Lynn County Crops Are Needing Rain

Most Lynn county cotton is still doing well, although much of the milo crop is burning up and some cotton needs rain badly.

Farmers say the critical period for dryland cotton is here, and size of the crop depends largely on whether or not a good rain comes in the next week or two. Some cotton, especially southeast of town, is already suffering for rain. The News is informed.

Much old feed has already burned, and younger feed is suffering for water.

July rainfall totaled only 1.15 inches, a half inch being recorded in Tahoka on Sunday night, July 28, and the last good rain was on June 24, when an inch was recorded in Tahoka.

Total rainfall for the year has reached 15.61 inches, but 8.24 of this fell in May and 4.22 in June, with some areas receiving even more than this.

Little Leaguers Lose To Pecos

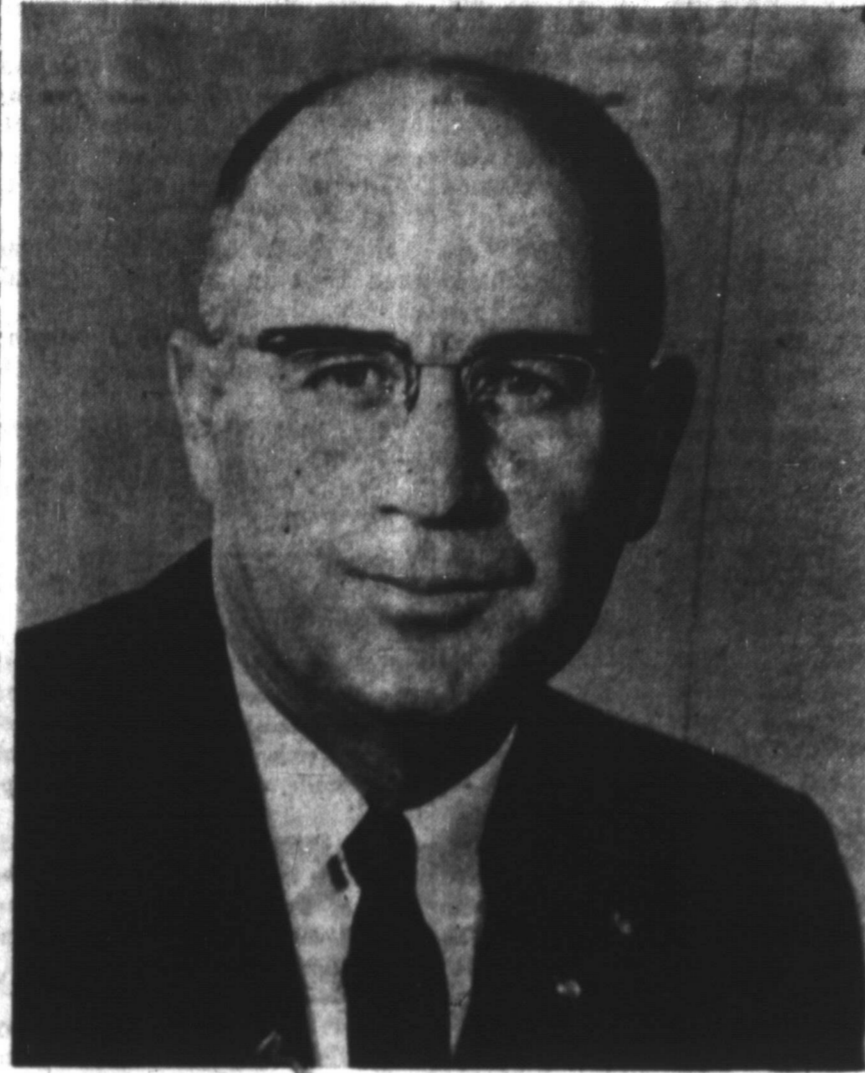

Tahoka Little League All-Stars lost out to Pecos, the eventual champions, in sectional play at Big Lake last week end, and later lost in the consolation finals to Big Spring. Score in the Pecos game was 9-0, in the Big Spring game 2-1.

However, the boys gave a good accounting of themselves and had nothing of which to be ashamed, state Clifton Hamilton, manager, and George Glenn, coach. A nice crowd of parents and fans followed them to the first game, and Saturday a bus load, plus cars, went to the consolation finals.

In first round of play, Tahoka lost to Pecos, Abilene defeated Levelland, Haskell took Big Spring, and Coleman won over White Deer.

In the second round Friday, Pecos won over Coleman and Haskell beat Abilene. In consolation, White Deer forfeited to Tahoka, and Big Spring took out Levelland.

In the finals, Pecos defeated Haskell for the right to advance toward the national championship. (Cont'd. On Back Page)

New Home Calls Town Election

New Home's first town election will be held on Saturday, Sept. 14, when a mayor, five aldermen, and a town marshal will be elected. Citizens of the newly incorporated town have until Wednesday, Aug. 14, to file for places on the ballot. The News has been informed by Jack Clements.

Already filed for town offices are J. W. Edwards, for mayor; D. K. Sharp for town marshal; and there are nine men filed for places on the board of aldermen. They are: Marlin Maloney, Orvil Ray Phifer Jr., James Farr, John Edwards, G. B. Mayfield, W. E. Brent, Robbie Gill, Winston Davis, and Morris Renfro.

On Wednesday of last week, July 31, citizens of the town voted 48 to 1 in favor of incorporating New Home as a town.

Limits of the new town, Lynn county's fourth incorporated town, cover one square mile of territory, one-half mile in each direction from the highway intersection in the center of town.

Lyntegar will celebrate its 25th anniversary at its annual membership meeting next Tuesday night at the Tahoka football stadium, and several thousand visitors will be present from the 10 counties into which the rural electric cooperative lines extend.

Registration begins at 6:00 p. m., and entrance is by numbered cards or special invitation. A catering firm will serve the barbecue dinner at 6:30 p. m.

From a small beginning in 1938, Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, Inc., has grown to 12,190 connections in 10 South Plains counties. The cooperative has a total assets of $10,714,226.03. Although it still owes $6,336,964.03 to Rural Electrification Administration, loans totaling $2,994,18.67 have been paid off, of which $1,548,643.65 has been paid in advance of due date. Capital investments of members in the sum of $251,450.05 have been returned in cash payments during the years 1960 through 1962 for the years 1948, 1949 and 1950. This brings capital credits refunded to almost a half million dollars.

Currently, an addition is being made to the headquarters building here, and automatic data processing equipment is being installed which will greatly facilitate the handling of billing and record keeping. Engineering studies are being kept current and necessary changes in lines and equipment are being made regularly, states Frank Harris, secretary, president of Lyntegar and a member of the board for 20 years.

Two directors are to be elected at the meeting Tuesday. Nominated for the two places are: District 4, W. H. Moore, route B, Lamesa, and R. C. (Conley) Hoffman, route B, Lamesa.

The necessary business session, presided over by Calloway Huffaker, master of ceremonies will be kept as brief as possible. Rev. Paul McClung, pastor of New Home Baptist Church, will give the invocation, and President Charles Vermer of the First National Bank will present the address of welcome.

Brief reports will be given by President Frank Harris, Secretary G. Q. Hensley; the attorney's report by Harold Green, the auditor's report by A. B. Segars, and the nominating committee report by Earl Houx.

Door prizes valued at about $750.00 will be presented.

Garland Pennington has been manager of the cooperative since its inception in 1938.

The News will have a fuller synopsis of the proposed amendments before the election date.

Insects Threat To Cotton Crop

Farmers are advised by County Agent Bill Griffin that there is increased insect activity over Lynn county and should be on the lookout for possible build-up in cotton fields.

Bollworms present the biggest hazard right now, and light to moderate infestations have been reported. Most effective bollworm control, Griffin says, is achieved from treatments made while the worms are small. Cotton should be checked frequently and insecticides applied when damaging populations appear.

There has been some damage from fleahoppers, but some cotton has reached the stage where fleahopper infestations offer little threat to production.

Some cotton leafworms have also been reported in the county, and these will also bear watching. No boll weevils have turned up in Lynn county, but Eastern Floyd and Crosby counties and Dickens county had heavy damage last year, and the pests are showing up again this year in these areas.

Farmers desiring more information can obtain copies of the pamphlet L-503, Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in the High Plains and Trans-Pecos Areas of Texas from the county agent.

Oil, Gas Production Brings $1.5 Million Year To Lynn

With oil and gas production worth about $1.5 million a year, Lynn County citizens have a financial stake in the worldwide demand for energy and the complex economic and political problems involving the petroleum industry, according to statistics released this week by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

"We have pulled together some figures from the most authoritative sources so residents of Lynn County can see how local pockets are affected by some of the issues which involve our industry," said J. Clyde Tomlinson, Association president. "Issues of current concern include the proposals to cut percentage depletion rates, extension of federal controls over prices at which Texas producers sell their gas, and development of laws and production methods that will help Texas compete with other states and nations for markets."

The latest year for which U. S. Bureau of Mines figures are available (1961) shows Lynn County producing more than 500,000 barrels of crude oil, valued at about $1.5 million; and a small amount of natural gas. In 1961 there were 79 producing oil wells in the county, according to the Texas Railroad Commission.

Although its first field was discovered 13 years ago, Lynn County is the scene for the industry's continued search for oil and gas. Some 12 wells were drilled in the county last year, with 9 being wildcat exploratory wells, according to the Oil & Gas Journal. The Association estimated that more than $900,000 was spent on drilling in this county this past year and that some $800,000 of this went for dry holes.

Leasing adds many thousands of dollars to the county's economy. Tabulations by the International Oil Scouts Association show major companies in 1961 were paying rentals on about 141,000 undeveloped acres, which comprise about one-fourth of the county's area.

Royalty payments to Lynn County farmers, ranchers and other landowners are running at more than $187,000 annually, the Association calculated.

Lynn County producers and royalty owners also make a sizeable contribution to the support of state government, with production tax payments of $69,000 a year. Industry taxes likewise are important to the county government and school districts in the county. For instance, 11 per cent of the local property taxes collected for the Wilson Independent School District comes from oil and gas operators.

Some impact on the Lynn County economy has been registered by petroleum industry payrolls. According to figures from the Texas Employment Commission, the industry payroll is almost $202,000 a year.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

One of those strange, inexplicable decisions by Congress will probably result in the American housewife paying a great deal more for foodstuffs.

For a long time, the labor unions have been trying to organize the itinerant farm workers who cultivate and harvest the crops in the Western part of the nation, principally California.

Most of the work known as "steep labor" which American workers, enjoying unemployment compensation, and relief checks, are very reluctant to engage in. For many years there has existed a formal arrangement whereby Mexican labor, experienced in agricultural work, have been brought into the nation during the harvest seasons, paid according to standards set up by government, housed and fed according to a prescribed code.

Over 200,000 of these experienced farm workers have been used annually.

This has distressed labor unions who have tried for years to convert farm labor into dues paying union members.

But as long as this Mexican labor, known as "braceros," was available, the labor bosses were stymied. Thus, the labor leaders enlisted the support of that peculiar college composite of jobsters, sociologists, and various mendicants who never planted a crop or harvested one and thus know nothing of National Federation of Independent Business

Visi-Belle To Star At 1963 State Fair

She may not be fat but she'll never be "skinny." That's not a riddle—it's a description of the brand-new skin-less Transparent Woman who will make her debut at the 1963 State Fair of Texas, October 5 through 20 in Dallas. Visi-Belle (her official name) will nonetheless retain a trait attributed to women: she will talk constantly. Movie Filmed In Texas Coming Here

Paul Newman is "Hud" in the bold, uncompromising screen drama which opens August 18 at the Rose Theater. Already hailed as an outstanding screen achievement, "Hud" was filmed on location in the Texas Panhandle and tells the story of contemporary cattle ranching.

The plot revolves around the character of Hud, played by Paul Newman. Hud is a selfish, brutal man, dedicated to his own self-gratification and ignominious goals. Hud's attitudes conflict with those of his father, played by Melvyn Douglas. His nephew, played by Brandon de Wilde is confused over whether his loyalties should be with his Uncle Hud or his Grandfather, Alma, the housekeeper, played by Patricia Neal, is caught up in the family feud, and when violence finally erupts, she is the one who settles.

Directed and produced by Martin Ritt, from a novel by the 24-year-old Texan Larry McMurtry called "Hombreman, Panhandle." "Hud" figures to be a strong contender in next year's Academy Award presentations.

Pioneers of Plains Visit in Tahoka

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Adair and son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Adair, and two children, Scottie and Shannon, all of Phoenix, Ariz., were recent visitors in Tahoka while en route to South Carolina to visit the elder Mrs. Adair's relatives. O. C. Adair is a cousin of Mrs. Sumner Clayton Sr. of O'Donnell.

The group visited The News, owned by O. C.'s late uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Crie, from about 1905 until 1918. This was the first time he had been in Tahoka since his Grandmother Adair died here in 1928.

The Adairs and Cries first settled in Floydada, and when the H. C. Cries moved to Tahoka in 1905, O. C.'s family moved to Plainview, and he later settled in Arizona.

The News was established in 1908 by Otis and Inez Lilly, but had been abandoned for some time when the Cries took over. Mrs. Crie once told the present publisher that kids of the town had swiped much of the type to use in "nigger-shooters" and they had quite a time picking up type out of the alleys and streets to get enough together to publish their first issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Walker, daughter Pam and son Billy of Tatum, N. M., are here visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walker for the weekend.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Where but in print can you get so close to the advertising messages that interest you? Where else can a woman clip the coupons and recipes that intrigue her? Or tear out tips to try on leftovers? Or mark for future marketing, any of the colorful food ideas which strike her fancy? And where else can she circle and compare the colors and styles of clothing and furnishings that appeal to her?

Where else, in fact, can any message be re-run at will by an interested audience? So make sure a good part of your advertising message gets into print. Let somebody's eyes linger over it as long as they like. Let somebody's scissors clip it free of competition. And then watch someone's pocket or purse carry it to the place of purchase. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

A Great Plains Conservation Program contract has been developed on the Hardy-Peace farm located two miles northeast of Wilson. The farm is operated by C. C. Swope.

The plan includes converting fifty acres of cropland to grass. Fifteen acres of Midland Bermuda will be sprigged in a lake bed. The other acreage will be seeded to Plains bristle and Side-coats grama.

In addition, a pit type tank will be dug for livestock water.

Billy Rhoades, who farms two miles north of New Lynn, has made application for a Great Plains contract to include grass seeding and a pond for livestock water. It will also include fencing so that rotation grazing can be practiced. He plans to seed 31 acres of grass.

Cost sharing is available to eligible farmers and landowners through the Great Plains Program for seeding grass and many other permanent conservation practices. Information about the

Mrs. Luella Sayles Is Death Victim

Funeral services for Mrs. Henry (Luella) Sayles, 82, who died at her home in northeast Tahoka last Thursday, were held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in Pleasant Grove Baptist Church here, with the Rev. S. L. Williams, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery with White Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Sayles was born in 1881 in Gilmer, and moved to Lynn county in 1930 from Paducah. Her husband died in 1949.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Ella Thomas, Lamesa; Miss Minnie Sayles and Miss Para Lee Sayles, both of Tahoka; two sons, A. G. of Tahoka and Aaron of Amarillo; two brothers, two sisters, 12 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Rebel Thomas, Debbie, Joe and Georgia, accompanied by Jerri Ashcraft, left Wednesday for New Mexico on a vacation and fishing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Brice and two children of Lubbock have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brice.

Former Tahokan Publishes Novel

"A good adventure story backed up with historical fact," is the description given "Buried Colts," a novel authored by Harley Smith, son of O. S. Smith and a former Lynn county resident. The book is due for publication this fall by Pan Press of Tahlequah, Oklahoma.

"Buried Colts" is the story of a half-Comanche cowboy, caught between the marauding Indians and the equally rapacious Whites, the half-breed who belonged to both camps and at the same time to neither. The book is Smith's first and he says much of the authentic background material was based on things which his grandfather, Brooks Smith, formerly of Tahoka, told him. Setting of much of the story is in Territorial New Mexico.

The book will have a jacket illustration by the famous Oklahoma Indian artist, "Black Moon," of Walters, Oklahoma. "Black Moon," known as Leonard Riddles in ordinary life, is himself half-Comanche and a recent $1000 prize winner at Philbrook Art Museum in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The author of the book was born in Lynn county and lived here until 1942 when he entered service. Following his discharge he served on the Lubbock Police force from 1949 until 1955 when he assumed a similar post in Odessa. In 1956 he entered the Odessa Postal System where he is still employed, having received two awards signed by the Postmaster General.

Smith's book will be published in cloth covers and will sell for $3.50.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roberts returned home Monday from Ruidoso, New Mexico, where they spent a few days.

Mrs. J. F. Patterson of Floydada has been visiting her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patterson and Sharon since Sunday.

Atwell Is Named Jaycee Of Month

J. D. Atwell was chosen Jaycee of the month for July last Tuesday night at the Junior Chamber's regular meeting. Atwell was lauded for his outstanding work in the All Star Little League Tournaments held last month. The event was sponsored by the Jaycees.

Clifton Clark, chairman of the Christmas tree committee reported to the club on the availability of trees for December. The club then voted to buy a mixture of Scotch pines and Canadian fir trees which will go on sale sometime in the early part of December. This project will be the main ways and means project for winter.

The Jaycees will hold a swimming party at the city pool, Friday night at 7:00 p. m. (August 9), each Jaycee will pay the regular admission fee to gain admission into the pool. Every Jaycee is urged to take advantage of this party to get to know his fellow Jaycees and families better.

Mr. Richard Boardman, Post bowling alley proprietor, spoke briefly to the club on the possibility of starting a Jaycee bowling league. Several parties are interested but no action was taken on this subject at this time.

The club adjourned at 9:00 and moved to the City Hall for a program on Tahoka's Volunteer Fire department. Mr. Pat Patterson and Mr. Evon Wilson presented the program. Patterson gave a talk on the Fireman's School held every year at A. and M. College, while Wilson demonstrated the departments reorganization unit, and demonstrated several other pieces of equipment. An interesting and somewhat frightening part of Patterson's talk concerned the danger involved in handling and transporting liquid oxygen. LOX, as it is called, is comparatively safe in pure state, but when it becomes mixed with gasoline, diesel fuel, water, asphalt, etc., it becomes a highly volatile, unstable mixture. There will be several Jaycees that will give LOX tankers plenty of room on the highways now. All the club was pleased with the program and would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the Volunteer Fireboys on the fine job they are doing in protecting our city, homes, and property. All work done in the department is strictly VOLUNTEER.

In the game against Pecos, Larry Arnold started on the mound for Tahoka and was relieved in the third by Randy White. Farm Bureau Is Sending 4 Students To Seminar

The Lynn County Farm Bureau is one of 77 county Farm Bureaus over the state that will send local high school students to a Citizenship Seminar to be held Aug. 20-23 on the campus of Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, according to Loyd R. McCormick, Jr., president of the local county Farm Bureau. More than 200 students are expected at the event which is being sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau.

Attending from this county will be: Eddie Jo Halford, New Home; Dixie Ashcraft, Tahoka; Delbert McCleskey, Wilson, and Ronnie Wood, O'Donnell.

Several outstanding educators and lecturers will speak at the seminar, the first of its kind to be held in Texas. Other state Farm Bureaus conduct similar annual citizenship training schools for high school students, and last year the Texas Farm Bureau and county Farm Bureaus over the state sponsored the attendance of a large delegation to a seminar in Oklahoma.

Instruction at the seminar will consist of lectures and films explaining the workings of the American competitive enterprise system and contrasting it with communism. Speakers will include John Noble of Wheaton, Ill., who was a prisoner in Russian slave labor camps for nine and one-half years; Dr. Nicholas Nyardi of Bradley University at Peoria, Ill., a former Minister of Finance in the Hungarian governmental cabinet who had direct dealings with the Soviet government; Dr. Harry Love of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, a well-known teacher and lecturer on economics; and Drs. George S. Benson and Clifton Ganus, Jr., who are associated with the School of American Studies at Harding College in Searcy, Ark.

The students who will attend the seminar were selected on the basis of scholastic attainment, speaking ability, and other qualifications.

Talk is never cheap when you have to take some of it home.

Rev. Pistone On Holy Land Tour

Jerusalem — Currently touring the Holy Land is Rev. John Wm. Pistone, pastor of the Baptist Mexican Mission of Tahoka.

Among 2,700 participants in a special Pilgrimage of sites in the Holy Land, Rev. Pistone visited Nazareth, Jerusalem, the Sea of Galilee, Capernaum, The Mount of Beatitudes, the site of the Miracle of Loaves and Fishes, Magdala, home of Mary Magdela, and The Room of the Last Supper on Mount Zion. One of the most outstanding spiritual events during the pilgrimage took the form of a "Sun Rise" Service held on the shores of the Sea of Galilee in which more than 1,000 participated.

In addition to the sites of great significance to the Christian world, the pilgrims used the opportunity offered by the trip to get better acquainted with modern Israel and to familiarize themselves with its story. They took part in "Ask Your Question Forums", Meet the Israeli Evenings and other events organized by the Israel Government Tourist Corporation. Cloudless days and sunny skies greeted the pilgrims who brought the total number of tourists to Israel in the month of July to record proportions.

Commenting on the Holy Land Pilgrimage and its significance Rev. Pistone said, "It is for me a privilege and honor to be visiting the land of the patriarchs and prophets. It gives a new look at the Bible."

The pilgrimage was organized in connection with the 6th Baptist Youth World Conference for the first time held in the Middle East. Rev. Pistone attended the Youth Conference as the only delegate from Texas to represent the Mexican Convention.

PRINTER'S INK LINGS

We'd like, again, to congratulate Tahoka Little League and all the workers and the fine achievement this year in going all the way to the sectional tournament.

We returned home over the week end from Lake City, Colorado, where we stayed with our daughter and three granddaughters while Jake came home to help get things ready for the opening of school. The Jacobs family operates a store in the resort town during the summer vacation season. We've written about Lake City before, but we'll hit a few high spots again.

Coming up from Texas, the traveler begins to get a sample of the scenery at South Fork and Creede, climbs up to the head of the Rio Grande to Spring Creek Pass (elevation 10,901), where you cross the Continental Divide, then over Slumgullion Pass (Elevation, 11,361), an easy drive for modern cars. Then you drop down nearly 3,000 feet in 10 miles by easy switch-backs to Lake City, (elevation 8,694) nestled in the valley of the Lake Fork of the Gunnison, below Lake San Cristobal, one of the largest natural lakes in the Rockies.

The little town is surrounded by peaks, five of them over 14,000 feet high and scores 13,000 or more. In fact, Hinsdale county, of which Lake City is the county seat, claims the most mountains of any county in the nation over 13,000 feet within its 1,000 square miles of area. It claims 500 miles of unposted streams and several lakes stocked with trout. Great forests of pine, spruce, fir and aspen cover the country. Traveling the roads early in the morning and late in the evening deer, elk, and even bear frequently are seen from the car. Snow-fall is 150 to 300 inches a year but last winter was one of the driest in history.

There's nothing to do unless you enjoy sleep and rest in 70 to 80 degree weather (in the 40's at nights in July and August), fishing, hunting in-season, driving the many back roads for ever-changing views of some of the most wonderful scenery in the U. S., taking jeep trips to the "top of the world", enjoying wild flowers, forests, wildlife, or exploring old ghost towns, hunting rocks and minerals. A few people seem to enjoy kicking up their heels in the town's two bars while the kids go to a teen-age dance at Vickers Dude Ranch, church picnics and hayrides, and horseback riding.

Once this was a hell-raising mining area with 10,000 or more people in the "hills" with the lust for gold, and ruins of old gold, silver, copper, lead, and zinc mines are to be seen deep in the valleys and high on the mountain sides. In fact, there's still a little mining of these metals and also uranium but mostly the people now "mine" the tourists. The town has only 130 permanent residents, the county only 300, but thousands of tourists come in the summer and hundreds come to hunt elk, deer, and bear in the fall. There's still plenty of precious metals of about 30 varieties in the hills, but natives tell us the price of labor and machinery is too high for profitable mining.

If you think the farming country has trouble with government controls, you "ain't seen nothin'". In this county, 87 percent of the land is owned by the government, forest reserve and wilderness area, and the government wants more of it. One can hardly dig a ditch without a government permit. The Federal boys wouldn't even give a permit for a ski area. Of the 13 percent privately owned, the townsites is included along with about 40 ranches, and the county has to depend on this little parcel for taxes on which to operate. Some cabin owners are threatened with loss of their property, and few if any new mining permits are being issued.

THE AMERICAN WAY

When You Penalize Success, You Destroy Prosperity

Hopes for future economy of the county lie in the great Curcanti dam the government is building down on the Gunnison, which will back water up toward Lake City and provide futher recreation. Until then, the 30 or more resort motels and dude ranches will depend principally on the tourists, fishermen, and hunters; the few cattle ranches, and the huge herds of sheep trucked in during summer to graze in the timberline country, although the latter bring in little local revenue.

But, in the four years we've been going to Lake City, we've learned to love the quaint town and its natives, as well as the fishing, climate, and scenery.

Enos T. Hotchkiss discovered the great Golden Fleece lode in August, 1874, which finally paid $1.5 million in dividends to the stockholders, and the magic word "gold" spread to the outside. There followed the Ute and Ulay, which produced $20 million, and Lake City, Capitol City, Sherman, and other gold camps sprang up near the dozen mines. Lake City quickly became the first substantial town west of the Continental Divide. The other towns are long gone, but Capitol City, 10 miles up Henson Canyon at 9,500 feet elevation, was barely nose-out for the state capital when Colorado was admitted to the Union in 1876. Nothing remains there but a cemetery up on the mountain, a few ruins of log cabins and the tumble-down red brick Geo. S. Lee mansion.

Lake City got off to a booming start, declined, and boomed again as the demand for metals fluctuated, and for many years there was a railroad, the Denver & Rio Grande up the canyon but the rail line was abandoned in about 1932. Lake City Silver World, newspaper established on June 9, 1875, on financing of Otto Mears, famed in Western history, aid in its Nov. 1 1876 issue there were 116 business firms including two assayers, two banks, four sawmills, four Chinese laundries, seven saloons, two breweries, and 15 lawyers.

Once back in the wild mining days, the sheriff heard two men were planning to burglarize a local home. When he caught them in the act, one of the men shot and killed the sheriff. Feeling ran high, a mob formed, and hung the two men on the bridge over the Lake Fork. This bridge is still known today as the Lynching Bridge. But, the mother of one of the victims put a hex on the mines in retaliation, and we're told some of the oldtimers still believe this is the reason the mines quit producing.

Now discontinued, the Silver World print shop is still intact, owned by H. E. Stewart, Oklahoma City manufacturer who has a summer home in Lake City, and is complete with George Washington hand press, type of 1870 styles, etc.

Still standing in the town are some of the original buildings, including a two story structure built of hand-cut stone, the original Miners & Merchants Bank, built in 1878, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan of Chicago and converted by them in 1927 into the Elkhorn hotel, restaurant and bar. Jake and Pat recently bought a some of the original drug store fixtures. These fixtures attract quite a bit of attention from tourists, as does a flag they found in the attic. It is a 45-star American flag made some time after 1907, when Oklahoma became the 45th state, and 1912, when Arizona was admitted.

The local Presbyterian church building was erected in 1876, oldest church on the Western Slope, and there are Baptist, Catholic, and Episcopal churches. There's a grade school, but high school students go to Gunnison, 56 miles away.

Richard King III of Texas' King ranching family has a summer home at the lake, has some mine interests as a hobby, and is developing some cabin sites east of the lake.

An aged pioneer lady here, thinking cars just too high, bought a motor scooter on which she takes other elderly lady friends riding around the town.

Texas furnishes more tourists than any other state except Colorado, and most of the rest come from Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, Arizona, and believe it or not California. Some Texans go to Colorado to see Colorado Springs and Denver. Many of the vacationers from these two Colorado cities come to Lake City.

You even meet 'em from home. Jack and Frankie Fenton came up to give us a lesson in fishing. Then Banker Jimmy and Sue Forbes of O'Donnell were up for their annual Lake City vacation. J. J. "Dude" Nettles, who has a passel of Lynn county kin, owns and operates Dude's Resort. He says 16 elk wintered right behind his cabin in the edge of town. The "Dub" Kenleys had just left when we got to the resort town. Then, in comes Judge Howard Davidson, Yancy Price, and Harvey Dunn and wives from Lubbock.

We could tell a lot of stories from "Brick" Griffith, raised here, who remembers "just about everything since 1895"; L. C. Ely, resort operator, county assessor and chamber of commerce president, who is kin to some of our kinfolks; Lawrence Boynton of San Angelo, who blazes jeep trails over the mountains; Bert Lyke, another pioneer who is a friend of the Jacobs; and Lowell B. Swanson of Swanson House, who collects scrapbooks of history of the area.

We've repeated some from previous stories, for which we ask your pardon, readers. Lake City Chamber of Commerce ought to put us on the pay roll. But, it's sure good to be back in Tahoka.

"Wildcat" wells were drilled in 220 of Texas' 254 counties during 1961.

Doug Henderson Tells More Of Trip To Russia

Editor's Note—The following is a continuation of the story written by Doug Henderson of Burbank, California to inform the readers of The News about his recent trip to Russia.)

In World War II this city was under siege by the Germans for 900 days. More than 600,000 people died from starvation alone. I doubt if they know how many soldiers were killed. It was the longest battle in the history of the world. You cannot see any trace of ruins now. It is a city of three million and has many fine buildings. There are many kinds of factories as well as ship building and it is Russia's principal seaport.

We went to the winter palace of the Czars, which is now a museum. It has three hundred rooms and is not much to look at on the outside but is very beautiful on the inside. The summer palace is about twenty miles from the city and is very beautiful both inside and out.

In Leningrad we had a very interesting tour of a glass factory which employs about eight hundred people. The director (manager) of the plant did not speak any English but he was nice in every way. We asked him many questions about everything and he gave us very detailed answers to all of them. Of course our Intourist guide was the interpreter. He was very pleased when we asked him if he was a member of the Party and, with a big grin, he said: "Yes, I have been honored." We were told that less than five million, out of two hundred twenty-one million people in Russia, belong to the Party.

The director receives a salary of 180 Roubles a month. A rouble is worth one dollar and ten cents in our money at this time. His wife is an engineer of some kind. He has no car and they live in a two bedroom apartment. He has twin boys twelve years old.

Very few people earn over 150 Roubles a month. Doctors and dentists make 140 to 150 Roubles a month—the same as school teachers. Seventy per cent of the doctors and dentists are all women.

A very interesting thing we saw over there was people with stainless steel teeth, which are free. They can have gold plated teeth if they can afford to pay the difference.

You see very few people wearing glasses, maybe one in a hundred. Also, you see very few men that look to be over forty years old. The women do every kind of work that men can do—they lay brick, plaster, paint, do the carpentering and plumbing, cement work, any kind of street work, dig ditches, etc. Women wear dresses at any kind of work except painting—then they wear overalls.

I heard a little story on the trip: Someone asked a Russian woman why she was digging a ditch. She said to make the money to buy the food to get the strength to dig the ditch.

I don't recall seeing a single neon or fluorescent light anywhere in Russia.

About their plumbing over there—you should see some of it. It seems that they get a building about finished before they decide to put in the plumbing and electric wiring and then when they do, nothing works. They have ditches everywhere in all kinds of shapes and in all directions.

If you want a drink of water any time you have to stand in line some place and buy a bottle of mineral or soda water. Or they do have some kind of fruit juice that they sell from portable carts on the street. A person can buy a glass full of juice and after they drink it the woman washes the glass out in a bucket of water and it is then ready for another person.

AMERICAN AS YANKEE DOODLE describes the Deep River, Conn., Drum Corps which will make its first appearance outside New England at the 1963 State Fair of Texas October 5 through 20 in Dallas. The corps will appear during the first week of the State Fair, giving daily concerts and appearing in the nightly "Stars and Stripes Parade." Founded in 1888, the group embodies the Spirit of '76 and keeps alive the military life and drum tradition handed down unbroken from the days of Lexington, Concord and George Washington's Continental Army.

After three days in Leningrad we were on our way to Moscow. (We had to leave one of our party in the hospital in Leningrad as she had a severe cold and maybe pneumonia. Two women doctors came to the hotel in an ambulance for her. They were dressed in long white gowns and white caps and looked as though they were ready to operate. We notified the American Embassy and that was all we could do.) It was a three day drive—about six or seven hundred miles, I think. They say kilometers when talking about distance. There was nothing to see on the road except a few small towns and a whole lot of nothing. There was no farming to speak of—we saw a little wheat and a few peasants were cutting hay and raking by hand along the side of the road, except a few small towns and a whole lot of nothing. There was no farming to speak of—we saw a little wheat and a few peasants were cutting hay and raking by hand along the side of the road. Men, women and the kids all work. They live mostly in old log cabins on farms. One water well serves a whole community. They are about seventy-five years behind our country in the way they do things.

We arrived in Moscow on June 19th, which is my birthday. We stayed at the Metropole Hotel, which was built in 1890. It is about two blocks from Red Square. The Ukraine and the National are supposed to be better hotels.

The next day it was raining a little but we drove out to see the Moscow University. I can say it is the finest building I have ever seen anywhere. It is thirty-two stories high and is the tallest building in all of Europe. The landscaping is simply beautiful. There are seventy miles of hall and corridors in the building and twenty-five thousand students are enrolled. They only teach science at this school—no medicine or dentistry. It was beautiful inside except for the floors. The floors in the halls are made of wood—parlay layout—and they are worn out and look awful. The building of the university was started in 1949 and completed in 1953.

Next we went to Red Square to go through Lenin's tomb. There is a line-up every day almost one-half mile long. However, they take tourists up very close and cut them in on the line so we only waited about ten minutes.

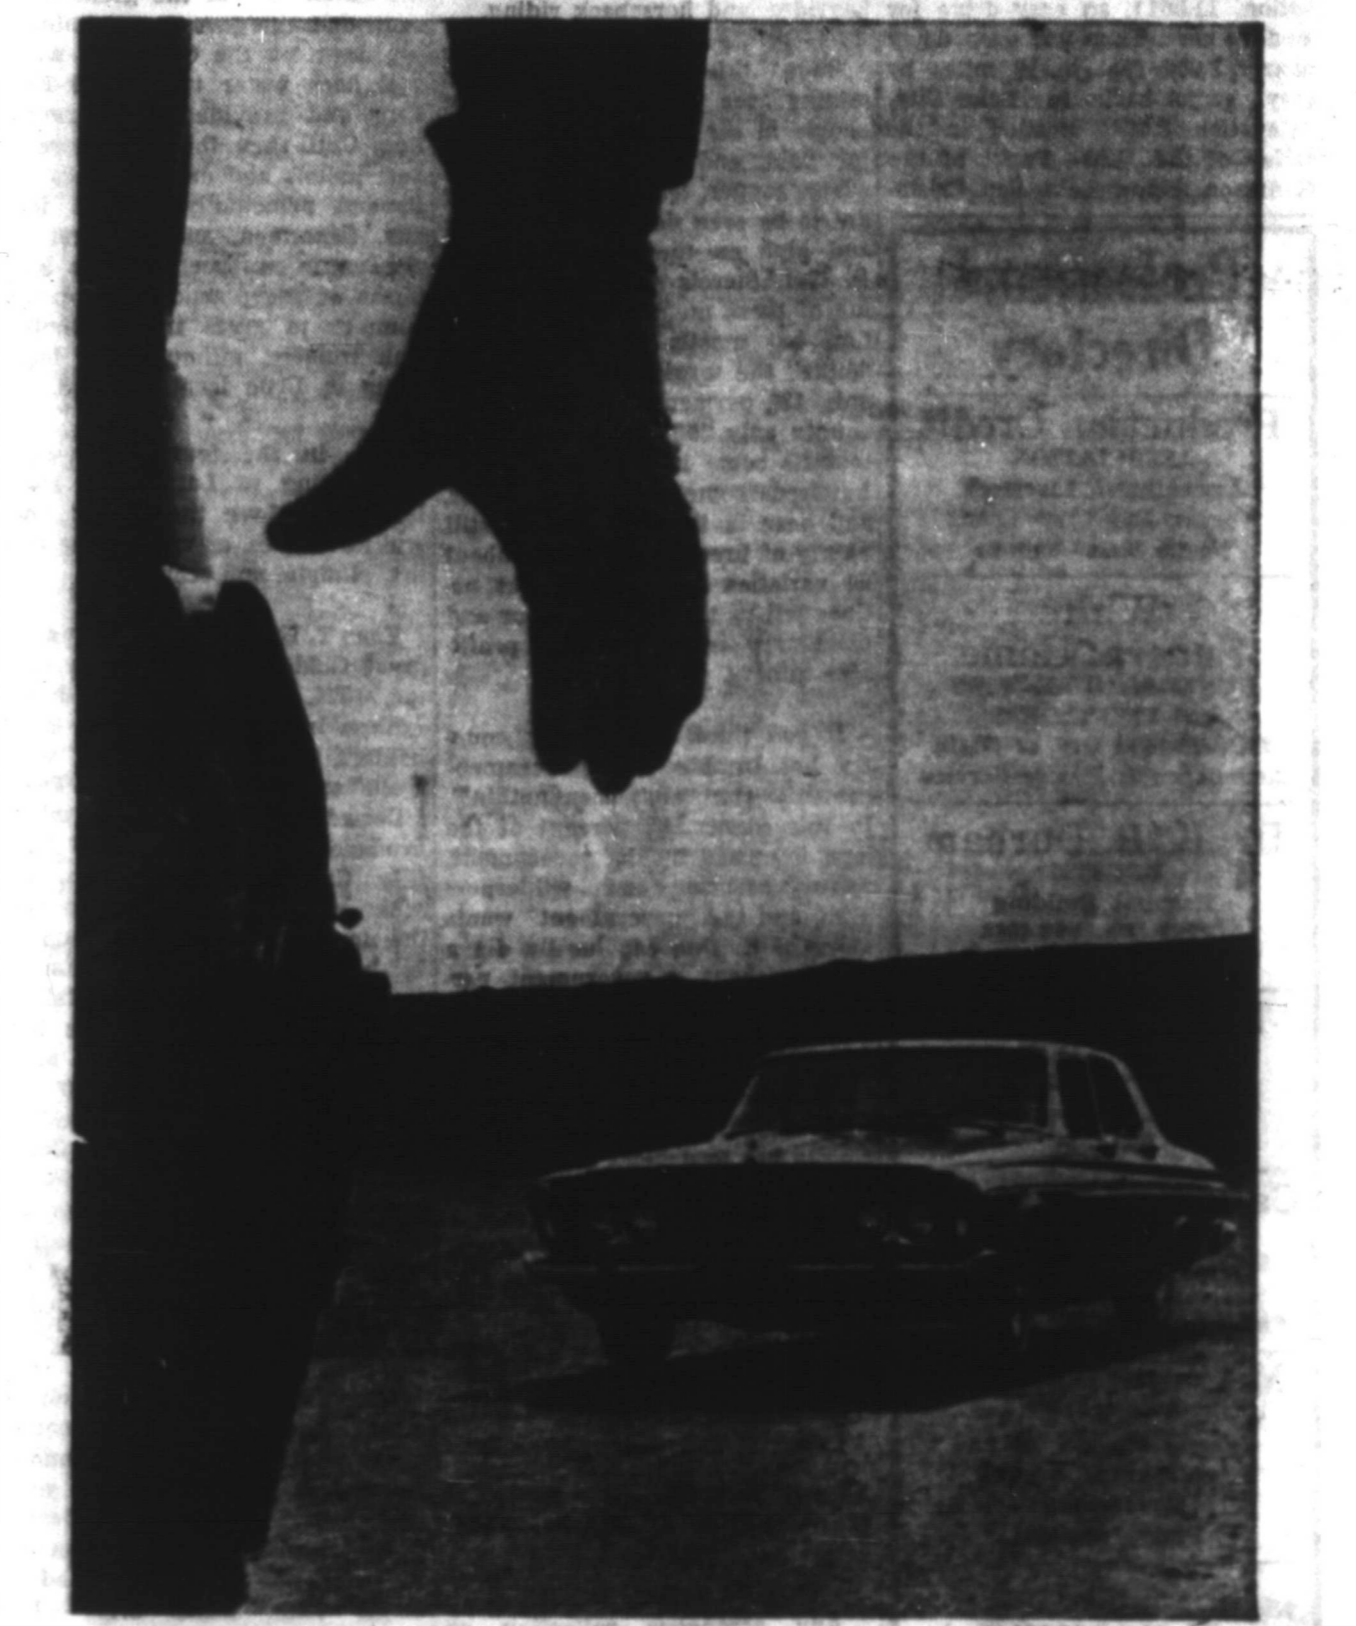

It was something I will never forget. Lenin has been dead thirty-nine years and there he is in a glass enclosure. He looks just like his picture. On top of the tomb is where they have the reviewing standing for Red Square. There must be room for about thirty people to stand.

We next took a tour of the Kremlin, which was not too much. There are sixty-five acres walled in, three or four old churches, a museum and two or three big office buildings. We only went through the museum and one church about five hundred years old. In Russian churches there is no place to sit down—everyone stands. I think most of the churches are closed. We asked our guide about that and she said that they are all atheists. (Continued next week)
