Awards Presented At C. of C. Banquet

Lamesa's "Shutout Symfunky," a variety show featuring music and comedy, literally had a crowd of 330 people almost rolling in the floor during 50 minutes of entertainment Tuesday night at the annual Farmer-Businessman banquet of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, held in the enlarged school cafeteria.

The largest crowd ever to attend such an affair here interrupted the program numerous times with applause. Led by Richard Crawley, Lamesa banker, the group featured Jerry Bartley, formerly of New Lynn and Wilson and now junior high band director at Lamesa, as comedian; Bill Butler, Jack Sanders, and Bob Crawley, all businessmen; Jim Williams, head band director; and Mrs. Lavoy Miller, piano teacher. All playing instruments and joining in song, they featured the old time favorites from "Red Wing" up to some later popular songs, parodies on others, comedy in between, and climaxed by a "fan dance."

A feature of the program was the presentation of awards.

Bertice Askew of Wells community was announced as the "conservation farmer of the year,"

Tahoka Receives Band Uniforms

The future looks very bright for the Tahoka High School band.

And here to help brighten the future are 66 new band uniforms, which were being issued to members of the organization this week by Director Vic Kyler.

With construction making headway on the band hall on the west end of the north wing of the new high school building, students are enthusiastically awaiting the day they move into their new "home."

The first appearance the concert band makes in the new uniforms will be in the Concert and Sight Reading contest of the Regional University Interscholastic League in Levelland on April 3, when bands from Classes AA, A and B will participate.

Sixty of the new uniforms are for members of the marching and concert unit. These feature a basic West Point style of the school colors, royal blue and white. The coats, said by the firm (Continued on Back Page)

Freddie Stice, 19, Seriously Injured

Freddie Stice, 19 year old employee of Lewis Construction Co., is in serious condition in Methodist Hospital after his left hand was burned off while working on a pole about 17 miles west of Tahoka Wednesday morning at about 9:00 o'clock.

He received emergency treatment in Tahoka Hospital, having been brought here in a White Funeral Home ambulance, and was transferred to Lubbock.

Travis McDaniel, in Tahoka Hospital with a sprained ankle, who had been working on the same job before being injured Monday said the company was stringing line about two miles south and two miles west of West Point. Jimmy Dunlap and Stice were on the job, Dunlap on the ground and Stice on a 35-foot pole. A transformer was being lifted to Stice and the victim took ahold of a hot wire to pull himself up.

With 7200 volts in the line, Stice's left hand was completely burned off, skin burned off the bone up to his elbow and skin badly burned above his elbow. The inside of his right leg was also badly burned, where the voltage left his body. He lost contact with the wire and was held on the pole by his safety belt.

After radioing for help, Dunlap climbed the pole and with the aid of two nearby farmers, lowered Stice to the ground.

Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, assisted by Tahoka Rotary Club, finances the show expenses and also pays the prize money. In addition, each animal qualifying for the show will draw a bonus from the Merchant's Fund, which is expected to total about $1,000. Most animals will go on to the area show in Lubbock, and will be sold there.

Bert C. Dollins Dies Saturday

Bert C. Dollins, 61, a citizen of Tahoka for 38 years, died at about 10:00 a. m. Saturday in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, which he had entered the day before. Heart failure was listed as cause of death by his physician.

Bert had been in ill health for some time, but had been under treatment at the Lubbock hospital only about a month.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:00 p. m. in the First Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. Aubrey White, officiating. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Bert Carl Dollins was born in Fort Worth on August 31, 1902, and was reared there. He came to Tahoka and was married on February 1, 1928, to Miss Evelyn Davis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Davis. For a number of years, he had been in the trucking business. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

He had been faithful in helping care for his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, both of whom have passed away in recent months. Mrs. Davis in January of this year.

Ballbearers were Sam Bartley, Willis Pennington, Carl Griffing Jr., Ed Hamilton, Ivan Cathcart, and Paul Howell.

Wilmer Smith Back From Washington

Wilmer Smith of New Home returned Tuesday midnight from Washington, where he had been helping promote some kind of farm legislation favorable to cotton.

When he left, he thought the prospects were fairly good that the revised Cotton Bill might be called up for action in the Senate prior to consideration of the Civil Rights Bill. This seemed likely from press reports Thursday morning.

Smith expressed belief the cotton-rebate legislation will pass if it can be brought to a vote.

He says the Cotton Bill is not the perfect answer to cotton, especially in this area, but probably is better than none at all.

Open House Sunday For New Home School Plant

E. H. Cunningham Again Able To See World About Him

"It's a wonderful world," says E. H. Cunningham, 85, pioneer local citizen. "I can see again. No one knows how wonderful it is."

Mr. Cunningham had been virtually blind for a long time. On January 6, he underwent surgery on his right eye for removal of a cataract, spent six days in the hospital. He is now able to walk to town, to see and talk to his old friends.

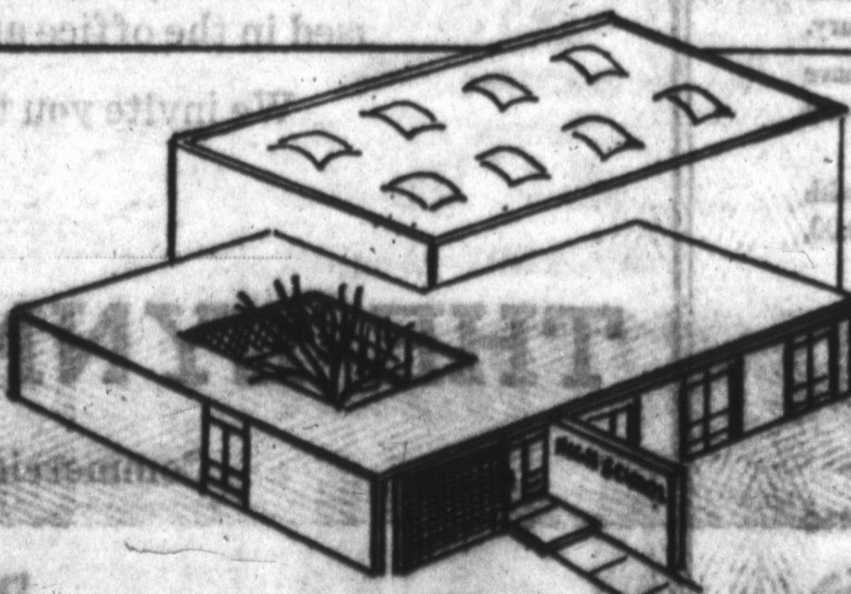

Wednesday he was as happy as a little boy with a new red wagon as he made the rounds of town to see his many friends. And, his friends were glad he could see them. He can not read a newspaper, but he can read the headlines—and that's just wonderful, he declares.

Mr. Cunningham moved to Lynn county in 1916 in an immigrant car which he unloaded down at the Santa Fe depot.

Snow Last Week Was Some Benefit

Only 15 inches of moisture was recorded from the snow last week, estimated at about two inches.

Farmers reported, however, the little bit of moisture was of some help. In places, the snow filled up the furrows on listed land. Much more moisture would be appreciated to put a deep season in the ground for spring planting.

171 Sections Yoakum County Land Once Sold At Only $5.24 Per Section

(Denver City Press)

FOR SALE: Choice Yoakum county land, great farm, ranch, oil potential, 71 sections, Block D, John H. Gibson Survey, only 8.2 cents per acre; $5.24 per section.

No fellow in his right mind today would overlook such an offer, but no fellow in his right mind would make such an offer, either. But 81 years ago, things were a different story.

Denver City Attorney Claude Freeman, digging into some old land records Wednesday, came across the Yoakum county land values of a former day.

The old records, Freeman said, showed that a half-interest in 171 sections of Block D, John H. Gibson Survey in Yoakum county sold at a sheriff's sale for $448.80, that being the highest secure bid offered for the property. The transaction was recorded in Book 14, page 122 of deed records, said the attorney.

According to the story of the old land deal, as pieced together from the records:

The sheriff's sale took place at the door of the Throckmorton Courthouse on Feb. 6, 1883, a first Tuesday of the month. The purchase was made by E. P. Davis, who later sold a portion of the land to Texas Bank & Trust Company.

Application of the $448.80 price for half-interest in the 171 sections indicate a land price of $5.24 per section, or 8.2 cents per acre.

Of course, Yoakum county 81 years ago probably was little more than desert in a ranching area which required many acres for a single head of cattle to survive.

The land purchase researched by Attorney Freeman occurred 88 years after Yoakum county was created from Bexar County of Texas and 24 years before Yoakum county was organized in 1907.

Yoakum county's population and farming and oil industrial growths commenced in earnest in the 1930's. Today, the area is one of the prime sectors in West Texas for oil and agricultural enterprises.

Letters From News Readers—

(The News welcomes letters from its readers on any current subject, not libelous, of course. All communications must be of reasonable length and must be signed. On request, the signature will not be printed. The Editor.)

Dear Frank: Bertha and I have just returned home. We spent two months in California and Oregon. We were in Oregon 20 days. It rained 16 days. Dwight and wife, Joan (Slover), have served at the Rockwood Methodist Church for eight years. Dwight has just finished five years on the board of "hospitals and homes" for that district.

Joan helps in all of this work, also is relief teacher for the community schools. They like Oregon. W. S. and Duwaine live in El Cajon, California, a wonderful place. W. S. owns a chicken ranch of 30,000 birds. Duwaine is an auditor for Arthur Young & Co.

Duwaine and Joy have a new baby girl, of which we are very proud.

Well, Frank, I am glad the rag wig boys have gone home (to England). We overheard a man remark, "Just look there—a mop walking." Another man said, "We should tell her so," and the first replied, "No, she wouldn't know how a mop looked."

I am sure everyone has read where some people believe man is a descendant from monkeys. Some say we are descendants from fish. W. C. Chriswell of the Dallas First Baptist Church is the author of a book entitled "Did Man Just Happen." Please read this book.

Here is a new slant on the subject. The title is "The Monkey's Viewpoint."

"Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree. Discussing things as they are said to be. Said one to the other, Look here you two, There is a rumor going around that is not true. They say man descended from our noble race. The very idea is a disgrace. No monkey ever deserted his wife, Starved her babies and ruined her life. And you have never known a mother monk, To leave her babies with others to bunk. And another thing you'll never see, A monk build a fence around a coconut tree. And let the coconuts go to waste, Prohibiting all other monks one little taste. Why if I built a fence around a coconut tree, Starvation would cause you to steal from me. Here is another thing a monk won't do, Go out at night and get into a stew. Or use a gun, a club or knife, To take some other monkey's life. Yes, we agree all right, Man sure has descended, the ornery cuss. But brother, he sure did not descend from us."

Frank, if we all did our part as well as you, we could change a lot of things. Respectfully, N. O. Townsen.

Tahoka eighth grade girls won the consolation trophy and seventh grade girls took second place.

A total of 19 games were played here in two days. Games scheduled on Thursday were postponed until Friday because of snow and ice.

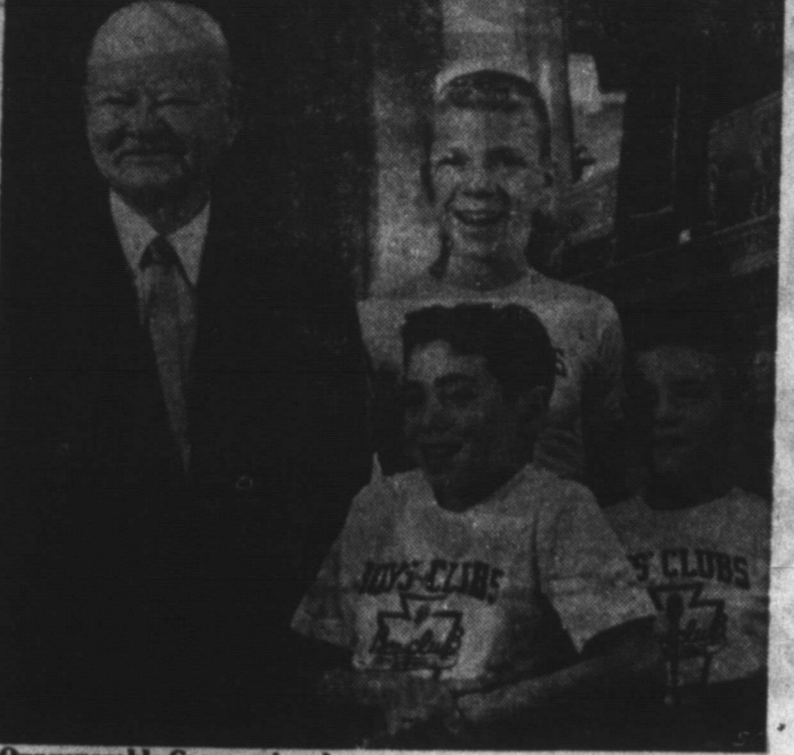

Tahoka's eighth grade boys defeated Idalou in a close 38-37 ball game in the finals, Gary Brooks scoring 12 points and Doyle Schneider and Cliff Thomas 10 each. They won their opener 38-24 over Frenship behind Thomas' 11 points.

The local seventh graders took the championship title in a 25-21 win, also over Idalou. Larry Arnold was high point man with 10 points. Their first round victory was obtained from Frenship with a 22-20 score. Jody Edwards sank 16 points and Arnold 10.

Herbert Hoover Development Fund Launched For Boys' Clubs of America

Our venerable Congressional Record, while sometimes more notable for the quantity than for the quality of its contents, often provides news of interest to a great many citizens.

One such item was recently revealed with the announcement by Congressman John V. Lindsay (R. N.Y.) of the formation by the Boys' Clubs of America of the "Herbert Hoover Development Fund."

In announcing the Fund's foundation, Congressman Lindsay, in whose district Mr. Hoover resides, reported that its purpose is the establishment of 1,000 Boys' Clubs, serving one million deserving boys.

Explaining that Mr. Hoover has served as the very active board chairman of the Boys' Clubs of America for 28 years, the Congressman said the former President describes Boys' Clubs as being "after the home, church and school, the greatest character-building institutions in our country today."

There are now some 635 Boys' Clubs, serving close to 700,000 deserving boys, in more than 410 cities throughout the country.

For many years, Mr. Hoover has maintained — and studies have proved — that these Clubs play a major role in combating juvenile delinquency. Now, through the establishment of this Fund, it is hoped that to quote A. L. Cole, president of the Boys' Clubs of America, "all Mr. Hoover's friends and admirers will now help make his dream a reality."

Mahon, Tower Answer Letters

Recently, Lynn County Farm Bureau wrote Representative George Mahon and Senators Ralph Yarborough and John Tower in regard to desirable cotton legislation.

This week, T. B. Mason, president of the Lynn County Farm Bureau, received answers from Mr. Mahon and Tower.

Mr. Mahon writes, in part: "An effort was made in the Senate yesterday (Feb. 21) to take up a cotton-wheat bill. It was blocked by certain Senators. The Senate may or may not consider the bill next week."

"Late last year in the House we passed the so-called Cooley bill, not that it was a perfect answer to the problem, but in an effort to get the issue off dead center and with the hope that some sort of compromise improvement in the present program might possibly be worked out. You are, of course, aware of the serious situation facing all cotton producers."

"I have recently received scores of letters, telegrams, and telephone calls in regard to the cotton situation. I want to thank you for your helpful message and assure you that I shall continue to be of every possible service to our area in this highly important matter."

Senator Tower wrote, in part: "As you know, several cotton bills are now being considered by Congress. It is likely that a compromise bill will be arrived at. I hope that bill will serve to make cotton competitive so that it can enter the market rather than loan."

"I will support the compromise cotton bill if it would be of benefit to the industry and at the same time be a distinct step toward a free market economy and curtailment of the federal interference that has created such a mess."

Re-elected to the credit committee were Clifton Gardner, L. F. Jacobs, and J. B. Howell, the three Tahoka school principals.

Re-elected to the supervisory committee were H. L. Miller, Floyd Tubb, and James D. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards of Marble Falls, formerly of Tahoka, came up Monday for the Giddard funeral at O'Donnell and remained for a few days visit with relatives and friends.

NET RETURNS COUNT IN FERTILIZER PROGRAM

It's the increased net returns in dollars and cents—not the yield—that counts the most when evaluating the results of a fertilizer program, says John Box, associate Extension agronomist. Efficiency is best evaluated in terms of increased net returns. More efficient management practices will produce higher than average yields and this is the principal difference in maximizing net returns, he adds. Maximum yields and minimum net profit seldom go hand in hand. Soil test recommendations are made to give maximum net profit, he explains. He suggests keeping careful records on production, what fertilizers were applied and how and when. The records will show the influence of the various plant nutrients. Leave a check plot for comparison purposes and vary the fertilizer rate both up and down from recommendations in order to help establish the point of maximum profit, suggests Box.

Band Uniforms

who made up the uniforms to be the "best looking" they had ever made, are royal blue trimmed with white, and bearing a white patch on the right sleeve. A removable white leatherette shield buttons down over the silver buttons on the front and has a large blue Bulldog over a blue "T". Without the white shield, the dress front is trimmed with white braid and silver buttons. White braid also decorates the back of the coat and sleeves. Trousers are royal blue with a white-stripe down each leg.

Blue and white hats complete the uniform. These have a leatherette top and sparkle blue plastic sides that will glitter under lights. Bills are white trimmed with silver and the caps are topped with white plumes.

Two drum major uniforms are white trimmed with blue in the same style with a large blue "T" on the front.

Three majorette uniforms feature a white coat, opposite in color and trim to the band uniforms. Different, however, are the white skirts with large inverted blue pleats that will show when marching.

Included is a white director's uniform trimmed with blue.

The new band hall already has walls up. It will consist of a large rehearsal room, four individual practice rooms, a director's office, an instrument room, music room, uniform room, and storage room.

office, tax office, rest rooms, and a library arranged so it may also be used as a classroom and library for the elementary school. There is a landscaped patio and the new gymnasium set off to the east to reduce detraction but still convenient to students.

Four new classrooms have been added to the new elementary school, completed in 1956, giving 12 grade school classrooms. The old school building will be held in reserve for overflow in the fall.

The high school building built in 1947 has been converted to a Junior High building. The modern Home Ec cottage was erected in 1959. Other phases of the plant include the old gymnasium, vocational agriculture building, the football field, and teacherages.

Members of the board during construction have been E. M. Rudd, president, who recently moved to Rising Star; Frank Liseby, vice chairman; Robbie Gill, secretary; George Sealy, Dick Turner, and N. B. Hancock.

New Home's first school, a one-room building, was erected in 1907 on the present site of New Home Butane Co. Previous to that time the nearest school was Block 20, in Lubbock county, now known as Slide.

As population increased a three-room building was erected in 1917, a room was added in 1922, and in 1928 a seven room brick building was erected. In 1936, this building was remodeled, the auditorium cut up into a classroom, library and study hall and the old gymnasium was built. The school has had much growth the last two or three years, necessitating this latest expansion program.

Site for the new high school cost $1,200 from the Baptist Church, general contract went to West Texas Builders for $183,276, mechanical construction (plumbing and heating) to Roche Newton & Co. for $43,540, the electrical contract to White's Electric for $17,371, and furnishings have cost $8,622. Architects are DeWitt and Spencer.

The ringneck pheasant was first transplanted in this country from the Orient in 1881. Now it is one of the principal game birds of America. A huntable number are found in the Texas Panhandle.

T-Bar Planning Summer Golf

Plans for summer activities were discussed by the board of directors of T-Bar Country Club at their regular February meeting.

The board accepted the resignation of Mack Mauldin, and elected J. D. Atwell to fill out his unexpired term on the board of directors.

James F. (Sonny) Roberts was elected to replace Mauldin as tournament chairman for men's golf.

One new club member from Wilson was voted on and accepted for membership.

Wade Holland, president, expressed his appreciation for the long hours and hard work some of the men have been putting in to level some of the bad spots on the fairways. Some members have been using their own sprinkler pipe and other equipment in order to improve the golf course for summer play and to water as much of the fairways as possible.

Plans are underway for lots of golf activities for both men and women when the weather warms up.

The social committees have been having some nice parties for the different age groups of children whose parents are members of the club.

Officers state rules for play on the golf course and use of other facilities are in accordance with

PCA Meeting In Lubbock March 5

Mr. C. E. Hicks, Meadow, president of the Lubbock Production Credit Association announced today that the 30th Annual Stockholders' Meeting of the Association will be held at the Fairpark Coliseum in Lubbock on Thursday, March 5. Registration for the meeting will start at 9:00 a. m. and the business session of meeting will begin promptly at 10:00 o'clock.

According to Alton Strickland, who is General Manager of the Association, the farmer-owned association has approximately 1,400 member-stockholders in their territory consisting of Cochran, Crosby, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties. Strickland also said that the association had its largest loan volume in 1963, loaning in excess of $20,700,000.00.

Master of ceremonies for the meeting will be Wilburn Bailey of Terry county. The meeting will be called to order by C. E. Hicks, president of the board and invocation will be given by C. Littlepage, vice-president of the board. Welcome address will be given by a representative of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Report of the board will be given by Director Leon L. Foote of Gaines county. Other members of the board of directors, in addition to Hicks, Littlepage and Foote are A. B. Roberts, Hockley county and Dewey E. Wells Jr., Crosby county.

Guest speaker for the annual meeting will be Jack Barton, assistant vice president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, Houston. "The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank is the Association's discount agent and has made more than $153,000,000.00 available to farmers and ranchers of the nine county area through the local Production Credit Association since it began operation in 1934."

Chairman of the nominating committee, R. E. McElroy of Tahoka will give the report of the nominating committee. Following the report by McElroy, will be the election of two directors to fill the expiring term of Littlepage of Tahoka and Dewey E. Wells Jr. of Ralls.

Following the election of the directors the 1964 nominating committee will be elected by the stockholders present. Other members of the nominating committee in addition to McElroy include Robert Jameson, vice chairman, L. L. Dycus, E. H. Nance and Bill (Continued on back page) the club by-laws, and infraction of these rules may prove embarrassing.

The golf course is for use by Club members—those who pay dues each month—and for their immediate families, and for out-of-county green fee players.

Many members have purchased golf carts and, with increased interest in golf for both men and women members, every effort is being made to get the course in fine shape for the convenience of those members and their families for lots of good summer golfing, a spokesman for the club writes.

'64 Corvair Monza by Chevrolet

(that puts superior traction under you)

Some cars do best on the highway. Others seem tailor-made for city driving. Then there's Corvair—that gets along just great most anywhere. Swishing along a highway, scurrying around in traffic. Or wading through a soggy trail.

Take highway driving. Corvair's got a bigger new engine with horsepower up nearly 19% in the standard version. But in case figures don't impress you, just wait until you head a Corvair for some far-away places. You'll get the message.

Take city driving. Corvair's trim size, light steering (because the engine weight's in the rear) and flat cornering make anything from rush-hour driving to parking a cinch.

Take back-road driving. The weight of Corvair's engine bearing down on the rear wheels gives them remarkable gripping power on most any surface, whether it's loose, solid, dry, wet—or even snow covered.

Something else you can take note of, too: There's no radiator to overheat or run dry. No hoses to check or replace. No need for antifreeze. The engine's air cooled.

Beginning to sound like a car you can really warm up to? Then there's only one thing left to take a ride in one at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Printer's Ink Splatters... The old-timers among our readers seem to like some of our reminiscing better than some of the other things we write, so here goes again!

The Printer started out down at Temple and Belton, and grew up at Roscoe and Sweetwater. Our dad was a public official, a circus fan, and always got free passes to the circuses that came to town. All the big ones traveled by train and all of them stopped at either Temple or Belton, and still later many of them stopped at Sweetwater, all railroad division points.

From one to several times, we saw Barnum and Bailey, Ringling Bros., both before and after the two combined, Gentry Bros. Dog & Pony Show, Haggenback-Wallace, Sells-Floto, the 101 Ranch Show, and Buffalo Bill Cody's Wild West Show. Coming of the circus was a great thrill to us kids, and we think it was to Dad, also. We'd get up at four o'clock in the morning to see the circus unload from, at times, as many as six or seven trains—where we got a free look at the wild animals from distant lands. We saw the elephants and camels at work hoisting the big top. We saw the colorful parades, complete with steam callopes, bands, and the brightly colored circus wagons and teams and richly costumed performers. Then, came the big show. The real big-time circus is gone, but memories still linger. Not even the great Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey of today is as colorful and sensational, at least in our mind's eye, as it was 40 or 50 years ago.

We'll never forget the thrill when Buffalo Bill came dashing into the tent down at Sweetwater dressed in frontiersman garb and astride his beautiful white horse, the feats of marksmanship and horsemanship, and the battle with the Indians. Then, there was the little Mollie Bailey Circus that visited most of the small towns of Texas. Mrs. Bailey was a large, fat woman with a quick temper, and she could cuss like a sailor. And, brother, she RAN the show—everything from selling tickets to giving orders to roustabouts. The show traveled from town to town in the circus wagons—elephants, camels, llamas, etc. walking.

Once when she stopped at Roscoe, we had a free pass for the night performance but wanted to see the afternoon show, also. So, we carried water in two-gallon buckets for the elephants for another pass. Another time she came, we didn't get to the circus lot in time to get a pass-job, so Charley Green and the Printer tried to sneak under the tent, and Mollie Bailey personally caught us in the act and gave us a bawling out. She had a heart as big as all outdoors, though, and let us in for driving a few tent stakes. After the show we went to The Times office to work a while before the night performance. Mrs. Bailey came in to pay the show's advertising bill, saw The Printer on the stool before the type case hand-spiking type and gave him another bawling out in front of his dad for trying to sneak in the show.

Joe D. Unfred informs us New Home is one of the schools that pays all its bills promptly to athletic supply houses. Two weeks ago The News, quoting an athletic supply salesman, said Tahoka was one of only three schools in the area he knew of which pays such bills on time. He did not name the others. But, he was just pointing out that supply houses appreciate selling to schools which keep their athletics departments operating "in the black."

Three area district basketball champions are located in the small section bounded by Seagraves, Class A; Denver City, Class AA; and Seminole, Class AAA.

Any hopes that President Lyndon B. Johnson might be more to the right, or a middle-of-the-road president, have just about glimmered out. All signs, except a pledge for less government spending, point to the reverse. The Texan is trying his best to win over the ultra-liberals and out-Kennedy the Kennedys. He may have more success in turning this country further toward socialism, or the ultra-liberal cause, than did the Kennedys, Eisenhower, Truman, and Roosevelt. At least, he knows Congress better, is better experienced in the ways of pressuring through his desires, and therefore will doubtless have more success than his predecessors.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC Any erroneous reflection on the reputation or standing of any individual, firm, or corporation that may appear in the columns of The Lynn County News will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

struction. A number of substantial new homes have been built in the area, and there will be more. One day, maybe there will be enough to justify more paving in this part of town.

Our thanks go to Mrs. Guion (Gladys) Cobb for some quotations for use in our column. It's not so much what you say As the manner in which you say it— It is not so much the word you use As the tone in which you convey it. Whether you know it or not, Whether you mean it or care, Gentleness, kindness, love or hate, Envy or anger are there. Then would you quarrel avoid And in peace and love rejoice; Keep anger not only out of your words, But keep it out of your voice. —Anon.

FRANK GREATHOUSE MAKES CENTRAL TEXAS TRIP Tyler, Texas, home of the annual Texas Rose Festival, is known as the "Rose Capitol of the World."

He had some drilling bits that needed sharpening, so he took off Monday with them for Breckenridge to get the bits in shape for more work. By coincidence, he had a ticket to the Texas Tech-A&M ball game at College Station Tuesday night, so he went on down to the game since it wasn't much further (?), and the bits wouldn't be ready for two or three days, anyway. He visited a sister at Bryan and his mother and brother at Caldwell, which was a lot better excuse than the drill-bit story.

When dressing, don't forget to put on a smile.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

In line with repeated requests by the nation's independent businessmen, Congress did reduce foreign aid, although there is still a long way to go to whittle down the $3 billion voted.

But perhaps there is too much basic in this matter. Perhaps there are some lessons that can be learned from foreign aid for the good of the nation.

Congressman H. R. C. W. Harder, Groes, Iowa, reveals that foreign aid funds have been used to help African Kenya officials to buy extra wives. A man there can have as many wives as he can pay for, on a cash in advance basis. Of course, in America, a man taking a wife to himself often gets by with a small down payment, but then he keeps paying on the installment plan. So there is this difference in the two systems.

This is not to suggest that polygamy should be legalized in America. It is not only against public morals, but also must be considered havoc that would be wreaked with the income tax if men could take deductions for ten wives or so, plus resulting progeny.

Yet, there seems to be a lesson to be learned here, and maybe certain aspects of foreign aid could be applied to American life. It is significant that although the long range benefits of the foreign Peace Corps have still to be assayed, there is consideration being given to setting up a domestic Peace Corps.

Pointing out that the American owner-manager-operator type of farming has produced the most bountiful food supply ever known to man and that it has likewise made the efficiency of U. S. agriculture the envy of all the world, the National Grange declares, "More than any other single segment of the American economy, this type of agriculture has demonstrated the superiority of democracy over communism."

Thus, if this promise is sound, what is wrong with a plan for a domestic foreign aid program. In pointing out that foreign aid funds are used to buy extra wives for Kenya men, a challenging new vista opens for a domestic foreign aid program.

There are many men in America who practice polygamy, but on the installment plan, via the divorce courts. This is one of the basic differences between the American system and the Kenya system where a man pays cash for a wife and it is through with payments. In America, those who practice polygamy on the installment plan pay alimony.

Thus, the proposed domestic foreign aid program could pick up all alimony payments.

This does not seem to be at all far-fetched. If the taxpayer's money can be used for wife purchase, so that African bucks can ease their way through this vale of tears surrounded by a galaxy of women paid for in advance, why cannot the same benefits be extended to the American male who goes through life with a succession of wives on the installment plan.

While it may be quite all right to tax people out of the necessities and also through taxes soak up profits needed by small business to expand to support foreign aid, this discrimination against American manhood is all wrong. If tax money can be used for the cash marital projects of African manhood, it can surely be used for installment plan marital projects by American manhood. Thus, a domestic foreign aid program should be strongly considered.

Guest Speaker At Rotary Club

The process of handling motor vehicle titles and registration certificates by the Motor Vehicle Division of Texas Highway Department was explained by W. C. Beyer of Midland, investigator for this 34-county district at Tahoka Rotary Club last Thursday.

Mr. Beyer showed slides in explaining the process from the time the titles are sent from the county tax office until the time it is mailed back to the owner and lienholder.

He said the department has 45 million documents on file. There were 5,800,000 vehicles registered in Texas in 1963, and 8,000 title applications are approved daily. There have been 31 million titles handled since 1945. One item of special interest is that there were 190,000 boat registrations last year. A force of 250 people is required in the State office to keep track of motor vehicle registrations and titles.

George McCracken was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Brief talks were made by two new club members, Warren Embree and Harry L. Short.

Mr. Embree, new vice president of First National Bank, said he was born and reared at Tuscola, Taylor county, went to work in a bank on graduation from high school, and worked three months free to learn the elementary principles of banking.

Embree worked in an Abilene bank, later went to Continental National in Fort Worth, then went to Petersburg, later Lockney, Carrollton, and finally Bovina, where he was bank president before coming to Tahoka in January.

Short was born and reared at Grassland, attended school there and in Tahoka, farmed, and then moved to town to go in the automobile and service station business. He brought a laugh when he said he thought business would be easier than farming, but had found farming may be an easier life.

President Don Browning announced the election of new Rotary directors and officers will be held soon, and the annual Rotary District Conference will be held in Sweetwater April 9, 10, and 11. Several local Rotarians will probably attend.
