W. J. Kahl Home Featured In Paper

The new brick home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kahl, five miles east and a quarter mile south of Tahoka, is featured in the February issue of Texas Co-op Power, tabloid newspaper published in Austin and distributed to members of Lyntegar.

The Kahl home is given a full page story, accompanied by four pictures, one of the exterior and three of the interior.

An outstanding feature of the home is the fact that it is an "all electric Gold Medallion home," a little unique on the farm, but due to become more popular, the article indicates.

The story says:
"This home is equipped with a 'heat pump' which provides year-round comfort. The Kahls have electric heat in the winter and refrigerated air in the summer.
"And the home is properly insulated with light-weight and fine textured material blown in under pressure. Also the home is equipped with storm doors and windows for the ultimate in satisfaction."

W. J. farms 750 acres of land, including irrigated cotton land. The home is one of many fine homes erected in Lynn county during the past few years.

Claytons Observe 53rd Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Clayton Sr. will be honored by their children and friends on their 53rd wedding anniversary in the Community Center at O'Donnell on Sunday, February 17, from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.

Married in 1910 in Tahoka, the two are members of pioneer settlers of Tahoka and Lynn county, who later moved to O'Donnell where their farming interests were. In fact they have been married as long as there has been an O'Donnell.

About 80 percent of the cost of operating a dairy in feeding the herd and the dairyman who plans to cut costs and increase profits in 1963 should consider producing more of the needed feed, says Curtis Richardson, extension area dairy specialist. Pasture is the cheapest source of feed for the dairy herd and temporary pastures are of utmost importance. Plan them now, says the specialist, and be ready when planting time rolls around.

The difference between the price of steak and the price the producer gets for his cattle is known as the "marketing" or "farm-to-retail margin." Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist, points out that the price per pound for beef at retail must be more than double the live weight price just to equal the price paid to the producer for the live animal. And this is before marketing costs are considered.

Farm Facts

Radio-carbon tests of popcorn found in New Mexico's Escalante Cave show the corn to be 5,000 years old.

According to researchers, popcorn was used in pagan religious rites. Columbus found the natives in the West Indies wearing popcorn decorations like corasges. The Aztecs wore ceremonial head-dresses with popcorn garlands and decorated the statues of the gods with popcorn. When French explorers came to the Great Lakes region in 1613, they found the Iroquois Indians popping corn in a pottery vessel with heated sand. One account of the first Thanksgiving also mentions "popped corn" brought to the feast by the Indians.

Popcorn production today is mechanized. It is planted with tractor-drawn equipment and harvested by pickers with special rollers to grab the smaller ears. Then comes a long series of operations—machine shelling, fanning, gravitational separation, polishing, fumigating, and packaging. In 1961, popcorn production amounted to 400 million pounds of ear corn, second largest crop in history.

Popcorn production today is mechanized. It is planted with tractor-drawn equipment and harvested by pickers with special rollers to grab the smaller ears. Then comes a long series of operations—machine shelling, fanning,

Beef Victim Of Marketing Costs

College Station—The difference between the price of steak and the price the producer gets for his cattle is due to marketing costs, according to a new publication of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"From Steer to Steak" L-562, states that these marketing costs include all the costs of processing and distribution required to convert the live animal to the salable product. It says these costs can be divided into three groups: marketing livestock, slaughter-wholesaling and retailing.

The costs involved in the marketing process begin when the animal is sold by the producer. The costs of transportation, sale or handling of the steer must be included in these expenses, the bulletin explains.

The next phase of marketing is slaughtering the animal and wholesaling the carcass. A U. S. Choice grade animal will yield about 50 pounds of carcass beef from every 100 pounds of live weight. Thus the value of the by-product and carcass determines the price that can be paid for the live animal, the publication says.

The final step in marketing beef is retailing and of the 50 pounds of carcass beef left 12 more is lost in trimming and cutting the meat into retail cuts. This leaves only 47 pounds of the original 100 pounds of live animal and this is not all steak. The retail price for this meat must be at least twice the live steer price to pay for the weight loss and doesn't include the costs involved in marketing, the bulletin says.

All steer is not steak and when marketing costs are added it is easily seen why the price we pay for steak must be considerably higher than the price the producer gets for his product, the bulletin explains.

Since 1942 more than 300 outstanding Texas 4-H Clubbers have become members of the Talent Club. This unique organization is sponsored by the Producers Grain Corporation in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In August 16 members will be added to the club. They and two state winners each from Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico will then be guests of the sponsor for an 8-day educational tour of Texas.

Soil Sampling Shows Increase

College Station — During the past October and November more and more farmers climbed aboard the "bandwagon" and had their soil sampled, according to William F. Bennett, soil chemist, of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Samples for the two months were about 30 percent higher in 1962 than for the same period of the previous year with the High Plains Laboratory receiving the largest increase in samples. The other two soil sampling laboratories in Texas are in Baylor county and at Texas A&M College.

High counties for the two month period were Ellis with 197, Bell with 168 and Travis with 162, Bennett says. Hockley, Calhoun and Kaufman counties all submitted over 100 samples each, he adds.

The annual fertilizer tonnage report shows that Texas farmers used 944,901 tons of fertilizer in 1961-62 as compared to 766,055 tons in 1960-61, the chemist says. The High Plains and Trans-Pecos areas continued to be the heaviest users applying 30 percent of the state total. East Texas, North Central Texas and the Coastal Prairie followed in decreasing order. Hale, Harris, Hidalgo and Deaf Smith counties all used over 20,000 tons while Lubbock, Lamb, Wharton, Dallas, Jefferson and Farmer rounded out the top 10 counties in fertilizer usage.

Bennett says that all this means more soil sampling especially for spring crop planting and advises farmers to make their samples early to insure prompt return of the report. He also encourages ## not a thing!

Fairlane is in a class by itself. It gives you the winning combination of big-car room, ride, performance—yet it handles and costs more like the compacts!

To illustrate, let's compare the middleweight Fairlane with the compact Chevy II which some people mistakenly feel is in the same class. Fairlane is almost 15 inches longer, it has more leg room, front and rear—and 3½ cubic feet more trunk space! Choice of two spanking V-8's or a spunky Six!

Next, compare the middleweight Fairlane with the big

Chevy. Fairlane is a foot shorter, far easier to park and handle. Yet, amazingly, Fairlane has more effective front leg room... about the same effective head room... practically the same trunk space! Plus Ford's exclusive money-saving twice-a-year or 6,000-mile maintenance! Yet Fairlane is priced hundreds lower—even lower than some compacts! Come see your Ford Dealer... compare for yourself!

School Bonds ...

prospects are the growth will continue.

In January, the board selected Ernest Dickey as fiscal agent and Arnold Maekter as architect to make plans for possible expansion. At the meeting Monday night, these plans were presented to the board, including a floor plan for the high school. The board approved the plan in general, with certain modification, some of which are included below.

Under the plan, the present high school building would become the Junior High and several classes moved there from North Elementary.

New High Plans
A new building would be erected, "wrapped around" the old High School on the north between the old building and the new gymnasium, across the east front, and to the west as far as the south entrance to the old building.

In between the two buildings, there would be open landscaped courts.

The new building would tie-in with the old at the three entrances, and the present auditorium would be utilized by both High and Junior High.

The new building would contain eight general purpose classrooms, one laboratory room for biology and general science, one for chemistry and physics, one for language arts and equipped for teaching foreign languages and speech, two rooms (bookkeeping, typing and shorthand) for the commercial department, a library, study hall, workroom for teachers, conference room for counselors, a modern band hall, two rest rooms, storage rooms, book room, students record room, and offices for the superintendent, principal, and school bookkeeper.

Building Would Blend
The new building would be of similar brick to blend in with the old building. The present high school would have new lighting and plumbing installed, new aluminum windows, and a general outside face-lifting to conform to the new building.

Plans are also provided to acquire the J. W. Jaques property and move these buildings, do away with the temporary band hall, and move the bus parking lot to the lots east of the Home-making cottage, where a bus garage to house the school's nine buses would be erected.

A classroom would be added to the Vocational Agriculture building, and the shop enlarged to include one of the present two classrooms.

Enlarge Cafeteria
The present cafeteria, designed to handle about 500 students, would be enlarged by utilizing the present kitchen area, and a new kitchen would be built on the west about twice as large as the present one. There would be two serving lines instead of the present one serving line.

Necessary improvements would be made to North Elementary, which would include additional lighting, new aluminum windows, re-plumbing at least a part of the building, reworking of dressing rooms in gymnasium, repair of rest rooms, asphalt tile on hallways, and probably new ceilings in classrooms.

Would Make Plant Modern
These improvements would make the local school plant modern in every respect and should meet the needs of the district for a long time to come, barring unprecedented growth.

New city construction has been increasing the size of the tax roll slowly, but not sufficient to take care of additional bond issues, school men say. For the past four years, valuations by reason of new construction have increased about $100,000 per year until total valuations of the school district now is near $9 million.

The 1956 40-year bond issue of $100,000 for the present high school will be paid out in 1966, another $30,000 issue runs out in 1967. Present bonded indebtedness is $568,000.

Members of the board are Clint Walker, Cleve Littlepage, J. T. Miller, Olen Renfro, Clint Sikes, Maurice Huffaker, and Wilton Payne. Members say they welcome constructive advice and will give the public any other information possible on the crowded school situation, need for additional room and improvements, etc. They know of no other alternative than to vote more bonds for more room in order to have a first class school.

Mrs. George Small, entered Tahoka Hospital Friday as a medical patient and was dismissed Monday.

Mrs. McDaniel ...

1903 and Mr. McDaniel was elected the first county clerk. Mrs. McDaniel served as deputy clerk while he held the office until 1912. She probably was the first lady in Lynn county to learn to use a typewriter. Having only a country school education, she spent many hours reading good books to her children.

In 1905 the couple moved to Tahoka and built their home on Lockwood Street after buying three lots for $10 each. This house was moved to southeast Tahoka in 1915 and a new one built, which was the McDaniel home until 1961 when the home was sold and she moved to Garner to live with her daughter. Mr. McDaniel died in 1937.

Since moving from Tahoka, Mrs. McDaniel also lived at Bowie, near her son and two sisters. The old home was sold to South Plains Boys Ranch and was moved to the location southeast of Tahoka, where the boys made their home until it was destroyed by fire about a year ago.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Homer (Rescola) St. Clair of Garner; one son, Fred of Belvue, 12 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren; and two sisters. Three children preceded her in death, one in infancy; Mrs. Pearl Coughran, who died in 1945; and Henry, who died in 1955.

Lady Is Killed ...
1907 in Fannin county. She moved from O'Donnell to Lakeview in 1948. The Smiths were married in July, 1927 in Hugo, Okla. and he is a farmer. Mrs. Smith was a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband; her father, William J. Brent of Dodd City; one sister, Mrs. Clara Mae Kavanaugh of Bonham; three brothers, Edward Brent of Bonham, Charlie Brent of Morton, and Willard Brent of New Home.

Palbearers were D. B. Wheeler, W. C. Thompson, Earl Gillespie, Dick Harris, C. B. Nowlin and James Farr.

Honor Two Men At San Antonio

One Lynn county man and another reared here were honored Tuesday at final exercises of the joint 11th annual meeting of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives, Texas Cotton Cooperative Ginners Assn., and Houston Bank for Cooperatives, attended by a number of local people.

Weldon Martin of Draw and O'Donnell was named "Cooperative Ginner of the Year" in Texas for "outstanding service to cooperative gins and the cotton industry."

Martin has worked around gins for 30 years, in addition to farming, starting as a yard hand at Draw, working up to bookkeeper and finally in 1952 as manager of the big cooperative at O'Donnell, one of the largest anywhere.

When Weldon became manager at O'Donnell, assets of the co-op were $432,065 and net worth was $399,266. Today it has assets of $1,505,832 and a net worth of $929,933.

Also honored was Duane Howell, farm editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, for "distinguished agricultural journalism," and was cited for "keen perception of farm problems" and "consistent excellence" in agricultural reporting.

Duane was reared east of Tahoka, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Howell, is a graduate of Tahoka High School and Texas Tech, farmed a year in Garza county, served on the staff of the Abilene Reporter-News, and became farm editor of the Lubbock papers in December, 1957.

Tahoka Youths Win At Ft. Worth

Tahoka FFA boys placed most of their stock in the Junior Livestock division of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show last week, and one youth won a reserve championship with his pig, according to V. P. Carter and Lester Adams, local vocational agriculture teachers.

Cal Womack's Spotted Poland China pig won the reserve championship award, brought a nice premium and a good price in the sale. He also had a sixth place Poland China.

Mike Huffaker, took third place in both the lightweight and heavy-weight Hampshire divisions.

Phil Adams had a third place Duroc, seventh place light Poland and sixth place Hampshire, placed another Poland, and the week before had the 17th place Angus steer of the show.

Sidney Hart had the fourth place light Spotted Poland China pig, Jack Jaques a seventh place medium Hampshire, and Taylor Knight a seventh place Duroc and also placed a Chester White.

Other boys placing included: Mike Reed, Jim Wells, and Terry Harvick, all with Chester Whites; Jack Edwards, Duroc; and Eddie Howard, Hampshire.

In the calf show the week before, Jim Adams, a 4-H club boy, had the 15th place Angus steer.

All pigs that placed brought at least 22 cents, and those in the first, second and third rankings were sold individually at auction at nice premium prices.

Maurice Huffaker and Jay Womack accompanied Mr. Carter and the boys showing pigs, while the week before Ray Adams accompanied Lester Adams and the boys to show the steers.

County People Spending Most For Food, Cars

(Special to the News)
New York, Feb. 6.—The way in which the average family in Lynn County distributed its retail dollar during the past fiscal year, expanding in some directions and cutting down in others, is indicated in the latest market data report.

They show that the end result was a good one for local merchants in general. Contrary to the situation in some parts of the country, where fears of recession or unusually high unemployment led to reductions in spending, local families went through the year normally and confidently.

Such changes as did take place in the way they spent their money reflected shifts in the importance to them of particular kinds of goods and services.

The effect of these readjustments in their spending patterns is brought out by the Standard Rate and Date Service in its comprehensive report on consumer buying. It covers all sections of the country.

In Lynn County, it shows, a major part of the retail dollar went for food and for automobile purchases and maintenance. These categories received 36 percent of the dollar.

The total amount that was spent in these directions in the year was $4,281,508. In fiscal 1961 it was $7,824,000.

Of that sum, $3,153,000 went for purchases of food. This was exclusive of expenditures in restaurants.

Sales of automobiles, boats, motorcycles, trailers and other automotive equipment, but not including trucks, came to $3,793,000. Gas filling stations chalked up an additional $1,075,000.

As for the rest of the retail spending picture, it is revealed in the volume of business done by the other kinds of stores listed in the report. Most of them ended up with gains over the prior year.

Among them were: general merchandise stores, with gross sales of $841,000; apparel shops, $486,000; home furnishings stores, $120,000; and drug stores, $385,000.

The grand total, for all retail establishments in Lynn County, was $13,714,000, which compares favorably with the previous year's $12,969,000.

It was equivalent to $4,381 per local household as against $4,124 in the United States as a whole.

Rotary Program On Club Purposes

"The Purpose of Rotary" was the subject of a program at the local Rotary Club Thursday noon of last week staged by Rev. James Efrid and Minister Don Browning.

The three-part program was introduced by Rev. Efrid and Bro. Browning operated the magnetic board as three other relatively new Rotarians, Steve Thompson spoke on "The Purpose of Rotary," Wilton (Jim) Payne on "The Persons of Rotary," and Harold Roberts on "The Program of Rotary."

Thompson elaborated on "the object of Rotary," which "is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

"First. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

"Second. High ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

"Third. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business, and community life;

"Fourth. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service."

Payne outlined the types of membership and qualifications for membership in Rotary, each member representing some vocation, most of which was of interest to Rotarians only.

Roberts' talk outlined the various activities of Rotary with special emphasis on some field the Tahoka Club could expand. Several Rotarians declared the program was one of the most interesting of recent weeks. The program was arranged by Mack Meuldin.

Dale Thuren was elected a new club director to fill an unexpired term.

President Calloway Huffaker urged local club members to attend the Rotary Assembly April 3, 4, and 5 in Shamrock and appointed an "on to Shamrock" committee composed of Steve Thompson, E. L. Short, and Dr. Emil Prohl.

Student guests for the month, Jimmy Wright and Roger Renfro were introduced by Pete Hegi and Leighton Knox, respectively.

Midland was shocked last week when the federal government declared it in a "disaster" area—right at a time when banks had just announced deposits the highest in history. Midland boasts the highest per capita wealth of any city in the nation, and land owners are made rich by cattle and oil. Someone said maybe the reason for the "disaster" rating was the fact that there are several hundred homes, built on FHA and GI loans for little or nothing down, turned back to the government because of the oil recession, caused in turn by federal oil policies permitting unprecedented foreign imports.

Dawson, Borden and Gaines counties were also put in "disaster" areas right at a time when each was showing near-record agricultural income. For instance, a Gaines county newspaper about two weeks ago boasted of the $20 million crop, the second largest in history. Part of the "disaster" was attributed by a government spokesman to have been due to an August drouth.

If an August drouth is a "disaster," we have a disaster in West Texas almost every year. Who ever heard of too much rain in August in West Texas? That's always the critical month for crops. Just a few showers in August and we usually make a bumper crop.

Ed Eakin in the Quannah Tribune-Chief says Americans cussing about the farm problem are overlooking the most remarkable phenomenon of the 20th century. In spite of the farm program, he says, American farmers are producing more food at less cost and with less labor than ever before in the history of this nation or any other nation. While the people of many nations of the world subsist on a below-par diet, Americans are not only well fed and clothed, but HAVE A SURPLUS. In spite of restrictions and controls, our farmers still have the incentive to increase production.

Under Communism, Russia allows its farmers to have three percent of the land for their own use, to produce and sell their products from this three percent on the open market. And, from this three percent, comes 46 percent of Russia's meat, 49 percent of their milk, 50 percent of their vegetables, and 80 percent of their eggs. Isn't this a good example of individual initiative as opposed to controlled agriculture?

President Kennedy and Secretary Freeman are offering concessions from their original proposals of a controlled agriculture, with all acreage and prices dictated from Washington. Cotton is being priced out of business rapidly, but cotton experts agree. But, just as it seems an agreement has been reached to make progress in getting back our cotton markets, there now develops dissension and difference of opinions as to the method.

Death of Mrs. J. B. Pickle of Big Spring last week, brought a bit of nostalgia to The Printer, for our dad bought the Roscoe Times from her husband back in 1914. As a result, we inherited a printer, L. G. Whitten, with the shop, a fine gentleman and a truly great man in a small job. Mr. Whitten taught us the printing trade—hand-setting type, feeding a job press, running a Country Campbell newspaper press—all of which finally resulted in The Printer being in Tahoka. Joe Pickle still lives; his son, Joe Jr. is editor of the Big Spring Herald. Mr. Whitten's son is editor of the Navasota Examiner. Another of our old Roscoe printers is John Wesley King.

The Fatal Consequence

long-time editor at Loraine. We owe a lot to all these men. We extend our sympathy in the passing of Mrs. Pickle.

Along with others, we have been shocked by the passing of so many old Lynn county friends during this past month. We can think of no other time when we have lost so many to the Grim Reaper in so short a period.

Mrs. McDaniel is gone. She was one of the first persons The Printer and Mae met when we arrived here on June 1, 1924, married just a day. We had no money for a honeymoon, being just fresh out of college, and Mrs. "Mack" rented us a small two room apartment and there we lived happily for about six months. Mr. and Mrs. "Mack" were rugged individualists, typical of the pioneers, with Scotch-Irish humor and temper, but they treated the two honeymooners almost as they would their own children. A part of Lynn county died with the passing of Mrs. "Mack."

All we know about high finances is what we read, but the experts in finance tell us the more our country increases its national debt, the more deficit spending we have, the more our dollar is deflated. And the more the dollar is deflated, the more the savings of individual citizens are whittled away.

But, President Kennedy and others think they know better. They propose lowering taxes and raising the budget. We have never been able to make more money by spending more than we make, and we doubt if the government can, either.

Congress raises the postal rates to wipe out the department deficit. But, before the raise goes into effect, salaries of postal workers are raised and the added income is eaten up by this and other expenditures, including uniforms for many postal employees.

Better pay up your subscription at the old price. Our rates are being forced up soon. There have been three increases in newspaper mailing rates since we last increased the price of The News. The price of $2.50 for local and $3.00 for papers mailed elsewhere just does not cover the postage and other mailing expenses. Although a newspaper's principal income is from advertising, it has to make the subscription cover cost of postage, newsprint and mailing. You can pay up now at the old rates.

Newsweek says the Welfare State "is not only a fiction; it is bound to be a failure. This is sure to be the outcome whenever

The quickest way to lose a friend is to endorse his note or go on his bond.

Many thanks to our old friend Fred Barker, the Levelland banker, for some kind comments about this column.

Mrs. Vada Holt of Texarkana writes: "I should like to express my appreciation for your convictions and your courage to stand up for them. Keep it up, I, too, especially enjoyed the Christmas edition." Thank you very much, Mrs. Holt.

Another friend says our flat-top haircut looks like the Governor's pardon came through just as the warden threw the switch. Well, anyway, a flat-top gets rid of a lot of grey hair. The Printer felt sorry for bald-headed men until he finally had his own hair cut off—then, he realized how much he had been missing. One with a flat-top not only saves on combs, gooey stuff and grooming, but he can wash his hair when he washes his face.

Benjamin Franklin said: Doing an injury puts you below your enemy; revenging one makes you but even with him; forgiving it sets you above him.

The middle-aged man was shuffling along, bent over at the waist, as his wife helped him into the doctor's waiting room. A woman in the office viewed the scene in sympathy. "Arthritis with compli-effort is separated from reward. When people who earn more than the average and have the 'surplus' seized from them in taxes, and when people who earn less than the average have the deficiency turned over to them in handouts, the production of everybody must decline; for the energetic and able lose their incentive to produce more than the average, and the slothful and unskilled lose their incentive to improve their condition."

The Arizona Republic says: The saddest spectacle in the world is the parent who stands outside juvenile court and wails, "But we tried to give him everything!"

Everything? A good allowance, perhaps. A hot rod, maybe. But how about a sense of values? How about the joy of earning, the great growing-up lift of a dollar for a job well done? How about the satisfaction of helping the family lick a problem, the understanding of work that would have made him respect the fruits of the work of others? How about the inexpressible happiness that comes to a boy who finds he is being treated like a man?

The "good old days" we often hear about are largely figments of the imagination.
