Top Program For Annual C-C Banquet On Tuesday Night

An evening of fun is in store for those attending the annual Farmer-Businessman banquet of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the newly enlarged school cafeteria.

Tickets are $2.00 per person and may be obtained at either drug store, the Chamber of Commerce office, The News, or any officer or director.

Lamesa's widely acclaimed Slumtown Symphony, made up of teachers and businessmen, will present a program of music, songs, and comedy. The group features three teachers, a bank president, three business men, and a mechanic. They say they may even bring along the Beatles.

The popular entertainers have appeared in many towns over West Texas and have a program which runs nearly an hour without interruption.

As in the past, an award will be presented the "conservation farmer of the year," whose identity will be made public at the meeting; and the school essay winners on the subject of "Conservation."

New president and directors of the Chamber of Commerce will also be inducted at the meeting by Turner Rogers, outgoing president. Calloway Huffaker will serve as master of ceremonies.

In the past, the Chamber has been unable to accommodate all those desiring to attend the annual banquet, but this year fully fifty more people can be seated.

Farmers and their wives are especially welcome, as are also town people and C. of C. members and wives. All are urged to secure their tickets as quickly as possible.

In a meeting Monday night, Tahoka Chamber of Commerce directors elected a new president to be announced at next Tuesday night's banquet and made final plans for the affair, under direction of President Turner Rogers.

Arrangements will be made next Wednesday for a visit from a group of Lubbock business and civic leaders at some later date in Tahoka with local business and civic leaders.

Harold Roberts reported on progress of the study being made of a proposed Community Chest for Tahoka.

The stock shows and some other projects were also discussed. The board voted to have another 5,000 copies of the Tahoka brochure printed in the near future.

Progress Noted On Screwworms

Mission—The screwworm eradication program has just completed its second full year of operation on a highly successful note, and even more favorable results are expected in the year ahead.

Only one screwworm infestation has been reported in the five-state eradication area since January 1.

The massive eradication project, which involves the release of millions of sexually-sterile flies that disrupt the insect's reproductive capability, was begun on February 14, 1962.

Since then, more than eight billion screwworm flies, reared in a huge plant near Mission and sterilized through exposure to an atomic energy source, have been released by airplanes in screwworm-infested areas of the Southwest. This technique, along with preventive measures used by farmers and ranchers, has reduced screwworm incidence by more than 99 percent, entomologists say.

With the decrease in infestations in the United States, eradication workers are turning their attention to activities along the border between the U. S. and Mexico. A large portion of the sterile flies will be dispersed in a strip along the border extending from the Gulf of Mexico to a point below the state of Arizona. This barrier is to prevent fertile screwworm flies from migrating out of Mexico and reinfesting the Southwest.

Although screwworm infestations have become a rare occurrence in Texas, eradication workers insist that it is still important for livestock producers to be alert for screwworms in their livestock. Until the barrier has been completely established and thoroughly tested, the possibility will exist that a fertile screwworm fly could migrate into the Southwest from Mexico, they say.

Wink Winner In Final Contests

The Tahoka Bulldog basketball team closed out its season here last Friday night bowing to Wink 94-39. The visiting "B" team edged out a 47-45 victory.

The season ended with Tahoka having a 4-6 record in conference play, but with the loss of only one senior, fans are looking forward to prospects of a different story next year.

The Bulldogs took a 15-6 first quarter margin but cooled off after that period and the score was tied 25-25 at the halfway mark. Wink went ahead in the third stanza 37-30 before pulling further away in the last quarter.

Allen Cox and Mitchell Williams each made 10 points for Tahoka. King Herring paced his team with 19 points and Billy Jenkins scored 13.

The "B" game saw Tahoka in the lead until the last quarter with the score standing at 16-8, 33-24 and 38-37 before Wink barely won by two points.

Jerry Jolly and Dean Hamilton pitched in 13 and 11 points, respectively for the local squad. Wink was led by Howard's 17 and Creek's 11.

The above will meet tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock in the City-Region building to elect officers from the board.

MYF Program On Race Relations

MYF met at 5:30 p. m. Sunday, January 16, for the program, which was presented by Sharon Patterson. The program was the last of a two-part series of programs presented by Sharon, and it was entitled "The Christian and Human Relations." The series was concerned with race relations; how they pertain to the Christian and what his reaction to the vital problem should be.

It was decided that, because all men are created equal, no race is "superior" to another, and while one race, perhaps in the majority would not care to mix with a minority race, the minority race, in most cases, has no more desire to mix with the majority race.

After a period of recreation, which will begin at 5:00 p. m. Sunday, the 23rd, Mrs. V. F. Jones, Maria Bray, and Chloie Jan Huffaker will present an enlightening program on Prayer, and its importance today.

The MYF cordially invite any and all youth of high school age from the surrounding area to attend this, and any other programs, in the hope that the lesson will bring a very interesting and informative experience.

LOCAL PYTHIAN SISTERS REMEMBER FOUNDER'S DAY

In observance of the Pythian anniversary, Mrs. Guion (Gladys) Cobb, has submitted the following:

In February there is a day and date which should head the list of days when Pythians are thankful—that day—February 19. It is the day that we were given the gift of Pythianism. It was on February 19 that Justus H. Rathbone and his friends brought into being the wonderful Order of Knights of Pythias—based on brotherhood of man and true friendship. This is the first fraternal organization chartered by the United States Government.

The Human Touch
Tis the human touch in this world that counts,
The touch of your hand and mine,
Which means far more to the fainting heart,
Than shelter and bread and wine;
For shelter is gone when the night is o'er,
And bread lasts only a day,
But the touch of the hand and the sound of the voice
Sing on in the soul always.

A proposal to amend the Federal Meat Inspection Regulations to permit use of smoke flavoring in curing additional meat products has been made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The amendment would permit addition of smoke flavoring and artificial smoke flavorings to a greater variety of meat products than present regulations allow. Identification of both types of flavorings will be required on the labels of products to which they are added, industry spokesmen report.

$10,200 Month Is Spent Monthly On Public Aid

(Special To The News)
New York, Feb. 17.—How much is being spent each month in Lynn county for public assistance? How does the local aid program compare with that in other parts of the country?

Answers to these questions are now possible, thanks to breakdown figures that have just become available, for the first time, in a Government report. It was issued by the Bureau of Family Services.

It shows the proportion of people being helped and the size of that help in every section of the United States.

Data is given on the three major subsidy programs that are being operated by the states with local funds, augmented by Federal aid. They are old-age grants, aid to families with dependent children and aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

The report emphasizes the state and local nature of each of them, as well as the wide range in number of people helped and the size of payments as between the various states and within each state.

In Lynn county, it is shown, old-age assistance is going to 181 men and women, out of a total population of 830 in the over-65 age bracket.

On the average, they are getting checks in the amount of $54 a month. This compares with $73 per month throughout the United States.

The second largest program provides assistance for needy families with dependent children who are under the age of 18. Nationally, nearly a million families are receiving such help.

Of the 4,552 children locally who are under 18, the number being aided is 23.

Payments are going to them at the rate of $13 per child, as against the national average of $31.

The third program, which provides assistance for persons between 18 and 65 who are permanently and totally disabled, affects three locally out of a total of 3,532 who are between those ages.

Their monthly payments come to $58. Elsewhere across the country, the average is $71.

The total amount being expended in Lynn county for such types of aid is approximately $10,200 a month.

Death Of O'Donnell Man Ruled From Natural Causes

A Lubbock pathologist's report was that Felipe Eledesma's death at his home in O'Donnell on Sunday night, Feb. 9, was by natural causes attributed to heart trouble, according to County Attorney Harold Green.

An autopsy was performed earlier by a Lamesa physician.

Eledesma, 47, died after being involved in an altercation at a cafe in O'Donnell when he was "stomped" by his assailant. He went home and died about 15 minutes later. His wife, Maria Eledesma, granted permission for the autopsy.

More Uses For Stretch Cotton

College Station—By spring, men will be wearing stretch cotton shirts and slacks, fabric industry leaders predict.

There should be a variety of men's clothing made from the new all-cotton stretch fabrics by fall. The fabrics, developed by U. S. Department of Agriculture utilization research, were used initially for women's and children's wear, says Reba Merle Boyles, extension clothing specialist.

The stretch-cotton invasion of the men's wear field is just beginning, however, leaders say. Two companies will market dress shirts made of cotton oxford cloth this spring, and a third manufacturer will market men's slacks in cotton stretch fabrics.

Dozens of other firms are testing fabrics for use in men's socks, sport shirts, sport jackets and hunting jackets, as well as shirts and slacks.

Farm Labor Meet Next Thursday

Farm Labor Day has again been scheduled in Tahoka, to assist farmers and rancher in locating suitable workers for the coming year.

Joe Spears, in charge of the local office in Brownfield, announced that these meetings will be held in the basement of the courthouse in Tahoka, beginning Thursday, Feb. 27, from 1:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m., and each Thursday thereafter until further notice.

Preparation for this year's crop indicates an increased need for tractor drivers and farm hands. Mr. Spears states that a number of local workers are available, and will probably be present for personal interviews.

There is no charge to employer or worker for this service, and no obligation is assumed by either party. Spears added that this is simply an effort to bring interested parties together at a central point where problems of employment can be resolved.

CHARLES FULKERSON

Odessa Honors Chas. Fulkerson

Charles Fulkerson, 32, of Odessa, who grew up in Tahoka, was named "Engineer of the Year" by the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers at an annual banquet at Ranchland Hills Country Club in Midland Saturday.

The award, a large bronze plaque, was presented by State President Kenneth Esmond "in recognition of his services and professional achievement." Speaker for the occasion was Bill Murray of Austin, former chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Fulkerson was recently named one of three outstanding young men in Odessa for 1963, and was subject of a feature in the Odessa American. He was named-out for the Distinguished Service Award of that city by another young man.

Both Charles and his wife, the former Miss Dorothy Foster, graduated from Tahoka High in 1948. They were married in 1952 at the beginning of his last year in college. He is a 1953 Texas Tech engineering graduate. They have two children, David 8, and Wendy 4.

Charles is district manager for Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

During 1962, he was president of the Permian Basin chapter of Texas Society for Professional Engineers, given the first award from this organization as "outstanding president," and increased membership 20 percent. He heads a committee which screens young men of the area for engineering scholarships.

Fulkerson is a leader in his church, has been chairman of the board of stewards at St. Luke's Methodist Church, chairman of the finance commission two years, Youth Division superintendent two years, and lay leader.

Active in American Business Club, he is its past president, now a member of the board, and has been active in promoting Little League and Pony League, sponsored by ABC.

He has also been a leader in the Chamber of Commerce, is a member of its speakers bureau, and has served as team captain in the Community Chest Drive.

Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fulkerson of Tucson, Ariz., formerly of Tahoka. His wife, Dorothy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Foster of Kingland, on Granite Shoals Lake, formerly operator of Wayside store north of town.

Charles and family live at 1216 Alpine in Odessa.

Mystery Boy!

The young man pictured on the front page is Wayman Smith's little brother, Wilmer, taken back in the days of 10 cent cotton. Now that Wilmer has gotten "up in high cotton," Wayman thinks the picture will be of interest to our readers.

After turning the picture over to The News, Wayman, accompanied by his wife, took off to Arizona to visit their son, Billy Gene, and family at Phoenix—probably so he wouldn't be present when Wilmer gets this week's issue of The News. Mrs. Smith said she would try to keep Wayman out there until planting time. There were to be naturalization ceremonies for Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Smith's two adopted children.

Little Juanita Arellano, on her 41st day Wednesday, weighed three pounds and two ounces. She was Lynn county's New Years baby, born prematurely in Tahoka Hospital and weighing two pounds, seven ounces at birth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Murphy of North Little Rock, Ark., left Thursday after having visited here several days with Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Wood. They are Mrs. Wood's parents.

Claudia Stoker of Wilson was an overnight medical patient in Tahoka Hospital Saturday night.

Clarence Cook entered Tahoka Hospital Sunday as a medical patient and was released Monday.

Mrs. A. E. Griffith Bates of Oak Ridge, Tennessee, has never seen Tahoka or Lynn county. But, last week, she sent a check to the new Methodist Church building fund in memory of the late Mrs. Henry (Lula) Douthitt. Mr. Douthitt explains Mrs. Bates is a friend of their daughter, Mrs. Clinton (Eva) Walker, who lives in Oak Ridge. The Douthitts had met her on a couple of visits with their daughter and family in Tennessee.

There's more than three-quarters of a million dollars in construction underway in Tahoka right now, including three big projects and a few homes. The big projects are the $550,000 high school and building improvements, the $185,000 Methodist Church, and the $125,000 housing project for the elderly.

Mayor Meldon Leslie thinks the new paved runway at Tahoka Airport will be of more value to farmers of the county than anyone else, since it will afford a safe place for crop-spraying planes to land. He says this would be a good time for some street paving at a reasonable figure. In fact, one block has already been signed up in the Roberts addition. We doubt if there are many towns in West Texas which have as many miles of street paving as does Tahoka, but there are still streets that need paving.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kinslow operate Kinslow Laundries at 2919 S. Nelson in Amarillo. They write that they look forward each week to getting The News.

Mrs. Ben Moore of O'Donnell says she doesn't regret it now, but the establishment of O'Donnell cost her a college education. When the railroad was being built in 1910 and the new town established, her father, the late H. E. Baldrige, one of the county's first settlers and also a member of the first commissioners court, was associated with Charley Deak, Charley Brown, and T. J. O'Donnell, the group which promoted the railroad and the new town. When the organizers ran into financial difficulty, Mr. Baldrige came to the rescue, sold a half-section of land, and O'Donnell became a reality. But, the Baldrige family had to "tighten up its belt."

and Mrs. Moore didn't get to go to college. Today, she has a lot of satisfaction in her own mind in knowing the action resulted in the organization of the town and that her father was a man of foresight and integrity.

Bill Warren brought us a copy of the Pontotoc (Miss.) Progress, which has a full page story of the Battle of Manassas during the Civil War. Bill was raised at Pontotoc and knew personally as a kid all the people mentioned in the story, which is a graphic account of the times.

Edgar Hays in The Lockney Beacon:

Strange as it may seem, it looks like the national administration is really serious about their economy moves. We don't know why the government big-wigs haven't thought of it before. Goodness knows it's been hammered on enough and brought to their attention enough to make an impression on someone but this is the first serious effort toward economy in government since the depression as far as our memory goes. Look at these events: The Department of Labor first asked for 1500 additional jobs but now has started cutting jobs from their present total. Last year Congress gave the defense department 52.5 billion dollars and this year the Department asked for only 52.4 billion. Present plans call for elimination of 16,000 military and 2,500 civilian jobs in this Department. Who knows? Maybe sanity has returned.

An easterner was being driven by a rancher over a blistering and almost barren stretch of West Texas when a large brightly colored bird scurried across the road in front of them. The visitor asked what it was.

"That's a bird of paradise," said the rancher.

"Pretty long way from home, isn't he?" remarked the visitor.

Where Are Your Civil Rights?

The so-called Civil Rights Act of 1963 (S-731 or HR 7152) if approved, will affect all American citizens. The Minority Report filed by E. E. Willis, E. L. Forrester, W. M. Tuck, Robert T. Ashmore, John Lowdy, Basil L. Whitener, reads in part as follows: "If the proposed legislation is enacted, the President of the United States and his appointees—particularly the Attorney General—would be granted the power to seriously impair the following civil rights of those who fall within the scope of the various titles of this bill:

1. The right of freedom of speech and freedom of the press concerning 'discrimination or segregation of any kind' at any establishment or place, as delineated in the bill (secs. 202-203).
2. The right of homeowners to rent, lease, or sell their homes as free individuals (secs. 601-602).
3. The right of realtors and developers of residential property to act as free agent (secs. 601-602).
4. The right of banks, savings and loan associations and other financial institutions to make loans and extend credits in accordance with their best judgement (secs. 601-602).
5. The right of employers to hire or discharge any individual and to determine 'his compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment' (title VII).
6. The seniority rights of employees in corporate and other employment (title VII, title VI via sec. 711 (b)).
7. The seniority rights of all persons under Federal civil service (sec. 711 (a)).
8. The seniority right of labor union members within their locals and in their apprenticeship programs title VII, title VI via sec. 711 (b)).
9. The right of labor unions to choose their members, to determine the rights according to their members, and to determine the relationship of their members to each other (title VII, title VI via sec. 711 (b)).
10. The right of farmers to freely choose their tenants and employees (title VI and title VII).

11. The right of farm organizations to choose their members, to determine the rights accorded to their members, and the relationship of their members to each other (title VI and title VII).

12. The right of boards of trustees of public and private schools, and colleges to determine the handling of students and teaching staffs (title IV, title VI, title VII).
13. The right of owners of inns, hotels, motels, restaurants, cafeterias, lunchrooms, soda fountains, motion picture houses, theaters, concert halls, sports arenas, stadiums and other places of entertainment to freely carry on their businesses in the service of their customers (title II, title VI, and title VII).

14. The right of the States to determine the qualifications of voters in all Federal elections and many State elections (title I).

15. The right of litigants to receive evenhanded justice in the Federal courts; this legislation places civil rights litigants (particularly the Attorney General) in a special category with preferences and advantages not afforded parties in any other form of litigation (sec. 101 (d), title IX).

Electrical Talk At Rotary Club

"Electricity powers progress" was the theme of a talk in observance of National Electrical Week last Thursday by Bob Brumal, Lubbock, division manager of Southwestern Public Service Company, at Tahoka Rotary Club.

Seventy-five years ago, the speaker says, the head of our National Patent Office threatened to resign because "there was nothing left to invent."

But, the electrical age had not yet dawned, and since one-third of the inventions are electrically controlled, and ninety percent of all machines are operated by electricity.

He outlined some of the newest wonders of electricity, including computers or "electrical brains," automation, electronics, radio and television and telephone; develop-

Sharon Drager On Team At Wayland

Miss Sharon Drager, freshman student in Wayland College at Plainview, was home last week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Drager.

A former guard on the Tahoka girls district championship basketball team, she is a starter on the Wayland freshman team this year. She will play in a game against Lubbock Christian College in Plainview tonight, Friday.

Mrs. Drager says Sharon seems to be doing well, and she is "carried away" with the school.

DOUGLAS FINLEY VISITS OLD EAST TEXAS HOME

J. Douglas Finley returned Monday from a visit to the country where he was raised over in Northeast Texas, DeKalb, and the Red River bottom country.

He says he tried to climb nearly every persimmon tree he climbed as a kid, but that country doesn't seem what it used to be and he thinks the Plains looks mighty good in spite of its faults.

Doug says, however, the 40 inches of rainfall down in that country is appealing. He says some of the farmers are reclaiming land that had been abandoned and making some fine farming land again and also some fine grassland for cattle production.

ments in the field of medicine and dentistry, such as the x-ray, dental drills, and therapy; and ended the long list by declaring there are now 166 electrical gadgets used in the home.

In fact, he declared, today we could hardly live without electricity, even on the farm.

The speaker was introduced by George McCracken, program chairman.

President Don Browning announced Dr. Emil Prohl had been selected as the "Rotarian of the Month" for January, and paid tribute to his dedicated service to Rotary and its principles.

Wynne Collier gave the induction ceremony for two new club members, Harry Lee Short and Warren Embree.

The club voted on suggestion of H. B. McCord Jr. to sponsor the reorganized Explorer Scout troop under E. B. Gaither.

Turner Rogers urged Rotarians to attend the annual Farmer-Businessman banquet of the Chamber of Commerce on February 23.

Harold Green, foreign student chairman, presented the guest program for the coming summer to be acted upon by the Rotary board.

Club sweetheart, Montie McGinty, introduced the Senior student guests for the month, Gene Brown and Jack Flippin.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

Toward the end of 1963 Rep. Richard Rousebus of Indiana introduced a resolution asking that the House Foreign Affairs Committee make a study and investigation of the U.S. State Department with respect to policy making procedures and personnel practices. In a nationwide vote conducted by the National Federation of Independent Business, 79% of the nation's independent businessmen voting were in favor of the proposal.

It is perhaps well to bear in mind that the U.S. State Department has become a monstrous growth on the banks of the Potomac, far exceeding anything that was even dreamed for the department 25 or 30 years ago.

For example, there is an assistant secretary for International Organization. The present incumbent after he got out of school was an information writer for the Farm Security Administration. Then he was involved in the abortive China program when that nation was lost to communism.

With its background in 1963 he was in the State Department as Assistant Secretary for International Organization Affairs. There is quite a bit of confusion as to precisely what this branch of the State Department is supposed to do.

Perhaps the most lucid explanation of the duties of the office of the Secretary for International Organization Affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tunnell visited in Amarillo Friday and Saturday with their son, Delwyn, and family. Delwyn is in the insurance business there. Earl reports there international Organization Affairs was initiated when he appeared as a speaker before the last AFL-CIO convention. The job is perhaps that of creating dissension abroad.

In his speech to the labor delegates he applauded the work of the Marshall Plan that was set up to help out war torn Europe on its feet. But he praised the "men drawn from the ranks of organized labor" for helping make the Marshall Plan vehicle for social change.

He also said "The labor attaches first appointed to the embassies only 30 years ago can use the bond of union membership to establish effective relations with new leaders... who are coming into political power in many parts of the world. Many a foreign door has been opened in recent years by an union card in the hand of an American trade unionist."

This is a remarkable statement for a presumably responsible member of the United States Department of State to make. In other words, according to this statement, the "union bug" has more influence overseas than the Great Seal of the United States. Or, it is far more effective for an American representative, instead of saying "The President of the United States has sent me" to say instead, "Jimmie Hoffa sent me."

Is this sort of thing believable? Does this represent State Department viewpoint in influencing foreign nations?

If this be true, as long as there is a State Department the American people don't need any more enemies.

still snow a foot and a half deep in their son's yard.

Highway Patrol Cites Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on rural highways in Lynn county during the month of January, according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for five injured persons and an estimated property damage of $1,140.00.

The Sergeant reminded motorists that Texas along with every other state in the nation many years ago enacted a safety responsibility law to meet the problems created by irresponsible operators of vehicles on our streets and highways. This law is intended to encourage all motorists to become financially responsible and to promote highway safety by identifying those drivers and owners of motor vehicles who will not assume their moral and legal obligations to society and therefore should be removed from the highways.

"More stringent provisions of this law—requiring drivers and owners to be able to pay for damage to others in traffic accidents—became effective January 1, 1964," the Sergeant said. "In any accident in which damage amounts to at least $25.00 or more, the operator of every motor vehicle is required to report the accident in writing to the Texas Department of Public Safety. If the accident involved death, injury or damage to one person's property of at least $100.00, the accident then comes under the Safety Responsibility Act and its requirements must be met," he explained.

"The Department of Public Safety is required by the new law to suspend the driver license and all motor vehicle registration plates of both the operator and owner of vehicles involved in accidents coming under the Safety Responsibility Law unless the owner and operator meet one or more of the following requirements."

1. Liability insurance coverage in minimum amounts of $10,000.00 for one injury or death, $20,000.00 total injury and death and $5,000.00 property damage.
2. A release signed by the damaged parties.
3. Signed installment agreement for damages.
4. Operator and owner found not to be liable in a court of jurisdiction.
5. Operator and owner posting cash or bond security in amounts sufficient to cover liability incurred.

"If in doubt as to the amount of damage send in a report and be on the safe side, or if additional information is needed contact any member of the DPS," the Patrol Supervisor concluded.
