

Maid Of Cotton Entries Sought

Officials of the South Plains Maid of Cotton Selection have begun a search for a young woman who can best represent the South Plains cotton industry at the National Maid of Cotton Selection in late December of this year.

The local selection to be conducted April 10-11 will be to choose a potentially good model who is photogenic and exemplifies the young American woman at her best.

Officials emphasize the importance of being photogenic stating that for every person who sees her in person, tens of thousands will see her in print and on television. The National Maid will appear on magazine covers, newsreels and in newspapers around the world.

Another important attribute is the Maid's ability as a model. Candidates in the South Plains Selection will be given instruction in the proper use of make-up, walking, posture and speech. To prepare her for the National Selection, the South Plains Maid will be featured in fashion shows and will make other public appearances on the South Plains and across Texas from the time of her selection until December.

In summing up, officials said that most important the Maid must exemplify the young American woman at her best. Selection representatives emphasized that the South Plains and National Maid of Cotton Selections are not just beauty contests. The candidates never appear in public in a swim suit.

Qualifications state that candidates must have never been married, not be less than 19 years of age or over 25 as of January 1, 1965, and be at least 5 feet 5 1/2 inches tall without shoes.

Candidates must have been born in a cotton producing state, have her home residence in one of the following South Plains counties: Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Parmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum, or be a student in a school or college in one of the aforementioned counties. She must be a resident of Texas.

The winner of the South Plains Selection will receive a $1,000 all-cotton wardrobe, an all expense paid trip for her and a chaperon to the National Selection in Memphis in December. The first alternate will receive a $200 gift certificate and the second alternate a $100 gift certificate.

Some 20 young women will be selected as finalists on the basis of their qualifications as stated in an application and photographs. They will be presented for final judging on April 10 and 11 at the Lubbock Country Club and at the Maid of Cotton Show in Municipal Auditorium April 11.

Application forms are available at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, 902 Texas Avenue and at the offices of county agents, news media, and chambers of commerce on the South Plains.

Deadline for filing an application with the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is 5 p. m., Wednesday, March 25.

Supplies of fresh vegetables have been reduced by the Florida freeze of last month, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Even so, during the remaining winter months, prices will average only slightly above those of a year ago. And canned and frozen vegetables aren't expected to show a price increase.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Newspaper ads. Magazine ads. Catalogs and brochures. This is where sales get started. This is where people turn to ferret out the facts which allow an intelligent buying decision.

People can linger with a printed page: two minutes, five minutes, ten. They can come back to it again and again. They can compare one product with another. They can study styles, features, sizes, prices at their own pace. They can rip out a printed ad, save it, show it to friends, make notes on it, clip coupons. They can and they do. Don't you? If you've something to sell, it will pay to promote it in print—where people on the brink of buying can get their hands on it. Print makes sense because print makes sales.

Weeds In Cotton Problem Studied

Lubbock (Sp1)—A new double-pronged research effort is under way to cut down on the multi-million dollar loss caused by perennial weeds in cotton.

Grants for the research at Stanford Research Institute, South Pasadena, Calif., and the Delta Branch Experiment Station, Stoneville, Miss., were announced today by Roy B. Davis, Lubbock; Leroy Durham, Plainview; Roy Forkner, Lubbock; and Jack Funk, Harlingen, Texas trustees for the Cotton Producers Institute.

Under the $30,500 grant to SRI, researchers are seeking chemicals which, when applied to Johnson grass and bindweed, will cause all the seeds and underground stems to germinate or sprout at the same time. If the weed shoots could be made to appear above ground at the same time, cotton growers could kill them by applying herbicides or by other methods.

Stanford researchers are investigating methods of inducing sprouting in germination chambers and greenhouses, and then adapting these methods to field use.

The $30,000 grant to the Delta Branch Experiment Station takes a different approach to the perennial weed control problem. Stoneville scientists are exploring the movement of herbicides into the underground parts of perennials as a basis for more effective chemical control.

They are concentrating on Johnson grass and another peaky weed, nutgrass. Both have extensive underground systems and complex life cycles. Shoots can be killed by applying chemicals to foliage. However, regrowth usually occurs because insufficient amounts of herbicide reaches the underground reproductive parts to kill the entire plant.

If thorough foliar application, sufficient movement of the chemical to the Johnson grass rhizomes or nutgrass tubers could be obtained, effective control would be achieved.

CARD OF THANKS

I would at this time like to thank those who visited me during my illness and stay in the hospital. I would also like to extend my thanks to all who sent cards and phoned when I returned home. May God bless each of you for being so thoughtful. — Mrs. Seth Singleton. 1tp.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENT CAUSE

Traffic accidents do not just happen—they are caused—they are primarily the result of mistakes by drivers. Competent driving overcomes the hazard of accident-making conditions. The Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission says, defensive driving plus legal driving could eliminate 90 percent of all traffic accidents.

Methodist Men Hear John Hegi

John Hegi showed color slide pictures and told of his five months summer tour of Europe at the monthly meeting of Methodist Men Monday night in Fellowship hall of the church. Forty men were present.

John, a graduate of Baylor University last Spring, accompanied David Bray to England last summer, and then spent five months touring all countries of Europe. His pictures and comments were of deep interest to the men, but he apologized for not having time to show but only about a fourth of the pictures he took.

His pictures and talk hit the high spots of his visits to Norway, Denmark, and Sweden, England, France, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Switzerland, and Germany.

Of special interest to the group were some of the pictures from Switzerland, from which his grandparents originated, especially pictures of Hegistrasse and the Hegi Castle.

He visited both East and West Berlin, and was not too impressed by the Communist controlled sector.

Mitchell Williams and George Claude Wells arranged the program, and Williams introduced the speaker.

The meal was served by Mill Uzzle and Mill Draper with help from Maurice Bray and Maurice Huffaker.

Charles Brock is president of the Methodist Men and W. E. Cantrell is the secretary.

Buck Martin and Dr. Skiles Thomas have the program for next month, but the Methodist Men will meet in breakfast meetings with other men of the church during the revival meeting. The annual ladies night meeting is being planned for July. During June, August, and September, the men will have breakfast meetings the second Monday in each month instead of night meetings, Brock says.

Lynn County Farm Bureau Directors Discuss Proposed Cotton Legislation

Lynn County Farm Bureau directors in a meeting Monday night discussed the proposed cotton legislation now before Congress and issued the following statement of views on current and past legislation, gist of which they have asked The News to publish below.

The House has already passed the Cooley Cotton Bill (HR 8196) which provides price supports up to 10 percent above basic support rate for the first 15 bales of each farmer's production.

Basic price support is 30 cents per pound for 1964, 29.5 cents for 1965, and 29 cents for 1966.

Future increases in acreage allotment are left to the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture. A compensatory payment to U.S. mills of 8.5 cents per pound is proposed.

The first objection to the Cooley plan by the Lynn County Farm Bureau is the higher support for the first 15 bales.

In operation, the farmers in this area would only be able to sell a small part of their crop for this higher support price, as 15 bales of cotton represents only a small percent of the average Lynn county farmer's production; whereas, when you consider that 70 percent of the cotton allotments are for 15 acres or less as much as 90 percent of the cotton farmers in the Eastern cotton belt will have their total crop bring the 10 percent higher price.

As we understand the bill just passed by the Senate, the basic price support for 1964 will be 30 cents per pound, with the price thereafter set by the Secretary of Agriculture. However, in this bill a farmer may reduce his allotment one-third and receive an extra 4.5 cents per pound on all the rest produced. Also, allotments of 15 acres or less will be supported at 34.5 per pound.

In practice, again, this leaves us in West Texas holding the sack, as under the released acres provision the farmers in the East have all the acres they want to plant. Under this plan, they can reduce their allotments and pick up some of the released acres and draw 34.5 cents per pound for all of their crop.

There is also a proposal of 10 percent increase in allotments to be sold at a price of 23 or 24 cents per pound.

There is a payment by the government somewhat similar to the House Bill to make cotton cheaper to domestic mills. It may seem peculiar, but both of these bills are widely advertised as One Price Cotton Plans.

There is wheat legislation written in with the Senate cotton bill but we won't discuss it here.

Under the Farm Bureau Cotton Plan, the support price for 1964 would be 30 cents per pound and the following years 90 percent of the average market price of the three preceding years. All these prices are on one inch middling basis.

The Lynn County Farm Bureau feels as the American Farm Bureau does that the price support should be the same for all farmers alike.

At the present time, the Secretary of Agriculture has the authority to set the cotton price support at 65 to 90 percent per-ty, or about 26 to 36 cents per pound. There is much propaganda being spread around that nothing can be done for the cotton industry unless immediate legislation is passed for the government to subsidize cotton 6 to 8.5 cents per pound so it will be competitive with synthetics and foreign grown cotton. We think this just isn't so.

When the 1958 cotton law was passed, there was more cotton on hand than there is now and at around 30 cents per pound. The surplus was disposed of so that by 1961 an increase in acreage was needed but the Secretary at the same time raised the price 2.5 cents per pound, making it non-competitive in price.

The above market price support was set by the Secretary in 1961-2,3, and he still has full authority to set a support price for cotton that would be fully competitive with synthetic fibers in this country but apparently for political reasons he is blaming the Farm Bureau or somebody other than the government for our present troubles.

The proposed political cure for this economic situation is to make a government payment to nearly everybody in the industry while we cotton farmers in West Texas will take a cut in price or acres or both.

We think that a good part of the trouble with cotton today is the uncertainty of the price and the political football that is being made of the whole situation. If we are to have a big percent of our farm income in payments by the government, the money will have to be appropriated each year, and if the Secretary of Agriculture sets the amount we are to get and the controls and regulations that go with it, we can expect an increase in political manipulation.

It is being said repeatedly that farmers cannot afford to grow cotton at the world price of around 24 cents per pound, which is probably true in parts of the cotton belt as many farmers are changing to other crops and other forms of income. But, what about it here in West Texas? What other crop will make you much money even at 23 or 24 cents per pound. It looks like we will have to sell cotton at a competitive price or grow less and less cotton here in West Texas.

What about compensatory payments? Are we to receive a good part of our income as a payment for not growing crops or as a subsidy for crops we are growing? Is this a sound basis for agriculture?

We know that here in Lynn county all problems will not all be solved by one law passed by Congress or one decision made by you, but in this rapidly changing world we must be constantly on the alert to give our best effort

Special Film At Assembly Of God

"Devil's Pit" is the title of the film to be shown during the Teen Challenge Rally at the Assembly of God Church, Tahoka, Tuesday, Mar. 24, at 7:30 p. m.

This film was produced in actual teen gang infested territory. Stirring shots of baby-gang fights—teen-agers sniffing glue—drinking cough syrups—making and smoking marijuana cigarettes—drilling heroin into their veins—will be shown. Then see the Church in action as dedicated Teen Challenge workers, along with converted gang members and drug addicts, go into these crime ridden areas to preach, sing and testify of the saving power of Jesus Christ.

The guest speaker will be Evangelist Carl King, who has ministered among young gangsters, drug addicts and Beatniks in Chicago, New York City and other cities. Rev. King began his career as a minister at the age of 16 and received his theological training at Central Bible Inst. and Seminary, in Springfield, Missouri. He has also traveled in several states as an Assembly of God Evangelist.

Teen Challenge is an active rehabilitation work of the Assemblies of God among teen gangs and drug addicts in the major cities of America. The Rev. David Wilkerson, director of Teen Challenge, is author of the best seller "The Cross and the Switchblade" and was a guest on the Art Linkletter TV show during the summer of 1963.

Pastor G. A. Van Hoose extends a cordial invitation to the public.

Civil Rights Bill Provisions Vicious

By John Satterfield, Past Pres., American Bar Association

Last spring the American wheat farmer thought that he had made his point in rejecting federal control. But farmers who fought the battle against further federal management of their farms are discovering that President Kennedy's civil rights bill brings ever sharper federal regimentation to the farm.

Instead of crop control, the President is proposing people control.

If the present civil rights bill is passed, the farmer will find a whole new crew of federal agents watching his farm. Each individual farmer will be told whom to fire and hire, promote and demote. No farmer will be able to make his own free decisions about which tenants to put on his property and which to put off.

No farmer will be free to decide which man can be trusted with expensive tractors and equipment. He cannot freely choose the men who will gather his cotton and dust his cotton. And if he gets fed up with it all, he can't even sell out unless his buyers are acceptable to the federal government.

Instead, in all of these decisions, the farmer will be bound by the whim of a Civil Rights Commission appointed by President Kennedy or by the authority to withhold federal funds granted in the bill. The proposed law directs the Commission to hire as many agents as are necessary to do its work. The agents will have the power to examine any farmer's records and books. It will study all of his transactions and the day-to-day affairs of the farm.

The Commission and its agents (or the President's present committee with the authority granted in Title VI of the Bill) will then say whether it finds "imbalance" as to race, creed, color, or national origin in the conduct of the farmer's business. However, this word "imbalance" is nowhere defined in the President's bill. The definition can be made up by the Commission or Committee as it goes along.

The Commission could decide, for instance, that a farmer has hired too many Protestant Negroes and order him to hire more Catholic Mexicans. It could direct him to evict a Belgian tenant and rent to an Italian. It could require him to demote a Chinese and promote a Japanese.

These examples sound faretched only to those who have not studied the bill. There is only one limitation to the powers which can be given to the Commission. The President can grant it only "such powers as he deems appropriate."

If the civil rights bill is passed, the farmer has only one hope of escaping federal regimentation. Any farmer is included in the controls if he is a federal contractor, directly or indirectly. He can escape only if he does not receive the benefits of any federal assistance program.

Even so, the federal government has emmeshed itself so deeply in the economy that nearly everyone can be considered a federal contractor under the proposed law. And all federal contractors can have their benefits cut off if they do not accept the verdict of the appointed civil rights commission.

In short, any farmer who does not submit can be quickly strangled. His crop subsidies could be cut off. Payments from the Federal Land Banks could be stopped and he could be denied help from the Agricultural Marketing Service. The farmer would be trapped if he depends in any degree on benefits from the Farm Credit Administration, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, the Farmers' Home Administration, or the Forestry Service.

Worse than all of this, many innocent people would suffer. The farmer's bank must call in his loans or withdraw from the Federal Reserve System. No depositor in any bank where he has a savings account would be protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. All of this federal regulation is contained in President Kennedy's civil rights bill.

Jay Moore Of Canada Visitor

Jay W. Moore of Pemberton, British Columbia, Canada, was here Tuesday and Wednesday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Moore Sr., and brother, L. H. Jr., and family, all of New Home.

His brother, Medford Moore and wife of Wellston, Okla., where he is a rural mail carrier, came over to be with him while he was here.

Jay and wife, formerly of Lynn county, are now citizens of Canada. They reside in Seattle, and their daughter is in Bellingham, Wash., and Jay came by there to see his first grandchild. He also came by way of Durango, Colo., where he visited his other brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kay Moore.

and grandeur of Banff and Jasper National Parks. When he left snow in the park was 20 feet deep on the level.

The valley is between the Cascade and Coastal Ranges. Fishing, hunting and skiing are superb. In fact, he says the area has the finest ski slopes in the world, but the Olympics can not be held there until more permanent accommodations are available.

The town is 100 miles from Vancouver whose metropolitan area has a million people and can be reached only by railroad or airplane. However, a highway is being built into the valley but still lacks 12 miles of construction before completion.

Logging is the principal industry, and production of beef cattle and hay are next in importance. This is a fine potato country, and from 100 to 120 cars a year are shipped out. Also, 20 to 50 cars of turnips are shipped annually. Vegetables grow wonderfully well there.

Strawberries grow wild and reach sizes almost as big as a teacup. Other berries growing wild include raspberries, salmonberries, and gooseberries.

Tests Given To School Students

Sophomore students at Tahoka High School taking the National Educational Development test on March 19, 1964 were: Jimmy Billman, Ralph Harvey Brock, Terrell Bairrington, Paul Kenley, Carroll Curry, Roy Isham, Robert Adams, Stanley Renfro, John Huffaker, Linda Dotson, Charlotte Warren, Patsy Zedlitz, and Ann Stone.

This is not a required test and is a series lasting three hours. The results are returned to the school counselor and in turn explained to the student so that each participating student has a better knowledge of his strengths and weaknesses. The tests cover the five areas of English, math, social studies, science, and word usage. With knowledge gained from these tests and other standardized tests taken in school a student can plan to work on their weak areas or to take a curriculum that will require little or no skills where weaknesses are apparent. Areas of strength can be used as guides for choosing lifetime vocations.

There were eighteen Junior students taking the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. They were Andrea Carroll, Suzy Curry, Dixie Ashcraft, Jan Whitaker, Frankie Farerra, Edwin Howard, Robert Medina, Ronnie Reed, Marshall Payton, Betty Kuwaski, Jackie Burnett, Jean Flippin, Judy Connolly, Karen Laws, Jesse Limon, Jim Crawford, Cherril Norman, and A. G. Cook.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. The test is the first step in the tenth annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship associations, unions, trusts, and individuals.

Cattle Studied By Wilson 4-H Club

The Wilson fifth grade 4-H Club met Tuesday when steers were discussed, according to Bruce Schuette, reporter.

County Agent Bill Griffin told the members about a calf's four stomachs, how the calf or cow chews its cud and about its bacteria in its pouch.

Also under discussion were pigs and electricity. Dennis Maseker, president of the fifth grade 4-H asked about showing pigs in the Lubbock Stock show and Mr. Griffin told the boys the show has stiff competition.

He also discussed the cost of calves and nurse cows and explained that calves usually require more work than pigs.

Schools Open To Army Enlistees

Department of the Army has recently released a list of schools available to High School Graduates desiring to enlist in the Women's Army Corps for technical training. Among the fields available are Flight Operations, Chemical Supply, Drafting, Medical, Dental, Cooking, Photography, Stenography, Data Processing, Finance, Intelligence, Clerical, Transportation, and Communications. The specific schools are too numerous to mention.

In accordance with the Regular Army policy, a young lady can enlist for a specific school with a guarantee. First, she must be fully qualified. Once qualified, Department of the Army is called, a space is reserved, and the guarantee is written down by the applicant herself. Up until this point, there is no obligation. Once an applicant is completely satisfied, she is enlisted and, after Basic Training, attends the school of her choice.

High School seniors may apply and qualify before graduation. It might be mentioned that these schools are highly selective and classes fill rapidly. It is therefore urged that any interested women contact Sergeant Juanita Roberts, WAC Recruiting Counselor, 312 East Fifth Avenue, Amarillo, DRake 22286, or Sgt. Melvin Baker Local Army Recruiter, 1110 Texas Ave., Lubbock Texas, PO 3-2821, at the earliest convenience.

Child Welfare

The Child Welfare office is strictly an agency dealing with service to dependent and neglected children in the two-county area. No money will be handled through this office. Mrs. Crump will visit in homes where a problem exists and try to solve these problems to the best interest of the children involved.

County officials say there have been a surprising number of children who could have been taken care of through such a service, but no agency has been available here to handle such cases.

Mrs. Crump will leave for Austin March 15 for a month's training in welfare work.

Community Chest Is Favored Here

Operation of a Community Chest was explained Thursday of last week at the regular meeting of Tahoka Rotary Club, at which a number of nonmember businessmen, civic club representatives, and other citizens were guests.

Following the meeting, the group present voted nearly 95 percent in favor of forming a Community Chest in Tahoka.

Bill Clark of Lubbock, who is with the South Plains Council of Boy Scouts and who was formerly for four years with the United Fund organization in Arkansas, explained the Community Chest and United Fund set-up, the advantages and disadvantages.

Principal advantage, he said, is the uniting of several annual drives in a town into one big drive, which eliminates to some extent the wearing out of volunteer workers in multiple drives. Largely, the same people end up working on several drives in a town the size of Tahoka.

Eight or more major drives are made in Tahoka annually. At least four of these could be combined into one drive. These are the Red Cross, Boy Scout, Girl Scout, and Salvation Army drives. The speaker declared that National Cancer, March of Dimes, and Heart associations will not come into a united community drive, but prefer to carry on their own. The Livestock Show Merchants Fund would also likely remain as a separate drive.

Standard budget for a Community Chest is $2.00 per capita, which would amount to about $6,100 in Tahoka. This is a little more than is usually raised in the four drives for Red Cross, Boy and Girl Scouts and Salvation Army.

The United Fund organization requires a budget of about $3.50 per capita because other agencies national in scope come into the picture.

He explained the organization set-up, strictly local, for Community Chest with 21 directors, seven elected each year for a three-year term. Similar organizations are set up in about half the area towns are operating successfully in such places as Ralls, Seagraves, Crosbyton, and others.

Harold Roberts, who heads a committee from the Chamber of Commerce to study the proposal of a united drive, arranged for and introduced the speaker.

Guests were present from the Chamber of Commerce, Garden Club, Phebe K. Warner Club, Jaycees, and Tahoka Fire Department.

Senior student guests for the month of March are Jim Crawford and Eddie Howard, and they were introduced by the club sweetheart, Montie McGinty.

Gary Weaver was proposed as a new member of the club.

Gus Benner of the South Plains Area Council in Lubbock accompanied Mr. Clark at the meeting.

Dr. John Foster College Regent

Dr. John W. Foster, Ranger veterinarian, is another Tahoka High graduate who is well on his way to a successful career.

Recently John was appointed to the Board of Regents of Ranger Junior College, along with H. E. Brooks, district superintendent of Texas Pacific Oil Co.

Dr. Foster is a 1956 graduate of Tahoka High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Foster of Kingsland, former operators of Wayside store and station north of Tahoka. He was an outstanding athlete and student while in the Tahoka schools. He is a 1960 graduate of Texas A&M University College of Veterinary Medicine.

A recent issue of the Ranger Times says Dr. Foster is a director of Ranger Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Rotary Club there. He and his wife and two children attend the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pittman of Bluff Dale, near Stephenville, formerly of Tahoka, sent The News the information on John which they picked up while on a recent visit to Ranger.

Mrs. Pittman writes: "We enjoy every copy of The Lynn County News and really look forward to Monday morning, when we get it. I enjoyed the news articles about Charles Fulkerson and Dale Willhoit. Through your paper is the only way I learn about my former students. Our best regards to all our friends."

O'Donnell Sweeps Top Awards In Lamesa Show

O'Donnell 4-H and FFA entries in the annual Dawson County Junior Livestock Show at Lamesa last week end almost made a clean sweep of the top honors.

Dana Emerson's Angus steer, reserve champion of the Lynn county show, was the grand champion steer at Lamesa. Lindell White of O'Donnell had the reserve champion Angus, Lane Birdwell showed the champion fine wool lamb, and Paula Beach the champion medium wool.

Ronnie Wood showed the grand champion hog, a Hampshire, and the grand champion pen of three. Benny Barton showed the reserve grand champion, a Duroc. Eddie Joe Moore had the champion Berkshire barrow and reserve champions in both the Duroc and Poland China breeds. Randy Barton had the reserve Berkshire, and Mary Jean Moore the champion Poland China.

Ronnie Wood was selected for the overall showmanship award as he took top prizes in all three livestock divisions. Tom Ed Vestal won the showmanship award in the swine division, Kathy Garrett in sheep, and Harold Bessire in steers.

have complained that salt brine from oil wells pumped into unlined pits has been seeping through the soil into the Ogallala water formation and polluting irrigation wells.

Representatives of the oil industry told the board salt water pits are being replaced by injection systems which will return underground all but one percent of the brine brought to the surface with oil.

The Ogallala formation, from which irrigation water is taken, is the dwindling but highly important supply being used to water crops.

Local People At Area PCA Meet

Several Lynn county farmers attended the annual meeting of Lubbock Production Credit Association in Lubbock last Thursday in Fair Park Coliseum, and Cleve Littlepage of Tahoka was re-elected vice president of the board.

C. E. Hicks of Meadow is president of the organization, Alton Strickland is secretary-treasurer, and Derwood Howard is the local office manager. Ruben McElroy of Tahoka was a member of the nominations committee.

Approximately 1,000 people from the nine-county area enjoyed a fish fry at noon, heard an address by Jack Barton, assistant vice president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, and a financial report by Board Member Leon L. Foote of Seminole.

Foote declared the Association will probably make loans totaling about $25 million this year to farmers, an increase of about $4 million over last year, when nearly $21 million was loaned to 1,415 farmers of the area.

John Deere Day Held Here Saturday

Jack Jaquess of Gilmore & Jaquess reports a large crowd was present Saturday for the firm's annual John Deere Day.

Farmer guests were served a lunch at noon, movies of John Deere products and modern farming methods, as well as an entertainment film, were shown, and there was opportunity to inspect the line of John Deere tractors and farm implements, including the power shift 4020 tractor.

Individual tourists entering Mexico from Texas in the first nine months of 1963 showed an increase of 123,930 over the same period in 1962.

Order Issued On Water Pollution

Oil operators in eight Plains counties, including Lynn, must discontinue by Sept. 1 the use of unlined pits to dispose of salt water, the State Salt Water Pollution Control Board ordered in Austin Thursday of last week.

The board hinted the order may be extended to 48 counties overlying the Ogallala formation, but temporarily disposal of salt water in open pits has been banned in Dawson, Terry, Hale, Bailey, Cochran, Hockley, Lynn, and Swisher counties.

The action was brought about as a result of protests from Terry and Dawson county irrigation farmers, represented by Attorney George McCleskey of Lubbock and Hydrologist Ed L. Reed of Midland.

President Lyndon Johnson has called for economy in all bureaus of our government in Washington. He made the first step personally, by demanding that all electric lights not in actual use in the White House be turned off. He said this could save $3,000 a month. But, he turns right around and proposes a billion dollar a year "poverty" program.

Year after year, Congress kicks around a farm program, wastes weeks or even months each year considering some new idea hatched up by some ex-Minnesota governor, some Harvard professor, some Brannon or some Dr. Cochrane, all designed to control the farmer, his acreage, or his production and to limit his freedom of choice. The result is a loss of foreign and domestic markets. Another, is the state of indcision in which the farmer is kept. The farmer never knows this year how to plan for next year, let alone make plans for a long range program for his farm. All he can do is just hope and pray.

We're no expert on farm problems. But, we can see the ineptness of the present system of government control. Just three years ago, cotton was in excellent position and improving. The outlook was bright. Then, Mr. Freeman raised the price slightly, cut acreage, the mills turned more to synthetics, and right quick we were in trouble again. Congress listens to the wrong men.

Tahoka will rise or fall, grow or wither on the vine, with cotton. As cotton goes, so goes the South Plains.

For some time Tahoka has been studying a Community Chest for the town. So far, only four or five agencies will come in to the program. But, this cuts down some on the number of annual drives. Year after year, just about the same workers go out asking for money to support these projects and they finally get worn out.

Needed: More Freedom and Less Interference

Most of these people who give their time in raising funds for worthy causes would feel a lot better if they could get the job done in one big campaign.

Recently, George Dolan in his "West Texas" column recounted a story told by Griff McConal of Glen Rose about the late "Shanks" Fortenberry of Welch, once known as "Shacktown." Mr. Fortenberry was the dad of Mrs. E. L. "Dink" Short of Tahoka and Mrs. O. C. "Toots" Harrison of Grassland. McConal and Fortenberry were pioneer settlers of the Shacktown area and old Pride at the southwest corner of Lynn county. In fact, they were partners in a grocery store and lumber yard at Welch, and were horse, mule, cow, land, and machinery traders. They'd buy and sell just about anything.

McConal is the man who wouldn't give in to television, until his wife finally won out and bought a TV set, and George Dolan pictures him as quite a character. This, "Dink" and "Toots" affirm. He was a college man but just wanted to be a horse trader. Once, McConal became ambitious to become an auctioneer. He would get up on a wagon and start the auctioneer chant. "Shanks" Fortenberry was the "crowd," and would make a bid while standing over by the woodpile, go over by the cultivator and make another, walk in close to the wagon make another—all to give McConal practice.

Following the Star-Telegram story, "Toots" wrote Mr. McConal, who is still a trader, and the following is a paragraph of the long letter he wrote back: "Your mention of the old soap box and the country store brings on a feeling of nostalgic reminiscence. Add to that the pot-bellied stove belching forth coal smoke in the outside air and soot and dust inside the store; the hearth well spotted from Levi Garrett, and you would have dirt 1930 style. I am just going to have to come out and spend a day with you and observe what you lack being authentic and a bona fide country store operator." Mr. and Mrs. Harrison operate a store at Grassland. Incidentally, McConal's son, John, is a reporter on the Star-Telegram staff.

Art is one of Mrs. Irving (Era) Stewart's hobbies. Three of her paintings hang in the beautiful new Lubbock City Hall, placed there by Dan Kamp, who married a Tahoka girl, Marihelen Reid. A prominent Lubbock physician also has two of her pictures hanging in his home.

Little Jeff, youngest son of Sonny and Dot Roberts, the other day asked his mother if she were left-handed. Dot replied, "No, only Chris and Steve in our family are left-handed." Jeff remarked, "Aw, they're just odd-balls." Granddaddy Oscar was mentioned next, and Jeff said, "Aw, he'd be an odd ball, anyway."

Young people frequently remark that there are no opportunities in a small town for a man trying to get a start. One trouble is that too many young people today want to start out at the top. Most of the successful business men in Tahoka got their start at the bottom, crawling and scratching.

A local automobile agency owner told us the other day it is becoming very difficult to obtain qualified mechanics. There are quite a few half-trained mechanics, he said, but there are few really trained to work on modern cars. This is an honorable work and pays well. Some smart young men are needed in the field who are willing to work, study, attend factory training schools, and become qualified as top repairmen.

A service station operator told us he could pay a pretty good salary to a bright young man who is willing to hustle, be courteous to customers, put out that little bit of extra service. In fact, he said the right fellow could acquire a good business of his own, in time.

We know of two more local businessmen who are seeking the right young man to learn a voca-

This is the day of specialization, and a high school diploma is almost a necessity. A college degree and graduate training is needed today in many lines. All can not get a college education, just as all young can't step out and start farming. But, there are still opportunities all around us.

"People in Washington seem overly concerned with the Far Right and the Far Left," said the minister. "What they seem to forget is the High Above and the Way Below."

Lubbock (Spl) — There is now a good possibility that the months of hard work by the various segments of the cotton industry toward getting new cotton legislation may not go for naught. It looks now like the revised of the Cooley Bill, which was passed by the House early last December and is being considered by the Senate as of this writing, has a good chance of becoming law in time for the 1964 crop.

The bill now being considered by the Senate would not do all things for all people. What it would do, however, is accomplish the stated objective of correcting the inequity of the two-price system and providing cotton to domestic mills at a price which is competitive with world markets. The increased consumption, together with reduced production through the domestic allotment plan explained below, would substantially reduce the alarming surpluses which threaten to bring on drastic acreage cuts across the board if new legislation is not passed.

The bill, as it now stands in the Senate, provides for the following:
(1) National acreage allotment of 16 million acres. Release and reapportionment law unchanged.
(2) Roughly two-thirds would be domestic allotment and one-third export, based on total allotment plus any reallocated acres.
(3) Loan at 30 cents per pound middling inch at average location. In future years loan level would be set as under present law between 65 and 90 percent of parity, with cost of production as an added factor to be considered.

(4) If farmer plants only his domestic allotment he would be eligible for the 30 cent loan plus direct P.I.K. certificates on the normal yield from his domestic acres, thus bringing his price up to a point not over 15-percent of the basic loan, or a maximum premium of 4.5 cents per pound (total 34.5 cents). These P. I. K. certificates would probably be cashable at county A. S. C. offices. He would receive these P. I. K.'s on normal yield regardless of actual yield for that year. He could overplant his domestic allotment but could plow back to it, if he sees fit, early enough to qualify for P. I. K. certificates.
(5) If farmer plants over his domestic allotment he would be eligible for a 30 cent loan only, with no P. I. K.'s on any portion of his crop.
(6) For the farmer taking the lower price support, an overplant privilege of up to 10 percent of his allotment, strictly for export at the world price, might be allowed above the 16,000,000 acres national allotment.
(7) For farmers with 15 acre allotments or less, the entire allotment would be considered domestic and he would receive P. I. K.'s on his total production. Under no circumstances would a farmer have to reduce below 15 acres if his allotment were above that.
(8) A farmer could plant any non-controlled crop on diverted acres and preserve his history.
(9) To make cotton available to U. S. mills at the same price as to foreign mills, P. I. K.'s would be issued, to some one other than the producer, equal to the P. I. K.'s issued on exports. (At present this is 8.5 cents, but with a 30 cent loan they would probably be about six cents to maintain U. S. cotton abroad at about the 24 cent world price.) These domestic P. I. K.'s at full value would go into effect when the farmer's choice program became effective. Until then the value of domestic P. I. K.'s would be left to the discretion of the Secretary of Agriculture.
(10) Domestic P. I. K.'s would be paid on inventory stocks of raw cotton as of the date program becomes law.
(11) As originally written the bill was applicable to the 1964, 1965, 1966 and 1967 crops, but amendments may be attached limiting life of the bill to either two or three years.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Readers inquire as to why there is trouble in Panama, in Vietnam, in Zanzibar, et al. The basic problem is that perhaps too many in the U. S. State Department are avid television viewers.

On TV the "good guy" always wins. The "bad guys" may open up with a multitude of guns, but in the end the "good guy" does not shoot, but throws away his weapons and arms only with virtuous glances to the "bad guys" who then see the error of their ways. But that is TV. While virtue may triumph on TV, it is unfortunate international relations do not quite work that way.

The Panama incident is a perfect case history. The governing clique of Panama has long wanted to "bootjack" a bigger cut out of the canal's revenues. On the basis of sound business, they have no argument. So they conveyed to their people, a poverty-stricken, excitable mob with a high degree of illiteracy, that somehow their national honor is involved.

In dealing with Castro U.S. has compromised, paid out ransom, feeling virtue will reap rewards. Over in the Kremlin they do not watch American TV as Cuba gave them a perfect opportunity to train a lot of ignorant scoundrels how to raise cane other than the sugar kind.

Some of these trainees go to Panama where their leaders had already created ill will against the U.S. as a bargaining tool to get more money. But they had succeeded in keeping the mob in check. However, the Castro-Kremlin agents built on this basis, further exciting the poor, wretched Panamanians, no doubt helped by good, strong cheap Panama rum.

It seems apparent the Panamanian government did not want things to go so far. This is evidenced by the fact that when ten Castro agitators were spotted by U.S. security officers, the Panama military force did not hesitate to take them into custody. Thus, it was purely a case where foreign politicians, hoping to gain dollars, sowed the wind and reaped the whirlwind.

And immediately domestic crackpots who tried to establish the Castro loving assassin of a President was motivated by a right wing sought to sell idea Americans were responsible for the murderous attack.

Some have tried to establish that it was wrong for American youngsters to take pride in the American flag. Some have tried to impugn by maintaining official living standards U.S. officials in Canal Zone encourage Panamanianism. Thus, to avoid this situation, they too should live like peasants.

And so the story is repeated all over the world, wherever there are dollar hungry politicians over illiterate peoples. There is a time to negotiate, and a time to stand firm. When ever gangsters inflame an illiterate mob, force, not logic, is needed to preserve peace.

College Station — Texas metropolitan centers are not the only cities posting phenomenal growth rates. Gerald F. Vaughn, specialist in rural-urban affairs for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reports that 82 percent of the 268 Texas cities with populations between 2,500 and 49,999 in 1960 showed gains during the past decade.

Twenty-six percent posted gains in population of more than 50 percent; 39 percent showed gains of 11 to 50 percent; 17 percent had gains of 0 to 10 percent while the remaining 18 percent had declining populations, Vaughn said.

Generally, he added, cities in the 25-49,999 population bracket are showing the greatest growth among the small and medium sized municipalities. Increases of more than 50 percent were posted by 63 percent of these cities while gains ranging from 11 to 50 percent were made by the other 37 percent in this classification during the 1950-60 period, Vaughn said.

In the 10 to 34,999 population bracket, 28 percent of the cities made gains of more than 50 percent; half of the group, 50 percent, showed gains ranging from 11 to 50 percent; 0-10 percent increases were made by 12 percent of cities in the group while 10 percent showed population drops from 1950-60.

Twenty-three percent of the cities in the 2,500 to 9,999 range in population posted gains of more than 50 percent; 36 percent showed gains from 11 to 50 percent; 19 percent had increases of

Small Cities Are Showing Growth

0-10 percent while 23 percent suffered population losses, Vaughn said.

These widespread population increases are having an influence on surrounding rural areas. New local markets for agricultural products are opening; opportunities for off-farm employment, part-time farming and operation of rural recreation enterprises are being created, he said.

On the other hand, problems are arising. They include higher farm real estate taxes, trespass problems, water pollution, interference with normal farm or ranch operation and unsightly development of the countryside. As a result, many rural and urban groups are now working together to guide future growth, Vaughn said.

Some have tried to establish that it was wrong for American youngsters to take pride in the American flag. Some have tried to impugn by maintaining official living standards U.S. officials in Canal Zone encourage Panamanianism. Thus, to avoid this situation, they too should live like peasants.

And so the story is repeated all over the world, wherever there are dollar hungry politicians over illiterate peoples. There is a time to negotiate, and a time to stand firm. When ever gangsters inflame an illiterate mob, force, not logic, is needed to preserve peace.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Knight here last Friday were his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knight from Snyder, and niece, Mrs. Ada Mitchell and daughter of Roby. Mr. Knight, who has been ill, is reported by his wife to be improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCord Sr. returned home last week from a fishing trip to Falcon Lake, but report the weather was too windy and cool to do much good. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Bert Short, who are spending the spring in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

HIGH SPEED YOUR SPEED
Plymouth rocks racing world with sweep in Daytona "500"
According to the record book for stock cars in competition, there is no higher average speed for 500 miles than the 154.334 m.p.h. set by a competition-equipped 1964 Plymouth in winning last month's Daytona "500".
Adding to that glory is the fact that two more 1964 Plymouths finished 2nd and 3rd in a decisive Plymouth sweep. That suggests that Plymouths were not only the swiftest cars in the competition, but that they're built to stay in there all the way.
For the millions of racing fans and high-performance enthusiasts across the country, Plymouth is proud of its "high speed" victory at Daytona.
This competition was more "your speed." At Plymouth's request, an independent testing company bought and compared showroom models of Plymouth, Ford and Chevrolet.
The cars were comparably equipped standard V-8s — cars people buy. And the tests were of "things people buy a car for" — acceleration, handling, braking, and gas economy.
In test after test, Plymouth accelerated best, handled best, braked best, and got the best gas mileage. This is the kind of competition Plymouth most likes to win. "High speed" or "your speed," these 1964 Plymouths are tough to beat!
