Only 1217 Poll Tax Payments Made To Date

On Wednesday morning only 1,217 voters in Lynn county had paid their poll tax, according to Tax Assessor and Collector George McCracken.

Poll taxes will only be available through January, and citizens have only two weeks to make themselves eligible to vote in the 1964 elections, which include national, state, county, city and school elections.

So far, sales of poll taxes is low for an election year. In 1950 when such were sold for the 1960 national elections, 3,061 Lynn county residents paid their poll taxes. In 1961, 2,340 obtained their rights to vote and in 1962, an off year, 1,845 paid their poll taxes.

There are five places in Lynn county where poll tax receipts may be secured. These include the county tax office in Tahoka, the New Home Co-Op Gin, Wilson Co-Op and Wilson school tax office, and the Moore Insurance Agency in O'Donnell.

Jan. 31 is also the deadline for payment of property taxes without penalty and interest being charged, McCracken reminds property owners.

Later, she helped organize a BP&W club in Tahoka, and was active in the Pythian Sisters.

In 1935, she went to Austin as secretary to Senator G. H. Nelson, also a former Tahokan. A short time later, Governor James V. Allred selected her as his secretary, following which she was personal secretary at the Governor's Mansion to Mrs. Allred. In this capacity she had the opportunity to meet such notables as Lyndon B. Johnson, now President, and Mrs. Johnson, President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Vice President John Nance Garner.

While in Austin, she did research work on the life of Sam Houston for filing in the Texas archives.

Curtis Morgan Asks Re-election

Curtis Morgan, county commissioner of Precinct 1, announces that he is a candidate for re-election subject to action of the Democratic Primary election.

Mr. Morgan says he has tried to serve all areas of the precinct and county fairly and justly, using good business judgment at all times, and trying to spread out the service as far as funds available would allow.

He says the finances of Precinct 1 were in good shape when he went into office and they are in good shape today. There is not a dime of indebtedness against the precinct. In fact, in spite of many demands on the precinct and county during his service as commissioner, some additional equipment has been bought and paid for, and the precinct now has better equipment for road work than ever before.

He says he has ever tried to handle the county's business in a conservative manner as he thinks the public would want.

Curtis, a resident of the old Garnolia community in the northeast part of the county, has lived in the county and precinct 47 years. During World War II, he served four years in the Army Airforce, three years overseas.

He invites each voter to give his candidacy careful consideration in the coming election.

Cold Weather Delays Harvest

Further delay for the wind-up of cotton harvest has been brought about by cold weather the past week, the temperature having dropped to a low of 5 degrees one morning and 9 another.

Only a few patches of cotton remain over the county, however, and some farmers have been running boll machines for limited periods. A few warm clear days will result in a completion of the harvest.

Water District Election Held

Elected Tuesday as northern Lynn county committeemen of High Plains Underground Water Conservation District were Hubert C. Teinert of Wilson, Precinct 1, and Oscar H. Lowery of New Home, Precinct 4.

They succeeded Earl Cummings of Wilson and Frank P. Liseby Jr. of New Home.

Mrs. W. C. Maeker conducted the election at Wilson and N. B. Hancock at New Home. All or part of 13 Plains counties are in the Water District. Approximately the north one-fourth of Lynn county is in the district.

A proposal to annex Swisher county to the district was rejected by voters in that county, who voted 264 to 191 against while voters in the other counties approved the annexation 649 to 79.

During the past year, the Water District issued 61 permits for wells in Lynn county up to December 1, 45 of which were drilled up to that time. Major purposes of the district are to conserve underground water and to regulate well spacing for best results.

Mrs. Cleve Cloer Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Cleve (Iry Lou) Cloer, 58, died Monday at about 2:30 a. m. in Tahoka Hospital, where she had been a patient for about 24 hours, apparently from a series of strokes.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in Sweet Street Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. Joe A. Webb, officiating. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Born at Lehigh, Oklahoma, on August 5, 1905, she moved with her parents as a child to New Mexico. She came to Lynn county in 1925 from Fort Sumner, N. M., and was married on April 24, 1936 at Post to Grover Cleveland Cloer. Mr. Cloer died of a heart attack here on March 29, 1962.

Mrs. Cloer was a member of the Baptist Church. She had no children.

Some time during Saturday night, Mrs. Cloer evidently got out of bed and fell in the floor, possibly the victim of a stroke. Some neighbors, hearing her call for help, broke into the house and found her.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Clara Bailey of Fort Sumner; one sister, Mrs. Lee Pennington, also of Fort Sumner; and three brothers, John Ed and Dave Bailey of Fort Sumner and Tracy Bailey of Santa Fe.

Rev. Gordon Smith Called As Pastor At Shallowater

Gordon Smith, Tahoka native and son of District Judge and Mrs. Truett Smith, has been called as pastor of First Baptist Church of Shallowater, a growing church which has a Sunday School attendance of 200 to 250.

He preached at morning and evening services there December 29, and last week was offered the pastorate. This will be his first full-time pastorate, and is considered unusual for such a young preacher just out of Seminary.

Gordon was ordained in a service Wednesday night at Ross Heights Baptist Church in Fort Worth by the pastor, Dr. Earl Allen, under whom he has been serving as assistant pastor. This Thursday night he is receiving his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth. His parents and sister, Carol, a student in Baylor University, were present for both ceremonies.

The young preacher was born in Tahoka, graduated from Tahoka High School in 1956 and from Baylor University in 1960, following which he entered the Seminary. His last semester in Baylor, he was associate to Rev. Chas. Welborn, pastor of the Seventh & James Street Church near Baylor University.

The year 1958 will remain an important date to him, because in that year he was licensed to preach in a service in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, and in the same year he was married to Miss Nancy White of Phillips. They have two children, Carla four and Gregory three.

Carl C. Spears In Race For Sheriff

Carl C. Spears, 56, well known Lynn county resident for 40 years, announces he is a candidate for the office of sheriff of Lynn county.

He is a member of Sweet Street Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge. He is married and has four sons.

Mr. Spears is a Democrat, and says he will appreciate a vote of confidence from any and all citizens. "I'll do the job to the best of my ability if I'm elected," he says. "And hope to see all you voters before election."

Mrs. Hattie Yates, 95, was admitted to Tahoka Hospital Wednesday where she is a medical patient.

Mrs. Wiley Curry was released from Tahoka Hospital Thursday of last week.

New Home's new high school building was completed this week except for a few minor details, furniture will be installed this week end, and classes may move to the building next week.

Some furniture is not here yet, but when this is received and details completed, an open house will be held for the public, possibly some time in February, says H. L. Miller, superintendent.

The new building, located at the northwest corner of the campus, the site formerly occupied by New Home Baptist Church, contains many of the latest ideas in school building construction and includes seven class rooms, two laboratories, a combination superintendent's office and board room, principal's office, and tax office, rest rooms, and a library arranged so it may be used also as a classroom and as a library for the elementary school.

Adjoining and attached to the new high school is a new, modern gymnasium.

Under the same building program, four classrooms were added last summer to the elementary building, a relatively new building erected in 1956.

Bonds in the sum of $256,000 were voted last spring for the project.

The old high school building will become a junior high school, the old gymnasium will be used by junior high, and the old brick New Home school will be retained in usable condition for transient pupils.

With a modern homemaking cottage erected in 1959, the improvements for vocational agriculture made in 1956, and a better football field, the plant is now complete in every detail and one to which school patrons can point to with pride, Mr. Miller thinks.

Frank Liseby is acting president of the board since E. M. Rudd moved away. Robbie Gill is the board secretary.

If present plans work out, the new gymnasium will be officially used for the first time Friday night of next week when New Home boys and girls play their old rivals, Meadow.

Lynn County Veterans Get GI Insurance Checks

(Special to The News)
New York, Jan. 11—Under a directive issued by President Johnson, some 206 of Lynn county's war veterans will be getting Government checks this month, based on their GI insurance.

They will be sharing in a $234,800,000 dividend payment that will be divided among veterans of World War I and World War II. Those who were involved solely in the Korean conflict will not participate, because of the type of insurance they hold.

The majority of the recipients are veterans who are covered by National Service Life Insurance, which was issued for World War II service. World War I veterans who hold U. S. Government Life Insurance policies are also eligible.

The payments are being made on an accelerated basis, before their due dates, as a stimulant to the economy. Normally, they would be paid on the anniversary dates of the policies.

The action by the President will affect 4,725,000 ex-service men, it was announced. Those who were in the first World War will get about $65 each. The others will receive nearly $50 apiece, the actual amount, in each case, depending on the size of the policy held.

The 206 in Lynn county who are to receive checks comprise about one-fifth of the veterans in the county. The total veteran population locally is 950, the latest official figures show.

Under the speed-up program, some $10,400 will be placed in the hands of local veterans this month.

It is expected that the distribution of this new money will generate added activity in local retail stores in the area equal to several times that amount because of the multiple effect caused by its circulation and re-circulation.

The Veterans Administration points out that these dividends are primarily a return to the veterans of a part of the premiums paid by them under their insurance policies.

The returns became possible because the death rate among ex-service men is running lower than was contemplated when the premium rates were set.

All checks should arrive not later than January 25th, the Veterans Administration states. It notes also that the preparing and mailing of the dividends is automatic and requires no application on the part of the veterans involved.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do. They want an advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends, they clip coupons for information and samples, they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales. Most people read—and then buy. Don't you!

Car Inspection Deadline April 15

Austin — The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Col. Homer Garrison Jr., today reminded Texas vehicle owners that the 1964 vehicle inspection deadline will soon be upon them.

He reported that some 60 percent of the allotted inspection period has elapsed and only 20 percent of the vehicles have been inspected.

"If this trend continues, vehicle owners can expect to have to wait in line in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline," he said.

Garrison pointed out that Texas experienced its worst traffic fatality record in 1963 and vehicle defects were involved in some of these fatal accidents. He urged all Texans to begin the new year with safe vehicles and to keep them safe throughout the year. He added that vehicles involved in traffic accidents should be re-inspected after repairs have been made.

"Some 5,000 official inspection stations over the state are waiting to inspect the four million vehicles which will have to be inspected by April 15," the DPS director said. "There can be no extension of time, and after the deadline date of April 15, vehicles which come under the provision of the Inspection Act which do not display the 1964 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law."

There are many insecticides that can be used on beef cattle but only a few that are safe for dairy cattle.

POPULATION TRENT

Projections on the population trends in Texas indicate the state will have 11.7 million residents by 1970. The state posted a gain of 24 percent in population from 1950-60, but it was not shared by all counties—143 lost population while 111 accounted for the increase. These and other facts regarding Texas population changes and related problems are pointed up by Dr. R. L. Skrabanek, Texas A&M University sociologist in a recently released publication, B-1000. Single copies are available from the Department of Agricultural Information, Texas A & M University, College Station.

It is estimated that 4 million acres of agricultural land in Texas would be improved by the application of agricultural limestone on an annual basis. Presently, only a fraction of the acreage is receiving lime.

Mitchell Williams scored nine and Allen Cox eight, but the Bulldogs held the Antelopes' high scorers to eight; made by Danny Odom, and seven by Danny Pierce and Morrow. Nita Wilson was high for the winners with 22 points while Lou Tomlinson made seven for Tahoka.

Linda Thomas burned up the basket with 24 points in the local win while Sharon Williams was high for the losers with 14.

Cox led Tahoka's scorers with 24 points and Williams added 10, but four Slaton boys hit in double figures, from 14 to 22 points each.

In the local team's final games, Shallowater won both, taking the boys by a 53-36 margin and the girls 38-20.

Allen McMenamy and Terry Smith each hit the basket for 19 points and Williams paced Tahoka with 11.

Selling a house generally is the biggest financial transaction faced by the average family, next to buying a new home. When the time comes to sell, the two most important considerations will be to sell it quickly and at the best possible price. Home economists suggest that home owners consider these points that can help to do both: Best time to sell, how to get the best price, how to determine the price, professional selling vs. self-selling, selecting a realtor, and the prospective buyer.

Bad News For Cotton Worms

Mission—Highly successful eradication measures, cold weather and the need to conserve funds have prompted screwworm eradication officials to cut the production of sterile screwworm flies by 50 percent.

An average of 70 million flies per week will be reared in the weeks ahead; production had been hovering near the 140 million per week mark during the fall. Eradication workers are confident this number will be sufficient to adequately treat those areas of Texas where native screwworms can survive the cold temperature.

The sterile flies, which are released by airplane over screwworm-infested territory, mate with native, fertile female flies, but no offspring are produced. Nearly six billion sterile flies were reared and sexually sterilized at the huge "fly factory" near Mission last year.

Eradication officials stated that the decrease in fly production, as well as a cut-back in personnel of nearly 175 employees, was made possible by a significant reduction in the number of screwworm infestations in the past month. At the time that the decision to hold back production was made, several weeks had elapsed with no cases being reported in any of the five states in the eradication area. Authorities also said that it is important to conserve funds now to insure that money is available to initiate emergency measures that may become necessary later in the season.

During 1963, producers in 182 Texas counties reported 4,916 screwworm cases; the previous year, 49,494 cases were detected in 242 counties. While this indicates a 90 percent decrease, officials feel reporting was so much more effective than during 1962 that an even greater degree of control may have been achieved than the totals indicate.

Chemical Weed Control Methods

College Station, Jan. 17—The use of chemicals for weed control continues to increase in popularity with cotton growers, reports Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The reason—their use saves both time and labor.

Recommended chemicals for use in 1964 have been listed by Elliott. Those for pre-emerge use are diuron, monuron, herbam and prometryne. Two materials which show much promise are recommended by the specialist on a trial basis. They are dacthal and treflan.

The recommended chemicals for use after the cotton is up include diuron plus surfactant and herbicidal oil. Recommended on a trial basis is prometryne plus a surfactant. Lateral oiling—from the stems treated standpoint—is the most widely used practice involving chemicals for weed and grass control, Elliott says.

Chemicals for spot oiling Johnsons grass are in wide use and those recommended for use in 1964 include naphtha, general contact weed oils or diesel oil fortified with C-66. Dalapon is also recommended for spot treatment use as a foliar spray on Johnsons grass.

Diuron hyby is the only chemical recommended for layby treatment, the specialist adds.

Flaming, which utilizes butane or propane gas for fuel, is also recommended as a weed and grass control practice. More than 3,300 flame equipped cultivators were used in 1962, says Elliott.

Rotary hoes are among the most popular mechanical devices for weed and grass control. When properly adjusted and operated, they do a fine job, relates Elliott.

It isn't too early to complete 1964 cotton production plans, advises the specialist. Only through careful planning, which includes grass and weed control, can production be made more efficient and give the grower the best possible income, reasons Elliott. He suggests a visit soon with the local county agent for the latest information on grass and weed control as well as other subjects on cotton production.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT IS HELD IN LUBBOCK

Several Tahoka duplicate bridge players were expected to participate in the "King Cotton" yearly bridge tournament this week end at the KOKO Palace in Lubbock, sponsored by the Llano Estacado Unit of the American Contract Bridge League.

Various events will be scheduled and defending champions of one, "Hailed Out" pairs, are Mrs. Meldon Leslie of Tahoka and Albert Hall of Abilene.

The event is one of the annual highlights for duplicate enthusiasts.

PROPERTY RIGHTS ARE IMPORTANT TO FREEDOM

John Chamberlain writes in The Freeman magazine.

"When Paul Elmer More, the American humanist, defended the property right some forty years ago as fully as important as the right to life, he offended a whole generation of young people who thought of him as a hard-hearted old reactionary. The history of the Western world since the Bolshevik Revolution, however, has served to indicate the humanity of Dr. More's position. When people are deprived of the property right, they live on sufferance—which means that they may not live at all."

MANY INJURED WALKING THROUGH GLASS DOORS

People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones, as the old adage tells us. And, according to the American Medical Association, they should also be aware that it's necessary to slide open the glass door before walking briskly through it to the patio.

An estimated 40,000 persons each year try to walk through glass doors, glass walls and picture windows. Almost 6,000 are injured so severely that they wind up in the hospital and some even die from the severe cuts and loss of blood.

Kind words never die—they just become victims of ingratitude.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Around 190 years ago a group of toughly clothed men in full dignity of the law rather ridiculous thesis, by upholding the so-called "agency shop" clause.

Earlier in the year the Supreme Court decided in full dignity of the law rather ridiculous thesis, by upholding the so-called "agency shop" clause.

This provides that unions may get employers to sign contracts which provide that if some of the employees do not want to belong to the union, that is all right. But, instead of having their paychecks clipped for union dues, they are merely assessed for "service fees" which the employer turns over to the union.

But inasmuch as Florida does have a right to work law, the non-union employees of Florida can go ahead with their jobs without having tribute exacted from their pay checks to go into a union treasury. Thus, in 19 states, workers are protected against this type of extortion. In the balance, they are subject to it, but only because their states have not as yet passed a right to work law. It would be nice if all states recognized states rights are needed to guarantee individual rights.

Meeting Called On Boll Weevils

Lubbock — Cotton Legislation and the High Plains boll weevil problem will be principal topics on the agenda at 10:30 a. m. on Wednesday, January 22 when directors of Plains Cotton Growers Association, Inc. meet at the Johnson House South, Lubbock.

A joint meeting of the Finance Committee and the Executive Committee will be held at 10:00 A. M. immediately preceding the Board meeting at 10:30 A. M. A report of that meeting will be given to the Board.

"The recent 'Acreage Diversion' proposal by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which could have a tremendous impact on the area economy, and the seriousness of the boll weevil problem make this one of the more important meetings to be held in recent years," said George W. Pfeifferberger, POG Executive Vice President, who urged that all directors make every effort to attend.

The boll weevil, which has never before been a threat to the High Plains, has made consistently deeper inroads into the area for the past three years. A program to stop this most costly of cotton insects from enveloping the entire High Plains will be under discussion.

WHY NOT HELP OURSELVES?

Gillespie, Ill. Area News: "The United States is a wealthy nation, but even a wealthy man can dissipate his wealth and die a pauper. We have spent billions of dollars to improve the world, but what is happening in our country? ... While bettering conditions abroad, or attempting to, our morals at home are sharply dropping, with an ever-growing crime rate. These range from high levels to petty thievery. There are murders and senseless beatings and maimings, rape of women and even little girls, many of these to be found in the Capitol City, even in the shadows of the Capitol Building. City streets are unsafe by night and often by day. . . Let's consider the United States for awhile. It is a great country—let's keep it that way."

THE LITTER PROBLEM

Centreville, Md., Record-Observer: "Careless littering is a national problem, but must be attacked on a unit level, with each county responsible for its own. Each piece of paper or can tossed aside is one more eyesore. It would be so easy to place this trash in a container for disposal."

Worm Program Changes Made

College Station — Two of the country's most destructive insects, the cabbage looper and cotton bollworm, have been successfully controlled by mass-produced insect viruses that are harmless to man.

Both insects are well known pests in Texas and as John Thomas, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service puts it, just ask any Texas cotton producer about their resistance to chemical controls.

Tests conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service, much of the work was done at the research center at Brownsville, indicate that early-season spray applications of virus will artificially induce epidemics and control the insects before they can damage crops, explains Thomas.

Work is now underway to determine timing, rates and frequency of application of the virus-

woman of the year at Muleshoe and recently had been elected 1964 president of Muleshoe Study Club. She was also active in the Methodist Church, many civic affairs, and was on the Bailey County Historical Survey committee.

Dr. Singleton died in the spring of 1945, and Mrs. Singleton died at Muleshoe in June of 1962.

She is survived by her husband; one daughter, Magann Lamb, a student in West Texas State University; and a brother, Dan Singleton of Lamesa, and a number of cousins and other relatives in O'Donnell.

Studies indicate only a small amount of insect virus material is needed for effective control. The scientists believe a man probably could hold enough powered cabbage looper virus concentrate on the nail of his finger to treat five acres. They also believe the looper and bollworm viruses can be produced at prices farmers can afford. But, adds Thomas, artificially produced viruses for insect control are still experimental materials and none are available for use by the public.

Research has established these points: both viruses are highly specific. One infects only the cabbage looper. The other bollworms and the closely related tobacco budworm. Both viruses are harmless to man, animals and plants. Fungi, bacteria, insect parasites or predators, and other natural enemies of the looper and bollworm are not harmed. Objectionable residues do not occur on treated crops; in fact, ineffective forms of the viruses occur naturally on crops attacked by these two insects.

Mrs. Margaret Sampson was released from Tahoka Hospital Saturday.

Spring, Texas. Arrangements for the adult shortcourses are made through Mr. Harris' office.

The shortcourse at New Home is scheduled to begin Jan. 20, 7:00 p. m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in this series will be held Jan. 21, 22, and 23. During the dates the shortcourse is in progress, Mr. Hamman will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Mr. Wilson.

Farmers interested in attending the shortcourse should write or call Mr. Don Smith, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Mr. Leonard W. Wilson. An entry fee of $2 will be charged. Insect control shortcourse certificates are to be presented to each farmer who attends all the training sessions.

Mr. Hamman states that these sessions will be adjusted to the problems that the farmers are faced with in the community. He will discuss these problems and the insect or insects that might be causing the damage and the insecticides needed to do the job. He will also discuss the timing and method of applying insecticides to get the best results. The course will be as practical and simple as possible. Time will be allowed each meeting for any questions that may arise.

"Shortcourses in insect control, as well as in other areas, are now available to farmers throughout the state under the new cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A. & M. College," states Bob Jaska, associate professor, department of agricultural education at Texas A. & M. College, who coordinates the program for Texas A. & M. "This cooperative program," states

Many Dates Important In Texas Politics This Year

Texas goes to the polls and to political conventions in 1964 to help nominate and elect officials from the President of the United States to precinct peace justice.

The spring campaigns are devoted to the nomination process through the Democratic and Republican primaries.

The county and state conventions of both parties will determine the makeup of Texas delegations to the national conventions during the summer. These delegations will have a voice in nominating candidates for the presidency and in forging party platforms.

The fall campaigns will lead to the grand finale, election day 1964 on Nov. 3.

Many dates are important to candidates, and others are vital to the general electorate. Some of the most important political dates, as governed by the Texas Election Code, are as follows:

Jan. 31—Poll taxes must be paid and exemption certificates must be obtained to vote in the primaries and general elections as well as other municipal and special elections between Feb. 1, 1964 and Jan. 31, 1965.

Feb. 3—The filing deadline for candidates who wish to have their names placed on Primary ballots.

Feb. 15—Last day for candidates to pay primary assessment costs to their county chairman.

March 2—First day to make application to county clerk to vote absentee by mail for the first primary.

March 16—County executive committee to determine by lot the order of candidates on the printed ballot, the hour and place of holding precinct conventions on primary election day, and the hour and place of the county convention, on May 9.

April 12-23—Absentee voting by personal appearance or by mail for first primary begins 20 days before election and continues through the fourth day preceding election.

May 2—First Primary Election. Candidates who receive a majority of the votes cast in their race will be party nominees. The two top vote-getters in races where no candidate obtains a majority will be voted on in the second primary.

May 2—Precinct conventions to elect county convention delegates.

May 9—County Convention to elect delegates to the state convention.

May 27-June 2—Absentee voting by personal appearance or by mail for second primary.

June 6—Second Primary Election. Completion of nominating process except for canvassing and contesting of vote outcome.

June 16—State Convention to meet to elect delegates to the national convention.

Sept. 4—First day to make application to county clerk to vote absentee by mail in the general election.

Sept. 15—State Convention to meet to adopt state platform for general election.

Oct. 14-30—Absentee voting by mail or by personal appearance for general election.

Oct. 24-26—Sworn statement of campaign expenditures must be filed.

Nov. 3—General Election day.

Dec. 14—Presidential electors convene in Austin to vote for President and Vice President of the United States.

January, 1965—Federal, state and local officials are sworn in on various dates to begin their terms of office.

Driver Loses License Under New Law On Motor Vehicle Responsibility Act

A provision in the amended Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act passed by the 58th Texas Legislature, became effective January 1, 1964, and imposes a specific duty to the sheriffs of Texas.

The revised law provides that when a person fails to comply with the provisions of the safety responsibility Act either his driver's license or vehicle registration plates, or both, have been suspended by the Texas Department of Public Safety, the DPS shall send a certified copy of the suspension order to the sheriff of the county of the person's last known address and the sheriff or a deputy shall immediately upon receipt of the order secure possession of the license or registration and return them to the DPS.

The sheriff will be notified of the suspension by copy of the order of surrender at the same time the individual is advised of the suspension.

In the order of surrender, the individual will be notified to "surrender, deliver or mail" his driver's license or registration receipts and plates, or both, directly to the DPS. The revised law provides that the DPS shall direct any peace officer to secure possession of these items and send them to the DPS.

Specific provision of the revised law require that the DPS send the certified copy of the order to the sheriff and it is mandatory that he or his deputy seize the items if the individual has not forwarded them to the DPS.

Interest in local politics has perked up the last few days, and prospects are there will be interesting contests for at least three of the offices this year.

On the state level the "bug" has bitten a number of would-be candidates, but for the top office (governor) most of the aspirants would be throwing away their time and money to run against Governor Connally. The right man would almost certainly give Senator Ralph Yarborough a lot of trouble, but top men seem hesitant to take the chance.

Nationally, there are several Republican aspirants who would like to get the nomination, but the best of them, whoever he might be, will have a rough time defeating President Lyndon B. Johnson, certain to be the nominee of the Democrats.

We don't agree with Mr. Johnson on a lot of things, but in some areas he has brought a refreshing "new look" to the national scene. For one thing, Mr. Johnson is more nearly a man of the people, a man of the soil. But what seems to have impressed so many is his drive for more economy in government, although he proposes immediate economies out of one side of his mouth and then proposes new programs that eventually may cost more money out of the other side. We'll just have to wait and see.

Mr. Johnson is trying, on the one hand, to be acceptable to the liberal wing of the party and at the same time have some appeal to the right wing. If he succeeds in moderately pleasing such widely divergent factions, he will become a political Houdini.

Ralph Duncan of Abilene, member relations man of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was in our office a few days ago, picked up a bunch of the Tahoka C. of C. brochures and commented that he thinks Tahoka is one of the cleanest, nicest towns in all West Texas—and he makes 'em all.

Speaking of traffic safety, Mr. Duncan said he thought he was a safe driver until a few days ago, and wondered if a lot of us don't get careless in our driving habits. His 15-year-old daughter had enrolled in a driver training course at school. He was transporting her to school, rolled up to a stop sign, and Daughter remarked, "Daddy, you just violated the law." And he replied, "Why, I stopped just like the sign said," and she replied, "Yes, but you let the car roll three feet past the restraining line." They drove on a few blocks, and the girl told him, "Daddy, you've broken the law five times in three blocks." She called attention to each of the so-called minor violations, and she was so shaken up she now refuses to let her own daddy drive her to school.

Dink Lyons, who settled at Rotan back about 1907, moved to Snyder in 1947, and on out to Tahoka a few years ago, used to know the late Judge R. C. Crane, then of Fisher county and later of Sweetwater. Charley Stewart knew him, too. Which reminds us of a little success story that may be of interest.

Judge and Mrs. Crane were prominent citizens of Sweetwater. The Printer knew them all; and their one son Royston was growing up at Sweetwater while The Printer was growing up at near-by Roscoe. Judge Crane wanted Royston to become a lawyer, like himself, but Royston had other ideas. He liked to draw pictures. He was also full of mischief and sort of rebelled against formal education, not a wholesome attitude but one which finally worked out for the good.

Sweetwater was to entertain Roscoe on the outdoor basketball court. Royston was sent out to mark off the court with lime and water. When he got through with lining the court, he had a bucket of lime water left, and in big letters down the side of the court wrote the words "To Hell With Roscoe." Again, Supt. Bright was teaching a class, and while he talked Royston drew his comic likeness on the blackboard. Finally, they kicked Roy out of high school.

Judge Crane was terribly disappointed, but sent Roy to Simmons University, where he likewise lasted only a short time. Judge then sent him to the University of Texas, and soon Royston was drawing cartoons to hang in the window of a store next to the campus. Only trouble, the cartoons lampooned University professors, and soon he was kicked out there.

Royston, the story goes, went to Galveston, got a job stoking coal on a tramp steamer, and over a period of a year or two made ports in China, Borneo, Java, Sumatra, Burma, India, and finally Germany and other countries. Finally, back in the U. S. at New York, the only job he could find was one stoking the furnaces deep in the basement of a big office building. But, he had received some inspirations.

Two or three times he sought to enter the office of the publisher of one of the big New York daily newspapers to seek a job or sell them some cartoons. Finally he actually sneaked into one of the offices, covered with coal dust, offered some cartoons of a serious nature, but was thrown out by physical force. As he was being bodily carried out, he called out to the newspaper executive "One day you'll pay heavily for my cartoons."

He began mailing this publisher cartoons daily. One day one was published. Soon, they began to come out regularly. Detectives were put out to find the young man, which they did, and when he was hailed before the publisher Roy told him "You'll have to pay well for them." Finally, he named a price he thought was exorbitant, maybe $40 a week, and the publisher snapped him up.

Then, he got the idea for Wash Tubbs and Captain Easy, a comic strip which immediately became popular, and he left the newspaper for King Feature Syndicate. Later he took on a partner, still later sold the cartoon rights to this partner, Leslie Turner, a former Wichita Falls boy, and today Roy Crane draws the Buz Sawyer cartoon strip.

We've always suspected Roy (we knew him as Royston) was picturing some of his own experiences in Wash Tubbs, and we know that tramp freighter trip has been the basis for both the comic strips he originated. We sometimes think we recognize other characters. Sometimes when he draws a dinky little train, he puts RS&P (Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific) on the engine tender.

Judge and Mrs. Crane finally had reason to be proud of their son. We just thought the story would interest a few readers.

Eckie and Pauline Nevill of San Pedro, Calif., send New Year's greetings to all old friends and write: "We surely enjoy the News and can keep up with what is happening there. We're so very proud of progress of buildings. Naturally, we like everyone, hate to hear of so many passing away."

Mrs. Pearl Calloway of Abilene also relays best wishes to all her friends, and greetings also came from David Bray, Rotary Foundation scholar, studying for a year at Oxford University in merry old England.

Mrs. Kenneth Mires, Redondo Beach, Calif., writes: "We enjoy reading all the home town news. We were back in Tahoka to spend Christmas with my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams, and were glad to be at home once more."

Toward the end of the Civil War the Confederate dollar was worth two cents in gold.

A tribute to our funeral directors.

I have been prompted by recent books published and magazine articles I have read to speak up for two fine people who live in our community.

I appreciate some of the information gained from "The High Cost of Dying," by Ruth M. Hamer and "The American Way of Death" by Jessica Mitford, but

I want the world to know that in Tahoka, Texas there are funeral directors who are not "hypocritical racketeers in black" nor "gimmick-merchants" playing on the emotions of grief stricken families.

Billie and Martin White are truly kind, considerate, compassionate, reverent family friends in time of need. Their personal contact with people in time of sorrow is genuine and sincere, showing that their work is not just a job, but a MISSION in life—a way to serve others.

As a pastor, my contact with Mr. and Mrs. White has been a rewarding one. They have been helpful and understanding, always remembering, and trying to lift the burdens of sorrow for those they serve.

I would like to say thank you

Billie and Martin, for the unselfish, untiring service rendered to the people of our community. Signed, Rev. Joe A. Webb, pastor Sweet Street Baptist Church, Tahoka, Texas.

HELP FOR RUSSIA

Rosholt, S. D., Review: "First they were hungry, so we prepared to feed them. Now they are thirsty, so we will have to give them drink. In the first case it was wheat—now the Russians say that their vodka supplies are mighty low and they want to buy our potable alcohol—so they won't lack their favorite drink... In the case of the Russians, we wonder what will happen when the communists are driven to sample the vodka of free enterprise."

Mexican-U. S. Relations Improving, Speaker Says

Recent developments have greatly improved relations between the United States and Mexico and these relations should continue to improve, Frank Gonzalez, Lubbock businessman, a native of Mexico, and a leader in the Lubbock "Project Good Neighbor," told Tahoka Rotarians in a talk before the club last Thursday.

He said the tragic circumstances which brought Lyndon B. Johnson into the presidency has its good side in that Mr. Johnson has close ties with Mexico, being from Texas, a friend of the Mexican people, a frequent visitor to that country, and a personal friend of President Lopez Mateos.

Another thing that has improved U. S.-Mexican relations is the settlement of the Chamizal issue, a matter of principle that has long been a sore spot to Mexicans, to whom national prestige is so important.

He thinks Anglo-Americans need a better understanding of Mexico and its peoples, although the two countries are now enjoying a neighborly feeling such as they have never had before.

Gonzalez said the incoming president is a conservative, a churchman, a believer in democracy, a man who should have a friendly attitude toward the U. S., and may even break off relations with Cuba.

There is only one major party in Mexico, and the president for the coming term is already selected. There are so many Communists in the country, it has been hard for the government to fight them openly, a fact Anglo-Americans have trouble understanding. There are weekly airline flights from Castro's Cuba to Mexico, and most of our communications with the Communist island are through Mexico.

Mexico's economy is improving, and trade with the U. S. has risen to about one billion dollars annually. One help to the economy, and also to international understanding is the growing tourist trade from the U. S., 800,000 having visited Mexico from the U. S. in 1963.

To understand Mexico, one must consider the country's background. Democracy is a new idea there, and free enterprise is relatively new.

For a thousand years, Mexico was under a virtual dictatorship, the Aztecs and Mayas, whose governments were virtually true Communism, then under the iron fist of Spain. Mexico has had independence only since 1910, and has been slow in developing true independence.

Indians still don't know what it is to own land, to have much of a voice in affairs, and even today 65 percent of the farming is collective farming, similar to that in Russia. There is some very modern farming, but it's hard to wean the Indians away from collective farming, a peasant system they have been under for hundreds of years. In such a climate, it's easy for the Communists to sell their ideas to these people.

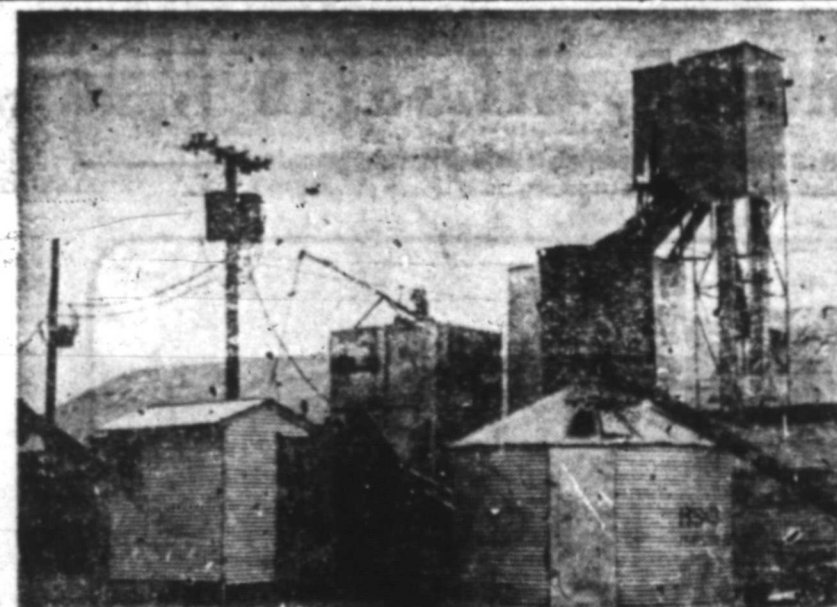

Recent efforts of South Plainsmen to improve relations with Mexico are the type that pay off, he declared. Mexicans have been brought here to inspect South Plains farming, and livestock are being sent to Mexico 4-H youths. He told of a recent visit by a group of Mexican teachers to the

As everyone knows, the American silver dollar bears the inscription, "In God We Trust." Presumably this legend will remain for some time unless the Supreme Court gets around to deciding that this, too, is too much of a religious manifestation.

And if the Supreme Court ever gets around to this, it would perhaps be well to consider reverting to the inscription that was carried on some of the C. W. Harder first dollars minted. These minted around 1790 carried the inscription, "Mind Your Business." These old coins are now rare museum pieces. Neither is there extant much background why this motto was used.

But it was used during a time when the American people and government shared one burning belief. They realized what they had fought to achieve, and fervently believed if they worked together to promote the best interests of the United States of America, life would be good.

However, the path of the American people was diverted to mindless everybody else's business, with the result that more than $100 billion has been dissipated in foreign give aways.

Still to be solved is the loss of the U. S. gold supply. Today, with only $154 billion in gold left in reserve, of which $12 billion must back the currency, there are dollars in foreign hands which could result in claims on U. S. gold for $20 billions. Like old Mother Hubbard when she went to the cupboard, the cupboard is bare.

Yet in 1955, even after the tremendous financial drain of World War II, and Korea, the U. S. still had 99% of the world's gold supply. Where has this gold gone? Just glancing at the gold reserves of a few nations that have shared in the frantic U. S. foreign give away programs yields an answer.

Between 1955 and 1961 the gold reserves of France jumped approximately 250%, of Germany 400%, of Italy 650%. There is no reliable information on what gold reserves there are in Vietnam, in Cambodia, in Congo, and so on down the long list where American dollars have been poured like sap out of Vermont maples on a warm March day.

Thus, it is an understatement to say that the greatest single problem facing the American Republic today is recapturing an adequate gold reserve.

There has been much made of the fact that the gold outflow rate has been slowed down. The most recent report indicates U. S. is losing gold in millions of dollars instead of billions. There are some attempts made to point to this as an encouraging sign, but this still glosses over the fact that the U. S. is not only steadily losing gold, it is also failing to increase its reserves.

This Pollyanna reasoning is much the same as would occur if a doctor cheerily told his patient "You'll be glad to know you will not die of cancer, instead, you are just slowly bleeding to death."

AUTOMATION AND JOBS
 Norwalk, Conn., Hour: "Automation has been called many things, from the prime mover to civilization to job scourge, but a University of Pennsylvania professor has added another euphemism to its collection. It is, says Dr. James Charlesworth, a generator of barren boredom. Perhaps utopia has indeed arrived when political scientists fret over the effect of too much leisure on the public, but the fact remains Americans and members of other advanced societies have given the appearance in recent years of children lost in a department store toy department."

Talk is never cheap when you have to take some of it back.

Wayland Plans Homecoming

Plainview (Spl) - Superstitious or not, several hundred alumni of Wayland Baptist College here are expected to gather for 13th annual Homecoming festivities on Feb. 14-15, according to Dr. W. Neil Record, executive secretary of the Association of Former Students and assistant to the WBC president.

High on the list of alumni attractions is the traditional selection of the Coming Home Queen to be chosen this year from the Honor Class of 1944. A drama production, basketball games, class reunions, and a baby parade are on the agenda. Additional events are also being planned.

Special reunions for the classes of 1914, 1924, 1934, 1944 and 1954 are scheduled for the afternoon of Feb. 15 with a mass reunion also tentatively on the agenda, according to Dr. Record. The annual business session will be that afternoon also when officers are elected and plans formed for the new year. Current president is Vernon Stokes, Plainview. Members of the Board of Directors whose terms expire this year are Jack Jeter, Happy, Mrs. Lillian Shelton, Harrah, Abernathy, and George James, Plainview. Other board members are Lynn Rhoderick, Aiken; Bill Webb, Borger; and Edna Windelhen Thomas, Plainview.

The Coming Home Queen will be presented at the chapel program planned by the Association for Feb. 14, in Gates Hall Auditorium, and also at the annual Homecoming dinner for exes the following day.

The annual parade of Future Pioneers, all under five years of age, will be followed by a barbecue on Feb. 15.

To lead off the weekend's activities will be production of "The Rock" by the drama department and double basketball games when the WBC Hutherson Flying Aces will meet the Topeka Boosters and the Pioneers will play the Indians from Midwestern University.

WE CAN DO BETTER
 Riverton, Wyo., Ranger: "It shouldn't take the sacrifice of a President to jolt people out of slovenly ways. But since the President has been slain, let us hope that the decay has been purged from the soul of America and that the new national resolve to do better will be long-lived."

First steam railroad was in 1830 between Baltimore and Ohio.

CHEVY-VAN!

Chevrolet's new low-cost quality delivery truck!

This introduces you to Chevy-Van—our new economy delivery truck. It has a low price tag, over 40 sq. ft. of completely usable flat floor 7 1/4 ft. long, the engine up front, and a lot of quality features which make it a better buy. The body and frame-floor are welded together. The truck is strong, rigid, stable. Doors are double-wall construction.

Chevy-Van has unusual resistance to rust and corrosion. Especially vulnerable areas such as front stepwells are galvanized. Sealers are used at all critical joints inside and out. Certain sections are treated with high-zinc-content primers; others with an aluminum-wax preservative.

The windshield is a big flat practical one-piece unit. The big 90-hp 4-cylinder standard engine is more powerful than some 6s, yet is remarkably economical. If you need more power, Chevy-Van offers a 120-hp six, at extra cost. Side doors and rear windows also cost extra.

Last but not least, it's a Chevrolet. Which means that it is built to work for you a long time at minimum cost.
