

WIPE OUT SCREWORMS—Another $1.3 million is needed to reach the goal set by Southwestern livestock producers and sportsmen to eradicate the screwworm from Texas and the Southwest. These men are carrying on an intensive campaign this month to reach this goal, Mr. Jerry Church, chairman of the county animal health committee, has announced. The program, which has been operational since February, involves the release of sterile screwworm flies over infested areas of the Southwest by airplanes. Mr. Church says there is still time to contribute to this project.

Cacti have numerous economic uses—for making medicines and intoxicants and as cattle feed.

The eradication program is a cooperative effort involving the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, the Texas Animal Health Commission, and other agencies in the Southwest.

The program involves the production of sterile screwworm flies at the "screwworm fly factory" near Mission, Texas, and the release of these flies over parts of Texas and New Mexico. Matings of sterile male flies with naturally-occurring females results in infertile eggs and eventual eradication of the insect.

Mr. Church has urged all livestock producers and sportsmen to attend the meeting. A report on the progress of the eradication program and slides showing the operation of the screwworm fly plant will be presented.

A mobile packing unit developed by a Salinas, Calif., corporation helps get lettuce to market in a hurry.

The unit consists of a huge truck with its own generator. Wings attached to the sides can be spread out to operate as conveyor belts. The truck follows workers cutting and trimming the lettuce. Other workers walk behind the conveyor wings, pick up the cut heads, and put them on the conveyor.

The conveyor moves the lettuce inside where a crew on one side wraps each head in a sheet of "Polyflex," and thrusts it through an opening. On the other side, workers heat-seal the film and direct the packages to a heat tunnel where the film is stretched tight. The heads then go to the packers.

Lettuce cut and trimmed in the field reaches the home-maker crisp, moist, and with color intact. Each head is trimmed and ready for use.

Lettuce is now wrapped in the field.

A carton filled with over-wrapped lettuce takes less space than one in which bulging unwrapped heads are packed. Nearly 60% more cartons can be loaded per freight car.

OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT 14 NOTED

Austin—Strong opposition has developed to the proposed amendment to the State Constitution (No. 14—trial de novo) that will be voted on at the General Election November 6.

Abner V. McCall of Waco, president of Baylor University, has been named to head a statewide committee opposing the trial de novo amendment, which is last on the ballot.

McCall said this week that passage of the amendment and implementation by any future legislature will mean "the end of local self-government."

Decisions of any governmental unit including school boards, county commissioners, city councils, hospital or water districts, even on such matters as teachers' pay, where to locate a county road or who will pave a city street will be in jeopardy if the amendment passes, McCall said.

The amendment has drawn strong opposition from city and

Mrs. Lewis (Naomi) Ward of Lufkin arrived Friday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. G. H. Spears of Grassland. Her husband has been a teacher in Lufkin High School for 15 years.

county officials, school authorities, attorneys and many others, particularly in rural areas, McCall said. The amendment appears innocently on the ballot as "granting the Legislature power to provide trial de novo on appeals from actions, rulings or decisions of administrative agencies of government."

Supreme Court Judge Meade F. Griffin has pointed out that this simple wording would change "our fundamental concept of a democratic form of government by eliminating the present checks and balances designed to prevent one branch from becoming the master and dictator of the other two."

He said that de novo appeals, such as would be authorized by Amendment 14, would put Texas courts ten years behind in their dockets and cost taxpayers millions of dollars each year.

Newspapers make a big difference in people's lives . . .

People who lead vital, dynamic lives mesh their thinking and activities into the whirring gears of today's social, economic and political machinery.

To stay in gear, they need all the help and information they can get. Most of it they get from newspapers . . . the only news medium which puts information in their hands in a retainable form to be read and digested when they need it and have time for it.

To be of genuine importance to people, newspapers must be free. No peoples are free where the press is gagged. So, it makes a big difference in people's lives whether or not their newspapers are free.

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE to people whether the cold war is warming up, whether we are losing or winning the space race . . . newspapers bring people the truth.

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE to home owners whether taxes go up or down, whether fire and police protection is adequate . . . newspapers keep them informed.

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE to investors whether prices of securities go up or down, whether business is good, employment up or down . . . newspapers provide this news regularly.

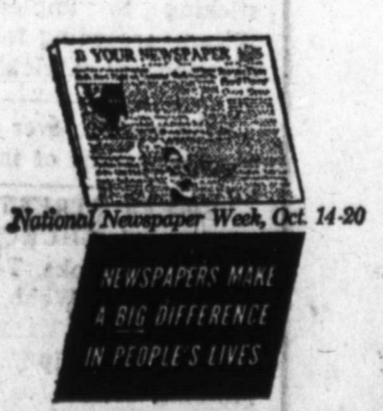

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE to housewives whether or not they get the most for their money when they shop for food, furniture or fashions . . . newspapers help them to shop intelligently.

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE to sports fans whether their favorite teams win or lose, where and when fishing's best. They find out in their newspapers.

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE to women what the latest fashion news is from Paris and Hollywood . . . their newspapers tell them.

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE to merchants whether or not customers are attracted to their stores . . . they use newspaper advertising to make this happen.

IT MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE to farmers in this day of complicated farming problems who need to keep in touch with news from the offices of the ASCS, County Agent, Soil Conservation Service, and other such agencies.

Of 12 to 13 inches of average annual precipitation in the 17 Western states, only about 30% contributes to the fresh water supply.

According to J. S. Robbins of the Agricultural Research Service, much of the moisture evaporates from soil, water, and plant surfaces. The rest infiltrates the soil and is transpired back into the atmosphere by vegetation.

An additional inch of water for plant use could increase Western wheat production up to five bushels per acre.

Scientists are studying plastic or mechanical barriers to control water or vapor flow to the soil surface and are testing chemical or physical treatments of soil to inhibit water loss.

At Tempe, Ariz., they're experimenting with sprays to sterilize the soil and kill weeds, stabilize it to prevent water infiltration, and make it water repellent to control erosion. Ground covers of butyl rubber sheeting or asphalt-coated jute fabric are being used in Utah to move runoff from small areas into reservoirs or special basins.

LOCAL PEOPLE VISIT RELATIVE IN SAN ANGELO

(Mrs. Earl Morris)

Mrs. W. A. Guinn was here from San Angelo recently and took a group of relatives back with her including her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dyer, a sister, Mrs. G. E. White of Lubbock and a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morris, for a visit on the Guinn ranch.

Mozelle has a "fish house" there where she lets her friends and relatives camp. The group tried to do some fishing but report the moon must not have been right, although they were able to catch one big mess. Mr. Dyer was unable to fish, having recently undergone surgery, but he tells that he would have caught a big one.

A nephew, J. D. Hawthorne and family, live on and operate the Guinn Ranch.

On Saturday afternoon the group drove into San Angelo and spent the week end and visited another brother-in-law and sister, the Billy Sanders, and attended church with them at the First Methodist.

Mrs. Morris reports that San Angelo is a pretty little town with its stately pecan and other trees, many beautiful flowers and green lawns. The town has a new high school that would do credit to a much larger city. It is built on a college plan composed of a number of one story buildings and a very unique gymnasium.

The San Angelo residents sent a warm hello to all their friends in and around Tahoka.

Tops of cars and trucks used in extremely hot parts of the world are usually painted white to reflect heat.

Blakney Attends Farm Meeting

New Orleans (Special) — More than 2,000 rural and urban leaders from the Southeastern states heard Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman launch a many pronged attack on the problems of agriculture at the Land and People Conference held at Loyola University Oct. 15-16.

E. R. Blakney of New Home, chairman of the board of supervisors of Lynn County Soil Conservation District, attended the two-day conference. He was accompanied by Wilmer Smith, who attended the 1962 National Farm Credit Directors conference in New Orleans at the same time.

Secretary Freeman, in his keynote address, said rural America—which has contributed so much to our national growth and greatness—now faces a period of serious crisis.

To meet this challenge Freeman said, "We seek to build up new resources in the country and redirect these resources to meet critical and growing scarcities that exist in our society."

The Conference, the fourth of five scheduled throughout the Nation, was designed to seek ways of strengthening rural America. Everyone in attendance had the opportunity to be heard, to ask questions, to debate issues, and to obtain as much information as a distinguished group of specialists, local and national, was able to provide.

Regional representatives of industrial, agricultural, educational, civic, and community life appeared on panels and at discussion meetings. The discussion groups reported their findings at a meeting Tuesday presided over by John A. Baker, newly appointed Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for rural development and conservation. During that half-day period there was an open discussion period with USDA agency heads.

Return of "Square," the Force That Made America Great, Is Urged

Non-involvement has become an accepted way of life, and one of the great dangers of affluence is that it permits such detachment, according to Charles H. Brewer, president of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc.

In a call for our return to the forces that made America great, the advertising agency executive told the Dallas Advertising League in the Hotel Adolphus recently that a six-letter word should be "restored" to its proper place in our vocabulary — the word "square."

"Back in Mark Twain's day," he said, "square was one of the finest words in our language. You gave a man a square meal when he was hungry. You stood foursquare for the right as you saw it, and square against everything else. When you got out of debt, you were square with the world. And that was when you could look your fellow man square in the eye."

A lot of strange characters then got hold of this "honest, wholesome, word," with the result that a square today, is "the man who never learned to get away with it; a Joe who volunteers when he doesn't have to; a guy who gets his kick from trying to do something better than anyone else can; a boob who gets lost in his work; a fellow who doesn't have to stop at a bar on his way to the train at night because he's all fired up and full of juice already."

"This country was discovered, put together, fought for and saved by squares," Mr. Brewer said. "It is easy to prove that Nathan Hale, Patrick Henry, Paul Revere, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and almost anyone else you care to include among our national heroes was a square—by simply thinking what he might have said had he not been square."

"Nathan Hale—'Me spy on those British? Are you trying to be funny? Do you know what they do with the spies they catch? I'll give you a news flash, chum. They HANG them.'"

"Patrick Henry—'Sure, I'm for liberty. First, last and always. But we've got to be a little realistic. We're a pretty small outfit. If we start pushing the British around, someone is going to get hurt.'"

"George Washington—'Gentlemen, I am honored. But I do wish you would try someone else. Let's say General Gates. I'm just getting things organized at Mount Vernon. Also you might say I have already served my time. Against the French, you know.'"

Importers of Ideas
Stating we are living in a country quite different from the one we were taught to love, Mr. Brewer said, "What has happened to us, I think, is that we have changed from an exporting country to an importing country. We have been importing instead of exporting ideas."

"The United States of America was once the greatest exporter of

Sumner Clayton, III On Mine-Sweeper

Mediterranean (FHTNC)—Sumner M. Clayton III, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Clayton Jr. of O'Donnell, is serving aboard the ocean-going minesweeper USS Dash, which took part in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) fall training maneuvers, Sept. 23 to Oct. 3, in the Mediterranean.

The exercises, involving nearly 13,000 men and 23 ships, centered around the coast of Macedonia, Greece.

All United States units involved were part of the Sixth Fleet. They included an aircraft carrier, a cruiser, two guided missile frigates, six destroyers, seven amphibious ships and four minesweepers.

Commanding the NATO forces was Vice Admiral David L. McDonald, Commander, Naval Striking and Support Forces, Southern Europe. He also is Commander, Sixth Fleet.

Military units of the United Kingdom, Greece and Turkey were among the forces participating in the maneuvers.

Frank Lisebmy Sr. of Lubbock was a visitor in Tahoka Tuesday. He says Mrs. Lisebmy is now getting along better following her illness.

ideas the world had ever known. We created and sold abroad the idea of individual dignity, responsibility and freedom. We created and sold the idea of government of the people, by the people and for the people. . . . We exported the idea of freedom of worship, of an unfettered press, the idea that those who are taxed should be represented."

The force of government, he noted, "is now directed more fully toward the security of the weak than the encouragement of the strong."

Death By Loss of Personal Faith
"Of 21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not from external conquest, but from the evaporation of belief within," he added, quoting historian Arnold Toynbee.

"Today our country still has a choice. I believe it has already begun to make that choice," he said. "I believe it is going back to its old beliefs in such things as ideas, pride, patriotism, loyalty, devotion and even hard work."

But the forces of conformity are still strong, he said. "Too many of us are still sitting it out instead of sweating it out. Too many of us haven't got the guts to stand up straight and dare to be square."

"Too many of us know the short cuts, and too few know or care where the path leads. Too few of us dare to leave the path, because the path is always the easy way, the way most people go. But there is no path to the future, no path to greatness, no path to progress. No path to outer space or to inner satisfaction."

In concluding, Mr. Brewer noted that "we have, at least, the satisfaction of knowing our problem is not new. When Benjamin Franklin was told the war for independence was over, Franklin said, 'Say rather the war of revolution is over; the war for independence has yet to be fought.'"

"Today—146 years later—the war for independence has still to be fought."

FHA Meeting In Amarillo Soon

L. J. Cappelman, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, announced today a meeting of all field personnel of FHA Areas 17, 19, 20 and 21, consisting of some 60 employees, to be held at the Herring Hotel, Amarillo, Texas, on October 22 and 23. This is one of five such meetings to be held over Texas to explain to the field personnel the policies and programs of the Farmers Home Administration for the 1963 fiscal year. The other four meetings were scheduled to be held in Corpus Christi, Nacogdoches, Temple and Abilene, Texas.

Howard Bertsch, National Administrator of the Farmers Home Administration, recently held a meeting in New Orleans of FHA officials from four states and discussed with them the FHA policies and programs for the 1963 fiscal year. L. J. Cappelman, with several members of his state staff, attended this New Orleans meeting. Cappelman is calling these meetings in Texas in order for him and his staff to explain to the Texas field personnel the FHA policies and programs that will be followed to help those individual farmers who are eligible for Farmers Home Administration credit for Operating Loans, Rural Housing Loans, Farm Ownership Loans, Emergency Loans, and Soil and Water Loans. The Water Distribution Association Loans and the Watershed Loans, which are available to organized groups of residents in rural communities and small towns of less than 2,500 population, will also be explained during the meeting.

Every day is safety day.

Indian elephants are used for circus performances because they are much more intelligent than the Asiatic variety. Circus performing elephants are always female elephants, although they are referred to as "circus bulls."

An elephant can do on four hours sleep and then is ready for work during the next twenty hours, and contrary to popular belief many of them relish the taste of tobacco. An elephant food for one day consists of 125 pounds of hay, 45 to 75 gallons of water, bran oats, ten pounds of salt, and often fruit or a juicy watermelon as desert.

Today, Big Blanche, matriarch of the Sells Bros. herds is the largest circus elephant in existence, rising to a height of eleven feet and two inches at the shoulder and weighing over seven tons. In addition to the allurements to young and old of their mighty elephants, Sells Bros. presents a genuine old-fashioned three ring circus under the world's largest big top, including jugglers, tumblers, clowns, aerial acts, trained animals, and wire-walkers. 30 feature acts in all 3 rings comprise a full 90 minutes of arenic entertainment, as Sells Bros. proves its title of the world's greatest circus.

Number of Self-Employed People In Lynn Far Above National Average

(Special to The News)
New York—For a sizeable proportion of the working population of Lynn county, the matter of getting a job and holding it is not a problem.

For them, the important considerations are such matters as gross receipts, costs, net earnings, competition and growth.

Who are these people? They are the ones who are in business for themselves. They are the grocers, the doctors, the lawyers, the gas station owners, the farmers and the others who are self-employed.

In Lynn County, they represent 37.0 percent of the total working population.

This compares with 14.4 percent self-employed in the United States, and 17.8 percent in the West South Central States.

According to Government reports, there are 1,649 men and women locally whose livelihoods come from their own business enterprises, professions, trades or farms.

The number of local people who are employed by others, with incomes primarily from wages or salaries, is 2,901.

The findings, released by the Department of Commerce, are based on information gathered in connection with the 1960 census.

Nationally, it is shown, the number of self-employed, in terms of the total number employed, has declined sharply since 1950.

Farm Facts

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, there were 14,803,000 people living on farms in the United States in 1961, or about one person out of every 12 in the total population.

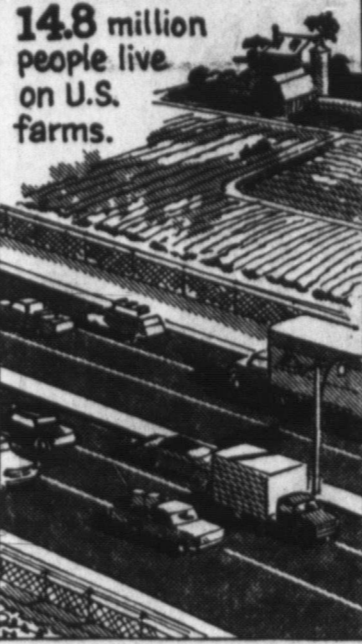

This is the smallest farm population of recent record. From 1960 to 1961, the number of farm people decreased by about 830,000 as the movement away from farms more than offset the growth that would have taken place from births.

Non-white farm people number 2,346,000. They account for 1/6 of the total but because of their concentration in the South make up 3/10 of all Southern farm residents.

The farm population has a high percentage of children and teenagers; 43% of all farm people are under 20 years old. Farm people of late middle age or older outnumber young adults, however.

In 1961, there were 109 farm males for every 100 females, compared with 97 males for every 100 females in the non-farm population.

Farm people are defined as those living on places with 10 or more acres of land and selling $50 or more worth of farm products per year.

14.8 million people live on U.S. farms.

Eight Grade Loses First Game, Seventh Grade Is Winner

Frenship broke the eighth grade team's undefeated record, held since the beginning of its young career started in the seventh grade, winning 16-0 Tuesday night at Frenship. The seventh graders continue to be undefeated, winning their game 20-6.

For two years the eighth grade team had not bitten the dust, but playing without the services of three regulars coupled with a game riddled with fumbles gave the Frenship team the edge they needed. Twice the Bulldogs threatened to score, but the ball was lost both times on fumbles.

Outstanding on defense were Eddie Glass, Milton Edwards and Roger Pennington. Mitchell Williams was the offensive standout. Despite the loss, the team says it plans to make up for the defeat.

The seventh graders rolled to pay dirt three times and ran across one conversion. John Tyler passed to Doyle Schneider for one score. Tyler ran across the conversion and then came back to score another touchdown. Cliff Thomas was responsible for one touchdown also.

All team members looked good on offensive blocking and playing an outstanding game defensively were Chris Roberts, Cliff Thomas, Randy Wood, Charles Isbell and Richard White.

New Home Bowling League Results

Only one team won all four games on Wednesday, Oct. 10, in the New Home bowling league.

New Home Butane downed Follis Conoco 4-0. Wanda Gill bowled three consistent games for a high series of 438 for Butane. Adrianna Clem had a 380 for Follis.

Petty Gin won 3-1 over Pridmore Spraying. Bea Follis bowled 448 for Pridmore and Lil Todd 451 for Petty.

Co-op No. 4 out-bowled New Home Gin 3-1. Radene Turner was high with a 471 series for the winners and Nell Balch paced the losers with 356.

Farr Texaco and Co-op No. 7 split 2-2. La Juan McClintock bowled 428 for Farr's and Mentha Maloney 406 for the Co-op.

J. W. Edwards split 2-2 with New Home Farm Store with Barbara Evans bowling 411 for the Edwards team and Fernie Fillingim, a substitute, bowled 307 for the Farm Store for two games and Sandra Brown 326 for the same team.

Storm Resistant Cottons Increase

College Station—Even if a storm never hits your cotton field the tight-bolled varieties can be useful to you. These storm resistant cottons hold the lint and prevent preharvest losses due to cotton falling from the plants before they are picked.

Storm resistant cottons are not new but some promising new strains have been tested. They retain their lint relatively undamaged under Texas storm conditions. Developed for South Texas by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the test strains have good pickability and can be harvested by spindle pickers.

Dr. G. A. Niles, of the Texas Station, and Dr. T. R. Richmond, of USDA's Agricultural Research Service, said that five strains were promising enough in preliminary tests to warrant further testing. In the total yield of lint, the commercial variety had a slightly better average than the storm resistant strains but lost 16.3 percent of the total yield in lint fall before harvesting compared to the 3.3 to 6.9 percent loss for the test strains.

Storm resistance in cotton comes from structural characteristics that produce a boll in which the cotton is held tight. Wrinkles or a sticky substance on the bur wall or a cup shaped bur hold the lint in the boll.

It was formerly thought that storm resistant cotton could not be easily picked with a spindle type picker but test results show that little of the lint was left in the field. According to Niles, still less would have been lost if the picker had been adjusted for harvesting tight-boll cotton.

Dr. Niles believes that further research will produce storm resistant strains that will yield higher and spindle pick very successfully.

Wilson Playing Sands Saturday

Wilson Mustangs celebrate the school's homecoming Saturday night at 8:00 p. m. when they meet Sands, the game being the climax to an afternoon of ex-student activities.

The Mustangs of Coach Travis Rector launch their District 3-B Conference season, after a week's lay-off, having won two and lost three games. Wilson has won games over Lazbuddie 18 to 6 and Whiteface 22 to 0, while losing to Amherst 34 to 12, O'Donnell 28 to 7, and Anton 34 to 0. However, fans remember that last year the Mustangs started slowly but went on to win the district title.

Only available scores The News has on Sands three losses, to Loraine 33-6, Robert Lee 40-0, and Hermleigh 8-6.

Registration of homecoming ex-students at Wilson will begin at 3:00 p. m. Saturday, a barbecue supper will follow at 5:00 in the school cafeteria, and there will be a short business session at 6:00 p. m. The afternoon will be devoted to visiting.

O'Donnell Wins Over Spur 22-6

O'Donnell Eagles pleased a large homecoming crowd Friday night by defeating Coach Clyde Blair's old home team, the Spur Bulldogs, 22 to 6 to push the Eagles' season record to four victories as compared to only one loss.

O'Donnell opens its 1962 District 5-A season tonight at Sundown with the Roughnecks. Sundown has also lost one and won four games, losing to Idalou 16 to 0 in the opener and then taking victories over Hale Center 6 to 0, Anton 25 to 6, Sudan 21 to 8, and Morton 20 to 0.

Against Spur Friday, the Eagles scored the first time in the second quarter when wingback Fernando Lopez got away on a 32 yard run and Rex Graves ran the conversion for an 8-0 lead. A few minutes later, Lopez passed to End Charles Burleson, the play good for 56 yards and a touchdown, and Graves again ran the conversion for a 16-0 lead.

After a scoreless third period, QB Fen Taylor passed to Burleson on a 40-yard play for O'Donnell's final score. Conversion failed.

Late in the game, Spur's Rickie Ball intercepted an O'Donnell pass and ran it back 80 yards to the home town 10, and three plays later Joe Howell went four yards to score. Conversion failed, and the final score was 22-6.

Although Spur threatened to score several times, the Eagles put up a stout defensive effort to halt their drives.

In halftime ceremonies, Miss Charlotte Vestal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. "Shorty" Vestal, was crowned football queen succeeding Miss Janice Winans, by Captain Wendell White. Other nominees on the field were Misses Jan Hardberger, Donna Jackson, and Sherry White. Escorts were Bobby Joe and Danny Furlow, Rex Graves, and Weldon Bessie, all football team members.

Pension Payments To Lynn People Total $415,000 This Year and Growing

(Special to the News)
NEW YORK — How good a "buy" is Social Security for the average Lynn County resident? How much is he likely to get back after retirement, for every dollar he has been paying into the pension fund?

A study made by the Tax Foundation shows that, for those who have been enrolled under Social Security for a long time and are retired or are soon to be, it is a real bargain. Most of them will get back more than $2 for every $1 they put in. Future generations of workers will not fare nearly as well.

Pension payments locally have already reached huge proportions. The Government's last report, released a few months ago, shows benefits to Tahoka residents and to others in Lynn County being paid at the rate of $145,000 a year.

Only a fraction of that amount, however, had been contributed to the pension fund in any one year by the retired and disabled workers who are sharing in it.

In analyzing the cost of Social Security, the Tax Foundation has figured out what it comes to for someone who is just starting to work.

Taking into account present tax rates and those scheduled for later, a 20-year-old man in Lynn County, going to work for the first time, will have contributed $9,798 by the time he is ready for retirement, 45 years hence.

By that time, with interest at three percent, his contribution will amount to $18,709. A like amount will be turned in by his employer.

After retiring, he will find that he and his wife, if they live a normal span of life, will collect a total of $38,700 from the pension fund.

For the 56 young men of 20 in Lynn County's population, if they start work now and live the expected number of years, their payments will come to $1,047,000, counting interest, and their maximum benefits, $2,167,000.

For people who are now 65, Social Security has been the biggest bargain. They needed to make payments for relatively few years before they were eligible for pensions.

CATCH FISH

A group of Tahoka men, O. E. Terry, A. G. Cawthron and Ira Vaughn recently made a haul at Falcon Lake including a catch of 34 black bass and 15 cat fish. The largest bass weighed about five pounds.

Miss Melissa Reece and another student of South Plains College, Levelland gave a demonstration on archery last week end at a state recreational convention for junior and senior college women at Big Spring. The girls were accompanied by the girls physical education director of the college.

New Home Meets Cooper Pirates

The plucky but thin-ranked New Home Leopards will try it again tonight when they entertain an old rival, Cooper Pirates, in opening the District 3-B season.

Cooper has lost four games and won one, winning over Whiteface 24 to 12 and dropping decisions to New Deal 15 to 6, Lorenzo 22 to 14, Lazbuddie 18 to 14, Whitharral 52 to 0. The Leopards have won one, over O'Donnell B 16 to 6, and losing to Whitharral 49 to 6, New Deal 36 to 0, and Lazbuddie 32 to 0.

In the game last Friday night at New Home, Terry Darling and Johnny Brownie ran wild in taking the 32 to 0 win.

Levelland Host For Legion Meeting

Levelland, Oct. 18.—Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from the 19th Congressional District will convene here Saturday and Sunday for their annual convention of the American Legion, J. G. Stacy, commander of Post No. 417, has announced.

The joint session of the Legion and Auxiliary will convene on Sunday with Commander Stacy calling the meeting to order.

Guests will include Wilfred Stoerner of Plainview, 19th District Commander, and Troy S. Bowen of Sweetwater, 4th Division Commander.

At 1:30 p. m. the American Legion and Auxiliary will hold their separate business sessions with Stoerner presiding over the Legion meeting.

Copper is generally used to harden silver.

Lubbock Pastor Rotary Speaker

Rev. Robert J. Hearn, pastor of Second Baptist Church in Lubbock, gave a rapid-fire description, illustrated by color slide pictures, of the Rotary International convention in Los Angeles as the program for the Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week.

His talk was unusual and interesting as it covered a lot of ground in a short period of time, telling of the various meetings at the convention and the work of the service organization around the world.

The speaker was introduced by Lynn Seales, one of the two program chairmen for the month of October.

Dr. Emil Prohl called attention to the District Rotary Institute which was held in Lubbock on Monday.

This is National Newspaper Week.

We don't believe we are out of line in saying that the hometown paper is about the best friend any town has. Year in and year out its columns report the achievements, the good times, the gains, the tragedies and misfortunes of the home folks. The home paper tries to carry accounts of most meetings, those just held and those coming up—to transmit information from them in which the public is interested or that may be helpful. Each issue does something to cement individuals into a community. The home paper must support most projects that are for the good of its community.

The paper tells what the merchants have to offer in goods and services, rejoices when the school teams win, helps get out the crowd for each neighborhood event. When the advertising columns are well filled, the subscription list covers its territory, and a large number of readers either pat the editor on the back or give him a kick in the pants, he knows his paper is reaching the people. The News is the only paper in the world that carries very much about what happens to Lynn county.

In spite of the advent of television, as much money is spent in newspapers alone for advertising as in all other media combined. And, furthermore, more money is being spent for newspaper advertising today than ever before in the history of the nation. There must be a reason.

Everyone seemed well pleased with the Sidewalk Sales Day last Saturday, had a lot of fun, and picked up some bargains offered by Tahoka business houses. Many sales people dressed in old time fashion, and this created a lot of interest. Even the older folk seemed to get a bang out of the costumes, clowns, etc., as well as the merchandise offered. Some have suggested this be made an annual event and enlarged upon next year. One thing is certain, Saturday's was the biggest crowd that has been in Tahoka in a long time, and parking places were at a premium from early morn until late in the afternoon.

Be sure to make your vote count in the coming General Election. Be very careful to mark your ballot correctly. There are five columns, the first being for Republican candidates, the second Democratic, the third Constitution, the fourth Independent, and the fifth Write-In. There are, we believe, 11 candidates for state and district offices in the Republican column, a full list of Democratic nominees, and only two nominees in the Constitution Party column. If you "vote 'er straight," leave the column you desire and mark through the other two. Don't overlook the two candidates in the Constitution column. We don't know why the Independent column is there, but the law says it has to be there. In the "write-in" column, you may mark out all the other candidates for any given office, and here write in the name of your choice. Or, you may vote a split ticket. For example, you may mark out Jack Cox, Republican candidate for Governor, and John Connally, Democratic candidate for the office, and leave Jack Carswell, the Constitution Party candidate (but, we're not suggesting you do this at all). You can mark 'em all three out and write in the name of anyone, if you wish. The courts have held, you may vote for anyone you wish regardless of any pledges.

There are 14 Constitutional Amendments. According to information we have received from several dependable sources, by all means we should vote against No. 14, the "de novo appeals from administrative agencies" amendment, which we are told is a vicious one that could take away the last vestige of local self government from local boards authorities.

We hear the State Highway Patrol is cracking down on youthful drivers, especially those without drivers' licenses, those driving recklessly or with too much speed, and those with loud mufflers. If your child doesn't have a drivers' license, better look out!

The following is going the rounds of the newspapers:

Eight probable reasons why a woman marches resolutely into a store to buy something: (1) Because her husband says she can't have it. (2) It will make her look thinner. (3) It comes from Paris. (4) Her neighbors can't afford it. (5) Nobody has one. (7) It's different, and (8) (Most likely) "Because."

An old friend, Roy Dobbins, brother of Lady Stewart of Tahoka, passed away down at Roscoe Sunday. When a boy at Roscoe, we did a lot of printing for Roy, an executive of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway. He was always kind and patient with The Printer, and gave him a lot of encouragement. The RS&P was just a short road, running to Fluvanna, but it had a lot of printing done, and we did most of it in the home shop. Be kind to a boy and he'll count you a friend for life.

And Tahoka lost a fine citizen with the passing of E. J. Cooper, whom we all have long respected. E. J. formed many lasting friendships, and he will be missed by many people.

Seasonal farm labor has priced itself out of a job in Lynn county just as did most of the coal miners in the coal fields. High priced labor is forcing all industry into automation and our manufacturing plants to move to foreign countries so that they can compete with importation of foreign goods.

Cotton is in trouble—all the authorities say, from our own Wilmer Smith on up to the mills and government officials. The Administration advocates stricter controls, high support prices, and acreage cuts. But, we don't believe this is the answer. High prices are putting the synthetics in business, taking the cotton mills out of business. We are losing our foreign markets. Every time we cut cotton acreage, foreign countries take up the slack. Our farm program encourages importation of cotton and cotton goods. Cotton is doomed as a major crop unless the present trend is changed. What will the Plains do?

Here are some quotes from that fine Santa Fe Magazine: The woman tourist posed for a snapshot in front of the fallen pillars of an ancient temple in Greece. "Don't get the car in the picture," she said, "or my husband will think I ran into the place." The thing most needed at the United Nations is united notions. A survey shows that four out of five women-haters are women.

There's nothing we like better and get less of—that's pumpkin pie. Leonard Crawford brought us two enormous pumpkins the other day, and boy, pumpkin pie and whipped cream have been added to our bay window. Leonard said he pulled two pick-up loads of the pumpkins. Incidentally, we've been watching Leonard's cotton crops for a few years and believe he is one of the best cotton farmers about.

Attendants at the Down Town Men's Sunday School Class were raving about what a fine lesson Virginia Willhoit brought a couple of Sundays ago. The young lady didn't bat an eye as she waded into her discourse, which she delivered in such a manner as to do justice to a professional speaker. We have a lot of very talented young folks in Tahoka. This class frequently calls on some of them. We believe other organizations should utilize more of the young talent we have. One reason our young people hunt jobs in the city is because oldsters in the home town are too slow to recognize them when they reach young adulthood.

Three men on a street corner were arguing religion, one the Baptist, one the Methodist, and one the Presbyterian faith. Finally, one of the men turned to an old Dinky standing by, "Parson, what do you say, which is the path to Heaven?" And the old Negro replied, "Well, gentlemen, when I takes my cotton to the gin, Mr. Ginner don't ast me 'Did you come de high road, de low road or de ribber road; he jest asks 'Is you got de cotton?'"

SAID THE FARMER TO HIS FAITHFUL MULE

Well, Lightnin', you're just a mule, and the son of a jackass, and I'm a man and made in the image of God. But here we work, hitched up together year in and year out, and I often wonder if I work for you or you work for me. Maybe it's a partnership.

Anyway, I work as hard as you do plowing and cultivating. We cover the same distance, but I do it on two legs and you do it on four, so I do twice as much work per leg as you do.

Soon we'll harvest the corn. I'll give one-third to the landlord and one-third to you, and the balance is mine. You eat all of yours but the cob; I have to divide mine with my wife and seven children, six hops, sixty hens, two ducks and a honker.

If you and I both need shoes, you'll get them. Yes, sir, Lightnin', you're getting the best of me. I ask you now, is it fair for a mule, the son of a jackass, to swindle a man, the lord of all creation, the most intelligent of animals? You only help me plow and cultivate, and I must cut, shock and husk the corn while you heehaw at me over the pasture fence. All year the whole family has to help, from grandma to baby, to scratch enough money to pay the taxes and the interest on the mortgage. You onery critter, I even have to worry about the mortgage on your tough, ungrateful hide.

About the only time I have gotten anything on you is on election; I can vote and you can't. But, after election day, I realize right away I've been as big a jackass as your papa was. And then I begin to wonder if politics were made for men or jackasses—or just to make jackasses out of men.

Honest, now, Lightnin', when you know all these things, how can you keep such a straight face and look so dumb and innocent. —Author Unknown.

Excess Cotton Penalties Set

Cotton growers who have "excess" cotton to market under the 1962 quota program are subject to marketing quota penalties, and there is generally no way to avoid the penalty, Charles G. Bragg, office manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today. Until the penalty is paid, he added, all cotton produced on the farm and marketed by the producer is subject to the penalty and a lien is in effect on the entire crop.

The office manager's statement was issued in order to correct a misunderstanding among some growers that they could store the excess cotton and thus avoid the marketing quota penalty. Such a provision is included in the wheat quota program, but there is no such provision in the quota program for cotton.

Bragg explained that farmers who planted cotton on an acreage larger than their cotton farm allotment had a grace period within which they could have adjusted their cotton acreage to bring it into compliance with the farm allotment and so avoid the marketing quota penalty on "excess" cotton.

Growers who have excess acreage are reminded that there is a provision in the cotton quota program whereby a farmer who did not produce a normal cotton crop on his 1962 allotment acres may obtain a downward adjustment in the amount of his farm's "farm marketing excess" which may also result in a reduction in the penalty.

Ordinarily, where a farmer exceeds his cotton allotment, the "excess" cotton on which he must pay a marketing quota penalty is the normal production of the acreage in excess of the allotment. The amount of this "farm marketing excess" may not be larger than the amount by which the actual production of cotton on the farm exceeds the normal production of the farm acreage allotment.

In any case, where a producer feels that a reduction is due in the amount of the penalty for his farm for 1962, he must file an application in writing with his county committee by a deadline date in order to receive consideration. Such deadline date is not later than 60 days after harvest is completed on the farm or in no case later than March 15, 1963.

Bragg urges all farmers who have questions about program provisions to contact their local ASCS County office in order to obtain accurate information.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

By a majority of 88%, the nation's independent business and professional people, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have approved a resolution introduced into the House of Representatives by Rep. Herlong calling for a constitutional amendment to place a limit on social security taxes.

While many expressed dislike for the limits proposed in the Herlong resolution, it was felt that unless there is speedily enacted some safeguard, the socialist schemers within the present ranks of American bureaucrats could push social security taxes up to a level almost equal income taxes.

The Herlong proposal would make it impossible to raise the employer-employee tax to more than 10% and 7½% for the self-employed.

As it stands now, the social security tax which started very small, has grown like Topsy until today it is up to 6¼% and will hit 9¼% by 1969.

Without a constitutional amendment limiting amount bureaucrats can tap the nation's payrolls, there is no estimating where it could stop.

As it stands now, there is nothing to prevent social security taxes to provide free beer, free vacations, free wigs, or anything free.

Some of these items may sound ridiculous, yet are they? Many union contracts now provide vacation expenses for the worker, others provide the employee with a day off with full pay on his or her birthday, others provide for free psychiatric care, thus it becomes difficult to establish any point at which matters become too ridiculous for consideration.

The income tax started as a modest little affair fifty years ago, has now become one of the most dominant factors in all economic and business planning.

There seems but little doubt that if years ago there had been enacted a maximum income tax rate, American nation would be in different position today.

But it is doubtful that anyone ever dreamed that American wealth would be siphoned off by the income tax to throw almost 100 billion dollars around in global give away programs. Neither was it perhaps even wildly dreamed that Americans would be taxed to pick up travel tab around the world of Dixieland jazz bands.

Thus, it is quite logical to stop social security tax increases now.

After all, there will always be politicians eager to buy block of votes with the people's money. As the Wyoming Car Dealers' Association recently pointed out, it seems more than a mere coincidence that every expansion of social security in the past ten years, with the exception of one, was done in an election year.

Some Acreage Can Be Grazed

Beginning Nov. 1, most of the acreage diverted under the 1962 feed grain and wheat programs will be released from program restrictions on grazing, Charles G. Bragg, office manager, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, has announced. The authorization does not extend to diverted acreage on which grain or oilseed crops have matured in 1962.

The office manager explained that the grazing restrictions are being relaxed as part of the general effort to keep provisions of farm programs in line with practical farming operations. Many farmers normally salvage dropped grain sorghum and other crop residue by turning livestock onto harvester cropland in the late fall.

Since the diverted acreage on many farms is not fenced separately, the program change will permit these farmers to salvage this feed without being put to unreasonable work time and expense for protective fencing.

According to Bragg, the main objective of the ban against livestock on diverted acres has been to prevent grazing that might partially offset the corn, grain sorghum, and wheat adjustment under the diversion programs. With killing frosts likely by Nov. 1 over the main grain-producing area, the objective of no-grazing ban would be satisfactorily met by that time. In addition, the important period for protection of the diverted acreages also will have passed in most areas, and there is small likelihood that conservation cover would be severely damaged by permitting livestock on this acreage on or after Nov. 1.

Merit Program Open To Seniors

All 1964 graduates of Tahoka High School who wish to enter the 1963-64 National Merit Scholarship competition should register now at the school office, Clifton Gardner, principal, announced today.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given in the school at 9 a. m., Tuesday, March 5, 1963 (or Saturday, March 9, 1963).

Students who will graduate from high school in 1964 and enter college in the same calendar year are eligible for scholarship consideration in the 1963-64 Merit Program.

To receive consideration, the student must take the test when it is offered in his school. Participating students pay a $1 fee on the day of the test. Any interested student who is unable to pay the fee should consult Mr. Gardner.

Awards in the Merit Program are granted on the basis of intellectual merit, but student financial needs determine the amount of individual stipends. The stipends are renewable each year without further testing.

A student's performance on the qualifying test also provides him with information that is useful in career planning or in selecting courses in high school and college, Gardner stated.

After the test, each participating student receives an interpretive folder prepared by Science Research Associates, the testing agency, that reports individual test results for comparison with scores of other school students across the country. Thus Gardner said, students can learn more about their educational strengths and weaknesses—whether or not they plan to attend college.

In addition to the awards made by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, about 150 business corporations, foundations, and individuals give scholarships through the Merit Program. A considerable number of other scholarship agencies utilize the services of NMSC in awarding their scholarships.
