe Oscar Roberts, Marcus Edwards, Buster Fenton, and Fred Barker.

Some of the "young-uns" then of college age playing golf here included W. T. Bovell, Lefty Squires, Harley and Karr Wells, Frank Larkin, Pete Edwards, and Jack Fenton.

That golf course was abandoned, and soon a sand greens course was built in Rollin McCord's pasture, now the Belton Howell farm, just south of town. This was abandoned after a few years and a course was built in the northeast part of town where the Negro section and Tahoka Compress is located. Next a course was built on the Fred McGinty pasture, seven miles south of town.

Finally, a few years ago, T-Bar Country Club was organized and the present grass greens course was built. Shorty Woods has played on them all.

Back in 1947, food sales represented 88% of total grocery sales. They represented only 80% in 1959. At the same time, beer, wine, and liquor sales jumped from 2% of the total to 5%. Other non-foods were only 10% of the total in 1947, but had reached 15% by 1959.

This is reported by Cleo Fitzsimmons and Sarah L. Manning of Purdue University's Experiment Station in a study made by them in the Indianapolis area in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service.

About 18% of the total spent by customers in the stores studied went for non-food items (beverages and gum in addition to tobacco and other inedibles). Of the average of 12 items per shopping basket, 2 were non-food. Soaps, detergents, paper goods, household care items, tobacco products, and health and beauty aids were noted most frequently and in that order in the non-food items

1/5 of our grocery bill is for non-food items.

"American supermarkets are the housewife's dream," the U. S. Department of Agriculture reminds us—"lettuce, fresh from California, wheat products from the Great Plains, oranges picked in the Florida sun, all as close as the nearby market."

"It's the taken-for-granted miracle of the American farm and marketing system, a system that gives Americans more food for less work than ever before in history."

"The price tag on this limitless array of foods, according to the Economic Research Service, is only $1.08 a day for each American."

"In dollars and cents the bill is higher—by 20 cents—than it was in 1947-49. But in those days the food bill was worth 26% of our take-home pay. Now it is only 20%."

Fewer Lynn County Married Women Holding Jobs Than U. S. Average

(Special to The News)

New York — Married women in some parts of the country may be quitting their homes in droves to take jobs in industry, but such is not the case in Tahoka.

Locally, the percentage of working wives is below average, according to reports from the Department of Labor and data from the Department of Commerce, based on the recent census figures.

What has caused so many married women to enter the labor force? Bluntly, according to a Labor Department spokesman, they have done so for the same reason that men do—to support themselves and their dependents and "not for mink coats, convertibles or color-TV."

Generally, it is noted, the lower the husband's income the more likely his wife is to get a job.

There are others, of course, who take jobs because they have too much free time on their hands and are bored. They welcome the activity and the added money.

The proportion of Tahoka's female population as a whole, single and married, that has entered the labor force is relatively small.

Locally, only 30.3 percent of them who are above the age of 14 hold outside jobs. This compares with 34.5 percent in the United States and 31.5 percent in the West South Central States.

The actual count shows a total of 315 in the labor force out of a female population over age 14 of 1,039.

What kind of work are the women doing? The reports indicate that they are to be found in almost every occupation. They are in business as owners and managers of establishments, they are in the professions, they hold technical jobs, they are clerks and they are service workers. In fact, there are few fields of work left in which men have a monopoly.

In Tahoka, in contrast to the situation in many communities, only 28.1 percent of local jobs are filled by women.

Elsewhere in the United States, women hold 32.7 percent of the jobs available, and, in the West South Central States, 31.4 percent.

The official figures show that no less than 22 million women are at work today, twice as many as there were in 1940. The Labor Department believes that the number will go at least 13 million higher by 1970.

Cong. Mahon Proposes Changes In Farm Bill Pending In Congress

Washington, D. C.—Representative George Mahon reports that he is drafting a series of amendments which he proposes to offer to the farm bill which is scheduled for consideration by the House at an early date. The Senate, on May 25th, passed a farm bill which provides for a mandatory control program on feed grains in the event two-thirds of the feed grain producers voting in a referendum favor such mandatory controls. The bill provides for a multiple-price system on wheat and has other provisions, none of which affect cotton. The most significant provisions in both the Senate and House versions of the bill are those affecting feed grains.

Mahon's amendments provide that cotton farmers would have the option of planting feed grain on cotton allotment land in the event the cotton is destroyed so late in the season that replanting is impractical. The amount of feed grain planted could not exceed the total of the cotton and feed grain allotments on the farm.

Another proposed amendment provides that the feed grain allotment of cotton farmers, who chose the Choice "B" route during the 1959-1960 crop years, would not be reduced as a result of such action.

Mahon proposes to offer an amendment to raise the percentage of the national feed grain allotment set aside for new growers in order to provide more relief for farmers who have put new land to feed grain since 1960. The House version of the bill proposes to set aside a total of 3% of the national allotment for new growers, hardship cases, and other adjustments.

The House version of the bill provides that if 23 of the feed grain growers in a referendum do not vote for mandatory controls there will be no support program on feed grain in 1963 and thereafter. Mahon will propose that if quotas are voted down, a 50%-of-parity support loan shall be provided in order to give the producers a less drastic alternative to mandatory controls in the event farmers vote down the control program.

Under the pending bills feed grain allotments in 1963 would be based on planting during the 1959 and 1960 crop years.

Mahon stated that in his opinion West Texas feed grain farmers would prefer to continue in 1963 a feed grain program similar to the 1961 and 1962 programs. He believes the present program would be more acceptable to mill farmers than the proposed new program.

Mahon pointed out however, that there was mounting resentment against the payment of huge sums for the storage of surplus grain and that Members of Congress from non-farm areas tend to support the position of Secretary Freeman that if meaningful support loans are to be provided on feed grain crops in effective control program must be adopted.

The proposed legislation would establish for feed grains a control program in some respects similar to the control program which has been in effect for cotton for a number of years. A principal difference would be that for the next three years feed grain producers would be paid for acres diverted from feed grain.

The proposed feed grain program differs from the cotton program in this further respect. Under the feed grain proposal the Secretary could sell each year at market

Man's Signature Reveals Character

"Handwriting reveals a person's character, abilities, and personal characteristics," stated J. C. Rickman, business manager of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, in a talk and demonstration of handwriting analysis at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

Mr. Rickman took up the study of characteristics revealed by people's handwriting as a hobby, but study proved so revealing that he has adapted the hobby to practical business.

Every person reveals prevailing personality characteristics every time he signs his name which reveal such tendencies as moodiness, happiness, sadness, and joy. A person may think he changes his style of handwriting but certain characteristics still come out, the speaker declared. In fact, no matter how a person changes his style of writing, at least 75 percent of the basic characteristics can't be changed.

A handwriting expert can even tell the difference between a letter written at 9:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m.

In order to prove his point, he took handwriting samples of three Rotarians, two of whom he had never known and gave an analysis of their character to the amazement of the audience.

Mr. Rickman says he uses handwriting analysis in hiring people at the Avalanche-Journal, and cited one outstanding example. The firm had a bookkeeping position they were having a very difficult time keeping filled. About the time they got a lady trained for the particular job, she would quit.

Finally, he took about 100 letters of application for the job, analyzed the handwriting without considering the applicants' qualifications, training, and experience, and boiled the list down to ten. Then, one lady was selected as No. 1. When her application was read, it was found she had never kept books and had never studied bookkeeping, but handwriting analysis indicated she had the innate qualities of a bookkeeper. She was hired, and in a short time became one of their most efficient employees and very happy with her job.

Soil Testing Still Active

College Station—Through April, the number of soil samples being submitted to the three laboratories operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, Seymour and Lubbock came in record or near record numbers.

During January the laboratories tested 1,589 samples, said W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. The total for February fell just short of doubling the January total when 3,020 samples were tested.

During March and April the laboratories handled 4,330 samples but neither month came up to the February totals, Bennett added. The laboratory at Lubbock handled 1,328 samples in March for its highest single month since it began operations. The March total, 402 samples, was also a new high for the Baylor county laboratory.

Bennett said five counties in the State submitted more than 100 soil samples during March and April. They were Baylor, 212; Houston, 165; Lubbock, 155; Terry, 147; and Harris, 124.

To further emphasize the role that soil testing now plays in present day farming, Bennett said that samples during the March-April period were received from 173 of the State's counties; that 151 samples came from Mexico and 5 from Nicaragua to add the international flavor and that samples were also tested from Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

It isn't too early to make plans for taking and submitting soil samples from soon to be harvested small grain fields, Bennett said. The slack season for the laboratories will mean that results will be returned to the senders within a few days and plans can then be completed for the fall fertilizing and soil improvement and management programs.

If information is desired on soil sampling, Bennett suggests a visit with the local county agent.

prices up to 10 million tons of government-stored feed grain, the equivalent of roughly one-fifth of currently held government grain. Under the cotton program the Secretary can sell government-owned cotton on the domestic market at not less than 115% of the support level.

The present feed grain law which is the basis for the 1962 program expires this year and some kind of substitute legislation is anticipated.

Mahon stated that he needs and would welcome the advice and counsel of feed growers in regard to the proposed new farm legislation and in regard to the amendments which he proposes to offer. Copies of the proposed bill are available at offices of county agents and at the ASC offices.

Printer's Ink-lings . . .

By F. P. H.

America is the place where a citizen will cross the ocean to fight for Democracy and won't cross the street to vote in an election—Exchange.

Less than half of the eligible voters went to the polls in Lynn county last Saturday. We shouldn't gripe too much if our government is not run to suit us—if we didn't vote.

Now that John Connally has been elected governor, we've got our fingers crossed. We hope he will be able to fill the bill—and will not, as has been charged, be a rubber stamp for Johnson and Kennedy and the New Frontier group, or any other special interest.

Several friends who look to this column for enlightenment (?) and education (?) wonder why we have had so little to say about Billie Sol Estes. So many people have had so much to say, we just don't know anything new to say. Any way, what we would say wouldn't please some folks—like a lot of the other stuff we write.

But, there are two or three things about the mess that would be funny if such were not of grave import and carried serious implications. As those who read this column know, we do a lot of debunking of some of our holier-than-thou politicians whose hearts are bleeding for their poor constituents and the great mass of under-privileged American people.

Isn't it almost tragic that even the investigation of the complicated and far-reaching Estes scandal and fraud has to get involved in politics and almost everyone in public office, Republican or Democrat, "trying to get in on the act" and each trying to lay blame on someone else? We say, let the chips fall where they may, and let the heads fall off all those involved in helping this West Texas crook in his dealings.

About two weeks ago, we heard President Kennedy state on TV that "this administration broke the Estes case." This was stretching the truth a little bit, to put it mildly, and the statement was probably taken for fact over most of the U. S., but most Texans should know better. This was partially true, perhaps, in that the Department of Agriculture, and possibly others, had been suspicious of Estes and had made investigations—but had done nothing!

We happen to know a little bit of background on the breaking of the Estes scandal. Some time in February, Oscar Griffin, editor of the old established Pecos Independent, called us up and asked if we knew anything about some kind of a case being filed in Lynn county against Billie Sol Estes in some fraudulent grain deal. We checked at the court house and found there was no such case. A few days later, all this before the scandal broke, Kenneth May of the Lubbock Avalanche called us about anhydrous ammonia tanks, and we found there were none mortgaged here.

Griffin was editor of the Pecos Enterprise, owned by a group of prominent Pecos business and professional men. The paper's editorial policy was conservative. Billie Sol was a New Frontier ultra-liberal Democrat and naturally didn't like the Independent. The year before, he had established the Pecos Daily News in an attempt to put the Independent out of business. In fact, he was hurting the Independent. Oscar kept hearing rumblings about shady dealings by Estes, and some substantial citizens kept prodding him to blast Estes' operations. Estes had just gotten to be a multi-millionaire too quick. That's when Griffin started investigating grain storage. But, he got nowhere there. Then, one day, he overheard some Pecos farmers joking in a cafe about the profits they were making on fertilizer tanks. Griffin went to the court house, found there were 15,000 such mortgaged tanks in Reeves county alone. He thought 15,000 was a little too many tanks for 325 farms. He and Kenneth May and others went to checking and found others from Amarillo to El Paso. He started a series of articles on his findings, and the bottom dropped out of the barrel.

Then, the finance companies became alarmed, called a meeting. Investigations on local and state level started. The Agriculture Department and Attorney General Bobby Kennedy were notified—but they did nothing! Then, State Attorney General Will Wilson held the hearings in Amarillo, Dallas, Pecos, and Lubbock. The revelations were so astounding, involved so many and so much money that finally charges were filed against Estes in Amarillo and in El Paso in Federal Court. Then, after two months, the boys in Washington finally had to do something—and now Mr. Kennedy says his administration broke the case.

The affair would doubtless have come to light in time, but it was a country weekly newspaper editor, harassed by an unethical competitor trying to put him out of business, who became aroused and exposed Billie Sol.

Today Billie Sol's paper is on the auction block for sale this month, and Oscar Griffin has been given a great promotion to the Houston Chronicle.

Almost funny, also, was the action of our old chum (?) Senator, Ralph Yarborough. When he was charged with having received finanial assistance from Billie Sol, Ralph issued a statement that he hardly knew the man, probably had met him a time or two in a crowd, and that Estes had contributed $1,700 to his campaign fund. Then, a picture comes out in the paper of Ralph and Billie Sol and others at a dinner in Billie Sol's mansion in Pecos, and today our Senior Senator is known to have received about $8,000 from Estes.

Furthermore, it is now revealed that Billie Sol wanted some favors from the Department of Agriculture, so he gets Senator Yarborough and his home congressman, J. T. Rutherford, to go with him to plead his case before the Department. They sat there and said little, but don't you imagine what Billie Sol's motive was in taking them along! Eleven days later, Senator Ralph and Brother Rutherford received checks from Erother Estes. Mr. Rutherford first said he had never received any money from Estes. But, then Rutherford says he went through his bank statements and found, to his shocking surprise, that Estes had deposited $1,500 to his account. Mr. Rutherford must not pay much attention to his financial affairs. If we drew $2,000 per month and claimed we could hardly live on that as a congressman, we believe we'd know it if some generous friend suddenly deposited $1,500 to our account.

Senator Yarborough and Representative Rutherford are doubtless honest men, but their sense of ethics and propriety are just a wee bit warped, especially when money gets to talking out loud. As bad as it is for officials in the Department of Agriculture to take gifts, or bribes, or tokens of friendship, or whatever you want to call them, such is not too surprising in this day of mixed up values in our concepts of honesty and morality, politics and government. Even we farm people almost, sometimes, have to lie to comply with the Government farm programs.

Nope, we can't shed too many tears for Estes, or the finance companies who made him tremendous loans without proper investigation of collateral, or the farmers who accepted $100 for a $1,000 tank they didn't have, or the politicians thrown in a bad light, or the employees and officials in the Department of Agriculture who "done wrong," or for any of the others who got caught cheating or who may yet get caught. We do feel sorry for all the other people who "have to suffer"—and that includes everyone in agriculture or related businesses, for this is just another instance that has thrown the farming county in a bad light in the eyes of the city people.

We had a query here last week about the identity of Wesley and Della Graham, who settled here in the early days, parents of Mrs. Evert White, wife of the publisher of the Ozona Stockman. Mrs. A. T. Hensley of Draw says Mr. White was her brother, and he and wife settled here back in the early days of the county, traded a team and wagon for a tract of land just east of Six Miles Store on the Post highway, later acquired a piece of land at Joe Bailey, and after a few years sold out and went to Austin, where he attended University of Texas Law School, and moved to Ozona where he practiced law until his death.

A little bit of QUALITY Will always make 'em smile; A little bit of COURTESY Will bring 'em in a mile; A little bit of FRIENDLINESS Will tickle 'em 'tis plain— And a little bit of SERVICE Will bring 'em back again.

The only ones you should try to get even with are the ones who have helped you—Cheer.

Bob Barnes Wants To Know Outcome On Indian Seed

Bob Barnes, former local Church of Christ minister now living in Sheridan, Wyoming, writes The News:

"While I was living in Tahoka some woman found some seed that had been preserved around an old Indian camp ground or burial ground. She was planning to plant the seed, according to the report in your paper."

"My curiosity has the best of me. I would like to know what the outcome was, if any."

"Some have said that it would be impossible for seed of that age to give life. Others have said that it is possible. This should help to settle the issue if the seed did sprout or if they did not."

Can anyone give us this information?

New Home Senior Class Members Tell of Trip To Colorado Springs

The New Home 1962 Senior Class and sponsors, Coach Paul Kitchens and wife, Pete, and Mary Ellen James, left New Home at 12 o'clock Friday night, May 18, following graduation. Going by school bus, we arrived in Colorado Springs, Colorado, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Due to the death of Sharon Blakney's uncle on Friday, she, Marlow Rudd and Ara Ann Mitchell waited over until the funeral Sunday afternoon. They caught the ten o'clock plane in Lubbock, flew up arriving at 3 o'clock Monday morning.

Sunday morning everyone went to church.

Monday morning was of leisure. That afternoon we took the trip up to Pike's Peak. It was very cold and windy up there. It was really snowing. The snow was still very heavy. Skiers are still having fun. The trip up to the Peak was by bus one way, train the other. Some of the lakes up high were still frozen.

Tuesday Paul and Pete took some of the group through the "Academy." They enjoyed this tour very much. The others spent the afternoon swimming and just at leisure.

Wednesday the group went horse back riding through the "Garden of the Gods." Bob, the guide reported to the sponsors that this was the nicest group of seniors he'd ever taken on a tour. Of course, we were proud. We went through the "Miracle House." It was a funny thing to see and be in. At night we played miniature golf, and there was Archery for those who wanted to shoot "at the target!"

Thursday morning early Paul and Pete took part of the class up to Trout Stream Lake for trout fishing. They caught their limit, brought them back to the motel restaurant, and the chef cooked them for our dinner. Boy, were they good. The rest of the group with Mary Ellen went down to the Broadmoor Stables and rode horses up toward the "Will Rogers Shrine." Everyone really enjoyed this ride, but the poor horses, bet they were proud to get rid of those "rough riders!"

We went out to the Zoo which is the world's second largest. We almost lost everyone in the Monkey House. Its a fabulous zoo. That night we went up to the Seven Falls. Saw the Indian Dance, then rode and walked up to the look out station while the lights were turned on the falls. It's a beautiful sight to see.

Friday morning we left Colorado Springs fabulous Western Hill Motel with all the modern conveniences, including heated swimming pool, for Canon City, Colo., and world's famous Royal Gorge. Everyone crossed the bridge then rode the cable car down to the rugged Arkansas River. It was very rough and beautiful. We all took pictures and enjoyed every exciting moment.

Came home by Raton, N. M.,

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The "leave everything to us" boys along the Potomac now have come up with an idea that the consumer needs federal protection.

It is significant that they have not come up with a plan to protect the consumer against government taxing forays.

However, now the federal government wants to prescribe how packages will be identified. Used as an example is the case of several "guinea pig" women shoppers who each spent 45 minutes in a market, and could not tell what they bought. A great point was made that they were college graduates. Thus, there is wonder just who it is that the consumer print the packages, or the quality of today's college education.

On a more serious vein, part of the package of proposals is to compel the interest rate paid on installment purchases clearly and loudly established. Thus, it might be said that "bureaucrats rush in where angels fear to tread."

From a philosophical standpoint, it can perhaps be argued that all installment buying is bad. On the other hand, U.S. purchases of cars, appliances, many other items are sparked by easy payment plans.

Interest rates do vary, according to the risk involved. The interest charged on a special real estate mortgage is higher than on a first mortgage.

Incidentally, often interest rates for credit on federal employees run higher because unlike employees of private enterprise, there is no way of collecting from the employer of a federal worker.

There is no question that there are inequities at times in the interest rates paid by some individuals. On the other hand, free and easy credit has kept U.S. factories operating.

In Europe, where there is not this freedom of credit, the business level does not approach that of the U.S. This is also a fact that seems to be forgotten by those crying to cut U.S. tariff rates on the basis that the U.S. could then sell more abroad.

England has installment contracts which are called "hire-purchase" plans. England also has a relatively small sale of autos, appliances, other items. But England also has another part to their system. If someone defaults on the payments off to jail they go. All gets out of work, and falls to make his payments, the judge tells him to pay up or be jailed for contempt of court.

Thus, English business finds all reluctant to buy. Bureaucrats meddling with installment interest rates in this country could drive risk capital out of installment paper financing, resulting in further unemployment which is not needed at this time.

route. Arrived home Saturday morning about 1:30. Everyone was tired, but still going big and loud as we came into New Home.

Some of us came home with a deeper tan and a few blisters and sore spots.

We went through Oklahoma on our way up. It is very dry all the way. They are all wishing for rain. The class is having a party at Mary Ellen's this coming Saturday night for a picnic supper and will see pictures and movies taken on the trip. All the class, dates, and sponsors are invited.

Seniors making the trip were Sharon Blakney, Charles Crabtree, Arthur Airhart, Louise Carter, Charlene Edwards, Bill Kopecky, Darlene Lowrey, Clarence Nieman, Marlow Rudd, Ara Ann Mitchell, Russell Swinson, Joyce Swinson, Georgie White, and Dennis Haley.

Judy Treadaway left for Beaumont Monday to visit for a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Frost. She plans to leave Kim and Kelly there while she goes to Abilene to play in the Women's West Texas Golf Tournament, June 11-16. Roscoe will pick her up in Abilene and they will go to Beaumont to pick up the girls.

Experience is the difference between keeping your chin up, and sticking it out.

Screwworms Are Hard To Identify

Are they really screwworms? The only sure way to identify a screwworm is to collect maggots for microscopic examination by a specialist. This is why livestock producers are asked to collect worms from every infested livestock wound.

Success of the eradication program will depend, in part, on positive identification of as many as possible. These records are vital in the day-by-day execution of the program. Cooperation in Lynn county to date has been excellent, but County Agent Bill Griffin also stressed the importance of continued cooperation.

Although the largest number of wounds infested with maggots are infested by those of the true screwworm, other kinds of maggots may be involved. This has been confusing to some producers.

The true screwworm is only one of a large group of flies, most of which are referred to as common blow flies. However, screwworm maggots infest only the wounds of living warm-blooded animals.

Some of the maggots infesting wounds may be maggots which breed primarily in carcasses. When they are found in living animals, carcass-breeding maggots are usually found feeding on soil, wool or in wounds containing decaying blood and tissue.

The true screwworm is distinguished from common blow fly maggots by two dark parallel air tubes. These tubes are readily visible in full-grown maggots of the screwworm but are scarcely visible in the maggots of other blow flies. Screwworms have a pinkish tinge when they have completed feeding and are about ready to leave the wound. Most common blow fly maggots have white, yellow, or gray colors.

However, microscopic examination by a specialist is the only sure means of identification. Producers should continue to collect 10 or more worms from deep in each wound and take them to their county agent, vocational agricultural teacher or local livestock inspector.

More cigarette lighters would work, if they would take their feet off the desk.

Kind words never die—they just become victims of ingratitude.

Does Ford Fairlane's "compact" price mean it's a compact car?

Rambler is a compact!

The experts classify cars by wheelbase. Anything under 114-inch wheelbase is a compact. The biggest Rambler's wheelbase is only 108 inches!

Chevy II is a compact!

Chevy II tries to sound like a middle-size car... but its wheelbase is only 110 inches!

Our Ford Fairlane is right between the compacts and the big cars—gives you compact price with big-car room and ride!

Fairlane's wheelbase is a full 115.5 inches. From bumper to bumper, Fairlane measures 197.6 inches... 14.8 inches longer than Chevy II... 7.6 inches longer than the longest Rambler. Fairlane is as roomy inside as most of the cars on the road today... and rides more smoothly than most. Yet it's a foot shorter... easier to park than the big cars... less gas-wasting bulk. Look at the facts, and you, too, will go Fairlane. Come size it up today.
